TOP BUGGIES, BOTH PLAIN AND PIANO BOX AND CORNING, CONCORD BUGGIES, BANNER WAGONS, BUSINESS WAGONS, POLES, ETC., OF THE VERY BEST OF MAKES, AT LOWER PRICES THAN IN THE CITY, CALL AND SEE US.

ALLEN AND ELLERY,

PALMER, tf-3 MASS.

MILK and CREAM,

Pure and Sweet.

FAMILIES DESIRING A REGULAR SUPPLY OF NICE, FRESH MILK AND CREAM, WILL DO WELL TO GIVE US A TRIAL.

O. D. WELLS,

MAPLE LAWN MILK FARM.

Insurance

of every kind placed at short notice, and all favors duly appreciated.

Yours truly,

S. H. HELLYAR.

Wanted.

Agents, Local or Traveling on Salary or Commission, to sell our Warranted Stock.

Sold with a guarantee, at reasonable prices. Steady work and good pay assured. New methods and new specialties. Outfit free, experience unnecessary. Now is the time to commence.

Address, H. B. Williams, Sec'y.

Chautauqua Nursery Co.,

Portland, N. Y.

WARM WEATHER

To be sure. But at my office we keep you cool and comfortable by the use of electric fans. Remember we Excavate and Fill all cavities in Teeth ABSOLUTELY WITHOUT PAIN. Also by the aid of a harmless preparation applied to the gums we extract fully 95 per cent of all teeth WITHOUT PAIN.

DR. WM. L. ROBERTS, DENTIST.

Court Square Theatre Block, Springfield. Mass.

WALL PAPERS, MOULDINGS, ETC., AT MASON'S, PALMER.

Forbes & Wallace's,

Springfield.

New Gloves.

Every good new glove that you had better wear we've got. Won't keep the poor kinds—not even if some of you will go elsewhere to get them. We shall be best off in the end by keeping only gloves that will give satisfaction. But good gloves shouldn't cost too much.

Our 4-button white chamois glove at 65 cents a pair is winning popularity every day—nobody else has it at 65 cents.

The new fashionable shades for fall in all gloves—

5-hook lace kid gloves, 85 cents.
4-button kid embroidered gloves, $1.
Foster's gloves, $1, $1.50, $1.75, $2. We are sole agents for Foster's gloves in Springfield. No one else ought to have them.
Courvoisen patent thumb gloves, the very nice fit is their other good quality aside from the patent thumb—4 button, $1.50 and $2.
5-button pique sewn kid gloves for street wear—the street shades fashionable are—ox-blood, beaver, golden brown and black.
The Monarch glove for street wear, glace finish kid, pique sewn, back embroidered with black silk, $2.

Perhaps never will any other glove give altogether so much satisfaction as our famous 8-button French mousquetaire suede. No other glove to equal it in its good-fitting qualities, $1.75.

South store.

Upholstered Rockers —For Little Money.

A dozen patterns of fancy upholstered parlor rockers to go at almost half price. The makers are going to drop the patterns, that's why they came for so little—upholstered in silk plush, tapestry, windsor rug, derby, etc. A few of 'em have already been picked up, the balance ought to go in a day or two.

Third floor of Pynchon street building.

Carpets.

We are doing more business than is usual at this time of the year. Since this is so hadn't you better let us have your order for the new carpet at once. We seem to have hit it just right in the new carpets; got just the patterns that people want.

Second floor of Pynchon street building.

FORBES & WALLACE.

Main, Vernon and Pynchon streets, Springfield, Mass.

Oil Heaters.

The finest assortment we have ever shown, and quality improved. Don't fail to look them over.

E. A. BUCK & CO.,

Cross Block, Palmer.

MORTGAGEE'S SALE OF REAL ESTATE.

By virtue of a power of sale contained in a certain mortgage deed given by Harry T. Bishop and Augusta M. Bishop, both of Palmer Mass., to John P. Reynolds, Jr., of Milton, Norfolk County, Mass., dated October 16th, A. D. 1890, and recorded in the Registry of Deeds for the County of Hampden, Book 471, Page 162, and by said Reynolds on August 1st, A. D. 1892, duly assigned to Israel W. Munroe and Company, a copartnership then composed of Benjamin W. Munroe of Boston, Mass, and Addington M. Bartlett of said Boston, deceased, will be sold at public auction at the dwelling house on the second tract hereinafter described on Saturday, the twelfth day of October, A. D. 1895, at ten o'clock in the forenoon, all and singular the premises described in said mortgage deed and therein described as follows: "A certain parcel of land with the buildings therein, situate in Thorndike in said Palmer, and bounded and described as follows: Beginning at the N. W. corner of land of Mary Cunningham in a line of new road leading to the house of Eilen McGilp; thence southwesterly on said road 102 feet to a stone in the ground at corner of land of Patrick and Mary Shea; thence southeasterly on said Shea 110 feet to a stone in the ground; thence northeasterly on land of George Mooers 117 feet to a stone in the ground on line of land of said Cunningham; thence northwesterly on said Cunningham 87 feet to the first mentioned bound, containing about one quarter of an acre of land, be the same more or less, and subject to the rights of heirs of Esther Sibley in aqueduct crossing the premises.

Also one other tract or parcel of land with buildings thereon, situate in said Thorndike and bounded and described as follows: Beginning at the southeasterly corner of land now or formerly of Nathan Howard and running S. 58° W. on said Howard to the south county road; thence on said road 60 feet to a stake in the ground; thence easterly in a line parallel with the first mentioned line to the new county road; thence N. 24½° W. 60 feet to the point of departure." The two tracts above described are same described in mortgage deed of said Harry T. and Augusta M. to the Palmer Savings Bank dated January 16th, 1890, and recorded in said Registry of deeds, Book 455, Page 447, to secure the sum of two thousand dollars and interest, and this sale is to be made subject to said mortage.

$100 will be required to be paid in cash by the purchaser at the time and place of sale.

BENJAMIN W. MUNROE, Sole Surviving Partner.

BY GARDNER AND GARDNER, his Attorneys.

Palmer, Mass., Sept. 12th, A. D. 1895. 4-24

BE SURE YOU SEE THE

MEHLIN HIGH GRADE PIANOS

BEFORE PURCHASING ANY OTHER.

Illustrated Catalog Sent on Application.

J. M. Bruce, Agent for Hampden, Hampshire and Franklin Counties.

394 MAIN STREET, SPRINGFIELD, MASS.

.... J. M. BRUCE, ...

AGENT FOR THE

TROWBRIDGE UPRIGHT PIANOS.

Trowbridge Pianos for Tone.
Trowbridge Pianos for Action.
Trowbridge Pianos for Fine Cases.

PIANOS TUNED, REGULATED and REPAIRED.

Office, Room 25, Main St. P. O. Box 166.

SPRINGFIELD, - MASS.

Blankets, Blankets, Blankets.

See those gray and white cheap blankets. You'll surely buy a few pairs.

Comfortables.

Our stock of comfortables is unusually large and attractive this year, and the quality far ahead of previous years. The prices very reasonable

Underwear.

Ladies' Jersey underwear, 25c and 50c. Ladies' white-footed hose, 25c.

Men's gloves and mittens.

Full line of floor oil cloths.

W. E. STONE,

Lawrence Block, Palmer.

Love Your Wife.

It doesn't look that way when you let her fry her face, try her temper, ruin her health and complexion by using that old cook stove. Invest a few dollars and buy one of our "Royal Winthrop Grand" or "Herald B." Ranges. You will have less fuel to buy, and better food; also a pleasant wife.

Come in and see our prices on Furniture. Chamber Suits from $12 up; Easy Chairs were never so cheap, we have them from $1 up; Lounges from $4 up. We sell on the installment plan.

We also have a full line of Dry Goods, Groceries, Boots and Shoes, Carpets and Oilcloths, which we are selling at prices that defy competition.

Shaw Brothers,

Three Rivers, Mass. . . . . .

New Fall Dress Goods.

Plaids have the call, and we show an elegant assortment in 75c, 50c, 25c, and 10c lines.

Teazle Downs are great goods for wrappers and children's wear, and the styles equal to all-wool goods.

In Black Goods the lines are complete in Henriettas, Serges, Cords, and Figured Mohairs.

New Buttons, Braids, and Trimmings. Gloves and Hosiery.

Domestic Department, largest and best assortment shown in the last ten years.

Blankets and Comfortables

at lowest prices.

J. B. Shaw; Feeney's Block, Main Street, Palmer.

Why do You Swelter?

IN HOT WEATHER CLOTHES WHEN YOU CAN GET SUCH COOL GARMENTS AT SUCH LOW PRICES AT

CHARLES K. GAMWELL'S.

IT'S ASTONISHING HOW COOL HIS SUMMER GARMENTS ARE. EVERYTHING YOU WANT IN THIS LINE.

HATS, CAPS, FURNISHINGS.

F. F. MARCY, PALMER, MASS. Wholesale and Retail Dealer in

ALL KINDS OF LUMBER AND SHINGLES

Windows, doors, blinds, mouldings. Carpenters' and joiners' work done to order.

Also FIRE BRICK and CLAY for sale.

Yard and shop at junction of B. & A. and N. L. N. Railroads—west of Depot.

PALMER IRON FOUNDRY AND MACHINE SHOP.

At the junction of B. & A. and N. L. N. Railroads. West of Depot.

MACHINERY CASTINGS MADE & GENERAL JOBBING DONE

At short notice and reasonable prices.

52-35 R. B. FRANCIS.

A. H. HITCHCOCK,

OPTICIAN,

331 Main Street, Springfield, Mass.

Spectacles and Eye Glasses of all kinds.
Artificial eyes furnished.
Oculists' prescriptions promptly and accurately filled.
Mail orders solicited. 13-25

Dr. O. P. Roller,

Dentist.

All the latest methods pertaining to dentistry employed. Gas and local anaesthetic administered for the painless extraction of teeth. Special attention given to gold work. Office hours from 8 a. m. to 4.15 p. m.

18-tf Lawrence Block, - Palmer, Mass.

WANTED. Good reliable men, to sell our Choice and Hardy Nursery Stock, such as Fruit Trees, Roses, Shrubs and Ornamentals. Ladies make this business a success. Easy work, pleasant, light and profitable. OUTFIT FREE. Apply at once, with references, and secure choice of territory.

F. N. MAY COMPANY,

Nurserymen and Seedsmen, Rochester, N. Y.

DR. S. H. ELLERY,

VETERINARY SURGEON AND DENTIST.

Graduate Chicago Veterinary College.

Residence, Nassowanno House.

Office and stable, Central street.

PALMER, MASS.

Enough Pearline has been sold to put a girdle of it round about the earth, and a good deal over. Hundreds of millions of packages, in the last fifteen years, have made washing easy for millions of different women. This suggests a question—to the timid women who think that because Pearline saves so much work it must do some harm. Could Pearline have been sold and used in this way and for this time, if it were dangerous?

And another, addressed to all women: Isn't it better to be sure with Pearline, the original washing compound which has been thus proved, rather than to risk it with some imitation about which you know nothing? 375 JAMES PYLE, N.Y.

A Clean Collar

One that you can keep clean all the time—a collar that does not wilt when you get over-heated; that does not fray on the edge, or tear out at the buttonholes, and can be cleaned by simply wiping off with a wet sponge or cloth. These collars and cuffs are made by covering linen collars or cuffs on both sides with waterproof "celluloid," thus giving strength and durability. They are the only waterproof goods so made, and every piece is stamped as follows:

TRADE CELLULOID MARK.

Ask for this, and refuse to take any imitation if you expect satisfaction. If your dealer does not keep them, send direct to us, enclosing amount, and we will mail you sample. Collars 25 cts. each. Cuffs 50 cts. pair. State size, and whether stand-up or turned-down collar is wanted.

THE CELLULOID CO.,
427-29 Broadway,
New York.

"Here is some angel food I made myself," she said. He paled. "Thank you, darling," he faltered, and partook. That night the painter dreamed, whereat he rose and in feverish haste painted an art poster which brought $756. Then he kissed his wife fondly, called her a brave little woman, and wondered what he would do without her.—Detroit Tribune.

A. M. Bailey, a well known citizen of Eugene, Oregon, says his wife has for years been troubled with chronic diarrhœa and used many remedies with little relief until she tried Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhœa Remedy, which has cured her sound and well. Give it a trial and you will be surprised at the prompt relief it affords. 25 and 50 cent bottles.

Irving W. Larimore, physical director of Y. M. C. A., Des Moines, Iowa, says he can conscientiously recommend Chamberlain's Pain Balm to athletes, gymnasts, bicyclists, foot ball players and the profession in general for bruises, sprains and dislocations; also for soreness and stiffness of the muscles. When applied before the parts become swollen it will effect a cure in one half the time usually required.

While in Chicago Mr. Charles L. Kahler, a prominent shoe merchant of Des Moines, Iowa, had quite a serious time of it. He took such a severe cold that he could hardly talk or navigate, but the prompt use of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy cured him of his cold so quickly that others at the hotel who had bad colds followed his example and a half dozen persons ordered it from the nearest drug store. They were profuse in their thanks to Mr. Kahler for telling them how to cure a bad cold so quickly.

The above remedies are for sale by O. P. Allen, Palmer; Charles E. Mason, Three Rivers; A. P. Adams, Thorndike; G. L. Keeney, Monson; John D. Smith, Ware.

BLOOD WINE.

CURES

This famous remedy has a cooling action on the Blood in warm weather, and, besides being the most pleasant medicine in the world, combines the most curative qualities. It is sold everywhere at 50 cents, large bottle. Try it.

The Diseases Summer Brings.

Seeds. Medium Red Clover, Large Red Clover, Crimson Clover.

Seeds. Alsyke Clover, Red Top, Timothy.

E. A. Buck & Co.,

Palmer, Mass.

A NICE NEW LINE OF SAMPLES OF FOLDERS. FOR DANCE PROGRAMS, INVITATIONS, MENUS, ETC.

Just received at the JOURNAL Office.

Casey at the Bat.

There was ease in Casey's manner as he stepped into his place,
There was pride in Casey's bearing and a smile on Casey's face;
And when, responding to the cheers, he lightly doffed his hat,
No stranger in the crowd could doubt 'twas Casey at the bat.

Ten thousand eyes were on him as he rubbed his hands with dirt,
Five thousand tongues applauded when he wiped them on his shirt;
Then when the writhing pitcher ground the ball into his hip,
Defiance glanced in Casey's eye, a sneer curled Casey's lip.

And now the leather-covered sphere came hurling through the air,
And Casey stood a-watching it in haughty grandeur there;
Close by the sturdy batsman the ball unheeded sped;
"That ain't my style," said Casey. "Strike one," the umpire said.

From the benches, black with people, there went up a muffled roar,
Like the beating of fierce storm waves on the stern and distant shore;
"Kill him! kill the umpire!" shouted someone on the stand,
And it's likely they'd have killed him had not Casey raised his hand.

With a smile of Christian charity great Casey's visage shone;
He stilled the rising tumult, and he bade the game go on;
He signalled to the pitcher, and once more the spheroid flew,
But Casey still ignored it, and the umpire said, "Strike two."
"Fraud!" cried the maddened thousands, and the echo answered "Fraud!"
But one scornful look from Casey and the audience are awed;
They saw his face grow stern and cold, they saw his muscles strain,
And they knew that Casey wouldn't let that ball go by again.

The sneer is gone from Casey's lip, his teeth are clenched in hate,
He pounds with cruel vengence his bat upon the plate;
And now the pitcher holds the ball, and now he lets it go,
And now the air is shattered by the force of Casey's blow.

* * * * * * *

O, somewhere in this favored land the sun is shining bright,
The band is playing somewhere, and somewhere hearts are light;
And somewhere men are laughing, and somewhere children shout,
But there is no joy in Boston; mighty Casey has struck out.

—Rehoboth Sunday Herald.

GOULD SAVED THE CHURCH.

"When the Texas Pacific railroad was being built," said W. W. Goodrich, the Baltimore architect, the other day, in the midst of a discussion of Jay Gould, in which the "Little Wizard" was getting much the worst of it, "Jay Gould and Sidney Dillon were on a tour of inspection.

"Their train was side tracked in a little town about fifty miles west of Fort Worth, where the regular train waited for a wildcat freight to come in. The passengers were told by the conductor that at least two hours would elapse before they would run again, and that they had ample time to see the sights of a prairie town in the staked plains.

"Mr. Gould and Mr. Dillon, with their attendants, took in the town.

"They had not gone far before they heard the mournful clang of an auctioneer's bell, and came upon the crowd of curious people surrounding the seller. The auctioneer was crying: 'Fifteen hundred dollars! Fifteen hundred dollars! Am I offered more?' when Mr. Gould touched a tall Texan on the arm and asked him what the sale was for.

"The man, as he looked curiously at the little financier, made a striking picture in his Mexican sombrero of silver and gilt, his buckskin suit fringed with a tasselated fringe several inches wide of silver thread and leather, the shining blued Colts 44 sticking in his belt, and the handlets of his daggers showing from his boot tops.

"'Pard,' said the ranger, "this is a knock-out for the parson.'

"'In what way?' asked Mr. Gould.

"'You see, pard, the parson built this church, but the tin petered out, and now the wood butcher is selling the whole crowd out for his coin. Pard, I'll tell you what, I'll chip in and help the parson with the bank I busted last night,' and the ranger began to pull gold coin and chips out of his pockets galore.

"But Mr. Gould did not even glance at it. He stepped up to the auctioneer and asked for the contractor who was closing out his lien. The auctioneer pointed out the man, and Gould approached him and asked the amount of his claim.

"'Seventeen hundred dollars and costs,' said he.

"'What will you take in settlement?'

"'I'll settle for $1500 and donate the balance,' said the contractor.

"Mr. Gould, taking from his pocket several bills of large denomination, gave them to the contractor and took his receipt in full with the canceled lien.

"Just then an old man, who had been an eyewitness of the transaction, going up to Mr. Gould said:

"'Stranger, what are you going to do with the claim you've just bought?'

"Mr. Gould looked the man over in that calm way he had and asked him why he wanted to know.

"'Why,' said he, 'I am the steward of this church. All of the members and Sunday school scholars are in the church with the presiding elder and pastor, praying God to save the church.'

"Mr. Gould said nothing, but taking the receipted bill and canceled lein that he had in his hand he gave them to the steward, and, turning toward the depot, walked rapidly back to his train.

"The steward entered the church now free and told the people what the Lord had done, and the people sang the Doxology on their knees. Then they went out on the streets to find the stranger.

"They soon found out that the little man was none other than Jay Gould. His train was gone, and only a cloud of dust on a far away prairie indicated where the little man was.

"Mr. Gould has said that the letter he afterward received from the congregation, signed by every one in it, gave him more pleasure than clearing a million dollars."—New York Advertiser.

A PHYSICIAN'S LAST RESORT.—"My doctor is a real joker," said a Lewiston lady. "I didn't know that my talking bothered him when he was writing a prescription, until yesterday. He never mentioned it, and I always asked him all sorts of questions while he was writing them out. Yesterday he examined me and sat down to write something. I kept talking. Suddenly he looked up and said: 'How has your system been? Hold out your tongue.' I put out that member, and he began to write. He wrote and I held out my tongue, and when he got through he said: 'That will do.' 'But,' said I, you haven't looked at it.' 'No,' he said, 'I don't care to. I only wanted to keep it still while I wrote the prescription.'"—Lewiston Journal.

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease, and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with locol treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven catarrh to be a constitutional disease, and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only constitutional cure in the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials.

F. J. CHENEY & CO., Toledo, O.

☞Sold by Druggists, 75c.

Only Hood's

Local Dealers Sell More of Hood's Sarsaparilla Than of All Others.

The drug firm of LeGro & Lynde is located in the Nassowanno House Block, Palmer, Mass., and has been in business since January, 1887. Mr. LeGro was clerk in Amherst for 13 years before coming to Palmer. He says:

"Hood's Sarsaparilla leads all others, and its sales are double those of all others combined. Its growing popularity is shown by the fact that there has been an increase in its sales during the past year. I have heard people say that Hood's Sarsaparilla did them good and it was what they needed."

The record of remarkable cures effected enables us truthfully to say that

Hood's Sarsaparilla

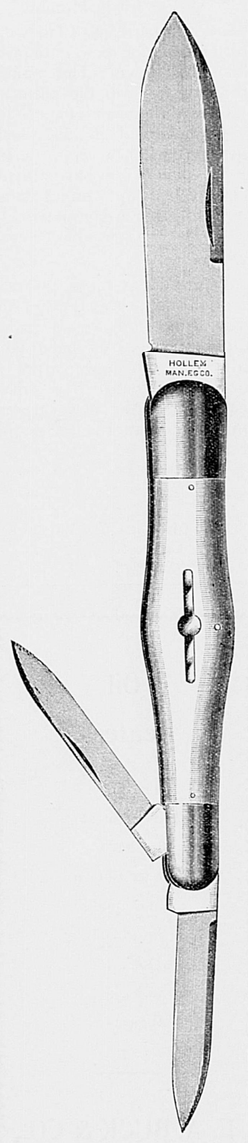
Is the Only

True Blood Purifier

Prominently in the public eye. $1; 6 for $5

Hood's Pills cure all liver ills, billousness, headache. 25c.

Holley Pocket Knives.



Hand Forged Blades.

Every knife of this make warranted. Come and try one.

E. A. Buck & Co.,

Palmer.

A Catskill Hotel Man.
(From Catskill, N. Y., Recorder.)

Mr. Joseph McGiffert, one of our prominent hotel proprietors, has reason to extol the merits of Dr David Kennedy's Favorite Remedy. In speaking of it he said: "I was all run down from kidney and liver trouble; three physicians treated me, but I grew worse. A friend said to me: 'Why don't you take Dr. Kennedy's Favorite Remedy? It cured me.' So I began its use. The result was I gained daily, and in a little while I was sound and well again. I suppose I have recommended it to a hundred or more of my summer boarders, and in every instance it has done them good."

F. M. EAGER.

Boots and Shoes Manufactured to Measure.

REPAIRING NEATLY DONE AT SHORT NOTICE.

Dealer in Sewing Machines and Supplies.

Machines to rent or sold on monthly payments.

F. M. EAGER, PALMER.

C. H. HOBBY, PIANO TUNER.

Orders for tuning may be left at O. P. Allen's drug store, Palmer; or may be sent to me by mail to Mansfield, Ct.

Hellyar's Bargain Store.

Carpets! Carpets!

Are you interested in carpets? If so, we should be pleased to show you. We have arranged with one of the largest mills in the United States whereby we are their sold agents in this locality.

Wilton Carpets,
Moquette Carpets,
Axminster Carpets.
Velvet Carpets,
Body Brussels Carpets,
Tapestry Carpets,
Three Ply Carpets,
Ingrain Carpets of all grades,
Cocoa Mattings,
Napier Mattings,
China Mattings,
Linoleums,
Oil Cloths,
Rugs,
Mats,
Lace Curtains.

We carry a full line of the newest patterns in all kinds of Carpets.

You have as fine a variety to select from as is carried by the stores in the largest cities. You can have the carpets cut and sewed at the mills, and delivered to you ready to be laid on the floor. We represent the manufacturers, thus saving you the middleman or jobber's profit, and as we have no stock to carry and no risk to take on bad patterns, misfits or remnants we can afford to sell at a very small profit—lower even than the stores of the great cities. Call and find out how quickly and how cheaply we can carpet a room or a house.

S. H. Hellyar & Co.,

Caryl's Block, on the Corner,
Palmer,
Mass.

WANTED SALESMEN. We want one or two good men in each county to take orders for a choice line of Nursery Stock or Seed Potatoes. Stock and seed guaranteed. We can give you steady employment with good pay. It will cost you nothing to give it a trial. State when writing which you prefer to sell. Address

The Hawks Nursery Co.,
Rochester, N. Y.

L. H. HENDEE, M. D.,
OFFICE AND RESIDENCE, PLEASANT ST.
Office hours 7 to 10 a. m., and 1 to 3 and 7 to 9 p. m

W. N. Flynt & Sons,

Monson.

Clothing, Hats and Furnishings.

Blankets. Warm weather is nearly over, and as we are looking for early frosts, you should also be looking for early blankets. We are showing an extra fine line of Wool Blankets at prices from 50 cents to $5 00 a pair. As a leader we have placed on sale 75 pairs of 10-4 Flannel Blankets in white, grey and brown, extra value, at 50 cents a pair.

Comfortables. We can supply you with everything you want in the line of Comfortables, either in color, size or price,—or all three,—from 75 cents to $2.00 each.

Carpets. In view of fall house-cleaning we wish to call your attention to our new patterns in Carpets, both Ingrains and Tapestries. A choice line of Art Squares, all sizes and prices, just the thing for your dining room.

Matting. China and Japanese Matting, 15 to 37 cents per yard.

Always on hand a full line of Oil Cloths, Linoleums, Carpet Paper, Curtains, Sash Rods, Wall paper, Rugs, Mats, etc.

Crockery and Groceries of every kind.

Below find our prices for COAL to be delivered now, subject to advance at any time. Good men furnished to house and bin same at actual cost for their time. All coal screened.

The Lehigh is as good as any we ever sold. The Lackawanna is the best prepared coal that comes to market for domestic use.

We would advise every one to put in EARLY ORDERS. Prices will be higher.

Send your order by postal card or leave it at our office.

PRICES FOR LACKAWANNA:		PRICES FOR LEHIGH:
Stove size,	$5.00 per ton.	Stove size,	$5.15 per ton.
Chestnut,	5.00 " "	Chestnut,	5.15 " "
Furnace,	4.80 " "	Furnace,	5.00 " "

Less than one (1) ton 25 cents added for the load.

Delivered in bags 15 cents a ton additional, which will save expense housing in many cases.

JUNE 20, 1895.

R. M. & THEO. REYNOLDS,
MONSON, - - MASS.

BISMARK.

Germany's Great Leader Speaks A Startling Truth.

And Gives a Lesson We Will Do Well to Heed.

He Says, "Blood and Iron Rule the World."

Just What This May Mean to Every One of Us.

Such Startling Words Bring the Truth Home To Us.

When Prince Bismark, Germany's great leader, said, "The world is not ruled by parliaments and political meetings, but by blood and iron," he uttered a truth, the extent of which few comprehend. The world is ruled by race—race is ruled by blood—pure blood. All genius and all talent, in war and in peace, is dependent on the conditions of the blood. It is the mainspring of individual force and power. It vitalizes or enervates the physical and mental strength. We speak of blooded stock in the animal kingdom; it will apply with equal force to the human race.

When Greece was full of vital energy, when she cultivated her physical health she became mistress of the world, and her great Alexander wept for other worlds to conquer; but when she became effeminate a horde of barbarians overran and destroyed her, leaving behind them a path of mournful ruins. In tainted blood, impure and weak, was written that nation's sad epitah. So queenly Rome and many another nation has suffered in the loss of physical prowess and been destroyed or hurt. We need, both as a nation and as individuals, to take this important lesson to ourselves. Be well and keep so; mend up the waste places; strengthen the nerves and purify the blood. Then, long life is assured; good work in the world will come, and you will know the blessings of sound body and happy mind. Nothing has yet been discovered to accomplish this like Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy.

The great Bismark did no more for Germany in discovering her elements of unity and enforcing them, than has this distinguished specialist done for mankind in discovering his wonderful remedy for all blood ailments and nerve weakness, giving health and strength and happiness to all who will take it and will be cured of their suffering. Do not fail to improve this fortunate opportunity. Take Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy and you can be well and strong, strong to conquer what and you undertake in life.

Mr. F. A. Arnold, of Woodsville, N. H., says: "Three months ago I was in a very debilitated state. My stomach refused to act, and after eating I suffered pain from indigestion. My blood was in a very low state, and I was in no condition to work. I did keep around, but suffered continually. My kidneys bothered me considerably, and I had continual pain in the small of my back.

"I was considerably discouraged about my condition, and feared that I should be obliged to give up work. I heard of Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy and its wonderful results upon others, and I determined to try it.

"I had no faith in the virtues of the remedy when I began its use, but now I am rejoiced to say that I cannot help having faith for it completely cured me, and I work with comfort every day.

"My business is railroading, which I could not now do if it had not been for Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy, and I gladly recommend it to all."

Why waste time in trying uncertain and untried remedies, when here is a physician's prescription, a discovery made by the greatest living specialist in curing nervous and chronic diseases, Dr. Greene, of 34 Temple place, Boston Mass. If you take this medicine you can consider yourself under Dr. Greene's direct professional care, and you can consult him or write to him about your case, freely and without charge. This is a guarantee that his remedy will cure, possessed by no other medicine in the world.

Bicycle Song.

Oh Bessie has bought her a bonnet of red
And started on foot for the ball;
She never was minding a word that I said,
Or looking about for my call.
Quit mourning, quit mourning, good Mother, I say;
She maybe will linger to talk on the way;
I'll follow the truant as well as I may,
And catch her, whatever befall.

Oh Bessie has bought her a bonnet of blue,
And started to ride to the ball;
She's taken the speediest horse that she knew,
The swiftest that stood in the stall.
Quit mourning, good Mother, it might have been worse;
There's many a mount that is better than hers;
I'll follow her closely with saddle and purse,
And catch her, whatever befall.

Oh Bessie has bought her a coat and a cap,
And started to wheel to the ball,
With only a bit of a skirt for a lap,
And bloomers distressingly small!
Keep mourning, good Mother, your sobbings repeat;
For whether her going be tardy or fleet,
I never should know her, if her I should meet;
We're lucky to catch her at all!

—Will Carleton, in Every Where.

JUSTICE CAUGHT NAPPING.

A prominent lawyer of New Jersey, who has an office on lower Broadway, tells a story about New York city judges of forty years ago that always fetches a smile. Judge John T. Irving, the upright and conscientious brother of Washington Irving, is the hero of this alleged incident. It occurred in the days when judges received a fee of $1 for every paper they signed.

One day two prominent New York lawyers, so the story runs, were in Judge Irving's court when he was busily engaged in signing papers. There was a long line of lawyers filing slowly in front of the desk, and as each passed up his papers he at the same time laid down a corresponding number of dollars. The judge would glance at the papers, make a scrawl on each and take up the next package, the pile of greenbacks growing steadily as the line of lawyers thinned out. One of the two lawyers looked on and said to his companion:

"I have the highest respect for the judge's integrity, but I'm satisfied he doesn't know half the time what he is signing. Why, watch him. It is impossible for him to get half an idea of what is on the paper. If he examined each one closely he'd never get done; but he should be more careful nevertheless." The other lawyer declared the judge caught at a glance the important sentence or phrase of each.

"Well, I don't believe it," exclaimed the other. "I feel sure, in spite of better intentions, that that $1 fee acts as an incentive and causes His Honor to slight his work, and I'm going to prove what I say." With that he strode out of the room and presently returned with a legal form signed by the sheriff, and which set forth that on such and such a day, and at a certain hour, and in a certain place, Judge Irving was to be hanged by the neck until he should be dead. The lawyer then took his place in the line filing before the judge's desk. When it came his turn he held up the paper, folded between his fingers, in a nonchalant manner, and laid down the $1 fee with the other hand.

His honor unfolded the paper and hurriedly plunged his pen in the ink. There was a splutter and a scrawl, and Judge Irving had signed his own death warrant. That night the lawyer went to a social gathering which Judge Irving was to attend, with the death warrant in his pocket. When he found himself in a corner with the judge he said: "Judge, I was watching you signing papers to-day, and I couldn't for the life of me understand how you read them all. Do you really read them?" "Why, certainly. It's a matter of habit, you know. I have acquired it by years of practice. I can at a glance detect the really important sentence or word."

"Well," said the lawyer, producing the death warrant, and folding it in such a manner that the name of Judge Irving only was visible, "Is that your signature?"

The judge put on his glasses, stared at the paper an instant, and then declared it was his signature. The lawyer then unfolded the paper and handed it to the judge. The latter read it and turned crimson.

After that the signing of the papers in Judge Irving's court was as long and tedious a process as it had been rapid and careless before.—New York Press.

A WORD FITLY SPOKEN.

Had I a daughter to train, said a woman of the world, one accomplishment above all should be taught her—to make herself agreeable without descending to make fun of other people. Much, if not most, of the fun current among young folks consists of picking others to pieces.

Bright people are given to use their wit very freely upon others who have the misfortune to come near them. Women especially regard the world outside their immediate circle as created to afford them amusement, not of the most amiable kind. They are not discriminating enough to see what underlies and offsets the peculiarity which provokes their fun.

The ill-dressed, hurried woman is commonly trying to carry affairs whose burden her critics would shirk shamelessly. No wonder if the brave spirit steps awkardly and unbecomingly under the load she can but just bear without breaking, those who bait their fun on her must laugh and laugh again unheeding.—The Housewife.

NATURAL PHILOSOPHY.

A farmer walked up and down a block on Griswold street a day or two ago whistling a whistle that was apparently meant for a dog. When he had looked up and down and around for ten minutes a newsboy came along and queried:

"Whistlin' fur your dog?"

"Yes, but I guess the critter has gone too fur off. I knowd he get lost if I brung him in."

"Your dorg hain't lost," continued the boy. "Can't nobody lose a dorg. It's you that's lost, and if you'll stand still a few minutes he'll find you."

The farmer smiled at the boy's philosophy, but decided to heed it, and it wasn't five minutes before his dog turned in from Fort street and came up to him.

"Didn't I tell ye?" said the boy as he moved on. "I don't make any charge fur the pinter, but next time you git lost jest take a lean again a lamp-post and gin yer dorg a fair show to find ye."—Detroit Free Press.

A Household Treasure.

D. W. Fuller, of Canajoharie, N. Y., says that he always keeps Dr. King's New Discovery in the house and his family has always found the very best results follow its use; that he would not be without it, if procurable. G. A. Dykeman, druggist, Catskill, N. Y., says that Dr. King's New Discovery is undoubtedly the best cough remedy; that he has used it in his family for eight years, and it has never failed to do all that is claimed for it. Why not try a remedy so long tried and tested. Trial bottles free of LeGro & Lynde, Palmer; G. L. Keeney, Monson; F. A. Spencer, Ware.

Did You Ever

try Electric Bitters as a remedy for your troubles? If not, get a bottle now and get relief. This medicine has been found to be particularly adapted to the relief and cure of all female complaints, exerting a wonderful direct influence in giving strength and tone to the organs. If you have loss of appetite, constipation, headache, fainting spells, or are nervous, sleepless, excitable, melancholy or troubled with dizzy spells, Electric Bitters is the medicine you need. Health and strength are guaranteed by its use. Large bottles only 50 cents, of LeGro & Lynde, Palmer; G. L. Keeney, Monson; F. A. Spencer, Ware.

Bucklen's Arnica Salve.

THE BEST SALVE in the world for cuts, bruises, sores, ulcers, salt rheum, fever sores, tetter, chapped hands, chilblains, corns, and all skin eruptions, and positively cures piles, or no pay required. It is guaranteed to give perfect satisfaction or money refunded. Price 25 cents per box. For sale by LeGro & Lynde, Palmer; G. L. Keeney, Monson; F. A. Spencer, Ware.

DISAPPOINTED AMBITIONS.

About fifty years ago a young lad, working on a Pennsylvania farm, declared his intention of writing an oratorio. He had a passionate love of music, and his hope was to leave to the world the score of a great composition, which it would treasure as it does the words of Handel.

The necessity of earning his livelihood forced him to postpone this important work from year to year, but, in the meantime, the necessity of expressing himself in music drew from him many negro melodies and simple songs.

They breathed with infinite pathos the homely affection, the sorrows and hopes of every-day life. The whole nation caught them and sang them. They spread to England—over the Continent.

Stephen Foster is dead, and the great oratoria was never written, but "The Old Folks at Home," "Carry Me Back to Old Virginia," and others of his songs have gone into the depths of countless hearts, stirring the sympathy and feeling that sweetens life and helps to make men better.

Old Father Dinsmore, an itinerant Baptist missionary in the South before the war, said once, "I hoped when I was a boy to become a great public orator like Whitefield, but by the time I visit and talk to a dozen poor white or black slaves, and pray with them, there's nothing left of the day in which to write a great sermon."

In the ancient town of Rouen, France, there is a band of pious serving women who have vowed to consecrate their labor to the service of God. Some of them spend years in embroidering a magnificent gold drapery for the church altar, which is laid away in a locked case and used only twice a year. The others make coarse garments for the poor from day to day.

Most of us, perhaps, begin life hoping to accomplish some great work, and find at the end that we have spent it in little homely tasks that have filled each passing day.

Yet when it is all summed up, is not the world as much helped by the cheery songs and kindly words, and warm clothes given every day, as by the great oratorio or sermon, or rare embroidery known only to a few?

The penny given in love to our starving brother is as sacred in God's eyes as the golden cup which holds the sacramental wine.

An old man went into a life insurance office and asked to be insured. The company asked his age. His reply was 94. "Why, my good man, we cannot insure you," said the company. "Why not?" he demanded. "Why, you are 94 years old." "What of that?" the old man cried. "Look at statistics, and they will tell you that fewer men die at 94 than at any other age."—London Spare Moments.

Taylor's Anti-Headache Powders are just as harmless as water. Yet look how powerful water is in putting out fire! Our powders cure Headache and Neuralgia in the same manner exactly. It is safe to say that these powders will cure all cases, because they never failed yet. Why not buy Taylor's and be sure about it? Get them of LeGro & Lynde.

A GREAT BIG PIECE OF BATTLE AX PLUG FOR 10 CENTS

R·I·P·A·N·S

ONE GIVES RELIEF.

52-43

"WHERE DIRT GATHERS, WASTE RULES."

GREAT SAVING RESULTS FROM THE USE OF

SAPOLIO

4-25

CHILDS BUSINESS COLLEGE.

Fall term opens Tuesday, Sept. 3d. Best instruction. Largest patronage of any school of its kind in New England. The best equipment for success in life is a practical knowledge of the laws of success. Are you a competent bookkeeper, or stenographer? If not, plan to attend Childs' Business College and obtain a thorough business training. Three months' school ticket at half regular R. R. rates. Catalog mailed free.

E. E. CHILDS, Principal,
316 Main St., Springfield.

PARKER'S HAIR BALSAM

Cleanses and beautifies the hair. Promotes a luxuriant growth. Never Fails to Restore Gray Hair to its Youthful Color. Cures scalp diseases & hair falling. 50c. and $1.00 at Druggists

PATENTS CAVEATS, TRADE MARKS COPYRIGHTS.

CAN I OBTAIN A PATENT? For a prompt answer and an honest opinion, write to MUNN & CO., who have had nearly fifty years' experience in the patent business. Communications strictly confidential. A Handbook of Information concerning Patents and how to obtain them sent free. Also a catalogue of mechanical and scientific books sent free.

Patents taken through Munn & Co. receive special notice in the Scientific American, and thus are brought widely before the public without cost to the inventor. This splendid paper, issued weekly, elegantly illustrated, has by far the largest circulation of any scientific work in the world. $3 a year. Sample copies sent free.

Building Edition, monthly, $2.50 a year. Single copies, 25 cents. Every number contains beautiful plates, in colors, and photographs of new houses, with plans, enabling builders to show the latest designs and secure contracts. Address MUNN & CO., NEW YORK, 361 BROADWAY

A morning tonic for your brain—a vigorous brushing of the head with one of our nice brushes. Bristles not too hard, not too soft—the kind you like. The price is only 50 cents. Combs, powders, perfumes, mirrors. The Centennial Tooth Powder, and all toilet requisites. You can put on finishing touches with them and for little cash.

Our medicines have wings that fly with pain to parts unknown. Test their power when you are sick, and then you will thank us for relief.

ALLEN'S DRUG STORE,
Holden's Block, Palmer.

PALMER SAVINGS BANK, PALMER, MASS.

Hours from 9 a. m. to 3 p. m.

President,
H. G. LOOMIS.

Vice Presidents,
GEO. MOORES, T. D. POTTER, C. H. HOBBS.

Secretary,
WM. W. LEACH.

Treasurer,
H. W. McGREGORY.

Trustees,
James B. Shaw, E. G. Hastings, C. H. Hobbs, George Mooers, R. C. Newell, Geo. E. Buck, H. G. Loomis, F. F. Marcy, A. L. Hills, T. D. Potter, H. Waid, Wm. Holbrook, H. P. Holden, Wm. W. Leach, C. F. Grosvenor, Jas. S. Loomis, C. L. Gardner, H. W. McGregory

Board of Investment,
Geo. Mooers, H. G. Loomis, E. G. Hastings, C. H. Hobbs, James B. Shaw.

Auditors,
Wm. W. Leach, A. L. Hills.

MR. J. B. LONGWILL, having leased Mr. Campbell's blacksmith shop, will endeavor to do what is right by the general public, in prices to suit all parties. Horse shoeing a specialty.

tf-7 SOUTH MAIN STREET, PALMER.

The Palmer Journal.

VOLUME XLVI. PALMER, MASS., FRIDAY EVENING, OCTOBER 4, 1895. NUMBER 27.

PUBLISHED EVERY FRIDAY EVENING
—BY—
C. B. FISKE & CO.

TERMS OF SUBSCRIPTION.—Two dollars a year. A discount of 25 cents to those who pay in advance. Six months, $1.00; three months, 50 cents; single copies, 5 cents.

ADVERTISING RATES.—One inch (or twelve lines of this type solid) one week, $1; each subsequent insertion, 25 cents. One inch one year, $10; one half inch one week, 75 cents; each additional week, 15 cents. Short advertisements, "Wanted," "To-Let," etc., 10 cents per line, cash; no charge less than 30 cents. Notices in local column, 15 cents per line. Liberal rates to yearly advertisers.

JOB PRINTING of all kinds executed in the best styles, promptly and at reasonable rates.

C. B. FISKE. L. E. CHANDLER.

[Entered at Post Office as second class matter.]

LOCAL BUSINESS DIRECTORY.

PALMER.

ALLEN, O. P., Wholesale and Retail Druggist and Bookseller.

BARTON, F. D., Dealer in Watches, Clocks and Jewelry, Main street.

BILLS, G. A., Fresh and Salt Beef, Pork, Ham, Lard, Tripe, etc.

BROOKS, EDWIN E., Graduate Optician. With E. S. Brooks, Jeweler, Main street.

BROOKS, E. S., Dealer in Watches, Clocks, Jewelry, Solid Silver and Plated Ware, Main street.

BROWN, C. A. & CO., Hardware, Furnaces, Stoves, Ranges, Paints, Oils and Glass.

BROWN, S. H., Trucking, Light Jobbing, Piano Moving. Order box cor. Main and Walnut streets. Orders can also be left at J. F. Foley's store.

CARPENTER, Mrs. L. E., Millinery and Fancy Goods. Also dealer in Human Hair Goods.

CHANDLER BROS., Bicycles.

CLARK & HASTINGS, Wholesale Dealers in Armour & Co's. Dressed Beef, Provisions, Main St.

EAGER, F. M., Boot and Shoe Manufacturer to Order, and dealer in Leather and Findings.

FISKE, C. B. & CO., Publishers PALMER JOURNAL and WARE STANDARD. Fine Book and Job Printers and Bookbinders.

FITCH, A. E., Law and Insurance, Savings Bank Block.

FRANCIS, R. B., Iron Foundry and Machine Shop.

GAMWELL, C. K., Ready made Clothing, Hats, Caps, Gent's Furnishings, etc.

GARDNER, CHAS. L., Attorney and Counsellor at Law. Church street.

GOODES, E., Palmer Boot and Shoe Store, corner Main and Thorndike streets.

HAMILTON, J. A., Dealer in all kinds of Coal, Wood, Grain, Flour, Baled Hay and Straw. Fertilizers and Stock Food. Main street.

HOLBROOK, C. D., Flour, Grain, Feed and Mason's Supplies, Main street.

HOLBROOK, J. F., Dealer in all kinds of Coal. Agent for National and White Star line of steamers. Drafts on Foreign Banks at lowest rates.

LEACH, W. W., Attorney at Law.

LEGRO & LYNDE, Druggists and Newsdealers, Paper Hangings, Shades, Lamps and Fixtures.

MARCY, F. F., Dealer in Lumber, Shingles, etc., wholesale and retail. West of B.&A.R.R. depot.

MARCY, OSCAR C., Livery and Feed Stable, rear of Converse House.

PALMER WATER CO., Office, Lawrence Block. Office hours to October 1, from 8.30 to 10 a. m., from 2 to 3 p. m.

SHAW, J. B., Dealer in Dry Goods, Groceries, etc. Opposite the depot.

TAFT, S. S., Attorney at Law. Office in Allen's Block, Church street.

WHITE, C. W., Marble and Granite Works. No. 1 Thorndike street.

WOOLRICH & CO., Manufacturers of Ridge's Food, Thorndike street.

THORNDIKE.

ADAMS, A. P., Druggist, Toilet Articles, Confectionery and Cigars.

BONDSVILLE.

HOLDEN, C. L., Dry Goods, Groceries, Clothing Boots, Shoes, Hats, Caps, etc.

MORIARTY, M., Dry Goods, Groceries, Boots Shoes, Coal. Agt White Star and Anchor SS Co's

WARE.

ADAMS, MRS., Chiropodist and Manicurist. 13 Park Avenue. All troubles of feet successfully treated.

ALBERTINE, J. A. Choice Fruits, Tobaccos, Cigars and Confectionery. Low Prices.

DAVIS INSURANCE AGENCY represents the best companies and gives lowest rates.

EDDY, C. W. Job and Fine Art Printer.

EDDY, MISS MATIE K. Teacher of Oil Painting and Crayon. Sketching or Art Work completed to order.

ELDREDGE, A. HENRY. Sign Painter. Carriages painted in the best manner. West Street.

HARLOW, A. B. Photographer. Instantaneous process only. Opposite the Bank.

HOSMER, F. N. Clothier. Hats, Caps, Gents' Furnishing Good, etc. Sanford's Block.

MARSH, F. E. Gold, Silver and Nickel Plater. Replating tableware a specialty. 7 Bank street.

PRIEST, J. E. Ware Steam Laundry. Carpet cleaning. Office at H. M. Clark's.

RICHARDSON, A. F. Dealer in Boots, Shoes and Rubbers of all kinds. Sagendorph's Block.

ROBINSON, JOHN F. Furniture, Sewing Machines, Pictures, Hardware, Paints and Farming Tools.

SIBLEY, J. B. Hardware, Tools, Agricultural Implements, Paints, Oils and Artists' materials.

SMITH, G. H. W. Jeweler. Watches, Clocks and Spectacles. Repairing in the best manner.

TURNER, H. H. Bookseller and Stationer, and dealer in Paper Hangings, Musical Instruments and Sheet Music.

MONSON.

GROUT, GEO. E. Dealer in Watches Clocks, Jewelry, etc. Towne's Block.

NEWTON, GEO. H., Law Office, Notary Public, Insurance, etc., near Gage's store.

SQUIER & CO., Dealers in Grain, Feed, Hay, Straw, Lumber, Shingles and Building Material.

WARREN.

KELLEY, W. H., Attorney and Counsellor at Law. Quaboag Block, Warren, Mass.

SOCIETY DIRECTORY.

MONSON.

MT. ELLA LODGE, No. 184, A. O. U. W. Meets first and third Tuesdays of each month in A. O. U. W Hall, Monson. FISK G. ROGERS, M. W., F. J. ENTWISTLE, Rec.

Economy ◆ ◆ ◆ ◆ ◆ ◆ Heaters

Steam, Water and Warm Air.

Place one in your house and you make

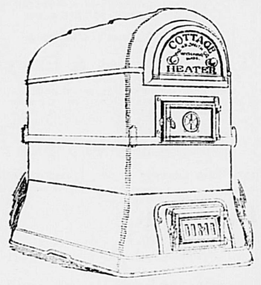
No Mistake.

Model Grand and Crawford Ranges lead all others. Work every time.

NO GUESS WORK HERE.

Plumbing in all its Branches.

Tinning—Anything you want.



The "Cottage" Hot Water Heater.

BE SURE AND SEE IT.

W. H. Hitchcock,

Central Street, - Palmer.

E. S. Bryant, D. M. D., Dentist,

Lynde's Block, Palmer.

Office hours: 8.30 to 12.30. 1.30 to 5 p. m.

The world's best, The world's newest, At the world's Lowest prices.

The Monson Boston Store.

Prices in Blankets and Comfortables for one week's sale.

Prices which will draw the biggest crowd of buyers our Domestic department has yet had.

10-4 White Blanket, weight 2½ lbs., 10 in. colored border, Sale price, 58c a pair.

Comfortables, straight quilted with bound ends, size 66x73—white cotton, Regular price, $1.19. Sale price 98c.

11-4 White Fleece Blanket, weight 2½ lbs., 20 in. red border. A very handsome blanket and special value, at 79c a pair.

Comfortables, carded cotton, and fancy quilted, red lining, (white cotton filled). Regular price, $1.15. Sale price, 98c.

10-4 White Blankets, weight 4½ lbs., beautiful colored borders—pink, blue, red. Special value. $1 a pair.

Comfortables, carded cotton, and fancy quilted, sateen front and red lining, with fancy border. Special—$1.73.

11-4 White Blanket, fleeced, extra heavy, beautiful borders. Well worth $1.50. Special—$1.33.

Comfortables, good quality, carded cotton, fancy quilted, sateen finish both sides, large size. Sale price, $1.98.

11-4 White Blanket, part wool stock. Great value, for $2.

Comfortables, extra fine quality, carded cotton, fancy figured sateen, plain sateen back, $2.50 to $3.50.

11-4 White Blankets, weight 4¾ lbs. All wool, filled from selected stock, elegant combination of colors—pink, blue, gold and red, $3.25.

Competition Bed Spread, size 65x72, crochet pattern in Marseilles effect, good weight and genuine bargain, 65c.

Our $2.98, $3.98, $4.75 Blankets are worth from 10 to 15 per cent more than what we ask,

For want of space we cannot mention every number we carry in blankets and comfortables. But a look will suffice. We sell cheap.

The Bargain Store. T. H. Todd, Boston Store,

Monson.

Annual opening of Fall and Winter Clothing at

W. N. Flynt & Sons,

Monson, Mass.

Boy's and Children's Clothing at remarkably low prices.

Boy's knee pant suits, ages 3 to 16 years, in color and price to suit all.

Examine "The Reciprocity Suit," in neat grey and brown mixtures. Double seat and double knee; sewed with silk and linen thread and warranted not to rip. Only $5.85. "The Little Captain Suit" for $3.50, built in the same way and just the thing for school wear.

An extra heavy Black Cheviot Suit for $2.50. And others of equal value from $2.00 to $5.00.

In order to supply our growing trade in Men's Clothing we have an unusually large line which we would be pleased to show you even if you are not ready to buy.

As a novelty, we are offering a fine lot of "Nigger Heads" in black and brown for $15.00, $18.00, and $20.00.

Nobby grey mixtures, $10.00, $12.00, $14.00 and $16.00.

Black Cheviots, single breasted, $7.50 to $16.00.

Our Black Clay Worsted Suits speak for themselves. It is not so much the price as the value you get for the money. Compare them with others elsewhere at the same price. All styles $9.00, $10.00, $15.00 and $20.00.

The latest styles in Derbys, $1.50, $2.00, $2.50 and $3.00. Soft Hats, Caps, Gloves, Neckwear, and everything else to make a complete line of gent's furnishings.

To be delivered now, subject to advance at any time. We furnish good men to house and bin same. All coal is screened and delivered in bags.

The Lehigh is as good as any we ever sold. The Lackawanna is the best prepared coal that comes to market for domestic use.

Prices will be higher.

Send your order by postal card or leave it at our office.

SEE OUR PRICES FOR COAL

Prices for Lackawanna:

Stove size, - $5.35 per ton.
Chestnut, - 5.35 " "
Furnace, - 5.25 " "

Prices for Lehigh:

Stove size, - $5.50 per ton.
Chestnut, - 5.50 " "
Furnace, - 5.40 " "

Less than (1) one ton 25 cent added for the load.

Delivered in Bags, which will save expense of housing in many cases.

October 1, 1895.

R. M. & Theo. Reynolds.

Monson, Mass.

. . . Coal, . . . Hay and Straw.

If you haven't bought your winter coal, ask our prices before you buy; will sell as low as anyone.

We have hay and straw, and can supply you at short notice, at market prices.

If you want to buy or hire a team or any part of a team, come and see me. Think I can supply you. I have competent men to attend to all light and heavy teaming you may have to do, and solicit a share of your patronage. Orders by mail promptly attended to.

Ralph Clifford,

Monson, Sept. 30, 1895. Monson House Stables.

SMITH'S Pure Spices and Low Prices.

59 Main St., Palmer,

Piano and Banjo Lessons

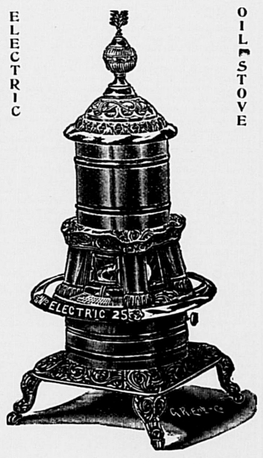
given by

Misses Annie and Carrie Fish,

22-tf Palmer.

Now is the time to set up the

ELECTRIC OIL STOVE



and keep your room comfortable these cool nights and mornings. All sizes now in.

Call and see our fine lot of

CABINET BASE RANGES, PARLOR AND CYLINDER STOVES, AND RANGES,

at remarkably low prices.

Builders' Hardware, Agricultural and Mechanics' Tools, Tin Ware, Paints, Oils, and Glass.

C. A. Brown & Co.,

Palmer.

SMITH & MURRAY.

The Big Silk Sale begins this week. This is no ordinary sale—for two reasons—first because the goods are all this season's product; second, it's a great Silk season.

These Silks were purchased at the peremptory Trade Sale by order of Pelgram & Meyer, New York, last Wednesday.

Their reputation as manufacturers of high-class Silks requires no commendation from us.

Five thousand five hundred pieces plain and fancy, black and colored Silks were sold at auction.

We were large purchasers, and the result is that we will start a sale of desirable Silks to-day at prices easily a fourth less than the same goods are being offered at in the usual way.

This is no invitation to a small lot of merchandise—and an ordinary one at that—but to a feast of the most fashionable silks on the market.

Here's a partial list, but its a worthy one:

24-inch Black Faille Francaise, regular price, $1.00. Sale price 69c a yard.

24-inch heavy Black Faille Francaise, regular price, $1.25. Sale price 79c a yard.

24-inch extra heavy Black Faille Francaise, regular price, $1.50. Sale price 98c a yard.

19-inch Black Satin Duchesse, regular price, 75c. Sale price 59c a yard.

19-inch heavy Black Satin Duchesse, regular price, 87½c. Sale price 69c a yard.

24-inch extra heavy Black Satin Duchesse, regular price, $1.25. Sale price 89c a yard.

20-inch Black Satin Rhadame, regular price, 87½c a yard. Sale price 69c a yard.

20-inch Black Armure Silk, regular price, $1.00. Sale price 69c a yard.

19-inch colored Faille Francaise in all the new shades, including new tints of Myrtle, Navy, Maroon, Marine, Cardinal, Tabac, Mode, Dahlia and Raphael.

Our former retail price for these goods was 75c a yard. Sale price 49c a yard.

SMITH & MURRAY.

"Honest John" Truss.

Very few Trusses have a reputation equal to this, and none better. We are prepared to apply them to any kind of rupture, with a guarantee of satisfaction in every particular, at the drug store of

LeGRO & LYNDE,

Next Door to Post Office,

Palmer, - - Mass.

Meekins, Packard & Co.

Carpets.

As fast as our cutters and sewing girls can work, the new carpets are being made up and sent all over New England. Never before at this season of the year have the carpet sales mounted so high as now.

Brussels at 85c and $1.00 a yard are two lines that are proving exceedingly popular among buyers. Durability unquestioned and no end of tasteful patterns from which to choose.

Carpet department, first floor.

Furniture.

Its a brisk business we're doing in Furniture just now, a business in which the purchaser finds a good part of the profits coming his way. Moreover, its a kind of furniture all are glad to buy. The best styles from the best makers, a kind we can thoroughly guarantee, and sold for the lowest prices that spot cash buying will make possible.

Every line is complete, and a turn through our immense department will convince you that a great expenditure of money is not necessary for the comfortable and tasteful furnishing of the house.

Furniture department.

Meekins, Packard & Co.

Springfield, Mass.

What My Lover Said.

By the merest chance, in the twilight gloom,
In the orchard path he met me;
In the tall, wet grass, with its faint perfume,
And I tried to pass, but he made no room,
Oh, I tried, but he would not let me.
So I stood and blushed till the grass grew red,
With my face bent down above it,
While he took my hand as he whispering said—
(How the clover lifted each pink, sweet head,
To listen to all that my lover said;
Oh, the clover in bloom, I love it!)

In the high, wet grass went the path to hide,
And the low, wet leaves hung over;
But I could not pass upon either side,
For I found myself, when I vainly tried,
In the arms of my steadfast lover.
And he held me there and he raised my head,
While he closed the path before me,
And he looked down into my eyes and said—
(How the leaves bent down from the boughs o'er) head,
To listen to all that my lover said;
Oh, the leaves hanging lowly o'er me!)

Had he moved aside but a little way,
I could surely then have passed him;
And he knew I never could wish to stay,
And would not have heard what he had to say,
Could I only aside have cast him.
It was almost dark, and the moments sped,
And the searching night wind found us,
But he drew me nearer and softly said—
(How the pure, sweet wind grew still, instead,
To listen to all that my lover said;
Oh, the whispering wind around us!)

I am sure he knew when he held me fast,
That I must be all unwilling;
For I tried to go, and I would have passed,
As the night was come with its dew, at last,
And the sky with its stars was filling.
But he clasped me close when I would have fled,
And he make me hear his story.
And his soul came out from his lips and said—
How the stars crept out where the white moon led,
To listen to all that my lover said;
Oh, the moon and the stars in glory!)

I know that the grass and the leaves will not tell,
And I'm sure that the wind, precious rover,
Will carry my secret so safely and well
That no being shall ever discover
One word of the many that rapidly fell
From the soul-speaking lips of my lover.
And the moon and the stars that looked over
Shall never reveal what a fairy-like spell
They wove round about us that night in the dell
In the path through the dew-laden clover,
Nor echo the whispers that made my heart swell
As they fell from the lips of my lover.

—Homer Greene.

JOB WOOD'S TRIBULATIONS.

Job Wood was rightly named, for tribulation had been his portion as far back as he could well remember. Yet no young couple in Brookdale had started out in life with brighter prospects for happiness than his father and mother. Elisha Wood had owned, free of all encumbrance, one of the prettiest and most prosperous farms for a mile about, while his wife was a healthy, rosy-cheeked country girl, with a natural taste for thrifty housekeeping. But the serpent entered this Eden; and poor Elisha fell, like so many others before him. He was popular with old and young, and, from a social glass now and then with the boys, he went steadily on his downward course, till ten years after his marriage the farm was mortgaged and run down, and Elisha was a common drunkard. Then he went on a more extended spree than usual, and died in a fit of delirium tremens, leaving the village to congratulate itself on being rid of a nuisance. Abijah Kane foreclosed his mortgage and took possession, and Mrs. Wood struggled along for two years, trying to support herself and her boy. Then a sudden attack of pneumonia found her too wornout to resist, and Joe was left to buffet with the world alone. It looked at first as though the town would have him to bring up, but Deacon Martin said he "'lowed he could git chores enough out of him to pay for his clothes and vittles," and the selectmen gladly dropped their responsibility. Job grew up somehow, went to school winters, and steadily labored at the aforesaid "chores" from early rising till his late going to bed. Then, when he was 18 years old, and had gradually been promoted to the heavy farm work, still for his "clothes and vittles" alone, he fell from the hay wagon and broke his leg. It was a bad break, and not properly set, and, when it healed and the splints were taken off, he found he was lame for life.

While the Martins were in a state of uncertainty as to the disposal of Job in his crippled condition, a wise Providence, combined with a stroke of apoplexy, removed the deacon to a presumably higher sphere, leaving the widow to run her farm and bring up her family of growing boys. She proceeded to business immediately after the funeral. The fact that the departed had been a first-class tyrant, who had allowed her no voice in any domestic arrangement, may have helped in soothing her grief and hastened her footsteps to take the helm; she told Job that he might stay and do what work he was able to manage with his lame leg, while she would hire a man to come in now and then for the heaviest work.

"I'll give you your vittles and lodgin's," she said, "and you can go round and pick up odd jobs for your clothes, when there ain't nothin' else for you to be doin'."

Poor Job knew about what would be expected of him, and the time it would require, and entertained grave apprehensions as to the future state of his wardrobe, but he knew of nothing better, and so agreed to the plan. This one-sided business arrangement had now continued for seven years, and the widow Martin had reason to congratulate herself on her sagacity. Job, however, was growing dissatisfied; it was five years since he became engaged to Nancy King, and, unless there was a change of some sort, she was liable to continue to preside over Dr. Collins's kitchen to the end of time.

Job never could understand how the brisk, high-stepping Nancy could ever have fancied such a worm as he. Like all true lovers, he was humble minded, and a spasm of wonder and pain always contracted his soul whenever they walked abroad, and he saw her accommodate her steps to his limping gait. No one could make him believe that between himself and Nancy there was little to choose in the matter of grace and beauty, and, though he had never seen any indications of other men trying to inveigle his lady love from him, there was no doubt in his mind but what she had only to lift her hand to draw all the village swains to her feet. And Nancy was a true, good-hearted girl, devoted with all her soul to Job and his interests; what wonder was it that her red hair and freckles, even the slight cast in her eye, should all be glorified in the sight of the friendless man?

She was no fool either; the widow Martin's treatment of her beloved was plain as daylight in her sight; and long had she vainly counseled him to rebellion. He was walking home with him from prayer meeting one night in early June, and, as usual, she was endeavoring to persuade him to demand his proper wages from the grasping widow.

"But, Nancy, you know I'm lame and can't get work like other folks," he said despondently.

"You ain't so lame but what you can do all that old skinflint's farm work, except about $5 a year she pays Jim Ellet for plowing and haying," returned the vigorous Nancy.

"Well, suppose I did spunk up to her, and she told me to clear out, then where'd I be?"

"You wouldn't be any worse off, and she's no such fool as to let you go neither," replied his affianced in wrathful tones. "Say, Job," she said, struck with a sudden idea, "why don't you take your photograph machine up to Benton? I believe you could make a pot of money before the summer's over."

Job's "photograph machine" was an old-fashioned clumsy camera, brought by a traveling artist to Brookdale two years before. This man had taken a fancy to the forlorn young fellow, hiring him to help at odd times and teaching him to take and finish up pictures, and, when he was stricken down with fever, Joe had nursed him like a woman to the end. He was a friendless, homeless man. There was little he could do to show his gratitude to his self-appointed nurse, but when he knew there was no hope for him he called in Squire Robinson and bequeathed his humble possessions to Job. After the funeral expenses were paid the legatee found himself the owner of $10 86 and the camera. He had picked up a little money now and then since, taking pictures for the neighbors, but Brookdale was hardly the place for a photographer to amass wealth, and of late he had hardly thought of his camera. Now the energetic Nancy wanted him to start off with the "machine" and make their united fortunes. Somehow this alarming proposition did not frighten him, as Nancy had expected, and they talked the matter over, trying to look at it from every point of view, Job in the meantime growing more and more dazzled with the prospect.

He passed on his way home the farm that had belonged to his father, and looked sadly at the neglected fields. Abijah Kane was dead, and his daughter was trying to sell it now for $2000. What a home it would make for Nancy! And why hadn't she chosen some smart, able-bodied man, who might have bought it for her? At all events there should be a change of some kind, and she should not go on waiting for him another five years.

And so in the early morning, with little or no hope of success, he laid his case before his employer, and waited in silence the storm which he felt would come. He was not disappointed. The widow rose to the occasion. Her exhortation was long and heated, and she wound up by telling him he could clear out as soon as he pleased; for her part she had thought for some time of getting rid of him. The boys were old enough now to do the chores, and he had been growing so lazy of late that he hadn't earned his salt, anyhow. Job let her finish, then went quietly to the barn, leaving the widow complete mistress of the situation.

"I guess that's the last that limpin' fool'll have to say to me about wages," she reflected as she wiped her excited countenance with her apron.

Two hours later Job had taken the tin mustard box containing the $10 86 from under the barn floor, collected his scanty wardrobe and the camera, and was bidding farewell to Nancy in the doctor's kitchen. Poor Nancy! She was hardly prepared for so sudden and heroic measures, but she felt that Job might never again be worked up to his present pitch if she held him back now, and with a bursting heart she saw him depart for the noon train, after a futile attempt to swallow the lunch which the doctor's wife insisted on providing for him.

There was plenty of latent ability lying dormant in Job's placid nature, and night found him settled in a little room of one of the Benton cottages. The quarters were far too humble for an ordinary summer boarder, but Job felt it was good enough for him, and the dollar a week which he must pay in advance filled him with apprehension. Then came a few days of weary discouragement. A little sign, painted by himself, announcing his desire to take photographs and views, hung in his window, but no one seemed to have any use for his services, and his only financial stroke was the "taking" of his landlady and her seemingly innumerable offspring, singly and in groups; also a view of the house itself. However, as this served to pay his first week's rent it was better than nothing.

Then one day came half a dozen city girls from the Benton house and had their pictures taken for the fun of the thing. That was a beginning, and after a two-weeks' stay Job counted up his gains, finding that he had paid his rent, bought him three frugal meals a day, and had two dollars and a quarter to add to his fund in the mustard box.

Time went on and his custom slowly increased; there was no photographer or tin-type cart in the place, and the young people from the hotel and boarding houses found it fine sport to let Job photograph them in groups, and send off the results to their friends. In the early morning, before he could look for patrons, he would wander off with his camera, and take shots at various points of interest around the place, and these he would finish up in the hope of selling to the summer guests to take home as souvenirs.

One morning he was passing by what he considered the prettiest home in the whole village; almost at the extreme end of the long street, a large white two-storied house with four beautiful maples in front, and a great, gnarled and twisted grape vine, which almost entirely covered one side. There was no sign of life on the premises, with the exception of a handsome St. Bernard dog asleep under one of the maples, and Job decided to have a view of the quiet spot. But just as he was about to touch the button the door opened, and a lady came out and sat down on the shaded veranda. The big St. Bernard roused himself, and walked slowly up to her chair and stood wistfully looking up into her face; she stroked his head once or twice, and he lay down at her feet and went to sleep again.

Joe stood fascinated; she had the most beautiful face he had ever seen, and the saddest,—he could feel the tears rising in his eyes as he stood there gazing spell-bound at the stranger. He had forgotten the house, but if only he might take her picture, not to sell, not to show even, but just to keep for himself and Nancy. However, he would just as soon be caught stealing sheep as to take that sad-faced woman's picture without permission, and he certainly hadn't the courage to walk in and ask her.

But she haunted him; he lay awake nights wondering what could have brought such a look of hopeless misery into that face which seemed made for happiness, and almost every day he walked by the house, sometimes seeing her, sometimes not, but ever alone or with the dog, and always with that expression in her eyes as though she were looking for something that would never come. No one knew anything about her; even Ira Williams, who was authority on most subjects that didn't concern him, had to own himself in the dark as regards this mysterious summer boarder. Ira drove the stage back and forth from the station four miles away, and it hurt his professional pride to think there was any one in Benton, resident or otherwise, with whose history he was not fully acquainted.

"Her name's Mason, Mrs. Edward C. Mason," he told Job, "cause I seen it on her trunks when I brung 'em up the mounting, and she's boardin' over Jessop's—and they don't know nothin' about her neither. I can tell you one thing, though, her husband's been up twice and stayed over Sunday, and the last time he came something mighty queer happened. She was standin' on the piazza when I druv up, and she just run out and ketched holt of him kinder orazy like. And he says, says he, 'It was only another false trail, Lena,' and she burst out a cryin and sayin' something about 'Oh! Bobby, Bobby!' and he had to grab her to keep her from topplin' right over. Now her man's name's Edward, and you can't git no Bobby outer that, and it's my belief she's either luny, or else she's done something she's ashamed of. If she hain't, why don't she come round and show herself like honest folks?"

Job turned away; he was furious with the stage driver for daring to suggest there could be anything wrong with the owner of those mournful eyes, and thoroughly ashamed of himself for trying to pry into her affairs. How he wished he could do something to drive away the trouble which he felt was crushing her life out. For she was getting to be in his mind all the time, and when, the next Sunday he went by express invitation of the doctor's wife, to spend a Sunday with Nancy, he could talk of little else. Nancy was greatly interested, too, and she urged him to go boldly up to Mrs. Mason and ask if he might take her picture.

"It's no killing matter if she says no," remarked the young woman. "Tell her you just want it for you and me to keep, and the chances are she'd just as soon as not." And Job, his courage greatly augmented by distance between him and the object of his veneration, was almost tempted to promise. He found himself quite a hero that Sunday, the whole village was immensely interested in his venture, and everywhere he was met by hearty congratulations and hopes of success. Even the widow Martin contorted her features into what she intended for a smile and told him she guessed they could make some kind of a dicker, when he get back from picture taking. It had been like a thunderbolt to her when Job departed, and running the farm with her three lazy boys for helpers had proved far from profitable.

The day after Job's return to Benton he started out with his camera in the early forenoon, and, as usual, wended his way toward Jessop's. She was there on the veranda, the dog by her side, and the book she never seemed to be reading lying in her lap. Suddenly she looked up, attracted by some movement of the dog, and saw Job watching her. There was no help for it now and he slowly walked up the path, limping more than usual in his excitment, and feeling that all the blood in his body was showing in his face.

"Were you looking for some one?" she asked gently.

"Please might I take your picture, ma'am?" stammered poor Job desperately, facing the situation as best he could.

"Take my picture?" she repeated, wonderingly. "What for? Not to sell?"

"No, indeed!" protested Job, eagerly. "Just for Nancy and me?"

"And who is Nancy?" a sad little smile flitted over her face as she spoke.

Job was not in the habit of talking much about himself, but it seemed easy enough now. Sitting there on the veranda, encouraged occasionally by a gentle question, he not only told Mrs. Mason who Nancy was, but all his own humble little history. Even the hopeless day dream of sometime buying back his father's farm slipped out somehow, and the tears stood in the listener's eyes as the simple pathos of it all came home to her, and she realized that there were other sorrows in the world beside her own. She let him take her picture, and told him to come again soon with the views of Benton that he had finished up and she would buy some of him.

"I am going to talk to my husband about you, Mr. Wood," she said. "Perhaps, when the season is over, something more profitable may be found for you than going back to Mrs. Martin. It seems hard that two people should wait so long to be happy, just for the want of a little money."

Job wondered what could be much worse than the want of money, but he walked back to his room on air, fully prepared to do battle with the stage driver, or any one else who should insinuate anything not altogether lovely against the gracious being who had been so kind, and shown such an interest in his lowly fortunes.

"Though I must have pestered her to death with all that clack about myself," he thought ruefully.

A few days later he went over to Jessop's again with his package of Benton views. Mrs. Mason received him kindly, praised his work, and bought them all except two or three that he kept for samples; insisting, too, on paying him four times as much as he asked. Job protested, but she would have her way, and, as he added the sum to the slowly filling mustard box that night he felt that his wedding day might be a possibility after all.

The weeks passed on and Job was prospering; the mustard box was full, and there was an encouraging look to the baking-powder can which now did him duty as a bank. He had had several talks with Mrs. Mason, and after much hesitation had presented her with a copy of the picture he had taken of her, and which she had accepted in a manner which made him worship her more than ever. In one of their she had asked him to bring her some of his views of Brookdale; she wanted to see the widow's farm-house, the doctor's place with Nancy on the front steps, and other little bits of the village which he had described to her. On their first interview he had shown her Nancy's photograph, which he always carried with him, and Mrs. Mason had said what a good, sensible-looking girl she was. In this work of art Nancy stood straight and stiff in her Sunday best, with the doctor's barn door for a background and a look on her face as though she were bracing herself for a shower bath. But the picture was precious to Job's sight, and his auditor's gentle commendation had gone straight to his grateful heart.

He tied up his Brookdale views, took his camera and started out one bright September morning, for there would be no business for him that day. A big circus had pitched its tent in Benton, and everybody was too much interested in the forthcoming parade and show to care for anything in the photographer's line. He determined to go down and take a few shots at the circus grounds and then go over to see Mrs. Mason. It was late in the forenoon when he reached Jessop's and the object of his search was on the veranda. But when Job had limped eagerly up to receive her pleasant greeting he found she wasn't alone, so, laying his package in her lap, he would have retreated, but she called him back. "Don't go," she said, "I want you to meet my husband. We were talking of you only a short time ago, Edward," and she turned to the tall grave looking man, with the streaks of gray in his hair, "this is Mr. Wood, of whom I was telling you, and he has brought some views of his home to show me."

Mr. Mason shook hands cordially with Job. He would have welcomed a gorilla if it could succeed in rousing his wife from the state of hopeless misery into which she had fallen, and she had certainly shown more interest in this lame photographer than she had felt for anything in many a weary month. But Job was tongue-tied and embarrassed in the presence of a third person, and Mr. Mason, seeing how it was with him, walked down under the trees by himself. He could hear the poor fellow's voice, however, as he gradually recovered his powers of speech, and proceeded to dilate upon the beauties of Brookdale, while Mrs. Mason impartially selected for purchase nearly every view that was shown to her.

"I've got a picture here, somewhere," Job was saying, of "a foreigner and his little boy that come through Brookdale last spring. I took 'em cause the little feller was so pretty; not a bit like his father—he was a big ugly looking rascal, and the poor baby, he wasn't much more than a baby, was mortal afraid of him. Nancy gave him a ginger cooky, and he didn't dare touch it till he'd asked the old hunks. The man played a fiddle, and the little chap danced jigs, and passed round his hat for pennies. Here's the picture now, and the queer part is, I saw the same two hanging around the circus tent this morning. Aint he a pretty little'e"—

There was a sudden cry, and Mr. Mason sprang quickly to his wife's side. She tried to speak, but no words would come, and she could only point helplessly to Job.

"What does this mean?" demanded Mr. Mason, sternly.

"I don't know mor'n the dead," stammered the trembling culprit. "I was just showing her a view, and she give a scream, and went right off like that."

But a white hand reached out and seized the picture.

"Look! Ned! Look!" she gasped, and a strange light shone in her startled eyes.

Wonderingly he obeyed, with a puzzled air which suddenly changed to one of mild excitment.

"Is this the child you were talking of?" he almost shouted, as, with no gentle hand, he caught the still more bewildered Job by the shoulder, and do you mean to say you saw him here to-day?"

"Yes sir, less'n an hour ago, about a mile down the road, near the circus."

There was a sob from the white-faced woman, and her husband drew her closely to him.

"Thank God! O Lena, Lena! There's no doubt this time, my darling! Only be brave for a little while, and you shall have him in your arms again."

"Take me with you," she pleaded, "I cannot wait here alone now."

But he put her gently back; she would only delay him, and there was sharp work to be done. They called Mr. Jessop, who was fortunately a constable, and the three started down the road toward the circus grounds. As Mr. Mason impatiently curbed his steps to the limping gait of his guide, he explained what was all so mystifying to Job. Nearly a year ago their boy had been lost. The nurse had taken him out for a walk, and, in crossing a street, saw a runaway almost upon them. She had just time to push the child out of harm's way, when the wheel of the carriage knocked her senseless. She was carried to a drug store, but, when she recovered consciousness and looked for her charge, he was nowhere to be found. Everything that money and detectives could do had been tried, but without success; the child had utterly disappeared, leaving no traces behind, and they had come at last to believe that their little one was dead. And this picture which Job had shown them was their boy, dressed in rags, and worn with privation to be sure, but it was Bobby, there could be no doubt of that, and he was going to find him, and give him back to his mother.

They had not far to search; just outside the circus grounds, on the edge of a field, sat a dirty-looking tramp, lazily smoking a short, black pipe. His violin lay beside him and just beyond, stretched at full length, a sleeping child. The noonday sun shone hot on the tired, wan face, and even in sleep there was a pathetic curve to the little lip that told its own tale of hardship and fear, and made the eager man who had drawn so near catch his breath with a sob.

The Italian saw them coming, and, snatching up his violin, he roughly shoved the sleeping boy with his foot.

"Git up, there, yer lazy loot, and dance one little jig for the gentlemen."

But a savage hand seized his coat collar, and his feet suddenly flew out from under him.

"Touch that child again and I'll break every bone in your worthless body! I reckon you are the one to dance for awhile."

Roused from his nap, the boy gazed in wonder at the scene before him, and he shivered as he saw his tyrant in the clutches of a stranger. But was it a stranger? For an instant a bewildered, far-away look came into the big, brown eyes, then suddenly a light spread all over the sad little face, and the childish voice rang out:—

"Papa! Oh, papa!"

And then, in his rags and dirt, he was sobbing in the arms that had ached so long to hold him.

Job, with ink-bedaubed fingers, sat in his room in the early twilight that night laboriously trying to transcribe the wonderful story in a letter to Nancy. He had just finished one copiously blotted sheet of foolscap when there was a knock at the door, and the next instant Mr. Mason was in the room.

"It's all right," he said, "and we are the happiest family in the United States. It is all your doing, too, Job, my boy, and I've brought you something that will end your troubles also, and we can sing hallelujah together."

Job lifted a pair of questioning eyes to the happy face standing over him.

"It is a check for five thousand dollars," Mr. Mason answered, laying his hand tenderly on the arm of the shabby photographer. "That is the reward that has been waiting all these months for the finder of that small urchin, and it is but a very small fraction of what he is worth to his mother and me. I believe the bitterest pill for that infernal Italian to swallow is the fact (which I took care he should thoroughly understand) that he might have owned this little sum if he had known enough to read the papers or been honest enough to have hunted us up. Now he is on his way to a place where he will have time to reflect on the subject. Put on your hat, Job, and come over to Jessop's with me; my wife refuses to eat or sleep till she had thanked you for giving us back our little boy. Afterward I would advise you to shut up the shop, go home and buy that farm, and get married without delay. And remember one thing," he concluded, with a sudden break in the hitherto joyous voice, "never, as long as you live, shall you need for anything that money can buy."

The next morning Benton had lost its photographer, and thus ended Job's experience as an artist. There is no better paying farm in Brookdale than his; no happier couple than he and his faithful Nancy. The "photograph machine" is stored away in the barn, except for a few weeks in the summer, and then it is in constant use. Bobby "takes" everything, animate and inanimate, on the farm, while Job and Nancy and a smiling girlish-looking woman who cannot bear the sturdy youngster out of her sight, look ever admiringly on.

"Doctor, how much flesh can one lose in a day under your treatment?" "That depends—I have one patient who lost thirty-five pounds yesterday." "Gracious!" "Fact—I cut his leg off."—Chicago Record.

The Journal.

FRIDAY EVENING, OCTOBER 4, 1895.

LOCAL NOTICES.

Wanted.—Two or three bushels of butternuts. Call at JOURNAL office.

PALMER NEWS.

The Electric Road Franchise.

The selectmen will give a hearing next Friday afternoon at 2 o'clock at the town house on the petition of the directors of the Palmer and Monson Electric Railway for a franchise permitting them to lay the tracks of the road in the highways of the town. The petition asks for a right of way from the Fay bridge on the Monson road to Thorndike street in the Depot village, and also from the Commercial street bridge over the river to the same point; on Thorndike street from Main street to the village of Thorndike; from Thorndike to Three Rivers, stopping at the bridge over the river; from the Four Corners to Boudsville; from Thorndike to Whipple's crossing on the road to Forest Lake. Should the selectmen grant the franchise, and there would seem to be no reason why they should not, application will be made at once for the charter, and when this is received the directors will be ready for the construction of the road. Several pro positions have been received for building the road, and if advisable work on it can be begun this fall, though it is unlikely that much will be done before spring. Money is not wanting for the line, and there seems a very good probability that the cars will be running before the middle of next summer.

The Annual Hunt Yesterday.

A stranger in town yesterday might have thought that an enemy had invaded the place and that the citizens were out in arms in defense of their homes and property, judging from the number of men seen on the streets with guns in their hands. They were only those who had been chosen to take part in the annual hunt, however, and no blood except that of the game slaughtered was spilled, and there are no weeping families and no mourning except on the part of those who were on the losing side and must pay for the supper for both sides. Over 60 were chosen for the hunt, captained by H. W. McGregory and C. E. Fuller, and the banging of the guns commenced at daylight, continuing till a late hour in the afternoon. English sparrows counted 50 each, and many of them came to grief in the streets of the village. The game was all to be killed within the 24 hours ending at 7 30 p. m., and when brought to Bills's market all which savored of a greater age was thrown out by the counters. The total score was 41,105, of which Mr. Fuller's side has 27,205 and Mr. McGregory's 13,900. All participants in the hunt will sit down to a game supper at the Converse House this evening at 9.

Mrs. H. M. Auger has gone to Jamaica, N. Y., to live.

Edwin S. Gardner was home from Amherst College over Sunday.

Mrs. J. M. Taylor of St. Louis is the guest of Mr. and Mrs. G. A. Bills.

Silas Keith returns Sunday evening to his dental studies at Philadelphia.

The wooden buildings of the Rogers-Osgood Hat Co. are receiving a coat of paint.

Hon. Nathaniel Niles of New York was the guest of C. B. Fiske over Sunday.

Miss Nellie Dingley of Mystic, Ct., is visiting her sister, Mrs. W. H. Higgins.

The Palmer National Bank paid a semi-annual dividend of 4 per cent on Monday.

Elder Charles Phelps of Westfield will preach in the Advent chapel next Sunday.

Miss Belle Colgrove left Wednesday for Springfield, where she will reside with her aunt.

Mrs. G. Beekman of Somerville has been spending the week with Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Thayer.

C. A. Royce is building an addition to his greenhouse on Maple street, doubling its capacity.

Miss Emma C. Mulvihill goes to-morrow to New York to attend the fall dress-making openings.

The exterior of H. G. Loomis's furniture building has received a new coat of paint this week.

Mrs. L. E. Carpenter announces her fall and winter millinery opening for to-day and to-morrow.

N. S. Ingraham, operator in the signal tower at the railroad crossing, is away on a week's vacation.

The W. C. T. U. will hold a meeting in the parlors of the Congregational church next Tuesday afternoon at 3 o'clock.

The ladies of the Congregational church gave a harvest supper in the church vestry Tuesday evening, which was well attended.

W. B. Davis has the contract to paint the signals of the Boston and Albany road between Palmer and West Brimfield, inclusive.

The body of Mrs. Clara Snow of Newtonville, a former resident of Palmer, was brought here for burial Tuesday afternoon.

The Eaton Club of the Universalist church has bought new chairs and screens to be used in the infant department of the Sunday school.

The regular monthly meeting of the Palmer Business and Social Club will be held in the club rooms this evening at 8 o'clock.

The record of deaths in the town for last month was the smallest of any month for a year, five; in September of last year there were 14.

Madame Langevin of Springfield has resumed her French class for the winter, and it will meet Friday afternoons at the residence of C. B. Fiske.

A party of capitalists were in town yesterday looking over the proposed route of the electric road. This is the second time they have visited the place.

A baptism took place in the river at the farm of O. D. Wells Sunday afternoon, two persons being immersed by Rev. C. R. Minard of the Baptist church.

About 350 excursionists from the Ogdensburg division of the Central Vermont road passed through Palmer Wednesday morning on their way to New York.

In the district court last Saturday the case of B. Frank Coffin, for keeping an unlicensed dog, was continued until to-morrow on request of defendant's counsel.

Tony Farrell was given a fair house at his presentation of "Garry Owen" last Friday night, and the play, a clean, wholesome one, was enjoyed by all present.

Miss Grace Rhodes gave a birthday party last Saturday evening to about 25 of her young friends at her home. Refreshments were served, and games indulged in.

"Tommy" Cook has established a boot and shoe repair shop in the little building between the Nassowanno and Strong blocks, formerly occupied as a peanut and fruit stand.

Mrs. Smith, state organizer on the Woman's Suffrage Referendum question, will give an address in the district court room this evening at 7.30, to which all are invited.

Next Sunday is the eighteenth after Pentecost, and the Feast of the Rosary, at St. Thomas's Catholic church. Masses will be at 8 and 10 30 a. m., with Sunday school at 3 p. m. and vespers at 7.30.

The Woman's Relief Corps will give a social in Grand Army hall next Tuesday evening to the members of the Corps, Grand Army post and families, and Sons of Veterans, all of which are invited.

W. W. Leach and Judge Robinson were chosen by the state convention of Universalists at Beverly last week as delegates to the United States convention to be held in Meriden, Ct, on the 22d of this month.

The south track of the Boston and Albany road between Palmer and West Brimfield was not in use last Sunday, repairs being made on the King bridge near that station, and all trains used the north track.

The class of '97 of the high school has chosen these officers: President, Harold Brainerd; vice president, Katharine Buck; secretary and treasurer, Albert Shaw. The class colors are gold and light blue.

Another decidedly cold snap arrived Sunday night, and Monday and Tuesday were emphatically of the winter order. The nights since then have been cool, but the days have been ideal autumnal ones.

The case of Martin Hollis of Three Rivers, for shooting Rodolphus Scoverra on the evening of September 17th, was called in the district court yesterday morning and further continued until a week from to-morrow.

The confirmation services which were to have been given in St. Thomas's Catholic church the first Sunday in October have been postponed until the first Sunday in November, on account of the absence of the Right Reverend Bishop in Mexico.

Lyman Sheldon of the telephone exchange, who was injured a few weeks ago by falling from a pole in Monson, has returned from a vacation at his home in Vermont. His back is somewhat lame yet as the result of his fall, but he will be all right again in a short time.

The Stafford fair next week will no doubt draw many people from Palmer; it always does. The society has the reputation of having the largest and best fair in this section of the country, and is almost invariably favored with good weather. Special trains will be run as usual.

F. D. Thompson of North Wilbraham, who last week bought the McManamy property on South Main street, has bought out John McGrath, and will conduct the blacksmith business himself in future. Mr. Thompson will live at 60 Park street, instead of over the shop.

The Eastern Hampden district court sent these appealed cases to the superior court at Springfield: Ernest M. Lord of Three Rivers, liquor keeping and maintaining a liquor nuisance; Ellen Looney of Monson, railer and brawler, two counts; Isaiah Hiscock and W. I. Whitlock of Wales, assault.

The branch office of G. W. Doane & Co's. real estate and business exchange which has been managed by A. H. King has been taken charge of by Cecil S. W. Pooley. Previous to his arrival here Mr. Pooley was vice consul for the United States in Sierra Leone, Africa. He will retain the rooms in Strong's block occupied by Mr. King.

The Boston and Albany road has equipped its New York service with two of the finest trains in the country, and they are run from New York and Boston at 4 o'clock each afternoon. The cars are built by the Pullman company, and are vestibuled from one end of the train to the other, making in all respects the finest trains in New England.

Rev. H. F. Moulton will give next Sunday morning the first of a short course of sermons on "A Positive Religion." His subject will be: "What does the Christian Know about Heaven as a Place?" The following sermon will be companion to this, on "What do we Know about the Condition and Occupation of our Friends in Heaven?"

The first social of the season at the Universalist church was held Wednesday evening, when a baked bean supper was served. A business meeting was held and all arrangements made for the annual harvest supper, to be held on the evening of the 22d. An entertainment was given, largely participated in by children of the Sunday school.

The pupils of the high school have decided to have another entertainment in November, whether the course as proposed is carried out or not, and have booked the Wesleyan College Glee, Mandolin and Banjo Club for the evening of November 26th. They have also engaged John DeWitt for February 4th, to lecture on "The Uses of Ugliness."

The selectmen have designated the following polling places for the state election November 5th: Precinct A, Palmer, the fire engine house on Park street; precinct B, Thorndike, basement of Loftus's block on Commercial street; precinct C, Three Rivers, basement of the Baptist church; precinct D, Bondsville, Liberty Hall. The election officers have not yet been appointed.

A change of time went into effect on the New London Northern road Monday, but with only one change in the leaving time of trains at the Palmer station. The Block Island train will be continued through the winter, but will leave Palmer at 7.05 in the morning instead of 7.35, and is made up here. The morning train from Brattleboro, which through the summer has arrived at 7 30, now arrives at 7 55, leaving for the south at 8 40, as usual.

About 2 o'clock yesterday morning Mrs. G. H. Justin, living on School street, saw a man attempting to raise one of the dining room windows of the house occupied by C. M. Foley. She was alone in the house and so could do nothing towards capturing the fellow, but scared him away. In the morning the marks of his fingers on the glass, where he had grasped the sash in an attempt to raise the window, were plainly to be seen.

The county commissioners have appointed a hearing for next Tuesday at 10 o'clock a. m. at the district court room on the petition of Brimfield and Wales people for a new highway from Fentonville, south of the river to the plant of the electric company, then after crossing the river to the present highway they wish a new one built south of the Bennett property and the tracks of the Boston and Albany road to the Monson road at Tenneyville. The greater part of the proposed highway will be in the towns of Monson and Palmer.

The wandering Italian who picks up all the rags he can find about the back yards is not always careful to confine himself to cast-off articles, but oftentimes takes everything of value which he can carry off. At one place a few days ago one of these vagrants who had wandered into a back yard was stuffing some horse blankets, which had been hung out in the sun, into his bag, and paid no attention whatever to the orders from the lady of the house to let them alone, desisting only when a man from a neighboring house was called upon to interview the fellow.

The Ladies' Tuesday Social Club held its first meeting of the season Tuesday afternoon with Miss Brigham on Park street. These officers were chosen: President, Mrs. S. H. Hellyar; vice president, Mrs. E. G. Hastings; secretary and treasurer, Mrs. C. K. Gamwell; librarian, Mrs. J. B. Shaw. Mrs. A. W. Thayer was elected to fill the vacancy caused by the removal from town of Mrs. C. B. Ellis, the club being limited in numbers to 12. Tennyson's life and works will be the first study, and the club will meet next Tuesday afternoon with Mrs. E. L Chandler.

At a session of the probate court in Springfield Wednesday the following was among the business transacted: Administration granted in the estate of Silas Collis, late of Palmer, Frederick M. Collis administrator. Will proved of James Fuller, late of Palmer, Edward J. Fuller executor. Permission was given Henry L. Heredeen of Monson to adopt Frank Tobin, minor, of Springfield, and change his name to Frank Heredeen. License to sell real estate was granted in the estate of Rebecca W. Sibley, late of Brimfield. Assignment of dower was decreed in the state of Michael O'Grady of Monson.

A special meeting of the Congregational parish was held Monday evening to hear the report of the committee appointed to consider the question of making a change in the method of renting the seats. The committee reported in favor of free seats, and gave accounts of the satisfactory working of the method in other places near by where it has been thoroughly tried. A committee consisting of G. H. Hastings, Hubbard Lawrence and L. H. Gager was appointed to canvass the present pew holders and get an expression of opinion regarding the question of a change, a report to be made the second Monday evening in November.

Merchants will do well to be on the lookout for counterfeit silver dollars, some of which seem to be floating around in this section. They are about right as to size and weight, but are sadly lacking in the matter of ring. One was passed at the post office this week in the payment of a box rent, and as it was done during a busy time the one who took it did not at once notice the peculiarity of the coin; it was soon discovered, however, and Postmaster Royce is inclined to let the matter drop and say nothing more about it if the person who passed it will pay his box rent in good money and destroy the coin which Mr. Royce now has.

The Boston and Albany road announces its annual excursion to New York by way of Albany and the Hudson river for next Tuesday. Tickets will be good on the train leaving Palmer at 10 53 a. m , reaching Albany at 2.45 p. m., giving ample time for a look about the city and the capitol building that day. A choice of routes is given down the Hudson to New York, either by the night boat at 8 o'clock, or by the day boat Wednesday, arriving in New York at 6 p. m. From New York the trip is by the Fall River line steamers either Wednesday or Thursday night to Fall River, and thence to place of starting. The fare for the round trip is only $5.

The Democrats held their caucus at the town house last Friday evening, and chose the following delegates: State—John F. Twiss, Frank F. Marcy, Thomas J. Moran, Maurice Moriarty, Maurice McCormick, George W. Lyman; councilor—E. J. Kelley, H. T. Bishop, J. J. Manning, Morris J. Moriarty, Thomas J. Conroy, Franklin L. Pierce; district attorney—J. A. Hawkes, John F. Hanafin, John Loftus, Sr, E. P. Brown, Michael Collins, M. J. Dillon; county—T. W. Kenefick, M. Roche, Joseph Boulanger, H. C. Strong, Charles L. Holden, Samuel Brown; senatorial—George E. Buck, J. F. Luman, Daniel J. Keefe, Arthur Grise, William O'Regan, John F. Shea; representative—William Morgan, J. J. Kelley, M. E. Keefe, Richard F. Twiss, D. J. Hartnett, John F. Foley, C. A. Brown, F. D. Barton, Charles L. Holden, E. W. Burns; town committee for 1896—E. P. Brown, M. E. Keefe, M. J. Moriarty, Franklin L. Pierce, John Murphy 2d.

The selectmen expect soon to commence on the permanent highway building which the voters ordered at the annual town meeting, instructing the selectmen to put $2000 of the appropriation into this class of highway work. The necessary repairs of the highways have taken more money than it was hoped would be necessary, so there will be little or nothing above the $2000 for permanent road building. The work would be commenced at once but the state road at Monson is taking all the trap rock the Flynt quarry can crush; as soon as this can be had the work will go forward. The strip to be built has not been decided definitely, but will probably be up Thorndike street in this village, commencing at Pine street. This is traveled as much or more than any other leading into the village, and considerable heavy teaming is done over it; the hill will give as good an object lesson in the value of good roads as can be wished, and certainly needs something done to it before long.

The Y. P. S. C. E. of the Congregational church gave a social to members and their friends Wednesday evening in the church vestry, which was an unusually enjoyable event. It took the form of a military social, and the room was tastefully decorated with the national colors, guns and flags, while in the center stood a large cannon. Quotations from noted men of American times were read and the audience asked to guess the authors, and a quintette of young men sang war songs. Hot chocolate and cake were served to all. An attractive feature was the models of the famous vessels Kearsarge and Alabama, made by H. S. Hobson, who served on the Kearsarge at the time of the noted fight. The boats are mounted on a circular framework covered with canvas painted to represent water, and are made to revolve about each other by means of clockwork. Mr. Hobson was present and took delight in explaining in an interesting manner the story of the boats and the fight.

The entertainment next Wednesday evening at the opera house under the auspices of the high school will be of the finest, and well worth attending. The attraction will be Leland T. Powers, impersonator, a genius who never fails to captivate his audience. He will give "David Garrick," in which he will impersonate the following characters:

David Garrick.....The great English actor.
Mr. Simon Ingot.....A wealthy London merchant.
Miss Ada Ingot.....
His charming and accomplished daughter.
Mr. Richard Chivy.....An empty-headed fop.
Mr. Smith.....Of Smith, Smith & Co.
Mrs. Smith...His wife (mother of seven children.)
Mr. Brown.....
Miss Araminta Brown.....His old-maid sister.
Mr. Jones.....
Ingot's Servant.....
Garrick's Valet.....
Act 1. Ingot's Drawing Room before the dinner.
Act 2. Ingot's Drawing Room after the dinner.
Act 3. Garrick's Study.

The Philadelphia Press says of his performance: "A more pleasing entertainment cannot be found," and the Norristown Herald says: "As an impersonator he has no superior; he gives a wonderful performance." The admission will be 50 and 35 cents, with 25 cents for children under 12 years, and the proceeds will go toward enlarging the school library.

PALMER CENTER.

Miss Brown is visiting in Southbridge.

Mrs. Hannah Dickenson and grandson of Boston returned home this week.

Charles Sanderson is on the road to recovery, being able to sit up part of every day.

Packard Trumble, who has been very sick, is so far recovered as to ride out, but still uses crutches to walk.

Edith Dimock had the misfortune to drop a heavy weight on her foot a few days ago, and is very lame in consequence.

BONDSVILLE.

Mr. Hillman of Northampton spent Sunday in town.

Daniel Sullivan was home from Amherst over Sunday.

Miss Bertha Canterbury of Ware is visiting her parents here.

G. A. Jacobs was called to Lowell Tuesday by the death of his aunt.

The W. C. T. U. will hold a meeting at Mrs. John Hayes's this evening.

Miss Clara Homes of Foskit's Mills is visiting her sister, Mrs. C. C. Ryther.

Rev. F. J. Hale is attending the Sunday school convention in Fall River this week.

G. W. Lee has returned from his vacation spent in Burlington and surrounding towns.

Mr. and Mrs. John Robinson and family of Barre were the guests of Mrs. Fred Moore last Saturday.

Miss Sophia Thompson has returned to her home in Worcester, after a week with friends in town.

J. H. Martin and C. F. Evans took a trip to Holyoke on their wheels last Saturday, returning Sunday.

Mrs. G. A. Moulton and Misses Lulu and Georgie have returned from a five-weeks' visit in Lewiston, Me.

Mrs. Martin Sedgewick of Palmer spent a few days this week with friends on her way to Athol to visit her son.

R. S. McNulty, temporary draughtsman for the Boston Duck Company, has finished his labors, and has returnd to his home in Boston.

Richard Russell, overseer of the finishing room, had his left hand quite badly injured Wednesday morning by being caught in the rolls of the measuring machine. The same afternoon Joseph Goldspot, a Polander, had his foot badly scalded.

The Flynt Building and Construction Company has finished the brick work on the new bleachery addition for the Bondsville Bleachery and Dye Works, and is at present laying the foundations for two water tanks for the Boston Duck Company. One is being erected directly opposite the mill office on the hill, the other near the Boston and Maine railroad station. The foundations are of brick, seven feet from top of ground to the base of tanks. These tanks, which are to be furnished by a company in Louisville, Ky., are built of cypress, the capacity being about 20,000 and 35,000 gallons. One is to be used for fire service and the other for domestic purposes. They are to be filled by means of pumps located at the works.

THREE RIVERS.

Opening at Mrs. L. M. Paine's millinery parlors Friday and Saturday, October 4th and 5th.

Mr. Thomas of Newton Centre will preach in the Baptist church next Sunday.

The Otis Company is shingling several of their sheds on the "Island."

Miss Clara Brown of Northampton spent Sunday with relatives and friends here.

About 50 from this town attended the "hop" at Belchertown last Friday evening.

Miss Alice Sikes of Springfield spent Sunday with her parents here.

Miss Louise and Fred White are recovering from attacks of tonsilitis.

Mrs. Herbert N. Cross of Springfield spent a couple of days this week with old friends here.

Robert Blair was on a hunting trip in Athol last week, and this week he is spinning spicy yarns.

Mrs. Merrell of Collinsville, Ct., was the guest of her daughter, Mrs. Wilbur H. Bliss, last week.

Miss Arline Merrell of Melrose is here for a few days' stay with her sister, Miss Mabelle Merrell.

The road between the bridge and the Athol depot is in very poor shape at present, as the new sewer is being put in.

Charles Hitchcock and two daughters, Mrs. Brown and Miss Belle Hitchcock of Gilbertville, are guests at Frank Barker's.

Saturday morning the Gypsies moved away from Burleigh's crossing, where they were encamped for a few days last week.

Miss Etta Ruggles, who has charge of a department in a charitable institution at New York, came home for a few days' visit this week.

Miss Eva Lucas of Westminister, who has been stopping for seven weeks with Mrs. George Dalrymple, returned to her home Saturday morning.

Miss Edith Stebbins, who is stopping at Dwight M. Stebbins's, will, commencing this week, give lessons on the piano. Miss Stebbins used the New England Conservatory method.

Mrs. G. S. Butler, who has been spending the summer at Union, N. H., returns this week. Mrs. Butler will meet the Junior Christian Endeavorers in the vestry of the Union church Saturday afternoon at 3 o'clock.

Last week Wednesday afternoon the four grades of the schools closed to give the teachers an opportunity of attending the teachers' convention at Thorndike. Wednesday afternoon Miss Helen Sweet and Miss Jennie Twiss had their turn.

Saturday afternoon the Indian Orchards came up to have a game of ball with the home team. Without a doubt this was the most exciting game of the series. The playing on both sides was excellent, the visitors being victors by only a score of 8 to 7.

Mrs. Jasmant of Farnum, Canada, is visiting relatives here. Mrs. Jasmant, who celebrates her 99th birthday this month, is still very robust and active. At a social gathering a few evenings ago she proved herself such by indulging in dancing with the rest.

The new road at the Ferrell crossing is practically finished, and when it has been put in good condition will no doubt be much superior to the present one, as the grade it not so steep. One of the piers is finished, and the other is under way. The distance between the piers is 24 feet 9 inches.

Saturday afternoon Alice, the little daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. Shaw, met with a serious accident. The little girl in company with several playmates was playing in a field near Mr. Coleman's house, when a boy came up and threw a stone at them. The stone, which was quite large, struck her on the forehead just above the eye, making a fearful gash two inches long. Dr. Bliss was summoned and put in seven stitches. She is getting well rapidly. The young malefactor has not yet been found, as the girls do not know who he is, but it is supposed that he lives in Thorndike.

THORNDIKE.

The teachers of grades 5 to 9 held a meeting here on Wednesday.

Mrs. J. L. Abbott and family of East Saginaw are visiting friends here.

The King's Daughters will meet with Mrs. C. A. Tabor next Friday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Dennis Lynch of Holyoke spent Sunday with friends in town.

L. F. Sullivan is enjoying a vacation from work in the office of the Thorndike Co.

The dancing school will open here October 25th, with Prof. Treadway of Westboro as teacher.

John F. O'Neil, a former resident, was in town for a few days this week, visiting among friends.

Rev. L. F. Giroux of Springfield will occupy the pulpit at the Congregational church on Sunday next.

Mrs. M. E. Shields will hold her fall and winter opening of millinery this and to-morrow evening.

Miss Ella McGilp is enjoying a much-needed vacation with her sister, Mrs. George Nichols, at Worcester.

Work on the foundation for the new schoolhouse still continues to be brisk, and before many days will be completed.

Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Williams were called to Augusta, Me., this week on account of the death of Mr. Williams's sister.

The ell to Cyril Gay's residence on Gay avenue is completed, and the painters are putting on the finishing touches.

The Congregational society is planning for its annual harvest supper, which will be held about the 23d of this month.

The Christian Endeavor society will hold their monthly social and business meeting on Tuesday evening of next week.

J. Jozack, the marketman, is to build a large barn in the rear of his residence on the corner of School and Main streets.

Thomas Murphy, with his family, have moved into his recently-purchased home on School street during the past week.

Rev. E. B. Blanchard and family have moved to their new home in Brookfield, where Mr. Blanchard has accepted a call.

Charles H. Clark of New York is spending a few weeks's vacation in town with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. E. W. Clark.

The Thorndikes will play at Ware to-morrow with the local team, which will in all probability be the closing game of the season.

John Gebo and Melena Fortune, both well known in town, were united in marriage on Saturday. Their many friends wish to extend congratulations.

Miss Kate Fleming has moved into her handsome new rooms in Lawton's building, and will have her millinery opening of fall and winter styles this and to-morrow evening.

The proposed new electric road is now the topic of conversation, notwithstanding the fact that state politics are commencing to boom, and the scheme is receiving much favorable comment by the people in general.

The news of the death of W. N. Flynt of Monson was a great surprise to his many acquaintances here, and much regretted by several of his old employes, who speak in the highest praise of him as a man of kindness and truth.

The Thorndike Co. is putting in several new cards at the No. 2 mill, and will put in several new looms at the No. 1 mill. Business looks very bright at present, and several months' orders are being received for goods which are yet to be manufactured.

Miss Cristie Bonville and Tielis Conie were united in marriage on Friday of last week at Stafford Springs. A reception was held at the home of the bride's parents on Saturday evening, which was attended by members of the family and a few friends.

Duncan McKenzie and family, who have been the guests of William McKenzie for the past two weeks, have returned to their home in Providence, R. I. Hamilton McKenzie, wife and family are expected here from Providence for a few days' vacation.

Hunting seems to be the favorite pastime just now, and many are taking advantage of these frosty mornings, reporting plenty of game. Raymond Keith and Jesse Trumble are the leaders in this section so far, having captured 18 squirrels during the past week.

Mr. and Mrs. Bonville gave a reception last Friday night in honor of the marriage of their daughter, Miss Cristie Bonville, to Tellis Come. A very pleasant evening was passed, and the couple were presented with many pretty and useful gifts by the friends and neighbors who attended.

Roll of honor in the second primary school for the month of September: Rosanna Cadoutte, Peter Cahill, James Fleming, Mary T. Grigware, Celia Griffin, James Holden, Agnes Keefe, Frank Lehoullier, Laura Manny, George L. Richmond, Emma St. Jacques, Sarah Trumble, George Young.

Mrs. Philip Lord, formerly Miss Josephine Samson, who has been living at Ludlow for some time, but who was a resident of this place for several years, died at the former place on Friday, and the body was brought to the Three Rivers cemetery on Sunday for burial. A husband and one child survive her.

Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Kendall have moved from this village, and for the present are staying with Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Fuller on the farm. Mr. Kendall was for several years in the employ of Clark & Hastings, during which time he made many friends who wish him every success in his new undertakings. Mrs. Kendall, by her pleasant manners and friendly ways, won a host of friends who will miss her greatly.

PROBABLY elated at having everything its own way in the caucuses, the A. P. A. of Springfield apparently started out with the impression that there was no opposition to the order in that locality, but soon found out its mistake. Among others slated for a back seat was Sheriff Clark. No fault was found with his work or methods except that he had retained a few Catholic deputies against whose fitness no claim was made, and so must go. He has conducted his office in a thoroughly business-like and impartial manner, winning the highest encomiums from all who have dealings with him, of whatever party, and a storm of protest arose. This was not heeded for a time, but finally the leader of the opposition, who is a candidate for the Legislature, was given to understand that all would not be plain sailing for him if Sheriff Clark was downed in the convention, and now the opposition to him seems to have practically died out.

JUST what will be the outcome of the contest for the councilorship nomination is hard to guess. Col. Lakin of Westfield and Ex-Senator Ripley of Chester seem to be the two prominent candidates, with Messrs. Towne of Orange and Cutler of Greenfield also in the field, the latter mainly as a dark horse. It has been reported that Mr. Ripley recently joined the A. P. A. for the purpose of obtaining its support; at all events he is their candidate, and was at first credited with a large share of the delegates. These have not all proved to be for him, however, and a large delegation from Berkshire is now said to be for Col. Lakin. As time goes by he seems to have a steadily growing strength, and may still win in the convention. As between Mr. Ripley and Col. Lakin there should be no question as to the nomination of the latter.

WOMEN are to have an opportunity to put themselves on record this year as to whether or not they would like to vote in municipal elections, the last Legislature having passed the following act:

SEC. 1. All persons qualified to vote for school committee shall, at the next state election, have an opportunity to express their opinion by voting yes or no in answer to the following question: Is it expedient that municipal suffrage be granted to women?

SEC. 2. Equal opportunity shall be given to men and women to register prior to said election.

While the act is far from what it should be in that the vote under it will not be decisive, but will leave the matter to the Legislature, yet women will have a chance in this way to express themselves on the question, and the vote will doubtless have some effect on the lawmakers. Women who wish to vote should see to it that their names are registered before the 26th of the month.

THERE appears to be little opposition to the renomination of District Attorney Gardner, and he is practically assured of the full strength of the convention at Chester.

BORN.

At Palmer, 2d, a daughter to Mr. and Mrs. George Smith.

At Palmer, 3d, a son to Mr. and Mrs. Fred Woodward.

MARRIED.

At Bondsville, 3d, by Rev. A. W. Weeks, Frank S. Mason and Ora M. Bond.

At Norwich, Ct., 1st, by Rev. Dr. Herr, Joseph Merriam of Palmer and Mrs. A. E. Hewitt, of Norwich.

DIED.

At Monson, 28th ult., William Norcross Flynt, 77.

FOR SALE.—10 pigs, six weeks old.
1-27 H. F. HOLDEN.

WANTED.—A good squirrel and rabbit dog.
3-27 EUGENE SHAW, Palmer.

TO RENT.—Pleasant up-stairs tenement, in fine condition, corner Spring and Pond streets. GEO. A. KEITH, Palmer. tf-24

FOR SALE.—Kitchen range with water front, and small Franklin open-grate parlor stove, both in excellent condition. Also two Ingrain carpets. Inquire at JOURNAL office.

FOR SALE.—House on Squier avenue and building lots Pond street, belonging to J. A. Squier estate. Enquire W. W. LEACH, Palmer, Mass., April 23, 1894. tf-4

I HEREBY forbid all persons harboring or trusting my wife, Minnie F. Bliss, on my account, as I shall pay no bills of her contracting after this date. FRANK O. BLISS, September 11, 1895. 3*24 Monson, Mass.

I WOULD respectfully announce to the people of Palmer and vicinity that I have bought the McManamy property on South Main street, and being a practical blacksmith, shall be established at the above place in the business of shoeing, jobbing and repairing in both wood and iron work. Having an experience of over 16 years, think I can give satisfaction as to prices and workmanship. A share of your patronage is solicited. Respectfully,
F. D. THOMPSON,
4-27 Palmer, Mass.

TENTH HAMPDEN REPRESENTATIVE REPUBLICAN CONVENTION.

The Republicans of the Tenth Hampden Representative district, comprising the towns of Palmer, Ludlow, Brimfield and Holland, are requested to send delegates to a convention to be held in the District Court room in Palmer, on Tuesday, the 15th day of October, 1895, at 12 o'clock, noon, for the purpose of nominating a candidate for representative to the General Court, to be voted for in the election of November 5th; to choose a district committee for 1896, and to transact any other business which may properly come before the convention.

L. E. CHANDLER,
Chairman District Committee.
Palmer, Sept. 24th, 1895. 3-26

Palmer Savings Bank,

Palmer, Mass.

Money deposited on or before Thursday, October 10, 1895, will commence interest from that date.

3-25 H. W. McGREGORY, Treas.

TOWN OF PALMER.
ASSESSORS' NOTICE.

The assessors will be at the town house next Monday, October 7, 1895, from 1 to 5 and 7 to 10 p. m., for the purpose of adding to the assessors' list the names of any who wish to be assessed in order that they may vote at the coming election.

H. T. BISHOP, } Assessors
G. W. LYMAN, } of
O. W. STUDLEY, } Palmer.

Palmer, October 1, 1895. 1-27

DISTRICT ATTORNEY CONVENTION.

The Republican voters of the Western District, comprising Berkshire and Hampden counties, are requested to send delegates to a convention to be held at Chester on Monday, October 14th, at 10.30 a. m., to nominate a candidate for district attorney, and to transact any other business proper to come before said convention. Basis of representation same as at state convention.

September 14th, 1895.

A. H. GOETTING,
ROBERT H. KNEIL,
A. H. HALL.
4-25

COLLECTOR'S SALE OF REAL ESTATE FOR NON-PAYMENT OF TAXES.

The owners and occupants of the following described parcel of real estate, situate in the town of Brimfield, County of Hampden and Commonwealth of Massachusetts, and the public are hereby notified that the taxes and assessments thereon severally assessed for the year hereinafter specified, according to the list committed to me as collector of taxes for said town by the assessors of taxes and the legally constituted authorities remain unpaid, and that said parcel of real estate will be sold at public auction in front of the post office in said Brimfield, on Monday, the twenty-first day of October, 1895, at eleven o'clock in the forenoon, for the payment of said taxes and assessments and all incidental charges and expenses, unless the same shall have been previously paid.

ALBERT B. LAWRENCE.

A tract of land containing about 115 acres, with the buildings thereon, situate on the main road leading from Brimfield to Brookfield, bounded east by land of Thomas Morgan; south by land of William Blashfield, and west by land of Elisha C. Marsh. Taxes of 1893. $37.

F. G. HITCHCOCK, Collector.
Brimfield, Mass., Sept. 26th, 1895. 3-26

COMMONWEALTH OF MASSACHUSETTS.—HAMPDEN, SS. PROBATE COURT.—To the heirs at law, next of kin, and all other persons interested in the estate of Caroline C. Harvey, late of Palmer, in said county, deceased.

Whereas, a certain instrument, purporting to be the last will and testament of said deceased, has been presented to said Court for probate by Charles R. Fiske of said Palmer, who prays that letters testamentary may be issued to him, the executor therein named.

You are hereby cited to appear at a probate court to be held at Springfield, in said county of Hampden, on the sixth day of November, A. D., 1895, at nine o'clock in the forenoon, to show cause, if any you have, why the same should not be granted.

And said petitioner is hereby directed to give public notice thereof, by publishing this citation once in each week, for three successive weeks, in the Palmer JOURNAL, a newspaper published in said Palmer, the last publication to be one day at least before said Court, and by mailing, postpaid, or delivering a copy of this citation to all known persons interested in the estate, seven days at least before said Court.

Witness, WILLIAM S. SHURTLEFF, Esquire, Judge of said Court, this second day of October, in the year of our Lord one thousand eight hundred and ninety-five.

3-27 SAMUEL B. SPOONER, Register.

COMMONWEALTH OF MASSACHUSETTS.—HAMPDEN COUNTY, SS. Superior Court. October 2d, A. D., 1895.

Seth W. Smith and Herbert W. Smith, both of Palmer, in said county, co-partners doing business under the firm name of Smith & Company, Plaintiffs. Dora E. Parks of said Palmer, Defendant.

This is an action of contract to recover $2000 as by writ on file, dated the nineteenth day of March, A. D., 1895.

It now appearing upon the suggestion of the Plaintiff's council, that the Defendant is not an inhabitant of this Commonwealth, nor was resident therein at the time of the service of the writ in this case; and it further appearing, on the inspection of the officer's return, that the Defendant has no last and usual place of abode, nor any tenant, agent, or attorney known to the said officer, and that no personal service was made upon the said Defendant.

It is now ordered by the court that the Plaintiffs give notice to the said Defendant, of the pendency of this action, by causing an attested copy of this order to be published in the Palmer JOURNAL, a public newspaper printed at Palmer, in the County of Hampden and State of Massachusetts, once a week, three weeks successively, the last publication to be at least thirty days before the first Monday of December next, or by causing the Defendant to be served with an attested copy of this order fourteen days at least before the said first Monday of December, that she may then and there appear, and take upon herself the defense of this action. And that this action be continued until notice shall be given to the said Defendant, agreeably to this order.

ROBERT O. MORRIS, Clerk.

A true copy.
Attest:—ROBERT O. MORRIS,
3-27 Clerk.

TO THE SELECTMEN OF THE TOWN OF MONSON, IN THE COUNTY OF HAMPDEN AND COMMONWEALTH OF MASSACHUSETTS:

The undersigned, a majority of the directors of the Palmer and Monson Street Railway Company, respectfully represent that said railway company has been duly formed and organized under the laws of said Commonwealth, that the directors thereof have appointed a clerk and treasurer, who have duly qualified for the duties of said offices respectively, and said directors have caused a copy of the articles of association of said company to be published in the Palmer JOURNAL, a newspaper published in Palmer, in said County of Hampden, once a week for three successive weeks, the last publication being on the fifteenth day of March, 1895, and the undersigned, a majority of said directors, hereby respectfully petition your honorable board to locate the tracks of said Railway, in said Palmer, along and through the following streets and highways under such restrictions as you may deem the interests of the public require, to wit: Beginning at the boundary line between the towns of Palmer and Monson on the highway from Palmer to Monson through Tenneyville, thence following said highway to and through Main street in Palmer to Thorndike street, thence through Thorndike street to the village of Thorndike, thence along Commercial street in Thorndike to the road leading to Three Rivers, thence along said road through Four Corners, and along Main street to and through said Three Rivers to the iron bridge over the Quaboag river. Also from the boundary line between the towns of Palmer and Monson on the Quarry road leading from Palmer to Monson, thence on said Quarry road, otherwise called Commercial street, to Main street in the village of Palmer. Also beginning at a point on the highway leading from Thorndike to Three Rivers where the same is intersected at Four Corners by the road leading to Bondsville and Duckville, thence along the last named road passing westerly of Lilly Pond to and through Bondsville along the river road to and through Duckville to the station on the Massachusetts Central Railroad at said Duckville. Also beginning at a point on said road leading from Palmer to Thorndike where the same is intersected by the road leading easterly of the house of Michael Roche to the direct road from Thorndike to Whipple's crossing, thence along said road passing easterly of the house of Michael Roche to and along said road leading to Whipple's crossing to said Whipple's crossing. Also through the road leading from the highway from Palmer to Thorndike along the northerly side of the house of Michael Roache to said road leading to Whipple's crossing.

Dated September 11th, 1895.

GEORGE E. BUCK,
D. L. BODFISH,
E. G. HASTINGS,
RUFUS FLYNT,
E. D. CUSHMAN,
GEO. C. FLYNT,
} Directors of the Palmer and Monson Street Railway Co.

NOTICE is hereby given to all parties interested that the undersigned, Selectmen of Monson

The Journal.

FRIDAY EVENING, OCTOBER 4, 1895.

NEIGHBORHOOD NOTES.

MONSON.

LOCAL NOTICES.

Staple Bed Spreads at W. W. Flynt & Son's, 72x80, 65 cents.

Death of William N. Flynt.

Hon. William Norcross Flynt died last Saturday evening at 6 o'clock at his High street home, of heart disease. Although he had been in failing health for some time, he had been confined to the house but two days, and not until Friday morning was the gathering of elderly men, which he had planned for Saturday and looked forward to with much pleasure, given up.

Mr. Flynt's ancestry is clearly known back to the year 1642, when Thomas Flint came to this country from Wales and settled in South Dana. In the third generation the spelling of the name was changed to Flynt. Rufus Flynt, the father of William N., was born at Hardwick, June 22, 1775, and came to Monson from Warren in 1790, being one of the town's leading merchants and prominent men during the rest of his life. He was the first postmaster, serving from 1812 till his death. He was one of the incorporators and trustees of Monson Academy, and one of the founders of the Flynt and Packard library, which is connected with the Academy. He married in 1800 Sarah, daughter of William Norcross, of this place. To them were born four children, William N. being the youngest, and in the seventh generation from Thomas Flint Rufus Flynt in 1824 purchased the quarry, which embraces 150 acres of granite deposit, and which was first opened between 1790 and 1800 by agents of the United States government, and the stone taken at that time was used for the foundation of the armory in Springfield. Mr. Flynt began to work the quarry somewhat in 1825, but merely for local use, as all transportation was by means of wagons. When his death occurred in 1856, W. N. Flynt succeeded to the business, having graduated from the academy and been employed in the store. In 1840 he placed specimens of the granite on exhibition in Springfield for advertising purposes, and the business rapidly increased, particularly after the Boston and Albany and New London Northern railroads were built. In 1875 he caused a private railroad to be built from the New London Northern road to the quarry. This road is two miles in length, has a rise of 158 feet to the mile, and cost $30,000. It cut through the famous "rock-house," and opened up a very valuable trap rock quarry, and it is from this place that the trap rock is taken of which the state highway is built. Mr. Flynt's poor health compelled him to retire from active business in 1876, but he has remained an active member of the W. N. Flynt Granite Company, and W. N. Flynt & Sons' store of this place, and the Flynt Building and Construction Company of Palmer, to the time of his death.

Mr. Flynt was a man of great will power and executive ability, and his influence was felt in all matters in which he was interested. He was a home man, a man devoted to his family and to whom his large family was devoted, and his old age has been replete with all comforts which loving care could provide. He was a man who gave much, and possessed the rare faculty of persuading others to do likewise. When Monson Academy rose from its ashes it was largely due to his efforts. He presented to the town the beautiful drinking fountain which stands at the foot of Fountain Row. He has recently given to Flynt and Packard library a generous sum, and from time to time he has given to the Congregational church, and when the present edifice was erected would gladly have given granite for the building had the committee seen fit to use it instead of wood. He was a man on whom his many friends were pleased to bestow political honors, having unbounded faith in his judgment. He represented the district in the Legislature in '48, '49, '60 and '61 and under Governors Andrews and Bullock was on the executive council in '65 and '66. In 1884 he was a delegate to the national convention, and on last Tuesday night was elected delegate to the state convention. He was the town's treasurer for thirty years.

In 1883 Mr. Flynt opened the beautiful park which bears his name. It is a tract of about 200 acres, lying west of the village and including Mt. Ella, 600 feet high, on which is a tower 100 feet high surmounted by a fine telescope. The park is most tastefully laid out in walks and drives, with a pavilion, rustic seats, band stands, etc., all made of cedar from Cedar Swamp and mountain. There is also a museum containing many rare curios and valuable relics; a menagerie of birds and animals is another attraction. And to the park and all it contains the public is welcome, the only stipulation being that each visitor shall register his or her name. The close of the second day on which the park was open this year found nearly 100 names on the register, and during the summer scarcely a day passed that there was not a party of picnickers on the grounds.

Mr. Flynt's connection with Monson Academy covered a long period, beginning while he was a young man. He has served as treasurer and on the board of trustees, and last year read his fortieth annual report as the chairman of the Flynt and Packard library. He was deeply affected, the tears starting from his eyes as he read, and his voice breaking He was one of the incorporators of the Monson National Bank, and its first president; also one of the incorporators of the Monson Savings Bank.

He was twice married; the former wife, Miss Joanna King, lived but a short time. Their son, William K., an unusually bright and promising business man, died about two years ago, leaving a wife, (Emma King Flynt). Mr. Flynt's second wife was Miss Eudosia Converse, who survives him with six children, Maria L., wife of Henry A. King, Sarah C., wife of William A. Lincoln, and Ella E., wife of William C. Dewey, all of Springfield, Rufus, of Palmer, treasurer of the Flynt Building and Construction Company, Lyman C., manager of the W. N. Flynt & Sons' store, and George C., manager of the W. N. Flynt Granite Co. of Monson and the George E. Lyons Granite Co. of Dummerston, Vt.

The funeral was held at the Congregational church Tuesday afternoon, and long before the hour appointed the people began to gather to pay their last respects to one who during his life had endeared himself to so many hearts. The large audience room was filled to overflowing. There was a great profusion of beautiful flowers, and the altar and choir gallery were outlined with palms, begonias and other potted plants. To the tolling of the church bell the solemn procession crossed the street and entered the church. The organ was softly played as the casket was borne up the aisle by the sons and sons-in-law, Rufus Flynt of Palmer, Lyman C. and George C. Flynt of Monson, and Henry A. King, William A. Lincoln and William C. Dewey of Springfield, preceded by Rev. F. S. Hatch and the honorary bearers, R. M. Reynolds, G. E. Tucker, A. B. Merchant, D. G. Potter, G. H. Newton of Monson, A. T. Wing of Palmer, Mr. Mulligan and Henry Hyde of Springfield. Following the casket were employes of Mr. Flynt who were especially near to him. After the singing of "Come Unto Me," by Mr. and Mrs. A. D. Norcross, Rev. James Tufts made a brief prayer and Mr. Norcross sang "Thy Will Be Done." Mr. Hatch then read portions of Scripture, Mr. and Mrs. Norcross sang "Love Divine, All Love Excelling," and Mr. Hatch delivered the eulogy, which was just and affectionate, and will be published in full at some future time. He grouped many of Mr. Flynt's salient and well-known traits around his love for nature, love for country and love for people. He said that his love for nature was not the scientist's love, but the poet's love for hills and vales and rocks and brooks; that he had a true eye, seeing where nature could be improved upon, and carried on his plans for that improvement to the day of his death. He loved the visible world, and recently said, "I would like to live a thousand years." He loved his country, his native town, and never missed an opportunity to speak of Monson, its beauties, its people, its institutions, particularly its Academy, the passion of his life, to which he gave time, thought and money; not only did he wish to beautify his own surroundings, but favored everything in the way of public improvements, sidewalks, street lighting, good roads and fine buildings, and had shown his affection for the town by presenting Flynt Park and providing for its maintenance for years to come. He loved people; he had a wide acquaintance among both the high and lowly. His acquaintance with great men was remarkable for its scope. One of his requests was that certain lowly proteges of his should never be left friendless. He loved great gatherings, never missing a chance to attend conventions, whether religious, political or otherwise; was always doing things which one would think could never be done, and this was due to his wonderful personality, the hold he had on people. The gathering for old men which he had planned with so much enthusiasm for last Saturday, the very day of his death, he spoke of as a picnic when he thought of it as being out-of-doors, a party when he thought of it as being his hospitality, and a love-feast when he thought of the renewing of pleasant acquaintances and the delightful things which would be said and done, and the happy faces. Mr. Hatch also gave a brief biographical sketch and interesting incidents of Mr. Flynt's closing hours, and ended with the words: "Take him all in all, we shall not look upon his like again."

The service closed with a prayer by Mr. Hatch, and the song, "Crossing Tae Bar," by Mrs. Norcross. It was a peculiarly touching sight, as the quarryman, two hundred in number, filled past the bier to look for the last time upon the face of one whose interest in them had been very great. Many of the old men who had been invited to the gathering on the park, which was to have taken place last Saturday, sat together, as did the Academy students. Among the many floral pieces, besides those given by the family, was one from the employes of Flynt & Sons' store, a harp and crown, in the harp were stars composed of white carnations, set in green, with a base of smilax and tuberoses, from the office of the Flynt Building and Construction Co. was an arch, the base and background of ivy, with the arch itself of La France and Marchal Neil roses, outlined with bride roses; from the office of the W. N. Flynt Granite Company was a shaft of white carnations, with a base of La France roses and background of ivy and smilax; from the Dorcas society of which Mrs. Flynt is president came a basket of roses, and her Sunday school class sent a wreath of roses and smilax; the Academy sent roses; a cross of carnations and roses bore the inscription "Our President." These are but a few of the many. The burial took place at the Center cemetery, Rev. F. S. Hatch officiating.

Mr. Flynt's will was filed for probate yesterday. The property is left as a whole to his wife during her life, and to his sons, grandchildren and great-grandchildren. The will is long and has six codicils. The executors are Henry A. King, Rufus, Lyman C., George C. and Eudocia C. Flynt. The original will gives the park to his son George C. Flynt, to be held as trustee. It is to be kept open for the benefit of the citizens of Monson for at least five years, till he shall think best to sell it. He is to have as absolute control as if he was the owner. He directs that $5000 be retained from the estate, the income of which shall be used yearly in reimbursing his son for the expense of repairing the park. If he thinks best to sell the park he can do so as if he owned it in fee simple. If his son dies before selling the park the executors shall succeed to said trust, but the trust shall terminate at the death of the last executor. If George C. Flynt sells the park the town of Monson shall be given the preference above all others, with the condition that the grounds shall be forever kept open as a public park. A codicil says George C. Flynt shall not sell the whole or any part of the park without the consent of the majority of the executors. Another codicil makes Lyman C. Flynt cotrustee with George C. Flynt of the park. A fifth codicil says the two sons shall be given the preference in buying the park, which shall be kept open, advantageous arrangements as possible being made. A sixth codicil gives George C. Flynt as trustee the museum in the park, including birds, animals, etc., together with the box of coin in the Agawam bank in Springfield. Mrs. Flynt is given the use and income of all the real estate in Monson during her life, with the exception of some property in the park. All the rest of the estate, including the reversionary interest in the estate which his wife has a life interest in, and the park grounds after the termination of the trust, are divided into eight parts. These are divided among his children, Mrs. M. L. King, Rufus Flynt, Lyman C. Flynt, Sarah C. Lincoln, Ella E. Dewey and George C. Flynt; one share goes to the children of his dead son, William K. Flynt, Mabel K., William N. and Carrie W. Flynt, and one share to his wife, Eudocia C. Flynt. There are a number of smaller bequests.

A Democratic caucus will be held in the Memorial Hall next Friday.

Mrs. Frank C. Park goes to Hardwick tomorrow for a few days' visit.

Kennar's minstrels are booked at Memorial Hall for next Monday evening.

Mrs. Harriet C. Woods picked a ripe strawberry from her vines one day last week.

Prof. Dana M. Dustan of Marion, visited the Academy Tuesday, and was welcomed by his former pupils.

Dr. George E. Fuller attended the reunion of his regiment, the 27th Massachusetts, at Springfield yesterday.

George L. Fuller has in his show window with his fall line of shoes and new draperies, a branch of apple blossoms.

A temperance Sabbath school concert will be held in the Congregational church next Sunday evening at 6 o'clock.

W. N. Flynt & Sons offer some especially attractive bargains in clothing in their advertisement in another column.

Prof. T. H. Treadway will have a dancing class this season, and the first lesson will be given the 24th, in Memorial Hall.

The ninth representative district Republican convention will be held in Memorial hall at 2.30 Monday afternoon, October 14th.

The millinery openings at the Misses Williams', Misses Gavin's and Miss Coyle's have been very attractive and well attended.

The registrars of voters will be in session the 16th and 25th from 7.30 a. m. to 9 p. m., and the 26th from 12 m. to 10 p. m., when registrations loses.

The Monson Historical Society met Wednesday evening for the election of officers, but lacking a quorum adjourned to next Wednesday evening.

The selectmen have appointed Friday, the 18th, as the day when the petitioners for an electric railway from Monson to Palmer will be given a hearing.

A special meeting of the directors of the Monson Free Library was held Wednesday evening and a committee appointed to draw up resolutions on the death of W. N. Flynt, who was also a director.

J. B. Derlinger of New York has a position as stenographer at Heimann & Lichten's straw factory. Myron Wright, who has been in the office temporarily, has been engaged as clerk in the sewing room.

Rev. W. H. Marble will take for his subject Sunday morning, "Some Facts About the Bible." Mr. Marble preached in Rev. A. L. Squier's church at Amherst Wednesday evening, where special meetings are being held.

Rufus Aldrich was shot in the right elbow Wednesday by the accidental discharge of a gun in the hands of a New York visitor. The two were hunting and the man was carrying his gun half cocked, when in some inexplainable way it went off. Dr. G. E. Fuller, who was called, does not consider it particularly serious case.

The Bradford Trio of New York will give a concert and readings in the Congregational church next Monday evening. Miss Bradford is an expert violinist, a pupil of Camilla Urso; her brother is an accomplished flutist, and both have played to crowded audiences in our largest cities. Miss Bradford will also play at the morning and evening service next Sunday.

Thursday evening at 8 in Memorial Hall Miss Margaret J. McNamara, principal of the school of elocution, Springfield, will give an entertainment consisting of vocal and instrumental music, dramatic and humorous readings. She will be assisted by Miss Ida F. Hubbard, soprano, of the New York Vocal Institute, and Miss Lillian H. Beahn, harpist, of the Roxbury Young Ladies' Academy, and a choice programme is expected.

Mrs. Edward Morris had a very pleasant family gathering at her High street home Tuesday and Wednesday. There were present Mr. and Mrs. F. D. Loomis of Westfield, Mr. and Mrs. F. K. Sheldon of Southampton, Mrs. G. G. Rowe of Agawam, Mrs. S. F. Bidwell of Springfield, Mrs. E. J. Jones of Springfield, and Mrs. W. H. Loomis of Rockville. With the exception of the last named, who is a niece, all the ladies of the party are sisters of Mrs. Morris.

The community was much shocked on Saturday morning to learn that Charles A. Hills had died of apoplexy about midnight. He had attended the Belchertown fair Friday and returned on the evening train. He had not retired when stricken, and lived but a few minutes. The funeral was held Monday afternoon, and the body was taken to Glastonbury, Ct., Tuesday, for burial. Mr. Hills was the son of Henry H. and Jane E. Hills, and was born at Stafford Springs October 23d, 1856. He has resided with his mother in Monson several years, being in the employ of R. M. & T. Reynolds. He leaves, besides his mother, a brother, William E. Hills of Hartford. Mrs. Hills will soon move to Gastonbury.

Henry G. Wentworth rejoices in the recovery of his Cleveland special wheel. It was located in Union, Ct., by two young men who reported to Selectman Norcross. Mr. Norcross was not slow in spotting the man in whose possession the wheel was, and last Friday caused his arrest. His name is supposed to be Millner, although he has traveled under two or more aliases, one of them being Whittaker. The wheel was not injured, having been used very little in the two weeks Millner had it, owing to the fact that a member of the family where he was staying let the air out of one of the tires in fooling with the valve, and Millner had failed to provide himself with a pump. Millner is wanted in Hampden for a similar offense, when this case is settled.

HOLLAND.

The Republican delegates to the various conventions are: State—Francis Wight; councilor and county—F. B. Blodgett; district attorney—William S. Wallis; senatorial—William L. Webber; representative—Francis Wight and W. L. Webber.

BELCHERTOWN.

These delegates were elected at the Democratic caucus: State—B. Butler, E. S. Bridgman, F. E. Dewey; county—W. H. Bridgman, W. A. Snow, A. B. Shaw; senatorial—M. L. Sanford, A. C. Shaw, M. W. Mansfield; councilor—Oliver Shannon, A. W. Stacy, Jr., J. J. Garvey.

HAMPDEN.

The Democratic delegates are: State—F. W. Dickenson, E. P. Lyons; councilor—M. Daly, John Ryan; county—M. Casey, John Powers; senatorial, D. F. Powers, John Casey; representative, John Bartlett, Daniel O'Brine; town committee—M. Casey, Daniel Brennan, F. W. Dickenson.

LUDLOW.

The Ludlow nine was defeated last Saturday on the home grounds by the Resolutes of Holyoke.

A series of revival meetings were held in the brick schoolhouse last week by the Adventists. Rev. Mr. Phelps of Westfield spoke each evening, and as a result of the services five persons were baptized Sunday after the morning service. The meetings will be continued.

WILBRAHAM.

Mrs. F. Spaulding, who has been spending the summer in Vermont, has returned to her home.

Mr. Stolte of the training school in Springfield was at the academy Monday afternoon, coaching the foot ball eleven.

Frank Grant, who has been confined to his room on account of injuries received on the football field, is now able to walk with the assistance of a cane.

At a meeting of the Wesleyan Academy Athletic Association held last Friday evening in Fisk Hall $102 was subscribed by the members for the partial support of the football team for the coming season.

Prof. Joseph Rockwell, formerly professor of Latin at Wesleyan Academy, has presented the Latin department of the institution with a collection of 40 views of historic places in Italy. These views were taken by Mr. Rockwell while travelling in Europe, and will be of great value to the school.

BRIMFIELD.

Miss Augusta Sherman is the guest of Miss Rebecca Dunham.

Mrs. E. T. Sherman has closed her summer residence and returned with her family to New York.

Mrs. M. J. Sumner of Worcester and her daughter, Mrs. Ellie Sumner Shepard of Buffalo, N. Y., have been visiting relatives in Brimfield this week.

Miss Hattie Kenney, a graduate of the Hitchcock Free High School in the class of '92, and now a student of the medical school of Boston University, has been visiting her sister, Mrs. George E. Hitchcock.

The Democratic delegates elected to the several conventions are: State—John Haley, Charles S. Tarbell; county—Oscar F. Brown, Frank E. Cook; councilor—C. C. Brown, C. E. Bacon; senatorial—O F. Brown, F. E. Cook; district attorney—C. C. Brown, C. E. Bacon; representative—F. E. Cook, O. F. Brown; town committee—F. E. Cook, C. S. Tarbell, O. F. Brown.

WARREN.

Dr. Robert Hastings and wife returned to Boston Wednesday.

Mr. Fletcher of Belchertown called on friends in town Saturday.

The Quaboag Historical society will meet at New Braintree next Tuesday.

Mrs. S. E. Shaw had her opening of millinery goods three days this week.

Miss Jennie Sadler of Springfield has been visiting Mrs. Asahel Fairbanks this week.

A number of music-loving people attended the musical festival at Worcester this week.

Mrs. Emma Guilbert has given up her house and taken rooms at William Bishop's.

Mr. and Mrs. Butler will occupy the parsonage during the absense of Mr. and Mrs. Hale.

The Relief Corps had a special sale of cake, pastry and aprons, at the G. A. R. hall Tuesday afternoon.

Frank Barnes has gone to Northampton, where he will commence business. He will move his family there soon.

Quite a number of men have moved their families to Cambridge, having gone there to work after the burning of the pump shop foundry.

The King's Daughters meet with Mrs. Albert Patrick Friday afternoon. They have taken a novel way to raise money, as every member is asked to put in a little bag, sent them for the purpose, as many pennies as they are years old.

WALES.

E. Shaw and wife are away on a carriage drive.

Mrs. Mandigo, who has been very sick, is recovering.

The Wales Savings Bank held its quarterly meeting Tuesday.

J. H. Loudon spent part of the week in New York, on business.

Mrs. Enwistle of Monson has been visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Taylor.

The young people held a social in the Baptist vestry Wednesday evening.

Elijah Shaw and Deacon Needham are delegates to the state Sunday school convention.

Thomas Murphy is erecting quite a large hen house. He will do an extensive business in the line of fancy poultry.

Several parties who dug their potatoes early are now bringing them out of the cellar and dumping them in the field.

Dr. Ross comes out with a new team; he has a beautiful grey for his horse, and has kept him busy the last week among his patients.

Large numbers of pigs are dying, and several old hogs have died with a disease which lasts several days, and in some cases weeks; most of them succumb to the disease.

Mr. Converse of Monson, who was visiting his mother here, was taken with bleeding at the nose on Wednesday. Dr. Ross was called, and after two hours' hard work succeeded in stopping the blood.

W. Lloyd, who has been engaged in driving team for H. E. Shaw, has resigned and is going to Northfield. He has been a very earnest worker in the church and Sabbath school, and will be much missed.

THE Democratic party, at its state convention Wednesday at Worcester, nominated the following ticket: For governor, George Fred Williams of Dedham; lieutenant governor, James S. Grinnell of Greenfield; secretary of state, Edward T. Flynn of Boston; treasurer and receiver general, Eben S. Stevens of Dudley; auditor, Alfred C. Whitney of Boston; attorney general, Henry F. Hurlburt of Lynn.

THE Republican state convention comes to-morrow at Boston. The A. P. A. has been claiming 700 or 800 delegates, but from present appearances it would seem that there will be no such opposition to the renomination of Governor Greenhalge, and it will not be surprising if he is nominated by acclamation.

Are you going to the White Mountains? This question is one that is answered in the affirmative with more and more frequency every year, and their magnificent scenery and wonderful recuperative effects are annually enjoyed by a larger number of pleasure and health seekers than ever before, even when the influence of Starr King's striking and poetic descriptions attracted throngs of visitors from all sections of the world. Just at present there is offered to the tourist by the Boston and Maine railroad exceptional opportunities for visiting the White Mountains, which have gathered together their beautiful autumnal shroudings and present an aspect unequalled by any mountain section in the world. The reduced rate to many of the points from Boston is but $5 for the round trip, and to the tourist wishing to enter the mountain region by the way of North Conway and to return by way of Plymouth, provision has been made whereby an exchange will be made at the several ticket offices in the mountains, while an exchange will likewise be made on tickets purchased by the way of Plymouth to return by the way of North Conway. Stop-over, however, will be allowed only north of North Conway or Plymouth. Side-trip tickets are on sale at Fabyans and Bethlehem junctions for Profile House, the Summit and many other places at reduced rates, while the hotels will give very low rates to holders of these excursion tickets. Detailed information will be given at the Boston and Maine railroad ticket offices, at the City ticket office, 214 Washington street, or upon application to the General Passenger department, Boston.

CARD.—To those who by their kindness and sympathy enabled me to bear up under my great bereavement in the loss of my son, I desire to express my grateful thankfulness.

MRS. JANE HILLS.

Monson, Mass., October 1, 1895.

CARD.—We desire to express our sincere and heartfelt thanks to our friends and neighbors for their kindness and sympathy during our late bereavement; also for the beautiful floral offerings.

MR. AND MRS. EUGENE CADY.

Monson, Mass., September 27, 1895.

Beecham's pills for constipation 10c and 25c. Get the book at your druggist's and go by it.

Annual sales more than 6,000,000 boxes.

Haven't Time

this week to tell you about the new things we have in shoes.

WE ARE TOO BUSY

opening and arranging

New Fall and Winter Shoes.

We will be pleased to have you stop and look over our new shoes.

Geo. L. Fuller,

the distributor of fine fittin. oes.

Monson, - Mass.

FALL OPENING.

October 7, 8, and 9.

T. H. TODD,

Boston • Store,

Monson.

ROYAL BAKING POWDER.

ABSOLUTELY PURE.

A cream of tartar Baking Powder. Highest of all in leavening power.—Latest United States Government Food Report.

ROYAL BAKING POWDER CO., 106 Wall Street, New York.

DR. S. H. ELLERY,

VETERINARY SURGEON AND DENTIST.

Graduate Chicago Veterinary College.

Residence, Nassowanno House. Office and stable, Central street.

PALMER, MASS.

WARM WEATHER

To be sure. But at my office we keep you cool and comfortable by the use of electric fans. Remember we Excavate and Fill all cavities in Teeth ABSOLUTELY WITHOUT PAIN. Also by the aid of a harmless preparation applied to the gums we extract fully 95 per cent of all teeth WITHOUT PAIN.

DR. WM. L. ROBERTS, DENTIST. Court Square Theatre Block, Springfield, Mass.

Forbes & Wallace's,

Springfield.

Trading by mail!

We have had here for many years a fair place to write to for a great many sorts of merchandise. It's better now than it was at first; a year from now it will be a great deal better still.

We recognize but one means of drawing your trade—your advantage. If you can trade with us by mail to your advantage you will do so and keep doing so. Our part, then, is to see that it is for your advantage. You shall see how well we will do this.

Write to us about almost any sort of merchandise.

When you are ready for a new dress, drop us a postal card or letter for samples. We cheerfully send them to you without charge, only asking that you state as nearly as you can the kind of goods you wish and about the price you wish to pay.

Black will be very fashionable this year as a dress stuff—so say the highest authorities. We have prepared for it; the counters and shelves are loaded down with nearly twice as many sorts as we usually have at this time. We shall deserve more than ever to have it said that here is the best place to buy black dress stuffs.

All-wool weaves, plain and fancy weaves with jacquard figures—small triangular dots, half cresents, group of bars, long splotches.

Twenty designs, 38 inches wide, at 50 cents a yard.
Twenty designs, 40 to 45 inches, 75 cents a yard.
Twenty designs, 40 to 45 inches wide, $1 a yard.
Fifteen designs, 42 to 46 inches wide, $1.50 a yard.

Weaves a trifle removed from the plain, such as crèpe, armures, Panama and granite weaves, cords and Rayè—over a score of designs 38 to 45 inches wide, 50 cents to $1.37½ a yard.

India twills, all wool henrietta and silk warp henriettas are almost as staple as wheat; they come year after year with no change except in the qualities.

India twills, 44 to 50 inches wide, 37½ cents to $1 a yard.
All wool henriettas, 45 inches wide, 50 cents to $1.25 a yard.
Silk warp henrietta, 40 to 45 inches wide, 87½ cents to $2 a yard.
Waterproof serges, 50 to 60 inches wide, $1 to $1.50 a yard.
Wool serges, storm serges, diagonal serges in all widths, 40 to 56 inches wide, 50 cents to $1.50 a yard.

The most desirable black stuffs will be the silk and wool and wool and mohair fancy stuffs. The makers have outdone themselves; we've been watching them from the start. Everything that is most desirable we have; sorts from $1 to $2.25 a yard.

Right aisle.

FORBES & WALLACE.

Main, Vernon and Pynchon streets, Springfield, Mass.

THE DOCTOR PRESCRIBES. WE DO THE DISPENSING. BRING YOUR PRESCRIPTIONS TO US. WE USE ONLY THE BEST DRUGS, AND THE GREATEST CARE IN COMPOUNDING. WHILE WAITING GET A GLASS OF COLD SODA. IT IS THE BEST THAT CAN BE MADE.

At LeGRO & LYNDE'S,

Next to Post Office,

Palmer, - - Mass.

A TRADE

in all its branches can be learned at the

Trade School Department of the Springfield Industrial Institute,

Springfield, Mass.

Send for Catalog.

Dr. O. P. Roller,

Dentist.

All the latest methods pertaining to dentistry employed. Gas and local anaesthetic administered for the painless extraction of teeth. Special attention given to gold work. Office hours from 8 a. m. to 4.15 p. m.

18-tf Lawrence Block, - Palmer, Mass.

WANTED. Good reliable men, to sell our Choice and Hardy Nursery Stock, such as Fruit Trees, Roses, Shrubs and Ornamentals. Ladies make this business a success. Easy work, pleasant, light and profitable. OUTFIT FREE. Apply at once, with references, and secure choice of territory.

F. N. MAY COMPANY,

Nurserymen and Seedsmen, Rochester, N. Y.

F. F. MARCY, PALMER, MASS. Wholesale and Retail Dealer in

ALL KINDS OF LUMBER AND SHINGLES

Windows, doors, blinds, mouldings. Carpenters' and joiners' work done to order.

Also FIRE BRICK and CLAY for sale.

Yard and shop at junction of B. & A. and N. L. N. Railroads—west of Depot.

Haynes & Co's

New Custom Parlors

Magnificently furnished, completely stocked with the finest patterns on the market, and equipped with the most expert tailors that money can secure, in charge of P. J. Renison, formerly cutter for Frank L. Dunn of Boston, are now open to the public. The rooms devoted to this department are directly above the main floor, facing on Main street, affording in all a floor space of 108 by 35 feet.

We have left nothing undone to make this the most elaborate department of the kind in Western Massachusetts, and are convinced that we shall now be able to furnish our patrons with better service than ever before.

The public is invited to visit and inspect our new parlors as well as our fall and winter line of foreign and domestic woolens.

Haynes & Co.,

Springfield, Mass.

Oil Heaters.

The finest assortment we have ever shown, and quality improved. Don't fail to look them over.

E. A. BUCK & CO.,

Cross Block, Palmer.

WAGONS!

Having a new lot of

TOP BUGGIES, BOTH PLAIN AND PIANO BOX AND CORNING, CONCORD BUGGIES, BANNER WAGONS, BUSINESS WAGONS, POLES, ETC., OF THE VERY BEST OF MAKES, AT LOWER PRICES THAN IN THE CITY, CALL AND SEE US.

ALLEN AND ELLERY,

PALMER, tf-3 MASS.

Milk and Cream.

Maple Lawn Milk Farm.

O. D. Wells, Proprietor.

Seeds. Medium Red Clover, Large Red Clover, Crimson Clover, Alsyke Clover, Red Top, Timothy.

Seeds.

E. A. Buck & Co.,

Palmer, Mass.

BE SURE YOU SEE THE

MEHLIN HIGH GRADE PIANOS

BEFORE PURCHASING ANY OTHER.

Illustrated Catalog Sent on Application.

J. M. Bruce, Agent for Hampden, Hampshire and Franklin Counties.

394 MAIN STREET, SPRINGFIELD, MASS.

.... J. M. BRUCE, ...

AGENT FOR THE

TROWBRIDGE UPRIGHT PIANOS.

Trowbridge Pianos for Tone.
Trowbridge Pianos for Action.
Trowbridge Pianos for Fine Cases.

PIANOS TUNED, REGULATED and REPAIRED.

Office, Room 25, Main St. P. O. Box 166.

SPRINGFIELD, - MASS.

A. H. HITCHCOCK,

OPTICIAN,

331 Main Street, Springfield, Mass.

Spectacles and Eye Glasses of all kinds. Artificial eyes furnished. Oculists' prescriptions promptly and accurately filled.

Mail orders solicited. 13-25

L. H. HENDEE, M. D.,

OFFICE AND RESIDENCE, PLEASANT ST.

Office hours 7 to 10 a. m., and 1 to 3 and 7 to 9 p. m

Blankets, Blankets, Blankets.

See those gray and white cheap blankets. You'll surely buy a few pairs.

Comfortables.

Our stock of comfortables is unusually large and attractive this year, and the quality far ahead of previous years. The prices very reasonable

Underwear.

Ladies' Jersey underwear, 25c and 50c. Ladies' white-footed hose, 25c.

Men's gloves and mittens.

Full line of floor oil cloths.

W. E. STONE,

Lawrence Block, Palmer.

New Fall Dress Goods.

Plaids have the call, and we show an elegant assortment in 75c, 50c, 25c, and 10c lines.

Teazle Downs are great goods for wrappers and children's wear, and the styles equal to all-wool goods.

In Black Goods the lines are complete in Henriettas, Serges, Cords, and Figured Mohairs.

New Buttons, Braids, and Trimmings. Gloves and Hosiery.

Domestic Department, largest and best assortment shown in the last ten years.

Blankets and Comfortables

at lowest prices.

J. B. Shaw; Feeney's Block, Main Street, Palmer.

Why do You Swelter?

IN HOT WEATHER CLOTHES WHEN YOU CAN GET SUCH COOL GARMENTS AT SUCH LOW PRICES AT

CHARLES K. GAMWELL'S.

IT'S ASTONISHING HOW COOL HIS SUMMER GARMENTS ARE. EVERYTHING YOU WANT IN THIS LINE.

HATS, CAPS, FURNISHINGS.

Headstones and Monuments.

We are prepared to quote my low vigures for HEADSTONES AND MONUMENTS. Our arrangements with Westerly, Quincy and Barre quarry owners are such that we can exchange our stock for theirs, and will give our customers the benefit of their stock at same prices as ours. Can furnish a good Headstone for $35—Designs cheerfully submitted. We consider our 58 years experience to be of some benefit to our customers.

Special attention to all classes of cemetery work.

W. N. Flynt Granite Co.

Wanted.

Agents, Local or Traveling on Salary or Commission, to sell our Warranted Stock.

Sold with a guarantee, at reasonable prices. Steady work and good pay assured. New methods and new specialties. Outfit free, experience unnecessary. Now is the time to commence.

Address, H. B. Williams, Sec'y.

Chautauqua Nursery Co.,

Portland, N. Y.

MORTGAGEE'S SALE OF REAL ESTATE.

By virtue of a power of sale contained in a certain mortgage deed given by Harry T. Bishop and Augusta M. Bishop, both of Palmer Mass., to John P. Reynolds, Jr., of Milton, Norfolk County, Mass., dated October 16th, A. D. 1890, and recorded in the Registry of Deeds for the County of Hampden, Book 471, Page 162, and by said Reynolds on August 1st, A. D. 1892, duly assigned to Israel W. Munroe and Company, a copartnership then composed of Benjamin W. Munroe of Boston, Mass., and Addington M. Bartlett of said Boston, deceased, will be sold at public auction at the dwelling house on the second tract hereinafter described on Saturday, the twelfth day of October, A. D. 1895, at ten o'clock in the forenoon, all and singular the premises described in said mortgage deed and therein described as follows: "A certain parcel of land with the buildings thereon, situate in Thorndike in said Palmer, and bounded and described as follows: Beginning at the N. W. corner of land of Mary Cunningham in a line of new road leading to the house of Ellen McGilp; thence southwesterly on said road 102 feet to a stone in the ground at corner of land of Patrick and Mary Shea; thence southeasterly on said Shea 110 feet to a stone in the ground; thence northeasterly on land of George Mooers 117 feet to a stone in the ground on line of land of said Cunningham; thence northwesterly on said Cunningham 87 feet to the first mentioned bound, containing about one quarter of an acre of land, be the same more or less, and subject to the rights of heirs of Esther Sibley in aqueduct crossing the premises.

Also one other tract or parcel of land with buildings thereon, situate in said Thorndike and bounded and described as follows: Beginning at the southeasterly corner of land now or formerly of Nathan Howard and running S. 58° W. on said Howard to the south county road; thence on said road 60 feet to a stake in the ground; thence easterly in a line parallel with the first mentioned line to the new county road; thence N. 24½° W. 60 feet to the point of departure." The two tracts above described are same described in mortgage deed of said Harry T. and Augusta M. to the Palmer Savings Bank dated January 16th, 1890, and recorded in said Registry of deeds, Book 455, Page 347, to secure the sum of two thousand dollars and interest, and this sale is to be made subject to said mortage.

$100 will be required to be paid in cash by the purchaser at the time and place of sale.

BENJAMIN W. MUNROE, Sole Surviving Partner.

BY GARDNER AND GARDNER, his Attorneys.

Palmer, Mass., Sept. 12th, A. D. 1895. 4-24

TO COLT OWNERS.

I castrate colts and ridglings by Mile's system, holding diplomas from Mile's School of Castrating and from the Chicago Veterinary College.

3-tf Dr. S. H. Ellery, Palmer.

WANTED SALESMEN. We want one or two good men in each county to take orders for a choice line of Nursery Stock or Seed Potatoes. Stock and seed guaranteed. We can give you steady employment with good pay. It will cost you nothing to give it a trial. State when writing which you prefer to sell. Address

The Hawks Nursery Co.,

Rochester, N. Y.

You'll Miss It,

if you try to get along without Pearline. The work of washing will be harder, there'll be more of it, and it won't be as well done. You'll lose money in the time that's wasted, and the things that are worn out in the wretched rub, rub, rub, over the washboard. Easy washing with Pearline doesn't cost any more than hard and ruinous washing without it. But it saves a good deal, all the way through. ©

Send it Back Peddlers and some unscrupulous grocers will tell you "this is as good as" or "the same as Pearline." IT'S FALSE—Pearline is never peddled, and if your grocer sends you something in place of Pearline, be honest—send it back. 376 JAMES PYLE, N.Y.

"The peculiar thing about this boa constrictor, ladies and gents," said the keeper, "is that it requires a young chicken about once a week. It is not dangerous except when hungry. It is very particular what it eats, ladies and gents, and that young man that's smoking a cigarette can approach the cage with perfect impunity. It won t touch him."—Chicago Tribune.

There is no medicine so often needed in every home and so admirably adapted to the purposes for which it is intended, as Chamberlain's Pain Balm. Hardly a week passes but some member of the family has need of it. A toothache or headache may be cured by it. A touch of rheumatism or neuralgia quicted. The severe pain of a burn or scald promptly relieved and the sore healed in much less time than when medicine has to be sent for. A sprain may be promptly treated before inflammation sets in, which insures a cure in about one-third of the time otherwise required. Cuts and bruises should receive immediate treatment before the parts become swollen, which can only be done when Pain Balm is kept at hand. A sore throat may be cured before it becomes serious. A troublesome corn may be removed by applying it twice a day for a week or two. A lame back may be cured and several days of valuable time saved, or a pain in the side or chest relieved without paying a doctor bill. Procure a 50 cent bottle at once and you will never regret it.

"I would rather trust that medicine than any doctor I know of," says Mrs. Hattie Mason of Chilton, Carter Co., Mo., in speaking of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhœa Remedy.

Every mother should know that croup can be prevented. The first symptom of true croup is hoarseness. This is followed by a peculiar rough cough. If Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is given freely as soon as the child becomes hoarse or even after the cough has developed it will prevent the attack. 25 and 50 cent bottles.

The above remedies are for sale by O. P. Allen, Palmer; Charles E. Mason, Three Rivers; A. P. Adams, Thorndike; G. L. Keeney, Monson; John D. Smith, Ware.

Blood Wine,

(Trade Mark Registered.)

The Great French Hospital Remedy.

Cures Nervous Diseases and Stomach Troubles As if By magic And Is a Great Blood Purifier.

Blood Wine will positively cure all forms of nervous troubles, however caused; we back this statement up with a guarantee to refund the money in any case where the patient is not entirely cured after using a limited amount of the medicine. Why pay one dollar for medicine that will only give you temporary relief, when you can buy Blood Wine for 50 cents and be permanent'y cured. Blood Wine contains no wine or opiates, and is perfectly safe to give to children. It is not a beverage and cannot be used as such. Over 700,000 bottles of this wonderful medicine have been sold in the six New England states the last year. What a record. Blood Wine stands to-day at the head, and is a

SMITH'S.

Low Prices, Best Goods.

59 Main Street, Palmer.

CENTRAL VERMONT RAILROAD.

NEW LONDON DIVISION.

TAKING EFFECT SEPTEMBER 30, 1895.

TRAINS GOING SOUTH.

Leave Brattleboro, 5.40 and 10.25 a. m. and 4.25 p. m. for New London, connecting at Millers Falls with Fitchburg R. R., at Belchertown with Central Massachusetts R. R., and at Palmer with B. & A. R. R. for Worcester, Boston, Springfield, at New London with the N. Y. N. H. & H. R. R.
Leave Amherst, 7.05 a. m., 12.13 and 5.57 p. m.
Leave Palmer, 7.05 and 8.40 a. m., 1.50 and 7.15 p. m.
Leave Willimantic for New London, 8.35, 10.10 a. m. 3.25, 6.40 and 8.45 p. m.

GOING NORTH.

Leave New London, 5.20 and 7.40 a m, 2.30 and 5.25 p. m.
The 5.20 and 7.40 a. m. and 5.25 p. m. run through to Brattleboro and make connections for the north.
Leave New London for Willimantic and intermediate stations, 10.00 a. m.
Leave Palmer for Brattleboro, 8.20, 11.00 a. m, and 8.00 p. m, connecting with express for Montreal. Also with Grand Trunk R. R. for the West.
Leave Palmer for Amherst, 8.20 and 11.00 a. m, and 8.00 p. m.

SUBJECT TO CHANGE WITHOUT NOTICE.

D. MACKENZIE, Supt. J. A. SOUTHARD, D. P. A.
New London, Ct.
8 W. CUMMINGS. G. P. A., St. Albans.

The World-Reformer And His Wife.

Said Farmer John to Joiner Ned:
"Come put a back door on my shed."

Says Joiner Ned to Farmer John:
"I cannot put your back door on.
The guild I'm interested in
For the abolishment of sin
Meets at my house this very day,
And so I cannot get away."

"Well, after you've abolished sin,
Come down to-morrow and begin:
I want that back door on my shed,"
Said Farmer John to Joiner Ned.

"To-morrow, neither, can I come,
The friends of the millennium
Meet at the house of Deacon Kent,
And I am first vice-president."

"Well, then, next Wednesday, without doubt,
When your millennium's started out,
Just let it take its course and spread,
And put that back door on my shed."

"I read an essay Wednesday, John,
Before the Culture club, upon
'The Easiest Method to Restore
Our Long-lost Eden Here Once More,'
To foster peace, abolish war,
And render virtue popular."

"Well, get your Eden here all right
By sundown, prompt, next Wednesday night:
And then, next Thursday morning, Ned,
Come put that back door on my shed."

"The anti-Hunger club convenes
Next Thursday, down to Hiram Green's,
And I have promised to orate
On how to crush and extirpate
Man's tendency for fish and meat,
His grovelling desire to eat."

"But won't you come down, by and by,
We'll say two years from next July?
You'll have your various schemes put through,
You'll have the universe built new;
Come down, then, with your tool-kit, Ned,
And put that back door on my shed."

"I think," said Ned, "I'll take that chance
If you will pay me in advance;
For my wife says we've no meat
And no flour in the house to eat;
This cash may save domestic strife
And kind of pacify my wife."
—Sam Walter Foss, in New York Sun.

AMONG THE PARAGRAPHERS

HOW IT WORKS.

Willie has a fountain-pen,
By fits and starts it goes;
And every time he writes with it
He spoils a suit of clothes.
—Washington Star.

THE BOSTON GIRL.

She came from modern Athens,
She could speak both Greek and Latin,
She was a member of Sorosis and of the Browning Club;
But when engaged in conversation
You soon "tired" of admiration,
For incessantly she "spoke" about the "fellows" of the "Hub."
—Boston Journal.

"There's one comfort," said the philosopher when his wages were reduced; "when I'm laid up sick, now, I shan't lose so much money."—Boston Transcript.

"I wish you would come to our church, I know you would like our pastor." "What does he preach about?" "He preaches about twenty minutes."—Chicago Tribune.

First Urchin—"Say, Tim, what's appendicitis?" Second Urchin—"Appendicitis? Oh, dat's de disease yer catches from swallerin' peach stones."—Roxbury Gazette.

A local paper, in describing a ball game, says that Thompson proceeded to swat the ball. It takes a pretty good man to know just what's swat.—Philadelphia Record.

Nell—"Why did you marry that dried-up old millionaire? I wouldn't have him with all his money." Bell—"But he said he would die for me."—Philadelphia Record.

Hotel Clerk—"Sir, the visitor in No. 35 complains that the room is haunted." Landlord—"Indeed? Then put down on his bill, 'One ghost, 10 marks'"—Hofer Stadtanzeiger.

Ada (pensively)—"I hope you'll invite me to the wedding when you get married." Jack (boldly)—"I'll invite you the first one, and if you don't accept there won't be any wedding."—Life.

Millicent—"Did you enjoy the services to-day?" Mildred—"Immensely! The minister had on a new lace surplice, with the most stylish puffed sleeves I have ever seen."—New York Herald.

Mrs. White—"How did you ever get your daughter to read that improving story? My Lucille refused to." Mrs. Gray—"I told her on no account to touch it, and put it on one of the highest shelves."—New York World.

A speedy change—He (about to propose) "My dear Elise, I do love you." She—"You know, of course, I am poor." He—"Yes, Miss Elise, and I hope you will permit me to be a brother to you!"—Humoristiche Blatter.

He—"Do you know, last night, as you stood under the gaslight, I couldn't help but think how much I would like to kiss you." She—"Have you ever heard that "the thought of to-day is the action of to-morrow."—Puck.

Teacher—"What is the meaning of the word 'excavate'?" Scholar—"To hollow out." Teacher—"Give me a sentence in which the word is properly used." Scholar—"The small boy excavates when he cuts his finger."—Tit-Bits.

"I've bought a bulldog," said Parsniff to his friend Lessup, "and I want a motto to put over his kennel. Can you think of something?" "Why not use a dentist's sign, 'Teeth inserted here'?" suggested Lessup.—Detroit Free Press.

Caller—"I wish to contest my uncle's will." Lawyer—"Is the estate worth it?" Caller—"He left $100,000." Lawyer—"Let me see. That's fifty thousand for me and fifty thousand for the lawyer on the other side. Yes, it's worth it."—New York Weekly.

A little Parisian, Gontran by name, was taken out to see a regiment marching past, with a band of music at its head. "Oh, that's fine!" he said, clapping his hands; "but what's the good of all those fellows who aren't playing any instrument?"—Youth's Companion.

Repartee. "You ought to be ashamed of yourself," said the feather-legged hen to the game one. "The idea of your trying to crow." "Anyway," retorted the game hen, with a scornful glance at the other's extremities, "anyway, I have not begun wearing bloomers."—Indianapolis Journal.

"Grabkins doesn't want anything but the earth," said the sarcastic man. "You're wrong there," replied his cynical friend. "Grabkins used to be that way, but somebody told him that the earth is the smallest of the planets, and he has changed his mind."—Washington Star.

"If this place should catch fire what would you do?" asked the giraffe of the elephant. "I'd pick up my trunk and run for the entrance. What would you do? "I'd go to the window and slide down my neck to the sidewalk," said the giraffe with a wink at the monkeys.—Harper's Young People.

$100 REWARD $100.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment; Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers, that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials. Address, F. J. CHENEY & CO., Toledo, O.
Sold by Druggists, 75c.

Only Hood's

Local Dealers Sell more of Hood's Sarsaparilla Than of All Others.

Druggist O. P. Allen, located in Holden's Block, Main St., Palmer, Mass., has been in business for 35 years, and was for many years the only druggist in that town. He is president of the Hampden County Druggists' Association. He testifies as follows:

"Hood's Sarsaparilla leads them all and its sales are as two to one compared with all the others combined. It has shown an increase in sales during the past year while other similar preparations have declined. The verdict of the people who have used Hood's Sarsaparilla is that it has done them good."

The record of remarkable cures effected enables us truthfully to say that

Hood's Sarsaparilla

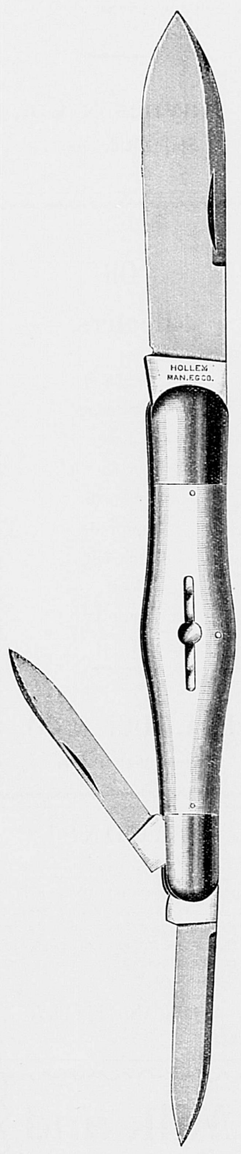
Is the Only

True Blood Purifier

Prominently in the public eye. $1; 6 for $5.

Hood's Pills easy to buy, easy to take, easy in effect. 25c.

Holley Pocket Knives.



Hand Forged Blades.

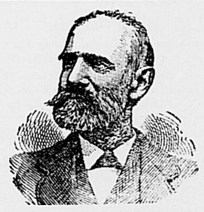
Every knife of this make warranted. Come and try one.

E. A. Buck & Co.,

Palmer.

A Catskill Hotel Man.
(From Catskill, N. Y., Recorder.)

Mr. Joseph McGiffert, one of our prominent hotel proprietors, has reason to extol the merits of Dr David Kennedy's Favorite Remedy. In speaking of it he said: "I was all run down from kidney and liver trouble; three physicians treated me, but I grew worse. A friend said to me: 'Why don't you take Dr. Kennedy's Favorite Remedy? It cured me.' So I began its use. The result was I gained daily, and in a little while I was sound and well again. I suppose I have recommended it to a hundred or more of my summer boarders, and in every instance it has done them good."



F. M. EAGER.

Boots and Shoes Manufactured to Measure.

REPAIRING NEATLY DONE AT SHORT NOTICE.

Dealer in Sewing Machines and Supplies.

Machines to rent or sold on monthly payments.

F. M. EAGER, PALMER.

C. H. HOBBY, PIANO TUNER.

Orders for tuning may be left at O. P. Allen's drug store, Palmer; or may be sent to me by mail to Mansfield, Ct.

Hellyar's Bargain Store.

Carpets! Carpets!

Are you interested in carpets? If so, we should be pleased to show you. We have arranged with one of the largest mills in the United States whereby we are their sold agents in this locality.

Wilton Carpets,
Moquette Carpets,
Axminster Carpets.
Velvet Carpets,
Body Brussels Carpets,
Tapestry Carpets,
Three Ply Carpets,
Ingrain Carpets of all grades,
Cocoa Mattings,
Napier Mattings,
China Mattings,
Linoleums,
Oil Cloths,
Rugs,
Mats,
Lace Curtains.

We carry a full line of the newest patterns in all kinds of Carpets.

You have as fine a variety to select from as is carried by the stores in the largest cities. You can have the carpets cut and sewed at the mills, and delivered to you ready to be laid on the floor. We represent the manufacturers, thus saving you the middleman or jobber's profit, and as we have no stock to carry and no risk to take on bad patterns, misfits or remnants we can afford to sell at a very small profit—lower even than the stores of the great cities. Call and find out how quickly and how cheaply we can carpet a room or a house.

S. H. Hellyar & Co.,

Caryl's Block, on the Corner,
Palmer,
Mass.

WALL PAPERS,
MOULDINGS, ETC.,
AT MASON'S, PALMER.

Love Your Wife.

It doesn't look that way when you let her fry her face, try her temper, ruin her health and complexion by using that old cook stove. Invest a few dollars and buy one of our "Royal Winthrop Grand" or "Herald B." Ranges. You will have less fuel to buy, and better food; also a pleasant wife.

Come in and see our prices on Furniture. Chamber Suits from $12 up; Easy Chairs were never so cheap, we have them from $1 up; Lounges from $4 up. We sell on the installment plan.

We also have a full line of Dry Goods, Groceries, Boots and Shoes, Carpets and Oilcloths, which we are selling at prices that defy competition.

Shaw Brothers,

Three Rivers,
Mass. . . . . .

BOSTON & MAINE R. R.

SOUTHERN DIVISION

(CENTRAL MASSACHUSETTS)

CORRECTED TO JUNE 30 1895.

TRAINS LEAVE WARE:

GOING EAST

FOR Boston—6.55, 9.03 a. m.; 3.15, p. m. Sundays 6.55 a. m.
RETURNING—leave Boston 8.45 a. m.; 1.30, 4.00 p. m. Sundays, 1.30, p. m.
FOR Worcester—6.55, 9.03 a. m.; 3.15 p. m. Sundays, 6.55 a. m.
RETURNING—leave Worcester 9.15 a. m.; 2.25, 4.58, p. m.
FOR Oakdale, Hudson and Waltham—6.55, 9.03 a. m.; 3.15 p. m. Sundays, 6.55 a. m.
FOR Gilbertville, Barre and Coldbrook -6.55, 9.03 a. m.; 3.15 p. m. Sundays, 6.55 a. m.

GOING WEST

FOR Bondsville, Pansy Park, South Amherst and Hadley—7.20, 11.24 a. m.; 4.28, 6.39 p. m. Sundays, 4.35 p. m.
FOR Belchertown, Amherst and Northampton—7.20, 11.24 a. m.; 4.28, 6.39, p. m. Sundays, 4.35 p. m.

D. J. FLANDERS, Gen'l. Pass'r. Agt.
W. F. BERRY Gen'l Mgr.

POSTAL

Telegraph and Cable Co.

Office in Strong's Block,

PALMER, : : : : MASS.

Direct wires to New York and Boston. Office in all the principal cities in the

UNITED STATES.

PROMPT SERVICE,

REASONABLE RATES,

ALL BUSINESS

STRICTLY CONFIDENTIAL.

Continuous

MILLINERY OPENINGS.

While we had our regular opening Wednesday and Thursday, Sept. 25th and 26th, we continue to display the newest and latest right along. For correct styles and moderate prices

we are not beat by any house in the country.

Your visit to our establishment will be appreciated and serve to gratify you at the same time.

S. LEVISON,

350 Main St., Springfield.

.....Wholesale and Retail Millinery.....

Improved Farm Machinery

costs no more than the old and obsolete patterns, and enables you to do more work in the same time, thus making a saving of good dollars to you.

I have all the best makes of modern farm machinery. See them and get my prices.

Forks, rakes, hoes, barbed wire, etc., constantly on hand.

D. W. Foskit,

Foskit's Mills.

QUEEN USES THEM.

What One of the Highest Officials Says

Queen Victoria Uses Proprietary Medicines.

And What is More They Cure Her, Too.

Other Crowned Heads Uses Them Also and Get Well.

People Have High Examples in Using These Remedies.

There never was a time when patent or proprietary medicines were so popular and so widely used by everybody as at present.

Years of experience have demonstrated the great benefit of these remedies. They cure: hence it is not a matter of wonder to learn through the most direct and reliable official sources, that in her recent illness, Queen Victoria, the great Queen of England, used and was greatly benefited by such a remedy. Other crowned heads have undoubtedly done t e same. Thus we see that the wisest, those with the best opportunity to judge, and rich in unlimited resources, are convinced of the curative qualities of these medicines. With ability to procure the best medical talent in the world, this renowned Queen preferred a genuine remedy which had cured so many people, whose testimonials she had read.

Among all those which rare genius, after long years of study and experiment, has discovered, there is none equal to Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy.

Kings, queens, nobles and peasants, the high as well as the low, alike employ and are cured by this grand remedy, especially at this season of the year, when blood and nerves require this purifying and invigorating medicine. Let others follow these illustrious examples. Don't make any mistake. Take Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy. It is this your need. It is this which will surely make you well and strong.

Mrs. Charles H. Heaton, residing at 143 State street, Montpelier, Vt., is of the very highest social position. She says;

"Two years ago we had a terrible experience with La Grippe, and by overwork in taking care of my children and the results of the disease I was left in a very exhausted condition, in fact was nearly prostrated. I was so weak that upon the least excitement I would feel nauseated. I was as near nervous prostration as anyone could be.

"Someone recommended Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy to me and I immediately began its use. I am happy to say that it completely cured me. I think it is the best medicine I ever knew of for any form of nervous or chronic disease. I have recommended it to many and shall do so upon every occasion."

If you are nervous, weak, tired, sleepless, if you have headaches, indigestion, kidney or liver complaint, poor blood and weak nerves, you can surely regain your health and be as well as you ever were by taking Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy.

The strengthening and curative powers of this remedy are wonderful. Use it and you will be made well and strong. It is the discovery of Dr. Greene, the most successful specialist in curing nervous and chronic diseases. He can be consulted by all at his office, 34 Temple Place, Boston, Mass., free, personally or by letter.

FINE STATIONERY.

Many ladies are troubled to find just the size, shade or weight of correspondence paper which they would like. With some thing like

200 VARIETIES

To select from we ought to be able to please you. Any style of paper in any size or shape, and you may have 100 sheets or 1000, as you prefer. We'd be pleased to show you samples at the JOURNAL Office. Your monogram or initials embossed in color if desired.

My Cat and I.

Just at dusk, at my study door,
Four little white feet stand on the floor,
Four little white feet leap to my knee,
And a beaming face looks up at me.
Oh, full many a love I've known,
But never a heart so much my own,
Never a grateful soul like that;
And this is the way I love my cat!

Every day, through storm or shine,
This rapturous greeting still is mine;
Every night on my knee she lies,
Watching my face with her crystal eyes;
Through fame well gained, or a lost renown,
If stocks go up, or if stocks go down,
Faithful forever as faith can be,
That is the way my cat loves me!

Oh, my pussy, the world is round;
In it full many a friend I've found.
When I was rich, they bent the knee,
And when I was poor, they frowned on me.
But, rich or poor, you have loved me still;
You shared the good as you shared the ill,
So while we live, and when we die,
May we be together, my cat and I!
—Mary Field Williams, in New York Sun.

PRACTICAL POULTRY PAPERS.

Before describing the "run," a few helpful suggestions as to the design of the poultry house. A successful poulterer, in a small way, has found the square house most convenient, with the roosting perches, dropboards and nest boxes all placed in the middle, the drop-boards so arranged above the nest boxes as to prevent soiling the latter. The care-taker by this method, having ample space and light, can easily attend to the daily cleaning and other routine of the fowl house, which, it will be well to say just here, will be neither trying nor laborious if one does it methodically and at a certain hour. As to the "run," it is an important adjunct which cannot well be omitted in our calculations, unless for a venture in a suburban spot surrounded by high board fencing. Even there it would be well to divide the space by a wire netting partition into two equal parts, sowing them both, before occupation, with timothy and white clover, and using them alternately after the grass is sufficiently grown. "Runs" well kept in this manner afford the best green food, because while one is being eaten off the other is growing. Twenty-five fowls need about 50x100 feet of space, divided evenly into two "runs," enclosed by from five to nine feet high wire nettings, according to the sort of fowl which will use them. Small active birds are high flyers and restless, unless they have been bred from the shell in confinement. Large breeds, especially full-feathered varieties, fly low.

The equipments for the fowl house, in addition to nests and roosting places, are wide, movable, smoothly finished "drop-boards," hung two or three feet beneath the perches to catch the droppings, and keep the floor or whatever is directly under them clean. These boards should be removed every morning and thoroughly cleaned. Pure water is a vital necessity, to insure which the stoneware poultry fountains, so constructed that nothing can get into the water to defile it, are the best; the largest size, holding two gallons of water, costs 50 cents, smaller ones in proportion; they can be found at any poultry supply house. For feeding soft mashes and other wet food, the very best thing for its purpose is a galvanized iron tray, because it is easily kept clean, and is so formed that the fowls cannot get in and soil their food and plumage. Such trays come in two sizes, the smaller costing 25 cents each, or $2 50 per dozen; and the larger 35 cents apiece, or $3 50 per dozen. Dry grain needs no dish or tray of any sort, for it should always be scattered as widely as possible among dry litter, so the fowls will have to hunt for it, and the deeper they have to scratch the better, as this gives them exercise.—Harper's Bazar.

A CASE OF WIFELY OBEDIENCE.

Much is said, both wise and otherwise, in reference to the obedience which a wife vows to yield to her husband. What do those who are now so opposed to wifely obedience say to the following true incident? Sir Charles and Lady Napier were riding one evening, unattended, on the summit of a range of hills in India. The sun had just set, the pathway was narrow, bordered on one side by jungle and the other by a deep precipice. Turning to his wife rather suddenly, yet quietly, Sir Charles desired her to ride on at full speed to the nearest village, and send some people back to the spot where she had left him, and he furthermore bade her not to ask him the reason why he sent her. She obeyed in silence. Yet it was no slight trial of her courage as well as of her obedience, for the way was lonely and beset with many possible perils; but she rode boldly and rapidly forward, and gained a village a few miles distant in safety. The party whom she then dispatched and accompanied met Sir Charles, who then explained the reason of his strange, peremptory command. He had seen, as he and his wife slowly walked their horses, first a pair of fiery eyes gleam at them from the jungle, and then the head of a large tiger. He was sure, if they both rode on, that the terrible beast would give chase, and he feared if Lady Napier knew the dreadful peril at hand, that she might be so startled as to be unable to make an effort to escape. This was why he sent her on and remained himself, though he had only a pair of pistols, confronting and controling the tiger with the steady, unflinching glance of his eagle eye until, after a short gaze and a low growl, the beast turned back into the jungle.
Rev. E. J. Hardy, in New York Home Journal.

READY FOR ALL WEATHERS.

He was inclined to be humorous, but sometimes unwise. He had forgotten to go home to supper and he knew what was in store for him when he should finally get there, so just to be pleasant and entertaining he got some miniature flags at a toy store and put them in his pocket.

"John Henry," exclaimed his wife, as he entered the house, "I should think you would be ashamed of yourself to treat your wife with so little consideration."

He slowly unrolled his little package of flags, took out a square red one with a black square in the center and fastened it to the mantel.

"What's that?" she demanded sharply.

"Storm signal," he replied pleasantly.

She drew herself up haughtily. Once or twice she seemed on the point of speaking, but controlled herself and finally turned coldly away. He merely took down the red flag and replaced it with a white one with a black center.

"Cold wave," he said.

There's was a moment's silence and he saw that her feelings were hurt.

"You're cruel," she said at last. "You stay away from dinner and then you come home just to make fun of me. I—I—"

He put up a blue flag.

"Rain or snow," he said.

"Why do you want to be so mean?" she asked, tearfully. "Why don't you be the dear, kind man you used to be? I won't be cross again."

He put up a white flag.

"Fair weather," he said, and also a flag of truce. I capitulate to tears."

And the white flag floated during the entire evening.

All Free.

Those who have used Dr. King's New Discovery know its value, and those who have not, have now the opportunity to try it Free. Call on the advertised Druggist and get a Trial Bottle, Free. Send your name and address to H. E. Bucklen & Co. Chicago, and get a sample box of Dr. King's New Life Pills Free, as well as a copy of Guide to Health and Household Instructor, Free. All of which is guaranteed to do you good and cost you nothing at LeGro & Lynde, Palmer; G. L. Keeney, Monson; F. A. Spencer, Ware.

Free Pills.

Send your address to H. E. Bucklen & Co., Chicago, and get a free sample box of Dr. King's New Life Pills. A trial will convince you of their merits. These pills are easy in action and are particularly effective in the cure of Constipation and Sick Headache. For Malaria and Liver troubles they have been proved invaluable. They are guaranteed to be perfectly free from every deleterious substance and to be purely vegetable. They do not weaken by their action, but by giving tone to stomach and bowels greatly invigorate the system. Regular size 25c. per box. Sold by LeGro & Lynde, Palmer; G. L. Keeney, Monson; F. A. Spencer, Ware.

Bucklen's Arnica Salve.

THE BEST SALVE in the world for cuts, bruises, sores, ulcers, salt rheum, fever sores, tetter, chapped hands, chilblains, corns, and all skin eruptions, and positively cures piles, or no pay required. It is guaranteed to give perfect satisfaction or money refunded. Price 25 cents per box. For sale by LeGro & Lynde, Palmer; G. L. Keeney, Monson; F. A. Spencer, Ware.

CAN THE HEART BREAK?

Grief does not kill, and it is indeed very seldom that heavy sorrow causes death to anyone when in a healthy condition. It is, however, very often the indirect cause of a death, either by bringing disease to a climax, or by rendering the sufferer more liable to its attack. If a man is convinced that his grief is more than he can bear, those who have studied the matter agree that, through the force of his own imagination, the man will actually die of a "broken heart."

The great Napoleon was killed by an internal disease, but it is supposed that it would not have been fatal had not his spirits been so depressed through exile and defeat. William Pitt, the orator, is said to have died from a "broken heart," caused by his great grief at the failure of his cherished hopes and plans. And there have been many other such instances in the history of this country. When plagues are raging in a town, statistics show that as many die from fright and imaginary causes as from the real epidemic, so great a hold has the fear of death on same people.

If a man is condemned to be shot, it has often occured that on the word "fire" he has dropped lifeless, although, through accident or design, no bullet has in reality left the gun.

There is a queer case on record concerning the daughter of a celebrated French novelist, who was deeply interested in one of her father's stories. It appeared in installments, and the heroine was suffering from consumption. As the girl brooded over the sad fate of the heroine, she, too, suddenly manifested the same symptons. A physician recommended her father to restore the heroine to health, which he did a few chapters on, and at the same time as the girl in the novel recovered, so also did his too sentimental daughter.—Philadelphia Times.

A CLAIM TO FAME.—"It was in Perth," says I, Zangwill, "that puzzling over a grimy statue, I was accosted by a bare-footed newsboy with his rancous cry of "Hair-r-ald, Glasgow Hair-r-ald!"

"'I'll take one,' quoth I, 'if you tell me whose statue that is.'

"'Tis Rabbie Burns," replied he, on the nail.

"'Thank you,' said I, taking the paper. 'And what did he do to deserve the statue?" My newsboy scratched his head. Perceiving his embarrassment, a party of his friends down the street called out in stentorian chorus, 'Ay, 'tis Rabbie Burns.'

"'But what did he do to deserve the statue?' I thundered back. They hung their heads. At last my newsboy recovered himself; his face brightened. 'Well?' said I again, 'what did he do to deserve this statue?"

"'He deed!' answered the intelligent little man."—Household Words.

Taylor's Anti-Headache Powders are just as harmless as water. Yet look how powerful water is in putting out fire! Our powders cure Headache and Neuralgia in the same manner exactly. It is safe to say that these powders will cure all cases, because they never failed yet. Why not buy Taylor's and be sure about it? Get them of LeGro & Lynde.

A GOOD THING - PUSH IT ALONG

BATTLE AX

Plug Tobacco

A Great Big Piece for 10 Cents.

R·I·P·A·N·S

ONE GIVES RELIEF.

52-43

"WHERE DIRT GATHERS, WASTE RULES."

GREAT SAVING RESULTS FROM THE USE OF

SAPOLIO

4-25

CHILDS

BUSINESS COLLEGE.

Fall and winter term now in session. Many young people from Western New England are attending this school at present. Large patronage, best equipped, more graduates placed in positions. Are you a competent bookkeeper or stenographer? If not, plan to attend Childs' Business College and obtain a thorough business training. Three months' school ticket at half regular R. R. rates. Catalog mailed free.

E. E. CHILDS, Principal,
346-348 Main St., Springfield.

A morning tonic for your brain—a vigorous brushing of the head with one of our nice brushes. Bristles not too hard, not too soft—the kind you like. The price is only 50 cents. Combs, powders, perfumes, mirrors. The Centennial Tooth Powder, and all toilet requisites. You can put on finishing touches with them and for little cash.

Our medicines have wings that fly with pain to parts unknown. Test their power when you are sick, and then you will thank us for relief.

ALLEN'S DRUG STORE,
Holden's Block, Palmer.

PARKER'S HAIR BALSAM

Cleanses and beautifies the hair. Promotes a luxuriant growth. Never Fails to Restore Gray Hair to its Youthful Color. Cures scalp diseases & hair falling. 50c. and $1.00 at Druggists

PATENTS

CAVEATS, TRADE MARKS COPYRIGHTS.

CAN I OBTAIN A PATENT? For a prompt answer and an honest opinion, write to MUNN & CO., who have had nearly fifty years' experience in the patent business. Communications strictly confidential. A Handbook of Information concerning Patents and how to obtain them sent free. Also a catalogue of mechanical and scientific books sent free.

Patents taken through Munn & Co. receive special notice in the Scientific American, and thus are brought widely before the public without cost to the inventor. This splendid paper, issued weekly, elegantly illustrated, has by far the largest circulation of any scientific work in the world. $3 a year. Sample copies sent free.

Building Edition, monthly, $2.50 a year. Single copies, 25 cents. Every number contains beautiful plates, in colors, and photographs of new houses, with plans, enabling builders to show the latest designs and secure contracts. Address MUNN & CO., NEW YORK, 361 BROADWAY

PALMER SAVINGS BANK, PALMER. MASS.

Hours from 9 a. m. to 3 p. m.

President,
H. G. LOOMIS.

Vice Presidents.
GEO. MOORES, T. D. POTTER, C. H. HOBBS.

Secretary,
WM. W. LEACH.

Treasurer,
H. W. McGREGORY.

Trustees,
James B. Shaw, E. G. Hastings, C. H. Hobbs,
George Mooers, R. C. Newell, Geo. E. Buck,
H. G. Loomis, F. F. Marcy, A. L. Hills,
T. D. Potter, H. Waid, Wm. Holbrook,
H. P. Holden, Wm. W. Leach, C. F. Grosvenor,
Jas. S. Loomis, C. L. Gardner, H. W. McGregory

Board of Investment,
Geo. Mooers, H. G. Loomis, E. G. Hastings,
C. H. Hobbs, James B. Shaw.

Auditors,
Wm. W. Leach, A. L. Hills.

MR J. B. LONGWILL, having leased Mr. Campbell's blacksmith shop, will endeavor to do what is right by the general public, in prices to suit all parties. Horse shoeing a specialty.

tf-7 SOUTH MAIN STREET, PALMER.

The Palmer Journal.

VOLUME XLVI. PALMER, MASS., FRIDAY EVENING, OCTOBER 11, 1895. NUMBER 28.

PUBLISHED EVERY FRIDAY EVENING
—BY—
C. B. FISKE & CO.

TERMS OF SUBSCRIPTION.—Two dollars a year. A discount of 25 cents to those who pay in advance. Six months, $1.00; three months, 50 cents; single copies, 5 cents.

ADVERTISING RATES.—One inch (or twelve lines of this type solid) one week, $1; each subsequent insertion, 25 cents. One inch one year, $10; one-half inch one week, 75 cents; each additional week, 15 cents. Short advertisements, "Wanted," "To-Let," etc., 10 cents per line, cash; no charge less than 30 cents. Notices in local column, 15 cents per line. Liberal rates to yearly advertisers.

JOB PRINTING of all kinds executed in the best styles, promptly and at reasonable rates.

C. B. FISKE. L. E. CHANDLER.

[Entered at Post Office as second class matter.]

LOCAL BUSINESS DIRECTORY.

PALMER.

ALLEN, O. P., Wholesale and Retail Druggist and Bookseller.

BARTON, F. D., Dealer in Watches, Clocks and Jewelry, Main street.

BILLS, G. A., Fresh and Salt Beef, Pork, Ham, Lard, Tripe, etc.

BROOKS, EDWIN E., Graduate Optician. With E. S. Brooks, Jeweler, Main street.

BROOKS, E. S., Dealer in Watches, Clocks, Jewelry, Solid Silver and Plated Ware, Main street.

BROWN, C. A. & CO., Hardware, Furnaces, Stoves, Ranges, Paints, Oils and Glass.

BROWN, S. H., Trucking, Light Jobbing, Piano Moving. Order box cor. Main and Walnut streets. Orders can also be left at J. F. Foley's store.

CARPENTER, Mrs. L. E., Millinery and Fancy Goods. Also dealer in Human Hair Goods.

CHANDLER BROS., Bicycles.

CLARK & HASTINGS, Wholesale Dealers in Armour & Co's. Dressed Beef, Provisions, Main St.

EAGER, F. M., Boot and Shoe Manufacturer to Order, and dealer in Leather and Findings.

FISKE, C. B. & CO., Publishers PALMER JOURNAL and WARE STANDARD. Fine Book and Job Printers and Bookbinders.

FITCH, A. E., Law and Insurance, Savings Bank Block.

FRANCIS, R. B., Iron Foundry and Machine Shop.

GAMWELL, C. K., Ready made Clothing, Hats, Caps, Gent's Furnishings, etc.

GARDNER, CHAS. L., Attorney and Counsellor at Law. Church street.

GOODES, E., Palmer Boot and Shoe Store, corner Main and Thorndike streets.

HAMILTON, J. A., Dealer in all kinds of Coal, Wood, Grain, Flour, Baled Hay and Straw. Fertilizers and Stock Food. Main street.

HOLBROOK, C. D., Flour, Grain, Feed and Mason's Supplies, Main street.

HOLBROOK, J. F., Dealer in all kinds of Coal. Agent for National and White Star line of steamers. Drafts on Foreign Banks at lowest rates.

LEACH, W. W., Attorney at Law.

LeGRO & LYNDE, Druggists and Newsdealers, Paper Hangings, Shades, Lamps and Fixtures.

MARCY, F. E., Dealer in Lumber, Shingles, etc., wholesale and retail. West of B. & A. R. R. depot.

MARCY, OSCAR C., Livery and Feed Stable, rear of Converse House.

PALMER WATER CO., Office, Lawrence Block. Office hours to October 1, from 8.30 to 10 a. m., from 2 to 3 p. m.

SHAW, J. B., Dealer in Dry Goods, Groceries, etc. Opposite the depot.

TAFT, S. S., Attorney at Law. Office in Allen's Block, Church street.

WHITE, C. W., Marble and Granite Works. No. 1 Thorndike street.

WOOLRICH & CO., Manufacturers of Ridge's Food, Thorndike street.

THORNDIKE.

ADAMS, A. P., Druggist, Toilet Articles, Confectionery and Cigars.

BONDSVILLE.

HOLDEN, C. L., Dry Goods, Groceries, Clothing Boots, Shoes, Hats, Caps, etc.

MORIARTY, M., Dry Goods, Groceries, Boots Shoes, Coal. Agt White Star and Anchor SS Co's

WARE.

ADAMS, MRS., Chiropodist and Manicurist. 13 Park Avenue. All troubles of feet successfully treated.

ALBERTINE, J. A. Choice Fruits, Tobaccos, Cigars and Confectionery. Low Prices.

DAVIS INSURANCE AGENCY represents the best companies and gives lowest rates.

EDDY, C. W. Job and Fine Art Printer.

EDDY, MISS MATIE K. Teacher of Oil Painting and Crayon. Sketching or Art Work completed to order.

ELDREDGE, A. HENRY. Sign Painter. Carriages painted in the best manner. West Street.

HARLOW, A. B. Photographer. Instantaneous process only. Opposite the Bank.

HOSMER, F. N. Clothier. Hats, Caps, Gents' Furnishing Good, etc. Sanford's Block.

MARSH, F. E. Gold, Silver and Nickel Plater. Replating tableware a specialty. 7 Bank street.

PRIEST, J. E. Ware Steam Laundry. Carpet cleaning. Office at H. M. Clark's.

RICHARDSON, A. F. Dealer in Boots, Shoes and Rubbers of all kinds. Sagendorph's Block.

ROBINSON, JOHN F. Furniture, Sewing Machines, Pictures, Hardware, Paints and Farming Tools.

SIBLEY, J. B. Hardware, Tools, Agricultural Implements, Paints, Oils and Artists' materials.

SMITH, G. H. W. Jeweler. Watches, Clocks and Spectacles. Repairing in the best manner.

TURNER, H. H. Bookseller and Stationer, and dealer in Paper Hangings, Musical Instruments and Sheet Music.

MONSON.

GROUT, GEO. E. Dealer in Watches Clocks, Jewelry, etc. Towne's Block.

NEWTON, GEO. H., Law Office, Notary Public, Insurance, etc., near Gage's store.

SQUIER & CO., Dealers in Grain, Feed, Hay, Straw, Lumber, Shingles and Building Material.

WARREN.

KELLEY, W. H., Attorney and Counsellor at Law. Quaboag Block, Warren, Mass.

SOCIETY DIRECTORY.

MONSON.

MT. ELLA LODGE, No. 184, A. O. U. W. Meets first and third Tuesdays of each month in A. O. U. W Hall, Monson
FISK G. ROGERS, M. W., F. J. ENTWISTLE, Rec.

Economy ◆ ◆ ◆ ◆ ◆ ◆ Heaters

Steam, Water and Warm Air.

Place one in your house and you make

No Mistake.

Model Grand and Crawford Ranges lead all others. Work every time.

NO GUESS WORK HERE.

Plumbing in all its Branches.

Tinning—Anything you want.

The "Cottage" Hot Water Heater.

BE SURE AND SEE IT.

W. H. Hitchcock,

Central Street, - Palmer.

E. S. Bryant, D. M. D., Dentist,

Lynde's Block, Palmer.

Office hours: 8.30 to 12.30. 1.30 to 5 p. m.

Fall Novelty Dress Goods.

French Swiveled Crepe

A novelty in cotton goods with silk effects. Beautiful designs and colorings,
At 15c a yard.

American Homespuns,

In the finest line of checks, plaids and novelty weaves. Full double widths.
55c and 50c a yard.

Clan Plaids.

Novelty corn imitations in bright Scottish plaids, suitable for waists or dresses.
36 inches wide, 29c a yard.

French Twill Serges.

Warranted all wool, 45 in. wide in navy, garnet, brown, black, etc., etc.
Sale price, 49c a yard.

T. H. TODD,

Boston Store, = Monson.

For the Coming Winter Season.

The Saskatchewan Coat,

Wind Proof,

is a handsome custom-made garment of a black or brown color, with a high rolling collar, lined with black Italian quilting, and rubber lining in the body part and sleeves to make it wind and water proof. It has olives and loops instead of buttons. This coat will keep a person dry and warm during the severest snow or rain-storm, and will be dry the next day.

Caps and carriage robes of the same material.

Complete line of
GENT'S FURNISHING GOODS
in all departments.

Fall and Winter Clothing

was never so low in price, nor such values for the money.

Fall Suits, $5 to $20,

Just think of it!

An elegant line of

Overcoats, $6 to $22.

You never saw the like before.

Child's Suits, $2 to $6.

Child's Reefer, $3.50 to $5.

Children's Overcoats in all grades.

Underwear

in a great variety of grades and prices.

Fall Style, 1895.

Lamson & Hubbard.

C. K. GAMWELL,

Palmer, Mass.

. . . Coal, . . .

Hay and Straw.

If you haven't bought your winter coal, ask our prices before you buy; will sell as low as anyone.

We have hay and straw, and can supply you at short notice, at market prices.

If you want to buy or hire a team or any part of a team, come and see me. Think I can supply you. I have competent men to attend to all light and heavy teaming you may have to do, and solicit a share of your patronage. Orders by mail promptly attended to.

Ralph Clifford,

Monson, Sept. 30, 1895. Monson House Stables.

SMITH'S
Pure Spices
and
Low Prices.
50 Main St., Palmer,

◆◆◆◆◆◆◆◆

Seeds. Medium Red Clover, Large Red Clover, Crimson Clover.

Seeds. Alsyke Clover, Red Top, Timothy.

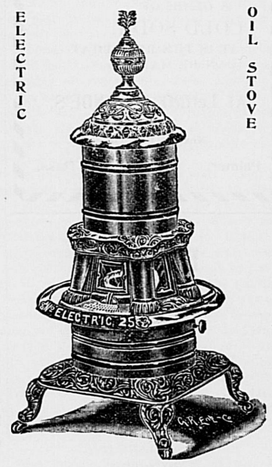
◆◆◆◆◆◆◆◆

E. A. Buck & Co.,

Palmer, Mass.

Now is the time to set up the

ELECTRIC OIL STOVE



and keep your room comfortable these cool nights and mornings. All sizes now in.

Call and see our fine lot of

CABINET BASE RANGES, PARLOR AND CYLINDER STOVES, AND RANGES,

at remarkably low prices.

Builders' Hardware, Agricultural and Mechanics' Tools, Tin Ware, Paints, Oils, and Glass.

◆◆◆◆◆◆

C. A. Brown & Co.,

Palmer.

WAGONS!

Having a new lot of

TOP BUGGIES, BOTH PLAIN AND PIANO BOX AND CORNING, CONCORD BUGGIES, BANNER WAGONS, BUSINESS WAGONS, POLES, ETC., OF THE VERY BEST OF MAKES, AT LOWER PRICES THAN IN THE CITY, CALL AND SEE US.

ALLEN AND ELLERY,

PALMER, tf-3 MASS.

SMITH & MURRAY.

Winter winds are beginning to whistle through the brown leaves, and the frosty air reminds us to be ready with warm things to shut out discomfort and disease.

An ounce of promptitude may save a pound of regret and a week of pain.

A five-minute stop at our underwear counters is time enough to have us send home all that is needed for man, woman or child.

To-day we'll tell you of Men's Underwear.

Camel's-hair Shirts and Drawers, 39c each.

Camel's-hair Shirts and Drawers, good weight, 44c each.

Camel's-hair Shirts and Drawers, Random, 50c each.

Men's "Vicuna" Shirts and Drawers, 59c each.

These are made by the Agawam Manufacturing Company of this city, and are the equal of any 75c shirt on the market.

Camel's-hair Shirts and Drawers, Springfield make, 75c each, actual value $1.

Men's Camel's-hair Worsted Shirts and Drawers, full fashioned, $1.75 each, actual value, $2.50.

Men's Jersey Underwear, ribbed, natural color, Shirts and Drawers, 50c each.

Men's natural fleeced Shirts and Drawers, 69c each.

Men's natural fleeced Shirts and Drawers, 95c each.

Men's Underwear, main entrance.

Gloves.

In conjunction with the purchase of Hosiery Samples, we also got the importer's line of Sample Gloves. Men's, Women's and Children's Gloves, wool ones mostly, but the sorts for fall wear.

The price-saving is easily half.

The women's Gloves were marked 15c, 19c and 25c a pair.

Men's Gloves, 15c, 19c, 25c and 50c a pair.

Children's Gloves, 10c and 15c a pair.

Center store.

SMITH & MURRAY.

"Honest John" Truss.

Very few Trusses have a reputation equal to this, and none better. We are prepared to apply them to any kind of rupture, with a guarantee of satisfaction in every particular, at the drug store of

LeGRO & LYNDE,

Next Door to Post Office,

Palmer, - - Mass.

POSTAL

Telegraph and Cable Co.

Office in Strong's Block,

PALMER, : : : : MASS.

Direct wires to New York and Boston. Office in all the principal cities in the

UNITED STATES.

PROMPT SERVICE,

REASONABLE RATES,

ALL BUSINESS

STRICTLY CONFIDENTIAL.

BOSTON & MAINE R. R.

SOUTHERN DIVISION
(CENTRAL MASSACHUSETTS)
CORRECTED TO JUNE 30 1895.

TRAINS LEAVE WARE:

GOING EAST

FOR Boston—6.55, 9.03 a. m.; 3.15, p. m Sundays 6.55 a. m.

RETURNING—leave Boston 8.45 a. m.; 1.30, 4.00 p. m. Sundays, 1.30, p. m.

FOR Worcester—6.55, 9.03 a. m.; 3.15 p. m. Sundays, 6.55 a. m.

RETURNING—leave Worcester 9.15 a. m.; 2.25, 4.58, p. m.

FOR Oakdale, Hudson and Waltham—6.55, 9.03 a. m.; 3.15 p. m. Sundays, 6.55 a. m.

FOR Gilbertville, Barre and Coldbrook - 6.55, 9.03 a. m.; 3.15 p. m. Sundays, 6.55 a. m.

GOING WEST

FOR Bondsville, Pansy Park, South Amherst and Hadley—7.20, 11.24 a. m.; 4.28, 6.39 p. m. Sundays, 4.35 p. m.

FOR Belchertown, Amherst and Northampton—7.20, 11.24 a. m.; 4.28, 6.39, p. m. Sundays, 4.35 p. m.

D. J. FLANDERS, Gen'l. Pass'r. Agt.
W. F. BERRY Gen'l Mgr.

CENTRAL VERMONT RAILROAD.

NEW LONDON DIVISION.
TAKING EFFECT SEPTEMBER 30, 1895.

TRAINS GOING SOUTH.

Leave Brattleboro, 5.40 and 10.25 a. m. and 4.25 p. m. for New London, connecting at Millers Falls with Fitchburg R. R., at Belchertown with Central Massachusetts R. R., and at Palmer with B. & A. R. R. for Worcester, Boston, Springfield, at New London with the N. Y. N. H. & H. R. R.
Leave Amherst, 7.05 a. m., 12.13 and 5.57 p. m.
Leave Palmer, 7.05 and 8.40 a. m., 1.50 and 7.15 p. m.
Leave Willimantic for New London, 8.35, 10.10 a. m. 3.25, 6.40 and 8.45 p. m.

GOING NORTH.

Leave New London, 5.20 and 7.40 a m, 2.30 and 5.25 p. m.
The 5.20 and 7.40 a. m. and 5.25 p. m. run through to Brattleboro and make connections for the north.
Leave New London for Willimantic and intermediate stations, 10.00 a. m.
Leave Palmer for Brattleboro, 8.20, 11.00 a. m, and 8.00 p. m, connecting with express for Montreal. Also with Grand Trunk R. R. for the West.
Leave Palmer for Amherst, 8.20 and 11.00 a. m, and 8.00 p. m.

SUBJECT TO CHANGE WITHOUT NOTICE.

D. MACKENZIE, Supt. J. A. SOUTHARD, D. P. A. New London, Ct.
S. W. CUMMINGS. G. P. A., St. Albans.

.... J. M. BRUCE, ...
AGENT FOR THE
TROWBRIDGE UPRIGHT PIANOS.
Trowbridge Pianos for Tone.
Trowbridge Pianos for Action.
Trowbridge Pianos for Fine Cases.

PIANOS TUNED, REGULATED and REPAIRED.
Office, Room 25, Main St. P. O. Box 166.
SPRINGFIELD, - MASS.

My Playmates.

The wind comes whispering to me of the country green and cool,
Of redwing blackbirds chattering beside a reedy pool;
It brings me soothing fancies of the homestead on the hill,
And I hear the thrush's evening song and the robin's morning trill;
So I fall to thinking tenderly of those I used to know
Where the sassafras and snakeroot and checkerberries grow.

What has become of Ezra Marsh, who lived on Baker's hill?
And what's become of Noble Pratt, whose father kept the mill?
And what's become of Lizzie Crum and Anastasia Snell,
And of Roxie Root, who 'tended school in Boston for a spell?
They were the boys and they the girls who shared my youthful play:
They do not answer to my call! My playmates, where are they?

What has become of Levi and his little brother Joe,
Who lived next door to where we lived some forty years ago?
I'd like to see the Newton boys and Quincy Adams Brown,
And Hepsy Hall and Ella Cowles, who spelled the whole school down!
And Gracie Smith, the Cutler boys, Leander Snow and all,
Who I am sure would answer could they only hear my call!

I'd like to see Bill Warner and the Conkey boys again,
And talk about the times we used to wish that we were men!
And one, I shall not name her, could I see her gentle face
And hear her girlish treble in this distant, lonely place!
The flowers and hopes of springtime, they perished long ago,
And the garden where they blossomed is white with winter snow.

O cottage 'neath the maples, have you seen those girls and boys
That but a little while ago made, oh! such pleasant noise?
O trees, and hills, and brooks, and lanes, and meadows, do you know
Where I shall find my little friends of forty years ago?
You see I'm old and weary, and I've traveled long and far;
I am looking for my playmates. I wonder where they are!

—Eugene Field, in Chicago Record

A PORTRAIT.

It is a theory of mine that one cannot paint a good portrait from mere sittings of the subject before one. The nature, as well as the features of the model must require study. One should know something of the soul as well as of the superficies. And so, as I was to paint the portrait of Mrs. Adriance, a woman of rare charm, I felt the necessity of some careful observation. Her guest for the purpose, I had, of course, the better opportunity of making it; and the hospitality, being a matter of business, hardly invested me with the sacred character of guest, or invested her with any of the shieldings that should ordinarily surround one's hostess.

Mrs. Adriance was a woman of luxurious beauty, and of a toilette that was its fit setting. If I say that her husband was her slave, I have no word left to describe the condition of her servants; but in her house, which was superb, she reigned an unlimited despot, and her word, her wish, was law. She had many whims, each of which she followed till she worked it out, and there was no shred of it left; now it was charity, now it was religion, now it was fashion, now it was literature, now it was art. Whatever whim she pursued borrowed for the time some of the beauty of the beautiful creature who pursued it, and seemed as admirable as she was, as all she did was—at least in the eyes of Mr. Adriance. In my own eyes—well, beginning as her abject servant, I had spent but a few days under her roof when I found myself thinking that if I painted Mrs. Adriance as I saw her, the picture would be unpleasant enough to exceed the domain of art.

Nothing opens the eyes sometimes like a good prejudice. If I had not become aware of Mrs. Adriance's opposition to the marriage of her husband's niece for no other reason than that the girl was agreeable to herself, a pleasant piece of furniture in the house, and she did not choose to make a break in the way of life which she enjoyed, I might not have seen her so clearly myself. No one played Chopin as this sensitive Irene did; no one else read verses with the same delicate inflections and musical voice; no one sympathized with her in all her freaks and caprices as this young girl did; no one had such taste to criticise and suggest concerning a ribbon or a ruffle, and let Irene's fingers twinkle for a moment in the lace or among the puffs and bows and no French milliner could have done better. It was plainly impossible for Mrs. Adriance to spare Irene. Who would see the point of the last social gossip with her? With whom should she exchange the swift glances? With whom should she talk over her friends and enemies? Life would be coming to an end soon enough, anyway; let things be as they were till sickness and age and death touch them with necessary transforming hand; why go out of the way and bring about unpleasant changes. No; let Irene stay where she was well off and made others so. "And why did Irene wish to marry, anyway?" she would continue. "It would only be a temporary delight, and after that, weariness." Doubtless very much in love now,—in a year the enchantment would be gone and the bridal satin would be only sackcloth and ashes. No, it was as much for Irene's sake as for that of every one else that Mrs. Adriance opposed the whole affair.

And then the man was poor. It was true that was a trouble which Mrs. Adriance could remedy if she would, out of her abundant wealth; but if Irene chose to throw herself away, not a dollar, not a cent, would Mrs. Adriance contribute toward her doing so; she, at any rate, would not make herself responsible for helping on the sacrifice. Besides—see how selfish it was in Irene! How singularly selfish to wish to leave her house, where she was so acceptable, so agreeable, actually so necessary, where an aunt valued her as few women did their husband's relatives, where her uncle found her of such use, where she filled all the chinks and corners, where nothing could replace her or make up for her loss—how very selfish in her to go off with a young man who must needs absorb her entirely to himself! She couldn't really believe such selfishness was possible to Irene, and therefore she couldn't really believe that Irene positively wished to marry the young man. And if she didn't wish it, what was the use of talking any more about it? It was not a matter of genuine love, but a mere phase of sentimentality. And how did that old pink accord with the tarnished gold, and what did you say to this cloth for a riding habit—scarlet velvet full of silver gray shadows? One has to be careful in the choice of hues after one has passed one's first youth; and scarlet is certainly vulgarizing unless one's skin is transparent as moonlight. And hers was? Yes, there was perhaps nothing out of the way in confessing it; a fact in nature that was patent to any observer was hardly a matter of personal vanity; and she was willing to admit she had found pleasure in her coloring, as the glass gave it back to her—the pleasure she might find in looking at a Correggio,—Irene had often told her she looked like a painting on ivory; and it was certainly very unusual at forty. An even temper had a great deal to do with such preservation by keeping up a regular circulation—a refusal to be ruffled, a habit of putting aside the unpleasant, such, for instance, as this disagreeable affair of Irene's marriage. And, for the rest, how could Irene expect to be happy with a man of such a nature as Gervais? She had really put it to Irene. What manner of man was it who was willing to take her from her home of luxury, surrounded by the beauty of a palace, waited on by liveried servants, fed on all but nectar and ambrosia, to live in a narrow lodging, to wait on herself and him, too, to dine on joint warmed over, if there was even a joint at all! He must be a person both without calculation and without heart, —the want and work and worry to which he should bring her,—without heart, to be willing to accept such a sacrifice from her. What happiness could she expect in life with so selfish a creature as that! Or, on the other hand, if he had calculation—if he thought that, by securing Irene, he was also putting himself in the way of securing a portion of her uncle's money—well, then he was warned in time. Not a dollar under such circumstances would be given to Irene; the whole fortune would be applied to Institutional Charities; and this was irrevocable, and he might as well understand it, perfectly. "You can't think all that your aunt has said," he asked, eagerly, "can make any difference?" "Oh, no," sighed Irene, "oh, no, none, none in—our—love."

"In what than?" he demanded, his splendid gray eyes glittering like a young eagle's. "Does happiness depend on velvet carpets, and gilt chairs, and Dresden china figures? Upon a course of game, or sweetmeats, or right wines? Upon Paris hats and dresses?"

"Oh, no, no," sighed Irene again. "Why do you speak so?"

"I am sorry to speak so abruptly, my darling," he said, returning to her side. "But if your happiness lies in none of these things, then our life together can be blest enough. My salary can provide a home, and its simplicity——"

"Would be dear to me!" cried Irene. "Oh, it's not that. It's none of these things! But she has been so good to me, always so sweet and kind, and anxious for my happiness, as every one sees, and she needs me so—and I cannot find it in my heart to pain her——"

"But you can pain me!" he cried, starting to his feet again. "It amounts to this, then, that you love her more than me!"

"Oh, no, no," cried Irene again, breaking down in sobs. "That is impossible!" And I can't see, I don't feel, I don't know what to do!"

She, too, it was plain, shared the general worship and absorption. "She has cast her eyes upon you!" exclaimed Gervais. "The basilisk!" And so things drifted on, apparently remaining much as before. But there are always currents underneath the tide.

My eminence as a portrait painter—not to put too fine a point on it—allowed me to work unquestioned and at my own time. And as Mrs. Adriance knew my ideas concerning the necessity of studying the character of my sitter, she revealed herself on one occasion after this semi-confidential fashion. Thus I did not feel called upon to show her my sketches for her picture, nor the outlines of Irene that I made furtively, finding it not easy to obtain the precise transparency of tint beside which the seashell's pink was opaque, my pencil fascinated, too, with the exquisite droop of eye and lid, where all melancholy seemed to linger.

But, while I was still pursuing my studies, Mrs. Adriance was evolving new opportunities for them.

"It is really out of the question," she said, "to allow things to go on in this way any longer, Irene. There is no state much worse than prolonged engagement. It would unsettle the mind of a college faculty. One can attend to no duties properly with all one's interest elsewhere. It keeps one in a condition of bristling electricity.

"You are absorbed and abstracted in Gervais now, and I feel it. We all feel it. One must bring the matter to an end, either by marriage or by dismissal. And in this case, Irene, I am sure your good sense will direct you as to the proper course."

"Oh! "cried Irene, "all the pink flush mounting and deepening, and then dying away in deadly palor. "You can't mean——"

"Yes, assuredly," said Mrs. Adriance, calmly opening and shutting her great fan of crimson ostrich feathers. "I mean that your wisest way is to tell Gervais to cease to see you or care for you."

"As if—as if he could!" cried Irene, in a burst of passion that was like a revelation.

"My dear! Such vehemence! I could not believe you capable of the shocking taste of it. Surely it is best that Gervais should make the effort. You who are usually so self-forgetful—it surprises me that you should fail to see the injury you are doing Gervais by the continuance of this hopeless affair. He is simply wasting his youth and all his young manhood, and the happiness he might secure elsewhere, by marrying a young woman in his own station of life."

"His own station," cried Irene, trembling like an aspen leaf. "Is that not the same as ours?"

"Oblige me, Irene, by not repeating my words. It strikes me there is a difference between your uncle's position with his rank and influence and social weight—to say nothing of myself—and that of a penniless clerk on a salary! It might strike another so. There is a difference. If Gervais married a person accustomed to no more than he could give, he would have a chance for happiness, a reason for saving his salary, a home that would interest him and occupy him and prevent him rushing to dissipation—" one could see that every word went through Irene like a stab. "Don't make me any reply, my dear. But when you go to your room think of it calmly, judicially, with an eye to Gervais' best good, as I have, and I am sure you can but come to one decision. I would not see him again. I would return his letters, his trifling gifts, and put an end to the whole vexatious business at once. Now if you will open the 'Sign of the Lyre,'—where were you? That 'Story from a Dictionary,' wasn't it?"

As the King said, so was it done.

I was toying with my pencils a day or two afterward, when Mrs. Adriance came up and rang presently for Irene, who brought in her hand a book containing some fanciful arabesque designs which Mrs. Adriance wished me to see. The book was "The Thousand Nights and One Night."

Mrs. Adriance threw herself back in the depths of the wicker chair, unwinding the scarf and lace she had on her head. "Now I am your sitter, sir," she said. "And Irene, read me something, anything so that I shall not go to sleep,—I want some vivacity in the picture!" And Irene, opening the book at random, and with a faltering voice, began reading the tale of a young prince whose beautiful wife leaves him at night, and whom he discovers to be a vampire at her horrid feast.

"What did you understand a vampire to be before this reading?" I asked at its conclusion.

"A bat of some sort," said Mrs. Adriance hesitatingly.

"I never quite knew. I associate the idea with that of a ghoul who devours the dead."

"But it is revolting!"

"I see now, however, that it is one of the dead who obtains what passes for life by absorbing the life of the living."

"You make me shudder!" cried Mrs. Adriance.

"Didn't the story?"

"Too unreal, after all."

"It all resolves itself into the question of what it is to live, and what it is to be dead. To live—is to be sentinent of all other life, to fell the emotions and sensations of all other beings, to be aware through every pore and at every pulse of the life of others——"

"How few live!" said Irene, looking up with her sad eyes.

"That is very pretty poetry," said Mrs. Adriance. "But poetry. And about the dead?"

"We will have no dealings with the dead," I said, "but the vampire—the ghoul—we meet her any day." And I went on with my painting.

That night, after Mrs. Adriance had gone out, radiant in her claret velvets and diamonds, Irene came softly down the stairs, her face white as the little ivory chest she carried, the shrine no doubt, that held her love letters and her keepsakes. It was Gervais who waited for her in the alcove off the drawing room where the lights were low. I went out for a stroll in the frosty air myself. Perhaps I did not stay long enough; for letting myself in again in the course of the hour, I heard a broken cry, I saw a passionate embrace, and Gervais dashed headlong by me, and Irene fell fainting—to the floor if I had not caught her in season.

It was a tear-sodden face that Irene brought to the table next morning, where by her aunt she was pronounced to have a decided influenza. But at dinner she was unable to be present at all, and for several days thereafter she failed to appear.

"It is quite the best so," said Mrs. Adriance. "Once over an affair of this sort the nerve is dead and done with. And then it is for the child's lasting good. Yet it is incomprehensible—and with such taste as hers in everything else—that yellow hair of his always looked so crude—for my part I could never endure this Gervais very near me. And he was ineffably wearisome."

I suspended my work for some weeks at this time in order that Mrs. Adriance might accompany her husband on a southern journey, and I did not return to the house during that time—being occupied, I may as well say, with the care of Gervais, who, wild with grief, and rage, and longing, and despair, needed such care as belongs to a wayward child; his face ghastily, his health shattered, his reason unsettled, and his heart broken. "It is of no use," he cried. "There is nothing for me to do about it. She herself gave the coup de grace. She said it had been an idle fancy, she said she had never loved me, she said she wished for her freedom. She has cared nothing for me, she has trifled with me, she has played upon me, and she has driven me mad!"

I did the best I could in the way of comfort—it was nothing. If one had gone to the house and kidnapped Irene and brought her to him and laid her in his arms, it would have been nothing. She had herself put out the light. And otherwise Irene would not have come. She had understood that she was sacrificing herself; and she had sacrificed both herself and Gervais.

When I next went to the Adriance mansion, Mrs. Adriance, lying back among the cushions of her purple velvet chair, superb in gold-colored gauzes and great scarlet poppies, seemed to me the most magnificent thing in flesh and blood that I had ever seen. How rich was the carmine on the olive of her check, how sumptuous the crimson lips, how like soft fire in midnight beams the lustre of those black-fringed eyes! The masses of her black hair glittered with their own reflections like the spikes of a silver crown above that regal brow. She laughed, a flashing laugh of white teeth, dimples and color, and cried, "Now we are all right again! For you see we have Irene back!" How sweet in another's ears, how womanly, how lovingly self-forgetful, might that have sounded! But in mine—I looked in a bewildered wonder at Irene on the lounge, in a clinging white gown, her fair hair fallen, the deathly pallor of her face enhanced by the wide violet circles about her eyes, her form shrunken as it were to a line, the shadow of a line. She smiled faintly and sweetly, and murmured in a voice,—not Irene's voice, but one like the sound of a leaf sighing in the wind,—"Yes, you see I am here—what is left of me."

"And are you still reading the old story of the vampire and the maiden she devours?" I cried in my amazement.

I went, after awhile, to my studio—the room which consisted of the upper floor of the house. I looked at my sketches and my canvases; I sketched a new one, I began to paint in earnest the next day, and I painted as if possessed with a sacred fury. I was up at daybreak, and I revised my work by candlelight. I ate almost nothing, saw nobody, hardly knew I lived or breathed. At the end of the week I went down to the room where Mr. and Mrs. Adriance chanced to be sitting, she with that tinge on her cheek like the scarlet on the side of a pear, and Irene, lying on the lounge beside them, still and white as if in a trance—and I bade them to the view.

There on the canvas, with all the power of my pencil, the force of my will, the strength of my color, had I pictured the radiant creature, supple, of abounding curve, of tints rich as the autumn leaf, but through the diaphane of her drapery those long and sinuous limbs were scarcely human, and that radiance—was it the phosphorescence of the dead or the life of the living? She hung as if suspended one moment on a swift flight, and beneath was a dream of dim moonlighted graves, and in her arms, as if snatched from one of them or about to be cast into it—who could say?—was the lifeless form of a shrouded girl, blue-white and corpse-like, with the glazed gaze of the dead indeed. And her face was Irene's.

"It is the old story of the sacrifice of which we have read and spoken," I said, as they bent toward it in questioning wonder. "I never thought to see it made reality, as I have done in this house. You can hang it or not, as you please," I said, bowing myself out quickly, "but it is your portrait, Mrs. Adriance."—Harriet Prescott Spofford, in Romance.

Yesterday a young man asked me if it would be safe for him to marry on five hundred dollars and a salary of fifty dollars per month. I told him I could tell better when I saw the girl. There are girls who have grown up in ease and who have kicked great black and blue welts in the lap of luxury, yet who are more ready and willing to accept a little rough weather than the poor girl who has stood for eighteen years looking out through the soiled window of life waiting for the rain to rinse it off and let the sunlight through that she might see her approaching lord.—Bill Nye, in Ladies' Home Journal.

How I Love Her.

How I love her none may say—
In what sweet and varied way;
Loving her this way and that—
For a ribbon on her hat;
For her soft cheek's crimson dyes—
For a trick of her blue eyes!
How I love her none may say,
Yet I love her all the day!
How I love her none may know;
Who can say how roses grow?
How, where'er it breathes and blows,
Still the rough wind loves the rose?
For her lips so honey-sweet,
For the falling of her feet—
Who shall all my love declare?
Yet I love her all the year!
How I love her none may say—
In the winter, in the May—
In all seasons, dark or bright,
Love by day and love by night!
For her glance—her smile—the mere Presence of her here and there;
In my sighing in my song,
Still I love her all life long!
—Frank L. Stanton, in Atlanta Constitution.

THE QUEEN OF WILD FLOWERS.

Queen among the late wild flowers is the golden-rod. It is dignified without appearing haughty, and modest without seeming to be humble. Its bright golden blossom is full of life, and its tall, supple stem, upon which the blossom is so finely balanced that it gracefully bends to the slightest breeze, is a rare and profitable study in posture. Few amateur artists who essay to paint this beautiful wild flower do it justice.

There is more than height and depth of color to it; beyond the glow of its bloom there is a rich tracery of tiny stems and a gracefulness of pose that must be portrayed, or the flower becomes as lacking in artistic beauty as the stalk of yarrow.

There are many wild grasses and flowers that may be arranged by the artist so as to give a more pleasing effect than when they are seen naturally presented. Not so with the golden-rod. Man's hand cannot improve upon the natural arrangement of it, when found in its most frequent haunt by the side of a neglected country road, leading along the mottled sides of a moss-covered rock, modestly lifting its head from behind the wreck of a rail fence, or waving its shining plumes over the scars in a tumbling stone wall.

The wild morning-glory is but rarely found in the artist's collection of sketches. It is really a beautiful vine, though stamped out of existence by the farmer, who finds in it a pest that persistently overruns his fields and chokes the life out of his "hay lots." The vine is almost exactly like that of the cultivated morning-glory plant, but the leaves and the blossoms are much smaller.

In traversing the rural district, one frequently comes across the jagged stump of a tree that has been blown down or shivered by lightning, and over the stump the morning-glory vine has clambered, presenting a trembling mass of dark green foliage, from which twisted tendrils, fragile and graceful, uprise, and if the spot is visited while the vine is yet wet with dew and before the sunshine has struck it, the dark mass is relieved by hundreds of pinkish-white blossoms, with deep chalices and scalloped edges, scattered over its surface irregularly. Variety is given to the study by the first rays of the sun, that curls the petals of some of the blossoms in upon themselves until they are closely rolled together, reopening only to drink of the refreshing dew of the following night.

Here the student finds a splendid opportunity for study in light and shade, and he can find many objects in the fields and along the highways less worthy of his close attention than this vagabond of nature, so generally and so heartily despised by the country folk. It grows in shady places, and while it readily lifts itself upward by any object that comes within its reach, it clings most firmly to a decaying tree stump, the ragged sides of a stone heap or a stone wall.

But there are more charms than those mentioned that make of the country road a profitable stroll ground for the artist. A bend and a downward pitch in it takes you away from the bright blossoms of the golden rod and morning-glory to a meadow stretching away on either hand, cut in twain by a gurgling brook, that is almost concealed by the rick growth of tall flags and coarse grasses.

A narrow bridge of rotting planks crosses the brook at your feet, and a short distance away a rich bouquet of meadow-rue rises to a majestic height above the broken rails of crumbling fence. At the point where the brook steals softly under the fence, as if passing a barrier that could be passed by stealth only, clumps of tall elder bushes lean over and mingle their shining clusters of black berries, as if for comparison, and through the arch thus formed one catches sight of the yellow bloom of the dragon flower and the vivid glare of the red torch weed that stands stiff and upright among the grasses, sharply reflected in the little open pools that form where the course for the river has been impeded.

The floral features in this picture most worthy of study is the meadow-rue, tall, graceful and sensitive. Every stem and leaf stands out distinctly, and every stem and leaf has its characteristic posture. The blossoms clustered, and yet they are so light and airy that the outlines of the leaves and stems back of them are plainly seen, giving to the blossom an appearance of transparency.

A little beyond the bridge the road rises gradually to the summit of a low hill, and as the high ground is approaching rank-growing hazel-bushes reach across the highway and shake the browning clusters of their nut-shucks in your face. There is but little in the hazel-bush to attract the eye, but there is a ruggedness and a picturesqueness about the clusters of its crimp-edged nut-shucks that appeals strongly to the landscape artist.

After the growth has been carefully studied, the work may be continued in the studio, for the nut-shucks will cling to the bottom branches all winter.—Art Amateur.

HE FOUND THE PIN.—At an entertainment in Dublin a thought reader boasted that he could find a marked pin hidden by one of the audience. The pin was hidden by a Trinity student in an adjoining room in the presence of the committee, among whom was a confederate. The student, susp

The Journal.

FRIDAY EVENING, OCTOBER 11, 1895.

LIEUTENANT GOVERNOR WALCOTT, in his speech of acceptance in the convention last Saturday, plainly indicated that he would not be a candidate for the position another year. He has earned his right to advancement to the head of the ticket, and there should be no question about his getting it

IT is announced that ex-Senator Ripley of Chester has withdrawn from the councilor nomination contest. This ought to give Col. Lakin of Westfield additional strength in the convention, although the Ripley delegates are claimed for Barrus. Mr. Towne, the Orange man, does not seem to be credited with a very large following.

NEW YORK'S court of appeals has decided that Bartholomew Shea, the murderer of Robert Ross in an election row in Troy two years ago, must go to the electrical chair. There could hardly be a more deliberate or cold-blooded crime than that of Shea's, a ward heeler who deliberately shot his victim to prevent him from voting the opposition ticket. Shea was sent to the polls by his boss for the express purpose of intimidating voters.

IT is to be regretted that the Republican party did not rise to the occasion in the state convention last Saturday and rid itself of all connection with the A. P. A. Instead, apparently fearful that some untoward result might follow such action, and not having the courage of its convictions, it truckled to the order in as graceful a manner as possible The action is not one of which the party can feel proud, and will quite likely cost it some votes.

DRIVEN from one place to another in an attempt to find a spot where the Corbett-Fitzsimmons prize-fight can take place without molestation, the managers have now turned their attention to Hot Springs, Ark., but are likely to find legal opposition there as elsewhere. Talk of having it in Mexico brought out the statement that President Diaz was opposed to it, and even the Cherokees refuse to have the battering take place within their nation.

THE latest reports regarding the nomination of sheriff of Hampden county are that the opposition to Col. Clark has been renewed and that his defeat in the convention seems assured. If this is accomplished it is said that he will run as an independent candidate. Should he do so and the Democrats nominate him, as it is said they are likely to in the event of his failing to get the Republican nomination, he will undoubtedly be reëlected, as he ought to be.

Now that the A. P. A. has shown its strength it does not appear to be the hydra-headed monster which some were inclined to give it credit for. Its showing was lamentably small in view of the claims which had been made for it, and it will be less feared in the future. As an unknown quantity it was naturally feared to some extent; as a known force it will not be hard to reckon with. And it is quite likely that it has reached the zenith of its power in Massachusetts.

THE Tenth Hampden Republican representative convention will be held in the district court room in Palmer at noon next Tuesday. Brimfield will name the candidate, and the delegates from that town have been instructed to present the name of Porter A. Parker; there will probably be no opposition to the nomination. The Democratic convention will be held at the same place at noon on Wednesday, but who the nominee will be there is not yet the slightest indication.

A YEAR or so ago a church in Hartford, Vt., advertised for a pastor, "young, married and a Republican." One was soon secured, but now the congregation has found out that he once voted for Cleveland, and there is no end of a row, with the result that the pastor is to leave in the interests of harmony. There is no criticism of his theology, and no question as to his methods of work or the good he has been doing. Neither is it understood that his intentions regarding future ballots have been inquired into; he voted for Cleveland and the church has no use for him. He may have had a change of heart since the last presidential election, but that doesn't count. Such a church cannot be very strong in spiritual matters.

IF the leaders of the Republican party are not disgusted with Elijah A. Morse there are plenty of its voters throughout the state who are. He "did not feel justified in withdrawing his name in advance of the balloting because he had no formal and authoritative knowledge that he was to be supported by the opponents of the governor." But "in case he was supported he should unequivocally and absolutely refuse to be a candidate if he should receive a majority of the votes." Perhaps so, but there are few who will believe it. Mr. Haile didn't have to wait until after the ballot in the convention to know whether he would "unequivocally and absolutely refuse" to be a candidate or not. If we mistake not Mr. Morse's chances for the gubernatorial nomination are considerably slimmer than they were a week ago, or than he would wish.

As was expected, the Republican state convention at Boston Saturday nominated all the present officials, as follows:

For governor, Frederick T. Greenhalge of Lowell.
Lieutenant-governor, Roger Wolcott of Boston.
Secretary of state, William M. Olin of Boston.
Treasurer and receiver-general, E. P. Shaw of Newburyport.
Auditor, John W. Kimball of Fitchburg.
Attorney-general, Hosea M. Knowlton of New Bedford.

The convention was a representative one, only 74 of the 2013 credentials being unaccounted for, but the A. P. A. did not seem to be possessed of the power it had claimed, for the ballot stood as follows:

Whole number of votes,	1,762
F. T. Greenhalge of Lowell,	1,256
Elijah A. Morse of Canton,	391
Scattering,	8

Mr. Morse immediately moved to make the nomination unanimous. The platform adopted favors the protection of American industries, the keeping of national expenditures below the receipts, sound and honest money, a dignified but firm foreign policy, civil service reform, the restricting of immigration to the better classes, opposes the appropriation of public funds to sectarian purposes and deplores the existence of religious and race partisanship in politics, favors more rigid laws for the control of the liquor traffic, commends the administration of the state government, calls for government recognition of the importance of Boston as a commercial center and its assistance in developing the harbor, advocates the extension of the corporation laws to include those from other states doing business in Massachusetts, urges more stringent laws against prize-fighting, and favors the continuance of the present policy of state highway construction.

Apparently the fate of the first American duchess of Marlborough conveyed no dampening element to the desire of another American lady to wear that particular title. There are many young women on this side of the water who prefer being American old maids to titled dowagers, or, as was the case with the first American duchess of Marlborough, to losing the title altogether. There is no woman in the world who is quite so well situated, taking all things into consideration, as she of the United States, who may ever be free, and whom no property laws may ever enthrall unless she consents to the slavery herself.—Providence Journal.

But if ever the Massachusetts Republicans should choose Mr. Morse as their candidate for governor above Roger Wolcott, the time would have arrived for saying, in all seriousness: "God Save the Commonwealth of Massachusetts."—Springfield Republican.

LOCAL NOTICES.

Miss Emma C. Mulvihill has returned from the fall dressmaking openings in New York with the latest styles, and would be pleased to receive patrons at her rooms on Converse avenue.

PALMER NEWS.

O. P. Allen has been in Vermont for a part of the week.

Mrs. Emily Holdsworth is painting her house on Park street.

Mrs. E. L. Davis has been spending a part of the week in Boston.

E. L. Maxwell has sold his house on State avenue to Hiram Waid.

A long-distance telephone has been placed in the Palmer National Bank.

H. A. Thayer of Blackstone spent Sunday with his brother, A. W. Thayer.

Miss Eloise Stone returned Tuesday from a stay of several months in Norwalk, Ohio.

Harold Shaw and Calvin Hastings were home from school at Worcester over Sunday.

The heating apparatus for the opera house has arrived, and is being placed in position.

Mrs. Lyman Rice of Belchertown has been spending the week with her son, G. A. Rice.

The Ladies' Tuesday Social Club will meet next Tuesday evening with Mrs. S. H. Hellyar.

O. D. Wells will give a husking and oyster supper at his farm near Foskit's Mill this evening.

J. L. Wilder, foreman in the JOURNAL'S work rooms, is taking a vacation on Tower Hill in Brimfield.

Mrs. Thaxter of New York has been spending a part of the week with Mr. and Mrs. G. F. Sedgwick.

Louis Cross went to Boston Monday, where he will study medicine in the Boston University of Medicine.

W. E. Stone has bought of W. H. Hitchcock the vacant lot on the east side of Squire street, opposite his house.

Samuel Millen has moved his family from Bondsville to a tenement in Joseph Kerigan's house on Park street.

S. R. Sager and family, who have been the guests of H. N. Sager, returned Saturday to their home in Gardiner, Me.

Dr. Copp, the superintendent of the epileptic hospital, and wife are boarding with G. H. Hastings on Pleasant street.

Masses will be at 8 and 10 30 next Sunday morning in St. Thomas's church, with Sunday school at 3 p. m. and vespers at 7.30.

Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Brewer, formerly of Palmer, returned from England this week, and have been calling on friends in town today.

Plans have been filed at the court house in Springfield for the state road from Springfield through Wilbraham and Palmer to Monson.

Miss Henrietta Macauley of Springfield, formerly of Palmer, died at her home in that city Wednesday noon of heart failure. She leaves a mother and one sister.

The buildings of the state primary school will be sold at auction next Thursday, and what they are can be ascertained by reference to our advertising columns.

Lyman Butler of Silver Street brought to this office on Monday a bunch of wild red raspberries, which he picked that day by the side of the road in North Wilbraham.

Mrs. Mary C. Smith, state organizer of the Woman's Suffrage Referendum work, gave an able, interesting and helpful address before a small audience in the district court room last Friday evening.

The ladies of the Baptist society will give a harvest dinner in the vestry of the church next Tuesday, from 12 to 2, the price being 25 cents. In the evening at 6 they will serve a hash supper at 10 cents per plate.

The selectmen gave a hearing this afternoon at the town house to all persons interested in the petition for a franchise for the electric road. The JOURNAL goes to press too early to give the details of the hearing, however.

The Eaton Club of St. Paul's church will give an oyster supper and entertainment Tuesday evening, November 5th. The harvest supper of the Ladies' Social Union is arranged for Tuesday evening, the 22d of this month.

A pair of large oxen, on their way to the Stafford fair, attracted the attention of a large number of people Sunday. The animals were in a car on the track in the rear of C. A. Brown's residence, and weighed 6150 pounds.

William Fuller, well known in Palmer years ago as a livery stable keeper, died in Springfield on Wednesday of last week. The funeral was held Sunday, and was attended by a number of his former acquaintances in Palmer.

W. H. Hitchcock has moved his stove store and plumbing establishment from the Masonic block on Central street to the vacant store in the Nassowanno block. He will occupy the basement of Strong's block for his plumbing and piping work.

Considerable of the property in the state primary school buildings has been sold during the past week at private sale, and the balance of the personal property, consisting of furniture, iron bedsteads and cribs, etc., will be sold at auction next Thursday at 10 a. m.

About 50 sat down to the hunt supper in the Converse House dining room at 9 o'clock last Friday night, and partook of a most excellent seven-course meal, served in the best of Landlord Pierce's style, the affair being voted an immense success by all those present.

Swedish meetings are held every alternate Wednesday evening in the Advent chapel on Park street by Rev. Gustav Staav of Springfield, who preaches in Palmer one Wednesday evening and in Monson the next. A meeting was held in Palmer on Wednesday evening of this week.

The pastor of the Congregational church will preach Sunday morning on "Power." In the evening he will conduct a "Question Box" service under the auspices of the Men's Sunday Evening Club. This club is planning some especially interesting services for the coming Sunday evenings.

The Athletic Association of Monson Academy will hold an inter-class meet on the driving park grounds to-morrow afternoon at 2 30, with an interesting programme, the events of which will be found in the Monson news column. Admission to the ground will be free, and all are invited to attend.

A new 80-horse power boiler has been placed this week in the factory of the Grosvenor Woolen Co. The works are now started at noon and run till midnight, the dam of the electric company a short distance up the stream preventing the starting of the mill earlier in the day by keeping back the water.

Rev. H. F. Moulton will give the companion sermon to the one preached last Sunday, next Sunday morning. The subject will be "What do Christians Know about the Condition and Occupations of their Friends in Heaven?" The large audience which listened to the one last week will probably be present to hear this one.

The bridge over the river at Bondsville, on the road from the main street to the Athol station, has been closed as dangerous. The selectmen of Belchertown would like to close the bridge until a new iron one can be built, but this will take three or four months, while the Palmer selectmen are in favor of repairing the present one.

A. H. W. Stimpson, who has been in Northampton for some time learning the soap business with J. Kingsley & Sons, has leased the Pine Grove farm at Northampton for three years, and will carry on the soap business connected therewith, the business amounting to about $15,000 a year. He takes possession next Monday.

Here's a mark for farmers to aim at: Wilbur F. Miller of Ludlow has this season produced from one and one-quarter acres of land 1000 pounds of oats hayed, 26 bushels of rye, 3040 pounds of rye straw, 3405 pounds of Hungarian grass. Who can show a better production from equal land? The oats were grown on the quarter acre and the rye on the balance, the whole being sown to Hungarian after the other crops had been harvested.

Probably the fact that there was no heat in the opera house kept many away from the entertainment under the auspices of the high school, when Leland T. Powers, the impersonator, gave "David Garrick." Mr. Powers has been in Palmer before, and certainly has lost none of his power as an entertainer, his adaptation of the various persons in the play being little less than wonderful. The evening was an enjoyable one for those present; there should have been more of them.

The selectmen have received notice from the manager of the New England Telephone and Telegraph Company that their foreman has been instructed to paint all the poles of the company in all the villages of the town. The company wished a relocation of its poles some time ago, and the selectmen made the granting of the new locations contingent upon the painting of the poles. It is probable that the electric company will be required to paint its poles also.

The appealed cases of Ernest M. Lord, for illegal liquor keeping at Three Rivers and for keeping a liquor nuisance, were called in the superior court at Springfield Monday, and Lord took a most abject tumble off the high horse he rode when the cases were heard in the local court. He pleaded guilty without a murmur, and was fined $75 on one count; as he had gone out of business and was likely to keep out, the other case was placed on file, and this disposition of the latter case will keep him from going into the business again in Palmer.

S. Blodgett, the florist, will devote his energies principally to pinks and roses this winter, and already has about 3000 pinks growing, among them several new varieties. One of the new ones is a very light shade of salmon, in fact hardly more than tinted, and is a very handsome blossom; another new one is a deep velvety crimson, another is a light carmine and another is white, very large and double, much finer than the ordinary white variety. He has made several additions to his greenhouses this fall, and will devote one whole house to smilax. He is shipping large numbers of pinks daily now, although the plants are not yet at their best.

The selectmen held their monthly meeting for the payment of bills on Monday. The matter of permanent highway building was discussed, and an attempt will be made to get trap rock in Westfield. The selectmen also visited the proposed addition to the cemetery with Mr. Converse, whose land it is proposed to buy, and will be given a price on what is wanted in a few days. The proposed addition is the land between the present cemetery and the residence of Franklin M. Shaw on Thorndike street, running back over the hill far enough to meet the street which Mr. Converse is to open from Converse avenue northeast toward the hill, past the well-known "red barn," this being a part of the plan which he has prepared with a view to dividing up the territory north of Converse avenue into building lots.

The county commissioners gave a hearing in the district court room Tuesday on the petition for a new highway from Fentonville to Palmer. The desires of the petitioners were presented by Samuel Ward of Brimfield, and a number of people from that town and Wales were present in support of the petition. The towns of Monson and Palmer, through which the proposed road would pass and on whom the expense must fall, were represented by Selectmen Norcross and Town Counsel Kenefick in opposition. As an error had been made in the serving of the papers, the town clerk of Monson having been given no notice of the hearing, an adjournment was made to November 11th, and the petitioners notified that at that time they would be expected to be prepared with a survey of the proposed road and an estimate as to the cost of its construction.

District Court.

These civil cases were entered last Saturday: Michael O'Brien of Monson against Mary V. O'Brien of Monson; James Pendergast of Monson against the same; H. H. Hall & Co. of Wales against John Fawe and trustee, of Wales; Charles S. Marcy of Holland against Frank H. Whaley of Holland; Mabel L. Stebbins et al against the same; C. D. Holbrook of Palmer against W. P. Hegeman of Palmer; J. M. Chaffee of Stafford against George Brooks and trustee, of Monson. A suit of J. T. Stevens against William Foley of Monson was heard, and judgment rendered for the plaintiff, an appeal being taken. The suit was for Foley's ejection from the Monson House. A similar suit was decided against him a short time ago, but an agreement for a further stay of two weeks was made with the owner, and at the end of that time there was more trouble between landlord and tenant.

In the criminal court Saturday B. Frank Collin was fined $15 for keeping an unlicensed dog, but appealed.

On Tuesday Oscar W. Palmer of Norwich paid $5 for drunkenness, while on Wednesday Michael Lawlor of Holyoke, for a similar offense, was given two months in the house of correction.

Yesterday morning Miles C. F. Gerald, complained of by William H. Connelly for an assault last Sunday, had the case continued until Monday, and was allowed to go on his own recognizance in the sum of $100.

THORNDIKE.

The Thorndikes were defeated at Ware on Saturday, 10 to 6.

Miss O'Donnell of Holyoke is visiting with relatives in town.

John W. Loftus is recovering from an attack of pneumonia.

The King's Daughters will meet with Mrs. C. A. Tabor this evening.

Mrs. Ellen Courtney returned this week from a visit with friends in Spencer.

Confirmation will be administered at St. Mary's church some time next month.

Louis Desotel, a former resident, spent Sunday as the guest of Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Kelley.

Rev. E. J. Stone of Niantic will occupy the pulpit at the Congregational church next Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Miller and son Frank of Kennebunkport, Me, are the guests of Mr. and Mrs. B. F. Emery.

Work on the foundation for the new schoolhouse is about finished. The wood work will now be pushed as rapidly as possible.

Daniel P. Flynn of Pittsfield was in town during the week. Mrs. D. P. Flynn has been visiting her parents here for a week or more.

The Stafford fair was the attraction for several from this place this week, and those who attended report a good time and plenty of it.

The millinery openings on Friday and Saturday evenings drew out a large number of the fair sex, and business to all appearance was good.

Peter Laboullier and Miss Bertha Lord were married on Monday at St. Anne's church by Rev. Fr. Marchand. A reception was held in the evening.

The Christian Endeavor society held their monthly social on Tuesday evening in the vestry of the Congregational church, and an enjoyable time was had by all present.

Mrs. Thomas Evans, an old and much-respected citizen of this place, died at her home on Monday after an illness of several weeks. Her funeral was held from St. Mary's church on Wednesday morning, and was largely attended.

BONDSVILLE.

William O'Regan, a former resident, was in town Monday.

John Ferris has returned from a week's visit in New York state.

Thomas Shaw was in Warren two days this week.

Charles A. Whiteknact of Newton Upper Falls spent Sunday with friends here.

Mr. and Mrs. Lewis of North Adams were the guests of H. A. Stephens part of the week.

Miss Lula Collis of Palmer spent part of the week with Mrs. Warren Fisherdick.

Miss Ora Parent, accompanied by her cousin, Louis Parent, spent Sunday at her home.

Samuel Millen moved his family to Palmer this week. Willian Rowe will occupy the tenement vacated by Mr. Millen.

Mrs. Richard Russell attended the funeral of Mrs. Charles Kellogg in Amherst Friday.

Rev. Cecil Sherman of Barre occupied the pulpit at the Methodist church Sunday.

A meeting of the Epworth League will be held in the M. E. church vestry this evening at 7.30.

Mr. and Mrs. Johnson, Mr. and Mrs Green, and Mr. Moulton and family drove to Flynt's Park Saturday.

Richard Russell, who has been employed in the Holyoke mill, has severed his connection there and has accepted a position in the Palmer Mill at Three Rivers.

The Ladies' Aid Society will serve a chicken pie supper in the church vestry next Wednesday evening, from 6 45 to 8 o'clock. Following the supper there will be an entertainment. An admission fee of 25 cents for adults and 15 cents for children will pay for both supper and entertainment.

Mr. Jarvis of Boston, a representative of the New England Telegraph and Telephone Co., is at work putting in a system of telephones from the Boston Duck Co's. office to the various rooms of the corporation, also to the repair shop, power house, and to each of the railroad stations.

The bridge across the river near the Athol railroad station is closed to heavy traffic, it being pronounced unsafe by the selectmen of Palmer and Belchertown. The stringers on one side of the bridge are beginning to decay, and are liable to give way under a heavy load. All the freight from the freight houses has to be drawn over the lower bridge, below Clark Hastings's market, making the distance about half a mile further.

A pretty home wedding took place at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Warren Bond Tuesday evening of last week at 6.30, the occasion being the marriage of their daughter Ora to Frank S. Mason of Palmer. Only the immediate relatives and friends of the bride and groom were invited. The bride wore a very becoming dress of white cashmere with lace trimmings. Mr. and Mrs. Mason are taking an extended trip to New York and up the Hudson. On their return they will reside in Palmer.

THREE RIVERS.

H Barker was home from Amherst college Sunday.

After a week's illness J. Fitzgerald is again able to be out.

John Wilson is delivering his orders in a handsome new wagon.

A new sidewalk has been made in front of the boarding house this week.

George Trickett succeeds Edward Carroll as janitor of the Union church.

Mrs. Wesley Provo is slowly recovering from a severe attack of neuralgia.

Miss Angie Geer of Wilbraham Academy spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. A. S. Geer.

Saturday afternoon J. W. Cheney entertained a company of picnickers in his grove.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Barton returned yesterday from a two-weeks' stay in Belchertown.

Mrs. M. G. Carey of Brattleboro is spending a few weeks with Mr. and Mrs. Fred Higgins.

Misses Mabel and Edna Graves of East Longmeadow are stopping a few days with Mrs. Charles Thayer.

Miss Etta Ruggles, after spending a week with relatives and friends, has returned to her duties in New York.

As the ice cream season is waning Miss Anna Murdock has decided to close her store during the winter months.

Mr. and Mrs. McDougal and Mrs. Charles Bogue of Belchertown are spending a few days with Mr. and Mrs. Charles Barton.

Mr. DeRosier, who for several months has been employed as clerk in O. A. LaRiviere's store, has returned with his family to Canada.

Mr. Morse, agent for the Metropolitan Furniture Company, has moved his family into one of J. W. Cheney's new houses on Kelley street.

The Otis Company has stored away its second hay crop of this season, and in general it is superior to one cut the first part of the summer.

John Reckord, formerly of this place but for several years a resident at Holyoke, has returned to this place and accepted a position in the mill.

Miss Lizzie Taylor, Miss Rebecca Atkins and Miss Turkington of Manchester spent a few days this week with Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Turkington.

Wanted to know, by an East Main street resident, who cut the ropes of the hammock in which he was enjoying a comfortable siesta the other day.

To-morrow afternoon Mrs. G. S. Butler will meet the Junior Christian Endeavorers in the Union church. There will be a social time after the business meeting.

On account of a derangement in the boilers it was so cold in the school rooms Monday that all except two of the teachers had to dismiss their scholars for the day.

George Bengal is nursing a swollen hand. While at work in the barn this week a pitchfork fell on the back of his hand, two of the tines sinking deep into the flesh.

Next Sunday will be a sort of Hallelujah Day at the Union church. Rev. Lewis Giroux of the French Protestant College of Springfield will be here to assist Mr. Butler.

The Main street bridge over the river is receiving needed repairs. Joseph Belanger is putting under the south side a brace similar to one he put under the north side last year.

Saturday afternoon the ball team went to Indian Orchard to play the last of a series of five games, and was victorious by a score of 14 to 7. Batteries, Filard and Barry; Lane and Fitzgerald. The Indian Orchards have won four of the games, but this last one made them feel quite blue, so much so that they refused to pay our boys' expenses.

Trefily Vandette is laid up with a badly lacerated side. He was picking nuts in the woods Sunday, when he fell with a great deal of force against a bent sapling and an opening several inches long was made in his side. Dr. Boulay was summoned and the boy is doing well. If the tear had been a little to one side the accident would have been fatal to the now convalescent.

Miss Susie Twiss met with a serious accident last Saturday evening. As she was wheeling toward the post office she was thrown to the ground, and a carriage in which two men were seated ran over her wheel. The men were not polite enough to even stop and ask the young lady if she was hurt, but drove right on. They are not known here. Luckily Miss Twiss received no injuries, though somewhat shaken up. The wheel looked as if it had suffered for both.

A Springfield street housewife, while attending to her culinary duties this week, had a strange adventure. She had purchased of an itinerant fruit vender some quinces, or what she thought were quinces, and put them in the oven to bake. What was her surprise when on opening the oven, to see, not the quinces, but some baked watermelon. Perhaps these fruits are becoming more closely related to each other, or perhaps the fruit dealer had as wonderful a touch as an old mythological king once possessed. At any rate it would not be a bad plan for the Italians to label their fruit if any more such accidents occur.

The honor roll in Miss Maybelle Merrill's school room for the past month: Ralph Alden, Raymond Alden, Matilda Barbery, Ann Brown, Beatrice Belanger, Elvira Belanger, John Chambers, James Cole, Alcid Barber, John Foley, Dora Gauthier, Lizzie Jones, Albert Jenks, Clarence Lupien, Wilfred Matters, Elton Trickett, Blanche Upham. Second primary: Sarah Barber, Winnie Barber, Ledora Camerlain, Annie Cole, Edith Fillmore, Gertie Gauthier, Annie Lussier, Mary O'Connor, Justine Renard, Puymarol Belanger, Henry Fredett, Raymon Russell, Louis Hodgerny, Lila Fish, Mabel Collins, Rachael Chambers, Dalmeer Marien, Lilla Carroll, John Reopell, Harold Ruggles, Ralph Willis, Rexford Paine, Antoine Woods, Eva Freak, Tuffield Barbery, Louis Mayott, Clinton Frame.

W. Coleman, the professional bicyclist, is at his home here. Mr. Coleman has had a very busy and successful season, being a couple of thousand richer than he was this spring. In one day's races his earnings amounted to $300. At Toronto, Canada, where he won his first professional money, he was presented with one hundred one-dollar bills, many of which he gave away as souvenirs. One of these bills adorns a frame hung on the L. A. W. club room walls, and is placed beside the "first money" of the other kings of the track. Last year Mr. Coleman was a class B man, but he much prefers being a professional, as a rider in that class has many privilages which the men in the lower classes do not have, the most important being that of receiving money prizes. In his travels this summer Mr. Coleman has covered half of the United States and parts of Canada. Mr. Coleman intends to ride next year. He has been contemplating a trip South this winter, but it is doubtful as yet. If he does not go he will no doubt remain at his home here all winter.

BORN.

At Palmer, 9th, a son to John O. and Addie Hamilton.
At Palmer, 10th, a daughter to C. E. and Georgia Fuller.

MARRIED.

At Ware, 9th, by Rev. Albert C. White, Henry A. Allen and Mrs. M. J. Adams.

DIED.

At Springfield, 9th, Henrietta, 31, daughter of Elizabeth and the late Robert H. Macaulay.
At North Wilbraham, 8th, Belle S., wife of Marshall A. Lane.

BOARDERS WANTED.—Also washing done at Mrs. R. A. Robinson's, Main street, Palmer.

WANTED.—A good squirrel and rabbit dog. 3-27 EUGENE SHAW, Palmer.

WANTED.—A competent girl for general housework. MRS. L. E. CHANDLER, Palmer.

TO RENT.—Pleasant up-stairs tenement, in fine condition, corner Spring and Pond streets. GEO. A. KEITH, Palmer. tf-24

WANTED.—A girl for light housework. Also to assist in care of children. 1-28 MRS. L. C. FLYNT, Monson, Mass.

FOR SALE.—Kitchen range with water front, and small Franklin open-grate parlor stove, both in excellent condition. Also two Ingrain carpets. Inquire at JOURNAL office.

FOR SALE.—House on Squier avenue and building lots Pond street, belonging to J. A. Squier estate. Enquire W. W. LEACH, Palmer, Mass., April 23, 1894. tf-4

COMMONWEALTH OF MASSACHUSETTS.—HAMPDEN, SS. PROBATE COURT.—To the heirs at law, next of kin, and all other persons interested in the estate of Caroline C. Harvey, late of Palmer, in said county, deceased.

Whereas, a certain instrument, purporting to be the last will and testament of said deceased, has been presented to said Court for probate by Charles B. Fiske of said Palmer, who prays that letters testamentary may be issued to him, the executor therein named.

You are hereby cited to appear at a probate court to be held at Springfield, in said county of Hampden, on the sixth day of November, A. D., 1895, at nine o'clock in the forenoon, to show cause, if any you have, why the same should not be granted.

And said petitioner is hereby directed to give public notice thereof, by publishing this citation once in each week, for three successive weeks, in the Palmer JOURNAL, a newspaper published in said Palmer, the last publication to be one day at least before said Court, and by mailing, postpaid, or delivering a copy of this citation to all known persons interested in the estate, seven days at least before said Court.

Witness, WILLIAM S. SHURTLEFF, Esquire, Judge of said Court, this second day of October, in the year of our Lord one thousand eight hundred and ninety-five.

3-27 SAMUEL B. SPOONER, Register.

COMMONWEALTH OF MASSACHUSETTS.—HAMPDEN COUNTY, ss. Superior Court. October 2d, A. D., 1895.

Seth W. Smith and Herbert W. Smith, both of Palmer, in said county, co-partners doing business under the firm name of Smith & Company, Plaintiffs. Dora E. Parks of said Palmer, Defendant.

This is an action of contract to recover $2000 as by writ on file, dated the nineteenth day of March, A. D., 1895.

It now appearing upon the suggestion of the Plaintiff's council, that the Defendant is not an inhabitant of this Commonwealth, nor was resident therein at the time of the service of the writ in this case; and it further appearing, on the inspection of the officer's return, that the Defendant has no last and usual place of abode, nor any tenant, agent, or attorney known to the said officer, and that no personal service was made upon the said Defendant.

It is now ordered by the court that the Plaintiffs give notice to the said Defendant, of the pendency of this action, by causing an attested copy of this order to be published in the Palmer JOURNAL, a public newspaper printed at Palmer, in the County of Hampden and State of Massachusetts, once a week, three weeks successively, the last publication to be at least thirty days before the first Monday of December next, or by causing the Defendant to be served with an attested copy of this order fourteen days at least before the said first Monday of December, that she may then and there appear, and take upon herself the defense of this action. And that this action be continued until notice shall be given to the said Defendant, agreeably to this order.

ROBERT O. MORRIS, Clerk.

A true copy.
Attest:—ROBERT O. MORRIS, 3-27 Clerk.

TO THE SELECTMEN OF THE TOWN OF MONSON, IN THE COUNTY OF HAMPDEN AND COMMONWEALTH OF MASSACHUSETTS:

The undersigned, a majority of the directors of the Palmer and Monson Street Railway Company, respectfully represent that said railway company has been duly formed and organized under the laws of said Commonwealth, that the directors thereof have appointed a clerk and treasurer, who have duly qualified for the duties of said offices respectively, and said directors have caused a copy of the articles of association of said company to be published in the Palmer Journal, a newspaper published in Palmer, in said county of Hampden, once a week for three successive weeks, the last publication being on the 15th day of March, 1895, and the undersigned, a majority of said directors, hereby respectfully petition your honorable board to locate the tracks of said railway, in said town of Monson, along and through the following streets and highways under such restrictions as you may deem the interests of the public require, to wit: Beginning at the boundary line between the towns of Palmer and Monson on the North Monson road leading from said Palmer to Monson, thence following said road to and through the main street of said Monson to the store occupied by H. Howe & Co. in South Monson, thence along the Hampden road to the road leading from said Hampden road westerly at a point just southerly of the raceway of R. M. & T. Reynolds, thence along the last named road to its intersection again with said Hampden road, thence along said Hampden road to the station on the New London Northern Railroad at said South Monson. Also beginning at the boundary line between the towns of Palmer and Monson on the quarry road leading from said Palmer to Monson, thence following said quarry road to Margaret street, thince along said Margaret street to High street, thence along said High street to its intersection with said North Monson road at or near the soldiers' monument.

Dated September 11th, 1895.

GEORGE E. BUCK,
D. L. BODFISH,
E. G. HASTINGS,
RUFUS FLYNT,
E. D. CUSHMAN,
GEO. C. FLYNT,
} Directors of the Palmer and Monson Street Railway Co.

NOTICE is hereby given to all parties interested that the undersigned, Selectmen of Monson, will meet in the Town Hall in said Monson, on Friday, the eighteenth day of October current, at eight o'clock in the evening, for the purpose of considering the location prayed for in the foregoing petition.

Monson, October 2d, 1895.

A. D. NORCROSS,
G. H. FOSKIT,
W. H. BUGBEE,
} Selectmen of Monson.
2-27

I WOULD respectfully announce to the people of Palmer and vicinity that I have bought the McManamy property on South Main street, and being a practical blacksmith, shall be established at the above place in the business of shoeing, jobbing and repairing in both wood and iron work. Having an experience of over 16 years, think I can give satisfaction as to prices and workmanship. A share of your patronage is solicited.

Respectfully,
F. D. THOMPSON,
4-27 Palmer, Mass.

Fine Confectionery.

Walter M. Lowney's CHOCOLATE BON BONS,

At Smith's,

59 Main Street, - - Palmer.

COLLECTOR'S SALE OF REAL ESTATE FOR NON-PAYMENT OF TAXES.

The owners and occupants of the following described parcel of real estate, situate in the town of Brimfield, County of Hampden and Commonwealth of Massachusetts, and the public are hereby notified that the taxes and assessments thereon severally assessed for the year hereinafter specified, according to the list committed to me as collector of taxes for said town by the assessors of taxes and the legally constituted authorities remain unpaid, and that said parcel of real estate will be sold at public auction in front of the post office in said Brimfield, on Monday, the twenty-first day of October, 1895, at eleven o'clock in the forenoon, for the payment of said taxes and assessments and all incidental charges and expenses, unless the same shall have been previously paid.

ALBERT B. LAWRENCE.

A tract of land containing about 115 acres, with the buildings thereon, situate on the main road leading from Brimfield to Brookfield, bounded east by land of Thomas Morgan; south by land of William Blashfield, and west by land of Elisha C. Marsh. Taxes of 1893. $37.

E. G. HITCHCOCK, Collector.

Brimfield, Mass., Sept. 26th, 1895. 3-26

TOWN OF PALMER.
NOTICE TO VOTERS.

The Registrars will hold sessions as follows:

At the District Court room on Thursday, October 3d, from 2 to 4 p. m.

At the office of the Palmer Mill in Three Rivers, on Wednesday, October 16th, from 2 to 4 p. m.

At the office of the Boston Duck Co. in Bondsville, on Monday, October 21st, from 2 to 4 p. m.

At the office of the Thorndike Co. in Thorndike, on Wednesday, October 23d, from 2 to 4 p. m.

And at the District Court room in Palmer, on Saturday, October 26th, from 12 o'clock, noon, until 10 o'clock p. m., when registration will cease for the next state election.

J. B. SHAW,
5-26 Clerk of the Board of Registrars.

EIGHTH DISTRICT COUNCILOR CONVENTION.

The Republicans of said district, which includes the Franklin, Berkshire, Berkshire-Hampshire and First and Second Hampden Senatorial Districts, are requested to send delegates to a convention to be held at city hall, Springfield, Tuesday, October 15th, at 1.30 p. m., to nominate a candidate for member of Governor's council from said district, and to transact any other business proper to come before said convention. Basis of representation same as at state convention.

September 14th, 1895.

A. H. GOETTING,
ROBERT H. KNEIL,
W. BANCROFT,
A. H. HALL,
CHAS. A. TOWNE,
} Committee.
4-25

TENTH HAMPDEN REPRESENTATIVE REPUBLICAN CONVENTION.

The Republicans of the Tenth Hampden Representative district, comprising the towns of Palmer, Ludlow, Brimfield and Holland, are requested to send delegates to a convention to be held in the District Court room in Palmer, on Tuesday, the 15th day of October, 1895, at 12 o'clock, noon, for the purpose of nominating a candidate for representative to the General Court, to be voted for in the election of November 5th; to choose a district committee for 1896, and to transact any other business which may properly come before the convention.

L. E. CHANDLER,
Chairman District Committee.
Palmer, Sept. 24th, 1895. 3-26

TENTH HAMPDEN REPRESENTATIVE DEMOCRATIC CONVENTION.

The Democratic voters of the Tenth Hampden Representative district are requested to send delegates to a convention to be held in the District Court Room in Palmer, on Wednesday, the 16th day of October current, at 12 o'clock, noon, for the purpose of nominating a candidate for representative to the General Court, to choose a district committee for the year 1896, and to transact any other business that may properly come before the convention.

J. F. FOLEY,
Chairman District Committee.
Palmer, Oct. 9th, 1895. 1-28

REPUBLICAN SENATORIAL CONVENTION.

The Republicans of the First Hampden Senatorial District, comprising the towns of Brimfield, Holland, Monson, Palmer, Wales and Wilbraham, and the city of Springfield, are requested to send delegates to a convention, to be held in the district court room at Palmer, on Wednesday, October 16th, at 10 o'clock a. m., for the purpose of nominating a candidate to represent said district in the state senate, and to choose a member of the state committee for the ensuing year.

Basis of representation same as for state convention. A. H. GOETTING,
Member of state committee for said district.
Springfield, Mass., September 14, 1895. 4-25

DISTRICT ATTORNEY CONVENTION.

The Republican voters of the Western District, comprising Berkshire and Hampden counties, are requested to send delegates to a convention to be held at Chester on Monday, October 14th, at 10.30 a. m., to nominate a candidate for district attorney, and to transact any other business proper to come before said convention. Basis of representation same as at state convention.

September 14th, 1895.

A. H. GOETTING,
ROBERT H. KNEIL,
A. H. HALL.
4-25

Buildings of the State Primary School in Palmer, Mass.,

(To be removed,)

AT AUCTION,

Thursday, Oct. 17, 12 o'clock, noon.

The main building, of wood, is mostly three stories high, about 450 feet long and about 37 feet wide.

The shop is 2-story, 60x35

Farm House of 11 rooms.

Two large Play Houses.

In these buildings, and to be sold with them, are about 5000 feet iron pipe, 60 or more radiators, about 1000 feet of lead pipe, 400 feet of fire escapes, gas fixtures, marble slabs, bath tubs, some large chimneys, and about 350 windows, etc.

Sale positive, as these buildings must be taken down at once.

Per order Board of Trustees of Mass. Hospital for Epileptics.

N. D. Winter, Auctioneer.

THE DOCTOR PRESCRIBES.
WE DO THE DISPENSING.
BRING YOUR PRESCRIPTIONS
TO US. WE USE ONLY THE BEST DRUGS,
AND THE GREATEST CARE IN COMPOUNDING.
WHILE WAITING GET A GLASS OF COLD SODA.
IT IS THE BEST THAT CAN BE MADE.

At LeGRO & LYNDE'S,

Next to Post Office,

Palmer, - - Mass.

Bicycle Repairing

in all its branches.

Bicycles to rent.

E. A. Buck & Co.,

Cross Block, Palmer.

Milk

The Journal.

FRIDAY EVENING, OCTOBER 11, 1895.

NEIGHBORHOOD NOTES.

MONSON.

LOCAL NOTICES.

Wanted.—At once, four first-class carpenters. T. J. Hynes, Monson, Mass.

Auction Sale, on Tuesday, October 15, 1895, at 10 a. m. on Lincoln street, Monson, will be sold at auction, the contents of six or seven rooms. Sale positive, rain or shine. Mrs. Jane E. Hills, Monson, Mass.

Bentley L. Rice, formerly of the Academy, is in town this week.

Mrs. R Homer, formerly of Monson, has been visiting Mrs. W. Converse.

Mr. and Mrs. Keyes of Bridgeport spent Sunday with Mrs. Sylvia Fuller.

J. S. Bogan has sold his house on Hampden avenue to R. M. & T. Reynolds.

T. J. Hynes has the contract for building an addition to George C. Flynt's house.

Mrs. Dwight Tyler of West Brookfield is visiting her aunt, Mrs. W. C. McMaster.

Mrs. Jane E. Hills will sell her household goods at public auction next Tuesday at 10 a. m.

Henry Trask of Springfield has been visiting Edgar Squier on Moulton Hill for several days.

The Ladies' Circle of the Universalist church is planning a fair for the early part of December.

Joseph Wilkins, a former student at the Academy, has visited friends in town during the past week.

Miss Julia Underwood of Northfield Seminary has been the guest of Miss Mabelle L. Fay the past week.

Rev. Mr. Kyle of Brimfield preached in the Congregational church Sunday in exchange with Rev. F. S. Hatch.

There will be a harvest supper, followed by an entertainment, at the Universalist church next Tuesday evening.

The Monson Historical Society held an adjourned meeting Wednesday, and will hold another next Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Evans and Mr. Veicht of Ansonia, Ct., have been spending several days with Mr. and Mrs. T. H. Todd.

A Democratic caucus will be held in Memorial Hall this evening to choose delegates to the representative convention, and to choose a town committee.

If residents would mention their visitors' names to Postmaster Herlihy it would aid him greatly in distributing mail.

Rev. W. H. Marble will preach in the Methodist church in West Warren Sunday in exchange with Rev. W. H. Dockham.

A South American squash weighing 62 pounds, raised by W. H. Bugbee, is on exhibition in Herbert C. Norcross's window.

Dr. N. W. Rand delivered the annual oration before the Massachusetts Homeopathic Medical Society in Boston Wednesday.

Miss Laura Squier gave a birthday party last Saturday at her home on Moulton Hill. She was 13 years old, and there were 13 guests.

Kenna's minstrels at Memorial Hall Monday evening did not have a large audience, but it was a thoroughly appreciative one. It was a good show.

Robert E. Shaw, sub-agent for the Connecticut Mutual Life Insurance Co., attended the banquet of the underwriters in Springfield Friday evening.

The annual inspection of Marcus Keep Woman's Relief corps will be held Wednesday, the 23d, at 2.30 p. m., Mrs. Abbie Lawton of Palmer, inspector.

Alfred N. Gaouette has awarded the contract for his house on the corner of State and Washington streets to Timothy J. Hynes for $250C. Mr. Hynes will also build the double house on Park avenue for his brother, W. D. Hynes.

The Bradford Trio of New York assisted in the musical programme at the morning service in the Congregational church Sunday; also at the temperance concert in the evening, and gave a concert Monday evening under the auspices of the Y P. S. C. E., which was much enjoyed.

Chief Engineer Mills of the state highway commission was in town Tuesday, ordering some alteration in the road, and the work rushed to completion. The stone crusher is worked evenings to supply the necessary trap rock. Assistant Engineer Ruggles has returned to his home, being ill with typhoid fever.

The following pupils in No. 1 primary school have been neither tardy nor absent during the first month of this school year, ending September 28: Sadie Bradfoot, Nellie Kennedy, Gertrude Leahy, Hazel Moore, Hope Morris, Faye Rindge, Harold Anderson, Edward Faulkner, Clinton Grant, David Higgins, Eddie Mahoney, John Peterson, John Purcell.

Tickets are on sale for the entertainment at Memorial Hall next Monday evening by Hoyt L Conary, impersonator, of the Dunne Lyceum Bureau, Boston. Mr. Conary comes with the highest recommendations, and it is hoped that he will be greeted by a large audience. The entertainment is under the auspices of the Ladies' Benevolent Society of the Methodist church.

About 11 o'clock last Saturday night a horse driven by parties unknown made an attempt to climb a maple tree in front of G. L. Fuller's residence on Squier avenue. In doing so the carriage was overturned, but so far as can be learned no damage was done. Mr. Fuller has the checkline and carriage carpet in his possession, which he will be glad to restore to the owner.

Two cases of scarlet fever have made their appearance in the No. 1 intermediate school; a child of Newsdealer Murphy was taken sick some two weeks ago, and last Friday morning the son of William Holloway was taken violently ill, having attended school Wednesday. On Tuesday the school was closed to await developments. Should no new cases appear, the school will probably be opened in a few days.

The entertainment given at Memorial Hall last evening by Miss Margaret J. McNamara, assisted by Miss Lillian H. Beahn, Miss Ida F. Hibbard and Miss Mary Cuddihy, failed to bring out the audience it desired. Every number on the programme was well rendered, while the reading of "Zingarella," by Miss McNamara, the soprano solo "Rosemonde," by Miss Hibbard, and the harp solo, "Auld Lang Syne," by Miss Beahn, were especially enjoyed.

The annual meeting of the Woman's Foreign Missionary Society of the Methodist church was held with Mrs. William S. Nason Monday evening, and the following officers were elected: President, Miss E. Augusta Fay; first vice president, Mrs. William H. Marble; second vice president, Miss Sophia Ross; recording secretary, Mrs. Henry E. Bugbee; assistant recording secretary, Mrs. Lucinda White; corresponding secretary, Miss Sophia Ross; treasurer, Miss Samantha Ross. The subject of the meeting was: "Forms of Heathen Worship."

A very pretty wedding took place in St. Patrick's church at 4 30 Wednesday afternoon, the contracting partias being Miss Mary Foley, and Edward J. Lyons of Hudson, with Miss Annie Foley as bridesmaid and Mathew Lyons as best man. The bride was becomingly dressed in a gown of navy blue and carried a bouquet of bride roses. The bridesmaid also wore navy blue and carried flowers. Rev. Fr. O'Keefe performed the ceremony, which was followed by a reception at the bride's home, at which there were two hundred guests, many of them from out of town. There were many presents, including a dining room set, set of furniture complete, several chairs, beautiful silver, china and bric-a-bric. The couple left that night for a short trip. They will reside at Hudson.

The following scholars in No. 8 primary were not absent during September: Fred Hirst, Nellie Corcoran, Ernest Aldrich, Agnes Dillon, Ella Doyle, Dwight Ellis, Edmond Fahy, Jesse Handy, George Handy, Lena Hobbs, Lizzie Hanson, Anna Krause, Tommie Locke, Eddie Lambert, Frank McQuaid, Mary McQuaid, Mary McKenna, Alice Noble, Kate O'Brien, Howard Page, Elsie Royce, Mary Robbins, Lennie Shannon, Daniel Scannel, Viola Williams, Mary Barry. These pupils in No. 15 primary have been neither absent nor tardy during the first month: Lilla Bradway, Lizzie Connell, Mabel Fuller, Lucy Horton, Mamie Hughes, Mamie Hynes, Willie Bradway, Arthur Connelly, Walter Drain, Mortimer Duggan, Eddie Hanley, Henry Neville, Raymond Holloway, John Ward, Raymond Wellman.

The Monson Academy athletic association inter-class meet will take place to-morrow afternoon on the Palmer driving park at 2.30. Admission to the grounds is free, and the boys want everybody to be present. The programme is as follows: One-hundred yards dash—Adams, Prouty, Converse and Phillips; mile bicycle—Cristy, Adams, Converse, Murphy, Glover; putting 16-pound shot—Bugbee, Gavin, Thacker, Phillips; pole vault—Bennett, Glover, Converse; 12-pound hammer—Gavin, Bugbee, Glover; quarter-mile run—Cristy, Bennett, Thacker; half-mile run—Bennett, Avery, Cristy; running high jump—Phillips, Thacker, Glover; half-mile bicycle—Murphy, Converse, Cristy, Glover, Adams; 220-yards dash—Thacker, Prouty; running broad jump—Thacker, Converse, Phillips, Glover.

A bill of ejectment was served Wednesday morning upon William E. Foley, landlord of the Monson House, at which time Lawyer W. W. Leach of Palmer and officers from that town took possession. Mr. Foley was ordered to remove his goods and absent himself from the office and kitchen. Mr. Foley refused to comply with these orders for various reasons, the first being that, although Mrs. Foley would be allowed to remain on account of illness, she would be greatly disturbed by the excitement and general commotion, and he would not be responsible for the consequences. His opinion proved to be correct, for after passing a sleepless night and being unable to eat, Mrs. Foley was much worse yesterday and still worse to-day; Mr. Foley's second reason was that he questioned the right of any person to issue a command which seemed to him so arbitrary. The officers therefore removed the goods and the boarders have changed their quarters. The trouble grew out of nonpayment of rent, on account of repairs which Mr. Foley claims were authorized by Mr Stevens and which Mr. Stevens denies. The case was recently decided against Mr. Foley in court, after which time he offered to lease the house at an advanced rent, later, to buy the property; still later to pay any reasonable sum for the privilage of staying until Mrs. Foley had recovered; upon the testimony of Dr. Jackson Judge Robinson of Palmer granted the appeal but placed the bonds at $12,000, more than the entire property is worth. Mr. Foley will store his goods in Bacon's block. Popular feeling is in his favor. He has been in town two years, and in that time has greatly improved the appearance of the house, inside and out, and it is said that it has never been run in any better shape. Mrs. Foley is a refined, sensitive woman, and has the sympathy of all who know the circumstances.

Academy Notes.

Programme for Philo this evening: Music; recitation, Miss Osborne; essay, Miss Phillips; music; debate, "Resolved: That Brutes are Possessed of Reason," affirmative, Miss Smith, negative Miss Bowe; recitation, Miss Bowe; music.

The Lino, which meets this evening, will have the following programme: Reading of James Chism's essay by the president; reading of the constitution by the secretary; debate, "Resolved, that the Government was Not Justified in Excluding the Chinese from the United States," affirmative H. C. Broughton, negative H. Needham; declamation, H. Cristy.

Miss Lucy P. Brownell, the newly-elected teacher in the Academy, has been obliged to resign her position, owing to illness in her home in Newport, R. I. During her brief connection with the Academy she has made many friends among the pupils, who greatly regret her departure. Her successor is Miss Helen R. Hibbard, Wellesley '94, of Gloucester, Mass., who began her duties yesterday morning. Miss Hibbard took high rank in college, and taught last year in Miss Williams' school in Worcester, Mass.

Another change has been made in the faculty by the addition of Miss Joanna V. Cantwell, who will give instruction in vocal music two mornings each week. Miss Cantwell was graduated from the Academy in 1890, valedictorian of her class, since which time she has taught with marked success in the schools of the town. During the past year she has had entire charge of the instruction in music in these schools. In addition to a natural musical ability Miss Cantwell has received special training under Miss Stearns, supervisor of music in the Springfield schools, and at a summer normal school of music in New York state.

WALES.

The third annual harvest concert will be given in the Baptist church next Sunday evening, with a special programme of music, recitations, and exercises by the children. All are invited to attend.

NORTH WILBRAHAM.

Rev. Nicholas Vander Pyl has received a call to become pastor of the First Congregational church of Holliston, Mass. Mr. Vander Pyl has been pastor of Grace Union church in North Wilbraham for the past two years, and has greatly endeared himself to the hearts of his people, who will be loth to part with him, but will nevertheless wish him a hearty God-speed should he decide to enter upon the duties of a new field.

The community received a shock Wednesday on hearing of the sudden death of Mrs. M. A. Lane, wife of the proprietor of the Lake View House, which occurred about 11 o'clock Tuesday night. Mrs. Lane had been seemingly as well as usual Tuesday, but awoke her husband at night with a request for her medicine, which she kept on hand. she grew worse immediately, and expired of heart failure before help could be summoned. The funeral was held at her late home Thursday afternoon at 2 o'clock, Rev. N. Vander Pyl having charge of the service. A very large number of relatives and friends were present. A number of floral pieces attested the love of her friends for the departed one. Besides a husband she leaves three children, Edward and Mary Lane, and Mrs. Frank A. Fuller.

WEST WARREN.

Mrs. George A. Barton of Millbury spent a part of last week in town.

Mrs. Flannery is seriously ill at her home on Southbridge street.

Mrs. Edith Chadsey is spending a few days in Newton and Boston.

Mrs. E. M. Johnson has returned from a visit with friends in Boston.

Rev. W. H. Dockham had a fine oleander stolen from his veranda Tuesday night.

Mrs. Agnes W. Mahoney had her millinery opening here last Friday and Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Allen Day have gone to New York to be absent part of the winter with their daughter.

Mr. Conary of Boston will give an entertainment in the Universalist church next Thursday evening.

Rev. W. H. Marble of Monson will preach in the M. E. church Sunday in exchange with Rev. W. H. Dockham.

The Ladies' Aid Society of the Methodist church held a cold meat and baked bean supper in the vestry last Thursday evening.

The quarterly meeting of the Woman's Suffrage League was held with Mrs. D. G. Hitchcock this afternooon. Tea was served.

Mrs. David Kennedy had her millinery opening last Friday and Saturday, and made a fine display. A milliner from Forbes & Wallace, Springfield, had charge of the trimming department.

The West Warren Cornet Band played for the West Warren firemen at the inspection in Warren last Saturday, and both the firemen and the band took the town by storm, walking off with all the laurels.

WARREN.

Wilson Fairbanks is sick with a slow fever.

Miss Blair has put up a handsome granite monument in her lot in the cemetery.

Mrs. Duty, who has been spending a couple of weeks with Mrs. Demona, returned to Boston Tuesday.

The Ladies' Home Missionary Society held its annual harvest supper in the church parlors Wednesday evening.

Mrs. Holman and daughter have been called to New York this week to attend the funeral of Mrs. Holman's brother.

Rev. Mr. Frink and wife of West Brookfield are stopping at the hotel. Mr. Frink will occupy the pulpit during the absence of Rev. Harris Hale.

At the Grange meeting held last Friday in Brigham's hall the prize, a silver cup, was awarded to Marion, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Day, as being the handsomest baby present.

The house of Hugh Holms was entered by burglars between 12 and 2 o'clock last Friday morning, and $25 was taken from one of the children's banks. The entrance was gained through a window. Nothing else was missing.

James K. Allen of Providence, R. I., the noted aeronant, with his famous balloon, "The City of Lowell," alighted about two miles south of Warren a little before 2 o'clock last Friday afternoon. The balloon descended near the house of E. R. Fowler without injury to Prof. Allen. The rope, however, knocked off the chimney of Mr. Fowler's house. Mr. Allen came from Lexington Friday, after his perilous trip from Lowell the day before, in which he narrowly escaped death.

BELCHERTOWN.

David Hoag, son of H. D. Hoag, has taken a position in Springfield.

Miss Alice Coming of North Londonderry, Vt., is visiting Miss Alice Kendall.

The members of the Congregational church choir were entertained at the Clapp homestead Wednesday evening.

Postmaster William E. Bridgeman has received an appointment from Governor Greenhalge as notary public.

Mrs. Jennie H. Hoag and her friend, Miss Allen, left for Jacksonville, Ill., Tuesday. They will probably return next summer.

Some very fine photographs of different features in the parade on the day of the fair are on exhibition in F. L. Plantiff's news room.

L. W. Dillon has bought the Belcher House property of D. V. Fuller of Springfield. Mr. Dillon will make many improvements in the house.

E. E. Davis of Northampton has been given the work of surveying for the section of state highway to be petitioned for by the selectmen.

Twenty-one names have been obtained for the formation of a Woman's Relief Corps. A meeting will be held in the course of a month for the election of officers.

Mrs. A. W. Morse of Rockrimmon neighborhood was thrown from a carriage near the passenger station in Belchertown last Thursday evening. She was considerably bruised, but not seriously injured.

The Belchertown Creamery Association has paid all its debts, and at the August meeting of stockholders there was a balance of $200 in the treasury. The creamery paid patrons for August cream three and one-half cents per space.

A horse driven by Timothy S. Kenfield, an old man 71 years of age, ran away last Saturday afternoon. The horse continued to run until he reached the gristmill of Dorman & Sanford, where the wagon struck against the platform. Mr. Kenfield was thrown against one of the sharp corners and injured severely.

Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Snow were given a pleasant surprise at their home Monday evening, the occasion being the twentieth anniversary of their marriage. Nearly 100 relatives and friends were present. Refreshments were served by the friends, which was followed by a congratulatory speech by Rev. V. C. Harrington, in behalf of the guests, and the presentation of a sum of money to the host and hostess. Among those present from out of town were: Rev. F. F. and Mrs. Thayer of Holyoke, Mrs. Norton of Ware, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Taylor of Granby, Mr. and Mrs. George H. Dixon of Worcester, Mrs. H. C. Colton of Montpelier, Vt, Mrs. H. Gould of Rochester, N. Y., and Miss Clark of Prescott.

WILBRAHAM.

Miss Maddie Gregg, teacher at No. 3, spent last Sabbath at her home in Brattleboro, Vt.

George Newhall is the guest of his brother, Principal W. R. Newhall, of the Academy.

Wednesday evening was "Ladies' Night" at the Grange, and the sisters did themselves great credit.

Mrs. Laura Warner is spending a fortnight with her daughter, Mrs. Clara Burt, in Longmeadow.

Miss Mary F. Beebe is spending a few weeks with friends in Greenfield, Longmeadow and Springfield.

Mary Phelps, who pursued a course of training in Christian work at Chicago last year, gave a paper on Sabbath school work at the Congregational church Sabbath evening.

At the meeting of the Village Improvement Society held last week it was voted to raise money to put a tar walk in front of the town lot and around the soldiers' monument. These new officers were chosen: President, C. E. Peck, secretary and treasurer, F. A Guerney.

A reunion Chautauqua vesper service was held in the Congregational church, at which the regular programme of the C. L. S. C. was carried out, interspersed with addresses by Rev. Fayette Nichols, pastor of the Methodist church, and Rev. M. S. Howard of the Congregational, and a vocal solo by Miss Northey, vocal teacher at the Academy. The singing was led by a quartette under the direction of Lurin Potter.

The 1895 state crop report for this town states: "Corn is 20 per cent above an average crop; rowen and fall feed below average, and many farmers are depending entirely upon soiling; fully the average amount of fall seeding has been done; potatoes are a full average yield, but many fields are rotting badly. The prospect for root crops is very fair; apples half a crop; pears and grapes full average crop; fall seeding that was sowed early has in many instances failed to germinate, and has to be reseeded."

The fifth annual fair of the Young People's Agricultural society was held last Friday on the school green, a larger number being present than at any fair given by the society since its organization in 1891. The exhibits of horses, cattle, poultry and grain were arranged around the outside of the schoolhouse, while the fruit, bread and fancy work were exhibited on stands inside of the building. The sports, which were under the direction of Leader Blodgett, were held on P. P. Bowles's trotting course a quarter of a mile west of the green. The two-mile bicycle race for Wilbraham riders only was won by F. Patone, S. Parent second; W. McGuire, third, time, 9.45. The one-mile race was won by H. C. Walker; E. C. Bates, second, and A. Cooley, third; time, 1 29. The premiums awarded were:

Stallion, C. P. Bowles; brood mare, C. P. Bowles 1st, Thomas Powers 2d; three-year-old colt, J. N. Foster; two-year-old-colt, C. P. Bowles 1st; C. M. Martin 2d; one-year-old colt, C. P. Bowles 1st; John Flynn 2d; best exhibit of horses and colts, C. P. Bowles; exhibit of cattle, Ethelbert Bliss; exhibit of milch cows, James Richards; Hol-stein bulls, James Richards 1st, E. Bliss 2d; two-years-old heifer, James Richards 1st, E. Bliss 2d; yearling heifers, E. Bliss 1st, James Richards 2d; heifer calf, James Richards; Jersey bull, Lee Wright; Jersey cow, Lee Wright 1st, C. W. Wheaton 2d; Jersey heifer, C. A. Prince; Jersey grade yearling heifer, J. W. Rice 1st, L. W. Rice 2d; grade Jersey calf, J. W. Rice; short-born oxen, Wesleyan academy farm; Devonshire steers, Alfred Brewster; Jersey milch cow, L. W. Rice; exhibit of poultry, E. N. Fisher; exhibit of grain. E. N. Fisher; exhibit of vegetables, George Chapin; bushel of Bride of Mapleton potatoes, L. W. Rice; collection of fruits, W. N. Bliss; Baldwin, Greening and Roxbury Russet apples, Clarence E. Pease; pippin and Rubbardston apples, Herbert Burbank; dozen Greenings and Baldwins, Herbert Burbank; dozen Northern spy apples, F. E. Clark; Beaurre d' Anjou pears, Lee Rice; Small's orange pears, Lee Rice.

BRIMFIELD.

Mrs. Abbie Andrews has returned from Brooklyn, where she has been visiting her brother's family.

James Lincoln is spending a few days at F. D. Lincoln's; he will spend the winter at his Passadena, Cal., home.

Miss Laura A. Hitchcock of Watertown, N. Y., has been spending a fortnight with her brother, G. M. Hitchcock.

Principal Rowell of the Belchertown high school was the guest of his classmate, Assistant Principal Sparhawk of the Hitchcock Free High School, last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Marcus H. Rogers arrived in East Brimfield Tuesday after a year's trip around the world. They will spend some time for the present with Mrs. Rogers's sister, Mrs. M. Baker.

The farm of the late Rebecca W. Sibley, containing about 13 acres of land, with two-story house and barn, will be sold at auction next Wednesday at 10 o'clock a. m., together with a quantity of household goods, farming tools, etc.

Superintendent Wood will conduct a teachers' meeting at the Center schoolhouse to-morrow. The following members of the Centre primary school have been perfect in attendance the past month: Mary Carlin, Florence Parker, Alice Hicks, Walter Corbin, Bruce Thomas, Lillian Stanton, John Carlin, Gordon Brown, Ruby Brown and Scott Thomas.

Field Day at Quaboag Old Fort.

An interesting and successful field day was recently enjoyed by a party of over thirty on Indian Hill in Brimfield. This hill, situated north of Sherman pond, is becoming famous as the site of the principal stronghold of the Quaboag tribe of Indians. The defense was known to the early white settlers as Quaboag Fort, while the adjacent native village was called by the Indians Ashquoash. The hill has often been visited for its fine view, and has always been a favorite hunting ground; but it is only lately that it has been attracting attention on account of its historical importance. The recent exploring expedition grew out of the interest awakened in local history last winter.

It has not been generally supposed that the Indians had any permanent villages in the territory occupied by the Brimfield settlers, for the Quaboags had removed from this vicinity before the settlement of the town. Yet it seems there has been some tradition, known of late years to only a few of the older inhabitants, of a fort and wigwams on Indian Hill, while fields thickly dotted with little mounds have been pointed out as ancient cornfields, where the squaws used to plant the corn year after year in the same hills. It is said that Christopher Ward, a famous Revolutionary soldier, used to show the location of the fort and the wigwam sites. In his day there were doubtless traces of Indian occupation still to be seen, and he may have heard the story of it from descendants of Brookfield settlers and of the early inhabitants of Springfield. But to Rev. J. H. Temple, the historian of North Brookfield, Palmer and other towns, belongs the credit of verifying this tradition and proving Indian Hill to have been the site of Quaboag Old Fort, which he found mentioned in contemporary records oftener than any of the neighboring defenses. Mr. Temple located the stronghold by means of the description of scouts and spies sent out by the authorities in Boston. He says that agents and messengers of the whites often mentioned their visit at Quaboag Old Fort. The exploring party found all the conditions confirmed which the historian has pointed out as essential both to a stronghold and a permanent native settlement. From the rocky crest of the hill an extensive view is obtained in every direction, and the general trail of the Indians near which this stronghold was situated can be easily traced, both to the east and west. In the basin below lies Sherman pond, which furnished an abundant supply of fish. Around the pond and stretching down the valley are the rich fields planted to-day with Indian corn, as they were in the days of the aborigines, for Ashquoash was noted for its corn fields, and the fort served as a storehouse for provisions as well as a defense. Near the summit of the hill is a spring of abundant flow, and at a little distance are sheltered places suitable for wigwam sites. At nearly the same high level, thus removed from early frosts, a native corn field may be seen, which has lain for 250 years or more undisturbed, the thickly-scattered little mounds bearing unmistakable record. Here and there are piles of stones that were picked up by the Indians in clearing the land.

The party was fortunate in having present Levi B. Chase of Sturbridge, who read an interesting and valuable paper treating of the long-distance Indian paths in this region and their relation to the white men's course. Mr. Chase has written a history of Sturbridge, and has long been engaged in historical research. His paper, which was illustrated by means of a map constructed from the results of his explorations and study, showed that he has not only made a valuable contribution to the history of his town and its vicinity, but that his discoveries have more than local importance. At the close of the exercise the speaker received a hearty vote of thanks. Some fine Indian relics found near the shores of the pond were exhibited by Edgar Brown. Besides spear-heads, arrow-heads, axes, a hammer and gauge, Mr. Brown has in his possession a specimen which answers the description of a stone hoe. After lunch, as the party were grouped upon the southernmost crag of the crest of the hill, they were successfully photographed by Miss Chase of Sturbridge.

Death of an Army Veteran.

Elmer W. Carder, a veteran of the 27th regiment, Massachusetts Volunteers, died at his home in Brimfield Saturday evening after a long illness caused by organic disease of the heart. He had held the office of librarian of the free public library for nine years, until prevented from performing his duties there by the acute development of the disease last July. He had faithfully served the town hall for thirteen years.

Elmer Walter Carder was born in Killingly, Ct., December 28, 1823. He went to Fiskdale when about 15 years old to work in the mill, thence to Globe Village, where he had charge of the spinning room in the mill. While living in Southbridge he was married, Feburary 15, 1846, to Elvira Moulton of Thompson, Ct. After three years of married life in Southbridge he removed to Wales, where he learned the carder's trade in the mill owned by Porter Wales. His residence in Wales covered a period of 17 or 18 years, since which time, with the exception of a short residence in Stafford, his home has been in Brimfield, where he has lived 15 years. He enlisted at Springfield Sept. 29, 1861, as a private in Company I of the 25th regiment, Massachusetts Volunteers, to serve for three years, and was discharged at Boston July 25th, 1863, on account of disability caused by a wound, from the offects of which he never fully recovered. The first battle in which he participated was on the eighth day of February, 1862, when Roanoke Island was taken. He was at Little Washington, N. C., in 1862, when the Union soldiers were surrounded by the Confederates. On the fourth day of April, 1863, Company I, with other detachments, were placed on the gunboat Ceres and sent down the river to take a battery on Rodman's Point. It was in this engagement that Private Carder was wounded, the ball passing through his right thigh. He was a member of the J. Arthur Johnson Grand Army of Sturbridge, having been mustered in November 9, 1887. He was devoted to the interests of that organization, and a member says of him: "Comrade Carder has always been held in high esteem by his comrades of the G. A. R. He was always genial and kindly in his deportment, and formed his judgment with calm deliberation. In the councils of the Post his advice was sought and listened to with respect."

The funeral was held at his late residence Tuesday afternoon, Rev. W. K. Peirce officiating, assisted by Rev. Mr. Kyle. The quartette of the Second Congregational church sang appropriate selections. After speaking of the requisite qualities of the soldier, Mr. Peirce dwelt upon the gentler traits also possessed by the dead comrade, as shown in his tenderness, his quick sympathy, and his devotion to his family and friends. His cordial nature, and his accommodating disposition expressed in kindly acts cause his memory to be held in pleasant and grateful remembrance by his associates and those whom he served in public office. A large delegation of J. Arthur Johnson post was present, and conducted the services at the cemetery. Besides a widow Mr. Carder leaves a son, Charles L. of Somers, Ct., and a daughter, Mrs. Carrie Stevens of Stafford, Ct.

WARE.

The fireman have decided to have a calico ball Thanksgiving Eve, instead of the grand fancy dress ball, as in years past.

There are three cases of scarlet fever at Perry Cheever's house on the road to Belchertown, and it has been quarantined.

Hose companies 2 and 4 are to attend the muster at Brookfield the 19th, and will probably take the drum corps with them.

The Ware Study Club held its first meeting of the season Wednesday evening. A paper was read by W. S. Hyde on "The Gable of a Cartridge Box."

Miss Emma Allen is managing the telegraph office at the depot during the two-weeks' vacation of Miss Lloyd among the Berkshire Hills.

C. W. Eddy has a well-preserved specimen of a tinder box, with its steel and flint, such as was used by our great grandparents to get fire. Antiquarians, call and see it if you like.

Invitations are out to the marriage of Dr. F. E. Spaulding, superintendent of schools, and Mary E., daughter of Dr. Trow of Northampton, to take place the 17th at Northampton.

Frank Olds, only son Mrs. Marcia Olds of Ware, and Miss Mary Fanning of Jewett City, Ct., were married at the home of the bride's parents Thursday afternoon, October 3. The wedding gifts were very handsome. The happy couple have gone to Atlanta, Georgia, for their wedding trip.

Marshall N. Richardson will soon introduce the health milk ticket, selling them in sheets perforated like stamps; always new and fresh when sold to customers, and when taken in exchange for milk they are burned, so there is no question of who had handled the tickets the last time they were out.

L. L Bridge, who has been architect at the office of H. P. Cummings & Co. the past two years, has resigned his position here to take one with a firm in Springfield. Mr. Bridge is one of the finest pianists in town, and will be missed in musical circles as well as among the young people, where he has been very popular.

The Republican representative caucus was held Wednesday evening. The delegates elected were supposed to be in favor of Lawyer H. M. Coney. The town committee elected were Hubert M. Coney, Thomas H. Conley, Isaac Jefferies, Arthur Newcomb, Ephraim E. Orrell.

The marriage of Hugh J. Cregan and Miss Annie Donnelly was solemnized Tuesday forenoon at All Saints' church. A number of friends were present. Dr. William J. Cregan of Waltham, brother of the groom, was best man, and Miss Sarah Murphy of Worcester was bridesmaid. Rev. John P. Leary was the officiating clergyman.

Beecham's pills for constipation 10c and 25c. Get the book at your druggist's and go by it.

Annual sales more than 6,000,000 boxes.

ROYAL BAKING POWDER.

ABSOLUTELY PURE.

A cream of tartar Baking Powder. Highest of all in leavening power.—Latest United States Government Food Report.

ROYAL BAKING POWDER CO., 106 Wall Street, New York.

For more than a hundred years the Shakers have been studying the remedial properties of plants. They have made many discoveries, but their greatest achievement was made last year. It is a cordial that contains already digested food and is a digester of food. It is effective in removing distress after eating, and creates an appetite for more food so that eating becomes a pleasure. Pale, thin people become plump and healthy under its use. It arrests the wasting of consumption.

There never has been such a step forward in the cure of indigestion as this Shaker Cordial. Your druggist will be glad to give you a little book descriptive of the product.

Give the babies Laxol, which is Castor Oil made as palatable as honey.

Invisible Cork Sole Shoes for Ladies.

We have added a fine line of ladies' cork sole shoes in both button and lace, at the low price of

$3.50 A PAIR.

Do your feet feel as though they were wet as soon as you step where the ground is damp? If so, try cork sole shoes.

Geo. L. Fuller,

the distributor of fine fitting shoes.

Monson. - Mass.

Forbes & Wallace's,

Springfield.

We never before had such artistic millinery to show, neither the completed hats and bonnets nor the materials to make them of. And customers are of the same mind evidently.

The sincerest compliments that you can bestow on the new creations is that you buy them; and the biggest part of the hats and bonnets shown at our recent opening have already been sold. New things as rich take their place.

And the reason of the great success of our new millinery is that we sell it at dry goods prices. Who ever heard before of millinery at dry goods prices?

Main floor of Pynchon street building.

Jackets and Capes.

The new jackets and capes justify our enthusiasm; every day we have the sympathetic outpouring of yours. At no time this season will the stock be richer than it is now.

We tell of jackets and capes under $15 and $20 to show how good a garment can be had for little money; but the number of choice things that are going put at $25 and $30 and $40 is many.

At $12.50 we've fine melton cloth capes, lined with silk throughout, high collar, trimmed on the collar and sides with chunk fur, and a skirt with two rows of satin, between four rows of braid.

Rich looking capes at $18, of black cheviots, made in heavy folds that give a distinguished looking set to the garment —$18.

Dress Stuffs.

As the season advances we are more than convinced and better satisfied that our judgement was right in buying so many varieties of dress goods. The collection is said to represent a more varied stock of desirable goods than the whole region has to show. We are apt to mention the richest and finest and cheapest; but although the stock includes about every fabric in silk and wool, and in every fabric about everything most desirable, style, color, combination, effect.

Left aisle.

FORBES & WALLACE.

Main, Vernon and Pynchon streets, Springfield, Mass.

Oil Heaters.

The finest assortment we have ever shown, and quality improved. Don't fail to look them over.

E. A. BUCK & CO.,

Cross Block, Palmer.

Dr. O. P. Roller,

Dentist.

All the latest methods pertaining to dentistry employed. Gas and local anaesthetic administered for the painless extraction of teeth. Special attention given to gold work. Office hours from 8 a. m. to 4.15 p. m.

18-tf Lawrence Block, - Palmer, Mass.

WANTED. Good reliable men, to sell our Choice and Hardy Nursery Stock, such as Fruit Trees, Roses, Shrubs and Ornamentals. Ladies make this business a success. Easy work, pleasant, light and profitable. OUTFIT FREE. Apply at once, with references, and secure choice of territory.

F. N. MAY COMPANY,

Nurserymen and Seedsmen, Rochester, N. Y.

Piano and Banjo Lessons

given by

Misses Annie and Carrie Fish,

22-tf Palmer.

F. F. MARCY, PALMER, MASS. Wholesale and Retail Dealer in

ALL KINDS OF LUMBER AND SHINGLES

Windows, doors, blinds, mouldings. Carpenters' and joiners' work done to order.

Also FIRE BRICK and CLAY for sale.

Yard and shop at junction of B. & A. and N. L. N. Railroads—west of Depot.

MR. J. B. LONGWILL, having leased Mr. Campbell's blacksmith shop, will endeavor to do what is right by the general public, in prices to suit all parties. Horse shoeing a specialty.

tf-7 SOUTH MAIN STREET, PALMER.

C. H. HOBBY, PIANO TUNER.

Orders for tuning may be left at O. P. Allen's drug store, Palmer; or may be sent to me by mail to Mansfield, Ct.

DR. S. H. ELLERY,

VETERINARY SURGEON AND DENTIST. Graduate Chicago Veterinary College. Residence, Nassowanno House. Office and stable, Central street.

PALMER, MASS.

Blankets, Blankets, Blankets.

See those gray and white cheap blankets. You'll surely buy a few pairs.

Comfortables.

Our stock of comfortables is unusually large and attractive this year, and the quality far ahead of previous years. The prices very reasonable

Underwear.

Ladies' Jersey underwear, 25c and 50c. Ladies' white-footed hose, 25c.

Men's gloves and mittens.

Full line of floor oil cloths.

W. E. STONE,

Lawrence Block, Palmer.

New Fall Dress Goods.

Plaids have the call, and we show an elegant assortment in 75c, 50c, 25c, and 10c lines.

Teazle Downs are great goods for wrappers and children's wear, and the styles equal to all-wool goods.

In Black Goods the lines are complete in Henriettas, Serges, Cords, and Figured Mohairs.

New Buttons, Braids, and Trimmings. Gloves and Hosiery.

Domestic Department, largest and best assortment shown in the last ten years.

Blankets and Comfortables

at lowest prices.

J. B. Shaw; Feeney's Block, Main Street, Palmer.

To be delivered now, subject to advance at any time. We furnish good men to house and bin same. All coal is screened and delivered in bags.

The Lehigh is as good as any we ever sold. The Lackawanna is the best prepared coal that comes to market for domestic use.

Prices will be higher.

Send your order by postal card or leave it at our office.

SEE OUR PRICES FOR COAL

Prices for Lackawanna:

Stove size, - $5.35 per ton.
Chestnut, - 5.35 " "
Furnace, - 5.25 " "

Prices for Lehigh:

Stove size, - $5.50 per ton.
Chestnut, - 5.50 " "
Furnace, - 5.40 " "

Less than (1) one ton 25 cent added for the load.

Delivered in Bags, which will save expense of housing in many cases.

October 1, 1895.

R. M. & Theo. Reynolds.

Monson, Mass.

SPECIAL SALE

OF FALL AND WINTER BOOTS AND SHOES.

Now is the time and HALL'S is the place.

Warm lined shoes now in. Waterproof shoes just received.

The best $2 and $3 shoe for ladies and gents in Western Mass.

Rubbers---Full stock, all first quality. Prices right.

Hall's Shoe House, 294 Main St., next to P. O. ...SPRINGFIELD...

Some ladies dread to buy their Millinery

for the simple reason that they rather not rely on their own taste, and some dealers sell them anything.

Not so with us—we recommend what our judgement tells us to be suitable for the wearer.

We furnish style

and ask less for our goods than anybody else, because this policy brings us most all the trade around here.

S. LEVISON,

350 Main St., Springfield.

.....Wholesale and Retail Millinery.....

TO COLT OWNERS.

I castrate colts and ridglings by Mile's system, holding diplomas from Mile's School of Castrating and from the Chicago Veterinary College.

3-tf Dr. S. H. Ellery, Palmer.

PALMER SAVINGS BANK, PALMER, MASS.

Hours from 9 a. m. to 3 p. m.

President, H. G. LOOMIS.

Vice Presidents, GEO. MOORES, T. D. POTTER, C. H. HOBBS.

Secretary, WM. W. LEACH.

Treasurer, H. W. McGREGORY.

Trustees,

James B. Shaw, E. G. Hastings, C. H. Hobbs, George Moores, R. C. Newell, Geo. E. Buck, H. G. Loomis, F. F. Marcy, A. L. Hills, T. D. Potter, H. Waid, Wm. Holbrook, H. P. Holden, Wm. W. Leach, C. F. Grosvenor, Jas. S. Lo

Rub In Rub Out is the way you wash clothes with soap. First you rub the soap in; that's work in itself. Then you rub it out again over the washboard. If your strong and rub hard enough, you may get the dirt out, too. It's hard work, and women know it. But it isn't the women only that suffer. She's wearing the clothes out, rubbing them to pieces, all the time. It's just as hard for every thing as it is for every body.

Soak In Soak Out is Pearline's way of washing. Put it in the water and it does its own work—yours, too. It brings the dirt out easily and quickly—no hard work, no wearing rub, rub, rub, no washboard. Doesn't that seem better? Saves strength and clothes. And, what some women can't believe, it's just as safe as any good soap. 377 JAMES PYLE, N. Y.

She (regretfully)—"And now they tell us kissing must go." He (joyfully)—"Then here goes!"—Detroit Free Press.

There is no medicine so often needed in every home and so admirably adapted to the purposes for which it is intended, as Chamberlain's Pain Balm. Hardly a week passes but some member of the family has need of it. A toothache or headache may be cured by it. A touch of rheumatism or neuralgia quieted. The severe pain of a burn or scald promptly relieved and the sore healed in much less time than when medicine has to be sent for. A sprain may be promptly treated before inflammation sets in, which insures a cure in about one-third of the time otherwise required. Cuts and bruises should receive immediate treatment before the parts become swollen, which can only be done when Pain Balm is kept at hand. A sore throat may be cured before it becomes serious. A troublesome corn may be removed by applying it twice a day for a week or two. A lame back may be cured and several days of valuable time saved, or a pain in the side or chest relieved without paying a doctor bill. Procure a 50 cent bottle at once and you will never regret it.

"I would rather trust that medicine than any doctor I know of," says Mrs. Hattie Mason of Chilton, Carter Co., Mo., in speaking of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhœa Remedy.

Every mother should know that croup can be prevented. The first symptom of true croup is hoarseness. This is followed by a peculiar rough cough. If Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is given freely as soon as the child becomes hoarse or even after the cough has developed it will prevent the attack. 25 and 50 cent bottles.

The above remedies are for sale by O. P. Allen, Palmer; Charles E. Mason, Three Rivers; A. P. Adams, Thorndike; G. L. Keeney, Monson; John D. Smith, Ware.

Your Health

Ought To be Good And It is Always Sure To be If you Will Take

Ought to be good, and it is always sure to be if you will take BLOOD WINE when you feel sick and tired. Thousands of people all over the country are worrying themselves to death trying to find a medicine or a physician that can cure their stomach trouble. They try here, there and everywhere and at last give up in despair. Now these are the people we want to try BLOOD WINE, for they will feel the good effects so soon that they will keep on until they are cured.

Catarrh of the Stomach.

How many people are troubled with this disease, causing dyspepsia and indigestion. Now the moment your digestive organs are out of order you feel mean all over—have headache, belching of wind, constipation, etc. You take pills or some other cathartic, which will relieve for a time, but the same trouble comes back again. Now there is only one way to cure this trouble, and but one medicine that will cure it, and that is

Blood

(Trade Mark Registered.)

Wine,

The Great French Hospital Remedy.

SMITH'S.

Low Prices, Best Goods.

59 Main Street, Palmer.

Improved Farm Machinery

costs no more than the old and obsolete patterns, and enables you to do more work in the same time, thus making a saving of good dollars to you.

I have all the best makes of modern farm machinery. See them and get my prices.

Forks, rakes, hoes, barbed wire, etc., constantly on hand.

D. W. Foskit,

Foskit's Mills.

A Tale—With Feathers.

Smooth and white,
Sulphurious, albuminous,
Snug and tight, yet there's room in us
For the daintiest morsel tooth can bite:
Eggs.

Peep, cheep!
Downy, fluffy atoms of things,
Stumpy tails, invisible wings;—
The world is made of Indian meal;
Peep, cheep! how happy we feel—
Peep, cheep!
Chicks.

Squeak, squeak!
We are pullets.
Chiefly feathers, legs and gullets;
Roaming over the pastures gaily,
Eating our blessed heads off daily.
Squeak, Squawk! there's a hawk!
Helter skelter! make for shelter.
O 'twas nothing but a crow;
Where's the rooster that fooled us so?—
Squeak, squawk!
Pullets.

Cackle, cackle!
We are hens.
Rustic poets, man your pens!
Celebrate our tuneful racket,—
Cackle, cackle, cut cadacut.
Never such smart hens before,
Never will be any more.
In the farmer's garden
We will roll and dig and scratch,
Hear the happy farmer swear,—
We are hens, so we don't care.
There'a a pansy bed to tackle,—
Cut cadacut, cackle, cackle!
Hens.

Chalk, talk,
Talk, chalk!
So stiff in the joints we can hardly walk.
For many a year we have borne life's woes,
Gladly we welcome our journey's close;
Here's a man with an axe and a wild looking eye,
Children and grandchildren all good-bye.
Talk, chalk!
Chopping-block.

Yellow, mellow,—
Try her, buy her;
A last spring's chicken or I'm a liar,
Raised on a farm in Dudley, Mass,
Fattened on buckwheat and garden sass.
Only two dollars. Thank you, Pete,
Send this chicken to Beacon street.
Call again;—
Poor old hen!

—Alton.

AMONG THE PARAGRAPHERS.

DOUBT.

"One question leaves me ever glum,"
In deep dismay quoth he;
"Do I wear this chrysanthemum,
Or is it wearing me?"

—Washington Star.

He—"Here, darling, I've brought you a pet monkey." She—"Oh, you dear boy; how like you."—Memphis Scimetar.

"Ah," said the magazine reader, contemplating his friend's new baby. Is it a Napoleon or a Trilby?"—Cincinnati Tribune.

Harie—"Why does Marie still continue to look under the bed every night?" Adelle—"She is one of the kind that never gives up hope."—Toledo Blade.

"Darling!" "My life!" After four years of estrangement they were clasped again in each other's arms. There remained no obstacle. The big sleeve was a thing of the past.—Minneapolis Press.

He—"You say you love me, but cannot be my wife. Is it because I am poor? There are better things in this world than money." She—"Quite true. But it takes money to buy them."—Texas Siftings.

Old lady—"Why are you two using such frightful language?" Ragson Tatters—"Well, lady, me an' my pard has to exchange heated words fur ter keep warm, not havin' no overcoats."—Philadelphia Record.

Agnes—"I think Mr. Slows is horrid! He asked me for a kiss the other evening, and of course I said no." "Gladys—"What did he do then?" Agnes—"That is just it. He didn't do anything."—Yale Record.

Hoax—"I was trying to think of a man's name to-day, and I couldn't." Then all of a sudden a shower came up." Joax—"Well, what had that to do with it?" Hoax—"Everything. His name was McIntosh."—Erie Messenger.

"Papa, buy me a European prince," said the daughter of one of American's trust kings to her father. "I can't do it now, my daughter," was the reply. "I have to buy two or three Legislatures for my own use."—Harper's Bazar.

"What are the things that touch us most as we look back through the years?" asked a lady lecturer impressively. There was a moment's awful pause, and then a small boy in the audience answered: "Our clothes."—Tid-Bits.

Ragged Rube—"Boss, I just heerd you sayin' to your friend that you believe in free silver." Mr. Spouter—"Well, what of it?" Ragged Rube—"I hain't seen nothin' but coppers for a month. Gimme a quarter to get on the silver basis."—Truth.

Bagley—"You might help a fellow if you wanted to. I'd like to have Gertrude find out all about my good points from an outsider. Bailey—"I'm helping you, Bagley. Why, it was only yesterday that I did my best to convince her that you were no fool!"—Puck.

Mrs. Willetts—"Why, Johnny, what do you mean by crying when your grandpa comes to see you? Aren't you glad to see him?" Johnny—"I'm glad enough to see him, but his whiskers remind me so much of the goat I didn't get."—Indianapolis Journal.

Old Mr. Benedict (in an effort to propose)—"Do you think, Miss Sewly, that you could ever learn to care for me more than you do now?" Miss Sewly—(the housekeeper)—"I'm sorry, sir, you ain't satisfied; but I'm doing the best I can for $20 a month."—Harlem Life.

Scene—A chemist's shop in Holborn. To the assistant enters an Irishman. He points to a pile of soap. Assistant "Well?" Customer—"I want a lump of that." Assistant—"Thank yon. Will you have it scented or unscented?" Customer—"I'll take it wid me."

A story is told of three French boys who were studying a volume of Shakespere in their own tongue, their task being to render portions of it into English. When they came to Hamlet's famous soliquy, "To be or not to be," their respective translations were as follows: First, "To was or not to am;" second, "To were or is not to not;" third, "To should or not to will."—Harger's Round Table.

"Augh-waugh!" It was the baby. He had repeated the remark 60 times in the past hour. Mr. Newleigh's hair, such as it was, stood on an end. "Gwow ahwb wowbdgwow filaugh!" added the baby, while people living across the street got up and closed their windows. Mr. Newleigh took a whetstone out of the drawer and ground his teeth. "To think," he groaned, burying his face in the pillows, "that I should grow up to be the father of a union depot crier."—New York Recorder.

$100 REWARD $100.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment; Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers, that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials. Address, F. J. CHENEY & CO., Toledo, O.

☞ Sold by Druggists, 75c.

Our Own People

Tell What

Hood's Sarsaparilla

Has Done for Them.

"Last fall after my wife came out of a Worcester hospital, where she had an operation performed, her stomach was in a weak condition. She took three bottles of Hood's Sarsaparilla and then felt strong and her stomach was all right. My family, consisting of myself, my wife and several children have taken about a dozen bottles of Hood's Sarsaparilla the past season and we have all been greatly benefited by its use. I had a liver and kidney trouble, but one bottle of Hood's Sarsaparilla has made me well and strong." A. D. WORK, Palmer, Mass.

Hood's Sarsaparilla

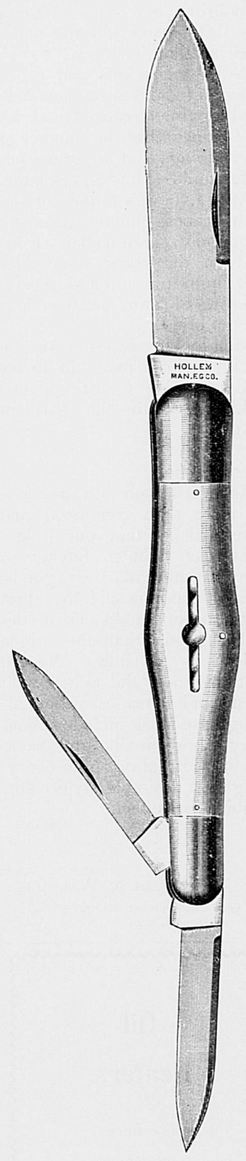
Is the Only

True Blood Purifier

Prominently in the public eye. $1; 6 for $5.

Hood's Pills the after-dinner pill and family cathartic. 25c.

Holley Pocket Knives.



Hand Forged Blades.

Every knife of this make warranted. Come and try one.

E. A. Buck & Co.,

Palmer.

Treatment of Eczema and Salt Rheum.

These two complaints are so tenacious that the readers of the JOURNAL should know of the success obtained by using Dr. David Kennedy's Favorite Remedy. Where all other treatments have failed, it has made a complete cure.

Perhaps no more horrible case of Salt Rheum was ever reported than that of William L. Hale, quartermaster, Pratt Post, G. A. R., Rondout, N. Y. Several physicians utterly failed to render him any relief; finally one of the physicians suggested that Dr. Kennedy's Favorite Remedy be tried, and steady improvement followed its use, and a permanent cure resulted.

It is used with similar success in cases of scrofula, nervousness, kidney and liver complaints, and in all diseases brought about by bad blood and shattered nerves.

F. M. EAGER.

Boots and Shoes Manufactured to Measure.

REPAIRING NEATLY DONE AT SHORT NOTICE.

Dealer in Sewing Machines and Supplies.

Machines to rent or sold on monthly payments.

F. M. EAGER, PALMER.

A. H. HITCHCOCK,

OPTICIAN,

331 Main Street, Springfield, Mass.

Spectacles and Eye Glasses of all kinds.
Artificial eyes furnished.
Oculists' prescriptions promptly and accurately filled.
Mail orders solicited. 13-25

Hellyar's

Bargain Store.

Carpets! Carpets!

Are you interested in carpets? It so, we should be pleased to show you. We have arranged with one of the largest mills in the United States whereby we are their sold agents in this locality.

Wilton Carpets,
Moquette Carpets,
Axminster Carpets.
Velvet Carpets,
Body Brussels Carpets,
Tapestry Carpets,
Three Ply Carpets,
Ingrain Carpets of all grades,
Cocoa Mattings,
Napier Mattings,
China Mattings,
Linoleums,
Oil Cloths,
Rugs,
Mats,
Lace Curtains.

We carry a full line of the newest patterns in all kinds of Carpets.

You have as fine a variety to select from as is carried by the stores in the largest cities. You can have the carpets cut and sewed at the mills, and delivered to you ready to be laid on the floor.

We represent the manufacturers, thus saving you the middleman or jobber's profit, and as we have no stock to carry and no risk to take on bad patterns, misfits or remnants we can afford to sell at a very small profit—lower even than the stores of the great cities. Call and find out how quickly and how cheaply we can carpet a room or a house.

S. H. Hellyar & Co.,

Caryl's Block, on the Corner,
Palmer,
Mass.

WALL PAPERS,
MOULDINGS, ETC.,
AT MASON'S, PALMER.

Dry Goods.

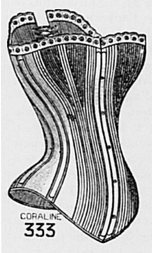
Fifty pieces of novelty dress goods, cut in dress patterns of 7 and 8 yards, according to the width of the goods, in stripes, figures and mixed goods, no two alike. 37c to 50c a yard.

Several pieces of wool plaids, cut in patterns for ladies' waists and children's dresses, 50 cents per yard.

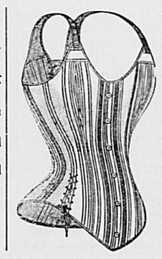
Cambrics

of all colors. Silicias, canvas, grass cloth, fibre chamois, two weights of crinolines, and everything else wanted in the way of dress fittings you find here at the lowest prices.

Remember, we are sole agents for the celebrated Butterick patterns, and a large stock always on hand.



Dr. Warner's Coroline, extra long waist corsets in black, drab and white. $1.00 and $1.25.



Also Dr. Warner's ladies' Perfection waist, $1.00.

Loomer's fast black, extra long waist corset, only 50 cents.

A new line of drapery scrims 5c, 8c and 10c per yard.
Several pieces of teazle down in fall patterns, 8c and 10c a yard.

Our staple white bed blankets, 72x80, 65c each, are hard to beat.
A few of those 10-4 bed blankets left at 50c per pair
Examine the cresent 11-4 blanket for $3.90.
A new line of tray cloths and doilies in handsome designs, also twisted embroidery and rope silk for outlining, and the Filo silk for filling in.
Ladies' B. E. J. underwear, vest and pants, fleece lined, white and flesh color, in winter weights, 50c each.

Fancy dry goods of all kinds at

W. N. Flynts & Sons,

Monson, Mass.

Love Your Wife.

It doesnt' look that way when you let her fry her face, try her temper, ruin her health and complexion by using that old cook stove. Invest a few dollars and buy one of our "Royal Winthrop Grand" or "Herald B." Ranges. You will have less fuel to buy, and better food; also a pleasant wife.

Come in and see our prices on Furniture. Chamber Suits from $12 up; Easy Chairs were never so cheap, we have them from $1 up; Lounges from $4 up. We sell on the installment plan.

We also have a full line of Dry Goods, Groceries, Boots and Shoes, Carpets and Oilcloths, which we are selling at prices that defy competition.

Shaw Brothers,

Three Rivers,
Mass. . . . . .

NO REST, NO SLEEP.

How Energy and Ambition are Killed.

Vitality and Health Destroyed by Wakeful Nights.

Strong and Steady Nerves Are a Necessity.

To Neglect Them Means Certain Ruin.

Dr. Greene's Nervura Gives Strength and Vigor.

How many thousands to-day suffer from sleeplessness caused by nervous weakness. It is one of the incidents of American life, and you who read these lines are no doubt one of the great throng. After the day is done and when its cares ought to cease, you wish that they might fold their tents like the Arabs and as silently steal away. When night has drawn her sable curtains and all nature seems in repose, your weary eyelids long for that tired nature's sweet restorer, balmy sleep. What would you not give for the rest you had in olden times. But it is denied you. The long hours are full of weakness and weariness, and the coming day brings only headache and heartache, impaired strength and exhausted nerves as you drag through its duties.

There is no burden so painful, and no loss so wasting. It wrecks the body and impairs the mind. It is the fearful harbinger of insanity. It has filled our asylums with its victims. You know this and gloomily dread the future. Weak, nervous and discouraged, the least excitement prostrates you, and you are always worrying over anticipated trouble. Nothing goes right, and you often feel like despairing. You do not feel equal to the burden you once bore so easily.

Take heed while it is time. You are in a whirlwind of destruction. You are in the very Niagara of our nervous modern life. Do not delay. Safety is right at hand, if you will but accept. The loss of appetite, gas in the stomach, torpid liver, constipation, nervousness, headache, etc., are but the first symptoms of the danger to come. It can be avoided, but only by acting at once.

Thousands have stood where you now stand, confronted by the same frightful consequences, and have been cured and restored to health and happiness by that wonderful enchanter of sleep, that marvelous restorer of nerve energy and physical strength, Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy. It is purely vegetable and entirely harmless.

Mrs. L. L. Gumpricht, who resides at 198 Blue Hill avenue, Boston, Mass., says:

"After having had an attack of the grippe I was feeling very weak and completely run down. I could not eat, sleep or work. I was so weak in the limbs I could not walk or work. I was very miserable, and I thought I should die. I lost all interest in everything. I had great distress from the little food I could eat.

"After taking three bottles of Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy I was entirely cured of all these complaints. I feel like a new woman."

This grand restorative for the nerves, Dr. Greene's Nervura, does not contain a particle of anything injurious, and can be given to restless and sleepless infants, nervous children, or the most delicate invalid with absolute assurance of beneficial results. Dr. Greene, of 34 Temple Place, Boston, Mass., the most successful physician in curing nervous and chronic diseases, discovered it, and he can be consulted free of charge, personally or by letter.

WANTED SALESMEN. We want one or two good men in each county to take orders for a choice line of Nursery Stock or Seed Potatoes. Stock and seed guaranteed. We can give you steady employment with good pay. It will cost you nothing to give it a trial. State when writing which you prefer to sell. Address

The Hawks Nursery Co.,
Rochester, N. Y.

Modest.

I need a brownstone house in town,
At least four stories high.
One that's been bought with cash paid down;
No mortgages, say I.

I also need a summer place
At Newport—something fine—
For if I'm in the social race
I'd move in the front line.

The vulgar herd is not for me;
In travel, near and far,
I'd much prefer, you know, to be Within my private car.

Of course my purse must carry gold;
An income I'd prefer
Of, say a hundred thousand cold,
At this I'd not demur.

A hundred head of horse or so,
Some yachts, say three or four;
I'd be surrounded, as I go,
With menials galore.

That's all. For nothing else I sigh
Within this mundane whirl;
I'll be content, you see, for I
Already have the girl.

—Tom Mason, in Puck.

A STRIKING CONTRAST.

A survivor of the battle of Gettysburg has lately recalled in one our leading magazines his experiences in the hospital after the conflict was over. He was so terribly wounded that when he said to the surgeon:

"I am not afraid to hear the worst, is there any hope for me, doctor?" the answer came tenderly but decidedly:

"No, my boy, none whatever."

The man had been shot through the lungs, and there followed in this case one of those struggles for life that show the wonderful vitality of a human body, and surprise both physician and patient. During the first week of unexpected convalescence, when his his life might have been extinguished by an adverse breath, and was saved only by the devoted care of nurses, there came to this soldier's cot, as to many others, clergymen of different denominations. Each tried to administer comfort in his own way.

Among these good men, two stood out in the wounded man's mind in striking contrast, and at the end of a quarter of a century are thus dispassionately portrayed.

The first was a portly man of perhaps fifty-five years of age. His face was grave in expression, its lines somewhat stiff and hard. In his hands he carried an imposing Bible and a hymn book. He never brought a delicacy to the hospital, nor offered the sufferers there even a glass of water. Neither his hands nor his feet were used for the physical benefit of those agonized and dying men.

His first question at the patient's bedside was:

"Are you prepared to die?"

Then he sat down comfortably and read a chapter from the Bible. After this he selected what seemed to the sufferer, who relates the incident, the longest hymn he had ever heard, and sang it through without omitting a stanza. He concluded with a long prayer which was general in its pleadings, and had but little in it to help the poor soldier lying there in pain and weakness, possibly awaiting death.

The only thing that prevented the patient from getting exasperated beyond endurance was the fact that he knew that, however mistaken the clergyman might be in his methods, he meant well, and was acting out his own idea of Christian duty.

But, as after each visit the patient had a relapse, the surgeon finally forbade the good man, who relied on prayer without good works, to enter the tent again.

The other clergyman was simple and unassuming in his manners. He did not confuse the sufferer, who was too feeble to talk, with deep religious questions, or weary him by his exhortations or long prayers. But he never entered the tent without doing something for the wounded soldier's comfort. Intuitively he knew that his personal sympathy and help would lead the patient sooner or later to listen to the story he longed to tell, of God's sympathy and love.

Sick people have whims, and our captain conceived an unreasonable notion that he could eat nothing but a roasted potato. Now there was not a potato to be had within miles of the hospital camp, and, of course, that being so, he wanted one all the more.

One very hot Sunday morning he caught sight of the man of God earlier than usual. The clergyman was hurrying along with eager steps, his face bathed in perspiration and his coat flung over his arm. As he saw the wasted face watching for him he swung a bundle exultingly, and called out with the enthusiasm of a boy:

"I've got them, captain! I've got them!"

He undid the corners of his handkerchief and drew forth a dozen potatoes; and in a few minutes proceeded to wash some of them and put them in the ashes to roast. Not all the jewels in the world would have compared in the eyes of that wounded man with the cluster of Irish potatoes brought to him by the perspiring Samaritan.

Now, as the minister was washing the rest of the potatoes outside of the tent, the captain suddenly sent this message:

"It's Sunday morning; won't you come and give us a prayer?"

"I'll gladly come," replied the good man, tenderly.

He had only done unpleasant, unselfish things for the wounded man. He had not forced his prayers upon him when he was in no mood to listen. He knew the time must come when he would be willing to hear his message. And now he knelt down with his sleeves rolled up, his hands grimy with ashes, and his head and throat bare.

The prayer was short and earnest. His whole heart was in it, and it touched the heart of his hearer. When it was ended he went back and finished washing the potatoes he had obtained with so much trouble. But in the words of the captain:

"Every man who heard him felt that he had been with one who had walked arm in arm with the Master, and who, like him, knew when to minister to the physical needs of men, and when to present to them the great spiritual truths that open the way to God and Heaven."

TIRED ALL ROUND.—"Oh, John," said the new woman to her husband, "you just ought to see my new bicycle—it's beautifully tired!"

"It ain't half as tired as I am," groaned the husband, as he salted the biscuits and put sugar in the soup.—Atlanta Constitution.

All Free.

Those who have used Dr. King's New Discovery know its value, and those who have not, have now the opportunity to try it Free. Call on the advertised Druggist and get a Trial Bottle, Free. Send your name and address to H. E. Bucklen & Co. Chicago, and get a sample box of Dr. King's New Life Pills Free, as well as a copy of Guide to Health and Household Instructor, Free. All of which is guaranteed to do you good and cost you nothing at LeGro & Lynde, Palmer; G. L. Keeney, Monson; F. A. Spencer, Ware.

Free Pills.

Send your address to H. E. Bucklen & Co., Chicago, and get a free sample box of Dr. King's New Life Pills. A trial will convince you of their merits. These pills are easy in action and are particularly effective in the cure of Constipation and Sick Headache. For Malaria and Liver troubles they have been proved invaluable. They are guaranteed to be perfectly free from every deleterious substance and to be purely vegetable. They do not weaken by their action, but by giving tone to stomach and bowels greatly invigorate the system. Regular size 25c. per box. Sold by LeGro & Lynde, Palmer; G. L. Keeney, Monson; F. A. Spencer, Ware.

Bucklen's Arnica Salve.

THE BEST SALVE in the world for cuts, bruises, sores, ulcers, salt rheum, fever sores, tetter, chapped hands, chilblains, corns, and all skin eruptions, and positively cures piles, or no pay required. It is guaranteed to give perfect satisfaction or money refunded. Price 25 cents per box. For sale by LeGro & Lynde, Palmer; G. L. Keeney, Monson; F. A. Spencer, Ware.

One of the finest tests of goodness is unconsciousness. The perfect musician does not think of his fingers or what keys he should strike; he does spontaneously, without conscious effort or thought, what demands exacting attention on the part of the tyro. In the practice of virtue we have not reached the highest results until we are unconscious of our own good deeds. In our Lord's parable of the sheep and the goats, He represents that those who had been ministering to others did not know what they had been doing. They ask: "When saw we thee an hungered and fed thee?" The people who loudly assert that they are holy betray their mistake in the very act of making the claim. If they were as good as they think they are they would not know it.—Watchman.

"Don't you," said the summer boarder, "sometimes envy the city people who come here with nothing to do but recreate?" "No," replied Farmer Corntossel, "I don't know as I do. I swing the scythe till I get right tired an' 'magine it lorn tennis, an' set out on the front porch ter get bit by the mersquiters of evenin's an' manage to have 'bout ez good a time as the rest of 'em."—Union Signal.

Taylor's Anti-Headache Powders are just as harmless as water. Yet look how powerful water is in putting out fire! Our powders cure Headache and Neuralgia in the same manner exactly. It is safe to say that these powders will cure all cases, because they never failed yet. Why not buy Taylor's and be sure about it? Get them of LeGro & Lynde.

35 cents

Colds are serious things. They lead to worse things. A cold is the seed of consumption. Croup is a cold's half-brother—it is generally caused by cold, and many a little life has been snuffed out by it because the proper remedy was not at hand.

Dr. Hooker's Cough and Croup Syrup

gives relief at once. It has saved thousands of lives. Every mother should see that it is always in the house. Don't wait till you need it—that may be too late. Contains no opium—absolutely safe—endorsed by physicians for 50 years. Made only by Charles B. Kingsley, Northampton, Mass.

at Drug Stores

A TRADE

in all its branches can be learned at the

Trade School Department

of the

Springfield Industrial Institute,

Springfield, Mass.

Send for Catalog.

BATTLE AX PLUG

The largest piece of Good tobacco ever sold for 10 cents

R·I·P·A·N·S

ONE GIVES RELIEF.

52-43

"WHERE DIRT GATHERS, WASTE RULES."

GREAT SAVING RESULTS FROM THE USE OF

SAPOLIO

4-25

LARRABEE'S RHEUMATIC LINIMENT

A standard and sovereign household remedy for over half a century. It is a wonderful curative agent in all painful diseases, such as

Rheumatism, Lumbago, Neuralgia, Backache, Catarrh, Toothache,

and other painful ailments. To be had of all druggists, or by mail on receipt of 25 cents. Trade supplied by Geo. C. Goodwin & Co., or any wholesale druggist.

WINKLEMANN & BROWN DRUG CO.
BALTIMORE, MD., U. S. A.

A morning tonic for your brain—a vigorous brushing of the head with one of our nice brushes. Bristles not too hard, not too soft—the kind you like. The price is only 50 cents. Combs, powders, perfumes, mirrors. The Centennial Tooth Powder, and all toilet requisites. You can put on finishing touches with them and for little cash.

Our medicines have wings that fly with pain to parts unknown. Test their power when you are sick, and then you will thank us for relief.

ALLEN'S DRUG STORE,
Holden's Block, Palmer.

THAT JOB OF PRINTING. There's no better place at which to get it done than the JOURNAL Office. Experienced workmen, skilled in every branch of the art.

PARKER'S HAIR BALSAM

Cleanses and beautifies the hair. Promotes a luxuriant growth. Never Fails to Restore Gray Hair to its Youthful Color. Cures scalp diseases & hair falling. 50c. and $1.00 at Druggists

PATENTS

CAVEATS, TRADE MARKS COPYRIGHTS.

CAN I OBTAIN A PATENT? For a prompt answer and an honest opinion, write to MUNN & CO., who have had nearly fifty years' experience in the patent business. Communications strictly confidential. A Handbook of Information concerning Patents and how to obtain them sent free. Also a catalogue of mechanical and scientific books sent free.

Patents taken through Munn & Co. receive special notice in the Scientific American, and thus are brought widely before the public without cost to the inventor. This splendid paper, issued weekly, elegantly illustrated, has far the largest circulation of any scientific work in the world. $3 a year. Sample copies sent free.

Building Edition, monthly, $2.50 a year. Single copies, 25 cents. Every number contains beautiful plates, in colors, and photographs of new houses, with plans, enabling builders to show the latest designs and secure contracts. Address MUNN & CO., NEW YORK, 361 BROADWAY

CHILDS

BUSINESS COLLEGE.

Fall and winter term now in session. Many young people from Western New England are attending this school at present. Large patronage, best equipped, more graduates placed in positions. Are you a competent bookkeeper or stenographer? If not, plan to attend Childs' Business College and obtain a thorough business training. Three months' school ticket at half regular R. R. rates. Catalog mailed free.

E. E. CHILDS, Principal,
316-348 Main St., Springfield.

DR. S. H. ELLERY,

VETERINARY SURGEON AND DENTIST.
Graduate Chicago Veterinary College.
Residence, Nassowanno House.
Office and stable, Central street.
PALMER, MASS.

The Palmer Journal.

VOLUME XLVI. PALMER, MASS., FRIDAY EVENING, OCTOBER 18, 1895. NUMBER 29.

PUBLISHED EVERY FRIDAY EVENING
—BY—
C. B. FISKE & CO.

TERMS OF SUBSCRIPTION.—Two dollars a year. A discount of 25 cents to those who pay in advance. Six months, $1.00; three months, 50 cents; single copies, 5 cents.

ADVERTISING RATES.—One inch (or twelve lines of this type solid) one week, $1; each subsequent insertion, 25 cents. One inch one year, $10; one-half inch one week, 75 cents; each additional week, 15 cents. Short advertisements, "Wanted," "To-Let," etc., 10 cents per line, cash; no charge less than 30 cents. Notices in local column, 15 cents per line. Liberal rates to yearly advertisers.

JOB PRINTING of all kinds executed in the best styles, promptly and at reasonable rates.

C. B. FISKE. L. E. CHANDLER.

[Entered at Post Office as second class matter.]

LOCAL BUSINESS DIRECTORY.

PALMER.

ALLEN, O. P., Wholesale and Retail Druggist and Bookseller.

BARTON, F. D., Dealer in Watches, Clocks and Jewelry, Main street.

BILLS, G. A., Fresh and Salt Beef, Pork, Ham, Lard, Tripe, etc.

BROOKS, EDWIN E., Graduate Optician. With E. S. Brooks, Jeweler, Main street.

BROOKS, E. S., Dealer in Watches, Clocks, Jewelry, Solid Silver and Plated Ware, Main street.

BROWN, C. A. & CO., Hardware, Furnaces, Stoves, Ranges, Paints, Oils and Glass.

BROWN, S. H., Trucking, Light Jobbing, Piano Moving. Order box cor. Main and Walnut streets. Orders can also be left at J. F. Foley's store.

CARPENTER, Mrs. L. E., Millinery and Fancy Goods. Also dealer in Human Hair Goods.

CHANDLER BROS., Bicycles.

CLARK & HASTINGS, Wholesale Dealers in Armour & Co's. Dressed Beef, Provisions, Main St.

EAGER, F. M., Boot and Shoe Manufacturer to Order, and dealer in Leather and Findings.

FISKE, C. B. & CO., Publishers PALMER JOURNAL and WARE STANDARD. Fine Book and Job Printers and Bookbinders.

FITCH, A. E., Law and Insurance, Savings Bank Block.

FRANCIS, R. B., Iron Foundry and Machine Shop.

GAMWELL, C. K., Ready made Clothing, Hats, Caps, Gent's Furnishings, etc.

GARDNER, CHAS. L., Attorney and Counselor at Law. Church street.

GOODES, E., Palmer Boot and Shoe Store, corner Main and Thorndike streets.

HAMILTON, J. A., Dealer in all kinds of Coal, Wood, Grain, Flour, Baled Hay and Straw. Fertilizers and Stock Food. Main street.

HOLBROOK, C. D., Flour, Grain, Feed and Mason's Supplies, Main street.

HOLBROOK, J. F., Dealer in all kinds of Coal. Agent for National and White Star line of steamers. Drafts on Foreign Banks at lowest rates.

LEACH, W. W., Attorney at Law.

LEGRO & LYNDE, Druggists and Newsdealers, Paper Hangings, Shades, Lamps and Fixtures.

MARCY, F. F., Dealer in Lumber, Shingles, etc., wholesale and retail. West of B. & A. R.R. depot.

MARCY, OSCAR C., Livery and Feed Stable, rear of Converse House.

PALMER WATER CO., Office, Lawrence Block. Office hours to October 1, from 8.30 to 10 a. m., from 2 to 3 p. m.

SHAW, J. B., Dealer in Dry Goods, Groceries, etc. Opposite the depot.

TAFT, S. S., Attorney at Law. Office in Allen's Block, Church street.

WHITE, C. W., Marble and Granite Works. No. 1 Thorndike street.

WOOLRICH & CO., Manufacturers of Ridge's Food, Thorndike street.

THORNDIKE.

ADAMS, A. P., Druggist, Toilet Articles, Confectionery and Cigars.

BONDSVILLE.

HOLDEN, C. L., Dry Goods, Groceries, Clothing Boots, shoes, Hats, Caps, etc.

MORIARTY, M., Dry Goods, Groceries, Boots Shoes, Coal. Agt White Star and Anchor SS Co's

WARE.

ADAMS, MRS., Chiropodist and Manicurist. 13 Park Avenue. All troubles of feet successfully treated.

ALBERTINE, J. A. Choice Fruits, Tobaccos, Cigars and Confectionery. Low Prices.

DAVIS INSURANCE AGENCY represents the best companies and gives lowest rates.

EDDY, C. W. Job and Fine Art Printer.

EDDY, MISS MATIE K. Teacher of Oil Painting and Crayon. Sketching or Art Work completed to order.

ELDREDGE, A. HENRY. Sign Painter. Carriages painted in the best manner. West Street.

HARLOW, A. B. Photographer. Instantaneous process only. Opposite the Bank.

HOSMER, F. N. Clothier. Hats, Caps, Gents' Furnishing Good, etc. Sanford's Block.

MARSH, F. E. Gold, Silver and Nickel Plater. Replating tableware a specialty. 7 Bank street.

PRIEST, J. E. Ware Steam Laundry. Carpet cleaning. Office at H. M. Clark's.

RICHARDSON, A. F. Dealer in Boots, Shoes and Rubbers of all kinds. Sagendorph's Block.

ROBINSON, JOHN F. Furniture, Sewing Machines, Pictures, Hardware, Paints and Farming Tools.

SIBLEY, J. B. Hardware, Tools, Agricultural Implements, Paints, Oils and Artists' materials.

SMITH, G. H. W. Jeweler. Watches, Clocks and Spectacles. Repairing in the best manner.

TURNER, H. H. Bookseller and Stationer, and dealer in Paper Hangings, Musical Instruments and Sheet Music.

MONSON.

GROUT, GEO. E. Dealer in Watches Clocks, Jewelry, etc. Towne's Block.

NEWTON, GEO. H., Law Office, Notary Public, Insurance, etc., near Gage's store.

SQUIER & CO., Dealers in Grain, Feed, Hay, Straw, Lumber, Shingles and Building Material.

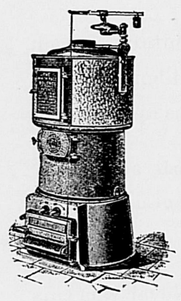
WARREN.

KELLEY, W. H., Attorney and Counsellor at Law. Quaboag Block, Warren, Mass.

SOCIETY DIRECTORY.

MONSON.

MT. ELLA LODGE, No. 184, A. O. U. W. Meets first and third Tuesdays of each month in A. O. U. W Hall, Monson
FISK G. ROGERS, M. W., F. J. ENTWISTLE, Rec.



VOLUNTEER STEAM AND WATER HEATER.

ECONOMY WARM AIR HEATERS.

BARSTOW PARLOR STOVES.

MODEL GRAND AND CRAWFORD GRAND RANGES.

Rustless Tin Ware.

Plumbing and Steam Heating.

W. H. Hitchcock,

Nassowanno House Block, Palmer.

E. S. Bryant, D. M. D., Dentist,

Lynde's Block, Palmer.
Office hours: 8.30 to 12.30. 1.30 to 5 p. m.

BOSTON BARGAIN STORE,

Monson,

TO THE FRONT.

Here comes the winner.

Our Annual Cape and Coat Sale.

A sale that emphatically proves the wonderful lead of the new store. . . . . .

READY CASH Makes Progressive Retailing.

Do you believe it? Come and see.

SALE BEGINS MONDAY, OCT. 28th. ENDS NOV. 1st.

Crowding a winter's trade into six days of time.

As we don't intend carrying a full line of Cloaks during the winter months we will make these six days to be remembered by all. Everything will be marked in plain figures, with a slim margin on the cost price, so that a large amount of Cloaks will be turned into cash.

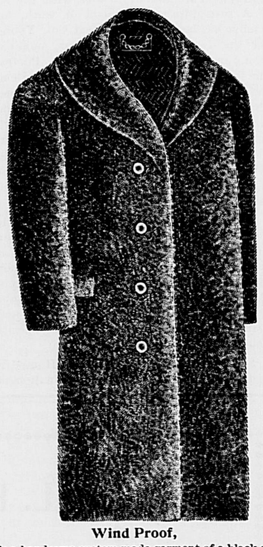
BY THE POWER OF PRICE.

T. H. TODD,

Boston Store, - Monson.

For the Coming Winter Season.

The Saskatchewan Coat,



Wind Proof,

is a handsome custom-made garment of a black or brown color, with a high rolling collar, lined with black Italian quilting, and rubber lining in the body part and sleeves to make it wind and water proof. It has olives and loops instead of buttons. This coat will keep a person dry and warm during the severest snow or rain-storm, and will be dry the next day.

Caps and carriage robes of the same material.

Complete line of GENT'S FURNISHING GOODS in all departments.

Fall and Winter Clothing

was never so low in price, nor such values for the money.

Fall Suits, $5 to $20,

Just think of it!

An elegant line of

Overcoats, $6 to $22.

You never saw the like before.

Child's Suits, $2 to $6.

Child's Reefer, $3.50 to $5.

Children's Overcoats in all grades.

Underwear

in a great variety of grades and prices.

Fall Style, 1895.

Lamson & Hubbard.

C. K. GAMWELL,

Palmer, Mass.

. . . Coal, . . .

Hay and Straw.

If you haven't bought your winter coal, ask our prices before you buy; will sell as low as anyone.

We have hay and straw, and can supply you at short notice, at market prices.

If you want to buy or hire a team or any part of a team, come and see me. Think I can supply you. I have competent men to attend to all light and heavy teaming you may have to do, and solicit a share of your patronage. Orders by mail promptly attended to.

Ralph Clifford,

Monson, Sept. 30, 1895. Monson House Stables.

SMITH'S.

Low Prices, Best Goods.

59 Main Street, Palmer.

Seeds. Medium Red Clover, Large Red Clover, Crimson Clover, Alsyke Clover, Red Top, Timothy.

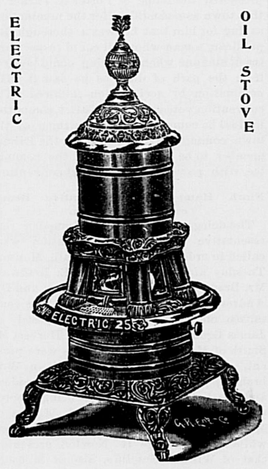
Seeds.

E. A. Buck & Co.,

Palmer, Mass.

Now is the time to set up the

ELECTRIC — OIL STOVE



and keep your room comfortable these cool nights and mornings. All sizes now in.

Call and see our fine lot of

CABINET BASE RANGES, PARLOR AND CYLINDER STOVES, AND RANGES,

at remarkably low prices.

Builders' Hardware, Agricultural and Mechanics' Tools, Tin Ware, Paints, Oils, and Glass.

C. A. Brown & Co.,

Palmer.

WAGONS!

Having a new lot of

TOP BUGGIES, BOTH PLAIN AND PIANO BOX AND CORNING, CONCORD BUGGIES, BANNER WAGONS, BUSINESS WAGONS, POLES, ETC., OF THE VERY BEST OF MAKES, AT LOWER PRICES THAN IN THE CITY, CALL AND SEE US.

ALLEN AND ELLERY,

PALMER, tf-3 MASS.

Hellyar's Bargain Store.

Carpets! Carpets!

Are you interested in carpets? If so, we should be pleased to show you. We have arranged with one of the largest mills in the United States whereby we are their sold agents in this locality.

Wilton Carpets,
Moquette Carpets,
Axminster Carpets.
Velvet Carpets,
Body Brussels Carpets,
Tapestry Carpets,
Three Ply Carpets,
Ingrain Carpets of all grades,
Cocoa Mattings,
Napier Mattings,
China Mattings,
Linoleums,
Oil Cloths,
Rugs,
Mats,
Lace Curtains.

We carry a full line of the newest patterns in all kinds of Carpets.

You have as fine a variety to select from as is carried by the stores in the largest cities. You can have the carpets cut and sewed at the mills, and delivered to you ready to be laid on the floor. We represent the manufacturers, thus saving you the middleman or jobber's profit, and as we have no stock to carry and no risk to take on bad patterns, misfits or remnants we can afford to sell at a very small profit—lower even than the stores of the great cities. Call and find out how quickly and how cheaply we can carpet a room or a house.

S. H. Hellyar & Co.,

Caryl's Block, on the Corner, Palmer, Mass.

Oil Heaters.

The finest assortment we have ever shown, and quality improved. Don't fail to look them over.

E. A. BUCK & CO.,

Cross Block, Palmer.

Improved Farm Machinery

costs no more than the old and obsolete patterns, and enables you to do more work in the same time, thus making a saving of good dollars to you.

I have all the best makes of modern farm machinery. See them and get my prices.

Forks, rakes, hoes, barbed wire, etc., constantly on hand.

D. W. Foskit,

Foskit's Mills.

TO COLT OWNERS.

I castrate colts and ridglings by Mile's system, holding diplomas from Mile's School of Castrating and from the Chicago Veterinary College.

3-tf Dr. S. H. Ellery, Palmer.

A NICE NEW LINE OF SAMPLES OF FOLDERS. FOR DANCE PROGRAMS, INVITATIONS, MENUS, ETC. Just received at the JOURNAL Office.

SMITH & MURRAY.

Baby Coats.

A store in itself—this vast space devoted to all that is best for little folks' wear.

The showing of Long Coats, Short Coats and Reefers is unique in its elegant completeness. No baby need is missing.

At $2.25—Children's Short Coats, pretty wool mixtures, large pointed collar trimmed with braid, very large sleeves, cuffs trimmed with braid, cut wide, lined throughout; 2 and 3-year sizes.

At $3—Children's Short Coats, pretty wool mixtures, large sailor collar trimmed with coney, immense sleeves, wide skirt, lined throughout; 2 and 3-year sizes.

At $3.75—Children's Short Coats of soft-finished Vicuna cloth, new sailor collar, pointed front, melon sleeves, strapped with wide and narrow braid, pearl buttons, lined throughout with satin; 3-year size.

At $5.50—Children's Short Coats of all-wool plaid, velvet collar braided, very large sleeves, wide skirt, lined throughout with satin; 3 year old.

North Store.

Dress Stuffs.

QUIET NOVELTIES. Is the term expressive? There is a vast range of dress stuffs that appeal to quiet, refined tastes; that breathe of elegance, no matter what the price tickets say. Sometimes it is a mono-color play, sometimes a combination of colors—harmony without glare. We want you to enjoy the exhibit. A pen picture would be disappointing There are stopping places from 75 cents to $1.50.

Yesterday we got 10 pieces of Bonnie Plaids fresh from the importers.

These are desirable colorings and somewhat hard to get.

Prices 75c and $1 per yard.

These Boucle and Scotch effects have crossed the water, too. On the homespun order but sturdier stuffs, and just a bit mannish. Ten styles are shown. 46-inch, $1.50.

Rear of main store.

SMITH & MURRAY.

"Honest John" Truss.

Very few Trusses have a reputation equal to this, and none better. We are prepared to apply them to any kind of rupture, with a guarantee of satisfaction in every particular, at the drug store of

LeGRO & LYNDE,

Next Door to Post Office,

Palmer, - - Mass.

Meekins, Packard & Co.

Headquaretrs for Blankets.

Special Sale Now Going on.

2000 pairs of Blankets.

From the common domestic cotton goods to the finest Californias made.

White and Colored—from 10-4 to 14-4 sizes.

As low as 37½ cents a pair.

Special values from $3.50 to $10 that appeal to every blanket buyer.

Basement.

Coats and Capes.

Come any day now for the new garments. The best styles from the foremost makers are here, cloth and fur the newest, shapes sure to please all tastes.

Ladies' suits and separate skirts also in the stylish cloths, latest cuts.

Coat Dep't.

Laces.

Point Applique.
Point Venise.
Point de Cene.

Laces usually retailing from $1 to $1.50.

Our prices for this

Special Sale.

25 and 50 cents a yard.

The greatest opportunity for lace buying ever known.

Left Aisle.

Carpets.

Best All-wool Ingrains at 50 cents a yard.

$1.25 Brussels at 35 cents a yard.

$1.50 Axministers at $1 a yard.

A hint of the way we are making Carpet purchasing interesting here.

Broken lines—but full rolls—last season's patterns, but many of them you might prefer to some of the newest designs.

They are the reasons for the seemingly ridiculous reductions in prices. There are bargains here. Don't delay.

Carpet Dep't, first floor.

Meekins, Packard & Co.

Springfield, Mass.

Every Year.

The spring has less of brightness
Every year,
And the snow a ghastlier whiteness
Every year;
Nor do summer flowers quicken,
Nor autumn fruitage thicken
As they once did, for they sicken
Every year.

It is growing darker, colder,
Every year,
As the heart and soul grow older
Every year;
I care not now for dancing,
Or for eyes with passion glancing,
Love is less and less entrancing
Every year.
Of the charms of friendship ended
Every year,
Of the ties that still might bind me
Until time to death resign me,
My infirmities remind me
Every year.

Ay, how sad to look before us
Every year,
While the clouds grow darker o'er us
Every year;
When we see the blossoms faded
That to bloom we might have aided
And immortal garlands braided,
Every year.

To the past go more dead faces
Every year,
As the loved leave vacant places
Every year;
Everywhere the sad eyes meet us.
In the evening's dusk they greet us,
And to come to them entreat us
Every year.

"You are growing old," they tell us,
Every year;
"You are more alone," they tell us,
Every year.
"You can win no new affections,
You have only recollections,
Deep sorrow and dejection,
Every year."

Yes, the shores of life are shifting
Every year,
And we are seaward drifting
Every year.
Old places, changing, fret us,
The living more forget us,
There are fewer to regret us
Every year.

But the truer life draws nigher
Every year,
And its morning star climbs higher
Every year;
Earth's hold on us grows slighter,
And its heavy burdens lighter,
And the dawn immortal brighter
Every year.

—Albert Pike.

A HORSE'S STORY.

From my point of view at the immature age of two and a half years a race was the delirium of my young ambition. In the pasture I ran with the same wild instinct that prompts a bird to soar into the sunlight. I ran for joy in blind obedience to the blood of the desert that coursed in my veins. I ran to tease Botherum, who scrambled after me through the clover, and then gave up the chase in despair. I ran for the entertainment of the row of screaming pickaninnies hanging on the gate and shying apples at me.

When I had been three months in training on dry feed, the hard gallop over the Colonel's private course was the only purely satisfactory half hour of the day. If the weather was bad I had the heart to kick down my box in my eagerness to get out, and I trod impatiently around the border of my enclosure, like a caged lion, until I had trailed a deep path in the straw.

I had my own ideas about the conduct of my rider. A pair of bare black heels rattling on my ribs tickled me to a frenzy of effort, while the touch of a spur maddened me. The Colonel at this time had secured an English groom and installed him at the head of the stable. The darkies listened incredulous to this lad's boast of his prowess, and turned the whites of their eyes scornfully on the glory of his racing togs.

One evening after tea, a race was made up in which I was pitted against Miss Eunice's cart and pony, ridden by my own groom, while I was to be mounted by the brilliant chief of the stable in all his finery. The family and servants had congregated along the starting point, and every black groom had his tongue in his cheek. We were off at the word, the pony at his best pace, and I galloping at his side, in proud contempt of his powers, the darkey drumming on his ribs with his black heels, and mocking across at my rider. We had gone half around the course at this easy pace, when I felt the reins tighten, and, at the same moment, the cruel spurs struck my flanks. My blood was up like a flash. From the inner side of the track I bolted into the ploughed ground, as dry and light as a bed of ashes. I heard the shouts and laughter of the spectators, I saw stars through the chaos of dust, and at the end of a series of mad plunges and kicks I merged from the red cloud on the opposite side of the track, and galloped riderless in ahead of my rival.

The new groom had been added to the stable for the express purpose of riding me in the two-year-old stakes at the approaching Kentucky Derby. I took a vicious dislike to him from my first experience at his hands. If he left off his spurs I permitted him to ride me, but I took care to do my best work when my old groom, Butternut Jim, was in the stable.

The excitement increased daily about the stable as the time for the race grew near. When they were off duty the boys rolled about on the straw outside my window, basking in the sun, and laying their small bets.

"What make yo' ain' bettin' nuffin' on Selim, yo' Jim?" I heard a voice ask.

"What fo' I ain'? I'se got a half a dollar onto that colt afo' I knewed dat cockney gwine ride 'im. I ain' no fool nigger, I ain'. Soon's I year dat news I done hedge long o' Mose, see? An' I doubled dat hedge. I done lay ever' nickle I got 'gin de colt—bigges' kind o' odds." And true to his words, when Jim found the riding was settled, he laid every dollar he could raise against my success. He bet all his personal property on the outside favorite, and staked his next month's wages against me at such odds as he could get.

Jim was unusually sociable when he rubbed me down, and the night pending the great event he stood before me with tears in his eyes in the seclusion of his box.

"It ain' yo' fault, Selim, boy; yo's got easy winner right in yo' eye ef ever Butternut Jim was in de saddle, see? What fo' was we ris togedder, me an' yo'? Ain' I rub yo' and wait on yo' eber since yo' was wean', see? Ain' I done lub yo' since de mawnin' yo' was folded? Ain' ole Marse Colonel done gone clean back on he own stable, see, a-mountin' o' white trash on yo', honey, an' him got mo' spurs an' sense? Kyaryin' he brains on he heels instead ob in he head, see? Selim, boy, yo' done loss dat race afo' yo' saddled up an' weighed in. Dat fool jocky gwine tote yo' un'er de wire on de tale en' ob de string, honey, boo, hoo"—and Jim broke down completely and wept on my neck.

"I 'clar' to Moses, honey, fo' Gawd, ef yo' win de stakes an' Jim goes broke on de Calamity favorite, he'll be der joyfullest coon in Kaintuck; an' I'm sleepin' rite yer in de straw 'long yo' ca'se I done trus' nobody, an' I ain't gwine to tell yo' good-by dis ebenin'."

There were few eyes closed in sleep among the excited stable boys, who sat bolt upright and polished bits by the glimmer of lanterns and sewed scraps of orange and black—the colonel's racing colors—on hats and coats. Even Jim tossed about in the straw and talked in his broken sleep and was up before day, bemoaning his fate.

Before the sun touched the highest weather vane on the stables the colonel's string was on the road, blanketed and hooded. I was led by Butternut Jim, radiant in his tightest and loosest jockey outfit, for Jim was sure to be in demand as a rider, though he was, for the moment, eclipsed by the important professional hand. So near were we to the great track that we were shut up in our snug quarters before the dew was off the grass. Botherum was with me and there was no love lost between him and the English groom. The goat seemed to absorb my temper, for I was in the worst of moods and determined to fight my rider. The box was close and hot. By the noises outside I knew that there was the greatest activity on the grounds. When Jim looked in I was calm and pleased, but when he was away and the cheering from the grand stand sounded like distant thunder, just a background of murmur to the shouting and clatter of hoofs at the stables, I kicked at Botherum and struck with my fore feet at the walls.

When at last Jim led me out into the sunlight to saddle I forgot my temper in the sweet open air on the fragrant turf in the midst of the glitter and color and excitement—and Jim. I tossed my head for joy, and felt the flutter of the wind in my nerves.

I was the prime favorite in my class, and as we passed down toward the track I heard many a wager placed to my credit. "Two to one on Selim Blanche against Calamity." "Selim even against the field." It was old-fashioned betting in those days. When the cloth was stripped off a great shout went up from the crowd of my admirers. In the midst of my pride and joy at this ovation from fair women and critical men, the small English jockey came forward and took my reins from Jim. When my eyes fell on his spurs and goad, a surge of passion ran through my blood. A few other colts were out for their warming-up runs, and Calamity was running handsomely, as docile as a sheep.

There was a fine scramble before my jocky was got into his seat, in which I sidled away, then rushed against the grooms, and reared and bit and struck out, to the disgust of my backers, and to the amusement of everybody else.

"Plenty of temper," "There's nerve for you," "He can't win," were some of the comments I heard. And then the calm voice of the Colonel: "Have patience, gentlemen, until the colt gets warmed up, and he'll show you a pace."

"Not with this outfit," I thought; and the twinkle in Jim's eye, over by the palings, told me that he thought so to.

The worse I behaved the smaller my odds dwindled on my chances, until it was even money against the Calamity colt before I had started for my exercise. I made a handsome rush down the track and then whirled and came back and got whip and spur for my reward. The fight was on. I plunged and bolted from side to side of the track. I sheared against the palings and reared and kicked like a demon, during which my tormentor stuck fast to the saddle and forced me to have some respect for his skill. Now I tried another school of tactics and shot half around the course at a pace that brought a ringing cheer from the multitude, and then with a desperate bolt I cleared the inner rail, and after a series of frantic plunges on the turf I shook off my plucky rider, giving him such a serious fall that he lay on the ground until the crowd rushed over and picked him up.

A dozen grooms were after me in the field, but I eluded them all and trotted over to Jim, who fell on my neck for joy. When we came up to the Colonel, Jim who had not dared to mount me without orders, addressed him, cap in hand:

"I kin ride him, Marse Colonel. He won't cut up no monkey shines long o' Jim. Selim an' me understans one 'ner, see?"

There was nothing left but to toss up Jim into the saddle, who was fluttering with orange and black, and away we went with an easy gallop, making the circuit of the course in the midst of an ovation to Jim. Then we took half the track at a flying pace, during which I took half of the credit to myself, and it was the proudest moment of my life when we galloped by the grand stand ringing with plaudits and bravos and "Selim Blanche!" "Selim Blanche!"

When the race was called it would have been a reckless owner that would have discarded Jim. The Colonel held my bridle with his own hands, while Jim, with his saddle under his arm, mounted the scales as if he had been called to a throne. The Colonel was evidently pleased and confident, and rubbed my nose on his hand as much as to say: "Jim and I will take care of your interests."

We were a long time in getting away, which was entirely due to the misbehaving of the other youngsters, and when the flag did fall Jim and I were against the outside rail and easily last in a field of twenty. As we came down to the first-quarter pole the ruck was considerably strung out, and I was going smoothly in the rear bunch without a sound or a motion from Jim. The Calamity colt with the green and white colors was at about the middle of the string, evidently holding himself in reserve. Jim's money was there, but I knew he had thrown it away in his heart. As we came down the second quarter the jockeys at the front were already urging their mounts and swinging their whips in the dust. Still not a movement from Jim. He had his eye on the green and white, and I felt the encouraging pat of his hand on my shoulder. As we came into the stretch leading up to the grand stand, the Calamity colt pulled out of the crowd and began to creep up on the leaders, and at the same moment a brown colt came alongside me at a slashing pace. Then I felt the pressure of Jim's knees. With my nose lapped over the flank of the brown we moved past the laggards. The grand stand was on its feet shouting for favorites, among whom Calamity was evidently the most popular. The green and white was now well to the front, where the colts that had been holding the lead were falling back. Neck and neck with the brown colt, breathing easily, with plenty of reserve speed, I spun along the third quarter, obedient to the gentle pressure of Jim's knees, and steadily lessening the lead of Calamity, who was now at the front.

A roar of encouragement surged up from the grand stand, and ran in broken waves of cheering around the course. Every eye was fixed on its favorite colors, and the heart of the great throng stood still as we rushed into the last quarter. I knew that the gaze of the good old Colonel was somewhere fixed breathless on my white form, and as I steadily moved by another and another of my rivals I felt that he saw and approved. Jim's black face was close to my neck. I could hear his hissing breath. His knees closed hard on my shoulders. We were half way down the home-stretch. The green and white colors were flaunting in my face. I was taking the dust of Calamity, with the brown colt close on my flank.

When in Jim's judgment the supreme moment had come he uttered a whoop of encouragement, and his boot heels for the first time rattled the love taps on my ribs. I leaped forward in a frenzy of excitment. I as abreast of Calamity. The orange and black moved past the green and white, inch by inch, despite the raining of blows on the sides of my exhausted rival. The multitude roared with one voice. I breathed free of dust. The wind surged in my ears. I felt the fury of a demon. I was mad. The world was flying by the other way. The Chinese pagoda of the judges shot backward and melted away like an object in a dream, and I awoke to the clanging of the bell behind me.

"Selim Blanche!" "Selim Blanche!"

The two-years-old stakes in the Kentucky Derby were handsomely won. The brown colt was second by a head and Calamity third.

When we came back to the stand Jim rolled off into the arms of the Colonel, who promptly doubled his losses.—Our Animal Friends.

UNDER THE COTTAR'S ROOF.

With a hand laid on his shoulder, and looking kindly into Lownie's eyes, the doctor gently broke the truth, as he stood at the door before leaving:

"Lownie," he said, "she canna live oot the nicht."

Lownie seemed to be in a dream. The purple hills glowed in the setting sun, and the flowers that speckled meadow and upland were in brighter, richer colors than in the hight of day. The scene was never more beautiful than in this early autumn time. And it was on such an evening, down by the burn, when Lownie and Mary took each other by the hand and sealed the compact of their affection. Its low gurgling sounds were as music to their ears and filled their hearts with a peace and joy unspeakable. It seemed like yesterday, when the first bloom was on Mary's cheek and her eyes sparkled as though her whole heart was in them.

None was more beautiful than she in all the country side; and Mary's disposition was like a ray of sunshine, that attracted and warmed and brightened wherever she went. The burn still sang its way through the meadow, and it looked now as it did that evening, fifteen years before, like a bar of burnished gold.

What happiness had been his in all that time! Mary had remained the same—only grown more precious as the years went by. But for her, the load would sometimes have borne him down. When he would think glumly of their small means and a growing family, she would clear the clouds away with a song or words of cheerfulness and hope.

"Ay, ay," sighed Lownie, "Mary had ay faith that God wad provide for 's, an' the crater was ay richt."

He remembered that she had always met him at the brae head on his way home after his day's work.

"Come awa, Lownie, my man, I'm waitin' for ye."

He seemed to hear the words now, though she had lain on her bed for weeks.

He had always looked forward to the evenings at the ingle, with wife and bairns. They were like a benediction on his life; and they lightened the burdens of another day. Mary sat at one side, the bairns played on the hearth, and he read a newspaper or a book. When the little ones had been put to bed, man and wife would "crack ower the day," until they took the books and returned thanks to the God that watched over them. The pleasure of retrospection made Lownie for a moment forget his misery. Then with a sudden shock the words of the doctor came back to him: "Lownie, she canna live oot the nicht."

He groaned, walked inside, forgetting to close the door, and sat down by the bedside. Mary seemed to be asleep, but opened her eyes when she heard Lownie's foot.

"Mary, my lass, is there onything I can dae for ye?" making an effort to suppress the feelings that were almost bursting.

"No, Lownie, dear. I'm braw an' comfortable. Then after a pause, she added: "Tak' doon the book."

The well-used Bible was brought from its place on the mantelpiece, and Lownie waited for Mary to speak.

"Read the hunder and twenty-first psalm," she said.

Lownie read it through, uttering the words as a prayer from his own heart.

"Thae's grond promises, Lownie, dear; lippen tae them." Then she added: "Noo, juist a word o' prayer."

Lownie's voice quivered as the petition escaped his lips; when he rose Mary's face was calm.

"Mary, my darling!" said Lownie, with a sob as he leaned towards her with a face almost of despair.

In the gathering gloom a halo seemed to encircle her head and a smile rested on her face.

Lownie recalled the words of the psalm and took comfort.—Detroit Free Press.

THE POETRY OF MATRIMONY.

Her constant aim is to be interesting to her husband. She multiples herself. In turn she is his friend, his confidante, his partner in business, his chum, and if I may use the word in its best and most refined sense, his mistress. She is forever changing her appearance. For instance, you will seldom see a French married woman wear her hair in the same way longer than three or four weeks. She knows that love feeds on trifles, on illusion, on suggestion. She knows that when a man loves his wife, a rose in her hair, a new frock, a bonnet differently trimmed will revive in him the very emotion he felt when he held her in his arms for the first time. She also knows that the very best dishes may sometimes become insipid if always served with the same sauce.

She understands to a supreme degree the poetry of matrimony. I have heard men say that matrimony kills poetry. The fools! There is no poetry outside of it. And the poetry has all the more chance to live long in French matrimonial life because our wedding ceremony is not, as in England, the end of courtship, but only the beginning of it. In France when you have married your wife you have to win her, and the process is very pleasant. I have often told my English friends that if in their country there were not so many kisses indulged in before the wedding ceremony there would be a great many more administered after it. Why is the French woman of 40 so attractive? Because every feature of her face shows that she has been petted and loved.—Max O'Rell, in North American Review.

"Tommy, you shouldn't say 'I don't want no more pie!' " said Tommy's mother, as she beamed on him for obeying previous orders to refuse pie so there'd be enough to go around for the company. "There!" shouted Tommy joyously, as he passed up his plate, "I knew you wouldn't let me tell a lie before the minister!"—Chicago Record.

Miss Prion (quoting)—"Wise men make proverbs, and fools repeat them."

Miss Smart (musingly)—"Yes; I wonder what wise man made the one you just repeated."—New York Truth.

The Journal.

FRIDAY EVENING, OCTOBER 13, 1895.

PALMER NEWS.

State Primary School Buildings Sold.

Certain of the buildings formerly used for the state primary school were sold at auction yesterday noon, but the state will not get rich out of the prices paid. It was about 12.30 when Auctioneer Winter of Springfield mounted a table in the courtyard of the main building and announced the terms of the sale. Only the buildings were sold, the personal property, desks, etc., being reserved; the foundations were also reserved and were to be left in good condition, with the posts in the cellar. The buildings were to be removed, with all the rubbish, from the grounds of the state before February 1st, 1896, and a bond of $500 with one surety must be furnished for the performance of the contract; trees and shrubs must not be cut or injured except by permission; no place would be furnished for the dumping of rubbish, though some of it would probably be required in grading about the premises. The main building, about 450 feet long and 37 wide, three stories high, was first put up, and in the sale was included all the steam piping in the building, about 5000 feet, fire escapes which cost not less than $1500, gas fixtures, marble slabs, bath tubs and plumbing; in the building were about 600 sash, all weighted. The bidding was started at $25, and it ran slowly up by $5 bids to $130, when someone bid $130.25; then it advanced $1 at a time to $135, then at $2.50 jumps to $150; here it hung fire for a time, but it was finally run up to $165 and sold to a man who gave the name of John Sullivan of Boston, who stated that he would take the buildings down and realize what he could from the contents and material. The terms of the sale were cash, and this the purchaser was unable to furnish, Dr. Copp declining to receive a check as he did not know the man, and the building was sold over again, going to J. B. Burbank of Longmeadow for $100. The farm house went to C. M. Handyside of Springfield for $12; Mark Noble of Monson bought the large playhouse and the chair shop, paying $25 and $70 for them; the small playhouse went to G. E. Davis for $15.

During the past two weeks much of the personal property in the buildings has been sold at private sale, and very good prices have been realized, while the purchasers have secured really serviceable goods at remarkably low prices. Yesterday morning what was left was sold at auction, and still lower prices were the rule. Good kitchen tables went three-for-a-quarter, and other things likewise. The uncontrollable desire of some persons to possess a thing which their neighbor wants resulted in some good prices being paid, as when one woman after lively bidding secured four second-hand water pails for 40 cents, which could have been bought new for the same price in any of the local stores handling such goods. Many people have bought the iron bedsteads which were used at the school, and they have gone as low as 15 cents each.

After the buildings have been removed the grounds will be prepared for the new structures as rapidly as possible, and work will be commenced as early in the spring as the conditions will warrant. The new hospital will be conducted on the cottage plan, though some of the buildings, the plans for which Dr. Copp is now at work on, will be quite sizable.

The Electric Road Franchise Granted.

The selectmen have granted a franchise to the Palmer and Monson Street Railway Company for the construction of an electric road from the Fay bridge on the road to Monson through the village of Palmer to Thorndike, from Thorndike to Three Rivers, from the Four Corners to Bondsville, and from Thorndike to Whipple's Crossing. The terms and conditions have not been settled yet, but will be later.

There was a good attendance at the hearing given by the selectmen on the matter of the electric road franchise last Friday, and but little opposition was manifested. The principal objector was O. C. Marcy, who thought that his livery business would be ruined if the road was built; he had considerable money invested in the business, spent large sums yearly in town in carrying it on, and thought he should be protected. The directors were asked if the highways were to be widened for the building of the tracks, and answered in the affirmative. H. C. Strong was in favor of the road; other towns were benefited by such roads, and one would bring prosperity to Palmer. G. E. Buck thought the road would be a good thing for the town. John Loftus of Thorndike said that if the road would be an improvement the town ought to have it, although it would injure his and other business in Thorndike. E. G. Hastings would like to see the town progress, and thought the road would be an improvement, citing other towns as examples. E. J. Kelley thought it would be a sure disadvantage to Thorndike, and would like to know how it would help. Mr. Buck thought the public, not the merchants alone, should be pleased. E. G. Childs, agent of the Boston Duck Co. of Bondsville, thought the road would be a benefit in some ways, but hoped that the selectmen would not grant a franchise for north of the road leading from the main street in Bondsville to the Athol station, as later he wished to build a private road to haul freight for the mill. D. L. Bodfish thought the road would give a good chance to the poor man to build outside the villages, where he could afford to buy land. W. E. Stone was in favor of the road; it was in the line of progress, and was sure to come sooner or later. C. F. Grosvenor also favored the road, and thought the few should not stand in the way of the many. C. E. Fuller was aware that all could not be pleased, but if the largest number wanted the road he was in favor of it. H. W. McGregory, treasurer of the Palmer Savings Bank, stated that such a road would improve the bank's securities, reduce taxes somewhat, and be of benefit without doubt. George Mooers of Thorndike was asked his opinion, and said that he should not oppose the project. C. S. Ruggles of Three Rivers stated that he had talked with almost everybody in that village about the matter, and almost all were in favor of the road.

Selectmen Cut a Sewer Connection.

Monday forenoon the selectmen cut the sewer connection with Holden's block at the corner of Main and Central streets for the non-payment of the sewer license. Mr. Holden warned Selectman Atkins that he would be held personally responsible for the action, but Mr. Atkins was not daunted and broke the connection. When the present board of selectmen came into office they found a number of sewer licenses unpaid, among them the one for the Holden block, the price being $100. They set to work to collect from the delinquents, and all paid but Mr. Holden. He was finally notified that unless he settled by the 10th of this month the connection would be cut off. He did not pay, and on the 11th was out of town, so action was delayed until he returned and could be given to understand that the selectmen meant business. The connection cut was not the main one, though at the time the selectmen thought it was, but was the one from Allen's drug store. On Wednesday a temporary injunction was served on the selectmen in favor of Mary A. Holden, the present owner of the block, restraining them from interfering with the other sewer connections. Mr. Holden's side of the matter is that through W. C. Dewey he bought the property of Mrs. L. E. Child in 1890, six months after the building then on the ground had been moved there and connected with the sever. In 1891 he received notice from the selectmen (W. H. Brainerd, Getchell and Twiss) that the sewer license was unpaid, and must be settled at once. He informed the board that he had nothing to do with that matter, as the connection was made before he bought the property, and that Mrs. Child would probably pay the bill if it was presented to her. Nothing more was heard about the matter until he received a notice from the present board to pay for the license. He does not consider that he is responsible for the failure of other people to pay their bills, or for the neglect of past boards of selectmen to collect from the proper sources what may be due the town. The selectmen, however, claim that under the statutes, —which give them the right to grant sewer entrance licenses and fix the price therefor, also providing that such fees shall always be a lien upon the property,—they can collect from Mr. Holden.

Barn and Contents Burned.

The barn of A. D. Thomas, near Foskett's Mills, was totally destroyed by fire about 6 o'clock Tuesday morning. All of the stock except one calf was saved, but a quantity of hay, grain, wagons and tools was destroyed. The fire started in the upper part of the barn, near the roof, where a lot of corn stalks had been placed the day before, and is supposed to have been of incendiary origin. The total loss is about $2000. There was an insurance on the building and contents of $1000, $500 being in the Fire Association of Philadelphia, through the agency of A. E. Fitch, and $500 in another company through the agency of W. W. Leach.

The sewer through Converse avenue is completed.

Miss Bertha Hastings was home from Smith College over Sunday.

J. Arthur Wells is back at his old place in the store of Robinson & Taylor.

The hardware store of C. A. Brown & Co. is being wired for electric lights.

William Rhodes and youngest daughter, Pearl, are sick with typhoid fever.

Mason & McBride have sold their barber shop on Central street to M. Rock.

Miss Edith Hobson was home over Sunday from West Granville, where she is teaching school.

The Ladies' Tuesday Social Club will meet next Tuesday afternoon with Mrs. C. K. Gamwell.

H. H. Paine has been appointed an agent of the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Children.

J. A. Breckenridge has the contract to paint Shaw's block in Wales, and is at work there with four men.

Mrs. E. A. Kirk of Springfield and William Clee of Thompsonville, Ct., are guests of Truman Griswold.

The heating apparatus is being put in the opera house, and the contractor says it will be ready for use next Thursday.

The annual harvest supper given by the adies of the Universalist parish will be held next Tuesday evening; supper at 6.30.

Mrs. G. N. Stone of Tenneyville has a night-blooming cereus which has produced 33 handsome blossoms within a short time.

Mrs. Abbie J. Lawton will go to Monson next Wednesday afternoon to officially inspect the Woman's Relief Corps of that place.

L. W. Caryl picked up a plump partridge in his yard yesterday morning, the bird having evidently been injured by flying against the house.

Next Sunday will be the Feast of the Maternity at St. Thomas's Catholic church, with masses at 8.30 and 10.30 a. m., Sunday school at 3 p. m. and vespers at 7.30.

An opening into the Central street sewer has been made on the north side of Park street at the west side of Central, to carry off the surface water from Park street.

The senior class of the high school contemplates the giving of a drama in the opera house some time next month, the object being to get money for graduating expenses.

Mr. and Mrs. Merriam and Rev. H. F. Moulton will attend the Universalist general convention to be held in Meriden, Ct., Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday of next week.

Rev. A. W. Weeks has been doing some grading about his vacant lots on South Main street, and has opened a private road south from near the west end of his property, giving him two corner building lots.

Washington Council, R. and S. M., elected these officers Monday evening: T. I. M., George Robinson; D. M., William H. Osgood; P. C. W., W. A. Weld; treasurer, H. N. Sedgwick; recorder, G. A. Bills.

At the Baptist church next Sunday morning Rev. C. R. Minard will take for his subject, "Man, the Arbiter of His Own Destiny." In the evening there will be a harvest concert by the children of the Sunday school.

The ladies of the Baptist church served an excellent harvest dinner in the church vestry Tuesday noon, and in the evening a hash tea was given. Both were well patronized, and the ladies netted a neat sum as the result.

D. Eugene Marcy of Palmer and Miss Elsie Lewis of Monson were married at Monson Wednesday afternoon, and on the return from their wedding trip will reside on Pleasant street, where Mr. Marcy has fitted up a home.

Guy Stanchfield, who has been a clerk for D. L. Bodfish for some time, leaves there to-morrow night and will enter the employ of the Rogers-Osgood Hat Co., to learn the business. His place in Bodfish's store will be taken by D. G. Buskey.

H. A. Holland has secured a dancing class of about 30 members, and expected to give the first lesson in the opera house next Thursday evening, but on account of the heating apparatus not being in will wait until the building can be warmed.

All persons to whom premiums were awarded at the September fair of the Eastern Hampden Agricultural Society will be paid by the treasurer, O. P. Allen, any time before December 1st, after which all unpaid premiums will revert to the society.

The "Chalk Talks" on "Studies in the Bible," in the chapel of St. Paul's church Thursday evenings are proving very interesting and instructive, and are largely attended. The subject last evening was "The Book of Ruth, and A Seeker After God and Her Rewards."

Rev. G. S. Butler of Three Rivers will preach in the Congregational church next Sunday morning, and will give a special sermon by request of the pastor. In the evening there will be a stereopticon service, in which two solos and the sermon will be illustrated by beautiful stereopticon pictures.

Mrs. Ella B. Halleck of New York, now working for the State Board of Education, will talk to the Palmer teachers on "School Physiology," at the high school building to-morrow at 9 o'clock in the forenoon. Monson teachers have been invited. Citizens interested in the work are cordially invited to attend.

The selectmen spent yesterday perambulating the bounds between Palmer and Ware, and at least one of the board gained considerable knowledge on the trip; he wasn't aware before that Palmer extended north of Ware's southern line, but has found that there is one corner of Palmer which goes beyond the village of Ware.

John Sass of Southbridge was brought before the district court on Monday for cruelty to an animal in driving a horse to death, and was discharged, the evidence showing that Sass, who is a Polander unable to speak English, had driven the horse through ignorance, and with no intentional cruelty. On Tuesday Torvo Corgon Holyoke paid $15 for drunkenness.

The second annual Autumn Sunday will be observed at St. Paul's Universalist church next Sunday. The pastor will preach a sermon on "The Autumn of Life, or the Blessedness of Age." There is to be a special musical programme, and the church is to be decorated with autumn leaves, fruit, etc. The aged people of the village are especially invited to this service.

Mr. and Mrs. H. W. McGregory celebrated their tenth wedding anniversary Monday night by entertaining a small party of friends at their home on Squier street. A unique feature of the evening was the donning by each guest of as many of their wedding garments as were in existence and could be made to fit. Whist was in order, there being four tables, and refreshments were served.

The selectmen have repaired the bridge over the river at Bondsville which was closed last week, but a new structure will have to be put up there next year. The Belchertown selectmen thought the bridge was in too dilapidated a condition to repair and wanted to close it up, but the Palmer selectmen differed with them, and Belchertown finally offered to spend $25 on repairs; the work was done for $50, each town paying half.

The next attraction at the opera house will be on Thursday evening, the 31st, when it is expected the heating apparatus will be in working order, and will be Stetson's Spectacular Uncle Tom's Cabin Co. Thursday and Friday evenings, Nov. 7 and 8, Miss Ullie Akerstrom and company will present "The Sultan's Daughter," and "Miss Rora," two plays popular wherever presented. Saturday, Nov. 16, a capable company headed by Maurice Freeman will present "Hands Across the Sea."

The selectmen have been given a price on the land of J. M. Converse which is wanted for an addition to the cemetery. Mr. Converse does not wish to dispose of any land east of the rear line of the present cemetery, or the continuation of that line to the north, and names the price as $350 an acre. The piece desired is about 11 acres, which would make the addition cost $3850. As this is at least double what the selectmen consider it worth, they will probably proceed to take the land under the statute provided for in such cases.

A lively fight took place in the rear of a Main street business block last Friday afternoon, when a business man who has been paying more attention to the bar than to his business lately had a difference of opinion with a stranger in a drinking place and invited him out to get "done up." The Palmer man reckoned without his host, however, and got the worst of the "scrap." The affair took on much of the semblance of a prize fight, and was a disgraceful proceeding all around, but there was no officer about, and the onlookers rather seemed to enjoy the spectacle.

The pastor of the Congregational church begins next week instruction and drill in the Sunday school normal work according to the course marked out by the Massachusetts Sunday School Association. Those who take these lessons will be prepared for the examination of the State Association, for passing which a state diploma for normal training will be given. The lessons will ordinarily be given on Tuesday evenings from 7.30 to 8 o'clock, but the first lesson will be next Wednesday evening at 7.30. A general invitation is extended to all in town who are interested in Sunday school work to be present on Wednesday evening to hear of the proposed work and if they wish, to join the class. The normal work is entirely undenominational. Those who intend joining should take notebook and pencil.

It rained last Friday night somewhat, and the heavens threatened a downpour all Saturday forenoon. There were occasional slight showers—a sort of warming up of the machinery as it were, to see if everything was in good working order—up to about 3.30 in the afternoon, when, apparently satisfied that everything was in prime condition, the gates were opened and the rain came down in good earnest. And it kept steadily at it until about 10 o'clock Sunday night, 30 hours. There were occasional let-ups, but only for a fresh start, when the drops fell all the faster to make up for lost time. About 4½ inches of rain fell, the good of which cannot be calculated. Springs and streams were getting low, and fears for another water famine were beginning to be felt. Now there is little likelihood of a scarcity this winter.

The selectmen have appointed the following election officers: Precinct A, Palmer—Warden, A. E. Fitch; deputy warden, N. W. Chandler; clerk, J. A. Hawkes; deputy clerk, John Murphy 2d; inspectors, F. E. Cady and T. J. Conroy; deputy inspectors, J. Stever Knox and A. L. Warriner. Precinct B, Thorndike—Warden, H. T. Bishop; deputy warden, Dennis F. Sullivan; clerk, M. M. Thomas; deputy clerk, C. F. Mooers; inspectors, M. E. Keefe and John O. Hamilton; deputy inspectors, J. A. Kerigan and Thomas Hutchinson. Precinct C, Three Rivers—Warden, F. A. Ruggles; deputy warden, H. R. Paine; clerk, R. F. Twiss; deputy clerk, M. J. O'Connor; inspectors, J. H. Trickett and E. P. Brown; deputy inspectors, D. E. Tenney and J. J. Manning. Precinct D, Bondsville—Warden, H. A. Smith; deputy warden, C. E. Shumway; clerk, John F. Shea; deputy clerk, William Brown; inspectors, L. R. Holden and Michael Collins; deputy inspectors, H. L. Ryther and P. J. Fitzgerald.

Now that the work is fairly under way on the change of grades at the Ferrell crossing, the matter seems likely to give the selectmen as much trouble as they had in getting the matter started. Some time ago they found that the contractor was not putting in the kind of a roadbed which the decree called for, and "kicked." He stated that it "was as good as any road in town," but that didn't alter the determination of the board to have what the decree called for, and the contractor finally came to terms and agreed to surface the road with gravel. It has recently been discovered that the abutments were built 4½ inches too close together, and one is being torn down and rebuilt. In building the approaches to the cut under the tracks the decree says "commencing at a point in the highway 55 feet from the house of Mrs. Ferrell," when as a matter of fact the nearest point in the highway is 70 feet. The whole thing seems to be rather a mixed-up affair, and the selectmen have laid out the bounds as they should be and asked the Central Vermont road (whose engineer drew the plans on which the change was ordered) and the commissioners to ratify their action.

Some one sent Officer Studley out to the Point of Rocks Tuesday morning to gather in a drunk. He found his man and brought him to the lockup, but when he went to take him into court at 9 o'clock found him attempting to put on a woman's undervest which was not yet dry, and an examination of the bundle he had revealed several other garments, evidently stolen from some clothesline. The fellow gave his name as Frank A. Jones of Holyoke, and at first said he brought the articles from that city with him, but finally admitted that he stole them in Thorndike. He said he had slept in a barn Monday night, and being cold got up about 3 o'clock in the morning and walked to keep warm; he saw the clothes hanging on a line and appropriated them, but could not locate the place. He was held until this morning and word sent to Thorndike about the garments, but no claimant appeared. He was given two months in the house of correction. The man was not drunk on Tuesday, but he is terribly afflicted with St. Vitus' dance, which gives him the appearance of being intoxicated. The owner of the garments can have them by applying to Judge Robinson.

BONDSVILLE.

The three-years-old son of Mr. and Mrs. John Glaster died last Friday.

Patrick Shea, 25 years of age, died of typhoid fever at his home last Friday.

Mrs. Charles Holden spent a few days this week with her daughter, Mrs. Wood, in Chicopee.

H. F. Sedgwick has returned to his duties at Yale, after spending a few days with his father, Butler Sedgwick.

Miss Alice Merrifield has returned to her home, having spent a number of weeks with relatives in Bernardston and surrounding towns.

The marriage banns were published in St. Bartholomew's church last Sunday between William H. Norton of Huntington and Katherine G. Fenton of this village.

Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Armstrong were called to Littleton, N. H., by the death of Mrs. George Armstrong, formerly Miss Carrie Clark, daughter of Judson Clark of Springfield.

The chicken-pie supper served in the Methodist church vestry by the Ladies' Aid Society Wednesday evening was considered a success, both socially and financially. The supper was pronounced excellent, and about $27 was cleared.

Two Accidents.

Two accidents, one of which may prove fatal, occurred in the Boston Duck Co's. mill last week. Willard Butterfield, 14 years old, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Butterfield, was found Thursday morning lying between two card frames in an unconscious state with three gashes in his head, one over the right eye about four inches in length extending over the temple, and a three-cornered cut on the top of his head, the skull being fractured in two places. No one saw the accident, consequently no satisfactory conclusion can be arrived at as to how it occurred. He has only partially recovered, and the doctors are doubtful as to his recovery. The second victim was a Polander whose name is something like Balamack Warrack. He fell from a pile of cotton several feet to the floor, striking on his shoulder. At first it was feared that he had dislocated his shoulder, but an examination proved the contrary. Although pretty severely shaken up, he was not seriously injured.

THORNDIKE.

John Farrell has gone to Waterbury, Ct., where he has accepted a position.

W. H. Phinney of Boston has accepted a position in the market of Clark & Hastings.

Rev. Mr. Gerrish of Goshen will occupy the pulpit of the Congregational church on Sunday.

The King's Daughters will hold their next meeting Tuesday evening with Mrs. Charles Mooers.

Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Needham of Franklin are the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Charles McCarthy.

Politics is out of the question in this village at present, the only topic for conversation being the new electric road.

Mrs. John K. Walker has moved into the tenement recently occupied by E. E. Kendell, in Clark & Hastings's building.

The ladies of the Congregational church will give their annual harvest supper in the vestry of the church next Wednesday evening.

Fred Lafar has taken the agency for Mercury, a weekly paper which is having quite a sale, and which is published in Utica, N. Y.

Miss Foggarty of North Wilbraham has rooms in Loftus's building on Commercial street, where she has opened a cloak and dress-making establishment.

W. E. Woodbury and daughter of Campton Village, N. H., are expected here this week, and during their stay will be the guests of Mr. and Mrs. A. P. Adams.

There will be a game of football here tomorrow afternoon by two local teams; the best players will be selected to form a permanent team, with the hopes of securing games with teams in other villages.

The rain which fell on Saturday night and Sunday was a great blessing, and one that has been appreciated by those who were in need of water. The rivers and springs have been filled to overflowing as a result of the rain.

Among the many good things which the ladies of the Congregational church will offer at their harvest supper next Wednesday will be chicken-pie. Supper will be from 6 to 8 p. m., to be followed by an entertainment.

Those who wish to have their names added to the list of voters will remember that an opportunity will be given them to do so at the office of the Thorndike Co. on next Wednesday afternooon, from 2 to 4, when the board of registrars will be here for that purpose.

A man arrested at Palmer this week claims to have stolen a number of articles of clothing from some clothesline in Thorndike. Anyone missing clothing which they have reason to think was stolen may find the same by applying to the district court in Palmer.

Agnes, the five-years-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alexander Smith, met with what came near being a serious accident one day the past week. While on her way to school she was knocked down and run over by a team near the railroad crossing. Fortunately she was not injured seriously, escaping with but a few bruises.

THREE RIVERS.

John Collius of Worcester is stopping with his family here.

H. D. Geer has disposed of a thousand bushels of potatoes this fall.

Miss Annie Coley is home from Springfield, where she has spent a few weeks with relatives.

R. C. Newell has been confined to his house several days by illness.

Miss M. Allis of Montague was a guest at W. F. Johnson's a few days this week.

Mrs. Paige returned from Concord Saturday, where she spent a few weeks visiting relatives.

Fred Burlingame and son Laurie of Springfield spent a few days this week with relatives here.

Monday evening the Misses Twiss entertained a whist party at their home on Springfield street.

Mrs. F. E. Hillman is in Belchertown visiting her parents, where she will remain for a few months.

Mr. Webb of Springfield, W. Coleman's trainer, is here for a few weeks' visit with Mr. Coleman.

Mrs. Perry of Kingston, R. I., formerly a teacher in the public schools here, spent the week visiting friends in town.

Mrs. R. C. Newell's many friends mourn with her the death of her mother, who quietly passed away at her home in Agawam last Sunday.

St. Anne's church is soon to have a new pipe organ, which is to cost $2000. It has been ordered of Casavant & Co, of St. Hycient, Canada, and it is hoped will be here for Easter.

Next Sunday morning Rev. G. S. Butler will exchange pulpits with Rev. Mr. Jenkins of Palmer. In the evening Mr. Butler will endeavor to answer all the questions which have been put in the question box during the day.

Next Sunday E. A. Thomas of Newton Center will again preach in the Baptist church. It is expected that he will accept the call which the church has extended to him. Although Mr. Thomas has another place in view, the people here think they can make it an object for him to come in this direction. Mr. Thomas is yet a college man, and if he does decide to come here could be with his people only on Sundays. Nevertheless, his many good qualities as a speaker have made him many friends among the Baptists, and almost all vote to have him come.

Friends of Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Crane, for many years residents of this village, will be pained to learn of Mrs. Crane's death, which occurred at their home in Rochester, Minn., on the 24 inst. We take the following item from the Rochester Bulletin of that date:

Mrs. J. E. Crane passed away this morning at 11.30, after months of weariness and suffering. For several years she has been an invalid and last fall broke her hip, since which time she has not left her bed. Mrs. Crane was born in Wales, Mass., Jan. 21, 1822, her maiden name being Adaline V. Walker. In 1844 she married Mr. Crane and came with him to Minnesota in 1870. They have resided in the house in which she died, at the corner of Grove and Fourth streets, for 24 years. All of the children died in infancy but their son, Lauren E. Crane, who now lives in Minneapolis. Mrs. Crane was a cousin of Mrs. S. C. Abbott of this city.

Celebrated Her 99th Birthday.

Monday evening a party of thirty-five persons met at the home of Samuel Daudlin on East Main street, the occasion being the celebration of the 99th birthday of Mrs. Geniva Jasmain of Farnum, Canada, who is visiting her daughter, Mrs. Daudlin. The evening was pleasantly spent, and Mrs. Jasmain was presented with many tokens of the esteem which her relatives bear her. Of the four generations that were present the great-grandchildren were well represented, as seven of them were in attendance. The oldest great-granddaughter is nearing her twelfth year. In the year 1796, while George Washington was serving the last two years of his second term, Mrs. Jasmain was born in the quiet village of Chambly, P. Q., the next to the youngest in a family of 11. At 24 years of age she embarked on the sea of matrimony. Her husband, with whom she lived 63 years, was a chair maker by trade. He made, all by hand, those strong, high-backed commodities, a few specimens of which yet remain in the rural districts of Canada. Twelve years ago her husband was taken from her. He was coming home from the city one day in a severe storm, lost his way, and was frozen to death. Ten children are the fruit of the alliance, of whom the youngest, Mrs. Daudlin of this place, is 51 years old. As Mrs. Jasmain had reached the age of discretion when the war of 1812 broke out, she remembers many incidents of those stirring times. Although her father was too old to take an active part in the war, he assisted on one occasion to put many of the slain red-coats into their last resting place. Considering her age, she has a very vivid memory, and in speaking with her about the times when powdered hair and massive buckles were a la mode, one finds her very interesting. Her physical powers are not inferior to her intellect. Old age does not seem to be a great burden to her, as she yet dances and sings. She likes company, and a social gathering is her delight. During the day she busies herself with her knitting, but she modestly lets someone else finish the toes of the stockings, as she says she might possibly drop a stitch or two. Mrs. Jasmain does not know how to account for her longevity, but says it may be due to the fact that she worked hard all her life and took no care of her health. It may be hereditary, as she remembers a near relative of hers who reached her 109th year.

WEST WARREN.

Mr. and Mrs. James F. Davis are rejoicing over the birth of a son.

Charles B. Moore of Springfield is visiting his mother, Mrs. Dwight Orcutt.

Miss Rose A. Johnson and Mrs. Homer and children of Worcester are visiting at Miss D. P. Johnson's.

Dennis J. Haley, who was to start for Galveston, Texas, to accept a position in a mill there, was prevented by a sudden illness.

The weavers at the No. 4 mill went out on a strike Monday, which caused a lockout of the whole mill. They decided Tuesday to go back to work at the old prices.

Work on the new boiler house at the Warren Cotton Mill is being rapidly pushed. The building will be 40 by 82 feet, with a chimney 132 feet high. Steam pipes will be connected with No. 2 mill, which has been run by water. The company will put in an electric light plant for its own use.

A matter which is exciting considerable public interest and talk just now is the dismissal of Miss Ida Parsons, a teacher in the public schools, on the charge of improper conduct with W. T. Carlile, a well-known resident of this place. Miss Parsons and Carlile both boarded at a private boarding-house on Central street. About two weeks ago M. F. Bemis, proprietor of the boarding-house, went before the school committee and complained. The interested parties were summoned and Mrs. Bemis repeated the charge, which were absolutely denied by both Miss Parsons and Mr. Carlile. The evidence given by Mrs. Bemis was very weak, but on the strength of it Miss Parsons was dismissed from her school. Miss Parsons came to West Warren from Spencer last year and has been so successful in her work here that she was engaged for this year at an increase of salary. She was also active in the church and Epworth League work, and was very much respected by all who knew her, and public opinion seems to be in her favor. Mr. Carlile is also a man who has always borne an irreproachable reputation in the town, and there is liable to be some interesting developments in the case. Carlile has already employed a lawyer.

BRIMFIELD.

Porter A. Parker, whom the Republicans of the tenth Hampden district have nominated for the office of representative, was born in Brimfield Oct. 12, 1827, and is therefore 68 years old, though he has the appearance of being a younger man. He was the second son of Pennel Parker, a cabinet maker, who represented this district in the Legislature in 1840. Mr. Parker comes of an old Brimfield family, his grandfather, Major Nathaniel Parker, having settled in the town toward the close of the Revolutionary war. When a young man Porter Parker went to Worcester, where he worked at the carpenter's trade. He was successful in this business, but was called back to his native town by the failing health of his father, and has lived in Brimfield ever since. He purchased the Nathaniel Parker farm, situated near the old home and about half a mile south of the village. Here he set about making improvements upon the land; he remodeled the buildings, so that his home is one of the most attractive farmer's residences anywhere about. Mr. Parker is a practical and successful farmer. He has tried experiments and followed improved methods, and has made farming pay. He is a man of sound judgment, and this, backed by his experimental knowledge, makes him well qualified to represent the farming interests and able to throw light upon some of the agricultural problems which are now demanding attention. He is a man of firm principles, has served the town as selectman for a number of years and is now serving his second year as cattle inspector, but has declined rather than courted office.

A Double Wedding.

The pleasant home of George Thomas was the scene Monday evening of an unusual event, a double wedding. The brides were sisters, Misses Maud A. and Myrtie Bean, nieces of Mr. Thomas. The grooms were James S. George of Wales and Fred L. Knight of Wakefield. The ceremony was performed at 8.30 o'clock, Rev. R. J. Kyle officiating. Afterwards the wedding supper was served and an enjoyable evening was passed. Among those present were Mrs. Bean, mother of the brides, Rev. and Mrs. R. J. Kyle, Dr. and Mrs. Chamberlain, and Mrs. Knight and daughter of Wakefield, besides brothers and sisters on both sides and many other friends. Mr. and Mrs. Knight will make their home in Wakefield, and Mr. and Mrs. George will live in Wales, where Mr. George is engaged in business. The young people have the best wishes of a large circle of friends in their new life.

VARIOUS POLITICAL MATTERS.

Republican District Attorney Convention.

The district attorney convention for the Berkshire-Hampden district was held at Chester Monday morning. L. Z. Cutler of Springfield was chairman and John E Magenis of North Adams was secretary. John F. Moxon of Pittsfield presented the name of Charles L. Gardner of Palmer for district attorney, stating that the people of Berkshire had come down in accordance with a time-honored custom to find out what the Republicans of Hampden county wanted and give it to them; the people from over the mountain were not an office-seeking people, they abhorred the manner of politicians and shun dissension. They had at times accepted office when there was no one else in the district competent to fill the place. He would present the name of one who, from the honest, faithful and energetic discharge of his duties, had shown him to be highly fitted for the office and with a conception that could discriminate between the vicious and the weak who came before him. He had always held with respect and courtesy the attorneys who came in contact with him, and for those reasons and many more he could name, and because he believed in the past, present and future of the Republican party he esteemed it an honor to present the name of Charles L. Gardner of Palmer, whose nomination by acclamation followed. A. H. Goetting of Springfield, R. B. Crane of Westfield and D. P. Wood of Pittsfield were appointed a district committee, with power to call the next convention.

Ninth Hampden Representative Republican Convention.

Charles W. King called the delegates to the ninth Hampden representative Republican convention to order in Memorial Hall at Monson Monday afternoon. Charles A. Birnie of Longmeadow was chosen chairman and Carlos M. Gage of Monson secretary. The committee on credentials was made up of F. E. Clark of Wilbraham, W. H. Hall of Longmeadow and Rufus Fay of Monson; they reported 30 of the 31 delegates present. Four were without their credentials, but were allowed to vote. Carlos M. Gage then presented the name of Charles W. King of Monson as the nominee. He said that by the terms of the compact made 10 years ago the naming of the candidate this year was accorded to Monson, and the unanimous choice of the delegation in this town is Mr. King. He was educated in the public schools and Academy; for several years he has held a position of trust with one of our largest business firms; he is a consistent, thorough worker in the Republican party, is the secretary of the town committee and chairman of the district committee; he is in the prime of manhood, having the push of youth and sound common sense, and is conversant with all current affairs; from a moral standpoint none is more worthy, no dishonorable act can be laid to his charge; he is an influential church member, and is in every way to be respected. At the close of Mr. Gage's speech the excitement began. The old Longmeadow and East Longmeadow trouble burst forth afresh. W. F. Emerson of the former town arose and, prefacing his remarks with the statement that no objections whatever would be raised to Mr. King, proceeded to urge the claims of Longmeadow, saying that the nomination belonged last year to that place, but through no fault of its own it was lost to East Longmeadow. Chairman Birnie seconded Mr. Emerson's views, saying that although it might not be in good taste for the chair to speak, he came to the convention instructed to voice the claims of his town. He said also that the compact made ten years ago was regarded by the town a solemn one, and for eight years it worked on in good faith, thinking that its turn would find the other towns ready to do as they had been done by; every voter felt last year that the town had been ill-treated. Moses Warren of Hampden, who worked in the interest of East Longmeadow, replied that the compact had been carried out to the letter, that no provision was made for the division of a town, and that the town as a town had been represented whenever it's turn came, and he for one was ready to vote for Monson's man. Mr. Emerson and others regretted that town affairs must be brought into the convention, but it seemed unavoidable as feeling ran so high. Mr. King was finally chosen by acclamation. This district committee was elected: F. E. Clark of Wilbraham, C. W. King of Monson, Lyman Smith of Hampden, W. A. Lyon of Wales, W. H. Hall of East Longmeadow, W. F. Emerson of Longmeadow.

Tenth Hampden Representative Republican Convention.

The Republicans of the tenth Hampden representative district held their convention in the district court room in Palmer at noon on Tuesday. The convention was called to order by L. E. Chandler, H. E. W. Clark being chosen chairman and Albert E. Fuller of Ludlow secretary. The committee on credentials, C. F. Armstrong and F. N. Carpenter of Palmer and Edward Bliss of Brimfield, reported 22 of the 28 delegates present, 12 from Palmer, 6 from Ludlow and 4 from Brimfield. N. S. Hubbard of Brimfield then presented the name of Porter A. Parker of that town as a candidate for the nomination, saying for him that he was a thorough Republican, a man whom all could respect and trust, and one whom nothing could swerve from the path of duty as he saw it. His nomination by acclamation followed. The convention voted that the district committee for 1896 be composed of the chairmen of the town committees in the district, the Palmer member to be the chairman of the committee, with power to call the next convention.

Ninth Hampden Representative Democratic Convention.

The delegates to the ninth Hampden representative Democratic convention were called to order in Memorial Hall, Monson, Tuesday afternoon by Omar E. Bradway. Mr. Bradway was chosen chairman and Dr. Andrew D. Coleman secretary. The committee on credentials was composed of James Egan of Wilbraham and Herbert M. Smith of Monson; nine delegates were present, seven from Monson and two from Wilbraham, Wales, Hampden, Longmeadow and East Longmeadow not being represented. The name of Henry S. Moores of Monson was presented by Nelson A. Bugbee, while Judge George H. Newton presented that of William Sutcliffe, also of Monson. Mr. Sutcliffe received all of the seven ballots cast. The district committee for 1896 will be Ozro P. Royce of Wales, Joseph Baldwin of Wilbraham, M. Casey of Hampden, George Brewer of Longmeadow, M. A. Glynn of East Longmeadow and Omar E. Bradway of Monson.

The Republican County Convention.

As was expected, the A. P. A. attempted to down Sheriff Clark in the county convention at Springfield Tuesday, but was unsuccessful. When the nomination of a sheriff was in order a motion was made for a ballot, and an amendment quickly followed that Sheriff Clark be nominated by acclamation. A rising vote on the adoption of the amendment was called for, and it was adopted 55 to 40, after which Sheriff Clark was nominated by acclamation with only three voices dissenting. James M. Sickman of Holyoke was nominated by acclamation for county commissioner for three years, with Benjamin F. Burr of Ludlow and Harrison Loomis of West Springfield for special commissioners.

The Councilor Convention.

The eighth councilor district convention at Springfield on Tuesday was an exciting occasion, and the nomination was carried off by Charles A. Towne of Orange. The names of J. A. Lakin of Westfield, Alvan Barus of Goshen and C. A. Towne of Orange were presented to the convention, and the informal ballot resulted in 82 for Lakin, 31 for Barus, 80 for Towne, and 4 for N. S. Cutler of Greenfield. The second ballot showed a considerable falling off for both Barus and Lakin, and a corresponding gain for Towne, who was nominated on the third ballot, the vote standing, Towne 142, Lakin 50, Barus 29, Cutler 17; necessary for a choice, 120. It is said that Mr. Barus lost the nomination through the lateness of a train carrying 30 delegates friendly to him.

First Hampden Senatorial Republican Convention.

The Republican convention of the first Hampden senatorial district, comprising the towns of Palmer, Monson, Brimfield, Wales, Holland and Wilbraham, and the city of Springfield, was held in the district court room in Palmer Wednesday morning at 10 o'clock, being called to order by Col. A. H. Goetting of Springfield. Dr. R. V. Sawin of Brimfield was chosen chairman and C. H. Keplinger of Springfield secretary. The committee on credentials was Dr. G. E. Fuller of Monson, Judge George Robinson of Palmer and E. E. Towne of Springfield, who reported 46 of the 56 delegates present, 35 from Springfield, 4 from Palmer, 3 from Monson, 2 from Brimfield and 1 each from Wales and Holland; 7 of the Springfield delegation were absent, 1 from Monson, and the entire Wilbraham delegation, 2. S. West Sexton of Springfield presented the name of Senator Edward S. Bradford of Springfield for renomination, and a rising vote brought every delegate to his feet. F. A. Tucker of Springfield then presented the name of Col. A. H. Goetting as a member of the state committee from this district, with the statement that his services in the past justly entitled him to a renomination, which was unanimously given on the first ballot. It was voted that the district committee be composed of the chairmen of the several town committees, with the member of the state committee as chairman with power to call the next convention.

Tenth Hampden Representative Democratic Convention.

There were five delegates in the district court room in Palmer Wednesday noon when the Democratic

The Journal.

FRIDAY EVENING, OCTOBER 18, 1895.

NEIGHBORHOOD NOTES.

MONSON.

LOCAL NOTICES.

Prof. T. H. Treadway will commence his class for instruction in Dancing in Memorial Hall Monson, October 24; all the latest fashionable dances will be taught. Terms $5 for 12 lessons.

Mrs. Margaret Loker of Brooklyn is visiting friends in town.

Mrs. A. N. Gaouette and children are visiting at Palmer Center.

Voters may register next Tuesday between the hours of 7.30 a. m. and 9 p. m.

Charles W. King has been appointed treasurer of the Universalist church.

Mrs. McCollum of Goldsborough, Me., is visiting her daughter, Mrs. R. F. Bradway.

Mrs. Harlan Page of Germantown, Pa., is visiting her cousin, Miss Esther R. Holmes.

Miss J. V. Cantwell began her duties as instructor of music at the Academy Tuesday morning.

William E. Foley, ex-landlord of the Monson House, has stored his goods in Noble's block.

Rev. W. H. Marble will take for his subject Sabbath morning, "The Ability of Christ to Save."

The number at Hammond Hall has been increased by one, a son to Instructor and Mrs. W. E. Morse.

The intermediate school at No. 1, which was closed several days on account of scarlet fever, opened Monday.

Superintendent of schools, Miss Wood, and the teachers will attend the teachers' convention in Springfield the 28th.

Miss Elsie Lewis was married Wednesday afternoon to Eugene Marcy of Palmer by Rev. Harry Blackford at the Universalist parsonage.

The class of '98 at the Academy has organized with the following officers: President, Ernest S. Fuller; vice president, Helen M. Pease; secretary, Raymond H. Richards; treasurer, Allen J. Buffington.

Mrs. Halleck speaks on "Physiology," at the Palmer high school to-morrow morning at 9 o'clock, and the Monson teachers have been invited to attend.

The Current Events Club met with Mrs. F. W. Ellis Wednesday and reorganized. Mrs. Ellis was elected president and Miss Clara A. Wood secretary.

With the annual inspection at Grand Army Hall, next Wednesday afternoon, Marcus Keep Woman's Relief Corps celebrates the fifth anniversary of its organization.

Dr. Arthur T. Robinson, who graduated from the Albany medical hospital last spring, and has since taken a course in the New York maternity hospital, has settled at Mansfield, and his many friends wish him success.

Hoyt L. Conary, reader, who appeared at Memorial Hall Monday evening under the auspices of the Ladies' Benevolent Society, gave an entertainment of the sort Monson people fancy. With two exceptions his selections were humorous, and his entire programme was one of the best heard in town for some time.

The electric railway question does not appear to agitate the minds of Monson people to any great extent. Some of course are much in favor of it, and some are not; many who did not favor it at all six months ago have changed their minds, and now favor the project. Some quiet but effectual work for it has been done, and it is safe to say that work has also been done by the opposition. However, the average man is apparently in a state of apathy regarding it. This evening's hearing at the selectmen's room at 8 o'clock may disclose surprises, however.

The storm which visited Monson from Friday afternoon to Monday morning was the most severe since the flood of 1869. The rain precipitation was 5.25 inches. Although no serious damage was done, many cellars in low quarters were partly filled with water, one to the depth of four feet. It is thought that had the rain continued much longer the dams along Chicopee brook would have given way. Dr. George E. Fuller, who has kept the weather record for about 15 years, has very kindly given us an interesting report of the precipitation for the past ten years: Months when it has exceeded seven inches: August, 1887, 7.98 inches; September, 1888, 7.44; January, 1891, 7.33; February, 1893, 7.40. Months when the precipitation has been less than one inch: May, 1887, .79 inches; November, 1890, .89; April, 1892, .44; February, 1895, .95. Storms for ten years when the precipitation has exceeded two inches: Storm ending November 9, 1885, 2.45 inches; February 15, 1886, 3.80; October 31, 1886, 2.94; June 24, 1881, 3.20; July, 1887, 4.53; August 18, 1887, 3.66; February 20, 1888, 2.22; March 13, 1888, 4.25 (blizzard, with 39 inches of snow); September 24, 1888, 3.68; December 18, 1888, 4.30; July 31, 1889, 2.35; November 28, 1889, 2.53; July 26, 1890, 3.25; September 18, 1889, 2.40; October 25, 1890, 2.43; January 22, 1891, 2.04; October 24, 1893, 2.05; September 30, 1895, 2.05; October 14, 1895, 5.25.

The Monson Historical society held an adjourned meeting Wednesday evening, some difficulty having been experienced in getting a quorum which was necessary for the election of officers. The required number were present Wednesday evening, and made choice of the following officers: Councilors, Arthur D. Norcross, Judge George H. Newton, Dr. Fred W. Ellis, Edward F. Morris, William L. Ricketts, George C. Flynt, Rev. Harry Blackford, Dr. George E. Fuller, Carlos M. Gage; president, A. D. Norcross; vice president, Dr. George E. Fuller; clerk, William L. Ricketts; treasurer, G. C. Flynt; auditor, C. M. Gage; historian, Judge G. H. Newton. Eleven persons were admitted to membership, and several applications for membership were made. G. H. Newton is to carry out the plan of a gathering of old men, which the late William N. Flynt conceived some two years ago, and which was to have taken place on the day of his death. Mr. Newton, as historian of the society, hopes to get much interesting and valuable local history from the reminiscences of these men, so a very pleasant day will be combined with that which will aid the society materially when the history is written. All who were invited to Mr. Flynt's picnic, also all members of the Historical society, are invited to assemble at Memorial Hall next Thursday at 11 a. m. Dinner will be served by Marcus Keep Woman's Relief Corps in Grand Army Hall. There will be a memorial service to Mr. Flynt.

BELCHERTOWN.

A genuine old-fashioned husking took place last Friday evening at the home of A. W. Stacy. The large barn was well filled with both old and young, and a very enjoyable evening was passed, the "red ears" being found in abundance. Refreshments were served at the house after the husking.

Mr. and Mrs. G. L. King were given a pleasant surprise at their home last evening, the occasion being Mr. King's birthday. A large number of relatives and friends were present. Later in the evening the party adjourned to the G. A. R. hall, where dancing and grmes were enjoyed.

WARREN.

Mrs. Stone of Worcester is the guest of Mrs. William Powers.

John Wetherbee and wife have left town for their home in Florida.

Dr. Abbie Tyler of Washington, D. C., has been stopping with friends in town a few days.

Mrs. Sherwin of Springfield has been stopding a few days with her sister, Mrs. A. Fairbanks.

The school board at its last meeting voted to purchase flags for the high school building, the Reed street and Bemis school buildings.

The Clara Barton Post has engaged to furnish entertainments in the town hall, the New York Bijou Company, comprising eight musicians, readers and character impersonators. Each entertainment will close with a social hop.

WALES.

Clifford Needham is quite sick with typhoid fever.

C. G. Needham is painting for J. A. Breckenridge of Palmer.

J. C. Burly and wife have returned from a visit in Connecticut.

Mrs. Head of Camden, Me., is visiting her sister, Mrs. W. A. Lyon.

Mrs. Joseph A. Webber of Worcester is visiting her sister, Miss Sarah Shaw.

The Excelsior woolen mill shut down last Wednesday and all hands went to the Stafford fair.

A. E. Freeman has been confined to his room this week with his old complaint, neuralgia and rheumatism.

Town Treasurer Lyon is fitting up a room in the town house in which to keep the books of the town, which have been scattered promiscuously about town.

J. A. Breckenridge of Palmer, with four men, has commenced to paint Shaw's block, and it is reported will paint the Baptist church when the block is finished.

Mr. Green, an old soldier and pensioner, aged 58 years, died last Saturday with Bright's disease. He had been confined to his room for a long time, suffering severe pain. Burial was in Coventry, Ct., his native place.

H. A. McFarland has traded the Smith home on Main street to Misses Annie and Orrill B. Shaw for their farm, and has sold the farm to Annie Sizer. The Shaws have moved into their new purchase, and Mrs. Sizer has settled on her farm.

The Baptist Sunday school harvest concert was postponed last Sunday on account of the rain, and will be held next Sunday evening. The school has had an annual harvest concert for twenty-five years, and has often entertained an audience of 300 people

One of our business men started for Palmer about 4 o'clock last Saturday morning; when going down Foskit Hill he espied a bundle resembling a chicken in shape, but on examination he found it had a cork in it, and was not the kind that needed singeing, but would more likely singe the fellow who drank it. He has it in safe keeping for the rightful owner, if he will prove property.

On account of her health Miss L. Howlett has resigned her position as teacher of the grammar school in the Center, and Miss Bertha Bryant has been engaged to fill the vacancy. Miss Howlett is a teacher of much experience, but her health has been feeble most of the time for several years; it is feared she may have to entirely give up teaching and pursue some other vocation, much to the regret of herself and the community.

WARE.

The Republicans are the first to run out a campaign flag.

A party of G. A. R. veterans and others made a husking bee for W. H. Gibbs last Friday night. He is still confined to the house on account of his encounter with an enraged bull.

Mrs. J. W. Cummings was given a surprise party recently by about 20 members of the Grange, it being her birthday. The party left a pleasing reminder of the occasion in a set of fruit knives.

Patrick Glancy, the milkman, and his son were thrown from their milk cart on Maple street Sunday by a telephone wire getting down sufficiently low to catch the top of the cart. They were not seriously injured.

Beecham's pills for constipation 10c and 25c. Get the book at your druggist's and go by it.

Annual sales more than 6,000,000 boxes.

A Novel Idea.

It is free, and deeply interests everybody who has aches or pains, or who is weak or sickly. Anyone can learn the surest and quickest means to get strong and well by accepting that splendid free offer of the great specialist in curing nervous and chronic diseases, Dr. Greene, of 34 Temple Place, Boston, Mass. He has established a system of letter correspondence through which all sick and suffering people can learn exactly what ails them, and how to get well, without expense and without leaving their homes. All they have to do is to write to the Doctor, stating each symptom from which they are suffering, and he will answer their letter, explaining their case thoroughly, telling just what the trouble is and what to do to be cured. He gives the greatest care and attention to every letter, and tells the cause of each symptom so plainly that patients understand instantly just what ails them. And all this costs nothing. It is a splendid opportunity for those who cannot afford the time or expense to go to the city. Dr. Greene makes a specialty of curing patients through letter correspondence. He is the most successful specialist in curing nervous and chronic diseases, and is the discoverer of that wonderful medicine, Dr. Greene's Nervura, blood and nerve remedy. Those who write to him get cured.

Our Men's

Waterproof Shoes

are just what every man wants for an out-door shoe. They will keep your feet warm and dry. We have sold this shoe for over five years and know what they are.

They only cost $3.00.

Our stock of men's and ladies' shoes far surpass anything we ever have been able to carry.

Good Shoes at Living Prices, and no shoddy shoes at any price, is the way we have built up our business.

Geo. L. Fuller,

the distributor of fine fitting shoes.

Monson, - Mass.

ROYAL BAKING POWDER.

ABSOLUTELY PURE.

A cream of tartar Baking Powder. Highest of all in leavening power.—Latest United States Government Food Report.

ROYAL BAKING POWDER CO., 106 Wall Street, New York.

The matter of an electric road from Warren to Ware and on to Gilbertville is again being agitated, and some good business men seem to think it would be a paying investment. It is said that there are many Ware people ready to invest money in an electric company.

An alarm of fire was given yesterday afternoon at 4.30 for a fire in the house of George Breckenridge about a mile and a half out of the village, near the road to Greenwich. The house and shed were a total loss, but nearly all the furniture was saved. House insured in the Lincoln agency of Warren.

Forbes & Wallace's,

Springfield.

Millinery.

Ready-to-wear-hats and bonnets are going as fast as we can make them up; and yet we have more than our usual share of work for millinery to be made to order.

The difference between our styles and others is the difference of opinion in what we and they think most acceptable to women of taste. We seem to have hit it rightly, since we are doing so much more business than ever.

Main floor of Pynchon street building.

There's a way to make trade in silverware as brisk as trade in coats and capes—or anything else in the store; sell it at half the usual price, as we are doing with this lot.

Three piece sets—sugar, creamer and spoon holder at $4.87 and $6.98.

Four piece sets—teapot, sugar, creamer and spoon holder at $8.48.

Berry dishes at $2.75; pickle jars at $2.25, $2.50, $4.75; shaving mugs at 75 cents; odd spoon holders at $1.25; three piece lunch sets at $1.50.

Basement.

Furs.

We can have your old ones made over, cleaned and refinished without too much charge.

Our variety of inexpensive coats and capes of furs is considerable; more than we have usually had; over $30 the assortment is always big.

Main floor of Pynchon street building.

Heavier Underwear.

Here under one roof are almost all the sorts of heavier underwear for men or women; and every sort is sold to the customer's advantage. It's a handy place to buy. It ought to be the best place to buy.

We are the agents in Springfield for Dr. Jaeger's sanitary underwear for women; no better underwear to be had. We have the best sorts of all the other celebrated makes.

Cartwright & Watner.
American Hosiery Co.
Springfield Knitting Co.

South store.

FORBES & WALLACE.

Main, Vernon and Pynchon streets, Springfield, Mass.

Bicycle Repairing

in all its branches.

Bicycles to rent.

E. A. Buck & Co.,

Cross Block, Palmer.

POSTAL

Telegraph and Cable Co.

Office in Strong's Block,

PALMER, : : : : MASS.

Direct wires to New York and Boston. Office in all the principal cities in the

UNITED STATES.

PROMPT SERVICE,

REASONABLE RATES,

ALL BUSINESS

STRICTLY CONFIDENTIAL.

Piano and Banjo Lessons

given by

Misses Annie and Carrie Fish,

22-tf Palmer.

F. F. MARCY, PALMER, MASS.
Wholesale and Retail Dealer in

ALL KINDS OF LUMBER AND SHINGLES

Windows, doors, blinds, mouldings. Carpenters' and joiners' work done to order.

Also FIRE BRICK and CLAY for sale.

Yard and shop at junction of B. & A. and N. L. N. Railroads—west of Depot.

A. H. HITCHCOCK,
OPTICIAN,

331 Main Street, Springfield, Mass.

Spectacles and Eye Glasses of all kinds.
Artificial eyes furnished.
Oculists' prescriptions promptly and accurately filled.
Mail orders solicited. 13-25

.... J. M. BRUCE, ...
AGENT FOR THE
TROWBRIDGE UPRIGHT PIANOS.
Trowbridge Pianos for Tone.
Trowbridge Pianos for Action.
Trowbridge Pianos for Fine Cases.
PIANOS TUNED, REGULATED and REPAIRED.
Office, Room 25, Main St. P. O. Box 166.
SPRINGFIELD, - MASS.

DR. O. P. Roller,
Dentist.

Teeth extracted without pain by a new system. The latest methods in dentistry employed.
Office hours from 8 a. m. to 4.30 p. m.

Lawrence Block, Palmer, Mass.

THE DOCTOR PRESCRIBES.
WE DO THE DISPENSING.
BRING YOUR PRESCRIPTIONS TO US. WE USE ONLY THE BEST DRUGS,
AND THE GREATEST CARE IN COMPOUNDING.
WHILE WAITING GET A GLASS OF COLD SODA.
IT IS THE BEST THAT CAN BE MADE.

At LeGRO & LYNDE'S,

Next to Post Office,

Palmer, - - Mass.

COMMONWEALTH OF MASSACHUSETTS.—HAMPDEN COUNTY, ss. Superior Court. October 2d, A. D., 1895.

Seth W. Smith and Herbert W. Smith, both of Palmer, in said county, co-partners doing business under the firm name of Smith & Company, Plaintiffs. Dora E. Parks of said Palmer, Defendant.

This is an action of contract to recover $2000 as by writ on file, dated the nineteenth day of March, A. D., 1895.

It now appearing upon the suggestion of the Plaintiff's council, that the Defendant is not an inhabitant of this Commonwealth, nor was resident therein at the time of the service of the writ in this case; and it further appearing, on the inspection of the officer's return, that the Defendant has no last and usual place of abode, nor any tenant, agent, or attorney known to the said officer, and that no personal service was made upon the said Defendant.

It is now ordered by the court that the Plaintiffs give notice to the said Defendant, of the pendency of this action, by causing an attested copy of this order to be published in the Palmer JOURNAL, a public newspaper printed at Palmer, in the County of Hampden and State of Massachusetts, once a week, three weeks successively, the last publication to be at least thirty days before the first Monday of December next, or by causing the Defendant to be served with an attested copy of this order fourteen days at least before the said first Monday of December, that she may then and there appear, and take upon herself the defense of this action. And that this action be continued until notice shall be given to the said Defendant, agreeably to this order.

ROBERT O. MORRIS, Clerk.

A true copy.
Attest:—ROBERT O. MORRIS, Clerk.
3-27

COMMONWEALTH OF MASSACHUSETTS.—HAMPDEN, SS. PROBATE COURT.—To the heirs at law, next of kin, and all other persons interested in the estate of Caroline C. Harvey, late of Palmer, in said county, deceased.

Whereas, a certain instrument, purporting to be the last will and testament of said deceased, has been presented to said Court for probate by Charles B. Fiske of said Palmer, who prays that letters testamentary may be issued to him, the executor therein named.

You are hereby cited to appear at a probate court to be held at Springfield, in said county of Hampden, on the sixth day of November, A. D., 1895, at nine o'clock in the forenoon, to show cause, if any you have, why the same should not be granted.

And said petitioner is hereby directed to give public notice thereof, by publishing this citation once in each week, for three successive weeks, in the Palmer JOURNAL, a newspaper published in said Palmer, the last publication to be one day at least before said Court, and by mailing, postpaid, or delivering a copy of this citation to all known persons interested in the estate, seven days at least before said Court.

Witness, WILLIAM S. SHURTLEFF, Esquire, Judge of said Court, this second day of October, in the year of our Lord one thousand eight hundred and ninety-five.

3-27 SAMUEL B. SPOONER, Register.

Reduction.

We will make a special

10 per cent Reduction

on all our

Wall Papers,
Friezes,
Borders,
Mouldings, etc.,

for the next

Sixty Days.

Call and See us.
Next Door to Post Office.

LeGro & Lynde,

Palmer, Mass.

Insurance

of every kind placed at short notice, and all favors duly appreciated.

Yours truly,

S. H. HELLYAR.

Wanted.

Agents, Local or Traveling on Salary or Commission, to sell our

Warranted Stock.

Sold with a guarantee, at reasonable prices. Steady work and good pay assured. New methods and new specialties. Outfit free, experience unnecessary. Now is the time to commence.

Address, H. B. Williams, Sec'y.

Chautauqua Nursery Co.,

Portland, N. Y.

Milk and Cream.

Maple Lawn Milk Farm.

O. D. Wells, Proprietor.

Fine Confectionery.

Walter M. Lowney's CHOCOLATE BON BONS,

At Smith's,

59 Main Street, - - Palmer.

WANTED---An Honest, Intelligent Man

of good standing as agent in this territory for The Northwestern Mutual Life Insurance Company. The Northwestern is the largest of the purely mutual companies, having $80,000,000 of assets, with but $65,000,000 liabilities, thus holding upon its credit side of accounts $15,000,000 surplus. Its dividends are by far larger than any other company in the world. Its interest rates have been for 20 years the highest, while its death rates have been lowest among the leading companies. With these attractions the Northwestern is to-day the easiest company in the field to work, simply because it is easily known to be The Best. The right man may find a good business by addressing J. G. Clark, General Agent, 432 Main Street, Springfield, Mass. 4-28

Gross Surplus, Dec. 31, 1894.		Ratio of Assets to Liabilities, Dec. 31, 1894.		Ratio of Surplus to Liabilities, Dec. 31, 1894.		Assurance in force, Dec. 31, 1894.
Equitable.....	$37,481,069	Equitable.....	$125.40%	Equitable.....	$25.40%	Equitable...	$913,556,733
Mutual.....	22,729,570	Mutual.....	112 55 "	Mutual.....	12.55 "	Mutual.....	854,710,761
New York.....	21,576,751	New York.....	115 30 "	New York.....	15 30 "	New York...	813,294,160
Northwestern..	14,100,876	Northwestern....	123 83 "	Northwestern.....	23 83 "	Northwestern	340,697,569
Mutual Benefit	3,862,742	Mutual Benefit...	107.46 "	Mutual Benefit....	7.46 "	Mutual Benefit	209,369,528
Conn. Mutual..	7,763,270	Conn. Mutual....	114 25 "	Conn. Mutual.....	14.25 "	Conn. Mutual	156,686,871
Ætna.....	6,859,919	Ætna.....	119.55 "	Ætna.....	19.55 "	Ætna.....	135,907,796
Penn Mutual..	2,334,600	Penn Mutual.....	110 34 "	Penn Mutual.....	10.34 "	Penn Mutual	126,537,075

Cash Dividends Paid in 1894.		Income Saved for Investment in 1894.
Equitable.....	$2,139,735	Equitable...	$16,243,243
Mutual.....	1,308,345	Mutual.....	14,877,638
New York.....	1,681,755	New York.....	12,343,884
Northwestern....	1,261,325	Northwestern..	8,785,132
Mutual Benefit...	1,674,264	Mutual Benefit.	2,192,565
Conn. Mutual....	1,265,415	Conn. Mutual..	620,199
Ætna.....	806,859	Ætna.....	1,689,380
Penn Mutual.....	750,281	Penn Mutual...	2,098,396

Increase in Interest Income in Ten Years, 1885-'94.		Increase in Assets in Ten Years, 1885-'94.
Equitable...	$4,658,645	Equitable....	$127,173,189
Mutual.....	3,882,786	Mutual.....	100,194,322
New York.....	4,176,360	New York....	103,551,792
Northwestern...	2,215,320	Northwestern.	50,750,484
Mutual Benefit.	991,896	Mutual Benefit	17,049,069
Conn. Mutual...	431,179	Conn. Mutual	8,801,432
Ætna.....	534,458	Ætna.....	12,219,441
Penn Mutual....	692,894	Penn Mutual..	15,251,383

Increase in Total Income in Ten Years, 1885-'94.		Increase in Surplus in Ten Years, 1885-'94.
Equitable....	$28,666,246	Equitable...	$27,017,995
Mutual.....	26,661,211	Mutual.....	16,652,664
New York.....	22,650,562	New York.....	14,883,707
Northwestern..	11,610,159	Northwestern..	10,593,993
Mutual Benefit	4,266,385	Mutual Benefit	722,365
Conn. Mutual..	404,565	Conn. Mutual..	3,553,853
Ætna.....	2,578,971	Ætna.....	1,890,053
Penn Mutual..	4,239,844	Penn Mutual...	1,052,549

Increase in Payments to Policy-Holders in Ten Years, 1885-'94.		Income Saved for Investment in Ten Years, 1885-'94.		Surplus Earned in 10 Years, 1885-'94.		Increase in Assurance in Force in Ten Years, 1885 '94.
Equitable...	$12,278,566	Equitable....	$126,000,761	Equitable.....	$46,259,509	Equitable...	$604,147,562
Mutual.....	7,166,195	Mutual.....	91,621,748	Mutual.....	41,384,129	Mutual.....	502,921,476
New York.....	8,930,048	New York.....	97,643,828	New York.....	33,993,408	New York....	583,911,574
Northwestern..	2,665,193	Northwestern.	48,421,138	Northwestern..	21,098,950	Northwestern.	241,903,587
Mutual Benefit	2,619,123	Mutual Benefit	16,775,122	Mutual Benefit	14,798,901	Mutual Benefit	73,525,985
Conn. Mutual..	687,506	Conn. Mutual.	8,633,528	Conn. Mutual..	15,502,406	Conn. Mutual	4,456,186
Ætna.....	1,142,909	Ætna.....	11,838,533	Ætna.....	8,266,010	Ætna.....	51,244,205
Penn Mutual...	2,068,353	Penn Mutual..	15,001,784	Penn Mutual..	6,843,544	Penn Mutual..	82,557,215

The Best of All

In All Things at all Times.

There are many GOOD life insurance companies, but among them all there must be one BEST. THE BEST is THE EQUITABLE. If you wish to know why, send for: 1, the report of the Superintendent of Insurance for the State of New York on the examination of The Equitable; 2, for actual results of maturing policies; 3, for statement of death claims paid in 1894. Then you will know the three great reasons of the Equitable's supremacy: 1st, its financial stability; 2d, its great profits and advantages to living policy-holders; 3d, the promptness of its payments and liberality of its settlements.

The Equitable Life Assurance Society

Of the United States.

JAS. W. ALEXANDER, Vice-President. H. B. HYDE, President.
HENRY K. SIMONS, Manager,

425 MAIN STREET, - SPRINGFIELD, MASS.

ASSETS, $185,044,310. SURPLUS, $37,481,069.

New Fall Dress Goods.

Plaids have the call, and we show an elegant assortment in 75c, 50c, 25c, and 10c lines.

Teazle Downs are great goods for wrappers and children's wear, and the styles equal to all-wool goods.

In Black Goods the lines are complete in Henriettas, Serges, Cords, and Figured Mohairs.

New Buttons, Braids, and Trimmings. Gloves and Hosiery.

Domestic Department, largest and best assortment shown in the last ten years.

Blankets and Comfortables

at lowest prices.

J. B. Shaw; Feeney's Block, Main Street, Palmer.

Blankets, Blankets, Blankets.

See those gray and white cheap blankets. You'll surely buy a few pairs.

Comfortables.

Our stock of comfortables is unusually large and attractive this year, and the quality far ahead of previous years. The prices very reasonable

Underwear.

Ladies' Jersey underwear, 25c and 50c. Ladies' white-footed hose, 25c.

Men's gloves and mittens.

Full line of floor oil cloths.

W. E. STONE,

Lawrence Block, Palmer.

To be delivered now, subject to advance at any time. We furnish good men to house and bin same. All coal is screened and delivered in bags.

The Lehigh is as good as any we ever sold. The Lackawanna is the best prepared coal that comes to market for domestic use.

Prices will be higher.

Send your order by postal card or leave it at our office.

SEE OUR PRICES FOR COAL

Prices for Lackawanna:
Stove size, - $5.35 per ton.
Chestnut, - 5.35 " "
Furnace, - 5.25 " "

Prices for Lehigh:
Stove size, - $5.50 per ton.
Chestnut, - 5.50 " "
Furnace, - 5.40 " "

Less than (1) one ton 25 cent added for the load.

Delivered in Bags,
which will save expense of housing in many cases.

October 1, 1895.

R. M. & Theo. Reynolds.

Monson, Mass.

Everybody Knows

What the young man's fancy turns to in the spring, but the poet has neglected to inform us what he cogitates about in the fall. We guess FURNITURE.

Young Man! We are your friends. You have our best wishes and you can have our Furniture for a small consideration. We can furnish your house from attic to cellar with the newest of furnishings, cheaper than you can buy old or out-of-date goods. Come and be convinced. Easy terms.

Talk About

Good Heaters and Ranges, where can you find an equal to the "Premium."

Its the greatest heater in the world. Just the same about our Ranges, too.

The Herald B and the Sumner Grand Ranges Lead the World.

RIGHT PRICES AND EASY TERMS.

Heaters from $5 up—and that is for the best Heaters in the world, too.

E. Luther & Co.,

Complete House Furnishers.

Main St., Opp. Court Sq., Springfield.

Some ladies dread to buy their Millinery

for the simple reason that they rather not rely on their own taste, and some dealers sell them anything.

Not so with us—we recommend what our judgement tells us to be suitable for the wearer.

We furnish style

and ask less for our goods than anybody else, because this policy brings us most all the trade around here.

S. LEVISON,

350 Main St., Springfield.

.....Wholesale and Retail Millinery.....

DR. S. H. ELLERY,

VETERINARY SURGEON AND DENTIST.
Graduate Chicago Veterinary College.
Residence, Nassowanno House.
Office and stable, Central street.
PALMER, MASS.

PALMER SAVINGS BANK, PALMER, MASS.

Hours from 9 a. m. to 3 p. m.

President,
H. G. LOOMIS.
Vice Presidents,
GEO. MOORES, T. D. POTTER, C. H. HOBBS.
Secretary,
WM. W. LEACH.
Treasurer,
H. W. McGREGORY.
Trustees,
James B. Shaw, E. G. Hastings, C. H. Hobbs, George Moores, R. C. Newell, Geo. E. Buck, H. G. Loomis, F. F. Marcy, A. L. Hills, T. D. Potter, H. Waid, Wm. Holbrook, H. P. Holden, Wm. W. Leach, C. F. Grosvenor, Jas. S. Loomis, C. L. Gardner, H. W. McGregory
Board of Investment,
Geo. Mooers, H. G. Loomis, E. G. Hastings, C. H. Hobbs, James B. Shaw.
Auditors,
Wm. W. Leach. A. L. Hills.

L. H. HENDEE, M. D.,

OFFICE AND RESIDENCE, PLEASANT ST.
Office hours 7 to 10 a. m., and 1 to 3 and 7 to 9 p. m.

WANTED SALESMEN. We want one or two good men in each county to take orders for a choice line of Nursery Stock or Seed Potatoes. Stock and seed guaranteed. We can give you steady employment with good pay. It will cost you nothing to give it a trial. State when writing which you prefer to sell. Address

The Hawks Nursery Co.,
Rochester, N. Y.

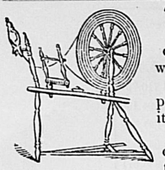
C. H. HOBBY, PIANO TUNER.

Orders for tuning may be left at O. P. Allen's drug store, Palmer; or may be sent to me by mail to Mansfield, Ct.

WALL PAPERS,
MOULDINGS, ETC.,
AT MASON'S, PALMER.

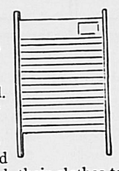
MR. J. B. LONGWILL, having leased Mr. Campbell's blacksmith shop, will endeavor to do what is right by the general public, in prices to suit all parties. Horse shoeing a specialty.

tf-7 SOUTH MAIN STREET, PALMER.



Too Slow

in making clothes, this was. It had to go. And yet people thought it a pretty good thing in its day. Some of them couldn't believe, all at once, that there was anything better. Just so with every improvement. The old way always has some benighted ones who cling to it to the last.



Too Fast

in ruining clothes, un-making them—that's the trouble with the washboard. But it's going now and going fast, to join the spinning-wheel. Women find it doesn't pay to rub their clothes to pieces over it. They can wash better with Pearline. Less work, less wear, no ruinous rub, rub, rub.

That's the modern way of washing—safe, easy, quick, cheap. No wonder that many women have thrown away the washboard.

Beware of imitations. 378 JAMES PYLE, N. Y

McSwatters—"It's very funny." Mrs. McSwatters—"What is?" McSwatters—"Why, when the doctor treats me I always have to pay for it."—Syracuse Post.

There is no medicine so often needed in every home and so admirably adapted to the purposes for which it is intended, as Chamberlain's Pain Balm. Hardly a week passes but some member of the family has need of it. A toothache or headache may be cured by it. A touch of rheumatism or neuralgia quieted. The severe pain of a burn or scald promptly relieved and the sore healed in much less time than when medicine has to be sent for. A sprain may be promptly treated before inflammation sets in, which insures a cure in about one-third of the time otherwise required. Cuts and bruises should receive immediate treatment before the parts become swollen, which can only be done when Pain Balm is kept at hand. A sore throat may be cured before it becomes serious. A troublesome corn may be removed by applying it twice a day for a week or two. A lame back may be cured and several days of valuable time saved, or a pain in the side or chest relieved without paying a doctor bill. Procure a 50 cent bottle at once and you will never regret it.

"I would rather trust that medicine than any doctor I know of," says Mrs. Hattie Mason of Chilton, Carter Co., Mo., in speaking of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhœa Remedy.

Every mother should know that croup can be prevented. The first symptom of true croup is hoarseness. This is followed by a peculiar rough cough. If Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is given freely as soon as the child becomes hoarse or even after the cough has developed it will prevent the attack. 25 and 50 cent bottles.

The above remedies are for sale by O. P. Allen, Palmer; Charles E. Mason, Three Rivers; A. P. Adams, Thorndike; G. L. Keeney, Monson; John D. Smith, Ware.

Blood

(Trade Mark Registered.)

Wine,

The Great French Hospital Remedy.

Cures Nervous Diseases and Stomach Troubles As if By magic And Is a Great Blood Purifier.

Blood Wine will positively cure all forms of nervous troubles, however caused; we back this statement up with a guarantee to refund the money in any case where the patient is not entirely cured after using a limited amount of the medicine. Why pay one dollar for medicine that will only give you temporary relief, when you can buy Blood Wine for 50 cents and be permanently cured. Blood Wine contains no wine or opiates, and is perfectly safe to give to children. It is not a beverage and cannot be used as such. Over 700,000 bottles of this wonderful medicine have been sold in the six New England states the last year. What a record. Blood Wine stands to-day at the head, and is a

SMITH'S Pure Spices and Low Prices.

59 Main St., Palmer,

CENTRAL VERMONT RAILROAD.

NEW LONDON DIVISION.

TAKING EFFECT SEPTEMBER 30, 1895.

TRAINS GOING SOUTH.

Leave Brattleboro, 5.40 and 10.25 a. m. and 4.25 p. m. for New London, connecting at Millers Falls with Fitchburg R. R., at Belchertown with Central Massachusetts R. R., and at Palmer with B. & A. R. R. for Worcester, Boston, Springfield, at New London with the N. Y. N. H. & H. R. R.

Leave Amherst, 7.05 a. m., 12.13 and 5.57 p. m.

Leave Palmer, 7.05 and 8.40 a. m., 1.50 and 7.15 p. m.

Leave Willimantic for New London, 8.35, 10.10 a. m. 3.25, 6.40 and 8.45 p. m.

GOING NORTH.

Leave New London, 5.20 and 7.40 a m, 2.30 and 5.25 p. m.

The 5.20 and 7.40 a. m. and 5.25 p. m. run through to Brattleboro and make connections for the north.

Leave New London for Willimantic and intermediate stations, 10.00 a. m.

Leave Palmer for Brattleboro, 8.20, 11.00 a. m. and 8.00 p. m, connecting with express for Montreal. Also with Grand Trunk R. R. for the West.

Leave Palmer for Amherst, 8.20 and 11.00 a. m. and 8.00 p. m.

SUBJECT TO CHANGE WITHOUT NOTICE.

D. MACKENZIE, Supt. J. A. SOUTHARD, D. P. A. New London, Ct.

S. W. CUMMINGS, G. P. A., St. Albans.

FOR ALL KINDS OF JOB PRINTING CALL AT THE JOURNAL OFFICE.

The Traveller's Joy.

There's joy in having horses that can travel long and fast;
There's joy in having income that is pretty sure to last;
There's bliss in winning laurels to adorn your massive brow.
To wear 'em when you want 'em, in the futnre or just now.

There's joy in being loved by one, the tenant of your heart;
There's joy in being clever, and there's joy in being smart;
There's joy in going yatching, and there's bliss in good cigars;
There's joy in walking on the earth while dreaming of the stars.

Some say there's bliss in climbing up the lofty icy Alps;
The Indians gets a deal of fun from lifting people's scalps;
The coster, so the poem says, loves jumping on his ma;
The broker loves to watch his stocks go skipping up to par.

There's joy in having chil'dren that will sit upon your knee,
And make you tell 'em stories every evening after tea.
There's bliss in seeing wondrous sights of nature and of art;
There's joy in eating pudding, and there's some in eating tart.

But best of all the joys I know when traveling afar—
It much surpasses all the joys that will be or that are—
It is the joy of having one along with splendid lungs,
A courier to carry bags and swear in seven tongues.

—Harper's Bazar.

AMONG THE PARAGRAPHERS.

He—"I'd like a flower in my coat when I go." She—"I'll put one in now."—Life.

More Early History—"Yes, I see you're a new woman, Eve," said Adam, "but I'll take the risk. You haven't any past."—Chicago Tribune.

New Missionary—"Can you tell me what has become of my predecessor?" Cannibal Chief—"He made a trip into the interior."—Sunny Hour.

"What is Charley doing for a living now?" "Writing." "I don't think he was literary." "He isn't. He writes home for remittances."—Tit-Bits.

"How did O'Mahoney get along after he was dropped from the foorce?" "Badly. He set up a peanut and fruit stand and ate up all his stock."—Judge.

It is not our custom to criticise nature, but we have no hesitancy in saying that she fell down when she didn't grow handles on watermelons.—Wichita Eagle.

May—"Why have you stopped using powder? Was it injuring your complexion?" Amy—"No it was ruining Charley's new coat."—Boston Home Journal.

"I am moving to day because I could not pay the rent!" "That's first-rate, I am moving for the same reason; let's change quarters!"—Fliegende Blaetter.

A Germantown bride grew indignant when her grocer asked if she wanted any cracked wheat. She replied that she could afford to buy the very best—Philadelphia Record.

"You know, George," she was explaining, "I was brought up without any care." "Marry me, my darling," said George, "and you shall have nothing else but care."—Detroit Free Press.

Miss Dearborn—"What is the matter here?" Mr. Coroner—"Man just fell from a 13ht-story window." Miss Dearborn—"The 13th, did you say? How unlucky."—Yonkers Statesman.

Counsel for the defendant (sarcastically)—"You're a nice fellow, aren't you?" Witness of the plaintiff (cordially)—"I am, sir; and if were not on my oath I'd say the same of you."—Tid-Bits.

"What makes the baby cry so?" asked Willy. "He's cutting his teeth," said the nurse. "Why do you let him do it?" asked Willy. "You won't even let me cut my own nails."—Harper's Round Table.

Mrs. Fashion—"I've picked out a husband for you, daughter." Miss Fashion—"Very well; but I want to say right here, mother, when it comes to buying the wedding dress I'm going to select the material myself."—Truth.

Passenger—"This train is nearly one hour behind time, is it not?" Conductor—"Yes. But that's all right. We'll get in the usual time." Passenger—"What time is that?" Conductor—"Two hours late."—New York World.

Artist—"My next picture at the academy will be entitled "Driven to Drink." His friend—"Ah! Some powerful portrayal of baffled passion, I suppose?" Artist—"Oh, no; its a cab approaching a water trough."—Spare Moments.

Teacher—"Haven't you learned your lesson about Washington yet?" Tommy—"Nome. I read yesterday that he used to drink his tea from a saucer, and I thought I oughtn't to study about such a man."—Indianapolis Journal.

He leaned soulfully nearer. "And could you," he whispered, "think of another?" She cast down her eyes in sweet confusion. "Really," she faltered; "two plates already—er—if you insist—thank you. Yes; strawberry flavor, if you please."—Puck.

"I wouldn't worry so much about that boy of yours at college," said the friend of the family. "He's not a poker player." "I know he isn't," replied the father, ruefully, "but from the size of his expense accounts I'm afraid he thinks he is."—Chicago Post.

"Who's there?" cried little Binks, egged on by his wife, who insisted that there was a burglar in the room. "Nobody," returned the burglar. "There, my dear," snapped Binks, "that's exactly what I told you. Nobody there—so do go asleep."—Harper's Bazar.

Guest—"Do you have machines for making these Saratoga chips?" "No, sah. Th' fust assistant cook shaves 'em off wif er knife." Guest—"I don't see how he gets them so uniformly thin." Waiter—"He useter be head roast beef carver in er boardin' house."—New York Weekly.

Languid Lester—'Heer'd what happened to Heavy Hoskins?" Musing Matthew—"No." Languid Lester—"He foun' a bottle dat wuz half full of somethin' dat looked like whisky, an' he drinks it, an' it turns out to be de medizine what cures dat tired feelin', an' now de poor fellow is lookin' fer work."—Chicago Record.

She (sweetly)—"Let me see, how long—eight years, isn't it darling, since we were married?" He (proudly condescending)—"Yes, dear." She (still sweeter)—"And do you know, darlinz, that I love you more and more if possible, every year?" He (suspicious)—"Uh-huh! Um-m! Yes! Where is the cloak opening at?"—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

$100 REWARD $100.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment; Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers, that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials. Address, F. J. CHENEY & CO., Toledo, O.

Sold by Druggists, 75c.

Our Own People

Tell What

Hood's Sarsaparilla

Has Done for Them.

"Last fall after my wife came out of a Worcester hospital, where she had an operation performed, her stomach was in a weak condition. She took three bottles of Hood's Sarsaparilla and then felt strong and her stomach was all right. My family, consisting of myself, my wife and several children have taken about a dozen bottles of Hood's Sarsaparilla the past season and we have all been greatly benefited by its use. I had a liver and kidney trouble, but one bottle of Hood's Sarsaparilla has made me well and strong." A. D. WORK, Palmer, Mass.

Hood's Sarsaparilla

Is the Only

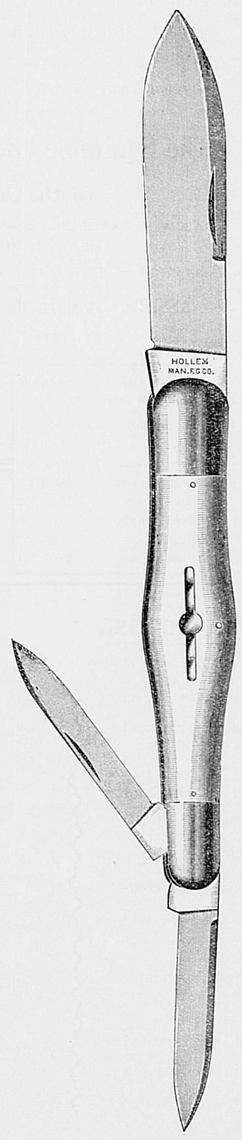
True Blood Purifier

Prominently in the public eye. $1; 6 for $5.

Hood's Pills the after-dinner pill and family cathartic. 25c.

Holley

Pocket Knives.



Hand Forged Blades.

Every knife of this make warranted. Come and try one.

E. A. Buck & Co.,

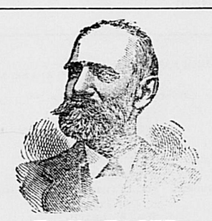
Palmer.

Treatment of Eczema and Salt Rheum.

These two complaints are so tenacious that the readers of the JOURNAL should know of the success obtained by using Dr. David Kennedy's Favorite Remedy. Where all other treatments have failed, it has made a complete cure.

Perhaps no more horrible case of Salt Rheum was ever reported than that of William L. Hale, quartermaster, Pratt Post, G. A. R., Rondout, N. Y. Several physicians utterly failed to render him any relief; finally one of the physicians suggested that Dr. Kennedy's Favorite Remedy be tried, and steady improvement followed its use, and a permanent cure resulted.

It is used with similar success in cases of scrofula, nervousness, kidney and liver complaints, and in all dis'ases brought about by bad blood and shattered nerves.



F. M. EAGER.

Boots and Shoes Manufactured to Measure.

REPAIRING NEATLY DONE AT SHORT NOTICE.

Dealer in Sewing Machines and Supplies.

Machines to rent or sold on monthly payments.

F. M. EAGER, PALMER.

BE SURE YOU SEE THE

MEHLIN HIGH GRADE PIANOS

BEFORE PURCHASING ANY OTHER.

Illustrated Catalog Sent on Application,

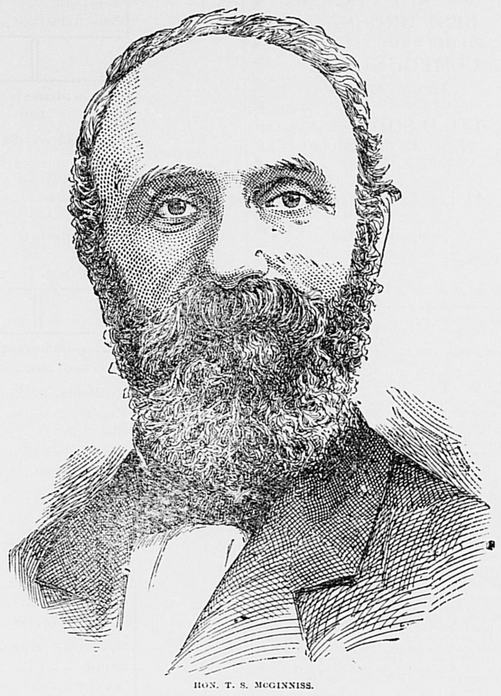
J. M. Bruce, Agent for Hampden, Hampshire and Franklin Counties.

394 MAIN STREET, SPRINGFIELD, MASS.

CANDIDATE FOR GOVERNOR.

Vermont's Great Statesman Recommends Dr. Greene's Nervura to All.

He Says Dr. Greene's Nervura is a Wonderful Medicine. it Surely Cures the Weak, Tired and Nervous.



HON. T. S. McGINNISS.

Hon. T. S. McGinniss, of Jericho, Vt., the war horse of the Democratic party, is Vermont's silver-tongued orator, and always and ever commands the attention and respect of the people. He ran at the last election as the people's candidate for governor. Such is the high standing of the man, who, out of his own experience, advises you to use Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy to be cured.

"We have used Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy in our family," he says, "and think highly of it. We could plainly see that it had the desired effect upon Mrs. McGinniss, and firmly believe that, could we have persuaded her to use the medicine, it would have cured her entirely from her extremely nervous condition, but she was greatly benefited as it was.

"We have used it in our family with good results, and have recommended it to our friends, and know of many who have used Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy with the best results. I do not hesitate to recommend the medicine to all. It is a wonderful medicine."

It must indeed be a great and good medicine which can call out such strong words in its praise as this recommendation of this honored statesman, for all to use Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy to be cured. But it is a fact that doctors, statesmen, scholars, preachers, druggists and the people everywhere, unite with one voice in pronouncing this grand medicine the greatest curer of disease ever known. The weak, the feeble, the nervous, the run-down and debilitated, the sufferers from poor blood, rheumatism, dyspepsia, kidney and liver diseases, all are restored to health and strength by its marvelous curative powers.

It is not a patent medicine, but the prescription of the most successful living specialist in curing nervous and chronic diseases, Dr. Greene, of 34 Temple Place, Boston, Mass. He has the largest practice in the world, and this grand medical discovery is the result of his vast experience. The great reputation of Dr. Green is a guarantee that his medicine will cure, and the fact that he can be consulted by anyone at any time free of charge, personally or by letter, gives absolute assurance of the beneficial action of this wonderful medicine.

R·I·P·A·N·S

ONE GIVES RELIEF.

52-43

Dry Goods.

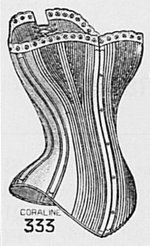
Fifty pieces of novelty dress goods, cut in dress patterns of 7 and 8 yards, according to the width of the goods, in stripes, figures and mixed goods, no two alike. 37c to 50c a yard.

Several pieces of wool plaids, cut in patterns for ladies' waists and children's dresses, 50 cents per yard.

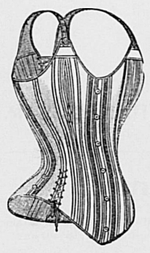
Cambrics

of all colors. Silicias, canvas, grass cloth, fibre chamois, two weights of crinolines, and everything else wanted in the way of dress fittings you find here at the lowest prices.

Remember, we are sole agents for the celebrated Butterick patterns, and a large stock always on hand.



Dr. Warner's Coroline, extra long waist corsets in black, drab and white. $1.00 and $1.25.



Also Dr. Warner's ladies' Perfection waist, $1.00.

Loomer's fast black, extra long waist corset, only 50 cents.

A new line of drapery scrims 5c, 8c and 10c per yard.

Several pieces of teazle down in fall patterns. 8c and 10c a yard.

Our staple white bed blankets, 72x80, 65c each, are hard to beat.

A few of those 10-4 bed blankets left at 50c per pair.

Examine the cresent 11-4 blanket for $3.90.

A new line of tray cloths and doilies in handsome designs, also twisted embroidery and rope silk for outlining, and the Filo silk for filling in.

Ladies' B. E. J. underwear, vest and pants, fleece lined, white and flesh color, in winter weights, 50c each.

Fancy dry goods of all kinds at

W. N. Flynts & Sons,

Monson, Mass.

Love Your Wife.

It doesn't look that way when you let her fry her face, try her temper, ruin her health and complexion by using that old cook stove. Invest a few dollars and buy one of our "Royal Winthrop Grand" or "Herald B." Ranges. You will have less fuel to buy, and better food; also a pleasant wife.

Come in and see our prices on Furniture. Chamber Suits from $12 up; Easy Chairs were never so cheap, we have them from $1 up; Lounges from $4 up. We sell on the installment plan.

We also have a full line of Dry Goods, Groceries, Boots and Shoes, Carpets and Oilcloths, which we are selling at prices that defy competition.

Shaw Brothers,

Three Rivers, Mass. . . . . .

Nancy's Nightmare.

I am the doll that Nancy broke!
Hadn't been hers a week,
One little squeeze, and I sweetly spoke;
Rosy and fair was my cheek,
Now my head lies in a corner fat,
My body lies here in the other;
And if this is what human children are,
I never will live with another!

I am the book that Nancy read!
For fifteen minutes together;
Now I am standing here on my head,
While she's gone to look at the weather.
My leaves are crushed in the cruelest way,
There's jam on my opening page;
And I would not live with Miss Nancy Gray,
Though I shouldn't be read for an age!

I am the frock that Nancy wore
Last night at her birthday feast.
I am the frock that Nancy tore,
In seventeen places at least.
My buttons are scattering far and near,
My trimming is torn to rags!
And if I were Miss Nancy's mother dear,
I'd dress her in calico bags!

We are the words that Nancy said
When these things were brought to view,
All of us ought to be painted red!
And some of us are not true.
We splutter and mutter and snarl and snap,
We smolder and smoke and blaze;
And if she'd not meet with some sad mishap,
Miss Nancy must mend her ways.

—Laura E. Richards, in September St. Nicholas

WORKBASKET TRIFLES.

The workbasket of the up-to-date woman of leisure is provided with many costly trifles, the use of which is not directly obvious to the uninitated. This fact was recently impressed upon the writer at the counter of a jewelry establishment. A group of women, whose manner and appointments indicated that they were strangers in the city, were looking at gold thimbles, and, incidentally, at various other articles displayed by the clerk.

"Look here, Mary Ellen," said the oldest of the three, holding up to view a flat little square of gold with richly chased edges. "What do you reckon this is?"

"It don't look like anything in particular to me," answered Mary Ellen after close scrutiny.

"Well! It's a thread-winder, and it's worth $9.

"Nine dollars for a thread-winder!" exclaimed Mary Ellen, aghast at the idea. "Well! I never! I always wrap my odd scraps of thread or silk round an empty spool or a piece of cardboard, like the scooped-out piece of wood the boys at home wind their fishing lines on. That's right convenient, though," she added, examining the pretty bauble interestedly.

"Here's something else," said the third woman, balancing between her fingers a pencil-like arrangement exquisitely chased and having a smooth oval bulb at either end, "I wonder what this is for?" and she glanced appealing at the clerk.

"That's a glove darner," he explained, much amused at her perplexity.

"And how much does it cost?"

"Eleven dollars."

The trio exclaimed in horror at this revelation of extravagance, and Mrs. Mary Ellen remarked sternly that $11 would supply her with gloves for two years.

All three examined the glove darner critically, and then, pursuing their investigation, speculated in turn as to the merits of the solid gold thimble holders, emery holders, needle cases, and other articles that seemed curious to them. Finally, when a finger protector was shown, Mrs. Mary Ellen's patience became exhausted.

"These idle women ought to be proud to show a few needle pricks on their forefinger," she exclaimed. "I'd like to know how a little needle prick can hurt!"

She did not conceal her amazement that so insignificant, every-day an affair as a little round tape measure could be contrived to cost $7; and a small ivory case, equipped with tiny gold-handled scissors, needle case, thimble, and bodkin, the value of which was $150, nearly took away her breath.

"It seems outrageous to squander so many dollars on nonsense," she declared energetically as the party left the shop.—New York Tribune.

COSTLY WIT.

The Persians tell of a magnificent emperor of their realm, who established a custom that when he had praised anyone, a purse of gold should be given to the fortunate person by one of his attendants. One day, when the Shah was hunting, he saw an old man planting a walnut tree, and, advancing toward him, asked him how old he was. The peasant replied:

"I am forty years old."

An attendant rebuked the old man for uttering such an absurdity in the presence of the Shah.

"You blame me without cause," said the peasant. "I did not speak without reflection, for the wise do not reckon that time which has been lost in folly and the cares of the world. I therefore consider that to be my real age which has been passed in serving God and discharging my duties to society."

The Shah, impressed with the remark, said:

"Thou canst not hope to see the trees thou art planting come to perfection."

"True," said the old man; "but since we eat of the fruit of trees that others have planted, it is right that we should plant for the benefit of others."

This was rather a new doctrine in Persia, and the Shah, upon hearing it, exclaimed, "Excellent!" whereupon a purse bearer presented the old man a hundred pieces of gold. On receiving them, the peasant made a low bow, and said:

"Oh King, other men's trees come to perfection in the space of forty years, but mine have borne the fruit as soon as they were planted."

This remark pleased the Shah again, and he exclaimed, "Good! good!"

A second purse of gold was presented to the old man, who bowed low once more and said:

"The trees of others bear fruit only once a year, but mine have yielded two crops in one day.

"Delightful!" said the Shah; whereupon a third purse was tossed to the old man.

The Shah began to look a trifle alarmed at this rapid enrichment of the old peasant, and, mounting his horse, rode away, turning to make this last remark, "Reverend father, I dare not stay longer, lest thy wit should exhaust my treasury!"—Golden Rule

All Free.

Those who have used Dr. King's New Discovery know its value, and those who have not, have now the opportunity to try it Free. Call on the advertised Druggist and get a Trial Bottle, Free. Send your name and address to H. E. Bucklen & Co. Chicago, and get a sample box of Dr. King's New Life Pills Free, as well as a copy of Guide to Health and Household Instructor, Free. All of which is guaranteed to do you good and cost you nothing at LeGro & Lynde, Palmer; G. L. Keeney, Monson; F. A. Spencer, Ware.

Free Pills.

Send your address to H. E. Bucklen & Co., Chicago, and get a free sample box of Dr. King's New Life Pills. A trial will convince you of their merits. These pills are easy in action and are particularly effective in the cure of Constipation and Sick Headache. For Malaria and Liver troubles they have been proved invaluable. They are guaranteed to be perfectly free from every deleterious substance and to be purely vegetable. They do not weaken by their action, but by giving tone to stomach and bowels greatly invigorate the system. Regular size 25c. per box. Sold by LeGro & Lynde, Palmer; G. L. Keeney, Monson; F. A. Spencer, Ware.

Bucklen's Arnica Salve.

THE BEST SALVE in the world for cuts, bruises, sores, ulcers, salt rheum, fever sores, tetter, chapped hands, chilblains, corns, and all skin eruptions, and positively cures piles, or no pay required. It is guaranteed to give perfect satisfaction or money refunded. Price 25 cents per box. For sale by LeGro & Lynde, Palmer; G. L. Keeney, Monson; F. A. Spencer, Ware.

HIS SUSPICIONS CONFIRMED.—Lately a number of ministers were assembled for a ceremonial function. The organist, getting tired of sacred music, broke into some operatic selections. Presently one of the "white ties" of the old school approached, and said to the performer; "May I spier whit that is you're playing?"

"It is from 'Patience,'" replied the organist.

"Ay, I thocht it must hae been frae some fine sacred piece, an' I was jist remarkin' to my reverend brithers that it breathed resignation in every note!"—Pearson's Weekly.

New Resident (at Faraway)—"Who is the best physician in the place."

High Local Authority—"Dr. Germs, by all means. He is becoming a very famous man. Why, people are sending for him from everywhere. I advise you to try him."

New resident—"What is his specialty?"

High Local Authority (with pride)—"Autopsies, I believe, sir."—Judge.

Nell—"What was Mrs. Newlywed's maiden name?"

Bell—"Her maiden aim was to get married."—Philadelphia Record.

Taylor's Anti-Headache Powders are just as harmless as water. Yet look how powerful water is in putting out fire! Our powders cure Headache and Neuralgia in the same manner exactly. It is safe to say that these powders will cure all cases, because they never failed yet. Why not buy Taylor's and be sure about it? Get them of LeGro & Lynde.

Colds are serious things. They lead to worse things. A cold is the seed of consumption. Croup is a cold's half-brother—it is generally caused by cold, and many a little life has been snuffed out by it because the proper remedy was not at hand.

35 cents

Dr. Hooker's Cough and Croup Syrup

gives relief at once. It has saved thousands of lives. Every mother should see that it is always in the house. Don't wait till you need it—that may be too late. Contains no opium—absolutely safe—endorsed by physicians for 50 years. Made only by Charles B. Kingsley, Northampton, Mass.

at Drug Stores

A TRADE

in all its branches can be learned at the

Trade School Department

of the

Springfield Industrial Institute,

Springfield, Mass.

Send for Catalog.

BATTLE AX PLUG

THE LARGEST PIECE OF GOOD TOBACCO EVER SOLD FOR 10 CENTS

In Buying a Piano or an Organ

do not fail to examine the latest Mason & Hamlin models. Recent improvements together with time tested points of superiority render them instruments par excellence. Old pianos or organs taken in exchange. Instruments sold for cash or easy payments.

Catalogues and full information sent free.

Mason & Hamlin Co.

146 Boylston Street, (opp. Common), Boston, Mass

THE POT CALLED THE KETTLE BLACK BECAUSE THE HOUSEWIFE DIDN'T USE

SAPOLIO

4-29

LARRABEES RHEUMATIC LINIMENT

A standard and sovereign household remedy for over half a century. It is a wonderful curative agent in all painful diseases, such as

Rheumatism, Lumbago, Neuralgia, Backache, Catarrh, Toothache,

and other painful ailments. To be had of all druggists, or by mail on receipt of 25 cents. Trade supplied by Geo. C. Goodwin & Co., or any wholesale druggist.

WINKLEMANN & BROWN DRUG CO.

BALTIMORE, MD., U. S. A.

A morning tonic for your brain—a vigorous brushing of the head with one of our nice brushes. Bristles not too hard, not too soft—the kind you like. The price is only 50 cents. Combs, powders, perfumes, mirrors. The Centennial Tooth Powder, and all toilet requisites. You can put on finishing touches with them and for little cash.

Our medicines have wings that fly with pain to parts unknown. Test their power when you are sick, and then you will thank us for relief.

ALLEN'S DRUG STORE,

Holden's Block, Palmer.

WANTED.

Good reliable men, to sell our Choice and Hardy Nursery Stock, such as Fruit Trees, Roses, Shrubs and Ornamentals. Ladies make this business a success. Easy work, pleasant, light and profitable. OUTFIT FREE. Apply at once, with references, and secure choice of territory.

F. N. MAY COMPANY,

Nurserymen and Seedsmen, Rochester, N. Y.

PARKER'S HAIR BALSAM

Cleanses and beautifies the hair. Promotes a luxuriant growth. Never Fails to Restore Gray Hair to its Youthful Color. Cures scalp diseases & hair falling. 50c. and $1.00 at Druggists

PATENTS

CAVEATS, TRADE MARKS COPYRIGHTS

CAN I OBTAIN A PATENT? For a prompt answer and an honest opinion, write to MUNN & CO., who have had nearly fifty years' experience in the patent business. Communications strictly confidential. A Handbook of Information concerning Patents and how to obtain them sent free. Also a catalogue of mechanical and scientific books sent free.

Patents taken through Munn & Co. receive special notice in the Scientific American, and thus are brought widely before the public without cost to the inventor. This splendid paper, issued weekly, elegantly illustrated, has by far the largest circulation of any scientific work in the world. $3 a year. Sample copies sent free.

Building Edition, monthly, $2.50 a year. Single copies, 25 cents. Every number contains beautiful plates, in colors, and photographs of new houses, with plans, enabling builders to show the latest designs and secure contracts. Address MUNN & CO., NEW YORK, 361 BROADWAY

BOSTON & MAINE R. R.

SOUTHERN DIVISION

(CENTRAL MASSACHUSETTS)

CORRECTED TO JUNE 30, 1895.

TRAINS LEAVE WARE:

GOING EAST

FOR Boston—6.55, 9.03 a. m.; 3.15, p. m. Sundays 6.55 a. m.

RETURNING—leave Boston 8.45 a. m.; 1.30, 4.00 p. m. Sundays, 1.30, p. m.

FOR Worcester—6.55, 9.03 a. m.; 3.15 p. m. Sundays, 6.55 a. m.

RETURNING—leave Worcester 9.15 a. m.; 2.25, 4.58, p. m.

FOR Oakdale, Hudson and Waltham—6.55, 9.03 a. m.; 3.15 p. m. Sundays, 6.55 a. m.

FOR Gilbertville, Barre and Coldbrook—6.55, 9.03 a. m.; 3.15 p. m. Sundays, 6.55 a. m.

GOING WEST

FOR Bondsville, Pansy Park, South Amherst and Hadley—7.20, 11.24 a. m.; 4.28, 6.39 p. m. Sundays, 4.35 p. m.

FOR Belchertown, Amherst and Northampton—7.20, 11.24 a. m.; 4.28, 6.39, p. m. Sundays, 4.35 p. m.

D. J. FLANDERS, Gen'l. Pass'r. Agt.

W. F. BERRY Gen'l Mgr.

TEETH FILLED WITHOUT PAIN

in every case. And

TEETH EXTRACTED WITHOUT PAIN

in fully 95 per cent of cases.

Also Artificial Teeth that are made right.

Strictly first-class dentistry in every department. Prices reasonable. Lady attendant. Elevator.

DR. WM. L. ROBERTS, DENTIST.

Springfield Office: Court Sq. Theatre Building. Holyoke Office: 291 High St.

The Palmer Journal.

VOLUME XLVI. PALMER, MASS., FRIDAY EVENING, OCTOBER 25, 1895. NUMBER 30.

PUBLISHED EVERY FRIDAY EVENING
—BY—
C. B. FISKE & CO.

TERMS OF SUBSCRIPTION.—Two dollars a year. A discount of 25 cents to those who pay in advance. Six months, $1.00; three months, 50 cents; single copies, 5 cents.

ADVERTISING RATES.—One inch (or twelve lines of this type solid) one week, $1; each subsequent insertion, 25 cents. One inch one year, $10; one-half inch one week, 75 cents; each additional week, 15 cents. Short advertisements, "Wanted," "To-Let," etc., 10 cents per line, cash; no charge less than 30 cents. Notices in local column, 15 cents per line. Liberal rates to yearly advertisers.

JOB PRINTING of all kinds executed in the best styles, promptly and at reasonable rates.

C. B. FISKE. L. E. CHANDLER.

[Entered at Post Office as second class matter.]

LOCAL BUSINESS DIRECTORY.

PALMER.

ALLEN, O. P., Wholesale and Retail Druggist and Bookseller.

BARTON, F. D., Dealer in Watches, Clocks and Jewelry, Main street.

BILLS, G. A., Fresh and Salt Beef, Pork, Ham, Lard, Tripe, etc.

BROOKS, EDWIN E., Graduate Optician. With E. S. Brooks, Jeweler, Main street.

BROOKS, E. S., Dealer in Watches, Clocks, Jewelry, Solid Silver and Plated Ware, Main street.

BROWN, C. A. & CO., Hardware, Furnaces, Stoves, Ranges, Paints, Oils and Glass.

BROWN, S. H., Trucking, Light Jobbing, Piano Moving. Order box cor. Main and Walnut streets. Orders can also be left at J. F. Foley's store.

CARPENTER, Mrs. L. E., Millinery and Fancy Goods. Also dealer in Human Hair Goods.

CHANDLER BROS., Bicycles.

CLARK & HASTINGS, Wholesale Dealers in Armour & Co's. Dressed Beef, Provisions, Main St.

EAGER, F. M., Boot and Shoe Manufacturer to Order, and dealer in Leather and Findings.

FISKE, C. B. & CO., Publishers PALMER JOURNAL and WARE STANDARD. Fine Book and Job Printers and Bookbinders.

FITCH, A. E., Law and Insurance, Savings Bank Block.

FRANCIS, R. B., Iron Foundry and Machine Shop.

GAMWELL, C. K., Ready made Clothing, Hats, Caps, Gent's Furnishings, etc.

GARDNER, CHAS. L., Attorney and Counsellor at Law. Church street.

GOODES, E., Palmer Boot and Shoe Store, corner Main and Thorndike streets.

HAMILTON, J. A., Dealer in all kinds of Coal, Wood, Grain, Flour, Baled Hay and Straw. Fertilizers and Stock Food. Main street.

HOLBROOK, C. D., Flour, Grain, Feed and Mason's Supplies, Main street.

HOLBROOK, J. F., Dealer in all kinds of Coal. Agent for National and White Star line of steamers. Drafts on Foreign Banks at lowest rates.

LEACH, W. W., Attorney at Law.

LeGRO & LYNDE, Druggists and Newsdealers, Paper Hangings, Shades, Lamps and Fixtures.

MARCY, F. F., Dealer in Lumber, Shingles, etc., wholesale and retail. West of B.&A.R.R. depot.

MARCY, OSCAR C., Livery and Feed Stable, rear of Converse House.

PALMER WATER CO., Office, Lawrence Block. Office hours to October 1, from 8.30 to 10 a. m., from 2 to 3 p. m.

SHAW, J. B., Dealer in Dry Goods, Groceries, etc. Opposite the depot.

TAFT, S. S., Attorney at Law. Office in Allen's Block, Church street.

WHITE, C. W., Marble and Granite Works. No. 1 Thorndike street.

WOOLRICH & CO., Manufacturers of Ridge's Food, Thorndike street.

THORNDIKE.

ADAMS, A. P., Druggist, Toilet Articles, Confectionery and Cigars.

BONDSVILLE.

HOLDEN, C. L., Dry Goods, Groceries, Clothing Boots, Shoes, Hats, Caps, etc.

MORIARTY, M., Dry Goods, Groceries, Boots Shoes, Coal. Ag't White Star and Anchor SS Co's

WARE.

ADAMS, MRS., Chiropodist and Manicurist. 13 Park Avenue. All troubles of feet successfully treated.

ALBERTINE, J. A. Choice Fruits, Tobaccos, Cigars and Confectionery. Low Prices.

DAVIS INSURANCE AGENCY represents the best companies and gives lowest rates.

EDDY, C. W. Job and Fine Art Printer.

EDDY, MISS MATIE K. Teacher of Oil Painting and Crayon. Sketching or Art Work completed to order.

ELDREDGE, A. HENRY. Sign Painter. Carriages painted in the best manner. West Street.

HARLOW, A. B. Photographer. Instantaneous process only. Opposite the Bank.

HOSMER, F. N. Clothier. Hats, Caps, Gents' Furnishing Good, etc. Sanford's Block.

MARSH, F. E., Gold, Silver and Nickel Plater. Replating tableware a specialty. 7 Bank street.

PRIEST, J. E. Ware Steam Laundry. Carpet cleaning. Office at H. M. Clark's.

RICHARDSON, A. F. Dealer in Boots, Shoes and Rubbers of all kinds. Sagendorph's Block.

ROBINSON, JOHN F. Furniture, Sewing Machines, Pictures, Hardware, Paints and Farming Tools.

SIBLEY, J. B. Hardware, Tools, Agricultural Implements, Paints, Oils and Artists' materials.

SMITH, G. H. W. Jeweler. Watches, Clocks and Spectacles. Repairing in the best manner.

TURNER, H. H. Bookseller and Stationer, and dealer in Paper Hangings, Musical Instruments and Sheet Music.

MONSON.

GROUT, GEO. E. Dealer in Watches Clocks, Jewelry, etc. Towne's Block.

NEWTON, GEO. H., Law Office, Notary Public, Insurance, etc., near Gage's store.

SQUIER & CO., Dealers in Grain, Feed, Hay, Straw, Lumber, Shingles and Building Material.

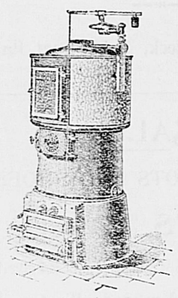
WARREN.

KELLEY, W. H., Attorney and Counsellor at Law. Quaboag Block, Warren, Mass.

SOCIETY DIRECTORY.

MONSON.

MT. ELLA LODGE, No. 184, A. O. U. W. Meets first and third Tuesdays of each month in A. O. U. W Hall, Monson.
FISK G. ROGERS, M. W., F. J. ENTWISTLE, Rec.



VOLUNTEER STEAM AND WATER HEATER.

ECONOMY WARM AIR HEATERS.

BARSTOW PARLOR STOVES.

MODEL GRAND AND CRAWFORD GRAND RANGES.

Rustless Tin Ware.

Plumbing and Steam Heating.

W. H. Hitchcock,

Nassowanno House Block, Palmer.

E. S. Bryant, D. M. D., Dentist,

Lynde's Block, Palmer.
Office hours: 8.30 to 12.30. 1.30 to 5 p. m.

BOSTON BARGAIN STORE,

Monson,

TO THE FRONT.

Here comes the winner.

Our Annual Cape and Cloak Sale

A sale that emphatically proves the wonderful lead of the new store. . . . . .

READY CASH Makes Progressive Retailing.

Do you believe it? Come and see.

SALE BEGINS MONDAY, OCT. 28th. ENDS NOV. 1st.

Crowding a winter's trade into six days of time.

As we don't intend carrying a full line of Cloaks during the winter months we will make these six days to be remembered by all. Everything will be marked in plain figures, with a slim margin on the cost price, so that a large amount of Cloaks will be turned into cash.

BY THE POWER OF PRICE.

T. H. TODD,

Boston Store, - Monson.

For the Coming Winter Season.

The Saskatchewan Coat,

Wind Proof,

is a handsome custom-made garment of a black or brown color, with a high rolling collar, lined with black Italian quilting, and rubber lining in the body part and sleeves to make it wind and water proof. It has olives and loops instead of buttons. This coat will keep a person dry and warm during the severest snow or rain-storm, and will be dry the next day.
Caps and carriage robes of the same material.

Complete line of
GENT'S FURNISHING GOODS
in all departments.

Fall and Winter Clothing

was never so low in price, nor such values for the money.

Fall Suits, $5 to $20,

Just think of it!

An elegant line of

Overcoats, $6 to $22.

You never saw the like before.

Child's Suits, $2 to $6.

Child's Reefer, $3.50 to $5.

Children's Overcoats in all grades.

Underwear

in a great variety of grades and prices.

Fall Style, 1895.

Lamson & Hubbard.

C. K. GAMWELL,

Palmer, Mass.

. . . Coal, . . .

Hay and Straw.

If you haven't bought your winter coal, ask our prices before you buy; will sell as low as anyone.

We have hay and straw, and can supply you at short notice, at market prices.

If you want to buy or hire a team or any part of a team, come and see me. Think I can supply you. I have competent men to attend to all light and heavy teaming you may have to do, and solicit a share of your patronage. Orders by mail promptly attended to.

Ralph Clifford,

Monson, Sept. 30, 1895. Monson House Stables.

SMITH'S,

59 Main Street, - - Palmer.

Seeds. Medium Red Clover, Large Red Clover, Crimson Clover, Alsyke Clover, Red Top, Timothy.

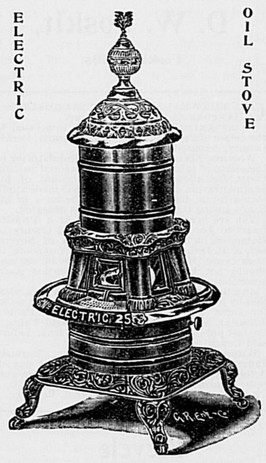
Seeds.

E. A. Buck & Co.,

Palmer, Mass.

Now is the time to set up the

ELECTRIC OIL STOVE



and keep your room comfortable these cool nights and mornings. All sizes now in.

Call and see our fine lot of

CABINET BASE RANGES, PARLOR AND CYLINDER STOVES, AND RANGES,

at remarkably low prices.

Builders' Hardware, Agricultural and Mechanics' Tools, Tin Ware, Paints, Oils, and Glass.

C. A. Brown & Co.,

Palmer.

WAGONS!

Having a new lot of

TOP BUGGIES, BOTH PLAIN AND PIANO BOX AND CORNING, CONCORD BUGGIES, BANNER WAGONS, BUSINESS WAGONS, POLES, ETC., OF THE VERY BEST OF MAKES, AT LOWER PRICES THAN IN THE CITY, CALL AND SEE US.

ALLEN AND ELLERY,

PALMER, tf-3 MASS.

Hellyar's Bargain Store.

Carpets! Carpets!

Are you interested in carpets? If so, we should be pleased to show you. We have arranged with one of the largest mills in the United States whereby we are their sold agents in this locality.

Wilton Carpets,
Moquette Carpets,
Axminster Carpets.
Velvet Carpets,
Body Brussels Carpets,
Tapestry Carpets,
Three Ply Carpets,
Ingrain Carpets of all grades,
Cocoa Mattings,
Napier Mattings,
China Mattings,
Linoleums,
Oil Cloths,
Rugs,
Mats,
Lace Curtains.

We carry a full line of the newest patterns in all kinds of Carpets.

You have as fine a variety to select from as is carried by the stores in the largest cities. You can have the carpets cut and sewed at the mills, and delivered to you ready to be laid on the floor. We represent the manufacturers, thus saving you the middleman or jobber's profit, and as we have no stock to carry and no risk to take on bad patterns, misfits or remnants we can afford to sell at a very small profit—lower even than the stores of the great cities. Call and find out how quickly and how cheaply we can carpet a room or a house.

S. H. Hellyar & Co.,

Caryl's Block, on the Corner,
Palmer,
Mass.

"Honest John" Truss.

Very few Trusses have a reputation equal to this, and none better. We are prepared to apply them to any kind of rupture, with a guarantee of satisfaction in every particular, at the drug store of

LeGRO & LYNDE,

Next Door to Post Office,
Palmer, - - Mass.

Overcoats,

Ulsters,

Reefers.

Our stock of men's and boys' Overcoats, Ulsters and Reefers now ready for inspection, and we invite you to call and examine them, as we are satisfied if prices and quality are what is desired, we can easily satisfy you.

Black, blue, and brown Kerseys, just the proper length, made with the best of linings, and elegant velvet collars,

$10.00 to $20.00.

Ulsters, long enough for the longest, all colors, square and shawl collars,

$8.00 to $16.00.

Our extra fine blue Reefer with velvet collar, and a heavy gray one with wide collar,

$4.50 each.

OUR REEFER VESTS, $1.00 EACH.

Boys' Overcoats, 14 to 19 years,

$5.00 to $14.

Boys' Cape Overcoats and Reefers, 3 to 14 years,

$2.50 to $5.00.

The celebrated wind-proof coat, vest front, corduroy collar and well lined,

2.50 each.

W. N. Flynt & Sons,

The Leading Clothiers, Monson, Mass.

SMITH & MURRAY.

Price savings among the new Lace Curtains.

The reason: We bought in large quantities—result, we own them right—and we are to sell them lower than other dealers.

Note these special prices:

Irish Point Curtains.

The usual $3.50 curtains for $2.75 a pair.
The usual $4.50 curtains for $3.50 a pair.
The usual $5.00 curtains for $4.25 a pair.

Chenille Portieres.

The usual $2.90 quality for $2.25 a pair.
The usual $3.90 quality for $3.00 a pair.
The usual $6.50 quality for $5.00 a pair.

Tapestry Portieres.

$2.50,
$3.25,
$4.50 a pair.

Easily worth a dollar more a pair.

A special quality of Tapestry Portieres, with tinsel and heavy fringe at top and bottom, $11.75 a pair.

Drapery department, 3d floor, take elevator.

Millinery.

Naturally if you want a hat or bonnet out of the ordinary, you'll come here for it. We mean those who know that we do the highest-class millinery business of this section, but we want more people to know it.

Have lots of business now, but want more, and will get it—and that means retaining it.

Get in your orders early in the week, so as to avoid the bustle of Saturday.

Millinery, 3d floor, take elevator.

Silks.

Novelty Silks, confined styles; that means we have all of each pattern.

This lot $1 a yard.

19-inch Fancy Taffetas in stripes and figures, beautiful combinations. 59c a yard. Actual value, 75c.

Silks, Court Square entrance.

SMITH & MURRAY.

Oil Heaters.

The finest assortment we have ever shown, and quality improved. Don't fail to look them over.

E. A. BUCK & CO.,

Cross Block, Palmer.

Milk and Cream.

Maple Lawn Milk Farm.

O. D. Wells, Proprietor.

L. H. HENDEE, M. D.,

OFFICE AND RESIDENCE, PLEASANT ST.
Office hours 7 to 10 a. m., and 1 to 3 and 7 to 9p. m.

The Land of "Pretty Soon."

I know a land where the streets are paved
With the things which we meant to achieve.
It is walled with the money we meant to have saved,
And the pleasures for which we grieve.
The kind words unspoken, the promises broken,
And many a coveted boon
Are stowed away there in that land somewhere—
The land of "Pretty Soon."

There are uncut jewels of possible fame
Lying about in the dust,
And many a noble and lofty aim
Covered with mold and rust.
And oh! this place, while it seems so near,
Is further away than the moon,
Though our purpose is fair, yet we never get there—
The land of "Pretty Soon."

The road that leads to that mystic land
Is strewn with pitiful wrecks,
And the ships that have sailed for its shining strand
Bear skeletons on their decks.
It is further at noon than it was at dawn,
And further at night than at noon;
Oh! let us beware of that land down there—
The land of "Pretty Soon."

—Ella Wheeler Wilcox.

THE LITTLE WHITE FEATHER.

Yes, it seems a funny thing to find pianos and knick knacks and China up here, amongst the Himalayan foothills, a couple of hundred miles from anywhere; and an old gray-bearded planter, whose nearest neighbor is 30 miles away, and who never hears the rustle of a white woman's petticoat seems the last sort of a man to own them.

The piano isn't up to much. It hasn't been tuned for the last 15 years, and two years ago the Frazer boys, who had ridden over from Rajah-Hath to eat their Christmas dinner here, managed to break most of the strings and hammers, larking with it. The mirrors, too, are all cracked or hopeless blotched by the damp of the rains; but they looked smart enough when I bought them, some 15 years ago.

I've got used to the poor finery, and the other boys from the plantations, when they do ride over here, are good-natured enough in their chaff.

It's not once in a blue moon that a globe-trotter like you comes up this path, for the temple really is not worth seeing, and the snows are reached with so much less trouble by the other road, with its well-built dak-bungalows. A couple of years ago we had a commissioner who was a sportsman, and who used to come here for the great mahseer, whose favorite haunt is where the two rivers —you can hear them roaring new—meet down deep in the valley; but the present man is not a keen man, and does not come as far as this.

Is there a story attached to these old sticks?

Well, anywhere but here I should think it would not be called one; but, if you don't mind listening, I will tell you the whole little history.

I'd been out in the country 10 years—25 years in all I've put in this old India—and I'd worked up to the position of manager at the Murrinee Estate, which lies 80 miles away over that big ridge of hills, about the direction where you can see the light of the rising moon. I'd a good house and a good income, and, like a fool, I thought that I'd get myself a good wife. I went home, hunted up all my people, and saw as much of society as I could—you wouldn't think it to look at me, but I am connected with some of the smartest people in London—and before a quarter of my leave was up I was head over heels in love with the most beautiful girl I had ever set eyes on. The life I've led here has ground all sentiment and that sort of foolishness out of me; but even now, when I think of it, there comes back to me a sort of faint return of the intense nervousness I felt the day that I proposed to her, at a dance at the Star and Garter, we two, on the terrace, with the sleeping town in a blur of moonshine at our feet, and the river winding a ribbon of silver through the misty landscape. She was a lovely girl, lovely even amongst beautiful women; a complexion of rose-tinted ivory, large black eyes, black hair, a contralto voice that spoke as sweetly and with as many modulations as any singing, and a manner so gentle and soft that she twisted one around her little finger without one's knowing the process was going on. She had a sad story, too—poverty, a hateful step-mother, and no choice except between marriage and becoming a governess. We spent most of the time during our engagement in shopping. I had plenty of ready money, and she had the ideas of a princess as to how she would be housed. Those faded brocade curtains we bought one windy October night, at Gillow's; that rickety old piano was one of Bradwood's chef d'œuvres; and those little figures on the mantle are good Dresden. I said good bye to her on board a P. & Q. at Southampton, and came out here to get all our pretty things into the house and arrange for a proper reception of my coming princess. Two months I lived in a lover's dream, and then I went down to Bombay to meet her.

* * * * * * *

What happened is, I know, a comedy that is played a dozen times each season; but it makes it none the less bitter to the victim that others have suffered before him.

* * * * * * *

She met me as soon as I set foot on deck, and told me that she could never marry me—that she had altered her mind. There was no hope for me, she said—none whatever. There was another man; and if I cared for her, if I cared for her, my God!—I would make it all as little painful as could be helped and go. She was very, very sorry, but I must go.

I went back to my curtains and glass and pretty things in the bungalow on the hillside, cursing God and all creation in my heart. I took a great deal too much of that too, then—by the way, you're not helping yourself; the whisky's good, you needn't be afraid of it; I get it out direct from Speyside —and somehow or another a report against me got home, and as one of the directors wanted a berth for his brother, I was turned out and sent to this small estate, where I live seeing no one but the coolies, the Babu, who lives a mile down below in the village, and old Afiz Kahn, the grim old Afridi who waited on us and who has been my body servant for the last 20 years.

When I moved I took all my finery with me. It was foolishness, but I was a fool then and I couldn't bear to part with anything that was in any way connected with her. I was as desperately in love as ever, and though I saw in the paper her marriage announcement to a man with a couple of estates tacked on to the end of his name, and knew that she had been bought by a higher bidder than I was, still, being a fool, I loved her all the same.

All people, and they are few enough, who come up this road are sent on here to me and spend the night. We, on the very outside ring of civilization, welcome a white face or a newspaper as a delightful sight and we give our vistors of our best.

One night, 13 years ago, it was after the rains and glorious weather, I was told that a Sahib and a Mem Sahib were coming up the road. Such an event as a lady coming up this path had never been known before, and Afiz Kahn and myself bustled about, lighting lamps and getting the place into order for her reception. The cook and other servants who live in the village bazaar were sent for, and we made ready to do all honor to our unwonted guest.

The moon was over the hill before we heard the sound of the ponies' feet on the road and going to meet them I saw her just dismounted and standing in the glow of the moonlight.

She gave a great start when she saw me and put her hand to her heart, but pulled herself together in a second and came forward and shook hands.

"This is an unexpected pleasure," she said. "I thought you lived in quite a different part of the country," and then she introduced me to her husband as an old friend. She evidently had told him nothing about the little comedy in which I had figured. I disliked the husband at first sight—a great coarse brute, who talked to her as if she were a disobedient dog and whom I put down as being a bully and a drunkard.

We were not a cheery party that night. She talked the talk of that world of society that two years of misery had put back into an infinite past, but I noticed that her eyes took in every detail of curtains and furniture and ornaments. He helped himself most liberally to the whisky bottle, and talked little, but that little generally took the form of some insult to his wife. Later on she asked me about Afiz Kahn, who waited on us with grim stateliness, and I told her his story; how by a lucky shot I saved him when he was in a bear's embrace, with the brute's breath hot in his face; and how since then he had renounced everything, his loved hills and clanship and relations to follow me through good and evil fortune as my servant. Finding she was interested I talked on and told them some of the border tales of revenge and blood that the Afridi had told me over the fire on our shikah expeditions; how ready a border man's hand is to strike when his chief orders; how little they value a life whether it be theirs or another's; and to all this she listened eagerly.

The morose husband thawed under the great doses of whiskey and he told me how the doctors had forbidden him to go home to England, and how he was wandering over the unbeaten tracks in the mountains taking his wife with him "just to show her what roughing means," until the weather became passably cool in the plains.

She went to their room immediately after dinner, but he sat up for another couple of hours bragging about most things in this world and punishing the whiskey bottle to such effect that when at midnight he rose to go he staggered about and I had to help him to his door.

It was a glorious night. The moon half way up the sky flooded the broad veranda there with golden light, the oak and rhododendrons, the great hill across the river were picked out in vivid light and shade, and the village doors made points of brilliancy in the darkness of the gorge. I stood against the post of the veranda, my brain in a whirl with present surprise and burning memories. I tried to think of what this fresh turn that brought her under my roof might mean to me. Munda Devi, the great sacred mountain showed its mass of snow, hanging, as it seemed, in the sky, and in my feverish helplessness, in the battle against fate, I felt a longing to pray to it for some of its everlasting strength and endurance.

"George!" whispered a soft voice behind me, and I turned to find her standing at my elbow.

She had put on a dressing gown sort of thing, all silk and lace, and the moonlight caught the ivory smoothness of her arms and bosom.

"George!" she said again, and held out her two hands to me.

Then the fire in my brain leapt to a sudden blaze, and all that I knew was that I was holding her again, once more, tight clasped in the hollow of my arms.

"I never loved any one but you!" she said, as she looked up into my eyes; and then she told me how her husband ill-treated her, cursed her, and when drunk, beat her, and on the delicate arms that were round my neck I could see the purple welts where his heavy stick had struck her.

"Do you love me in spite of all?" she asked; and I, being a fool, told her that I was ready to die for her.

Then for a time she kept silent, only nestling closer and closer to my breast.

At last she spoke in a whisper, which had a tremble in it. "If only I were free from him I could marry you. I shall be a rich woman."

Her brain worked quicker than mine, and I didn't understand what she was asking of me.

"It would be so easy," she whispered, "and we should be so happy,"—and then what she meant began to dawn on me and I loosened my clasp, though she only twined her arms more closely. "If an accident were to happen to him now, while he is drunk, no one would be any the wiser, and you can trust your man."

* * * * * * *

Then the fire in my brain died out.

I shook her free and stepped back a dozen paces from her; for I knew that she was asking me to murder or have murdered, the drunken man, my guest, her husband, who lay helpless in the next room.

"You daren't!" she said, with sudden rage, and as I spoke to her she stood like a statue, but with a glow of desperate anger in her eyes.

What I said I don't exactly know; but she understood me, and with a whispered "cowardly fool," she slipped back into the darkness of the room.

* * * * * * *

I walked all that night and the early morning about the estate, and they had left before I came back to the house; they went down by the other road and I never saw either of them again.

Was there a sequel?

Yes.

I received the next summer through the mail a newspaper cutting, telling how they were riding along a hill path in Cashmere in front of all their servants, how his pony must have shied, and how he and the pony were found pounded to a jelly a thousand feet down the klud, and the paragraph finished by saying how the widow who had viewed the tragedy was to be pitied.

In the evelope besides the cutting was:

A tiny white feather.

* * * * * * *

She died two years ago, after having made ducks and drakes with the man's money; and I sit here and grin, and look at my faded finery and smack my leg to think what a narrow escape I had of marrying an accomplished and beautiful criminal.

That's all!

Help yourself to the bottle.

A good parody was that involved in the story of a young English nobleman with a large number of titles and a very small amount of brains. Several young ladies were discussing his many names—Lord this, Viscount that, and so on ad-infinitum.

"My fair friends," said the witty N—"one of his titles you seem to have forgotten."

"Oh!" was the universal exclamation, "what is that?"

"He is Baron of Intellect," was the rejoinder.

The Way o' the World.

You can't have roses all the year,
Though summer does her best;
You've kinder got to give the land
A livin' chance to rest.

Then cheer up
An' bear up,
When snow is on the ground;
Spring or fall,
We're here for all;
The world must turn around!

The bee makes honey in the spring
An' stores it 'gainst the cold;
When winter comes he gives the buds
'Till springtime to unfold.

Then cheer up
An' bear up
When winter strews the ground;
Rain or shine,
We're in the show,
The world must turn around!

—Atlanta Constitution.

THE WORLD'S TALLEST STRUCTURES.

The tallest chimney was built at Port Dundas, Glasgow, Scotland, 1857 to 1859, for F. Townsend. It is the highest chimney in the world (454 feet), and one of the loftiest masonry structures in existence. It is, independent of its size, one of the best specimens of substantial, well-made brick work in existence. In Europe there are only two church steeples that exceed this structure in height,—namely, that of the Cologne cathedral (510 feet), and that of the Strasburg cathedral, (468 feet) The great Pyramid of Tizah was originally 480 feet, although not so high at present. The United States outtops them all with its Washington monument, 550 feet high, and the tower of the Philadelphia public buildings, which is 537 feet high.

The Eiffel tower at Paris, France, surpasses all other terrestrial metal structure with its altitude of nearly 1000 feet. The "Great Tower" for London, England, in course of construction from designs of Mr. Henry Davey, C. E, will outtop all metal structures, being built of steel, and its extreme height will be 1250 feet when finished.

The highest and most remarkable metal chimney in the world is erected at the imperial foundry at Halsbrucke, near Frieberg in Saxony. The height of this structure is 452 6 feet, and 15 74 feet in internal diameter, and is situated on the right bank of Mulde, at an elevation of 219 feet above that of the foundry works, so that its total height above the sea is no less than 711 75 feet. The works are situated on the left bank of the river, and the furnace gases are conveyed across the river to the chimney on a bridge through a pipe 3227 feet in length.

The highest artificial structure in America is the water works tower at Eden park, Cincinnati, O. The floor of the tower, reached by elevators, is 522 feet above the Ohio river. The base is 404 above the stream. If the height of the elevator shaft be added to the observation floor, the grand total height is 589 feet.

The highest office building in the world is the Manhattan Life Insurance Company, of New York city; its height above the sidewalk is 347 feet, and its foundations go down 52 feet below the same, being 20 feet below tidewater level, making a total of 400 feet. The foundations consist of 15 masonry pipes, and are carried by the same number of steel caissons. The latter were sunk to bedrock by the pneumatic process. The cantilever system was used for the foundations.

WAS PARADISE AT THE NORTH POLE?

In an interesting and highly instructive article, Edward S. Martin, in October Ladies Home Journal, reviews the numerous theories advanced by scientists in the endeavor to solve the perplexing problem as to the exact location of the site of the Garden of Eden. After sifting the theories the writer concludes that the question is no nearer answered than it was two thousand years ago, and that there are no present indications that the matter will ever be definitely settled by any man. To one of the latest and most ingenious theories Mr. Martin thus refers: The North Pole will seem at first thought to the average investigator the most unlikely site on earth for Paradise to have occupied. Nevertheless several sober and thoughtful books and pamphlets have been written in support of the North Pole's pretentions. The North Pole nowadays is bitter cold, but it has not always been so. Geologists tell us that the earth was excessively hot when it first began its course—much too hot to admit of the presence of any living creatures, except, perhaps a salamander. As it grew cooler, vegetation began on it, and then it began to be peopled, first with fishes, and then with birds and beasts, finally with man. The first spot on earth to get cool enough to use was the North Pole. In the process of time it got too cold, but there must have been a long period when the polar region was the most comfortable part of the world. During this period, many eminent geologists believe, there existed around the North Pole a continent now submerged, and that on that continent our progenitors were comfortable in their first home. It is known with entire certainity that the polar region was once warm enough for tropical vegetation to grow there. There was light enough, also, for such vegetation—abundant light, indeed, for all uses, and plenty for primeval man. Geology tells us that man might have lived at the North Pole.

IMPORTANCE OF BEING WELL DRESSED.

"I have one little bit of advice to give to every young man I take enough interest in to talk to at all about such matters," said one of Washington's most fashionable tailors in the course of a casual conversation, "and that is to dress as well as his means will permit. Dress may not make the man, but dress lends 50 per cent of value to a man that is a man. The world is full of youth that could dress far better than they do if they had a just appreciation of their value. Their idea is to save money on clothes, but they follow the poorest system of economy that I know of. A fashionable suit imparts a finished appearance to a man, and such is the weakness or vanity of the world that of half a dozen men equally talented it will invariably pin its faith in the one that is best dressed. Not that a young man's responsibility ends with the tailor. The fact is, there are three other points in a gentleman's make-up that tell his taste and character even more than a fashionable suit. The first is his hat, the next is his shoes, and between the two, his cravat. Even a shabby suit of clothes is thrown into the shade if the man wears a good looking hat, shoes carefully polished, and a piece of neckwear absolutely clean and carefully tied. If coupled with all this he wears a clean collar and clean cuffs, he may pass for a gentleman on prima facie evidence wherever he chooses to go in the business world. All combined form the passport to good society. The rest is with himself."—The Washington Post.

He—"I am very unfortunate; it seems I can please nobody." She—"Come cheer up; I have no one to admire me, either." He—"Tell you what—let's found a society for mutual admiration. I, for instance, your beautiful eyes; and what do you admire in me?" She—"Your good taste."—Brooklyn Life.

The Journal.

FRIDAY EVENING, OCTOBER 25, 1895.

LOCAL NOTICES.

Great Clearance Sale

now going on at H. N. Sager & Co's. at a discount of 50 per cent, 25 per cent and 10 per cent. See fliers.

Stetson's Uncle Tom's Cabin Co. at the Palmer Opera House Thursday evening next is the Barnum of them all.

20 lbs. fine sugar, $1.00. 10 lbs. O K lard, 95 cents. 4 lbs. Carr's best crackers, 25c. Smith's Cash Grocery.

FINE STATIONERY.—Blue is the fashionable shade for ladies' correspondence paper now, and "Ciel Bleu" is the very latest and most correct. "Prince of Wales" is another popular style, and comes in four shades, Silver Blue, Cream, French Grey and Beryl. Samples of all these papers and the fashionable sizes now prevailing can be seen at the JOURNAL Office.

Thomas Lodge.

Regular communication of Thomas Lodge, F. and A. M., Monday evening, October 28th, at 7.30 o'clock. Work, W. M.

PER ORDER OF THE W. M.

H. W. MCGREGORY, Sec'y.

PALMER NEWS.

Woman Suffrage Referendum Mass Meeting.

A mass meeting of those interested in the woman suffrage referendum question was held Monday evening in the lecture room of the Universalist church, which was well filled. Rev. H. F. Moulton presided, and presented Rev. F. E Jenkins of the Congregational church, who said that the question before the voters at this time related only to the municipal suffrage for women, but was only one of the steps which would be taken until suffrage was granted to women as fully as to men. Women ought to vote, and the terms should be exactly the same as for men; the question would be settled in time, and women would be allowed to vote. The signs of the times indicate what is coming; the newspapers which are conducted by intelligent men treat the movement with thorough respect, and with broad statesmanlike views. It has been said that women are not fitted to vote, but in those days of colleges for women, with high school classses more than half composed of girls, when the ladies study deeper intellectual problems than the young men are undertaking, it is unnecessary to discuss whether women are fitted to vote. In regard to the statement that they do not understand such matters, the speaker asserted that women had widened their scope greatly, and can widen it still more; they are as capable of mastering the problems of the day as are men. It has been stated that the voting place was not a fit place for women, but it was what the men had made it, and they had only themselves to blame. What was the danger in women voting? Men had not made a monumental success of it; ancient countries with any pretentions to greatness governed wholly by men had been run into the ground; the time was coming when a great change would take place, and instead of only half the people managing affairs, all would have a part. There was needed in politics a strong womanhood as well as a strong manhood; women had proved themselves adequate in business affairs, and what the country needed was an opportunity for the other half of its inhabitants to say what was needed in its management.

Rev. H. F. Moulton read the law passed by the last Legislature relative to giving women an opportunity of saying whether they were in favor of being granted the right of suffrage or not, and explained who were entitled to vote, the time and place of registration and the time and place of voting, and was sure no woman would find at the polls the slightest thing offensive. The vote this fall would not give them the right to vote in municipal affairs, but would have an effect on the next Legislature, and if enough votes were cast on the 5th of November, the next Legislature would no doubt give them the right to vote. He closed with an appeal to all women to register and vote 'yes."

For Women Who Wish to Vote.

Considerable interest seems to have been awakened throughout the town in regard to the woman suffrage referendum question, and it is probable that the close of registration to-morrow night will find a large number of women's names upon the voting list. The law passed by the last Legislature regarding the referendum question is:

SECTION 1. All persons qualified to vote for school committee shall, at the next State election, have an opportunity to express their opinion by voting yes or no in answer to the following question: Is it expedient that municipal suffrage be granted to women?

SECT. 2. Equal opportunity shall be given to men and women to register prior to said election.

SECT. 3. The Secretary of the Commonwealth shall, prior to said election, cause to be placed on the official ballot the following words: Is it expedient that municipal suffrage be granted to women? Yes or No.

And shall also cause other ballots to be prepared for women voters, having thereon the same words.

SECT. 4. Ballots prepared as above provided shall be furnished by the Secretary of the Commonwealth to cities and towns as are ballots for use in elections of State officers, and the ballots shall be counted and returned in the same manner as are ballots for election of State officers, except that the votes of men and women shall be returned separately.

SECT. 5. This act shall be subject to the provisions of chapter four hundred and seventeen of the acts of the year eighteen hundred and ninty-three, and acts in amendment thereof and in addition thereto, so far as the same are applicable.

Under the provisions of chapter 417, section 14, acts of 1893, women have the right to vote for members of school committees. The processof registration is governed by the same laws as for male voters, except that they are not required to be assessed. The special qualifications and rights for women are:

1. The wife of a naturalized citizen, if foreign born, is naturalized by the act of her husband; but she must produce her husband's naturalization paper.
2. A woman, foreign born, who has married a native citizen, becomes by right thereof entitled to be registered as a native voter.
3. A woman, native born, who becomes the wife of an alien, is entitled to be registered as a native voter.

Any woman 21 years of age, who has resided in the state one year and in the town six months, is eligible to vote, and can be registered to-morrow, at any time between noon and 10 o'clock at night

Peculiar Railroad Accident.

What might have proved a serious accident took place in the Blanchardville cut of the Boston and Albany road, a little more than a mile east of the village, Tuesday morning. The "modoc" passenger had left for the east on time at 8.21, and had reached the Blanchardville cut when it met a freight train, on one car of which was loaded a large Sturtevant blower. Just as the locomotive of the passenger train reached this car the blower toppled off toward the passenger train. Had it gone a fraction of a second sooner it would have landed on the track in front of the train, but it struck the corner of the engine's pilot, which threw it between the two trains, and it scraped along between the cars. The steps on the locomotive were damaged somewhat, and the steps torn from the first four cars of the train,—a mail car, baggage and two coaches,—besides which great pieces were gouged out of the woodwork on the sides of the cars. Fortunately the obstructions kept below the windows, and no one was hurt. The engineer of the passenger saw the blower fall and at once put on the air brakes, stopping the train within a short distance. On the car with the blower was a large casting, which when the accident occurred was thrown off the opposite side of the car; had this gone between the trains and under the wheels of the passenger cars, serious trouble might have resulted. The ends of the passenger car trucks were damaged considerably, so much that it was not deemed safe to proceed with them, and the train was slowly backed to this station, where the coach passengers, baggage and mail were transferred to the "governor's" train, which left at 10 19, 19 minutes late. Two coaches from the Ware River road were placed ahead of the sleepers on the "modoc," and it followed the other train east, the machinery of the locomotive not having been harmed in the accident.

McCauley—Burns.

Edward W. Burns of Palmer and Miss Kate McCauley, one of Ware's most popular young ladies, were united in marriage at All Saints' church on Wednesday of last week. Charles H. Burns of Palmer was best man, and Miss Bridget, sister of the bride, was bridesmaid. Mr. and Mrs. Burns took a short wedding trip to Boston, Medford and Fitchburg, returning Saturday evening to Thorndike, where they were serenaded by the Columbian band, after which followed refreshments and cigars. The young couple received many valuable as well as useful presents, among which were a ton of coal from J. F. Holbrook; ½ dozen silver spoons, F. H. Caryl; check for $50, L. W. Caryl; silver water pitcher, Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Fitzpatrick; silver soup ladle, Charles McManamy; plush rocker, C. H. Burns; rocker, Mrs. Mack; picture, Miss Kate Burns; ½ dozen silver knives and forks, Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Dawson; bread and milk set, Mrs. J. P. Burns of Fitchburg; cut glass vase, Nellie Barnett; water set, Mrs. John Roach of Stafford; dining table and chairs, Mrs. J. B. Daily and Mrs. Daniel Sugrue of Thorndike; cut glass berry dish, James, Kittie and Eddie Daley; piano lamp, Dr. M. W. Flynn of Pittsfield; plush rocker, Maggie and Sarah McKay of Ware; picture, Misses Murphy; picture, Mrs. Patrick Larey; picture, Ella McKay; easy chair, Mary Kane; ½ dozen fruit knives, Annie Sullivan; pie knife, Maggie Sullivan; salad fork, Annie Carrol; ½ dozen fruit plates, Jennie Carrol; ½ dozen tea spoons, Annie Conley; ½ dozen tea spoons, Lizzie McNaney; sugar shell, Mary Carrol; silver sugar bowl, Mrs. McAuliff of Cleveland, O.; silver tea set, Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Ryan of Springfield.

New Books in the Public Library.

Nearly 200 new books have been added to the public library recently, thanks to the increased appropriation by the town last spring. This is the largest accession ever made in one year by purchase, and the patrons of the library have been quick to show their appreciation of the new literature. About two-thirds of the volumes are fiction, and we give a list of the books of this class on the fourth page, with their call numbers. Cut it out and keep it for future reference. Through the generous assistance of Andrew Pinney, Hubert Howe Bancroft's "Book of the Fair" has been placed in the reference department of the library. This is a fine work of 1000 pages about the size of Harper's Weekly, in three volumes. There are 1000 pages of descriptive text and over 2500 engravings, the latter gems of art, and it is by far the most complete and artistic reproduction of the wonderful exposition that has been published. Among the interesting and timely new novels may be mentioned Capt. Mahan's "Influence of Sea Power upon History;" "Japanese Homes and their Surroundings," by Edward S. Morse; "Edwin Booth, Recollections by His Daughter;" "Norse Mythology," by R. B. Anderson; "Birdcraft," by Mabel Osgood Wright;" "Peoples and Politics of the Far East," by Henry Norman; "Social Evolution," by Benjamin Kidd; "Wealth Against Commonwealth," by Henry D. Lloyd; "Music Study in Germany," by Amy Fay; "Power through Repose," A. P. Call; "Technique of Rest," by Anna C. Brackett; "Boston Cook Book," Mrs. D. A. Lincoln; "Century Book for Young Americans," by E. S. Brooks; "Expansion of England, by J. R. Seelye; "Old Landmarks of Boston," by S. A. Drake.

Slept Out All Night.

John Hannifin of West Springfield was found beside the freight house of the New London Northern road about 7 30 last Saturday morning, having crawled out from under the building, where he had spent the night. His back was pretty lame and his trousers were somewhat torn, he accounting for these by saying that he had been struck by a train the night before. Overseer of the Poor Merriam and Dr. Hendee were called, and the man examined. Nothing more serious than a bruised back was found, and it is extremely unlikely that Hannifin and a train had any very intimate acquaintance in the manner claimed by him. He admitted that he was pretty "full" when he crawled under the freight house about 7.30 the night before, and it is more than probable that his injuries were the result of a fall. He was given some medicine and sent to Stafford, for which place he had started the day before.

A. E. Maxwell is moving from State avenue to George Keith's house on Pond street.

Mrs. Albert Bogue is visiting her parents in Mittineague.

The front of Strong's block is receiving a coat of white paint.

E. S. Gardner was home from Amherst College over Sunday.

Miss Mary Loomis has gone to New Haven to visit friends.

George S. Holden spent Sunday in New York with his brother.

O. P. Allen is building an addition to his house on Church street.

A. E. Fitch has had a telephone placed in his office in the bank block.

Mrs. W. J. Smith and children are home from an extended visit in the West.

William Sanders, employed by F. J. Wassum, is taking a vacation in Pittsfield.

Miss B. A. Murphy has returned from a week's visit with friends in Springfield.

Thomas Lodge of Masons will hold a regular communication next Monday evening.

Mrs. Warner of Sunderland spent Sunday and the first of the week with Mrs. L. M. Goddard.

At the Baptist church next Sunday morning Rev. C. R. Minard will take for his subject, "God."

Miss Annie Webster of Charlestown and Mrs. C. J. Shedd of Malden are guests of Mrs. A. T. Wing.

H. H. Paine will go to Monson next Monday evening to officially inspect the G. A. R. post of that place.

The Palmer Water Co. has laid a 2-inch pipe up Squier street from Pine, to give its patrons more water.

Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Marcy have returned from their wedding trip, and are keeping house on Pleasant street.

Mr. and Mrs. H. F. Manchester of Providence were guests of Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Smith a part of this week.

The Ladies' Tuesday Social Club will meet next Tuesday afternoon with Mrs. E. G. Hastings on West Main street.

A. G. Fisher, a principal of the Palmer high school 22 years ago, has been the guest of W. H. Small a part of the week.

Several unsightly pine trees have been removed from the cemetery this week by the superintendent, and others will be taken out soon.

Miss Lottie Bray will entertain her class in the Congregational Sunday school from 5 to 7 to-morrow evening at her home on Pleasant street.

Henry W. Holbrook has been home from Tufts College a few days, recovering from an attack of diphtheria, but has returned to his studies again.

The last chance for voters to register for the state election will be to-morrow, at the district court room in this village, from noon until 10 p. m.

Masses will be at 8.30 and 10.30 a. m. next Sunday in St. Thomas's Catholic church, with Sunday school and vespers at the usual hours of 3 and 7.30 p. m.

Mrs. E. E. Hill, who has been spending several months with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Chilson, has returned to her home in Red Wing, Minn.

The steam heating apparatus in the Odd Fellows' building is in working order as far as the opera house part is concerned, but the rooms of the order are cold as yet.

Miss Tillie Lacouline is back at her desk in the agent's office of the New London Northern road, after an all-summer vacation with her parents in West Springfield.

G. W. Lyman has the contract to build an eight-room house and a stable near Fosket's Mill for Miss L. Bowman of Plainfield, N. J., who has recently purchased a tract of land there.

E. W. Carpenter, correspondent for the Springfield Republican and Boston Globe, has secured office room with A. E. Fitch in the bank block where he can be found, or communicated with by telephone.

The Sunday school of the Baptist church gave a pleasing harvest concert in the church Sunday evening. The platform was handsomely decorated with vegetables and fruits, which afterward were distributed among the sick and needy people of the village.

W. E. Stone and L. E. Chandler attended the dinner of the Massachusetts Republican Club at Boston Wednesday night, the speakers being Hon. Theodore Roosevelt of New York, Governor Greenhalge and Lieutenant Governor Wolcott, and Congressman Smith of Michigan.

The schools of the town will close next Monday to allow the teachers to attend the annual meeting of the Hampden County Teachers' Association in Springfield. W. H. Small, superintendent of the Palmer schools, is to be superintendent of the primary section of the programme.

The Flynt Building and Construction Co. has the contract to build a warehouse for the National Dock and Warehouse Co. at East Boston, about 100 by 100 feet. It also has the contract to build another dormitory building at Exeter, N. H., for Phillips Exeter Academy, 100 by 300 feet, four stories.

A small party sat down to a game supper in the Converse House Wednesday evening, and did full justice to the eight courses on the menu. Report says that Landlord Pierce outdid himself on this occasion. The hotel is aquiring an enviable reputation for the fine spreads it sets out for parties.

The New London Northern road announces an excursion to New York next Wednesday, the tickets being good returning any time previous to and including November 6th, the fare for the round trip being only $3 25 from Palmer. The trip from New London will be made on the "City of Lowell," the new fast boat of the New York line.

A horse attached to a buggy in which were a man and two women had nearly reached the head of Commercial street Saturday night when the vehicle started backward down the hill while the horse kept on toward Main street, having pulled out of the harness. A quick dismount on the part of the man and a blocking of the wheels prevented any further damage.

A change of time went into effect on the Boston and Albany road Sunday, with two changes at this station. Camp's train, which formerly left for Springfield at 1 49 in the afternoon now leaves at 1.38, and the 3.14 p. m. east has been changed to 3.12. Two new trains have been put on for the New York run, but neither stop at Palmer, passing here at 1 58 p. m. going west and at 3.34 going east.

Stetson's "Double Monster" Uncle Tom's Cabin Co. will present that ever-popular piece in the opera house next Thursday evening. The play seems to have a hold on the people which time does not materially affect, and a good company always draws a crowded house. The company coming next week has the reputation of giving a good performance, and will be the first in several years to present this story of Southern life in Palmer.

H. A. Northrop has completed his ice pond north of the village on the Burleigh brook, and has a finepond of about 1½ acres, the average depth being about four feet. There is no finer or clearer water in this vicinity than that in this brook, in addition to which an immense spring, discovered in excavating for the pond, supplies large quantities of water. Mr. Northrop will build an icehouse there this fall capable of holding 500 tons, and fill it this winter.

At the Congregational church next Sunday morning the pastor will preach on "Christ's Effective Witnesses." In the evening there will be a layman's service conducted entirely by the Men's Sunday Evening Club. The president, D. L. Bodfish, will preside, the Scripture will be read by C. W. Bennett and the prayer will be offered by J. B. Shaw. The general topic will be "The Work of the Men's Sunday Evening Club—What is it?" Papers, "Why are Not More Men in Our Churches?" L. H. Gager; "How is This Club Trying to Interest Men?" L. E. Chandler; "How Can the Club Promote Christian Unity in the Church?" G. H. Wilkins. The pastor will give a short address on "What Opportunity Does the Church Furnish Men?" The special music will include three pieces, and will be under the care of H. W. McGregory.

Not long ago the New England Telegraph and Telephone Company petitioned for a new location of its poles through the town, and it was agreed to on condition that all the poles of the company be painted. The men arrived the first of this week and began setting their poles without consultation with any of the town officials as to where they should go. The selectmen soon discovered their work, however, and in this village they were compelled to set the new poles as near the present poles of the electric company as possible,—within a foot or two,—thus giving practically the appearance of one line of poles instead of two. With characteristic disregard for anything but their own wishes and convenience, the men located a pole close to the larger of the two fine elms in front of the Cross block on Main street, and when in digging the hole they struck a main root within a foot of the surface of the ground, proceeded to chop it off, regardless of possible consequences to the tree. Selectman Atkins happened along just at that time and stopped their action, compelling them to set the pole in another place.

District Court.

One civil entry was made last Saturday, W. Royce against Henry E. Worth and trustee, all of Wales, an action of contract.

John Brennan of Three Rivers was pitifully penitent last Friday for having absorbed two bottles of whisky the day before and being drunk in consequence, and assured His Honor almost with tears in his eyes that he never would be known to touch the stuff again. He was placed on probation until November 30th. In less than 15 minutes after he left the court room he had got outside of a big drink of whisky for a starter, and purchased a pint; he then went to a wagon in a shed and proceeded to drink himself insensible. He was found hanging by his feet with his head on the ground, and had to be pulled into the wagon before he could be untangled. Saturday he went to the state farm at Bridgewater for a year. Brennan is the man whom Judge Robinson tried to reform last July; he was brought up for drunkenness then, but played the penitent act so well that he was hired to work on the Judge's farm and sent to Three Rivers after his clothes, but was drunk again before he returned.

On Monday James Skivington of Thorndike paid $5 for drunkenness. Miles C. F. Gerald of Thorndike, for an assault on William Connolly, paid a fine of $5.

Yesterday Martin Butler of Monson was placed on probation until November 2d for having been drunk. Patrick Owen of Palmer paid $3 for drunkenness. Patrick Bothwell of Three Rivers was sent to the house of correction for two months for drunkenness. David Henchey of Taunton was sent to the house of correction for thirty days for drunkenness. Henchey appeared in court with both eyes blacked, a gash an inch and a half long across his left cheek, the right side of his face looking as if it were stuffed with cotton, and his whole visage badly swollen and discolored. He said he had had trouble the day before in the Nassowanno saloon with a colored man, and thought he had been badly abused. John Coles was charged with having assaulted Henchey, and testified that after calling him a "nigger" several times Henchey attempted to strike him, when he struck back. Coles was fined $5, the Court taking into account the provocation in the case.

This morning Daniel Sullivan of Willimantic, for drunkenness, was sent to the house of correction for two months. Daniel Purcell of Monson paid $10 for drunkenness, and for assaulting Officer Studley while the latter was attempting to arrest him last evening, paid another $10.

PALMER CENTER.

Mrs. Harwood and son of Granby Center are visiting her daughter, Mrs. William Smith.

Miss Maggie Cahill of Rockville, who has been the guest of Mrs. D. J. Mahoney for a week, has returned to her home in Rockville.

Some maliciously inclined person on Wednesday night or Thursday cut the pipe which conveys water from the spring owned by Mrs. Samuel Brown to her house and barn, the house of William Thornhill, and the water tub at the side of the road.

THORNDIKE.

The King's Daughters will meet with Mrs. Charles Mooers this evening.

Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Hobbs are at Atlanta, Ga., attending the exposition.

Ben Vigneaux of Canada, formerly of this place, is in town visiting friends.

Those interested in the dancing school will meet this evening at Union Hall.

The football game which was to have taken place last Saturday afternoon did not materialize.

Dennis Healey, who has been taking a three-months' vacation in Ireland, has returned home.

Rev. Mr. Gerrish of Goshen will again occupy the pulpit of the Congregational church next Sunday.

J. Jaiczak's new barn on Main street, which is being built by G. W. Keith of this place, is fast approaching completion.

The ladies of the Congregational church will clear nearly $40 by their supper and entertainment on Wednesday evening.

Miss Cora Samson of Palmer Center, well known in this place, and Mr. Prew of Warren, were united in marriage on Monday at Palmer.

The Columbian Band will give their annual concert and ball on Thanksgiving Eve. A Northampton orchestra of ten pieces has been secured to furnish music.

Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Burns returned from their wedding trip on Saturday, and spent Sunday in town. They were given a serenade on Saturday evening by the Columbian Band.

Howarth's Hibernica and Dublin Dan novelty and Specialty Co. will appear here next Thursday evening at Union Hall, and will no doubt draw a large audience, as it always does.

The harvest supper given Wednesday evening at the Congregational church was a decided success financially and otherwise. The supper was pronounced excellent, and the entertainment which followed was well received.

BONDSVILLE.

M. J. Griffin spent Sunday in Boston.

Daniel Sullivan of Amherst was in town over Sunday.

Mrs. Henry Armstrong of Springfield is visiting Mrs. C. F. Armstrong.

Scott Merrifield, who is employed by the Milton Bradley company of Springfield, visited his mother Sunday.

Miss Augusta Dunakin, who has been visiting her cousin here, Mrs. O. A. Parent, has returned to her home in Hadley.

T. W. Mansfield, bookkeeper in the bleaching department of the Boston Duck Co., is moving from Belchertown into the tenement vacated by John Dunn on North Main street.

Mr. and Mrs. E. G. Childs, with Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Hobbs of Thorndike, started Monday for Atlanta, Ga., to attend the exposition. They will be away about two weeks.

The members of the Epworth League are planning for a Hallowe'en party in the Methodist church vestry. Home-made candy will be furnished, and appropriate games will be arranged for the occasion.

A son, Daniel Gordon, was born to Mr. and Mrs. Albert L. Squier of Amherst on the 17th, a grandson to Mr. and Mrs. Ryther of this place. The 17th of October marks an important date in the history of the family, it being Mr. Ryther's fiftieth birthday, Mr. and Mrs. Ryther's wedding anniversary, also the wedding anniversary of their daughter Jessie to Rev. A. L. Squier.

Reuben Armstrong, father of C. F. Armstrong, died very suddenly at his home in Fletcher, Vt., Sunday. He had returned to his home the Friday before from a visit of several weeks spent here, in Springfield and Worcester, and was apparently feeling as well as ever. He drove to the creamery Sunday morning, and while sitting in his wagon waiting was taken with a shock of apoplexy. He was carried to the nearest house and a doctor was summoned, but nothing could be done. He died in about 30 minutes. He leaves a wife 80 years old, four sons and a daughter who lives in Seattle, Washington.

Two Houses Burned.

About 3 o'clock last Saturday afternoon two houses, one belonging to Michael Sullivan and occupied by Polanders, and the other owned and occupied by Michael Z. Sullivan, were destroyed by fire. The fire started in the house which the Polanders occupied, and the wind being very strong it was but a short time before the other house caught. The Poles succeeded in saving some of their goods, as did also Mr. Sullivan, but as he had made ample provision for the winter, having filled his cellar with fruit and vegetables, and has also done a considerable amount of repairing, he will feel the loss more keenly. He was insured for $1200 on the house and contents, but thinks $2000 will not cover his loss. When the fire broke out, it being near the new school building, it was thought best to send for the engine at Palmer. When the steamer was within half a mile of the scene of action, orders were given to send it back, as the Boston Duck Co's. firemen, with only one line of hose, had succeeded in conquering the flames. Great credit is due to the company's men, as the fire was well under way when they got the hose laid and ready to work, and it was through their persistent efforts that the fire was finally put out.

THREE RIVERS.

Miss Jennie Harper has the scarlet fever.

New board walks have been made at the public school this week.

F. E. Hillman spent Sunday with Mrs. Hillman in Belchertown.

The Main street bridge across the Quaboag river has been planked this week.

Mr. Hillman's brother from Northampton is spending a few days with him here.

After an illness of a few weeks' duration R. C. Newell is again able to be around.

Miss May Johnson's millinery shop is putting on its fall style in the shape of a coat of paint.

Miss Clara LeDuke of Holyoke is here for a stay of a week or so with Mr. and Mrs. Wesley Provo.

Mr. and Mrs. Merrill of Melrose are the guests of their daughter, Miss Maybelle Merrill, for a few weeks.

Next Monday the public schools will close, as the teachers are to attend the teachers' institute at Springfield.

John Ritchie is harvesting a fine patch of turnips, most of which weigh from 8 to 10 pounds. One of them tipped the scales at 11 pounds.

Fred Higgins has purchased a McCormick reaper and carrier, one of the latest inventions in farming implements. The machine has a capacity of binding and carrying ten sheaves at a time.

B. Avery, who for several months has been overseer of the mill yard, has gone back to his old trade, that of a brick mason, and Albert Geer of Belchertown has accepted the position. Mr. Geer is well known here, and it is to Belchertown's loss and our gain that he makes this change. He will move his family next Monday into the house formerly occupied by Lewis Percy.

The Y. P. S. C. E. held its monthly business meeting in the vestry of the Union church Tuesday evening. To the regret of all the members, A. Thomas McWhorter gave in his resignation of the presidency. After the business meeting the gathering was entertained by exercises of a literary nature; Misses Mattie Goshen and Helen Sweet, Mrs. Van Tassel and A. Thomas McWhorter were among those who took part. A social chat of half an hour ended the programme.

A. Thomas McWhorter, who for six years has been a resident of this place, resigned his position in the mill this week and left for Springfield, where he is to take a course in the French Protestant college. Mr. McWhorter is an exemplary young man, and is esteemed by everyone. As president of the Y. P. S. C. E. he has done much toward its enlargement and advancement this summer, and in literary circles he has been a prominent figure. His absence is greatly felt, but all wish him success in his new field.

Coal Sheds Burned.

Mr. Fillmore's sheds, in which he stored his coal, wagons, etc., were totally destroyed by fire about 12 o'clock last Friday night. C. P. Haynes's coal sheds were also destroyed, but they were empty. When the fire was discovered it had spread all over the building. The alarm was immediately given and in a very short time the Otis Company's fire department had two streams on the blaze, but the fire had too much headway, and all they could do was to save the surrounding buildings, which were in great danger on account of the strong wind. Four sleighs, several wagons, a horse-power, tools, etc., were destroyed. The total loss is about $1000. There was an insurance of $500 on the building, and the contents were also insured. About 3 o'clock, when all was quiet about the smouldering ruins, Mr. Fillmore went out to see how things were going, and was much surprised to see a light in his grain store, which is situated near the ruins. A spark had landed in a bale of hay, and if it had gone undiscovered a few minutes more the grain store would have met the same fate as did its predecessor last year.

BORN.

At Amherst, 17th, a son, Donald Gordon, to Rev. and Mrs. Albert L. Squier.

MARRIED.

At Palmer, 21st, by Rev. T. S. Donoghue, Peter Proux of West Brimfield and Cora Samson of Palmer.

At Ware, 20th, by Rev. A. B. Bassett, Milan Greene and Addie Twiss.

At Ware, 22d, by Rev. James Boyle, Edward Moore and Elizabeth McCarty.

At Ware, 21st, by Rev. L. E. Rivard, Fortuna Riendeau and Lillian M. Langevin.

At Northampton, 17th, Dr. Frank Ellsworth Spaulding of Ware and Mary Elizabeth Stow.

DIED.

At Ware, 21st, Ruth Standley, 71, wife of George C. Holden.

At Warren, 21st, Mrs. Clara J. Weaver, 50.

At Wilbraham, 19th, John H. Fitzpatrick, 25, son of Michael and Julia Fitzpatrick.

At Hampden, 21st, Albert Watts, formerly of West Warren.

At Glendale, 18th, Henry Ledbetter.

At Fletcher, Vt., 20th, Reuben Armstrong, father of C. F. Armstrong of Bondsville.

FOR SALE CHEAP.—A small coal stove. 2*30 HARVEY CAREY, Palmer.

WANTED.—Competent girl for general housework. Mrs. J. O. MATTHEWS, Palmer.

BOARDERS WANTED. Also washing done at MRS. R. A. ROBINSON'S, Cross Block, Main street, Palmer. 1-30

WANTED.—In a desirable locality by married couple, one or two furnished rooms, with board. Reply, stating terms, to 2*29 G. W. D., JOURNAL office.

FOR SALE.—Kitchen range with water front, and small Franklin open-grate parlor stove, both in excellent condition. Also two Ingrain carpets. Inquire at JOURNAL office.

FOR SALE.—House on Squier avenue and building lots Pond street, belonging to J. A. Squier estate. Enquire W. W. LEACH, Palmer, Mass., April 23, 1894. tf-4

DRS. ALLEN AND HAYES, specialists in chronic diseases, will be at the Converse House, Palmer, on Wednesday of each week from 9 a. m. to 9 p. m. Consultation free. Latest methods employed.

TOWN OF PALMER.
NOTICE TO VOTERS.

The Registrars will hold sessions as follows:

At the District Court room on Thursday, October 3d, from 2 to 4 p. m.

At the office of the Palmer Mill in Three Rivers, on Wednesday, October 16th, from 2 to 4 p. m.

At the office of the Boston Duck Co. in Bondsville, on Monday, October 21st, from 2 to 4 p. m.

At the office of the Thorndike Co. in Thorndike, on Wednesday, October 23d, from 2 to 4 p. m.

And at the District Court room in Palmer, on Saturday, October 26th, from 12 o'clock, noon, until 10 o'clock p. m., when registration will cease for the next state election.

5-26 J. B. SHAW, Clerk of the Board of Registrars.

ODD FELLOWS OPERA HOUSE,
Thursday Evening, Oct. 31.
Steton's Spectacular Uncle Tom's Cabin Co.
A Great Company! A Great Cast!

Two Topsies. Two Marks. Eva and her Pony, Prince. Lone Star Quartette. African Mandolin Players. Saxophone and Glockenspiel Players. Jubilee Singers. Buck and Wing Dancers. Shouters, Etc.

GRAND STREET PARADE.

Two Bands. Golden Chariots drawn by tiny Shetland Ponies.

Seats at Allen's Monday morning.

TOWN OF PALMER.
TOWN WARRANT.

COMMONWEALTH OF MASSACHUSETTS.—HAMPDEN SS. To Herbert A. Northrop, constable of the town of Palmer. Greeting:

In the name of the Commonwealth of Massachusetts you are hereby directed to notify and warn all the inhabitants of the town of Palmer qualified to vote in elections, to meet in their respective precincts as follows, viz: Those in Precinct A at engine house on Park street in the Depot village; those in precinct B in basement of Loftus's block on Commercial street in Thorndike; those in Precinct C in the vestry of the Baptist church on East Main street in Three Rivers; and those in Precinct D at Liberty Hall on Main street in Bondsville, on Tuesday, the fifth day of November next, it being the Tuesday next after the first Monday of said month, at 7 o'clock in the forenoon, to bring in their votes to the precinct officers for Governor and Lieutenant-Governor of the Commonwealth, Councilor in District No. 8, Secretary of the Commonwealth, Treasurer and Receiver General, Auditor, Attorney General, Senator for the First Hampden District, Representative in the General Court for the Tenth Hampden District, District Attorney for the Western District, Sheriff for Hampden County, one County Commissioner for three years for Hampden County, two Special Commissioners for Hampden County; and to vote "Yes" or "No" in answer to the following question: Is it expedient that municipal suffrage be granted to women? All on one ballot.

The polls will be opened at 7 o'clock a. m. and may be closed at 11 o'clock a. m.

And you are hereby directed to serve this warrant by posting up attested copies thereof at the different public places designated by the vote of the town, seven days at least, before the holding of said meeting, and cause this warrant to be printed in the Palmer JOURNAL at least two issues before the holding of said meeting.

Hereof fail not and make due return of this warrant, with your doings thereon, to the Town Clerk, on or before the holding of said meeting.

Given under our hands this twentieth day of October, A. D. 1895.

JOHN F. TWISS, } Selectmen of
GEO. M. ATKINS, } Palmer.

A true copy—Attest:
H. A. NORTHROP, Constable of Palmer. 2-30

DR. O. P. Roller,
Dentist.

Teeth extracted without pain by a new system. The latest methods in dentistry employed.
Office hours from 8 a. m. to 4.30 p. m.
Lawrence Block, Palmer, Mass.

Meekins, Packard & Co.

A Great Boom in the Furniture Business.

Our new fall patterns are all on our floors. Our new store-room full to overflowing with the most desirable goods we have ever shown.

Nearly every piece made to our special order and in designs not to be found in any other house in the city.

Nearly 90,000 square feet devoted to furniture alone, since taking on the last addition from the Morgan property on Hillman street, and if spread out in one piece would make over two acres given to this department.

Buying in large quantities for spot cash for all our wholesale and retail business, we are in a position to offer all goods at the lowest prices. Our sales for this season show our efforts are appreciated. Every one in this department is busy from morning till night; extra help on sales floors and in shipping rooms.

Almost every piece new this season.

In every line of furnishings for Chamber, Hall,
Dining-room, Parlor,
Kitchen, Library,
Office.

You'll find us ready with reliable goods, best styles, and PRICES RIGHT.

Furniture department.

Meekins, Packard & Co.
Springfield, Mass.

Reduction.

We will make a special
10 per cent Reduction
on all our
Wall Papers,
Friezes,
Borders,
Mouldings, etc.,
for the next
Sixty Days.
Call and See us.
Next Door to Post Office.
LeGro & Lynde,
Palmer, Mass.

Horse Blankets.

A full line, for both stable .....and street use.....

375 BLANKETS IN STOCK.

PRICES RIGHT.

D. W. Foskit,
Foskit's Mills.

COMMONWEALTH OF MASSACHUSETTS.—HAMPDEN SS. PROBATE COURT.

To the next of kin, and all others interested in the estate of Julia A. Bliss, late of Palmer, in said County, deceased:

Whereas, Ebenezer Brown, the administrator of the estate of said deceased, has presented to said Court for allowance the final account of his administration on said estate and has made application for a distribution of the balance in his hands among the next of kin of said deceased.

You are hereby cited to appear at a Probate Court to be held at Palmer, in said County of Hampden, on the twenty-seventh day of November, A. D. 1895, at nine o'clock in the forenoon, to show cause, if any you have, why said account should not be allowed and distribution made according to said application.

And the petitioner is ordered to serve this citation by publishing the same once in each week, for three successive weeks, in the Palmer JOURNAL, a newspaper published in said Palmer, the last publication to be one day at least before said Court.

Witness, WILLIAM S. SHURTLEFF, Esquire, Judge of said Court, this twenty-second day of October, in the year of our Lord one thousand eight hundred and ninety-five.

3-30 SAMUEL B. SPOONER, Register.

Bicycle Repairing
in all its branches.
Bicycles to rent.
E. A. Buck & Co.,
Cross Block, Palmer.

TEETH FILLED WITHOUT PAIN
in every case. And
TEETH EXTRACTED WITHOUT PAIN
in fully 95 per cent of cases.
Also Artificial Teeth that are made right.
Strictly first-class dentistry in every department. Prices reasonable. Lady attendant. Elevator.
DR. WM. L. ROBERTS, DENTIST.
Springfield Office: Court Sq. Theatre Building. Holyoke Office: 291 High St.

Piano and Banjo Lessons
given by
Misses Annie and Carrie Fish,
22-tf Palmer.

When to buy---Now D. L. Bodfish. The place to buy.

Have you seen our Fall Wraps?
Best values, newest styles, perfect fit right at home.

Ladies' Jackets in plain and boucle effects, cloth and plush capes, that in style and workmanship cannot be excelled at our prices.

Our Infants' Department contains a rich assortment of cloaks and bonnets that have only to be seen to be appreciated.

Beautiful lines of Dress Goods adorn our shelves, that please the eye and satisfy the desires.

Underwear and Hosiery. Never was this line of goods more desirable than now. Ask to see our 38c Jersey Vest---it is a seller.

Clothing. A full line of men's suits from $5.00 to $20.00. Children's suits at all prices.

Main Street, D. L. Bodfish. Palmer, Mass.

New Fall Dress Goods.

Plaids have the call, and we show an elegant assortment in 75c, 50c, 25c, and 10c lines.

Teazle Downs are great goods for wrappers and children's wear, and the styles equal to all-wool goods.

In Black Goods the lines are complete in Henriettas, Serges, Cords, and Figured Mohairs.

New Buttons, Braids, and Trimmings. Gloves and Hosiery.

Domestic Department, largest and best assortment shown in the last ten years.

Blankets and Comfortables
at lowest prices.

J. B. Shaw; Feeney's Block, Main Street, Palmer.

SPECIAL SALE
OF FALL AND WINTER BOOTS AND SHOES.
Now is the time and HALL'S is the place.
Warm lined shoes now in. Waterproof shoes just received.
The best $2 and $3 shoe for ladies and gents in Western Mass.
Rubbers---Full stock, all first quality. Prices right.
Hall's Shoe House, 294 Main St., next to P. O. ...SPRINGFIELD...

Wanted.
Agents, Local or Traveling on Salary or Commission, to sell our Warranted Stock.
Sold with a guarantee, at reasonable prices. Steady work and good pay assured. New methods and new specialties. Outfit free, experience unnecessary. Now is the time to commence.
Address, H. B. Williams, Sec'y.
Chautauqua Nursery Co.,
Portland, N. Y.

TO COLT OWNERS.
I castrate colts and ridglings by Mile's system, holding diplomas from Mile's School of Castrating and from the Chicago Veterinary College.
3-tf Dr. S. H. Ellery, Palmer.

F. F. MARC

The Journal.

FRIDAY EVENING, OCTOBER 25, 1895.

NEIGHBORHOOD NOTES.

MONSON.

LOCAL NOTICES.

Stetson's Uncle Tom's Cabin Co. at the Palmer Opera House Thursday evening next is the Barnum of them all.

Notable Gathering of Old Men.

Yesterday there were gathered in Memorial Hall about sixty men whose average age was 74 years. Truly a remarkable company. Only three wore glasses, and but few carried canes; nearly all had snowy hair; some were bald and many were somewhat deaf, but all in all a smarter, happier company would be hard to find. They came in response to the following invitation:

MONSON HISTORICAL SOCIETY.
INCORPORATED MAY 21, 1895.

"With the Ancients is Wisdom."

To whom these Presents may come. Greeting:

It is proposed to carry out the plan conceived by our lamented townsman, Hon. W. N. Flynt, for a reception and talk with those who have been and are interested in the Town of Monson, its past and present, and especially all who have attained the age of three score and ten years and over. You are therefore cordially and earnestly invited to meet with your fellow citizens at Memorial Hall on Thursday, Oct. 24, 1895, at 11 o'clock a. m., at which time appropriate remarks may be expected from invited guests, as also a brief memorial of Mr. Flynt. It is hoped that you will bring something by way of anecdote, history or other item of interest of days past and gone that will enliven the occasion, and if possible furnish a fund of valuable information for the Historical Society and to posterity. A dinner of hot oysters, baked beans, brown bread, doughnuts and pumpkin pies, with tea and coffee, will be provided at prompt 1 o'clock by the Women's Relief Corps, in Grand Army hall, tickets for which will be given you at the box office. It is sincerely hoped that you will be present. Yours, etc.,

GEO. H. NEWTON, Historian.

The plan of this gathering originated with the late William N. Flynt some two years ago, but was not matured until a short time before he died, invitations being issued for September 28, the day of his death, and it was only the day before that he consented to their recall. If he could have witnessed the gathering yesterday it would have been the one joy of his life. JudgeNewton, realizing the deep interest Mr. Flynt had in his plan, resolved to carry it out so far as possible, and on the 17th sent the above greeting to all who had been bidden to the picnic on the park.

JUDGE GEORGE H. NEWTON.

The hour designated found the company seated in a hollow square with Rev. James Tufts at Judge Newton's right hand. Judge Newton opened the meeting by a word of welcome to all present. He also said: I think there will be nearly 100 here, and I expect now to have a few words from Mr. Tufts, if here, to the memory of Mr. Flynt. At the time Mr. Flynt intended to have the dinner he drove down the street and said, "Mr. Newton, I am going to have a dinner for the people of three-score-and-ten, and I want you to come up." I told him that I was not 70 years old, and he said "neither am I 100, but we have lived two years in one." He wanted me to assist him and to act as toast-master, and said, "I am going to sit in the middle and I want you to sit at my right and Mr. John Morris of Hartford on my left." Mr. Newton then read several letters from men who could not be present, including one from Mr. Morris.

Mr. Saml. K. Foster was the first to speak. He said that he came to Monson 64 years ago when he was 15 years old. His father was educated at the Monson Academy, and he spoke of Dr. Ely and about the success of Mr. Reynolds, and how he carried on his work in the old times when men worked 13 hours a day and thought that a short time to be employed, whereas now men grumble at 8 hours.

Mr. Tufts then spoke as follows: "I am very glad to see so many of my old friends come together. Those of you who are between 78 and 86 were born in the time of Madison's administration, when there was a good deal of trouble in the country, it being the time of war, and those of you who are between 70 and 78 were born in Monroe's administration, when all was peace and quiet. As I look into the faces of my friends here I see a good deal of life yet, and a good deal of energy and force. Things have certainly changed, I can remember well when John Q. Adams was minister abroad; he asked his wife what she wanted him to bring her from the Old Country, and you would naturally suppose that she would want some fine silk or some fancy dress goods, but she said, 'if you bring me a package of pins I will be much obliged.' People do not grow old so fast now as they did then, as the times are more adapted to their infirmities. I've known Mr. Flynt since I have been here, 43 years. I came here in October 43 years ago, and Mr. Flynt was married in November. I was well acquainted with him. He was a strong business man, and took great interest in all things connected with the town, whether in business or socially, and if he had not been limited,—as considerable of his time was taken up in his business,—his range of good works would have been much larger. He was always willing to help along in any good cause, and I hope that his three boys will surpass him in these things, for the young people should be able to do more than their fathers. There is no evidence of second childhood here." Few there be whose days amount to three score years and ten, and all beyond that are sorrow, trial and pain. We are all going down the west side of the hill."

Sherman Converse said that he had been away from Monson nearly 31 years, and consequently found great changes here. He said he recalled the time very well when they never had any more than one fire in the house, no matter if there were 5, 6, 8 or 10 children, and that there were many things which he could tell about the way of living at that time, which people of the present time would hardly believe. He spoke about Dr. Ely and the little Red Schoolhouse.

Mr. D. L. Shaw of Chicopee said that he left Monson when he was 16, but remembered Mr. Flynt very well, and also said that there is no place he thinks so much of outside of the town he now lives in, as he does of Monson. He showed a very ancient watch of the year 1781, which was given him by his great-grandfather.

Mr. Maxwell spoke about the numerous changes which had taken place in the town since he was a boy, that when they went to church in cold weather they took a foot-stove with them, and also said that he has in his possession one of those old stoves.

Abel Calkins said that he left Monson when he was 12 years old. Mr. Flynt had asked him to come over to meet the old men, and said: "Mr. Newton has instructions that if a man talks over 5 minutes, he is to rap him down." He also spoke of Dr. Ely and said, "He used to pray all around the world, and when he got back he knew it was about time to sit down; his sermons he would always divide into parts, first, second, third and fourth, and he knew when he came to the fourth part that it was about time for dinner, if not before.

Mr. William Stacy said, "My grandfather was offered 100 acres, which is now built up by the village of Monson, for a yoke of stags. Land at that time was worth $1 an acre."

E. P. Newton said that in the year 1840 a great party went on horseback to Springfield to hear Daniel Webster during the campaign of Tippecanoe and Tyler too. He said that Webster wore a white vest, white pants and a blue coat, and that during his speech he tore his coat in the back and someone called his attention to it, when he said "Never mind the coat, three cheers for Tyler too."

Johnson W. Stacy also spoke of the convention at Springfield, having been one of the party; on the way over they met a great ox team, and on the wagon was built a log cabin, and inside the cabin they had a barrel of cider.

Mr. Alfred L. Converse: "I can only express to you gentlemen that it gives me great pleasure to be here and to listen to reminiscences in connection with Monson. Mr. Flynt had been looking forward with pleasure to the meeting proposed in the park, and knowing him as I did, it would have been the crowning act of his life to be able to meet all the old men of three score and ten, and Judge Newton is certainly carrying out that which he arranged; it does seem to me fitting to extend to you our thanks for thus considering this matter and carrying it out, as it certainly will be to-day, with great success.

Mr. J. F. Morris of Hartford: "Last August my late friend and relative, Mr. W. N. Flynt, told me that he intended to have a meeting of all the old men of Monson with a view of advancing somewhat the historical interest of the town. At that time I greatly feared he would not be able to carry out his plans. In compliance with the invitation which I had received, I started on my way to attend the meeting. On my way I learned of his sudden relapse, and I am here to-day through the courtesy of your invitation." He also told about his experience with the Red men. The artillery were practicing on the hill, now Flynt Park, when they were surprised by the Indians. After being very much frightened it turned out that the Indians consisted of Mr. Edwin Norcross and Mr. Frank Brown.

Calvin L. Pease spoke of the schools in the early days of Monson, when out of the sixteen districts the smallest school numbered thirty scholars. Now many of these schools have five or six scholars, and some are closed entirely.

Mr. Morris said of the schools that the birch was an important factor.

S. G. Lanphear told interesting anecdotes of the artillery practice, and said that 90 years ago every man was a soldier.

Judge Newton said that there was but one man present over 70 who served in the War of the Rebellion, Solomon Pierce, whereupon three cheers were given for him.

Charles Carpenter remembered the building of the Petersham-Monson turnpike, and related incidents in connection with it. Mr. Carpenter taught school ten years when a young man, and said he had a chance to know something about boys.

Dinner was served in Grand Army Hall by the Marcus Keep Woman's Relief Corps at 1 o'clock, after which the story-telling was resumed. Among the speakers were Lorenzo L. Squier, Elias Warriner, Solomon Pierce, Calvin S. Pease, Charles Carpenter, Samuel K. Foster, Moses Smith, S. Gaylord Lanphear, Abel Calkins. About half past three the company adjourned to the front entrance of the building, and was photographed by A. N. Gaounette. Those present at the gathering, exclusive of historical society members, were:

NAME.	BIRTHPLACE.	YR. AGE
Tyler Smith,	Belchertown	1823—72
A. H. Maxwell,	Monson	1823—72
D. L. Shaw,	Monson	1823—73
Charles Car,	Monson	1808—87
Erastus Davis,	Thompson, Ct.	1816—75
Wilson Beckwith,	Lebanon, Ct.	1812—79
Earl Parker,	Mansfield, Ct.	1819—76
Edward P. Newton,	Monson	1825—70
Alpheus Stanton,	Willington, Ct.	1820—75
Michael J. Clinton,	Ireland	1813—82
Thomas Roberts,	England	1819—76
William G. Stacy,	Monson	1815—80
Moses Smith,
A. B. Bradway,	Monson	1821—74
A. W. Leonard,	Shutesbury	1826—69
Daniel Leonard,	Shutesbury	1819—76
Daniel Riley,	Ireland	1821—74
O. Morris Hitchcock,	Monson	1823—72
James P. Davis,	Hampden	1825—70
George H. Gates,	Monson	1822—73
James Tufts,	Woodboro, Vt.	1812—83
Calvin S. Pease,	Monson	1824—71
Daniel Carpenter,	Monson	1812—83
Zelotus Moulton,	Monson
J. L. Bradway,	Stafford	1816—79
Jesse T. Leonard,	Shutesbury	1824—71
S. W. Stacy,	Monson	1825—70
John W. Miller,	Phelps, N. Y.	1819—76
John L. Chaffee,	Monson	1816—79
Samuel K. Foster,	Rutland	1816—79
George E. Tucker,	Monson	1821—74
Chauncey Walcott,	Brandon	1809—86
Daniel G. Potter,	Willington	1817—78
Samuel W. Page,	Stafford, Ct.	1821—74
J. D. Fenton,	Stafford	1821—74
L. L. Squier,	Monson	1818—77
W. H. Little,	Campton	1821—74
Frederick Smith,	Stafford	1821—74
William King,	Monson	1816—79
D. Estaing S. Field,	Leverett	1815—82
John D. Bradway,	Monson	1816—79
Elias T. Warriner,	Monson	1818—77
J. M. Webber,	Palmer	1825—70
A. H. Calkins,	East Longmeadow	1823—72
Roswell Pease,	Monson	1824—71
Solomon Pierce,	Dalton	1820—75
Sherman Converse,	Monson	1822—73
A. L. Converse,	Brimfield	1824—71
Amos Anderson,	Monson	1824—71
John Bucklin,	Ludlow	1816—79
S. G. Lanphear,	Monson	1819—76
R. H. Moulton,	Stafford	1822—73
E. L. Maxwell,	Wilbraham	1819—70
A. J. Robbins,	Monson	1815—80
Ira Fales,	Holden	1814—81
Samuel Wing,	Conway	1813—82
M. C. Mumford,	Wilbraham	1824—71
Albert Heburtha, W.	Springfield	1824—71
Solomon Squier,	Wales	1829—66
James Smith,	Leomister	1826—69
John M. Royce,	Willington	1830—65

Letters of regret were read from Joel W. Norcross, Boston; Rev. C. L. Woodworth, Amherst; Frederick Tucker, New Haven; Hamilton White, Springfield; Charles O. Homer, N. Y; Rev. W. H. Marble, Monson. Mrs. Alvord, daughter of Dr. Ely, was present.

Electric Road Franchise Hearing.—No Opposition.

A hearing in regard to the granting of a franchise to the Palmer and Monson Electric Railway Co. was given at Memorial Hall last Friday evening. No decision was rendered. The petitioners were first given an opportunity to present their side of the question, but, although two of the directors were present, neither responded. Judge George H. Newton finally arose and spoke in favor of having a road, giving his reasons why the people would be benefited; he spoke of the large number of women and children who would be glad of a cheap outing, also of the convenience it would be to those who were desirous of making close connections with trains on the Boston and Albany road at Palmer, also of the well-known conservativeness of New Englanders in all such enterprises where westerners did not hesitate; that the tax-payers would assuredly be benefited, because the company would certainly have a share of the roads to take care of; he ended by requesting those present who favored having a road to rise, but objections to this were raised. Postmaster John P. Herlihy, Jr., thought that the roads would be kept in better shape if a railway were built, and favored the lower or main road. Rev. F. S. Hatch thought it would be an excellent thing for the town, but mentioned his disapproval of Sunday traffic. Dr. George E. Fuller supposed that the company would be represented, and thought that if they were very anxious about the matter the directors had better show their interest by speaking; on general principles he wanted the road, but thought that the streets were in many places too narrow now; concerning the trade which might leave town, he said that for aught he knew people would go to Palmer for their pills, but he would willingly run the risk; he laid much stress upon the conditions upon which the franchise should be granted, proper water-ways, etc. Rev. F. S. Hatch wanted the road, but thought that the franchise should terminate after a term of years; he felt that the trees on the streets ought not to be spoiled however, and gave instances where the streets were too narrow for the railway and teams too. Dr. N. W. Rand said that where a few people might be damaged a great many would be benefited, especially the poorer classes, who could get cheap rides, with the same amount of fresh air as would be gotten in a carriage drive. Carlos M. Gage, while not opposing the road, saw no reason why the town should not be compensated for that which the company evidently cosidered of great value; he thought that a lump sum or a rental would be the proper thing, and said that this was the coming policy of the state. W. M. Tucker thought that if the quarry road were to be selected it should be widened, and damages paid to abutters. George C. Flynt, one of the directors, finally said that he was authorized to tell the people that if a franchise were granted the company would proceed to lay out any route which the selectmen saw fit to ask, and would go to work at once; he promised that it should be first-class in every respect. Edward D. Cushman, the other director present, said that while not inclined to oppose the road at all he could not say that he was a particularly hearty advocate of it, but wanted the matter brought before the town, as it was a very important question, one which should be looked into very carefully, and after doing so if the selectmen saw fit to grant the franchise, go ahead. John McGuire thought that entire confidence should be placed in the selectmen and their ability to settle the problem, and added "The working men want it." Mr. Flynt then said that the company stood ready to pay any expense of widening roads, etc., which should be thought necessary by the selectmen. Eugene Foskit favored the main, or lower route. L. Rood suggested an air line, and Samuel Closson a circuit. Then Wesley A. Squier arose and proceeded to give in detail his opinion on specified places where the town should not grant a franchise; he mentioned the North Monson bridge, the Flynt turnout bridge, the Reynolds bridge, and other places as being none too wide for ordinary travel. He had no objection to the road, but rather appeared to doubt the willingness of the company to bear the entire expense of widening and strengthening these bridges.

Mrs. A. N. Gaounette and children are visiting at Palmer Centre.

Rev. Dr. Pitblado of New York has been a guest at T. H. Todd's this week.

Edward White of Springfield, a former resident, has been in town this week.

The mid-term examinations at the Academy took place yesterday and to-day.

Rev. and Mrs. William H. Marble have spent a part of the week at West Gardner.

T. H. Todd has his winter opening and cloak sale next week, beginning Monday.

Deacon D. S. Field leaves next Thursday for Los Angeles, Cal., to reside with his son.

Robert Fuller, son of Mr. and Mrs. George L. Fuller, goes to Kalamazoo, Mich., for the winter.

Prof. J. S. R. Coy has postponed the organ recital which he had planned for Tuesday evening.

Charles W. Darling, who left town in the spring, has moved his goods to Bondsville the past week.

Mr. and Mrs. Nicholson of Newport, who are on their wedding journey, are the guests of Mr. and Mrs. T. H. Todd.

The Monson auxiliary has recently sent $81 to the Springfield branch of the Woman's Board of Missions.

H. C. Webb, machinist at R. M. Reynolds's straw works, has recently moved his family to town from Mansfield.

To-morrow will be the last day on which voters may register. The registrars will be in session from 12 m. to 10 p. m.

The Lino and Philo societies of the Academy meet this evening. Miss Strong will give reminiscences of her trip to Europe at the meeting of the latter society.

The news of the death of Rev. William H. Gordon of Worcester Wednesday night was learned with much regret by Monson people, among whom he was well known and much revered.

Rev. F. S. Hatch, Edward F. Morris and Mrs. Joseph H. Carpenter were delegates to the Hampden County Convention at Holyoke this week. Mr. Hatch was chosen moderator for the current year.

H. M. L. Ladd of the state highway has resigned. The Flynt Granite Co. has secured a steam roller, and will finish the mile. The blasting at the trap-rock quarry can be heard in Worcester, a distance of 25 miles.

The Bijou Entertainers of Boston will appear in Memorial Hall next Tuesday evening under the auspices of A. A. Gage camp, Sons of Veterans. After the entertainment there will be a social dance, for which the Monson Orchestral club will furnish music.

There will be a harvest and Thanksgiving concert at the Universalist church at 7 o'clock Sunday evening. The exercise will be entitled "The Golden Year." The children have a thank-offering for the poor, and those who have not already contributed, still have an opportunity.

An organ recital will be given in the Congregational church next Friday evening at 8 o'clock. Mr. N. H. Allen, organist of the First church in Hartford, will play, and a vocalist from Boston will sing. This recital is a memorial to Mrs. C. W. Homes, Jr., by her daughter, and all are cordially invited.

A supporting wall is to be built around the south and east terraces of the Thompson extension of the Center cemetery. The wall is to be of rough ashler, laid in cement, with capstones. The W. N. Flynt Granite Co. has the contract, and has already begun work. The cemetery commissioners have caused the plateau to be graded and seeded down during the past summer, and next year it will be laid out in burial lots. The entire cemetery has been very nicely cared for the past summer.

The Marcus Keep Woman's Relief Corps celebrated the fourth anniversary of its organization, and held its annual inspection Wednesday afternoon. Nine members of the Warren corps and fifteen members of the Palmer corps were present. A collation was served, followed by a short entertainment. The Marcus Keep corps has a membership of eighty-five, five ladies having joined during the year. The president and chaplain, Mrs. Susan E. Thrall and Miss Mary J. Gage, have died in that time.

A pretty wedding took place at the house of Mrs. Huldah Bliss Wednesday afternoon of last week, where her daughter, Mary L., was married to Morton L. Miller by Rev. William H. Marble. The couple stood under an arch of evergreen, and were attended by Leona Bliss, a little neice of the bride, and Thaddeus Miller, the youngest brother of the groom. The bride wore a dress of white lansdowne, and the tiny bridesmaid was also dressed in white. The wedding guests were limited to the family and intimate friends. Mr. and Mrs. Miller will go to housekeeping in Miss Sarah Bradford's house on Main street.

The eleventh annual meeting of the Dorcas society of the Congregational church was held Wednesday afternoon with Mrs. William N. Flynt. Some of the ladies of the Dorcas and Benevolent societies have been desirous for some time of consolidating the two organizations, and the matter came up for consideration at this meeting. No definite action was taken, but an adjourned meeting will be held next Wednesday afternoon, when a vote will be taken. The Benevolent society is a very old organization, and the proceeds have been divided between home work and home missions. The president for the past two years has been Mrs. Rufus Cushman. The sum of $68 was recently sent to the Woman's Home Missionary Society in Boston. The Dorcas society has had for its president for the past six years Mrs. William N. Flynt, and the proceeds have been used entirely for home purposes. During the past year electricity has been put into the parlors of the church, and near the pulpit in the audience room, $172.17 having been expended for it, and it is desired that the work of so lighting the building may be completed this year. The treasurer's report showed a balance of $137.67 in the bank.

GLENDALE.

The ladies of the Methodist church will give their annual chicken-pie supper next Tuesday evening in the church, from 6 to 8, followed by a musical entertainment.

NORTH WILBRAHAM.

Mr. and Mrs. John W. Baldwin have the sympathy of many friends in the recent death of their eight-years-old son, Georgie F. He was a very bright and active little fellow, and will be greatly missed by his playmates and friends. The burial was at Palmer.

BRIMFIELD.

Miss Lydia Hitchcock is visiting her sister, Mrs. Frank Bordman of Meriden, Ct.

Salem D. Charles of Boston has been visiting at his old home here during the hunting season.

George Sibley has bought of Dr. S. H. Ellery of Palmer, his house and land on East Hill.

WILBRAHAM.

Mrs. R. H. Morgan of Providence is visiting Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Bliss.

The town has 21 pupils enjoying high school privileges at Wesleyan Academy.

Rev. M. S. Howard exchanged pulpits with Rev. N. Vander Pyle of North Wilbraham last Sunday.

William Sessions, son of William R. Sessions, secretary of the state board of agriculture, has returned from Dakota, after an absence of several years, with a car-load of stock.

WALES.

Mrs. Heald has returned to her home in Canada, Me.

Gilbert Roth has moved into the Calvin Chaffee farm.

The painters are working on the meeting-house steeple.

Misses Annie and Orril Shaw will have a well dug on their new home.

Mrs. Annie Sizer has purchased a horse of Mrs. W. A. Cooke for her new farm work.

Edwin S. Dunham has bought a farm of Mrs. Lucy Bond in the north part of the town, and will take possession April 1.

Charles A. Moore is engaged in H. H. Hall's meat market. Mr. Moore was once in business here, and his old friends are glad of his return.

Husband and Money Gone.

William H. Lloyd left town with his wife about two weeks ago and went to Westfield, where he represented that he had secured a job and should commence work Nov. 1st. He advised his wife to draw about $160 which she had in a saving bank, for the purpose of fitting up a room, which she did. About a week ago he left home saying he had engaged to help repair a bridge a few miles from there, and might be away over night. At the end of two days he did not return, and she has not heard from him or her money. Was there foul play, or has he left for parts unknown? They had been married only about three months. His wife has returned to her parents here in great grief.

WARREN.

Mrs. Rice and Miss Fannie Strickland have returned from Magnolia.

The King's Daughters met with Mrs. George Tarbell last Friday.

A. L. Converse attended the memorial gathering at Monson yesterday.

Mrs. Horton of North Brookfield has been the guest of Mrs. Newell Shepard.

The third annual chrysanthemum show will be held in the town hall Friday, Nov. 15th, afternoon and evening. The programme is not yet completed.

R. C. Strickland will go soon to Cleveland, O., to run the large Knowles pump which is to furnish water for the city. There has been some trouble in the working of the pumps, and Mr. Strickland has been sent there by the company to test them.

The funeral services of Mrs. Michael White, whose death occurred at her home last Friday night, were held at St. Athanasius church Monday morning. Requiem high mass was celebrated by Rev. J. F. Leonard. The deceased leaves a husband and one daughter.

The annual meeting of the Home Missionary Society was held in the ladies' parlors Wednesday afternoon, when the following officers were elected: President, Mrs. Mary Kimball; vice president, Mrs. Margaret Shumway; secretary, Mrs. Mary L. Hastings; treasurer, Mrs. Barlow.

Mrs. Clara J. Weaver, 50, wife of Madison Weaver, died quite suddenly Monday afternoon at her home in the east part of the town. Her death was due to pneumonia, from which she had been suffering about a week. She leaves a husband and two daughters, Mrs. Minnie Bond of Springfield, and Miss Lottie, who lives at home. The funeral was held at the home of her daughter in Springfield yesterday afternoon.

WEST WARREN.

Tuesday was visiting day for a part of the school teachers.

Miss Mary Miller, who has been very sick, is now out of danger.

The thermometer stood at 15° in many places Tuesday morning.

Mrs. Albert Watts and Miss Stella, of New London, are spending a few days in town.

Several ladies in this precinct will register this evening and go to the polls next Tuesday and vote.

Alexander D. Kennedy, who has been traveling in Europe for the last 15 months, has returned home.

The ladies of the M. E. church will hold a harvest supper next Thursday evening. An entertainment will be furnished after supper.

Michael J. Shea and Daniel Sullivan have been found guilty of keeping a liquor nuisance and fined $100 each and sentenced to three months' imprisonment.

Albert Watts, a former resident of this place, died very suddenly at his home in Holyoke Monday night of Bright's disease. He was taken sick at his work in the afternoon about 5 o'clock and went into convulsions, which continued until death released him about 10 o'clock.

A Bad Freight Wreck.

A wreck which delayed west-bound trains until after 4 o'clock took place on the north track of the Boston and Albany road west of this place about midnight Wednesday, on the down grade just after crossing the iron bridge over the river. It is supposed that a draw-bar dropped, at any rate about a dozen cars were knocked off their trucks, although not all the trucks left the track and only two cars were left in a position to bother the other trains. One of these two was a large refrigerator car, and it lay square across the south track, while just beyond it was the platform of a flat car. The wrecker from Springfield was sent for, and made short work of clearing the south track after it arrived. The north track was blocked until about noon yesterday, however, an immense amount of work being required to get new trucks under the other cars which had suffered.

BELCHERTOWN.

Stephen White fell from an apple tree Monday and was quite severely injured.

The wire for the telephones has come, and the work of putting it up will begin as soon as the poles are obtained.

George W. Haynes was arrested Monday by Constable Burnett on a charge of adultery made by State Dectective Munyan, and was taken to Northampton Tuesday.

Adelbert Hutchins of Hartford, son-in-law of T. S. Kenfield, was severely injured some weeks ago by falling from an apple tree, and it is feared that paralysis will ensue.

Cattle Inspector G. C. Allen condemned two of C. H. Randall's herd of cows last week, and they were killed. Both of the cows were very badly afflicted with the disease.

The body of Mrs. Lawrence, widow of Mark Lawrence, was brought here yesterday for burial. Her death occurred at the home of her son, Frank Lawrence. Services were held at the grave at noon.

The creamery report for September gives the number of spaces of cream gathered 97,752; pounds of butter made, 15,060; price per pound, 26 and 27 cents; 6.48 spaces made one pound of butter and patrons received .037 per space.

An incident in the Representative fight is the following notice, which was posted in the post office here Monday:

$5 REWARD.

The sum of $5 will be paid to any citizen of Belchertown who will at a public meeting held in the town hall on or before October 31st, give reasons which should induce the taxpayers of this town to vote for M. S. Barton for representative to our Legislature, at the coming state election in November, provided an equal chance is given to reply. E. S. SNOW.

Belchertown, October 21, 1895.

Crazy Man Seen.

A crazy man was seen Wednesday by a number of people in the Holyoke district, and also in other parts of the town. He was a man of medium stature, light complexion and wore a short beard. Upon being questioned he said that he came from the woods, and it is probable that he did, as people living in the vicinity of the woods have been disturbed by hearing someone prowling around there. He seemed, however, to be quite friendly disposed, and talked and laughed to himself. He had neither hat, coat nor shoes on.

WARE.

Runaway Horse Killed.

A horse attached to a meat cart from Enfield ran from the Ware Beef Co's. building to the upper bridge, striking it with such force that he was turned completely round. As the whippletree had broken the horse was somewhat ahead of the wagon, and when the animal came to a sudden stop one of the shafts was driven into his body nearly a foot and a half, killing him.

John Fitzgerald has resigned as engineer at the laundry.

J. W. Lawton post, G. A. R., is planning for a camp fire Nov. 13.

The Sons of Veterans cleared about $75 from their entertainment last week.

Edward Moore and Miss Elizabeth McCarthy were married at 8 o'clock Tuesday morning at All Saints' church by Rev. James Boyle.

Rev. Arthur Chase, pastor of Trinity Episcopal church, was given a reseption in the church parlors Tuesday evening by the members of his parish.

Plate glass show windows have been put in the Yale block drug store this week. Leland keeps his property in good shape. The inside also has new paint and paper.

Rev. W. A. Dunnett conducted a gospel meeting at the town hall Sunday afternoon. The subject was "Strapped," and the speaker applied it to a man mentally, morally and physically, as well as financially.

John H. Storrs, the large real estate owner of the town, gives the fire department a banquet at the Mansion House to-morrow evening. He appreciates our excellent fire department, and shows it in this way.

Miss Addei Twiss, clerk at Bryson's dry goods store, formerly of Chester, and Milan Green, of the firm of J. B. Green & Son, plumbers, were married Sunday evening, Rev. A. B. Bassett performing the ceremony.

Ruth Standley, 71, wife of George C. Holden, died very suddenly on Monday night of some heart trouble. She has been out of health for some time, but was thought to be improving. She was born in Uxbridge but has lived in Ware about 36 years. Mrs. Holden was an excellent woman, beloved by all who knew her, and a member of the East Congregational church. Her husband and daughter survive her. The funeral services were held Wednesday afternoon, and the remains taken to Leciester on Thursday for burial.

A CARD.—We wish to express our gratitude to the brothers of the A. O. U. W. and sisters of the W. C. T. U., to the teachers and schoolmates of the little girl who has gone home, and to the relatives and friends who have shown their sympathy for us and their love for our "Sunshine" by their kind words and thoughtful deeds, by the gifts of sweet flowers and ministry of song. Surely He who has said that a cup of cold water given in His name shall not lose its reward, will bless all those whose tears have mingled with ours, and whose comfort has been extended to us in our hour of bereavement.

LOUIS A. HODGERNEY,
ISA B. HODGERNEY,
LOUIS E. HODGERNEY.

Three Rivers, Mass., Oct. 25, 1895.

Beecham's pills for constipation 10c and 25c. Get the book at your druggist's and go by it.

Annual sales more than 6,000,000 boxes.

How To Save Money and Health.

Most people have some trouble with their health which they would like cured if it could be done easily and cheaply. Dr. Greene, of 34 Temple Place, Boston, Mass., who is the most successful specialist in curing nervous and chronic diseases, makes the following offer: He gives you the privilege of consulting him, free of charge, through his great system of letter correspondence. Write him just how you feel and what symptoms trouble you. He will answer your letter, explaining your case thoroughly, telling just what ails you and how to get strong and well. He gives the most careful attention to every letter, and make his explanations so clear that you understand exactly what your complaint is. And for all this you pay nothing. You do not leave your home, and have no doctor's fee to pay. The Doctor makes a specialty of treating patients through letter correspondence, and is having wonderful success. He is the discoverer of that celebrated medicine, Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy. If you write him at once you will doubtless be cured.

Forbes & Wallace's,
Springfield.

Dress Goods.

We ought to cut a hundred dresses a day off these 37½ all-wool India twill serges at 25 cents a yard. We don't do it, but we ought to. Wouldn't be surprised if we would, though, when more people know what is going on—all-wool India twill serges—the wanted colors—at 25 cents a yard—all wool, remember.

At $1.25, all-wool dress stuff with boucle of mohair to sell at $1 a yard. By the merest accident. Any place else that you find it you'll probably have to pay $1.25 a yard for it—half a dozen mixtures.

Five mixtures of a silk and wool stuff at a $1.50 a yard; imported to sell at $2 a yard. Got here too late for the importer to get its value; and our syndicate organization took the whole lot under price.

We are always glad to send samples of dress goods to any address.

Coats and Capes.

In coats and capes we seem to have the best of it; whether it be in rich coats and capes, or garments under $25. The bigness of the variety of garments over $25 is no less remarkable in its way, than the worth of the qualities under $25.

Our variety of inexpensive furs is considerable; over $30 the assortment is always big.

Sale of Underskirts
—Samples!
A third off!

On the counters for sale to-day is a New York manufacturer's sample line of black and colored taffeta silk underskirts—less than a hundred in all—to sell a third under price. They are most distinguished skirts---every one of 'em; made umbrella style, with princess back, and the patterns are the prettiest things in taffetas---stripes, figures, checks, etc.

Blacks from $6.50 to $13.50; colored $6 to $15.50.

FORBES & WALLACE.
Main, Vernon and Pynchon streets,
Springfield, Mass.

THE DOCTOR PRESCRIBES.
WE DO THE DISPENSING.
BRING YOUR PRESCRIPTIONS
TO US. WE USE ONLY THE BEST DRUGS,
AND THE GREATEST CARE IN COMPOUNDING.
WHILE WAITING GET A GLASS OF COLD SODA.
IT IS THE BEST THAT CAN BE MADE.
At LeGRO & LYNDE'S,
Next to Post Office,
Palmer, - - Mass.

PALMER SAVINGS BANK, PALMER, MASS.
Hours from 9 a. m. to 3 p. m.

President,
H. G. LOOMIS.
Vice Presidents,
GEO. MOORES, T. D. POTTER, C. H. HOBBS.
Secretary,
WM. W. LEACH.
Treasurer,
H. W. McGREGORY.
Trustees,
James B. Shaw, E. G. Hastings, C. H. Hobbs,
George Mooers, R. C. Newell, Geo. E. Buck,
H. G. Loomis, F. F. Marcy, A. L. Hills,
T. D. Potter, H. Waid, Wm. Holbrook,
H. P. Holden, Wm. W. Leach, C. F. Grosvenor,
Jas. S. Loomis, C. L. Gardner, H. W. McGregory
Board of Investment,
Geo. Mooers, H. G. Loomis, E. G. Hastings,
C. H. Hobbs, James B. Shaw.
Auditors,
Wm. W. Leach. A. L. Hills.

A. H. HITCHCOCK,
OPTICIAN,
331 Main Street, Springfield, Mass.
Spectacles and Eye Glasses of all kinds.
Artificial eyes furnished.
Occulists' prescriptions promptly and accurately filled.
Mail orders solicited. 13-25

DR. S. H. ELLERY,
VETERINARY SURGEON AND DENTIST.
Graduate Chicago Veterinary College.
Residence, Nassowanno House.
Office and stable, Central street.
PALMER, MASS.

Boys' and Girls'
◆ ◆ ◆
School Shoes.

Never have we had such large sales on school shoes as we are having this season. Our Misses and Children's

Penant School Shoes

have come to stay. They only cost a trifle more than the kind you buy and have to throw away after they have been worn a week or two. When you buy Penant School Shoes buy them large, or you will have to throw them away before they are half worn out, as children outgrow them.

SOLD ONLY BY
Geo. L. Fuller,
the distributor of fine fitting shoes.
Monson, - Mass.

ROYAL BAKING POWDER.
ABSOLUTELY PURE.
A cream of tartar Baking Powder. Highest of all in leavening power.—Latest United States Government Food Report.
ROYAL BAKING POWDER CO.,
106 Wall Street, New York.

HAYNES & CO.

They said that his wife was the man of the house;
She ruled him, as every one knows,
Till he became wiser, and more of a man
By wearing Haynes's clothes.

Take time by the forelock and secure the unparalleled advantages now offered by us with the greatest and most elaborate assortment of men's, young men's and boy's suits, trousers, overcoats, hats and furnishings ever placed on the tables of a clothing establishment in Western New England. We have filled our enlarged store with the choicest goods, handsomest styles, grandest values that could be found in this and foreign lands, and marked all at popular prices. We are able to offer such bargains because we draw our patronage from Vermont, Connecticut and all about Western Massachusetts.

Nobby, Stylish Black Suits,
$8, $10, $12, $14, $16, $18, $20. Elegantly finished and dressy cutaways, $12, $14, $16, $18, $20, $22.

Perfect Fitting Trousers
—for work, $1.93; for dress, $4 and $5—ordinaries, extra stouts and slims.

Overcoats,
perfectly tailored in all proper styles, $8, $10, $12, $14, $16, $18, $20. Exact fit guaranteed.

Hats, Furnishings, Underwear.
Derbys, $1, $1.50, $2.25, $3 and $3.50—everything that's right for men and boys at popular prices.

Don't miss this, but travel many miles if need be to reach us.

HAYNES & CO.,
CLOTHIERS, TAILORS, HATTERS, FURNISHERS.
SPRINGFIELD, MASS.

Stone.
Eider-downs. Cardinal, Blue, Pink, and White, 30 cents a yard.
Flannelettes. Large Assortment, 8 and 10 cents.
Stone,
Dry Goods,
Telephone. Palmer, Mass.

Everybody Knows
What the young man's fancy turns to in the spring, but the poet has neglected to inform us what he cogitates about in the fall. We guess FURNITURE.

Young Man! We are your friends. You have our best wishes and you can have our Furniture for a small consideration. We can furnish your house from attic to cellar with the newest of furnishings, cheaper than you can buy old or out-of-date goods. Come and be convinced Easy terms.

Talk About
Good Heaters and Ranges, where can you find an equal to the "Premium."
Its the greatest heater in the world. Just the same about our Ranges, too.
The Herald B and the Sumner Grand Ranges Lead the World.
RIGHT PRICES AND EASY TERMS.
Heaters from $5 up—and that is for the best Heaters in the world, too.

E. Luther & Co.,
Complete House Furnishers.
Main St., Opp. Court Sq., Springfield.

WANTED---An Honest, Intelligent Man
of good standing as agent in this territory for The Northwestern Mutual Life Insurance Company. The Northwestern is the largest of the purely mutual companies, having $80,000,000 of assets, with but $65,000,000 liabilities, thus holding upon its credit side of accounts $15,000,000 surplus. Its dividends are by far larger than any other company in the world. Its interest rates have been for 20 years the highest, while its death rates have been lowest among the leading companies. With these attractions the Northwestern is to-day the easiest company in the field to work, simply because it is easily known to be The Best. The right man may find a good business by addressing J. G. Clark, General Agent, 432 Main Street, Springfield, Mass. 4-28

WALL PAPERS,
MOULDINGS, ETC.,
AT MASON'S, PALMER.

MR J. B. LONGWILL, having leased Mr. Campbell's blacksmith shop, will endeavor to do what Sailing Away, both of them for pleasure, — with the chances for safety in favor of the washboard. In fact, there isn't much chance for safety until it's gone. If you don't want your clothes rubbed to pieces — throw it away. Use Pearline. That washes without harm. The washboard wears out while it's getting things clean. It's rub and wear without Pearline. It's hard work, too. Pearline takes away the rubbing and the work. No use for either, it takes away the dirt easily, quickly, cheaply. 330 JAMES PYLE, New York.

Mistress—"We will have breakfast an hour earlier to-morrow morning. Mr. Mann is to take an earlier train." Domestic—"All right, ma'am; you needn't mind calling me until the usual time."—Boston Transcript.

There is no medicine so often needed in every home and so admirably adapted to the purposes for which it is intended, as Chamberlain's Pain Balm. Hardly a week passes but some member of the family has need of it. A toothache or headache may be cured by it. A touch of rheumatism or neuralgia quieted. The severe pain of a burn or scald promptly relieved and the sore healed in much less time than when medicine has to be sent for. A sprain may be promptly treated before inflammation sets in, which insures a cure in about one-third of the time otherwise required. Cuts and bruises should receive immediate treatment before the parts become swollen, which can only be done when Pain Balm is kept at hand. A sore throat may be cured before it becomes serious. A troublesome corn may be removed by applying it twice a day for a week or two. A lame back may be cured and several days of valuable time saved, or a pain in the side or chest relieved without paying a doctor bill. Procure a 50 cent bottle at once and you will never regret it.

"I would rather trust that medicine than any doctor I know of," says Mrs. Hattie Mason of Chilton, Carter Co., Mo., in speaking of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhœa Remedy.

Every mother should know that croup can be prevented. The first symptom of true croup is hoarseness. This is followed by a peculiar rough cough. If Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is given freely as soon as the child becomes hoarse or even after the cough has developed it will prevent the attack. 25 and 50 cent bottles.

The above remedies are for sale by O. P. Allen, Palmer; Charles E. Mason, Three Rivers; A. P. Adams, Thorndike; G. L. Keeney, Monson; John D. Smith, Ware.

Your Health

Ought To be Good And It is Always Sure To be If you Will Take

Ought to be good, and it is always sure to be if you will take BLOOD WINE when you feel sick and tired. Thousands of people all over the country are worrying themselves to death trying to find a medicine or a physician that can cure their stomach trouble. They try here, there and everywhere and at last give up in despair. Now these are the people we want to try BLOOD WINE, for they will feel the good effects so soon that they will keep on until they are cured.

Catarrh of the Stomach.

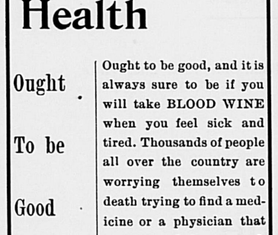
How many people are troubled with this disease, causing dyspepsia and indigestion. Now the moment your digestive organs are out of order you feel mean all over—have headache, belching of wind, constipation, etc. You take pills or some other cathartic, which will relieve for a time, but the same trouble comes back again. Now there is only one way to cure this trouble, and but one medicine that will cure it, and that is

Blood Wine,

(Trade Mark Registered.)

The Great French Hospital Remedy.

..... Smith, ...



59 Main Street, Palmer.

Insurance

of every kind placed at short notice, and all favors duly appreciated.

Yours truly,

S. H. HELLYAR.

FOR ALL KINDS OF JOB PRINTING CALL AT THE JOURNAL OFFICE.

The Pink Shirt Waist.

Whenever I take my walks abroad how many girls I see
Of every age, complexion, size, of high and low degree!
But, of them all, the girl that strikes my cultvated taste
Is a dainty summer maiden in a pink shirt
waist.

Perhaps she lives on Murray hill—that cuts no ice with me—
Maybe she works at Macy's, or hails from avenue B;
The things that strikes my fancy, howe'er in life she's placed,
Is that this summer maiden wears a pink shirt
waist.

Her skirts may be of silk or serge or cheapest calico—
Of course she wears a sailor hat, the two together go—
Condition and position are effectually effaced
By the fact that she's enveloped in a pink shirt
waist.

She throngs to Narragansett, she flocks at Coney isle;
She permeates the mountains, in New York she is the style;
She fills the streets with brightness, and the country's widely graced
By a dainty summer maiden in a pink shirt
waist.

Now I don't know who invented this costume neat and chaste,
But he ought to be rewarded for displaying such good taste,
And I move that he be given, if he only can be traced,
For a bride, a dainty maiden in a pink shirt
waist.

—Truth.

AMONG THE PARAGRAPHERS

You may get a little kitten,
And t'will grow into a cat;
But you cannot get a mitten
That will grow into a mat.

—Detroit Free Press.

Young housekeeper—"Have you some fine salt?" Grocer—"Yes ma'am." Young housekeeper—"Is it fresh?"—Judge.

She—"If you had never met me would you have loved me just the same?" He (convincingly)—"More."—Harlem Life.

Conductor—"Did I get your fare?" Passenger—"I guess so. I didn't see you ring it up for the company."—Roxbury Gazette.

Mrs. Newwife.—"And is this the dressed chicken I ordered?' Meat man—"Yes, ma'm." Mrs. Newwife—"Why, it is perfectly nude!"—Truth.

Lady(engaging a new servant)—"I hope you don't mind children." Servant—"Oh, no; I always leave the missus to look after them."—London Judy.

Teacher—"When did the 30 years' war commence?" Pupil—"I don't know, sir; but if you'll tell me when it left off I can reckon up."—Fliegende Blatter.

"The man who drinks overmuch," says the Manayunk Philosopher, "may not be successful in life, but he's continually getting a head."—Philadelphia Record.

Artist—"I painted this picture, sir, to keep the wolf from the door." Dealer (after inspecting it)—"Well, hang it on the door knob where the wolf can see it."—Tid-Bit.

"Don't talk to me," said the lettuce to the turnip. "I have a heart and you haven't." "I don't see how that can be," replied the turnip. "You never get mashed, and I do."—Life.

Caller—"Your coat-of-arms is very pretty, but couldn't any one else use it?" American hostess—"No, indeed. We paid the designer $10 extra to have it copyrighted."—New York Weekly.

Mr. Crusty—"No, sir; I think you're a fraud. I don't believe you're blind at all." The Mendicant—"If I wasn't blind, do you think I'd ever ask such a miserly-lookin' cuss as you for anything?"—Puck.

First Lieutenant—"By jove, as we were going over the river on the plank bridge it gave way, and the men fell in." Second Lieutenant—"What did you do?" "I ordered them to fall out, of course."—Household Words.

"Married!" sighed the elderly friend. "Married, and with no provision for the future." No, smilingly chirped the young bride, "there are no provisions for the future in the house. He just detests canned goods."—Indianapolis Journal.

Tramping a la Mode. Old Lady—"Didn't I tell you never to come here again?" Tramp—"I hope you will pardon me, madam, but it was the fault of my secretary; he has neglected to strike your name from my calling list."—Harper's Bazar.

Jones asked his wife, "Why is a husband like dough?" He expected she would give it up, and was going to tell her it was "because a woman needs him," but she said it was because he was "hard to get off her hands."—Town and County Journal.

Home Heathen—"Tell me, now, what is the greatest difficulty that you foreign missionaries have to contend with?" Foreign Missionary—"Keeping our converts from learning that we have so many heathen in the home churches."—New York Tribune.

Justice—"What plea do you make to the charge of running this man down?" Wheelman—"Purely accidental, your honor." Justice—"And the evidence?" Wheelman—"Look how thin he is; could any amateur cyclist hit him the first time?—Chicago Record.

Laura—"The idea! Here is a doctor who says that yawning will remove that annoying buzzing in one's ears." Flora—"It is true. The other night, after young Mr. Jones had been talking steadily to me for three hours, I yawned twice and he went home."—Cincinnati Enquirer.

There was a vicious smile on her face which was most winsome. "Oh, dear me," she murmured happily, "I've just gotten such a bargain!" "How, dear!" inquired her friend. "I sent a telegram, only a quarter for ten words, and at least six of them were words of more than three syllables."—Washington Star.

Poet (to farmer)—"See what a beautiful prospect is unfolded in yonder billowy fields; and hark! the voice of the plowman!" Farmer—"Yes; he's been a-cussin' of that mule since daylight; and it's one o' them German mules that used to pull a beer wagon, and he can't understand a word o' it."—Atlantia Constitution.

Mrs. Jones—"And so your son left college and has taken orders?" Mrs. Smith—"Yes, and I think he will now be successful in administering to humanity." "Has he entered the Episcopal church?" "Oh, no; he hasn't entered any church. He is waiter in a restaurant."—Tammany Times.

$100 REWARD $100.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment; Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers, that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials. Address, F. J. CHENEY & CO., Toledo, O.

Sold by Druggists, 75c.

Nervous

People should realize that the only true and permanent cure for their condition is to be found in having

Pure Blood

Because the health of every organ and tissue of the body depends upon the purity of the blood. The whole world knows the standard blood purifier is

Hood's Sarsaparilla

And therefore it is the only true and reliable medicine for nervous people It makes the blood pure and healthy, and thus cures nervousness, makes the nerves firm and strong, gives sweet sleep, mental vigor, a good appetite, perfect digestion. It does all this, and cures Scrofula, Eczema, or Salt Rheum and all other blood diseases, because it

Makes

Pure Blood

Results prove every word we have said. Thousands of voluntary testimonials fully establish the fact that

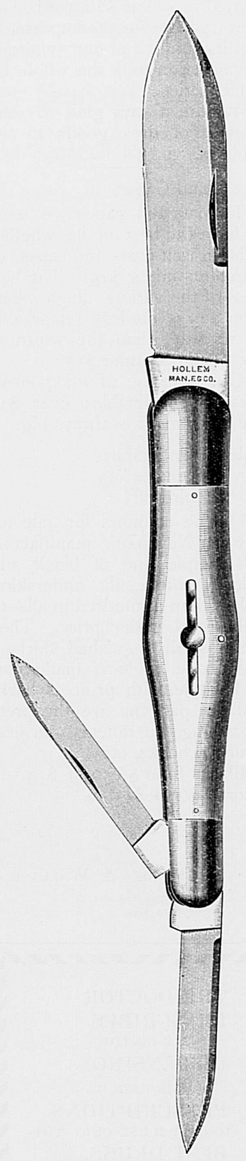
Hood's Sarsaparilla Cures

Be Sure to Get Hood's

"Whenever I get run down and nervous I get Hood's Sarsaparilla and soon feel better." MRS. LOUISA B. TOLE, 21 Bartlett St., Roxbury, Mass.

Hood's Pills cure all liver ills, biliousness, headache. 25c.

Holley Pocket Knives.



Hand Forged Blades.

Every knife of this make warranted. Come and try one.

E. A. Buck & Co.,

Palmer.

Rheumatic Pains.

Dr. David Kennedy's statement that the real cause of rheumatism was the imperfect action of the kidneys, and that Dr. David Kennedy's Favorite Remedy opened the clogged ducts, permitted the secretions to pass off, relief and comfort following as a natural result was so reasonable that sufferers seized at it with avidity and many a victim of rheumatism, sciatica and lumbago has been cured by it.

F. M. EAGER.

Boots and Shoes Manufactured to Measure.

REPAIRING NEATLY DONE AT SHORT NOTICE.

Dealer in Sewing Machines and Supplies.

Machines to rent or sold on monthly payments.

F. M. EAGER, PALMER.

PAULINE HALL.

Miss Hall Says That Dr. Greene's Nervura Surely Cures.

She Recommends Dr. Greene's Nervura for the Weak, Tired, Nervous and Debilitated. Says it is the Best of All Medicines.

MISS PAULINE HALL.

Pauline Hall, the empress of song, is celebrated the world over as the representative American beauty, who has in the presentation of her new operatic comedy, "Dorcas," acheived the success of her eventful life. In a conversation with the representative of this paper she stated:

"I have in my professional experience essayed a number of roles that have been more or less trying upon the physical and nervous system, but in none that I have attempted have I experienced the terrific strain that the various characters which I assume in my new operatic comedy, 'Dorcas,' have subjected me to. The assumption of one character in a presentation is generally conceded to be a sufficient undertaking for any one person, but in 'Dorcas' I assume three, all different, and I might say diametrically opposite to each other.

"The terrific strain naturally resulting from such difficult work, which is a new and direct departure from anything I have ever presented to the public before, naturally had a very distressing effect upon me, and I was constrained to seek some relief from the mental and physical exhaustion from my labors. After trying several remedies that were recommended to me as being exceptionally good for the nervous exhaustion which I was subjected to, I was eventually induced to make a trial of Dr Greene's celebrated Nervura, and the great relief which it afforded me was almost instantaneous in its effect, and I have no hesitation in unqualifiedly endorsing Dr. Greene's Nervura as the best tonic and restorer of a nervous and debilitated system of any remedy that I have ever tested. It is remarkable for the rapidity with which its restorative qualities assert themselves. It is absolutely harmless, and the instantaneous relief which it affords to the nervous and tired system is grateful in the extreme. I can readily understand why it is that so many hearty recommendations are given by people of prominence, especially those in our profession, for Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy, and my own experience justifies me in recommending it as absolutely the best remedy which I have ever used.

THE ROYAL WINTHROP RANGE. IT HAS NO SUPERIOR.

I AGREE. That is all we expect you to say. Live up to that and there is no limit to your credit with us; we will arrange the payments to suit you.

We sell all kinds of FURNITURE, and can furnish your house from cellar to garret.

SHAW BROTHERS, - THREE RIVERS, MASS.

To be delivered now, subject to advance at any time. We furnish good men to house and bin same. All coal is screened and delivered in bags.

The Lehigh is as good as any we ever sold. The Lackawanna is the best prepared coal that comes to market for domestic use.

Prices will be higher.

Send your order by postal card or leave it at our office.

SEE OUR PRICES FOR COAL

Prices for Lackawanna:

Stove size, - $5.35 per ton.
Chestnut, - 5.35 " "
Furnace, - 5.25 " "

Prices for Lehigh:

Stove size, - $5.50 per ton.
Chestnut, - 5.50 " "
Furnace, - 5.40 " "

Less than (1) one ton 25 cent added for the load.

Delivered in Bags, which will save expense of housing in many cases.

October 1, 1895.

R. M. & Theo. Reynolds.

Monson, Mass.

In Buying a Piano or an Organ

do not fail to examine the latest Mason & Hamlin models. Recent improvements together with time tested points of superiority render them instruments par excellence. Old pianos or organs taken in exchange. Instruments sold for cash or easy payments.

Catalogues and full information sent free.

Mason & Hamlin Co.

146 Boylston Street, (opp. Common), Boston, Mass.

THE POT CALLED THE KETTLE BLACK BECAUSE THE HOUSEWIFE DIDN'T USE

SAPOLIO

4-29

YOUNG MEN'S LIBRARY ASSOCIATION.

Palmer, Mass.

Recent Additions in Friction.

L11	Abdallah. Labouluye
S66a	Adventures of Capt. Horn. Stockton
D77a	Adventures of Sherlock Holmes. Doyle
C23	Alice's adventures in Wonderland. Carroll
H246a	Anglomaniacs. Harrison
H221a	Arthur Bonnicastle. Holland
W61a	Ascutney street. Whitney
H246b	Bachelor maid. Harrison
Ou4b	Bimbi. Ouida
W63b	Birds' Christmas carol. Wiggin
R43b	Boys coastwise. Rideing
R43bo	Boys in the mountains. Rideing
H339o	Bonnie Prince Charlie. Henty
H27b	Border shepherdess. Barr
B27bo	Bow of orange ribbon. Barr
H39be	By England's aid. Henty
H39bp	By pike and dyke. Henty
R28c	Captain January. Richards
St6ca	Casting away of Mrs. Lecks and Mrs. Aleshine. Stockton
Sh4	Charles Auchester. Sheppard
H39co	Condemned as a Nihilist. Henty
St62cr	Crowded out o' Crofield. Stoddard
An2d	Danish fairy legends. Andersen
C65	Daughters of the Revolution. Coffin
W213d	David Grieve. Ward
C12	Deemster. Caine
W861d	Dr. Dick. Woods
B335d	Dr. Latimer. Burnham.
C11d	Dr. Sevier. Cable.
C85d	Don Orsino. Crawford
L98do	Doreen. Lyall
Sh55	Experiment in Altruism. Sherwood
B79f	Fairport nine. Brooks
Eg35f	Faith doctor. Eggleston
W61f	Faith Gartney's girlhood. Whitney
H225f	Far from the madding crowd. Hardy
S114fiv	Five little Peppers grown up. Sidney
H39f	For the temple. Henty
B27fr	Friend Olivia. Barr
D259g	Gallagher. Davis
M11	God's fool. Maartens
W61go	Golden gossip. Whitney
W24g	Golden house. Warner
D75g	Great shadow. Doyle
L25g	Green fairy book. Lang
D66h	Hans Brinker. Dodge
B93h	Haworths. Burnett
Ol3ho	House in Bloomsbury. Oliphant
H39i	In freedom's cause. Henty
H25i	In the Carquinez woods. Harte
H39ir	In the reign of terror. Henty
H23i	In varying moods. Harraden
W65j	Jane Field. Wilkins
M916j	John Halifax, gentleman. Mulock
C11j	John March, Southerner. Cable.
K62j	Jungle book. Kipling
W88j	Jupiter lights. Woolson
C85k	Katherine Lauderdale. Crawford
St47k	Kidnapped. Stevenson
St61a	Lady or the tiger? Stockton
D66l	Land of pluck. Dodge
H39l	Lion of St. Mark. Henty
W24l	Little journey in the world. Warner
H242	Little Mr. Thimblefinger. Harris
St62l	Little smoke. Stoddard
B963l	Lorna Doone. Blackmore
W213m	Marcella. Ward
R39m	Marie. Richards
R39me	Melody. Richards
D77m	Micah Clarke. Doyle
St78mi	Minister's wooing. Stowe
R19	Mozart, A biographical romance. Rau
R39n	Narcissa. Richards
In4o	Off the skelligs. Ingelow
St78p	Pearl of Orr's Island. Stowe
W65p	Pembroke. Wilkins
B563p	Perleycross. Blackmore
D88p	Peter Ibbetson. DuMaurier
D37p	Philip and his wife. Deland.
K62p	Plain tales from the hills. Kipling
St6p	Pomona's travels. Stockton
J249o	Portrait of a lady. James
St47p	Prince Otto. Stevenson
H25p	Protege of Jack Hamlin's. Harte
G17	Quaker idylls. Gardner
W61r	Real folks. Whitney.
St6ru	Rudder Granges abroad. Stockton.
St78s	Sam Lawson's Oldtown fireside stories. Stowe
C85s	Sant, Ilario. Crawford
B93s	Sara Crewe. Burnett
C85sa	Saracinesca. Crawford
S15	Seven dreamers. Slosson
B27s	She loved a sailor. Barr
H23s	Ships that pass in the night. Harraden
D37s	Sidney. Deland
W861s	Six little rebels. Woods
M34s	Snarley-yow. Marryat
L513s	Soulless singer. Lee
St6s	Squirrel Inn. Stockton
T325	Stories of a western town. Thanet
St9s	Story of Babette. Stuart
W213s	Story of Bessie Costrell. Ward
St47s	Strange case of Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde. Stevenson
W63s	Summer in a canon. Wiggin
B935s	Sweet Clover. Burnham
H39ta	Tale of Waterloo. Henty
J55t	Tales of New England. Jewett
D26t	Tartarin of Tarascon. Daudet
T75	Three boys on an electrical boat. Trowbridge
W63t	Timothy's quest. Wiggin
St47t	Treasure Island. Stevenson
H39t	True to the old flag. Henty
R56	Uncle Lisha's shop. Robinson
H39u	Under Drake's flag. Henty
D295v	Van Bibber and others. Davis
C177wh	What Katy did at school. Coolidge
Ol3w	Who was lost and is found. Oliphant
M14wi	Wilfrid Cumbermede. MacDonald
B275	Window in Thrums. Barrie
C355ws	Witch Winnie at Shinnecock. Champney
C355wp	Witch Winnie in Paris. Champney
C355wm	Witch Winnie's mystery. Champney
C355wn	Witch Winnie's Studio. Champney
H39wc	With Clive in India. Henty
H39wl	With Lee in Virginia. Henty
H39ww	With Wolf in Canada. Henty
C69w	Woman in white. Collins
H39w	Wulf the Saxon. Henty
L25y	Yellow fairy book. Lang

THE RIVAL CANDIDATE'S DIAMOND.

A few years ago a plain country doctor and a Mr. May, who was fond of jewelry and wore a valuable diamond stud in his shirt bosom, were running for the Legislature in one of our counties. The race was close and hot. At one speaking the doctor made the following fierce and dangerous thrust at his opponent: "Fellow-citizens, don't you want an honest man in the Legislature? Of course you do. Now, what sort of a man is my opponent? Why, gentlemen, look at that magnificent diamond he wears! It is almost as big and bright as the headlight on a locomotive. Your eyes can hardly stand its glare. It is worth hundreds—maybe thousands—of dollars. At what valuation do you suppose he has put it for taxation in his return to the state assessor? Why, at the pitiful sum of $20!" The crowd yelled for the doctor. Three days later the two met again in joint debate. Again the doctor took up his telling theme, and held forth eloquently and passionately in denunciation of dishonesty and diamonds and false assessments; and then he again told of May's false return to the assessor. "Look at that gorgeous pin, gentlemen! My eyes can hardly endure its dazzling rays. Solomon in all his glory—"

"Hold on there, doctor!" said May. "Do you mean to say this pin is worth more than $20?

"Yes, I do—20 times or 50 times $20!"

"Would you give $20 for it, doctor?"

"Of course I would."

"Well, you can have it for that."

"All right!" said the doctor, and he hurriedly counted out the money, and took the pin. Then May rose to speak, and the crowd cheered him. He was undoubtedly "game" and honest. He was willing to take what he said the pin was worth. He was elected. A week after the election he called on the doctor and said, "Doctor, I don't want to rob you of your money. Here's your $20. That pin you bought was paste. I got it in Louisville after your first speech. Here is my real diamond. If I can serve you, let me know."—Edward J. McDermott, in the Century.

William Dean Howell's father, who emigrated to Ohio half a century and more ago, used this formula to get rid of an intrusive visitor who had worn out his welcome: He would be called out on some business, and would say to the guest: "I suppose you won't be here when I return, so I wish you goodby!" This was not bad, except in comparison with the superb stratagem ascribed to Gerrit Smith in such emergencies—as that he used to say in his family prayer after breakfast: "May the Lord also bless Brother Jones, who leaves us on the 10 o'clock train this morning."—Troy Times.

All Free.

Those who have used Dr. King's New Discovery know its value, and those who have not, have now the opportunity to try it Free. Call on the advertised Druggist and get a Trial Bottle, Free. Send your name and address to H. E. Bucklen & Co. Chicago, and get a sample box of Dr. King's New Life Pills Free, as well as a copy of Guide to Health and Household Instructor, Free. All of which is guaranteed to do you good and cost you nothing at LeGro & Lynde, Palmer; G. L. Keeney, Monson; F. A. Spencer, Ware.

Free Pills.

Send your address to H. E. Bucklen & Co., Chicago, and get a free sample box of Dr. King's New Life Pills. A trial will convince you of their merits. These pills are easy in action and are particularly effective in the cure of Constipation and Sick Headache. For Malaria and Liver troubles they have been proved invaluable. They are guaranteed to be perfectly free from every deleterious substance and to be purely vegetable. They do not weaken by their action, but by giving tone to stomach and bowels greatly invigorate the system. Regular size 25c. per box. Sold by LeGro & Lynde, Palmer; G. L. Keeney, Monson; F. A. Spencer, Ware.

Bucklen's Arnica Salve.

THE BEST SALVE in the world for cuts, bruises, sores, ulcers, salt rheum, fever sores, tetter, chapped hands, chilblains, corns, and all skin eruptions, and positively cures piles, or no pay required. It is guaranteed to give perfect satisfaction or money refunded. Price 25 cents per box. For sale by LeGro & Lynde, Palmer; G. L. Keeney, Monson; F. A. Spencer, Ware.

HOW THE SERMON HELPED MOLLY.—Parson—"Well, Molly, did you like my sermon this morning?"

Molly—"Oh, yis, your rivirence, 'twas mighty improvin'."

Parson—"And what part of it did you like best, Molly?"

Molly—"In troth, plase your rivirence, I don't remember any part exactly, but altogether it was mighty improvin'."

Parson—"Now, Molly, if you don't remember it, how could it be improving?"

Molly—"Now, does you rivirence see that linen I have been washing and dhrying on that hedge there?"

Parson—"Certainly, Molly."

Molly—"And isn't that linen all the better for the cl'anin'?"

Parson—"No doubt, Molly."

Molly—"But not a dhrop of the soap and wather stays in it. Well, sir, it's the same thing wid me. Not a word of the sarmint stays in me, but I am all the better and cl'aner for it, for all that."—Household Words.

Head Waiter (to professor about to leave the premises without paying)—"Should you happen to miss your purse, Herr Professor, you will please bear in mind that you did not take it out while you were here!"

Dangerous Drugs.

Avoid the use of white or pink headache powders, they contain dangerous drugs. Taylor's Anti-Headache Powders are brown; they look like ground coffee and they have a delightful aromatic taste. Try them once and you will never be without them. Get them of LeGro & Lynde.

35 cents

Colds are serious things. They lead to worse things. A cold is the seed of consumption. Croup is a cold's half-brother—it is generally caused by cold, and many a little life has been snuffed out by it because the proper remedy was not at hand.

Dr. Hooker's Cough and Croup Syrup

gives relief at once. It has saved thousands of lives. Every mother should see that it is always in the house. Don't wait till you need it—that may be too late. Contains no opium—absolutely safe—endorsed by physicians for 50 years. Made only by Charles B. Kingsley, Northampton, Mass.

at Drug Stores

WANTED SALESMEN. We want one or two good men in each county to take orders for a choice line of Nursery Stock or Seed Potatoes. Stock and seed guaranteed. We can give you steady employment with good pay. It will cost you nothing to give it a trial. State when writing which you prefer to sell. Address

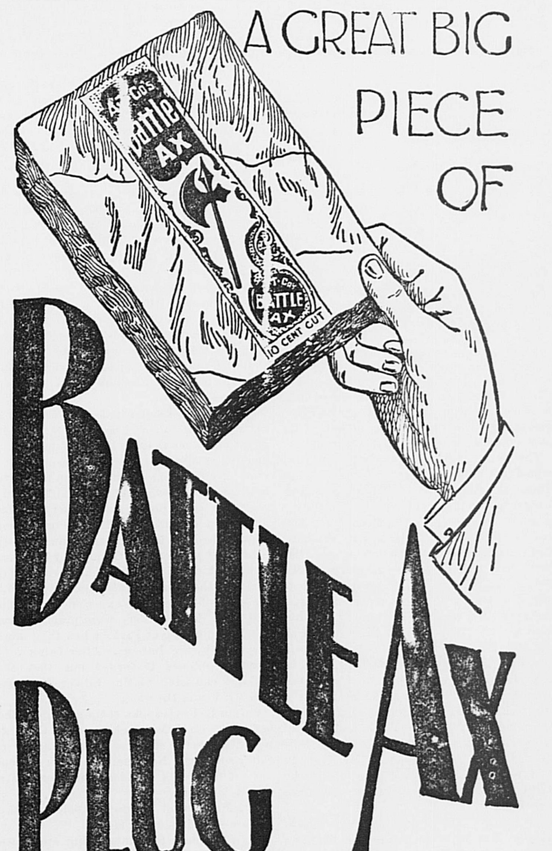
The Hawks Nursery Co.,

Rochester, N. Y.

C. H. HOBBY, PIANO TUNER.

Orders for tuning may be left at O. P. Allen's drug store, Palmer; or may be sent to me by mail to Mansfield, Ct.



R·I·P·A·N·S

ONE GIVES RELIEF.

52-43

LARRABEES RHEUMATIC LINIMENT

A standard and sovereign household remedy for over half a century. It is a wonderful curative agent in all painful diseases, such as

Rheumatism, Lumbago, Neuralgia, Backache, Catarrh, Toothache,

and other painful ailments. To be had of all druggists, or by mail on receipt of 25 cents. Trade supplied by Geo. C. Goodwin & Co., or any wholesale druggist.

WINKLEMANN & BROWN DRUG CO.

BALTIMORE, MD., U. S. A.

A morning tonic for your brain—a vigorous brushing of the head with one of our nice brushes. Bristles not too hard, not too soft—the kind you like. The price is only 50 cents. Combs, powders, perfumes, mirrors. The Centennial Tooth Powder, and all toilet requisites. You can put on finishing touches with them and for little cash.

Our medicines have wings that fly with pain to parts unknown. Test their power when you are sick, and then you will thank us for relief.

ALLEN'S DRUG STORE,

Holden's Block, Palmer.

CENTRAL VERMONT RAILROAD.

NEW LONDON DIVISION.
TAKING EFFECT SEPTEMBER 30, 1895.

TRAINS GOING SOUTH.

Leave Brattleboro, 5.40 and 10.25 a. m. and 4.25 p. m. for New London, connecting at Millers Falls with Fitchburg R. R., at Belchertown with Central Massachusetts R. R., and at Palmer with B. & A. R. R. for Worcester, Boston, Springfield, at New London with the N. Y. N. H. & H. R. R.
Leave Amherst, 7.05 a. m., 12.13 and 5.57 p. m.
Leave Palmer, 7.05 and 8.40 a. m., 1.50 and 7.15 p. m.
Leave Willimantic for New London, 8.35, 10.10 a. m. 3.25, 6.40 and 8.45 p. m.

GOING NORTH.

Leave New London, 5.20 and 7.40 a m, 2.30 and 5.25 p. m.
The 5.20 and 7.40 a. m. and 5.25 p. m. run through to Brattleboro and make connections for the north.
Leave New London for Willimantic and intermediate stations, 10.00 a. m.
Leave Palmer for Brattleboro, 8.20, 11.00 a. m. and 8.00 p. m. connecting with express for Montreal. Also with Grand Trunk R. R. for the West.
Leave Palmer for Amherst, 8.20 and 11.00 a. m. and 8.00 p. m.

SUBJECT TO CHANGE WITHOUT NOTICE.

D. MACKENZIE, Supt. J. A. SOUTHARD, D. P. A. New London, Ct.
S. W. CUMMINGS, G. P. A., St. Albans.

BOSTON & MAINE R. R.

SOUTHERN DIVISION
(CENTRAL MASSACHUSETTS)
CORRECTED TO OCTOBER 6. 1895.

TRAINS LEAVE WARE:

GOING EAST

FOR Boston—6.55, 9.00 a. m.; 3.14, p. m. Sundays 6.55 a. m.
RETURNING—leave Boston 8.45 a. m.; 1.30, 4.00 p. m. Sundays, 1.30 p. m.
FOR Worcester—6.55, 9.00 a. m.; 3.14 p. m. Sundays, 6.55 a. m.
RETURNING—leave Worcester 9.15 a. m.; 2.25, 4.58 p. m.
FOR Oakdale, Hudson and Waltham—6.55, 9.00 a. m.; 3.14 p. m. Sundays, 6.55 a. m.
FOR Gilbertville, Barre and Coldbrook - 6.55, 9.00 a. m.; 3.14 p. m. Sundays, 6.55 a. m.

GOING WEST

FOR Bondsville, Belchertown, Pansy Park, Amherst, Hadley and Northampton, 7.15, 11.24 a. m., 4.28, 6.47 p. m. Sundays, 4.35 p. m.
RETURNING—leave Northampton 5.55, 8.00 a. m., 2.15, 6.10 p. m. Sundays, 5.55 a. m.

D. J. FLANDERS, Gen'l. Pass'r. Agt.
W. F. BERRY Gen'l Mgr.

POSTAL

Telegraph and Cable Co.

Office in Strong's Block,

PALMER, : : : : : MASS.

Direct wires to New York and Boston. Office in all the principal cities in the

UNITED STATES.

PROMPT SERVICE,

REASONABLE RATES,

ALL BUSINESS

STRICTLY CONFIDENTIAL.

WANTED. Good reliable men, to sell our Choice and Hardy Nursery Stock, such as Fruit Trees, Roses, Shrubs and Ornamentals. Ladies make this business a success. Easy work, pleasant, light and profitable. OUTFIT FREE. Apply at once, with references, and secure choice of territory.

F. N. MAY COMPANY,

Nurserymen and Seedsmen, Rochester, N. Y.

PARKER'S HAIR BALSAM

Cleanses and beautifies the hair. Promotes a luxuriant growth. Never Fails to Restore Gray Hair to its Youthful Color. Cures scalp diseases & hair falling. 50c. and $1.00 at Druggists

The Palmer Journal.

VOLUME XLVI. PALMER, MASS., FRIDAY EVENING, NOVEMBER 1, 1895. NUMBER 31.

PUBLISHED EVERY FRIDAY EVENING
—BY—
C. B. FISKE & CO.

TERMS OF SUBSCRIPTION.—Two dollars a year. A discount of 25 cents to those who pay in advance. Six months, $1.00; three months, 50 cents; single copies, 5 cents.

ADVERTISING RATES.—One inch (or twelve lines of this type solid) 75 cents for the first insertion, 25 cents for the second, 15 cents for each subsequent insertion. Short advertisements, "Wanted," "To Let," etc., one cent a word for the first insertion, one-half cent a word each subsequent insertion, cash; no charge less than 25 cents. Notices in local column, 15 cents per line. Liberal rates to yearly advertisers.

JOB PRINTING of all kinds executed in the best styles, promptly and at reasonable rates.

C. B. FISKE. L. E. CHANDLER.

[Entered at Post Office as second class matter.]

LOCAL BUSINESS DIRECTORY.

PALMER.

ALLEN, O. P., Wholesale and Retail Druggist and Bookseller.

BARTON, F. D., Dealer in Watches, Clocks and Jewelry, Main street.

BILLS, G. A., Fresh and Salt Beef, Pork, Ham, Lard, Tripe, etc.

BROOKS, EDWIN E., Graduate Optician. With E. S. Brooks, Jeweler, Main street.

BROOKS, E. S., Dealer in Watches, Clocks, Jewelry, Solid Silver and Plated Ware, Main street.

BROWN, C. A. & CO., Hardware, Furnaces, Stoves, Ranges, Paints, Oils and Glass.

BROWN, S. H., Trucking, Light Jobbing, Piano Moving. Order box cor. Main and Walnut streets. Orders can also be left at J. F. Foley's store.

CARPENTER, Mrs. L. E., Millinery and Fancy Goods. Also dealer in Human Hair Goods.

CHANDLER BROS., Bicycles.

CLARK & HASTINGS, Wholesale Dealers in Armour & Co's. Dressed Beef, Provisions, Main St.

EAGER, F. M., Boot and Shoe Manufacturer to Order, and dealer in Leather and Findings.

FISKE, C. B. & CO., Publishers PALMER JOURNAL and WARE STANDARD. Fine Book and Job Printers and Bookbinders.

FITCH, A. E., Law and Insurance, Savings Bank Block.

FRANCIS, R. B., Iron Foundry and Machine Shop.

GAMWELL, C. K., Ready made Clothing, Hats, Caps, Gent's Furnishings, etc.

GARDNER, CHAS. L., Attorney and Counsellor at Law. Church street.

GOODES, E., Palmer Boot and Shoe Store, corner Main and Thorndike streets.

HAMILTON, J. A., Dealer in all kinds of Coal, Wood, Grain, Flour, Baled Hay and Straw. Fertilizers and Stock Food. Main street.

HOLBROOK, C. D., Flour, Grain, Feed and Mason's Supplies, Main street.

HOLBROOK, J. F., Dealer in all kinds of Coal. Agent for National and White Star line of steamers. Drafts on Foreign Banks at lowest rates.

LEACH, W. W., Attorney at Law.

LeGRO & LYNDE, Druggists and Newsdealers, Paper Hangings, Shades, Lamps and Fixtures.

MARCY, F. F., Dealer in Lumber, Shingles, etc., wholesale and retail. West of B. & A. R. R. depot.

MARCY, OSCAR C., Livery and Feed Stable, rear of Converse House.

PALMER WATER CO., Office, Lawrence Block. Office hours to October 1, from 8.30 to 10 a. m., from 2 to 3 p. m.

SHAW, J. B., Dealer in Dry Goods, Groceries, etc. Opposite the depot.

TAFT, S. S., Attorney at Law. Office in Allen's Block, Church street.

WHITE, C. W., Marble and Granite Works. No. 1 Thorndike street.

WOOLRICH & CO., Manufacturers of Ridge's Food, Thorndike street.

THORNDIKE.

ADAMS, A. P., Druggist, Toilet Articles, Confectionery and Cigars.

BONDSVILLE.

HOLDEN, C. L., Dry Goods, Groceries, Clothing Boots, Shoes, Hats, Caps, etc.

MORIARTY, M., Dry Goods, Groceries, Boots Shoes, Coal. Agt White Star and Anchor S S Co's

WARE.

ADAMS, MRS., Chiropodist and Manicurist. 13 Park Avenue. All troubles of feet successfully treated.

ALBERTINE, J. A. Choice Fruits, Tobaccos, Cigars and Confectionery. Low Prices.

DAVIS INSURANCE AGENCY represents the best companies and gives lowest rates.

EDDY, C. W. Job and Fine Art Printer.

EDDY, MISS MATIE K. Teacher of Oil Painting and Crayon. Sketching or Art Work completed to order.

ELDREDGE, A. HENRY. Sign Painter. Carriages painted in the best manner. West Street.

HARLOW, A. B. Photographer. Instantaneous process only. Opposite the Bank.

HOSMER, F. N. Clothier. Hats, Caps, Gents' Furnishing Good, etc. Sanford's Block.

MARSH, F. E. Gold, Silver and Nickel Plater. Replating tableware a specialty. 7 Bank street.

PRIEST, J. E. Ware Steam Laundry. Carpet cleaning. Office at H. M. Clark's.

RICHARDSON, A. F. Dealer in Boots, Shoes and Rubbers of all kinds. Sagendorph's Block.

ROBINSON, JOHN F. Furniture, Sewing Machines, Pictures, Hardware, Paints and Farming Tools.

SIBLEY, J. B. Hardware, Tools, Agricultural Implements, Paints, Oils and Artists' materials.

SMITH, G. H. W. Jeweler. Watches, Clocks and Spectacles. Repairing in the best manner.

TURNER, H. H. Bookseller and Stationer, and dealer in Paper Hangings, Musical Instruments and Sheet Music.

MONSON.

GROUT, GEO. E. Dealer in Watches Clocks, Jewelry, etc. Towne's Block.

NEWTON, GEO. H., Law Office, Notary Public, Insurance, etc., near Gage's store.

SQUIER & CO., Dealers in Grain, Feed, Hay, Straw, Lumber, Shingles and Building Material.

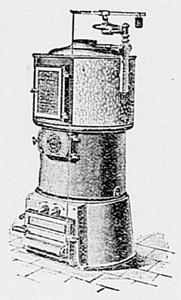
WARREN.

KELLEY, W. H., Attorney and Counsellor at Law. Quaboag Block, Warren, Mass.

SOCIETY DIRECTORY.

MONSON.

MT. ELLA LODGE, No. 184, A. O. U. W. Meets first and third Tuesdays of each month in A. O. U. W Hall, Monson.
FISK G. ROGERS, M. W., F. J. ENTWISTLE, Rec.



VOLUNTEER STEAM AND WATER HEATER.

ECONOMY WARM AIR HEATERS.

BARSTOW PARLOR STOVES.

MODEL GRAND AND CRAWFORD GRAND RANGES.

Rustless Tin Ware.

Plumbing and Steam Heating.

W. H. Hitchcock,

Nassowanno House Block, Palmer.

E. S. Bryant, D. M. D., Dentist,

Lynde's Block, Palmer.
Office hours: 8.30 to 12.30. 1.30 to 5 p. m.

THE..... BARGAIN STORE.

Cloak Suggestions.

It is more and more apparent that there are cloaks and cloaks—and prices and prices—and stores and stores.

MEANINGLESS PRICES.

Prices alone don't make a cloak durable to the majority of buyers. Fit, quality and effect are the convincing arguments if the price be within your purse. Buy as good as you can afford to pay for, a good policy in other matters as well as cloaks. Saturday, November 2d, last day of Cloak Selling.

. . . SPECIAL PRICES FOR SATURDAY. . . .

Seal Capes.
27-inch Electric Seal Cape, Saturday's price, $7.98.
XX Electric Seal Cape, Saturday's price. $8.50.
XXX Electric Seal Capes, Saturday's prices $12, 14.50, 17, 20, 25 to 30.

Jackets.
Beaver Cloth, 27 inches long, black only, for Saturday, $5.
Beaver Cloth, satin strap back, Saturday's price, $6, 8, 10 to 15.

Cloth Capes.
Imported double Capes, black Beaver cloth, trimmed with Mohair braid, Saturday's price, $8.50.
Imported Capes, richly braided with heavy silk Mohair braid. Saturday's price. $12.50.

Jackets.
Fancy Boucle Piping, 26 and 27 inch, sizes 32 to 40. Prices ranging from $5.50, 6.75, 8.50 to 18. Each Jacket will be marked special price Saturday.

Fur Trimmings
in wide widths—39c, 55c, 79c a yard.

Shawls.
Full Double Shawls—in all wool. Prices $4 to 10.

Children's Coats
all at Reduced Prices
Saturday.

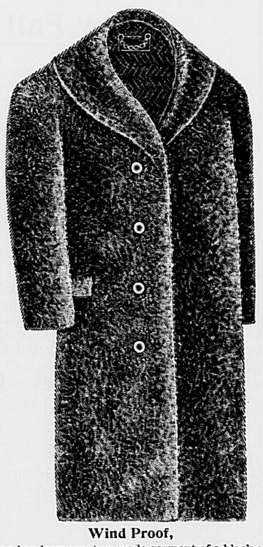
Babies' Coats
from 98c to $8.50. Worthy of inspection.

. . . SATURDAY LAST OF SALE. . . .

T. H. TODD,
Boston Store, - Monson.

For the Coming Winter Season.

The Saskatchewan Coat,



Wind Proof,
is a handsome custom-made garment of a black or brown color, with a high rolling collar, lined with black Italian quilting, and rubber lining in the body part and sleeves to make it wind and water proof. It has olives and loops instead of buttons. This coat will keep a person dry and warm during the severest snow or rain-storm, and will be dry the next day.
Caps and carriage robes of the same material.

Complete line of
GENT'S FURNISHING GOODS
in all departments.

Fall and Winter Clothing
was never so low in price, nor such values for the money.

Fall Suits, $5 to $20,
Just think of it!

An elegant line of
Overcoats, $6 to $22.
You never saw the like before.

Child's Suits, $2 to $6.

Child's Reefer, $3.50 to $5.

Children's Overcoats in all grades.

Underwear
in a great variety of grades and prices.

Fall Style, 1895.

Lamson & Hubbard.

C. K. GAMWELL,
Palmer, Mass.

. . . Coal, . . .
Hay and Straw.

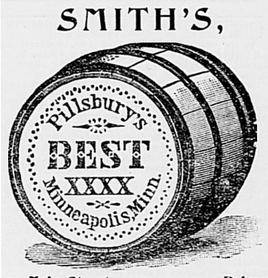
If you haven't bought your winter coal, ask our prices before you buy; will sell as low as anyone.

We have hay and straw, and can supply you at short notice, at market prices.

If you want to buy or hire a team or any part of a team, come and see me. Think I can supply you. I have competent men to attend to all light and heavy teaming you may have to do, and solicit a share of your patronage. Orders by mail promptly attended to.

Ralph Clifford,
Monson, Sept. 30, 1895. Monson House Stables.

SMITH'S,



59 Main Street, - - Palmer.

FINE STATIONERY.

Many ladies are troubled to find just the size, shade or weight of correspondence paper which they would like. With some thing like

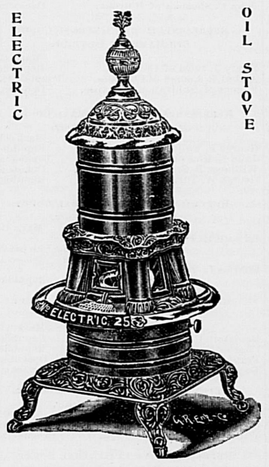
200 VARIETIES

To select from we ought to be able to please you. Any style of paper in any size or shape, and you may have 100 sheets or 1000, as you prefer. We'd be pleased to show you samples at the JOURNAL Office. Your monogram or initials embossed in color if desired.

F. MARCY, Wholesale and Retail Dealer in PALMER, MASS.
ALL KINDS OF LUMBER AND SHINGLES
Windows, doors, blinds, mouldings. Carpenters' and joiners' work done to order.
Also FIRE BRICK and CLAY for sale.
ard and shop at junction of B. & A. and N. L. N. Y Railroads—west of Depot.

Now is the time to set up the

ELECTRIC OIL STOVE



and keep your room comfortable these cool nights and mornings. All sizes now in.

Call and see our fine lot of
CABINET BASE RANGES, PARLOR AND CYLINDER STOVES, AND RANGES,
at remarkably low prices.

Builders' Hardware, Agricultural and Mechanics' Tools, Tin Ware, Paints, Oils, and Glass.

C. A. Brown & Co.,
Palmer.

WAGONS!

Having a new lot of

TOP BUGGIES, BOTH PLAIN AND PIANO BOX AND CORNING, CONCORD BUGGIES, BANNER WAGONS, BUSINESS WAGONS, POLES, ETC., OF THE VERY BEST OF MAKES, AT LOWER PRICES THAN IN THE CITY, CALL AND SEE US.

ALLEN AND ELLERY,
PALMER, tf-3 MASS.

SMITH & MURRAY.

Dress Goods.

Broken pieces so early in the season. The goods are new and desirable, but it was good fortune to get them this way.

Look at these:

Colored Serges and Cashmeres, 38 and 40 inches wide, all wool and in desirable colorings. Former prices, 37½c and 39c a yard. To-day's sale 25c a yard.

Such a windfall in popular dress stuffs hasn't come in many moons.

Here are three other interesting lots: 42-inch all-wool Serge, extra finish in all the newest shades, 39c a yard.

It's the best 50-cent goods on the market.

38-inch wool mixtures, splendid assortment of colorings, 37½c a yard, usual price 50c a yard.

50-inch all-wool Covert Cloth, ten desirable colors, regular dollar goods, for 50c a yard.

Rear of main store.

SMITH & MURRAY.

"Honest John" Truss.

Very few Trusses have a reputation equal to this, and none better. We are prepared to apply them to any kind of rupture, with a guarantee of satisfaction in every particular, at the drug store of

LeGRO & LYNDE,
Next Door to Post Office,
Palmer, - - Mass.

Meekins, Packard & Co.

Chamber Sets.

Low priced but not cheaply gotten up affairs in consequence.

Our low priced sets are famous for their excellent styles, make and finish—$13.90, $14, $15, $16, $17, $19 and $22.50 are the prices. Your choice from a line including maple, mahogany finish and oak. Full sized dressers with large mirrors.

Fourth floor.

Mattresses.

Great inducements that are meeting with great popularity. 30 pound 3.6x6.3, Amoskeag A. C. A. ticking—only $6.50. Full size 40 pound mattresses 4.6x6.3, two parts, best satin finish ticking, $8.50.

Basement.

Over 100 Styles Fancy Chairs on our third floor—roomy, comfortable shapes, strongly made, saddle, cobbler, leather and silk tapestry upholstered seats.

Straight and Arm Rockers.

Read the prices:

$2.75,	$4.00,
3.00,	4.50,
3.50,	5.00,
3.75,	6.00.

Third floor.

Portieres

Cannot tell when we will have the opportunity of offering such values in Portieres as we are now placing before you. Better make the best of the chance.

Prices:

$2.00,	$3.50,
2.19,	4.00,
2.75,	4.12,
3.00,	4.50,
3.25,	4.90.

$5.00 a pair elegant quality chenille Portieres, heavily fringed and in plain colors or with handsome dados.

Drapery department.

Meekins, Packard & Co.,
SPRINGFIELD, MASS.

When The Dawsons Moved Away.

Of all the childish memories that linger with me yet
Amid the busy scenes of life, there's one I can't forget;
It rises oft before me spite of years that intervene,
And recollection wafts me back unto that olden scene.
I see two frowsy little boys a-standing hand in hand,
With tears a-trickling down their cheeks to vanish in the sand;
No matter what's in store for me, I'll ne'er forget the day,
In the middle of the summer, when the Dawsons moved away.

They lived across the alley, and from early morn till night
We scaled the fence between us, now to play and now to fight;
Sometimes they sent me motherward with garments sadly torn,
And I would send Jim Dawson home of plumage often shorn.
We averaged ten spats a day; it made no difference,
The stars would always find us side by side upon the fence;
And there we'd sit and spin our yarns, tremendous yarns were they,
And that is why I blubbered when the Dawsons moved away.

There was little Jennie Dawson with the freckles on her face,
A million more or less, but in my eyes they lent her grace.
We'd wander down the alley to the ancient oaken tree,
And there I'd tell her modestly how dear she was to me;
Her blushes hid her freckles for a moment, and her hand
Would touch mine in a timid way, and I would understand;
But the fleeting dream was broken off years ago to-day,
When to the new and golden West the Dawsons moved away.

I've wondered often where they are and what's become of Jim,
His father used to say he'd make a congressman of him
There was Tom, the oldest boy, whose hair was fiery red,
"I'll make a minister of Tom," his mother often said;
And Ben, the little cripple, now his sad, white face I see,
He used to sit the window sit and watch and wait for me;
But most of all I think of her, though I am old and gray,
For love is just as strong as when the Dawsons moved away.

The old folks must be sleeping now toward the setting sun,
And on the children's heads to-day old Time his work has done;
He's frosted mine, he's frosted theirs, with an unsparing hand,
And 'twixt us lies this summer night a thousand leagues of land;
Old forms and faces fill my mind despite life's ebb and flow,
And I feel again the kisses that she gave me long ago;
But still a sorrow finds my heart, though I am old and gray,
When I recall the morning when the Dawsons moved away.

—T. C. Harbaugh, in New York Sun.

A TRAMP'S ROMANCE.

I had been trudging for twelve hours through the seaming rain, which had penetrated even the thick tweed suit I wore. It had rained steadily for twenty-four hours, and, judging from the thick, colorless sky and the white cloud wreathes that hung about the lower slopes of the mountains, there seemed every probability that a spell of bad weather had set in.

Driven as with a goad by the utter discomfort of the dirty inn I had left behind me in the morning, I pressed on in the rain-lashed gloaming toward the old Roman watering place on the southern side of the Stelvio Pass, Bad Bormio; there, I knew, the joy of good food, clean linen, and luxurious bath waited for me. Of course I ought not to have cast one thought on these comforts of civilization, for the Stelvio Pass is one of the grandest in Europe, and it had been my privilege to behold the great Madatsch glacier and the cloud-veiled head of the Ortler Spitz, as I stood at the top of the pass and looked over the glories of the Tyrolean Alps.

But I was very wet, very tired, very hungry; and I longed for my Capua down in the pleasant valley. My portmanteau had gone on by post—the carry-all, omniscient post of foreign parts. At Bormio I would rest me for three whole days; good dinners would I eat, and sparkling Asti would I drink, and I would make merry with any pleasant folk chance might throw in my way. And so the pains and penalties of the poor pedestrian would be forgotton, or remembered only as a foil to the comforts of the present.

I hurriedly pulled myself up at this stage of my reflections, for anticipation had made me forget for a brief moment what was then my condition. The relentless rain had worked its way to my skin; only my feet were dry, thanks to the waterproof boots and stout leggings I wore. I was as yet within some miles of my goal when I overtook two pedestrians, whose cases were worse than my own, for these two belated wanderes were women, and the poor creatures, skirts were wet and draggled and clung miserably about their limbs. Both were slender and young, and the heavy rain beat heavily on their heads and shoulders. Bedraggled through they were I saw at a glance they were ladies, and a few words uttered by one told me that they were country-women of my own. My interest and sympathy were at once enlisted.

"Another hour, Betty, at most we can knock off. What a tramp we've had, and how it can rain in this wonderful country!"

The girl who spoke (she could only have been in her early twenties) had a fair, ruddy complexion, her cheeks looked like roses that had had a thorough drenching, and a great lump of light brown hair, which showed beneath her soaked gray felt hat, was heavy with diamond drops of water. Both girls wore neat ulsters, but the rain had evidently soaked them through, and they clung tightly to the slim outlines of their forms.

I glanced quickly at the girl addressed as Betty. She was wet, but even prettier than her companion. The steady tramp of my steps probably caused Betty some alarm, for she looked nervously over her shoulder. It was then that I saw what a very pretty girl she was, despite her somewhat dishevelled state.

On the impulse of the moment I raised my hat and muttered some sort of a salutation.

"Oh, you're English!"

The accent of pleasure was unmistakable and gratifying.

The exclamation came from Betty, whose dark eyes were turned full on me. Evidently the result of the inspection was favorable, for Betty smiled, and showed a row of gleaming little teeth, whose whiteness was accentuated by the rich red of the lips that enframed them. The young lady's complexion was slightly browned by exposure to the sun; but the lashing of the rain had brought a flush of pink to the smooth cheek, whose perfect contour was apparent as she turned toward me.

"Yes, I am English," I said in a comfortable, elderly-brother tone, calculated to win the confidence of these two independent damsels-errant; "and I am on my way to Bad Bormio."

"So are we; and we are so horribly wet, and the road seems as if it would never come to an end."

"It is a long tramp from Trafoi," I remarked.

"Oh, we only came from Franzenhohe this morning; we had some lunch at Santa Maria, and we hope to reach Bormio by dinner time," said the other girl, whose name I afterward knew to be Kate; "for, to tell the truth, we are both awfully hungry."

"What hotel are you bound for?" I enquired.

"The Nuovi Bagni."

"Ah, I am going there, too. Will you allow me to walk with you and to carry that bag?" I added, pointing to a fair-sized rucksack strapped to the supple back of Miss Betty.

After a little demur the rucksack was unstrapped and attrached to the haversack I carried. I saw with satisfaction that the slender figure, relieved of its burden, drew itself more erect and moved forward with greater ease.

Two girls, tramping unprotected along that lonely road which winds down from the summit of the pass to Italy, seemed quite free from any fear of danger. The discomfort of rain-soaked clothing, boots heavy with mud, and the fatigue consequent on the long tramp, seemed to be the only cause of complaint they had.

"You see, when one is on a walking tour one can't stop for weather," remarked Betty, with a comprehensive glance around at the mist-shrouded mountains, the rain-lashed rocks showing their rich brown in vivid contrast to the gray sky and patches of vivid green moss; "one must take the good and the bad just as they come, like the rough and smooth places on the road. My friend and I are good walkers, and we enjoy a good tramp like this, in spite of the weather."

I had got the idea that the girls were sisters, although they were quite unlike in personal appearance. Bit by bit I got to know more about my damsels-errant. They had walked most of the way from Innsbruck, through the Brenner Pass to Botzen; there they had taken the train to Meran, and from thence had pursued their tramp, stopping several days on the road at Spondelak, Trafoi, and Franzenhohe.

"We shall stay at Bormio a few days and rest, and then we shall meet our bags again. You can't think how glad we are to see those bags; we quite love the very straps and buckles. Do you know Bormoi at all?"

I avowed my ignorance.

"Nor do we. There was an American lady we met at Innsbruck who recommended the Nuovi Bagni to us. I think she thought us quite mad, but she was extremely kind.

"Kittie," she added suddenly, addressing her companion, "do look down there at that leaping water; that must be the Adda."

"Oh! our first Italian river, Betty! How jolly!" cried the enthusiastic Kate, her gray eyes beaming out from under her dripping hat brim.

Then she looked down the valley and tried, I think, to realize that this rain-beaten scene really was in Italy.

"Cheer up, Kittie; it will be fine to-morrow, and won't we revel in the sunshine when it comes?"

It was Betty who spoke. The manner of the girls toward each other amused me; they seemed to take the role of guide and consoler in turns, just as, I have no doubt, they had taken it in turns to carry the the rucksack which I had now in my care.

Independent though they were, the girls seemed glad of my companionship, especially when we passed through one of the dark, cavernous galleries roofed with stones, built to protect the road from avalanches. They chatted in a friendly, unembarrassed manner, and the sound of the fresh young voices and the sight of the two pretty faces did much to redeem the dreariness of the long, monotonous road.

The next morning was a sumptuous one. I was soon dressed and out of doors. I caught the sound of a woman's voice trilling out the refrain of an Italian volkslied.

The lark-like joyousness of the song seemed in harmony with the glorious morning. In a dreamy mood I listened. The singing voice floated nearer. I caught the sight of a white straw sailor-hat and a pink cotton blouse.

Italian peasant girls do not attire themselves thus. I am a trifle short-sighted, but, in a very few moments, I was aware that the early-rising songstress was Miss Kate Morrison. A glance at the hotel register had informed me of the names of my fellow pedestrians.

She looked very pretty and fresh; the mass of light brown hair was twisted up neatly at the back of her head. Clearly the luggage of the two girls had turned up, for there were no signs of travel-stain about the trim blue serge skirt and the crisp starched pink blouse.

I wished her good-morning and inquired for her absent friend.

Oh, Betty is all right, thanks, only rather sleepy. I thought it a pity to waste one single hour of this heavenly morning, and I wanted to make a little sketch from the bridge."

"An artist as well as a singer?" I inquired, smiling.

"Oh, you heard me chirruping, I suppose. One must sing when one feels so utterly happy. Isn't the air exhilarating? But I must make my sketch. I can sit on the parapet—so—and get just the view that I want?"

Her busy pencil did its work with great rapidity, and, when I asked permission to look at the sketch, I was really surprised at the masterliness of her touch, and her knowledge of perspective.

She closed her sketch book, and we walked back together to the hotel. In the garden we met Miss Betty. She, too, looked dainty and fresh after her night's rest. The same source of information that had made me acquainted with Miss Kittie's name had told me hers—Blount.

At breakfast I happened to mention her by name, and I fancied a look of surprise crossed her face at the glibness with which I uttered it. But her manner showed no displeasure, and I was encouraged to offer my escort for an expedition to the town of Bormo. The quaint, old-world place, with its rough pavements and narrow streets, so Italian in its aspect, with the yellow-washed houses and curious loggias, and musty, silent church delighted Miss Kittie, and gave much occupation to her pencil. But Miss Blount, whose artistic superiority her friend had proclaimed, did not make any sketches, although, no doubt, she stored impressions for future use.

Nothing but a violent wrench would have enabled me to leave Bormio. I lingered on, lugging my chains; and the two girls, for what reason I know not, lingered too.

The place had a curious charm; it had the strength and grandeur of the mountains and the glory and glamour of the South. A week passed, during which the two girls and I were almost always together. Their utter unconventionality surprised me, but it delighted me too. Their plans were not fixed, but something had been said once or twice about extending their walking tour to the Engadine, by way of the Bermina Pass. I had just made up my mind that where they went I would go, for the thought of Betty tramping unprotected and exposed to the chance of insult filled me with dismay. Already I assumed to myself the man's right of protection.

The two girls listened respectfully, almost obediently to my advice, and made no objection whatever when I declared that I too intended to visit Engadine, and go when they went.

In my own mind I had fully planned how my romance was to end. I would marry Betty; we should be poor, but I knew her tastes were simple, and I would work trebly hard and win successes for myself, and wealth for her, before we were five years older. Of such visions is love guilty!

As the girls were resolute to keep to their plans of walking from Bormio to Pontresina, we set out in true Bohemian fashion, like respectable gypsies. The roads were good, the weather perfect, and we tramped joyously to Bollodore and Tirano, staying a day here and a day there, just as the fancy took us. It was at Tirano that the climax of my brief madness came and the denouement of this adventure befell.

We were housed in the Hotel San Michele, one of the quaintest hostelries surely wherein a man might take his ease, for the building had formerly sheltered a peaceful sisterhood. The bedrooms were vaulted, the floors were of stone, and all the doors opened on to a broad, cloister-like gallery. At the end of this winding gallery was an immense loggia, which looked on the piazza and the cathedral—a pilgrimage church—whither on great festivals the faithful were gathered together from all the surrounding villages.

Perhaps it was the sobering influence of the gray old building, or the conventual air of the place, or the asceticism which breathe from those cell-like bed-rooms; but certainly on that third evening of our sojourn there the girls' manner had changed. Betty's beautiful face was sad and clouded, and Kittie's gayety had vanished. After dinner she pleaded a headache and went to her room, and Betty looked troubled as she left us, but did not offer to follow. I suggested a stroll in the convent gardens, from whence came the click of the bowls, for that old-world game was always in full swing after the day's work was over—the garden being large, served as an open air club to the townspeople. Betty agreed, and we were soon in the cool, high-walled pleasance—a quiet spot, where all we heard of the players was the click of the ball and the distant sound of laughter and talk.

The sun had set, and a cool breeze was whispering among the broad leaves of the fig trees; in the grass the drone of the grasshopper made a sleepy murmur. Betty was curiously silent, a trifle embarrassed in manner, and somehow this unwonted shyness and taciturnity gave me confidence in myself. I talked to her about many things, as if I were entitled to her sympathy, told her of struggles, of my ambitions, of my hopes—talked as a man rarely talks save to the woman he loves and hopes to win for his wife. Somehow or other—made bold, I think, by a tender softening of her face when I spoke about the hardness of the struggle for fame when the struggle is made single-handed—I blurted out my secret. I loved her, and life would be a desert without her love.

Then in the gray twilight I saw a white, astonished face and two large, frightened eyes look at me almost in horror.

"Mr. Aslehurst!" she panted, "you are surely mad. It is not I you love—it is—" she stopped and bit her lip.

Good Heavens! It was the old complication. I read her unspoken thought in a flash. She believed it was Kittie I loved, that it was for Kittie's sake that I had dangled at their heels all this time.

I was about to protest that it was she—Betty, and she only that I loved, when she resumed, in a calm, self-possessed tone:—

"You must forget that you have ever spoken so to me, Mr. Aslehurst; that you ever thought of me—in that way—for I am married already—my husband is coming to join us at Pontresina."

I stared at her incredulously for a moment.

"But, Miss Blount—?"

"I was Miss Blount once. I am Mrs. Field now—perhaps you know my husband; he is a barrister, too; he could not get away sooner because he had some important case to work up," she went on, rapidly. "It is all Kitty Morrison's fault—this—this dreadful mistake. Kittie was my greatest chum before I was married last year; she was very angry with me for marrying, and she persuaded me, just for the sake of old times, when we used to come abroad together for walking tours, to be Miss Blount again. It was she who wrote the name in the hotel book in Bormio; and when you called me Miss Blount Kittie was delighted, and insisted on keeping up the joke."

"That was a little rough on me," I said, in a crestfallen way. The comical side of the situation was apparent to me, and for the moment I forgot the pangs of despised love.

"We did not mean any harm," she murmured humbly. "We used to have such splendid times together when we toured about, Kittie and I. When I heard you call me Miss Blount, I almost forgot that I had a husband in London."

"Poor Field! He would not be flattered."

"You know my husband?"

"Slightly. We meet pretty often in hall," I answered dryly.

"Oh, Mr. Aslehurst, what must you think of me? But I do love Edward, and I—I shall be so happy to see him at Pontresina. We are a model couple, and ever so contented. I—I thought that you admired Kittie Morrison, she is such a dear, good girl; she has always been very independent and high-spirited—but——." Again she stopped, and I read in Mrs. Field's beautiful face the gist of a little romance that had, no doubt, been simmering in her brain ever since our meeting in the rain-swept pass of Stelvio.

Alas! how easily things go wrong! I had fallen in love with the wife instead of with the maid, thanks to Miss Kittie Morrison's little freak. Betty—I must call her by the name I have called her always in my thoughts—Betty had allowed the freak to be indulged, and I was a broken-hearted man—for fully thirty-six hours. But I could not in mere civility leave the two forlorn women to trudge together to Pontresina, especially now that I knew one of them was the wife of a brother barrister. By the time we reached our Alpine Mecca we were the best of friends again. Field turned up a day or two later, and I stayed on, for we all found four a pleasanter number than three in our mountain expeditions—and, really, Kittie Morrison—she has another name now—was and is a very pretty girl, and she is certainly much less independent than when I first made her acquaintance.—Strand Magazine.

Mrs. Binks—"My husband did not like that tea you sent us last." Grocer (politely—"Did you like it, madam?" Mrs. Binks—"Yes, I liked it." Grocer (to clerk)—"James! Send Mrs. Binks another pound of the same tea she had last. Anything else, madam?"—New York Weekly.

The Plain City Folks.

O, yes! we got the house right full—all city people, too—
Payin' plank down fer everythin', the best I ever knew;
An', as fer clo'es, an' rings, an' sech, I swan, it dazzles me!
But, land sakes! it's surprisin', what simple folks they be!

They're jus' like children; they'll believe, why, any sort of chaff.
'Twould do ye good to watch 'em set, an' laff, an' laff, an' laff;
The minute I'ar appears they all begin to smile, an' when
He wants to tell 'em jokes—you'd ought to see em' laffin' then.

An' my! the wimmin come to me—their ways are kinder nice—
Mothers, themselves, an' not so young, a-askin' my advice;
Yes, and how I keep my eggs so fresh, an' what I put in dye,
An' how I make my butte-milk, an' git my cheese to dry.

The girls all want ther fortunes told, in tea-grounds—I declare!
You'd think I tell 'em gospel truth—they take it in fer fair.
An' the young men's as innocent an' mild; I'd like to know
However they grew up like that, an' keep on bein' so.

The ol' men move aroun' the farm, examinin' this an' that—
An' don't know plows from harrows, nor a beetle from a bat;
An' yit, with style an' money that is jes' a sight to see,
Dear me! it is surprisin' what simple folks they be.

—Madeline S. Bridges, in Judge.

WARMAN'S CAT STORY.

"You have heard of the railroad dog, of course," said Cy Warman. "Everybody has, but I'll venture to say that you never heard of a railway cat. Well, I used to have one. You know I used to fire on the Rio Grande Western. I got mixed up with one of those big mountain climbers in a wreck one time, and after that I quit the business cold and turned poet. Well, now for the tabby.

"You know the exploits of the railroad dog have been recounted in divers places—how he saved a train and the lives of the passengers from a fathomless pit or a dark yawning abyss and all that. Those are all stories of the railroader, of which the dog is the hero of the hour. My yarn is not like those old stories, for pussy was too well trained to do anything so rash as to save a train and thereby endanger her own life. In the first place, puss was a pet of the landlady where most of the railroad men boarded and in consequence the cat took a liking to railroading.

"She was a remarkable traveler, and she preferred the tender of a freight locomotive to a Pullman palace car. When the train would have a long wait at a side track or station, Miss Puss would descend from her perch on the pile of coal, or if the weather was inclement from the seat of the engineer, where she would sit looking out on the track beyond and go in hunt of mice, and if it was lunch hour would hunt up the kitchen door of the depot eating house. She was a beautiful cat. Her fur was jet black, and when the engine was running down the steep grades of the mountains she would hold her place on the top of the tender, with all the grace and dignity imaginable, and if the wind was blowing she would ruffle up her black coat of fur as though entering a protest. Puss never missed a trip all the time I was on the road after she took the railroad fever.

"When I left the Western, Puss had to choose between her owner and the big black monster that had carried her so many miles. I remember the day I went out to bid the big inanimate object goodby. I was very much attached to it. Why not? We had gone through a wreck together, and it had received the brunt of a collision with a big rock. I looked at the engine, which was steamed up ready to start on its trip, and soon saw puss mount to her perch on the coal. I spoke tenderly to her, and she arched her back and purred knowingly. When I bid the boys goodby and called her, she came part way, looked up at me in an undecided manner and finally gave a pitiful meow and walked off toward the engine again. She kept up her habit for several years after that and finally was crushed to death in a wreck. She was found curled up on the box by the side of the inanimate form of the engineer. Both had died at the post of duty."—Chicago Inter Ocean.

THE OUT-DOOR WOMAN.

The prevailing fashion in woman's bicycling costumes seems to be somewhat a question of geography. In Paris it has been decided that nothing but the bloomer, knickerbocker, or some form of the bifurcated garment is suited for the purpose. Skirts are regarded as utterly unadapted for wheeling, and have been almost entirely discarded for that purpose, as nearly all the models of Paris bicycle suits show. In London, on the other hand, according to a recent correspondent, although the number of women who ride is large, few bloomers are seen, and they do not meet with general favor. Apparently the English are too conservative to adopt so radical a change with the readiness shown by their Gallic neighbors.

Here in America we have all varieties in evidence, from the knickerbocker with scarce a suspicion of fullness to the ordinary long and full skirt, which latter, however, is happily seldom seen, its danger having been proved on many occasions. Between these there is a wide choice, and any one ought to be able to select from among the many a costume which suits her ideas as to comfort and appearance. Recent observation of both city and suburban cyclists has led me to the conclusion that at present the style most commonly seen consists of a skirt of what may be called three-quarter length—that is, reaching about half-way between the knee and the ground. Under this bloomers are worn, and leggings extend from the knee to the ankle. A skirt of this length will not catch anywhere, and if it is made heavy and rather scant it will not blow about in the wind, which is an annoying fault of many.

There are many who think and predict that before a couple of years shall have passed, the bloomer for bicycle use will remain practically supreme. It seems doubtful, though, now that a suit has been devised which has a skirt and is still comfortable and safe, whether the women who dislike to appear in that much-talked-of attire will ever adopt it.

HE KNEW HIS MOTHER.—Mrs. Williams is a widow with three boys, whom she has brought up with great firmness. It is one of her rules that obedience to her commands must come immediately, and explanation, if at all, at her leisure.

"Freddy," she said a short time ago to her youngest boy, aged seven, "I am intending to do something in a few days about which I want to talk to you a little."

"Yes'm," responded Freddy, meekly.

"I am intending to marry Dr. Morse next week on Monday," said his mother, and then she paused for a moment.

"Yes'm," said Freddy again, and then he added, with a look of awe on his small face: "I s'pose Dr. Morse won't know anything about it till the time comes, will he, mother!"—Youth's Companion.

The Journal.

FRIDAY EVENING, NOVEMBER 1, 1895.

THE Boston Standard has said that "the patriotic fraternities are the Republican party of Massachusetts." We don't believe that next Tuesday will show any such state of affairs.

IN the tenth Hampden representative district it is claimed that Mr. Parker, the Republican candidate, will receive many Democratic votes in his own town, Brimfield. There is no doubt as to Mr. Parker's election.

THE 128th victim of Brooklyn's trolly system, a child of five, was killed last Friday. Many of the victims have been children, and it is a wonder the citizens do not rise in righteous indignation and do something to stop these numerous murders, for they are nothing else.

IT is suggested by the chiefs of the weather bureaus that all letters carried by the United States mail have stamped on them the local weather forecasts for the next 24 hours. This is to be done by a small addition to the present cancelling stamp, so that no additional labor will be required.

ONE of the most lucky men in the local political field is Charles A. Towne of Orange, Republican candidate for councilor in the eighth district. He won in the convention against two other strong candidates, then the Democratic nominee refused to stand and Mr. Towne has no opponent except the Prohibition party candidate, which is not a serious matter.

AN indictment has been returned by the grand jury of the District of Washington against Miss Elizabeth Flagler, daughter of Gen. G. M. Flagler, chief of ordinance of the army, charging her with manslaughter in the shooting of a young colored boy last August while he was picking pears in the yard of the Flagler mansion. Miss Flagler is now under bail in the sum of $10,000.

A PECULIAR condition of affairs is said to exist in the lower part of Indiana, where a scarcity of water in the Ohio river is driving people to strong drink. The apple crop in that section is unusually large, and as it cannot be marketed by boat as usual on account of low water, the apples are being turned into cider and cider brandy. The W. C. T. U. might do good work by sending a few rain-makers to that section.

LONDON has a speculative mood beside which the endowment order craze of Massachusetts dwindles to insignificance in comparison. African gold mining stocks are being traded in to an almost fabulous extent, as will be shown by the fact that on a certain day recently, stock of twelve companies of a par value of $93,515,500 had a market value of $624,368,500. These same stocks have already depreciated $120,000,000 in value, and are bound to go much lower. There is likely to be a big crash one of these days.

NEXT Tuesday comes the state election, with apparently the only question, so far as the state officers are concerned, as to the size of the plurality which the Republican candidates will get. The estimates vary all the way up to 100,000. At the same time it is well to remember that this is an "off" year, and that last year's figures represented a change in voting which it is doubtful of maintaining this year. It should be the duty of every Republican, however, to see to it that his vote is counted in the returns of next Tuesday.

WHAT do the intelligent people of Palmer, those who are most closely identified with the best interests of the town and the management of its affairs, think of the move to form a council of the A. P. A. in this place? Who of those who best know the town will agree with the statement of a local member of this secret order that "No place in Massachusetts more needs a council of the A. P. A. than Palmer"? What need has Palmer for it? The names of those interested in the formation of a council here are known, and the JOURNAL is sure the voters of the town would like to know why Palmer so greatly needs this thing.

MONSON is to be congratulated on getting another quarter of a mile of state road to build, in addition to the original $5000 given the town. Palmer couldn't have any of the road this year because there was no money in the treasury, but Monson seems to have found a little, possibly tucked away in some corner and forgotten. Palmer people will rejoice at Monson's good fortune, however, as a favorite drive for many of them is to this beautiful town, and they will appreciate the better facilities for getting there. At the same time they are living in hopes, Palmer having been promised two miles of state road next year.

IT is understood that the A. P. A. of Springfield will not vote for Greenhalge, Walcott or Clark, leaving these names unmarked on the ticket. Of course they could not conscientiously support Brooks for sheriff, and so are to refrain from voting for that official, in the hopes that by the withdrawal of their strength Clark will not have enough to elect him. If this is their plan it won't work. Sheriff Clark has too many friends among the Democrats who are supporting him to be so easily turned down. A quiet, capable official, courteous to all, he will be re-elected by a majority large enough to make the Apaists understand that they cannot have things all their own way. Sheriff Clark will, according to the present indications, run considerably ahead of his ticket in Palmer.

THE town of Palmer has never before had a committee for prosecuting the illegal liquor sellers which could show so good a record as the present one. In times past the result has usually been the spending of the appropriation,—sometimes $1000,—with seldom a conviction. The selectmen have had charge of the matter this year, and have practically cleaned out the illegal sellers. They have convicted every offender brought before the court, and every one has paid a fine, while several cases which have been pleaded guilty to are filed away during the good behavior of the guilty parties, to be taken up for sentence at the first indication of their return to business. Under the present law the fines go into the town's treasury, $225 have been paid in fines, and only $100 for prosecutions; so the board is at present $125 ahead of the game, for the first time in the history of the town.

THE cause of woman suffrage will not stand much chance of favorable consideration in the next Legislature if the registration in other parts of the state is similar to that in this vicinity, and the law-makers take the figures into account. The registration of women in the towns hereabouts is as follows:

Palmer,	82
Monson,	9
Belchertown,	35
Brimfield,	2
Hampden,	23
Holland,	4
Ludlow,	3
Wales,	0
Ware,	62
Warren,	117
Wilbraham,	7

Not all of these will vote "yes" on Tuesday. And if the women fail to get what they wish in this matter they will themselves be largely responsible, for it is reasonable to suppose that a woman who does not care enough about it to register and express her opinion on the matter would not take the trouble to go to the polls to vote on municipal affairs if she had the opportunity.

LOCAL NOTICES.

W. H. Hitchcock is selling stoves very cheap.

H. N. Sager & Co. will continue clearance sale next week at 10 per cent discount.

FINE STATIONERY.—Blue is the fashionable shade for ladies' correspondence paper now, and "Ciel Bleu" is the very latest and most correct. "Prince of Wales" is another popular style, and comes in four shades, Silver Blue, Cream, French Grey and Beryl. Samples of all these papers and the fashionable sizes now prevailing can be seen at the JOURNAL Office.

PALMER NEWS.

C. G. Gardner is home from New York.

Communion at the churches next Sunday.

L. W. Caryl is painting his house on Main street.

The bridge at Fosket's Mill has been replanked recently.

Mrs. Ella Washburn is visiting friends in northern New York.

Mrs. E. P. Bigelow of Washington is visiting Mrs. L. E. Child.

F. W. Tracy is moving his family to Worcester this week.

Miss Addie Rogers is home from Albany for a couple of weeks.

Mrs. J. E. Bird of Syracuse is visiting her mother, Mrs. S. Ellis.

Mrs. P. E. Bard and son have returned from a visit in Adams.

Mrs. M. A. Learned is back from a vacation spent at Montague.

Calvin Hastings was home from school at Worcester over Sunday.

Miss Elizabeth Wassum was home from Northfield over Sunday.

Mrs. Oatram of Glastonbury, Ct., is the guest of Mrs. G. O. Henry.

Mrs. Williston of Holyoke has been the guest of her sister, Mrs. N. Aiken.

The interior of the post office has been brightened by new paint this week.

Miss Jennie Brainerd has been visiting friends in Orange a part of the week.

Mrs. W. W. Cross of Brockton spent a few days last week with friends in town.

Charles Kempton is clerking for Fredrick Thompson in his Central street market.

Mrs. G. A. Moore has returned from a visit of a couple of weeks in Providence.

Mr. and Mrs. Miner Grant of Mansfield, Ct., are the guests of Mr. and Mrs. H. G. Loomis.

Miss Kate Buck gave a Hallowe'en party last evening to a nuember of her young friends.

Clayton, the 10-years-old son of E. A. Maxwell, is seriously ill with inflammation of the bowels.

Miss Hattie Coleman spent Sunday and the fore part of the week with friends in Springfield.

Miss Cook opened her kindergarten school Tuesday at the residence of A. W. Thayer on Main street.

At the Baptist church next Sunday Rev. C. R. Minard will take for his subject, "Jesus Christ."

Mrs. James Rohan and daughter Flossie of Springfield are guests of Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Wilder this week.

Miss Gertrude Ball, who is teaching school in West Brookfield, spent Sunday with her parents here.

The Once-a-Week Club held its first meeting of the season at the Converse House last Saturday evening.

Dr. I. P. Ware, U. S. A., stationed at Fort Clark, Texas, has been visiting his sister, Mrs. D. L. Bodfish.

Miss Ida C. Fuller is bookkeeper and cashier in the store of her uncle, F. A. Fuller, at North Wilbraham.

A carpet, the general complexion of which is red and green, has been laid on the opera house stage this week.

L. L. Merrick post of the G. A. R. has an invitation to attend the campfire of J. W. Lawton post at Ware the 13th.

A barrel of clothing and other useful articles has been packed at the Congregational church for a home missionary.

Rev. H. F. Moulton of the Universalist church exchanged pulpits with Rev. Harry Blackford of Monson last Sunday.

The residence of G. M. Atkins and the store of W. H. Hitchcock have been connected with the telephone exchange.

The regular monthly meeting of the Palmer Business and Social Club will be held in the club rooms this evening at 8 o'clock.

Judge Newton of Monson presided in the district court Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday, in the absence of Judge Robinson.

Conductor Prindle of the Boston and Albany milk train has moved his family into M. D. Sullivan's house on Park avenue.

Drs. Allen and Hayes, specialists in chronic diseases, will be at the Converse House on Wednesdays of each week until further notice.

Delegates from Thomas lodge of Masons visited Hampden lodge of Springfield Tuesday night and Vernon lodge of Belchertown Wednesday night.

Jerry Shea of Bondsville has the contract to build the new sewer in that village. The length will be about 450 feet, and the price is 50 cents per foot.

Revere chapter of the Order of the Eastern Star will receive an official visit from the district deputy, Mrs. Carson of Westfield, next Friday evening.

Orders are coming thick and fast at the works of the Rogers-Osgood Hat Co., and the prospects are good for a much better season even than the last.

Miss Belle Fiske, who has been visiting her parents in Boston, will resume her position as operator for the Postal Telegraph Company next Monday.

The Universalist Sunday school has purchased a new singing and service book, "The Carol," and will hold its second annual rally one week from next Sunday.

The Woman's Relief Corps will receive an official visit from the inspection officer, Mrs. Bemis of Worcester, this evening. One candidate will be initiated.

L. A. Kendall, agent of the Universalist Publishing House, will visit the families of St. Paul's parish next week in the interest of denominational papers and books.

The selectmen and the directors of the electric railroad drove over the proposed route Tuesday, determining upon the location of the tracks and deciding other matters.

Letters addressed to the following persons remain in the post office uncalled for: Louis Godins, Miss Alice M. Rice, James Richards, Mrs. Ella J. Webber, Robert Warner, A. H. Dame.

Mrs. Sarah A. Parkhurst will serve as collector in Good Cheer Rebekah lodge to solicit names for membership in the Rebekah Auxiliary to the Massachusetts Odd Fellows' Home.

H. A. Holland held his first dancing class in the opera house Tuesday evening, and will continue them Tuesday evenings through the winter. The class numbers about 30.

All members of Quaboag council of the Royal Arcanum are especially requested to be present at the meeting next Tuesday evening, when matters of especial importance will come up for action.

Josh Whitcomb's "Old Homestead" is booked for the opera house in November, 1896, a year ahead. The company has so many applications for dates that it is obliged to make all a year in advance.

The Bishop property in Thorndike, consisting of a dwelling house on Commercial street and a tenement house on Harvey avenue, will be sold at auction to-morrow afternoon at 2 o'clock on the promises.

Lester Winter and Charles Carey have for some time been disputing each other's abilities as a sprinter, and now Winter offers to give Carey 15 feet start in a 100-yards dash for $15 or $25 a side, the race to take place any time within two weeks.

Masses will be at 8 30 and 10.30 next Sunday morning at St. Thomas's Catholic church. Confirmation services, with vespers, will be at 3 in the afternoon, when Bishop Beaven of Springfield will be present, and a class of 135 will be confirmed.

The ladies society of the Congregational church will give a social in the vestry of the church next Wednesday evening. Supper will be served by Mrs. L. W. Caryl, Mrs. H. P. Holden, Mrs. H. G. Loomis, Mrs. G. A. Rice, Mrs. A. W. Thayer and Mrs. J. H. Tuthill.

Friends of Rev. Pleasant Hunter of Minneapolis, formerly pastor of the Congregational church of Palmer, will be sorry to learn that the church which his congregation occupied was burned about the first of October, and they are now holding services in the opera house.

Box 68, of the fire alarm, on the corner of Mainand Walnut streets, was found to be out of order, and Tuesday night was taken off and sent to the manufacturers to be repaired. Should necessity require the pulling of a box before it returns, the nearest is 57, at the engine house on Park street.

The cemetery association has done a large amount of work in the cemetery this week, and expects to do still more. Some of the lots which were graded too high have been cut down, while others have been filled in; several low places between lots have also been filled, and more work of this kind will follow.

Next Sunday will be observed as All Soul's Sunday in the Universalist church. The general convention of Universalists has asked for a special observance of the day by all Universalist churches, and the pastor will preach a sermon from the theme, "A Gospel for All Souls—Three Steps in Making it World-wide."

C. K. Gamwell proposes to create a little fun for the boys next week, especially the smaller boys. Each afternoon at 4.30 he will throw a football from the roof of the block into the street, the ball to become the property of the boy who is fortunate enough to catch and hold it. Only boys under 15 will be allowed to try for it.

A meeting of those interested in the formation of a council of the A. P. A. was held in this village Tuesday evening. About a dozen or 15 were present, about evenly divided between this village and Three Rivers. The advisability of forming a council in Palmer was discussed, and the meeting adjourned to some future date.

"Uncle Tom's Cabin" always draws a crowd, and last night was no exception, the opera house being well filled, the largest audience of the season being present to laugh at Marks and Topsey and cry over the death of Uncle Tom and Eva. The company was not the best ever seen, but was a vast improvement on many which are on the road.

A. E. Fitch and family spent Sunday with friends in Holyoke. On Sunday Mr. Fitch made an official visit as one of the visiting committee for Bible schools, appointed by the Westfield Baptist Association, to the Central Baptist Sunday school of Chicopee. He is also to visit the State Street school in Springfield and the one in West Springfield.

R. J. Henry has sold his tea store to W. G. Baker of Springfield, who took possession to-day. Mr. Henry will go to Boston to have his eyes treated, which have troubled him for something over two years. The original trouble was granulated lids, but some of the preparations which he used on them made the matter worse, causing him much pain and annoyance.

The Eaton Club of St. Paul's Universalist church will give an oyster supper and entertainment in the church parlors next Tuesday evening at 6 30 o'clock. Oysters will be served raw, stewed and fried, with pickles, celery, hot rolls, cake, coffee, etc. The entertainment will consist of vocal and instrumental music and a farce, "A Game of Chess," by six members of the club. Supper will be 15 cents, and admission to the entertainment 10 cents.

Timid people who have been alarmed at the booming sounds heard frequently of late need have no apprehensions of earthquakes or any serious disruption of the earth's surface. Only a small portion is being torn up, and that is being rent only to be remodeled into something of use to man and comfort to beast. The sounds are the firing of blasts at the trap-rock quarry in Monson, where the material for Monson's mile and a quarter of state road is being procured. It is said that the blasts are sometimes heard in Worcester.

At the Congregational church Sunday morning the pastor will give a fourth sermon on "Power in the church," with the special subject, "The Unfailing Condition on which Power is Given to Christians." This will close the series, and will sum up the whole subject and bring it to a practical issue. In the evening an Antiphonal service will be given under the auspices of the Men's Sunday Evening Club. This beautiful service of song will be rendered by the aid of two choirs,—a quartette and a chorus,—and will include considerable variety. There will be a short sermon. Everybody is invited.

The attention of the voters is called to the new hour of opening the polls next Tuesday, 7 o'clock in the morning. Voters who are obliged to spend the greater part of the day out of town have heretofore been put to considerable inconvenience in order to vote, but by this new arrangement nearly all will be enabled to vote before commencing their day's work. As the law requires the keeping of the poles open only four hours, they may be closed at 11, but as it has been customary to keep them open until 2 in the afternoon, this will probably be done next Tuesday, as it is understood that a motion to that effect will be made soon after the polls are opened in the morning.

The registrars of voters finished their work last Saturday night, adding about 40 names to the list on that day. The particular feature of the last day was the large registration of women, who intend to vote on the woman suffrage referendum question. A number of enthusiasts were at the court room during the afternoon, consulting and sending for recruits. Not all of those registered will vote "yes" on the question, however. The registration of the town shows a slight gain in male voters over last year, while all but four of the women voters are new. The registration, by precincts, is:

	A	B	C	D	Total.
Men,	563	287	195	147	1187
Women,	72	5	0	6	82

Theater goers will have an unusual opportunity next week, when Ullie Akerstrom will appear at the opera house two evenings, Thursday and Friday, Thursday evening in "The Sultan's Daughter," and Friday evening in "Miss Rora." The first piece has to deal with the experiences of a wealthy New Yorker with a mania for collecting pictures, who finally gets one which comes unexpectedly to life one day and creates no end of trouble in his family. His dilemma causes no end of amusement, and there are a number of strong comedy parts in the play. New dances will be introduced, in one of which Miss Akerstrom wears a dress made of 100 yards of silk, yet so light that it weighs only three pounds. "Miss Rora" deals with life in the west, cowboys, Indians, etc,, and both will no doubt be entertaining. The company carries its own scenery, and calcium lights heighten the effects in special scenes.

The JOURNAL has received from a correspondent a letter asking why the school committee does not follow the example set by other towns and establish free night schools in the several villages, and give those who are compelled to work all day an opportunity to get something of an education. This was tried not many years ago, and did not prove to be a success. In the first place such schools require a male teacher, and they are difficult to procure for the short space of time which the schools would be open. When the experiment was tried it was found that only a small percentage of those who attended went with any real desire to improve themselves; the rest went to have a good time and get in out of the cold disagreeable evenings, the result being a wearing out of the school furniture and books in vast excess of the results accomplished. Then the committee has not the funds to maintain such schools, if there was a necessity for them.

District Court.

Maxim Poro was last Saturday sent to the state farm at Bridgewater for one year for drunkenness; Poro had been on probation for nearly a year. The probated case of William Henry Harrison Ryder also came up, and he was further probated until the first Saturday in January.

On Monday Joseph Murray of Bondsville paid a fine of $6 for drunkenness.

On Wednesday William Tynan, claiming Catskill, N. Y., as a place of residence, and asserting that he had come east in search of work as a weaver, the mill where he had been employed having been closed, was sent up in default of $5, imposed for drunkenness. Tynan has been east before, and figured in the local court in 1892, being recognized as a former offender by Probation Officer Merriam.

PALMER CENTER.

A correspondent writes that the malicious person spoken of last week as cutting a water pipe was a common day laborer, who did the work under the direction of the owner of the pipe, and received his pay for the same; the work was done in broad daylight, the reason being the non-payment of water aent by a neighbor.

THREE RIVERS.

C. Dupont of Canada is visiting friends and relatives here.

Miss Lizzie Korff is numbered among the sick this week.

Harry Newell was home from Amherst college Sunday.

Miss Mattie Goshen visited friends in Amherst last Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Buckley of Moretown, Vt., are guests at B. Avery's.

Mr. and Mrs. Palmer of Waitsfield, Vt., are visiting their daughter. Mrs. B. Avery.

George Stowe of Suffield, Ct., has been the guest of his sister, Mrs. B. Avery, this week.

Walter and William Ritchie spent Saturday and Sunday with relatives in Manchester.

Mrs. W. F. Johnson is recovering from an illness which has kept her within doors for several days.

Miss Carrie Johnson returned Monday from Lynn, where she has been visiting relatives a few months.

Mrs. S. B. Barnes spent Sunday in Meriden, Ct., with her son, who has accepted a position in a machine shop there.

Dr. and Mrs. Boulay are rejoicing over the birth of a son; the little stranger put in an appearance last Friday evening.

Mrs. R. S. Milliken of Lawrence, formerly of this place, has been visiting old friends in Thorndike, Bondsville and this village.

Mrs. Chapman, who for several weeks has been a guest at Frank Barker's, returned to her home in Collinsville, Ct., this week.

R. W. VanTassel, who for the last two weeks has been working for the Boston Duck Company at Bondsville, moved his family there this week.

The Otis Company is laying many new sidewalks, which are greatly appreciated by the townspeople, as the old ones were in bad shape, especially during the rainy weather.

At the prayer meeting in the Union church last night Rev. Mr. Hills spoke especially to those who are just beginning their Christian journey. Before the meeting the standing committee met all who wished to unite with the church by letter or on confession of faith. Next Sunday morning Mr. Hills will speak; in the evening the candidates will be admitted to the church, and communion service will follow.

BONDSVILLE.

Mrs. Charles Russell has been quite sick this week.

Ora W. Parent spent part of the week with her parents.

Misses Mulvaney and Currin are visiting at J. B. Carmody's.

Charles Whiteknact of Newton Upper Falls spent last Sunday with G. A. Moulton.

Miss Ola Northrop of Palmer was the guest of Miss Alice Armstrong Wednesday evening.

Rev. J. F. Hale had the misfortune to sprain his ankle Tuesday, and is now confined to the house.

Willard Butterfield, who was seriously injured in the card room several weeks ago, is slowly recovering, and is now able to sit up.

R. K. VanTassel, assistant engineer for the Boston Duck Co., has moved his family from Three Rivers into R. L. Bond's tenement.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Lamb have moved from Hull and are now living with Mr. and Mrs. Canterbury. Mr. Lamb is employed by Rufus Bond.

Miss Cleveland and Miss Thayer spent Sunday with Miss Barney, at her home in Hadley, and all attended the teachers' convention in Springfield Monday.

Fenton—Norton.

The wedding of Miss Katherine A. Fenton daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Patrick Fenton, and William H. Norton of Huntington, took place in St. Bartholomew's church Tuesday morning at 11 o'clock. The ceremony, which was performed by Rev. B. McKeany, was preceded by a nuptial mass, and witnessed by relatives and friends. The bride's dress was made of white brocaded satin with pearl trimming. She wore a veil, and carried a bouquet of lilies of the valley. The bridesmaid's gown was white cashmere, trimmed with lace. Miss Lizzie Fenton, the bride's sister, was bridesmaid, and James Norton, brother of the groom, was best man. Mr. and Mrs. Norton received many handsome and useful presents, among them being $200 from the bride's parents; $5 gold piece, James Norton; dinner set, Mr. and Mrs. P. N. Fenton; tea set, M. H. Lyons; easy chair, Katie O'Connor; banquet lamp, J. W. Fenton; parlor lamp, Misses Moynahan; silver soup ladle, Mary Twiss; painted pillow, Mary Fitzgerald; marble clock, J. F. Moynahan. Among the guests were Mr. and Mrs. P. W. Fenton, John W. Fenton, Miss Annie Fenton, Miss Nellie Lyons, Miss Katie O'Connor of Springfield; Miss Adaline Norton and Miss Lucy McBride of Huntington; M. H. Lyons, Mr. and Mrs. T. Shea and J. F. Quinn of Indian Orchord. The couple left on the three o'clock train for Boston. They will take an extended trip through Maine, and on their return will live in Huntington.

THORNDIKE.

Joseph Conie of Dutton's farm has started a milk route.

John Broshnan is attending court at Springfield as juror.

Mrs. James Flynn and son of Hartford spent Sunday with friends here.

Services will be at 9.30 a. m. on Sunday next at the Catholic church, instead of at 10.

The schools closed on Monday to allow the teachers to attend the teachers convention at Springfield.

Tickets will soon be on sale for the Columbian Band's concert and ball Thanksgiving Eve.

Daniel Lawler has moved from the farm to the Sullivan house, between this village and Bondsville.

Miss Nellie Howard of North Brookfield was the guest of Mrs. William Sullivan during the week.

Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Hobbs have returned from the Atlanta exposition, where they have been for the past week.

Prof. Treadway of Westboro gave his first lesson in dancing to the newly-organized class here on Tuesday evening.

C. A. Tabor, paymaster for the Thorndike Co., has moved into the old Packard house, which has been refitted throughout.

The Empire Theater Co. will open a week's engagement at Union Hall, commencing Monday evening next, with change of bill nightly.

G. A. Moody, overseer in the No. 2 mill carding room, it is said will soon resign his position here to accept one as superintendent of a mill in Central Falls, R. I.

Miss Maggie Hartnett has accepted a position as cashier and bookkeeper for Thomas E. King of Springfield, wholesale and retail dealer in meat, poultry and vegetables.

These scholars in the second primary were perfect in attendance during the month ending Oct. 25: Flora Adams, Fred Bessette, Ruth Bishop, Etta Bond, Arthur Bouthillier, Napoleon Boutot, Annie D. Brosnan, Eva Brothers, Rosanna Cadoutte, Peter Cahill, Perley M. Emery, James Fleming, Celia Griffin, James Holden, Agnes Keefe, Nellie Keefe, Annie Longtine, Mollie Moran, George Richmond, Emma St. Jacques, Sarah Trumble, Sydney Trumble, Ovela Woisard, George Young, Eva Laplante. There pupils in grade 1 were perfect in attendance during the month just ended: Armas Belare, Breneaux Belare, Rosa Belare, Anna Bouthillier, Ora Besette, Margaret Casey, Catherine Casey, James Clark, Alice Clark, Frank Connors, Cornelius Connors, Edward Dailey, Arthur Genard, George Gerald, W. Gordon Miller, Rosanna St. Jacques, Nellie Sullivan, Etta Sargent, Lucy Sargent, Nelson St. John, Laura Trumble, Phardina Young. Grade 4—Annie Brosnan, Mabel Clark, John Connors, Kittie Holden, Josie Mahoney, Katie McKenzie, Malcolm McKenzie, Harold McKenzie, Harold Rich, Alida Woisard, Felicete Woisard. Grade 5—Wilfred Oryell, George Whiting, Eva Woisard.

House Burned.

The Kelliher house on the Palmer road was burned about 7 o'clock Tuesday night. The place was worth about $2000, and was owned by Dr. M. W. Kelliher of Pawtucket, R. I. The house was a new one, but had not been occupied for several weeks. The barn on the place was burned about a year ago, and both fires were probably incendiary.

GENERAL NEWS MATTERS.

Albert Sibley, 74, one of West Springfield's sturdy farmer citizens, died last Friday.

The University of Virginia, at Charlottesville, suffered a loss of $300,000 by fire last week.

A Chicago tug boat exploded her boilers Friday morning, killing three persons and injuring several others.

Nathan C. Dickinson, 73, of East Longmeadow, died of apoplexy at his home in that town Sunday morning.

A fire in Southport, Ct., Sunday night, consumed about $30,000 worth of onions which had been stored in a barn there awaiting shipment.

The Webster post office was entered by burglars early yesterday morning, the safe blown open and about $300 in money and stamps taken.

William Lextion, 25, employed by the Winchester Repeating Arms Company at New Haven, was instantly killed by an explosion at the works Wednesday.

Mgr. Satoli, papal delegate to the United States, has been made a cardinal by the Pope. The beretta will be imposed by Cardinal Gibbons in Baltimore early in December.

Miss Estelle Colton, a Brooklyn girl, committed suicide by drowning last Friday because she failed to pass an examination in an art school which she had been attending.

Patrick Callahan, the professional bridge jumper, leaped from the Poughkeepsie bridge into the Hudson river, a distance of 212 feet, Saturday morning, receiving injuries from which he died.

A Framingham dairyman has all his cows dehorned, claiming by so doing they cannot harm each other by fighting, scratching and prodding when a large herd is turned out to pasture or driven to water.

Miss Consuela Vanderbilt, who is soon to wed the Duke of Marlborough, is to have the income of $10,000,000, which has been settled upon her by her father for life. At her death the principal goes to the issue of her marriage with the duke.

Rev. Walter C. Clapp of Milwaukee, who a year ago left the Protestant Episcopal society and joined the Roman Catholic church, now thinks that he took a wrong step and has returned to the Episcopal faith. He is a graduate of Amherst college.

Dr. D. B. N. Fish of Amherst, 57, died Monday from a complication of brain and heart disorders ending in an apoplectic stroke. He was assistant surgeon in the 27th Mass. Regt. during the Rebellion, and was medical examiner in Hampshire county for years.

West Pawlet, Vt., a little town 25 miles from Brattleboro, was visited by a fire yesterday which resulted in the loss of three lives, made 10 families homeless, destroyed a large part of the business portion of the town, and caused loss to property of about $50,000.

The business portion of Millers Falls was almost entirely wiped out by fire Wednesday night, over $75,000 going up in smoke, the buildings burned including the Congregational church and the hotel. The town is without a fire department, and was at the mercy of the flames.

The new harbor defense ram Katahdin made her official trial over the Long Island Sound course yesterday, and although her actual time did not bring her within the specified limit, it is thought allowance being made for bad weather her average will be raised about the required 17 knots.

Dr. D. K. Pearsons of Chicago, who recently offered $50,000 to Mount Holyoke College if $150,000 was raised by others, has increased the offer, agreeing to give $150,000 if friends of the institution will raise $200,000. The original offer holds good, and $28,000 has been secured toward the amount.

The biggest bell in America was cast Wednesday night at a bell foundry in Cincinnati. It took just one hour to pour the molten metal, while the preparations for the process has required six months time. The bell will weigh 30,000 pounds, the clapper being seven feet long and weighing 700 pounds. It will cost when hung, $16,000.

Mrs. Amelia A. Frost of Littleton was installed pastor of the Congregational church in that town yesterday, to succeed her husband, who has been obliged to give up his ministerial duties on account of ill health This is the first time in New England that a woman has been called as a pastor of a church of that denomination.

A new insurance company was organized at Westfield yesterday, to be known as the American Wheelman's Accident Association, with George M. Hendee of Springfield, ex-champion bicyclist of the world as president. Business will be confined to wheelmen alone, and the company will not only insure the rider against accident from the wheel itself, but from accident of any nature.

Rev. F. A. Warfield of Brockton, pastor of the Porter Congregational church in that city, recently attacked the city administration in a public meeting, alleging that they are lax in enforcing the liquor law. He made many charges which, if proven, would land the officials charged in the hands of the law, but he did not name offenders nor make public the proofs which he claims he has in his possession.

BORN.

At Three Rivers, 25th ult., a son to Dr. and Mrs. J. C. Boulay.

MARRIED.

At Bondsville, 29th, by Rev. B. McKeany, William H. Norton of Huntington and Katherine A. Fenton.

DIED.

At Belchertown, 25th ult., Edwin Barrett, 75.
At West Warren, 25th ult., Mrs. Joseph Davis, 61.
At Ludlow, 25th ult., Daniel L. Nelligan, 15.

FOR SALE CHEAP.—A small coal stove.
2*30 HARVEY CAREY, Palmer.

FOR SALE.—There has been a wood lot placed in my hands to sell, in lot to suit the purchaser. 1*31 G. W. LENT, Town Farm.

FOR SALE.—Kitchen range with water front, and small Franklin open-grate parlor stove, both in excellent condition. Also two Ingrain carpets. Inquire at JOURNAL office.

FOR SALE.—House on Squier avenue and building lots Pond street, belonging to J. A. Squier estate. Enquire W. W. LEACH, Palmer, Mass., April 23, 1894. tf-4

DRS. ALLEN AND HAYES, specialists in chronic diseases, will be at the Converse House, Palmer, on Wednesday of each week from 10 a. m. to 8 p. m. Consultation free. Latest methods employed. tf-30

ODD FELLOWS OPERA HOUSE,

Thursday and Friday Evenings,

November 7th and 8th.

The Charming Comedienne, Miss Ullie Akerstrom.

Supported by a first-class company.

First night, "The Sultan's Daughter."
Second night, "Miss Rora."

Reserved seats at Allen's Saturday Morning.

COMMONWEALTH OF MASSACHUSETTS.

OFFICE OF THE SECRETARY.

BOSTON, OCTOBER 29, 1895.

I certify that the following is a list of all the candidates duly nominated and to be voted for in the county of Hampden, November 5, 1895.

WILLIAM M. OLIN,
Secretary of the Commonwealth.

GOVERNOR. Mark ONE

Elbridge Gerry Brown of Brockton,	People's Party
Frederic T. Greenhalge of Lowell,	Republican
Edward Kendall of Cambridge,	Prohibition
Moritz E. Ruther of Holyoke, Socialist Labor Party
George Fred. Williams of Dedham,	Democratic

LIEUTENANT GOVERNOR. Mark ONE

Thomas C. Buddington of Springfield,	People's Party
James S. Grinnell of Greenfield,	Democratic
Patrick F. O'Neil of Boston, Socialist Labor Party
Edward S. Rogers of Lee,	Prohibition
Roger Wolcott of Boston,	Republican

SECRETARY. Mark ONE

Edward J. Flynn of Boston,	Democratic
Joseph F. Maloney of Lynn, Socialist Labor Party
Charles D. Nash of Whitman,	People's Party
William M. Olin of Boston,	Republican
Willard O. Wylie of Essex,	Prohibition

TREASURER. Mark ONE

Martin W. Moran of Boston,	People's Party
Wilbur M. Purrington of Williamsburg,	Prohibition
Edward P. Shaw of Newburyport,	Republican
Eben S. Stevens of Dudley,	Democratic
Charles N. Wentworth of Lynn, Socialist Labor Party

AUDITOR. Mark ONE

John W. Kimball of Fitchburg,	Republican
Frederick A. Nagler of West Springfield, Socialist Labor Party
Andrew H. Paton of Danvers,	People's Party
Herman T. Regnell of Attleborough,	Prohibition
Alfred C. Whitney of Boston,	Democratic

ATTORNEY-GENERAL. Mark ONE

Frank M. Forbush of Natick,	Prohibition
Henry F. Hurlbert of Lynn,	Democratic
Hosea M. Knowlton of New Bedford,	Republican
Squire E. Putney of Somerville, Socialist Labor Party
Conrad Reno of Boston,	People's Party

COUNCILLOR. 8TH DISTRICT. Mark ONE

John C. Perry of Shelburne,	Prohibition
Charles A. Towne of Orange,	Republican

SENATOR. 1ST HAMPDEN DISTRICT. Mark ONE

Edward S. Bradford of Springfield,	Republican
Edward H. Lathrop of Springfield,	Democratic
Nelson W. Merrill of Springfield,	Prohibition

SENATOR. 2D HAMPDEN DISTRICT. Mark ONE

Henry C. Bliss of West Springfield,	Republican
William A. Chase of Holyoke,	Democratic

SENATOR. BERKSHIRE AND HAMPSHIRE DISTRICT. Mark ONE

Anson Buck of Stockbridge,	Democratic
Stephen V. Halsey of Lee,	Prohibition
Richard W. Irwin of Northampton,	Republican

REPRESENTATIVE IN GENERAL COURT. 1ST HAMPDEN DISTRICT. Mark ONE

Calvin S. Miller of Southwick,	Republican

REPRESENTATIVES IN GENERAL COURT. 2D HAMPDEN DISTRICT. Mark TWO

S. Augustus Allen of Westfield,	Democratic
Elmer W. Dickerman of Westfield,	Democratic
William H. Foote of Westfield,	Republican
Henry M. Van Deusen of Westfield,	Republican

REPRESENTATIVE IN GENERAL COURT. 3D HAMPDEN DISTRICT. Mark ONE.

Chalmers Chapin of Holyoke,	Republican
Patrick J. Kennedy of Holyoke,	Democratic

REPRESENTATIVE IN GENERAL COURT. 4TH HAMPDEN DISTRICT. Mark ONE

Charles R. Huebler of Holyoke,	Republican
John F. Sheehan of Holyoke,	Democratic

REPRESENTATIVE IN GENERAL COURT. 5TH HAMPDEN DISTRICT. Mark ONE

Henry J. Boyd of Chicopee,	Republican
Arthur E. Cooper of Chicopee,	People's Party
Eugene M. Sullivan of Chicopee,	Democratic

REPRESENTATIVES IN GENERAL COURT. 6TH HAMPDEN DISTRICT. Mark TWO

George F. Fuller of Springfield,	Republican
John L. Rice of Springfield,	Democratic
Willmore B. Stone of Springfield,	Democratic
George W. Turner of Springfield,	Republican

REPRESENTATIVE IN GENERAL COURT. 7TH HAMPDEN DISTRICT. Mark ONE

Edward H. Phelps of Springfield,	Republican Nom. Paper. Independent Democratic
Charles L. Young of Springfield,	Prohibition. Republican

REPRESENTATIVES IN GENERAL COURT. 8TH HAMPDEN DISTRICT. Mark TWO

Benjamin C. Harvey of Springfield,	Republican
Charles E. Hoag of Springfield,	Republican
Francis R. Richmond of Springfield,	Democratic
Eugene M. Tinkham of Springfield,	Democratic

REPRESENTATIVE IN GENERAL COURT. 9TH HAMPDEN DISTRICT. Mark ONE

Charles W. King of Monson,	Republican
William Sutcliffe of Monson,	Democratic

REPRESENTATIVE IN GENERAL COURT 10TH HAMPDEN DISTRICT Mark ONE

Thomas W. Kenefick of Palmer,	Democratic
Porter A. Parker of Brimfield,	Republican

DISTRICT ATTORNEY. WESTERN DISTRICT. Mark ONE

Charles L. Gardner of Palmer,	Democratic. Republican

COUNTY COMMISSIONER. HAMPDEN COUNTY. Mark ONE

Charles H.

The Journal.

FRIDAY EVENING, NOVEMBER 1, 1895.

NEIGHBORHOOD NOTES.

MONSON.

William Wilcox has moved into William Underwood's house on Lincoln street.

H. H. Paine of Palmer inspected Marcus Keep G. A. R. post Monday evening.

The Current Events Club met Wednesday afternoon with Miss Hattie F. Cushman.

A regular communication of Day Spring lodge of Masons was held Tuesday evening.

Miss Hattie Orcutt has been visiting friends in West Springfield during the week.

The Misses Nichols on Green street are adding a commodious piazza to their house.

Deacon D. S. Field left yesterday for Los Angeles, Cal., where he will live with his son.

Miss Julia E. White of Springfield, formerly of Monson, has been in town for several days.

William Wiley has moved from South Monson into George Colburn's house on Green street.

There will be a neighborhood prayer meeting at Mr. Letter's house on Moulton Hill this evening.

Miss Clara A. Wood and the teachers attended the teachers' convention in Springfield Monday.

Rev. William H. Marble will take for his subject Sunday evening, "Revivals." The service begins at 7.

Mrs. Inez Ferrell has sold to James Pendergast the piece of land which joins his Pearl street property.

The Central Mass. Electric Company is wiring the straw shop of Heimann & Lichten for electric lights.

Rev. H. F. Moulton of Palmer and Rev. Harry Blackford of the Universalist church exchanged pulpits Sunday.

Mrs. Harry Barlow and daughter, Miss Mary Barlow, of Ware, have been visiting in town during the past week.

Mrs. H. C. Norcross returns to-night from Boston and Willimantic, where she has been visiting friends for several days.

Monday morning a break was discovered in the main pipe of the water works near the Stebbins block. It was soon repaired.

Rev. C. A. Dyer of North Brookfield preached in the Congregational church Sunday in exchange with Rev. F. S. Hatch.

The Cushman fountain, which has been out of repair for some time, has been overhauled this week, and it is now all right.

Mrs. W. E. Foley has sufficiently regained her health to leave the Monson House, and has gone to North Brookfield with friends.

Registration closed last Saturday with the names of 712 men and 9 women on the list. There were 721 men's names on last year's list.

An organ recital, a memorial to Mrs. C. W. Holmes, Jr., by her daughter, will be given in the Congregational church this evening.

The Academy classes of '98 and '99 have challenged the classes of '96 and '97 to a game of football on Flynt Park to-morrow afternoon.

Michael Leary of Albany, N. Y., returned to his home Monday after a week's visit with his father, Cornelius J., and his sisters, the Misses Leary.

Marcus Keep Woman's Relief Corps will serve its semi-annual election day dinner from 12 m. to 2 p. m., in Grand Army Hall next Tuesday.

In the list of old men present at the gathering last week, the name of Charles Carpenter appeared as Charles Car. Moses Smith's birthplace was Campton, in 1821.

The selectmen have laid out a road running easterly from North Main street to the New London Northern railroad, across land owned by Eugene Fosket and Alice A. Aldrich.

St. Patrick's society has removed the debt from the church. The debt on the parochial residence has been lightened, and numerous repairs on both church and house have been made during the past year.

There were services in St. Patrick's church to-day in honor of All Souls, and vespers in the evening. There will also be vespers to-morrow evening in honor of All Saints, and services will be held daily during the month.

The "Bijou Entertainers" of Boston gave a creditable entertainment Tuesday evening, under the management of A. A. Gage camp, Sons of Veterans, and the camp is to be congratulated. The dance which followed was well patronized. The Monson Orchestral Club furnished music.

Communion will be observed Sunday at the Methodist and Congregational churches. Rev. F. S. Hatch preached the sermon preparatory to communion last evening. There are six persons who are recommended for admission to the Congregational church from the State church of Sweeden.

Complaint is made about boys frequenting the station and monopolizing the platform when the evening trains come in. It is said that at times there is scarcely room for the travelers to pass, much less for their luggage to be removed from the train. It is also said that arrests are liable to be made.

The Universalist Sunday school gave a harvest and thanksgiving concert Sunday evening. The church was tastefully decorated with fruit and vegetables, all of which were given with the understanding that they should be afterward given to the needy. Accordingly six families received donations on Monday.

A number of Monson people have received invitations to the wedding of Miss Mary Mooney of West Medway and John D. Grady, at the home of the bride next Wednesday. Dr. Andrew D. Coleman will be best man. Miss Mooney has been forewoman in the sewing hall at Heimann & Lichten's straw works for several years, and Mr. Grady is employed at Cushman's brick mill.

Under the auspices of Marcus Keep post, G. A. R., the renowned battle-field guide, Luther W. Minnigh, of Gettysburg, will deliver in Memorial Hall next Friday evening his descriptive and illustrated lecture on "The Three Days' Battle of Gettysburg." The lecturer comes with the highest recommendations from the press and well-known men, and will doubtless prove himself worthy.

Warm Shoes

For... Cool People.

Now is the time to purchase warm shoes or slippers. The floors will be cold, and if you have to stand on them with your thin shoes you may have a cold that will stay with you all winter. Why not buy a pair of warm shoes or slippers?

And Have Warm Feet.

Fuller Has 'Em,

and prices to suit.

Monson, - - Mass.

Friends of John Casey of Ware will be pleased to learn that he has nearly recovered from his recent severe attack of blood poisoning. He has been quite unfortunate lately; about three weeks ago he was kicked in the leg by a colt and hurt badly, although no bones were broken, and before he had recovered blood poisoning set in. His physician does not think that it was caused by the bruise, however.

The singing evangelist, Rev. W. A. Dunnett of Hamilton, Ontario, who has been very successful in his work throughout the state, will begin a series of revival services in the Methodist church Dec. 1st. The new singing book, "The Finest of the Wheat, No. 2," will be used, and a large chorus under the direction of Mr. Dunnett will begin rehearsals the Saturday evening previous. The meetings will be held for three weeks.

The adjourned annual meeting of the Dorcas society was held Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Rufus P. Cushman. It was voted that the Dorcas and the Ladies' Benevolent societies should unite, and that the Dorcas constitution should be revised so that a portion of the earnings might be given for home missions. The following officers and committees were elected: President, Mrs. William N. Flynt; vice president, Mrs. Alfred Norcross; secretary and treasurer, Mrs. Charles O. Chapin; assistant secretary and treasurer, Miss Mabelle L. Anderson; committee on useful articles, Mrs. Carlos M. Gage, Mrs. Alvin B. Merchant, Mrs. Arthur Bennett, Mrs. S. F. Cushman, Jr., Mrs. George L. Phillips, Mrs. Charles C. Keep, Mrs. Herbert C. Norcross; committee on fancy articles, Miss Esther R. Holmes, Mrs. Caesar Entwistle, Mrs. George L. Fuller, Miss Emily Newton, Miss Mabelle K. Flynt, Mrs. Frank A. Bills; sociable committees: first, Mrs. Edward D. Cushman, Mrs. Rufus Fay, Mrs. Inez Ferrell, Mrs. John C. Aldrich, Mrs. Clark M. Pease; second, Mrs. William A. Needham, Mrs. William Gifford, Mrs. Ralph Clifford, Mrs. Harry A. Merchant, Mrs. Arthur G. Maguire, Mrs. Frank Maguire; third, Mrs. Edward F. Morris, Mrs. P. W. Soule, Miss Mary Coburn, Mrs. Charles F. Orcutt, Miss Hattie Orcutt, Mrs. George Norcross; fourth, Mrs. Rufus P. Cushman, Mrs. Lorenzo Hutchinson, Mrs Alvin A. Gage, Mrs. George H. Foskit; Mrs. Elbridge B. Potter; fifth, Mrs. Lyman C. Flynt, Mrs. Edward Rindge, Mrs. Carlos L. Peck, Mrs. William Shaw, entertainment committee, Miss Hattie F. Cushman, Miss Candace B. Gates, Miss Mary Peck, Mrs. Fred Smith, Miss Lou Walker, Miss Manchester, Mrs. Fred W. Ellis.

NORTH WILBRAHAM.

Proprietor Lane of the Lake View House sold his personal property at auction Tuesday. Since the death of his wife, which occurred recently, Mr. Lane has been nearly prostrated, and it is doubtful if he will open the hotel next season. He will make his home for the present with his son-in-law, F.A. Fuller.

BRIMFIELD.

The Warren family have closed their summer home here, and returned to Worcester last Saturday.

The Hitchcock Free High School and the town schools were closed Monday to allow the teachers to attend the teachers' meeting in Springfield.

Mrs. S. A. McAllister of East Brimfield recently found violets and strawberry blossoms in the fields and also picked ripe strawberries and raspberries.

LUDLOW CENTER.

The Y. P. S. C. E. reorganized last Friday night at the parsonage, with the following offiers and committees: President, Miss Bessie Nash; vice president, Edward Crafts; corresponding secretary, Miss Mattie Clark; recording secretary, Miss Carrie Crafts; treasurer, Miss Mary Clark; prayer-meeting committee, Mary Clark and Edward Crafts; lookout committee, Miss Mattie Clark and Mrs. E. N. Fisher: temperance committee, Miss Alice Davenport and Miss Ada Atchinson; missionary committee, Rev. E. D. Francis and Miss Florence Nash; social committee, E. N. Fisher and Edward Streeter; flower committee, Miss Tina King and Miss Carre Crafts.

WEST WARREN.

Mrs. Arthur Hope of Ware spent last Friday with friends in town.

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Brown are visiting Mr. Brown's mother in Ipswich.

Dwight Orcutt has moved into one of D. E. Penfield's tenements in Warren.

Thomas Lester of Ware and Miss Bacon are to be married the 14th of this month.

Mrs. E. M. Johnson and son have returned from a visit with friends in Boston.

Mrs. Ethan T. Hall and children of West Brookfield spent Monday in town, visiting friends.

Lewis Quintal, machinist in the Warren Cotton Mills, had his foot badly hurt Wednesday, a large rubber roll falling on it.

The ladies of the M. E. church gave a harvest supper in the vestry of the church Wednesday night, followed by an entertainment.

Mrs. Thomas A. McRea of Milltown, N. B., was unable to attend the funeral of her mother, Mrs. Joseph Davis, on account of sickness.

The chimney for the new boiler house at the Warren cotton mill is completed and is quite an improvement in the appearance of the mill yard. It is round, and 132 feet high.

The latest development in the scandal case which has aroused so much interest here is the attachment placed on the property of Frank and Ann Bemis in favor of W. T. Carlisle and Miss Ida M. Parsons for the sum of $300 each.

Mrs. Joseph Davis died at her home on High street last Tuesday night at the age of 61. About two years ago she had a fall which injured her spine, and since then had been in feeble health. She was an active member of the Methodist church and was much respected by all who knew her. She leaves a husband, two children and one grandchild. The funeral was held from the Methodist church Monday, Rev. Mr. Dockham officiating.

WALES.

W. A. Lyon spent Wednesday with his father, J. M. Lyon, in Sturbridge.

Dr. Kinsman was in town Monday, and made a few short calls. He is now located in Warren.

Mrs. David Fraser, with her young son, has gone to Connecticut, where they will visit a few days among old acquaintances.

Mrs. David Boyden of Worcester has come to town to spend a few weeks on account of the poor health of her son, Arthur, who is with her.

Mr. Duples, who was burned out, has moved to the tenement at the Valley mill, and Joseph Roch has taken quarters with Joseph Hill.

A. A. Cobbett and A. A. Hubbard have gone south to spend a few weeks. They intend to visit nearly all the Southern states before returning.

Christopher Harwood is preparing to move his family to Somers, Ct. C. A. Moore, who is engaged at Hall's meat market, will occupy the vacated tenement.

Martin Boerner will sell his household furniture at auction next Wednesday afternoon. He has resigned his position as watchman in the Berkley mill, and will leave town.

House Burned.

A tenement house owned by the Excelsior Woolen Co. was burned Wednesday afternoon. The fire was discovered and an alarm given by H. A. McFarland, who lives about 20 rods from the house. When discovered the smoke was coming out around the gable and near the chimney, where the fire started. The chimney had been on fire several times during the summer and fall, and was burning Tuesday for some time, but no danger was suspected from it. The hose was got out from the mill, but before things were in moving order the house was past saving. It was occupied by Mr. Duples and Joseph Roch. Both families' saved nearly all their belongings. The loss on the building is about $1000; insured.

LUDLOW.

Willis Fisher is home for a short vacation from the Amherst Agricultural College.

The house of Samuel Parsons caught fire in the cellar one night last week, but the blaze was finally put out. A good deal of damage was done by water.

At a recent meeting held by the Epworth League society the members formed a reading circle, and arranged for taking up the regular league reading course for the coming winter.

Found Dead in the Lockup.

Thomas Elwood, 40, of this place, with his brother, was arrested Wednesday night for drunkenness and lodged in the Indian Orchard lockup, being placed in separate cells. When the officer brought their breakfast yesterday morning Thomas was found dead in his cell, the body being still warm. It is claimed that the men woke early in the morning and conversed together for some time, when Thomas was heard to give a choking cry, but nothing was thought of it. There were several bruises on the body, but the medical examiner did not consider them suspicious, and decided that death was due to alcoholism.

Accidentally Killed While Hunting.

Daniel Leroy Nelligan, the 15-years-old son of Michael Nelligan, was killed last Friday night by the accidental discharge of his gun. The boy went out hunting in the afternoon, and when he did not return to his home his father became worried and a search commenced, which resulted in the finding of the boy's body about 11 o'clock in the evening near a small clearing. The boy was lying on his back with arms outstretched, and the left side of the head blown away. The gun, which was a single barrel, breech-loading, 12-bore one, was found on the ground near by, and had been discharged. An old stove which had been in the shanty was near by, and a piece of the skull of the young man was found on its top. The body was nearly naked, the clothing having been almost entirely torn off, supposed to have been done by the young man's dog in his efforts to drag his master's body home. It is supposed that young Nelligan had stopped by the stove to rest. He probably rested the butt of the gun upon the stove and it slipped off and was discharged. The funeral was held at the home Monday afternoon at 1 o'clock, and at the church at 2 o'clock.

WARREN.

The Empire theater company is playing in the town hall this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Woodward are rejoicing over the birth of a ten-pound son.

E. Fairbanks is making his building on Pleasant street into a tenement house.

The Woman's Relief Corps held a cake sale in Grand Army hall Wednesday afternoon from 3 to 5 o'clock.

Thomas F. Campbell, 15, died on Wednesday of last week after a lingering illness. The burial was in Maynard.

The teachers of the public schools received instruction last week in vertical writing from J. S, Covley of Worcester.

The Catholic church and the parochial residence are being wired for electric lights by the Central Mass. Electric Company.

Rev. W. W. Gleason, pastor of the Universalist church, has resigned his pastorate. The resignation will take effect the last Sunday in this month.

The ladies of the Home Missionary Society packed a box of clothing Wednesday afternoon for Mrs. Curtis, to be used among the poor whites at the South.

Miss Ellen Miller of Deerfield, teacher of drawing in the public schools here, is seriously ill. She will probably not be able to continue her work the remainder of the year.

The Epworth League of the Methodist church held a corn festival in Brigham Hall last evening. A corn supper was served, followed by an entertainment, "The Husking Bee," ending in a hobgoblin march.

The New England Telephone and Telegraph Company has begun work on the telephone exchange. There are already over 25 subscribers, and the central office will probably be in the store of Dr. J. W. Hastings.

The home missionary society of the Congregational church has elected these officers for the coming year: President, Mrs. F. W. Kimball; vice president, Mrs. G. A. Shumway; treasurer, Mrs. Fred C. Barlow; secretary, Mrs. M. L. Hastings.

At the close of registration Saturday night there were 565 men and 105 women registered in precinct A, and in precinct B there were 161 men and 13 women. This shows a loss of 17 in men and a gain of 68 in women from the registration a year ago.

The Congregational society is making arrangements to celebrate the 20th anniversary of the building of the present church, which comes this month. A supper will be given, also a "china wedding," at which it is hoped to get a new set of china ware for church suppers.

WILBRAHAM.

The Academy students had a large and enjoyable Hallowe'en party last evening. Shortly after 8 o'clock about 250 students and teachers assembled in the dining hall and enjoyed the following programme: Hit and miss march, led by Mr. Davies and Miss Rose; Marching through Georgia, led by Miss Rose; reading, L. G. Monte; games, including potato races, apple snatches and dives, peanut hunt, observation table, donkey game, etc.; ladies' original dress parade, led by Miss Penfield; gentleman's original dress parade; combination march, led by Miss Grace Andrews and Mr. Stalke; awarding of prizes by Professor Sandford. Appropriate music was furnished throughout the evening by an orchestra consisting of W. A. Harrison leader, Messrs Smith, Browne, Milne and Monte. Some of the prizes were quite valuable, and were awarded as follows: Donkey prize, first, Mr. Djerf, booby, Mr. Giles; marching through Georgia, Miss L. S. Rose; potato race for ladies, Miss B. B. Curtis; for gentlemen, Mr. Blakelin; original dress, first, Miss MacRoberts, second, Miss Quesada; gentleman's prize, first, Mr. Percy Parsons, second, Mr. Monte; combination march, Mr. Jones and Miss Parker; observation table, Miss Emma Ribber; peanut hunt, Miss Pauline Valden. Many of the costumes worn by both ladies and gentlemen were artistic and original. A few only are quoted: Miss MacRoberts, red flowing gown; Miss Parker as Martha Washington, in gray and old-gold silk; Miss Quesada in red as a Japanese lady, also Misses Chase, Cowles and Chaffee; Miss Lang as "Liberty;" Miss Williams in picturesque red dress as tamborine girl; Miss Curtis as a Monte Carlo maid, costume decorated with cards; the Misses Miller, red and black costumes decorated with red carnations; Mr. Parsons, the Columbian exposition girl, in light shirt waist, white hat and black shirt; Mr. Monte, flowing red gown, as an Italian lady; Mr. Eggleston, as "Trilby," in striped duck suit, white hat and shoes; Mr. Tolles as an aristocratic negro grandfather; H. L. Davis, as a Spanish dude; Mr. Jones, as the summer dude; Mr. Costearden and Mr. Ennis as American Indians; Mr. Davidson, colored barber; Mr. Lord, negro dude; Mr. Djerf, 18th century parson; C. P. Webber, Siamese prince; A. B. Clark, retired football player; W. B. Fisk, Canadian nun; H. E. Wright, manager of the evening, as a Hindu prince, in red silk waist and flowing trousers.

BELCHERTOWN.

Alanson Blackmer is putting up a windmill to furnish water for his house and barn.

The members of the agricultural society will meet next Wednesday for the election of officers.

Rev. Mr. Haskins of Northampton will officiate at the services in the Baptist church next Sunday.

Edwin Barrett, 75, died last Friday of pneumonia at the home of Nelson Barrett in South Belchertown.

A series of revival meetings are talked of. They will probably be held either in Belchertown or at Dwight's station.

J. J. Green of South Belchertown lost a horse yesterday, the animal dying after being sick only a couple of days.

George Goodwin and family will occupy the house owned by Dennis Doolan near the depot. Mr. Doolan will move to Ware.

About 75 Masons from Palmer, Amherst, Ware, Enfield, Greenwich and other towns were present at the Masonic meeting Wednesday evening.

Two husking parties were held last Friday evening, one at the home of A. W. Stacey and the other at the home of Sumner Knight, in the Turkey Hill district.

The last meeting of the board of registrars was held last Saturday. The number of women to register was 32. There were 14 new names added to the list of voters, and 11 were taken off; out of the 41 seven have died.

Edwin Barrett died at the home of Nelson Barrett in this place Saturday last. He disposed of hsi property some time since by giving it to the Elm Street mission in Springfield. He was somewhat eccentric, but an honest, upright Christian man.

Rev. William Gordon, who died last week at the home of his daughter in Worcester, was well known to the people of Belchertown as the first pastor of the Methodist church. He was pastor of a church in South Belchertown in 1838 and 1839. In 1865 he became pastor of the Methodist church and remained one year. During that time the church membership increased from 12 members, the number when the church was organized, to 34.

The annual meeting of the Woman's Missionary Society was held in the chapel last week Thursday. The following officers were chosen: President, Mrs. Maria Longley; vice president, Mrs. Alice L. Kendall; treasurer, Miss Lizzie Bartlett; secretary, Miss J. Ferry. The retiring secretary, Miss Sarah C. Alden, has been an officer in the society for over 12 years. Miss Alden is a woman of much ability in this work, and her resignation is much regretted by all.

The following officers have been elected by the Social Circle of the Congregational church: President, Mrs. H. D. Hoag; vice presidents, Miss Delia Stacy and Miss Edith Towne; secretary, Miss L. A. Barton; treasurer, Mrs. A. L. Kendall; supervisors, Mrs. Fannie Walker, Miss Joan Ferry, Miss N. L. Rice, Miss Jennie B. Hoag and Miss Grace Towne; directors, Mrs. Hyde, Miss Ellen Blodgett, Mrs. Ansel Shaw, Mrs. William Carter, Mrs. A. L. Kendall, Mrs. P. Slayter and Mrs. A. D. Randall.

WARE.

The first select assembly of the season was held in the Town Hall last evening.

Dr. G. M. C. Barnard has moved with his family to his new house on Church street.

Mark Sherwin's store is being enlarged in the rear 20 by 30 feet, for an overcoat department.

George D. Storrs presided at the Democratic ralley. Hon. Charles S. Hamlin gave an able address to a large audience.

If the new boot shop is built there will be a new street opened near by on the Demond estate, and a number of tenement houses put up at once.

The Social Club is to give a dramatic entertainment in the town hall November 25th, and will present the French play "Les Piastres Rouges."

R. C. Snow has an American silver dollar of the date of 1804. It is in an almost perfect state, without wear, having been in one family more than fifty years.

J. H. Fletcher of Ware Centre has put in a machine for cutting green bone and beef scraps for poultry food. He is also agent for this vicinity for the machine.

Forty-six women have registered for voting at the coming election, and there were 16 before, making 62 in all who are qualified to vote; 16 of this number are unmarried.

Mrs. A. M. Osgood will give an address at the Springfield district ministerial association of the New England conference of the M. E. church to be held at Greenfield Nov. 14.

It is expected that there will be a race for local horses at the driving park to-morrow, the last of the season. A good number of entries are reported. The admission will be only 25 cents.

C. W. Eddy, engraver and printer, is to publish a handsome booklet containing about 60 Ware views. Subscriptions are being taken for delivery before Christmas; only 25 cents per copy.

J. C. Moody is introducing the new copy book of vertical writing for Leach, Sherwell & Sanborn of Boston, giving instructions to teachers in their use. His territory is wide, he being at Keene, N. H., this week.

The Whittier sociable at the chapel on Tuesday evening was a most enjoyable affair. Selections were from the poet's works. Several musical selections were finely rendered, and cake and coffee were served.

Howard, the jeweler, has a big hornet nest in his window, and will give prizes to the one who guesses nearest to the number of cells for young it contains; not so easy guessing as on the number of seeds in a pumpkin.

The marriage of Miss Katie Moran, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Moran of East street, and John W. O'Neill, took place at 2 o'clock Wednesday afternoon at All Saint's church, Rev. James Boyle officiating. Miss Mary Moran, sister of the bride, was bridem id, and the best man was Daniel Brown. The presents were numerous and valuable.

The following article in the warrant for town meeting next Monday should interest everybody who is interested in good roads in this vicinity;

ART. 2. To see if the town will authorize its Board of Selectmen to propose to the State Highway Commission to pay for the building of about two miles of macadamized road, the same to be built under the direction of the said Commission between Ware and Gilbertville; the conditon to be that said Highway Commission shall build the one mile of state road already petitioned for between said Ware and Gilbertville in the County of Hampshire, and one mile of road in continuation thereof already petitioned for in the village of Gilbertville, in the County of Worcester.

The banquet given of John H. Storrs to the firemen last Saturday night was a grand success. Including the band, drum corps and invited guests there were 128 who sat down to the bountifully loaded tables. The band and drum corps escorted the firemen from their headquarters to the Mansion House. Col. E. H. Gilbert presided, and after supper speeches were made by Mr. Storrs, P. W. Reilly, C. W. Eddy and John E. Fitzgerald. The party broke up with three rousing cheers for Mr. Storrs and Landlord Gilmore.

A grand rally in the interest of home missions is to be held in the East Congregational church Tuesday, Nov. 5, afternoon and evening. A series of similar meetings is being held at central points throughout the state.

We would like to look into the pleasant face of some one who has never had any derangement of the digestive organs. We see the drawn and unhappy faces of dyspeptics in every walk of life. It is our national disease, and nearly all complaints spring from this source. Remove the stomach difficulty and the work is done.

Dyspeptics and pale, thin people are literally starving, because they don't digest their food. Consumption never develops in people of robust and normal digestion. Correct the wasting and loss of flesh and we cure the disease. Do this with food.

The Shaker Digestive Cordial contains already digested food and is a digester of food at the same time. Its effects are felt at once. Get a pamphlet of your druggist and learn about it.

LAXOL is Castor oil made as sweet as honey by a new process. Children like it.

Free Term. Free Term.

AT THE..... Springfield Commercial College,

RUDE'S BUILDING, 373 1-2 MAIN STREET.

Free Term Monday.

All persons registering Monday, day or evening, will be entitled to one Free Term in one or all of the following branches:

Bookkeeping, Penmanship, Business Arithmetic, Correspondence, Commercial Law, Glossary, Banking, Shorthand, Typewriting, Business Forms and Customs, and Office Practice, Copying, Duplicating, Manifolding, etc.

A Department of Telegraphy where we teach all branches of telegraph work, including railroad and commercial.

Three Sessions Daily: Morning, afternoon and evening.

College established since 1879—the oldest college in Springfield.

REGISTER MONDAY, day or evening, ... for ... FREE TERM.

About 20 neighboring Congregational churches have been invited. The programme is as follows: 2.15 p. m., devotional service; 2.30, address, "Our work at home," Secretary Joshua Coit; 3, address, "Where we work," Secretary C. W. Shelton; 3.30, address, "Six weeks on the frontier," Secretary W. G. Puddefoot; 4 address, "With the home missionary superintendent," Secretary H. D. Wiard, Chicago; 7.30, addresses by Secretarys Coit, Wiard, Puddefoot and Chelton, illustrated with steroptricon. In connection with these evening addresses, views will be used illustrating the life and home of the emigrant in his native land, life in our city slums, among the poor whites in the south, in the lumber camps, mining camps, and prairie towns at the west; also a fine collection of views on the opening and settling of Oklahoma, made by Mr. Puddefoot in a recent visit to that country.

The Springfield Commercial College announces in another column the giving of one term's instruction in certain branches free to all who register at the college on a certain date, thus giving an excellent opportunity to young people to obtain a certain amount of business training at no cost to them.

Beecham's pills for constipation 10c and 25c. Get the book at your druggist's and go by it.

Annual sales more than 6,000,000 boxes.

A Splendid Chance.

Everybody who is weak, delicate or sickly wants to get well. Dr. Greene, of 34 Temple Place, Boston, Mass., makes a specialty of treating patients through letter correspondence. The wisest thing all suffering people can do is to write the Doctor, stating just how they feel, mentioning every symptom of which they complain, and he will answer the letter, explaining each symptom and describing the case so thoroughly that patients understand their complaint as well as though they had talked with the Doctor. He makes his explanations so clear that they cannot help but understand just what ails them, and he tells exactly what to do to get well. It saves a journey to the city and doctor's fees, and costs nothing. Dr. Greene is the most successful specialist in curing nervous and chronic diseases. He is the discoverer of that wonderful medicine, Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy. Thousands are being cured through his perfect system of letter correspondence. It has been proved successful.

ROYAL BAKING POWDER.

ABSOLUTELY PURE.

A cream of tartar Baking Powder. Highest of all in leavening power.—Latest United States Government Food Report.

ROYAL BAKING POWDER CO., 106 Wall Street, New York.

NOTICE is hereby given that the subscribers have been duly appointed executors of the will of William N. Flynt, late of Monson, in the county of Hampden, deceased, testate, and have taken upon themselves that trust by giving bonds, as the law directs. All persons having demands upon the estate of said deceased are required to exhibit the same; and all persons indebted to said estate are called upon to make payment to Lyman C. Flynt of Monson, Mass., in benalf of the undersigned.

Dated October 18th, 1895.

EUDODIA C. FLYNT, Executrix.
RUFUS FLYNT, }
LYMAN C. FLYNT, } Executors.
GEORGE C. FLYNT, }
HENRY A. KING, }

3-31

TOWN OF PALMER.
TOWN WARRANT.

COMMONWEALTH OF MASSACHUSETTS.—HAMPDEN ss. To Herbert A. Northrop, constable of the town of Palmer. Greeting:

In the name of the Commonwealth of Massachusetts you are hereby directed to notify and warn all the inhabitants of the town of Palmer qualified to vote in elections, to meet in their respective precincts as follows, viz: Those in Precinct A at Eugene house on Park street in the Depot village; those in precinct B in basement of Loftus's block on Commercial street in Thorndike; those in Precinct C in the vestry of the Baptist church on East Main street in Three Rivers; and those in Precinct D at Liberty Hall on Main street in Bondsville, on Tuesday, the fifth day of November next, it being the Tuesday next after the first Monday of said month, at 7 o'clock in the forenoon, to bring in their votes to the precinct officers for Governor and Lieutenant-Governor of the Commonwealth, Councilor in District No. 8, Secretary of the Commonwealth, Treasurer and Receiver General, Auditor, Attorney General, Senator for the First Hampden District, Representative in the General Court for the Tenth Hampden District, District Attorney for the Western District, Sheriff for Hampden County, one County Commissioner for three years for Hampden County, two Special Commissioners for Hampden County; and to vote "Yes" or "No" in answer to the following question: Is it expedient that municipal suffrage be granted to women? All on one ballot.

The polls will be opened at 7 o'clock a. m. and may be closed at 11 o'clock a. m.

And you are hereby directed to serve this warrant by posting up attested copies thereof at the different public places designated by the vote of the town, seven days at least, before the holding of said meeting, and cause this warrant to be printed in the Palmer JOURNAL at least two issues before the holding of said meeting.

Hereof fail not and make due return of this warrant, with your doings thereon, to the Town Clerk, on or before the holding of said meeting.

Given under our hands this twenty-fourth day of October, A. D. 1895.

JOHN F. TWISS, } Selectmen of
GEO. M. ATKINS, } Palmer.

A true copy—Attest:
H. A. NORTHROP, Constable of Palmer. 2-30

Piano and Banjo Lessons

given by

Misses Annie and Carrie Fish,

Palmer.

22-tf

MR. J. B. LONGWILL, having leased Mr. Campbell's blacksmith shop, will endeavor to do what is right by the general public, in prices to suit all parties. Horse shoeing a specialty.

tf-7 SOUTH MAIN STREET, PALMER.

Forbes & Wallace's,

Springfield.

The Home Encyclopedia—
Twenty Volumes—$4.50

Here is a great educational work for anybody---scholar, poet, philosopher or the layman; man, woman or child. The price brings it within reach of everybody---$4.50.

The Home Encyclopedia is a work of immense magnitude. From the Encyclopedia Britanica it drew a vast fund of live and useful information; added the history of the development of the Arts and Sciences to date, and the life records of several thousands of noted men and women, living and dead; and supplemented the whole with original articles upon American history and subjects of interest to Americans---it is distinctively an encyclopedia for Americans.

Book Department.

Underskirts

The three-ruffle fast black satine skirt that we sell for a dollar is wool lined or cotton lined. We sell several hundred dozens of 'em a season.

Fast black moreen skirts at $1.95. Nobody else has such skirts for so little.

Better moreen skirts at $2.75; such as you expect to pay a dollar more for.

Not all the sample taffeta silk underskirts are gone; and a more distinguished assortment of black and colored skirts it would be hard to find---they're a third under ordinary prices.

Blacks, $6.50 to $13.50.
Colored, $6 to $15.50.

Right aisle.

Bleached napkins at $1.50 a dozen that are remarkable. Our English linen man has been trying for a long time to beat the best $2 napkin at $1.50. We think he has done it at last; haven't seen a napkin at $2 that we like better than this.

Main floor of Vernon street building.

FORBES & WALLACE.

Main, Vernon and Pynchon streets, Springfield, Mass.

TOWN OF MONSON.
TOWN WARRANT.

COMMONWEALTH OF MASSACHUSETTS.—HAMPDEN ss. To either of the constables of the Town of Monson. Greeting:

In the name of the Commonwealth of Massachusetts you are hereby directed to notify and warn all the inhabitants of the town of Monson qualified to vote in elections to meet in Memorial Town Hall on Tuesday, the fifth day of November next at nine o'clock in the forenoon, to bring in their votes to the selectmen for Governor and Lieutenant-Governor of the Commonwealth, Councilor District No 8, Secretary of the Commonwealth, Treasurer and Receiver-General, Auditor, Attorney-General, Senator for the First Hampden District, Representative in General Court for the Ninth Hampden District, District Attorney, Sheriff for Hampden County, one County Commissioner for three years for Hampden County, two Special Commissioners for Hampden County, and to vote "Yes" or "No" in answer to the following question: Is it expedient that municipal suffrage be granted to women? All on one ballot.

The polls will be open at 9 o'clock a. m. and may be closed at 3 o'clock p. m.

And you are hereby directed to serve this warrant by posting up attested copies theref at the different places designated by the vote of the town, seven days at least before the holding of said meeting, and cause this warrant to be printed in one issue of the Palmer JOURNAL.

Hereof fail not, and make due return of this warrant, with your doings thereon, to the Town Clerk, on or before the holding of said meeting.

Given under our hands this twenty-sixth day of October, A. D. 1895.

A. D. NORCROSS, } Selectmen of
G. H. FOSKIT, } Monson.
W. H. BUGBEE, }

A true copy.
Attest:—H. D. OSBORNE, Constable of Monson.
1-31

Palmer Savings Bank,

Palmer, Mass.

Hours from 9 a. m. to 3 p. m.

President,
H. G. LOOMIS.

Vice Presidents,
GEO. MOORES, T. D. POTTER, C. H. HOBBS.

Secretary,
WM. W. LEACH.

Treasurer,
H. W. McGREGORY.

Trustees,
James B. Shaw, E. G. Hastings, C. H. Hobbs, George Moores, R. C. Newell, Geo. E. Buck, H. G. Loomis, F. F. Marcy, A. L. Hills, T. D. Potter, H. Waid, Wm. Holbrook, H. P. Holden, Wm. W. Leach, C. F. Grosvenor, Jas. S. Loomis, C. L. Gardner, H.W. McGregory

Board of Investment,
Geo. Mooers, H. G. Loomis, E. G. Hastings, C. H. Hobbs, James B. Shaw.

Auditors,
Wm. W. Leach, A. L. Hills.

HAYNES & CO.

Clothiers,
Tailors,
Hatters,
Furnishers.

The Subject of To-day

Is Overcoats---All Weights.

The Best in the Country and marked at the ever popular prices, $8, 10, 12, and 15, Blue, Black and Brown Kerseys; rough faced Chinchillas and Serges. Extra fine make at $18, and $20.

The Great Headquarters for Dress and Business Suits, $8, 10, 12, 15, 16 and 18, are the popular prices for perfectly tailored suits.

Trousers---$1.93, 2.50, 3 and 5.

Derbys---$1.50, 2, 2.50 and 3. Winter Caps, all styles and prices.

For the Boys,

big and little Suits; $2, 2.50; odd Pants, 50c; Reefers, 2.50; Overcoats, 3.50.

Gold Watch Checks given with all Purchases of $1 or over.

HAYNES & CO.,

CLOTHIERS, TAILORS, HATTERS, FURNISHERS.

SPRINGFIELD, MASS.

Stone.

Eider-downs. Cardinal, Blue, Pink, and White, 30 cents a yard.

Flannelettes. Large Assortment, 8 and 10 cents.

Stone,

Dry Goods,

Telephone. Palmer, Mass.

To be delivered now, subject to advance at any time. We furnish good men to house and bin same. All coal is screened and delivered in bags.

The Lehigh is as good as any we ever sold. The Lackawanna is the best prepared coal that comes to market for domestic use.

Prices will be higher.

Send your order by postal card or leave it at our office.

SEE OUR PRICES FOR COAL

Prices for Lackawanna:
Stove size, - $5.35 per ton.
Chestnut, - 5.35 " "
Furnace, - 5.25 " "

Prices for Lehigh:
Stove size, - $5.50 per ton.
Chestnut, - 5.50 " "
Furnace, - 5.40 " "

Less than (1) one ton 25 cent added for the load.

Delivered in Bags, which will save expense of housing in many cases.

October 1, 1895.

R. M. & Theo. Reynolds.

Monson, Mass.

Milk and Cream.

Maple Lawn Milk Farm.

O. D. Wells, Proprietor.

WALL PAPERS, MOULDINGS, ETC., AT MASON'S, PALMER.

WANTED---An Honest, Intelligent Man

of good standing as agent in this territory for The Northwestern Mutual Life Insurance Company. The Northwestern is the largest of the purely mutual companies, having $80,000,000 of assets, with but $65,000,000 liabilities, thus holding upon its credit side of accounts $15,000,000 surplus. Its dividends are by far larger than any other company in the world. Its interest rates have been for 20 years the highest, while its death rates have been lowest among the leading companies. With these attractions the Northwestern is to-day the easiest company in the field to work, simply because it is easily known to be The Best. The right man may find a good business by addressing J. G. Clark, General Agent, 432 Main Street, Springfield, Mass. 4-28

DR. S. H. ELLERY,

VETERINARY SUR

Milk Cans, pans, churns, bottles, everything which is used for milk, even down to the baby's bottle—these are things for which you need Pearline. With Pearline, they're cleansed more easily, more quickly, more economically, and more thoroughly, than with anything else known. The people who know most about milk say just that. We can't afford to print all the testimonials we hold.

They're free expressions of opinion — in conventions, in papers, everywhere where milk folks have a voice. Their enthusiasm about Pearline is genuine. And it's natural. For all kinds of washing and cleaning, nothing equals Pearline.

Beware of imitations. 381 JAMES PYLE, N. Y.

Blood

(Trade Mark Registered.)

Wine,

The Great French Hospital Remedy.

Cures

Nervous

Diseases

and

Stomach

Troubles

As if

By magic

And

Is a

Great Blood Purifier.

Blood Wine will positively cure all forms of nervous troubles, however caused; we back this statement up with a guarantee to refund the money in any case where the patient is not entirely cured after using a limited amount of the medicine. Why pay one dollar for medicine that will only give you temporary relief, when you can buy Blood Wine for 50 cents and be permanently cured. Blood Wine contains no wine or opiates, and is perfectly safe to give to children. It is not a beverage and cannot be used as such. Over 700,000 bottles of this wonderful medicine have been sold in the six New England states the last year. What a record. Blood Wine stands to-day at the head, and is a

INTERIOR DECORATIONS

will soon be done with Cod Liver Oil. May be you don't know it, but that article is as good to prevent a cold as it is to cure it. If you are troubled with a cough, a prevailing trouble at this season, decorate your interior with some of our Cod Liver Oil Emulsions, we have them all. It will strike through and beautify your exterior, and make you thoroughly enjoy your own society, and others will enjoy it, too. Call for above at

ALLEN'S DRUG STORE,

Holden's Block, Palmer.

Horse Blankets.

A full line, for both stable .....and street use.....

375 BLANKETS IN STOCK.

PRICES RIGHT.

D. W. Foskit,

Foskit's Mills.

..... Smith, ...

59 Main Street, Palmer.

Insurance.

of every kind placed at short notice, and all favors duly appreciated.

Yours truly,

S. H. HELLYAR.

Casablanca.

(WITHOUT APOLOGIES TO ANYBODY.)

The boy stood on the third base bag,
Whence all but he had fled;
At the umpire's shout "The man is out,"
His young heart fairly bled.

Yet beautiful and bright he stood,
As though glued on the bag;
Nor noticed his left ear torn off,
Nor how his stocking sagged.

He held his base—he would not go
Without his captain's word;
That captain, putting up a kick,
His voice no longer heard.

He called aloud, "Say, umpire, say!
"Yer eyes are full of dirt?"
He knew not that the baseman had
The ball inside his shirt.

"Say, captain," once again he cried,
"I slid clear under, fair!"
And but the howling bleachers cried
To "lynch that umpire there!"

He heard his nine swear good and loud,
He saw them all get fined;
The shortstop get a bug black eye
For speaking out his mind.

The umpire there was torn to shreds,
The pitcher broke his leg,
The captain sprung his jaw with chin,
But the boy ne'er moved a peg.

He shouted but once more aloud,
"Great Scott! we need this score!"
While round him fast, all o'er the field,
Three thousand rooters pour.

They wrapt the game in splendor wild,
They chewed the rag with vim;
And when the umpire tried to speak,
They mopped the ground with him.

Then came a shout of wild regret,
The boy—O, where was he?
Ask of the man who keeps the score,
'Twas an awful sight to see.

For the boy moved off his base a bit,
While thinking of no hurt;
And the baseman quickly tagged him with
The ball within his shirt.

The captain, men and umpire fair
Right well had borne their part,
But the noblest thing that perished there
Was that young, faithful heart.

—R. P. J., in Boston Journal.

AMONG THE PARAGRAPHERS.

WHITHER ARE WE DRIFING?

With bold bacilli in a kiss
And microbes in ice cream,
What will become, we'd like to know, of Love's
Young Dream?

—Washington Star.

"Anything new on hand, Ethel?" "Yes; another engagement ring."—Detroit Free Press.

He—"I'd kiss you if I dared." She—"What! you don't think I'd strike a man, do you?"—Albany Freeman.

"Did Jack propose to you this evening?" "Well, not exactly; he asked me if I could afford a husband."—Pick Me Up.

She—"Have you ever loved another?" He—"Yes, of course. Did you think I'd practice on a nice girl like you?"—Life.

When the first baby is about a year old, almost all the money in the house may be found in the baby's bank.—Atchison Globe.

He—"That little trip of ours to Belogne never came off, after all?" She—"Nothing ever does come off except buttons."—Punch.

"Help! Help!" cried the man who was being robbed. "Calm yourself," said the highwayman. "I don't need any assistance."—Town Topics.

Requiescat in Pace: Over the grave of the Cannibal King they inscribed with trenchant pen this epitaph, "Write me as one who loved his fellow-men."—Life.

Casey—"P'hat made Mulligan fall off de ladder? Did his fut slip?" Reilly—"It did not. Oi told him a joke an hour ago, an' sure he just now tumbled."—Philadelphia Record.

"Say, pop, what does the letters D. C. mean, dat dey always puts after Washington?" "Dey means daddy of his country, yo' fool chile, yo'. Why doan' yo' read hist'ry?"—Judge.

Irate Pa—"Did you tell that young man of yours that I am going to have the gas turned off at 10." Trix—"Yes." Irate Pa—"Well?" Trix—"He's coming at a quarter past in the future."—Judy.

The girl who refused a telegraph position because she would not converse with men to whom she had not been introduced will never wear bloomers, it is safe to predict.—New York Mail and Express.

Sub—"Here's a letter from 'anxious subscriber'." Chief—"What does he want to know?" Sub—"He wants to know how long a man would live if there were no such thing as death."—Spare Moments.

"I want to see the fireworks at the exposition," said the rural editor, with a sigh. "Never mind," replied the editor, "if you miss them in this world you'll certainly see 'em hereafter!"—Atlanta Constitution.

Its mother—"Oh, John, John! What shall we do? Baby has swallowed his rattle." Its father—"Do nothing. Now he'll always have it with him, and we won't have to be forever looking for it when he cries."—Town and County Journal.

A reporter, in describing the murder of a man named Jorkins, said: "The murderer was evidently in quest of money, but, luckily, Mr. Jorkins had deposited all his funds in the bank the day before, so that he lost nothing but his life."—Tid-Bits.

Pacific Pete had scraped up acquaintance with the young tenderfoot. "But how did you lose your left eye?" "Lose it?" thunderously. "Y—yes, sir.—sir." "Why, I cut that 'ere eye out so's I wouldn't have to shet it sightin' a gun!"—Chicago Record.

Mrs. O'Flaherty—"They say it's not polite to be helped twicet, Mr. Dunnigan, but ye'll take another piece of my cake, won't yeh?" Dunnigan—"Indade, Oi will that, Mrs. O'Flaherty! Shure, it's the hoight o' poloitness to ate a sicind piece o' such cake as this."—Puck.

Gail Hamilton's witty tongue is responsible for this: When her cousin, S. Pickering Dodge, went to Germany a native whom he asked for information said: "Sprechen sie Deutsch?" "Yes," answered Mr. Dodge, "that's my name; but how in thunder did you know it?"—The World.

Deacon Snow—"You don't tole de troof in yo' sarmon to-day, sah, when you said Mister Noah came fust outer the ark." Rev. Mr. Johnsing—"Can you proob dat, sah?" Deacon Snow—"Sartin! It says in de good book dat "Noah came fourth out ob de ark. You should be keerful how you lead your flock astray, sah."—Truth.

Irate Father—"Here I've paid you, no elling how much money, to teach my daughter music, and she can't play any better than she did before. Whose fault is that?" Professor Van Note—"Ze fault of ze instrument. I haf von instrument in my shop vich she learn to blay soon." Irate Father—"Huh? Is it like this?" Professor Van Note—"It looks like zis piano, but goes mit a crank."—New York Weekly.

How's This!

We offer One Hundred Dollars Reward for any case of Catarrh that can not be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure.

F. J. CHENEY & CO., Props., Toledo, O.

We, the undersigned, have known F. J. Cheney for the last 15 years, and believe him perfectly honorable in all business transactions and financially able to carry out any obligations made by their firm.

West & Truax, Wholesale Druggists, Toledo, O.; Walding, Kinnan & Marvin, Wholesale Druggists, Toledo, Ohio.

Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. Price, 75c per bottle. Sold by all druggists. Testimonials free.

Mrs. B. F. Nash
West Duxbury, Mass.

Honest Gratitude

FOR

What Hood's Sarsaparilla Did.

"It is with pleasure and grateful heart that I write these few lines. I am very sorry that I cannot tell all I feel in regard to Hood's Sarsaparilla, Hood's Ointment and Hood's Pills. They have done so

Much Good in My Family

I cannot do without any of them. I took Hood's Sarsaparilla after the grip when I was so weak and good for nothing that it tired me to see any one move. It made me well and strong as ever. My little daughter 18 months old had a bad swelling

On Each Side of Her Throat.

I began giving her Hood's Sarsaparilla and rubbing the swelling with Hood's Olive Ointment. In a short time one swelling broke and discharged and both healed and disappeared. I am no story writer so I hope you will take this as honest gratitude to Hood's Sarsaparilla." MRS. B. F. NASH, Duxbury, Mass.

Hood's Sarsaparilla Cures

Hood's Pills act harmoniously with Hood's Sarsaparilla. 25c.

POSTAL

Telegraph and Cable Co.

Office in Strong's Block,

PALMER, : : : : MASS.

Direct wires to New York and Boston. Office in all the principal cities in the

UNITED STATES.

PROMPT SERVICE,

REASONABLE RATES,

ALL BUSINESS

STRICTLY CONFIDENTIAL.

CENTRAL VERMONT RAILROAD.

NEW LONDON DIVISION.

TAKING EFFECT SEPTEMBER 30, 1895.

TRAINS GOING SOUTH.

Leave Brattleboro, 5.40 and 10.25 a. m. and 4.25 p. m. for New London, connecting at Millers Falls with Fitchburg R. R., at Belchertown with Central Massachusetts R. R., and at Palmer with B. & A. R. R. for Worcester, Boston, Springfield, at New London with the N. Y. N. H. & H. R. R.

Leave Amherst, 7.05 a. m., 12.15 and 5.57 p. m.

Leave Palmer, 7.05 and 8.40 a. m., 1.50 and 7.15 p. m.

Leave Willimantic for New London, 8.35, 10.10 a. m. 3.25, 6.40 and 8.45 p. m.

GOING NORTH.

Leave New London, 5.20 and 7.40 a. m, 2.30 and 5.25 p. m.

The 5.20 and 7.40 a. m. and 5.25 p. m. run through to Brattleboro and make connections for the north.

Leave New London for Willimantic and intermediate stations, 10.00 a. m.

Leave Palmer for Brattleboro, 8.20, 11.00 a. m, and 8.00 p. m, connecting with express for Montreal. Also with Grand Trunk R. R. for the West.

Leave Palmer for Amherst, 8.20 and 11.00 a. m, and 8.00 p. m.

SUBJECT TO CHANGE WITHOUT NOTICE.

D. MACKENZIE, Supt. J. A. SOUTHARD, D. P. A. New London, Ct.

S. W. CUMMINGS, G. P. A., St. Albans.

BOSTON & MAINE R. R.

SOUTHERN DIVISION

(CENTRAL MASSACHUSETTS)

CORRECTED TO OCTOBER 6 1895.

TRAINS LEAVE WARE:

GOING EAST

FOR Boston—6.55, 9.00 a. m.; 3.14, p. m. Sundays 6.55 a. m.

RETURNING—leave Boston 8.45 a. m.; 1.30, 4.00 p. m. Sundays, 1.30, p. m.

FOR Worcester—6.55, 9.00 a. m.; 3.14 p. m. Sundays, 6.55 a. m.

RETURNING—leave Worcester 9.15 a. m.; 2.25, 4.58 p. m.

FOR Oakdale, Hudson and Waltham—6.55, 9.00 a. m.; 3.14 p. m. Sundays, 6.55 a. m.

FOR Gilbertville, Barre and Coldbrook—6.55, 9.00 a. m.; 3.14 p. m. Sundays, 6.55 a. m.

GOING WEST

FOR Bondsville, Belchertown, Pansy Park, Amherst, Hadley and Northampton, 7.15, 11.24 a. m., 4.28, 6.47 p. m. Sundays, 4.35 p. m.

RETURNING—leave Northampton 6.55, 8.00 a. m., 2.15, 6.10 p. m. Sundays, 5.55 a. m.

D. J. FLANDERS, Gen'l. Pass'r. Agt.

W. F. BERRY Gen'l Mgr.

LARRABEE'S RHEUMATIC LINIMENT

A standard and sovereign household remedy for over half a century. It is a wonderful curative agent in all painful diseases, such as

Rheumatism, Lumbago, Neuralgia, Backache, Catarrh, Toothache,

and other painful ailments. To be had of all druggists, or by mail on receipt of 25 cents. Trade supplied by Geo. C. Goodwin & Co., or any wholesale druggist.

WINKLEMANN & BROWN DRUG CO.

BALTIMORE, MD., U. S. A.

Rheumatic Pains.

Dr. David Kennedy's statement that the real cause of rheumatism was the imperfect action of the kidneys, and that Dr. David Kennedy's Favorite Remedy opened the clogged ducts, permitted the secretions to pass off, relief and comfort following as a natural result was so reasonable that sufferers seized at it with avidity and many a victim of rheumatism, sciatica and lumbago has been cured by it.

F. M. EAGER.

Boots and Shoes Manufactured to Measure.

REPAIRING NEATLY DONE AT SHORT NOTICE.

Dealer in Sewing Machines and Supplies.

Machines to rent or sold on monthly payments.

F. M. EAGER, PALMER.

WANTED. Good reliable men, to sell our Choice and Hardy Nursery Stock, such as Fruit Trees, Roses, Shrubs and Ornamentals. Ladies make this business a success. Easy work, pleasant, light and profitable. OUTFIT FREE. Apply at once, with references, and secure choice of territory.

F. N. MAY COMPANY,

Nurserymen and Seedsmen, Rochester, N. Y.

WEDDING INVITATIONS. Engraved or printed. The latest styles and prices right. Samples on application at the JOURNAL Office. WEDDING CARDS.

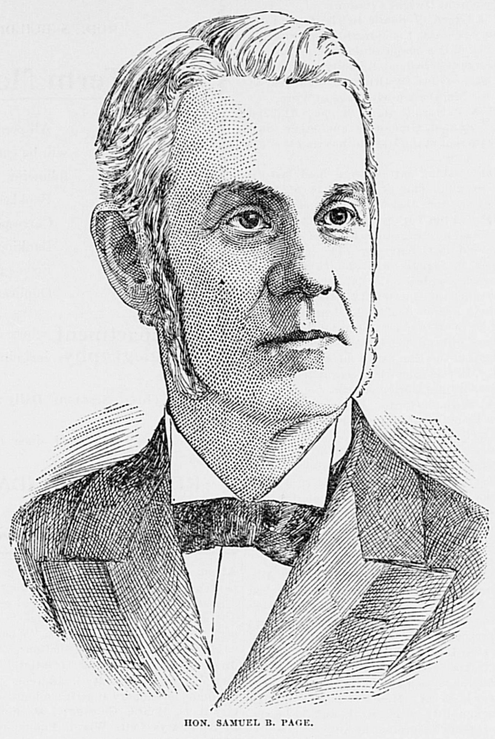
LAWYER AND STATESMAN.

Hon. Samuel B. Page Tells You to Use Dr. Greene's Nervura to Cure.

New Hampshire's Best Known Orator and Statesman Says That Dr. Greene's Nervura Will Make You Well and Strong.



HON. SAMUEL B. PAGE.

For ten years Hon. Samuel B. Page of Haverhill, N. H., has been a member and leader in the New Hampshire Legislature, and for twenty-five years has been that state's ablest lawyer and foremost citizen, being recognized throughout New England as a most brilliant orator and statesman.

Everybody knows Mr. Page, and when he tells the people everywhere to take Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy to regain their health and strength, when he tells the weak, tired and nervous that this wonderful medicine will make them strong and well, all know that he means just what he says—that they will be cured if they follow his advice and take this remedy.

"I have used Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy," says Mr. Paige, "and take pleasure in recommending its use to all sufferers from any derangement or disturbance of the nervous system. It is peculiarly valuable as a nerve tonic, and I can recommend it to all as an excellent tonic for the system."

Other prominent and well-known people endorse and recommend Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy as the greatest, best and surest cure ever discovered. Such famous and distinguished men as Hon. John F. Dever, Boston's most popular alderman; Hon. Charles J. Noyes of Boston, ex-Speaker of the Massachusetts House of Representatives; Hon. T. S. McGinnis of Jericho, Vt., the people's candidate for Governor of Vermont, Chairman of Selectmen Dorman Bridgman of Hardwick, Vt, Alderman Charles S. Crouch of Northampton, Mass., and thousands upon thousands of others in public and private life have been cured by this grand medicine and earnestly and heartily recommend all to use it and be cured.

Heed their advice. Use Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy and get well.

It is not a patent medicine but the prescription of the most successful living specialist in curing nervous and chronic diseases, Dr. Greene, of 34 Temple Place, Boston, Mass. He has the largest practice in the world, and this grand medical discovery is the result of his vast experience. The great reputation of Dr. Greene is a guarantee that this medicine will cure, and the fact that he can be consulted by any one at any time, free of charge, personally or by letter, gives absolute assurance of the beneficial action of this wonderful medicine.

Everybody Knows

What the young man's fancy turns to in the spring, but the poet has neglected to inform us what he cogitates about in the fall. We guess FURNITURE.

Young Man! We are your friends. You have our best wishes and you can have our Furniture for a small consideration. We can furnish your house from attic to cellar with the newest of furnishings, cheaper than you can buy old or out-of-date goods. Come and be convinced. Easy terms.

Talk About

Good Heaters and Ranges, where can you find an equal to the "Premium."

Its the greatest heater in the world. Just the same about our Ranges, too

The Herald B and the Sumner Grand Ranges Lead the World.

RIGHT PRICES AND EASY TERMS.

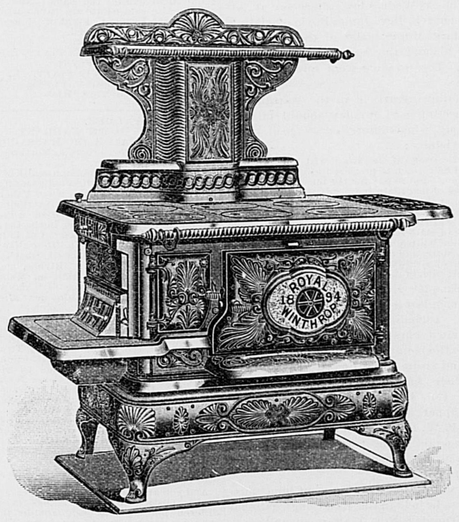
Heaters from $5 up—and that is for the best Heaters in the world, too.

E. Luther & Co.,

Complete House Furnishers.

Main St., Opp. Court Sq., Springfield.

THE ROYAL WINTHROP RANGE. IT HAS NO SUPERIOR.



I AGREE. That is all we expect you to say. Live up to that and there is no limit to your credit with us; we will arrange the payments to suit you.

We sell all kinds of FURNITURE, and can furnish your house from cellar to garret.

SHAW BROTHERS, - THREE RIVERS, MASS.

ALWAYS SHARP SHOD WITH THE NEVERSLIP

ONE TRIAL WILL CONVINCE YOU.

Your horse being always sharp shod, is ready for work. His feet are always in good condition, and he is not constantly at the blacksmith's being sharpened, which ruins his feet, causing great expense and loss of time to you. Remember, once shod with "Neverslips" you can easily put in new Calks when needed without removing the shoes.

BE SURE your horse-shoer has "Neverslips" on hand; have him SHOE WITH NO OTHER. Send your address for descriptive circular with full information, MAILED FREE.

AGENTS: G. H. McCandlass, Easthampton, Mass.

MANUFACTURERS: Neverslip Horseshoe Co., Boston, Mass.

REMOVABLE-STEEL-CENTERED AND SELF-SHARPENING

Dreams.

Some hand is always with us, but it seems
Most tender when we close our eyes in sleep,
Wherein it fills the caverns with new dreams
To entertain our slumbers soft and deep.

How lonesome and how dull the night would be,
How wearily the hours would stretch away
Were it not for this heaven-sent company
Who join us on the road from dusk till day.

It seems to me no entertaining host
Could choose more to the fancy of his guest
Than He who conjures up what each likes most;
He weaves it through the woof of slumberous rest.

The guileless child with budding lips attuned
To sugar plums and Christmas festival,
Finds candied lore and sweetness over-Juned
To ripe fruition at its beck and call.

The youth, love-smitten, finds his pulses leap
To the bold measure of cathedral bells,
And like a drunken bee clings to the steep
Uncertain coquetry of honeyed wells.

The warrior scents the smoke of victory;
The statesman sees the galleries rise;
The poet threads the path to Aready,
Down the tranced deeps of his beloved's eyes.

The mother (heaven bless her) hears again
Her crooning babe's triumphant cheer,
And in her dream, a world of joy and pain,
Rounds to the fullness of a silent tear!

—George Byron Underwood.

STRAIGHTENING OUT THE FURROWS.

"Boys," he said, "I've been trying every day of my life for the last two years to straighten out furrows—and I cannot do it!"

One boy turned his head in surprise toward the captain's neatly-kept place.

"Oh, I don't mean that kind, lad. I don't mean land furrows," continued the captain, so soberly that the attention of the boys became breathless as he went on:—

"When I was a lad about the age of you boys, I was what they called a 'hard case;' not exactly bad or vicious, but wayward and wild. Well, my dear old mother used to coax, pray and punish—my father was dead, making it all the harder for her—but she never got impatient. How in the world she bore with all my stubborn, vexing ways so patiently will always be to me one of the mysteries of life. I knew it was troubling her, knew it was changing her pretty face, making it look anxious and old. After awhile, tiring of all restraint, I ran away, went off to sea—and a rough time I had of it at first. Still I liked the water, and I liked journeying around from place to place. Then I settled down to business in a foreign land, and soon became prosperous, and now began sending her something besides empty letters. And such beautiful letters as she always wrote me during those years of absence. At length I noticed how longing they grew—longing for the presence of the son who used to try her so, and it awoke a corresponding longing in my own heart to go back to the dear, waiting soul.

"So when I could stand it no longer, I came back, and such a welcome, and such a surprise! My mother is not a very old lady, boys, but the first thing I noticed was the whiteness of her hair and the deep furrows on her brow, and I knew I had helped to blanch that hair to its snowy whitness and had drawn those lines in that smooth forehead. And those are the furrows I've been trying to straighten out.

"But last night, while mother was sleeping in her chair, I sat thinking it all over, and I looked to see what progress I had made.

"Her face was very peaceful and the expression contented as possible, but the furrows were still there! I hadn't succeeded in straightening them out—and—I—never—shall—never!

"When they lay my mother—my fair old sweetheart—in her casket, there will be furrows in her brow; and I think it is a wholesome lesson to teach you, and the neglect you offer your parents' counsel now; and the trouble you cause them, will abide, my lads, it will abide!"

"But," broke in Freddie Hollis, with great troubled eyes, "I should think if you're so kind and good now, it needn't matter so much!"

"Ah, Freddie, my boy," said the quavery voice of the strong man, "you cannot undo the past. You may do much to atone for it, do much to make the rough path smooth, but you can't straighten out the old furrows, my laddies, remember that!"

"Guess I'll go and chop some wood mother spoke of; I'd most forgotten," said lively Jimmie Hollis, in a strangely quiet tone for him.

"Yes, and I've got some errands to do!" suddenly remembered Billy Bowles.

"Touched and taken," said the kindly captain to himself, as the boys tramped off, keeping step in a thoughtful, soldier-like way.

And Mrs. Bowles declared a fortnight afterward that Billy was "really getting to be a comfort!"

Then Mrs. Hollis, meeting the captain about that time, remarked that Jimmy always meant to be a good boy, but he was actually being one.

"Guess your stories you like so much have morals to them now and then," added the gratified mother, with a smile.

As Mrs. Hollis passed, Captain Sam, with folded arms and head bent down, said softly to himself:—

Well, I shall be thankful enough if a word of mine will help the dear boys to keep the furrows away from their mothers' brows; for once there, it is a difficult task straightening out the furrows."—The Life Boat.

WINDING THEM UP.—There is a pretty little girl of five years in Northwest Baltimore who has been tenderly raised. Her mother has guarded her against witnessing acts of violence or cruelty, and she is in ignorance of the methods employed in killing fowls for the table.

Several days ago, unknown to the careful parent, the little girl strayed into the rear yard of her home, where a servant was killing a number of chickens for dinner by wringing their necks. The child watched the proceedings with great interest for several minutes, and then, in a glow of excitement, ran to her mother.

"Mamma!" she cried, "just come and see the fun. Mary is winding the chickens up!"—Baltimore Sun.

There was a bright girl in the street car the other day who said to her companion, who was making the usual female search for her purse, "Let us divide this, Ethel; you fumble and I'll pay."—American Hebrew.

Two Lives Saved.

Mrs. Phoebe Thomas of Junction City, Ill., was told by her doctors she had consumption and there was no hope for her, but two bottles of Dr. King's New Discovery completely cured her and she says it saved her life. Mr. Thomas Eggers, 139 Florida street, San Francisco, suffered from a dreadful cold, approaching consumption, tried without result everything else, then bought one bottle of Dr. King's New Discovery and in two weeks was cured. He is naturally thankful. It is such results, of which these are samples, that prove the wonderful efficacy of this medicine in coughs and colds. Free trial bottles of LeGro & Lynde, Palmer; G. L. Keeney, Monson; F. A. Spencer, Ware. Regular size 50c and $1.

Old People.

Old people who require medicine to regulate the bowels and kidneys will find the true remedy in Electric Bitters. This medicine does not stimulate and contains no whisky nor other intoxicant, but acts as a tonic and alterative. It acts mildly on the stomach and bowels, adding strength and giving tone to the organs, thereby aiding Nature in the performance of the functions. Electric Bitters is an excellent appetizer and aids digestion. Old people find it just exactly what they need. Price 50c per bottle of LeGro & Lynde, Palmer; G. L. Keeney, Monson; F. A. Spencer, Ware.

Bucklen's Arnica Salve.

THE BEST SALVE in the world for cuts, bruises, sores, ulcers, salt rheum, fever sores, tetter, chapped hands, chilblains, corns, and all skin eruptions, and positively cures piles, or no pay required. It is guaranteed to give perfect satisfaction or money refunded. Price 25 cents per box. For sale by LeGro & Lynde, Palmer; G. L. Keeney, Monson; F. A. Spencer, Ware.

HOW TO KEEP A MAN'S LOVE.

Do not buy his cigars.
Do not buy his neckties.
Do not buy his suspenders.
Do not crease his trousers.
Do not criticise his hat or ask him where he got it.
Do not ask him at breakfast what he wants for dinner.
Do not insist on his going to church simply to please you.
Do not tell him that your boy, if you have one, takes his temper from him.
Do not insist upon receiving company that is uncongenial to him.
Do not wear a bonnet when he thinks you look better in a hat, and vice versa.
Do not ask him when he comes home in the evening what he has been doing all day.
Do not persist in his giving you the same attentions he gave you before you got him.
Do not cross him in his opinions. For heaven's sake, let him think he is smarter than anybody else.
Do not tell him what your dearest woman friend has said about her husband's good qualities.
Do not tell him that every woman you know has more clothes and has a better time than you.—Chicago Chronicle.

Dangerous Drugs.

Avoid the use of white or pink headache powders, they contain dangerous drugs. Taylor's Anti-Headache Powders are brown; they look like ground coffee and they have a delightful aromatic taste. Try them once and you will never be without them. Get them of LeGro & Lynde.

Colds are serious things. They lead to worse things. A cold is the seed of consumption. Croup is a cold's half-brother—it is generally caused by cold, and many a little life has been snuffed out by it because the proper remedy was not at hand.

Dr. Hooker's Cough and Croup Syrup

gives relief at once. It has saved thousands of lives. Every mother should see that it is always in the house. Don't wait till you need it—that may be too late. Contains no opium—absolutely safe—endorsed by physicians for 50 years. Made only by Charles B. Kingsley, Northampton, Mass.

35 cents at Drug Stores

WANTED SALESMEN. We want one or two good men in each county to take orders for a choice line of Nursery Stock or Seed Potatoes' Stock and seed guaranteed. We can give you steady employment with good pay. It will cost you nothing to give it a trial. State when writing which you prefer to sell. Address

The Hawks Nursery Co.,

Rochester, N. Y.

C. H. HOBBY, PIANO TUNER.

Orders for tuning may be left at O. P. Allen's drug store, Palmer; or may be sent to me by mail to Mansfield, Ct.

A GOOD THING - PUSH IT ALONG

BATTLE AX

Plug Tobacco

A Great Big Piece for 10 Cents.

R·I·P·A·N·S

ONE GIVES RELIEF.

52-43

In Buying a Piano or an Organ

do not fail to examine the latest Mason & Hamlin models. Recent improvements together with time tested points of superiority render them instruments par excellence. Old pianos or organs taken in exchange. Instruments sold for cash or easy payments.

Catalogues and full information sent free.

Mason & Hamlin Co.

146 Boylston Street, (opp. Common), Boston, Mass

THE POT CALLED THE KETTLE BLACK BECAUSE THE HOUSEWIFE DIDN'T USE

SAPOLIO

4-29

CATARRH

is strictly a LOCAL DISEASE and is the result of sudden climatic changes.

Ely's Cream Balm

is acknowledged to be the most thorough cure for Nasal Catarrh, Cold in the Head and Hay Fever, of all remedies. It opens and cleanses the nasal passages, allays pain and inflammation, heals the sores, protects the membrane from colds, restores the senses of taste and smell. The Balm is applied directly into the nostrils, is quickly absorbed and gives relief at once. The results that follow catarrh, due to the dropping of poisonous matter into the throat, are irritation of the bronchial tubes and soreness of the lungs accompanied by a cough. In all such cases we recommend Pineola Balsam to be used in connection with Cream Balm. Ely's Pineola Balsam will be found excellent for all throat and lung inflammations and for asthma. Consumptives will invariably derive benefit from its use, as it quickly abates the cough, renders expectoration easy, assisting nature in restoring wasted tissues. There is a large percentage of those who suppose their cases to be consumption who are only suffering from a chronic cold or deep seated cough, often aggravated by catarrh. Both remedies are pleasant to use. Price of Cream Balm, 50c per bottle; Pineola Balsam, 25c. In quantities of $2.50 we will deliver free of express or postage, on receipt of amount.

ELY BROTHERS, 56 Warren St., New York.

HOLMES & CO.,

61 Broadway, N. Y.,

Members of the N. Y. Stock Exchange.

Receive Accounts and Deposits of Firms, Individuals, etc., and allow interest on daily balances.

Buy and sell for cash or carry on margin at lowest rates of interest on the New York, Philadelphia, Boston and Chicago Stock Exchanges, Stocks, Bonds, Grain, Cotton, etc.

Branch Office: 35 Congress St., Boston.

PARKER'S HAIR BALSAM

Cleanses and beautifies the hair. Promotes a luxuriant growth. Never Fails to Restore Gray Hair to its Youthful Color. Cures scalp diseases & hair falling. 50c, and $1.00 at Druggists

HINDERCORNS,

The only sure Cure for Corns. Stops all pain. Ensures comfort to the feet. Makes walking easy. 15cts. at Druggists.

Wanted.

Agents, Local or Traveling on Salary or Commission, to sell our

Warranted Stock.

Sold with a guarantee, at reasonable prices. Steady work and good pay assured. New methods and new specialties. Outfit free, experience unnecessary. Now is the time to commence.

Address, H. B. Williams, Sec'y.

Chautauqua Nursery Co.,

Portland, N. Y.

TO COLT OWNERS.

I castrate colts and ridglings by Mile's system, holding diplomas from Mile's School of Castrating and from the Chicago Veterinary College.

Dr. S. H. Ellery, Palmer.

3-tf

TEETH FILLED WITHOUT PAIN

in every case. And

TEETH EXTRACTED WITHOUT PAIN

in fully 95 per cent of cases.

Also Artificial Teeth that are made right.

Strictly first-class dentistry in every department. Prices reasonable. Lady attendant. Elevator.

DR. WM. L. ROBERTS, DENTIST.

Springfield Office: Court Sq. Theatre Building. Holyoke Office: 291 High St.

FOR ALL KINDS OF JOB PRINTING CALL AT THE JOURNAL OFFICE.

The Palmer Journal.

VOLUME XLVI. PALMER, MASS., FRIDAY EVENING, NOVEMBER 8, 1895. NUMBER 32.

PUBLISHED EVERY FRIDAY EVENING
—BY—
C. B. FISKE & CO.

TERMS OF SUBSCRIPTION.—Two dollars a year. A discount of 25 cents to those who pay in advance. Six months, $1.00; three months, 50 cents; single copies, 5 cents.

ADVERTISING RATES.—One inch (or twelve lines of this type solid) 75 cents for the first insertion, 25 cents for the second, 15 cents for each subsequent insertion. Short advertisements, "Wanted," "To Let," etc., one cent a word for the first insertion, one-half cent a word each subsequent insertion, cash; no charge less than 25 cents. Notices in local column, 15 cents per line. Liberal rates to yearly advertisers.

JOB PRINTING of all kinds executed in the best styles, promptly and at reasonable rates.

C. B. FISKE. L. E. CHANDLER.

[Entered at Post Office as second class matter.]

LOCAL BUSINESS DIRECTORY.

PALMER.

ALLEN, O. P., Wholesale and Retail Druggist and Bookseller.

BARTON, F. D., Dealer in Watches, Clocks and Jewelry, Main street.

BILLS, G. A., Fresh and Salt Beef, Pork, Ham, Lard, Tripe, etc.

BROOKS, EDWIN E., Graduate Optician. With E. S. Brooks, Jeweler, Main street.

BROOKS, E. S., Dealer in Watches, Clocks, Jewelry, Solid Silver and Plated Ware, Main street.

BROWN, C. A. & CO., Hardware, Furnaces, Stoves, Ranges, Paints, Oils and Glass.

BROWN, S. H., Trucking, Light Jobbing, Piano Moving. Order box cor. Main and Walnut streets. Orders can also be left at J. F. Foley's store.

CARPENTER, Mrs. L. E., Millinery and Fancy Goods. Also dealer in Human Hair Goods.

CHANDLER BROS., Bicycles.

CLARK & HASTINGS, Wholesale Dealers in Armour & Co's. Dressed Beef, Provisions, Main St.

EAGER, F. M., Boot and Shoe Manufacturer to Order, and dealer in Leather and Findings.

FISKE, C. B. & CO., Publishers PALMER JOURNAL and WARE STANDARD. Fine Book and Job Printers and Bookbinders.

FITCH, A. E., Law and Insurance, Savings Bank Block.

FRANCIS, R. B., Iron Foundry and Machine Shop.

GAMWELL, C. K., Ready made Clothing, Hats, Caps, Gent's Furnishings, etc.

GARDNER, CHAS. L., Attorney and Counsellor at Law. Church street.

GOODES, E., Palmer Boot and Shoe Store, corner Main and Thorndike streets.

HAMILTON, J. A., Dealer in all kinds of Coal, Wood, Grain, Flour, Baled Hay and Straw. Fertilizers and Stock Food. Main street.

HOLBROOK, C. D., Flour, Grain, Feed and Mason's Supplies, Main street.

HOLBROOK, J. F., Dealer in all kinds of Coal. Agent for National and White Star line of steamers. Drafts on Foreign Banks at lowest rates.

LEACH, W. W., Attorney at Law.

LeGRO & LYNDE, Druggists and Newsdealers, Paper Hangings, Shades, Lamps and Fixtures.

MARCY, F. F., Dealer in Lumber, Shingles, etc., wholesale and retail. West of B.&A.R.R. depot.

MARCY, OSCAR C., Livery and Feed Stable, rear of Converse House.

PALMER WATER CO., Office, Lawrence Block. Office hours to October 1, from 8.30 to 10 a. m., from 2 to 3 p. m.

SHAW, J. B., Dealer in Dry Goods, Groceries, etc. Opposite the depot.

TAFT, S. S., Attorney at Law. Office in Allen's Block, Church street.

WHITE, C. W., Marble and Granite Works. No. 1 Thorndike street.

WOOLRICH & CO., Manufacturers of Ridge's Food, Thorndike street.

THORNDIKE.

ADAMS, A. P., Druggist, Toilet Articles, Confectionery and Cigars.

BONDSVILLE.

HOLDEN, C. L., Dry Goods, Groceries, Clothing Boots, Shoes, Hats, Caps, etc.

MORIARTY, M., Dry Goods, Groceries, Boots Shoes, Coal. Agt White Star and Anchor SS Co's

WARE.

ADAMS, MRS., Chiropodist and Manicurist. 13 Park Avenue. All troubles of feet successfully treated.

ALBERTINE, J. A. Choice Fruits, Tobaccos, Cigars and Confectionery. Low Prices.

DAVIS INSURANCE AGENCY represents the best companies and gives lowest rates.

EDDY, C. W. Job and Fine Art Printer.

EDDY, MISS MATIE K. Teacher of Oil Painting and Crayon. Sketching or Art Work completed to order.

ELDREDGE, A. HENRY. Sign Painter. Carriages painted in the best manner. West Street.

HARLOW, A. B. Photographer. Instantaneous process only. Opposite the Bank.

HOSMER, F. N. Clothier. Hats, Caps, Gents' Furnishing Good, etc. Sanford's Block.

MARSH, F. E. Gold, Silver and Nickel Plater. Replating tableware a specialty. 7 Bank street.

PRIEST, J. E. Ware Steam Laundry. Carpet cleaning. Office at H. M. Clark's.

RICHARDSON, A. F. Dealer in Boots, Shoes and Rubbers of all kinds. Sagendorph's Block.

ROBINSON, JOHN F. Furniture, Sewing Machines, Pictures, Hardware, Paints and Farming Tools.

SIBLEY, J. B. Hardware, Tools, Agricultural Implements, Paints, Oils and Artists' materials.

SMITH, G. H. W. Jeweler. Watches, Clocks and Spectacles. Repairing in the best manner.

TURNER, H. H. Bookseller and Stationer, and dealer in Paper Hangings, Musical Instruments and Sheet Music.

MONSON.

GROUT, GEO. E. Dealer in Watches Clocks, Jewelry, etc. Towne's Block.

NEWTON, GEO. H., Law Office, Notary Public, Insurance, etc., near Gage's store.

SQUIER & CO., Dealers in Grain, Feed, Hay, Straw, Lumber, Shingles and Building Material.

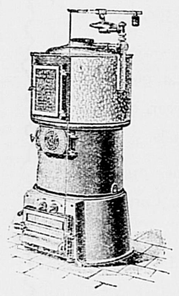
WARREN.

KELLEY, W. H., Attorney and Counsellor at Law. Quaboag Block, Warren, Mass.

SOCIETY DIRECTORY.

MONSON.

MT. ELLA LODGE, No. 184, A. O. U. W. Meets first and third Tuesdays of each month in A. O. U. W Hall, Monson.
FISK G. ROGERS, M. W., F. J. ENTWISTLE, Rec.



VOLUNTEER STEAM AND WATER HEATER.

ECONOMY WARM AIR HEATERS.

BARSTOW PARLOR STOVES.

MODEL GRAND AND CRAWFORD GRAND RANGES.

Rustless Tin Ware.

Plumbing and Steam Heating.

W. H. Hitchcock,

Nassowanno House Block, Palmer.

E. S. Bryant, D. M. D., Dentist,

Lynde's Block, Palmer.

Office hours: 8.30 to 12.30. 1.30 to 5 p. m.

TODD'S Boston Bargain STORE.

BY TELEGRAPH:

Blizzards in the Northwest, snow in New York state. There is a chill in the air that is breeding cold nights. There is misery in store if you are not warmly bedded. Don't take any silly chances. Which do you prefer—pneumonia or

Blankets?

Soft, warm and woolly ones with a fleece like fur. We have on our bargain counters a special lot of slightly soiled blankets which we are selling at Broken Prices. You had better nip these now. The price will stiffen with the frost.

Hosiery.

The kind of Stockings your grandmother wore—she knit them herself—you would not wear them, you want the finer, handsomer, just as durable but much more sightly and a better fit. We have them.

Ladies' ribbed Wool Hose, 25c a pair. Ladies' ribbed Cashmere Hose, 37c a pair.
" Fleece Lined, 25c, 35c, 39c, 50c. " Imported Cashmere, very fine, 50c.

BROKEN PRICES FOR THIS WEEK.

Our 75c Comfortables,	62c	Our 29c 2-4 Sheeting,	17c yd
" 15c Ladies' Hose,	12 1-2c	" Made-up Sheets,	50c each
" 25c Gent's Wool Hose,	19c	" 42-inch Pillow Cases,	10c "
" 19c " "	15c	" 45-inch " "	12 1-2c "
" $1 Chenille Table Cloth,	89c	" 58c Gent's Flannel Shirts, with yoke back,	50c
" Grey Flannelette Wrappers,	$1.50	" 18 inch Cotton Bird's Eye, best quality,	45c
" Our 58c Blankets,	50c	" 37½c Satin Supporters,	25c pr

Our 5 and 10-cent counters are replaced with a large stock of Tin Ware and useful articles.

IT PAYS TO TRADE AT THE CASH STORE.

T. H. TODD,

Boston Store, - Monson.

For the Coming Winter Season.

The Saskatchewan Coat,

Wind Proof,

is a handsome custom-made garment of a black or brown color, with a high rolling collar, lined with black Italian quilting, and rubber lining in the body part and sleeves to make it wind and water proof. It has olives and loops instead of buttons. This coat will keep a person dry and warm during the severest snow or rain-storm, and will be dry the next day.

Caps and carriage robes of the same material.

Complete line of GENT'S FURNISHING GOODS in all departments.

Fall and Winter Clothing

was never so low in price, nor such values for the money.

Fall Suits, $5 to $20,

Just think of it!

An elegant line of

Overcoats, $6 to $22.

You never saw the like before.

Child's Suits, $2 to $6.

Child's Reefer, $3.50 to $5.

Children's Overcoats in all grades.

Underwear

in a great variety of grades and prices.

Fall Style, 1895.

Lamson & Hubbard.

C. K. GAMWELL,

Palmer, Mass.

Perhaps you don't know all about it.

Step in and we will tell you about the QUEEN HUB. While here we can show you some Fine Parlor Goods at prices that will surprise you.

C. A. Brown & Co. - Palmer, Mass.

SMITH'S,

59 Main Street, - - Palmer.

FINE STATIONERY.

Many ladies are troubled to find just the size, shade or weight of correspondence paper which they would like. With some thing like

200 VARIETIES

To select from we ought to be able to please you. Any style of paper in any size or shape, and you may have 100 sheets or 1000, as you prefer. We'd be pleased to show you samples at the JOURNAL Office. Your monogram or initials embossed in color if desired.

F. F. MARCY, PALMER, MASS. Wholesale and Retail Dealer in

ALL KINDS OF LUMBER AND SHINGLES

Windows, doors, blinds, mouldings. Carpenters' and joiners' work done to order.

Also FIRE BRICK and CLAY for sale.

Yard and shop at junction of B. & A. and N. L. N. Railroads—west of Depot.

. . . Coal, . . .

Hay and Straw.

If you haven't bought your winter coal, ask our prices before you buy; will sell as low as anyone.

We have hay and straw, and can supply you at short notice, at market prices.

If you want to buy or hire a team or any part of a team, come and see me. Think I can supply you. I have competent men to attend to all light and heavy teaming you may have to do, and solicit a share of your patronage. Orders by mail promptly attended to.

Ralph Clifford,

Monson, Sept. 30, 1895. Monson House Stables.

DR. O. P. Roller,
Dentist.

Teeth extracted without pain by a new system. The latest methods in dentistry employed.
Office hours from 8 a. m. to 4.30 p. m.

Lawrence Block, Palmer, Mass.

WALL PAPERS, MOULDINGS, ETC., AT MASON'S, PALMER.

SMITH & MURRAY.

The Silk Sale begins to-day at 9 o'clock.

Biggest values for staple goods we've ever offered in the Silk line.

We repeat the list:

Black Satin Brocade, 21 inches wide, dollar quality for 69c a yard.

Black Satin Duchess, 19 and 20 inch, good weight and quality, dollar grade for 69c a yard.

Black Satin Rhadame, 21½ inch, extra fine heavy goods, usually sold for a dollar and a quarter, sale price 89c a yard.

Black Satin Duchess, 24 inch, extra quality and luster, sale price 89c a yard.

Also a finer grade for 98c a yard that usually sells for $1.50.

Black Satin Duchess, extremely fine grade and rich luster, regular $1.75 goods, sale price $1.25 a yard.

Black Taffeta Silk, 19 inch, usual price 87½c a yard, sale price 62½c a yard.

Black Taffeta Silk, 21 inch, heavy, fine goods, dollar quality, sale price 79c a yard.

Black Taffeta Silk, 27 inch, heavy grade, usually sold for $1.25, sale price 95c a yard.

Black Gros Grain Silk, 19 inch, good quality and luster, usual price 75c, sale price 59c a yard.

Black Gros Grain Silk, extra quality and finish, usual price $1, sale price 79c a yard.

Black Surah Silk, double warp, 24 inch, value $1, sale price 69c a yard.

Black Surah Silk, double warp and heavy grade, dollar and quarter quality, 23 inch, sale price 89c a yard.

Black Peau de Soie, 24 inch, rich quality, value $1.25, sale price 89c a yard.

SMITH & MURRAY.

"Honest John" Truss.

Very few Trusses have a reputation equal to this, and none better. We are prepared to apply them to any kind of rupture, with a guarantee of satisfaction in every particular, at the drug store of

LeGRO & LYNDE,

Next Door to Post Office,

Palmer, - - Mass.

Meekins, Packard & Co.

Dining Room Furniture.

A stock famous for Superior Quality, Exclusive Patterns, Lowest Prices.

36 different patterns and finishes in Dining Tables. For low-priced, see those from

$4.00 to $10.00.

For better grade inspect the line from

$10.00 to $25.00.

. . . . Dining Chairs . . . . from $1.00 to $3.50 each,

in solid oak with cane and leather seats.

Arm and Side Chairs to match. . . . . .

Come and see what

$15.00, $17.50, $22.00, and $25.00

will do in the way of Solid Oak Sideboards.

You'll wonder how we can sell them so cheap.

Meekins, Packard & Co.,

SPRINGFIELD, MASS.

The Dream-Ship.

When the world is fast asleep,
Along the midnight skies—
As though it were a wondering cloud,
The ghostly Dream-Ship flies.

An angel stands at the Dream-Ship's helm,
An angel stands at the prow,
And an angel stands at the Dream-Ship's side
With a rue wreath on her brow.

The other angels, silver-crowned,
Pilot and helmsman are;
And the angel with the wreath of rue
Tosseth the dreams afar.

The dreams they fall on rich and poor,
They fall on young and old;
And some are dreams of poverty,
And some are dreams of gold.

And some are dreams that thrill with joy,
And some that melt to tears,
Some are dreams of the dawn of love,
And some of the old dead years.

On rich and poor alike they fall,
Alike on young and old,
Bringing to slumbering earth their joys
And sorrows manifold.

The friendless youth in them shall do
The deeds of mighty men,
And drooping age shall feel the grace
Of bonyant youth again.

The King shall be a beggarman—
The pauper be a king—
In that revenge or recompense
The Dream-Ship dreams to bring.

So ever downward float the dreams
That are for all and me,
And there is never mortal man
Can solve that mystery.

But ever onward in its course
Along the haunted skies—
As though it were a cloud astray—
The ghostly Dream-Ship flies.

Two angels with their silver crowns
Pilot and helmsman are,
And an angel with a wreath of rue
Tosseth the dreams afar.

—Eugene Field.

A STRANGE QUEST.

The most uncomfortable case that I ever had to deal with, said a detective in the employ of one of the great dry goods establishments of New York, was the affair of Mrs. Caleb Willett. To begin, let me say that there was no Sherlock Holmes in mine. I did not deduce the fact from a hundred nothings: I had no theory, no exciting trait to follow; and heaven knows I was sorry from my heart for the poor creature. I would have liked to get out of the whole business as soon as I saw her—for I knew that, whatever her crime might be, her punishment was going to be a misfit.

It was one of those dull December afternoons, with a chill that threads through the marrow of your bones, when there is a whitish dust blowing everywhere, and it wants to snow and can't make up its mind to begin. I was in the little room where Messrs. Denim & Crepon keep me till called for—and the calls are pretty frequent for me to escort shoplifters up stairs, and then wait politely outside until our Mrs. Tripp—a good sharp woman she is—has searched them. I could tell some good stories about the tricks that I have known these light-fingered ladies to play. But this is a different anecdote.

Well, the call was rung in from the lace counter, and I went there. The saleswoman is a friend of mine; in fact, she is the nicest girl in the world, and one of these days—but that isn't the anecdote either. Lucy was white around the lips, and no wonder. For the only customer at the lace counter was Mrs. Willett, the widow of old Caleb Willett; so respectable and dignified and wealthy that it was like advertising a variety show to play in Grace church to mention any sort of misbehavior in the same breath with her name.

"Either this is a case of a sudden attack of kleptomania or Lucy has made a bad blunder; and I hope it may not lose my girl her place," said I to myself.

"A handkerchief of point de Bruxelles," said Lucy.

I was uncertain what I ought to do. Mrs. Willet turned to me. Her face looked gray and drawn, and her eyes had a strange expression. When she spoke her voice was not only husky but suffocated, I thought.

"I shall make no trouble," she told me. "I will go where you please."

So I took her up to our Mrs. Tripp. Mr. Denim saw the procession of two; Mrs. Willett walking like a queen and I sneaking behind her as if it were I who had been caught shoplifting. He followed us, for he could not believe that the thing was true. Once in a while we have to apologize to innocence; but 99 times out of 100 we are right. And then the thieves are either sent up to the island or else they cry and plead that they never did so before, and never will steal again, and we let them off and send in a bill to their husbands—and I have the most charity for those who go away in the Black Maria instead of their own carriages.

When our Mrs. Tripp was ready to search Mrs. Willett, one sign of the hand of the lady was enough to keep her at a distance.

"You shall not touch me," Mrs. Willet told her. "And you, young man, need not leave the room. Mr. Denim, here is the lace."

She let her muff fall from her hands. Mr. Denim took it from the floor, and, sure enough, there was the handkerchief, marked $85 in plain figures. Mrs. Willett's cheeks were flushed by this time, a round, red blot on each, and she coughed a little. She was the handsomest creature—for her age, that is—that I ever saw; tall and rigid, like a stone statute. Her pride really seemed to take the place of uprightness. She might be a thief but she looked as if she came from some world where plain virtues don't count.

"Let me go to my house," she said. "If necessary, this young man can accompany me—can be my guest. But I have something to do there, something which must be done. Let me go home.

Of course, it wasn't regular, but Mr. Denim or any other man would not have dared to refuse her. So I went with my lady, taking great care of my manners, not to cross her feelings, as near as I could guess at them. It seemed a long drive before we reached her house, somewhere in the region of Washington Square. Her maid came out to meet her and carry in her wraps, a French girl that made me think of a skirt dancer brought up by Shakers. I guess she came from Paris a number of years ago, and had been in the Willett's house ever since.

"Delphine," said her mistress, "this young gentlemen, the son of a school friend of mine, is come to visit me for a few days."

"Poor lady! She spoke hoarser than before, yet with a sharp note which didn't belong to her voice.

"I hope madam, that you have not taken a cold. That would be a pity when this monsieur is just arrived to make the house a little gay for you after so long time that it is trists," said the French girl.

I can tell you I was badly scared to have to sit down to dinner with that great lady, and yet, after I got the run of the different forks and wine glasses, I wished that Lucy could be a mouse in the wall for a few minutes, to see me with the Four Hundred. And she could have told you, better than I can, what Mrs. Willett wore. It was gray velvet, with a smoky yellow lace thing on her shoulders, that no doubt was worth enough money to set Lucy and me up in house-keeping, if we had so much. The bodice was cut square; she had a magnificent figure for her age, had Mrs. Willett. There was a close necklace set with great rubies around her throat. I hated to look at it, for it appeared as if her head had been cut off, and showed the red line of drops of blood. But she was as handsome as one of those heathen goddesses at the museum.

After dinner she talked a great deal, although she was very hoarse, and she often put her hand to her chest, as if it hurt her there. What did she talk about? Oh, anything; the news of the day mostly. Before 11 o'clock she excused herself, on account of her cold.

"And I have something to do—something to do," she muttered as if she were talking to herself.

Now, I have known people to slip right from under a detective's hands and over the borders of death. And there is no extradition treaty between the United States and the next world. She guessed what I was thinking about.

"I will not evade you in any way," she told me. "I asked nothing better than that justice be done, and I will aid you as far as possible. I will not evade you. I promise it upon my honor."

Her honor! That was odd talk for a shoplifter—though they say there is honor among thieves. But I would have knocked the head off any man who should have doubted the honor of that woman. She waited an instant, then bade me good-night and went up stairs. I ought to have told you that before dinner she had show me over the house. I had noticed that there were no double windows; that there were no harmful drugs like morphine or chloral on her toilet table; even the penknife in her work basket was a regular woman's knife, not sharp enough to cut a pencil. And I pocketed that, to make sure. I have it now for a keepsake of that poor lady. Well, she had not the means to commit suicide, and she had sworn that she would not escape from me. And I had faith in her.

When she went up stairs I could tell by the direction of the sound of her steps that she did not go to her own chamber, but to another room which she had told me belonged to her dead son. It was natural enough that she should enter it, with her trouble of mind that night. I went to my room, but could not sleep. Mrs. Willett was always before my eyes; I seemed to see her clearer than when she was really near me; the cold glittering brightness of her eyes, the feverish color in her cheeks, and the changes of her face when she talked. First it was drawn and desparing, and the next moment was as if she had triumphed over everything, a sort of solemn smile. The woman must have been as near sixty as fifty, but there was something in her countenance as if she and time had no more to do with each other.

At last I got to sleep, but woke again before dawn, just as the outlines of the heavy old-fashioned wardrobe and toilet table were beginning to show, and the air had a blackish grayness as if night had been ground to powder and would soon blow away. I heard Mrs. Willett pass by my door and go in her own chamber. Then she must have watched all night in her son's room—poor soul!

When the darky footman brought me a can of hot water and my boots he told me that Mrs. Willett was ill with a cold on the chest. She hoped to rise later. I was to entertain myself, so I passed the day in the library, reading "Trilby." That is a book that talks to you where you live, whatever you know or don't know. Now, I can't tell an old master from a tea-store chromo, nor one note of music from another, but I can just see those English fellows paint and hear Trilby sing. And that's the genius of the book.

In the afternoon—to go on with my story—Delphine came and told me that her mistress was very ill; the doctors had a consultation. It was a case of double pneumonia and some sort of nervous shock, which the doctors couldn't account for. Anyway she was going to die. And it was the tenth anniversary of the death of her son, who was killed on the door steps of his father's house—a frightful affair. Delphine said the French woman, on her own responsibility, had sent for a sister of charity, who was now taking care of Mrs. Willett.

An hour later Delphine came to see me again. "Madame wishes to see you, monsieur," she said. "If you could say something to comfort her! Speak to her of times you saw her in company with madame, your mother. Agreeable memories might console her."

Great pleasure she would have, poor lady, in a reminder of the first time that she and I had met, the day before! I followed Delphine to Mrs. Willett's room. She called in a low voice to sister Perpetua, who came forward and asked me to enter. The chamber was somewhat darkened; I could see Mrs. Willett's white face, framed in iron-gray hair, and her hands twitching upon the crimson counterpane. She opened her large black eyes and looked at me. It seemed as if she held me by those eyes, so that I was bound to hear and remember every word that she had to say. And I shall not forget that quarter of an hour—not until I pass in my own last report. She spoke in short phrases, because the breath only came from her throat now, her lungs were solid. There was a bluish shadow around her mouth and nostrils, like the shadow that the smoke of a locomotive casts upon a field snow.

I felt mean: I wanted to lynch myself, for it seemed to me that I had hunted that grand creature with those piteous eyes, to her death. Of course that wasn't so; I had only done my duty, and she already had a cold on her chest when she came into Denim & Crepon's. But the nervous shock—of course I had a hand in that. The only way that I could let myself off easy was to keep thinking that I had only done my duty. But if ever such a case comes into the day's work again I will pull out of my job, and Denim & Crepon must look out for a tougher man.

Well, Mrs. Willet began to speak to me. I could see that her mind went off a little now and then. But she knew what she was talking about. At first her manner was very polite, as if I were a visitor that she was entertaining; later she appeared to talk because she must, and it was heartbreaking to hear her. I should have broken down more than once, only there was Sister Perpetua, calm and almost smiling. I don't know how they do it, those sisters; they are full of pity, and yet they never seem to get rattled nor shed a tear.

"I gave my word that I would not evade you," Mrs. Willett said to me. "This morning, indeed, I feared that I should be forced to break my promise. But one could not blame a dead woman for not keeeping an appointment, could one? And now I am much better. Earlier, I could not speak. It is a very severe cold, the doctor says."

"I am glad that you are feeling better, madame," said I, awkwardly enough.

"Thank you. But the truth is, it will not last. I shall escape the law here on earth. But I shall not escape the law in the next world—I shall go right straight to hell, you know! Oh, I shall be so happy there!"

"Heaven, you mean, dear," Sister Perpetua corrected her.

"No, no; I am aware what I am saying. Do not let me lose myself, sister, before I shall have explained all. I want it to be known that I have stolen, stolen for eight years. And now I need not steal any more. They took away the lace handkerchief, but they cannot take away from me my sin and its everlasting punishment. They cannot touch that. And I am glad!"

"I will tell you all about it. Edwin, that was my son; my own dear, dear little boy. Ah, bye-low, bye-low, bye-low, rock-a-bye baby!"

It was terrible to hear that poor mother sing in her stifled, broken voice, laying one arm in the other and rocking it as if it were a young child. Then she gave a little scream and came to herself.

"Sister Perpetua, as you have mercy, do not let me lose myself again before I have told everything. What was I saying? Yes, my son Edwin. He was not bad. You must not believe that. I swear it. He was not bad. And he loved his mother. He did not love his father. His father was hard on him. Mr. Willett would blame my boy for reading a novel on Sunday, as if he had broken all the commandments. 'He that sins breaks the whole law,' Edwin's father would say. My son liked to do as others do. No worse than the others. When I could I gave him money. I sold some jewels. But my husband missed and asked for them. They were not mine. Only to wear. They were an investment. You know how some women live like queens and have not a dollar to spend as they please. That was the way with me. I have all Mr. Willett's money now. But it is ten years that I have not my son. Now I am going to find Edwin. Money will be of no use in hell—it would melt, would it not?"

She was wandering again, poor soul. Sister Perpetua gave her a spoonful of something from a vial. I noticed that the good sister began to look scared, and that made me feel a little lonesome. Mrs. Willett went on talking, all on one note, dull and hollow, like a woodpecker tapping, as you might say.

"Edwin had debts. For horses, wines, tailor's bills—I do not know what. Poor boy, he could not pass through certain streets, for fear of the cruel men whom he owed. He was his father's clerk. His salary was no more than that of the other clerks. He took $12,000 from the safe. If a speculation which he made had succeeded, he would have replaced the money. But the market dropped. And that money was only borrowed—an advance on what would some day be his own, you understand. His father found out about the deficit in the safe, and cursed him and sent for the police. Edwin could have escaped. But he stayed to kiss his mother good-bye. I hurried him out of the house. The officers called to him to stand still. He leaped down the steps to run. They sprang at him; he stumbled and fell. That killed my boy. I carried him in my arms into the house. They could not take him, dead, to prison. So I had him all to myself for a while. His father would not look at him. He told me that my son was in hell.

"I wished to have my child buried quietly, without persons coming to stare at him. His father would have all the relatives bidden. The clergyman said at the funeral that my son was in hell. Mr. Willett told him to say that. Told him to make Edwin serve as a warning to the young men of his kindred. I never went to church after that day. No matter what the preacher might say, I should always hear him declare that my son is in hell.

"A year later Mr. Willet had paralysis. I took care of him faithfully. There never was a word spoken between us about Edwin. When Mr. Willet was dying, he said to me: "Susanna, you have been a good wife to me. I hope to meet you above. I closed his eyes, and began to plan how to avoid him in eternity. For I want to live forever with my boy. He loved me. His father did not love me. He could not love anything but money and respectability. I trust that he has them where he is. Of course he is in heaven, for he always did what was right. But for virtue such as his there ought to be a heaven with hard golden pavements and no love. He would enjoy that. As for me, I will go with my son.

"Now listen; I thought that if my Edwin must go to hell for stealing, that would be the way for me, too. Otherwise going by a different path, I might miss him. But it is difficult for a woman to steal so much—$12,000. It would take a long time. But I could wait. I stole, stole, where I could. Every trifle—a fan, a bracelet—brought me a step further on the way that my son went. When I first thought of this plan, I was so happy that I laughed aloud. My good Delphine feared that I was going mad. For my son had not been dead two years—and I was laughing.

"I have never permitted any one to enter his room. I have dusted it every day myself. It is precisely as he left it. Everything which I stole I carried there. And I know that Edwin has seen how hard I have tried to come to him. It has been like digging a tunnel—down, down, down—with my teeth and nails. I have kept the account of all that I stole. It is a ledger there, debit and credit. I have paid my passage to hell. Names of shops, prices of articles, dates of theft, all are written in that book—$12,000 with that final $85. I registered the lace last night. And I arranged the articles according as they belong to different shops. Will you take them back for me to those shops—afterwards? And pay whatever is right for keeping the goods out so long? They will call me a kleptomanic, you know. They will pity me, perhaps. But I shall not need pity—for I shall be safe in hell with my son."

Then she turned sharply toward Sister Perpetua, who was running her beads through her fingers in what you might call a confusion of prayer and scare. I don't suppose that the good nun had ever heard anybody talk like that in all her life. And the Sisters of Charity see pretty much every sort too. They wouldn't care for a macadamized golden street—they deserve a soft place in the best kind of another world, for they practice good will and mercy in this one. As I was saying, Mrs. Willett turned sharp on Sister Perpetua and used plain language on her.

"You say that I ought to wish to go to heaven. You do not understand. I tell you that the name is nothing—heaven or hell. For me the good place is where my boy is! Stop praying if you believe that your prayer will keep me away from him. Have I worked hard at sin for eight long years to have you secure my pardon at last? Stop praying! Do you want to send me where Caleb Willet claws his golden harp with fingers that clutch as if they were counting money, with a golden crown on his doddering head? Do you suppose that I should care to meet him again? And the relatives who gloated over my poor boy and blamed him in his coffin! For all these years I have been doing evil to go to find my son. I would not have done so much not to meet his father again. And yet that would have been almost worth it! I was alone in mourning for my child. Now he will be all mine! All mine, my dear little Edwin!"

Then Mrs. Willet's voice was so choked that we could hardly catch her words. They were dreadful:

"Fire, fire, and the worm that dieth not. His father said that. My poor boy, do not be afraid. Mother is coming."

The pupils of her eyes grew larger, as if the light were falling before them. Then—and I am glad to remember it—the trouble and strain passed away from her face. She lifted herself a little, put out her arms toward something that the Sister and I could not see, and then fell back dead.

While Sister Perpetua was doing the last offices for the poor lady, I went into the son's chamber. It was the room of a rather frisky young fellow, for a fact. On the walls there were photographs of actresses and race-horses; lying about were cigarette cases, scarf-pins, theatre programmes, light gloves, a high-heeled red satin slipper, a perfumed note or two—all that sort of rubbish. A boy that thought he was seeing life; but I don't think he was a bad sort on the whole. I am bound to believe so, for his mother swore it to me. And she was a woman of honor. All the stolen goods were there, according to the schedule, and arranged as she had said. I went over her accounts and they were correct. She had stolen to the amount of an even $12,000.

After the funeral I got Sister Perpetua to help me pack up the finery. It needed a woman's hand, though Lucy would have done it better, being more accustomed to such things. I haven't told Lucy yet about the case of Mrs. Willett; somehow it doesn't seem fair. Perhaps I shall tell her after we are married, next summer. A man ought to tell his wife everything—isn't that about right?

As I said, Sister Perpetua and I packed up the goods, they were sent back to the owners, and it was all made square and hushed up. Of course, Mrs. Willett's lawyer had to know about the business, and he talked kleptomania. Nothing surprises New York much. Well, I could not help telling Sister Perpetua that, according to my belief, Mrs. Willet and her son would be agreeably disappointed in regard to her place in the next world. Because she was surely a noble-hearted woman and a mother as real as they make them; and it wasn't likely that her son was a bad fellow. In fact, she said that he was not. And we all of us run off the track sometimes. Then I saw that I had made a bad break, and corrected myself;

"Not you, of course, Sister. The most of us, I mean to say."

"We will trust that love has saved those two poor souls together," answered Sister Perpetua.—Commercial Gazette.

HOW TO KEEP BEES MAKING HONEY.

S. Simmons, the author of "A Modern Bee Farm," notes that "bees are never idle except from sheer force of circumstances; when it is cold in winter they simply cluster in one compact mass; but with each returning spell of milder weather this living ball expands, and many of the insects travel to the most distant sealed combs of honey, and commencing on the outer surface of each outside comb, the whole of the honey there stored is carried to those cells in close contact with the cluster." The bee code of industry will not even permit it to begin work at the easiest end. If this mental attitude were constant, it would baffle the aims of the modern bee-owner who seeks to provide his insects with the means to do more work in less time. They might refuse to use labor-saving apparatus provided on the ground that hard work was their summum bonum. But the bees are not so perverse. On the contrary, they welcome any contrivance which will enable them to do the maximum of work, and then disdaining the temptation of shorter hours, use it for the maximum of time, day by day.

The "personnel" of the hive being thus disposed, the object of the practical bee owner is first to obtain the largest number of workers before the honey-bearing flowers blossom, and then to set them to work in the factory on improved principles. This is the point at which most bee-keeping manuals begin, after references to the mental solace derived from the pursuit, and encouraging tables of profits made by the sale of honey. Large "stocks," or single communities, are produced by the queen bees. At what age the queen is "best is a point not agreed on by the authorities. Mr. Simmons holds that none should be kept after the second summer. Queen bees are a special product, provided as an article of separate purchase, and are often "mailed" from America in cages, though we learn that "recently, through the shortsightedness or the prejudice of the postal authorities, many foreign queens have been returned to the senders." The traveling cages of queen bees are among the minor appliances of the new bee machinery. They are made in three compartments, one of which is ventilated for a saloon in hot weather, one less airy in case of cooler temperature, while a third contains a food supply.

The "sweating" process begins with the queen who is encouraged to lay "early and often." British queen bees are admitted to do their duty in this respect. But foreign labor is introduced into the hives in competition with native industry, either by crossing with Cyprian, Carniolan or Syrian queens, or by importing the foreigners in a swarm. Carniolans are pronounced by Mr. Simmons to be "the bees for beginners."

THE PREPARATION OF MEATS.

Butcher's meat (in France) is prepared, divided and arranged in the shops in such a manner that it never suggests slaughter. It is a rare thing for one to see a stain on counter, bench or floor. The mode of killing the animals probably has something to do with this freedom from moisture and dripping. Maria Parloa, in an article on "The Science of French Cooking," in The Ladies' Home Journal for October, says the animals are not bled before being killed, as might be inferred from the absence of moisture, but they are killed in such a manner that veins and arteries are emptied quickly and thoroughly. After this the animal is bouffee, that is filled with wind. The large arteries are presssed open and the points of large bellows are inserted into them. While the bellows are being worked a man beats all parts of the carcass with a flat stick. This is to distribute the air in all parts of the flesh. All this work is done very rapidly. The inflating of the animal in this manner gives a fuller and firmer appearance to the meat, and, I fancy, empties the veins and arteries more effectually than they would otherwise be. The French use very little ice, and meats are kept only a few days at the most. The best of beef in France does not compare with American beef, but the veal is superior to anything we have. It is valued more highly than any other product of the butcher. But no matter what the viand, when it comes to the hands of the cook it is so prepared that she has but little to do to it except to cook it.

"I may be young," said the very young man, "but my love for your daughter is as strong and true as if I were whitened by the snows of innumerable winters." "Oh, I don't doubt your love," replied the stern father, "but have you ever had the measles or the whooping cough? It wouldn't be fair, you know, for us to take you into the family and have to nurse you through these complaints some time or other."—Indianapolis Journal.

The Journal.

FRIDAY EVENING, NOVEMBER 8, 1895.

HANDSOMELY INDORSED.

Greenhalge Gets a Plurality of 64,499.

Republicans Win Almost Everywhere Except in New York.

Sheriff Clark's Big Majority—Partial A. P. A. Defeat in Springfield.

Republicans Carry New Jersey, also Maryland — Democrats Swamped in Ohio—Republican Gains in Iowa—No Gains for Democrats Anywhere.

It was a great Republican day Tuesday, and from all sections of the country come reports of that party's victories. Massachusetts gives Governor Greenhalge well merited endorsement in the plurality of 64,449, besides re-electing the entire state ticket. One hundred members of the House are re-elected, and 23 senators, while several have been promoted from the House to the Senate. The antagonism of the A. P. A. to Sheriff Clark apparently drove the voters to his aid in flocks, for his vote was 12,789 to 6510 for Brooks, a majority of 6279, a wonderful figure; it was a handsome compliment to a most deserving official. Mr. Brooks failed to carry a single town in the county. Col. Young of Springfield gets a re-election to the House, his A. P. A. friends being too numerous for Mr. Phelps, although the latter made an excellent running, being defeated by only 135 votes in a district which last year gave Col. Young 337; Col. Young's vote was 107 less than last year, while Mr. Phelps received 295 more than last year's candidate. The vote on the woman suffrage question was about 40,000 against.

Probably the greatest surprise of the election locally was the vote given Thomas W. Kenefick, Democrat, for representative from the Tenth Hampden district, over Porter A. Parker of Brimfield, Republican. Mr. Kenefick carried Palmer by 167 plurality, and had a plurality of 84 in the district, a vote of which he may well feel proud. Many Republicans voted for Mr. Kenefick, but Mr. Parker is himself somewhat responsible for that. Although in every way worthy to represent the district, Mr. Parker is not widely known in Palmer and Ludlow, and from the first steadily refused to even go out and be introduced to the people. The average voter likes to meet the man who is seeking his vote in a local election, and while Mr. Parker remained at home Mr. Kenefick increased his previous wide acquaintance throughout the district. Had Mr. Parker made himself known, the returns Tuesday night would have given him different figures.

The following table will give the result of the voting in this vicinity:

FIRST DISTRICT.

	Governor.			Lieut-Gov.
	Greenhalge.	Kendall.	Williams.	Grinnell.	Wolcott.
Hampden Co.
Agawam	140	4	88	91	127
Blandford	69	8	31	30	67
Chester	119	5	58	60	113
Granville	55	5	42	43	55
Holyoke	1663	151	2075	2146	1619
Montgomery	23	4	19	19	23
Russell	58	..	49	47	54
Southwick	114	10	70	71	113
Tolland	20	1	15	15	19
Westfield	1039	69	709	813	1011
West Springfield	462	27	276	375	549
1 city, 10 towns,	3762	284	3522	3610	3640
Hampshire Co.
Chesterfield	61	9	18	16	59
Cummington	93	14	23	21	91
Goshen	29	1	3	2	29
Hatfield	150	2	80	79	145
Huntington	117	5	51	49	115
Middlefield	35	8	7	7	35
Plainfield	67	4	7	7	66
Southampton	85	10	13	12	83
Westhampton	45	17	11	9	46
Williamsburg	164	43	146	143	159
Worthington	77	6	9	10	77
11 towns,	923	119	368	355	905
Franklin Co.
Ashfield	102	10	29	33	101
Bernardston	83	5	32	18	77
Buckland	116	10	86	93	106
Charlemont	111	17	21	19	112
Coleraine	129	3	26	27	123
Conway	131	21	38	38	121
Deerfield	251	15	142	149	226
Gill	81	6	33	29	90
Greenfield	588	52	353	402	533
Hawley	50	8	2	2	50
Heath	56	..	14	15	54
Heyden	27	4	14	13	29
Monroe	24	1	6	6	21
Rowe	44	7	8	8	43
Shelburne	196	19	61	59	196
Whately	78	5	49	47	66
16 towns,	2067	183	914	958	1948
Berkshire Co.
Adams	566	16	343	535	535
Alford	17	4	42	41	19
Becket	77	11	65	62	75
Cheshire	108	8	77	77	100
Clarksburg	71	3	22	19	70
Dalton	284	15	191	190	273
Egremont	112	14	60	61	106
Florida	46	4	10	8	46
Great Barrington	451	13	376	364	444
Hancock	51	..	15	14	52
Hinsdale	104	15	137	131	108
Lanesboro	98	6	46	46	95
Lee	338	42	282	269	312
Lenox	151	7	190	182	148
Monterey	58	..	29	30	56
Mount Washington	16	1	4	4	16
New Ashford	12	1	12	12	14
New Marlboro	113	7	96	92	114
North Adams	1569	49	826	773	1519
Otis	69	5	42	48	69
Peru	32	6	14	15	31
Pittsfield	1740	53	1731	1491	1212
Richmond	48	4	33	29	49
Sandisfield	98	..	73	67	98
Savoy	58	7	28	28	57
Sheffield	183	11	105	108	180
Stockbridge	196	8	121	116	185
Tyringham	58	1	23	23	52
Washington	36	6	24	24	32
West Stockbridge	99	6	105	101	95
Williamstown	415	26	186	189	393
Windsor	40	12	18	16	41
1 city, 31 towns,	7305	360	5126	4983	7087
Total,	14057	946	9930	9906	13580

SECOND DISTRICT.

	Governor.			Lieut-Gov.
	Greenhalge.	Kendall.	Williams.	Grinnell.	Wolcott.
Hampden Co.
Brimfield	83	6	41	39	82
Chicopee	816	44	816	866	685
East Longmeadow	78	14	20	28	78
Hampden	46	..	28	25	44
Holland	23	..	4	5	21
Longmeadow	47	..	22	22	46
Ludlow	115	11	79	77	111
Monson	317	18	164	164	308
Palmer	477	27	388	385	423
Springfield	4360	410	2776	2713	4214
Wales	69	..	21	21	69
Wilbraham	106	14	51	59	110
9 cities, 10 towns,	6397	541	4419	4395	6191
Hampshire Co.
Amherst	367	40	105	132	352
Belchertown	131	7	66	62	140
Easthampton	383	27	185	187	377
Enfield	136	16	9	16	132
Granby	53	7	21	20	54
Greenwich	63	3	16	14	60
Hadley	140	8	31	29	146
Northampton	1086	126	757	753	1049
Pelham	38	1	13	11	38
Prescott	47	..	12	12	52
South Hadley	312	26	131	139	321
Ware	462	14	506	496	449
1 city 11 tow.as,	3218	275	1832	1871	3170
Franklin Co.
Ervin	102	5	67	62	106
Leverett	60	7	16	18	59
Montague	390	23	355	355	407
New Salem	63	12	15	14	61
Northfield	133	13	60	61	133
Orange	674	..	212	206	650
Shutesbury	42	1	12	14	38
Sunderland	108	15	23	23	108
Warwick	44	3	24	25	43
Wendell	35	2	29	30	36
10 towns,	1651	81	806	808	1641
Worcester Co.
Athol	627	36	266	262	607
Barre	240	14	87	88	211
Brookfield	246	12	191	182	255
Dana	55	10	24	23	55
Hardwick	159	4	100	87	177
New Braintree	37	2	19	17	39
North Brookfield	326	12	313	305	323
Oakham	73	3	32	31	70
Petersham	105	1	54	59	99
Phillipston	53	4	6	5	54
Royalston	94	11	20	22	87
Templeton	276	..	130	128	278
Warren	310	26	144	132	304
West Brookfield	128	..	94	94	125
Winchendon	404	32	153	153	395
15 towns,	3122	167	1633	1598	3075
Total,	14357	946	9930	9906	13580

VOTE FOR SENATORS.

FIRST HAMPDEN DISTRICT.

[Candidates: Edward S. Bradford of Springfield, rep.; E. H. Lathrop of Springfield, dem.; N. W. Merrill of Springfield, pro.]

Hampden Co.	Bradford.	Lathrop.	Merrill
Brimfield	82	37	....
Holland	24	4	....
Monson	303	161	....
Palmer	405	267	....
Springfield	4 0?2	3048	....
Wales	70	25	....
Wilbraham	105	54	....
Totals 7 towns	5091	3696	....

Plurality for Bradford, 1395

SECOND HAMPDEN DISTRICT.

[Candidates: Henry C. Bliss of West Springfield, rep.; W. A. Chase of Holyoke, dem.]

Hampden Co.	Bliss.	Chase
Agawam	138	89
Chicopee	909	817
East Longmeadow	37	57
Granville	....	....
Hampden	47	28
Holyoke	1173	2870
Longmeadow	....	....
Ludlow	125	78
Montgomery	23	18
Southwick	113	77
Tolland	21	14
Westfield	1035	884
West Springfield	393	276
Majority of 13 towns	4217	5271

Majority for Chase, 1054.

WORCESTER-HAMPSHIRE DISTRICT.

Percival Blodgett of Templeton, rep.,	3887
John F. Green of Hardwick, dem.,	2218
W. S. Ward of Templeton, pro.,	326

Plurality for Blodgett over Green, 1669.

VOTE FOR COUNTY OFFICERS.

HAMPDEN COUNTY SHERIFF AND COUNTY COMMISSIONER.

[Candidates: Sheriff, Embury P. Clark of Springfield, rep.; Simon Brooks of Springfield, dem.; county commissioner, James M. Sickman of Holyoke, rep.; Charles H. Knox of Chester, dem.]

	Sheriff.		County Commissioner.
	Brooks.	Clark.	Knox.	Sickmann.
Towns.
Agawam	85	151	88	141
Blandford	32	71	35	69
Brimfield	40	83	40	83
Chester	64	114	97	82
Chicopee	570	1143	824	844
East Longmeadow	37	83	29	79
Granville	44	58	43	57
Hampden	26	48	26	43
Holland	5	22	4	23
Holyoke	4129	2733	1814	2250
Longmeadow	25	42	24	43
Ludlow	78	123	78	117
Monson	157	318	171	288
Montgomery	21	24	21	24
Palmer	412	422	386	401
Russell	46	56	48	51
Southwick	73	122	74	113
Springfield	2182	5388	3848	4570
Tolland	16	20	14	23
Wales	23	64	22	69
Westfield	874	1058	886	1019
West Springfield 1	236	530	289	445
Wilbraham	54	116	48	116
Totals 23 towns	6510	12789	8968	10597

Majority for Clark, 6279.
Majority for Sickman, 2049.

HAMPSHIRE COUNTY COMMISSIONER.

Eugene E. Davis of Northampton, rep,	4118
A. J. Fargo of Easthampton, dem.,	2167
L. E. Parsons of Easthamptom, pro.,	360

Plurality of Davis over Fargo, 1951.

VOTE FOR REPRESENTATIVES.

HAMPDEN COUNTY.

District No. 9—[Candidates: Charles W. King of Monson, rep.; William Sutcliffe of Monson, dem.]

Towns.	King.	Sutcliffe.
Hampden	45	26
East Longmeadow	79	31
Longmeadow	43	23
Monson	305	187
Wales	66	26
Wilbraham	119	49
Totals,	557	342

Majority for King over Sutcliffe, 315.

District No. 10—[Candidates: Porter A. Parker of Brimfield, rep.; Thomas W. Kenefick of Palmer, dem.]

Towns	Kenefick.	Parker.
Brimfield	38	89
Holland	9	16
Ludlow	88	113
Palmer	515	348
Totals,	650	556

Majority for Kenefick over Parker, 84.

HAMPSHIRE COUNTY.

District No. 4—[Candidates: Myron S. Barton of Belchertown, rep.; G. C. Allen of Belchertown, dem.; Thomas Charmbury of Amherst, pro.]

Towns.	Allen.	Barton.	Charmbury.
Amherst	112	338	71
Belchertown	....	....	....
Granby	28	45	6
Totals,	218	520	82

Plurality for Barton over Allen, 302.

District No. 5—[Candidates: T. M. Harrington of Prescott, rep.; George D. Storrs of Ware, dem.]

Towns.	Harrington.	Storrs.
Enfield	119	35
Greenwich	66	17
Pelham	38	15
Prescott	58	8
Ware	187	613
Totals,	668	688

Majority for Storrs over Harrington, 20.

THE VOTE ON WOMAN SUFFRAGE.

HAMPDEN COUNTY.

	Men.		Women.
	Yes.	No.	Yes.	No.
Agawam	75	118	1	....
Blandford	25	57	1	....
Brimfield	38	54	....	....
Chester	51	107	18	....
Chicopee	451	1041	49	1
E. Longmeadow	23	64	4	....
Granville	51	32	....	....
Hampden	18	37	15	....
Holland	12	15	4	....
Holyoke	1104	2498	46	1
Longmeadow	11	46	....	1
Ludlow	65	102	3	....
Monson	156	260	3	6
Montgomery	19	22	....	....
Palmer	221	525	59	1
Russell	18	71	....	....
Southwick	54	113	8	....
Springfield	2280	3675	651	7
Tolland	13	11	....	....
Wales	26	37	....	....
Westfield	535	1086	159	1
W. Springfield	232	381	24	....
Wilbraham	62	85	7	....
Totals,	5547	10428	1052	18

HAMPSHIRE COUNTY.

	Men.		Women.
	Yes.	No.	Yes.	No.
Amherst	173	251	29	....
Belchertown	72	108	24	3
Chesterfield	32	37	13	....
Cummington	53	52	36	....
Easthampton	135	404	11	....
Enfield	33	95	9	....
Granby	22	35	1	1
Greenwich	32	35	10	....
Goshen	8	21	1	....
Hadley	60	77	8	....
Hatfield	45	110	5	1
Huntington	37	107	13	....
Middlefield	42	18	....	....
Northampton	614	987	225	3
Pelham	13	23	3	....
Prescott	23	28	....	....
Plainfield	30	24	7	....
South Hadley	191	293	40	....
Southampton	45	36	22	....
Ware	176	618	58	....
Westhampton	23	42	....	....
Williamsburg	81	208	31	....
Worthington	47	31	15	....
Totals,	2067	3640	561	8

BERKSHIRE COUNTY.

	Men.		Women.
	Yes.	No.	Yes.	No.
Adams	247	506	....	....
Alford	22	37	8	1
Becket	42	68	....	....
Cheshire	15	35	....	....
Clarksburg	9	41	....	....
Dalton	90	288	5	....
Egremont	75	110	30	5
Florida	6	28	....	....
Gt. Barrington	34	552	....	....
Hancock	17	32	....	....
Hinsdale	63	173	....	....
Lanesboro	42	63	....	....
Lee	122	442	....	....
Lenox	82	149	....	....
Monterey	26	56	13	....
Mt. Washington	3	12	....	....
New Ashford	10	16	....	....
New Marlboro	60	114	....	....
North Adams	683	1340	....	....
Otis	27	52	....	....
Peru	25	22	....	....
Pittsfield	802	1873	....	....
Richmond	27	29	....	....
Sandisfield	19	42	....	....
Savoy	5	34	....	..
Sheffield	75	201	47	16
Stockbridge	68	174	....	....
Tyringham	16	34	....	....
Washington	15	35	....	....
W. Stockbridge	61	120	12	....
Williamstown	162	360	....	....
Windsor	35	34	7	....
Totals,	2982	7072	159	24

In Other States.

Pennsylvania's plurality is 161,914.

Kentucky is Republican by nearly 5000.

Iowa gave her governor 80,000 plurality.

Nebraska elects a Republican governor by about 15,000 plurality.

New Jersey goes Republican for the first time since 1872, and with a plurality of about 15,000. Five of the seven new senators are Republican.

Utah is Republican by from 1000 to 1500. One Democratic congressman is elected, but the Legislature is Republican, assuring two United States senators for that party.

While the Republicans carried New York by something like 90,000 plurality, Tammany is victorious in New York city by about 20,000 over the fusion ticket. Both branches of the Legislature are Republican.

Ex-Governor Campbell of Ohio, who was confident of reducing McKinley's 80,000 plurality of 1893 to less than 30,000, was defeated by over 400,000; on joint ballot the Legislature will be Republican by 87.

In Maryland "Boss" Gorman's candidate for governor, Hurst, was beaten by 17,000 majority, and the balance of the Republican state ticket was elected by about 10,000. The Democrats control the senate, but the Republicans will have a majority of 47 on a joint ballot.

LOCAL NOTICES.

C Ullie Akerstrom in "Miss Rora," Nov. 8.

Home made bread and pastry at Smith Grocery Co's. store.

FINE STATIONERY.—Blue is the fashionable shade for ladies' correspondence paper now, and "Ciel Bleu" is the very latest and most correct. "Prince of Wales" is another popular style, and comes in four shades, Silver Blue, Cream, French Grey and Beryl. Samples of all these papers and the fashionable sizes now prevailing can be seen at the JOURNAL Office.

PALMER NEWS.

The Electric Road Franchise Granted.

The directors of the Palmer and Monson Street Railway Company were yesterday granted permission by the selectmen to build a street railway through certain streets of the town. The franchise gives the right to construct, maintain and operate a single-track street railway, with the necessary turnouts and switches, curves and sidings, upon and along the following streets and highways of the town: Beginning at the boundary line between the towns of Palmer and Monson on the highway from Palmer to Monson through Tenneyville, thence following said highway to and through Main street in Palmer to Thorndike street; thence through Thorndike street to the village of Thorndike; thence along Commercial street in Thorndike to the road leading to Three Rivers; thence along said road through Four Corners and along Main street to and through said Three Rivers to the iron bridge over the Quaboag River. Also from the boundary line between the towns of Palmer and Monson on the Quarry road leading from Palmer to Monson, thence on said Quarry road, otherwise called Commercial street, to Main street in the village of Palmer. Also beginning at a point on the highway leading from Thorndike to Three Rivers, where the same is intersected at Four Corners by the road leading from Bondsville and Duckville, thence along the last named road, passing westerly of Lily Pond, to and through Bondsville along the river road to and through Duckville to the station of the Massachusetts Central Railroad Company at said Duckville. Also beginning at a point on said road leading from Palmer to Thorndike where the same is intersected by the road leading easterly of the house of Michael Roach to the direct road from Thorndike to Whipple's crossing, thence along said road, passing easterly of the house of said Roach, to and along said road leading to Whipple's Crossing to said Whipple's Crossing. Also through the road leading from the highway from Palmer to Thorndike along the northerly side of the house of Michael Roach to said road leading to Whipple's Crossing. The franchise is subject to such rules and regulations as the board of selectmen may from time to time establish and enact.

Permission is granted to use animal or other motive power except steam, but especially electricity supplied by means of a single overhead trolley wire, the electrical current being completed by the rails of the road, and the company is authorized and empowered to erect and maintain along the public streets and highways upon which the tracks of the company are located such posts, brackets, cross arms, wires and fixtures as may be required to properly support and maintain the overhead trolley and feed wires. The guage of the track is to be 4 feet 8½ inches, and the railway company is to keep in good repair and safe and convenient for public travel the space between the tracks and 18 inches outside thereof. Where the location of the track shall permit the travel of teams on both sides of it the rails shall be flat; at other places the rails shall be what is known as the "T" rail, weighing not less than 50 pounds to the yard, laid on chestnut or cedar sleepers not more than 30 inches apart measuring from center to center, and of suitable size to firmly hold the spikes of the rails. The location and allignment of the tracks, curves, turnouts and switches are to be fixed by the selectmen, and the track laid to conform to the present grade of the street or highway. If in the future the grade of the street is changed the company shall at its own expense change its tracks to conform therewith. When the track is located at the side of the traveled part of the street 18 feet outside of the tracks shall be left, not including ditches, for a road bed. The expense of widening the road, if necessary, to this width, is to be borne by he company, which shall also bear the expense of retaining walls where such are necessary in cuts or fills. At cross walks and street crossings for foot passengers the same material as that used by the town in their construction shall be used by the company between its tracks and for a distance of 18 inches outside thereof; at driveways which lead to the street or highway on the side on which the tracks are located, planking or other material shall be used by the company to make such approaches to the street over its tracks safe and convenient for use, and such approaches shall be kept in repair by the company to the approval of the selectmen. In the construction of the road the company shall not unreasonably impede public travel, and all streets and highways are to be left in as good and safe condition as when the work on the road is commenced. The poles used by the company shall be of chestnut, not less than 30 feet long and seven inches through at the top, straight and well shaved, set not less than six feet in the ground, and those in the villages painted not less than two coats of paint of such color as the selectmen may designate. The trolley wires are to be maintained at every point of suspension not less than 18 feet above the surface of the street, and the company shall at all times maintain such guard wires as the selectmen may require. All snow or other material placed on the streets or highways through any act of the company in keeping its tracks open for travel shall be removed within twenty-four hours, so as to leave the streets safe and convenient for public travel; failing to do this it may be removed by the selectmen at the expense of the railway company. The town may, for the purpose of repairing or altering its streets or highways, take up or obstruct the tracks of the company so far as may be necessary, without being liable in damages to said company. All drains, culverts, sluices or bridges which in the judgment of the selectmen need to be altered shall be done by the company at its own expense. The company is allowed to trim trees for the erection of its wires only under the supervision of the selectmen, and all expenses and damages shall be paid by the company. The company shall at all times provide suitable and sufficient cars, and run the same at such intervals as shall reasonably accommodate the citizens of the town. The company is to pay and save the town from all claims and damages resulting to persons or property by reason of any alteration made in the street or highways, as well as by reason of the construction or use of its track, poles, wires and other structures, and also from the use of electricity by the company; the town shall notify the company of any suit or claim brought against it, and the company shall defend all suits at its own expense.

If the railway company wishes to accept this franchise it must within 30 days file with the clerk of the selectmen such acceptance in writing.

At a session of the probate court held in Springfield Wednesday, this business was among that transacted: Wills proved of —Caroline C. Harvey, late of Palmer, Charles B. Fiske executor; Hannah L. W. Marble, late of Hampden, Rosa E. Thresher, executrix. Accounts allowed in estates of —Lawson Kinney, late of Brimfield, Sara E. Kinney executrix; Esther I. Kinney, late of Brimfield, Samuel L. Gleason executor. Sale of real estate was granted in the estate of George R. and Hattie M. Booth of Ludlow.

How Palmer Voted.

GOVERNOR.

Precinct	A	B	C	D	Total
E Gerry Brown, p. p,	3	..	2		5
Frederic T. Greenhalge, r,	236	81	76	34	427
Edward Kendall, p,	18	3	1	5	27
Moritz E. Ruther, s. l,	3	1	2		6
George Fred Williams, d,	167	125	56	50	398
Blanks,	24	12	6	8	50

LIEUTENANT GOVERNOR.

Thomas C. Buddington, p. p,	4				4
James S. Grinnell, d,	160	118	56	51	385
Patrick S. O'Neil, s. l,	4	3			7
Edward S. Rogers, p,	14	1	2	5	22
Roger Wolcott, r,	234	81	75	33	423
Blanks,	35	19	10	8	72

SECRETARY OF STATE.

Edward J. Flynn, d,	147	121	53	47	368
Joseph F. Maloney, s. l,	4	2	1		7
Charles D. Nash, p. p.,	1	2			3
William M. Olin, r,	244	77	75	32	428
Willard O. Wylie, p,	14	1	2	5	22
Blanks,	41	19	12	13	85

TREASURER.

Martin W. Moran, p. p,	4	2	3		9
Wilbur M. Purrington, p,	11	2	5		18
Edward P. Shaw, r,	230	82	74	30	416
Eben S. Stevens, d,	155	118	51	50	374
Charles M. Wentworth, s. l,	2	1	1		4
Blanks,	49	19	12	12	92

AUDITOR.

John W. Kimball, r,	237	73	72	31	403
Frederick A. Nagler, s. l,	2	1	3		6
Andrew H. Paton, p. p,	1	1			2
Herman T. Regnell, p,	14	2	1	5	22
Alfred C. Whitney, d,	158	117	50	52	377
Blanks,	49	28	17	9	103

ATTORNEY GENERAL.

Frank M. Forbush, p,	14	2	2	8	26
Henry F. Hulburt, d,	159	115	52	51	377
Hosea M. Knowlton, r,	222	78	74	26	398
Squire E. Putney, s. l,	2	2	1		5
Conrad Reno, p. p,	2	2		1	5
Blanks,	52	23	16	11	102

COUNCILOR—EIGHTH DISTRICT.

John C. Perry, p,	33	16	10	13	72
Charles A. Towne, r,	258	101	81	36	476
F. B. Pope,	1				1
Blanks,	159	105	52	48	364

SENATOR—FIRST HAMPDEN DISTRICT.

Edward S. Bradford, r,	228	79	69	29	405
Edward H. Lathrop, d,	162	123	59	53	397
Nelson W. Merrill, p,	10	1	2	4	17
Blanks,	54	19	13	11	94

REPRESENTATIVE—TENTH HAMPDEN DISTRICT.

Thomas W. Kenefick, d,	253	136	68	58	515
Porter A. Parker, r,	176	75	66	31	348
Blanks,	22	11	9	8	50

DISTRICT ATTORNEY—BERKSHIRE-HAMPDEN DISTRICT.

Charles L. Gardner, r,	356	151	101	64	672
Thomas W. Kenefick,	1				1
S. S. Taft,	1				1
Blanks,	93	71	42	33	239

COUNTY COMMISSIONER.

Charles H. Knox, d,	155	124	53	54	386
James H. Sickman, r,	225	74	73	29	401
Blanks,	71	24	17	14	126

SPECIAL COMMISSIONERS.

Benjamin F. Burr, r,	219	68	68	28	383
Daniel Dunn, d,	136	114	51	53	354
J. Murray Gibbons, d,	112	84	38	38	272
Harrison Loomis, r,	204	64	62	27	358
Blanks,	231	114	66	48	459

SHERIFF.

Simon Brooks, d,	191	120	53	48	412
Embury P. Clark, r,	226	78	78	40	422
Blanks,	34	24	12	9	79

WOMAN SUFFRAGE REFERENDUM.

Males	Yes,	114	35	39	33	221
	No,	240	144	87	54	525
Blanks,		97	43	17	10	167
Females	Yes,	50	5		4	59
	No,	1				1

Mrs. L. A. Royce is visiting her sister in Worcester.

Henry Bogue of Norwich is visiting his son, Albert Bogue.

C. A. Peck is entertaining his mother and sister from New Britain, Ct.

Mrs. Ella Washburn has returned from a visit in Northern New York.

Mrs. Albert Loomis has gone to New Haven to visit her daughter.

Mrs. S. C. Whittemore is the guest of her granddaughter, Mrs. G. Ezekiel.

John Helliwell is building a sidewalk in front of his property on Knox street.

J. Harold Shaw and E. S. Gardner were home from Amherst College over Sunday.

E. H. Truesdell has had a granite curbing set in front of his residence on Main street.

John and Garfield Darling of Barnet, Vt., are visiting their sister, Mrs. E. H. Rollins.

Clarence D. Wing is home from the military academy at Peekskill, N. Y., for a vacation.

Mrs. J. F. McIlvane of Brushton, N. Y., is visiting her daughter, Mrs. Ella Washburn.

Mrs. Bancroft and children of Southbridge are visiting her mother, Mrs. L. G. Parkhurst.

Mrs. W. G. Ruggles of South Orange, N. J., is the guest of her sister, Mrs. O. M. Wood.

Miss Katherine Cramer of Ann Arbor, Mich., is a guest of Mr. and Mrs. H. P. Holden.

Electric lights have been placed in the dental office of Dr. O. P. Roller in the Lawence block.

Two new cases of scarlet fever have made their appearance in Thorndike, in the family of John Riley.

At the Congregational church next Sunday evening the pastor will conduct a question box service.

H. A. Holland's dancing class was largely increased at the session this week, and now numbers about 60.

Mrs. H. B. May of Albany, N. Y., has been spending the week with her mother, Mrs. C. E. Dewey.

Mrs. L. M. Parkhurst and children of Spencer are visiting her mother, Mrs. E. G. Buss, on State avenue.

William Young and family have arrived at the Converse House, where they will probably spend the winter.

N. W. Chandler was home from New York to vote Tuesday, and was one of the election officers in precinct A.

The W. C. T. U. will hold a meeting in the parlors of the Congregational church next Tuesday afternoon at 3 o'clock.

The Eaton Club of St. Paul's church cleared about $20 by its oyster supper and entertainment Tuesday evening.

The Odd Fellows will receive an official visit next Wednesday evening from District Deputy F. R. Sistare of Springfield.

A delegation from the Woman's Relief Corps visited the corps at North Brookfield Wednesday, and report a most enjoyable time.

Next Sunday will be the twenty-third after Pentecost at St. Thomas' Catholic church, with masses at 8.30 and 10.30 a.

The Journal.

FRIDAY EVENING, NOVEMBER 8, 1895.

NEIGHBORHOOD NOTES.

MONSON.

LOCAL NOTICES.

C Ullie Akerstrom in "Miss Rora," Nov. 8.

State Street School Lot Bounds in Dispute.

The ownership of the land lying on the north side of State street, between Chicopee brook and Pearl street, is a question which is interesting the citizens. It came before them in this way: It was deemed advisable to fence in the school property, which is bounded on the west by the brook, on the north by Postmaster Herlihy's house lot, on the east by a strip of land supposed to be 30 feet wide paid for by Mr. Herlihy. Horace Squier, a member of the school board, when verifying the bounds, was informed by Mr. Herlihy that the town had encroached upon this strip of land at the southwest corner. This he thought was due to the inaccurate laying out of State street. As the record of the transfer of the land embracing State street is somewhat complicated, the school committee favored the building of the fence according to the school property deed, taking the junction of the brook and the road as a starting point, and making measurements in each direction according to the number of rods therein stated. The selectmen made a survey of State street yesterday, and comparing deeds found that the number of rods on the south bounds of the school property and the William Lewis property make the number of rods which actually lie between the brook and Pearl street. The north bounds, however, leave 30 feet to spare between the east bound of the school property and the west bound of the Lewis property. Mr. Herlihy regrets that the matter should have caused any controversy, as he is very sure that the man of whom he purchased will be perfectly willing to make it right if he made a mistake.

Eugene Field Formerly a Monson Student.

Eugene Field, of Chicago, whose death has occurred this week, is remembered as a student in the home of Rev. James Tufts from 1865 to 1868. He was fourteen years old when he came here. Mr. Tufts fitted him for college, but after two or three months spent at Williams he returned to Mr. Tufts's for about three months, then went to Knox University. He had a great affection for Mr. and Mrs. Tufts, and has always corresponded with them. He is recalled as a boy not over-fond of study, but remarkably bright in conversation, prose and poetry writing, and drawing. He was a general favorite. In many of his poems reference is made to Monson and Monson people. "My Playmates," recently published in the JOURNAL, being one of them. In his letters frequent mention is made of his children, of whom he was particularly fond, and his poems evidence this in a marked degree.

Mrs. George C. Flynt is visiting her mother in Brooklyn.

J. S. Bogan has sold to H. S. Harris the Duncan farm for $1000.

Mrs. Justin Stebbins of Brooklyn, N. Y., called on friends in town Tuesday.

The A. A. Gage camp, Sons of Veterans, have a meeting next Tuesday evening.

Mrs. Esther L. Hill of Norwich is visiting her old school friend, Mrs. G. H. Newton.

Miss Carrie L. Chapin returned Saturday from Springfield, where she spent several days.

Miss Lillie Homer is visiting her aunt in Boston. She will remain there several weeks.

Rev. F. S. Hatch will preach next Sunday morning on "How did God Inspire the Bible?"

Mr. and Mrs. D. Frank Winter of Stafford, Ct., visited Mr. and Mrs. Henry E. Bugbee last week.

Miss Letha Potter is visiting in North Grafton. Mrs. E. B. Potter is also there for a few days.

There will be a parish meeting in the Congregational church next Tuesday evening at 7.45 o'clock.

Rev. W. H. Marble will take for his subject next Sunday morning, "When Revivals are Needed."

Willaim Doyle has left the employ of Dr. George E. Fuller. His place is taken by Master Draire.

The Ladies' Circle will serve a chicken-pie supper in the Universalist church next Tuesday evening from 6 to 8.

Rev. W. H. Marble of the Monson Epworth League attended the convention held in Springfield Wednesday.

J. S. Bogan has sold his four-tenement house north of the railroad station to W. P. Abbe of Chicopee for $2500.

Ths regular business meeting of the Epworth League will be held in the Methodist church next Monday evening.

On election day the new engine house was thrown open for the inspection of the voters, and had a number of visitors.

Mr. and Mrs. T. H. Todd and E. J. Osborne attended the Epworth League convention in Springfield Wednesday.

Herbert M. Smith ran against a tree with his wheel on High street one day this week, and the wheel was badly injured.

C. A. Sweet hopes to complete his house, corner of East State and Gates streets, this month. It is now being plastered.

The Monson Brass Band is to give a drama, followed by a dance, the latter part of next month or the first of January.

Miss Veitch of Ansonia, Ct., who has been spending several weeks with her sister, Mrs. T. H. Todd, returns to her home next Monday.

Mrs. Luther B. Peck will move from her new house to her old one, occupying the front tenement instead of the one she vacated this summer.

Miss Nellie Taft of New York city, who has spent the week with Rev. and Mrs. Tufts, returns to-morrow. She is engaged in kindergarten mission work.

The cellar wall and foundation for George H. Norcross's house on North Main street are being laid, and connections have been made with the town water system.

RUBBERS THAT WEAR.

Fuller has added a complete line of Goodyear Glove Rubbers. If you want good wearing rubbers try the Goodyear Glove.

ALL-WOOL FELT BOOTS.

If you drive a team or have to be out in the cold, you cannot have cold feet in the kind of Felt Boots Fuller sells for $2.00.

BEST OF ALL.

Men's Woonsocket Rubber Boots for only $2.85; this price is subject to change at any time; if you need rubber boots buy them now for $2 85.

◆◆◆◆◆◆◆◆

Geo. L. Fuller,

the distributor of fine fitting shoes.

Monson, - Mass.

Mrs. Inez Ferrell has sold a large tract of land lying east of Pearl street to William H. Gifford. Some of it is suitable for building lots, but is now used for pasturage.

Miss Mabelle Tucker, of the class of '95, Monson Academy, has received an appointment as teacher at No. 13, to take the place of Miss Nellie Green, who has resigned on account of ill health.

David W. Darling died Monday at his home in Silver Street, at the age of 83. The funeral was held yesterday, Rev. F. S. Hatch officiating. Mr. Darling left a wife, who is very feeble, and four sons.

The state highway is nearly completed. Thomas J. Mills has the contract for building the boundary fence, which was begun this week. J. Martin Webber furnishes the posts, of which there are 300.

The bank wall which is to extend around the south and east bounds of the Center cemetery is well under way. According to the plan it would seem that about a rod of the highway would be taken in.

Monson was the first town in Hampden county to get in the election returns, and was the only town in Hampden or Hampshire counties where a majority of the women who voted on the referendum voted no.

Edwin C. Bradway had his hand badly bitten and scratched by a cat which he was holding. The cat's teeth penetrated a heavy buckskin glove. The cat had lived in Rogers's market, but was somewhat wild.

The Dorcas Society held its first regular meeting of the season at Miss Esther R. Holmes's Wednesday, with an unusually large attendance. Forty ladies were present. The society will have a sale some time in December.

The three months' old child of King H. and Margaret F. Moore died yesterday of meningitis after an illness of two days. The funeral took place to-day, Rev. Harry Blackford officiating. The burial was in No. 9 cemetery.

Battle-field Guide Luther W. Minnigh will deliver his illustrated lecture this evening in Memorial Hall upon the "Battle of Gettysburg." Marcus Keep post, under whose auspices he comes, are sure that the lecture will prove interesting.

Arrangements are being made for union evangelistic services in the Methodist and Congregational churches the latter part of this month. Rev. W. A. Dunnet will be accompanied by the Canadian gospel singers, H. J. Rines, Bert Rines and Miss Jessie Rines.

Mt. Ella lodge of United Workmen will give an entertainment in Memorial Hall next Tuesday, to which the public is cordially invited. There will be vocal and instrumental music, followed by an address by Grand Supervisor Ingalls of Boston, on the objects and benefits of the order.

A wedding which took place Wednesday at 11 a. m. in the West Medway Catholic church is of interest to Monson people. The contracting parties were Miss Mary Mooney of that town and John D. Grady. The bride wore a travelling dress of navy blue, and was attended by her cousin, Miss Murphy. Dr. Andrew D. Coleman was best man.

Advertised letters—J. F. Sprague, William J. Parrot, King H. Moore, Patrick Donahue, Treffle Natonoeuf, Caleb Austin, J. L. Engstrum, James Jacobson, Mrs. E. Adams, Mrs. H. C. Norris, Mrs. C. A. Durfee, Mrs. Laura Burby, Mrs. Rosanna Stuart, Miss Annie Srihon, Miss Annie Murphy, Miss Nellie Cotter, Miss Bridgie Shea.

The organ recital given last Friday evening by Miss Esther R. Holmes in the Congregational church in memory of Mrs. Sophia Converse Holmes, was attended by fully 500 persons, and was appreciated by all. N. H. Allen of Hartford was organist, and Miss Ada May Benzing of Boston, contralto, sang. The platform was decorated with palms and other green plants.

The committee of arrangements for the annual Thanksgiving ball of the firemen held a meeting last evening. Chief Engineer Needham will be floor director; aids, F. E. Severy, E. W. Murphy, Thomas Crowley, E. P. Dinneen, assisted by all members of the department. Reception committee: L. C. Flynt, Frank Entwistle, C. W. King, E. S. Howlett, J. M. Fagan, Arthur Anderson, Bruno Ritter, Charles Howard, G. C. Flynt.

Programme for Lino at the Academy this evening: Essay, L. W. Closson; reading of constitution; declamation, E. J. Fuller; declamation, A. J. Buffington. Programme for Philo: Music, Miss Cushman; reading, Miss Flynt; debate, "Resolved, that Women Ought to Have the Same Privileges in Voting as Men," affirmative Miss Gage, negative Miss Smith; music, Miss Bowe; essay, Miss Aldrich; news items, Miss Mann; music, Miss Davis.

The Monson fire department has appointed a committee to arrange for the annual Thanksgiving night ball. The board of engineers and the various companies are represented as follows: Chief Engineer, David B. Needham; hose 1, Edward P. Donavan; hose 2, Nelson A. Bugbee; hose 3, Edward Murphy; chemical 1, Arthur Orcutt; chemical 2, Frank E. Severy; hook and ladder, John L. Lyons. Leitsinger's first regiment orchestra of Brattleboro will furnish music, and Prof. E. Wales will prompt.

These periodicals are now on file at the public library: Springfield Daily Republican, Springfield Evening Union, Boston Herald, Boston Advertiser, New York Tribune, New York Herald, Palmer Journal, Monson Mirror, Harper's Weekly, Frank Leslie's Weekly, Scientific American and supplement, New England Homestead, Journal of Education, Puck, Judge, Home Market Bulletin, Tufts Weekly, Sanitary Era; magazines—Century, Harper's, North American Review, Popular Science Monthly, Atlantic Monthly, Forum, Cosmopolitan, St. Nicholas, Silver Cross, Munsey's, McClure's, Chautauquan, Review of Reviews, American Machinist.

WILBRAHAM.

Mr. Morris of Harvard College is the guest of C. C. Beebe.

The farmers are shipping their apples to Worcester. The price paid is from $1.50 to $2 a barrel.

The Pomona Grange of Springfield will hold a meeting in the chapel of the First Congregational church to-morrow morning. There will be an open session in the afternoon.

EAST BRIMFIELD.

At the social held last Friday evening at the home of Mrs. Warren Tarbell there was an interesting loan exhibition of old photographs. Nearly 200 pictures were shown representing members of well-known families in town, and illustrating the different stages in the art of photography for more than half a century.

Postmaster Holden was struck by a sledge hammer last week and received a severe scalp wound. The accident happened at Byron Charles's barn raising, and the hammer was being used by a man working above him. The handle suddenly broke and the hammer descended upon Mr. Holden's head. The wound fortunately is not of a serious nature.

BRIMFIELD.

Miss K. B. Webster of Springfield is the guest of her sister, Mrs. Lyman Webster.

Miss A. M. Cutler has closed her house here, and has gone to New York for the winter.

George Whitehouse and daughter, Miss Whitehouse, left Tuesday for New York, where they will spend the winter.

Miss Lydia Hitchcock started Wednesday for Chicago, where she will spend the winter with her aunt, Mrs. E. B. Smith.

The pupils of the Hitchcock Free School have started a debating society which will hold its meetings on alternate Friday evenings. The plan is to conduct the business of the society in secret session, and to make the conditions of membership such as will insure general participation in debate. At the first meeting, which was held last week, there was an interesting discussion on the question of woman suffrage.

WARREN.

Frances Rosetta, eldest daughter of Peter T. Martin, and James C. Campbell of West Warren were married Wednesday evening at the home of the bride's parents on Carl street, Rev. A. R. Nichols officiating. Only immediate relatives were present.

At the annual meeting of the Quaboag lodge of Masons held Tuesday night the following officers were elected for the ensuing year: Worshipful master, William H. Hitchcock; senior warden, Fred W. Kimball; junior warden, Frank P. Stearns; secretary, Fred D. Holdsworth; treasurer, Charles P. Blair.

Narrow Escape From Death.

Herbert Carpenter and Elbridge Bliss, who live on the Brimfield road, narrowly escaped death the other morning from suffocation by coal gas. When discovered by the hired man Mr. Bliss was barely conscious and Mr. Carpenter was unable to stand. The coal gas was escaping from the furnace of the steam heater, which had been started but a few days before. Both men have fully recovered.

WALES.

C. A. Moore has moved his family into Mrs. Griggs's house, recently vacated by C. A. Harwood.

Mr. Law of Springfield, who worked in the old Dell mill 25 years ago, is boss carder at the Berkley mill.

Martin Boerner sold his household goods at auction Wednesday, and will take his family to New York state, where he will work in a mill.

H. A. McFarland has had one of his chimneys taken down and rebuilt. If more old chimneys were attended to in time there would not be as frequent fires.

David Fraser, boss carder at the Berkley mill, and his son James, spinner, have resigned their positions and will soon move to Connecticut, where they have secured good positions.

The election passed off quietly, many voters neglecting to go to the polls, but an old-time Republican majority was rolled up. The town business was disposed of by passing over all but one article, which was in reference to copying some of the old town records; on that a committee consisting of H. A. McFarland, S. H. Loudon and Ezekiel Dimmick were chosen to examine the records and order copied such as need it.

HAMPDEN.

Nelson Pease has resumed his old business of charcoal peddling.

Miss Scott, teacher of the advanced school in district No. 1, left for her home Monday on account of illness.

William Leach has bought of Sidney Chapin the place formerly owned by Sumner Chapin, and moved to it.

The trustees of the estate of the late A. O. Thrasher have sold the kilns and coal business belonging to it to Temple & Carew.

The Young People's Society of the Congregational church has assumed the responsibility of painting the church, and painters are at work thereon.

Will Smith has returned from Canada and gone to work for Erwin Temple, but there are some suspicions that work is not his main object in coming.

The Methodist society has just placed a new furnace in the church vestry, and will give an oyster supper there to-morrow night to complete the payment for the same.

Thirty-two women registered this year; quite a gain for so small a town, where for many years there were but two women voters who pluckily exercised their privilege and who had to bear the derision of some who now seem to feel quite proud to go to the polls.

NORTH WILBRAHAM.

The council called to dismiss Rev. Nicholas Vander Pyl of the Grace Union church met in the church Wednesday. The following resolution was drawn up: After listening to the statements of the pastor and of the committee of the church and of the parish, and after due consideration, the council advise the dissolution of the relation now subsisting between Rev. Nicholas Vander Pyl and the Grace Union church and society of North Wilbraham, and hereby declare the relation dissolved. In coming to this result the council are happy to bear witness to the harmony which has prevailed during this pastorate, and desire to express regret that the church and congregation are to be deprived of the labors of one who has toiled among them with great earnestness and fidelity. The council desire also to express their entire confidence in Rev. Nicholas Vander Pyl, and do most cordially commend him to the churches of our Lord as a gifted, faithful and able minister of Jesus Christ. It is with profound regret that we part with one who has won our affection in large measure, and our heartiest wishes for his success will go with him to the large and important field to which he has been called. The council sympathize with the church and people in the loss they now sustain of a beloved pastor, with the prayer that they may speedily unite in the choice of one who shall go in and out before them and break with them the bread of life.

A. J. QUICK, Moderator.
E. D. FRANCIS, Scribe.

BELCHERTOWN.

Mrs. A. S. Walker was called to Gilbertville a few days ago by the illness of her sister, Mrs. LeRoy Williams.

The oldest man in the town, Jesse Morse, 90, went to the polls Tuesday and voted the straight Republican ticket. Of the 35 women who registered, 27 voted.

The candidate mentioned most favorably for the vacant position on the school committee is John Anderson.

A Woman's Relief Corps has been formed with the following officers: President, Mrs. Sarah Dunbar; senior vice president, Mrs. Minnie Whitmarsh of Granby; junior vice president, Mrs. G. H. Lowell; secretary, Mrs. Howard West; treasurer, Mrs. Fannie Walker; chaplain, Mrs. Smith of Granby; conductor, Mrs. Jennie Draper; guard, Mrs. Frank Plantiff; assistant conductor, Mrs. Fletcher of Granby; assistant guard, Mrs. Viola Shaw. An informal vote was taken by the members of E. J. Griggs post to present the ladies with $25 to assist toward defraying the installation expenses.

The Social Circle held a business meeting last week and elected the following officers: President, Mrs. H. D. Hoag; vice presidents, Miss Delia Stacy, Miss Edith Towne; secretary, Miss D. A. Barton; treasurer, Mrs. A. L. Kendall; supervisors, Mrs. F. P. Walker, Miss J. Terry, Miss N. L. Rice, Miss Jennie B. Hoag, Miss Grace Towne; directress of sewing circle, Mrs. Oliver Hyde, Miss Ellen Blodgett, Mrs. Ansel Shaw, Mrs. W. F. Carter, Mrs. A. L. Kendall, Mrs. P. T. Shanter, Mrs. A. D. Randall. Supper was also served, and a short programme of music and recitations was given.

John Staedler was badly hurt one day last week by a cow which he was trying to take to the slaughter house. Mr. Staedler stooped and then suddenly raised his head, when the cow's horn struck his face near the lower jaw and tore the flesh open to the corner of his mouth. The wound was dressed and is doing nicely.

News has been received that Miss Allen, who went to Jacksonville, Ill., about a month ago for her health, is quite ill. It is expected that they will return as soon as Miss Allen can bear the journey.

Dr. E. L. Bartlett, who has dental rooms here, will spend the winter in Denver, Cal.

The members of the agricultural society met Wednesday evening and elected the following officers: President, D. F. Shumway; vice presidents, G. A. Sanford, J. R. Gould, L. W. Dillon, H. C. West and G. C. Allen; treasurer, W. E. Bridgman; secretary, G. H. B. Greene; directors, M. G. Ward, G. I. Davis, G. F. Warner, C. S. Knight and E. R. Peeso.

A telephone wire is being put in from Belchertown to Enfield.

Peter Legrand, 77, father of Joseph Legrand, died Wednesday night at the home of his son. The funeral will be held to-morrow.

WARE.

At the special town meeting Tuesday afternoon it was voted to authorize the selectmen to propose to the state highway commission to pay for building two miles of macadamized road between Ware and Gilbertville, to be built under the direction of the commissioners. The town also voted to borrow $4000 for roads and other purposes.

The Democrats and their followers had a big celebration Tuesday evening over the election of George D. Storrs of Ware as representative over Joseph M. Harrington of Prescott, Republican. Bonfires were built and red fire burned; the drum corps was out, also the boys with tin pans, cans, anything to make a racket. Mr. Storrs is a clean young man, and many Republicans voted for him. While in the whole district Storr's majority was only 20, in Ware it was 226.

J. W. Lawton Post, 85, G. A. R., is to hold a camp fire next Wednesday evening. Col. H. M. Coney is to give the address of welcome. Music by the Amherst College glee club. Among the speakers are W. P. Derby, Senior vice commander Dept. of Mass, John M. Dean, Junior vice commander, H. O. Moore, Asst. Adjt-General, Geo. S. Merrill, past commander-in-chief, W. M. Olin, secretary of state, Mrs. Helen A. Brigham, Sen. vice commander W. R. C. Dept. of Mass., Mrs. Lula D. Lovering, Dept. Chaplain W. R. C., Mrs. Emily L. Clark, Past Dept. Pres., W. R. C. Admission free, and everybody invited.

Dan Kennedy lost his valuable bay colt Wednesday by a runaway. He drove to the post office and left the colt in care of a boy while he went in after his mail. Something startled the horse and the boy let go the bridle. The colt ran out West Main street, striking a picket fence and knocking out several pickets near Parker street, and hitting himself against a telephone pole. He then ran through Vernon street to Palmer road, where he was captured. The horse was injured internally and the wagon was wrecked. Dr. Etienne was given charge of the animal and took it to his barn, where it died in a few hours. The colt was a very valuable one, and was insured for $150.

The marriage Wednesday at All Saints' church of Miss Mary E., daughter of Thomas F. Clark of North street, and Cornelius Foley, salesman for the Swift Beef Company, attracted a large number of people. The invitations extended only to immediate relatives of the contracting parties, but their numerous friends flocked to the church. Rev. James Boyle was the officiating clergyman. The best man was Daniel Galleher of Springfield. The bridesmaid was Miss Kate Clark, sister of the bride. The bride wore a handsome gown of satin, with duchess perforated chiffon trimmed with pearls. The bridesmaid wore a figured white India silk dress. After the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents on North street. The gifts to the couple were very choice, and included a check for $250. Mr. and Mrs. Foley took the 5 o'clock train for a short wedding trip to New York, and on their return will live on North street.

Beecham's pills for constipation 10c and 25c. Get the book at your druggist's and go by it.

Annual sales more than 6,000,000 boxes.

Broadhurst Bros, the leading Shoe dealers of Springfield, are well known to most of our readers but there is a chance that a new comer in this section may not be aware of this well known and reliable shoe store, which enjoys such a large country as well as city trade. In fact it is the store where the members of all the Granges can meet in sociability and at the same time buy the best of shoes for all kinds of service.

A Chance to Save Money.

There is not the slightest reason why you should not feel well and strong. That great offer of Dr. Greene's is proving the best friend that weak and delicate people ever had. A letter sent to him at his office, 34 Temple Place, Boston, Mass., telling the symptoms you are suffering from, will be immediately answered by the Doctor, describing your complaint minutely, and making you understand perfectly just what ails you. And all this costs you nothing. You don't have to leave your home and you don't have to pay any doctor's fee to learn exactly what your complaint is, and how to get well and strong, from Dr. Greene, the greatest living specialist in curing nervous and chronic diseases. The Doctor makes a specialty of curing patients through his great system of letter correspondence, and is having wonderful success. Thousands of weak, delicate men and women are writing him about their complaints, and are being permanently cured. It was he who discovered that world renowned curative, Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy. Write the Doctor at once and see what he says about your complaint. It will probably be the means of your getting back your health.

ROYAL BAKING POWDER.

ABSOLUTELY PURE.

A cream of tartar Baking Powder. Highest of all in leavening power.—Latest United States Government Food Report.

ROYAL BAKING POWDER CO., 106 Wall Street, New York.

BOSTON & MAINE R. R.

SOUTHERN DIVISION
(CENTRAL MASSACHUSETTS)
CORRECTED TO OCTOBER 6, 1895.

TRAINS LEAVE WARE:

GOING EAST

FOR Boston—6.55, 9.00 a. m.; 3.14, p. m. Sundays 6.55 a. m.

RETURNING—leave Boston 8.45 a. m.; 1.30, 4.00 p. m. Sundays, 1.30 p. m.

FOR Worcester—6.55, 9.00 a. m.; 3.14 p. m. Sundays, 6.55 a. m.

RETURNING—leave Worcester 9.15 a. m.; 2.25, 4.58 p. m.

FOR Oakdale, Hudson and Waltham—6.55, 9.00 a. m.; 3.14 p. m. Sundays, 6.55 a. m.

FOR Gilbertville, Barre and Coldbrook -6.55, 9.00 a. m.; 3.14 p. m. Sundays, 6.55 a. m.

GOING WEST

FOR Bondsville, Belchertown, Pansy Park, Amherst, Hadley and Northampton, 7.15, 11.24 a. m., 4.28, 6.47 p. m. Sundays, 4.35 p. m.

RETURNING—leave Northampton 5.55, 8.00 a. m., 2.15, 6.10 p. m. Sundays, 5.55 a. m.

D. J. FLANDERS, Gen'l. Pass'r. Agt.
W. F. BERRY Gen'l Mgr.

Forbes & Wallace's,
Springfield.

Fine Furs.

Not one lady in a thousand can tell anything more about fur than how good it looks. How good it is, she knows nothing about. Whether the color is right, whether the fur itself is as it shoutd be; whether the color is right, whether the skin is sound or unsound, whether it is properly matched and put together — all these require knowledge than can be got only by familiarity with furs and skins in all stages of preparation. She who undertakes to judge of these qualities herself cannot fail to go wrong.

There is just one way to go right, viz: Be sure of your dealer, then trust him.

Now we are not going to say that we are trustworthy and that others are not. We have done our share. We have pointed out that you must believe somebody. Believe whom you will. The volume of fur garments going out of here every day simply shows that we have more than our share of the fur trade of this section.

Of furs over $25 and less than $100 in prices the variety is considerable. Consider these few, if you please:

At $55—Electric seal fur cape, 30 inches long, 100-inch sweep, Thibet fur trimming on collar and edge.
At $33—China seal cape, 30 inches long, 100-inch sweep, satin lined, pockets tipped with fur.
At $35—Heavy astrachan fur capes, 33 inches long, sweep of 110 inches, heavy satin lining.
$57.50—Heavy China seal cape, 30 inches long, 100-inch sweep, figured satin lining.
At $45—Wool seal cape, edged with marten trimming, black satin lining, 30 inches long, sweep of 100 inches.
At $47—Fine Electric seal fur cape, astrachan fur yoke and collar.
At $48—Wool seal fur cape, marten collar and edge, black satin lining, 30 inches long, sweep of 100 inches.
At $55—Electric seal cape, squirrel fur lining.
At $60—French marten fur cape, big sweep, 30 inches long, satin lining.
At $75—Electric seal cape, 30 inches long, big sweep, heavy satin lining.
At $100—English marten fur cape, wide collar, 110 inches sweep, 30-inch length.
Main floor Pynchon street building.

FORBES & WALLACE.
Main, Vernon and Pynchon streets, Springfield, Mass.

FISCHER PIANO.

THE .... FISCHER PIANO

stands pre-eminent as a modern musical instrument.

PURE IN TONE AND ACTION.

And combining all the results of the latest improvements in Piano manufacture.

In Workmanship and Durability

it has become the standard of superiority everywhere.

55 years in existence—100,000 manufactured .... and sold. ....

◆◆◆◆◆◆◆◆

TAYLOR'S MUSIC HOUSE,
Opera House Block. Sole Agents.
Springfield, Mass.

CENTRAL VERMONT RAILROAD.

NEW LONDON DIVISION.
TAKING EFFECT SEPTEMBER 30, 1895.

TRAINS GOING SOUTH.

Leave Brattleboro, 5.40 and 10.25 a. m. and 4.25 p. m. for New London, connecting at Millers Falls with Fitchburg R. R., at Belchertown with Central Massachusetts R. R., and at Palmer with B. & A. R. R. for Worcester, Boston, Springfield, at New London with the N. Y. N. H. & H. R. R.
Leave Amherst, 7.05 a. m., 12.13 and 5.57 p. m.
Leave Palmer, 7.05 and 8.40 a. m., 1.50 and 7.15 p. m.
Leave Willimantic for New London, 8.35, 10.10 a. m. 3.25, 6.40 and 8.45 p. m.

GOING NORTH.

Leave New London, 5.20 and 7.40 a m, 2.30 and 5.25 p. m.
The 5.20 and 7.40 a. m. and 5.25 p. m. run through to Brattleboro and make connections for the north.
Leave New London for Willimantic and intermediate stations, 10.00 a. m.
Leave Palmer for Brattleboro, 8.20, 11.00 a. m. and 8.00 p. m, connecting with express for Montreal. Also with Grand Trunk R. R. for the West.
Leave Palmer for Amherst, 8.20 and 11.00 a. m, and 8.00 p. m.

SUBJECT TO CHANGE WITHOUT NOTICE.

D. MACKENZIE, Supt. J. A. SOUTHARD, D. P. A. New London, Ct.
S. W. CUMMINGS. G. P. A., St. Albans.

DR. S. H. ELLERY,

VETERINARY SURGEON AND DENTIST.
Graduate Chicago Veterinary College.
Residence, Nassowanno House.
Office and stable, Central street.
PALMER, MASS.

MR. J. B. LONGWILL, having leased Mr. Campbell's blacksmith shop, will endeavor to do what is right by the general public, in prices to suit all parties. Horse shoeing a specialty.
tf-7 SOUTH MAIN STREET, PALMER.

FINEST ROAD-BED ON THE CONTINENT.

BOSTON & ALBANY RAILROAD.

Only Double-Track Route to the West.

ON AND AFTER NOV. 6, 1895.

Through Trains will Leave Boston as follows:

No. 3.—Day Express.
8:30 a. m.—Daily, except Sunday. Has Wagner buffet drawing-room car Boston to Albany, there connecting with through cars to all points West. Stops at Palmer 10.53 a. m.

No. 15.—Chicago Special.
10:30 a. m.—Daily. The finest train running in New England. A solid vestibuled Wagner train, comprising buffet, library and smoking car, sleeping cars and dining car Boston to Chicago, via the Lake Shore & Michigan Southern R. R., and also via Michigan Central R. R.

No. 19.—North Shore Limited.
2:00 p. m.—Daily. Has through vestibuled buffet sleeping cars Boston to Detroit and Chicago, via Michigan Central R. R. Dining car attached at Albany.

No. 5.—Cincinnati Express.
3:00 p. m.—Daily. Has through vestibuled buffet sleeping car Boston to Chicago via Lake Shore and Michigan Southern R. R., and to St. Louis and Cincinnati via Big Four Route. Stops at Palmer 5.20 p. m.

No. 9.—Pacific Express.
7:15 p. m.—Daily. Has through sleeping cars Boston to Chicago, both via Lake Shore & Michigan Southern and Michigan Central Railroads.

No. 63.—Albany Express.
11:00 p. m.—Daily, except Saturday. Has sleeping car Boston to Albany. Stops at Palmer 1.46 a. m.

TRAINS LEAVE PALMER FOR BOSTON.

6.22 a. m. Accommodation.
7.32 " "
8.25 " Daily Express.
10.00 " " "
11.42 " Accommodation.
1.40 p. m. Express.
3.12 " "
4.42 " Accommodation.
6.49 " Daily Express.
7.55 " Sundays only. Express.
9.03 " Express.

Time tables showing local and through service between all Stations, may be obtained at all ticket offices of this Company.
City Office, 366 Washington Street.
Station, Kneeland Street, Boston, Mass.
52-32 A. S. HANSON, Gen. Pass. Agent.

Reduction.

We will make a special

10 per cent Reduction

on all our

Wall Papers,
Friezes,
Borders,
Mouldings, etc.,

for the next

Sixty Days.

Call and See us.
Next Door to Post Office.

LeGro & Lynde,
Palmer, Mass.

COMMONWEALTH OF MASSACHUSETTS.—HAMPDEN, ss. PROBATE COURT.

To the heirs at law, next of kin, creditors, and all other persons interested in the estate of Johanna Evans, late of Palmer, in said County, deceased, intestate:

Whereas, a petition has been presented to said court to grant a letter of administration on the estate of said deceased to Katie E. Evans of said Palmer, without giving a surety on her bond:

You are hereby cited to appear at a probate court, to be held at Palmer, in said county of Hampden, on the twenty-seventh day of November, A. D. 1895, at nine o'clock in the forenoon, to show cause, if any you have, why the same should not be granted.

And the petitioner is hereby directed to give public notice thereof, by publishing this citation once in each week, for three successive weeks, in the Palmer JOURNAL, a newspaper published in said Palmer, the last publication to be one day at least before said Court, and by mailing, postpaid, or delivering a copy of this citation to all known persons interested in the estate, seven days at least before said Court.

Witness, WILLIAM S. SHURTLEFF, Esquire, Judge of said Court, this twenty-ninth day of October, in the year of our Lord one thousand eight hundred and ninety-five.

3-31 SAMUEL B. SPOONER, Register.

COMMONWEALTH OF MASSACHUSETTS.—HAMPDEN ss. PROBATE COURT.

To the next of kin, and all others interested in the estate of Julia A. Bliss, late of Palmer, in said County, deceased:

Whereas, Ebenezer Brown, the administrator of the estate of said deceased, has presented to said Court for allowance the final account of his administration on said estate and has made application for a distribution of the balance in his hands among the next of kin of said deceased.

You are hereby cited to appear at a Probate Court to be held at Palmer, in said County of Hampden, on the twenty-seventh day of November, A. D. 1895, at nine o'clock in the forenoon, to show cause, if any you have, why said account should not be allowed and distribution made according to said application.

And the petitioner is ordered to serve this citation by publishing the same once in each week, for three successive weeks, in the Palmer JOURNAL, a newspaper published in said Palmer, the last publication to be one day at least before said Court.

Witness, WILLIAM S. SHURTLEFF, Esquire, Judge of said Court, this twenty-second day of October, in the year of our Lord one thousand eight hundred and ninety-five.

3-30 SAMUEL B. SPOONER, Register.

NOTICE is hereby given that the subscribers have been duly appointed executors of the will of William N. Flynt, late of Monson, in the county of Hampden, deceased, testate, and have taken upon themselves that trust by giving bonds, as the law directs. All persons having demands upon the estate of said deceased are required to exhibit the same; and all persons indebted to said estate are called upon to make payment to Lyman C. Flynt of Monson, Mass., in behalf of the undersigned.

Dated October 18th, 1895.

EUDODIA C. FLYNT, Executrix.
RUFUS FLYNT,
LYMAN C. FLYNT,
GEORGE C. FLYNT,
HENRY A. KING,
} Executors.
3-31

Palmer Savings Bank,
Palmer, Mass.

Hours from 9 a. m. to 3 p. m.

President,
H. G. LOOMIS.

Vice Presidents,
GEO. MOORES, T. D. POTTER, C. H. HOBBS.

Secretary,
WM. W. LEACH.

Treasurer,
H. W. McGREGORY.

Trustees,
James B. Shaw, E. G. Hastings, C. H. Hobbs,
George Mooers, R. C. Newell, Geo. E. Buck,
H. G. Loomis, F. F. Marcy, A. L. Hills,
T. D. Potter, H. Waid, Wm. Holbrook,
H. P. Holden, Wm. W. Leach, C. F. Grosvenor,
Jas. S. Loomis, C. L. Gardner, H. W. McGregor

Board of Investment,
Geo. Mooers, H. G. Loomis, E. G. Hastings,
C. H. Hobbs, James B. Shaw.

Auditors,
Wm. W. Leach. A. L. Hills.

To be delivered now, subject to advance at any time. We furnish good men to house and bin same. All coal is screened and delivered in bags.

The Lehigh is as good as any we ever sold. The Lackawanna is the best prepared coal that comes to market for domestic use.

Prices will be higher.

Send your order by postal card or leave it at our office.

SEE OUR PRICES FOR COAL

Prices for Lackawanna:

Stove size, - $5.35 per ton.
Chestnut, - 5.35 " "
Furnace, - 5.25 " "

Prices for Lehigh:

Stove size, - $5.50 per ton.
Chestnut, - 5.50 " "
Furnace, - 5.40 " "

Less than (1) one ton 25 cent added for the load.

Delivered in Bags,
which will save expense of housing in many cases.

October 1, 1895.

R. M. & Theo. Reynolds.
Monson, Mass.

HAYNES & CO.

◆◆◆◆◆◆◆◆◆◆

WE HAVE MADE IT

for the interest of everyone in Western Massachusetts who needs Clothing for himself or boys, to visit us, and the earlier the better. How have we done it? By searching the world over for the very best in Men's and Boys' attire and placing it before the public at popular prices. If you care

For Quality, Style, Fit,

don't miss seeing this, the grandest Clothing display ever attempted by any house in Western New England. Every department booming. People come to see us from three states because they save two, three, four times their expenses coming. DON'T be satisfied with old styles and ill fitting garments when Haynes & Co. are so near.

Nobby Suits, $8, 10, 12, 14, 16, 18 and 20.
Trousers, $1.93, 2.50, 3, 4 and 5.
Overcoats, $8, 10, 12, 14, 16, 18 and 20.
Derby Hats, $1, 1.50, 2, 2.25, 2.50, 3 and 3.50.

Boys' Dep't. FULL OF GOOD THINGS.

We don't care to make much profit on the boys' goods, because they will come to us when they are men. So we offer big values at small prices.

◆◆◆◆◆◆◆◆◆◆

HAYNES & CO.,

CLOTHIERS, TAILORS, HATTERS, FURNISHERS.

SPRINGFIELD, MASS.

Ladies!

We want to show you our ..... line of .....

Jersey Underwear,
Gloves and Mittens,
Skirts,
Fascinators,
Shawls,
Damasks,
Quilts and Blankets.

W. E. Stone,
Lawrence Block, Palmer Mass.

W. D. KINSMAN.

'TWAS ALWAYS SO.

But many have not known that price and quality have been the points on which we have ever challenged comparison. Many realized this as never before at our last summer's sale and are now permanent patrons with us. We would like to convince you by showing our

BLACK VELVETS.

Quality and price are the points upon which our Velvets challenge comparison. Excellence of quality is proclaimed in every piece of the goods. The prices below speak for themselves:

Black Velvets, $1, 1 25, 1.75, 2.50, 3, and 4 38 a yard.
Black Velvets, 27-inch, two extra bargains at $1.90 and 3.
An elegant 31-inch Velvet at $3.87.

COLORED VELVETS.

There's hardly anything in dress goods that can't be matched from our stock of colored dress goods.

VELVETEENS.

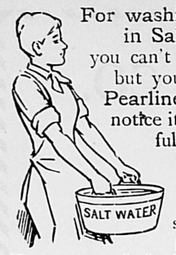
The Black Velveteens at 50c, 68c and 85c are exceptional values. In colored Velveteens we have a full assortment of all the desirable shades.

BLACK DRESS GOODS.

The "Auvergne Cachimere"—substantial, smooth, with a highly brilliant luster—those are the words that describe it. We have not only placed the prices low—45c, 50c, 58c, 62c, 65c, 75c, 87c, 95c and $1—but also give you a reduction of 10 per cent on them during the month.

BLACK DRESS GOODS.

The latest and choicest nov



For washing in Salt Water you can't use soap, but you can use Pearline. You'll notice its wonderful cleansing properties quite as much in salt water as in fresh. You can wash in it or wash with it, just the same. On shipboard, yachting, etc., you can use salt water and Pearline for washing and cleaning in a hundred ways. You'd have to take fresh water for them all, if you had nothing but soap, and couldn't get hold of Pearline. Luxurious bathing in salt water. 398

Your Health

Ought To be Good And It is Always Sure To be If you Will Take

Ought to be good, and it is always sure to be if you will take BLOOD WINE when you feel sick and tired. Thousands of people all over the country are worrying themselves to death trying to find a medicine or a physician that can cure their stomach trouble. They try here, there and everywhere and at last give up in despair. Now these are the people we want to try BLOOD WINE, for they will feel the good effects so soon that they will keep on until they are cured.

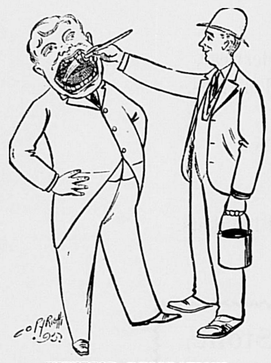
Catarrh of the Stomach.

How many people are troubled with this disease, causing dyspepsia and indigestion. Now the moment your digestive organs are out of order you feel mean all over—have headache, belching of wind, constipation, etc. You take pills or some other cathartic, which will relieve for a time, but the same trouble comes back again. Now there is only one way to cure this trouble, and but one medicine that will cure it, and that is

Blood Wine,

(Trade Mark Registered.)

The Great French Hospital Remedy.



INTERIOR DECORATIONS

will soon be done with Cod Liver Oil. May be you don't know it, but that article is as good to prevent a cold as it is to cure it. If you are troubled with a cough, a prevailing trouble at this season, decorate your interior with some of our Cod Liver Oil Emulsions, we have them all. It will strike through and beautify your exterior, and make you thoroughly enjoy your own society, and others will enjoy it, too. Call for above at

ALLEN'S DRUG STORE,

Holden's Block, Palmer.

Horse Blankets.

A full line, for both stable .....and street use.....

375 BLANKETS IN STOCK.

PRICES RIGHT.

D. W. Foskit,

Foskit's Mills.

..... Smith, ...

59 Main Street, Palmer.

Insurance.

of every kind placed at short notice, and all favors duly appreciated.

Yours truly,

S. H. HELLYAR.

Engraved Address Cards. Plate engraved and 100 cards printed, only $1.50. Styles change often—your old cards may be out of style, probably are—better have some new ones, with correct size of card and style of lettering. At the JOURNAL Office.

These Are Not New Women.

How grand that statue stading there,
With torch aloft in Freedom's air,
Whose woman's lines, in shapeliness,
The beauty of our laws confess,
As from her throne of granite, she
Proclaims to us sweet Liberty;
But not to us alone, a share
Awaits all people everywhere;
And we, admiring, lift our hands
To her, the goddess of our lands—
But how would she look in trousers?

Chaste Dian, like a wheeling star,
Above the madding crowd, afar.
Swinging regnant in her radiant arc,
A thing of beauty and a mark
For art to aim at. Poising there,
The genius of the upper air,
She stands on tiptoe, a beauteous sight,
For earth to gaze at day and night—
But how would she look in trousers?

Upon that wondrous dome of steel,
Which all the roads to Rome reveal
At Washington, a goddess stands,
The proudest in a thousand lands,
And with a firm, unchanging gaze,
Keep watch and ward upon the ways
Wherein the nation walks; she feels
The danger that each law conceals,
And waits, enamored, for the fight
That dares maintain the people's right—
But how would she look in trousers?

In gilded, glorious Paris, there
Is found a woman's figure fair;
A poet's dream in marble white,
The passage of an angel's flight
In cold, hard stone; a Venus mould,
Eternity can not make old;
Armless, but armed by beauty, she
Has conquered Art and Poesy;
Unwrinkled by the passing years,
Untouched by joy, unstained by tears,
Half clad she stands, the Only One,
A passion and a benison—
But how would she look in trousers?

—New York Sun.

AMONG THE PARAGRAPHERS.

Each citizen is like the tramp
Who comes with wistful eye;
You give him bread and butter, and
He straightway kicks for pie.

—Washington Star.

She—"The groom seems quite cool." He—"The bride is from Boston."—Life.

Customer—"Give me a dozen fried oysters." "Sorry, sir; we're all out of shellfish excepting eggs."—Crypt.

Watts—"Do you understand French?" Potts—"I do when I speak it myself."—Indianapolis Journal.

Mrs. Fogg.—"But how in the world did she come to marry him?" Mr. Fogg—"He asked her, I believe."—Boston Transcript.

Awful Child—"Mamma said you were pretty old." Visitor—"Well?" Awful Child "You're old, but not pretty."—Detroit Free Press.

"If ever you come within a mile of my house, stop there," said a hospitable man who was unfortunate in choosing his words.'—Tit-Bits.

"No!" she spoke in accents of scorn, "I cannot be yours." He turned away despondently and sought another employment bureau.—Truth.

Costigan—"I hear that Alderman McManus has retired from politics." Grogan—"Yis; he sold out his saloon lasht Chewsday."—Puck.

There is a deplorable tendency nowadays, by some parents, to disobey their children. Nothing so annoys a child as a hesitating compliance.—Albany Argus.

Beggar—"Yer haven't got 10 cents erbout yer, has yer, boss?" The Man—"How did yo ufind that out?" I thought no one knew I was broke but myself."—Syracuse Post.

A band wagon is good in its place, but you don't need to take one when you go courting the other girl. Your best girl will hear about it soon enough.—New York Recorder.

The class in natural history being asked the difference between a dog and a tree, the head boy answered, "A tree is covered with bark, while a dog seems to be lined with it."—Sunny Hours.

A little boy asked at the dinner table one day, "What is chili sauce?" Little Mary, his sister, who had just begun to read, answered as grave as a judge, "It's the sauce hat chills, but not inebriates."—Youth's Companion.

They don't speak now: She—"Have you been reading up on this yacht race?" He—"Well, yes." She—"Well, now where is the sail called the "baby jib?" He—"Really, I don't know; but it ought to be near the spanker!"—Chicago Record.

The Servant Question.—"Maggie, did you hear the door bell ring?" "Yis, mum." "Well, why don't you open the door?" "Sure, I don't know a soul who'd call on me this time of the day, mum. It must be some one to see yerself."—New York Truth.

Mistress (midnight)—"I don't intend to come down stairs to let you in this time of night again." New Girl (reassuringly)—"You won't have to, mum. One of me friends took an impression of your lock, and he's makin' a nice key for me."—New York Weekly.

An autograph hunter was very anxious to get the signature of a certain famous but inaccessible professor, but did not know what to do. "Nothing easier," said a friend. "Write him an invitation to tea, and you will promptly receive a note declining it."—Fliegende Blaetter.

"Do you think, sir," said the girl's mother "that you have the patience and forbearance to be a kind husband?" "Madam," replied the young man, in earnest tones, "I can put a 14½ standing collar on a No. 15 shirt without saying a single word." And she consented to the match at once.—Household Words.

Mrs. Yerger was dressed to go to the ball. She had on her new dress. "You look stunning in that new dress, but, great Caesar! what a lot of money it cost these hard times," remarked Col. Yerger." "Lor, Charles, what do I care for money when it come to making you happy," replied Mrs. Yerger, with a beaming smile.

Mrs. Goodheart—"Now, my man, if you will wash your face, neck and hands well, I will give you something to eat. There is the bowl." Perry Patettic—"Missus, I would like the best in the world to consider your position, but in me childhood I promised me mudder to ferever shun de bowl. And so, good-by."—Cincinnati Enquirer.

"What does this here 'New Women' talk mean, John?" "Hit means, Maria," replied the old farmer, "that women air a-takin' the place what men occupied. You'll find the plow right where I left it; an' when you sharpen the axe you kin sail into a dozen cords o' wood, an' I'll have supper a-bilin' when you git home!—Atlantr Constitution.

Mrs. Darley—"George, dear, I went to your tailor and told him to make the pockets in your clothes of asbestos cloth." Mr. Darley—"What on earth was that for?" Mrs. Darley—"It's a fire-proof material, dear." Mr. Darley—"Well?" Mrs. Darley—"Well, love, you know you have often complained about money burning a hole in your pocket."—Harper's Bazar.

How's This!

We offer One Hundred Dollars Reward for any case of Catarrh that can not be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure.

F. J. CHENEY & CO., Props., Toledo, O.

We, the undersigned, have known F. J. Cheney for the last 15 years, and believe him perfectly honorable in all business transactions and financially able to carry out any obligations made by their firm.

West & Truax, Wholesale Druggists, Toledo, O.; Walding, Kinnan & Marvin, Wholesale Druggists, Toledo, Ohio.

Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. Price, 75c per bottle. Sold by all druggists. Testimonials free.

Rich Red Blood

Is the Foundation of the Wonderful Cures by Hood's Sarsaparilla.

That is Why the cures by Hood's Sarsaparilla are CURES.

That is Why Hood's Sarsaparilla cures the severest cases of Scrofula, Salt Rheum and other blood diseases.

That is Why it overcomes That Tired Feeling, strengthens the nerves, gives energy in place of exhaustion.

That is Why the sales of Hood's Sarsaparilla have increased year after year, until now it requires the largest Laboratory in the world. That is Why

Hood's Sarsaparilla

Is the Only True Blood Purifier prominently in the public eye today.

Prepared by C. I. Hood & Co., Lowell, Mass. $1.

Hood's Pills act harmoniously with Hood's Sarsaparilla. 25c.

Hellyar's Bargain Store.

Carpets! Carpets!

Are you interested in carpets? If so, we should be pleased to show you. We have arranged with one of the largest mills in the United States whereby we are their sold agents in this locality.

Wilton Carpets,
Moquette Carpets,
Axminster Carpets.
Velvet Carpets,
Body Brussels Carpets,
Tapestry Carpets,
Three Ply Carpets,
Ingrain Carpets of all grades,
Cocoa Mattings,
Napier Mattings,
China Mattings,
Linoleums,
Oil Cloths,
Rugs,
Mats,
Lace Curtains.

We carry a full line of the newest patterns in all kinds of Carpets.

You have as fine a variety to select from as is carried by the stores in the largest cities. You can have the carpets cut and sewed at the mills, and delivered to you ready to be laid on the floor. We represent the manufacturers, thus saving you the middleman or jobber's profit, and as we have no stock to carry and no risk to take on bad patterns, misfits or remnants we can afford to sell at a very small profit—lower even than the stores of the great cities. Call and find out how quickly and how cheaply we can carpet a room or a house.

S. H. Hellyar & Co.,

Caryl's Block, on the Corner,

Palmer, Mass.

A GOOD INDICATION.

Medical practitioners of prominence are prescribing for the cure of diseases springing from derangements of the digestive organs, Dr. David Kennedy's Favorite Remedy. This professional endorsement is justified by the fact that no other preparation has been found so efficacious in that class of disorders even in the most advanced and severe cases. It has cured gravel in the kidneys, stone in the bladder and inflammation of the kidneys, where all other medicines have failed. All druggists sell it.

LARRABEE'S RHEUMATIC LINIMENT

A standard and sovereign household remedy for over half a century. It is a wonderful curative agent in all painful diseases, such as

Rheumatism, Lumbago, Neuralgia, Backache, Catarrh, Toothache,

and other painful ailments. To be had of all druggists, or by mail on receipt of 25 cents. Trade supplied by Geo. C. Goodwin & Co., or any wholesale druggist.

WINKLEMANN & BROWN DRUG CO.
BALTIMORE, MD., U. S. A.

Seven
Six-weeks-old
Chester White
Pigs
For Sale
At the
Maple Lawn Milk Farm.

F. M. EAGER.

Boots and Shoes Manufactured to Measure.

REPAIRING NEATLY DONE AT SHORT NOTICE.

Dealer in Sewing Machines and Supplies.

Machines to rent or sold on monthly payments.

F. M. EAGER, PALMER.

WANTED. Good reliable men, to sell our Choice and Hardy Nursery Stock, such as Fruit Trees, Roses, Shrubs and Ornamentals. Ladies make this business a success. Easy work, pleasant, light and profitable. OUTFIT FREE. Apply at once, with references, and secure choice of territory.

F. N. MAY COMPANY,
Nurserymen and Seedsmen, Rochester, N. Y.

PROOF UPON PROOF.

Theresa Vaughn, the Famous Singer, Says Use Dr. Greene's Nervura.

She Advises All Who Are Sick, Weak, Nervous, or Ailing to Use Dr. Greene's Nervura, the Grandest of Medicines.

MISS THERESA VAUGHN.

There are few more beautiful women or popular singers than Miss Theresa Vaughn, whose refined and exquisite singing in the burlesque, "1492," will long be remembered in every community. Her address is New York City, but she is known, respected and admired from one end of our country to the other, and her strong endorsement of the wonderful curative powers of Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy and her earnest advice for the tired out, the nervous, the run-down and debilitated, to use this grandest of all medicines, will be followed by everybody who needs a strengthening and invigorating remedy.

She tells all to use it, because she knows it banishes all pain, cures the aching head and dragging back-ache, restores the over-taxed brain, nerves the weary limbs, strengthens the weak and shattered nerves, gives natural, refreshing sleep—in fact, makes all who use it strong and well. The remedy is purely vegetable and perfectly harmless and may be given to infants, children or the weakest invalids with positive assurance of beneficial results.

Here is what she says:

"The fatigue attendant upon public appearances has often caused me to suffer severely from nervousness, and I can truthfully say that I have found Dr. Greene's Nervura an infallible remedy. I was led into using it by seeing it in daily use in the families of my friends, and I can unhesitatingly recommend it, from my own experience, to all as a thoroughly reliable remedy for neuralgia and nervous diseases of all kinds."

It would certainly seem that after such an endorsement by a lady so popular and so widely known, no one who suffers in the least from ill health could hesitate for a moment to take her advice and seek the cure which is sure and positive by using Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy.

It is not a patent medicine, but the prescription of the most successful specialist in curing nervous and chronic diseases, Dr. Greene, of 34 Temple Place, Boston, Mass. He has the largest practice in the world, and this grand medical discovery is the result of his vast experience. The great reputation of Dr. Greene is a guarantee that his medicine will cure, and the fact that he can be consulted at any time free of charge, personally or by letter, gives absolute assurance of the beneficial action of this wonderful medicine.

Lost Yesterday.

Somewhere between sunrise and sunset, TWO GOLDEN HOURS, each set with sixty diamond minutes, with which you might have secured a glimpse of our immense

Kitchen Department.

This department has been the Mecca of buyers of Crockery and kitchen goods for the last two years. We have paid particular attention to the buying of goods of good quality, and yet by buying in large quantities we have been enabled to sell them at prices of inferior goods. For example, OUR LEADERS JUST NOW

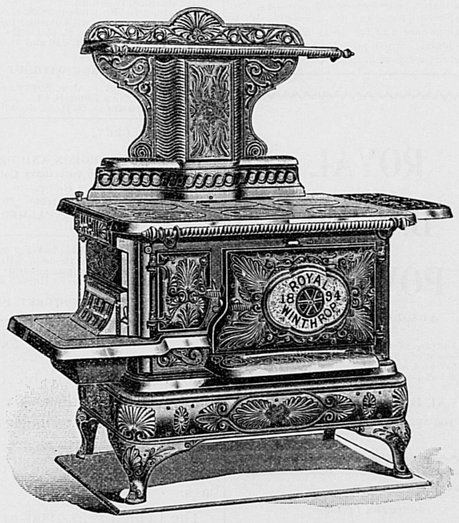
112 PIECE DECORATED DINNER SET FOR $8.24.
A 6-POUND KITCHEN SCALE, warranted accurate, for $2.10.
A HANDSOME PARLOR LAMP FOR $1.98.
10-PIECE DECORATED TOILET SET FOR $1.98.

We are in it also on Furniture, Carpets, Stoves, Ranges, etc., at prices that defy competition.

E. Luther & Co.,

EASY TERMS. SPRINGFIELD. OPP. COURT SQ.

THE ROYAL WINTHROP RANGE. IT HAS NO SUPERIOR.



I AGREE. That is all we expect you to say. Live up to that and there is no limit to your credit with us; we will arrange the payments to suit you.
We sell all kinds of FURNITURE, and can furnish your house from cellar to garret.

SHAW BROTHERS, - THREE RIVERS, MASS.

A Musicale.

The program, she informed me, was a charming one, indeed,
From the splendid Wagner overture (which nothing could exceed)
To the lovely little scherzo and the minuet for strings,
And the latest bit of Dvorak, which made her sigh for wings.

Throughout the Grieg concerto her emotion was intense;
It seemed to me at times she held her breath in deep suspense;
She raved of opus this and that, of Schubert, Bach and Liszt,
Beethoven, Brahms, Tschalkowiski, and a score whose names I missed.

But, when at last 'twas over and I led her down the stair,
I noticed that beneath her breath she hummed a little air;
It is not upon the program, being commonplace and tuney,
And I wondered at the sudden drop from Bach to "Annie Rooney."

—Judge.

HOW THE BEAR DISAPPEARED.

Probably most of you have heard the story of the painter who was engaged by a miserly haggling nobleman, to paint upon the walls of his main hall the scene of the children of Israel and Pharaoh and his host crossing the Red Sea. The Nobleman haggled until the artist became entirely disgusted, and resolved upon revenge. So he offered to paint the scene at the nabob's own price, only stipulating that he should be paid in advance. He got his money and then went at his work, and in an incredibly short space of time, he reported the scene painted. The host went into the hall and looked. The walls had been covered with a glaring daub of red paint, and that was all.

"What is this?" he gasped, hardly able to credit the evidence of his own senses.

"The Red Sea," was the response.

"But—where are the children of Israel?"

"Oh—they have all crossed over on the other side."

"Ah—a—but—Pharaoh and his host—where are they?"

"Why, bless you, my dear man! I have followed the Scripture narrative closely. They are all swallowed up!"

And, to make a long story short, the nobleman, finding himself caught, finally agreed to pay a reasonable sum to have the Israelites brought back into view, and the host and chariots of the Egyptian monarch resurrected!

We have another story full as good, and I don't know but what it may have been the same painter who was the hero. This time it was an inn-keeper who wanted a sign painted, and on it a black bear. He was a fastidious man; he kept a good inn; he meant to call it the Black Bear; and he wanted a bear painted "as was a bear." He wanted it done artistically. What would the painter do it for? Eight pounds was the price given.

There was a painter in Buxton-on-Stour who would paint it for five pounds, and do it in first-rate style. But our artist did not mean to see his craft thus belittled without an effort. Said he:

"You want a bear painted. Do you want it to be a wild bear?"

"Certainly."

"Will you have it chained, or free and at large?"

"I don't want any chain."

"Ah—then you will have a wild bear unchained?"

"Yes."

"I will paint it for five pounds."

And the bargain was concluded, then and there; and in due time the artist brought the sign, and had it hung in place. It was certainly a fine picture—a wild bear to the life—better, far, than the inn-keeper had expected; and he paid the money for the painting cheerfully.

But a surprise—a terrible surprise—was in store for him. Hundreds had seen and admired the beautiful sign; and other hundreds were eagerly anticipated, when a storm of wind and rain arose, which lasted four-and-twenty hours; and, with the rising of the next day's sun, the bear had disappeared. The landlord rubbed his eyes, and looked again. But the beautiful beast had gone. The board was as innocent of figure painting as was the post itself. He summoned the painter.

"Look, Mr. Painter! What does that mean? Where is my bear?"

The painter looked up and nodded significantly.

"It was the wild bear, you will remember."

"Well—what of that?"

"And unchained!"

"Well—"

"Man alive! you wouldn't expect a wild bear, unchained and free, to stay in that exposed position through such a storm, would you?"

The publican scratched his head, and reflected. He began to see through it.

"Do you think you could paint a bear up there, and secure him so that he would not get away?"

"Certainly."

"Will you do it if I make up the eight pounds?"

The painter had had his revenge; and he did not care to haggle; so he took the remainder of his fee and painted a bear this time in such colors of pigment and oil as the rain could not wash away.

A LIVING BICYCLE.—The adaptability of the animal kingdom to the acquired habits of man, and the imitative instinct of the higher animal types, have often been referred to.

Another interesting case is reported from Pike County, Pa. In old Pike, as in many other places, bicycles have become quite numerous, and have evidently inspired the mute onlookers of the woods and fields to emulation.

The other day a Jerico amateur secured a photograph of a living bicycle. Its wheels were a couple of hoop snakes, which, before forming a circle after their usual manner by putting their tails in their mouths, lined themselves up so that a gray squirrel could scamper upon their circumference as he would in a whirling cage.

With his forefeet upon one animated wheel and his hind feet upon another, the squirrel could maintain its level and carry upon its own back a seated chipmunk. This queer combination is capable of a speed of one mile in 57 seconds—only six seconds slower than the best time of an unimpeded hoopsnake. At last accounts the other bicycles were in training to beat the original combination.—New York Weekly.

Two Lives Saved.

Mrs. Phoebe Thomas of Junction City, Ill., was told by her doctors she had consumption and there was no hope for her, but two bottles of Dr. King's New Discovery completely cured her and she says it saved her life. Mr. Thomas Eggers, 139 Florida street, San Francisco, suffered from a dreadful cold, approaching consumption, tried without result everything else, then bought one bottle of Dr. King's New Discovery and in two weeks was cured. He is naturally thankful. It is such results, of which these are samples, that prove the wonderful efficacy of this medicine in coughs and colds. Free trial bottles of LeGro & Lynde, Palmer; G. L. Keeney, Monson; F. A. Spencer, Ware. Regular size 50c and $1.

Old People.

Old people who require medicine to regulate the bowels and kidneys will find the true remedy in Electric Bitters. This medicine does not stimulate and contains no whisky nor other intoxicant, but acts as a tonic and alterative. It acts mildly on the stomach and bowels, adding strength and giving tone to the organs, thereby aiding Nature in the performance of the functions. Electric Bitters is an excellent appetizer and aids digestion. Old people find it just exactly what they need. Price 50c per bottle of LeGro & Lynde, Palmer; G. L. Keeney, Monson; F. A. Spencer, Ware.

Bucklen's Arnica Salve.

THE BEST SALVE in the world for cuts, bruises, sores, ulcers, salt rheum, fever sores, tetter, chapped hands, chilblains, corns, and all skin eruptions, and positively cures piles, or no pay required. It is guaranteed to give perfect satisfaction or money refunded. Price 25 cents per box. For sale by LeGro & Lynde, Palmer; G. L. Keeney, Monson; F. A. Spencer, Ware.

ANOTHER OF THEIR ADVANTAGES.

"John!"
"What?"
"Wake up!"
"What do you want me to wake up for?"
"Hush! Are you awake or asleep?"
"Asleep! And how can I hush when I am asleep?"
"Well, wake up, then, and stop arguing. There's a burglar in the house."
"Well, ask him to leave.
"Leave what?"
"Everything."
"But he won't do it. He's probably a selfish, disagreeable man. Now, if he were a woman burglar, such as we'll have when women get their rights, their might be some sense in appealing to her generosity. But not with this one. You must get up and scare him."
"How can I scare him?"
"Why, you are a man. You must get up and put on your trousers and go down stairs, making an awful noise, and he'll go away."
"Well, my dear, you just get up and put on your bicycle knickerbockers and skate down the front stairs on your wheel. If that doesn't scare him, there's no use in my trying."—Truth.

Dangerous Drugs.

Avoid the use of white or pink headache powders, they contain dangerous drugs. Taylor's Anti-Headache Powders are brown; they look like ground coffee and they have a delightful aromatic taste. Try them once and you will never be without them. Get them of LeGro & Lynde.

35 cents

Colds are serious things. They lead to worse things. A cold is the seed of consumption. Croup is a cold's half-brother—it is generally caused by cold, and many a little life has been snuffed out by it because the proper remedy was not at hand.

Dr. Hooker's Cough and Croup Syrup

gives relief at once. It has saved thousands of lives. Every mother should see that it is always in the house. Don't wait till you need it—that may be too late. Contains no opium—absolutely safe—endorsed by physicians for 50 years. Made only by Charles B. Kingsley, Northampton, Mass.

at Drug Stores

WANTED SALESMEN. We want one or two good men in each county to take orders for a choice line of Nursery Stock or Seed Potatoes. Stock and seed guaranteed. We can give you steady employment with good pay. It will cost you nothing to give it a trial. State when writing which you prefer to sell. Address

The Hawks Nursery Co.,
Rochester, N. Y.

C. H. HOBBY, PIANO TUNER.

Orders for tuning may be left at O. P. Allen's drug store, Palmer; or may be sent to me by mail to Mansfield, Ct.

SAY! MISTER! YOU'VE DROPPED YOUR Battle Ax PLUG

A GREAT BIG PIECE FOR 10 CENTS.

R·I·P·A·N·S

ONE GIVES RELIEF.

52-43

In Buying a Piano or an Organ

do not fail to examine the latest Mason & Hamlin models. Recent improvements together with time tested points of superiority render them instruments par excellence. Old pianos or organs taken in exchange. Instruments sold for cash or easy payments.

Catalogues and full information sent free.

Mason & Hamlin Co.

146 Boylston Street, (opp. Common), Boston, Mass

THE POT CALLED THE KETTLE BLACK BECAUSE THE HOUSEWIFE DIDN'T USE

SAPOLIO

4-29

CATARRH

is strictly a LOCAL DISEASE and is the result of sudden climatic changes.

Ely's Cream Balm

is acknowledged to be the most thorough cure for Nasal Catarrh, Cold in the Head and Hay Fever, of all remedies. It opens and cleanses the nasal passages, allays pain and inflammation, heals the sores, protects the membrane from colds, restores the senses of taste and smell. The Balm is applied directly into the nostrils, is quickly absorbed and gives relief at once. The results that follow catarrh, due to the dropping of poisonous matter into the throat, are irritation of the bronchial tubes and soreness of the lungs accompanied by a cough. In all such cases we recommend Pineola Balsam to be used in connection with Cream Balm. Ely's Pineola Balsam will be found excellent for all throat and lung inflammations and for asthma. Consumptives will invariably derive benefit from its use, as it quickly abates the cough, renders expectoration easy, assisting nature in restoring wasted tissues. There is a large percentage of those who suppose their cases to be consumption who are only suffering from a chronic cold or deep seated cough, often aggravated by catarrh. Both remedies are pleasant to use. Price of Cream Balm, 50c per bottle; Pineola Balsam, 25c. In quantities of $2.50 we will deliver free of express or postage, on receipt of amount.

ELY BROTHERS, 56 Warren St., New York.

HOLMES & CO.,

61 Broadway, N. Y.,

Members of the N. Y. Stock Exchange.

Receive Accounts and Deposits of Firms, Individuals, etc., and allow interest on daily balances. Buy and sell for cash or carry on margin at lowest rates of interest on the New York, Philadelphia, Boston and Chicago Stock Exchanges, Stocks, Bonds, Grain, Cotton, etc.

Branch Office: 35 Congress St., Boston.

PARKER'S HAIR BALSAM

Cleanses and beautifies the hair. Promotes a luxuriant growth. Never Fails to Restore Gray Hair to its Youthful Color. Cures scalp diseases & hair falling. 50c. and $1.00 at Druggists

HINDERCORNS.

The only sure Cure for Corns. Stops all pain. Ensures comfort to the feet. Makes walking easy. 15cts. at Druggists.

POSTAL

Telegraph and Cable Co.

Office in Strong's Block,

PALMER, : : : : : MASS.

Direct wires to New York and Boston. Office in all the principal cities in the

UNITED STATES.

PROMPT SERVICE,

REASONABLE RATES,

ALL BUSINESS

STRICTLY CONFIDENTIAL.

Wanted.

Agents, Local or Traveling on Salary or Commission, to sell our Warranted Stock.

Sold with a guarantee, at reasonable prices. Steady work and good pay assured. New methods and new specialties. Outfit free, experience unnecessary. Now is the time to commence.

Address, H. B. Williams, Sec'y.

Chautauqua Nursery Co.,

Portland, N. Y.

A NICE NEW LINE OF SAMPLES OF FOLDERS.

FOR DANCE PROGRAMS, INVITATIONS, MENUS, CET.

Just received at the JOURNAL Office.

The Palmer Journal.

VOLUME XLVI. PALMER, MASS., FRIDAY EVENING, NOVEMBER 15, 1895. NUMBER 33.

PUBLISHED EVERY FRIDAY EVENING
—BY—
C. B. FISKE & CO.

TERMS OF SUBSCRIPTION.—Two dollars a year. A discount of 25 cents to those who pay in advance. Six months, $1.00; three months, 50 cents; single copies, 5 cents.

ADVERTISING RATES.—One inch (or twelve lines of this type solid) 75 cents for the first insertion, 25 cents for the second, 15 cents for each subsequent insertion. Short advertisements, "Wanted," "To Let," etc., one cent a word for the first insertion, one-half cent a word each subsequent insertion, cash; no charge less than 25 cents. Notices in local column, 15 cents per line. Liberal rates to yearly advertisers.

JOB PRINTING of all kinds executed in the best styles, promptly and at reasonable rates.

C. B. FISKE. L. E. CHANDLER.

[Entered at Post Office as second class matter.]

LOCAL BUSINESS DIRECTORY.

PALMER.

ALLEN, O. P., Wholesale and Retail Druggist and Bookseller.

BARTON, F. D., Dealer in Watches, Clocks and Jewelry, Main street.

BILLS, G. A., Fresh and Salt Beef, Pork, Ham, Lard, Tripe, etc.

BROOKS, EDWIN E., Graduate Optician. With E. S. Brooks, Jeweler, Main street.

BROOKS, E. S., Dealer in Watches, Clocks, Jewelry, Solid Silver and Plated Ware, Main street.

BROWN, C. A. & CO., Hardware, Furnaces, Stoves, Ranges, Paints, Oils and Glass.

BROWN, S. H., Trucking, Light Jobbing, Piano Moving. Order box cor. Main and Walnut streets. Orders can also be left at J. F. Foley's store.

CARPENTER, MRS. L. E., Millinery and Fancy Goods. Also dealer in Human Hair Goods.

CHANDLER BROS., Bicycles.

CLARK & HASTINGS, Wholesale Dealers in Armour & Co's. Dressed Beef, Provisions, Main St.

EAGER, F. M., Boot and Shoe Manufacturer to Order, and dealer in Leather and Findings.

FISKE, C. B. & CO., Publishers PALMER JOURNAL and WARE STANDARD. Fine Book and Job Printers and Bookbinders.

FITCH, A. E., Law and Insurance, Savings Bank Block.

FRANCIS, R. B., Iron Foundry and Machine Shop.

GAMWELL, C. K., Ready made Clothing, Hats, Caps, Gent's Furnishings, etc.

GARDNER, CHAS. L., Attorney and Counsellor at Law. Church street.

GOODES, E., Palmer Boot and Shoe Store, corner Main and Thorndike streets.

HAMILTON, J. A., Dealer in all kinds of Coal, Wood, Grain, Flour, Baled Hay and Straw. Fertilizers and Stock Food. Main street.

HOLBROOK, C. D., Flour, Grain, Feed and Mason's Supplies, Main street.

HOLBROOK, J. F., Dealer in all kinds of Coal. Agent for National and White Star line of steamers. Drafts on Foreign Banks at lowest rates.

LEACH, W. W., Attorney at Law.

LEGRO & LYNDE, Druggists and Newsdealers, Paper Hangings, Shades, Lamps and Fixtures.

MARCY, F. F., Dealer in Lumber, Shingles, etc., wholesale and retail. West of B.&A.R.R. depot.

MARCY, OSCAR C., Livery and Feed Stable, rear of Converse House.

PALMER WATER CO., Office, Lawrence Block. Office hours to October 1, from 8.30 to 10 a. m., from 2 to 3 p. m.

SHAW, J. B., Dealer in Dry Goods, Groceries, etc. Opposite the depot.

TAFT, S. S., Attorney at Law. Office in Allen's Block, Church street.

WHITE, C. W., Marble and Granite Works. No. 1 Thorndike street.

WOOLRICH & CO., Manufacturers of Ridge's Food, Thorndike street.

THORNDIKE.

ADAMS, A. P., Druggist, Toilet Articles, Confectionery and Cigars.

BONDSVILLE.

HOLDEN, C. L., Dry Goods, Groceries, Clothing Boots, Shoes, Hats, Caps, etc.

MORIARTY, M., Dry Goods, Groceries, Boots Shoes, Coal. Agt White Star and Anchor SS Co's

WARE.

ADAMS, MRS., Chiropodist and Manicurist. 13 Park Avenue. All troubles of feet successfully treated.

ALBERTINE, J. A. Choice Fruits, Tobaccos, Cigars and Confectionery. Low Prices.

DAVIS INSURANCE AGENCY represents the best companies and gives lowest rates.

EDDY, C. W. Job and Fine Art Printer.

EDDY, MISS MATIE K. Teacher of Oil Painting and Crayon. Sketching or Art Work completed to order.

ELDREDGE, A. HENRY. Sign Painter. Carriages painted in the best manner. West Street.

HARLOW, A. B. Photographer. Instantaneous process only. Opposite the Bank.

HOSMER, F. N. Clothier. Hats, Caps, Gents' Furnishing Good, etc. Sanford's Block.

MARSH, F. E. Gold, Silver and Nickel Plater. Replating tableware a specialty. 7 Bank street.

PRIEST, J. E. Ware Steam Laundry. Carpet cleaning. Office at H. M. Clark's.

RICHARDSON, A. F. Dealer in Boots, Shoes and Rubbers of all kinds. Sagendorph's Block.

ROBINSON, JOHN F. Furniture, Sewing Machines, Pictures, Hardware, Paints and Farming Tools.

SIBLEY, J. B. Hardware, Tools, Agricultural Implements, Paints, Oils and Artists' materials.

SMITH, G. H. W. Jeweler. Watches, Clocks and Spectacles. Repairing in the best manner.

TURNER, H. H. Bookseller and Stationer, and dealer in Paper Hangings, Musical Instruments and Sheet Music.

MONSON.

GROUT, GEO. E. Dealer in Watches Clocks, Jewelry, etc. Towne's Block.

NEWTON, GEO. H., Law Office, Notary Public, Insurance, etc., near Gage's store.

SQUIER & CO., Dealers in Grain, Feed, Hay, Straw, Lumber, Shingles and Building Material.

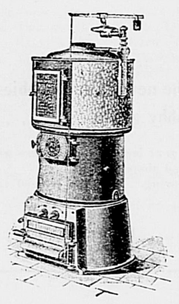
WARREN.

KELLEY, W. H., Attorney and Counsellor at Law. Quaboag Block, Warren, Mass.

SOCIETY DIRECTORY.

MONSON.

MT. ELLA LODGE, No. 184, A. O. U. W. Meets first and third Tuesdays of each month in A. O. U. W Hall, Monson.
FISK G. ROGERS, M. W., F. J. ENTWISTLE, Rec.



VOLUNTEER STEAM AND WATER HEATER.

ECONOMY WARM AIR HEATERS.

BARSTOW PARLOR STOVES.

MODEL GRAND AND CRAWFORD GRAND RANGES.

Rustless Tin Ware.

Plumbing and Steam Heating.

W. H. Hitchcock,

Nassowanno House Block, Palmer.

E. S. Bryant, D. M. D., Dentist,

Lynde's Block, Palmer.
Office hours: 8.30 to 12.30. 1.30 to 5 p. m.

TODD'S Boston Bargain STORE.

BY TELEGRAPH:

Blizzards in the Northwest, snow in New York state. There is a chill in the air that is breeding cold nights. There is misery in store if you are not warmly bedded. Don't take any silly chances. Which do you prefer—pneumonia or

Blankets?

Soft, warm and woolly ones with a fleece like fur. We have on our bargain counters a special lot of slightly soiled blankets which we are selling at Broken Prices. You had better nip these now. The price will stiffen with the frost.

Hosiery.

The kind of Stockings your grandmother wore—she knit them herself—you would not wear them, you want the finer, handsomer, just as durable but much more sightly and a better fit. We have them.

Ladies' ribbed Wool Hose, 25c a pair. Ladies' ribbed Cashmere Hose, 37c a pair.
" Fleece-Lined, 25c, 35c, 39c, 50c. " Imported Cashmere, very fine, 50c.

BROKEN PRICES FOR THIS WEEK.

Our 75c Comfortables,	62c	Our 20c 2¼ Sheeting,	17c yd
" 15c Ladies' Hose,	12 1-2c	" Made-up Sheets,	50c each
" 25c Gent's Wool Hose,	19c	" 42-inch Pillow Cases,	10c "
" 19c " "	15c	" 45-inch " "	12 1-2c "
" $1 Chenille Table Cloth,	89c	" 58c Gent's Flannel Shirts, with yoke back,	50c
" Grey Flannelette Wrappers,	$1.50	" 18 inch Cotton Bird's Eye, best quality,	45c
" Our 58c Blankets,	50c	" 37½c Satin Supporters,	25c pr

Our 5 and 10-cent counters are replaced with a large stock of Tin Ware and useful articles.

IT PAYS TO TRADE AT THE CASH STORE.

T. H. TODD,

Boston Store, - Monson.

For the Coming Winter Season.

The Saskatchewan Coat,

Wind Proof,

is a handsome custom-made garment of a black or brown color, with a high rolling collar, lined with black Italian quilting, and rubber lining in the body part and sleeves to make it wind and water proof. It has olives and loops instead of buttons. This coat will keep a person dry and warm during the severest snow or rain-storm, and will be dry the next day.

Caps and carriage robes of the same material.

Complete line of
GENT'S FURNISHING GOODS
in all departments.

Fall and Winter Clothing

was never so low in price, nor such values for the money.

Fall Suits, $5 to $20,

Just think of it!

An elegant line of

Overcoats, $6 to $22.

You never saw the like before.

Child's Suits, $2 to $6.

Child's Reefer, $3.50 to $5.

Children's Overcoats in all grades.

Underwear

in a great variety of grades and prices.

Fall Style, 1895.

Lamson & Hubbard.

C. K. GAMWELL,

Palmer, Mass.

Perhaps you don't know all about it.

Step in and we will tell you about the QUEEN HUB. While here we can show you some Fine Parlor Goods at prices that will surprise you.

C. A. Brown & Co. - Palmer, Mass.

Cash
Cash
Cash
Cash
Cash

We must have

Cash

In return for Cash we will sell you a fine

Upright Piano

At a very low figure.

Come in and see us.

Taylor's Music House,

Opera House Block, Springfield.

. . . Coal, . . . Hay and Straw.

If you haven't bought your winter coal, ask our prices before you buy; will sell as low as anyone.

We have hay and straw, and can supply you at short notice, at market prices.

If you want to buy or hire a team or any part of a team, come and see me. Think I can supply you. I have competent men to attend to all light and heavy teaming you may have to do, and solicit a share of your patronage. Orders by mail promptly attended to.

Ralph Clifford,

Monson, Sept. 30, 1895. Monson House Stables.

DR. O. P. Roller,
Dentist.

Teeth extracted without pain by a new system. The latest methods in dentistry employed.
Office hours from 8 a. m. to 4.30 p. m.
Lawrence Block, Palmer, Mass.

WALL PAPERS, MOULDINGS, ETC., AT MASON'S, PALMER.

FOR ALL KINDS OF JOB PRINTING CALL AT THE JOURNAL OFFICE.

SMITH & MURRAY.

The important sales of Black Silks and Ladies' Waists continue to-day.

These goods are veritable bargains.

Women's Waists at a third less than their cost of production.

Women's imported serge cashmere finish waists, boned, also belt, finished band lined, A waist that is being retailed to-day in all first-class stores at $3.50,

Sale price $2.50.

This lot in black only, sizes 32 to 42.

Women's waists made of very fine imported serge, lined, boned and belt, box front, plaited back, a waist that if you had it dressmaker-made (and it would be no better) would cost you $5.

Sale price $2.95.

Colors black, navy and red. Sizes 32 to 44

Women's fancy silk waists, handsomely made, box front, good style in every detail. These are waists that cannot be made less than $6. The only reason being the fact of the makers are preparing for spring goods, so they sell at some price. We were ready—always ready for such chances.

Sale price $3.95.

All that remain of these waists that we've in stock at the regular prices are changed to the Sale prices.

Also all our silk and wool plaid waists, newest styles, that were $3.50 and $4,

Now $2.75.

On sale to-day.

Second floor, take elevator.

The silk bargains are making more friends daily.

A few days will see them disappear.

Here's the list of values:

20-inch black satin brocades—all silk, this season's designs, usual price $1.00,

Sale price 59c a yard.

19-inch black armure silk, usually sold for $1.00,

Sale price, 59c a yard.

24-inch Black Faille Francaise, heavy goods, usual retail price $1.25,

Sale price 79c a yard.

SMITH & MURRAY.

"Honest John" Truss.

Very few Trusses have a reputation equal to this, and none better. We are prepared to apply them to any kind of rupture, with a guarantee of satisfaction in every particular, at the drug store of

LeGRO & LYNDE,

Next Door to Post Office,

Palmer, - - Mass.

Hellyar's Bargain Store.

Carpets! Carpets!

Are you interested in carpets? If so, we should be pleased to show you. We have arranged with one of the largest mills in the United States whereby we are their sold agents in this locality.

Wilton Carpets,
Moquette Carpets,
Axminster Carpets.
Velvet Carpets,
Body Brussels Carpets,
Tapestry Carpets,
Three Ply Carpets,
Ingrain Carpets of all grades,
Cocoa Mattings,
Napier Mattings,
China Mattings,
Linoleums,
Oil Cloths,
Rugs,
Mats,
Lace Curtains.

We carry a full line of the newest patterns in all kinds of Carpets.

You have as fine a variety to select from as is carried by the stores in the largest cities. You can have the carpets cut and sewed at the mills, and delivered to you ready to be laid on the floor. We represent the manufacturers, thus saving you the middleman or jobber's profit, and as we have no stock to carry and no risk to take on bad patterns, misfits or remnants we can afford to sell at a very small profit—lower even than the stores of the great cities. Call and find out how quickly and how cheaply we can carpet a room or a house.

S. H. Hellyar & Co.,

Caryl's Block, on the Corner,

Palmer, Mass.

F. F. MARCY, PALMER, MASS. Wholesale and Retail Dealer in
ALL KINDS OF LUMBER AND SHINGLES
Windows, doors, blinds, mouldings. Carpenters' and joiners' work done to order.
Also FIRE BRICK and CLAY for sale.
Yard and shop at junction of B. & A. and N. L. N. Railroads—west of Depot.

To-day.

When is the golden time? you ask—
The golden time of love,
The time when earth is green beneath,
And skies are blue above;
The time for sturdy health and strength,
The time for happy play—
When is the golden hour? you ask—
I answer you. "To-day."

To-day, that from the maker's hand
Slips on the great world sea,
As stanch as ever ship that launched
To sail eternally.
To-day that wafts to you and me
A breath of Eden's prime,
That greets us, glad, and large and free—
It is the golden time.

For yesterday hath veiled her face,
And gone as far away
As sands that swept the pyramids
In Egypt's ancient day.
No man shall look on Yesterday,
Or tryst with her again;
Forever gone her toils, her prayers,
Her conflicts, and her pain.

To-morrow is not ours to hold,
May never come to bless
Or blight our lives with weal or ill,
With gladness or distress.
No man shall clasp To-morrow's hand
Nor catch her on the way;
For when we reach To-morrow's land,
She'll be, by then, To-day.

You ask me for the golden time;
I bid you, "seize the hour,"
And fill it full of earnest work,
While yet you have the power.
To-day the golden time for joy,
Beneath the household eaves;
To-day, the loyal time for work,
For "bringing in the sheaves."

To-day, the golden time for peace,
For righting olden feuds;
For sending forth from every heart
Whatever sin intrudes.
To-day, the time to consecrate
Your life to God above;
To-day, the time to banish hate,
The golden time for love.

—Margaret E. Sangster.

THAT AKERS GIRL.

"You seem perfectly blind, brother, to the fact that Johnny is completely infatuated with that Akers girl."

The doctor directed his letter, sealed it and laid it aside. As he drew up the paper to begin another he said absently:—

"Johnny infatuated again? He has been madly in love since he was nine years old."

"Very likely; but it was always with his equals. Now, these Akerses—I really think Gilbert, that as you promised poor brother William, on his death-bed, to be a father to his son, you should concern yourself in some degree about his interests."

Dr. Cabell gathered up his letters and rose. His sister saw there was a little heat on his usually pale, quiet face.

"It is for John to decide whether I have filled his father's place, Jane," he said; "not for you or me."

"But this Akers girl—"

"You know I will not listen to the village gossip. Mrs. Akers was a woman whom every man of right feeling would respect and honor. Now that she is dead, and her daughter is left alone and unprotected in the world, with no fault but her youth and beauty, no man would throw stones at her. What women would do—"

He shrugged his shoulders and paused significantly.

Meanwhile, Miss Cecilia Blynn had arrived and in a few minutes she and her hostess were seated before the quilting-frame—thread, needles, and wax in readiness. She was a little woman, with long black, spiral ringlets at either side of her face, and she had black eyes that had grown keen computing in each house how many days she could extend her "visit," and whether the board and old gowns given to her would pay for her work. She was a notable worker; her fingers moved as fast as her tongue.

"Oh, there can be no doubt," she was saying, "that your nephew is engaged to Antonia Akers. Every day a bouquet of fine hot-house flowers is sent up there, with Mr. John Cabell's card; and three times last week he serenaded her with his guitar."

"If Johnny Cabell marries her, it will be against the consent of his family," said Jane sharply. "I authorize you to say so, Ceely. A pretty how-dy'-do! The Cabells are the oldest family in this hundred: and the Akerses—who are the Akerses?"

"Goodness knows?—the chalk, please Miss Jane. I remember when Mrs. Akers came to town with this girl, a lank creature of fourteen. The widow was dressed in deep mourning. She took Halston's house and lived there till she died, last year. Very quiet—too quiet. There's a mystery about people who hold themselves aloof; and where there's a mystery, there's something shameful, you may depend. Why should the girl stay alone in the house now? Nobody there but that old negro woman. She was advised by the rector—and everybody in fact—to take boarding at Mrs. Rice's. I am sure I told her to do it. But no; she must have her own way. 'Tisn't safe, nor proper."

"Well, Ceely, I don't know," said Miss Jane, who was not malicious at the bottom of her cool, selfish heart. "The girl is probably attached to the house where she lived with her mother, naturally—and to the old servant. A woman couldn't live alone in that way, in a city like Wilmington; but in this village, it's different. By the way, I'm thinking of going back to Wilmington—the Gurney House is a most fashionable resort now. I do so long for society!"

"Indeed and you must, Miss Jane—you who adorned it so! Oh, I've heard! Mrs. Foulke told me about Major Carter and plenty of others who—" Etc., etc.

While Miss Jane was being thus patted and flattered into good humor, her nephew, John Cabell, was walking down the road which led to the Akers house with its owner. He was a tall and perfectly well-dressed man, with Greek features, dazzling teeth, and sparkling blue eyes. Nobody ever saw him without being impressed by his singular beauty and faultless dress; nobody was ever impressed by him any further. If you knew him for twenty years, you would still only think of his wonderful eyes or the fit of his gloves. An odd effect of the flaccid nature of the man was that the whole village called him Johnny—never John nor Jack.

The small, slight girl, clad in deep black, who walked beside him, on the contrary would make at first sight a sudden mark on your mind. You must love or hate her; you could not be indifferent to her.

"There now!" said Johnny, petulantly, gloom settling on his noble features, "there's your house, and I have told you nothing of all I wanted to say. I suppose you won't ask me to come in?"

"No, Johnny; I receive no visitors since my mother's death."

"It's very hard on me. I never c... speak a word to you, unless I catch you going home like this, and walking in the rain or shivering cold, as it is to-day, one appears to such disadvantage!"

"You never do that, Johnny," she said with a furtive smile.

"Nonsense!" I never could see my good looks that people talk of," said the young fellow, anxiously. "I get so tired of the same face in the glass. But never mind me, Antonia. If I could only have time to talk to you, I could explain—"

"Explain what?"

"What I want you to do. I know you don't care for me, but you might come to it in time. I've seen lots of couples who cared nothing for each other at first, that, by dint of sitting at the same table and consulting about their clothes and the butcher's bills for years, came to be very fond and comfortable together. No! stop—don't speak yet, Antonia. It seems this way to me: You're pretty lonely now; you refuse to visit any of the young folks, and discourage them from coming to your house; and you live there alone, with Sinty; and it's queer, you know—and folks think it's queer, and they—they—"

"They are talking of me?" cried Antonia, stopping short in the road. Her dark eyes dilated with a sudden terror, and she caught her breath sharply. She looked so small and childish and forlorn, that Johnny's voice grew hoarse with his excitement.

"You know what tongues some scandalmongers here have. But what need it matter? I love you. Great heavens, I wish I could tell you how I love you. I haven't words, Antonia. And I'm my own master. I can marry when I choose. My father left me a good income. The Cabells have connections in the best society in Wilmington. We'll live there, and you shall be like a queen in the house. Nobody would dare to suspect you there."

She held out both hands to him.

"You're a good soul, Johnny," she said.

"Then you will come?" But his countenance fell a little, for what young fellow with the form of Hercules and the features of Antinous likes to be called "a good soul?"

She looked at him without speaking for a minute, and then shook her head slowly.

"No, I could not wrong you so much. But, Johnny—"

"What is it?" He tried to draw her nearer. His own eyes were full of tears; his heart was torn with her distress. What is wrong? Let me help you. I'll give my life to you. You think, because I've been a little fickle—but I'll never look at another girl now—"

"Yes, you will. You'll love some nice girl—some woman who has no shame upon her, and be happy. But never suspect me, Johnny—that's all I ask. Do you stand my friend, no matter what you hear, nor what the proof is against me!"

She wrung her hands, sobbing, as she spoke, and then, turning, ran swiftly into the garden before her house, and disappeared in the thick shrubbery.

Antonia, who before her mother's death had been a frank, friendly little girl, had, in the two years that had elapsed, grown silent and reticent. She had long ceased to enter a house in the village. She had been mysteriously absent twice, with Sinty, giving no account of herself on her return. All this, with Johnny's hopeless passion for her, was a savory dish of gossip for the village.

About sunset of the day on which Johnny had met Antonia, Doctor Cabell passed down the same road and pushed open the little gate leading into the garden. The doctor, with his compact figure closely buttoned in a gray frieze coat, his resolute step, his homely features lighted by kindly, quizzical eyes, was an odd contrast to that magnificent flower of youth—Johnny. He crossed the porch, and, tapping at the door, pushed it open, as he had been in the habit of doing during the years of his attendance on Mrs. Akers.

Antonia was seated on a low chair before the fire, her sewing in her hand. The doctor had often found her there at work, for she was an industrious little girl. But now her hands had fallen on her lap, and her face was wet with tears. He came up to her quietly and laid his hand on the back of her chair.

"What is wrong, my child?"

She sprang up, glancing quickly, as he noticed, at a door into an inner room, which stood ajar. The old negro—Sinty—from within, closed it hastily. Antonia held out her hand, drew it back, assured him that she "was qu'te well, quite well! Would he sit down? It was long since he had been there and she was very glad—" growing paler with every word, with furtive, terrified glances at the closed door. She broke down at last in the middle of a sentence, and stood looking at him helplessly. He silently led her to a chair and seated himself beside her.

"You forget, Antonia, that I promised your mother to help her little girl, if ever she should call on me for help.'

"I have asked for none," she said, in a whisper.

The doctor did not hear her. He continued hurriedly, as if reciting a task:—

"I came to-day, not because you needed me. It is my nephew who asked my aid. He thinks I have influence with you and—"

He stopped abruptly. Her eyes were raised slowly and met his. Neither spoke. Then she said, as though the words were drawn from her by force:—

"You have influence with me, Dr. Cabell."

"That is very natural," he interrupted, hastily. "I understand that. I was your mother's friend. You regard me as a guardian, an old fatherly protector; that is natural. I do not mistake you."

His gray eyes, full of a worldless pain, were fixed upon the childish pleading face upturned to his. She half rose and drew away from him, as if shaking off some hold upon her.

"And so you come as my guardian to ask me to marry John Cabell?"

The doctor rose, walked across the room, and then, coming back, leaned against the mantel.

"John has told me," he said in a measured voice, "that he believes you love him; that you refuse to marry him because you fancy that you would bring some trouble or injury upon him. He thinks you are lonely and morbid, and—"

"He thinks that I am a victim of the village slander, and he wants to shelter me from it," she cried. "It is good—it is noble in Johnny!"

"He is a good, honest fellow," said the elder man deliberately, after a moment's silence. "He will be a kind husband. If you love him, Antonia—"

"Well? If I love him—"

"You should not fear to bring trouble to him. What is trouble to the man whom you love?"

"I do not love John Cabell," she said. "But I will never bring disgrace to any man. Oh, what have I said?"

For the doctor was beside her, his eyes on fire, his voice hoarse and broken.

"You do not love him?" he cried. "Antonia, is there any hope that—I am mad! I might almost be your father! Gray hairs—and you, soft, and white, and sweet as a little lamb. I have told her at last. I am a fool—a fool!"

He dropped into a seat and covered his face.

Antonia's little figure, as she stood before him, thrilled and dilated. This was not the child he knew, but a woman—airy, coquettish, triumphant.

She put out one finger and touched his head lightly.

"I see no gray hairs," she said, simply.

He raised his head and looked at her, the question of his life on his face.

"I always have thought of you as a child," he said, "and of myself as an old man. And yet"—he stretched out his arms to her—"you are the woman I love! I did not marry in my youth because I never cared for any woman. My life has been so long and bare! God sent you into it. Must a few years separate us?"

"I know nothing of years," she said, with a soft little laugh.

It was not Johnny's limp arms that clasped her, nor Johnny's uncertain lips that met her own. For one minute the world was full of a strong rapturous love that shut her out from all trouble. She sobbed a little, and the tears came.

"I have been so lonely since mother died," she said. "Sometimes I hoped you cared for me, and then I was not sure."

"You shall never be lonely again."

The closed door creaked. Antonia pushed him from her, and stood, dazed, looking at him and then at the door.

"Oh, I had forgotton," she said, in a hoarse whisper. "You must never speak to me again as you have done. I never can marry. I can be nothing to you—nothing!"

Dr. Cabell was a physician as well as a lover.

"Sit down, Antonia," he said soothingly. "You do not know what you say. The nervous strain of these last months has been more than you could bear. Do not think nor worry any more; you are mine now."

She stood listening intently to him, but keeping her eyes on the door. It moved slightly.

"Go!" she cried. "Never come back—never think of me again!"

"What do you mean? As he said this, he came gently closer, in doubt whether the girl's reason was not actually shaken.

"There is a bar as strong as death."

"You have said you loved me. After that, nothing will force me to give you up, unless"—a sudden startled doubt in his eyes—"another man has a prior claim on you."

Her childish features grew rigid as she stared at him, nodding assent.

"Is this true, Antonia?"

"It is true."

"There is some one in that room, besides Sinty. Who is it?"

"It is a man to whom I owe love and care. I try to give it to him—God knows I do! Now go—only go!"

More than once in Dr. Cabell's experience he had known girls as innocent and young as Antonia to yield to some mad infatuation and marry men who afterward become their tyrants. Could she have fallen into such a trap?

"Tell me the truth," he said. "Let me know what I have to face."

"No—you can do nothing; I am bound for life. Every moment you stay will only add to my load. Oh, go—go!"

She almost forced him to the door, and, without a word of farewell, closed it behind him.

Dr. Cabell's usual prompt decision forsook him. He paced aimlessly up and down the road. Should he force the door and discover who and what it was that had mastered the girl? A man to whom she owed love? There had been unexplained absences since her mother's death. Could any villain—

He came toward the house, resolved on forcing an entrance, when the shadow of a man crossed the curtain—a tall, thin form, walking with tottering steps. Antonia's little figure passed across the curtain, too. She came up to him, put her arm in his to support him; he stooped, and their lips met.

Dr. Cabell, dumb to his heart, turned into the road and walked slowly homeward.

The winter was dull for Miss Cabell. She wrote to her old friends in Wilmington that Gilbert, who had always been taciturn, had become almost dumb; that he was now wholly absorbed in his profession. "Kind enough, but totally unsympathetic." She could not resist their entreaties to come up to the Gurney House and patronize a church bazaar, at which all the beauty and fashion of the city would appear.

Dr. Cabell sat over his fire late that night. He knew Antonia was in need of him and would send for him. The summons came, near morning. He entered the house just before dawn. She met him at the door, pale from long loss of sleep.

"It is too late," was her greeting. "He is dying, but you can perhaps save him pain."

Dr. Cabell worked with his patient for hours. He was the wreck of a strong, handsome man, of more than middle age. He fought death step by step with an impotent fury, cursing the doctor, the old negress, and Antonia more than all. Once only, with a gleam of sanity, he said to her quietly: "Poor Nony! You've done your duty to me, little woman!"

When at last he was dead, and Antonia's long task was done, old Sinty carried her out and laid her unconscious in her own room. An hour later Dr. Cabell went to her.

"Who was this man, Antonia?" he said. "I must answer the question that will be asked."

"He was my father—George Akers. He deserted my mother. She heard of his death in California. After she was gone he came to me. He had served out a term of fifteen years in prison for manslaughter. You understand now why I—I—"

"Why you could not bring disgrace on me, I think you said. Why, child, you brought misery worse than death; I thought you were his wife. I will go now and silence the village; afterward—"

The village was too proud and fond of Dr. Cabell to disobey his edicts. That Akers girl became a heroine. As to what happened afterward, Miss Cabell is the best authority:—

"When I read Gilbert's letter telling me that he was about to bring a new mistress into the home, and that mistress Antonia, I felt as though I had received a mortal blow. He assured me my home was always welcome to me. My home! under the rule of that Akers girl! I have visited them once, upon the most formal footing; but I am homeless. As for the Gurney House, the society there is becoming very mixed indeed, and the soups are atrocious. But it is by trials and humiliations that we reach perfection in this vale of tears!"—Rebecca Harding Davis, in Baltimore Mews.

The Ferry for Shadowtown.

Sway to and fro in the twilight gray,
This is the ferry for Shadowtown,
It always sails at the end of day,
Just as the darkness closes down.

Rest, little head, on my shoulder, so;
A sleepy kiss is the only fare,
Drifting away from the world we go,
Baby and I in the rocking-chair.

See, where the fire-logs glow and spark
Glitter the lights of the shadowland,
The raining drops on the window, hark,
Are ripples lapping upon its strand.

There, where the mirror is glancing dim,
A lake lies shimmering, cool and st ll,
Blossoms are waving above its brim,
Those over there on the window-sill.

Rock slow, more slow in the dusky light,
Silently lower the anchor down,
Dear little passenger, say "Good-night!"
We've reached the harbor of Shadowtown.

—Motherhood.

HOW THE ALBEMARLE WAS BLOWN UP.

On the night of Oct. 27, 1864, Cushing slipped away from the blockading fleet, and steamed up the river toward the wharf, a dozen miles distant, where the great ram lay. The confederates were watchful to guard against surprise, for they feared lest their foes should try to destroy the ram before she got a chance to come down and attack them again in the sound. She lay under the guns of a fort, with a regiment of troops ready at a moment's notice to turn out and defend her. Her own guns were kept always clear for action, and she was protected by a great boom of logs thrown out roundabout, of which last defense the federals knew nothing. Cushing went up-stream with the utmost caution, and by good luck passed, unnoticed, a confederate lookout below the ram.

About midnight he made his assault. Steaming quietly on through the black water and feeling his way cautiously toward where he knew the town to be, he finally made out the loom of the Albemarle through the night, and at once drove for her. He was almost upon her before he was discovered; then the crew and the soldiers on the wharf opened fire, and at the same moment he was brought to by the boom, the existence of which he had not known. The rifle balls were singing about him as he stood erect guiding his launch, and he heard the bustle of the men aboard the ram, and the noise of the great guns as they were got ready. Backing off, he again went ahead with all steam, and actually surged over the slippery log of the boom.

Meanwhile on the deck of the Albemarle the sailors were running to quarters and the soldiers were swarming down to aid in her defense. And the droning bullets came always thicker through the dark night. Cushing still stood upright in his little craft, guiding and controlling her by voice and signal, while in his hands he kept the ropes which led to the torpedo. As the boat slid forward over the boom, he brought the torpedo full against the somber side of the huge ram, and instantly exploded it, almost at the same time that the pivot-gun of the ram, loaded with grape, was fired point blank at him, not 10 yards off.

At once the ram settled, the launch sinking at the same moment, while Cushing and his men swam for their lives. Most of them sank or were captured; but Cushing reached midstream. Hearing something splashing in the darkness he swam toward it, and found that it was one of the crew. He went to his rescue, and they kept together for some time, but the sailor's strength gave out, and he finally sank. In the pitch darkness Cushing could form no idea where he was; and when, chilled through, and too exhausted to rise to his feet, he finally reached shore, shortly before dawn, he found that he had swam back, and landed but a few hundred feet below the sunken ram. All that day he remained within easy musket shot of where his foes were swarming about the fort and the great drowned ironclad. He hardly dared move, and until the afternoon he lay without food and without protection from the heat and insects. Then he managed to slip unobserved into a dense swamp, and began to make his way toward the fleet. Toward evening he came out on a small stream near a camp of confederate soldiers. They had moored to the bank a small skiff, and with equal stealth and daring he managed to steal this, and began to paddle down stream. Hour after hour he paddled on through the fading light, and then through the darkness. At last, utterly worn out, he found the squadron and was picked up.

WHEREIN MEN AND WOMEN DIFFER.

Man is a creature of cast-iron habits; woman adapts herself to circumstances; this is the foundation of the moral difference between them.

A man does not attempt to drive a nail unless he has a hammer; a woman does not hesitate to utilize anything from the heel of a boot to the back of a brush.

A man considers a corkscrew absolutely necessary to open a bottle: a woman attempts to extract the cork with the scissors; if she does not succeed readily she pushes the cork into the bottle, since the essential thing is to get at the fluid.

Shaving is the only use to which a man puts a razor; a woman employs it for a chiropodist's purpose.

When a man writes everything must be in apple-pie order; pen, paper and ink must be just so, a profound silence must reign while he accomplishes this important function. A woman gets any sheet of paper, tears it, perhaps, from a book or portfolio, sharpens the pencil with the scissors, puts the paper on an old atlas, crosses her feet, balances herself on her chair, and confides her thoughts to paper, changing from pencil to pen and vice versa from time to time, nor does she care if the children romp or the cook comes to speak to her.

A man storms if the blotting-paper is not conveniently near; a woman dries the ink by blowing on it, waving the paper in the air, or holding it near the lamp or fire.

A man drops a letter unhesitatingly in the box; a woman rereads the address, assures herself that the envelope is sealed, the stamp secure, and then throws it violently into the box.

A man can cut a book only with a paper-cutter; a woman deftly inserts a hairpin and the book is cut.

For a man "good-by" signifies the end of a conversation and the moment of his departure; for a woman it is the beginning of a new chapter, for it is just when they are taking leave of each other that women think of the most important topics of conversation.

A woman ransacks her brain trying to mend a broken object; a man puts it aside and forgets that for which there is no remedy. Which is the superior?—Lippincott's

"You have a fine town here," said the visitor to the land boomer. "You're right, sir, and so healthy." "Indeed. What's the death rate?" "None at all, sir. We won't let 'em die here. Soon as the fever an' ague an' measles an' rheumatism and the seven-years'-itch strikes 'em we call a meeting o' the council an' make 'em move on."—Atlanta Constitution.

"Mamma-a-a! Boo-hoo! We's crying; Tum up 'tairs an' see what,s de matter wiv us!"—Punch.

IT'S EASIER TO FOOL MEN.

So many instances are known of the imitative instincts of animals that the possession of the same trait by fishes should not surprise one. Bob Jones, a prominent Louisville Boniface, has a dog, for instance, which is not only fond of beer, but has taught his chums the same taste, for a purpose which now appears. The other day a tin full of beer was given to Spot, who carefully lugged it away to the woodshed instead of lapping it up at once. Investigation revealed the fact that he had placed the tin on a board raised upon two blocks to form a bar. Ranged on the other side were half a dozen dogs, who had come with bones, rags and bits of biscuit to buy a drink. So many laps were allowed in return for each article, and other dogs kept coming. By and by Spot, seeing his tin nearly empty, dashed back into the saloon with it, dipping it full of water from a pail on the floor and returned. But the first dog that tasted of the diluted beverage raised a howl of protest, whereupon the customers attacked Spot in a body, and not only thrashed him roundly, but took away all his riches.—New York Recorder.

The Journal.

FRIDAY EVENING, NOVEMBER 15, 1895.

GOVERNOR GREENHALGE has appointed Thursday, Nov. 28th, a day of thanksgiving.

IT is reported that Col. Henry A. Thomas, Governor Greenhalge's private secretary, is to try conclusions with Congressman Elijah A. Morse for his seat inCongress. Morse will be a hard man to beat.

THE new constitution of South Carolina is a peculiar thing. Under it a man convicted of theft will be disfranchised, but he may commit a murder and still vote if he gets off, as he is pretty sure to in that state.

REPORTS from the various states at the national road parliament at Atlanta showed that Massachusetts leads in good roads, thus adding another to the long list of good things in which Massachusetts stands at the head.

THEY are having a great time out in the little town of Pecatonica, Ill., over a matter of personal rights in the schools. A teacher whipped a lad for eating onions, and now about every child in the school is eating them.

DEBS is to be released from jail at Woodstock, Ill., next Friday, after serving his sentence for contempt of court in connection with the railway strikes last year, and his sympathizers are preparing to give him a grand reception, with speeches by prominent men, etc. If this martyrizing of convicted criminals goes on we may expect to hear of the organization of an amalgamated society for the aggrandizement of those who have served time.

THE Boston Standard, the organ of the A. P. A., says of the state election that "One amusing thing was the election of many members of patriotic fraternities, whose connection with such orders was not suspected; many voters were misled and 'barked up the wrong tree'." That's one of the amusing things about the A. P. A., the average member is ashamed to have it known that he belongs to the order, and is pretty apt to deny the fact if charged with it.

GENERAL MILES, commander of the United States army, says in his annual report that the coast defenses of the country are very poor, and require decided and immediate improvement. He approves the use of bicycles and motor wagons in the army, and recommends an increase in the standing army to a minimum of one soldier for every 2000 population, and maximum of one for every 1000, seeing no reason why the army should not increase in strength with the growth of population in the country.

THE pastor of the Eastern Presbyterian church in Washington, D. C., Rev. T. C. Easton, has withdrawn from the A. P. A. because of his disgust with the management of the society, its purposes and methods. As Mr. Easton is not the first to withdraw for these reasons, his action will only tend to more strongly convince many that the objects and methods are not fully set forth in the published statements which the officers send out. At any rate, the statements and the workings of the councils seldom agree. Mr. Easton also says that there is general discontent throughout the order, which is already showing signs of dissolution.

MRS. HELEN F. GOUGER of Indiana, the temperance stump speaker who sued Congressman Elijah A. Morse for libel because of uncomplimentary things said about her during the campaign three years ago, has lost the second trial of the case, and with a good deal of the eleven obstinate jurymen feeling telegraphs from her home that the verdict is a "triumph for malice, political corruption and the liquor traffic," and that she would "rather go to the stake for the Prohibition party than be elected president by a party that uses such methods to win power." As she will never be called upon to serve in either capacity, she need not be in a hurry about making a choice.

LORD DUNRAVEN has found another reason for the defeat of his yacht in the international races last September, and now charges that after the boats were officially measured the ballast of the Defender was tampered with, more being added one night, this of course making the boat steadier in the race. About fifteen tons would have been required to have settled the boat as much as he claims, and that this could have been added while the boat lay in the measuring basin, visited as she was by hundreds of people, without anyone knowing it, is about as absurd an idea as could be advanced. 'Is 'Ighuess might as well admit that he was fairly beaten, and make the best of it. And his attempt to make it appear that all on this side of the water were cheats in the matter of the races is not giving him a good odor at home.

SOMETHING ought to be done with the fool who points a firearm at another in fun. Last week a Northampton boy put a cartridge in one barrel of a gun and snapped the hammer of the other at his sister; that is, he intended to snap the other, but he blew the side of his sister's head off. This week a North Adams boy was showing his sister how he shot a skunk, and put a revolver bullet through her neck. Other similar reports are heard almost daily. It would seem that some method of punishment, severe enough to make a lasting impression on the culprit, might be in order for those who knowingly point firearms at others. And yet it is a question whether much of the responsibility does not lie with the parents; a boy who is taught the importance of carefully handling firearms as soon as he shows an inclination for them, is pretty sure to keep clear of these "accidents."

THERE would seem to be very little necessity for the county commissioners inflicting Palmer and Monson with any more highways to take care of, especially when the one asked for will parallel an existing highway for nearly two miles, and at places only two rods from it, and we do not believe that as intelligent and business-like men they will do it, especially as the road asked for is to lie entirely outside the town in which the petition originated. And it would seem to be a strange awakening on the part of Brimfield and Wales people to the fact that the crossing over the railroad tracks at Cooley Crossing and the two under the tracks at Blanchardville have so suddenly become dangerous; this should have occurred to them before the expensive changes in the grades were made, particularly to eliminate this element of danger. Palmer (and probably Monson) is willing to do much for the comfort and convenience of its neighbors, but feels that its present 130 miles of highway is all it cares to keep in repair, and that other towns are asking rather too much when they want roads built in its territory solely for their benefit.

Mgr. Satolli, the apostolic delegate who has recently been made a cardinal, will be succeeded in the United States by Mgr. Laurenzelli, at present the papal representative in Holland.

The brig Harriet G., which arrived at New York last Saturday, reported that on October 3d the vessel was boarded by a Spanish officer and searched for arms and munitions.

A half bushel of nickels, quarters and half dollars was found in the garret of the house occupied by Epaphrodites P. Hubbard of Higganum, Ct., a miser, after his death the other day.

LOCAL NOTICES.

See "Hands Across the Sea," Nov. 19 and 20. Reserved seats at Allen's to-morrow morning.

Now is the time to leave your orders for native turkeys for Thanksgiving, at Thompson's market.

FINE STATIONERY.—Blue is the fashionable shade for ladies' correspondence paper now; and "Ciel Bleu" is the very latest and most correct. "Prince of Wales" is another popular style, and comes in four shades, Silver Blue, Cream, French Grey and Beryl. Samples of all these papers and the fashionable sizes now prevailing can be seen at the JOURNAL Office.

PALMER NEWS.

PROPOSED FENTONVILLE—PALMER ROAD.

County Commissioners Hold Another Hearing Regarding it.

The county commissioners held another hearing Monday forenoon in the district court room on the petition presented by Brimfield, Wales and Holland people for a new road from Fentonville to Palmer. The petitioners had been ordered to present a survey of the route, and be prepared with estimates of the probable cost of the road. No estimate was presented, but a survey was ready. Starting near the Fentonville schoolhouse, just beyond the Cooley Crossing bridge over the Quaboag, the proposed road would keep south of the river, following it pretty closely, to the plant of the Central Massachusetts Electric Company at Blanchardville. As the land near the river is low, the new road is laid out along the side hill, and is practically a parallel of the present road, in some places the present road being only a couple of rods from the new. At Blanchardville the present bridge over the river would be used, and the present highway to the house of W. B. Bennett, then going south of Bennett's house across the fields to Tenneyville; much of the last piece would have to be built through low ground, making considerable expense for construction.

The petitioners put in nothing new, but sought to emphasize their claim that the present road under the tracks at Blanchardville is dangerous, the horses owned in Wales and Brimfield being unaccustomed to the cars which are liable at any moment to cross the bridge over their heads, and that the people of these towns are thereby kept from visiting Palmer as they would like to. Town Counsel Kenefick appeared for the selectmen of Palmer, who objected to the construction of a new road on the ground that the present one is sufficient. When the present road was built a few years ago at great expense to abolish dangerous grade crossings for the safety of people in the surrounding towns, the work was done by order of a special commission appointed to look into the matter, and at that time nothing of a new road was heard from Wales and Brimfield people. C. T. Brainerd, one of the selectmen, corroborated Mr. Kenefick's remarks. A. D. Norcross, chairman of the Monson selectmen, spoke against the proposed road. He did not consider the present highway more dangerous than the average one near the railroad; the town of Monson already has a road within a few rods of the proposed one, and would willingly keep it in better repair if Wales and Brimfield people used it more; the town did not wish to build and maintain another. By the use of the present road the Cooley and one of the Blanchardville crossings would be avoided, and he could not see why it was not more used by people who feared these crossings. Dr. William Holbrook of Palmer also spoke against the new road; he traveled considerably over the present road and had never had an accident, nor seen any person who had; he could not understand why the people of Wales and Brimfield, if they so much wanted a new road, did not ask for it when the grade crossings were changed. D. L. Bodfish of Palmer, being asked his opinion, was in favor of the new road, as tending to draw more Wales and Brimfield trade to Palmer, and that it would open up a tract of land which would be valuable for manufacturing purposes. Mr. Lyons of Wales spoke in favor of the road; and did not think that the petitioners were asking for much. After the hearing had closed the commissioners viewed the proposed new route.

Superior Court Matters.

Several suits of local interest have been tried in the superior court during the week.

Miss M. E. Marsh of Palmer won her suit against D. F. Holden for a balance due as tuition for his child's attendance at Miss Marsh's private school. The circulars announcing the opening of the school stated that no scholar would be received for less than one term unless by special arrangement. Mr. Holden sent his daughter to the school, and when the term was partly over took her out and sent her to the public school, refusing to pay for more than the actual number of days she had attended the school. A verdict was ordered for the amount of the claim.

The suit of J. M. Allen against the town of Monson was sent up to the supreme court by agreement of the counsel on both sides, an interesting question being involved. On the 12th of January, 1893, Dr. Moore hired one of Mr. Allen's horses for a trip to the Monson quarry. On his return trip, when about two miles from Palmer, the sleigh was overturned in a snowdrift and the horse escaped from its driver; it ran toward Palmer, crossed the river into Palmer, and then ran against the railing of the second bridge on Commercial street, receiving injuries from which it died. As the animal ran two miles or more before receiving its injuries, it is somewhat of a question how far the liability of the town of Monson extends; such a point seems never to have been decided, and so the case has been carried up to the higher court.

The case of Mary A. Randall of Brimfield, against the estate of Achsa Drury, for payment for care and maintenance, was settled, the plaintiff accepting about $200 less than was allowed her by the auditor appointed in the case.

Miss Ada Wing was home from Brown University over Sunday.

C. W. Speight of England was the guest of Mrs. A. M. Smith over Sunday.

Mrs. Allen and daughters of Greenfield are visiting Mrs. John Dawson.

Monday night was the coldest yet, this fall, the mercury standing at 15° on Tuesday morning.

A board walk has been built in front of the opera house and along the Pleasant street side.

Miss Ada S. Gay of Brookfield has been spending a few weeks with Miss Mabelle Browne and friends.

Mrs. Mary Connor is painting her houses, on the corner of Central and Pleasant streets, and on Central street.

At the Baptist church next Sunday morning Rev. C. R. Minard will take for his subject, "The Holy Spirit."

A cobblestone paving has been put in on the south side of Squier street at the crossing of Highland avenue.

The date of the annual turkey supper of the ladies of St. Paul's church has been changed to December 10th.

The Braman house on the corner of Pleasant and Walnut streets has been sold to J. M. Allen, the liveryman.

Drs. Allen and Hayes, specialists, have changed their rooms from the Converse House to the Nassowanno Hotel.

John J. Sullivan was fined $5 this morning for drunkenness, and was probated until the 30th for performance of sentence.

Miss Tucker has formed an art class in town, which meets Friday afternoons with Mrs. H. W. McGregory on Squier street.

The Wales stage has changed to the usual winter time, leaving Palmer at 4.30 p. m., except on Mondays, when it will leave at 5.30.

W. Chilson has broken ground for his new house on Squier street, between the residence of Cyrus Knox and the house owned by W. C. Hitchcock.

The Y. P. S. C. E. of the Congregational church will clear a small sum from the literary and musical entertainment given in the church Wednesday evening.

A special train was run to Willimantic last evening, to accommodate those along the line who wished to see "The Fencing Master" at the opera house in that place.

The service at St. Thomas's Catholic church next Sunday will be that of the sixth Sunday after Epiphany, with masses at 8.30 and 10.30 a. m., and vespers at 7.30 p. m.

The town clerks of Palmer, Ludlow, Brimfield and Holland met in the district court room at noon to-day to canvass the vote for representative in the tenth Hampden district.

A drunken man with a shot-gun which he flourished carelessly created considerable excitement on Main street last Friday afternoon, but he finally went home, and no harm resulted.

Among the December attractions at the opera house will be "The Burglar," dramatized from Mrs. Frances Hodgson Burnett's story of "Editha's Burglar," a play which will be well worth seeing.

Lewis Kendall has been the guest of Rev. H. F. Moulton this week. Rev. Charles Conklin of Springfield and Rev. Harry Blackford of Monson were entertained Wednesday by Mr. Moulton.

New monuments have been recently set on the Enos Calkins and Mrs. John Foster lots in the cemetery. The former is a shaft of Scotch granite, and the latter a square monument of light unpolished granite.

Rev. H. F. Moulton will preach next Sunday in St. Paul's Universalist church on "The so-called incorrigible—Is his case one of total depravity and hell forever, or partial depravity and Heaven finally?"

The Quaboag Literary Circle will resume its meetings this evening in the reference room of the public library, and will elect officers for the coming year. The paper of the evening will be read by H. C. Strong.

A large number of Palmer people attended the chrysanthemum show at Springfield this week. The show this year was the best ever given, the number of blooms shown being large and the quality unusually fine.

Freight traffic has been unusually heavy on the railroads the past month, and on Monday the Boston & Albany road handled 250 tons at Palmer, the largest amount in one day for years, if not in the history of the road.

A delegation of the Springfield friends of E. R. Pierce of the Converse House, headed by Manager Robinson of the Haynes Hotel, paid him a surprise visit Tuesday evening, and after enjoying a social time returned on the 1.49 train.

There was a freight wreck on the New London Northern road at Stafford Monday night, two freight cars being piled up, and the tracks were so blockaded that the passenger train due in Palmer at 8 o'clock did not arrive until 10.53.

Josephine E. Wheeler of Monson was before the court yesterday on the charge of being a lewd and lascivious person; she pleaded guilty and was sent to Sherborn for two years. She has served two sentences in Sherborn on similar complaints in the past.

The rain fell in torrents last night, flooding the streets and washing the roads in some places. Rain has fallen nearly all day to-day, but in less quantities, coming gently and steadily, just what is needed to give the springs and streams a reserve supply for the winter months.

The Men's Sunday Evening Club of the Congregational church will give, Sunday evening, the first of a series of services on the great hymn writers, this one being on Charles Wesley. The members of the club will give sketches of his life and of his most important hymns.

It is possible that another industry may be added to Palmer before long, a granite quarry. Experienced quarrymen have been in town during the week looking over the possibilities of a quarry on the Dewey hill, east of the village, though what the result may be is not known.

The second entertainment under the auspices of the high school will be given in the opera house on Tuesday evening, November 26th, by the Wesleyan University glee and mandolin club, and a pleasing entertainment is assured. The proceeds will go toward additions to the school library.

A connecting rod on the engine drawing the 10.10 train on the Ware River road broke at Gibbs's Crossing Monday morning and smashed the running board, air pump and injector pipes on that side of the machine. That side was disconnected, and the train was brought to Palmer with the engine using only one side.

These officers of Washington Council, R. and S. M., were installed Monday evening: T. I. M., George Robinson; D. M., W. H. Osgood; P. C. of W., W. A. Weld; C. of G., E. R. Pierce; treasurer, H. N. Sedgwick; recorder, G. A. Bills; M. of C., J. A. Rogers; S., W. A. Barnes; P., H. E. W. Clark. H. N. Sedgwick was elected a trustee for three years.

A well-executed oil painting, the work of Artist T. Richardson, who is with B. Woodhead at his studio, is on exhibition in the window of Bodfish's dry goods store. The portraits are those of Mrs. Eliza Holden and her grandchildren, Lewis and Olive Pope. The likenesses are very good, reflecting great credit on Mr. Richardson's ability as an artist.

Rev. J. F. Albion of Fitchburg, formerly a pastor of St. Paul's Universalist church in Palmer, has accepted a call to the First Parish church at Malden. Three weeks ago he received a call to the first Universalist church of Troy, N. Y., but declined it, and was to have been presented to the Church of Our Father in Brooklyn, but notified them that he had accepted the Malden call.

The entertainment at the Universalist church social Tuesday evening was of a novel character. The first part consisted of story telling, while for the second part photographs of well-known Palmer people, taken while they were young, were passed around, and guesses were made as to whom they represented. There were 40 of the photographs, and Mrs. H. A. Northrop named 34 of them correctly; W. W. Leach was the next with 19 correct guesses.

Palmer people who invested so much of their money in the Percheron stallion a couple of years ago and sold the unprofitable animal last year for a small fraction of the original investment, may console themselves with the fact that they are not alone in such deals, and congratulate themselves that they got as much out of their animal as they did. A similar animal, also owned by a stock company, was sold at auction in Suffield, Ct., Wednesday for $11.

The Lend-a-hand club of the Congregational church met yesterday afternoon and chose these officers for the coming year: President, Mrs. C. L. Gardner; vice president, Mrs. J. C. Wing; secretary and treasurer, Mrs. John Sedgwick; working committee, Mrs. C. A. Brown, Mrs. F. E. Cady, Mrs. L. E. Chandler, Mrs. H. T. Huntington, Mrs. William Oare, Miss Anna Shaw; entertainment committee, Mrs. Rufus Flynt, Mrs. J. A. Rogers, Mrs. G. H. Wilkins.

The Congregational parish held a meeting Monday evening to hear the report of the committee recently appointed to investigate the matter of free seats. The committee reported that a canvass of the present pew holders had been made, resulting in the finding of a majority in favor of free seats or not particular as to the method of seating. Another meeting will be called for the 25th, to see if the parish will make any change in the method of renting the seats, and to see if the parish will turn over the property to the church.

A new scale of prices at the opera house will go into effect with the sale of tickets to-morrow morning for "Hands Across the Sea." The first four orchestra sections, B, C, D and E, will be 75 cents; the next four, F, G, H and J, 50 cents; the next three, K, L and M, 35 cents; the last three, N, O and P, 25 cents. In the balcony the first tier, W, will be 75 cents, and the second, third and fourth, X, Y and Z, will be 50 cents. Ventilators will be put into the opera house at once, doing away with the necessity of opening windows and allowing the air to blow on people's heads.

Since the opening of the opera house the seven entertainments given there have had a paying patronage of 2767, an average of 395. The stage of the house is not as well adapted to theatrical uses as it might be, there not being height enough to accommodate much of the scenery carried by the best companies. Manager Hills has some good attractions booked, however, and many more with which he is corresponding, and Palmer will have more and better attractions this season than ever before. It remains for the public to say, by their patronage, whether or not they wish first-class companies.

The attraction at the opera house next Tuesday and Wednesday evenings will be the English melo-drama, "Hands Across the Sea," by W. S. Reeves's company, supporting Max Freeman as "Jack Dudley," the principal character. The company is an excellent one, and plays in such places as Worcester and Springfield; it was at Worcester a week last month and played to crowded houses nightly. The play is a pleasing one, and has had wonderful success wherever it has been put on. It is the best thing of the season, so far, and should draw crowded houses at the new prices of admission.

Nine new telephones have recently been put in at West Warren, and connected with the Palmer exchange, though they are not included in the service which subscribers of the local exchange get free, a charge of 15 cents being made for connecting with the West Warren instruments; the subscribers are Dr. Leach, W. H. Kelley, Boston and Albany station, residence of J. B. Brown, and five instruments in the mills and office of the West Warren Cotton Co. An exchange is being established in Warren, which is expected to be open about the first of December, and one in Monson, which will probably be ready for use in about two months.

The wire mill buildings are to be equipped with a 450-horse power engine and large boilers, together with a large amount of new wire-drawing machinery and apparatus of the latest design, manufactured by the Wright & Colton Wire Cloth Co. of Worcester, for drawing the finer grades of wire, a considerable portion of which will be shipped to Worcester to be woven. It has been found advisable to have the land of the company at Worcester covered with buildings to increase this branch of the business, the company being overrun with orders. The present officers of the company are: President, George F. Wright; general manager, George M. Wright; treasurer, S. H. Colton; superintendent of manufacture, H. W. Wright. It is probable that more machinery will be added next May, when the business will be further enlarged.

THORNDIKE.

Nov. 19 and 20, "Hands Across the Sea."

I. J. Gay has accepted a position at Cambridge with the American Express Co.

Mr. and Mrs. Homer A. Norris of Boston are the guests of Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Hobbs.

The Christian Endeavor Society will hold a mum social this evening at the Congregational church.

The Empire Theatre Co. closed its engagement here on Saturday night, and left for Bondsville on Monday.

George Mooers's residence on Commercial street is receiving a new coat of paint; Fred Edwards is doing the work.

Miss Enid Mayo and her excellent company will be at Union Hall on Tuesday and Wednesday evenings of next week, presenting the two bright comedy-dramas, "Hazel Kirke" and "The Little Trooper."

The Y. P. S. C. E. will give an entertainment in Union Hall next Friday evening, when a session of the "Old District School," will be held. The school will be taught by Spinster Huldah Birch from Loontown, and the honorable school board, consisting of Squire Kicker, Deacon Wayback and Dr. Slow Coach, will be present.

Great preparations are being made at the Catholic church for confirmation, which will be administered to the children of the parish next Sunday afternoon. Masses will be at 8 and 10 o'clock a. m.; vespers and benediction will be given at 3 p. m., at which time the exercise of confirmation will take place. Several out-of-town clergymen will be present. The choir, under the direction of the organist, J. F. Luman, will be assisted by some fine soloists, among them being Misses Keefe and Barbeau and Mr. Mulvaney of Ware, John E. Lynch of Chicopee Falls, William Cantwell of Monson, Dennis Lynch of Holyoke, and others.

Mrs. James McFarlane, wife of J. D. McFarlane, overseer in the beaming room of the No. 2 mill, died at her home on Church street yesterday morning after an illness of several months. Mrs. McFarlane, during her residence here, has made many friends by her kind and generous ways, who will mourn her loss. Five children and a husband survive her. The funeral will take place from the Congregational church tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock.

BONDSVILLE.

"Hands Across the Sea." See it sure.

Daniel Sullivan was home from Amherst Sunday.

Mrs. W. E. Hall and daughter are visiting in Lowell.

Milford Ferris is visiting his sister, Mrs. Fred Moore.

Michael Fitzgerald of Fort Worth, Texas, is visiting his father, Garrett Fitzgerald.

The Misses Towne of Ware were the guests of Miss Lulu Moulton last Saturday.

Mrs. McKenzie and son and Mrs. Halloway of Indian Orchard visited Mrs. Thomas Bruce last Saturday.

A number from this place attended a meeting of the Daughters of Rebekah at Palmer Tuesday evening.

The choir of St. Bartholomew's church will assist the choir at Thorndike Sunday, at the confirmation services.

Mrs. O. A. Parent picked a large bouquet of pansies in her garden last week, some of them measuring two and one-half inches in diameter.

Miss Maggie Moriarty will open dressmaking rooms in the small one-story house owned by Warren Fisherdick, which is being repaired for that purpose.

Marcus Culver, who has worked in the Boston Duck Co's. mill as slasher and dresser tender for about 25 years, has left the employ of the company.

The W. C. T. U. held a meeting last Friday evening at Mrs. E. E. Ryther's, but owing to the absence of some of the officers no business was transacted. Another meeting will be held this evening at the same place.

About 30 friends of Jesse Morse from this place and South Belchertown surprised him at his home last Thursday evening, the occasion being his 90th birthday. Mr. Morse received his friends in a very cordial manner, and entertained them during the greater part of the evening by relating many amusing anecdotes of his early life, one of them being an account of the trip he made to Palmer with a party to see the first engine go through on the Boston and Albany railroad. Uncle Jesse, as he is commonly called, is very smart for his age, is a regular attendant at church, and was the oldest man who voted in Belchertown this year. He enjoys very good health, and promises to see many more birthdays.

THREE RIVERS.

Coming, Odd Fellows Opera House, "Hands Across the Sea."

Harry Newell was home from Amherst college Sunday.

Zephire Lacoste is in Canada on a two-weeks' vacation.

Frank Barker is laid up for a few weeks with rheumatism.

F. A. Upham spent Sunday with his brother in Meriden, Ct.

Miss Allen of Belchertown is visiting her friend, Miss Anna Murdock.

Mr. and Mrs. Merritt and son of Springfield were guests at A. Grise's this week.

C. E. Mason of Webster, of the firm of Paige & Mason, was in town Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Burlingame are in Connecticut, visiting Mrs. B.'s brother, G. D. Shaw.

Mrs. Joy has returned to her home in Newton from the Mountain View House on Baptist Hill.

Mr. and Mrs. S. B. Barnes wheeled into Springfield Saturday, where they remained over Sunday.

Mrs. Charles Wetherby and Mrs. Joseph Hobson of Indian Orchard were visiting Mr. and Mrs. A. Grise on Tuesday.

The Young Men's Bicycle Club met Tuesday evening to decide whether or not they would hold meetings any longer, and it was decided to continue them for a month.

The three-years-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Chartier died Sunday night. The funeral was held at the house Tuesday, interment being in the Four Corners' cemetery.

Last Saturday night George Ely and Henry Dumas had a smash-up on the Palmer road near John Ritchie's house. They were both driving in the same direction, and on account of the electric light could not see their dangerous proximity to each other. Mr. Ely's horse was thrown down, falling on the shaft and breaking it; one of the wheels on Mr. Dumas's buggy was broken.

Misses Annie B. Crane, Helen L. Sweet and Mabelle Merrill have invited a number of their friends to a Heart party, to be given in the Young Men's Club rooms this evening. There has been much discussion as to the nature of the entertainment, and as the young ladies refuse to enlighten the curious, those who have received invitations are still wondering "What's in a name?"

While busy in the mill yesterday afternoon Mr. Thrasher received a severe shock by accidently putting his hand on a switch which connected two large electric wires. It was with main force that he succeeded in releasing his hand, and was so faint that it was only by a great effort that he saved himself from falling several feet to the floor. He was not able to do any more work that afternoon, but went home to recover from the effects of the shock.

A young man who is very fond of music was agreeably surprised one evening this week by the visit of four young lady friends, who also have strong musical proclivities; of course a melodious time was the result. After the party had drank their fill at the shrine of Apollo, they descended from the aerial region in which they had been sailing for a few seemingly short hours, and departed to their respective homes with the remembrance of a happily-spent evening.

MARRIED.

At Brimfield, 13th, by Rev. W. K. Pierce, Frank E. Bridge and Mary E. Williams, both of Warren.
At Brimfield, 13th, by Rev. G. W. Davis, Charles G. Thompson of Wales and Mary Corbin of Brimfield.
At Ware, 11th, by Rev. Austin B. Bassett, Thomas J. Lester and Leora M. Bacon.
At Ware, 13th, by Rev. J. P. Leary, John Lyden of Warren and Katherine Shea of Ware.
At Springfield, 12th, William L. Richards of Springfield and Marion E. Hitchcock of Ware.
At West Warren, 6th, by Rev. T. C. Martin of Hopkinton, James C. Campbell and Fannie R. Martin.

DIED.

At West Warren, 13th, Mrs. Robert Armour.
At Thorndike, 14th, Agnes Bryden, wife of James D. McFarlane. Aged 47 years.

LOAM GIVEN AWAY, in any quantity. Apply to C. F. Grosvenor, at his mill.

REFINED CIDER, made this week from selected apples. Only a small quantity for sale.
1-33 H. A. NORTHROP.

I HAVE got to sell my piano. It is a Standard make and in good condition. Will sell cheap.
1*33 Address, 145 Walnut St., Springfield.

FOR SALE.—Kitchen range with water front and small Franklin open-grate parlor stove, both in excellent condition. Also two Ingrain carpets. Inquire at JOURNAL office.

FOR SALE.—House on Squier avenue and building lots Pond street, belonging to J. A. Squier estate. Enquire of W. W. LEACH, Palmer, Mass., April 23, 1894. tf-4

DRS. ALLEN AND HAYES, specialists in chronic diseases, will be at the Nassowanno House, Palmer, on Wednesday of each week from 10 a. m. to 8 p. m. Consultation free. Latest methods employed. tf-30

LARGE ASSORTMENT OF
— FURNITURE —
AND :: HOUSEKEEPING :: GOODS
AT AUCTION!
Will be sold at auction, on Tuesday, Nov. 19th, 1895, at 2 o'clock p. m., at Bacon's Block, 25 Chamber Sets, 1 Parlor Set, a nice one, 9 Dining Extension Tables, 60 Dining Room Chairs, 300 yards Carpet, assorted Straw Matting, Rugs, Lace Curtains, Pictures and Frames, 20 Stoves, Looking Glasses, Crockery and Tinware, and a big pile of other miscellaneous housefurnishing goods. Sale to continue from day to day till all is sold.
GEO. H. NEWTON, Auctioneer.
Monson, Nov. 14, 1895.
Sold by J. R. KING, Mortgagee. 1-33

ODD FELLOWS OPERA HOUSE,
Tuesday and Wednesday Evenings,
November 19th and 20th,
Boston Museum's Greatest Success!
Henry Pettitt's Greatest Melodrama,
"HANDS ACROSS THE SEA."
MAX FREEMAN as Jack Dudley, Supported by a Strong Company.
Prices, 25, 35, 50 and 75 cents.
Reserved seats at Allen's Saturday morning.

COMMONWEALTH OF MASSACHUSETTS.—HAMPDEN, SS. PROBATE COURT.
To the heirs at law, next of kin, creditors, and all other persons interested in the estate of Johanna Evans, late of Palmer, in said County, deceased, intestate:
Whereas, a petition has been presented to said court to grant a letter of administration on the estate of said deceased to Katie E. Evans of said Palmer, without giving a surety on her bond:
You are hereby cited to appear at a probate court, to be held at Palmer, in said county of Hampden, on the twenty-seventh day of November, A. D. 1895, at nine o'clock in the forenoon, to show cause, if any you have, why the same should not be granted.
And the petitioner is hereby directed to give public notice thereof, by publishing this citation once in each week, for three successive weeks, in the Palmer JOURNAL, a newspaper published in said Palmer, the last publication to be one day at least before said Court, and by mailing, postpaid, or delivering a copy of this citation to all known persons interested in the estate, seven days at least before said Court.
Witness, WILLIAM S. SHURTLEFF, Esquire, Judge of said Court, this twenty-ninth day of October, in the year of our Lord one thousand eight hundred and ninety-five.
3-31 SAMUEL B. SPOONER, Register.

NOTICE is hereby given that the subscribers have been duly appointed executors of the will of William N. Flynt, late of Monson, in the county of Hampden, deceased, testate, and have taken upon themselves that trust by giving bonds, as the law directs. All persons having demands upon the estate of said deceased are required to exhibit the same; and all persons indebted to said estate are called upon to make payment to Lyman C. Flynt of Monson, Mass., in behalf of the undersigned.
Dated October 18th, 1895.
EUDODIA C. FLYNT, RUFUS FLYNT, LYMAN C. FLYNT, GEORGE C. FLYNT, HENRY A. KING, } Executors.
3-31

DR. S. H. ELLERY,
VETERINARY SURGEON AND DENTIST.
Graduate Chicago Veterinary College.
Residence, Nassowanno House.
Office and stable, Central street.
PALMER, MASS.

Forbes & Wallace's,
Springfield.

Such a Sale of Silks
as you've scarcely ever heard of before.

Think, if you please, of the prettiest colored silks for outdoor wear that you've seen this season, or any season; of the loveliest creations in evening silks that you know of. Perhaps, the very things are here in this sale, going for little; the best and prettiest and loveliest silks in our own stock—things of which scores of yards went over the counters Saturday at regular prices—have got to be put down this morning because here are silks as pretty, as lovely, and as good in every way going for a great deal less money.

We can't paint lovely tints with black type; can't even give a fit idea of the commonest silks that are here; we only try to give an impression of their cheapness—but see the silk—see them!

At 59 cents a yard
—were 75 cents.

Changeable taffeta silks, medium and dark patterns, conventional designs, geometrical figures.

At 75 cents a yard
—were $1.

Evening silks, brocaded grounds of white, pink, light blue, straw and light green, with showers of tiny rosebuds in contrasting tints.

Light blue and dark taffetas, bars, stripes, dashes, pretty conventional figures—all manner of pretty patterns.

At $1 a yard
—were $1.25.

Gros de Londre—one of the handsomest weaves of the season, grounds of medium and dark tints with combinations of pretty contrasting colors in chrysanthemum-like figures!

Medium and dark taffetas for street or house wear; grounds of wavy line effects with chena figures of rosebuds, and leaves.

Lovely evening taffetas, ground work of the purest, softest tints, with Persian figures of rosebuds and leaves.

Pretty Persian and cashmere silks, light and medium.

Think, if you please, of the greatest bargains you ever got in worthy distinguished black dress silks, then see these that we have now to sell—

At 59 cents a yard
—19-inch black gros grain—75 cent quality.
At 67½ cents a yard
—20-inch black satin duchess—87½ cent quality.
At 75 cents a yard
—24-inch black gros grain—$1 quality.
At 79 cents a yard
—24-inch black satin duchess—$1 quality.
At 79 cents a yard
—25-inch black gros grain—$1.12½ quality.
At 79 cents a yard
—21-inch black satin duchess—$1 quality.
At 89 cents a yard
—24-inch black satin duchess—$1.25 quality.
At $1.15 a yard
—22½ inch black satin duchess—$1.50 quality.

FORBES & WALLACE.
Main, Vernon and Pynchon streets,
Springfield, Mass.

Groceries.

RUSSIAN FLOUR—there is no better bread flour made,	$4.25
Best St. Louis,	4.00
20 lbs. Fine Sugar,	1.00
10 lb. tub Pure Lard,	.80
5 lb. pail Pure Cottolene,	.45
1 lb. Pearl Tapioca,	.07
1 lb. Pearl Barley,	.07
4 lbs. 4-Crown Raisins,	.25
1 lb. Best California Rice,	.08
1 lb. Washed Currants,	.09
2 lbs. Seedless Raisins,	.25
3 packages Fresh Mince Meat,	.25
3 quarts Best Cape Berries,	.25
¼ lb. Nutmegs,	.17
¼ lb. Pepper, Cassia, or Cloves,	.06
1 lb. Carrs' Best Crackers,	.07
1 lb. Corn Starch,	.08
1 lb. Elastic Starch,	.09
1 lb. Bakers' Chocolate,	.38
½ lb. Bakers' Cocoa,	.23
1 gal. Best Molasses,	.50
12½ lbs. Entire Wheat,	.40
5 lb. bag Worcester Salt,	.08
56 lb. bag Worcester Salt,	.70
1 quart bottle Maple Syrup,	.23
1 can Island Brand Lobster,	.22
1 can Lewis Clams,	.10
1 can Warren Salmon,	.10

Smith's Cash Store,
59 Main Street,
Palmer.

Seven
Six-weeks-old
Chester White
Pigs
For Sale
At the
Maple Lawn Milk Farm.

MR. J. R. LONGWILL, having leased Mr. Campbell's blacksmith shop, will endeavor to do what is right by the general public, in prices to suit all parties. Horse shoeing a specialty.
tf-7 SOUTH MAIN STREET, PALMER.

A NICE NEW LINE OF SAMPLES OF FOLDERS.
FOR DANCE PROGRAMS, INVITATIONS, MENUS, CET.
Just received at the JOURNAL Office.

We canot raise the mercury
but we can make you so comfortable that you will scarcely notice its fall. How do we do it? By selling some of our cold weather specialties.

Cashmere Hose
for ladies or gentlemen, at 25c a pair, they are well worth 38c. A wool .....hose for 12 1-2c.....

Underwear
at prices ranging from 25 cents upwards. Some splendid values at the .....prices asked.....

Clothing, Etc., Etc.
Flannelette wrappers, shirt waists and skirts, jackets, capes. Men's and boys' ulsters, suits and capes. Comforters and blankets at all prices. In fact, what you ....need is what we have.....

D. L. Bodfish, Cross Block, Palmer.

G. A. Moore,.....Watch Maker and Jeweler, Palmer.

Holiday Season of 1895.

Our first anniversary in business is close at hand, and we would draw attention to some of the changes that have been made during the past year.

We have increased our stock from time to time till we now have more than three times the amount of stock on hand a year ago. The stock has been very carefully selected, and there is not an old article to be found in it.

EVERYTHING IS NEW AND OF LATE DESIGN.

We know that we sell goods at prices that are right, and want everyone to get acquainted with the fact.

We guarantee satisfaction in this way: If any article purchased at our store does not please you, money will be returned to you on receipt of the article in good condition. This applies to everything we sell. Here are named a few of the things to be found at our store:

A full line of beautiful Clocks,
Rogers' fine Silverware,
Ladies' and Gent's Watches in Gold and Silver. . . . . .
Boys' Watches ranging from $2.50 to 10. Every one warranted.
Gold Rings, Gold Pens, Pencils.
Sterling Silver Novelties, etc., etc.

We refund the money if you wish.

Constantly adding new things.
Come in and see them.

G. A. Moore, Watch Maker, and Jeweler.
Holden's New Block, Palmer, Mass.

Fetchy Footwear.
That expresses it exactly.
All the newest and nobbiest of nobby goods. . . . . .
They fit, too. You don't have to make your feet fit our shoes—we have the shoes to fit your feet—all sizes and shapes of feet.
In the matter of shoes feeling is believing. We'd be pleased to demonstrate this to you.
A. B. Cowan, Holden's Block, Palmer.

To be delivered now, subject to advance at any time. We furnish good men to house and bin same. All coal is screened and delivered in bags.
The Lehigh is as good as any we ever sold. The Lackawanna is the best prepared coal that comes to market for domestic use.
Prices will be higher.
Send your order by postal card or leave it at our office.

SEE OUR PRICES FOR COAL

Prices for Lackawanna:
Stove size, - $5.85 per ton.
Chestnut, - 5.85 " "
Furnace, - 5.75 " "
Prices for Lehigh:
Stove size, - $6.00 per ton.
Chestnut, - 6.00 " "
Furnace, - 5.90 " "
Less than (1) one ton 25 cent added for the load.
Delivered in Bags, which will

The Journal.

FRIDAY EVENING, NOVEMBER 15, 1895.

NEIGHBORHOOD NOTES.

MONSON.

LOCAL NOTICES.

Odd Fellows Opera House, Palmer, Nov. 19 and 20, the great melodrama, "Hands Across the Sea."

Tax Collector's Notice.

Six per cent interest will be charged on all taxes remaining unpaid Dec. 1st, 1895, and all poll taxes not paid at that time will be collected according to law. RALPH CLIFFORD, Collector for Monson.

Monson, Nov. 13, 1895.

The Cushman House Changes Hands.

Ralph Clifford, Lyman C. and George C. Flynt have purchased the Cushman hotel and livery property. Mr. Clifford will have the management. He will retain his livery at the Monson House, but will transfer his coal headquarters to the Cushman House. The property is very pleasantly situated, facing North Main street, and forming on the north and east bound the corner of Harrison avenue and Washington street. Although the hotel is modern in its appearance and equipments, it has an interesting history dating back almost a century. It was built by William Norcross in 1796. In seven or eight years it passed into the possession of his son Amos, "Uncle Amos" he was called by the residents of the village, and is so spoken of even now. For upwards of 40 years he kept the "tavern," which was also the gathering place for entertainments, dances, etc. These were held in the hall on the north side of the house. He was succeeded by Lucius E. Truesdell, and connected with Mr. Truesdell was a company who were advocates of the cause of temperance. This company included the late William N. Flynt, Stephen Tobey and Daniel G. Potter. And in connection with this it is a singular circumstance that Ralph Clifford is a son-in-law of D. G. Potter, and the Messrs. Flynt are sons of W. N. Flynt and great-grandsons of William Norcross. After them came Amasa King, Daniel Needham Green of Brimfield, and Mr. Paul of Palmer. About 1858 the house was bought by Harvey A. Parks and his son-in-law, Mr. Thayer. They kept it until 1872, when it passed into the possession of Daniel Gardner Green. For two years he rented it in tenements. Up to this time repairs had been few and far between, and the condition was not of the best. Mr. Green, realizing the possibilities of a first class hotel in that locality decided to make extensive improvements with that end in view. This he did at a great expense. The house originally had a hip-roof and a one-story L. This L was moved to the east part of the lot, facing the New London Northern station, and was fitted up as a tenement. When nearly completed it caught fire from a defective stove which was used for drying the plastering, and was totally destroyed. Mr. Green added to the main part of the hotel a large two-story and basement L, containing the dining room, kitchen, laundry and sleeping rooms. He put on the main part a French roof, and piazzas across the west and south sides. He laid new floors, changed partitions, reclapboarded, painted and papered, put in new windows and doors until everything was in proper shape. For a short time he rented to Mr. Record of Hardwick, later to Charles W. White, a veteran hotel-keeper, who at one time had the management of the Bay State hotel in Worcester, and the Plankinton of Milwaukee. But Monson was too small for him and he remained but a few months. In 1876 Mr. Green assumed the management, and until his death in 1884 kept a strictly temperance house and made it pay. Leonard G. Cushman then purchased the property and has been a popular landlord, also keeping a temperance house. Lately his son, George L., has had the management. Mr. Cushman enlarged the stables and has considerable stock. Although Mr. Clifford takes the livery, Mr. Cushman has seven horses which he will keep. He will remove at once to his farm on Colton hill. An inventory of the hotel property is being taken, and Mr. Clifford will assume the management next Wednesday. He proposes to carry out the temperance policy of his predecessors, and run a hotel of which Monson will be proud.

Telephone Franchise Granted.

The New England Telephone and Telegraph Company has been granted a franchise by the selectmen. The company is authorized to erect and maintain poles, and wires thereon, on certain streets and highways on the following terms: The company must agree to reserve space at the top of all the poles for fire alarm and police signal wires for municipal purposes; the poles must be of the material of the poles now standing in these locations, or other material satisfactory to the selectmen, and must not be less than 25 feet in height; the wires must not be less than 18 feet from the ground; the company must agree that any electric railway may guy to its posts where practicable, upon reasonable terms, any disagreement being arbitrated by three disinterested persons; the poles must be painted wherever the selectmen require; the wires must be in cables wherever practicable in the village center. Poles can be put up on these streets: Palmer road from Palmer line to Eastlake avenue, Eastlake avenue from Palmer road to Thompson street, Flynt avenue from Mill street to Pleasant, Pleasant street from High street to Harrison avenue, Harrison avenue from Pleasant street to North Main, North Main street from Thompson street to Main, Thompson street from North Main street to Pearl, Main street from North Main street to Wales, Lincoln street from Main street to Green, Green street from Lincoln street to Main, Bridge street from Green street to Bradway's store, Hampden road from Main street to Elm. The company proposes to go to work at once, and hopes to have everything in working order before winter. There are now about 30 subscribers.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur D. Norcross have a son.

Milton M. Brown has a dancing class at Wales.

Patent Leather Shoes. . . . . .

We have just added a new line of Men's $3 and $4 Patent Shoes that are up to date in every respect. . . . . .

Warm Shoes...For Cold Weather.

There is no end to our assortment of Men's and Ladies' Shoes that will make your feet comfortable in cold weather.

$3.00 Shoes.

We are pushing our $3.00 Shoes. See our large assortment in show window. . . . . .

◆◆◆◆◆◆◆◆

Geo. L. Fuller,

the distributor of fine fitting shoes.

Monson, - Mass.

And still the cry is, "Where can I get a tenement?"

Miss J. V. Cantwell, teacher of singing in the schools, is ill.

Mrs. David Anderson has been visiting her brother, Mr. Orcutt, at Chicopee, this week.

The general agent of the publishing house is in town canvassing for the Christian Leader.

Mr. and Mrs. Davis and child of Holyoke spent Tuesday with Judge and Mrs. G. H. Newton.

Miss Addie Buffington returned Saturday from Granby, where she visited friends for a few days.

It would aid strangers to find their way in our town if each street were furnished with guide boards.

Artist Gaouette is making his stopping place at Wilbur Fay's during the construction of his new house.

Miss Clara A. Wood is attending the superintendents' meeting and educational conference in Boston.

Mrs. A. E. Fitch and daughter of Palmer spent Friday and Saturday with Judge and Mrs. G. H. Newton.

The A. A. Gage camp, Sons of Veterans, held a meeting Tuesday evening and worked the initiatory degree.

Seneca F. Conant, who is ill with dropsy, has found a home with Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Squier on Moulton Hill.

The Ladies' Circle of the Universalist church served an excellent chicken pie supper Tuesday evening.

Harry Miller is working in Charles F. Orcutt's laundry, in place of Fred Lull, who has gone to Hartford.

Mrs. Buscher of Norwich Town, Ct., formerly of Monson, is spending the week with Mrs. George H. Newton.

The Young People's Christian Union will hold a meeting in the Universalist church this evening for the election of officers.

Mr. and Mrs. Slater and daughter of Ellington, Ct., have been guests of Mr. and Mrs. Erskine during the past week.

Mrs. Michael Leary and little child of Albany, N. Y., who spent two weeks with the Misses Leary, returned home Monday.

Rev. W. H. Marble attended the Springfield District Ministerial Association meeting at Greenfield Wednesday and Thursday.

Tax Collector Clifford has a notice at the head of this column which should be of interest to those who have not yet paid their taxes.

The directors of the Palmer and Monson Electric Railway Company were in town Tuesday and held a conference with the selectmen.

The body of Miss Sullivan of Lowell, daughter of Mrs. John Sullivan, and formerly of this place, was brought here for burial yesterday.

A drunken man was seen on the streets Saturday evening, and it was so much of a sight that men and women stopped and gazed at the exhibit.

Jonathan F. Morris of Hartford, Ct., has presented the Monson Historical Society with a copy of the genealogical and historical register of the Morris family.

Miss Wood, of West Springfield, who has been with Miss Clara A. Wood, superintendent of schools, since the beginning of the fall term, has returned to her home.

A party who loans money at 8 per cent was looking for a customer to borrow at 6, as a loan he had made was paid, although he had been offered 6 per cent to let it remain.

The Cornice Co. of Springfield is putting in the skylight of the studio in Gaouette's new house. The company put in the skylights in the Mechanics' building in Chicago.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank E. Morris left this week for the Bermudas for a few weeks' stay. Robert E. Shaw has Mr. Morris's insurance business in charge during his absence.

Rev. E. Stuart Best of Merrick will preside at the third quarterly conference in the Methodist church, and will preach on Tuesday. Mr. Best was formerly pastor of the church.

Rev. F. S. Hatch is spending the week with relatives in Vermont, and Rev. Addison P. Foster, D. D., of Boston will occupy the pulpit in the Congregational church next Sunday.

The Monson Creamery Association will hold an adjourned meeting to-morrow at 2 p. m. The creamery is having a good sized boom, and new members are coming in continually.

The Dorcas and Ladies' Benevolent societies held the first sociable of the series at the Congregational church Wednesday evening. "An exhibition of portraits by the old artists" proved a great attraction.

A business meeting of the Epworth League of the Methodist church was held Wednesday evening, and the reports of the various committees were read: Several vacancies in the cabinet will be filled at the next meeting.

Prof. J. S. R. Coy, the organist at the Congregational church, is to give an organ recital in that church next Tuesday evening, and the public is cordially invited. Prof. Coy will be assisted by Miss Anna T. Murray of Springfield.

The Boston and Albany railroad has its section managers go over the road to see each other's work and gain information if possible, receive suggestions and note improvements. How would it work for town road managers to confer in like manner?

The lecture on "The Battle of Gettysburg," by Luther W. Minnigh, last Friday evening, was enjoyed by the soldiers. After a minute description of the battle, illustrated by the stereopticon, a large number of views were given of the monuments erected upon the battle-field.

The boundary fence around the State street school property is in process of building. It was decided to adopt the plan first mentioned, taking the junction of State street and Chicopee brook as a starting point, and measure the number of rods in each direction as stated in the deed.

The young people of the Universalist church met Monday evening and laid plans for entertainments. The following committee was chosen: Miss Lena Babbitt, Miss Alice Park, William L. Ricketts, Miss Bertha Thompson, Miss Myrtie Perrin, Adelbert Page, George Seymour and Charles L. Ricketts.

A quantity of household goods recently used in the Monson House will be sold at auction at Bogan's block next Tuesday at 2 o'clock, p. m., continuing from day to day until all is sold. The property comprises chamber sets, parlor sets, dining tables and chairs, 300 yards of carpet, rugs, lace curtains, stoves, crockery and tinware, etc.

A meeting of the Congregational parish was held Tuesday evening with ten members present. It was voted that the treasurer should borrow money to pay current expenses; also voted to change the time of the annual meeting from April to the second Tuesday in January; also voted that the use of the auditorium be left to the discretion of the prudential committee, but under no circumstances should an admittance fee be charged.

Mt. Ella lodge of the Ancient Order of United Workmen celebrated its first anniversary Tuesday evening. The Monson Orchestral Club, under the leadership of Charles F. Orcutt, contributed very materially to the programme in Memorial Hall. The concert was followed by an address upon the objects and benefits of the order. After the address the members sat down to a banquet in their hall.

William Andrews, the colored man who was stabbed September 19 by Solomon Pierce, and disappeared two nights after, returned home last week. It will be remembered that he attacked Pierce with a chair, and Pierce in self-defense returned the compliment with a knife. Pierce was taken before the court in Palmer and placed under bonds until October 31 to await the result of Andrews injuries. Andrews meantime skipped out, as he had had a previous acquaintance with the court officials which he was not particularly anxious to renew. Some effort was made by the town authorities to find him, although the general opinion was that he left town at once. Now however, Pierce's grandmother says that for about a week he was concealed in a barn near the New London Northern railroad, north of the station, and has since been in Connecticut.

The ability of Charles L. Ricketts, class of '95, Tufts College, to kick a football over his father's house is unquestioned, providing the elements are not against him. Last Saturday morning he was out for a little practice with his pig-skin, and attempted to do what he had done so many times before. Alas! a guest of wind coming from the opposite direction landed that same pig-skin some ten feet down the chimney. Charles immediately made up his mind what to do. Taking some poles he drove nails into the ends and went to work. He not only went to work but he kept at it. Every man who passed that way had some suggestion to offer. When one advised him to puncture the ball, he felt his heart crack. Several times he managed to raise the ball and as often would lose it; finally, however, patience had its reward, and the precious ball was brought up safe and sound about an hour and a half from the time it disappeared.

HOLLAND.

Miss Carrie E. Roper of Palmer has returned home after a visit with her brother, C. F. Roper.

Warren Alexander and son of Worcester are visiting Mr. Alexander's mother, Mrs. Lydia Alexander.

O. G. Hanks is confined to the house with sciatica. C. F. Roper is also recovering from a severe attack of muscular rheumatism. He is still confined to his bed.

H. E. Wallis has decided to make a change of business, and will sell at auction next Wednesday his entire herd of registered Devon stock. Many of the animals are prize-winners at Brattleboro, Worcester and Portland, have all been examined and tested for tuberculosis, and are perfectly free. A large quantity of farming tools will be sold at the same time, and also the farm.

WILBRAHAM.

H. H. Burbank is visiting in Lunenburg, his former home.

The annual open session of Old Club Society will be held in Fisk Hall to-morrow evening.

E. L. Coville and Frank Coville are attending the session of the National Grange in Worcester this week.

A good delegation from the Agawam church attended the missionary meeting held at the Memorial church in Springfield on Wednesday.

C. W. Johnson of Palmer is moving Music Hall on Wesleyan Academy grounds a few rods south, preparatory to the erection of the new gymnasium.

Agawam Grange will entertain delegations from Suffield and West Springfield lodges next Tuesday evening. It will be ladies' night, and a "political farce" will be given, with recitations, tableaux and songs, followed by a collation.

The members of the sophomore class of Wesleyan Academy gave a reception Monday night in Fisk Hall. The programme consisted of a piano duet by Misses Fordman and Lindsey, a declamation by F. E. Howell, a violin solo by William Harrison, and a vocal duet by Misses Crosby and Lang About 70 guests were present.

BELCHERTOWN.

A deer was seen near the Granby line one day last week.

The Social Circle of the Congregational church held its social in the chapel Wednesday night.

Mrs. Duncan, who is visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Blake in Springfield, is suffering from a dislocated shoulder.

The question of a water supply here is receiving considerable attention just now. The boaad of trade has taken the matter in hand, and immediate steps will be taken.

Mrs. Jane Atwood, who is visiting in Bridgeport, Ct., was seriously hurt recently by falling down a flight of stairs. One shoulder was dislocated and one arm broken in two places, at the elbow and wrist.

The following are among those who will be connected with the telephone exchange: Dorman & Sanford, W. E. Sanford, Capt. Anderson, William E. Bridgman, J. R. Gould, D. L. Hazen, Clarence Scott, H. A. Hopkins, J. W. Jackson, E. R. and Arthur Bridgman, and L. W. Dillon. The depot will also be connected. A long-distance telephone will be placed in the Belcher House.

Mr. and Mrs. George M. Fisher were pleasantly surprised Monday evening at their home in the Rockrimmon district, the occasion being the 25th anniversary of their marriage. Over 30 relatives were present, some of them coming from Southampton, Ludlow and Springfield. Mr. and Mrs. Fisher were presented with $27 in silver, besides other gifts.

WALES.

H. E. Shaw has had his mill office repainted.

Miss Abbie Parker of Springfield is visiting among relatives here.

W. O. Underwood, who works in Warren, spent Sunday at his home here.

Elmer Belding has purchased of Worcester parties a a fine young chestnut horse.

Martin Boerner and wife have sold their household furniture and gone to New York to live.

C. G. Needham has been busy getting in readiness the tenement to be occupied by C. G. Thompson.

H. A. McFarland is having several of his buildings shingled; H. S. Peck has the job, and has several men at work.

David Frazer on Tuesday moved his family to Somers, Ct., where he will engage in manufacturing yarn.

Beport says that one young lady has set her mark quite high, and will consent to keep company with no one less than a King.

The Boy's Brigade will hold a festival and supper in the Baptist vestry Friday night. There will be an entertainment by the boys.

Now that one wedding has been celebrated, it is said that the matrimonial bee is buzzing in the bonnet of other young ladies.

The Wales stage has gone onto winter time, leaving Wales at 7 o'clock a. m. for Palmer, and leaving Palmer for Wales at 4.30 p. m., except on Monday, when it leaves Wales at 5.30 a. m. and Palmer at 5.30 p. m.

Charles C. Thompson of this town and Mary Corbin of Brimfield was married at the home of the bride, just over the Wales line, Wednesday morning by Rev. G. W. Davis. After a short wedding trip they will reside in Miss L. Town's house on Main street.

WEST WARREN.

John M. Scott of Maysville, Kentucky, was in town over Sunday.

A large company attended the theatre given in Crossman's Hall last Saturday night.

Mrs. Robert Armond died at her home Wednesday morning of pneumonia, after a short illness.

William Benson has started a meat market in the building vacated by William Downey, on North street.

Mrs. W. H. Beaman of Springfield has returned home after a visit with her daughter, Mrs. Emory Crossman.

The Warren Cotton Mills have put a Telephone in the No. 4 mill, also in the office and in the agent's house.

Mrs. Jane Armond and Mrs. Jane Shirley have returned from a ten-weeks' visit with their children in Columbus, Ohio.

The insurance company is putting up a fine barn for Charles O'Neill, in place of the one burned by lightning in the fall.

Mrs. H. H. Herbert has bought the land on the Washington Hall site from Mrs. Abbie Kennedy, and is filling and grading the grounds.

James C. Campbell and Miss Fannie R. Martin of Warren were married last week Wednesday at the bride's home by her uncle, Rev. T. C. Martin of Hopkinton.

Bishop Beaven of Springfield, assisted by seventeen other priests, confirmed a class of sixty children Tuesday in the Catholic church. Rev. David Moyes, a former priest, was present. The house has been undergoing thorough repairs, and was in first-class order for the services; electric lights have been put in.

Nathaniel Reed, whose mind has been somewhat unbalanced for a number of years, was taken to the insane asylum in Worcester last week. He had always been considered harmless until recently, when he grew violent and threatened the family with whom he boarded. Deputy Sheriff Putnam took him to the asylum.

WARREN.

James Quinlan has purchased a new hearse.

Miss M. H. Dow and sister will remove to Cleveland.

Mrs. George Shumway is spending the week in Boston.

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Chadsey and Miss Chadsey spent last Sunday in New York.

Mr. Jenks's house has been wired for electric lights by the Central Massachusetts Electric Co.

H. S. Have left Monday for Atlanta, and will return next week via Chattanooga and Lookout Mountain.

The debating club discussed the pros and cons of a presidential third term, at the meeting Monday evening.

The ladies of the Universalist church are preparing for their annual sale, which will be held early in December.

Miss Ellen Miller of South Deerfield has resigned as teacher of drawing in the public schools, and Mr. F. H. Daniels of Worcester has been engaged in her place.

The King's Daughters met with Mrs. DeLaval this afternoon. The circle is preparing for an entertainment and sale, which will be held in the town hall on Tuesday evening, Nov. 26.

The annual chrysanthemum exhibition is held in the town hall this afternoon and evening, and a fine exhibit being made. A chrysanthemum drill will be an attractive feature of this evening's entertainment.

The ladies of the Methodist church held a very successful fair in the town hall Wednesday and Thursday evenings of this week. A chicken-pie supper was served Wednesday evening, and a baked bean supper Thursday evening.

A Thanksgiving bazar will be held in the town hall the 21st, 22d, and 23d, also the 27th and 28th of this month, by the ladies of St. Athanasius church, for the benefit of the new church, which it is hoped may be soon completed.

A special town meeting will be held to-morrow afternoon at two o'clock, to see if the town will accept the report of the committee appointed to see about procuring addititional room for the cemetery. The committee will recommend the purchase of land from the estate of T. F. Cutler, which is located a quarter of a mile away from the present cemetery. As this would mean practically two cemeteries, the plan will meet with considerable opposition, as it is deemed much better by the majority to purchase land adjoining the present location.

BRIMFIELD.

Mrs. Willie A. Janes visited last week in Boston.

Bert Campbell has purchased a new roadster.

Mrs. Albert Pierson visited in Springfield recently.

Mrs. Porter A. Parker is visiting in Brooklyn, N. Y.

Mrs. S. W. Brown leaves next week for Brooklyn, N. Y., to be absent a week.

George Sibley and Miss Jennie Stewart, both of Brimfield, were married last week.

A number of Brimfield people have visited the chrysanthemum show in Springfield this week.

Walter Brown and wife, now of California but formerly of this town, visited here this week.

Miss Julia Brown has been visiting her aunt, Mrs. W. H. Wilkinson, in Springfield, this week.

Frank E. Bridges and Mary E. Williams of Warren were married in Brimfield Wednesday by Rev. W. K. Peirce.

Landlord Jennison and Mrs. Jennison of the Hampshire House, Ware, were the guests Tuesday of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Tarbell.

The select whist club for the winter has been organized; Dr. and Mrs. Chamberlain entertained the club Tuesday evening. The gentlemen are included in the club this winter.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Brown of Pasadena, Cal., spent Tuesday in town calling upon relatives and old neighbors. They were accompanied by Mrs. Charles Andrews and Miss Nellie Andrews of Worcester.

The debating society of the Hitchcock Free High School have the following subject for discussion this evening: "Resolved: That France has done more than England to advance the interests of the United States."

Mrs. Braman Sibley and Mr. and Mrs. George Sibley have moved to their new home, the place recently purchased by them of Dr. Silas Ellery. The Sibley house, now the property of Charles Walker of Warren, is closed, awaiting extensive repairs soon to be made upon it. The house is an ancient landmark, and was formerly owned by Rev. Dr. Vaile. Mr. Walker proposes to leave the exterior of the house unchanged, but will have the big chimney taken down and make alterations in the interior.

WARE.

The G. A. R. Camp Fire.

The camp fire of J. W. Lawton post, 85, G. A. R., on Wednesday evening was the great event of the season, and one that will be remembered by all who were present with great pleasure for years to come. The Town Hall was handsomely decorated with plants and flowers, and on the stage was a shelter tent, with a fire of logs and stacks of guns. There were pictures of Grant, Sherman and Sheriden, and above all that of Abraham Lincoln, draped with the stars and stripes. There were delegates from adjoining towns who, with invited guests, left G. A. R. hall at 7.45 escorted by the drum corps, and proceeded to the Town Hall, where the veterans were received with rousing cheers. The exercises were begun with singing by the Amherst College glee club. Prayer was offered by Rev. A. B. Bassett. Then Col. H. M. Coney gave the address of welcome, after which he introduced Senior-Vice Department Commander W. P. Derby of Springfield, who spoke on the patriotism of the soldiers and urged them to use their efforts toward the purification of the ballot box. He was followed by Mrs. Helen A. Brigham of Hyde Park, the senior-vice department president of the W. R. C., which she said was organized in 1879 and now has 14,000 members in this commonwealth. After singing by the quartet John M. Deane of Fall River, the junior-vice department commander, who said this was his first visit to Ware, spoke on the necessity of keeping alive the patriotism of the present and future generations. D. E. Donovon of Boston, the well known humorist, then entertained the audience with singing. Massachusetts was represented by Gen. John W. Kimball of Fitchburg, the auditor of the commonwealth, who stepped to the platform amid applause and gave some reminiscences around the camp fires when on the field of battle. Mrs. Lila D. Lovering, department chaplain of the W. R. C., urged old people to especially remember the needy veterans at Christmas time. The audience was then entertained by quartet singing, and then Brigadier General Chamberlain, a veteran of the Mexican and civil wars, spoke on the three armies of the conflict, the army on the field, the army of women at home, and the army of citizens each one deserving special praise for the work they had done. Mrs. Emily L. Clark of Northampton, past department president of the W. R. C., was the last woman speaker of the evening. Here Mr. Donovon further entertained the audience by war stories, and then an old Ware boy, N. F. Bond of Fitchburg, a member of Co. D., spoke of his early life in town and the changes that had been made since he lived here. H. O. Moore, assistant adjutant general, was the last speaker, his subject being the unity of the G. A. R., after which the exercises were closed with singing the "Soldiers' Farewell" by the quartet.

The veterans, with their invited guests, then repaired to Masonic and Grand Army halls and crowded both places to their fullest capacity. Covers were laid for 225 persons. The tables were decorated with cut flowers and chrysanthemums, and at each plate was a boutonniere of cut flowers. Short speeches were made by citizens of Ware, among the speakers being Rev. Albert S. White, the youngest member of the G. A. R. in this state, Rev. A. B. Bassett and Lewis N. Gilbert. The local W. R. C. was represented by Mrs. George S. Marsh, its president, and she proved an able representative. The other speakers were H. C. Davis, George E. Tucker, F. D. Gilmore, H. K. Hyde and Dr. Spencer. The camp fire closed with a general handshaking, and from every quarter were heard words of praise and congratulation on the success of the occasion.

Narrowly Escaped Death.

S. Wilanskie, a peddler of dry goods, clothing, etc., had a narrow escape on Tuesday at the railroad crossing near the freight depot of the Central railroad. He attempted to cross the track of the B. and A. road ahead of the 9.20 train from Gilbertville; the team was struck, the horse killed and the wagon smashed. Some damage was done to the engine and cars, but Wilanskie escaped with some bad bruises and a bad shaking up. It is reported that he drove on the track while four men were shouting to him not to do it.

Frederick Bryant is billed to appear at the Town Hall in "Forgiven" next Monday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Wescott have returned from their drive to the White Mountains and Canada.

Mrs. Harty has leased the Central Dining Rooms to J. R. Kennedy, who will continue the business.

About 300 were confirmed at the French Catholic church last week Wednesday evening by Bishop Beaven.

The young people of All Saints' church are arranging for a coffee party, to be held at the Town Hall Thanksgiving night.

The ladies of Trinity Episcopal church are to serve a turkey supper at the church rooms next Wednesday evening. Everbody is invited. Supper from 6 to 7 30.

The body of Austin Hoben, 37, was brought from North Anderson to Ware for burial on Tuesday. He was formerly a resident of Ware, employed by the Geo. H. Gilbert Mfg. Co.

The French Social Club is to give a dramatic entertainment at the Town Hall Monday evening, Nov. 25, presenting the French play "Les Piastres Rouges." Music and singing is to be by the famous Bellevue Quartet. The entertainment will be under the direction of Victor Brassard, assisted by P. J. Roy and D. Launier. The parts are all taken by local talent, and some of the participants are said to be very fine actors.

Beecham's pills for constipation 10c and 25c. Get the book at your druggist's and go by it.

Annual sales more than 6,000,000 boxes.

A Good Thing and Nothing to Pay.

Just see what Mr. Greene offers to do for all weak and suffering people. He is the most successful living specialist in curing nervous and chronic diseases. His unparalleled offer to consult with anyone, free of charge, by letter correspondence, is doing wonderful good. If you have any complaint which you do not thoroughly understand, and which you would like cured, write the Doctor a letter stating just how you feel and what symptoms trouble you. He will answer it, giving a complete description of your case, explaining the meaning of every symptom, and telling how you can surely get well and strong. He gives most careful attention to each letter, and explains your case so thoroughly that you understand exactly what ails you. All this costs you nothing, you have no doctor's fee to pay, and you don't have to leave your home. The Doctor makes a specialty of treating patients through letter correspondence, and they nearly always get well. He is the discoverer of that wonderful medicine, Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy. Write to him at his office, 34 Temple Place, Boston, Mass., and you will undoubtedly be made strong and well.

ROYAL BAKING POWDER.

ABSOLUTELY PURE.

A cream of tartar Baking Powder. Highest of all in leavening power.—Latest United States Government Food Report.

ROYAL BAKING POWDER CO., 106 Wall Street, New York.

Meekins, Packard & Co.

◆◆◆◆◆◆◆◆◆◆

Chamber Sets at $13.90 and 15.

in maple, imitation mahogany and antique finish.

Models of thorough workmanship, excellent styles, full sized dressers and commodes, beveled mirrors.

Special Values at $18, 20 and 22.50.

in solid oak and curly birch.

Probably 25 per cent lower than inferior productions bring elsewhere.

An extensive line of better grades from $25 to 40.

All the woods, exclusive designs. A choice for every one.

Fourth floor.

Ladies' Desks at $4.50 and 6, in solid oak, finely appointed. Look where you will you'll not find their equal at half as much again.

Combination Bookcases in Solid Oak at $7.50, equal to any offered at $10.

Don't fail to examine our line in solid mahogany, curly birch and bird's eye maple—choice styles—the finest productions from the best makers.

◆◆◆◆◆◆◆◆◆◆

Meekins, Packard & Co.,

SPRINGFIELD, MASS.

Reduction.

We will make a special

10 per cent Reduction

on all our

Wall Papers, Friezes, Borders, Mouldings, etc.,

for the next

Sixty Days.

Call and See us. Next Door to Post Office.

LeGro & Lynde,

Palmer, Mass.

TEETH FILLED WITHOUT PAIN

in every case. And

TEETH EXTRACTED WITHOUT PAIN

in fully 95 per cent of cases.

Also Artificial Teeth that are made right.

Strictly first-class dentistry in every department. Prices reasonable. Lady attendant. Elevator.

DR. WM. L. ROBERTS, DENTIST.

Springfield Office: Court Sq. Theatre Building. Holyoke Office: 291 High St.

New Fall Dress Goods.

Plaids have the call, and we show an elegant assortment in 75c, 50c, 25c, and 10c lines.

Teazle Downs are great goods for wrappers and children's wear, and the styles equal to all-wool goods.

In Black Goods the lines are complete in Henriettas, Serges, Cords, and Figured Mohairs.

New Buttons, Braids, and Trimmings. Gloves and Hosiery.

Domestic Department, largest and best assortment shown in the last ten years.

Blankets and Comfortables

at lowest prices.

J. B. Shaw; ..... Feeney's Block, Main Street, Palmer.

The Shakers have made a discovery which is destined to accomplish much good. Realizing that three-fourths of all our sufferings arise from stomach troubles, that the country is literally filled with people who cannot eat and digest food, without subsequently suffering pain and distress, and that many are starving, wasting to mere skeletons, because their food does them no good, they have devoted much thought and study to the subject, and the result is this discovery, of their Digestive Cordial.

A little book can be obtained from your druggist that will point out the way of relief at once. An investigation will cost nothing, and will result in much good.

Children all hate to take Castor Oil, but not LAXOL, which is palatable.

Make a Dollar?

Willing to if you can honestly, aren't you? Here's how to do it: Just now we are making a special offering that affords a money-saving chance in overcoats never equalled in Western New England. We mean just that. We have recently received a magnificent line of Winter Overcoats---handsome Kerseys in blue and black, silk lined, velvet collar, beautifully finished, guaranteed perfect fitting---made for us to retail at $15. We have decided to put on a

Special Price of $10

For Your Choice.

Ulsters, All Sizes. Large numbers to close at $5, 7.50, 10.

Extra Value Sack Suits and dressy frocks ---for business and dress---perfectly made and thoroughly guaranteed. $8, 10, 12 and 15.

Underwear. The 62 1-2c kind at 50c; the $1 kind 87 1-2c, etc.

Hats and caps. Popular Derby, $1.50, 2, 2.50 and 3.

Boys' Department. Just secured at bargain a lot of $5 Suits which we shall sell at $3.50.

◆◆◆◆◆◆◆◆◆◆

HAYNES & CO.,

SPRINGFIELD, MASS.

Ladies!

We want to show you our ..... line of .....

Jersey Underwear,
Gloves and Mittens,
Skirts,
Fascinators,
Shawls,
Damasks,
Quilts and Blankets.

W. E. Stone,

Lawrence Block, Palmer Mass.

Lost Yesterday.

Somewhere between sunrise and sunset, TWO GOLDEN HOURS, each set with sixty diamond minutes, with which you might have secured a glimpse of our immense

Kitchen Department.

This department has been the Mecca of buyers of Crockery and kitchen goods for the last two years. We have paid particular attention to the buying of goods of good quality, and yet by buying in large quantities we have been enabled to sell them at prices of inferior goods. For example, OUR LEADERS JUST NOW

112 PIECE DECORATED DINNER SET FOR $8.24.
A 6-POUND KITCHEN SCALE, warranted accurate, for $2.10.
A HANDSOME PARLOR LAMP FOR $1.98.
10-PIECE DECORATED TOILET SET FOR $1.98.

We are in it also on Furniture, Carpets, Stoves, Ranges, etc., at prices that defy competition.

◆◆◆◆◆◆◆◆◆◆◆◆◆◆◆◆

E. Luther & Co.,

EASY TERMS. SPRINGFIELD. OPP. COURT SQ.

TO WOOD AND LUMBER DEALERS:

VALUABLE - REAL - ESTATE AT AUCTION.

The Farm late of Talma and Loman Brown, deceased, situate in Palmer and Ware, containing about 300 acres, some 230 acres of which is covered with wood and timber, including about 30 acres of the finest growth of Pine to be found anywhere in New England, will be sold at Public Auction, together or in parcels as may be deemed advisable, at the house on the premises on Saturday, the 23d day of November, 1895, at 11 o'clock a. m. For further information and plan of farm, with parcels, inquire of C. R. Shaw near the premises, or the undersigned.

N. D. WINTER, Auctioneer.

C. L. GARDNER, Palmer, Mass., Administrator.

Palmer, Mass., Nov. 8th, 1895. 2-32

FINE STATIONERY.

Many ladies are troubled to find just the size, shade or weight of correspondence paper which they would like. With some thing like

200 VARIETIES

To select from we ought to be able to please you. Any style of paper in any size or shape, and you may have 100 sheets or 1000, as you prefer. We'd be pleased to show you samples at the JOURNAL Office. Your monogram or initials embossed in color if desired.

LINE

They End this way

—the names of most so-called washing compounds. It isn't an accident, either. It's to make them sound like Pearline; the original washing compound—the best in every way. Imitations are thus named in the hope of confusing you—in the hope that you'll mistake them for Pearline. For most people, that's enough. It convinces them that the article so imitated, so copied, so looked-up to, is the best to use. If your grocer sends you an imitation, be honest—send it back. 382 JAMES PYLE, N. Y.

Blood

(Trade Mark Registered.)

Wine,

The Great French Hospital Remedy.

Cures

Nervous

Diseases

and

Stomach

Troubles

As if

By magic

And

Is a

Great Blood Purifier.

Blood Wine will positively cure all forms of nervous troubles, however caused; we back this statement up with a guarantee to refund the money in any case where the patient is not entirely cured after using a limited amount of the medicine. Why pay one dollar for medicine that will only give you temporary relief, when you can buy Blood Wine for 50 cents and be permanently cured. Blood Wine contains no wine or opiates, and is perfectly safe to give to children. It is not a beverage and cannot be used as such. Over 700,000 bottles of this wonderful medicine have been sold in the six New England states the last year. What a record. Blood Wine stands to-day at the head, and is a

INTERIOR DECORATIONS

will soon be done with Cod Liver Oil. May be you don't know it, but that article is as good to prevent a cold as it is to cure it. If you are troubled with a cough, a prevailing trouble at this season, decorate your interior with some of our Cod Liver Oil Emulsions, we have them all. It will strike through and beautify your exterior, and make you thoroughly enjoy your own society, and others will enjoy it, too. Call for above at

ALLEN'S DRUG STORE,

Holden's Block, Palmer.

Horse Blankets.

A full line, for both stable

.....and street use.....

375 BLANKETS IN STOCK.

PRICES RIGHT.

D. W. Foskit,

Foskit's Mills.

Palmer Savings Bank,

Palmer, Mass.

Hours from 9 a. m. to 3 p. m.

President,
H. G. LOOMIS.

Vice Presidents,
GEO. MOORS, T. D. POTTER, C. H. HOBBS.

Secretary,
WM. W. LEACH.

Treasurer,
H. W. McGREGORY.

Trustees,
James B. Shaw, E. G. Hastings, C. H. Hobbs, George Moores, H. C. Newell, Geo. E. Buck, H. G. Loomis, F. F. Marcy, A. L. Hills, T. D. Potter, H. Waid, Wm. Holbrook, H. P. Holden, Wm. W. Leach, C. F. Grosvenor, Jas. S. Loomis, C. L. Gardner, H.W. McGregory

Board of Investment,
Geo. Moores, H. G. Loomis, E. G. Hastings, C. H. Hobbs, James B. Shaw.

Auditors,
Wm. W. Leach, A. L. Hills.

THAT JOB OF PRINTING. There's no better place at which to get it done than the JOURNAL Office. Experienced workmen, skilled in every branch of the art.

Might as Well!

Might's well sing a song of hope as growl about the weather;
In the light or in the night, go singin' all together;
When it's windy, fly your kite; when the summer's heaters
Roast you brown, don't roar aroun', but go to killin' skeeters!

Singin' on the way
Makes winter sweet as May;
An' you might as well be happy
'Till the jedgment day!

Might's well whistle as you go as growl because you're goin';
If you strike a thorn or so, maybe it's your sowin'!
Thorns wuz fer a purpose made—hard to live without 'em;
If you look, you'll find roses all about 'em!

Singin' on the way
Makes winter sweet as May;
An' you might as well be happy
'Till the jedgment day!
—Atlanta Constitution.

AMONG THE PARAGRAPHERS.

He called himself an A. P. A.,
But now that he must see
That Greenhalge wins, he feels he was A childish A. P. E.
—The Boston Budget.

"Why don't you marry that girl? She is a real pearl." "Ah, yes, but I don't like the mother of pearl."—Fliegende Blaetter.

Fred—"What does the grocer do with the things he sells?" Ben—"Ties them up." Fred—"No; gives them a weigh."—Harper's Round Table.

Examining Physician (Premium Life Insurance Company)—"Did your father die a natural death?" Applicant for Policy—"Nope; we had three doctors."—Puck.

The Fat Woman—"What did the police pull our manager for?" The Sword Swallower—"For having designs on the tattooed girl."—London Pick-Me-Up.

"How vain you are, Effie! Looking at yourself in the glass!" "Vain, Aunt Emma? Me vain! Why, I don't think myself half as good looking as I really am!"—Punch.

Father—"What do you mean, sir, by hugging my daughter?" Jack Ford—"I was merely obeying the Biblical injunction to 'hold fast to that which is good.'"—Harlem Life.

"When we got to the house, said the fireman, "we found the piano ablaze!" "Did you turn on the hose?" "Alas, no! you see, I had never learned to play on the piano."—Judge.

"I can't help my dislike for it," said Meandering Mike; "I oncet seen a sign in the suburbs that said, 'Water works,' an' I never could have no respect for it sence."—Washington Star.

Philanthropist—"Why don't you take a bath?" Tramp—"I do, sir, every time I get a chance." Philanthropist (not so stupid as he looked)—"I mean an external bath."—Detroit Free Press.

A True Friend—Miss Withers—"What would you do if I should refuse you?" He—"I'd see if I couldn't find some other fellow who would be willing to marry you."—Harrisburg Telegraph.

"Yes," remarked Mrs. Malaprop, "It was a great sight. First came the king, carrying a sceptic in his hand and wearing a beautiful red mantle all trimmed with vermin. It was a grand sight."—Truth.

"John," said the grocer, "you may order a couple o' dozen of them plain cups and saucers and four dozen breakfast plates. I hear that Mrs. Grimes has quit doing her own work and has hired a girl."—Boston Transcript.

Mr. Slopay—"This bill is outrageous. You charge me for ten visits, and you attended me only five times during my illness. Dr. Slocum—"Yes; but you forget my five visits in attempting to collect my bill."—Philadelphia Record.

Mr. Bronston—"Where is the dessert, my dear?" Mrs. Bronston—"The pastry cook has left. You'll have to be satisfied with kisses for dessert to-day." Mr. Bronston—"All right; bring on your French maid."—New York Weekly.

Cephus," said his employer, "you haven't put the whitewash on these walls evenly. You have smeared it on in chunks and daubs." "Yes, sah, replied Uncle Cephus, "I'se not a scrub whitewashah, sah, I's an impressionist."—Chicago Tribune.

"Johnny," called his mother, "quit using that bad language." "Why," replied the boy, "Shakespeare said what I just did." "Well," replied the mother, growing infuriated, "You should quit going with him—he's no companion for you."—New York Herald.

Early Training. Cobwigger—"You seemed rather amused over the idea of your wife's wearing bloomers." Smith—"You'd be amused yourself if you could see her when she tried to find something in her workbasket and emptied it into her lap."—Judge.

"This hasn't a sign of a clam in it," said the guest who had ordered clam chowder. "It's a swindle, that's what it is." "Excuse me, sir," responded the waiter, who is too good for that business, "but we only undertake to serve a chowder; not an aquarium."—Life.

Steve Brodie, Jr.—"Say, dad, what's de meanin' of de word 'ironical?' Steve Brodie, Sr.—"Dat means when a bloke says 'kindly favor me by doin' such an' such a t'ing,' and hits you wid a lump of iron at de same time. Dat's ironical, dat is."—New York Truth.

When Swaney died his widow's face gleamed through her tears as she remarked: "There's one satisfaction in the thought that poor Jim has gone where he won't have to get up in the morning to make a fire. That's something he never could abide."—Boston Transcript.

"I'll bet," remarked Mr. Jason to his wife, as they sat in the family circle at the play, "I'll bet from the looks of it, that the dress that the woman in the box is wearin' is one of them 'elegant dresses one-half off,' we seed advertised yisterday in the papers."—Indianapolis Journal.

Little Johnny has been naughty and has to be sent from the table without having any dessert. For an hour he has been sitting in the corner of the room crying. At last he thinks it time to stop. "Well, I hope you have done crying now," says his mother. "Haven't done," says Johnny in a passion; "I'm only resting."—Tit-Bits.

A husband, feeling his end approaching, sent for a solicitor to make his will. "I leave my wife a life interest in 100,000 francs." "Very good; but if she marries again?" "In that case I will make it $200,000. It is not for her, however; I leave it to her husband. Poor fellow! It will be hard-earned money!"—Illustrazione Popolare.

"Excuse me, madam," said the paying teller, "but you have not endorsed this check. If you will write you name on the back of it, it will be all right." "Oh, of course," said the little woman. "I had forgotten." Then she endorsed the check: "Sincerely yours, Jane Hicksworthy."—Harper's Bazar.

How's This!

We offer One Hundred Dollars Reward for any case of Catarrh that can not be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure.

F. J. CHENEY & CO., Props., Toledo, O.

We, the undersigned, have known F. J. Cheney for the last 15 years, and believe him perfectly honorable in all business transactions and financially able to carry out any obligations made by their firm.

West & Truax, Wholesale Druggists, Toledo, O.; Walding, Kinnan & Marvin, Wholesale Druggists, Toledo, Ohio.

Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. Price, 75c per bottle. Sold by all druggists. Testimonials free.

Built
On the Solid Basis
Of Pure, Rich,
Red Blood,
Health
Is real and lasting.
Opiate Compounds, Narcotics
And Nerve Stimulants are Temporary and Dangerous.

Hood's Sarsaparilla

Builds permanent
Good Health
Because it
Purifies, Vitalizes
And Enriches the Blood.
Cures Scrofula, Catarrh, Rheumatism,
Nervousness, Weakness,
Dyspepsia. Try it.

Prepared by C. I. Hood & Co., Lowell, Mass. $1.

Hood's Pills the after-dinner pill and family cathartic. 25c.

FINEST ROAD-BED ON THE CONTINENT.

BOSTON & ALBANY RAILROAD.

Only Double-Track Route to the West.

ON AND AFTER NOV. 6, 1895.

Through Trains will Leave Boston as follows:

No. 3.—Day Express.

8:30 a. m.—Daily, except Sunday. Has Wagner buffet drawing-room car Boston to Albany, there connecting with through cars to all points West. Stops at Palmer 10.53 a. m.

No. 15.—Chicago Special.

10:30 a. m.—Daily. The finest train running in New England. A solid vestibuled Wagner train, comprising buffet, library and smoking car, sleeping cars and dining car Boston to Chicago, via the Lake Shore & Michigan Southern R. R., and also via Michigan Central R. R.

No. 19.—North Shore Limited.

2:00 p. m.—Daily. Has through vestibuled buffet sleeping cars Boston to Detroit and Chicago, via Michigan Central R. R. Dining car attached at Albany.

No. 5.—Cincinnati Express.

3:00 p. m.—Daily. Has through vestibuled buffet sleeping car Boston to Chicago via Lake Shore and Michigan Southern R. R., and to St. Louis and Cincinnati via Big Four Route. Stops at Palmer 5.20 p. m.

No. 9.—Pacific Express.

7:15 p. m.—Daily. Has through sleeping cars Boston to Chicago, both via Lake Shore & Michigan Southern and Michigan Central Railroads.

No. 63.—Albany Express.

11:00 p. m.—Daily, except Saturday. Has sleeping car Boston to Albany. Stops at Palmer 1.46 a. m.

TRAINS LEAVE PALMER FOR BOSTON.

6 22	a. m.	Accommodation.
7 32	"	"
8.25	"	Daily Express.
10.00	"	"
11.42	"	Accommodation.
1.40	p. m.	Express.
3.12	"	"
4 42	"	Accommodation.
6 49	"	Daily Express.
7.55	"	Sundays only. Express.
9.03	"	Express.

Time tables showing local and through service between all Stations, may be obtained at all ticket offices of this Company.
City Office, 366 Washington Street.
Station, Kneeland Street, Boston, Mass.
52-32 A. S. HANSON, Gen. Pass. Agent

BOSTON & MAINE R. R.

SOUTHERN DIVISION
(CENTRAL MASSACHUSETTS)
CORRECTED TO OCTOBER 6. 1895.

TRAINS LEAVE WARE:

GOING EAST

FOR Boston—6.55, 9.00 a. m.; 3.14, p. m. Sundays 6.55 a. m.
RETURNING—leave Boston 8.45 a. m.; 1.30, 4.00 p. m. Sundays, 1.30 p. m.
FOR Worcester—6.55, 9.00 a. m.; 3.14 p. m. Sundays, 6.55 a. m.
RETURNING—leave Worcester 9.15 a. m.; 2.25, 4.58 p. m.
FOR Oakdale, Hudson and Waltham—6.55, 9.00 a. m.; 3.14 p. m. Sundays, 6.55 a. m.
FOR Gilbertville, Barre and Coldbrook - 6.55, 9.00 a. m.; 3.14 p. m. Sundays, 6.55 a. m.

GOING WEST

FOR Bondsville, Belchertown, Pansy Park, Amherst, Hadley and Northampton, 7.15, 11.24 a. m.; 4.28, 6.47 p. m. Sundays, 4, 35 p. m.
RETURNING—leave Northampton 5.55, 8.00 a. m., 2.15, 6.10 p. m. Sundays, 5.55 a. m.

D. J. FLANDERS, Gen'l. Pass'r. Agt.
W. F. BERRY Gen'l Mgr.

CENTRAL VERMONT RAILROAD.

NEW LONDON DIVISION.
TAKING EFFECT SEPTEMBER 30, 1895.

TRAINS GOING SOUTH.

Leave Brattleboro, 5.40 and 10.25 a. m. and 4.25 p. m. For New London, connecting at Millers Falls with Fitchburg R. R., at Belchertown with Central Massachusetts R. R., and at Palmer with B. & A. R. R. for Worcester, Boston, Springfield, at New London with the N. Y. N. H. & H. R. R.
Leave Amherst, 7.05 a. m., 12.13 and 5.57 p. m.
Leave Palmer, 7.05 and 8.40 a. m., 1.50 and 7.15 p. m.
Leave Willimantic for New London, 8.25, 10.10 a. m. 3.25, 6.40 and 8.45 p. m.

GOING NORTH.

Leave New London, 5.20 and 7.40 a m, 2.30 and 5.25 p. m.
The 5.20 and 7.40 a. m. and 5.25 p. m. run through to Brattleboro and make connections for the north.
Leave New London for Willimantic and intermediate stations, 10.00 a. m.
Leave Palmer for Brattleboro, 8.20, 11.00 a. m, and 8.00 p. m, connecting with express for Montreal. Also with Grand Trunk R. R. for the West.
Leave Palmer for Amherst, 8.20 and 11.00 a. m, and 8.00 p. m.

SUBJECT TO CHANGE WITHOUT NOTICE.
D. MACKENZIE, Supt. J. A. SOUTHARD, D. P. A. New London, Ct.
S. W. CUMMINGS, G. P. A., St. Albans.

A GOOD INDICATION.

Medical practitioners of prominence are prescribing for the cure of diseases springing from derangements of the digestive organs, Dr. David Kennedy's Favorite Remedy. This professional endorsement is justified by the fact that no other preparation has been found so efficacious in that class of disorders even in the most advanced and severe cases. It has cured gravel in the kidneys, stone in the bladder and inflammation of the kidneys, where all other medicines have failed. All druggists sell it.

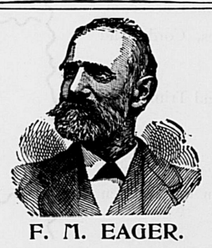
LARRABEE'S RHEUMATIC LINIMENT

A standard and sovereign household remedy for over half a century. It is a wonderful curative agent in all painful diseases, such as

Rheumatism, Lumbago, Neuralgia, Backache, Catarrh, Toothache,

and other painful ailments. To be had of all druggists, or by mail on receipt of 25 cents. Trade supplied by Geo. C. Goodwin & Co., or any wholesale druggist.

WINKLEMANN & BROWN DRUG CO.
BALTIMORE, MD., U. S. A.



F. M. EAGER.

Boots and Shoes Manufactured to Measure.

REPAIRING NEATLY DONE AT SHORT NOTICE.

Dealer in Sewing Machines and Supplies.
Machines to rent or sold on monthly payments.

F. M. EAGER, PALMER.

L. H. HENDEE, M. D.,

OFFICE AND RESIDENCE, PLEASANT ST.
Office hours 7 to 10 a. m., and 1 to 3 and 7 to 9p. m.

THE MAYOR'S ADVICE.

Mayor Wing of Montpelier, Vt., Heartily Endorses Dr. Greene's Nervura.

Mayor Wing Used Dr. Greene's Nervura in His Family With Marked and Decided Benefit. Makes all Strong and Well.

HON. GEORGE W. WING, MAYOR OF MONTPELIER, VT.

Hon. George W. Wing, Mayor of the Capital City of Vermont, is a man of high eminence. A distinguished lawyer, he has served his state in many high offices, having been Deputy Secretary of State, occupied a position in the State Treasury, was Postmaster of Montpelier, and was elected to the State Legislature in 1882. Owing to his great popularity, he had the distinguished honor to be elected Mayor of Montpelier, a position he now fills with illustrious success.

When such a man, occupying so high a position in the community, endorses the great curative powers and recommends the sick and suffering to use Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy, no one will hesitate for a moment to use this grand medical discovery, this great restorer of health and strength.

Mayor Wing says: "I have used Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy in my family, with marked and decided benefit.

"Especially has it been useful in insomnia, arising from indigestion and its attendant evils. I think well of Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy, and freely grant permission to use this letter in advertising it."

You who suffer from nervousness, nervous weakness, the exhaustion of nervous debility, the tired condition attendant upon poor blood and low vitality, the nerve-wearing pain of neuralgia or rheumatism, who pass sleepless or restless nights and wake mornings tired and unrefreshed, with dull-feeling head, bad taste in the mouth, and go to your occupation languid, nerveless, dispirited, without your old-time energy and ambition, do not lose a moment in securing this grand strengthener and invigorator, Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy. It is purely vegetable and harmless, and it will surely make you well.

It is not a patent medicine, but the prescription of the most successful living specialist in curing nervous and chronic diseases, Dr. Greene of 34 Temple Place, Boston, Mass. He has the largest practice in the world, and this grand medical discovery is the result of his vast experience. The great reputation of Dr. Greene is a guarantee that his medicine will cure, and the fact that he can be consulted by anyone, at any time, free of charge, personally or by letter, gives absolute assurance of the beneficial action of this wonderful medicine.

W. D. KINSMAN. SPRINGFIELD.

SOME ONE'S EYES

Must be open constantly to get the best, most desirable and latest novelties the market affords. We do that for you, giving a life time of experience to aid in the selections. We don't want all we see—you don't care for it. We understand your preferences and tastes, and hence you find it pleasant to call on us often. Just now we are thinking of seasonable things, and we invite you to examine our Laces and Neckwear.

The choicest gleanings of the market are here; every desirable product of the manufacturers in this country or abroad is represented. Such beauty as has been wrought from lace, chiffon, crepes, silks and satins, needs personal examination to be appreciated.

LACE COLLARS. The familiar and handsome Guipure de Genes, and Point de Venise laces, made up with a dash of 1895.

COLLARETTES. Beautiful specimens of crepe silk, in white or ecru.

SAILOR COLLARS. Made of black velvets with a fancy braid and black satin with ecru lace. There's style in these without extravagance.

POMPADOUR PUFFS. Daintiest collection we ever had the good fortune to gather. Chiffon, surah and silk mull are the materials, black, white, cream, light blue and pink are the colors.

Laces.

The mark-down pencil has made the price 19 cents on several hundred yards of white silk chantilly formerly sold for 30 to 50 cents a yard.

Dress Trimmings.

The irridescent spangles so much in favor this year make the prettiest effects imaginable in dress trimmings and garnitures. The variety and elegance of our stock make us the acknowledged headquarters for this class of goods.

Buttons.

Every kind that a Paris dressmaker could mention. One sort has hand-painted miniatures, in another are cameos, Rhine stones and opals in clusters, steel and gilt form varieties too hopelessly many to mention. These buttons range in prices from 10c to $21 per dozen, with a hundred prices between.

Underwear.

Thousands of people are unprepared for a weather bureau announcement of "a cold wave on its way East." Are you one of them?

Another lot of ladies' Jersey ribbed vests and drawers at 35c, 50c, 75c, 87c, and $1. Higher grades if you want them.

Jersey ribbed combination suits, special values at $1 and $1.50.

Equestrienne tights, finest wool, $2 and $2.50.

Boys' girls' and infants' underwear.

Hosiery.

Four lots worth your consideration. Ladies' double fleece hose, high spliced heels and toes 25c, 38c, (3 for a $1.) 50c.

Ladies' cashmere hose, a bargain at 25c, marked down from 38c.

Boys' extra stout school hose, sizes 7 to 10, 55c.

W. D. KINSMAN,

SPRINGFIELD. COR. MAIN AND BRIDGE STS.

THE ROYAL WINTHROP RANGE. IT HAS NO SUPERIOR.

I AGREE. That is all we expect you to say. Live up to that and there is no limit to your credit with us; we will arrange the payments to suit you.
We sell all kinds of FURNITURE, and can furnish your house from cellar to garret.

SHAW BROTHERS, - THREE RIVERS, MASS.

A. H. HITCHCOCK,

OPTICIAN,

331 Main Street, Springfield, Mass.
Spectacles and Eye Glasses of all kinds.
Artificial eyes furnished.
Oculists' prescriptions promptly and accurately filled.
Mail orders solicited. 13-25

Piano and Banjo Lessons

given by

Misses Annie and Carrie Fish,

22-tf Palmer.

Ever a Song Somewhere.

There is ever a song somewhere, my dear,
There is ever a something sings alway;
There's the song of the lark when the skies are clear,
And the song of the thrush when the skies are gray.
The sunshine showers across the grain,
And the bluebird thrills in the orchard tree,
And in and out, when the eaves drip rain,
The swallows are twittering ceaselessly.

There is ever a song somewhere, my dear,
Be the skies above or dark or fair;
There is ever a song that our hearts may hear—
There is ever a song somewhere, my dear,
There is ever a song somewhere!

There is ever a song somewhere, my dear,
In the midnight black or the midday blue;
The robin pipes when the sun is here,
And the cricket chirrups the whole night through.
The buds may blow and the fruit may grow,
And the autumn leaves drop crisp and sere,
But whether the sun, or the rain, or the snow,
There is ever a song somewhere, my dear.

There is ever a song somewhere, my dear,
Be the skies above or dark or fair;
There is ever a song that our hearts may hear—
There is ever a song somewhere, my dear,
There is is ever a song somewhere!
—James Whitcomb Riley.

SECRETS OF PULLMAN CAR ECONOMY.

The train from Nashville was nearing Chicago, and in the smoking compartment of the sleeper Galatz four passengers—a doctor, a "drummer," a merchant, and a newspaper man—were enjoying the last cigar together.

The porter came in with a tin box about ten inches wide, a foot high and fourteen inches long. "Say, Joe, is that your safety deposit box, where you carry your tips?" asked the doctor.

"No, sah; dat's my 'quipment box," answered the porter.

"Equipment box?" repeated the drummer, interrogatively.

"Yes, sah; where I carries my 'quipment—the things we use in the car," said the porter.

"Let us look at that box," suggested the merchant, who was of an inquisitive nature.

"Certainly, sah," said the porter, opening the box. "In these little racks in the lid are six combs. In the box there are six hair brushes, six whiskbrooms, four rolls of manila paper, ten cakes of soap, ten boxes of matches, six glass tumblers, one piece of chamois skin, a combination berth and gas key, a screwdriver, a pair of lamp shears, and a comb and brush for my own pussonal use."

"But you have only nine cakes of soap here, and four of them are partly used," remarked the doctor.

"Yes; there was one cake short in the ladies' lavatory dis morning. I hates to say it," continued the porter, with a look of real sorrow on his face, "but men is a heap more honest than women."

"What makes you think so?"

"Well, in the five years I've been running a sleeping-car between Chicago and Nashville, men haven't taken anything but a box of matches once in a while, but the women—Lord bless 'em!—they takes most everything; soap, combs, brushes, towels, brooms and glasses."

"Do you have to pay for them?"

"No, for the company knows just how it happens. Unless I saw a woman actually taking the things I couldn't say anything, and if I did, I might strike just the wrong person, and it would cost me my job."

"What becomes of the soap that's been used? Do you get that?"

"No, indeed; that soap helps to pay the dividends on the Pullman stock. It's just by saving little things that poor folks throw away that other men get rich. Every piece of soap, if it isn't bigger than your little finger, has to be returned to the storekeeper. He sends it out to Pullman, where it goes to the factory and is made into stuff for cleaning carpets."

"Are you sure it isn't made up into new cakes of soap and used in the cars?"

"Oh, no, sah; Mr. Pullman would never allow that. The only thing we use again is brushes."

"What brushes?"

"Hair brushes. We used to throw them away, or rather the company did, after they were soiled from use, but now they've got a scheme for making them clean and good as new."

"Is it a patent process?"

"Oh, no; they just sprinkle powdered borax over the brush and then souse the brush in water. It takes every particle of dirt out of the brush, and the bristles are left white as new. They are not quite so stiff, perhaps, but are stiffer than before they were treated with borax. The Pullman company, after cleansing the brush with borax, sandpapers and varnishes the backs. Three of the ten brushes in my box have been cleaned that way, and nobody would ever know it if I hadn't told you. Just remember this, and don't throw away a good hairbrush when you can take five cents' worth of borax and a little water and make it good as new, and the porter locked his "equipment box" and collected his last tip as the train rolled into Dearborn-street station.—Chicago Inter-Ocean.

DRAWING THE LINE.—"I understand, brethren," said the pastor of the village church at the close of the morning service, "that there is a movement on foot to hold a donation party at the parsonage to-morrow evening. I don't mind marrying couples from the country for $2, and having my wife give them a dinner of fried chicken besides, but I am a poor man, brethren, and I draw the line at donation parties. I have all the tidies, and pink neckties, and maroon slipper patterns I shall need for the next fifty years, and there are not provisions enough in the house to feed the entire congregation. If there is any attempt made to hold the party, let it be understood that there will be a small but resolute preacher at the front gate of the parsonage to-morrow evening armed with a shotgun, and he knows how to use it. We will sing the 'Long-meter Doxology' and receive the benediction."—Chicago Daily Tribune.

Justice—"You are charged with stealing Col. Julep's chickens. Have you any witness?" Uncle Moses—"I hab not; I don't steal chickens befo' witnesses."—Browning King & Co's Monthly.

Two Lives Saved.

Mrs. Phoebe Thomas of Junction City, Ill., was told by her doctors she had consumption and there was no hope for her, but two bottles of Dr. King's New Discovery completely cured her and she says it saved her life. Mr. Thomas Eggers, 139 Florida street, San Francisco, suffered from a dreadful cold, approaching consumption, tried without result everything else, then bought one bottle of Dr. King's New Discovery and in two weeks was cured. He is naturally thankful. It is such results, of which these are samples, that prove the wonderful efficacy of this medicine in coughs and colds. Free trial bottles of LeGro & Lynde, Palmer; G. L. Keeney, Monson; F. A. Spencer, Ware. Regular size 50c and $1.

Old People.

Old people who require medicine to regulate the bowels and kidneys will find the true remedy in Electric Bitters. This medicine does not stimulate and contains no whisky nor other intoxicant, but acts as a tonic and alterative. It acts mildly on the stomach and bowels, adding strength and giving tone to the organs, thereby aiding Nature in the performance of the functions. Electric Bitters is an excellent appetizer and aids digestion. Old people find it just exactly what they need. Price 50c per bottle of LeGro & Lynde, Palmer; G. L. Keeney, Monson; F. A. Spencer, Ware.

Bucklen's Arnica Salve.

THE BEST SALVE in the world for cuts, bruises, sores, ulcers, salt rheum, fever sores, tetter, chapped hands, chilblains, corns, and all skin eruptions, and positively cures piles, or no pay required. It is guaranteed to give perfect satisfaction or money refunded. Price 25 cents per box. For sale by LeGro & Lynde, Palmer; G. L. Keeney, Monson; F. A. Spencer, Ware.

JUST THE THING.

It is told of Sir Walter Scott that he was sitting in his library one day when a tall Highlander, who had been building an inn near by, came in and said:

"May please you, Sir Walter, I am going to call my place 'The Flodden Inn', and as ye've writ a poem on Flodden Field, it struck me and the guid wife that you might gie us a line for a motto."

"Have you read the poem?" asked Sir Walter.

"No, I'm nae reader."

"Then you know nothing about it?"

"Nothin', but I've heert them say as knows that it's a vera fine the."

"Well, I would advise you to take a verse from the poem itself."

"And what'll that be?"

"'Drink, weary traveler; drink and pray.'"

"But my inn's nae tae be a kirk," said the man; "and the more prayin' there is the less drinkin' there'll be, and I dinna want that."

"Oh," laughed Sir Walter, "I think I can alter the verse to suit you by leaving out one letter—an 'r.'"

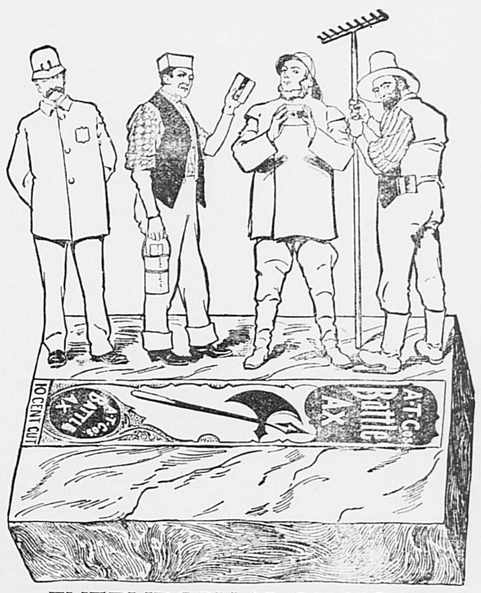
"How will it be then?"

"'Drink, weary traveler; drink and pay.'"

"Be Ailsa Crag, that's just the thing!" shouted the man; and he went away delighted.—New York Evening Post.

Dangerous Drugs.

Avoid the use of white or pink headache powders, they contain dangerous drugs. Taylor's Anti-Headache Powders are brown; they look like ground coffee and they have a delightful aromatic taste. Try them once and you will never be without them. Get them of LeGro & Lynde.



EVERYBODY IS ON TO IT

BATTLE AX PLUG

THE LARGEST PIECE OF GOOD TOBACCO EVER SOLD FOR THE MONEY

R·I·P·A·N·S

ONE GIVES RELIEF.

52-43

"THE BEST IS, AYE, THE CHEAPEST."
AVOID IMITATIONS OF AND SUBSTITUTES FOR

SAPOLIO

4-33

CATARRH

is strictly a LOCAL DISEASE and is the result of sudden climatic changes.

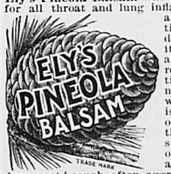
Ely's Cream Balm

is acknowledged to be the most thorough cure for Nasal Catarrh, Cold in the Head and Hay Fever, of all remedies. It opens and cleanses the nasal passages, allays pain and inflammation, heals the sores, protects the membrane from colds, restores the senses of taste and smell. The Balm is applied directly into the nostrils, is quickly absorbed and gives relief at once. The results that follow catarrh, due to the dropping of poisonous matter into the throat, are irritation of the bronchial tubes and soreness of the lungs accompanied by a cough. In all such cases we recommend Pineola Balsam to be used in connection with Cream Balm. Ely's Pineola Balsam will be found excellent for all throat and lung inflammations and for asthma. Consumptives will invariably derive benefit from its use, as it quickly abates the cough, renders expectoration easy, assisting nature in restoring wasted tissues. There is a large percentage of those who suppose their cases to be consumption who are only suffering from a chronic cold or deep seated cough, often aggravated by catarrh. Both remedies are pleasant to use. Price of Cream Balm, 50c per bottle; Pineola Balsam, 25c. In quantities of $2.50 we will deliver free of express or postage, on receipt of amount.



ELY BROTHERS, 56 Warren St., New York.

HOLMES & CO.,

61 Broadway, N. Y.,
Members of the N. Y. Stock Exchange.

Receive Accounts and Deposits of Firms, Individuals, etc., and allow interest on daily balances.

Buy and sell for cash or carry on margin at lowest rates of interest on the New York, Philadelphia, Boston and Chicago Stock Exchanges, Stocks, Bonds, Grain, Cotton, etc.

Branch Office: 35 Congress St., Boston.

PARKER'S HAIR BALSAM
Cleanses and beautifies the hair. Promotes a luxuriant growth. Never Fails to Restore Gray Hair to its Youthful Color. Cures scalp diseases & hair falling. 50c. and $1.00 at Druggists

HINDERCORNS.
The only sure Cure for Corns. Stops all pain. Ensures comfort to the feet. Makes walking easy. 15cts. at Druggists.

WANTED.

Good reliable men, to sell our Choice and Hardy Nursery Stock, such as Fruit Trees, Roses, Shrubs and Ornamentals. Ladies make this business a success. Easy work, pleasant, light and profitable. OUTFIT FREE. Apply at once, with references, and secure choice of territory.

F. N. MAY COMPANY,
Nurserymen and Seedsmen, Rochester, N. Y.

POSTAL

Telegraph and Cable Co.

Office in Strong's Block,

PALMER, : : : : MASS.

Direct wires to New York and Boston. Office in all the principal cities in the

UNITED STATES.

PROMPT SERVICE,

REASONABLE RATES,

ALL BUSINESS

STRICTLY CONFIDENTIAL.

Wanted.

Agents, Local or Traveling on Salary or Commission, to sell our

Warranted Stock.

Sold with a guarantee, at reasonable prices. Steady work and good pay assured. New methods and new specialties. Outfit free, experience unnecessary. Now is the time to commence.

Address, H. B. Williams, Sec'y.

Chautauqua Nursery Co.,

Portland, N. Y.

Insurance.

of every kind placed at short notice, and all favors duly appreciated.

Yours truly,
S. H. HELLYAR.

Engraved Address Cards, Plate engraved and 100 cards printed, only $1.50. Styles change often—your old cards may be out of style, probably are—better have some new ones, with correct size of card and style of lettering. At the JOURNAL Office.

WANTED SALESMEN. We want one or two good men in each county to take orders for a choice line of Nursery Stock or Seed Potatoes' Stock and seed guaranteed. We can give you steady employment with good pay. It will cost you nothing to give it a trial. State when writing which you prefer to sell. Address

The Hawks Nursery Co.,
Rochester, N. Y.

C. H. HOBBY, PIANO TUNER.

Orders for tuning may be left at O. P. Allen's drug store, Palmer; or may be sent to me by mail to Mansfield, Ct.

The Palmer Journal.

VOLUME XLVI. PALMER, MASS., FRIDAY EVENING, NOVEMBER 22, 1895. NUMBER 34.

PUBLISHED EVERY FRIDAY EVENING
—BY—
C. B. FISKE & CO.

TERMS OF SUBSCRIPTION.—Two dollars a year. A discount of 25 cents to those who pay in advance. Six months, $1.00; three months, 50 cents; single copies, 5 cents.

ADVERTISING RATES.—One inch (or twelve lines of this type solid) 75 cents for the first insertion, 25 cents for the second, 15 cents for each subsequent insertion. Short advertisements, "Wanted," "To Let," etc., one cent a word for the first insertion, one-half cent a word each subsequent insertion, cash; no charge less than 25 cents. Notices in local column, 15 cents per line. Liberal rates to yearly advertisers.

JOB PRINTING of all kinds executed in the best styles, promptly and at reasonable rates.

C. B. FISKE. L. E. CHANDLER.

[Entered at Post Office as second class matter.]

LOCAL BUSINESS DIRECTORY.

PALMER.

ALLEN, O. P., Wholesale and Retail Druggist and Bookseller.

BARTON, F. D., Dealer in Watches, Clocks and Jewelry, Main street.

BILLS, G. A., Fresh and Salt Beef, Pork, Ham, Lard, Tripe, etc.

BROOKS, EDWIN E., Graduate Optician. With E. S. Brooks, Jeweler, Main street.

BROOKS, E. S., Dealer in Watches, Clocks, Jewelry, Solid Silver and Plated Ware, Main street.

BROWN, C. A. & CO., Hardware, Furnaces, Stoves, Ranges, Paints, Oils and Glass.

BROWN, S. H., Trucking, Light Jobbing, Piano Moving. Order box cor. Main and Walnut streets. Orders can also be left at J. F. Foley's store.

CARPENTER, Mrs. L. E., Millinery and Fancy Goods. Also dealer in Human Hair Goods.

CHANDLER BROS., Bicycles.

CLARK & HASTINGS, Wholesale Dealers in Armour & Co's. Dressed Beef, Provisions, Main St.

EAGER, F. M., Boot and Shoe Manufacturer to Order, and dealer in Leather and Findings.

FISKE, C. B. & CO., Publishers PALMER JOURNAL and WARE STANDARD. Fine Book and Job Printers and Bookbinders.

FITCH, A. E., Law and Insurance, Savings Bank Block.

FRANCIS, R. B., Iron Foundry and Machine Shop.

GAMWELL, C. K., Ready made Clothing, Hats, Caps, Gent's Furnishings, etc.

GARDNER, CHAS. L., Attorney and Counsellor at Law. Church street.

GOODES, E., Palmer Boot and Shoe Store, corner Main and Thorndike streets.

HAMILTON, J. A., Dealer in all kinds of Coal, Wood, Grain, Flour, Baled Hay and Straw. Fertilizers and Stock Food. Main street.

HOLBROOK, C. D., Flour, Grain, Feed and Mason's Supplies, Main street.

HOLBROOK, J. F., Dealer in all kinds of Coal. Agent for National and White Star line of steamers. Drafts on Foreign Banks at lowest rates.

LEACH, W. W., Attorney at Law.

LeGRO & LYNDE, Druggists and Newsdealers, Paper Hangings, Shades, Lamps and Fixtures.

MARCY, F. F., Dealer in Lumber, Shingles, etc., wholesale and retail. West of B.&A.R.R. depot.

MARCY, OSCAR C., Livery and Feed Stable, rear of Converse House.

PALMER WATER CO., Office, Lawrence Block. Office hours to October 1, from 8.30 to 10 a. m., from 2 to 3 p. m.

SHAW, J. B., Dealer in Dry Goods, Groceries, etc. Opposite the depot.

TAFT, S. S., Attorney at Law. Office in Allen's Block, Church street.

WHITE, C. W., Marble and Granite Works. No. 1 Thorndike street.

WOOLRICH & CO., Manufacturers of Ridge's Food, Thorndike street.

THORNDIKE.

ADAMS, A. P., Druggist, Toilet Articles, Confectionery and Cigars.

BONDSVILLE.

HOLDEN, C. L., Dry Goods, Groceries, Clothing Boots, Shoes, Hats, Caps, etc.

MORIARTY, M., Dry Goods, Groceries, Boots Shoes, Coal. Agt White Star and Anchor SS Co's

WARE.

ADAMS, MRS., Chiropodist and Manicurist. 13 Park Avenue. All troubles of feet successfully treated.

ALBERTINE, J. A. Choice Fruits, Tobaccos, Cigars and Confectionery. Low Prices.

DAVIS INSURANCE AGENCY represents the best companies and gives lowest rates.

EDDY, C. W. Job and Fine Art Printer.

EDDY, MISS MATIE K. Teacher of Oil Painting and Crayon. Sketching or Art Work completed to order.

ELDREDGE, A. HENRY. Sign Painter. Carriages painted in the best manner. West Street.

HARLOW, A. B. Photographer. Instantaneous process only. Opposite the Bank.

HOSMER, F. N. Clothier. Hats, Caps, Gents' Furnishing Good, etc. Sanford's Block.

MARSH, F. E. Gold, Silver and Nickel Plater. Replating tableware a specialty. 7 Bank street.

PRIEST, J. E. Ware Steam Laundry. Carpet cleaning. Office at H. M. Clark's.

RICHARDSON, A. F. Dealer in Boots, Shoes and Rubbers of all kinds. Sagendorph's Block.

ROBINSON, JOHN F. Furniture, Sewing Machines, Pictures, Hardware, Paints and Farming Tools.

SIBLEY, J. B. Hardware, Tools, Agricultural Implements, Paints, Oils and Artists' materials.

SMITH, G. H. W. Jeweler. Watches, Clocks and Spectacles. Repairing in the best manner.

TURNER, H. H. Bookseller and Stationer, and dealer in Paper Hangings, Musical Instruments and Sheet Music.

MONSON.

GROUT, GEO. E. Dealer in Watches Clocks, Jewelry, etc. Towne's Block.

NEWTON, GEO. H., Law Office, Notary Public, Insurance, etc., near Gage's store.

SQUIER & CO., Dealers in Grain, Feed, Hay, Straw, Lumber, Shingles and Building Material.

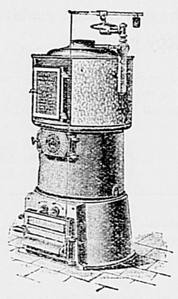
WARREN.

KELLEY, W. H., Attorney and Counsellor at Law. Quaboag Block, Warren, Mass.

SOCIETY DIRECTORY.

MONSON.

MT. ELLA LODGE, No. 184, A. O. U. W. Meets first and third Tuesdays of each month in A. O. U. W Hall, Monson.
FISK G. ROGERS, M. W., F. J. ENTWISTLE, Rec.



VOLUNTEER STEAM AND WATER HEATER.

ECONOMY WARM AIR HEATERS.

BARSTOW PARLOR STOVES.

MODEL GRAND AND CRAWFORD GRAND RANGES.

Rustless Tin Ware.

Plumbing and Steam Heating.

W. H. Hitchcock,

Nassowanno House Block, Palmer.

E. S. Bryant, D. M. D., Dentist,

Lynde's Block, Palmer.
Office hours: 8.30 to 12.30. 1.30 to 5 p. m.

THANKSGIVING.

AT... Todd's Boston Store, ...MONSON.

Ladies of Monson will find it to their best interests to visit our store from now on till Thanksgiving, as a rare opportunity will be afforded to secure genuine bargains in merchandise particularly adapted for Thanksgiving offerings.

THANKSGIVING OFFERING.

Table napkins, full size, all pure linen, $1.29 doz.
1½ yd. wide bleached table linen, Thanksgiving price, 42c.
60 inch double damask, half bleached, pure linen, Thanksgiving price, 49c.

OFFERINGS ACCEPTABLE.

Ladies white lawn aprons, handsomely embroidered, 29c each.
Ladies' Foster hook kid gloves (warranted) in tans and blacks, $1 pair.
Ladies' black satin waist, a useful Thanksgiving offering, $1.

DON'T FORGET WE SELL PUMPKIN PIE PLATES 5c EACH.

A TENDER TURKEY

when roasted in one of our strong wired iron roasting pans, 10c each.
SEE TEN CENT COUNTER.
Useful basting spoons, 5c and 10c.

TOWEL SPECIAL.

Extra large size, knotted fringe in pink, blue, red and white.
For Thanksgiving, 15c each.
With plain fringe, 12 1-2c each.

A New Departure, Something in Live Stock. Come in and hear them sing their Thanksgiving song. CANARIES FOR SALE.

HARD KNOCKS AT SNAPPING BARGAINS.

A bottle of bay rum for 10c
" " witch hazel for "
" Turkey feather duster for "
" Two-quart dipper for "
" Lunch box, leather handle, for "
" Large box canary seed for "
" Hardwood steak pounder for "

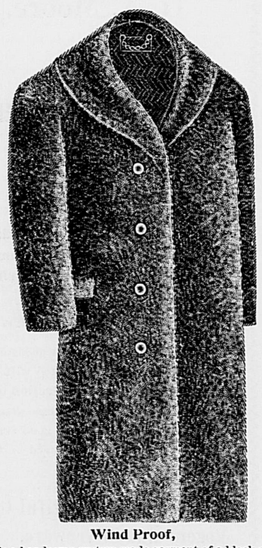
BIG VALUES AT LITTLE PRICES.

Plated spoons and forks, tea and dinner spoons, 5c each.
Potato mashers, " "
Cooking fork, wooden handle, " "
Angel cake tins, " "
Ink, muscilage, petroleum jelly, and hundreds of useful articles at " "

The Always Busy Store.

For the Coming Winter Season.

The Saskatchewan Coat,



Wind Proof,

is a handsome custom-made garment of a black or brown color, with a high rolling collar, lined with black Italian quilting, and rubber lining in the body part and sleeves to make it wind and water proof. It has olives and loops instead of buttons. This coat will keep a person dry and warm during the severest snow or rain-storm, and will be dry the next day.
Caps and carriage robes of the same material.

Complete line of GENT'S FURNISHING GOODS in all departments.

Fall and Winter Clothing

was never so low in price, nor such values for the money.

Fall Suits, $5 to $20,

Just think of it!

An elegant line of

Overcoats, $6 to $22.

You never saw the like before.

Child's Suits, $2 to $6.

Child's Reefer, $3.50 to $5.

Children's Overcoats in all grades.

Underwear

in a great variety of grades and prices.

Fall Style, 1895.

Lamson & Hubbard.

C. K. GAMWELL,

Palmer, Mass.

Perhaps you don't know all about it.

Step in and we will tell you about the QUEEN HUB. While here we can show you some Fine Parlor Goods at prices that will surprise you.

C. A. Brown & Co. - Palmer, Mass.

Better Shoes for Same Amount of Money than Ever Before. . . . . .

I have some very great bargains in Boots and Shoes for all. . . . . A large stock of all grades.

Ladies' Shoes from - $1.00 to 5.00
Men's " " - 1.25 to 6.00
Boys' " " - 1.00 to 3.00

Bargain in Men's Fine Cork Sole, Cong., sizes 5 to 7 1-5, Half Price. Large line Warm Shoes. Also full stock of Rubber Goods.

Hall's Shoe House,

294 Main St., next to P. O. ...SPRINGFIELD...

Seven Six-weeks-old Chester White Pigs For Sale At the Maple Lawn Milk Farm.

DR. O. P. Roller,
Dentist.

Teeth extracted without pain by a new system. The latest methods in dentistry employed.
Office hours from 8 a. m. to 4.30 p. m.
Lawrence Block, Palmer, Mass.

A. H. HITCHCOCK,
OPTICIAN,
331 Main Street, Springfield, Mass.
Spectacles and Eye Glasses of all kinds.
Artificial eyes furnished.
Oculists' prescriptions promptly and accurately filled.
Mail orders solicited. 13-25

FOR ALL KINDS OF JOB PRINTING CALL AT THE JOURNAL OFFICE.

SMITH & MURRAY.

Drives in Dress Goods.

Opportunities such as we offer can only be grasped by stores that are not loaded with regular goods.

That's our position; invariably ready for special lots at low prices.

That accounts for these.

One of the desirable stuffs of this season. 38 and 40-inch all wool novelty suitings in 25 new designs. Imported to sell for not less than 62½ cents a yard.

Also 28 pieces 40-inch illuminated twill suitings, was good value at 37½c, now 25c a yard.

18 pieces colored serges, 38 and 45 inches wide, for 25c a yard, former price 39c and 50c.

25 suit patterns that would be good value at $7.50 if imported direct, but they had to go now for less—our price $4 95.

Rear of main store.

Men's Underwear.

Do you know the kinds we sell? If you do, you likely buy here. If you don't, we want you to try us.

We sell the best, and the prices are right—mostly less than you would have to pay in furnishing stores.

Men's dark random shirts and drawers, 39c each.
Men's natural ribbed shirts and drawers, 44c each.
Men's natural fleece lined shirts and drawers, 50c each.
Men's natural wool shirts and drawers, 75c each.
Men's all-wool white shirts and drawers, $1 each.
Men's natural shirts and drawers, $1 each.
Men's Australian wool shirts and drawers, $1.25 each.
Men's camel's hair worsted shirts and drawers, full fashioned, $1.50.

Main store, left.

SMITH & MURRAY.

"Honest John" Truss.

Very few Trusses have a reputation equal to this, and none better. We are prepared to apply them to any kind of rupture, with a guarantee of satisfaction in every particular, at the drug store of

LeGRO & LYNDE,

Next Door to Post Office,
Palmer, - - Mass.

Hellyar's Bargain Store.

Carpets! Carpets!

Are you interested in carpets? If so, we should be pleased to show you. We have arranged with one of the largest mills in the United States whereby we are their sold agents in this locality.

Wilton Carpets,
Moquette Carpets,
Axminster Carpets.
Velvet Carpets,
Body Brussels Carpets,
Tapestry Carpets,
Three Ply Carpets,
Ingrain Carpets of all grades,
Cocoa Mattings,
Napier Mattings,
China Mattings,
Linoleums,
Oil Cloths,
Rugs,
Mats,
Lace Curtains.

We carry a full line of the newest patterns in all kinds of Carpets.

You have as fine a variety to select from as is carried by the stores in the largest cities. You can have the carpets cut and sewed at the mills, and delivered to you ready to be laid on the floor. We represent the manufacturers, thus saving you the middleman or jobber's profit, and as we have no stock to carry and no risk to take on bad patterns, misfits or remnants we can afford to sell at a very small profit—lower even than the stores of the great cities. Call and find out how quickly and how cheaply we can carpet a room or a house.

S. H. Hellyar & Co.,
Caryl's Block, on the Corner,
Palmer, Mass.

WALL PAPERS, MOULDINGS, ETC., AT MASON'S, PALMER.

The Voyage Home.

"Steer a leetle more to the wes'ard,
Now a leetle more to the south,
Then keep your eyes on the Sandstone Light
And make for the harbor's mouth.
You're a bonny young sailor, Benny,
But it's strange, me a-lyin' here
A-feelin' so trembly an' queer-like,
An' my seein' not overly clear."

"Aye! aye! Don't you worry, grandpa,
I'll manage the 'Dolphin' all right;
Just lie on the locker and rest you,
And look at the beautiful night.
See the sun a-dippin' an' sinkin'
Over there in the shinin' sea,
An' the moon comin' up in the east'ard
As yellow an' big as can be."

"Yes, Benny, it 'pears we're a-sailin'
Straight into the glory there,
And I feel so peaceful and dreamlike,
With never a pain or care.
Can it be I am sailin' home'ard
To the heavenly shore to-night?
I've allers thought I should love to go
When the sea was glitterin' bright;

"Go driftin' right into the sunset,
On a calm and even tide,
An' beach my boat on the shinin' shore
With mother close by my side.
But now she's home an' a-waitin'
An' watchin' the Sandstone Light;
It's surely a blessin', my sailor boy,
That you was along to-night."

"Yes, grandpa, don't you worry,
I'll pilot you safely home,
The 'Dolphin' knows the way herself,
She could almost go alone
I can see the lights of the village
As the shadows grow more deep,
An' how do you feel now, grandpa?
I think you are 'most asleep."

And the dory went sailing homewards,
Steered by the small brown hands,
And the favoring tide upbore it
Till it safely reached the sands,
But the fisherman's hands were folded,
And his face was stranger white,
And, near or far, to another shore
He had sailed in the sunset light.

—Lillian Gray.

APPLEGATE'S CHIVALRY.

Applegate entered his door that night with a delightful sense of the difference between the sharp November air without and the warmth and brightness within, but as he stood in the little square hall taking off his overcoat, this comfortable feeling gave way to a heart-sick shrinking of which he was ashamed. He was a man of peace, and through the closed door of the sitting-room came the sound of voluble and angry speech. The voice was that of Mrs. Applegate, his second wife, to whom he had been married for two years.

Reluctantly he pushed open the door. It was a very pretty quarrel as it stood. At one end of the little room, gay with light and color, was Julie leaning on the mantel. She wore a crimson dress a little low at the throat, which set off vividly her rich, dark beauty. Undoubtedly Julie had beauty, and a singular gypsy-like piquancy as well. She was kicking the white fur hearth-rug viciously now and then to punctuate her remarks.

Dora, with her book in her lap, sat in a low chair by the student lamp. Dora was a slender, self-possessed girl of fifteen, in whose cold young eyes her stepmother had read from the first a concentrated and silent disapproval, which was very exasperating.

"It's the first time that woman has ever set foot in this house since I've been mistress of it," Julie was saying angrily, "but if I'd seen her it wouldn't have been the last time, you'd better believe. I ain't afraid of her. Maybe she thinks I ain't good enough for her to call on. Lord! I'd like to tell her what I think of her. It was her business to ask for me, and it was your business to call me, anyhow, whether she did or not. Maybe you think I ain't enough of a lady to answer Mrs. Buel Perry's questions. I'd like to have you remember I'm your father's wife!"

Dora's head bent lower over her book in an agony of vicarious shame. How, her severe young mind was asking itself, could any woman bear to give herself away to such an apalling extent? To reveal that one had thwarted social ambitions; to admit that one might not seem a lady—Ugh! Degradation could go no further.

"What's the matter, Dora?" asked Applegate quietly in the lull following Julie's last remark.

"Mrs. Perry came to the door just as I was going out to school this noon, to ask what sort of a servant Mary Samphill had been. Mamma was in the kitchen teaching the new girl to mould bread and I answered Mrs. Perry's questions. She did not ask for anyone."

"I say it was Dora's business to ask her in and call me. Whose servant was Mary Samphill, I'd like to know? Was she Dora's?"

Applegate crossed the room to the open fire and stretched his chilled fingers to the flame.

"Aren't you a little unreasonable, Julie?" he inquired gently. "If Mrs. Perry didn't ask for you, I don't quite see what Dora could do but answer her questions."

"Me unreasonable? I like that! Mrs. Buel Perry came to this house to see me, but Dora was bound I shouldn't see her. Dora thinks"—she hesitated a moment, choking with her resentment—"she thinks I ain't Mrs. Perry's kind, and she was going to be considerate, and keep us apart. Oh, yes! see thinks she knows what the upper crusts wants! If I'm not Mrs. Perry's sort, I'd like to know why! I'm your sort fast enough, John Applegate," and Julie threw back her head with a gesture that was very fine in its insolence. "I guess if Mrs. Perry and Mrs. Otis and that set are company for you, they're company for me. Of course you take Dora's side; you always do. I can tell you one thing. When I was Frazer MacDonald's wife I had some things I don't have now, for all you think you're so fine. MacDonald never would have stood by and seen me put upon. If folks wasn't civil to his wife, he knew the reason why. I might have done better then to marry you—I might—" Julie stopped to catch her breath.

"Do you think I can make Mrs. Perry call on you, if she does not want to, Julie?"

The woman shrugged her shoulders pettishly. "What is the good of marrying a man who can't do anything for you?" she demanded. "It ain't any more than my due, that she should call, and you know it. She was thick enough with your first wife! And me to be treated so after all I've done for you and your children! I give you notice I'm going to Pullman to-morrow and I'm going to stay till I'm good and ready to come back! Maybe you'll find out who makes this house comfortable for you, John Applegate! Maybe you will!"

And with this Julie glided across the room—she could not be ungraceful even when she was most violent—and left it, shutting the door with emphasis.

There was a deep silence between Applegate and his daughter for a little while. Why should either speak when there was nothing to say?

"Supper is on the table, father, observed Dora at last. "There is no use in letting it get any colder"—and in silence they went to their meal.

Julie MacDonald, born in Dessaix, was the daughter of a French market gardener and of a Spanish woman, the danseuse of a traveling troupe, who, when the company was left stranded in an Indiana town, married this thrifty admirer. The latter part of Julie's childhood was passed in a convent school, whence she emerged at fifteen, a rabid little Protestant, with manners which the sisters had subdued slightly, but had not been able to make gentle. She learned the milliner's trade, which she practiced until at twenty-two she married Frazer MacDonald, a gigantic, red-haired Scotch surveyor. This union of a deeply enamored but masterful Scot and the undisciplined girl, in whose veins the Franco-Spanish blood ran like flame, was not the failure which at first glance it promised to be, perhaps because Julie stood wholesomely in awe of her husband.

A few years after their marriage MacDonald went West, intending to establish himself and then send for Julie, whom he left meanwhile with her sister, now the wife of a well-to-do mechanic living in Pullman. His train was wrecked somewhere in Arizona and the ruins took fire. MacDonald was reported among those victims whose bodies were too badly burned to complete identification, and though Julie refused to believe it at first, when the long days brought no tidings she knew in her heart that it was true.

She had a sum of money and succeeded in establishing herself at her old trade in one of the country towns of the Indiana prarie county, where she had worked and prospered for three years before John Applegate asked her to marry him.

At the convent they had tried to teach her to worship God, but abstractions were not in Julie's line. Respectability was more tangible than righteousness, and deference to the opinion of the world was an idea she could grasp. The worship of appearances came to Julie's religion. Nothing could be more respectable than John Applegate, who was a hardware dealer and one of Belleplaine's leading merchants, and she accepted him with an almost religious enthusiasm. The hardware business in a right farming county is a good one. And then, in her own very unreasonable way, Julie was fond of Applegate.

"A little mouse of a man, yes," she said to herself, "but such a good little mouse. I'll have my way with things. When MacDonald was alive he had his way. Now—we'll see."

As for Applegate, having decided to remarry for the sake of his children, he committed the not uncommon inconsistency of choosing a woman who could never be acceptable to them, and who suited himself entirely only in certain rare and unreckoning moods, which were as remote from the whole trend of his existance as scarlet is from slate color. These facts he did not distinctly recognize. This untamed daughter of the people was undoubtedly fascinating, and, when once or twice a suspicion crossed his mind that she was hardly a suitable person to undertake the training of Dora and Teddy, he dismissed it, and, with the easy optimism of man in the presence of beauty, assured himself that it would come out all right.

His little daughter kissed him dutifully and promised to try to be a good girl, when he told her that he was to bring a new mamma home, a pretty, jolly mamma who would be almost a playmate for the children, but secretly she felt a prescience that this was not the kind of mamma she wanted.

A few weeks after her marriage her father found her one day shaking in a passion of childhood's bitter, ineffectual tears. With great difficulty he succeeded in getting an explanation. It came in whispers, tremblingly:—

"Papa, she—she says bad words! And this morning Teddy said one too. O, papa," the sobs broke out afresh, "how can he grow up to be nice and how am I going to get to be a lady—a lady like my own mamma—if nobody shows us how?"

Applegate dropped his head on his chest with a smothered groan. For himself he had not minded the occasional touches of profanity with which Julie emphasized her somewhat un-English speech, for they had only seemed a part of the alien element in her which attracted him, but when Dora looked up at him with his dead wife's eyes he could not but acknowledge the justice of her tragic horror of "bad words!"

"What have I done?" he asked himself as the child nestled closer, and then, "What shall I do?" for he found himself face to face with a future before whose problems he shrank helplessly.

One does not decide upon the merits of falcons according to the traditions of doves, and it would be quite as unjust to judge Julie Applegate from the standpoint of her husband and his children. There is no doubt that she made life a hell to them, but this was accidental rather than intentional, and it must be remembered that one man's hell is another's heaven.

If one is considering the matter of grievances, Julie certainly had hers. Most acute of all, she was accorded only a grudging toleration by the circle to which the first Mrs. Applegate belonged. This was the more grinding from the fact that in Belleplaine, as in all small towns of the great Middle-West, social distinctions are based upon quality and not upon position.

Then, there was Dora. From Julie's point of view tempers were made to lose, but Dora habitually retained hers with a dignity which, while it endeared her to her father, only exasperated his wife. Julie developed an inordinate jealousy of the girl, and the love of the father and daughter became a rod to scourge them. With the most pacific intentions in the world, it was impossible to divine what would not offend Julie.

On the occasion of the family quarrel recorded, Julie departed for Pullman according to her threat, and for a few days after her departure life was delightfully peaceful. Dora exhibited all sorts of housewifely aptitudes and solicitudes, the wheels of the household machinery moved smoothly, and the domestic amenities blossomed unchecked.

Julie had been gone a week, a week of golden Indian summer weather, when one day as Applegate was leaving the house after dinner he was met by the telegram boy just coming in. He stopped at the gate and tore the message open. It was from Julie's brother-in-law, Hopson, and condensed in its irreverent ten words a stupefying amount of information. Applegate looked at it unable to understand:—

"MacDonald has come alive. Claims Julie. High old times. Come."

He crushed the yellow paper in his hands and turning sat down heavily upon the steps of the veranda, staring stupidly ahead of him. If this were true, what did it mean to him? Out of the hundred thoughts assailing him only one was clear and distinct. It meant that he was free!

He turned the telegram over in his fingers, touching it with the eyes of one who sees visions.

Free! His home—his pretty home—his own again, with Dora, who grew daily more like her mother, as his little housekeeper; free from that tempestuous presence which repelled even while it attracted. Free from the endless scenes, the tiresome bickerings, the futile jealousies, the fierce caresses, both of which wearied him equally now. He had scarcely known how all these things which he bore in silence had worn and weighed upon him, but he knew at last. The measure of the relief was the measure of the pressure also. The tears trickled weakly down his cheeks and he buried his face in his hands as if to hide his thankfulness even from himself. The prospect of peace overwhelmed him. No boy's delight nor man's joy had ever been so sweet as this. When he looked up the pale November sunlight seemed to hold a promise for him more alluring than that of all the May-time suns that ever shone—the promise of a quiet life.

As he accustomed himself to this thought there came others less pleasant. The preeminently distasteful features of the situation began to raise their heads and hiss at him like a coil of snakes. He shrank nervously from the prospect of the gossip and the publicity. This was a hideous, repulsive thing to come into the lives of upright people who had thought to order their ways according to the laws of God and man. It was only Julie's due to say she had intended that. But it had come and must be met. Julie was MacDonald's wife, not his—not his! The only thing to be done was to accept the situation quietly. He knew that his own compensation was ample—no price could be too great to pay for this new joy of freedom—but he shivered a little when he thought of Julie with her devotion to the customary and the respectable. It would hurt Julie cruelly, but there was no one to blame, and there was no help for it. And MacDonald could take her away into the far new West and make her forget this miserable interlude. He knew that for MacDonald, who was of a different fiber from himself, Julie's charm had been sufficient and endearing. Whatever might be the explanation of his long absence, Applegate did not doubt that the charm still endured. And in the end even they themselves would forget this unhappy time which was just ahead of them, and its memory would cease to seem a shame, and become a regret whose bitterness the passing years would lessen tenderly.

Having thus adjusted the ultimate outcome of the situation to suite the optimism of his mood, Applegate drew out his watch and looked at it. He had just time to make the necessary arrangements and catch the afternoon train for Chicago.

He telegraphed to Hopson, and as he left the train that evening he found the man awaiting him. The two shook hands awkwardly and walked away together in silence. It was only after they had gone quite a distance that Hopson said: "Well, I'm glad you got here. We've been having a picnic up at the house. Julie's been having the hysterics and MacDonald—you never knew MacDonald, did you?"

Applegate listened politely. He had a curious feeling that Julie and her hysterics were already very far away and unimportant to him, but he did not wish to be so brutal as to show this.

"When did MacDonald return and where has he been?" he asked gravely.

"He got here yesterday. He says he had a shock or something in that accident—anyhow, he just couldn't remember anything, and when he came to he didn't know who he was nor anything about himself, and all his papers and clothes had been burnt, so there was nothing to show anybody who he was. He could work and he was all right most ways. Says he was that way till about six months ago, when a 'Frisco doctor got hold of him and did something to his head that put him right. He has papers from the doctors to show it's true. His case attracted lots of attention out there. Of course he wrote to Julie when he came to himself, but his letters came to his old address and she never got them. So then he started East to see about it. He says he's got into a good business and is going to do well."

There was a long silence. Presently Hopson began again awkwardly:—

"I don't know how you feel about it, but I think Julie ought to go back to him.

Applegate's heart began to beat in curious, irregular throbs; he could feel the pulsing of the arteries in his neck and there was a singing in his ears.

"Of course Julie agrees with you?" he said quickly.

"Well, no, she don't. That's what she wanted me to talk to you about. She can't see it any way but this. She says he died, or if he didn't it was the same thing to her, and she married you. She says nobody can have two husbands and it's you who are hers. I told her the law didn't look at it that way, and she says then she must get a divorce from MacDonald and remarry you. She says it's the only way to put her right with the world. MacDonald says if she brings suit on the ground of desertion, he will fight. He says he can prove it wasn't no wilful desertion. But probably he could be brought round if he saw she wouldn't go back to him anyhow. MacDonald wouldn't be spiteful. But he was pretty fond of Julie."

Applegate had stopped suddenly in the middle of Hopson's speech. Now he went forward rapidly, but he made no answer. Hopson's scrutinized his face a moment before he continued:—

"Julie says you won't be spiteful either. She says maybe she was a little hasty in what she said just before she came up here. But you know Julie's way."

"Yes," said Applegate, "I know Julie's way."

Hopson drew a long breath of relief. He had at least discharged himself of his intercessory mission.

"I told Julie she'd better put up with it and go with MacDonald. The life would be more the sort of thing she likes. But her head's set and she won't hear to anything Henriette or I say. You see, that's what Julie holds by, what she thinks is respectable. And it's about all she does hold by." He hesitated, groping blindly about in his consciousness for words to express his feeling that this passionate, reckless nature was only anchored to the better things of life by her fervent belief in the righteousness of established order.

"Julie thinks everything of what seems to her respectable," he concluded lamely.

"Is it much further to your house?" asked Applegate dully.

"Right here," answered Hopson, drawing his key from his pocket.

They entered a crude little parlor, whose carpet was too gaudy and whose plush furniture was too obviously purchased at a bargain, but its air was none the less heavy with tragedy. A single gas jet flickered in the centre of the room. On one side a great, broad shouldered fellow sat doggedly with his elbows on his knees and his face buried in his hands. There was resistance in every line of his figure. On the sofa opposite was Julie in her crimson dress. As she lifted her face eagerly Applegate noticed traces of tears upon it. Mrs. Hopson, who had been moving about the room aimlessly, a pale and ineffective figure between those two vivid personalities, came to a standstill and looked at Applegate breathlessly. For a moment no one spoke. Then Julie, baffled by the eyes she could not read, sprang to her feet and stretched out her hands with a vehement gesture.

"John Applegate, you'll put me right! You will! I know you will! I can't go back to him. How can I? It isn't respectable. Oh, why should this come to me?" Her hungry eyes scrutinized his still inexpressive face.

"John! You aren't going to turn me off?" Her voice had a despairing passion in it. "You won't refuse to marry me if I get a divorce! Good God! You can't be such a devil. John! Oh John!"

Applegate sat down and looked at her apathetically. He was not used to being called a devil. Somehow it seemed to him the term was misapplied.

"Don't take on so, Julie," he said quietly. The room seemed to whirl around him and he added with a palpable effort: "I'll think it over and try to do what is best for both of us."

At that MacDonald lifted his sullen face from his hands for the first time and glanced across at the other man with bloodshot eyes. Then he rose slowly, his great bulk seeming to fill the room, and walking over to Applegate's chair stood in front of it looking down at him. His scrutiny was long. Once Applegate looked up and met his eyes, but he was too tired to bear their fierce light and dropped his own lids wearily.

MacDonald turned from him contemptuously and faced his wife, who averted her head.

"Look at me, Julie!" he cried appealingly, "I am better worth it than he is. Good Lord, I don't know what you see in him. He's nobody. He don't want you. Come along with me and we'll lead a life! You shall cut a dash out there. I can make money hand over fist. It's the place for you. Come on!"

For a moment Julie's eyes glittered. The words allured, but her old gods prevailed. She threw out her arms as if to ward off his proposal.

"No, no," she said shrilly. "You were dead to me and I married him. One does not go back to the dead. If I am your wife, what am I to him? It puts me in the wrong these two years. I will not have it so, I tell you. I will not have it so!"

Applegate felt faint and sick. Rising he groped for the door. "I must have air," he said to Hopson, confusedly. "I will come back in a minute."

Once outside the cool November night refreshed him. He dropped down upon the doorstep and threw back his head, drinking in long breaths as he looked up at the mocking stars.

When he found at last the courage to ask himself what he was going to do, the answer was not ready. The decision lay entirely in his hands. He might still be free if he said the word, and as he thought of this he trembled. He had always tried to be what his neighbors called a straight man, and he wanted to be straight in this also. But when in such a hideous tangle was the real morality to be found? Surely not in according to Julie's demands! What claims has she upon him or upon the home whose simple traditions of peace and happiness she had trampled rudely under foot? Was it not a poor, cheap convention of righteousness which demanded that he should take such a woman back to embitter the rest of his days and warp his children's lives? He rebelled hotly at the thought. That it was Julie's view of the ethical requirement of her position made it all the more improbable that it really was right. Did not the situation in which he was placed demand of him a choice between the conventional morality and the real morality? Surely his duty was to his children first, and as for Julie, let her reap the reward of her own temperment. The Lord God himself could not say this was unjust, for it is so he deals with men.

It seemed to him that he had decided, but as he rose and turned to enter the door a new thought stabbed him so sharply that he dropped his lifted hand with a groan.

Where had been that sense of duty to his children, just now so imperative, in the days when he had yielded to Julie's charm against his better judgment? Had duty ever prevailed against inclination with him? Was it prevailing now?

He was no more an imaginative man than a casuist, but in that moment he seemed to hear in his ears a cry that might have come from all the women in the world whose ethical ideals, faulty perhaps, but still their highest, had been thrust aside by rude, strong, self-seeking hands. And in the cry he found a sharp reproach.

High over all the turmoil and the desperation of his thoughts shone out a fresh perception that mocked him as the winter stars had mocked. For that, at least the crucial one of his decision, he felt assured that in the relation of man and woman to each other lies the supreme ethical test of each, and in that relation there is no room for selfishness. It might be, indeed, that he and Julie were quits and that he owed her nothing, but might it not also be that he owed a consideration to all womankind which could only be paid through this woman he had called his wife? This was an ideal with which he had never had to reckon.

He turned and sat down again to fight the fight, with a chill suspicion in his heart of what the end would be.

"Oh Lord," prayed Applegate grimly in that hour, "if there ever was another poor devil in just this fix, I hope you had some mercy upon him!"

Being a plain man, he had only plain words in which to phrase his decision when at last he came to it.

"I chose her and I'll bear the consequences of my choice," he said, "but I'll bear them by myself. His aunt will be glad to take Teddy, and Dora is old enough to go away to school." Then he opened the door.

Hopson and his wife had left the little parlor. Julie on the sofa had fallen into the deep sleep of exhaustion. MacDonald still sat there with his face in his hands, and to him Applegate turned. At the sound of his step the man lifted his massive head and shook it impatiently.

"Well?" he demanded.

"The fact is, Mr. MacDonald, Julie and I don't get along very well together, but I don't know as it is any reason why I should force her into a position that doesn't seem right to her. She thinks it would be more—" he hesitated for a word—"more respectable to get a divorce from you and remarry me. It's for her to say what she wants and for you and me to do it."

MacDonald looked at him piercingly.

"You know you'd be glad of the chance to get rid of her," he said excitedly. "In the Lord's name, then, why don't you make her come to me? You know I suit her best. You know she is my sort, not yours. She's as uncomfortable with you as you with her, and she'd soon get over the feeling she has against me. Man! There's no use in it! Why can't you give my own to me?"

"I can't say that I don't agree with you," said Applegate, and the words seemed to ooze painfully but steadily from his white lips. "But she thinks she'd rather not, and—it's for her to say."—Cornelia Atwood Pratt, in Kate Field's Washington.

"And now, my son," said the loving father, "as you are about to go into business for yourself, it is well for you to remember always that honesty is the best policy." "Yes, papa," said the high-browed youth. "That honesty is the best policy. And," continued the old man, "if you will study up on the laws, you will be surprised to find how many things you can do in a business way and still be honest."—Indianapolis Journal.

The Journal.

FRIDAY EVENING, NOVEMBER 22, 1895.

LOCAL NOTICES.

At Bills's market you will find the usual fine assortment of turkeys, chickens, and other Thanksgiving fixin's.

Don't fail to hear the Wesleyan University Glee and Mandolin Clubs at the opera house next Tuesday evening. They're the best in the country.

Something new, Celery Cigars; good for the nerves; try them. Sold by LeGro & Lynde.

Crisp celery, fine cranberries, choice grapes, bananas, walnuts, oysters, for Thanksgiving at McGilp's market.

FINE STATIONERY.—Blue is the fashionable shade for ladies' correspondence paper now, and "Ciel Bleu" is the very latest and most correct. "Prince of Wales" is another popular style, and comes in four shades, Silver Blue, Cream, French Grey and Beryl. Samples of all these papers and the fashionable sizes now prevailing can be seen at the JOURNAL Office.

PALMER NEWS.

H. L. Holden of New York was home over Sunday.

Mrs. C. H. Atkins of Lenox is the guest of Mrs. H. Atkins.

O. P. Allen has put in a hot soda fountain at his drug store.

H. A. Northrop will begin work on his new ice house next week.

Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Chandler spent Sunday with friends in Somerville.

Good Cheer Rebeckah Degree lodge will meet next Tuesday evening.

Miss Hattie Paine is clerking in the dry goods store of D. L. Bodfish.

Miss Nellie Gridley of Hartford has been the guest of Miss Mabel Sedgwick this week.

A. E. Fitch has been reappointed a justice of the peace for another term of seven years.

Revere chapter of the Order of the Eastern Star will hold a regular meeting this evening.

Miss Julia Cook is employed a part of the day as bookkeeper in the store of D. L. Bodfish.

Mrs. L. C Lord of Morehead, Minn., is spending the week with her sister, Mrs. A. W. Thayer.

A. J. Northrop has installed a new engine and boiler at his wood yard on Commercial street.

Mrs. Lydia H. Moulton has gone to spend the holidays with friends in Boston, Salem and Newburyport.

Mr. and Mrs. G. A. Wason of Nashua, N. H., were the guests of Dr. and Mrs. G. H. Wilkins over Sunday.

Miss Bailey of Barre has organized a Tuesday afternoon dancing class of 20 members, mainly juveniles.

The Ladies' Tuesday Social Club will meet next Tuesday afternoon with Mrs. A. W. Thayer on West Main street.

It is expected that the interior of the post office will be still further improved by fresh paper on the walls at an early day.

W. H. Brainerd is shingling the buildings on his farm near West Brimfield, and making extensive repairs and alterations.

In the Baptist church next Sunday morning Rev. C. R. Minard will take for his subject "The Work of the Holy Spirit."

Masses at St. Thomas's Catholic church next Sunday will be at 8.30 and 10.30 a. m., with Sunday school at 3 p. m. and vespers at 7.30.

Otto Smith, James Dewey and Mr. Mason, living near Monson, had unusually good luck hunting last Saturday, bagging three foxes.

Mrs. E. A. Holden will give her sons and daughters and their families a Thanksgiving dinner and reunion at the Converse House next Thursday.

C. F. Grosvenor has built a boiler house 40 feet long to accommodate the 80-horse power boiler recently put in at his woolen mill, and erected a 50-foot iron stack.

Mrs. A. W. Thayer entertained a number of ladies yesterday afternoon with a thimble-bee, in honor of her sister, Mrs. Lord of Minnesota, who is her guest.

Commencing with the next opera house attraction, Saturday of next week, opera glasses owned by the proprietors of the property will be rented for 10 cents each.

All the schools of the town except the high school closed to-day for a vacation of one week; the high school will close next Wednesday for the remainder of the week.

Excursion tickets to the meeting of the Massachusetts Teacher's Association at Worcester will be sold the 29th for $1.20 for the round trip, good to return the 29th or 30th.

Rev. F. E. Jenkins of the Congregational church was chosen scribe at the council held Wednesday to install Rev. E. D. Francis as pastor of the Congregational church at Ludlow Center.

Rev. H. F. Moulton will preach in St. Paul's Universalist church next Sunday morning on "Are your distresses narrowing you or enlarging you? or, the purpose of distress as worked out in David's life."

Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Dwyer have the sympathy of many friends in the death of their son Henry, which occurred Sunday evening after an illness of more than five weeks. Another child died a year ago last July.

A well-known Palmer young man is writing a play, and it is not improbable that it will be given its first production on the local stage, possibly before the end of the present season. It will deal largely with rural life.

A special meeting of the Congregational parish is called for next Monday evening at 7.30, to see if any change will be made in the present method of renting seats. It is suggested that the free seat system be adopted.

The children of the Baptist Sunday school are making their annual collection of food, wearing apparel and money for the Baldwin Home for Little Wanderers, in Boston, to be sent in time for the Thanksgiving dinner there.

A union Thanksgiving service will be held in the Baptist church next Wednesday evening at 7.30. Rev. F. E. Jenkins of the Congregational church will speak, taking for his subject, "The Deepest Cause for Thanksgiving."

The usual Tuesday evening session of Holland's dancing class was postponed until last evening this week, on account of "Hands Across the Sea" at the opera house. The session next week will be held on Monday evening.

The county commissioners have dismissed the petition of Brimfield, Wales and Holland for a new road from Fentonville in Brimfield to Tenneyville in Palmer, which would have to be built and maintained by the towns of Palmer and Monson.

Through the efforts of Selectman Atkins the United States School Furniture Mfg. Co., which is to furnish the desks for the new Thorndike school, has given one of the desks to the Business club, for the use of the secretary in the assembly room.

Yesterday morning was a decided change from the warm, almost summer weather of the previous few days, the mercury having dropped to 20°, accompanied by a cold, piercing wind which seemed to penetrate to the marrow, in spite of extra clothing.

The Quaboag Literary Circle has elected these officers: President, O. P. Allen; vice president, Rev. C. R. Minard; secretary and treasurer, Miss Phœbe Hastings; executive committee, H. C. Strong, Walter Brown and Miss Helen Converse.

Callers at the store of J. B. Shaw the first three days this week were treated to free cups of Barker's Hasty Lunch Chocolate, a new preparation just being introduced in this vicinity, prepared on the spot by a young lady who explained the excellencies of the article.

Since the opening of the opera house over 700 75-cent reserved seats have been sold. The matter of an advanced scale is of great importance to an opera house, because it assures a better class of attractions right along. A handsome souvenir will be presented the purchaser of the 1000th reserved seat at 75 cents.

The lunch room which has been opened on the second floor of the opera house on the evenings when performances are given seems to be appreciated by attendants, and was well patronized on Tuesday and Wednesday evenings. Delicious coffee, toothsome sandwiches, etc., are served, the charge being 5 cents for each article.

At the Congregational church next Sunday morning the pastor will preach on "Our Heavenly Vision." In the evening the subject will be "Living in Three Worlds—a Thanksgiving Time Meditation." The evening service, under the care of the Men's Sunday Evening Club, will open with a praise service. It is hoped to have a cornetist to assist in the musical part.

The attraction at the opera house next week will be the Noss Jollity Co. on Saturday, in the musical skit, "The Kodak." The company was recently in Springfield, and its performance was well spoken of by the Union of that city. There are said to be several good specialists with the company, and an evening of fun is promised all who attend. A matinee will be given in the afternoon, with prices at 15, 25, 35 and 50 cents.

The annual meeting of the Eastern Hampden Agricultural Society will be held on Tuesday, December 3d, at 2 p. m. Mr. O. P. Allen, who has served the society faithfully and acceptably for 19 years, declines to serve longer in that capacity, and the society will be compelled to make choice of some other person. Mr. Allen has done much for the society, and it will be difficult to find one who will work harder for the success of the organization than he has.

The New London Northern road will sell reduced rate tickets between all points on its line for Thanksgiving week. For 33 miles or less the rate will be two cents a mile each way, with a maximum of $1 and a minimum of 15 cents; for distances over 33 miles fare one way will be charged for the round trip, which will be 1½ cents per mile each way. The tickets will be good going Wednesday and Thursday, Nov. 27th and 28th, and for the return trip until Monday, December 2d, inclusive.

A good joke is told on a well-known bachelor of the place. He called on two of his lady friends last Sunday evening, and when the conversation lagged a little picked up a paper and began to glance over its columns. Soon he began to show signs of sleepiness, and finally dropped off into the land of Nod. The ladies waited for him to awake, but he showed no symptoms of so doing, and finally, tiring of the situation, one retired from the room while the other sought repose on a sofa. Finally the sleeper awoke, and noting the condition of affairs took his hat and coat and softly tiptoed out of the room.

The first regular meeting of the Once-a-Week Club was held last Saturday evening at the Converse House, and these officers were elected: President, E. R. Pierce; vice president, W. H. Osgood; secretary and treasurer, E. W. Carpenter; steward, J. F. Fenton. E. R. Pierce, C. G. Gardner and F. E. Cady were appointed a committee to prepare a constitution and by-laws and present to the club. The club numbers at present 11 members; in addition to the above, Dr. E. S. Bryant, Joseph Duclos, H. D. Converse, A. G. Newton and G. S. Holden. It is probable the membership will be limited to 12.

One of the Murphy brothers, who for a time last summer had a machine shop in the rear of LaSalle's barber shop, was in town a few days ago to see what encouragement he could get for the manufacture of a bicycle for which he has perfected plans. The wheel embodies several new features, among them a new and improved head, which wheel papers speak very highly of. He has an advantageous offer to go to Long Island, where a factory will be built and a stock company formed for the manufacture of the wheel, but he prefers to stay in this section, which is the heart of the eastern bicycle business, and regards Palmer as a point peculiarly well adapted for shipping.

William Henry Harrison Ryder had his buggy somewhat damaged and sustained personal injuries last Saturday evening in a collision with another team while on his way home. The accident occured near the Brainerd homestead east of the village, and Mr. Ryder claims that he was on the extreme right of the road, the responsibility for the trouble therefore resting with the other driver. Ryder had an arm somewhat sprained, one tooth knocked out and another loosened. He says that the other team was driven by Mr. Brown of Brimfield, but as there are numerous Browns in that burgh his statement is not quite definite enough to reveal the personality of the driver of the other team.

Two records were broken at the opera house this week, "Hands Across the Sea" having the largest and the smallest audiences since the opening of the house. Tuesday was the banner night, there being 651 tickets sold; every seat down stairs was gone early, and the sign "Standing room only" would have been put out if there had been one on hand; as it was a chance to stand in the gallery brought 50 cents. The night was a perfect one, warm and balmy, and many came from the other villages. Had the weather been pleasant Wednesday evening another big house would have resulted, but it rained all the afternoon and the record went the other way, only 213 tickets being sold. The company fully justified the reputation accorded it, being the best which has appeared here this season. All the parts were well taken, each member of the company being well adapted to that taken, and the performances were much enjoyed by all who attended.

When the board of trade was organized several years ago each of the members paid into the treasury a membership fee of $2. Nothing was done, and the most of the money is still unexpended, the amount being about $70 or $80, which has been lying in the savings bank accumulating interest. The Business and Social Club is doing the work for which the board of trade was organized, and it is suggested that the money which has so long lain idle might be put to some good use. A meeting of the members of the board of trade will be called for a week from next Tuesday evening to see what disposition shall be made of the funds, and it is suggested that they be turned over to the public library as a means of making them of the greatest benefit to the greatest number. The library has purchased a good list of books this year, but in spite of the $1000 appropriation from the town, finds that it cannot purchase all the books that it is desirable to have. This sum would enable it to place on its shelves many new volumes which the public will otherwise be compelled to wait another year for.

An enjoyable event for music lovers will be the concert next Tuesday evening at the opera house by the Wesleyan University glee and mandolin clubs. A concert of this sort is always enjoyable, especially if the clubs be good, and it is believed that those which will appear next Tuesday evening are the best in the country, and that the concert will be the finest of the kind ever given in Palmer. The tickets are only 35 and 50 cents, and besides listening to an enjoyable evening's entertainment, purchasers will be helping along a most worthy cause, as the proceeds are to go toward increasing the library of the high school, under whose auspices the concert is given; there should be a generous patronage. The programme will be:

Wesleyan Songs. Glee Club.	Davis, '94
March, Bohemia. Mandolin Club.	Grover
Courtship. Glee Club.	Thayer
Pulmiratana. Mandolin Club.	Walker
Blow Soft Winds. Vincent. Arr. by Glee and Mandolin Clubs.	R. Stevens
Mimmi. Mandolin Club.	Bellenghi
Schneider's Band. Glee Club.	Mason
Flute Solo. Mr. Frinkaus.	Selected
Sweet Chiming Bells. Arr. by Il Solitario. Mandolin Club.	Davis, '94 Rossi
Serenade. Glee Club.	Nessler

District Court.

Frederick Wallace of Monson was before the district court Monday for drunkenness, and paid a fine of $5. Levi Johnson of the same town, charged with a similar offense, was discharged for lack of evidence, which was about as flimsy as it could well have been; someone told Mrs. Johnson that they had seen her husband drunk, and she made a complaint against him, though she had not seen him drunk and knew nothing about it. Wednesday morning Thomas O'Connor of Three Rivers paid $5 for drunkenness; Thomas J. Mills of Monson, charged with a similar offense, had his case continued until next Monday; Alfred Thayer, also of Monson and charged with drunkenness, had his case continued until yesterday morning, when he pleaded guilty and paid a fine of $2, a light sentence being imposed on his solemn promise not to offend again. Thomas Mills was up again for drunkenness, having imbibed rather freely before returning to his home after being released the day before and being brought in by a Monson officer. He pleaded not guilty at first, and the case was set for next Monday, but later he changed his mind and pleaded guilty to both charges, being fined $10 on the first, and being placed on probation until the 27th of December on the other. Frank T. Ames and James Roach, vagrants, declined to work in payment for their lodging, as the law requires, and said they preferred a sentence through the severe weather to hustling around in the wind and cold for work. Judge Shaw took pity on their misfortune in not finding something to do, and provided each with employment for a year on the state farm at Bridgewater, which was rather more than they had bargained for.

BONDSVILLE.

A rich musical treat at opera house, Palmer, Dec. 3d.

Miss Lou Moulton entertained a number of her friends at her home last Saturday evening.

Miss Ethel Hayes has resigned her position in the finishing room of the Boston Duck Co.

Margaret Sheehan died at her home last Friday after a short illness. The funeral was held Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Ryther and daughter Mabel attended the Clark-Frazier wedding in Northampton Wednesday.

Marcus Culver has moved into the house with Mrs. Talmage, and Edward Sharratt will occupy the house Mr. Culver has vacated.

The Boston Duck Co. is now running on winter time, beginning at 7 o'clock instead of 6.30, and running Saturday afternoons until 4.

A new iron foot-bridge is being built across the Swift river north of the Boston Duck Co's. mills, about 50 yards above the old foot-bridge, the work being done by R. F. Hawkins's Iron Works. The bridge is built by the towns of Belchertown and Palmer on the Company's land, and will be maintained by the towns.

The theatrical company which has been playing during the past week in Liberty Hall, found itself stranded here Monday morning. The manager had suddenly disappeared with all of the company's available funds, and after Landlord Grise of the Union House had served an attachment on their wardrobes, the remaining members disbanded and left town Monday afternoon.

Once more the wedding bells chime, this time for Mr. Peter O'Connor of Chicopee and Miss Katherine Ferriter of Bondsville. The wedding took place in St. Bartholomew church at 11 o'clock a. m., after which a reception was held at the bride's home. Miss Lizzie Ferriter, sister of the bride, was bridesmaid, and Mr. M. Cunningham of Chicopee was best man. The happy couple left for a short trip, Oswego, N. Y., being their destination. On their return they will reside in Chicopee.

THREE RIVERS.

Wesleyan University Glee Club at Palmer next Tuesday evening.

The public schools closed this afternoon for a week's vacation.

Harry Newell, with a friend from Amherst, spent Wednesday at his home here.

Mrs. L. M. Vaughn of Boston is spending a few days here with her sister, Mrs. F. L. White.

Misses Annie B. Crane, Helen L. Sweet, Cora Clark and Mabelle Merrill are to spend Thanksgiving at their homes.

Tuesday evening the Y. P. S. C. E. held its monthly business meeting. The usual supper and entertainment followed.

Mrs. Green, who has been visiting relatives in New London for a few months, has returned to her home with Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Lavine.

Quite a number attended the play which was presented at Palmer last Tuesday evening, and many who went say it was the best of the season.

Tuesday afternoon Joseph Paulin met with a serious accident. In jumping a fence he caught his foot in the pickets and fell on his shoulder, dislocating it.

On account of the scarlet fever, which has become almost an epidemic at the French Protestant College in Springfield, several of the pupils from this place have returned to their homes, among them being Misses Lily Ives, Sarah Frank and Clara Gravel.

The attentive pupils of Miss Catherine Twiss were suddenly disturbed while busy pouring over their lessons the other morning by an apparition from above. One of the boys in the upper room stepped on a loose board in the floor, and one of his lower extremities sank through the plastering beneath. Luckily the desk underneath was unoccupied at the time.

The Heart party at the bicycle club rooms last Friday evening more than fulfilled all expectations; a goodly number were present, and an enjoyable time was spent. Miss Lucy Twiss won first prize for putting the heart in its correct position on an anatomy prepared for the occasion, and all present received a beautiful souvenir heart. So much of a success has this party proven to be that the young ladies of the Wednesday Afternoon Club have decided to hold many similar gatherings this winter.

THORNDIKE.

Hear the Mandolin Club at Palmer next Tuesday evening.

John Keefe has recently built an addition to his blacksmith shop.

Dr. Desmarais and Gigeoir have their office at A. P. Adams's drug store.

Miss Annie Brosnan of Amherst spent Sunday in town with relatives.

Charles Keith of Claremont, N. H, was in town visiting relatives during the week.

Miss Lucy Talmage spent Sunday with Mrs. E. B. Blanchard in Brookfield, returning Monday.

"Hands Across the Sea" drew many from this place to Palmer on Tuesday and Wednesday evenings.

John W. Winter, who has been confined to his home for some days, is again able to attend to business.

Michael Pirtz was injured one day last week in the mill, having his foot caught in the elevator at No. 2.

The Enid Mayo Company, on account of sickness, had to cancel its engagement here for Tuesday and Wednesday.

Rev. Mr. Bryant of Cambridgeport will occupy the pulpit of the Congregational church again on Sunday next.

Miss Mary Hallez and Louis LaClare, both of this place, were united in marriage on Monday morning by Rev. Fr. Donoghue.

A society has been formed by the Polish inhabitants of the different villages in the town, to pay members $3 per week during sickness, and has now a membership of about 150.

The funeral of Mrs. James McFarlane was held from the Congregational church on Saturday afternoon, and was largely attended. Rev. E. B. Blanchard of Brookfield officiated. A quartette consisting of Mrs. G. A. Murdock, Miss Maude J. Murdock, E. B. Williams and B. F. Emery sang.

G. A. Moody has moved his family to Central Falls, R. I., where he has taken a position as superintendant of the Stafford mill. Mr. Moody during his stay here has made many friends, and was well liked by his employers. Charles A. May of Boston succeeds him as overseer of spinning and carding at the No. 2 mill.

The Y. P. S. C. E. will give their entertainment, "The Old District School," in Union Hall this evening. The school will be taught by Spinster Hulda Birch from Loontown, Four Corners, Mass., and the honorable school board will be present, consisting of Squire Kicker, Deacon Wayback and Doctor Slow Coach.

The Columbia band will give its third annual concert and ball on Wednesday evening of next week. Moran's orchestra of Northampton, nine pieces, will furnish the concert and dance music. The following programme will be given:

March. "Oh, Uncle John!" Columbian Band.	Beyer
Overture. "Marappah," Orchestra.	F. Mahl
March. "Hungarian," Orchestra.	F. Fisher
Overture. "How Delightful," Orchestra.	E. N. Catlin
Fantasia Popular Airs. "On Broadway," Columbian Band.	Beyer
Waltz. "Obispah," Orchestra.	S. Knight
Overture. "New York," Orchestra.	S. Zimmerman

Sunday was a day of unusual interest at St. Mary's Catholic church, as the exercises of confirmation, which come once in about four years, took place. The sacrament was administered to a large class by Rt. Rev. Bishop Beaven of Springfield in the afternoon. The morning services were at 8 and 10 o'clock; the former mass was celebrated by the pastor, Rev. Fr. Lynch. The 10 a. m. service was a high mass, which was celebrated by Rev. Fr. Harkins of Holyoke, at which the bishop was present. The solos were taken by Miss Sadie Keefe of Ware, who sang Millard's "Incarnatus" in a very pleasing manner, and Mr. D. Lynch of Holyoke, a pleasant tenor, sang an "Ave Maria," by Millard, the chorus work being done by members of the regular choir. Vespers and benediction of the blessed sacrament followed at 3, at which Rev. Fr. Sheehan of Ware was celebrant, the following clergymen also being present and assisting: Frs. Harkins of Holyoke, McKenna of Bondsville, Marchand of Three Rivers and Donoghue of Palmer. Bishop Beaven spoke eloquently for about half an hour, and was listened to with marked attention. The solos at vespers were taken by Organist Luman, Mrs. Holden and Miss Flynn. Mr. P. Mullvaney of Ware sang in a manner worthy of special mention Himmel's Veni Creator. During confirmation Miss Jennie Barbeau, a promising young soprano of Ware, sang Millard's "Ava Maria." At benediction, which followed, Miss Sadie Keefe sang Iossi's "O Salutaris." The chorus work was good, and the singing in general the finest ever heard here. The choir was made up of Miss Sadie Keefe, Miss Jennie Barbeau and Mr. Mullvaney of Ware, Mr. Dennis Lynch of Holyoke, Mr. P. Fleming of Chicopee Falls, Mr. Wm. Cantwell and Mr. Gould of Monson, Miss Clifford, Miss Leary, Miss Fenton and Mr. Austin of Bondsville, Miss Flynn, Mrs. Holden, Miss Murphy, Miss O'Connor, Miss Crowley, Miss Loftus, Miss Moran, Messrs. Stokes, Malloy and Luman of Thorndike, the whole being under the direction of Organist John F. Luman. The children made a fine appearance, particularly the girls, who were dressed in white and wore long white veils. The altar was handsomely decorated with flowers.

BORN.

At Palmer, 18th, a daughter to Otto R. F. and Flora A. Smith.

At Palmer, 21st, a son to Asa C. and Annie Cobb.

MARRIED.

At Monson, 20th, Charles Holt of Palmer and Bridget Fitzgerald of Monson.

At Palmer, 18th, by Rev. T. S. Donoghue, Lugi Lecliare and Mary E. Hallez, both of Palmer.

DIED.

At Palmer, 17th, Henry T., 3 y, 6 m., son of Thomas J. and Sarah M. Dwyer.

At Warren, 18th, William Dunn, 77.

At Warren, 15, Mrs. Margaret A. Fagan.

FOR SALE.—Soapstone stove.
5—34 L. A. CONANT, Palmer.

FOR SALE.—House on Squier avenue and building lots Pond street, belonging to J. A. Squier estate. Enquire W. W. LEACH, Palmer, Mass., April 23, 1894. tf-4

DRS. ALLEN AND HAYES, specialists in chronic diseases, will be at the Nassowanno House, Palmer, on Wednesday of each week from 10 a. m. to 8 p. m. Consultation free. Latest methods employed. tf-30

For Sale Cheap.

All the material in the State Primary School; windows, doors, slate, boards, brick, plank, large timbers. Will be sold in lots to suit. Enquire on premises of W. PERRY.

Be thankful that Turkeys are cheap
at Truesdell & Brown's.

ODD FELLOWS OPERA HOUSE,

Saturday, Nov. 30. Matinee at 2. Evening at 8.

THE NOSS JOLLITY CO.

In their new Fantastic Burlesque Musical Comedy, "The Kodak."

All fun. No Sorrow. Hear the Musical Tennis Club. The Mandolin Troubadours, the Fairy Bells, the Saxaphone Quintette. See Baby Helen, Little Elsie Lower, the Musical Donkey and the Rooster Dance.

"A remarkable musical family. Its musical features constitute one of the best musical entertainments on the vaudeville stage. As musicians, the members of the company excel. Little Elsie Lower won applause for her dances, and Baby Rogers was a diminutive but clever joker. The performance is clean and wholesome throughut." —Springfield Union.

Matinee prices, 15, 25, 35 and 50 cents.
Evening " 25, 35, 50 " 75 "
Reserved seats at Allen's Tuesday morning.

Insurance.

of every kind placed at short notice, and all favors duly appreciated.

Yours truly,
S. H. HELLYAR.

A NICE NEW LINE OF SAMPLES OF FOLDERS.

FOR DANCE PROGRAMS, INVITATIONS, MENUS, ETC.

Just received at the JOURNAL Office.

Forbes & Wallace's,
Springfield.

Oriental Rugs
And Carpets!

Exhibition and sale of important collection of choice Oriental rugs and carpets, commencing Wednesday and continuing ten days.

Perhaps this is the most important collection ever brought to Springfield. Every rug is a picked rug; every carpet is a picked carpet. Some of the pieces are of the richest and most luxurious character, representing a lost art never to be produced again, for the patterns and colorings are from designs which were perfected in the days when Damascus, Nineveh and Babylon were all in their glory.

But the prices! the prices! Actually we're knocking the extravagance out of Oriental rug prices. Catalogues are ready and can be had on application, by mail or at the store.

Our 1896 Book
Catalogue.

Everybody that has to do with book buying should have it---students, librarians, everybody. We have a special system of supplying libraries with books. Drop us a postal, and we'll send the catalogue without a cent's charge.

Fine Table Linens
and the Thanksgiving
Table.

Hospitality on Thanksgiving day; noble, splendid, New England hospitality; was there ever a more cheering sign of it than a generous table spread of lustrous spotless white?

Blest be those feasts, with simple plenty crowned,
Where all the ruddy family around
Laugh at the jests or pranks that never fail,
Or sigh with pity at some mournful tale,
Or press the bashful stranger to his food,
And learn the luxury of doing good.
—Goldsmith.

The subject is not dull except in advertisements; but shoppy table linen is fearfully dull.

John S. Brown & Son's table linens are the finest known to luxurious people. They are very fine; so fine that you wonder if they can be strong. Take in your hand one of the cloths. It is fine and thick; and so closely woven that you wonder how it can be so soft. The patterns are elaborate enough for any taste.

The prices go as high as you please, beginning at $2.90 for a cloth, and $4 for a dozen of napkins.

Cheaper cloths and sets, of course---a great deal cheaper. We tell of these best to-day; but nobody else in this region has such an assortment of cheaper sets as we; nobody else has either our goods or our prices.

Right aisle.

FORBES & WALLACE.
Main, Vernon and Pynchon streets,
Springfield, Mass.

Public Auction
of Trotters, Roadsters, Wagons, Etc.

The undersigned, before leaving for California, will dispose of all his live stock at auction at his stables in Palmer, Mass., Tuesday, December 10th, at 10.30 a. m.

Lady West, 2.31¼, (P) 3 years old, trial 2.18½, half on ice in 10.6½, black filly (4) 15.3 hands, by Col. West, he by Egbart, dam by Tom Patchen. This filly's record is no measure of her speed, she is very level headed, grand, fearless roader and a hard one to beat to the snow or road.

Elial E. Bay gelding (7) 15.3¾ hands high, sired by Elial G., dam by Ogden's Messenger. This gelding is very stylish and up-headed, fearless of steam or electric cars and is a whirlwind on the road, can and will cover from 15 to 16 miles an hour and a very free driver.

Lucinda. Blk. M. (5) 15½ hands, by Kentucky Prince 400, dam by Messenger Duroc. This mare has paced miles in 2.40, halves in 1.14½.

Chedayne. Reg. No. 24155, Blk. G. (2) 15.3 hands, by Bona Fide by Hambletonian 10, dam by son of Smuggler. This colt is very promising, is good gaited, a fine roader, well broken, fearless of all objects, very handsome and a prize winner.

Bay gelding, one year old, by Solis 1572S by Sultan, dam by son of Happy Medium, sire of Nancy Hanks 2.04, and others. This youngster is a very leggy, strong built, finely gaited fellow and should surely be a very fast one.

Also a number of carriages, buggies, a fine one-man buggy, little used. Cart, bike sulky, harnesses, blankets and all stable utensils. Any question in regard to the above stock will be answered. See large bills.

Sale positive rain or shine.

3-34 DR. S. H ELLERY, Palmer, Mass.

Piano and Banjo Lessons

given by

Misses Annie and Carrie Fish,

22-tf Palmer.

MR. J. R. LONGWILL, having leased Mr. Campbell's blacksmith shop, will endeavor to do what is right by the general public, in prices to suit all parties. Horse shoeing a specialty. tf-7 SOUTH MAIN STREET, PALMER.

Call in AT TAYLOR'S Music House,
Opera House Block, Springfield,

and see what we can do for CASH. You will be surprised to see what Bargains are offered.

We must have CASH at once for our second-hand stock, in order to make way for our new, which is coming in early.

Call in and see what CASH will do at Taylor's.

Groceries.

RUSSIAN FLOUR—there is no better bread flour made,	$4.25
Best St. Louis,	4.00
20 lbs. Fine Sugar,	1.00
10 lb. tub Pure Lard,	.80
5 lb. pail Pure Cottolene,	.45
1 lb. Pearl Tapioca,	.07
1 lb. Pearl Barley,	.07
4 lbs. 4-Crown Raisins,	.25
1 lb. Best California Rice,	.08
1 lb. Washed Currants,	.09
2 lbs. Seedless Raisins,	.25
3 packages Fresh Mince Meat,	.25
3 quarts Best Cape Berries,	.25
¼ lb. Nutmegs,	.17
¼ lb. Pepper, Cassia, or Cloves,	.06
1 lb. Carrs' Best Crackers,	.07
1 lb. Corn Starch,	.08
1 lb. Elastic Starch,	.09
1 lb. Baker's Chocolate,	.38
½ lb. Baker's Cocoa,	.23
1 gal. Best Molasses,	.50
12½ lbs. Entire Wheat,	.40
5 lb. bag Worcester Salt,	.08
56 lb. bag Worcester Salt,	.70
1 quart bottle Maple Syrup,	.23
1 can Island Brand Lobster,	.22
1 can Lewis Clams,	.10
1 can Warren Salmon,	.10

Smith's Cash Store,
59 Main Street,
Palmer.

Reduction.

We will make a special

10 per cent Reduction

on all our Wall Papers, Friezes, Borders, Mouldings, etc., for the next

Sixty Days.

Call and See us.
Next Door to Post Office.

LeGro & Lynde,
Palmer, Mass.

Horse Blankets.

A full line, for both stable .....and street use.....

375 BLANKETS IN STOCK.

PRICES RIGHT.

D. W. Foskit,
Foskit's Mills.

Wanted.

Agents, Local or Traveling on Salary or Commission, to sell our Warranted Stock.

Sold with a guarantee, at reasonable prices. Steady work and good pay assured. New methods and new specialties. Outfit free, experience unnecessary. Now is the time to commence.

Address, H. B. Williams, Sec'y.

Chautauqua Nursery Co.,
Portland, N. Y.

WEDDING INVITATIONS. Engraved or printed. The latest styles and prices right. Samples on application at the JOURNAL Office. WEDDING CARDS.

We canot raise the mercury

but we can make you so comfortable that you will scarcely notice its fall. How do we do it? By selling some of our cold weather specialties.

Cashmere Hose

for ladies or gentlemen, at 25c a pair, they are well worth 38c. A wool .....hose for 12 1-2c.....

Underwear

at prices ranging from 25 cents upwards. Some splendid values at the .....prices asked.....

Clothing, Etc., Etc.

Flannelette wrappers, shirt waists and skirts, jackets, capes. Men's and boys' ulsters, suits and capes. Comforters and blankets at all prices. In fact, what you .....need is what we have.....

D. L. Bodfish, Cross Block, Palmer.

G. A. Moore,.....Watch Maker and Jeweler, Palmer.

Holiday Season of 1895.

Our first anniversary in business is close at hand, and we would draw attention to some of the changes that have been made during the past year.

We have increased our stock from time to time till we now have more than three times the amount of stock on hand a year ago. The stock has been very carefully selected, and there is not an old article to be found in it.

EVERYTHING IS NEW AND OF LATE DESIGN.

We know that we sell goods at prices that are right, and want everyone to get acquainted with the fact.

We guarantee satisfaction in this way: If any article purchased at our store does not please you, money will be returned to you on receipt of the article in good condition. This applies to everything we sell. Here are named a few of the things to be found at our store:

A full line of beautiful Clocks,
Rogers' fine Silverware,
Ladies' and Gent's Watches in Gold and Silver. . . . . .
Boys' Watches ranging from $2.50 to 10. Every one warranted.
Gold Rings, Gold Pens, Pencils.
Sterling Silver Novelties, etc., etc.

Constantly adding new things.
Come in and see them.

We refund the money if you wish.

G. A. Moore, Watch Maker, and Jeweler.
Holden's New Block, Palmer, Mass.

Fetchy Footwear.

That expresses it exactly.

All the newest and nobbiest of nobby goods. . . . . .

They fit, too. You don't have to make your feet fit our shoes—we have the shoes to fit your feet—all sizes and shapes of feet.

In the matter of shoes feeling is believing. We'd be pleased to demonstrate this to you.

A. B. Cowan, Holden's Block, Palmer.

WANTED. Good reliable men, to sell our Choice and Hardy Nursery Stock, such as Fruit Trees, Roses, Shrubs and Ornamentals. Ladies make this business a success. Easy work, pleasant, light and profitable. OUTFIT FREE. Apply at once, with references, and secure choice of territory.

F. N. MAY COMPANY,
Nurserymen and Seedsmen, Rochester, N. Y.

F. F. MARCY, PALMER, MASS.
Wholesale and Retail Dealer in
ALL KINDS OF LUMBER AND SHINGLES
Windows, doors, blinds, mouldings. Carpenters' and joiners' work done to order.
Also FIRE BRICK and CLAY for sale.
ard and shop at junction of B. & A. and N. L. N. Railroads—west of Depot.

Headquarters for Thanksgiving Supplies!

ROBINSON & TAYLOR'S.

Everything that the housekeeper needs to make the Thanksgiving dinner . . . . . the success it should be. . . . . .

The Purest Spices which money will buy.
The choicest Teas and Coffees to be found anywhere.
Full assortment of the celebrated Anglo-American Soups.
Fine Raisins, Citron, Currants, Grapes, Nuts, Figs, Dates, etc. We have them all.
Make your bread and pastry of White Loaf Flour, and you'll never regret using it.
Remember we are headquarters for staple and fancy Crockery of all kinds.

Robinson & Taylor, Holden's Block, Palmer.

The Journal.

FRIDAY EVENING, NOVEMBER 22, 1895.

NEIGHBORHOOD NOTES.

MONSON.

LOCAL NOTICES.

At opera house, Palmer, next Tuesday evening, Wesleyan University Glee and Mandolin Clubs; 35 and 50 cents.

Obadiah Jonson Meets a "Femail Woman of the Masculine Persuasion."

The "Womons Ryts Buybile" is the strainjust peace of Hefoby that eye hav cum in2 imejit kontack from. The she-man that was reel Pure A No 1 dubbil xtrat seam 2 hav cum in 2 notis withought any disgisin theirselves. Eye didn't no until eye was on the ralerode and c um and heere um tork. Eye pityusly saw the stern cowntnans of 1 who maid plane to awl beeholders that she was a theelogyun; I nu bi her gate that she was a brite lite in the trybe; she was a lank, sobber lookin' person of a surtan age, and had on a mix'd dres an' a very 1 sidded adres, for she dun ail the spekin'. Hur konversayshun wus on Wholly Writ. She thot it wasn't writ rite, and sed the Buybull from Alphy to Omigy was a mes of knavy clippin's, and that the men got all the best to themselves and did not give hur eny sho. Adam want no beter than now a-daze, and the ide of calin' her Eave was so she wud fall off, cause eaves is at the end of the rouf and wud fall easy. "O men," she sed, "why won't you give us our rites?" I thot it was solum rites she was at, but she bust 4th and sed, "Both of the sectses wus maid a like, and the way He givs orders don't mak us any more tender to Him. He aint a self-maid man, she maid him, an if she hed had her say there wod not be so much blud and karnig, but it wud be piece and hapines." She larfed at the wa they threw the tea over in Boston harbur, but the rum that men luv'd they didn't thro awa; and she went on with a mess more of stuf. O, she put it down solid. The men was crewil, onbareable, an' treated wimin shameful, etc. I left her and mused. I wondurd if aparil had anything to do with her eyedears. She had on pants, and can it be that she panted for votin' or plowin', or did she want ofis, or wus she goin to tare down our metin houses and bild wimmin's temples to teach in after this, and wud she teach such stuf?

OBADIAH JONSON.

The public schools closed to-day.

Martin R. Maxwell has been drawn as juryman.

Heimann & Lichten are wiring their straw shop for electricity.

Mrs. William Gath fell down stairs Monday and broke her arm.

Mrs. Rowan of Westfield is visiting her daughter, Mrs. William Wilcox.

Five "Knights of Rest" were entertained at the town's expense last night.

The union evangelistic services began at the Methodist church Tuesday evening.

An eight-inch three-chime whistle now does duty at R. M. Reynolds's straw works.

Rev. W. H. Marble will preach Sunday morning upon "Methods in Revival Work."

The Woman's Foreign Missionary society of the Methodist church held a meeting with Mrs. W. H. Marble Monday evening.

The children are taking up their annual Thanksgiving collection for the Little Wanderers.

Harry T. Chapin is home on a week's vacation from the Massachusetts College of Pharmacy, Boston.

A new Standard dictionary and International encyclopedia have recently been added to the Monson Free Library.

Mrs. Addie Miller of Hartford, who has been visiting Mr. and Mrs. George W. Seymour, returned home Tuesday.

Nicholas P. Hanley, who is employed by Herbert C. Norcross, was hurt Monday while handling a barrel of oil, and is unable to work.

W. E. Foley's auction sale of housekeeping goods, which began Tuesday in Bogan's block, will be continued until the entire lot is sold.

The children in the public schools commemorated the death of Dr. S. F. Smith by singing "America" on the day of his funeral.

Dr. P. W. Soule is making quite extensive alterations in his Main street house. An addition containing two or more rooms is to be built on the south side.

Business at the quarry of the W. N. Flynt Granite Co. is unusually good for so late in the season, and the prospects for a busy spring are exceptionally good.

Mt. Ella lodge, 184, A. O. U. W., will nominate its officers for the coming year at the meeting next Tuesday evening, and all members are requested to be present.

The water commissioners have laid an extension on Thompson street this week, and several houses have been connected with the Monson water system.

As customary for so many years, union Thanksgiving services will be held next Thursday morning at the Congregational church. The programme will be appropaiate to the occasion.

The subject of the sermon by Rev. F. S. Hatch at the Congregational church next Sunday will be appropriate to Thanksgiving week: "Gratitude to God for the Law of Human Progress."

About one hundred new books have been added to the library, and a supplementary catalogue will soon be issued. The books comprise works of history, biography, fiction, travel, etc., for adults and children.

Rev. E. Stuart Best, formerly pastor of the Methodist church, was greeted by a large audience when he preached in that church last Sunday morning. Mr. Best represented one of the church benevolencies. He is now located at Merrick.

Heman Osborne expects to complete his block on North Main street next week. F. E. Howe's meat market will occupy the lower part, while the hall above, with the anteroom and ticket office, has been rented to the Ancient Order of Hibernians.

Rev. F. S. Hatch preached the sermon at the ordination and installation of Mr. E. D. Francis at Ludlow Center Wednesday. Mr. Francis is from Mr. Hatch's former parish at West Hartford, and his mother, formerly Miss Barbour, was at one time a teacher in the public schools of this town.

A special town meeting is called for next Wednesday afternoon at 2.30, to see if the town will accept a town way as laid out by the selectmen from a point on North Main street near the residence of Thomas Shea and running in an easterly direction through land of Eugene J. Foskit and Alice A. Aldrich.

The Epworth League of the Methodist church held an adjourned meeting Monday evening and chose the following officers: First vice president, Hiram A. Felton; second vice president, Mrs. William H. Marble; third vice president, Robert E. Shaw; fourth vice president, Mrs. T. H. Todd. One new member was voted in.

Prof. J. S. R. Coy, assisted by Miss Anna T. Murray, soprano, of Springfield, gave an organ recital in the Congregational church Tuesday evening which was a great success. The platform was prettily decorated with ferns and palms. Nearly every seat in the large auditorium was occupied, and the people showed their appreciation by hearty encores, which is something out of the usual order of things in Monson.

The Young People's Christian Union of the Universalist church has elected the following officers: President, Miss Mary Hobbs; vice president, William L. Ricketts; corresponding secretary, Miss Ethel Rood; recording secretary, Miss Maud Wilman; treasurer, Miss Sadie Hobbs; devotional committee, Miss Lena Babbitt; social committee, Miss Alice Park; post office mission, Miss Carrie L. Chapin.

John Hall, of the Monson Granite Company, formed classes in both free-hand and and mechanical drawing at the Academy Monday evening. It is expected that there will be three courses, each to be of twenty lessons, and to be held weekly. On Monday evenings the class in mechanical drawing will meet, and on Wednesday evenings the free-hand. The pupils are not limited to members of the Academy.

Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Johnson gave an oyster supper at their home on East Hill last Friday evening, the proceeds of which are to go toward purchasing a flag for the Munn school. The house was tastefully decorated with bunting and about 100 sat down to supper. A short entertainment, consisting of readings, singing and shadow pictures, was given by the school children. A good time was reported by all.

The firemen will give their eighth annual Thanksgiving ball in Memorial Hall next Thursday night. Leitsinger's 1st regiment orchestra of Brattleboro, Vt., will furnish music both for the concert and dance. The concert will begin at 8 o'clock, with the following programme:

March, "King Cotton,"	Sousa
Overture, "La Sirene,"	Auber
Polka, "Je Vous Salue,"	Bendix
Duet for flute and clarinet.
Selections from "Clover,"	Suppe
"Railroad Galop,"	Collins
Grand medley, "Around the Metropolis."	Beyer

Eugene S. Howlett, loom-fixer at D. W. Ellis & Son's mill, had a narrow escape Monday afternoon while at his work. He had thrown one end of a five-inch belt over a pulley in the weave room, and the other end wound itself about his ankle in such a way that before he could extricate himself he was drawn up so that his head was in the pulley. He managed to grasp the box on which he had stood, and held on until the machinery could be stopped. Aside from a slight cut on his head and a general laming he was not injured.

The Monson fire department announces the following fire signals: From the Academy bridge and New London Northern station, north, three short blasts of a whistle and repeat; from these points south to Reynolds's bridge and Bridge street bridge, four short blasts and repeat; from the latter points south, five short blasts and repeat; if the fire is at the straw shops or woolen mills the signal will be followed by a long blast. The department will respond to the continuous ringing of the bells as heretofore.

The third quarterly conference of the Methodist church was held Saturday evening, with Rev. E. Stuart Best presiding. Reports were given by the various organizations connected with the church, and a nominating committee was appointed to confer with a like committee from the Congregational church in regard to the union revival services which are to begin next Tuesday and continue several weeks. As has been announced, these services are to be led by Rev. W. A. Dunnett of Hamilton, Ontario, assisted by the gospel singers, the Rines trio. Mr. Dunnett desires to form a large chorus choir, and will supply each member of this choir with a book called "The Best Hymns."

The marriage of Miss Bridget Fitzgerald of this town and Charles M. Holt of Palmer took place at 7 o'clock Wednesday evening at the parochial residence, Rev. T. J. O'Keefe performing the ceremony. The bride wore a becoming dress of dark blue novelty goods. The bridesmaid was her cousin, Miss Hannah Leahy, and the best man was the groom's brother, Clarence Holt of Warren. After the ceremony the couple returned to the home of Timothy Danahy, where a number of friends were assembled. After refreshments were served the couple left on the train for New York amid a shower of rice and the best wishes of a host of friends. The presents were numerous and costly.

The Cushman House passed into the possession of Ralph Clifford, Lyman C. Flynt and George C. Flynt Wednesday, with Mr. Clifford as manager; Mrs. Frank Shaw is the housekeeper. The new owners are anxious to secure a good name for the house, so have decided to give a month's board to the person sending them the name they shall select. Some alterations are beipg made in the house; others will follow as fast a possible. The parlors are being papered and painted, and will be refurnished; the two dozen sleeping rooms will receive attention as soon as vacant, but the house is now well-filled with boarders; the room in the rear of the office is to be fitted up for the special accommodation of traveling men, and there will be convenience for writing and reading, also for the advantageous display of samples.

WALES.

James Frazer's goods left town Tuesday for Norwich.

Supt. Loudon and Woolsorter Fox spent several days in Boston last week, purchasing wool for the Excelsior Woolen Co.

Artie Parker and Miss Taylor, students at the Brimfield high school, are quite sick with typhoid fever; Dr. Ross attends them.

The screeching which is heard nearly every evening at certain hours is no cat fight, but only pupils practicing on the violin.

H. H. Hall purchased a Devon cow and calf at H. F. Webb's auction in Holland Wednesday. He has rented Rev. H. P. Smith's farm, and intends to raise fancy stock.

WILBRAHAM.

J. H. Marriott, Amherst College, '99, E. R. Johnson, Worcester Technical, '99, and Roy E. Clark, former students, are visiting at the Academy.

The junior class of the Academy gave a reception in Fisk Hall Monday evening, about 60 guests being present. The guests were presented to Fred C. Webber, Miss Ida L. Killmun, J. M. Milne and Miss Bertha Campbell, officers of the class. The following programme was rendered: Piano duet, Misses Killmun and Wilson; declamation, I. Kenworthy; vocal quartette, W. Ennis, Wilmot Girard, J. M. Milne and L. F. Henry. The chapel was tastefully decorated with evergreen and the national colors.

BELCHERTOWN.

Mrs. Orson Bragg is visiting friends in Vermont.

The hook and ladder company will give a Thanksgiving ball at the Belcher House.

Mr. Jay, flagman at the Kelly crossing, was quite severely injured recently by being struck by a passing train.

D. P. Clapp will leave for his home in Brooklyn, N. Y., next Monday. Edward Clapp will remain here for the present.

Cards are out for the marriage of Lewis M. Abbey and Minnie Alice Hubbard. The wedding will take place at the home of the bride's parents in Sunderland.

The election of officers of E. J. Griggs post will take place at the next regular meeting, December 2d. A meeting of the Relief Corps will be held the same evening, when arrangements will be made for the installation of officers the first of January.

A number of Holland and Eaton families will be held Thanksgiving day at the house of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Holland. Among the expected guests are Mr. and Mrs. Fisk and Miss Ella Holland of Philadelphia, Mrs. Horatio Holland and daughter, Miss Dolly Holland, a student at Wellesley College, Mr. and Mrs. Homer Eaton and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Bridgeman.

BRIMFIELD.

The Converse memorial drinking fountain will be set up in a few days. A citizen's bee, which took place Monday, helped the work along considerably. After the work was finished refreshments were served at the men's club rooms.

About 40 volumes have been added to the public library. The circulation of the library has increased greatly. Superintendent Wood has bought catalogues to be placed in each school in town, and the teachers are aiding in promoting the use of the library.

A pleasant but quiet wedding occured in Brimfield at the bride's home Wednesday, Nov. 13, at 10 a. m. The contracting parties were Mr. Charles G. Thompson of Wales and Miss Mary E. Corbin of Springfield. After a short wedding trip they will make their home in Wales. Rev. G. W. Davis officiated.

The second meeting of the literary society of the Hitchcock Free High School was held last Friday evening. The subject of the debate was: Resolved, That England has done more than France to advance the interests of the United States. The affirmative was taken by Mr. George and Miss Hathaway of Fiskdale, and the negative by Mr. Smith of Rutland and Miss Chase of Sturbridge. Miss Rilland gave a descriptive sketch of a trip to the Adirondacks, and music was furnished by Misses Hathaway and Williams.

WARREN.

The public schools closed to-day for a vacation of one week.

The United Workmen organized a new lodge last week with 34 members.

Miss Mabel F. Nye will have charge of the central office of the telephone exchange.

Dr. J. C. Cutter and Henry S. Howe attended the Atlanta exposition last week.

New flags have been bought for the high school building and two of the district schools which were not supplied.

The members of the Mattawamppe Club will entertain their lady friends at the club rooms next Monday evening. An entertainment and banquet will be furnished.

The following sub-committees of the school board have been appointed: On transportation, Dr. C. A. Deland, J. H. Hastings and Mrs. Julia M. Hitchcock; on rules and regulations, F. E. Gleason, Dr. O. W. Phelps and C. O. Walker.

William Dunn, an old resident of this place, died Monday morning at the home of his daughter, Mrs. George Leach, on the Brimfield road. Mr. Dunn was 77 years old, and his death was due to old age. He leaves a daughter, Mr. George Leach, and a son, William Dunn, of Springfield, Ill. The funeral was held Wednesday afternoon, and the burial was in Ware.

Past District Deputy Grand Master Lovell L. Gage installed the following officers of Quaboag lodge of Masons at their meeting last Thursday evening: W. H., W. H. Hitchcock; S. W., F. W. Kimball; J. W., F. P. Stearns; treasurer, C. B. Blair; secretary, F. D. Holdsworth; chaplain, T. H. Jones; marshal, J. M. Sawtelle; S. D., F. E. Wilcox; J. D., C. A. Benson; S. S., Elmer E. Clark; J. S., H. O. Durant; tyler, S. W. Bridge.

The ladies of St. Athanasius's church are holding their Thanksgiving bazar, which opened last night and will be held three nights this week, and also Wednesday and Thursday evenings of next week. A different entertainment will be given each night. Among the articles to be given away are a regulation American parade flag to the most popular society, a gold watch to the most popular young woman, a fancy dressed imported French doll to the most popular child, and a suit of clothes to the most popular altar boy. The proceeds from the bazar are to be used for the new church which the society hopes to build soon on West Main street.

The chrysanthemum show last Friday was a great success. In spite of the unfavorable weather there was a good attendance, and the exhibition was very creditable. In the evening there was a chrysanthemum drill, and singing by Miss Alice Desmond, Mrs. George H. Clark and John M. Newell. Music was furnished by Rice & Martin's orchestra. The following is a list of those to whom the premiums were awarded:

School children—White chrysanthemums, first, Lewis Mason, $1; second, Ralph Blodgett, 50 cents; third, Mabel Gould, 25 cents; fourth, Ralph Robbins, 25 cents. Pink chrysanthemums—First, Florence Leonard; second, Carrie Gould; third, Bulah Smith; fourth, Marguerite Reiley; each receiving 25 cents. Yellow chrysanthemums—First, Florence Williams; second, Carrie Dimmock; third, Henry Patrick; fourth, Lawrence Brosseau; each receiving 25 cents. Best plant of any color—First, Florence Williams, $1; second, Florence Leonard, 75 cents; third, Lewis Mason, 50 cents; fourth, C. Hellyar, 50 cents. The townspeople's exhibit of six or more plants—First, Mrs. Heacox, $2; second, H. L. Holbrook, $1; third, Charles Gleason, 50 cents. Chrysanthemum plants—First, Mrs. Frank Gould, $1; second, Mrs. C. Heacox, 50 cents; third, Mrs. L. H. Holbrook, 25 cents. Cut flowers—Miss Margaret Blair, 50 cents; second, Mrs. O. W. Phelps, 25 cents. Collection of house plants—First, Miss Jessie Johnson, $3; second, Mrs. R. P. Bestick, $1.50; third, E. G. Drake, 75 cents. Specimen plants—First, Mrs. R. P. Bestick, $1; second, Mrs. John W. Chadsey, 50 cents; third, Mrs. C. H. Comins, 25 cents.

LUDLOW CENTER.

Rev. Everett D. Francis of West Hartford, Ct., a graduate of Yale in '92 and the Hartford Theological Seminary in this year's class, was ordained to the Christian ministry and installed as pastor of the First Congregational church at Ludlow Center Wednesday. The churches invited were: Monson, Wilbraham, North Wilbraham, Palmer First and Second, Three Rivers, Ludlow Union, Indian Orchard, Chicopee Third, Springfield First and Olivet, and Somersville, Ct. Invitations were also sent to Rev. M. P. Dickey, the pastor preceding Mr. Francis, Rev. Simeon Miller, the veteran preacher of the town, and to Rev. Thomas M. Hodgdon of West Hartford, Ct. Those present at the council were: From Monson, Rev. F. S. Hatch, E. P. Keep, delegate; Wilbraham, Rev. M. S. Howard, Elijah Munsell, delegate; North Wilbraham, J. L. Perry, delegate; Palmer First, C. F. Smith, delegate; Second, Rev. F. E. Jenkins, Hubbard Lawrence, delegate; Three Rivers, Rev. G. S. Butler; Ludlow, Rev. A. J. Quick, Albert Bly, delegate; Springfield First, Rev. F. L. Goodspeed, ex-Lieut.-Gov. W. H. Haile, delegate; Olivet, Rev. L. M. Cone, P. E. Blair, delegate. Rev. Simeon Miller of this town and Rev. T. M. Hodgedon of West Hartford, Mr. Francis's home pastor, were also present. The council convened just before 11 o'clock, being called to order by Rev. M. S. Howard of Wilbraham. Rev. F. E. Jenkins of Palmer was chosen scribe and Rev. W. T. Hutchins of Indian Orchard moderator. The reading of the call and the responses of those present was next in order, followed by the reading of the action of the church and of the parish extending a call to Mr. Francis. Rev. T. M. Hodgdon certified to the good standing of the candidate in his church, and the certificates from the Hartford and New Haven colleges were also read. Mr. Francis then stated his belief and gave a sketch of his religious experience, after which an opportunity was given for the moderator and each delegate to ask such questions as they deemed advisable.

In regard to the inspiration of the Bible, in reply to a question, Mr. Francis stated that he did not believe in the exact verbal inspiration of the Scriptures, but that they contained the word of life. The part which contained the words of Christ and of the disciples was inspired, but he did not consider the historical records were in detail necessarily so. He would baptize the infants of church members only except in rare cases. He thought the church must recognize the necessities of man for a better environment, and that the church should embrace the opportunity for work along this line. Sabbath observance he considered an important matter, not only as a day of rest, but as a day of religious return to God. He saw no evidence in the Bible that people would be converted, after death but would not say but that it might be so. To a question relating to Adam's fall he said he was not personally acquainted with Adam, but he thought the main thing was to recognize the race as it is in its present sinful state. The council then held secret session for a short time, after which dinner was served in the chapel by the ladies of the church. The installation exercises began at 1.30 p. m. The doxology was sung, and the invocation was given by Rev. M. S. Howard of Wilbraham. The report of the morning session was next given by the scribe. A quartette under the direction of Wilbur F. Miller than gave a selection, followed by reading of the Scriptures by Rev. A. J. Quick. Rev. F. S. Hatch of Monson preached the installation sermon, taking as his text John 3: 16, "For God so loved the world." The sermon was especially interesting and impressive. The ordaining prayer was made by Rev. W. T. Hutchins, and the charge to the pastor was given by Rev. F. E. Jenkins. Rev. F. L. Goodspeed read the charge to the people, the closing prayer being delivered by Rev. T. M. Hodgdon.

WARE.

There are about 350 pupils attending the parochial school.

The French people in town will be greatly interested in the dramatic entertainment to be given in the Town Hall next Monday evening by the Social Club, all local talent. The music and singing will be by the Belleview Quartette, and is said to be very fine.

Considerable is being said these days in reference to compelling owners of houses and shops to make connection with the sewers. The town has a complete system of sewers, but it is reported that not more than half who should do so have had their premises connected as yet.

Henry C. Davis has been elected president of the Rod and Gun Club, to fill a vacancy caused by the resignation of N. K. Southworth; John B. Sibley was elected treasurer in place of H. D. Vining, who has removed to Springfield. There has been some talk of a course of lectures this winter under the auspices of the club, and a committee was appointed to consider the matter.

CARD.—We take this means of expressing our most heartfelt thanks to our friends and neighbors for the many acts of kindness shown us in our recent bereavement.

MR. AND MRS. T. J. DWYER,
Palmer, Nov. 21, 1895.

CARD.—Mt. Ella Lodge, No. 184, A. O. U. W., of Monson, at its last regular meeting voted to extend a cordial vote of thanks to all those who took part in the evening's entertainment or in any way assisted at the public meeting held on November 12th in Memorial Hall.

CARD.—We wish to thank all our friends and neighbors for the many acts of kindness shown us in our recent bereavement.

JAMES D. MCFARLANE AND FAMILY.
Thorndike, Nov. 15, 1895.

Beecham's pills for constipation 10c and 25c. Get the book at your druggist's and go by it.

Annual sales more than 6,000,000 boxes.

Free, and What Everybody Wants.

Perfect health and strength, to dare and to do, that's what you want, and you know it. Here is a sure way to get it. Dr. Greene, of 34 Temple place, Boston, Mass., is the most successful specialist in the world in curing nervous and chronic diseases. He is also the discoverer of that wonderful medicine, Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy. He has established a remarkable system of letter correspondence, by which you can write him about your complaint, telling just how you feel and stating each symptom from which you are suffering. He will answer your letter, describing your case thoroughly and telling you a sure way to regain health and strength. And for all this you have nothing to pay. He gives most careful attention to every letter, and describes every symptom so exactly that you cannot fail to understand precisely what ails you. He makes a specialty of curing patients brough letter correspondence. You have no fee to pay and you don't have to leave home. Here is the best opportunity you ever had to get well. Will you accept or reject it?

Patent Leather Shoes. . . . . .

We have just added a new line of Men's $3 and $4 Patent Shoes that are up to date in every respect. . . . . .

Warm Shoes...For Cold Weather.

There is no end to our assortment of Men's and Ladies' Shoes that will make your feet comfortable in cold weather.

$3.00 Shoes.

We are pushing our $3.00 Shoes. See our large assortment in show window. . . . . .

Geo. L. Fuller,

the distributor of fine fitting shoes.

Monson, - Mass.

ROYAL BAKING POWDER.

ABSOLUTELY PURE.

A cream of tartar Baking Powder. Highest of all in leavening power.—Latest United States Government Food Report.

ROYAL BAKING POWDER CO.,
106 Wall Street, New York.

. . . Coal, . . Hay and Straw.

If you haven't bought your winter coal, ask our prices before you buy; will sell as low as anyone.

We have hay and straw, and can supply you at short notice, at market prices.

If you want to buy or hire a team or any part of a team, come and see me. Think I can supply you. I have competent men to attend to all light and heavy teaming you may have to do, and solicit a share of your patronage. Orders by mail promptly attended to.

Ralph Clifford,

Monson, Sept. 30, 1895. Monson House Stables.

The Mount Lebanon Shakers have recently perfected an ingenious cure for dyspepsia. Their Digestive Cordial consists of a food already digested and a digester of foods happily combined.

The importance of this invention will be appreciated when we realize that a proportion of the community are victims of some form of stomach trouble. Thousands of pale, thin people have little inclination to eat, and what they do eat causes them pain and distress.

This Digestive Cordial of the Shakers corrects any stomach derangement at once. It makes thin people plump. Every one will be greatly interested to read the little book which has been placed in the hands of druggists for free distribution.

What is LAXOL? Nothing but Castor Oil made as palatable as honey. Children like it.

HOUSEKEEPERS

Please remember that we are headquarters for Thanksgiving Supplies. We have the choicest of everything in our line.

Some of our extra good things:

B. M. C. Best Flour, 1-8th sacks and barrels, Revere brand Coffee, red bags, Formosa Tea, 60c grade, O. & C. Tea, in cans, genuine Cape Cod Cranberries, Northfield Creamery Butter, new and fresh every week, Maple Syrup, 1 gal. cans, it is warranted pure, Sunderland Onions.

Oil Heaters.

The Banner and Puritan. Try one. Take it back if you don't like it.

We deliver promptly.

We make everything satisfactory. We have to.

W. E. Stone, Lawrence Block, Palmer. . . . .

TELEPHONE CONNECTION.

W. D. KINSMAN, SPRINGFIELD.

IT IS WHOLLY UNNECESSARY

when you wish to buy anything at this place to ask the question "ARE THESE RELIABLE GOODS?" as we absolutely offer no others for sale. We would like to have you try our

BLACK DRESS GOODS.

No woman who desires to dress stylishly without extravagance should be a stranger to this stock. New and choice patterns—exclusive ones, we may add—in boucle and crepon effects and striped mohairs are at prices that appeal to all pocket books.

Boucle and crepon effects and striped mohairs, 75c to $1.75 a yard.

From 44c to $1.00 a yard, plain all wool cashmeres. Storm serges, heavy and serviceable, beautifully finished, an exceptional bargain, at 50c a yard.

DRESS LININGS.

The woman who follows the "trend of the market" will see much to interest her in these items, remembering of course, that these prices are for high grade, reliable goods.

Fine quality moreens, black and colored, 50c a yard. Fine grades of black moreens at 50c, 55c and 75c.

"Rustley" percales, good heavy qualities, 15c, 18c, 20c, 22c, 25c and 33c.

Kid finish cambric, 4c a yard. Fast black, 5c, sterling, 6c.

IMPORTED, GENUINE HAIR CLOTHS.

Black, gray, and white, 38c, 42c, 50c, 58c and 75c.

Colored haircloths, something new in navy, brown, and myrtle.

DRESS TRIMMINGS.

The varieties of dress trimmings and garnitures that await your inspection are numbered by hundreds

We're almost tempted to claim that every style designed by the Parisian and New York makers is here, so great is the assortment.

VELVETS.

Velvet buying is a serious business. Where $1 to 4 is paid for a yard of goods, you cannot be too sure of its quality.

Is the face silk? Will it wear gray? Is the back all it should be? Those are some of the questions that the following sorts answer satisfactorily:

Black velvets $1, 1 25, 1 45, 1 65, 1 85, 2 50, 3 and 4 38 a yard.

Black velvets, 27-inch, for capes, two extra bargains, at $1.90 and 3.

An elegant 31-inch velvet at $3 87.

A full assortment of all the desirable shades in colored velvets.

W. D. KINSMAN,

SPRINGFIELD. COR. MAIN AND BRIDGE STS.

To be delivered now, subject to advance at any time. We furnish good men to house and bin same. All coal is screened and delivered in bags.

The Lehigh is as good as any we ever sold. The Lackawanna is the best prepared coal that comes to market for domestic use.

Prices will be higher.

Send your order by postal card or leave it at our office.

SEE OUR PRICES FOR COAL

Prices for Lackawanna:

Stove size,	-	$5.85 per ton.
Chestnut,	-	5.85 " "
Furnace,	-	5.75 " "

Prices for Lehigh:

Stove size,	-	$6.00 per ton.
Chestnut,	-	6.00 " "
Furnace,	-	5.90 " "

Less than (1) one ton 25 cent added for the load.

Delivered in Bags, which will save expense of housing in many cases.

October 1, 1895.

R. M. & Theo. Reynolds.

Monson, Mass.

TOWN OF MONSON.
TOWN WARRANT.

COMMONWEALTH OF MASSACHUSETTS.—HAMPDEN SS. To either of the constables of the Town of Monson, in said county. Greeting:

In the name of the Commonwealth of Massachusetts you are hereby directed to notify and warn all the inhabitants of the town of Monson qualified to vote in elections and town affairs, to meet at the Memorial Town Hall, in said Monson, on Wednesday, the twenty-seventh day of November, A. D. 1895, at two o'clock in the afternoon, to act on the following articles, viz:

ARTICLE 1. To choose a moderator to preside in said meeting.

ART. 2. To see if the town will accept a town way as laid out by the selectmen, beginning at a point on North Main street near the residence of Thomas Shea, and running in an easterly direction through land of Eugene J. Foskit and Alice A. Aldrich.

And you are directed to serve this warrant by posting attested copies thereof at each of the places designated by the town, seven days at least, before the time of holding said meeting, and by causing an attested copy thereof to be published in one issue of the Palmer JOURNAL.

Hereof fail not, and make due return of this warrant, with your doings thereon, to the Town Clerk, on or before the time of holding of said meeting.

Given under our hands at Monson, this nineteenth day of November, A. D. 1895.

A. D. NORCROSS,
G. H. FOSKIT,
W. H. BUGBEE,
} Selectmen of Monson.

A true copy.
Attest:—H. D. OSBORNE,
1-34 Constable.

Palmer Savings Bank,

Palmer, Mass.

Hours from 9 a. m. to 3 p. m.

President,
H. G. LOOMIS.

Vice Presidents,
GEO. MOORES, T. D. POTTER, C. H. HOBBS.

Secretary,
WM. W. LEACH.

Treasurer,
H. W. MCGREGORY.

Trustees,

James B. Shaw,	E. G. Hastings,	C. H. Hobbs,
George Moores,	R. C. Newell,	Geo. E. Buck,
H. G. Loomis,	F. E. Marcy,	A. L. Hills,
T. D. Potter,	H. Waid,	Wm. Holbrook,
H. P. Holden,	Wm. W. Leach,	C. F. Grosvenor,
Jas. S. Loomis,	C. L. Gardner,	H. W. McGregory

Board of Investment,
Geo. Moores, H. G. Loomis, E. G. Hastings, C. H. Hobbs, James B. Shaw.

Auditors,
Wm. W. Leach, A. L. Hills.

POSTAL

Telegraph and Cable Co.

Office in Strong's Block,

PALMER, : : : : : MASS.

Direct wires to New York and Boston. Office in all the principal cities in the

UNITED STATES.

PROMPT SERVICE,

REASONABLE RATES,

ALL BUSINESS

STRICTLY CONFIDENTIAL.

Meekins, Packard & Co.

Oriental Rugs and Carpets.

A mammoth display of these attractive goods is now on our carpet floor, fresh from the old world and including

Rare and Unique Productions of this wonderful art.

They are attracting buyers from all directions, and not only are the goods attractive, but also the prices we are enabled to quote.

This is the opportunity of a life-time to purchase rich floor coverings.

Carpet department.

Fancy Rockers.

A carload of new and original designs just placed on our floors. Of superior make—without a doubt the best on the market for the money.

Oak and mahogany finish, with saddle seats, at $3.75 and 4.50.

A big line at $7.00 in the same woods, with full spring seats, upholstered in silk tapestries.

A special value at $7.50, saddle seats and inlaid backs. Superior grade at $9.00, in solid oak and mahogany finish, with silk tapestry upholstered seats. Also styles with inlaid backs.

Third floor.

Furniture.

There's no better place to buy than right here.

Our Special Sale of Dining Room Furniture is proving attractive to no end of buyers.

Dining tables from $4 to 25; thirty-six different styles and finishes. Where have you seen anything to equal them?

Sideboards.

Special numbers at $15, 17.50, 23 and 25. You may sideboards lower in price, but how about the styles, make and finish? A comparison is all we ask.

Dining chairs—from $1 to 3.50 are the popular line. Cane and leather seats, all thoroughly constructed to stand hard usage.

Second floor.

Meekins, Packard & Co.,

SPRINGFIELD, MASS.

HAYNES & CO.

OVERCOAT OR DOCTOR, WHICH ?

Nippy mornings, chilly nights, overcoat comes handy. Buzz saw cut and slop-dash sewing doesn't pass muster here. Your choice from the grandest values we have ever been able to offer for $10 and $12.

That's just two-thirds the regulation price. What more can we say?

Special Values in Suits.

We mean by special values that we are enabled to give you considerable more worth for your money, just now, than experience has led you to expect---even from us. Strongly put together, dressy garments, in hundreds of styles---for business or dress---$8, 10, 12, 15, 18, 20.

Trousers---That $5 kind 4; $4 kind 3, and so on down.

Prudent Mothers will find it to their advantage to visit our Boys' Department at once. We are selling $5 suits for boys from 6 to fifteen years of age at $3.50; $3.50 suits at 2 25.

HAYNES & CO.,

SPRINGFIELD, MASS.

New Fall Dress Goods.

Plaids have the call, and we show an elegant assortment in 75c, 50c, 25c, and 10c lines.

Teazle Downs are great goods for wrappers and children's wear, and the styles equal to all-wool goods.

In Black Goods the lines are complete in Henriettas, Serges, Cords, and Figured Mohairs.

New Buttons, Braids, and Trimmings. Gloves and Hosiery.

Domestic Department, largest and best assortment shown in the last ten years.

Blankets and Comfortables

at lowest prices.

J. B. Shaw; Feeney's Block, Main Street, Palmer.

Lost Yesterday.

Somewhere between sunrise and sunset, TWO GOLDEN HOURS, each set with sixty diamond minutes, with which you might have secured a glimpse of our immense

Kitchen Department.

This department has been the Mecca of buyers of Crockery and kitchen goods for the last two years. We have paid particular attention to the buying of goods of good quality, and yet by buying in large quantities we have been enabled to sell them at prices of inferior goods. For example, OUR LEADERS JUST NOW

112 PIECE DECORATED DINNER SET FOR $8.24.
A 6-POUND KITCHEN SCALE, warranted accurate, for $2.10.
A HANDSOME PARLOR LAMP FOR $1.98.
10-PIECE DECORATED TOILET SET FOR $1.98.

We are in it also on Furniture, Carpets, Stoves, Ranges, etc., at prices that defy competition.

E. Luther & Co.,

EASY TERMS. SPRINGFIELD. OPP. COURT SQ.

TEETH FILLED WITHOUT PAIN

in every case. And

TEETH EXTRACTED WITHOUT PAIN

in fully 95 per cent of cases.

Also Artificial Teeth that are made right.

Strictly first-class dentistry in every department. Prices reasonable. Lady attendant. Elevator.

DR. WM. L. ROBERTS, DENTIST.

Springfield Office: Court Sq. Theatre Building. Holyoke Office: 291 High St.

FINE STATIONERY.

Many ladies are troubled to find just the size, shade or weight of correspondence paper which they would like. With some thing like

200 VARIETIES

To select from we ought to be able to please you. Any style of paper in any size or shape, and you may have 100 sheets or 1000, as you prefer. We'd be pleased to show you samples at the JOURNAL Office. Your monogram or initials embossed in color if desired.

The Peddler Tells You

possibly, that Pearline is too good for ordinary uses; he says, "of course it's nice enough for delicate things, but what I have is just as good for scrubbing, scouring, etc., and is cheaper." Now, we say this: Pearline is the best to use for everything, and the best is the cheapest, in the end. It does its work better, quicker, easier, safer, more satisfactorily. Pearline is cheap enough for any use. Imitations are dear at any price and any purpose. Compare the value of the things ruined with the small amount of money saved by their use. 384

Your Health

Ought To be Good And It is Always Sure To be If you Will Take

Ought to be good, and it is always sure to be if you will take BLOOD WINE when you feel sick and tired. Thousands of people all over the country are worrying themselves to death trying to find a medicine or a physician that can cure their stomach trouble. They try here, there and everywhere and at last give up in despair. Now these are the people we want to try BLOOD WINE, for they will feel the good effects so soon that they will keep on until they are cured.

Catarrh of the Stomach.

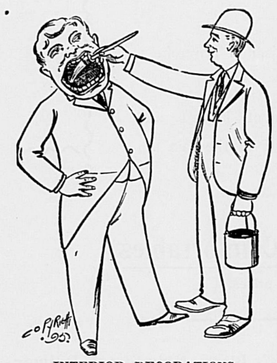
How many people are troubled with this disease, causing dyspepsia and indigestion. Now the moment your digestive organs are out of order you feel mean all over—have headache, belching of wind, constipation, etc. You take pills or some other cathartic, which will relieve for a time, but the same trouble comes back again. Now there is only one way to cure this trouble, and but one medicine that will cure it, and that is

Blood

(Trade Mark Registered.)

Wine,

The Great French Hospital Remedy.



INTERIOR DECORATIONS

will soon be done with Cod Liver Oil. May be you don't know it, but that article is as good to prevent a cold as it is to cure it. If you are troubled with a cough, a prevailing trouble at this season, decorate your interior with some of our Cod Liver Oil Emulsions, we have them all. It will strike through and beautify your exterior, and make you thoroughly enjoy your own society, and others will enjoy it, too. Call for above at

ALLEN'S DRUG STORE,

Holden's Block, Palmer.

CATARRH

is strictly a LOCAL DISEASE and is the result of sudden climatic changes.

Ely's Cream Balm

is acknowledged to be the most thorough cure for Nasal Catarrh, Cold in the Head and Hay Fever, of all remedies. It opens and cleanses the nasal passages, allays pain and inflammation, heals the sores, protects the membrane from colds, restores the senses of taste and smell. The Balm is applied directly into the nostrils, is quickly absorbed and gives relief at once. The results that follow catarrh, due to the dropping of poisonous matter into the throat, are irritation of the bronchial tubes and soreness of the lungs accompanied by a cough. In all such cases we recommend Pineola Balsam to be used in connection with Cream Balm. Ely's Pineola Balsam will be found excellent for all throat and lung inflammations and for asthma. Consumptives will invariably derive benefit from its use, as it quickly abates the cough, renders expectoration easy, assisting nature in restoring wasted tissues. There is a large percentage of those who suppose their cases to be consumption who are only suffering from a chronic cold or deep seatd cough, often aggravated by catarrh. Both remedies are pleasant to use. Price of Cream Balm, 50c per bottle: Pineola Balsam, 25c. In quantities of $2.50 we will deliver free of express or postage, on receipt of amount.

ELY BROTHERS, 56 Warren St., New York.

HOLMES & CO.,

61 Broadway, N. Y.,

Members of the N. Y. Stock Exchange.

Receive Accounts and Deposits of Firms, Individuals, etc., and allow interest on daily balances. Buy and sell for cash or carry on margin at lowest rates of interest on the New York, Philadelphia, Boston and Chicago Stock Exchanges, Stocks, Bonds, Grain, Cotton, etc.

Branch Office: 35 Congress St., Boston.

HINDERCORNS

The only sure Cure for Corns. Stops all pain. Ensures comfort to the feet. Makes walking easy. 15cts. at Druggists.

THAT JOB OF PRINTING. There's no better place at which to get it done than the JOURNAL Office. Experienced workmen, skilled in every branch of the art.

My Ruthers.

I tell you what I'd ruther do—
Ef I only had my ruthers—
I'd ruther work when I wanted to
Than be bossed around by others.
I'd want to kind o' git the swing
O' what was needed first, by jing!
Afore I sweat at anything!
Ef I only had my ruthers.
In fact, I'd aim to be the same
With all men as my brothers,
And they'd be all the same with me—
Ef I only had my ruthers.
The poor 'ud git their dues sometimes—
Ef I only had my ruthers—
And be paid dollars 'stid o' dimes
Fer children, wives and mothers.
There're boys 'at stokes, there're girls 'at sews—
Fer others, not herself, God knows!
The grave her only change of clothes!
Ef I only had my ruthers.
They'd all have "stuff" and time enough
To answer one another's
Appealin' prayer fer "loving care"—
Ef I only had my ruthers.
They'd be few folks 'ud ast fer trust—
Ef I only had my ruthers—
And blame few business men to bust
Theirselves or hearts o' others.
Big guns 'at come here durin' fair
Week could put up jest anywhere
And find a full and plenty there—
Ef I only had my ruthers.
The rich and great 'ud 'sociate
With all their lowly brothers,
Feelin' we done the honorun—
Ef I only had my ruthers.

—James Whitcomb Riley.

AMONG THE PARAGRAPHERS.

JUST IN TIME TO SAVE HIMSELF.

There was a man in our town,
Repeated wondrous wise,
Who changed his winter flannels,
To everyone's surprise.
But when he saw what he had done,
With all his might and main,
This wise man straightway humped himself,
And got them on again.

—Detroit Tribune.

"Here's where I drop into poetry," replied the office cat, jumping into the waste basket.—Philadelphia Record.

Manager—"Hurry up, there, get a hump on yourself." New Employe—"Please, sir, I don't ride a wheel."—Detroit News.

The slow thinking man is a dangerous person to tell a joke to. Just like him to climb a tree and then tumble to it.—Adams Freeman.

Speaking of the disappearance of game, Fogg remarks that even partridges are among the things that whirr.—Boston Transcript.

Babies must have been fearfully addicted to bawling about the time that the creed of infant damnation was formulated.—Chicago Times-Herald.

The best of reasons.—"Do you remember, Julian, why they shot poor Saint Sebastian full of arrows?" "'Cause they hadn't got any gun."—Life.

Ukerdeck—"Do policemen always get their drinks without paying for them?" Bierstein—"Yay. You gan't ged a nickel out of a gopper."—New York Truth.

Student to professor—"Has it ever been discovered who was the man in the iron mask?" Professor Oldsport—"He was the original umpire."—Harlem Life.

James—"Is Miss Snowball a graduate of Vassar?" William—"She is." "I thought she was. I heard her ask if the muzzle of a gun was to prevent its going off."—Hudson Register.

Crimsonbeak—"There's a man who has done some good work on the links." Yeast—"He doesn't look like a golf player." "He's not. He manufactures sausages."—Yonkers Statesman.

Clara Winterbottom—"There is only enough to about half fill this trunk. What shall I do, fill it with papers?" Mrs. Winterbottom—"No; let your father pack it."—Brooklyn Life.

Mr. Bilkins (reading the paper) "I see 'William Tell' is to be played here this week." Jimmie—"W'at Tell, father?" That is why Jimmie went supperless to bed.—Indianapolis Sentinel.

There is a good story told of a Hartfordshire farmer. A few nights ago he went home late and drank a pint of yeast in mistake for buttermilk. He rose three hours earlier next morning.—Tit-Bits.

Freshman (severely)—"Waiter, how did that hair get into the soup?" Waiter—"That must be from your moustache." Freshman (flattered)—"Ah, yes, Charlie, you are right. Excuse me."—Fliegende Blatter.

Visitor—"Yes, it's a very pleasant flat. But aren't the rooms just a trifle small?" Mr. Flat-Dweller—"So you notice it, too, do you? Well, they were all right till last week, but the walls were painted Monday."—Somerville Journal.

"Don't bothah me, deah boy," said Willie Washington. "I'm collecting my thoughts, don't you know." "Rather hard work, isn't it?" Y-a-a-s. I find the same twouble that fathah has in his business. Collections are deuced slow."—Washington Star.

"Henry, you look worried; what is the trouble?" "I was stung to the quick by an adder this afternoon." "Heavens! How did it happen?" "Why, I went to the bank this afternoon and the bank clerk, after adding up the ledger, told me my account was overdrawn."—Erie Messenger.

"That is a funny way to begin an advertisement," said the physician's wife. "Do your own dyeing." "Here, lemme see that," said her husband in some alarm. "Oh, it only refers to clothes. I was afraid it was some scheme for doing away with our profession."—Cincinnati Enquirer.

"Nex' week is our golden wedding, Maria," said the long-whiskered gentleman, taking off his coat and sitting down to dinner. "Yes, I know. "I was just thinkin'. Had we better let it go by and lose the presents, er had we better celebrate and lose me the silver vote fer constable?"—Indianapolis Journal.

Gaggs—"What's the matter?" You look glum." Waggs—"Well, that's the way I feel. I've just lost $1000 in a business deal." Gaggs—Oh, cheer up, old fellow and take things as they come." Waggs—"Any fool can take things as they come. What I find it hard to do is to part with things as they go."—Judge.

Fashionable Youth (finding his pocket has been picked, aside)—"Oh, my gracious! My watch is gone! (Aloud)—Police! Police! I've been touched! I've been touched!" Uncle Reuben—"Well, Mandy, that do beat all! I allers heard them dudes was exclusive, but I'd a-never believed one of 'em would call fer the perlice just because some one touched him."—Puck.

"Why," shouted the impassioned British orator, "why is it that the wife of the farmer lacks the happy, contented look to be found upon the faces of the bearheaded peasant women of the continent?" "Because," said the man near the door, "because the bareheaded peasant woman does not have to worry all the time about her hat being on straight."—London Household Words.

How's This!

We offer One Hundred Dollars Reward for any case of Catarrh that can not be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure.

F. J. CHENEY & CO., Props., Toledo, O.

We, the undersigned, have known F. J. Cheney for the last 15 years, and believe him perfectly honorable in all business transactions and financially able to carry out any obligations made by their firm.

West & Truax, Wholesale Druggists, Toledo, O.; Walding, Kinnan & Marvin, Wholesale Druggists, Toledo, Ohio.

Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. Price, 75c per bottle. Sold by all druggists. Testimonials free.

Hood's

Sarsaparilla has over and over again proved itself the best blood purifier medical science has ever produced. It possesses such positive merit to purify, vitalize

And

Enrich the blood, that it accomplishes remarkable cures where other preparations utterly fail. Its record of cures, not of Scrofula, Salt Rheum, Catarrh, Rheumatism, but of Nervous Prostration, Weakness and Debility, is unequalled.

Only

Hood's

Sarsaparilla is the One True Blood Purifier.

Prepared by C. I. Hood & Co., Lowell, Mass. $1.

Hood's Pills cure habitual constipation. Price 25 cents.

FINEST ROAD-BED ON THE CONTINENT.

BOSTON & ALBANY RAILROAD.

Only Double-Track Route to the West.

ON AND AFTER NOV. 6, 1895.

Through Trains will Leave Boston as follows:

No. 7.—Day Express.

8:30 a. m.—Daily, except Sunday. Has Wagner buffet drawing-room car Boston to Albany, there connecting with through cars to all points West. Stops at Palmer 10.53 a. m.

No. 15.—Chicago Special.

10:30 a. m.—Daily. The finest train running in New England. A solid vestibuled Wagner train, comprising buffet, library and smoking car, sleeping cars and dining car Boston to Chicago, via the Lake Shore & Michigan Southern R. R., and also via Michigan Central R. R.

No. 19.—North Shore Limited.

2:00 p. m. — Daily. Has through vestibuled buffet sleeping cars Boston to Detroit and Chicago, via Michigan Central R. R. Dining car attached at Albany.

No. 5.—Cincinnati Express.

3:00 p. m.—Daily. Has through vestibuled buffet Sleeping car Boston to Chicago via Lake Shore and Michigan Southern R. R., and to St. Louis and Cincinnati via Big Four Route. Stops at Palmer 5.20 p. m.

No. 9.—Pacific Express.

7:15 p. m.—Daily. Has through sleeping cars Boston to Chicago, both via Lake Shore & Michigan Southern and Michigan Central Railroads.

No. 63.—Albany Express.

11:00 p. m.—Daily, except Saturday. Has sleeping car Boston to Albany. Stops at Palmer 1.46 a. m.

TRAINS LEAVE PALMER FOR BOSTON.

6.22	a. m.	Accommodation.
7.32	"	"
8.25	"	Daily Express.
10.00	"	"
11.42	"	Accommodation.
1.40	p. m.	Express.
3.12	"	"
4.42	"	Accommodation.
6.49	"	Daily Express.
7.55	"	Sundays only. Express.
9.03	"	Express.

Time tables showing local and through service between all Stations, may be obtained at all ticket offices of this Company.

City Office, 366 Washington Street.
Station, Knceland Street, Boston, Mass.

52-32 A. S. HANSON, Gen. Passenger Agent.

BOSTON & MAINE R. R.

SOUTHERN DIVISION

(CENTRAL MASSACHUSETTS)

CORRECTED TO OCTOBER 6. 1895.

TRAINS LEAVE WARE:

GOING EAST

FOR Boston— 6.55, 9.00 a. m.; 3.14, p. m. Sundays 6.55 a. m.

RETURNING—leave Boston 8.45 a. m.; 1.30, 4.00 p. m. Sundays, 1.30 p. m.

FOR Worcester—6.55, 9.00 a. m.; 3.14 p. m. Sundays, 6.55 a. m.

RETURNING—leave Worcester 9.15 a. m.; 2.25, 4.58 p. m.

FOR Oakdale, Hudson and Waltham—6.55, 9.00 a. m.; 3.14 p. m. Sundays, 6.55 a. m.

FOR Gilbertville, Barre and Coldbrook -6.55, 9.00 a. m.; 3.14 p. m. Sundays, 6.55 a. m.

GOING WEST

FOR Bondsville, Belchertown, Pansy Park, Amherst, Hadley and Northampton, 7.15, 11.24 a. m., 4.28, 6.47 p. m. Sundays, 4.35 p. m.

RETURNING—leave Northampton 5.55, 8.00 a. m., 2.15, 6.10 p. m. Sundays, 5.55 a. m.

D. J. FLANDERS, Gen'l. Pass'r. Agt.
W. F. BERRY Gen'l Mgr.

CENTRAL VERMONT RAILROAD.

NEW LONDON DIVISION.

TAKING EFFECT SEPTEMBER 30, 1895.

TRAINS GOING SOUTH.

Leave Brattleboro, 5.40 and 10.25 a. m. and 4.25 p. m. for New London, connecting at Millers Falls with Fitchburg R. R., at Belchertown with Central Massachusetts R. R., and at Palmer with B. & A. R. R. for Worcester, Boston, Springfield, at New London with the N. Y. N. H. & H. R. R.

Leave Amherst, 7.05 a. m., 12.13 and 5.57 p. m.

Leave Palmer, 7.05 and 8.40 a. m., 1.50 and 7.15 p. m.

Leave Willimantic for New London, 8.35, 10.10 a. m. 3.25, 6.40 and 8.45 p. m.

GOING NORTH.

Leave New London, 5.20 and 7.40 a m, 2.30 and 5.25 p. m.

The 5.20 and 7.40 a. m. and 5.25 p. m. run through to Brattleboro and make connections for the north.

Leave New London for Willimantic and intermediate stations, 10.00 a. m.

Leave Palmer for Brattleboro, 8.20, 11.00 a. m, and 8.00 p. m, connecting with express for Montreal. Also with Grand Trunk R. R. for the West.

Leave Palmer for Amherst, 8.20 and 11.00 a. m, and 8.00 p. m.

SUBJECT TO CHANGE WITHOUT NOTICE.

D. MACKENZIE, Supt. J. A. SOUTHARD, D. P. A. New London, Ct.

S W. CUMMINGS, G. P. A., St. Albans.

What Five $1 Bills Accomplished.

This money was invested in five bottles of Dr. David Kennedy's Favorite Remedy. "I suffered for nearly ten years with constipation, jaundice and biliousness," writes Mr. D. Probert of New Hampton, N. Y., "and the best medical treatment I could procure did me no good. A friend of mine spoke of Dr. Kennedy's Favorite Remedy, which I bought, and when I had taken five bottles I was cured. What the doctors cost hundreds of dollars in trying to do, Favorite Remedy did for five dollars." If you are inclined to constipation don't neglect yourself. Dr. Kennedy's Favorite Remedy permanently cures it.

LARRABEES

RHEUMATIC

LINIMENT

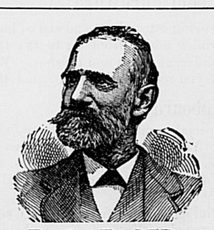
A standard and sovereign household remedy for over half a century. It is a wonderful curative agent in all painful diseases, such as

Rheumatism, Lumbago, Neuralgia, Backache, Catarrh, Toothache,

and other painful ailments. To be had of all druggists, or by mail on receipt of 25 cents. Trade supplied by Geo. C. Goodwin & Co., or any wholesale druggist.

WINKLEMANN & BROWN DRUG CO.

BALTIMORE, MD., U. S. A.



F. M. EAGER.

Boots and Shoes Manufactured to Measure.

REPAIRING NEATLY DONE AT SHORT NOTICE.

Dealer in Sewing Machines and Supplies.

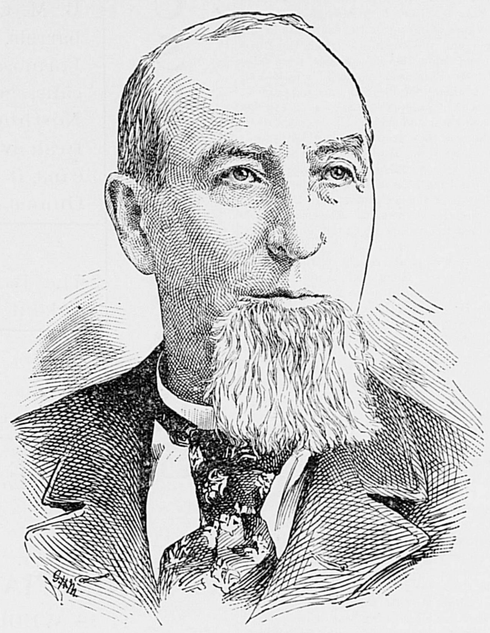
Machines to rent or sold on monthly payments.

F. M. EAGER, PALMER.

NO MORE RHEUMATISM.

Sheriff Howe Cured of Rheumatism by Dr. Greene's Nervura.

No One Need Longer Suffer from Rheumatism or Neuralgia. Dr. Greene's Nervura Blood and Nerve Remedy Always Cures.



SHERIFF E. W. HOWE.

Half the world suffers from pains and aches when there is not the slightest reason for so doing. Headache is alarmingly frequent and leads to serious results. Backache is most common and keeps thousands in misery. Neuralgic pains of side or chest torment myriads of victims. All this suffering is caused by a weakness, irritation or diseased condition of the nerves and blood, is entirely unnecessary, and can easily be cured.

Sheriff E. W. Howe of Northfield, Vt., advises you in all such cases to use Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy. He tells the great good this remarkable medicine did him, and to show the high esteem in which he is held by his townspeople and that you can trust implicitly in every word he says, it is only necessary to state that Sheriff Howe has been sheriff and deputy sheriff of Northfield for 23 years; is town trustee, street commissioner of Northfield, chief engineer of the fire department, town grand juror and school committee, besides peing a prominent business man well known throughout the state of Vermont. The word of a man so highly trusted and honored should be taken and his advice followed by all.

"I was sick five months, which left me with asthma and rheumatism. The asthma would take me most anytime, especially nights, when I was obliged to get up and open windows and doors to breathe. It took me once on my way home so bad that I was obliged to have help to get home. I suffered greatly with this trouble. My rheumatism at this time was very bad, being so that for six weeks I did not leave the room and for five months I did not do a day's work.

"I saw Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy advertised and the cures effected by its use, and thought it might hit my case, and it did. The asthma is greatly improved, in fact, it is nearly cured, and the rheumatism is greatly helped. I think very highly of this remedy for it is good. I would recommend anybody to use Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy for asthma or rheumatism, for it is a good medicine. I deem it simple justice to a great remedy to write this letter. I never expected to do any more work when I was sick, but the Nervura did me a great deal of good and I am now able to work again."

It is not a patent medicine, but the prescription of the most successful living specialist in curing nervous and chronic diseases, Dr. Greene, of 34 Temple Place, Boston, Mass. He has the largest practice in the world, and this grand medical discovery is the result of his vast experience. The great reputation of Dr. Greene is a guarantee that his medicine will cure and the fact that he can be consulted by anyone at any time, free of charge, personally or by letter, gives absolute assurance of the beneficial action of this wonderful medicine.

Guy & Fuller

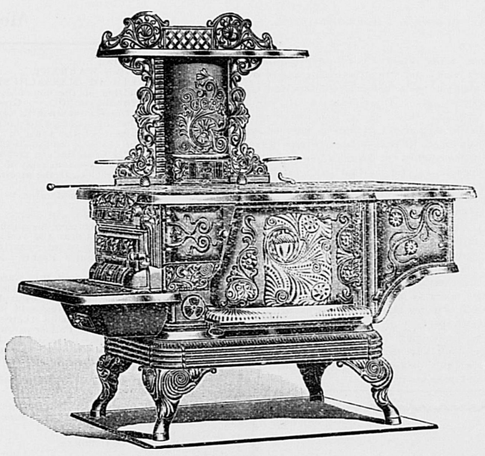
Furniture Co.,

409 Main Street, Springfield.

SOLE AGENTS FOR THE NATIONAL ACORN RANGE.

NEW PATTERNS FOR 1895-96.

A strictly high grade Range, perfect in every detail. With or without reservoir or high shelf. . . . . .

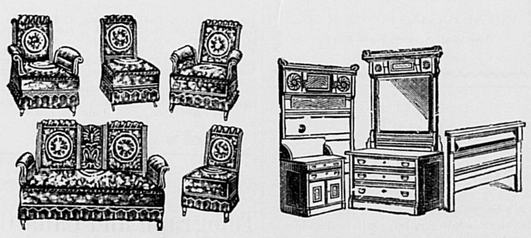


LARGE OVEN WITH THE ACORN SYSTEM VENTILATION.

A constant stream of hot air passes through it, rendering food sweet and more evenly cooked. SYSTEM OF SHEET FLUES, heating all six griddle holes, and enveloping the oven on five sides, this results in a quick baking oven; it will work where other ranges have failed. Large fire box with the new Albany grate cleans the fire with one movement and enables the fire to be kept for months. The flues of the Acorn Range are so proportioned as to prevent the heat from going to the chimney and thereby being wasted. With one ton of coal it does the work that many others do with one and one-half tons. Also many other patterns of Ranges and Parlor stoves.

THE LARGEST ASSORTMENT EVER SHOWN ON OUR FLOORS OF

PARLOR SUITS AND CHAMBER SUITS.



PRICES AND TERMS WILL SUIT ALL.

Guy & Fuller Furniture Co.,

409 Main Street, Springfield, Mass.

L. H. HENDEE, M. D.,

OFFICE AND RESIDENCE, PLEASANT ST.

Office hours 7 to 10 a. m., and 1 to 3 and 7 to 9p. m.

WEDDING INVITATIONS. Engraved or printed. The latest styles and prices right. Samples on application at the JOURNAL Office. WEDDING CARDS.

The Wise Spider.

The spider wove his filmy web
Across the open door,
Through which a merchant found his way
Into and out his store.

"Don't weave your web across the door,"
A bee was heard to say,
"Because before you've got it done,
'T will all be swept away."

"I guess I know what I'm about,"
Replied the spider, wise;
"I know the man who runs this store—
He doesn't advertise."

—Detroit Free Press.

STORING VEGETABLES FOR WINTER.

We often have queries as to the best method of storing vegetables and fruits during winter, and they are questions we delight to answer, as they show a growing tendency for healthful and delicious food at all times of the year; but it is a move in the right direction from an economical standpoint.

In order to preserve in a practically fresh state any vegetable or fruit, the conditions under which it was grown must be duly considered. When the objects have reached perfection all vital action must be suspended, and the specimens kept in a dormant state until they are to be used.

Let us take, for instance, the root crops, they are grown underground, cool and moist; these must not be exposed to the air during winter, if so, their moisture and juices soon evaporate and their delicious properties are lost. To keep them in dry sand, as is a common custom in some places, is nearly as bad as full exposure, because the dry sand will absorb their juices nearly as quickly as would the air by evaporation.

Most farmers and gardeners are in the habit of putting away for winter's use such few vegetables as they find in the garden upon the approach of frost; but very few grow vegetables expressly for storage, as they should do. In due time we shall urge the necessity of this, and show how it can be done profitably. This haphazard storage is done by taking up in a careless manner, and usually throwing into some vacant corner of the cellar, just whatever is at hand, and in this situation the fruits or vegetables remain until used or spoiled. The more considerate put them in boxes or barrels, and cover them with sand; which is good in intention, and that is all that can be said for the method, as it does not accomplish the purpose intended. If the cellar be dry and light, the vegetables will soon dry up, and they will commence to grow, as Nature will exhaust every effort in order to reproduce the species. If the cellar be moist and warm, the vegetables will make a rapid growth because the conditions are favorable. On the other hand, if the cellar be moist and cool, the vegetables will invariably mould and rot.

Either of these conditions ruins the vegetable for the table, but what is still worse, the products of the decaying mass will fill the house and possibly make the doctor's visits a necessity, and under certain conditions scarletina or diphtheria may even be harbored. It is far better not to have them in the house under such conditions.

But how can we better preserve our vegetables than in a cool cellar? is a question often asked. Take a number of sugar barrels without heads, and sink them in some convenient place near the house, leaving the rim about three inches above the surface of the soil. Pack the earth firmly around the barrel, to prevent surface water from running down the sides and getting into the vegetables from below. Then fill the barrels about two-thirds full of beets, turnips, carrots, or ruta bagas, and cover them with a piece of matting or old carpet, to keep the air from them. Cover the barrel with an ordinary cover with a rim that comes down about an inch; upon this place a stone or some other weight that will prevent the wind from lifting the cover. In these barrels the vegetables can be kept until the following April, just as fresh as when taken from the ground. The warm moisture that is constantly coming from below keeps back the cold from above. The temperature in the barrels is at all time just above the freezing point, which is the best possible for the vegetables. Should the thermometer indicate more than 15° of frost, it would be best to throw matting or some other slight extra protection over the barrels.—American Gardening.

A CLEAN TOWN.—The cleanest town in the world is said to be Broek, in Holland. It is only a few miles from the capital, and has been famous for its cleanliness from time immemorial. It is also notable on account of the fanciful style of its houses and yards and gardens and streets. The people, though only peasants, are well to do, and all feel a pride in their town. It seems to be the first business of their lives to keep their houses freshly painted, their gardens in perfect order, and their yards and streets as clean as a parlor. No carts are allowed in the streets, and no cattle. Though the raising of stock and the making of butter and cheese are their occupations, a stranger would never imagine that there were any cattle in the region unless he went to the beautiful green meadows at the back of the houses or the stables out there, where cows are kept in stalls, scrubbed and watched like a kitchen. The streets are too fine and neat for the feet of the animals to step on. All are paved with polished stones, intermingled with bricks of different colors, and kept so scrupulously clean that a lady could walk anywhere in white satin slippers.

THE PROPER SEATS.—A young farmer from the upper ward of Lanarkshire, who became a benedict recently, took his spouse to a Glasgow theatre on their honeymoon trip.

"I see," said the bridegroom, consulting one of the large posters displayed outside the theatre before entering, "that ther's a guide wheen different kind o' seats. There's pit and stalls and dress circle and family circle and gallery. Which would we hae, Maggie?"

"Weel, Jamie," replied the buxom bride, with a becoming blush, "seein' that we're mairrit noo, maybe it wad be mair proper to sit in the family circle."—Scottish Nights.

Two Lives Saved.

Mrs. Phoebe Thomas of Junction City, Ill., was told by her doctors she had consumption and there was no hope for her, but two bottles of Dr. King's New Discovery completely cured her and she says it saved her life. Mr. Thomas Eggers, 139 Florida street, San Francisco, suffered from a dreadful cold, approaching consumption, tried without result everything else, then bought one bottle of Dr. King's New Discovery and in two weeks was cured. He is naturally thankful. It is such results, of which these are samples, that prove the wonderful efficacy of this medicine in coughs and colds. Free trial bottles of LeGro & Lynde, Palmer; G. L. Keeney, Monson; F. A. Spencer, Ware. Regular size 50c and $1.

Old People.

Old people who require medicine to regulate the bowels and kidneys will find the true remedy in Electric Bitters. This medicine does not stimulate and contains no whisky nor other intoxicant, but acts as a tonic and alterative. It acts mildly on the stomach and bowels, adding strength and giving tone to the organs, thereby aiding Nature in the performance of the functions. Electric Bitters is an excellent appetizer and aids digestion. Old people find it just exactly what they need. Price 50c per bottle of LeGro & Lynde, Palmer; G. L. Keeney, Monson; F. A. Spencer, Ware.

Bucklen's Arnica Salve.

THE BEST SALVE in the world for cuts, bruises, sores, ulcers, salt rheum, fever sores, tetter, chapped hands, chilblains, corns, and all skin eruptions, and positively cures piles, or no pay required. It is guaranteed to give perfect satisfaction or money refunded. Price 25 cents per box. For sale by LeGro & Lynde, Palmer; G. L. Keeney, Monson; F. A. Spencer, Ware.

VALUABLE BREED.—Retiring President Scott at a meeting of the Cold Spring Business Men's Association last night told a funny story about ministers who preach long sermons. A stranger occupied the pulpit of one of them one Sunday and at the close of an unusually brief discourse made his apologies to one of the vestrymen.

"I hope you will excuse my brevity this morning," said the crestfallen clergyman.

"No excuse necessary," was the cheerful reply. "Your sermon was delightful."

"Well," said the reverend gentlemen, "I'm glad to hear you say so, but to tell you the truth I never preached under greater difficulties. When I started I was horrified to find that my pet dog had got hold of my MS. and chewed most of it beyond recognition."

"Is that so?" queried the astonished vestryman. "Well, your sermon was excellent, and I can only say that you will confer a great favor on this parish by sending us one of those pups."—Buffalo Courier.

"I'm not troublin' mesself about the New Woman," hiccoughed O'Murther, making his way deviously homeward at 3 a. m. "It's th' ould woman that's worryin' me!"—Chicago Tribune.

Dangerous Drugs.

Avoid the use of white or pink headache powders, they contain dangerous drugs. Taylor's Anti-Headache Powders are brown; they look like ground coffee and they have a delightful aromatic taste. Try them once and you will never be without them. Get them of LeGro & Lynde.

35 cents

Colds are serious things. They lead to worse things. A cold is the seed of consumption. Croup is a cold's half-brother—it is generally caused by cold, and many a little life has been snuffed out by it because the proper remedy was not at hand.

Dr. Hooker's Cough and Croup Syrup

gives relief at once. It has saved thousands of lives. Every mother should see that it is always in the house. Don't wait till you need it—that may be too late. Contains no opium—absolutely safe—endorsed by physicians for 50 years. Made only by Charles B. Kingsley, Northampton, Mass.

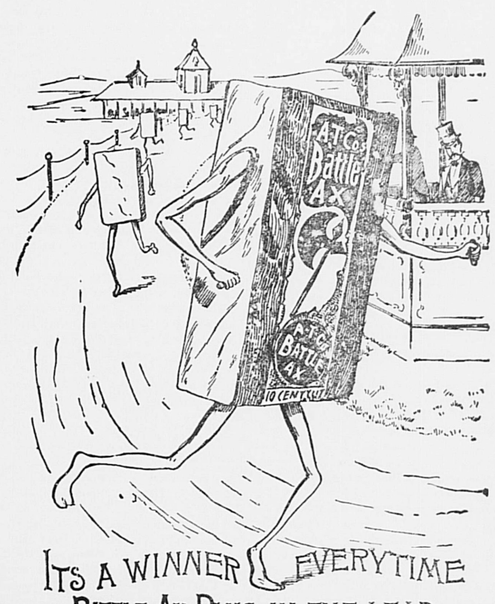
at Drug Stores

WANTED SALESMEN. We want one or two good men in each county to take orders for a choice line of Nursery Stock or Seed Potatoes' Stock and seed guaranteed. We can give you steady employment with good pay. It will cost you nothing to give it a trial. State when writing which you prefer to sell. Address

The Hawks Nursery Co.,
Rochester, N. Y.

C. H. HOBBY, PIANO TUNER.

Orders for tuning may be left at O. P. Allen's drug store, Palmer; or may be sent to me by mail to Mansfield, Ct.



IT'S A WINNER EVERYTIME

BATTLE AX PLUG IN THE LEAD

BATTLE AX PLUG

HAS JUMPED INTO PUBLIC FAVOR ON ACCOUNT OF ITS SIZE AND QUALITY. ITS

A GREAT BIG PIECE

OF HIGH GRADE TOBACCO FOR

10 CENTS

THE ROYAL WINTHROP RANGE. IT HAS NO SUPERIOR.

I AGREE. That is all we expect you to say. Live up to that and there is no limit to your credit with us; we will arrange the payments to suit you.

We sell all kinds of FURNITURE, and can furnish your house from cellar to garret.

SHAW BROTHERS, - THREE RIVERS, MASS.

ALWAYS SHARP SHOD WITH THE NEVERSLIP

ONE TRIAL WILL CONVINCE YOU.

Your horse being always sharp shod, is ready for work. His feet are always in good condition, and he is not constantly at the blacksmith's being sharpened, which ruins his feet, causing great expense and loss of time to you. Remember, once shod with "Neverslips" you can easily put in new Calks when needed without removing the shoes.

BE SURE your horse-shoer has "Neverslips" on hand; have him SHOD WITH NO OTHER. Send your address for descriptive circular with full information, MAILED FREE.

AGENTS: E. H. McCandless & Co. Easthampton, Mass.

MANUFACTURERS: Neverslip Horseshoe Co., Boston, Mass.

REMOVABLE-STEEL-CENTERED AND SELF-SHARPENING

R·I·P·A·N·S

ONE GIVES RELIEF.

52-43

"THE BEST IS, AYE, THE CHEAPEST."

AVOID IMITATIONS OF AND SUBSTITUTES FOR

SAPOLIO

4-33

The Palmer Journal.

VOLUME XLVI. PALMER, MASS., FRIDAY EVENING, NOVEMBER 29, 1895. NUMBER 35.

PUBLISHED EVERY FRIDAY EVENING
—BY—
O. B. FISKE & CO.

TERMS OF SUBSCRIPTION.—Two dollars a year. A discount of 25 cents to those who pay in advance. Six months, $1.00; three months, 50 cents; single copies, 5 cents.

ADVERTISING RATES.—One inch (or twelve lines of this type solid) 75 cents for the first insertion, 25 cents for the second, 15 cents for each subsequent insertion. Short advertisements, "Wanted," "To Let," etc., one cent a word for the first insertion, one-half cent a word each subsequent insertion, cash; no charge less than 25 cents. Notices in local column, 15 cents per line. Liberal rates to yearly advertisers.

JOB PRINTING of all kinds executed in the best styles, promptly and at reasonable rates.

O. B. FISKE. L. E. CHANDLER.

[Entered at Post Office as second class matter.]

LOCAL BUSINESS DIRECTORY.

PALMER.

ALLEN, O. P., Wholesale and Retail Druggist and Bookseller.

BARTON, F. D., Dealer in Watches, Clocks and Jewelry, Main street.

BILLS, G. A., Fresh and Salt Beef, Pork, Ham, Lard, Tripe, etc.

BROOKS, EDWIN E., Graduate Optician. With E. S. Brooks, Jeweler, Main street.

BROOKS, E. S., Dealer in Watches, Clocks, Jewelry, Solid Silver and Plated Ware, Main street.

BROWN, C. A. & CO., Hardware, Furnaces, Stoves, Ranges, Paints, Oils and Glass.

BROWN, S. H., Trucking, Light Jobbing, Piano Moving. Order box cor. Main and Walnut streets. Orders can also be left at J. F. Foley's store.

CARPENTER, Mrs. L. E., Millinery and Fancy Goods. Also dealer in Human Hair Goods.

CHANDLER BROS., Bicycles.

CLARK & HASTINGS, Wholesale Dealers in Armour & Co's. Dressed Beef, Provisions, Main St.

EAGER, F. M., Boot and Shoe Manufacturer to Order, and dealer in Leather and Findings.

FISKE, C. B. & CO., Publishers PALMER JOURNAL and WARE STANDARD. Fine Book and Job Printers and Bookbinders.

FITCH, A. E., Law and Insurance, Savings Bank Block.

FRANCIS, R. B., Iron Foundry and Machine Shop.

GAMWELL, C. K., Ready made Clothing, Hats, Caps, Gent's Furnishings, etc.

GARDNER, CHAS. L., Attorney and Counsellor at Law. Church street.

GOODES, E., Palmer Boot and Shoe Store, corner Main and Thorndike streets.

HAMILTON, J. A., Dealer in all kinds of Coal, Wood, Grain, Flour, Baled Hay and Straw. Fertilizers and Stock Food. Main street.

HOLBROOK, C. D., Flour, Grain, Feed and Mason's Supplies, Main street.

HOLBROOK, J. F., Dealer in all kinds of Coal. Agent for National and White Star line of steamers Drafts on Foreign Banks at lowest rates.

LEACH, W. W., Attorney at Law.

LE, RO & LYNDE, Druggists and Newsdealers, Paper Hangings, Shades, Lamps and Fixtures.

MARCY, F. F., Dealer in Lumber, Shingles, etc., wholesale and retail. West of B. & A. R. R. depot.

MARCY, OSCAR C., Livery and Feed Stable, rear of Converse House.

PALMER WATER CO., Office, Lawrence Block. Office hours to October 1, from 8.30 to 10 a. m., from 2 to 3 p. m.

SHAW, J. B., Dealer in Dry Goods, Groceries, etc. Opposite the depot.

TAFT, S. S., Attorney at Law. Office in Allen's Block, Church street.

WHITE, C. W., Marble and Granite Works. No. 1 Thorndike street.

WOOLRICH & CO., Manufacturers of Ridge's Food, Thorndike street.

THORNDIKE.

ADAMS, A. P., Druggist, Toilet Articles, Confectionery and Cigars.

BONDSVILLE.

HOLDEN, C. L., Dry Goods, Groceries, Clothing Boots, Shoes, Hats, Caps, etc.

MORIARTY, M., Dry Goods, Groceries, Boots Shoes, Coal. Agt White Star and Anchor SS Co's

WARE.

ADAMS, MRS., Chiropodist and Manicurist. 13 Park Avenue. All troubles of feet successfully treated.

ALBERTINE, J. A. Choice Fruits, Tobaccos, Cigars and Confectionery. Low Prices.

DAVIS INSURANCE AGENCY represents the best companies and gives lowest rates.

EDDY, C. W. Job and Fine Art Printer.

EDDY, MISS MATIE K. Teacher of Oil Painting and Crayon. Sketching or Art Work completed to order.

ELDREDGE, A. HENRY. Sign Painter. Carriages painted in the best manner. West Street.

HARLOW, A. B. Photographer. Instantaneous process only. Opposite the Bank.

HOSMER, F. N. Clothier. Hats, Caps, Gents' Furnishing Good, etc. Sanford's Block.

MARSH, F. E. Gold, Silver and Nickel Plater. Replating tableware a specialty. 7 Bank street.

PRIEST, J. E. Ware Steam Laundry. Carpet cleaning. Office at H. M. Clark's.

RICHARDSON, A. F. Dealer in Boots, Shoes and Rubbers of all kinds. Sagendorph's Block.

ROBINSON, JOHN F. Furniture, Sewing Machines, Pictures, Hardware, Paints and Farming Tools.

SIBLEY, J. B. Hardware, Tools, Agricultural Implements, Paints, Oils and Artists' materials.

SMITH, G. H. W. Jeweler. Watches, Clocks and Spectacles. Repairing in the best manner.

TURNER, H. H. Bookseller and Stationer, and dealer in Paper Hangings, Musical Instruments and Sheet Music.

MONSON.

GROUT, GEO. E. Dealer in Watches Clocks, Jewelry, etc. Towne's Block.

NEWTON, GEO. H., Law Office, Notary Public, Insurance, etc., near Gage's store.

SQUIER & CO., Dealers in Grain, Feen, Hay, Straw, Lumber, Shingles and Building Material.

WARREN.

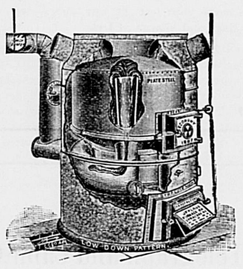
KELLEY, W. H., Attorney and Counsellor at Law. Quaboag Block, Warren. Mass.

SOCIETY DIRECTORY.

MONSON.

MT. ELLA LODGE, No. 184, A. O. U. W. Meets first and third Tuesdays of each month in A. O. U. W Hall, Monson
FISK G ROGERS, M. W., F. J. ENTWISTLE, Rec.

Economy Heaters.



Crawford Ranges.

COME IN AND SEE THE

MODEL B RANGE,

sold for $20.

Plumbing, Tinning and Heating.

W. H. Hitchcock,

Nassowanno House Block, Palmer.

E. S. Bryant, D. M. D., Dentist,

Lynde's Block, Palmer.
Office hours: 8.30 to 12.30. 1.30 to 5 p. m.

THANKSGIVING.

AT... Todd's Boston Store,... MONSON.

Ladies of Monson will find it to their best interests to visit our store from now on till Thanksgiving, as a rare opportunity will be afforded to secure genuine bargains in merchandise particularly adapted for Thanksgiving offerings.

THANKSGIVING OFFERING.
Table napkins, full size, all pure linen, $1.29 doz.
1¼ yd. wide bleached table linen, Thanksgiving price, 42c.
60 inch double damask, half bleached, pure linen, Thanksgiving price, 49c.

OFFERINGS ACCEPTABLE.
Ladies white lawn aprons, handsomely embroidered, 29c each.
Ladies' Foster hook kid gloves (warranted) in tans and blacks, $1 pair.
Ladies' black satin waist, a useful Thanksgiving offering. $1.

DON'T FORGET WE SELL PUMPKIN PIE PLATES 5c EACH.

A TENDER TURKEY
when roasted in one of our strong wired iron roasting pans, 10c each.
SEE TEN CENT COUNTER.
Useful basting spoons, 5c and 10c.

TOWEL SPECIAL.
Extra large size, knotted fringe in pink, blue, red and white, For Thanksgiving, 15c each.
With plain fringe, 12 1-2c each.

A New Departure, Something in Live Stock. Come in and hear them sing their Thanksgiving song.

CANARIES FOR SALE.

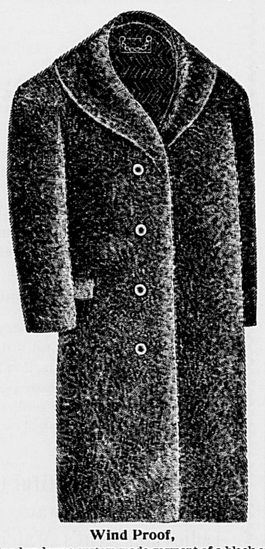
HARD KNOCKS AT SNAPPING BARGAINS.
A bottle of bay rum for 10c
" " witch hazel for "
" Turkey feather duster for "
" Two-quart dipper for "
" Lunch box, leather handle, for "
" Large box canary seed for "
" Hardwood steak pounder for "

BIG VALUES AT LITTLE PRICES.
Plated spoons and forks, tea and dinner spoons, 5c each.
Potato mashers, " "
Cooking fork, wooden handle, " "
Angel cake tins, " "
Ink, muscilage, petroleum jelly, and hundreds of useful articles at " "

The Always Busy Store.

For the Coming Winter Season.

The Saskatchewan Coat,



Wind Proof,
is a handsome custom-made garment of a black or brown color, with a high rolling collar, lined with black Italian quilting, and rubber lining in the body part and sleeves to make it wind and water proof. It has olives and loops instead of buttons. This coat will keep a person dry and warm during the severest snow or rain-storm, and will be dry the next day.
Caps and carriage robes of the same material.

Complete line of GENT'S FURNISHING GOODS in all departments.

Fall and Winter Clothing
was never so low in price, nor such values for the money.

Fall Suits, $5 to $20,
Just think of it!

An elegant line of
Overcoats, $6 to $22.
You never saw the like before.

Child's Suits, $2 to $6.

Child's Reefer, $3.50 to $5.

Children's Overcoats in all grades.

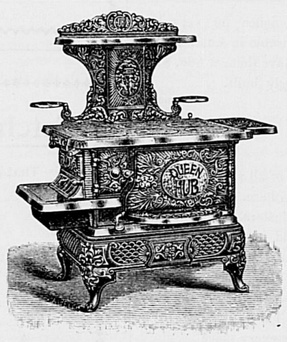
Underwear
in a great variety of grades and prices.

Fall Style, 1895.

Lamson & Hubbard.

C. K. GAMWELL,
Palmer, Mass.

Perhaps you don't know all about it.



Step in and we will tell you about the QUEEN HUB. While here we can show you some Fine Parlor Goods at prices that will surprise you.

C. A. Brown & Co. - Palmer, Mass.

Horse Blankets.

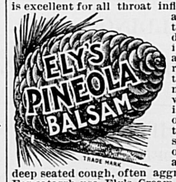
A full line, for both stable .....and street use.....

375 BLANKETS IN STOCK.

PRICES RIGHT.

D. W. Foskit,
Foskit's Mills.

PINEOLA COUGH BALSAM
is excellent for all throat inflammations and for asthma. Consumptives will invariably derive benefit from its use, as it quickly abates the cough, renders expectoration easy, assisting nature in restoring wasted tissues. There is a large percentage of those who suppose their cases to be consumption who are only suffering from a chronic cold or deep seated cough, often aggravated by catarrh. For catarrh use Ely's Cream Balm. Both remedies are pleasant to use. Cream Balm, 50c per bottle; Pineola Balsam, 25c. at druggists. In quantities of $2.50 will deliver on receipt of amount.



ELY BROTHERS, 56 Warren street, New York.

To-day... IS BARGAIN DAY WITH US.

We offer a large lot of
PIANOS, ORGANS,
MUSIC CABINETS.
MUSIC BOXES,
PIANO CHAIRS,
PIANO COVERS,
at prices way below the former figures.

Come in and see what bargains we will give you.

TAYLOR'S Music House,
Opera House Block, Springfield.

SMITH & MURRAY.

Women's New Winter Cloaks.

Come early if you can.

The advertising that is crowding these great cloak rooms is not what we print here; it's not printed anywhere, and no newspaper gets paid for it.

If you come and see these values, whether you buy or not, you will make others buy—you can't help it.

Women's boucle jackets, 27 long, large sleeves, ripple back, new Bayadere front, buttoning at neck, $5.

Compare with other dealers' jacket at $7.50.

At $10. Genuine Mohair and worsted black astrakhan cloth jackets, some all lined, some half.

In this scarce and desirable material this jacket is the bargain of the season.

At $15. Handsome jackets, all lined with fancy taffeta, latest style front and ripple coat back.

A positive bargain at $20.
Second floor, take elevator.

Handkerchiefs at half.

Not because they're under quality in any way, or out of style, or deserve a price clip—just because market conditions put it in our way to give you two for the price of one.

Men's all linen handkerchiefs, ful hemstitched, initialed, 12½c each.

Not enough to pay for the work.
Main store, center.

SMITH & MURRAY.

Hellyar's Bargain Store.

Carpets! Carpets!

Are you interested in carpets? If so, we should be pleased to show you. We have arranged with one of the largest mills in the United States whereby we are their sold agents in this locality.

Wilton Carpets,
Moquette Carpets,
Axminster Carpets.
Velvet Carpets,
Body Brussels Carpets,
Tapestry Carpets,
Three Ply Carpets,
Ingrain Carpets of all grades,
Cocoa Mattings,
Napier Mattings,
China Mattings,
Linoleums,
Oil Cloths,
Rugs,
Mats,
Lace Curtains.

We carry a full line of the newest patterns in all kinds of Carpets.

You have as fine a variety to select from as is carried by the stores in the largest cities. You can have the carpets cut and sewed at the mills, and delivered to you ready to be laid on the floor. We represent the manufacturers, thus saving you the middleman or jobber's profit, and as we have no stock to carry and no risk to take on bad patterns, misfits or remnants we can afford to sell at a very small profit—lower even than the stores of the great cities. Call and find out how quickly and how cheaply we can carpet a room or a house.

S. H. Hellyar & Co.,
Caryl's Block, on the Corner,
Palmer, Mass.

DOLLS.
All kinds and sizes.
DOLLS.
Now is the time to dress them for Christmas. But we have them all dressed if you prefer.
DOLL WINDOW DISPLAY.
Look at the dolls in our window. All sizes, all prices. Eyes open and eyes shut. Black hair and light hair. Prices the lowest at
LeGRO & LYNDE'S,
Next Door to Post Office,
Palmer, - - Mass.

Piano and Banjo Lessons
given by
Misses Annie and Carrie Fish,
22-tf Palmer.

A NICE NEW LINE OF SAMPLES OF FOLDERS.
FOR DANCE PROGRAMS, INVITATIONS, MENUS, ETC.
Just received at the JOURNAL Office.

Her Thanksgiving-Day Sermon.

Now, Dan'el, this is Thanksgivin'; a day when the good Lord meant
We should all sit down and think over the blessin's he has sent,
An' give him the credit that's due him for the good things he bestows;
But you've got into the habit, as ev'ry one 'round you knows.
Of findin' fault with most things, while you overlook the good,
An' you don't thank the giver for them as ev'ry Christian should.

Now, Dan'el, I'm goin' to be honest, an' tell you plain an' square,
What I think about your grumblin', you don't use the good Lord fair.
You fret 'cause the corn was a failure; you worried about the grass,
But never a word, my husban', about the dear little lass
That the Lord in his merciful kindness gin back, when we thought shetmust die;
What's all the corn in the country, an' ev'ry thing else, say I,
To the child that the Lord has spared us? So, if you are bound to complain,
Act honest an' giv' him the credit for our blessin's as well as our pain.

You know jest as well as I do that the sun don't always shine,
But all of our worry an' frettin' won't clear your sky or mine;
It's a good deal better, my husban', to take things as they be,
When we can't make 'em any different, as sensible folks agree.
If a thing can't be helped, don't worry, but make the best of it, dear,
An' think about all life's good things till the cloudy sky gets clear.
It's foolish an' wicked—yes, wicked! I say it out plain an' square,—
To look at the dark side always. 'Taint using the good Lord fair.

What if the corn was a failure? We'd a good big crop of wheat,
An, with that an' the meat an' potatoes, we're sure of enough to eat.
You don't exᵉect ev'rything, do you? Things might ha' been worse, my dear;
Think how we'd feel, my husban', if our little girl weren't here.
Be honest an' give the Lord, dear, the credit he ought to get,
Just reckon up all our blessin's an' you'll find we're deep in his debt;
You'll see you ain't actin', right, Dan'el, to dwell on the dark side, so Give him the credit that's due him, an' you'll have a Thanksgivin', I know.

—Eben E. Rexford.

A THANKSGIVING EPISODE.

Japanese Tommy swaggered into Washington Market with the bravado of a small pirate king. He went there to steal a fowl, or anything that came handy. Failing in that he would buy a turkey. He had promised Mrs. Moriarty, who "looked after him," to produce the scaffolding of a Thanksgiving dinner; and he was able and willing to keep his word. He had kept reckless pledges before, and when much less than a silver dollar, two quarters, a dime and six coppers bruised his foot comfortably inside his single windowless shoe. In fact, when he had paid nothing for the meal at all.

A fish woman shook a red fist at Tommy and stall keepers and watchman eyed him viciously. He did not linger anywhere long, but squirmed and wriggled a snake-like passage through the crowd; for the police were wide awake and Tommy was not yet willing to buy fame at the price of a term at a reformatory. He was a scraggy, weazened little man, and old, very old, nearly 12 years, in fact; a street gamin to a core, a felon, an outcast and a menace to society. And society, very much alive to Tommy tonight, had kept him at bay in the streets, with a club.

Tommy saw that luck was against him here. He ought to have lurked near the curbs in the early morning, while crates and wagons were emptying, and plunked his bird as it rose, instead of trying to retrieve it from the stalls. Tommy's wrinkled muzzle curled into a grimace of ferocity when it was clear that to-night turkey meant hands off and cash down; and he sneaked an orange from a basket by way of discount, before dodging across the street. He was going into the ferry house to take his shoe off, and furtively count his savings.

To the seat beside him came a little girl—a fairy princess in a woolen coat and mittens. She was quite alone, and eyed Tommy curiously, in calm, judicial silence. Tommy stamped down his shoe, put his small money in his mouth, clutched his dollar in a wiry fist and blinked at her dumbly. Then he pulled off his cap. Society never taught him that. Nor Mrs. Moriarty. Nor the gang. The girl nodded gravely.

"Go and find Miss Mowbray, please, little boy," said she.

Tommy gulped, took his money out of his mouth, drew his ragged waistcoat together, shuffled his feet and spoke not a word. The girl's hair shone like the gold letters on the ferry house, and her eyes were like the plover's eggs in the market over the way. She was about Tommy's height. Little boy!

"My governess, you know," explained the young woman, encouragingly. She went to look for the luggage in Hoboken, and lost me. And here I am. And I'm hungry."

This was plain at least. Tommy had been hungry, and there was an orange up his sleeve. He shook it down, held it, and found his voice.

"You bang on dis, see? An' come along o' me."

Decision being Tommy's strong point, he led the way, without more ado, past the ticket agent, to whom he gave up six cents, into the waiting room, the girl following placidly, orange in hand.

"Don't you think I'd better wash it in the drink basin?" she demanded, halting on the way to the boat. "It's a bit muxy, you know," she added considerately, out of regard for the donor's feelings.

Tommy watched the washing reflectively. He was absorbing a new idea. The girl followed him into the boat, the orange to her roseleaf lips, an involuntary criminal and receiver of stolen goods. She was one of those in whose interest Tommy is kept at bay. But this view of it moved neither of them.

"Say, wot's yer called?" he suddenly whispered.

"You may speak of me as Miss Ethel," said the child with impassive inflection, munching the orange.

"Jis' yer go inside 'n set dere, Methessle, 'n I'll hang on the end 'n pipe de pelice."

"Why?" demanded the girl, stopping short, with wide open eyes.

"'Cause dey'll run yer in, see? Ain't yer lost? Huh! Yer tie ter me and keep dark." And pushing the child, whose face was white with terror, inside the cabin door, Tommy tiptoed through the wagon way after the manner of "Cadgy Cal, the Boy Detective," as drawn by the artist on the Weekly Bootblack.

The girl sat quietly in the cabin and Tommy peered through the gathering twilight on deck. The chance that a deck hand or a passenger, seeing the odd pair together, should ask questions, was lost. The police had always stood to the boy for evil destiny and despair. He could only work out the problem of the girl's safety in his own lawless way. As the boat blundered into the slip he brushed against her.

"Go inter de place and lay fer me, an', mind yer, give nothin' away. Keep dis." He thrust his money in her hands. "Dat's ter show I'll be back, see?"

The girl pocketed the silver and he was lost to sight. He came to her, after a time, hot, panting and worn out.

"She ain't in it no more, Methessle. She's lit out," he announced. "Now let's go back."

They crossed to the New York side with the same precautions against discovery and the police.

The girl was tired and flushed, and silently tearful. Her fur hat had fallen on her neck, and her dust-stained face was streaked with the lines of furtive tears. Tommy joined her in the darkness, and led her away through the plunging horses and crushing trucks, along the land edge of the piers, in just the direction to safely elude the detectives at the ferry house searching for a lost child.

"You better take me home directly," said the girl, peremptorily. They were through the threatening tangle of the roadway now. "I'm dreadfully hungry," she added, piteously.

"Where's home, den?"

Out of the tiny card case the girl took a bit of pasteboard. Tommy turned it over blankly in his smudgy hands. With quick pity the child took it back and read the address. She saw Tommy could not read.

"He's taking me home, you know," said the girl demurely to the conductor of the Broadway car, nodding to the dim figure on the front platform. And out there Tommy rode, through the night, in his rags, until the car stopped at Central Park. The girl was almost home, and she knew the way now. She ran ahead happily. And then, out of a black mountain jutting from a corner, Tommy, far behind, saw a gush of yellow flame leap out and swallow her up.

Tommy sat on the steps of the house. Perhaps they would call him in. Lights were springing to the dark windows and bells were pealing inside. Nobody came; and then he felt for his money and remembered. The girl had taken it to hold as his surety. He climbed the steps and pulled the bell. The yellow light blared out and about him as the door swung back, casting his ragged figure and anxious, weazened face into grotesque relief.

"Tell 'er I want de dust, see? I'm a-goin' back," said the queer-shivering little creature to the big footman.

"H' watt! Th' imperdence!" gasped that gentleman, aghast; "to ring th' bell for me! Get out o' here, ye thievin' little scoundrel, or I'll murder ye!" and the yellow flame closed in with a bang.

Tommy did not stop running until he was out of breath. No policeman was in sight. The crime he had been guilty of was only the familiar offense of exciting suspicion. He was not much disturbed, and not indignant at all. It was a piece of hard luck. He was used to that. He got down to the market again on the car platforms by short but exciting stages. He had no money to pay his fare and would not have paid it if he had. At 10 o'clock he had begged enough money to sup sumptuously on coffee and cakes and was ready to forage again for the Moriarty cupboard. And so it came about, later, that he was caught stealing a turkey from a freeze of fowl on a Vessey street shed and peremptorily handed over to the law. Society was very wide awake to-night, and there was a twist in the clutch of the law that ripped Tommy's jacket down the back, cut his cheek with a knuckle, and made a desperate-looking character of him.

Judge Fluffy was in high humor next morning, and the reporters in court agreed he had never been more characteristically facetious. And it must be admited that Tommy was shocking to behold, all blood and dust and tears and rags, in an ague fit of terror.

"I have heard of ye, through the officer, me wharf rat, and ye needn't snivel, for ye'd be in a strait-jacket if ye got yer due. Japanese Tommy they call ye, I hear, and ye ought to be on yer knees—yes, on yer Japan-knees—this minute, prayin' for mercy. Mrs. Moriarty, yer foster mother, who's been here herself, tells me ye're more trouble than ye're worth, and are a nameless brat out of the market slime anyhow. There's open times for ye in the Reform School, and if ye don't corrupt the whole place its luckier than I'm thinkin'. Go, and be thankful this day you're alive. He goes out for a year, officer, and now hand up the next."

Many candles sparkled on the cut glass of a splendidly appointed Thanksgiving dinner table up town, and the children, down from the nursery, shouted, unrebuked, as the bonbons snapped and the nuts were cracked. Miss Ethel climbed on her brother's knee to be kissed again, for she was the heroine of the day, and a very inportant young person indeed.

"We have all much to be thankful for today, my darling," said papa, grimly, "but don't ever get lost again."

"I lost that poor little boy's money, too, when I ran," said the girl, solemnly. "Oh, if we had only caught him! That horrid Harris. I hope he'll never find another place!"

"Well, it can't be helped now," said the girl's father cheerfully. "I've put an Ethel's bed in the Newsboys' Home, and that will do for many poor little boys. Besides, Harris insisted, you know, that your boy looked like a very suspicious character. Perhaps it's as well, after all."

IT WAS AN OLD SKORY.

The little boy was crying, and his tears touched the heart of the charitably inclined lady; he was so small and seemed to be in such distress.

"Don't cry, little boy," she said soothingly. Dry your eyes and tell me what the trouble is. Did some of the big boys hurt you?"

"No'm," replied the waif, still sobbing.

"Are you sick or hungry?" she persisted.

"No'm."

"Did your father beat you for something?"

"No'm; but he will."

"Oh, that's the trouble, is it?"

"Yes'm."

"Well, it's a shame," she exclaimed angrily. Why will he beat you?"

"Cause I lost 10 cents."

"Did he send you to buy something with it?"

"Yes'm."

"And you lost it on the way?"

"Yes'm."

"Oh, well, I guess I can fix that," she said in her kindly way, as she took a dime from her purse and handed it to the boy. "Now he won't beat you, will he?"

"No'm."

"What did he send you to buy with it?"

"Beer."

"Beer!" the good lady gasped at the thought.

"Yes'm."

"And how did you lose it?"

"Matchin' pennies."

Before she had sufficiently recovered to demand the return of her dime the boy was gone.—Chicago Evening Post.

It was a very cold morning, and Bobbie came near rushing into the house very much excited.

"Mommer," he cried, "there's something the matter with me. Please send for the doctor. I'm breathing fog!"—Harper's Round Table.

The Old Yellow Pumpkin.

How dear to this heart is the old yellow pumpkin,
When orchards are barren of stuffing for pies!
When peaches and apples have both been a failure,
And berries of no kind have greeted the eyes.
How fondly we turn to the fruit of the cornfield—
The fruit that our children are taught to despise—
The old yellow pumpkin, the mud-covered pumpkin,
The big-bellied pumpkin that makes such good pies!

Oh, golden-hued pumpkin, you surely are "in it,"
You jolly old rascal, so recently spurned;
We ask your forgiveness for thus having wronged you,
When from your dear presence we scornfully turned.
Come rolling down hill, till we meet you and greet you,
Your bulk is a feast to our fruit-hungry eyes.
We love you, old pumpkin, so well we could eat you,
For you are a "dandy" when made into pies.

—Punxsutawney Spirit.

ORIGIN OF THANKSGIVING DAY.

Thanksgiving day is the American evolution of a long line of predecessors, both pagan and Christian. It dates as an annual national holiday from the fall of 1863. In that year President Lincoln sent a message to congress recommending the observance of a national day of thanksgiving, not only on account of the victories which had followed the Union arms, but also for the plentiful harvest. Since then the custom has taken deep root in many parts of the United States where it did not previously exist. Now it stands unique in history as a day on which a great nation without respect to political party or religious creed, acknowledges with thankfulness the continued prosperity which God has been pleased to shower upon it.

Over 3000 years ago the Isralites, wandering in the desert, were instructed by Moses to observe a holiday similar in character to the modern American Thanksgiving day, when they came to the promised land. It was called the Feast of the Tabernacles, and took place about the end of harvest time.

Later in the world's history a feast answering the same purpose was held by the ancient Greeks in honor of Demeter, the deity who owned the earth, in their eyes. The rallying point for the feast, which lasted nine days, was at Athens. All except murderers and barbarians took part in it.

About the same time of year, the Romans held a feast in honor of the goddess Ceres, who, though of feminine gender, seems to have presided over their department of agriculture. The Romans had no turkeys, and could not, of course, kill and eat the sacred geese, but managed to get along very well on fat capons and Falernian wine for all that.

More direct in the line of ancestry of the American Thanksgiving day was the Saxon harvest home. It began as soon as crops were saved and lasted till the moon was at its full. Barbecues of oxen roasted whole, home brewed ale, bonfires and dancing made up a programme not to be sneered at even by nineteenth century folks. But this feast was rather one held by individual families than the realm of England as a whole.

The first Thanksgiving held on American soil was by the Pilgrim Fathers, in 1621, shortly after they landed at Plymouth rock. It was not very much of a thanksgiving, for they did not feel as though they had very much to be thankful for, but was rather a revival of the English harvest home. Matters were about the same in 1622, and with much about the same result in giving thanks. In 1623, however, an expected ship failed to arrive with provisions when they were likely to be most wanted, and the prospects of famine were so bright that Governor Bradford, acting in the undoubted exercise of his prerogative, ordered a day to be set apart for fasting, humiliation and prayer.

But before the day appointed had come, provisions turned up all right and the day was turned into one of thanksgiving. Mr. Winslow, one of the Pilgrims, in a letter gives an interesting account of this memorable day in American history. The celebration was held with "glory, honor and praise, with all thankfulness to our good God which deals so graciously with us." Ninety Indians, headed by King Massasoit, arrived at the settlement in the nick of time and shared in the feast. This celebration was somewhat previous, for not long after the Pilgrims were down to plain lobster without bread, and spring water, "which," said Governor Bradford, "somewhat impaired the freshness of our complexions." As well it might.

The Puritan settlers of Nantasket fared little better tham the Pilgrims some years later. On Feb. 9, 1631, provisions had reached a vanishing point. The last flour in the colony was baking in Governor Winthrop's oven. It was the day appointed for a public fast. At the last moment the ship Lyon was sighted. The fast was immediately changed into a feast. This is generally held as the first regular Thanksgiving day in New England.

After this date thanksgivings were held every now and then, as the occasion for them arose. A general day of thanksgiving was held in all the churches in New England on June 15, 1637, to celebrate the signal victory over the Pequoit Indians at Fort Mystic. The success of the synod in settling the religious creed of all New England was also celebrated in a special thanksgiving Oct. 11 of the same year.

Forty years later Governor Andros attempted to make the New England colonists give thanks in obedience to his commands. He appointed the first day of December, 1687, as a day of thanksgiving. People were about tired of the governor's arbitrary ways by this time and nobody thanked worth a cent. Several of those who would not dance to Governor Andros' piping were hauled before the courts to answer for their contempt. One sturdy old Puritan answered that "he was above the observation of days and times."

This was not the last of the high-handed governor's attemps to make the colonists give thanks they didn't want.

When James II expected an heir in direct succession to the English throne the stubborn Puritans of New England were told to be thankful on April 18, 1688, that they were to be ruled by a race of Catholic kings. They seemed to appreciate the prospect so little that Aug. 24, in the same year was also ordained as a day of thanksgiving by the governor to commemorate the birth of the ill-fated wanderer who was afterwards known as the elder pretender.

On this day the colonists were'nt any happier than the pretender would have been himself if he could have foreseen his own future.

Queen Anne gave some more favorable opportunities of observing national thanksgivings. April 5, 1703, was thus held with great rejoicings to celebrate the first of Marlborough's victories over the French in Holland. All the American colonies had a good time on Aug. 2, 1704, when salutes were fired and general illuminations were held to commemorate the great victory of Blenheim by the same commander.

Of all the thanksgiving days held in obedience to orders from the English crown, that of Nov. 13, 1759, touched most nearly the hearts of the future American nation. For in that year the gallant Gen. Wolfe, aided by some of the best blood of the colonies, had stormed the heights of Abraham and taken Quebec from the French.

The beginning of the end was seen in the Thanksgiving held by the colony of Rhode Island on June 15, 1763. That day was proclaimed a general holiday by the governor at a request of the general assembly, "in acknowledgment to the Supreme Being for the repeal of the late act of Parliament imposing stamp duties."

Thenceforth national thanksgiving days rested on the surer foundations of the people's will. During the revolutionary wars the observance of an annual national holiday was recommended by Congress, and faithfully kept by the whole people. In 1789, Washington, in a message to congress, recommended the setting apart of a day of thanksgiving to celebrate the adoption of the constitution. The overthrow of a local rebellion in 1795 was similarly observed, in accordance with the tenor of another message by the president.

In 1715, President Madison proclaimed a day of national thanksgiving on account of the peace which closed the war of 1812. For forty-eight years no such day was observed, until the custom was revived by Lincoln in 1863.

During all this time the New England states were holding annual thanksgivings on their own account.

It is but fitting that in the evolution of this truly national holiday the original occupiers of the soil should have their part. The Protestant Episcopal prayer book of 1789 gives the first Thursday in November as the day for the observance of an annual thanksgiving, except some other day is selected by the civil authorities.

The time now taken every year by the latter is the last Thursday of November. It was about this time each year that the American Indian was wont to build great fires in the woods and roast the flesh of the deer and bear and boil the corn and stew the pumpkin and make the welkin ring with the noise of his feasting, singing and dancing before the long winter closed down.—New York Sun.

HOW CRIPPLE CREEK WAS NAMED.

How many years ago was it that the cry of "Pike's Peak or bust" rang across the continent and adventurous men flocked to the Rocky mountains in search of hidden treasures? Thirty-five? And now not 20 miles southwest of the grand old sentinel of the divide the cry is heard again and 30,000 souls are encamped where five years ago roamed peaceful herds and unsuspecting cowboys. In the autumn of 1890 Farmer Womack chanced upon what he thought looked like "Yellow stuff." When on taking specimens to Colorado Springs to be assayed he learned that they returned thousand of dollars to the ton, Dame Rumor whispered that another Leadville was in sight. Soon after, two men of pluck, F. F. Frisbee and E M. de la Vergne, braved a blizzard and tramped across the hills of Hayden's Divide until they found refuge at the cattle ranch of hospitable George Carr, who laughed at the idea of gold being found on grazing lands. Nevertheless the prospectors found rich "float," located claims and retured to Colorado Springs with news that went round the world.

What became of Womack, the pioneer? Go into Poverty Gulch and you'll find a log cabin, the first human habitation built in Cripple Creek. There lives Mr. Womack, who came to Colorado in 1876, and, going into cattle raising, chose Cripple Creek as the home ranch. There in 1881 he discovered free gold that ran $200 to the ton. He located a claim, which he abandoned on being told by wise men that the formation was all wrong, that gold must come out of the fissure vein in granite to be lasting, that the rock he found didn't belong there, that it was dropped by a glacier or came from some other part of the globe by some amazing hocus pocus, that the conditions were all wrong and that he must not waste his time and money. So Robert Womack abandoned "Grand View," though still cherishing the belief that an oar body would be found near the "float" that excited the scorn of the knowing. Ever seeking, it was in 1890, as I have stated, that he discovered a vein, and named it El Paso. What did he do but sell the mine now known as the Gold King? To-day nearly all of Gold Hill, including Grand View and Gold Hill, is owned by the Anaconda mining company, of which D. H. Moffatt of Denver is president. Ore shipped from these mines runs from $200 to $800 a ton, the main vein being 50 to 80 feet thick, I am told. Nobody pretends to compute the value of this great property.

While the tenderfoot rushes in and makes a strike, Robert Womack, the father of Cripple Creek, sells town lots for a living. Luck has never favored him with another mine, though 200 claims have been located in a district of the Golden Circle.

"Why is this old cowboy pasture called Cripple Creek?" was my first question on entering Arequa, a most dejected-looking camp.

"Do you see that house there?" said the driver, as we approached a broken-down shanty.

"Yes, what of it?"

"Well, it was occupied by a family that got invited to a dance by some neighbors who lived several miles off. 'Can't go; we're all broke up,' says the Arequa folks. 'Sam's got the rhematiks; Lize has a fever; Tom's broke his arm; the cow's broke her leg, and the horse ran away. But you come over to Cripple Creek and we'll do the best we can.' Sure enough, the neighbors came over to Arequa and that's the way the creek got called Cripple." There is still another legend to the effect that a cowboy fell while herding a steer in that creek. Steer, horse and rider came to grief. The horse broke his leg, the steer broke his neck, and the rider broke his arm. I'm inclined to think the cowboy version is the truth. Once a letter sent from England was addressed to Lame Stream, Col. It went direct to Cripple Creek, where it was received by the person for whom it was intended.

A prominent up-town man tells the following story on himself. He says: "I was in Chicago a short time ago, and, knowing that I would receive through the post office a money order within a day or two, I went around to the opst office to identify myself to them in advance.

"I am expecting a money order to the amount of——," I said to the clerk in that division, "and my name is——." I showed him some letters addressed to me from other parts. "Now," I continued, "if I am not the man I claim to be I must have killed him, and am now impersonating him." The clerk laughed, but I could see, I thought, visions of more Holmes murders were floating through his mind. Well, the order came on time, and when I called to get the money the same clerk was at the desk. He took one look at me, sized me up, and without more ado counted out the money and handed it to me, saying: "Oh, yes; you're the fellow who murdered the man."—Philadelphia Record.

"Now that we are married Penelope, and have nothing to conceal from each other, how—" "I'm 29, George. How much did you give the preacher?" —Chicago Tribune.

The Journal.

FRIDAY EVENING, NOVEMBER 29, 1895.

LOCAL NOTICES.

Thomas Lodge.

Annual communication of Thomas Lodge, F. and A. M., Monday evening, December 2d, at 7.30 o'clock. Collation.

PER ORDER OF THE W. M.

H. W. McGREGORY, Sec'y.

Opera House to-morrow afternoon and evening. The Noss Jollity Co. A musical comedy company.

Something new, Celery Cigars; good for the nerves; try them. Sold by LeGro & Lynde.

The comedy sensation, "Plays and Players," Opera House, Wednesday, December 4th. Seats at Allen's, Monday morning.

FINE STATIONERY.—Blue is the fashionable shade for ladies' correspondence paper now, and "Ciel Bleu" is the very latest and most correct. "Prince of Wales" is another popular style, and comes in four shades, Silver Blue, Cream, French Grey and Beryl. Samples of all these papers and the fashionable sizes now prevailing can be seen at the JOURNAL Office.

PALMER NEWS.

A Thanksgiving Reunion.

One of the most pleasant Thanksgiving gatherings in town was the annual reunion of the Holden family. A dinner was given by Mrs. Eliza A. Holden at the Converse House at 2.30, after which the entire party adjourned to the residence of H. P. Holden. Refreshments were served here also, and speeches and merry making were the order of the day. The party did not break up until late in the evening. A fire-course dinner was served at the Converse House, the menu being as follows:

Consomme a la Royal.

Finger Rolls. Celery.

Baked Stuffed Blue Fish, Wine Sauce.
Saratoga Chips.

Vermont Turkey, Stuffed, Cranberry Sauce.
Mashed Potatoes. Squash. Turnips.

Chicken Pie, Home Style.
Browned Mashed Potatoes. Green Peas.

Frozen Pudding. Lady Fingers.

Fruit. Cheese.

Tea and Coffee.

Mrs. Holden is the oldest of the family, and although well past 80, is much more spry than many younger women. For several years she has been in the habit of giving Thanksgiving dinners, and the event is looked forward to with a great deal of pleasure by all who attend. The following is a list of those present: Mrs. Eliza A. Holden, Mrs. R. P. French, Mrs. C. B. Bosworth, Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Holden, Mr. and Mrs. Lewis R. Holden, Mr. and Mrs. E. Shaw, Charles D. Holden, Miss Charlotte L. Bray, Raymond Holden, Irving Shaw, Alice Shaw, Florence Shaw, Mr. and Mrs. H. P. Holden, George S. Holden, Miss Katherine Cramer, Mary S. Holden, Mr. and Mrs. John S. Holden, Arthur J. Holden, Mr. and Mrs. G. H. Bickford, Miss Lulu J. Holden, Miss Florence Holden, Clarence Holden, Mr. and Mrs. Dana Buxton, Bessie Buxton, Bernice Buxton, Warner Buxton, Blanche Buxton, Beatrice Buxton, Lula Buxton, Mr. and Mrs. D. F. Holden, Rosa Holden, Lizzie Holden, Mr. and Mrs. Frank B. Pope, Lewis Pope, Olive Pope, Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Hart, Eliza Hart, Edward Hart, Hubert Raymond Hart.

Miss Edith Hobson is home from West Granville.

G. E. Buck and family spent Thanksgiving at Willimantic.

All the schools of the town will resume work next Monday.

N. W. Chandler was home from New York for Thanksgiving.

Miss Lilla Huntington is clerking in S. H. Hellyar's Bargain store.

John Miller of Warren paid $5 in court this morning for drunkenness.

W. H. Hitchcock and family spent their Thanksgiving with friends in Boston.

Thomas Lodge of Masons will hold its annual meeting next Monday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. L. E Chandler have gone to Lunenburgh, Vt., for a stay of a week.

Mrs. S. C. Hunt and daughter, Mrs. Barlow, have gone South for the latter's health.

Mr. and Mrs. L. K. Sprague and son Rufus of Boston are guests of Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Stone.

Mrs. L. E. Carpenter announces a special sale of all kinds of aprons, to commence to-morrow.

Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Sexton of Concord, formerly of Palmer, are spending the week in town.

The Ladies' Tuesday Social Club will meet next Tuesday afternoon with Mrs. G. H. Wilkins.

Oliver LaSalle is building a house at the head of Central street; G. W. Lyman has the contract.

F. D. Barton and family spent Thanksgiving with Mr. Barton's mother in North Brookfield.

C. G. Shaw, who has been employed as loom-fixer at Holden & Fuller's mill, has left their employ.

The ladies of the Baptist church will give one of their famous chicken-pie suppers next Tuesday evening.

Miss Ruth Fiske entertained a few of her young friends with a birthday party last Saturday afternoon.

The farm of the late Talma and Loman Brown has been sold at auction to W. D. Cowles of Amherst for $3750.

Thomas Lodge, F. and A. M., will hold its annual communication next Monday evening, to be followed by a collation.

Mr. and Mrs. S. H. Hellyar entertained a small party of friends at their home on Thorndike street Monday evening.

Rev. F. J. Hale of Bondsville will preach in the Congregational church next Sunday morning, in exchange with the pastor.

H. P. Holden and Thomas Blanchard are to take several horses to New York next week to the Kellogg sale of trotting stock.

Dr. Roller's dental practice has increased to such an extent that he is obliged to keep his office open evenings, to fill his engagements.

Dr. S. H. Ellery is soon to leave Palmer for California, and will sell his horses, wagons, and stable articles at auction to-morrow.

Thunder showers are not frequent at this season of the year, but there were several peals of thunder during the rain of Tuesday afternoon.

Masses will be at 8.30 and 10 30 next Sunday at St. Thomas's Catholic church, the first Sunday of Advent, with Sunday school at 3 p. m. and vespers at 7.30.

The Sons of Veterans are to give a ball in the opera house on the evening of December 31st, giving an opportunity to dance the old year out and the new year in.

Mr. and Mrs. John B. Dawson attended the crystal wedding of Mr. and Mrs. James J. Casey of Holyoke. Last Monday Mr. and Mrs. Casey were formerly residents of Palmer.

At St. Paul's Universalist church next Sunday morning Rev. H. F. Moulton will preach on "The Pulpit's Message to Young Men and Women, as Students, Clerks and Employes."

The Ladies' Social Union of St. Paul's Universalist church has in rehearsal "Madam Plunket's Singing School," for presentation in connection with their annual turkey supper the 10th of December.

Arrangements have been made for a course of union temperance meetings, under the auspices of the W. C. T. U., the first to be held in St. Paul's Universalist church a week from next Sunday evening, at 7 o'clock.

There was but a small attendance at the meeting of the Congregational parish Monday evening, when the question of free seats for the coming year was to be acted upon. It was voted to make no change in the method of renting the seats.

Mr. and Mrs. C. K. Gamwell entertained a party of friends at the Converse House yesterday afternoon. Besides Mr. and Mrs. Gamwell the party consisted of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Gamwell, Mr. and Mrs. F. R. Lawton and E. B. Sparrow and daughter.

The board of trade will hold a meeting in the public library rooms next Monday evening at 7.30 to see what disposition shall be made of the money in the treasury, something like $80. It is suggested that the library association could make good use of it in the purchase of books.

The many friends of J. W. Trumble, formerly of Palmer, son of Mr. and Mrs. P. S. Trumble, will be pleased to hear of his marriage on the 9th to Miss Cora Rathburn of Duluth. They go to Minneapolis to reside, where Mr. Trumble has charge of the Lehigh Coal Co's. business at that point

The Quaboag Literary Circle will meet this evening in the reference room at the library building. Miss Helen Converse will give a recitation, Miss Ely will read the Round Table, and O. P. Allen will read a paper on the origin and growth of the English language. All are welcome.

The Y. P. S. C. E. of the Congregational church will give a social in the church parlors next Wednesday evening. Instead of the usual admission fee a thank offering will be received, which will go toward replenishing the society's treasury. The semi-annual election will take place the same evening.

The service at the Congregational church next Sunday evening will be a special one under the care of the Men's Sunday Evening Club. The subject will be "Our Heathen Ancestors," and papers will be presented by members of the club. A special musical programme has been arranged, and a special effort made to make the service one of profit and interest to all.

Home for the Thanksgiving vacation—Miss Edith Hobson from West Granville, Clarence Wing from Peekskill, N. Y., Charles Atkins and Harold Shaw from Worcester, J. E. Breckenridge from Yale, E. C. Gardner from Amherst, Miss Ada Wing from Brown University, Calvin Hastings from Worcester, Miss Addie Rogers from Albany, N. Y., Miss Alice Brown from Fitchburg.

Local dramatic talent has in rehearsal the "Ticket of Leave Man," which will be given in the near future under the auspices of the Grand Army Post. The cast will be:

Bob Brierly,	G. A. Moore
James Dalton,	Dr. L. H. Hendee
Hawkshaw,	H. W. McGregory
Maltby,	William Lawson
Melter Moss,	W. H. Osgood
Gibson,	W. Brown
Green Jones,	E. E. Brooks
Sam Willoughby,	G. C. Stanchfield
May Edwards,	Miss Paine
Mrs. Willoughby,	Miss Parker
Emily St. Evermond,	Miss Moffatt

H. A. Northrop lost a quantity of cider from a vat in his mill on Park street last Friday. A 60-gallon tank is located in the upper part of the building, and near the bottom is a faucet. Some boys who were in the mill wished to climb up to look in the tank, and used the faucet for a step; it came out and the boys, frightened at what they had done, left the building without saying anything about the matter. The leak was discovered when the cider began to drip through on the men working below, about 20 gallons being lost.

The high school was handicapped by the meanest weather of the season Tuesday evening in the matter of the entertainment by the Wesleyan Glee Club. It had rained for two days, and at the time when people would be going to the opera house the rain was falling heavily and the wind was blowing a small gale. The entertainment was a very pleasing one, the work of the mandolin club being particularly well received. Of course with such weather the entertainment could not pay expenses, and the management is out of pocket thereby.

The annual meeting of the Eastern Hampden Agricultural Society will be held next Tuesday at 2 p. m. in the district court room. One of the most important items of business will be the election of a secretary, as O. P. Allen declines to serve longer, after 19 years of service. The name most prominently mentioned is that of Charles K. Gamwell. Mr. Gamwell has many qualifications which will make him a valuable official if he can be induced to take the office. There seems to be a general feeling among the local members of the society that he is the man for the place.

The inspection of L. L. Merrick post, G. A. R., took place Wednesday evening at the post rooms, and was a very pleasant affair, many of the townspeople being present. Senior Vice Department Commander W. C. Derby of Springfield was a little late in arriving, having taken a train which does not stop at Palmer and was carried through to Worcester. He arrived in season, however, to make an address and entertain the company with a good story and to sing a song. The evening was thoroughly enjoyed by the old veterans, who related many anecdotes of the war.

Charles M. Hutchins, claiming Somerville as a residence, was before the district court on Tuesday charged with drunkenness. He pleaded hard to be let off, but as that was his fourth appearance in the local court, and as he had been released only the latter part of the week before from the house of correction after a year imposed for the larceny of property from a Palmer Italian, Judge Shaw, who was presiding, turned a deaf ear to his requests and gave him a year in his recent quarters, which at the prisoner's request was changed to the same time at Bridgewater.

Harry Leslie and Marie Warren, members of Ullie Akerstrom's company which so recently played in the opera house here, were married in Bridgeport, Ct., the 20th. Stetson's Uncle Tom's Cabin Co. has been turning people away in Connecticut and New Jersey. Hi. Henry's Minstrels have just gone into New York state, having been all over New England. Tony Farrell is in New York state. The Noss Jollity Company, which will present the "Kodak" at the opera house to-morrow afternoon and evening, will come from Hartford and go fro mhere to Worcester.

Mrs. F. A. Warner of Jacksonville, Fla., writes that "since coming to this South land of sand and Florida fleas I have received numerous inquiries from home friends asking if I could send them shells from the sea shore. Yes, and now is a good time to get them, as we have just had a storm at sea and the shore is strewn with fine shells, lovely white corals, sea beans, etc., and I would say to one and all that I am willing to pick up and mail a variety of shells to any who sends a stamp or two for postage." Several handsome shells accompanied the above communication to the JOURNAL.

J. H. Woolrich has sold his Ridge's Food business to G. M. Atkins and S. H. Hellyar, who will continue the business under the name by which it has been conducted since its establishment here 20 years ago, Woolrich & Co. The sale includes the factory building, Mr. Woolrich's residence on Thorndike street, and the land connected with it. The purchasers will take possession January first, and Mr. Hellyar will be the active business manager. The firm is composed of well known men, Mr. Atkins having been a successful contractor here for the past ten years, while Mr. Hellyar's residence in town has been nearly double that time.

The pipes of the Palmer Water Company were flushed Tuesday, and yielded some peculiarly colored fluid in places. The water has had a decided taste and odor for the past two weeks, which Manager Gamwell says is due to the heavy rain, the fall being so great as to wash over the surface of the ground instead of finding its way into the stream which supplies the reservoir through the soil. The long-continued drought of the summer has parched the soil so as to give the peculiar taste to the water. It was thought that flushing the pipes might do something toward remedying the matter; at any rate patrons of the water company will be glad to have the flavor disappear, as it has been doing for the past week.

There are several fond hearts which for the past few weeks have been beating—in pairs—as one, which are now with anguish torn, and somewhere near a dozen fond affections which have been blighted with a more or less severe blight, all on account of the dancing school. The trouble occurred at the session last week; just what the difficulty in each case is would be difficult, and perhaps unwise, to tell, even if known, but at all events two of the young men are now bringing to the lessons different young ladies from those they started the course with, while another is making the best of his falling out and going it alone; another is so disconsolate that he has given up going, though his partner still attends. "And there are others." Meanwhile further developments are awaited.

Opera House Notes.

The Noss Jollity company will present its musical burlesque, "The Kodak," at the opera house to-morrow evening, with a matinee in the afternoon at 2, with prices 15, 25, 35 and 50 cents. The evening prices will, be as usual. "The Kodak" is presented in three snap shots, and abounds with fun, musical specialties, dances, etc.

Next Wednesday evening the attraction will be the musical comedy, "Plays and Players," which is said to be well worth seeing. The Worcester Telegram of Tuesday says of it: "The piece abounds in fun, the whole show being one long laugh. The show was the most amusing that has appeared in the house for a long time. There are 17 members in the company, and every one is an artist." "Plays and Players" is a hodge podge of melody, mirth and music, with a laugh in every line. There is a story on which the skit is founded, but it is not worth taking into account. Upon a slight thread are hung some delightful specialties. Among the artists who make up the fun are Delmore and Wilson, Richie Foy, a comedian of renown, and Frank Latona, the musical tramp. Tom Haley as an Irish Judge, and Al H. Weston, the silver-voiced tenor balladist, are in the company, as well as Miss Annie Whitney, the first to sing "After the Ball," Miss Raymond, and a number of other well-known artists. The company is playing there the whole of this week. Seats go on sale at Allen's next Monday morning.

Probate Court.

A regular session of the probate court was held in the district court room Wednesday, Judge Shurtleff presiding, and the following business was transacted. These wills were proved — of Caroline C. Briggs, late of Springfield, Henry S. Lee and George Leonard executors; Alvin Sibley, late of West Springfield, Arthur A. and Henry A. Sibley executors; Grace N. Hunt, late of Springfield, Judge H. W. Bosworth executor: David McKay, late of Holyoke, Ellen McKay executrix; Chauncey L. Moore, late of Springfield, Arthur B. West executor. Administrattion was granted in the estates of Harriet A. Carr, late of Springfield, Charles W. Richardson and Nancy A. Leet, administrators; and in the estate of Ellen Fitzgerald, late of Springfield, Thomas J. Fitzgerald, administrator. Administrators' accounts were rendered by Ebenezer Brown in the estate of Julia A. Bliss, late of Palmer, and Merrick A. Cooley in the estate of Edward S. Cooley, late of Ludlow, rendered a final account. Alexander Murphy was appointed guardian of Lilla J. and Clarence A. Murphy of Monson, minors, and Abbie L. Flower was appointed guardian of Ida E. Flower of Agawam, a minor. An executor's account was rendered by Estella A. Dickinson in the estate of Semiramis H. Parsons late of Springfield. Sale of real estate in Palmer was granted John W. Hubbard as guardian of Nettie E. Kelsey of Philadelphia, Pa., a minor. A. B. West was appointed trustee of the estate of Chauncey L. Moore, late of Springfield.

BONDSVILLE.

Saturday afternoon and evening. Noss Jollity Co.

Mr. and Mrs. E. E Ryther spent Sunday in Amherst.

Miss Edith Hobson of Palmer is visiting Miss Mabel Ryther.

Otis Sedgwick of New Haven spent Thanksgiving in town.

G. W. Lee spent Thanksgiving with his father in Bennington, Vt.

John W. Fenton of Springfield is visiting his father, Patrick Fenton.

Mrs. E. E. Ryther is visiting her father, George Fleming, of Fosket's Mills.

Miss Blanche Lyman of Palmer was the guest of Miss Florence Bond Sunday.

Rev. and Mrs. F. J. Hale are spending the week with Mr. Hale's parents in Fitchburg.

Miss Ann O'Regan spent Thursday with her sister, Mrs. Frank Carroll, in Indian Orchard.

The Ladies' Aid Society has purchased a new stove for the parsonage, and is also putting on double windows.

Miss Ora Parent of Smith College and Miss Olin Parent of Wesleyan University, Middletown, Ct., are visiting their parents, Mr. and Mrs. O. A. Parent.

Two deaths resulting from croup occurred this week. One was the 4-years-old son of Mr. Mijal, a Polander; the other was the small daughter of Mr. Tatrault.

Miss Annie Bishop of Boston stopped on her way from New York over Thanksgiving with Mrs. Richard Russell, also Mrs. Hannah Bishop and children of Ware.

A number of Odd Fellows with their wives went to Thorndike Monday evening to help celebrate the twentieth wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Page.

The 20th reunion of the Morse family was held at the home of O. A. Parent yesterday. There were 30 guests present, the oldest one being 88 years of age and the youngest six months.

The schools closed Friday for a week's vacation. Miss Barney is spending her vacation at her home in South Hadley Falls, Miss Thayer at her home in Hingham, and Miss Cleveland with her aunt in Norwood.

THREE RIVERS.

Matinee and evening, Noss Jollity Co.

F. E. Hillman spent Sunday in Belchertown.

Miss Alice Sikes spent Thanksgiving with her parents.

Mrs. Chartier is slowly recovering from a severe illness.

Lewis Calkins of Springfield was home for Thanksgiving.

R. C. Newell spent Sunday with his son Harry in Amherst.

Mr. Clapp spent the day yesterday at his home in Florence.

Mr. Chase is spending a few days with friends in Worcester.

Many from this place attended the ball in Union Hall last night.

Ernest Arnold of Amherst is visiting relatives and friends in town.

Mrs. Barnes of Springfield is visiting her son, S. B. Barnes of this village.

Miss Anna Murdock spent a day this week in Belchertown visiting friends.

Mr. and Mrs. Buckland of England were guests at J. Needham's this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Darius Grey's two sons from Worcester visited them yesterday.

Mr. and Mrs. L. B. and Miss Jennie Kendrick were at Amherst for Thanksgiving.

Willie Squier, who is working in Meriden, Ct., spent Thanksgiving at his home here.

Misses Hattie and Lena Warriner spent Thanksgiving with Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Lavine.

Miss Adelaide E. Walker of Belchertown was the guest of her friend, Miss Anna Murdock, this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Upham and daughter, Blanche, were with relatives and friends in Ware yesterday.

Harry Newell and H. A. Barker of Amherst College are spending the Thanksgiving vacation at their homes.

Robert Blair has gone to Manchester, where he will spend a few days visiting relatives and old friends.

The boys turned out and had a rousing game of football yesterday morning. The score is yet a matter to be decided.

Mr. Middleton was unable to attend to his duties in the mill a few days this week, on account of a badly inflamed eye.

Rev. Mr. Dixson of Springfield addressed the Y. P. S. C. E. in the Baptist church Tuesday evening. He took for his subject "The Sunday School." Considering the weather there was a fair audience.

The following pupils in grade 2 were perfect in attendance during the term ending Nov. 22: Sarah M. Barber, Winnie V. Barber, Ludora Camerlain, Annie Cole, Mabel E. Collins, Lila B. Fish, Eva Freak, Gertie Gauthier, May O'Connor, Rexford R. Paine, Harold Ruggles.

Wednesday evening a number of Willie E. Squier's friends met him at his home to welcome him back for a short stay and to give him many proofs of their regret because of his change of residence. The evening was most enjoyably spent, and all voted that there be many happy returns of such a Thanksgiving evening.

THORNDIKE.

Noss Jollity Co. Saturday afternoon and evening.

John Sullivan of Amherst is visiting friends here.

The Misses Connor of Northampton are visiling in town.

Patrick Fleming was home from Chicopee Falls on Thursday.

Miss M. V. Jillson spent Thanksgiving at her home in Orange.

Fred Edwards spent Thanksgiving with his parents in Orange.

Dennis Crowley of Worcester spent the week with his mother, Mrs. D. Crowley.

A large number from this place attended the coffee party at Ware Thursday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles A. Tabor spent Thanksgiving with friends in Rhode Island.

Merrill Prescott, who has been working in the South for several months, has returned home.

Miss Annie McKenzie of North Adams spent Thanksgiving in town, the guest of her brother James.

Mr. and Mrs. James H. Brown spent Thanksgiving in town as the guests of Mr. and Mrs. H. T. Bishop.

Mr. and Mrs. James Moran and family spent Thanksgiving in town as the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Dennis Leary.

Welch's Bohemian Glass Blowers will occupy Union Hall for one week, commencing Monday next. Dancing each evening.

H. J. McCormick has taken the agency for the Bondsville Bakery in this place, where a fresh supply of all kinds of pastry can be found.

Miss Lizzie O'Connor has been confined to her home for the past week on account of injuries received while out riding one day last week.

The glass blowers who will be here for a week commencing Monday, are to give a handsome case of fancy glass work away to the handsomest baby in town.

H. E. Miller of Ludlow, O. B. Miller of Springfield and E. P. Miller of Holyoke, together with their wives and children, held a family reunion on Thanksgiving at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Miller, here.

Rev. G. M. Gerrish of Goshen has accepted a call to the Congregational church here. A reception will be given to the new pastor at the church vestry next Wednesday evening at 7.30. A cordial invitation is extended to all to be present.

Although there was not a very large audience at the presentation of the "Old District School," which was given by the Y. P. S. C. E. at Union Hall on Friday evening, those who attended enjoyed it very much. The make-ups were very good, and the parts were all acceptably taken.

Those who spent Thanksgiving in town were: Mr. and Mrs. Walter P. Bishop of Millbury; Miss Geneva F. Clark from Northampton; Mr. and Mrs. L. L. Keith of Gardner; Charles F. Clark and James Murphy from New York; Miss Nellie Murphy, Enfield; D. Fisher, Bridgeport, Ct.; G. F. Clark, Providence, R. I.; S. W. Moran, Lynn; Charles McCarthy, Adams; John Moran, Ware.

The following pupils have been perfect in attendance during the past month: Arthur Bond, Katie McKenzie, Mabel Clark, Malcolm McKenzie, John Connor, Frank McIntire, John Crean, Florence O'Leary, Willie Crimmins, Wilfred Oryell, Kittie Daly, Bert Rich, George Dunn, Ida Gates, Arthur St. Jacques, Frank Genard, Mary Sullivan, Annie Keefe, Bessie Trumble, Sadie Keefe, Mary Holden, Mary Kerr, Josie Mahoney. Present during the entire term: Josie Mahoney, Malcolm McKenzie, Arthur St. Jacques, Annie Keefe, Sadie Keefe. Pupils in the second primary perfect in attendance for the month ending Nov. 22, 1895: Fred Bessett, Oleva Woisard, Ruth Bishop, George Young, Etta Bond, Maggie Smith, Flora Adams, Arthur Bouthillier, Napoleon Boutot, Annie Brosnan, Peter Cahill, Perley Emery, James Fleming, Patrick Fleming, Mary Grigware, James Holden, Agnes Keefe, Willie Keefe, Edward Morse, George Richmond, Sarah Trumble, Sydney Trumble.

An Old Resident Passed Away.

Henry McGilp, 71, an old and well-known resident, died at his home on Harvey avenue on Tuesday, after an illness of several months. Mr. McGilp came to this place from Fiskdale 23 years ago, and has lived with his son ever since. He was born in Glasgow, Scotland, in 1824. Coming to this country he went to war as private in Co. K, 34th Mass. Vols., and remained in service over three years. He lost an arm in battle nine days before Lee's surrender, and was wounded in the leg and taken prisoner at the battle of New Market May 15th, 1864. The deceased was also a member of L. L. Merrick post, G. A. R. The funeral took place from his late home on Wednesday afternoon, and was largely attended. Four children survive him, three daughters and one son.

Columbian Band's Concert and Ball.

The annual concert and ball of the Columbian band took place Wednesday evening at Union Hall. The weather was delightful and many came from the surrounding towns. After the concert the grand march took place, in which about 75 couples participated, being led by J. J. Kelley and Miss Minnie Lawlor. The band has always been fortunate in having large crowds, and Wednesday evening's party was no exception, as the hall was crowded. The affair was a success in every way. Moran's orchestra of Northampton furnished music and W. C. Gould prompted. J. J. Kelley was general floor director, assisted by John Hutchinson and John Manning. The band was complimented highly for their playing at the concert. Landlord Clifford served a turkey supper, which was partaken of by a large number.

Their Twentieth Wedding Anniversary.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Page celebrated their 20 years of married life on Monday evening at their home on Commercial street with a large number of friends. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. B. F. Clark, Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Bond, Mr. and Mrs. N. W. Bond, Mr. and Mrs. A. P. Adams, Mr. and Mrs. G. D. Mooers, Mr. and Mrs. B. F. Emery, M. M. Thomas, Mr. and Mrs. Charles F. Mooers, Mr. and Mrs. William Lawton, Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Tabor, Mrs. M. E. Murdock, Mrs. E. W. Andrews, Miss Marion Andrews, Miss Cora Clark, Miss Ethel Miller, Mrs. Guillow, Mrs. Stockwell, Arthur Johnson, Master John Lawton. The following were present from Bondsville: Mr. and Mrs. Charles Holden, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Russell, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Morgan, Mr. and Mrs. George Canterbury, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Shumway, Mr. and Mrs. Moulton, Mr. and Mrs. Darling, John Greene, William Whiting; from Three Rivers, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Ruggles, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Ruggles, Mr. and Mrs. Ward. Mr. and Mrs. Page were the recipients of many presents, among them being an oak and plush rocker from Thorndike friends; oak rocker, Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Bond; table linen and towels from Bondsville friends; oak stand, Leon Page; doily, Mrs. Charles Gibbs, Orange; doily, Mrs. J. H. Leedham, Reading, Pa.; silver berry spoon, Mr. and Mrs. Venel Whipple, Minnesota; salad dish, Mr. and Mrs. Truesdell, Palmer; syrup cup, Mr. Griswold and sister, Palmer; berry dish, Miss Kate Fleming; carving set, Miss Lena Page.

BORN.

At Palmer, 24th, a daughter to M. and Alice Healey.

MARRIED.

At Ludlow, 25th, by Rev. A. J. Quick, David Wilson of Ludlow and Sigrid Hansen of Indian Orchard.

At Ludlow, 27th, by Rev. A. J. Quick, Andrew Donaldson and Ellen Carr, both of Ludlow.

DIED.

At Thorndike, 26th, Henry McGilp, 71.
At Warren, 22d, William J. Shea, 44.
At Ware, 27th, Asa Breckenridge, 54.
At Ware, 22d, Jeremiah Welsh.

FOR SALE.—Soapstone stove.
5—34 L. A. CONANT, Palmer.

WANTED.—Competent girl for general housework. MRS. E. G. HASTINGS,
tf—35 Palmer.

FOR SALE.—House on Squier avenue and building lots Pond street, belonging to J. A. Squier estate. Enquire W. W. LEACH,
Palmer, Mass., April 23, 1894. tf—4

DRS. ALLEN AND HAYES, specialists in chronic diseases, will be at the Nassowanno House, Palmer, on Wednesday of each week from 10 a. m. to 8 p. m. Consultation free. Latest methods employed. tf—30

Aprons---Special Sale.

As the holidays approach, most people are beginning to think of appropriate presents for their friends. Many wish to give remembrances, where they cannot afford much outlay, and so make something themselves. The first consideration is what to make, and aprons seem to be a popular choice. This is a waste of time. Handsome aprons can be bought, all ready for wear, for about what the material will cost you. Do you want an extra fine one? Plenty of them on the market. We have a large line of all sorts, from lowest to highest grades. Commencing Saturday, November, 30th, we are to have a special sale. Every apron in the store at a great reduction. These are not old goods, and we are not going out of business, but we shall surely sell them at prices lower than you have ever seen.

MRS. L. E. CARPENTER.

Holden's Block, Palmer.

ODD FELLOWS OPERA HOUSE,

Saturday, Nov. 30. Matinee at 2. Evening at 8.

THE NOSS JOLLITY CO.

In their new Fantastic Burlesque Musical Comedy, "The Kodak."

All fun. No Sorrow. Hear the Musical Tennis Club. The Mandolin Troubadours, the Fairy Bells, the Saxaphone Quintette. See Baby Helen, Little Elsie Lower, the Musical Donkey and the Rooster Dance.

"A remarkable musical family. Its musical features constitute one of the best musical entertainments on the vaudeville stage. As musicians, the members of the company excel. Little Elsie Lower won applause for her dances, and Baby Rogers was a diminutive but clever joker. The performance is clean and wholesome throughut." —Springfield Union.

Matinee prices, 15, 25, 35 and 50 cents.
Evening " 25, 35, 50 " 75 "
Reserved seats at Allen's Tuesday morning.

Odd Fellows Opera House,

Wednesday Evening, Dec. 4.

The musical comedy sensation,

"PLAYS AND PLAYERS."

Direction of Charles C. Stumm, and interpretation by an exceptionally strong company of players.

Annie Whitney, Richie Foy, Frank Latona, Delmore and Wilson, and a dozen others.

The laughing success of the 20th century.

Seats at Allen's Monday morning.

PALMER, MASS., NOVEMBER 28, 1895.

All the members of the original Palmer Board of Trade are requested to meet at the Library Room in this village, Tuesday, December 3, at 7.30 o'clock p. m., to see what disposition shall be made of the funds remaining in the hands of the treasurer. E. G. HASTINGS,
1-35 Vice President.

COMMONWEALTH OF MASSACHUSETTS.

MASSACHUSETTS HIGHWAY COMMISSION.

The Massachusetts Highway Commission will hold a public hearing for Hampden County, "for the open discussion of questions relating to the public roads," in accordance with Chapter 476 of the Acts of 1893, in the Court House at Springfield on Monday, December 9, at 10 a. m.

A. B. FLETCHER,
1-35 Clerk of the Commission.

Be thankful that Turkeys are cheap at Truesdell & Brown's.

Insurance.

of every kind placed at short notice, and all favors duly appreciated.

Yours truly,
S. H. HELLYAR.

For Sale Cheap.

All the material in the State Primary School. Windows, doors, slate, boards, brick, plank, large timber. Sold in lots to suit. Enquire on premises of 1*35 W. PERRY.

DR. O. P. Roller,
Dentist.

Teeth extracted without pain by a new system. The latest methods in dentistry employed.
Office hours from 8 to 12 a. m., 1 to 5.30 p. m.

OPEN EVENINGS.
Lawrence Block, Palmer, Mass.

WINNING ITS WAY.

Last season was the BEST, and we propose to make this still better.

CHERRY BALSAM

for lung troubles is a

GREAT SUCCESS.

We have many testimonials to prove this. And we sold more last year than all other cough medicines combined.

TRY IT.

It heals and soothes the lungs and bronchial tubes. Stops the cough, allays irritation and hacking. The best cough syrup you can give the children.

PRICE 25 AND 50 CENTS.

MADE ONLY BY

LeGro & Lynde,

Next Door to Post Office,
Palmer, - Mass.

Groceries.

RUSSIAN FLOUR—there is no better bread flour made,	$4.25
Best St. Louis,	4.00
20 lbs. Fine Sugar,	1.00
10 lb. tub Pure Lard,	.80
5 lb. pail Pure Cottolene,	.45
1 lb. Pearl Tapioca,	.07
1 lb. Pearl Barley,	.07
4 lbs. 4-Crown Raisins,	.25
1 lb. Best California Rice,	.08
1 lb. Washed Currants,	.09
2 lbs. Seedless Raisins,	.25
3 packages Fresh Mince Meat,	.25
3 quarts Best Cape Berries,	.25
¼ lb. Nutmegs,	.17
¼ lb. Pepper, Cassia, or Cloves,	.06
1 lb. Carrs' Best Crackers,	.07
1 lb. Corn Starch,	.08
1 lb. Elastic Starch,	.09
1 lb. Baker's Chocolate,	.38
½ lb. Baker's Cocoa,	.23
1 gal. Best Molasses,	.50
12½ lbs. Entire Wheat,	.40
5 lb. bag Worcester Salt,	.08
56 lb. bag Worcester Salt,	.70
1 quart bottle Maple Syrup,	.23
1 can Island Brand Lobster,	.22
1 can Lewis Clams,	.10
1 can Warren Salmon,	.10

Smith's Cash Store,

59 Main Street,
Palmer.

Meekins, Packard & Co.

CHIFFONIERS.

Solid oak, five drawer chiffoniers, shaped top, beaded back. Our price $7.00; hard to equal at 10.

A fine line in curly birch, quartered oak, bird's eye maple, solid mahogany and white and gold. In this line are excellent values at $10.00 and 12.50.

Various styles with mirrors.

Fourth floor.

LADIES' DESKS.

Special bargains in solid oak desks at $4.50, 6.00 and 7.50, such as you would expect to pay half as much again for.

The finest stock of mahogany and curly birch desks ever shown in New England,

All styles and prices.

Second floor.

CLOTHES POLES.

A great convenience for very little money. Indispensable in small hall or bed room. We have them at 88c, $1.75 and 3.00. Strongly built.

Basement.

CARPETS.

A clearing sale of all short lengths of carpets is going on here.

Wiltons, Axminsters, Brussels, tapestries, velvets and ingrains. Also oil cloths, linoleums and mattings.

All at about half price, some of them at much less. Bring in the sizes of your rooms. There is sure to be something here for every place.

Basement.

Meekins, Packard & Co.,

SPRINGFIELD, MASS.

Public Auction

of Trotters, Roadsters, Wagons, Etc.

The undersigned, before leaving for California, will dispose of all his live stock at auction at his stables in Palmer, Mass., Tuesday, December 10th, at 10.30 a. m.

Lady West, 2.31¼, (P) 3 years old, trial 2.18½, half on ice in 1.06½, black filly (4) 15.3 hands, by Col. West, he by Egbart, dam by Tom Patchen. This filly's record is no measure of her speed, she is very level headed, grand, fearless roader and a hard one to beat to the snow or road.

Elial E. Bay gelding (7) 15.3½ hands high, sired by Elial G., dam by Ogden's Messenger. This gelding is very stylish and up-headed, fearless of steam or electric cars and is a whirlwind on the road, can and will cover from 15 to 16 miles an hour and a very free driver.

Lucinda, Blk. M. (5) 15½ hands, by Kentucky Prince 400, dam by Messenger Duroc. This mare has paced miles in 2.40, halves in 1.14½.

Chedayne. Reg. No. 24155, Blk. G. (2) 15.3 hands, by Bona Fide by Hambletonian 10, dam by son of Smuggler. This colt is very promising, is good gaited, a fine roader, well broken, fearless of all objects, very handsome and a prize winner.

Bay gelding, one year old, by Solis 19728 by Sultan, dam by son of Happy Medium, sire of Nancy Hanks 2.04, and others. This youngster is a very leggy, strong built, finely gaited fellow and should surely be a very fast one.

Also a number of carriages, buggies, a fine one-man buggy, little used. Cart, bike sulky, harnesses, blankets and all stable utensils. Any question in regard to the above stock will be answered. See large bills.

Sale positive rain or shine.

3-34 DR. S. H Ellery, Palmer, Mass.

WEDDING INVITATIONS. Engraved or printed.

The latest styles and prices right. Samples on application at the JOURNAL Office. WEDDING CARDS.

We canot raise the mercury

but we can make you so comfortable that you will scarcely notice its fall. How do we do it? By selling some of our cold weather specialties.

Cashmere Hose

for ladies or gentlemen, at 25c a pair, they are well worth 38c. A wool .....hose for 12 1-2c.....

Underwear

at prices ranging from 25 cents upwards. Some splendid values at the .....prices asked.....

Clothing, Etc., Etc.

Flannelette wrappers, shirt waists and skirts, jackets, capes. Men's and boys' ulsters, suits and capes. Comforters and blankets at all prices. In fact, what you ....need is what we have.....

D. L. Bodfish, Cross Block, Palmer.

G. A. Moore,.....Watch Maker and Jeweler, Palmer.

Holiday Season of 1895.

Our first anniversary in business is close at hand, and we would draw attention to some of the changes that have been made during the past year.

We have increased our stock from time to time till we now have more than three times the amount of stock on hand a year ago. The stock has

The Journal.

FRIDAY EVENING, NOVEMBER 29, 1895.

NEIGHBORHOOD NOTES.

MONSON.

LOCAL NOTICES.

Opera House, Palmer. Saturday Matinee and evening. Noss Jollity Co.

Opera House, Palmer, Wednesday, December 4th. The comedy sensation, "Plays and Players."

Beginning of the Revival Meeting.

The union evangelistic meetings led by Rev. W. A. Dunnett of Hamilton, Ontario, assisted by the Canadian gospel singers, H. J., Bert and Miss Jessie Rines, were opened Tuesday evening in the Methodist church. If thorough-going, systematic work counts as much in the "King's business" as it does in the world's business, there can be no doubt of the success of these meetings. Committees have been appointed to look after the various departments of the work, and Mr. Dunnett shows at sight that he is a born general. The committees are as follows: Chairman of general committee, E. F. Morris; secretary, R. Shaw; treasurer, C. A. Bradway; music, A. D. Norcross, H. G. Rogers, E. J. Osborne, C. C. Keep; ushers, Myron Blanchard, A. M. Walker, C. A. Bradway, R. E. Shaw; finance, Horace Squier, H. A. Felton, E. P. Keep, F. D. Rogers; printing, G. L. Keeney, T. H. Todd, G. L. Fuller. C. P. Dow, Myron Wright; canvassing, H. E. Bugbee, F. M. King, W. A. Beattie, J. W. Hall, W. H. Horton, E. P. Keep. The attendance at the meeting Tuesday evening was good, when the weather is taken into consideration, and all present were repaid for the effort of going by the singing alone. Mr. Dunnett preached a short sermon from acts, 3:6, giving something of an outline of his way of proceeding, and after the meeting met the committees. The meeting Wednesday evening had an increase in members, interest and helpfulness. Rev. Mr. Dunnett preached a strong sermon upon the importance of doing what we could for the salvation of our own souls, our homes and the community. The Rines family won universal commendation for the sweet and pathetic spirit in which they sang, especially the closing hymn, "The Broken-hearted." A platform has been erected extending across the pulpit end of the church, upon which are seated the singers, general committees and officials of both churches. It must be a source of great encouragement to the evangelist to know he is surrounded by such a body of representative men as his aids in this work. Thursday morning there was a Union Thanksgiving service in the Congregational chuch at 10.30, the evangelist making the address. There was no meeting last night, but there will be a meeting to-night, Rev. Mr. Dunnett preaching the sermon at 7.30. The Canadian gospel singers are winning the hearts of the people by the spirit and understanding with which they sing, and Mr. Dunnett has demonstrated that he is a master of assemblies.

Firemen's Annual Ball.

The Monson fire laddies held their eighth annual concert and ball at Memorial Hall last night, and nothing was wanting to make the affair a grand success. The music, by Leitsinger's First Regiment Orchestra of Brattleboro, Vt., made the stiffest of stiff toes tingle, the prompting by Prof. E. Wales of Concord, N. H., was excellent, and the company went prepared to have a good time. The grand march, in which there were 150 couples, was led by Chief Engineer David B. Needham and Mrs. R. F. Bradway, followed by Arthur Orcutt and Miss Shearer of Palmer. Among those present were E. P. Donovan, Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Bills, Mr. and Mrs. E. Howlett, Mr. and Mrs. L. W. Hutchinson, Prof. Treadway and son of Westboro, Dr. A. T. Robinson of Mansfield, J. W. Herren of Norwich, Ct., H. F. Miller and F. A. Bugbee of Willimantic, Ct., J. C. Sullivan, A. Borona and Dr. H. Comins of Stafford Springs, P. A. Lyons and Fred Gast of Springfield, John F. Crowley, J. N. Graves, Charles Howard, R. M. Reynolds, R. P. Cushman, R. H. Cushman, Dr. C. W. Jackson, M. F. Moore, Dr. A. D. Coleman, Elba Hodge, Richard Gavin, Wm. Burdick, N. A. Bugbee, F. G. Severy, Misses Alice Crossman, Musa Babbitt, Lena Babbitt, Grace Cushman, Gerty Gage, Helen Tucker, Margaret Gavin, Annie Brennan, Minnie Gilligan, Bernice Oakes, Mary Murphy, Rebecca and Mary Kennedy, Ella Bills, Delia Gavin, Julia and Annie Gallivan, Hannah Leahy, Mollie and Annie Lewis, Julia Keefe, Libbie Egleston, Ella Dalton, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Anderson.

Narrow Escape from Death.

Newsdealer William Murphy has cause to thank Marcius Lull for saving him from being burned to death last Friday night. The Palmer JOURNALS had just come in and Mr. Murphy was getting them ready for his customers, where in some way his head came in contact with a large kerosene lamp. The lamp was overturned and the oil spilled upon Mr. Murphy's clothing. In his efforts to put out the fire on the floor he threw a heavy coat upon it. This caused the blaze to spread from under the coat to his clothes, but he did not know it. It seemed to him that the entire floor must be on fire, and he ran out of doors. Two young men put their overcoats around him, but these failed to extinguish the fire. Just then Mr. Lull drove up, and seizing a horse blanket wrapped it around the poor fellow, and in a few moments the danger was over. Mr. Murphy was taken to the office of Dr. George E. Fuller, and his burns dressed. They were not very deep, but the blisters upon his hands, arms, back, legs and feet are numerous. His nose, eyebrows, and hair show also how close a call he had.

Burglars Frightened Away.

It is some time since Monson has been treated to a burglar sensation, and it is hoped that the bad luck which the men had who entered Miss Esther R. Holmes's house at 2 o'clock last Friday morning may discourage anything further in that line. Clifton Reynolds, a cousin of Miss Holmes, who is spending the winter with her, was awake at the time, and hearing what seemed a suspicious noise in the front hall below, armed himself with a heavy stick and crept to the landing. Guided by whispering which he heard, he threw the stick, and shouted. This aroused the household, consisting of four persons besides himself, and of course, frightened the thieves away. They had entered by the front door, a mark upon the end of the key showing that the lock had been picked. There is no clue to the identity of the men.

Miss Florence M. Converse is at Wales for the week.

There will be a meeting of the school committee this evening.

Landlord Foley and wife are stopping at the Cushman House.

Mr. and Mrs. John Cross spent Thanksgiving in Norwich, Ct.

The Academy closed at noon Wednesday for the Thanksgiving recess.

Harry C. McMaster of Allston spent Thanksgiving with relatives in town.

Miss Esther Holmes spent Thanksgiving with relatives at Saratoga Springs, N. Y.

Miss Clara A. Wood, superintendent of schools, is spending the week in Springfield.

Frank Blackford, of Tufts College, is spending the week with his brother, Rev. Harry Blackford.

L. G. and George L. Cushman are to add a herd of cream cows to their farm, to supply cream for the creamery.

Profs. A. N. Burke and J. S. R. Coy attended the Paderewski recital in Springfield Wednesday evening.

A union Thanksgiving sevice was held in the Congregational church yesterday morning, Rev. F. S. Hatch having charge.

Mr. and Mrs. G. D. Liddell and son Albert, of Providence, were guests of Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Potter over Thanksgiving.

Where are the telephones promised some months ago? The Bell Telephone Co. would find it to its interest to build the line at once, if at all.

The Misses M. & M. Gavin, in order to make room for their stock of holiday goods, will have a mark-down sale of their stock for the next two weeks, beginning to-day.

It is said that many of the land owners on the quarry road to Palmer are willing to give whatever land is necessary for the electric road in order to have the road built that way.

The new owners of the Cushman House are making many alterations with the property. Among the improvements a bath room is to be added. Monson has long felt the want of a public bath house.

The brick foundation for the cover to the collecting well of the Monson water works has been laid, and the cover will be on soon. The cover is conical in shape and is furnished by the R. F. Hawkins Company of Springfield.

There was a quiet wedding at the Day's house in the rear of the bank building, Wednesday evening at 7.30, when Joseph Foster of Warren and Emma G. Mellville of Monson were united in marriage by Rev. W. H. Marble.

At the special town meeting, which was called to see if the town would accept a road from North Main street to the New London Northern Railroad, held Wednesday afternoon at Memorial hall, the town voted to accept the road as laid out, giving E. J. Foskit $150 damage.

Mr. Clifford, manager of the recently purchased Cushman Hotel property, is receiving many names for the new hotel. Over 30 names have already been sent in. The date for closing is Dec. 10th, and a month's board goes to the one sending the name that is selected. Should the sender not care for the month's board, there are many who would appreciate it.

Rev. F. S. Hatch, who recently purchased "Helena Scituate," a beautiful Jersey cow from the Hood farm, the property of the proprietors of Hood's medicines, writes as follows to her late owners: "Helena attracted considerable attention when she was led up from the station. People stopped to remark upon her beauty, and one man said she was so handsome that he would steal her if I did not keep her locked up."

Great was the people's amazement, and greater yet their rejoicing when it was learned Monday afternoon that a strip of macadam was to be put in on Main street. To be sure, the strip is to be but 200 feet in length, beginning at the Monson House crosswalk and ending at the S. F. Cushman crosswalk, but it is a starter. After a rain Main street in a number of places is simply execrable, and macadam is "a good thing,—push it along."

WILBRAHAM.

Bert Soule gave a very entertaining musical to a large party at the residence of his father last Saturday evening.

Worthy Deputy Barton of Dalton inspected Wilbraham Grange, Wednesday evening. The third and fourth degree was worked and the feast committee did their duty well.

The barn of William Eaton presented a lively appearance last Friday evening, when a host of Grange friends and invited guests gathered for a husking. After the work was over refreshments were served, and dancing and other amusements kept the company entertained till the "wee sma' hours."

NORTH WILBRAHAM.

Rev. Edward Camp of Springfield will preach in Grace church next Sunday.

Grace Union church has extended a call to Rev. H. B. Mason of Hebron, Ct., which has been accepted, and Mr. Mason will begin his duties as pastor Jan. 1st.

The Boston and Albany station at this place was entered by burglars early this morning. Thomas Marshall, who lives over Stacy's store, had just retired, and a few minutes after the 1 o'clock express train had passed he heard the report of an explosion. Investigation showed that the safe had been blown open by thieves, the explosion smashing the office windows. Only a few pennies were secured, but the safe is a complete wreck. It can not be ascertaine' how the burglars gained an entrance.

HAMPDEN.

Next Sunday will be observed as Thanksgiving Sunday at the Congregational church, and circulars have been issued by Rev. G. W. Solley announcing the service. There will be ancient anthems sung, and the Rev. Moses Warren covenant of 1789, or thereabout, will be read.

At the union temperance meeting held Sunday night Miss Harriet Sessions, president of the W. C. T. U., exhibited a temperance pledge drawn up several years ago by Ezekiel Russell, who was then 20 years old, now a minister in Randolph. The following were some of the signers: Robert Sessions, William V. Sessions, Gershom Crocker, Daniel Chaffee, Russell Wright, now of Wilbraham, and Dudley B. Post, late of Rodman, N. Y. These and other names were read as an argument against the old argument that those who sign pledges do not keep them.

BELCHERTOWN.

Rev. V. C. Harrington is visiting his mother in Middlebury, Vt.

Mrs. Jennie H. Hook and Miss M. L. Allen arrived home last Friday from their trip to Jacksonville, Ill.

A birthday party was held at the Dwight homestead last week. The occasion commemorated the birthdays of Mrs. Nathaniel Dwight and E. H. Sanford.

Union Thanksgiving services were held in the Congregational chapel yesterday at 10.45. Rev. Mr. Mance, pastor of the Baptist church, conducted the service.

The following jurors have been drawn for the December term of the United States court in Boston: Grand jurors, J. H. Bardwell, Henry Jepson, A. B. Howard; petit jurors, W. M. Goodell, Elliott L. Cummings and Thomas Jenks.

LUDLOW.

Silver Wedding Anniversary.

About 70 relatives and friends of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur D. King met at their home last Saturday in commemoration of the 25th anniversary of their wedding. Among those present were Marvin King, father of Arthur D. King, and Mrs. King. The father is hale and hearty in his 89th year. There were also present brothers and sisters, nephews and nieces and many others. After a bountiful collation and a general good time the company departed, leaving the couple substantial tokens of their friendship, a silver tea service and a large number of other pieces and a sum of money. Mr. and Mrs. King were both born in Ludlow, where they have spent most of their lives. They have one son. Mr. King was among the first companies to go to the Black Hills. He is also a veteran of the war of the rebellion. He has served several years as one of the board of assessors, and is active in politics as a stanch Republican.

WEST WARREN.

Chester A. Bemis is very sick with liver trouble.

The schools are closed for Thanksgiving vacation.

Fred Kendall is home from New Hartford on a visit.

James Grant, Jr., has taken a position in Fall River.

Misses Alice and Clara Gilbert are home from college in Springfield for Thanksgiving.

The Epworth League held a T. C. L. sociable in the M. E. church vestry Monday evening.

Mrs. W. H. Dockham is stopping with her sister in New Hampshire, who has been very sick.

The football game which was to have been played with the Warrens Thanksgiving Day, was postponed.

A delegation from the Epworth League attended the League services at Warren last Sunday evening.

Presiding Elder E. R. Thorndike held the third quarterly conference in the M. E. church last week.

The West Warren Cornet Band played at the opening of the bazar of the Catholic church last Thursday evening.

Misses Agnes and Jeannett Carey have returned from a three-months' stay with their brother and sister in Pennsylvania.

The children of the M. E. church Sunday school filled a number of bags and several money envelopes for the Little Wanderers' home in Boston for Thanksgiving, this week.

WALES.

Miss Grace Needham spent Thanksgiving with relatives in Brooklyn, N. Y.

The trotting mare of the late Dr. Royce has been sold to Brookfield parties.

Rev. H. P. Smith expects to move out of town this week, if weather permits.

Charles M. Thompson and wife have been spending a week visiting in Rockville, Ct.

Miss Alden, the telegraph operator, reports a large business during the last month.

J. M. Lyon and wife of Sturbridge ate Thanksgiving with their son, W. A. Lyon, in Wales.

Artie Parker has been in a very critical condition for a week, and is very low now. Morris Taylor is recovering slowly.

Charles G. Thompson and bride have returned home and set up housekeeping on Main street, where they will be pleased to receive their friends.

H. H. Hall, the local meat man, is confined to his home with a very severe cold which came near to pneumonia. By vigilant efforts he hopes to escape a very severe sickness.

A. A. Cobbett has returned from the South where he has been traveling for several weeks. He now is considering a trip to California, where he intends to spend most of the winter.

Isaiah Hiscock has painted his post office block in colors, and it now ranks with the best in external appearances. Postmaster Royce is also giving the inside thorough repairs in the way of paint and paper.

Auctioneer McFarland sold out the personal property of Mrs. Charles C. Smith Tuesday. She will leave town in about one week and take charge of the household affairs of a gentleman who has recently buried his wife.

WARREN.

A union Thanksgiving service was held in the Congregational chapel last evening. Rev. A. P. Nichols, pastor of the Methodist church, delivered the sermon.

William J. Shea, 44, died at his home on Liberty street last Friday night. His death was caused by pneumonia. He leaves a widow and one small child. The funeral was held Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock.

Rev. Harris G. Hale, pastor of the Congregational church, who has been in New Hampshire for the past two months on account of ill health, returned to-day, and will resume his duties as pastor at once.

At the semi-annual meeting of the Y. P. S. C. E. the following officers were chosen for the ensuing term: President, Charles E. Goodrich; vice president, Miss Gertrude Rand; recording secretary, Miss Cora Adams; corresponding secretary, Miss Edith Chadsey; treasurer, D. L. K. Hathaway.

The members of the Mattawampe Club entertained their lady friends Monday evening at the club rooms. There were 30 ladies present. The evening was devoted to cards and other games, and the following musical programme was rendered: Piano duets, J. E. Lombard and Frank W. Bliss; vocal solo, William H. Hitchcock; vocal quartette, Miss Alice B. Demond, Miss Grace Dockham, William H. Hitchcock and Clarence A. Benson; banjo solo, Frank P. Stearns; vocal duet, Miss Alice B. Demond and Mrs. George De Laval.

The marriage of Miss Emma Ramsdell, daughter of Barker Ramsdell, to Joseph G. Hastings, took place at the home of the bride's parents in this place Tuesday noon, the ceremony being performed by Rev. Dr. H. J. Patrick of Newton, who used his own marriage service. The wedding was a quiet affair, on account of the recent death of the groom's father, Dr. J. W. Hastings. The house was tastefully decorated with ferns, chrysanthemums, laurel and trailing vines of mountain cranberry. After a wedding breakfast Mr. and Mrs. Hastings left on their wedding tour, and after their return will be at home after January 7th at their residence on Maple street.

BRIMFIELD.

Mrs. Adaline Rutan is visiting Mrs. Erastus Coye of Amherst.

Mrs. C. M. Wood of Boston is the guest of Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Janes.

F. Lincoln Peirce is at home from Tufts College for the Thanksgiving recess.

Mrs. Samuel Brown and Miss Julia Warren left last Friday for Brooklyn, N. Y.

The Hitchcock Free High School closed Wednesday for the remainder of the week.

Mrs. Porter A. Parker has arrived home after several weeks' visit in Brooklyn, N. Y.

Miss Margaret Morgan is visiting her sister, Mrs. Carpenter, in Worcester for a few weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. Marshall Allen of Worcester were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Elijah Allen this week.

The village schools closed last Friday for a week's vacation.

W. T. Sparhawk, assistant teacher in the Hitchcock Free High School, went to his home in Randolph, Vt., for the Thanksgiving recess.

Mrs. Arthur Carpenter of Charlton and her little boy are visiting Mrs. Carpenter's mother, Mrs. Gates.

Dr. and Mrs. George Chamberlain spent Thanksgiving in Boston as the guests of Dr. and Mrs. Myron Chamberlain.

Miss Florence Charles Bliss came home Wednesday evening from Bridgewater Normal School for a short vacation.

Miss Jennie Livermore of Chicopee spent Thanksgiving with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Emory Livermore.

The Ladies' Union will hold a sociable at the home of Mrs. F. D. Lincoln this evening. A lunch of ice cream and cake will be served.

Mr. and Mrs. Everett W. Sherman left Wednesday afternoon for New York city, to spend Thanksgiving with Mr. Sherman's mother, Mrs. E. T. Sherman.

Miss V. Wood of Boston and Miss Ella Wood, librarian of the public library at Lancaster, Mass., are the guests of their sister, Mrs. Earle, at Goodale Hall.

Capt. and Mrs. F. D. Lincoln entertained the select whist club last Friday evening, five tables being filled. A delightful evening was spent in their home by the club. Mr. and Mrs. John W. Morgan entertain the club next Tuesday evening.

George E. Hitchcock, who has been confined to the house with a slight attack of scarlet fever, is able to be out again. During his illness the house and market were quarantined, and the two children stayed with their aunt, Mrs. Sarah Kenney of Warren. The market has been opened again. During quarantine the meat and provisions were kept at the house of Frank Hitchcock.

Beecham's pills for constipation 10c and 25c. Get the book at your druggist's and go by it.

Annual sales more than 6,000,000 boxes.

Everybody Talking About It.

Everybody is talking about the great free offer of Dr. Greene's, the most successful specialist in curing nervous and chronic diseases, and who discovered that wonderful medicine, Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy. He makes a specialty of treating patients through letter correspondence, and all who accept his offer are astonished at the marvelous success of this method His office is at 34 Temple Place, Boston, Mass., where he receives and carefully examines every letter sent to him by persons describing their cases and telling him their symptoms. After thoroughly studying each case he answers the letter, explaining the cause of each symptom and telling a sure way to get well and strong. He makes the patients understand exactly what ails them and tells them all about their complaint, and all this is entirely free of charge. They save the expense of a trip to the city, have no fee to pay, and have the benefit of the best medical advice and consultation. Here is an opportunity for you to get well, reader, you can either accept or reject it. Which will you do?

ROYAL BAKING POWDER.

ABSOLUTELY PURE.

A cream of tartar Baking Powder. Highest of all in leavening power.—Latest United States Government Food Report.

ROYAL BAKING POWDER CO., 106 Wall Street, New York.

D. H. BRIGHAM & CO.,

SPRINGFIELD.

Strangers in town this week . . . .

are cordially invited to make our place their headquarters. We will make your stay in Springfield as pleasant as possible, check all parcels for station or delivery in town, giving all the information required, as far as possible, in regard to localities, and especially as to garments and prices, of which we have the most extensive and varied collection in this state.

Special prices on many lines of dresses and garments, including the popular genuine English cravenette and mackintosh waterproof wraps, of which we have the only complete line in this section.

You'll save time, money and bother by coming direct to our place for furs, jackets, capes or dresses for ladies or children, as being the big specialty house of New England. Our assortment is more extensive than all others combined.

Buying very largely makes it possible for us to give you

low prices

in every department, and you'll find many varieties that are not found in general stores.

Choice French flannel and cashmere house gowns.

Entirely new effects in the popular eiderdown house gowns.

Separate skirts and waists, plain and plaid—lined or unlined—all the new fabrics for every day, reception or theater. Hat or bonnet to match, with a choice line of ladies' furnishings, all new and choice effects.

D. H. BRIGHAM & CO.,

SPRINGFIELD.

What use is there in eating when food does you no good—in fact, when it does you more harm than good, for such is the case if it is not digested.

If you have a loathing for food there is no use forcing it down, for it will not be digested. You must restore the digestive organs to their natural strength and cause the food to be digested, when an appetite will come, and with it a relish for food.

The tired, languid feeling will give place to vigor and energy; then you will put flesh on your bones and become strong. The Shaker Digestive Cordial as made by the Mount Lebanon Shakers contains food already digested and is a digester of food as well. Its action is prompt and its effect permanent.

Doctors prescribe LAXOL because it has all the virtues of Castor Oil and is palatable.

Patent Leather Shoes. . . . . .

We have just added a new line of Men's $3 and $4 Patent Shoes that are up to date in every respect. . . . . .

Warm Shoes for Cold Weather.

There is no end to our assortment of Men's and Ladies' Shoes that will make your feet comfortable in cold weather.

$3.00 Shoes.

We are pushing our $3.00 Shoes. See our large assortment in show window. . . . . .

Geo. L. Fuller,

the distributor of fine fitting shoes.

Monson, - Mass.

HOUSEKEEPERS

Please remember that we are headquarters for Thanksgiving Supplies. We have the choicest of everything in our line.

Some of our extra good things:

B. M. C. Best Flour, 1-8th sacks and barrels, Revere brand Coffee, red bags, Formosa Tea, 60c grade, O. & C. Tea, in cans, genuine Cape Cod Cranberries, Northfield Creamery Butter, new and fresh every week, Maple Syrup, 1 gal. cans, it is warranted pure, Sunderland Onions.

Oil Heaters.

The Banner and Puritan. Try one. Take it back if you don't like it.

We deliver promptly.

We make everything satisfactory. We have to.

W. E. Stone, Lawrence Block, Palmer. . . . . .

TELEPHONE CONNECTION.

Forbes & Wallace's,
Springfield.

Such a sale of women's coats as is now going on here!

A sale that is causing the wildest excitement among the trade. Here's the story: A big New York maker has had left on his hands, owing to the depression caused by unseasonable weather, a big lot of women's fashionable coats, made up for one of the large New York stores. What to do, he must start making spring garments in a week or two. "Close them out to Forbes & Wallace," said his representative, "They're in excellent condition to take them." And this letter, received Saturday, explains itself:—

ADOLPH F. HOCKSTADTER & CO.,
84 AND 86 GREENE STREET.
NEW YORK, NOVEMBER 23, 1895.

Messrs. Forbes & Wallace,
Gentlemen:

Your favor of the 22d received, and after due deliberation we have come to conclusion to accept your offer, closing our entire remaining cloak stock at 50 cents on the dollar, and shall forward goods to you to-day.

Yours sincerely,
(Signed) AD. F. HOCKSTADTER & CO.

The coats are the most fashionable things, of rough cheviots, beavers, astrakhan and bouclé cloths. The lowest price will be $7.50; the highest probably $15. Every garment shall be worth almost twice as much as we ask for it.

Such another opportunity has rarely, if ever, come Springfield way. It must be taken advantage of quickly.

FORBES & WALLACE,

Main, Vernon and Pynchon streets,
Springfield, Mass.

W. D. KINSMAN, SPRINGFIELD.

THERE IS COLD COMFORT

in buying unsatisfactory goods or in feeling after you have purchased that you have paid too much for the article bought.

We have sympathized with purchasers in these matters to such an extent that we will not buy goods that are not right, and we do give the greatest possible value for money paid to us. We want the trade of those who are careful, appreciative buyers. See our

BLACK DRESS GOODS.

The "Auvergne cachimere," substantial, smooth, with a highly brilliant luster—those are the words that describe it. We have not only placed the prices low—45c, 50c, 58c, 62c, 65c, 75c, 87c, 95c and $1, but we will also give you a reduction of 10 per cent on them this month. The latest and choicest novelties in boucle and crepon effects and striped mohairs find a place on our counters. The prices are from 75c. to $1.75 a yard. There's a rich warm look in those fabrics that belies their small cost.

DRESS LININGS.

Flaring skirts demand all that is strong and substantial in a lining. Our stock is thoroughly reliable, and the following prices have a story of cheapness in them for the intelligent shopper.

Kid finished cambric, 4c a yard, fast black, 5c, sterling, 6c, colored percales, 15c, silecias, black, white and colors, 12c.

BLACK OSTRICH COLLARS. BLACK OSTRICH BOAS.

Lustrous fluffy masses of feathers giving unlimited warmth and comfort. The prices start at $2.50 and mount by steps to $19.75.

KID GLOVES.

Time-tried friends, ones that come smilingly through the hardest services, these are the sort we offer. The names of the best makes are represented in the stock.

Genuine Foster 5 and 7 hook laced kid gloves, all grades, direct from the makers, $1, 1.50, 1.65 and 1.75, black, browns, tans and beaver shades.

Piques at $1, in browns, tans and English reds. As we've told you, there's more style in these than the price would would indicate. The "Neptune" is a 4-button glace glove with three rows of embroidery. An excellent glove for street wear; price $1.50.

UNDERWEAR.

Cold weather comfort for women, children and infants in this department. Every garment characterized by pureness of material, perfect fitting qualities and fine workmanship. A few prices:—

Jersey ribbed vests and drawers, 38c, 50c, 75c, 87c, $1, $1.20 and upward.

W. D. KINSMAN,

SPRINGFIELD. COR. MAIN AND BRIDGE STS.

To be delivered now, subject to advance at any time. We furnish good men to house and bin same. All coal is screened and delivered in bags.

The Lehigh is as good as any we ever sold. The Lackawanna is the best prepared coal that comes to market for domestic use.

Prices will be higher.

Send your order by postal card or leave it at our office.

SEE OUR PRICES FOR COAL

Prices for Lackawanna:
Stove size, - $5.85 per ton.
Chestnut, - 5.85 " "
Furnace, - 5.75 " "

Prices for Lehigh:
Stove size, - $6.00 per ton.
Chestnut, - 6.00 " "
Furnace, - 5.90 " "

Less than (1) one ton 25 cent added for the load.

Delivered in Bags, which will save expense of housing in many cases.

October 1, 1895.

R. M. & Theo. Reynolds.

Monson, Mass.

WANTED. Good reliable men, to sell our Choice and Hardy Nursery Stock, such as Fruit Trees, Roses, Shrubs and Ornamentals. Ladies make this business a success. Easy work, pleasant, light and profitable. OUTFIT FREE. Apply at once, with references, and secure choice of territory.

F. N. MAY COMPANY,
Nurserymen and Seedsmen, Rochester, N. Y.

F. F. MARCY, PALMER, MASS.
Wholesale and Retail Dealer in
ALL KINDS OF LUMBER AND SHINGLES
Windows, doors, blinds, mouldings. Carpenters' and joiners' work done to order.
Also FIRE BRICK and CLAY for sale.
ard and shop at junction of B. & A. and N. L. N. Y Railroads—west of Depot.

L. H. HENDEE, M. D.,
OFFICE AND RESIDENCE, PLEASANT ST.
Office hours 7 to 10 a. m., and 1 to 3 and 7 to 9 p. m.

Palmer Savings Bank,
Palmer, Mass.
Hours from 9 a. m. to 3 p. m.

President,
H. G. LOOMIS.
Vice Presidents,
GEO. MOOERS, T. D. POTTER, C. H. HOBBS.
Secretary,
WM. W. LEACH.
Treasurer,
H. W. McGREGORY.
Trustees,
James B. Shaw, E. G. Hastings, C. H. Hobbs, George Mooers, R. C. Newell, Geo. E. Buck, H. G. Loomis, F. F. Marcy, A. L. Hills, T. D. Potter, H. Waid, Wm. Holbrook, H. P. Holden, Wm. W. Leach, C. F. Grosvenor, Jas. S. Loomis, C. L. Gardner, H. W. McGregory
Board of Investment,
Geo. Mooers, H. G. Loomis, E. G. Hastings, C. H. Hobbs, James B. Shaw.
Auditors,
Wm. W. Leach, A. L. Hills.

DOWN, DOWN, DOWN,

goes the thermometer; and UP, UP, UP climbs the record in every department of our Mammoth Three Floor Store! Watch the CARS stop at HAYNES & CO'S. From three states they come---the tall, the short, the slight built and the long-way-around men, young men and boys. Every one suited perfectly and leave us expecting to come again. No NEED to get second pick from small assortments; no need to take a misfit; no need to pay BIG prices, not while Haynes & Co. are in business.

Solid Worth Does the Business.

The best Overcoats made in this or the "old world." Popular prices $8, 10, 12, 15, 18.

Stylishly tailored suits. Sacks, frocks, Prince Alberts, full dress suits---every conceivable style and pattern---every suit bearing our guarantee---and a PRIZE for any man whom we can fit perfectly!

GET A GOLD WATCH.	Watch checks given with every purchase of $1.00 or over. For $50.00 in checks and $5.50 cash we give a lady's or gentleman's hunting case Gold watch, Elgin, Waltham, or New York Standard movement. How can you get a Christmas present easier?	GET A GOLD WATCH.

Unusually big inducements now offered in the boys' department. Be sure and get our prices before buying.

HAYNES & CO.,

CLOTHIERS, TAILORS, HATTERS, FURNISHERS.

SPRINGFIELD, MASS.

New Fall Dress Goods.

Plaids have the call, and we show an elegant assortment in 75c, 50c, 25c, and 10c lines.

Teazle Downs are great goods for wrappers and children's wear, and the styles equal to all-wool goods.

In Black Goods the lines are complete in Henriettas, Serges, Cords, and Figured Mohairs.

New Buttons, Braids, and Trimmings. Gloves and Hosiery.

Domestic Department, largest and best assortment shown in the last ten years.

Blankets and Comfortables

at lowest prices.

J. B. Shaw; Feeney's Block, Main Street, Palmer.

Lost Yesterday.

Somewhere between sunrise and sunset, TWO GOLDEN HOURS, each set with sixty diamond minutes, with which you might have secured a glimpse of our immense

Kitchen Department.

This department has been the Mecca of buyers of Crockery and kitchen goods for the last two years. We have paid particular attention to the buying of goods of good quality, and yet by buying in large quantities we have been enabled to sell them at prices of inferior goods. For example, OUR LEADERS JUST NOW

112 PIECE DECORATED DINNER SET FOR $8.24.
A 6-POUND KITCHEN SCALE, warranted accurate, for $2.10.
A HANDSOME PARLOR LAMP FOR $1.98.
10-PIECE DECORATED TOILET SET FOR $1.98.

We are in it also on Furniture, Carpets, Stoves, Ranges, etc., at prices that defy competition.

E. Luther & Co.,

EASY TERMS. SPRINGFIELD. OPP. COURT SQ.

TEETH FILLED WITHOUT PAIN

in every case. And

TEETH EXTRACTED WITHOUT PAIN

in fully 95 per cent of cases.

Also Artificial Teeth that are made right.

Strictly first-class dentistry in every department. Prices reasonable. Lady attendant. Elevator.

DR. WM. L. ROBERTS, DENTIST.

Springfield Office: Court Sq. Theatre Building. Holyoke Office: 291 High St.

FINE STATIONERY.

Many ladies are troubled to find just the size, shade or weight of correspondence paper which they would like. With some thing like

200 VARIETIES

To select from we ought to be able to please you. Any style of paper in any size or shape, and you may have 100 sheets or 1000, as you prefer. We'd be pleased to show you samples at the JOURNAL Office. Your monogram or initials embossed in color if desired.

They're going to pieces both the women who wash, and the things that are washed, in the old-fashioned way. That constant rub, rub, rub, over the washboard does the business. Rubbing is hard work. Rubbing wears out the clothes. There's nothing of the kind, if you'll let Pearline do the washing.

All you'll have to do, then, is to look after it. It'll save all this work and rubbing that does so much harm. But, because Pearline makes washing easy, you needn't be afraid that it isn't safe. That idea is worn out. Just as your clothes will be, unless you use Pearline. 385

Blood

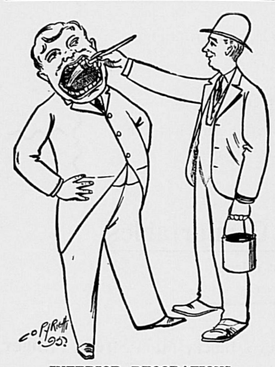
(Trade Mark Registered.)

Wine,

The Great French Hospital Remedy.

Cures Nervous Diseases and Stomach Troubles As if By magic And Is a Great Blood Purifier.

Blood Wine will positively cure all forms of nervous troubles, however caused; we back this statement up with a guarantee to refund the money in any case where the patient is not entirely cured after using a limited amount of the medicine. Why pay one dollar for medicine that will only give you temporary relief, when you can buy Blood Wine for 50 cents and be permanently cured. Blood Wine contains no wine or opiates, and is perfectly safe to give to children. It is not a beverage and cannot be used as such. Over 700,000 bottles of this wonderful medicine have been sold in the six New England states the last year. What a record. Blood Wine stands to-day at the head, and is a



INTERIOR DECORATIONS

will soon be done with Cod Liver Oil. May be you don't know it, but that article is as good to prevent a cold as it is to cure it. If you are troubled with a cough, a prevailing trouble at this season, decorate your interior with some of our Cod Liver Oil Emulsions, we have them all. It will strike through and beautify your exterior, and make you thoroughly enjoy your own society, and others will enjoy it, too. Call for above at

ALLEN'S DRUG STORE,
Holden's Block, Palmer.

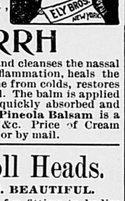
GRATEFUL—COMFORTING.

EPPS'S COCOA.

BREAKFAST—SUPPER.

"By a thorough knowledge of the natural laws which govern the operations of digestion and nutrition, and by a careful application of the fine properties of well selected cocoa, Mr. Epps has provided for our breakfast and supper a delicately flavored beverage which may save us many doctors' bills. It is by the judicious use of such articles of diet that a constitution may be gradually built up until strong enough to resist every tendency to disease. Hundreds of subtle maladies are floating around us ready to attack wherever there is a weak point. We may escape many a fatal shaft by keeping ourselves well fortified with pure blood and a properly nourished frame."—Civil Service Reform. Made simply from boiling water or milk. Sold only in half pound tins, by grocers, labelled thus:
JAMES EPPS & CO., Ltd., Homœpathic Chemists, London, England.

Since 1861 I have been a sufferer from catarrh. I tried Ely's Cream Balm, and to all appearances am cured. Terrible headaches from which I had long suffered are gone.—W. J. Hitchcock, Late Major U. S. Vol. and A. A. Gen., Buffalo, N. Y.



CATARRH

Ely's Cream Balm opens and cleanses the nasal passages, allays pain and inflammation, heals the sores, protects the membrane from colds, restores the senses of taste and smell. The balm is applied directly into the nostrils, is quickly absorbed and gives relief at once. Ely's Pineola Balsam is a sure cure for coughs, colds, &c. Price of Cream Balm, 50 cents, at druggists or by mail.

Windsor Doll Heads.

INDESTRUCTABLE. BEAUTIFUL.

These heads are intended for fitting to bodies made at home, but will fit almost any kind of a body 14 to 16 inches long. They are handsomer than the expensive French heads and will stand roughest handling. The wigs used are the finest imported, have natural eyes and make a most beautiful doll. Mailed anywhere on receipt of $1.25. WINDSOR DOLL CO., P. O. Box 248, Brooklyn, N. Y.

PARKER'S HAIR BALSAM
Cleanses and beautifies the hair. Promotes a luxuriant growth. Never Fails to Restore Gray Hair to its Youthful Color. Cures scalp diseases & hair falling. 50c. and $1.00 Druggists

HINDERCORNS,
The only sure Cure for Corns. Stops all pain. Ensures comfort to the feet. Makes walking easy. 15cts. at Druggists.

THAT JOB OF PRINTING. There's no better place at which to get it done than the JOURNAL Office. Experienced workmen, skilled in every branch of the art.

A Thanksgiving Rhyme.

The sleekest, fattest turkey strutted in and out among
His fellows of the barnyard as he spoke with scornful tongue:
"Am I not the farmer's favorite, the one he feeds the best?"
And his air betrayed the proud contempt he felt for all the rest.

Said the ancient lean and hungry-looking Dr. Turkey-Cock,
The oracle, adviser, and physician of the flock:
"Overeating isn't healthful; it affects a fellow's head."
But not a silly turkey caught the drift of what he said.

"I have often noticed this, my friends," he said with knowing leer,
"That fasting is a profit at the present time of year;
For November is a month in which, if one is overfed,
One may suffer from excitements till at last he'll lose his head."

Still the fat and haughty turkey strutted up and down the place,
And the others thought the doctor didn't understand the case.
But they will see, before the sun is set upon Thanksgiving,
That the doctor knows a thing or two about the art of living.

—Washington Post.

THE PULLET MINE.

Grandpa and I lived alone in California. Grandpa owned a few acres of land, most of which was untillable. A part of it had once been worked over by miners in search of gold.

Grandpa was more than eighty years old, but was singularly well preserved. He was the very embodiment of good temper and good will.

He had long desired to sell our rocky little California "farm" and return to Ohio whence he had come with my parents before I was born. My father and mother died when I was three years old, leaving me in grandpa's care. His dearest wish was to buy a little home near his daughter Isabel, in Ohio, for himself and me.

But no one wanted to buy our little, valueless bit of land, and we could not hope to buy elsewhere unless we could sell that.

Grandpa was too old to work hard, and I was only thirteen years old.

But grandpa was very dexterous with his hand, and used to carve beautiful canes and exquisite mantel ornaments, for which he found ready sale from tourists.

I reared poultry, which we marketed at an adjoining mining town. Our wants were not many, and we managed to live.

My efforts and success at poultry rearing elicited much praise for me from certain of the miners about Oreville. One of them, especially, a man named William Hannin, who had taken a great liking to grandpa, and used to visit us occasionally, took much interest in my turkeys, ducks and hens. Hannin never remained long in one locality, but he was known as a lucky man in the mine.

One evening he came to bid us good-by, and said he was going to South America. A few months after this grandpa received a strange cage by express, marked, "Poultry," from Buenos Ayres. It was a strongly-slated wooden box, divided into two compartments, one of which was empty. The other one contained an awkward-looking bird, very long in the neck and legs.

The empty stall was marked "Rooster—three months old." The one containing the queer bird bore the legend: "Pullet, three months old."

"What kind of a bird can it be?" I asked grandpa.

"Why, it's a young ostrich!" he answered. "There must have been two of them when they left Buenos Ayres, but one of them, no doubt, died at sea, and they had to throw it away."

On the back of the card I found this message:

"MISS NORA CASTLEBURGE: I have offen herd it guessed that the climate of Caliorni would be suitable for ostrich farming. I will send you a pare to try. If they do wel, they wil fetch you some money by and by. Good luck to you and your poultry.—W. Hanuin."

I was greatly pleased with my present. A live ostrich, and from South America! It was something wonderful and delightful to think of.

But grandpa looked a little perplexed and even worried. He knew that our land was not securely fenced, and had no doubt that if we allowed the ostrich to go at large it would run away, while if we kept it closely confined it would consume almost as much grain as a pig, and be likely to die before long.

But he did not spoil my pleasure by speaking his thoughts.

We took the bird home, and grandpa removed the partition from her box so as to give her more room to move about, until he could prepare a better place for her.

I named my ostrich "Pullet," as the card upon her box had designated her. She was quite tame, owing, perhaps, to her close acquaintance with the sailors and passengers during her long sea voyage.

As soon as he could do so grandpa built her a little stable, in which we kept her, taking good care to keep the door shut. But she consumed enormous quantities of grain and vegetables, besides all the grass I gave her, and finally I decided to put her out and let her shift for herself.

I opened her stable door and she walked forth. Stretching herself up upon tiptoe she flapped her small, fluffy wings and then stood motionless.

Something in the free air seemed suddenly to remind her that she once had mates and playfellows of her own species.

So, straining herself to her greatest height, she surveyed the country far and near and called, long and loudly, for her lost companions.

Hearing no response she solemnly walked over to where the turkeys were sunning themselves. With one accord they fled from her, and when she essayed to follow them they used their wings and placed themselves above her reach. Then Pullet looked up and called to them.

The turkeys distrusted her. From their various elevations they surveyed her critically, and cautiously invited her to "quit."

But when, at length, she sat down upon the ground beneath their tree and began to dress her fluffy plumes, they seemed to think better of her. One by one they ventured to descend and walk around her, still eyeing her somewhat spiciously.

But Pullet and the turkeys grew to be the best of friends, and all the summer through, and as long as Pullet lived, her only companions were the turkeys. She accompanied them in their rambles everywhere, over alfalfa fields and through the neighboring gulches.

When the turkeys came home at evening—which I induced them to do by feeding them a little grain—Pullet came also, stalking along in the midst of the flock, quite indifferent to all questions of race or previous condition. Indeed, she seemed to be their self-elected leader, and the rest of the flock followed her obediently.

(CONTINUED IN SIXTH COLUMN)

How's This!

We offer One Hundred Dollars Reward for any case of Catarrh that can not be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure.

F. J. CHENEY & CO., Props., Toledo, O.

We, the undersigned, have known F. J. Cheney for the last 15 years, and believe him perfectly honorable in all business transactions and financially able to carry out any obligations made by their firm.

West & Truax, Wholesale Druggists, Toledo, O.; Walding, Kinnan & Marvin, Wholesale Druggists, Toledo, Ohio.

Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. Price, 75c per bottle. Sold by all druggists. Testimonials free.

Think

Before you decide to buy a medicine, that the large majority of all the diseases which afflict mankind, originate in or are promoted by impure blood.

Remember

That the best blood medicine before the public—the one which accomplishes the greatest cures, has the largest sales—in fact the One True Blood Purifier—is

Hood's Sarsaparilla

Therefore, get Hood's and Only Hood's.
Prepared by C. I. Hood & Co., Lowell, Mass. gl.

Hood's Pills the after-dinner pill and family cathartic. 25c.

FINEST ROAD-BED ON THE CONTINENT.

BOSTON & ALBANY RAILROAD.

Only Double-Track Route to the West.

ON AND AFTER NOV. 6, 1895.

Through Trains will leave Boston as follows:

No. 7.—Day Express.
8:30 a. m.—Daily, except Sunday. Has Wagner buffet drawing-room car Boston to Albany, there connecting with through cars to all points West. Stops at Palmer 10.53 a. m.

No. 15.—Chicago Special.
10:30 a. m.—Daily. The finest train running in New England. A solid vestibuled Wagner train, comprising buffet, library and smoking car, sleeping cars and dining car Boston to Chicago, via the Lake Shore & Michigan Southern R. R., and also via Michigan Central R. R.

No. 19.—North Shore Limited.
2:00 p. m.—Daily. Has through vestibuled buffet sleeping cars Boston to Detroit and Chicago, via Michigan Central R. R. Dining car attached at Albany.

No. 5.—Cincinnati Express.
3:00 p. m.—Daily. Has through vestibuled buffet sleeping car Boston to Chicago via Lake Shore and Michigan Southern R. R., and to St. Louis and Cincinnati via Big Four Route. Stops at Palmer 5.20 p. m.

No. 9.—Pacific Express.
7:15 p. m.—Daily. Has through sleeping cars Boston to Chicago, both via Lake Shore & Michigan Southern and Michigan Central Railroads.

No. 63.—Albany Express.
11:00 p. m.—Daily, except Saturday. Has sleeping car Boston to Albany. Stops at Palmer 1.46 a. m.

TRAINS LEAVE PALMER FOR BOSTON.

6.22	a. m.	Accommodation.
7.52	"	"
8.25	"	Daily Express.
10.00	"	"
11.42	"	Accommodation.
1.40	p. m.	Express.
3.12	"	"
4.42	"	Accommodation.
6.40	"	Daily Express.
7.55	"	Sundays only. Express.
9.03	"	Express.

Time tables showing local and through service between all Stations, may be obtained at all ticket offices of this Company.
City Office, 366 Washington Street.
Station, Kneeland Street, Boston, Mass.
52-32 A. S. HANSON, Gen. Passenger Agent.

BOSTON & MAINE R. R.

SOUTHERN DIVISION
(CENTRAL MASSACHUSETTS)
CORRECTED TO OCTOBER 6. 1895.

TRAINS LEAVE WARE:

GOING EAST

FOR Boston—6.55, 9.00 a. m.; 3.14, p. m. Sundays 6.55 a. m.
RETURNING—leave Boston 8.45 a. m.; 1.30, 4.00 p. m. Sundays, 1.30 p. m.
FOR Worcester—6.55, 9.00 a. m.; 3.14 p. m. Sundays, 6.55 a. m.
RETURNING—leave Worcester 9.15 a. m.; 2.25, 4.58 p. m.
FOR Oakdale, Hudson and Waltham—6.55, 9.00 a. m.; 3.14 p. m. Sundays, 6.55 a. m.
FOR Gilbertville, Barre and Coldbrook—6.55, 9.00 a. m.; 3.14 p. m. Sundays, 6.55 a. m.

GOING WEST

FOR Bondsville, Belchertown, Pansy Park, Amherst, Hadley and Northampton, 7.15, 11.24 a. m., 4.28, 6.17 p. m. Sundays, 4.35 p. m.
RETURNING—leave Northampton 5.55, 8.00 a. m., 2.15, 6.10 p. m. Sundays, 5.55 a. m.

D. J. FLANDERS, Gen'l. Pass'r. Agt.
W. F. BERRY Gen'l Mgr.

CENTRAL VERMONT RAILROAD.

NEW LONDON DIVISION.
TAKING EFFECT SEPTEMBER 30, 1895.

TRAINS GOING SOUTH.

Leave Brattleboro, 5.40 and 10.25 a. m. and 4.25 p. m. for New London, connecting at Millers Falls with Fitchburg R. R., at Belchertown with Central Massachusetts R. R., and at Palmer with B. & A. R. R. for Worcester, Boston, Springfield, at New London with the N. Y. N. H. & H. R. R.
Leave Amherst, 7.05 a. m., 12.13 and 5.57 p. m.
Leave Palmer, 7.05 and 8.40 a. m., 1.50 and 7.15 p. m.
Leave Willimantic for New London, 8.35, 10.10 a. m. 3.25, 6.40 and 8.45 p. m.

GOING NORTH.

Leave New London, 5.20 and 7.40 a m, 2.30 and 5.25 p. m.
The 5.20 and 7.40 a. m. and 5.25 p. m. run through to Brattleboro and make connections for the north.
Leave New London for Willimantic and intermediate stations, 10.00 a. m.
Leave Palmer for Brattleboro, 8.20, 11.00 a. m, and 8.00 p. m, connecting with express for Montreal. Also with Grand Trunk R. R. for the West.
Leave Palmer for Amherst, 8.20 and 11.00 a. m, and 8.00 p. m.

SUBJECT TO CHANGE WITHOUT NOTICE.
D. MACKENZIE, Supt. J. A. SOUTHARD, D. P. A. New London, Ct.
S. W. CUMMINGS, G. P. A., St. Albans.

What Five $1 Bills Accomplished.

This money was invested in five bottles of Dr. David Kennedy's Favorite Remedy. "I suffered for nearly ten years with constipation, jaundice and biliousness," writes Mr. D. Probert of New Hampton, N. Y., "and the best medical treatment I could procure did me no good. A friend of mine spoke of Dr. Kennedy's Favorite Remedy, which I bought, and when I had taken five bottles I was cured. What the doctors cost hundreds of dollars in trying to do, Favorite Remedy did for five dollars." If you are inclined to constipation don't neglect yourself. Dr. Kennedy's Favorite Remedy permanently cures it.

LARRABEE'S RHEUMATIC LINIMENT

A standard and sovereign household remedy for over half a century. It is a wonderful curative agent in all painful diseases, such as

Rheumatism, Lumbago, Neuralgia, Backache, Catarrh, Toothache,

and other painful ailments. To be had of all druggists, or by mail on receipt of 25 cents. Trade supplied by Geo. C. Goodwin & Co., or any wholesale druggist.

WINKLEMANN & BROWN DRUG CO.
BALTIMORE, MD., U. S. A.

F. M. EAGER.

Boots and Shoes Manufactured to Measure.

REPAIRING NEATLY DONE AT SHORT NOTICE.

Dealer in Sewing Machines and Supplies.
Machines to rent or sold on monthly payments.

F. M. EAGER, PALMER.

A PRETTY PICTURE.

Two Little Children Made Strong and Well by Dr. Greene's Nervura.

The Mother Also Restored to Health by That Grandest of All Medicines, Dr. Greene's Nervura Blood and Nerve Remedy.

MRS. H. SILVER'S LITTLE ONES.

Strong, vigorous and healthy children are what we all want, and how to keep our little ones in good health is a question of the greatest interest to us all. Children are peculiarly liable to nervous disorders; they become nervous, restless, fretful, cross and irritable; their night's sleep is not calm and restful, but they toss restlessly from side to side, murmur or talk in their sleep and wake tired and unrefreshed in the morning. They have an irregular appetite, growing thin and pale, look slight and puny, and their growth and development become stunted.

MRS. H. SILVER.

If your children are sick, give that greatest of all children's remedies, Dr. Greene's Nervura, the great nerve and blood invigorant and health restorer. This wonderful remedy is, above all, a family medicine, and its name is a household word in thousands of homes all over the land. It is made from pure and harmless vegetable remedies, is calming, soothing and healing to the nerves, and at the same time strengthens and invigorates the entire system, restoring a healthful color to the cheek, refreshing sleep, strong nerves, stout limbs and that bounding health and vitality which all children should have. It is perfectly safe to give to children of any age, and its curative and restorative effects are wonderful.

Mrs. H. Silver, of 141 Lewis street, New York city, was not only restored herself to health by Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy, but her two children, whose portraits are here given, were made strong and well by this grand medicine. Mrs. Silver says:

"I was nervous for four years so that I could do nothing. I went to different doctors, but none could help me. I read so much in the papers about Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy that I thought I would try it. After the first bottle I felt relieved, so I used a couple of bottles more and now I am all right again. I thank Dr. Greene's Nervura for the good it did me.

"I also have two little girls who were sick, weak, and run down, to whom I gave Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy. It did them so much good that I cannot be thankful enough. It made them well and strong again, and they are now, thanks to this wonderful remedy, healthy and vigorous. Before I took Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy I could not eat or sleep. I could not do my housework, but now I am a different woman. I give this testimonial that other sufferers may read it and know the good Nervura did me and my children."

Use Dr. Greene's Nervura in all nervous diseases of infants and children, and see them improve in health and strength every day and hour.

It is not a patent medicine, but the prescription of the most successful living specialist in curing nervous and chronic diseases, Dr. Greene, of 34 Temple Place, Boston, Mass. He has the largest practice in the world, and this grand medical discovery is the result of his vast experience. The great reputation of Dr. Greene is a guarantee that his medicine will cure, and the fact that he can be consulted by anyone at any time free of charge, either personally or by letter, gives absolute assurance of the beneficial action of this wonderful medicine.

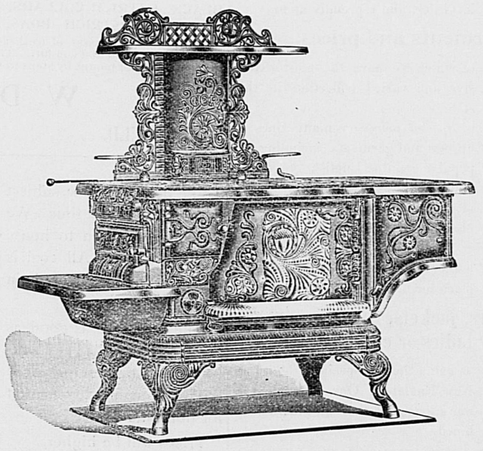
Guy & Fuller Furniture Co.,

409 Main Street, Springfield.

SOLE AGENTS FOR THE NATIONAL ACORN RANGE.

NEW PATTERNS FOR 1895-96.

A strictly high grade Range, perfect in every detail. With or without reservoir or high shelf. . . . . .

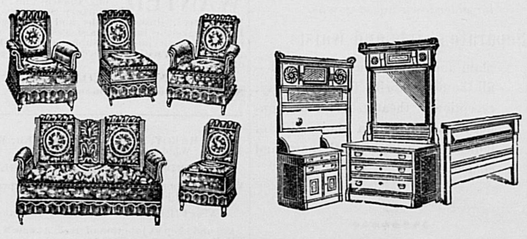


LARGE OVEN WITH THE ACORN SYSTEM VENTILATION.

A constant stream of hot air passes through it, rendering food sweet and more evenly cooked. SYSTEM OF SHEET FLUES, heating all six griddle holes, and enveloping the oven on five sides, this results in a quick baking oven; it will work where other ranges have failed. Large fire box with the new Albany grate cleans the fire with one movement and enables the fire to be kept for months. The flues of the Acorn Range are so proportioned as to prevent the heat from going to the chimney and thereby being wasted. With one ton of coal it does the work that many others do with one and one-half tons. Also many other patterns of Ranges and Parlor stoves.

THE LARGEST ASSORTMENT EVER SHOWN ON OUR FLOORS OF

PARLOR SUITS AND CHAMBER SUITS.



PRICES AND TERMS WILL SUIT ALL.

Guy & Fuller Furniture Co.,

409 Main Street, Springfield, Mass.

When the turkeys flew up to their high perches Pullet would march demurely into her little stall and sit down upon the floor to sleep. Here, every evening, I visited and petted her. Poor Pullet! How I liked her, and what a source of amusement her queer ways were to me!

She was always irresistibly attracted by any bright object, and had a habit of pulling at the buttons upon my dresses and shoes. I had a blue flannel jacket, trimmed with a double row of small, gilt buttons, which sometimes tempted Pullet so strongly that I had to cover the shining disks with cloth in order to save them from being torn off.

I have since been told that all ostriches will pick up and try to swallow almost any bright or lustrous small object.

Pullet was less than a year old when we gathered our first crop of plumes from her. I sold them to a milliner in Sacramento.

Soon afterward Pullet was attacked by a strange malady. I called it a cough and attributed it to a cold caused by the loss of her feathers. For this cough I tried several remedies, but the symptoms grew worse.

At last Pullet came home one evening, lagging wearily several rods behind the turkeys. Upon reaching her stable she stumbled in and dropped down upon the bed of clean hay that I had made for her.

Grandpa came to look at her and said he feared her days were numbered. Her paroxysms of coughing were most distressing.

Next morning Pullet was stretched dead upon her hay.

As she had died of an unknown disease, grandpa thought best to dissect her body.

In the crop he found a fatty tumor, which had evidently strangled her, and, what was more remarkable, in her great gizzard were a quantity of pebbles—vermilion-colored, mottled and white—and a double handful or more of gold nuggets, polished and brightened by the friction and the chemical action of the bird's stomach. She had picked up these nuggets somewhere in her rambles about the gulches, and had swallowed them with her usual alacrity.

After inspecting them closely and guessing at their value, grandpa finished his work of dissection and buried poor Pullet's body. Then he returned and began to separate the gold from the common pebbles in the pan.

"If we knew where she came across these," he said, "we might find more."

Our little "farm" was bounded upon its eastern side by a small mountain stream, which flowed through a rock-walled trough a hundred feet or more deep, and twelve to twenty rods wide. The stream ran for the most part near the middle of this trough, but here and there it veered to right or left and washed against the base of the cliff.

At some points this washing had been continued until masses of rock had tumbled out into the channel. Some of these masses were so large that the floods could not move them, and they lay as they had fallen. Trees were growing upon some of their tops.

A mass of rocks that I named the Leaning Tower was a kind of peak, which at some former time had been split off from the face of the wall. It now leaned out at an angle from the main wall, to which its inner base still clung, while its outer one next to the stream was washed by deep water.

Its inner, or upper base could be reached easily from our house, the top soil and loose shale having slid down into the gap between wall and peak so as to form a gradual slope. From thence a narrow path, close to the wall, led down to the edge of the stream.

Down this path my turkeys often went for water. A few days after Pullet's death three of them were missing, and I went to the trough in search of them.

Walking in careless child-fashion, I almost stepped off a hundred feet in sheer height, for the Leaning Tower had fallen out into the stream, carrying with it the sloping bank of soil and stone, and leaving a bold cliff exposed.

There was nothing for me to do, if I wished to enter the trough, but to go half a mile further up the stream, where another path led down. I hurried on and ere long was at the bottom of the trough, searching for my turkeys.

I reached the place where my Tower lay, amid tons of scattered debris, sprawling across the stream.

It had fallen diagonally, in such a way as to turn the stream out of its course, and to some extent to dam it and to deepen the water upon the upper side.

Stepping from boulder to boulder, and keeping near the wall, I struck at length a stretch of turf and gravel that led easily up on the fallen mass. I climbed it in order to see if my turkeys were in sight upon the other side.

Not seeing them I picked my way down to the level of the stream again.

In a bed of gravelly sand, where the stream had run deep before the present obstruction had turned it into another course, I saw several of Pullet's queer tracks. She had visited this place, then, after the "tower" fell.

I stooped and looked at the tracks closely, thinking to myself that they were the last tracks of hers that I should ever see.

At the bottom of one of these tracks a pebble had been pressed down into the wet sand by Pullet's weight. Aimlessly I picked up a piece of slivered stone and dug the pebble out.

It was a nugget of gold.

Remembering what grandpapa had said about finding more gold where Pullet had found here, I fell to searching the gravel bed minutely.

I picked up quite a number of the yellow stones, and in my eagerness to report my find to grandpa, I quite forgot my missing turkeys, and started homeward carrying the nuggets carefully in my apron.

As I passed again over the mould of earth which clung about the tower's uplifted base, I looked up at the base of the cliff so recently laid bare.

I saw these streaks of glistening quartz and veins of an unknown ore, and one great yellow seam of gleaming gold that looked as if it had been melted and poured down into a wedged-shaped fissure, it was so bright and pure.

Talk about "miners' frenzy!" I know what it is, for I have felt it, and never in my life do I expect to feel again so strange and delightful an exultation.

My feet were like wings. Down the loose mound of turf and shale, from boulder to boulder across the dammed waters of the stream, and up the steep path to the green earth above, they flew with me, bearing to grandpa the news of my wonderful discovery.

Gasping and panting I came to him. I showed him the small treasure in my apron, and told him of the great glittering seam of ore in the cliff beneath our land.

Then I sat down and cried and told him about poor Pullet's tracks in the gravel bed.

Grandpa could scarcely believe that the yellow vein I had seen was actually gold; but the next day an expert who came over from Oreville pronounced it genuine.

The news spread far and wide, and the next week grandpa was offered $20,000 for our little home and a percentage of all the mine should yield above a certain amount.

"I am an old man," said grandpa, "and I cannot work this property. I wish to leave it so that it shall be of the best advantage to this little girl and my daughter in the East. I will accept your offer, and Nora shall name the mine."

I named it, of course, the "Pullet Mine," for had not Pullet discovered it? Within a little time we went back to Ohio, where grandpa lived in peace and comfort to his ninetieth year close beside his beloved daughter.

Dangerous Drugs.

Avoid the use of white or pink headache powders, they contain dangerous drugs. Taylor's Anti-Headache Powders are brown; they look like ground coffee and they have a delightful aromatic taste. Try them once and you will never be without them. Get them of LeGro & Lynde.

35 cents

Colds are serious things. They lead to worse things. A cold is the seed of consumption. Croup is a cold's half-brother—it is generally caused by cold, and many a little life has been snuffed out by it because the proper remedy was not at hand.

Dr. Hooker's Cough and Croup Syrup

gives relief at once. It has saved thousands of lives. Every mother should see that it is always in the house. Don't wait till you need it—that may be too late. Contains no opium—absolutely safe—endorsed by physicians for 50 years. Made only by Charles B. Kingsley, Northampton, Mass.

at Drug Stores

WANTED SALESMEN. We want one or two good men in each county to take orders for a choice line of Nursery Stock or Seed Potatoes' Stock and seed guaranteed. We can give you steady employment with good pay. It will cost you nothing to give it a trial. State when writing which you prefer to sell. Address

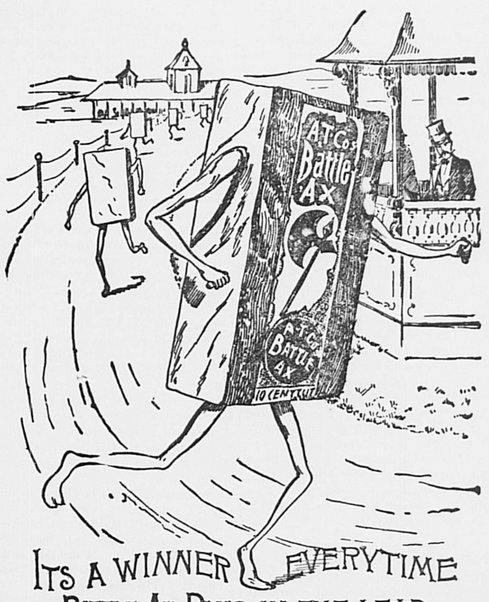
The Hawks Nursery Co.,
Rochester, N. Y.

C. H. HOBBY, PIANO TUNER.

Orders for tuning may be left at O. P. Allen's drug store, Palmer; or may be sent to me by mail to Mansfield, Ct.



ITS A WINNER EVERYTIME

BATTLE AX PLUG IN THE LEAD

BATTLE AX PLUG

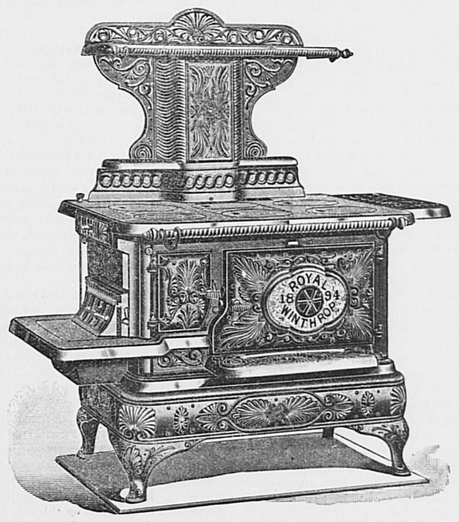
HAS JUMPED INTO PUBLIC FAVOR ON ACCOUNT OF ITS SIZE AND QUALITY. ITS

A GREAT BIG PIECE

OF HIGH GRADE TOBACCO FOR

10 CENTS

THE ROYAL WINTHROP RANGE. IT HAS NO SUPERIOR.



I AGREE. That is all we expect you to say. Live up to that and there is no limit to your credit with us; we will arrange the payments to suit you.
We sell all kinds of FURNITURE, and can furnish your house from cellar to garret.

SHAW BROTHERS, - THREE RIVERS, MASS.

Two Lives Saved.

Mrs. Phoebe Thomas of Junction City, Ill., was told by her doctors she had consumption and there was no hope for her, but two bottles of Dr. King's New Discovery completely cured her and she says it saved her life. Mr. Thomas Eggers, 139 Florida street, San Francisco, suffered from a dreadful cold, approaching consumption, tried without result everything else, then bought one bottle of Dr. King's New Discovery and in two weeks was cured. He is naturally thankful. It is such results, of which these are samples, that prove the wonderful efficacy of this medicine in coughs and colds. Free trial bottles of LeGro & Lynde, Palmer; G. L. Keeney, Monson; F. A. Spencer, Ware. Regular size 50c and $1.

Old People.

Old people who require medicine to regulate the bowels and kidneys will find the true remedy in Electric Bitters. This medicine does not stimulate and contains no whisky nor other intoxicant, but acts as a tonic and alterative. It acts mildly on the stomach and bowels, adding strength and giving tone to the organs, thereby aiding Nature in the performance of the functions. Electric Bitters is an excellent appetizer and aids digestion. Old people find it just exactly what they need. Price 50c per bottle of LeGro & Lynde, Palmer; G. L. Keeney, Monson; F. A. Spencer, Ware.

Bucklen's Arnica Salve.

THE BEST SALVE in the world for cuts, bruises, sores, ulcers, salt rheum, fever sores, tetter, chapped hands, chilblains, corns, and all skin eruptions, and positively cures piles, or no pay required. It is guaranteed to give perfect satisfaction or money refunded. Price 25 cents per box. For sale by LeGro & Lynde, Palmer; G. L. Keeney, Monson; F. A. Spencer, Ware.

R·I·P·A·N·S

ONE GIVES RELIEF.

52-43

"THE BEST IS, AYE, THE CHEAPEST."

AVOID IMITATIONS OF AND SUBSTITUTES FOR

SAPOLIO

4-33

The Palmer Journal.

VOLUME XLVI. PALMER, MASS., FRIDAY EVENING, DECEMBER 6, 1895. NUMBER 36.

PUBLISHED EVERY FRIDAY EVENING
—BY—
C. B. FISKE & CO.

TERMS OF SUBSCRIPTION.—Two dollars a year. A discount of 25 cents to those who pay in advance. Six months, $1.00; three months, 50 cents; single copies, 5 cents.

ADVERTISING RATES.—One inch (or twelve lines of this type solid) 75 cents for the first insertion, 25 cents for the second, 15 cents for each subsequent insertion. Short advertisements, "Wanted," "To Let," etc., one cent a word for the first insertion, one-half cent a word each subsequent insertion, cash; no charge less than 25 cents. Notices in local column, 15 cents per line. Liberal rates to yearly advertisers.

JOB PRINTING of all kinds executed in the best styles, promptly and at reasonable rates.

C. B. FISKE. L. E. CHANDLER.

[Entered at Post Office as second class matter.]

LOCAL BUSINESS DIRECTORY.

PALMER.

ALLEN, O. P., Wholesale and Retail Druggist and Bookseller.

BARTON, F. D., Dealer in Watches, Clocks and Jewelry, Main street.

BILLS, G. A., Fresh and Salt Beef, Pork, Ham, Lard, Tripe, etc.

BROOKS, EDWIN E., Graduate Optician. With E. S. Brooks, Jeweler, Main street.

BROOKS, E. S., Dealer in Watches, Clocks, Jewelry, Solid Silver and Plated Ware, Main street.

BROWN, C. A. & CO., Hardware, Furnaces, Stoves, Ranges, Paints, Oils and Glass.

BROWN, S. H., Trucking, Light Jobbing, Piano Moving. Order box cor. Main and Walnut streets. Orders can also be left at J. F. Foley's store.

CARPENTER, Mrs. L. E., Millinery and Fancy Goods. Also dealer in Human Hair Goods.

CHANDLER BROS., Bicycles.

CLARK & HASTINGS, Wholesale Dealers in Armour & Co's. Dressed Beef, Provisions, Main St.

EAGER, F. M., Boot and Shoe Manufacturer to Order, and dealer in Leather and Findings.

FISKE, C. B. & CO., Publishers PALMER JOURNAL and WARE STANDARD. Fine Book and Job Printers and Bookbinders.

FITCH, A. E., Law and Insurance, Savings Bank Block.

FRANCIS, R. B., Iron Foundry and Machine Shop.

GAMWELL, C. K., Ready made Clothing, Hats, Caps, Gent's Furnishings, etc.

GARDNER, CHAS. L., Attorney and Counsellor at Law. Church street.

GOODES, E., Palmer Boot and Shoe Store, corner Main and Thorndike streets.

HAMILTON, J. A., Dealer in all kinds of Coal, Wood, Grain, Flour, Baled Hay and Straw. Fertilizers and Stock Food. Main street.

HOLBROOK, C. D., Flour, Grain, Feed and Mason's Supplies, Main street.

HOLBROOK, J. F., Dealer in all kinds of Coal. Agent for National and White Star line of steamers. Drafts on Foreign Banks at lowest rates.

LEACH, W. W., Attorney at Law.

LEGRO & LYNDE, Druggists and Newsdealers, Paper Hangings, Shades, Lamps and Fixtures.

MARCY, F. F., Dealer in Lumber, Shingles, etc., wholesale and retail. West of B. & A. R. R. depot.

MARCY, OSCAR C., Livery and Feed Stable, rear of Converse House.

PALMER WATER CO., Office, Lawrence Block. Office hours to October 1, from 8.30 to 10 a. m., from 2 to 3 p. m.

SHAW, J. B., Dealer in Dry Goods, Groceries, etc. Opposite the depot.

TAFT, S. S., Attorney at Law. Office in Allen's Block, Church street.

WHITE, C. W., Marble and Granite Works. No. 1 Thorndike street.

WOOLRICH & CO., Manufacturers of Ridge's Food, Thorndike street.

THORNDIKE.

ADAMS, A. P., Druggist, Toilet Articles, Confectionery and Cigars.

BONDSVILLE.

HOLDEN, C. L., Dry Goods, Groceries, Clothing Boots, Shoes, Hats, Caps, etc.

MORIARTY, M., Dry Goods, Groceries, Boots Shoes, Coal. Agt White Star and Anchor SS Co's

WARE.

ADAMS, MRS., Chiropodist and Manicurist. 13 Park Avenue. All troubles of feet successfully treated.

ALBERTINE, J. A. Choice Fruits, Tobaccos, Cigars and Confectionery. Low Prices.

DAVIS INSURANCE AGENCY represents the best companies and gives lowest rates.

EDDY, C. W. Job and Fine Art Printer.

EDDY, MISS MATIE K. Teacher of Oil Painting and Crayon. Sketching or Art Work completed to order.

ELDREDGE, A. HENRY. Sign Painter. Carriages painted in the best manner. West Street.

HARLOW, A. B. Photographer. Instantaneous process only. Opposite the Bank.

HOSMER, F. N. Clothier. Hats, Caps, Gents' Furnishing Good, etc. Sanford's Block.

MARSH, F. E. Gold, Silver and Nickel Plater. Replating tableware a specialty. 7 Bank street.

PRIEST, J. E. Ware Steam Laundry. Carpet cleaning. Office at H. M. Clark's.

RICHARDSON, A. P. Dealer in Boots, Shoes and Rubbers of all kinds. Sagendorph's Block.

ROBINSON, JOHN F. Furniture, Sewing Machines, Pictures, Hardware, Paints and Farming Tools.

SIBLEY, J. B. Hardware, Tools, Agricultural Implements, Paints, Oils and Artists' materials.

SMITH, G. H. W. Jeweler. Watches, Clocks and Spectacles. Repairing in the best manner.

TURNER, H. H. Bookseller and Stationer, and dealer in Paper Hangings, Musical Instruments and Sheet Music.

MONSON.

GROUT, GEO. E. Dealer in Watches Clocks, Jewelry, etc. Towne's Block.

NEWTON, GEO. H., Law Office, Notary Public, Insurance, etc., near Gage's store.

SQUIER & CO., Dealers in Grain, Feed, Hay, Straw, Lumber, Shingles and Building Material.

WARREN.

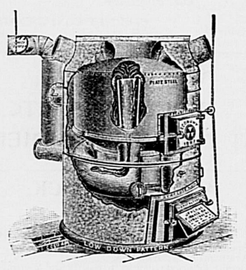
KELLEY, W. H., Attorney and Counsellor at Law. Quaboag Block, Warren, Mass.

SOCIETY DIRECTORY.

MONSON.

MT. ELLA LODGE, No. 184, A. O. U. W. Meets first and third Tuesdays of each month in A. O. U. W Hall, Monson.
FISK G. ROGERS, M. W., F. J. ENTWISTLE, Rec.

Economy Heaters.



Crawford Ranges.

COME IN AND SEE THE

MODEL B RANGE,

sold for $20.

Plumbing, Tinning and Heating.

W. H. Hitchcock,

Nassawanno House Block, Palmer.

E. S. Bryant, D. M. D.,
Dentist,

Lynde's Block, Palmer.

Office hours: 8.30 to 12.30. 1.30 to 5 p. m.

TODD'S
STORE,
MONSON.

SATURDAYS' SELECTED SPECIALS. AND NEXT WEEK.

FROM EVERY DEPARTMENT AT SPECIAL PRICES.

Bright women have long since learned that it don't pay to pass this store by when on a shopping tour. To buy to-morrow without knowing the real worth of our special offerings is to buy ignorantly. Before coming to the store read our SPECIALS.

Timid men who are afraid to cross the threshold of a dry goods store, lose money every day. Hundreds of men buy hose with profit—why not hundreds more? If you have never been here, try us to-morrow. Test these SPECIALS.

10-4 extra heavy blankets,
58c, worth 69c.

11-4 heavy blankets, fleeced, $1.33
Ladies' embroidered aprons, worth 35c to 40c each, (job lot) at 29c
Ladies' wool gloves, 6½ to 8, worth 25c pair, at 19c
India silks, fancy work, 18 in. wide, per yard, 29c
Ribbons in every width, all colors, at 2, 5, 6, 10, 12 1-2, 15, 19, 25, 29 cents, and upwards.
Silk head rests, 33c
Fleece lined wrappers, in black and colors, sizes 32 to 44, $1.25, 1.50, 1.59, 1.73, 1.89.

Gent's cotton socks,
regular 10c pair, 3 pairs, 25c

Gent's wool hose in heavy merino, browns and greys, per pair, 19c
Gent's strong suspenders, elastic, regular price 25c pair, now at 19c
Gent's heavy cotton shirts, double back and front, linen bosom, 48c
Gent's working shirts, yoke back, good colors, 48c
Bargain in boys' and gent's caps, all wool, regular price 25c, now 15c
Gent's Scotch wool gray underwear, shirts and pants, 50c
Gent's overalls in blue and stripes, 45c
Bay rum, per bottle, 10c
Shaving brushes, "

BOSTON STORE,
T. H. Todd.

For the Coming Winter Season.

The Saskatchewan Coat,

Wind Proof,

is a handsome custom-made garment of a black or brown color, with a high rolling collar, lined with black Italian quilting, and rubber lining in the body part and sleeves to make it wind and water proof. It has olives and loops instead of buttons. This coat will keep a person dry and warm during the severest snow or rain-storm, and will be dry the next day.

Caps and carriage robes of the same material.

Complete line of
GENT'S FURNISHING GOODS
in all departments.

Fall and Winter Clothing

was never so low in price, nor such values for the money.

Fall Suits, $5 to $20,
Just think of it!

An elegant line of

Overcoats, $6 to $22.

You never saw the like before.

Child's Suits, $2 to $6.

Child's Reefer, $3.50 to $5.

Children's Overcoats in all grades.

Underwear

in a great variety of grades and prices.

Fall Style, 1895.

Lamson & Hubbard.

C. K. GAMWELL,
Palmer, Mass.

Perhaps you don't know all about it.

Step in and we will tell you about the QUEEN HUB.

While here we can show you some Fine Parlor Goods at prices that will surprise you.

C. A. Brown & Co. - Palmer, Mass.

Horse Blankets.

A full line, for both stable .....and street use.....

375 BLANKETS IN STOCK.

PRICES RIGHT.

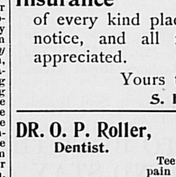
D. W. Foskit,

Foskit's Mills.

PINEOLA COUGH BALSAM

is excellent for all throat inflammations and for asthma. Consumptives will invariably derive benefit from its use, as it quickly abates the cough, renders expectoration easy, assisting nature in restoring wasted tissues. There is a large percentage of those who suppose their cases to be consumption who are only suffering from a chronic cold or deep seated cough, often aggravated by catarrh. For catarrh use Ely's Cream Balm. Both remedies are pleasant to use. Cream Balm, 50c per bottle; Pineola Balsam, 25c, at druggists. In quantities of $2.50 will deliver on receipt of amount.

ELY BROTHERS, 56 Warren street, New York.



F. M. EAGER.

Boots and Shoes Manufactured to Measure.

REPAIRING NEATLY DONE AT SHORT NOTICE.

Dealer in Sewing Machines and Supplies.

Machines to rent or sold on monthly payments.

F. M. EAGER, PALMER.

Insurance

of every kind placed at short notice, and all favors duly appreciated.

Yours truly,
S. H. HELLYAR.

DR. O. P. Roller,
Dentist.

Teeth extracted without pain by a new system. The latest methods in dentistry employed.
Office hours from 8 to 12 a. m., 1 to 5.30 p. m.

OPEN EVENINGS.
Lawrence Block, Palmer, Mass.

SMITH & MURRAY.

The earlier you do your Christmas shopping—the more comfortably you can do it—yes, and more satisfactorily.

Noah's Ark is now crowded with fancy goods—and in another week it will be crowded with customers.

Prices changed on cloaks.

We find that our stock of fine jackets for women's wear is too big—so here's a way to make it smaller.

Jackets, perhaps a hundred of them, half of them imported—the other half America's production.

All of them silk lined throughout—some of them handsomely braided—not one of them worth less than $20—most of them $25.

On sale to-day at $12.50.

See these garments and you will realize the price-difference in your favor.

Second floor, take elevator.

Children's Coats.

One hundred and eighty-five coats for children of 2 to 3 years are offered to-morrow at a fourth, third, sometimes half under the prices asked for them yesterday. Merely a bit of our relentless house-cleaning. These coats are new this season—the lots have grown small, and as they are not to be replenished it is good storekeeping to lose and sell.

Elderdown coats with fur trimming, $1.69, were $2.25.

Handsome cloth coats with braid trimming, $2.95 were $4.

Stylish coats that were $7.50, now $5.

Children's aprons, pretty checks with ruffle over shoulders, full width, 35c each.

Fine lawn aprons with hamburg ruffle over shoulders, 50c each.

A finer grade at 75c.

North store, right.

SMITH & MURRAY.

Hellyar's
Bargain
Store.

Carpets! Carpets!

Are you interested in carpets? If so, we should be pleased to show you. We have arranged with one of the largest mills in the United States whereby we are their sold agents in this locality.

Wilton Carpets,
Moquette Carpets,
Axminster Carpets.
Velvet Carpets,
Body Brussels Carpets,
Tapestry Carpets,
Three Ply Carpets,
Ingrain Carpets of all grades,
Cocoa Mattings,
Napier Mattings,
China Mattings,
Linoleums,
Oil Cloths,
Rugs,
Mats,
Lace Curtains.

We carry a full line of the newest patterns in all kinds of Carpets.

You have as fine a variety to select from as is carried by the stores in the largest cities. You can have the carpets cut and sewed at the mills, and delivered to you ready to be laid on the floor. We represent the manufacturers, thus saving you the middleman or jobber's profit, and as we have no stock to carry and no risk to take on bad patterns, misfits or remnants we can afford to sell at a very small profit—lower even than the stores of the great cities. Call and find out how quickly and how cheaply we can carpet a room or a house.

S. H. Hellyar & Co.,

Caryl's Block, on the Corner,
Palmer, Mass.

DOLLS.
All kinds and sizes.
DOLLS.
Now is the time to dress them for Christmas. But we have them all dressed if you prefer.

DOLL WINDOW DISPLAY.
Look at the dolls in our window. All sizes, all prices. Eyes open and eyes shut. Black hair and light hair. Prices the lowest at

LeGRO & LYNDE'S,
Next Door to Post Office,
Palmer, - - Mass.

Piano and Banjo Lessons

given by

Misses Annie and Carrie Fish,

22-tf Palmer.

A NICE NEW LINE OF SAMPLES OF FOLDERS.

FOR DANCE PROGRAMS, INVITATIONS, MENUS, ETC.

Just received at the JOURNAL Office.

Written for the PALMER JOURNAL.

A Lough Neagh Lament.

Upon thy naked shores, Lough Neagh,
No more a boy I wander,
But on thy waters wide and gray
Full many a time I ponder.
In dreary dreams, at midnight seen,
Me of my rest they're robbing;
There still beside a graveyard green
I halt and hear them sobbing.

For there my darling mother sleeps,
And o'er her grassy pillow
The dewy star of evening weeps,
Or beams upon the billow.
Hears not the wan wave sobbing
There she at rest, all lowly laid,
Around the blossom or the blade
That it of rest is robbing.

She does not hear the church bell ring
On Sunday morning holy;
Nor does she hear—like cherubs sing—
The loved ones of the lowly.
She sees no more the heather bloom
That bees of sweets are robbing;
Both day and night beside her tomb
The weary wave is sobbing.

The fisherman, far, far away,
Takes a delight in sailing
His boat into the dying day,
Into the dim light failing.
At red dawn he returns and hears
The same gray waters sobbing;
And touched—in his blue eyes the tears
His heart of hope are robbing.

The yew trees at that churchyard gate
Are dark in spring and summer,
Are dark when autumn, lingering late,
Leaves them to the next comer;—
Leaves them to winter, who would not
Them of their gloom be robbing;
The seasons seem to have forgot
The yew tree used to sobbing.

Ah! many in the years that fly,
Between the yew trees slowly
Pass inward, borne shoulder high,
There to be laid so lowly.
Gray time—a thief by day and night—
Though mourners sad are sobbing,
Brings through that gate the brave and bright
From homes he has been robbing.

Thou art my mourner, loved Lough Neagh,
Lone watch for me still keeping;
Though from thy banks I'm far away,
I see and hear thee weeping.
To-night wan Memory walks the wave,
Of my repose me robbing;
Lough Neagh and I beside one grave
Meet, and we both are sobbing.

—MOSES TEGGART.

AN UNCONSCIOUS HERO.

"No", Eleanor Landsberg said, as she crushed the cluster of fresh American beauty roses she held in her clasped hands with painful intensity, as if they were somehow to blame, "I cannot marry you, Morris—you are not my hero."

"Heroes do not exist out of novels," answered Morris Holmes, with that perfect inflection that good breeding gives to its possessor; "I cannot fight for my lady love as the mediaeval knight did, nor fly to the wars, in the degenerated days"

"Then be a soldier of peace; there are daily wars to be waged that need disciplined soldiers. Be anything but a dawdler on the silken skirts of society. You believe that because you have inherited a fortune that other men earn for you by the sweat of their brows, that you are to lie idle in the lap of luxury. Shame, Morris Holmes! When I marry I will choose my husband from among the rank of the people; my hero must do great deeds, not dream them, all day long."

"My dear Socialist," said Morris with the familiarity of long acquaintance, "if you will listen to reason a moment you will see that with money you can remedy a great many evils; without it you are practically helpless."

"How many evils have you remedied, Morris? Answer me that."

"Few as yet, I admit. But Eleanor, is it my fault that my father left me a fortune? Listen, dearest. I may call you so this once. Why not help me to become his almoner? At least I am not a profligate."

"Pardon me," returned the young woman, tearing the heart from a rose—a performance which made the sensitive Morris wince—"I think you are profligate with time and influence, and all other good things which you waste by lavishing them on yourself. How will you account for wasted opportunities, and talents folded in a napkin, when the day of reckoning comes?"

She was very handsome, very attractive in her strong young womanhood, and as a reformer, the fad of the hour. She belonged to clubs and societies for the advancement of women, and was not offensively progressive in her views and the expression of them, but she had been brought into contact with strong natures, full of the sap and wine of life, and had learned to disdain the wearer of the purple and fine linen. The society weakling had lost place in her world, just as social functions had become insane an intolerably stupid, after the seamy side of life had shown her its rugged attractions.

"What would you have me do to prove myself a hero?" asked Morris Holmes with a gentle patronizing air, as if he had been speaking to a child, and which infuriated Eleanor.

"Do?" she repeated with withering scorn, "do anything to show the world that you are a man, and at least capable of managing your own affairs! Life is full of instruction, but you have never learned one of its lessons. You have not even been a very profitable dreamer."

She was intense and angry, and at last he was aroused. He rose without his usual dawdling elegance of manner and said:

"You have taught me one lesson, Eleanor, that I shall not forget. I hope when you find your hero he will love you as truly as I have done—as I will continue to do, if you do not forbid me. And now good-bye. We part friends, do we not?"

Before she answered him Eleanor rose, and in doing so dropped the flowers she had been holding. Morris sprang to pick them up, when instantly she placed her small, imperative foot upon them, crushing them to the floor. He looked at her shocked and wounded.

"You see how hopeless it is that you should ever understand me," she said bitterly. "You have more consideration for these hot-house weeds than for the souls of those around you. You hurt and wound me by your indifference to vital questions, but you are sorry for the roses! Good-bye Morris!"

. . . . . .

"No berths left in the sleeper, sir."

"But I tell you I must have a berth—I cannot sit up all night," and Morris Holmes shivered at the thought of such a hardship.

"A great many good people do, sir," said the conductor. "There's old Judge Skinner and his wife; they are both going to sit up to-night."

"But my man telegraphed here for a section."

"They were all taken then, sir."

It was strange that at the first moment that Morris Holmes started out to become a hero, and learn the seamy side of life, he should be reduced to actual suffering like this. If he had been dressed in his usual fashionable attire the conductor would have suspected that he had unlimited wealth, and would have bought out some less important traveler, or sold him a berth already negotiated for, as the all-powerful car magnate has the privilege of doing.

But Morris Holmes had donned the plain dress of the ordinary business man and wore a hideous gray ulster that concealed his elegant personality, and was on his way to the mining district where a mine was located of which he was part owner; not a gold mine, but one that brought in gold—a bituminous coal mine known as the "Little Summit."

Morris had taken little or no notice of this branch of his wealth, the management and details being left to his agent, but when he left Eleanor Landsberg on the occasion of her second and final refusal of his offer of marriage, he suddenly determined to take a trip to the mining country and try his hand at heroism, in the way of improving the condition of the men who worked in underground chambers, a work to him, the embodiment of hardship and privation. He was going incognito with a feeling of one who is about to perform a long neglected duty.

The beginning was not auspicious. Morris hated contact with the unwashed stranger, and the day car turned into a rendezvous for the night seemed full of him.

"I would not make a good soldier, and I certainly am not a hero," he said to himself, and then he thought of Eleanor, and fancied her soothing the troublesome, crying child in the further end of the car, and gaining the confidence of the mean-looking parents, who were poor and tired.

At the next stopping place he went out to catch a breath of fresh air, and bought a bag of cakes for the baby, an act of generosity that the tired mother appreciated with a smile.

He talked with the father and learned their story. Two children left behind with relatives because they were too poor to take them along, but they had the promise of work where they were going, and then they would send for them. If Morris helped them he did not let his left hand know what his right hand was doing, but I do know that the children followed their parents a few weeks later.

Morris prepared for a night of vigils, then fell into a sound sleep curled up in a corner of a car seat, and when he awakened it was early dawn.

It is an awsome thing to wake in a car after a night of that sort. The first feeling is one of thankfulness that one is alive; the next an overpowering sense of dirt and discomfort. Morris thought at first that his limbs were paralyzed, but after a vigorous stretch he felt better, and looked out with interest on a world that was new to him, fresh from the luxuries of the metropolis. He saw the "good morning" of nature, with man a chimerical speck in the plan. Mere cabins were perched in commanding positions on hillsides, and sleepy looking children, bareheaded and barefooted, were saluting the flying train from their open doors. He could not understand how anyone could live in such a place. He felt no thrill of fellowship with these grovellers in the by-ways of life and again he wondered how Eleanor would handle such a problem. He felt a sense of loneliness without her as if she had once belonged to him but had gone.

A long stop was made at a rude station, and Morris came near to the great tragedy, that is enacted in the lowest as well as in the grandest home. But how different the methods! It was not yet sunrise, but the door of a cabin had been flung open, and a woman with an apron thrown over her head rushed out into the morning, followed by two weeping children. Then a man ran out hastily, and going to a building close by, tore a board from its rough roof, and hurried back into the house, followed by the woman and children. The train moved on, and Morris wondered over what he had just seen. Probably every man and woman in that car read the story aright, but Morris asked a shaggy old man who sat back of him wrapped in a time-worn plaid what it meant.

"Weel, mon, I misdoubt it were somebody slipped awa, and they needed the board to streekit him," said the old Scotchman.

It was gruesome when Morris understood, and he wondered if Eleanor would have known. You see she was in all his thoughts.

A more desolate place than that in which the "Little Summit" mine was located would be hard to describe. The mine that poured wealth into the coffers of its owners was conducted by ill-paid, sodden men, scrubby boys and half blind mules. The foreman was brutalized by a long course of low wages, heavy expenses and sordid surroundings. It was a word and a blow with him, or an oath more demoralizing than blows. When a stranger appeared he was received with sullen and suspicious silence, being more than half suspected of wanting the bread out of some other mouth. Morris was shocked almost out of recognition of himself by this unexpected state of things, for he felt himself passively to blame. He could not lay the odium on the shoulders of his agent, for he had never asked a single question concerning the mine, or the moral or physical welfare of the men. He had taken the revenue from it as part of his patrimony, indifferent as to methods. He had been helping to grind women and children into the dust, that he might loll in luxury. His conscience stung him with reproaches which were inadequate to make him suffer as he deserved.

"Your hand, friend," he said to the foreman, and noted the ugly scowl, and determined air of refusal with which the man drew back.

"'Taint as white as yours; and how do I know that you are my friend?" was the surly reply.

"I am here to see what you need, and will help you if you will let me," answered Morris gently.

"A spy of an overseer, like enough. The sooner you get out of these quarters the better for your health. If one of the bloomin' mine owners sent you here, go back an' tell him 'taint safe to come spyin' 'roun'. Tell him, too, that we'll give him a warmer welcome—hounds that they all are!"

The miners, dirty, black, and complaining, had gathered around the foreman, and although they hated him, they were bound to him by a common grudge.

"Tell them to come and get filled with warm lead—we'd heat it fur the 'casion," said a burley miner known as "Old Geordie"

"They dassn't come nigh their own property," said another, "they're white-livered cowards, and not worth the powder to blow 'em to thunder!"

"Go back to your master, and tell him what his lovin' workmen say," said the foreman contemptuously, "an' get photygraffs of some of the hungry children and dyin' mothers, for the family album. My missus will give you hers."

"Men," said the stranger, unbuttoning his heavy ulster, and throwing it open, "Have you ever heard of Morris Holmes?"

A groan and a series of yells saluted him.

"Aye, an' of his father afore him. It's that he might lie soft and eat fine food, that we gets lost in the choke and damp. If he sent you, go back and tell him to come out here himself. We hev a long account to settle, an' the figgers is waitin'." It was "Old Geordie" who spoke.

"I am Morris Holmes!"

Now if there is any quality that the rough and lawless of creation recognize, and admire, it is courage, and after the first start of surprise, which in that sodden crowd was genuine and dramatic, the men felt an instant respect for this weakling of wealth, who was not afraid of them, and something like a cheer broke from their hoarse throats.

"I am here to right your wrongs," continued Morris in a voice that sounded like a commander on a battlefield, "but I demand protection at your hands. I demand your confidence, and that of your wives and children. I have the right to ask this. For the present that is all that I have to say.

A few cheered him, others remained sullen and discontented, good news being received with caution and suspicion.

. . . . . .

Eleanor Landsberg had no word from Morris for six months. Then she received a paper marked in red ink, which had a paragraph that interested her. It gave a plain statement of the great improvement that had taken place in the "Little Summit" mine, and went on to describe the comfortable homes of the miners, the new machinery which had been put into the mines to take the place of child labor, the comfortable stables above ground that had been built for the mules, the improved social conditions of the men's families, and ended with a glowing tribute to the "noble energy of the young and athletic mine owner, Morris Holmes."

Athletic? Eleanor repeated the word with much satisfaction. It was of moral athletes she was thinking, and it pleased her mightily that this word could be thus applied to Morris.

In a few months she received a second newspaper, published like the first, in a town adjoining the mines, and giving the news of that section of the country. It also contained a marked paragraph, but the marking was irregular black lines, of jagged pencil, and on the border was drawn a rude hand, pointing to the notice, and the badly written but legible name "Old Geordie."

Eleanor read in a few intense words the news that had been sent to her. There had been an accident in the mine. The roof of an entire chamber had fallen and buried twenty miners beneath it. The men were rescued with great difficulty, and some of them were badly injured. When all were supposed to have been saved, there was a wailing cry, and the wife of "Old Geordie" struggled from the hands of her friends and tried to throw herself into the mine. Morris Holmes, pale and out of breath, called for men to go down with him to rescue Geordie. No one responded. The men owed their lives to their families, and they knew the danger of a falling roof. So Morris, with one look at the blue sky above him, swung into the cage and was lowered alone amid the awe-stricken silence into the bosom of death. There was not much more to tell. When the signal was given there were willing hands to help deliver the two men from the wreckage, but only one came up alive. The other had succumbed to the falal damp. A long panegyric followed, but it meant little to Eleanor. Her eyes rested on four oft-quoted hackneyed lines, that closed the story; they would never leave her:

"For whether on the scaffold high,
Or in the battle's van,
The fittest place for man to die,
Is where he dies for man."

She had found her hero, never again to lose him. He had returned on his shield.—Detroit Free Press.

A REMARKABLE ARCTIC DUCK.

There is a remarkable duck in the Philadelphia zoo lake, says the St. Louis Globe Democrat, which will probably prove the only one of its class that ever has been discovered. It is a large, snow-white bird, whose plumage is so luxuriant that it would fill a good-sized bill. Its wings, when spread out, cover and area of four feet seven inches by three feet. The wings are very peculiar, being joined very close to the body. This enables it to bend them in such a way as to form a tent. In terrible winter storms in its native land it finds this very useful.

Those who watched this wonderful duck noticed that a peculiar gowth was forming on its feet. As the weather grew cooler the growth grew more and more pronounced. It appeared to be a thick cartilagenous substance, which gradually extended. It looked like another toe, and it was thought at first that the bird was going to be malformed. But instead of stopping when the growth reached the size of the other toes it kept right on. It grew to be about six inches long, and the end of it took a curious turn. Instead of turning down like a claw it curled up and round in a picturesque loop. Then it gradually hardened. The duck had skates on. The peculiar formation was just like the "skees" of the Norseman.

More than probably the "skees" were actually patterned after this growth. These skates were invaluable to the duck in his native land, where ice and snow, with heavy crust, cover the face of the earth and the deep. Travel by swimming was largely tied up by this ice. Waddling afoot was slow and tedious, so kind nature provided a better and quicker way—skating. All the duck had to do was to spread out his immense wings, stand firmly on his skates, and, whiz, he would go spinning over the surface of snow and ice at a high rate of speed.

With the approach of warmer weather these "skates" fall off and the feet are similar to those of any other duck.

A CHICKAMAUGA INCIDENT.

"Right here," said the old Union soldier, digging his cane into the ground, "I stood on picket duty thirty-two years ago."

"And I stood on picket duty right over there," said the grizzled old Confederate warrior, pointing his long finger at a spot a few furlongs away.

"I wonder," exclaimed the former, "if you're the Johnny Reb that gave me a plug of tobacco when I hadn't had a chew for twenty-four hours and was half dead for one?"

"If you're the Yank that gave me a canteen nearly full of whisky when I was dying for a drink," rejoined the Southerner," I am."

The voice of the old veteran from the North trembled slightly when he spoke again.

"I have always thought," he said, "that if I met that man again this side of the fords of the River Jordan I'd tell him that that tobacco was the meanest, orneriest, good-for-nothingest, dog-goned stuff I ever put into my mouth."

"Yank," replied the old boy in gray, with emotion, "I've always wanted to live long enough to meet the man that gave me that whisky and tell him it was the meanest, nastiest, cheapest, infernalist booze that ever insulted the stomach of a white man, begad, sah!"

Then the two old warriors shook hands and moved off arm-in-arm in the direction of the tent that had a barrel inside of it.—Chicago Tribune.

Dentist—"The nerves are dead; that's what's the matter." Celtic Patient—"Thin, be th' blessid Virgin, th' dom tooth must be houldin' a wake over thim!"—Puck.

Thistles or Flowers?

Out in the highways, wherever we go,
Seed we must gather, and seed we must sow;
Even the tiniest seed has a power,
Be it a thistle, or be it a flower.

Out of each moment some good we obtain,
Something to winnow and scatter again;
All that we listen to, all that we read,
All that we think of is gathering seed.

Gathering seed, we must scatter as well;
God will watch over the place where it fell;
Only the grain of the harvest is ours;
Shall we plant thistles, or shall we plant flowers?
Josephine Pollard.

SHE NEVER LOOKED BEHIND.

He looked dyspeptic as he sat scowling at the procession of bicycles; he occupied two-thirds of a party bench, and pretended not to see the longing looks cast upon it by stout matrons and weary spinsters.

Finally, a stout, good-natured looking man slipped into the vacant part of the seat, and, lighting a cigar, stuck his thumbs into the armholes of his vest, and proceeded to enjoy life.

"Pleasant day," he said in an apologetic tone.

The dyspeptic-looking man grunted.

"Been sick, ain't ye?"

That opened the dyspeptic-looking man's mouth. "You just bet I have," he replied; "can't get anything to agree with me—not even my wife. Dr. says it's dyspepsia. I tried enough medicines 'n' patent-foods 'n' mineral waters t' kill a horse. Then I just paid my bill, 'n' I told the doctor I would save what I had left for a coffin 'n' a cemetery lot."

"Ye might try bicyclin'," suggested the other man hopefully; I khow a fellow——"

"Humph; I did. Everybody told me to until I got tired an' did. First time I tried I fell off 'n' broke my arm; that laid me up for six weeks, 'n' me payin' installments on that wheel all th' time. I wasn't to be downed by it, though, an' soon as I got well I tried again—made the kids take turns in helpin' me till I got the hang of it."

"But you must have learned at last. My wife learned in two——"

"Yes; I learned. Got so I could go alone, 'n' one day I went out in th' park here 'n' was gettin' along well, when one o' those bloomer women rode right up one o' the cross roads 'n' into me. Say, I was in a heap, with th' wheel all twisted up on top of me!"

"That woman must 'a' felt bad."

"I did. She rode right on 'n' never looked back, though all the people called t' her t' come back 'n see what she'd done."

"Well, she was no lady, sure. I'll tell my wife about that. She rides lots, an' she's never had an accident yet. She—"

"My wheel was knocked into next week—been in the repair shop ever since—half o' my nose was skinned, 'n my coat torn half off my back. Repairs 'll cost me about $12, an' everybody says that fool woman ought t' pay it."

"Hope ye made her do it."

"Naw. Don't know her from Adam. I'd recognize her if I saw her, though, 'n' I come home every day and watch—some day I'll see her slippin' by and I'll just stop her and—"

"Make her pay for it; that's right; the law—"

"You bet I will. You ride?"

"No; my wife does. I haven't seen her ride yet; came over this evenin' to see her go by. Say, I guess I'll feel proud; she learned in a week and never had an accident. She—"

But the dyspeptic looking man did not heed. He had risen to his feet and was gesticulating wildly at an approaching wheel woman.

"Say, ma'am, you stop!" he yelled. "You ran into my wheel a week ago an' smashed it, an' I want—"

The pleasant faced man also sprang to his feet. "Say, that's no way to speak to a lady," he yelled. "That's my wife, an' all I've got to say is that the accident was all your own fault. I'll stop her myself and ask."

But the fair rider was disappearing up the road; she had never looked behind.—Chicago Tribune.

THE PIANOFORTE.

On the morning of May 9, 1876, a stone was placed in the cloisters of Santa Croce, in Florence, bearing this inscription:

"To Battolomeo Cristofori, the inventor of the pianoforte."

Go back to the beginning of all things in instrumental music and see this instrument foreshadowed. The oldest musical instrument known, says a writer in The Etude, is the Chinese pien king. Upon two horizontal bars are suspended 16 metal plates, which, when struck with a hammer, gave out the notes of the Chinese scale. Here is the first piano. The ancient dulcimer was an open box of srings, which, when struck with a hammer, gave the notes of the scale. The psaltery is a dulcimer played with a plectrum instead of a hammer. Man's ingenuity soon constructed a mechanical device for plucking the strings. Fastening a quill in one end of a long stick and adjusting the stick on a lever, or key, he forced the string to sound by pushing the key up or down. And this is the spinet. Another inventor attached to the end of this horizontal key stick an upright piece of metal which pushed up against the strings and caused it to vibrate. And this was the clavichord. A still more resonant tone was demanded, and a little hammer was made and put in place of the metal tangent of the clavichord and here the embryo of piano.

Lift the lid of your piano and study this wonderful mechanism, for in its history is written the history of instrumental music. From the oldest known instrument to the newest, most prominent, most perfectly fitted with mechanical machinery—from the Chinese pien king and the ancient psaltery and dulcimer to the nineteenth century grand piano is but one continued development of mechanical ingenuity. Since the revival of instrumental music in 1600, the piano has ever held a prominent place in the use of instruments and in the literature of instrumental music.

During the past year there were made in the state of New York thousands of pianos. To-day there are nearly 100 firms of piano makers in New York city and Philadelphia. The estimated amount of capital tied up in the piano enterprise in America is $200,000,000

WOMAN'S WAYS.

A domestic wife is a blessing, but not if she is too domestic.

When a woman says no, she wants you to insist upon her saying yes.

A man will always respect a woman if he sees that she respects herself.

A wife is willing to be obedient, but she hates to be considered a slave.

With a woman, her soul should always be at least as well clad as her body.

If a married woman commences as a slave, she will never again regain her freedom.

A great many women transfer to their baby the love they once had for their husbands.

A woman should be chary with her kisses and caresses, even to her husband. We get tired even of canvas-back duck if we have it every day.—Florida Times-Union.

The Journal.

FRIDAY EVENING, DECEMBER 6, 1895.

LOCAL NOTICES.

Something new, Celery Cigars; good for the nerves; try them. Sold by LeGro & Lynde.

"The Burglar," the dramatic treat of the season. Coming to the Opera House, December 13. Reserved seats at Allen's Saturday morning at 8 o'clock.

Drs. Allen and Hayes will be at the Nassowanno House Wednesday, Dec. 11th, from 10 a. m. until 8 p. m. Consultation free. Chronic diseases a specialty. Latest methods used, including medicines, inhalation and electricity.

FINE STATIONERY.—Blue is the fashionable shade for ladies' correspondence paper now, and "Ciel Bleu" is the very latest and most correct. "Prince of Wales" is another popular style, and comes in four shades, Silver Blue, Cream, French Grey and Beryl. Samples of all these papers and the fashionable sizes now prevailing can be seen at the JOURNAL Office.

FOR THE HOLIDAYS.—I have enlarged my stock by the addition of new show cases, which are filled with the latest and most seasonable goods, and now have one of the latest lines of fine diamonds, watches, clocks and jewelry ever shown in this vicinity. My stock of silver novelties is complete. Gold pens, pencils and fountain pens in great variety at my usual low prices. My stock of Rogers Bros'. celebrated silver plated ware is large and will be sold at prices never quoted in Palmer before. From now until Christmas I shall make a special discount on watches, and all other goods will be sold at prices that defy competition. You are cordially invited to call and examine, whether wishing to purchase or not.

Yours Respectfully,
F. D. Barton, the low priced jeweler.

PALMER NEWS.

IS IT BLACKMAIL?

An Interesting Three Rivers Case Before the Court this Morning.

Mr. and Mrs. George Bouvier of Three Rivers came before the court this morning charged with blackmail. It is impossible to give a full report of the case in this issue, but the facts which led to the arrest, as told by the principals in the case, may be given. The complaint was made by Dr. Joseph H. Desmarais, who claims that an attempt has been made to extort money from him. The doctor says that a week ago last Monday Mrs. Bouvier came to his office to have a tooth pulled, as there is no dentist in Three Rivers. He showed her into his office and gave her a chair near the window. Mrs. Bouvier asked him if he could extract the tooth without pain, and he replied that he would try. He applied a mixture of creosote and glycerine, which he obtained from the rear room in his office. He extracted the tooth and returned to the inner room to get a washbowl, and Mrs. Bouvier spat blood in it. She at once commenced to scream, and jumped from her chair, nearly falling upon the office stove. He called to his partner, Dr. Giguere, who was in the inner room, but found that the latter had come to his assistance as soon as he heard the woman cry out.

Both men seized the woman, who was very violent. She attempted to kick the doctors, the windows, the stove and the glass in the instrument case, but they restrained her. Her little daughter, 2½ years old, who had accompanied her, was with her. The house maid and hostler, who were in the house, had entered the office upon hearing the woman's screams, and the child was sent from the room with the maid to save her from injury. Both doctors attempted in every way to quiet Mrs. Bouvier, but for some time without much success. Dr. Desmarais finally sent one of his employes for a glass of water which he tried to have Mrs. Bouvier drink. She refused, and he sprinkled her face with it from his hand. After a time the woman grew more quiet, and with her child was allowed to leave the house. She had insisted on leaving the house during the struggle, but the doctors did not consider it safe to allow her to do so in her wild condition, believing that she was suffering from a violent attack of hysterics.

Later in the day Mrs. Bouvier called upon the doctor with her husband. Both intimated that they expected damages for the doctor's treatment of the woman, but the doctor failed to see what he had done for which damages should be demanded. He refused to make any settlement, and they came again the next day with the same result. Stories damaging to the doctor's reputation were at once circulated, and as they purported to come from Mr. and Mrs. Bouvier, the doctor was much annoyed. He took no action in the matter, however. Last Tuesday Dr. Desmarais went to Boston on business, returning Wednesday night. On his return he learned that a report had been circulated that he had left town with his maid, who had not been away. He attributed this report to the Bouviers, and believing they were actuated by a desire to secure money from him had them arrested.

Mrs. Bouvier tells much the same story as do the doctors in regard to the struggle in the doctor's office. She claims, however, that some liquid was put into her mouth by the doctor at the time of extracting the tooth, which she swallowed. She believed an attempt had been made to drug her, and screamed, hoping to attract attention from the street. When she attempted to leave the office and was restrained, her fears were confirmed, and she struggled harder. She demanded the return of her child, which was refused. She says she did not lose her senses, and was not hysterical. She seems to have realized what she was doing, and believes she was only saved from a criminal assault by her energetic resistance. She says the doctor had a look in his face which made her fear him, and she was very angry because she was not allowed to leave the office. She does not claim that the doctor took any liberties with her, as has been reported, except to prevent her from leaving the house. She says her arms were black and blue where the men had held her, and that water was thrown in her face by the dipper full. The outcome of the case will be watched with interest, as nearly everybody has heard more or less about it. The doctor thinks the Bouviers have tried to injure him at the instigation of some other person, and proposes to make a full investigation.

The testimony in the case was confined as much as possible to the time the demand for money was made upon the doctor. It did not appear that any threat of a criminal prosecution had been made, and the complaint, therefore, was not sustained. The judge thought Dr. Desmarais had not used any unnecessary violence, but said the defendants had a right to demand damages if they believed any had been sustained, and they were discharged.

Annual Meeting of the Agricultural Society.

The annual meeting of the Eastern Hampden Agricultural Society was held in the court room Tuesday afternoon. The reports of the secretary and treasurer were read and accepted. The latter report shows the society to be $608 90 in debt. The resignation of Dr. Allen as secretary and treasurer was accepted with regret, and a vote of thanks was extended to him for his 19 years' service. The affairs of the society were talked over briefly. Dr. William Holbrook made a brief but pointed speech, in which he said that the society would have to brace up or go to the wall. He pointed out as an example the old Hampden society. The doctor's opinion was that not only the officers, but the members should take more interest in the annual fairs. He did not believe the entire blame for the lack of succes of the society could be laid to rainy weather. There was some difficulty in securing officers. President C. E. Fuller seemed to be the first choice, but he emphatically declined a re-election, on account of lack of time to devote to the work of the office. There were several other candidates, and several informal ballots were taken without a choice. Finally Dr. Holbrook arose and nominated A. D. Norcross of Monson. His opinion was that Mr. Norcross would make an efficient officer, and that Monson deserved recognition for its interest in the past. Mr. Norcross was elected. When the balloting for secretary and treasurer arrived there was also a delay. No one cared to take the office because of the amount of labor involved. A choice was finally made of F. D. Barton, who is not a member of the society, but desired to become one. The officers chosen are as follows: President, A. D. Norcross; 1st vice president, C. K. Gamwell; 2d vice president, O. E. Bradway; secretary and treasurer, F. D. Barton; directors, F. D. Rogers of Monson; Rufus Flynt, Palmer; C. P. Bowles, Wilbraham; G. C. Flynt, Monson; W. L. Day, Warren; Sanford Booth, Brimfield; D. R. McCray, Hampden; D. F. Holden, Palmer. It was voted to hold three farmers' institutes, on the second Tuesday of January, February and March, the first two in Palmer and the third in Monson.

A Novel Entertainment.

Among the most popular and successful entertainers of the times are the mock court trials, given under the direction of an expert, Col. A. V. Newton, manager of the Newton Entertainment Bureau, of Worcester.

Nearly every city and town in New England, as well as many in New York, New Jersey, Pennsylvania, New Brunswick and Nova Scotia, have been greatly excited over them, as attested by the frequent, extended and favorable notices in the leading newspapers, and best of all by the great audiences that have packed the largest halls and opera houses to the doors. In many cases the interest has been so great that the whole house has been sold in advance and hundreds have been turned away unable to obtain standing room. One of these popular entertainments will be given under the auspices of the senior class of the high school, in the opera house, on Tuesday, December 17th. One of our prominent citizens will be charged with the larceny of a Plymouth Rock rooster (perhaps it is some politician who desired one to crow for his favorite candidate), and great fun may be expected. A large number of our leading citizens will take part in the entertainment, which will be conducted according to the rules of a regular court of justice. Particulars will be found in our advertising columns.

E. L. Davis is confined to his house by sickness.

Omar W. Marcy is doing jury duty at Springfield.

Miss Florence M. Sherman is visiting friends in Providence, R. I.

Drs. Allen and Hayes will be at the Nassowanno House next Wednesday.

T. J. Dwyer has moved from Park street to George Keith's tenement house on Pond street.

Mrs. George Warner and daughter May visited friends at their former home in Barre Plains Wednesday.

Miss Phebe Hastings entertained a party of young friends at her home on West Main street Saturday evening.

The winter term in all the public schools commenced Monday morning, with about the usual number of scholars.

A small party of young people will have a social gathering and dance at the Weeks House next Tuesday night.

The Ladies' Social Club met with Mrs. G. H. Wilkins Tuesday afternoon, and will meet with Mrs. J. C. Wing next Tuesday.

The board of trade met Tuesday evening and voted to give the money in the treasury to the Young Men's Library Association.

As usual with the first sleighing of the season, Calvin W. Johnson was the first to appear with a sleigh Thursday afternoon.

Rev. H. F. Moulton will preach next Sunday morning on "The Pulpit's Message to Merchants, Manufacturesr, Traffickers," etc.

The Palmer Bicycle Club has changed the time of holding its meetings from the first Tuesday of each month to the first Thursday.

Mrs. A. M. Smith and Mrs. H. F. Moulton attended the reunion of the Crosley European party of '95 at the Cooley House, Springfield, Wednesday.

The pastor of the Congregational church will preach Sunday morning on "Bound for the Immediate Presence of God; How Shall We Go?

Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Park of Brattleboro, Vt., were guests of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Hitchcock a part of this week, returning home Wednesday.

The Woman's Christian Temperance Union will hold a meeting in the parlors of the Congregational church next Tuesday afternoon at 3 o'clock.

The auditorium of St. Paul's Universalist church is receiving some needed fresco repairs, which will much improve the inner appearance of the church.

E. C. Sexton of Palmer, who with his wife has been visiting old Palmer friends, has returned to his home. His wife is still in town, the guest of Mrs. C. A. Brown.

Miss Bessie M. Royce, who is attending school at the Tilton, N. H., seminary, was home with her parents Thanksgiving and over Sunday, returning Monday.

Miss Belle Fiske has returned from a six-weeks' visit to her parents in Boston, and has resumed her former position as operator for the Postal Telegraph Company.

Next Sunday, the Second Sunday in Advent, masses will be at 8.30 and 10.30 at St. Thomas's Catholic church, with Sunday school at 3 p. m., and vespers at 7.30.

Next Monday afternoon Miss Effie G. Shaw will give an exhibition of decorated china at her home on West Main street, to which all who are interested are invited.

The many friends of Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Knox, formerly of Palmer, will be glad to learn that they are the happy parents of a baby boy, who arrived last Friday morning.

The ladies of the Baptist church gave one of their famous chicken-pie suppers in the church Tuesday evening. There was a fair patronage with a corresponding financial success.

Parties have taken the store formerly occupied by R. J. Henry as a tea store, and will open it to-morrow morning with a line of fancy goods, toys, notions, etc. It will be known as the Elm City Bazar.

W. W. Converse has leased a building in the rear of William Merriam's residence on pleasant street, which he will use as a factory for the manufacture of silver polish. He will make his headquarters in Palmer in the future.

T. H. Esten of Providence, R. I.,, Mrs. M. L. Champlin of Minneapolis, Minn., Mr. and Mrs. L. W. Stebbins and son Robert of Palmer, Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Shaw and Miss Mabel Cross of Warren, spent Thanksgiving with Mr. and Mrs. M. A. Sherman on Mason Hill.

The little gold watch displayed in F. D. Barton's window will be given away Christmas morning. A watch will be set running and placed in a sealed case, and the person guessing the nearest to the time which it stops will get the gold watch. Every purchaser of goods at his store is entitled to a guess.

A special train will be run to Willimantic to-morrow night to accommodate those who wish to witness the presentation of "Julius Cæsar" in that place. The train will leave Palmer at 6.20 and Monson at 6.30 p. m.; returning leave Willimantic at 11 p. m. Fare for the round trip from this station and Monson $1.

The Ladies' Social Union of St. Paul's Universalist church will hold its annual supper, fair and entertainment next Tuesday evening. Supper will be served from 6.30 to 7.30, after which will be presented in the chapel "Dame Plunkett's Singing School," the characters appearing in costumes of ye olden time.

The Ladies' Society of the Congregational church will give a social in the church vestry next Wednesday evening, and the following ladies will entertain. Mesdames J. C. Wing, F. B. Pope, Rufus Flynt, L. H. Gager, L. E. Chandler, G. H. Wilkins. In connection with the social there will be a sale of fancy articles, furnished by the Lend-a-hand club.

Rev. H. F. Moulton attended the reception given to Rev. M. Gerrish and wife in the Congregational church at Thorndike Wednesday evening, and gave the address of welcome in behalf of the clergy of the town. Mr. Gerrish and Mr. Moulton were formerly students in Tufts College, but did not know the whereabouts of each other till they met in the vestry at the reception.

The first of the course of union temperance meetings, under the direction of the W. C. T. U., will be held in St. Paul's Universalist church next Sunday evening at 7 o'clock, when Revs. C. R. Minard of the Baptist church, F. E. Jenkins of the Congregational church, and H. F. Moulton of St. Paul's Universalist church, will give addresses. Music will be furnished by the church quartette, and everybody is invited.

A horse owned by John Baldwin of Wilbraham stirred things up considerably Sunday afternoon. Mr. Baldwin had driven over from his home and stopped in front of the Feeney residence on South Main street. As he was about to alight the horse started unexpectedly, throwing Mr. Baldwin. The horse ran to the Point of Rocks, where he stopped without injury. The carriage was somewhat damaged, but Mr. Baldwin was uninjured.

The winter time table of the New London division of the Central Vermont Railroad goes into effect next Monday morning. The train now leaving New London for Palmer at 2 30 p. m. will run through to Brattleboro, leaving this station at 7.10 p. m., Three Rivers at 7.20, Belchertown 7.40, and the south bound train which leaves Palmer for New London at 7.05 a. m. will be discontinued north of Willimantic. The first train south now leaves at 8 40 a. m.

At the meeting of the Quaboag Literary Circle last Friday levening, O. P. Allen spoke on "The Origin and Growth of the English Language," and Miss Helen Converse gave a reading. An attractive programme has been arranged for next Friday evening. A reading will be given by Miss Kate Buck; an essay, "Chaucer and Spencer" by Rev. C. R. Minard; and the Round Table will be arranged and read by Mrs. Minnie S. Lawton.

The annual meeting of the Royal Arcanum resulted in the election of the following officers: Regent, A. E. Fitch; vice regent, A. H. Maxwell; orator, George Robinson; secretary, F. A. Royce; collector, H. W. McGregory; treasurer, H. N. Sedgwick; guide, C. A. LeGro; chaplain, G. A. Rice; warden, J. H. Shaw; sentry, A. H. Thomas; representative to the Grand Council, C. E. Fuller; alternate, J. H. Shaw. The officers will probably be installed the first Tuesday in January.

There was considerable excitement at the Converse House Monday evening when the hostler reported that Landlord Pierce's driving horse was missing from the stable. A search was made among the neighboring barns, but no one had seen the horse. The halter was hanging at the manger, and as the horse could not be found it was supposed that he had been stolen. After a time, however, he was found quietly standing in the rear of the stable. He had slipped his halter and walked out, but had received no injury.

W. E. Stone advertises to give a handsome seven-day mantel clock to the most popular fireman in the Palmer fire department, the contest to be decided by vote of patrons of his store. The votes cost nothing, each dime expended entitling the purchaser to one vote, 20 cents two votes, $1 ten votes and so on, the contest to be continued through the month of December. The result of the contest as it progreses will be published in the JOURNAL each week. The names of the members of the department will be found in Mr. Stone's advertisement in another column.

The auction sale of Dr. S. H. Ellery's horses, wagons and stable articles will take place at his stable on Central street next Tuesday, commencing at 10 30 a. m., and some rare bargains may be looked for. One of the horses to be sold is "Lady West," a 3-years-old, with a record of 2.31¼; she has made a trial heat in 2.18½, and trotted a half mile on ice in 1.06½. There are also four others which give promise of speed, either of which will make a good carriage or track horse for the purchaser. Besides the horses, there are carriages, buggies, harness, blankets, stable utensils, etc., all in a good condition.

A stranger caused some excitement at the residence of W. E. Stone Monday evening, while Mr. Stone was attending a lodge meeting. Mrs. Stone first saw him looking in a window, and asked him what he wanted. He told her none of her business, and her son went out to talk with him. No satisfactfon could be obtained from the man, who refused to go away. W. H. Hitchcock was the nearest neighbor that could be found, and he also interviewed the man. The stranger told Mr. Hitchcock that he had been crossing the lawn. An officer was sent for, but before he could arrive the man had made his escape.

The annual meeting of Thomas Lodge, F. and A. M., was held Monday night, and officers for the coming year were elected. This evening there will be an installation, which will be public to Masons, their families and invited guests. The Alpha Mandolin Club of Springfield will furnish music. The following are the officers: W. M., Dr. G. H. Wilkins; S. W., W. H. Brainerd; J. W., C. T. Brainerd; treasurer, W. E. Stone; secretary, H. W. McGregory; trustee for three years, J. B. Shaw. The officers will be installed by W. H. Small, past master of the lodge at Hudson, and C. F. Grosvenor, past master of the lodge at Ludlow, will act as marshal.

The Y. P. S. C. E. of the Congregational church gave a social and musical entertainment in the church parlors Wednesday evening, and a pleasant time was enjoyed by all who attended. A business meeting was held after the entertainment, when the following officers were elected for the ensuing six months: President, F. B. Pope; vice president, Miss Julia A. Allen; recording secretary, Miss Effie G. Shaw; corresponding secretary, Mrs. L. E. Chandler; treasurer, Robert Stebbins; chairman of committees—lookout, Mrs. G. H. Wilkins; prayer meeting, Miss Anna L. Fisherdick; missionary and temperance, H. R. Heath; musical and social, Miss Anna F. Shaw.

The new boiler for the works of the Wright Wire Cloth Co. in this place has arrived, and workmen commenced Monday placing it in position. The boiler is from the D. M. Dillon Boiler Works of Fitchburg, and has a capacity of 135-horse power, nominal rating. It was built to run at a working pressure of 150 lbs. The longitudinal seams are triple-staggered, riveted with double-strap joints, and the dimensions of the boiler are as follows: 72 inches in diameter and 19 feet 6 inches long, containing ninety-six ¾ inch tubes 18 feet long; thickness of plates, seven-sixteenth inches; thickness of heads, nine-sixteenth inches. Parties interested in high-pressure boilers are invited to call at the works and examine this one.

A man named Slate, formerly employed on the Ware River Railroad, had a narrow escape Tuesday night. He had spent the evening about the town and had retired in a buggy in the Ware river yard. The buggy was of course locked but some employe, whose name has not been learned, let Slate in. Late at night the man on duty in the signal tower saw flames in the buggy. He investigated, and found the interior blazing. He could arouse no one, but broke in, when he discovered Slate. The latter had taken off his clothes and had thrown them so near the stove that they had taken fire. He was rescued by the signal man, but his clothes were burned, together with about $25 in cash, as he claims. The buggy was not seriously damaged.

Notwithstanding the fact that the woodchuck and the squirrel, the corn husk, the bark-on-the-north-side-of-the-tree, and all the old weather signs point to a long and cold winter, autumn weather has lingered, seeming loth to leave, and it was only last Saturday that Mrs. Frederick Thompson brought to the JOURNAL office a dandelion blossom which she had plucked on the side of the road that day. There was a decided change in the weather Wednesday, the thermometer dropping to 6° above, and it commenced snowing about midnight. A light fall continued during the day yesterday, covering the ground to the depth of about 8 inches. The sleighing is not very good, although several sleighs are seen upon the streets. The storm does not appear to have done much damage, and if the snow remains there will probably be fair sleighing after it has become packed a little.

District Court.

Saturday was quite a busy day in the district court. Solomon Pierce, Jr., of Monson, who pleaded guilty to stabbing William Andrews, came in for sentence. The court decided that there was considerable provocation for the stabbing, and imposed a fine on Pierce just large enough to cover the officer's fees, which were $8 10. Pierce didn't have the money, and didn't show any disposition to get it. The court offered to send him to jail as an alternative, but he didn't seem to just approve of this, although he apparently did not take any great interest in the matter. After a lecture from the judge on his evident lack of ambition, Pierce decided that he could earn the money to pay his fine in a month, and was given until the 28th to do so. John Mack of Salem, who had stopped at the Hotel Allen Friday night, was left breaking stone Saturday morning. After he was left he left himself, and Deputy Sheriff Studley started after him. He was overtaken near the Cooley crossing, and requested by the officer to stop for a few moments. He said he hadn't time, and started across the field for the railroad. Mr. Studley followed, but not having speed enough sent a bullet after Mack. The latter found time to stop then, and was returned to Palmer. He went to Bridgewater for one year. In the case of George Beebe against Thomas Blanchard and trustees the defendant was defaulted for non-appearace. The case of Eliza Cowles against the Dr. Edgar Royce estate, for wages, was decided against the plaintiff. Hiram F. Babbitt came before the court yesterday morning for drunkenness. He was sent to the house of correction for four months.

Opera House Notes.

The Noss Jollity company presented the musical burlesque, "The Kodak," to a fair audience Saturday evening, and gave a pleasing entertainment.

Patrons at the opera house will be glad to know that arrangements have been made so that holders of orchestra seats can now enter through the side door. This plan was tried before, but through a misunderstanding, people were sent back to the main entrance. A ticket taker will be at the door in the future, and by this method those who patronize the advance sale may avoid the rush at the main entrance.

The next attraction, Friday evening of next week, is "The Burglar," presented by A. Q. Scammon's superb company. This will be the dramatic treat of the season. Little Anna Laughlin, famous as a former "Little Lord Fauntleroy," is the bright particular star of the organization. "Side Tracked," another company under the direction of A. Q. Scammon, is a roaring comedy, showing the funny side of life on the rail, in which a runaway locomotive dashes across the stage. This attraction will appear the latter part of the month. The quaint comedian, Arthur C. Sidman, in a "Summer Shower," is coming in January.

The current issue of the Dramatic Mirror has this to say of "Plays and Players": "All records of big business were broken last week at Lothrop's Opera House, Worcester, Mass., by Charles C. Stumm's company in the new farce comedy, Plays and Players. Three nights in succession the orchestra were crowded out and compelled to play on the stage." This same company appeared in Palmer Wednesday evening to the smallest house of the season. It was the intention of the management to put on the Philharmonic Orchestra of Springfield, but the light advance sale would not warrant the expense, consequently the piano alone had to serve as orchestra.

The Worcster Spy, in its account of the presentation of "The Burglar" in that city, in its issue of the 12th ult. says:

At Lothrop's Opera House, Monday evening, a large audience attended one of the prettiest and most finished of the many strong performances given there this season, in A. Q. Scammon's four-act commedy drama, "The Burglar." The play is a clever dramatization of Augustus Thomas' famous sketch, "Editha's Burglar," and, produced as it is, by a company uniformly strong, is sure to crowd the house during the present week. Interest centered in the third act, when "the burglar" broke into the library in Benton's house, and this was capitally done. Little Anna Laughlin, a fair haired rosy bit of humanity, in her 11th year, was the Editha, and her acting was the personification of innocence, and at the same time intelligent to a degree that was quite remarkable for one of her age. The house was spellbound during those midnight hours, when the little child, in her robe of white, found a way into the rough heart of the burglar, and at last was revealed to him as his own daughter. William Lewis, in the title role, played a difficult part, to the evident satisfaction of the audience. The rest of the cast was strong, and the whole performance, smooth and evenly balanced.

BONDSVILLE.

Don't miss "The Burglar."

George A. Jacobs spent Sunday at his home in Lowell.

Richard Russell of Three Rivers spent Sunday in town.

Miss Pied of Lowell is visiting her sister, Mrs. H. A. Stevens.

Mr. and Mrs. Parent were in Boston the first part of the week.

Miss Ora Parent returned to her studies at Smith College Tuesday.

Rev. F. E. Jenkins exchanged pulpits with Rev. F. J. Hale Sunday.

The W. C. T. U. held a meeting at Mrs. F. J. Hale's Tuesday afternoon.

The Misses Walker of Nashua, N. H., were guests of Mr. and Mrs. John Green last week.

Miss Lou Shumway was surprised at her home last Saturday evening by 25 of her friends.

Misses Nellie Landers and Lizzie Clifford are home from Westfield Normal School for a few days.

Miss Mabel Ryther has returned to her school duties at Belchertown, after a vacation of a week.

The schools opened Monday with the exception of the primary room, which did not open until Tuesday on account of the sickness of the teacher, Miss Thayer.

The Epworth League hold a business meeting this evening, after which Mr. Hale will give an illustrated talk on "The Heavens as They Appear on a December Night."

THORNDIKE.

Look out for "The Burglar."

The glass blowers will close their engagement here to-morrow evening and go to Chicopee Falls.

Mr. and Mrs. James Bran, who have been visiting in town for the past week, have returned home.

Mr. and Mrs. Fusdall of Springfield, formerly of this place, were in town visiting friends this week.

Mr. and Mrs. James Staples of Holyoke spent Sunday in town as guests of Mr. and Mrs. H. T. Bishop.

Miss Maggie Longtime returned on Wednesday from a visit of several months with relatives in Michigan.

William Dutton of Cleveland, O., spent part of the week in town, the guest of his sister, Mrs. G. A. Murdock.

Miss Ada Murdock entertained a party of friends at her home Friday evening, and those present enjoyed the occasion very much.

Reception to Rev. Mr. Gerrish.

Nearly 100 persons were present at the reception tendered Rev. Mr. Gerrish, the new pastor of the Congregational church, in the vestry Wednesday evening. Addresses of welcome were made by the following persons: In behalf of the church and society, B. F. Clark; Christian Endeavor Society, C. A. Tabor; King's Daughters, Miss Carrie A. Parker; Sunday School, James Hutchinson; pastors of the town, Rev. H. F. Moulton of Palmer. Prayer was offered by Rev. Mr. Hale of Bondsville. Refreshments, consisting of cake, coffee, ice cream, etc., were served. Those present spent a very pleasant evening, and much credit is due those who were instrumental in having such a friendly gathering between the pastor and his people.

THREE RIVERS.

"The Burglar." "The Burglar" is coming.

Station agent Hillman spent Sunday with relatives in Belchertown.

Jesse Dearden of Tolland, Ct., spent a few days this week with J. H. Trickett.

Mrs. Charles Murdock is spending a few days this week with relatives in Boston.

A. W. Mason of Enfield visited friends and relatives in this village last Sunday.

Wells, the younger son of Mr. and Mrs. C. S. Ruggles, is very sick with pneumonia.

Mrs. Elza Lamphere, who has been very ill at the home of her granddaughter, Mrs. H. D. Geer, is slowly recovering.

Charles Ruggles finished shingling and clap-boarding the Club Room building this week.

Mrs. Ella B. Nutting of Meriden, Ct., spent the Sabbath with her sister, Mrs. S. B. Barnes.

William Gates and children of Enfield visited his sister, Mrs. Thomas Fenton, last Saturday.

A. T. McWhorter of the French-American College, Springfield, formerly of this place, spent Sunday with L. B. Kendrick.

Mrs. Frank Germaine of Worcester is visiting her daughter, Mrs. F. L. White, who is slowly recovering from her long illness.

Mrs. L. N. Vaughn will leave to-morrow for Worcester, after having spent several weeks with her sister, Mrs. F. L. White.

Edith, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Jones, who has been dangerously ill with membranous croup, is rapidly recovering.

Miss Helen L. Sweet, principal of the public schools in this place, returned from Orange last Saturday, where she had spent a week's vacation among friends.

A. H. Lavalle of Holyoke and Miss Effie Crouch of New London, Ct., who have been spending their vacation with Mrs. H. D. Geer, have returned to their homes.

N. K. Story vacated one of Mr. Howard's tenements last Saturday which he had occupied for nearly eleven years. He now occupies one of Mr. Upham's new tenements.

The many friends of Miss Mary Wilson, who for nearly three months has been visiting friends and relatives in Ontario, Canada, are glad to see her once more among them.

E. F. Snell of Newton Theological Seminary occupied the pulpit in the Baptist church last Sunday in the absence of Mr. Thomas, who preached in Newton Upper Falls.

Rev. G. U. Clark of the Home Missionary Association gave a stereopticon entertainment in the Union church last Wednesday evening. The views, accompanied by a lecture by Rev. Mr. Clark, were both instructive and entertaining.

One of J. B. Brown's horses furnished amusement for a multitude of small boys last Saturday, after getting loose, by hustling through the streets and going through the performances that one would expect from a 3-year-old Kentucky thoroughbred.

A whist party was given in the rooms of the Three Rivers Bicycle Club Tuesday evening which was attended by a good number of devotees of this pastime. A similar party will be given next Tuesday evening, and if the same company be present a good time is assured.

Quite a number of the young ladies of the Wednesday Evening Club are discussing the question: "Are we to have skating on our river soon?" A few, however, who very likely contemplate visiting the vicinity of Boston, are asking for the condition of the aqueous element near the "Hub." These we would refer to the young lady who visited her home near Boston last week, and who was extremely careful to pack her skates in a prominent corner of her trunk, only to find on arriving at her destination that the rivers and ponds there were really as open and as free from ice as our own here in Three Rivers.

BORN.

At Providence, R. I., 29th ult., a son to H. B. and Mary E. Knox.

At Ware, 3d, a son to Mr. and Mrs. F. R. Cunningham.

DIED.

At Ludlow, 4th, Harriet Stebbins, 91 y. 3 d., widow of Lyman Burr.

At West Warren, 3d, John Shea.

At Warren, 3d, Mrs. Mary G. Burbank, 75.

FOR SALE.—Soapstone stove.
5—34 L. A. CONANT, Palmer.

WANTED.—Competent girl for general housework. MRS. E. G. HASTINGS,
tf-35 Palmer.

FOR SALE.—Residence, corner Squier and Pine streets. Inquire of W. H. Small at the house.
13*36 A. E. PARK.

WANTED.—A young woman to do genaral housework. Apply to 1-36 MRS. JOHN NEWMAN, Palmer.

MISS EFFIE G. SHAW will give an exhibition of decorated china at her home on West Main street, Monday afternoon and evening, December 9, to which all interested are cordially invited. 1-36

FOR SALE.—House on Squier avenue and building lots Pond street, belonging to J. A. Squier estate. Enquire W. W. LEACH,
Palmer, Mass., April 23, 1894. tf-4

DRS. ALLEN AND HAYES, specialists in chronic diseases, will be at the Nassowanno House, Palmer, on Wednesday of each week from 10 a. m. to 8 p. m. Consultation free. Latest methods employed. tf-30

FUN! FUN!! FUN!!!
LET NO INNOCENT MAN ESCAPE.

A Mock Court Trial

will be held under the auspices of the SENIOR CLASS of the . . . . .

PALMER HIGH SCHOOL,

in the

OPERA HOUSE,

Tuesday Eve., Dec. 17.

This novel and fun provoking entertainment will be according to the rules of a regular court of justice. One of our most respected citizens will be tried for the larceny of a Plymouth Rock rooster.

A jury of twelve fellow townsmen will decide as to his guilt.

Able lawyers have been engaged to prosecute and defend the case.

A refined, instructive, interesting, excitable and LAUGHABLE entertainment is assured.

Do not fail to be present and hear the opening of the court, funny empaneling of the jury, testimony of the witnesses, arguments of the lawyers, charges of the judge, etc.

Admission 25c, reserved seats 35c, 50c.

Tickets on sale at LeGro & Lynde's drug store after Thursday, December 12.
Doors open at 7. Court called at 8.

ODD FELLOWS OPERA HOUSE,

Friday evening, Dec. 13.

A DRAMATIC TREAT.

The celebrated comedy drama,

"THE BURGLAR."

Presented by A. Q. Scammon's company. Superb company. A play of surprises, of absorbing interest and pretty surroundings. No play ever written has so complete a sway upon the feelings that actuate the human beings.

"The Burglar," by Augustus Thomas, author of "Alabama," taken from Mrs. Burnett's charming sketch, "Editha's Burglar."

ONE NIGHT ONLY.

Reserved seats at Allen's at 8 o'clock to-morrow morning.

WINNING ITS WAY.

Last season was the BEST, and we propose to make this still better.

CHERRY BALSAM

for lung troubles is a

GREAT SUCCESS.

We have many testimonials to prove this. And we sold more last year than all other cough medicines combined.

TRY IT

It heals and soothes the lungs and bronchial tubes. Stops the cough, allays irritation and hacking. The best cough syrup you can give the children.

PRICE 25 AND 50 CENTS.

MADE ONLY BY

LeGro & Lynde,

Next Door to Post Office,
Palmer, - Mass.

Barbed Wire

HAS HAD A FALL.

Our CASH price is

2 1-4 cents per pound

for the best quality barbed . . or plain twist wire. . .

Also all kinds of

HARDWARE, SKATES, and SLEDS.

POCKET KNIVES, SCISSORS, SHEARS.

PAINTS, OILS and VARNISHES.

WINDOW GLASS.

E. A. Buck & Co.,

Cross block, Main street,
PALMER, - MASS.

For Saturday.

SPECIAL SALE

of ladies'

..FUR CAPES..

We have just received a fine line of ladies' fur capes, beautifully lined and trimmed. Have you one? If not buy it now.

D. L. BODFISH,

CROSS BLOCK, - PALMER, MASS.

SATURDAY

Holiday Goods.

the last day of our big 10 per cent discount sale.

We are headquarters with the best line ever shown in town.

"I'll never go there any Moore."

This has no reference to George Moore's jewelry store, for the Moore people go there the Moore they wonder why they haven't been there Moore.

MOORE

GOODS FOR YOUR MONEY
EXPERIENCE IN REPAIRING STOCK TO SELECT FROM SATISFACTION ALL AROUND

Xmas presents for all. Both useful and ornamental, from grandson to grandsire. Come one, come all. The Moore the merrier.

George A. Moore,

Watchmaker and jeweler,
Holden's Block, Palmer.

Fetchy Footwear.

That expresses it exactly.

All the newest and nobbiest of nobby goods. . . . . .

They fit, too. You don't have to make your feet fit our shoes—we have the shoes to fit your feet—all sizes and shapes of feet.

In the matter of shoes feeling is believing. We'd be pleased to demonstrate this to you.

A. B. Cowan,

Holden's Block, Palmer.

Public Auction

of Trotters, Roadsters, Wagons, Etc.

The undersigned, before leaving for California, will dispose of all his live stock at auction at his stables in Palmer, Mass., Tuesday, December 10th, at 10.30 a. m.

Lady West, 2.31¼, (P) 3 years old, trial 2.18½, half on ice in 1.06½, black filly (4) 15.3 hands, by Col. West, he by Egbart, dam by Tom Patchen. This filly's record is no measure of her speed, she is very level headed, grand, fearless roader and a hard one to beat to the snow or road.

Elial E. Bay gelding (7) 15.3½ hands high, sired by Elial G., dam by Ogden's Messenger. This gelding is very stylish and up-headed, fearless of steam or electric cars and is a whirlwind on the road, can and will cover from 15 to 16 miles an hour and a very free driver.

Lucinda. Blk. M. (5) 15½ hands, by Kentucky Prince 400, dam by Messenger Duroc. This mare has paced miles in 2.40, halves in 1.14½.

Chedayne. Reg. No. 24155, Blk. G. (2) 15.3 hands, by Bona Fide by Hambletonian 10, dam by son of Smuggler. This colt is very promising, is good gaited, a fine roader, well broken, fearless of all objects, very handsome and a prize winner.

Bay gelding, one year old, by Solis 1978 by Sultan, dam by son of Happy Medium, sire of Nancy Hanks 2.04, and others. This youngster is a very leggy, strong built, finely gaited fellow and should surely be a very fast one.

Also a number of carriages, buggies, a fine one-man buggy, little used. Carr, bike sulky, harnesses, blankets and all stable utensils. Any question in regard to the above stock will be answered. See large bills.

Sale positive rain or shine.

3-34 DR. S. H Ellery, Palmer, Mass.

DENTISTRY!

If you are in need strictly first-class dental work and want it done without pain at moderate prices

call on

DR. WM. L. ROBERTS, DENTIST.

Springfield Office: Court Sq. Theatre Building. Holyoke Office: 291 High St.

POSTAL

Telegraph and Cable Co.

Office in Strong's Block,

PALMER, : : : : : MASS.

Direct wires to New York and Boston. Office in all the principal cities in the

UNITED STATES.

PROMPT SERVICE.

REASONABLE RATES,

ALL BUSINESS

STRICTLY CONFIDENTIAL.

WALL PAPERS, MOULDINGS, ETC., AT MASON'S, PALMER.

A. H. HITCHCOCK,

OPTICIAN,

331 Main Street, Springfield, Mass.

Spectacles and Eye Glasses of all kinds.
Artificial eyes furnished.
Oculists' prescriptions promptly and accurately filled.
Mail orders solicited. 13-25

CASH STORE.

GROCERIES AND . . . . . CROCKERY.

We give them away for CASH. Also a fine line of HOLIDAY GOODS.

Dinner set, 112 pieces,	$9 to 16.50	Pitchers,	10c to $1.60	Hanging lamps,	2.50 to 4.50
Toilet set,	2.75 to 9	Banquet lamps,	$2.50 to 12	Stand lamps,	25c to $7
Cups,	10c to $2	Hall lamps,	$2.25 to 4.50	Cuspidors, vases, rose bowls, tile teapots,

Children's T sets, cracker jars, and loads of other things too numerous to mention.

LOOK AT OUR LINE OF GROCERIES:

20 lbs. sugar,	$1	Butter color,	20c and 40c bottle	Tapioca, rice and barley,	6c
Best tub butter,	25c	Lewis clams,	9c	30 bars Lenox soap,	$1
10 lb. tub pure lard,	80c	Coffee, NONE BETTER,	25, 30, 35, 38c	Crackers, 6 l

The Journal.

FRIDAY EVENING, DECEMBER 6, 1895.

NEIGHBORHOOD NOTES.

MONSON.

LOCAL NOTICES.

"The Burglar" is coming. December 13 the date. Opera House, Palmer.

NEW BOOKS AT THE LIBRARY.

The Following New Books Were Placed in Circulation at the Public Library November 1st.

5707 Adventures of Captain Horn. Frank R. Stockton
5703 Afloat With the Flag. W. J. Henderson
5733 American Congress, the. Joseph West Moore
5746 American Writers of To-Day. Henry C. Vedder
5720 Among the Isles of Shoals. Celia Thaxter
5702 At the Back of the North Wind. George Macdonald
5683 Bell-Ringer of Angel's, the. Bret Harte
5768 Birdcraft. Mabel Osgood Wright
5718 Birds and Poets. John Burroughs.
5698 Bird's Christmas Carol. Kate Douglas Wiggan.
5734 Blaine, James G., Biography of. Gail Hamilton
5732 Bohemia, the Story of. Frances Gregor
5728 Brownies Around the World. Palmer Cox
5711 Bunch-Grass Stories. Mrs. Lindon W. Bates
5706 Candle in the Sea, A. Edward A. Rand
5724 Cathedrals of England. Frederick W. Farrar
5687 Chosen Valley, the. Mary Hallock Foote
5682 Clarence. Bret Harte.
5760 Darwinism, and Other Essays. John Fiske
5704 Diamond Dyke. George Manville Fenn
5745 Eels, Rev. Cushing, Biography of. Myron Eels
5758 Electricity for Everybody. Phillip Atkinson
5749 English Literature, Story of. Anna Buckland
5750 English Religious Drama. Katherine Lee Bates
5673 Errant Wooing, an. Mrs. Burton Harrison
5715 Experiment in Altruism. Elizabeth Hastings
5764 Eye, in Its Relation to Health. Chalmer Prentice
5696 Faith White's Letter Book. 1620-1623. Henry Hoyt
5744 Famous Leaders Among Women. Sarah Knowles Bolton
5681 Gentleman of France. Stanley J. Weyman.
5712 Girl's Life in Virginia Before the War. Letitia M. Burwell
5761-2 Heredity, and Kindred Biological Problems, Essays Upon, 2 Vols. August Weismann
5680 His Father's Son. Brander Matthews.
5769 Horse Doctor, the, Illustrated. Edward Mayhew
5751 Horsemanship by Xenophon, Art of. Morris H. Morgan.
5695 Hyperion. A Romance. Henry W. Longfellow
5688 In Old New England. Hezekiah Butterworth
5723 In the Wilds of the West Coast. J. Macdonald Oxley
5752 Lanier, Sidney, Poems of. Mary D. Lanier, Ed.
5753 Larcom, Lucy, Poetical Works of.
5678 Life of Nancy. Sarah Orne Jewett
5674 Lisbeth Wilson. Eliza Nelson Blair.
5709 Lost Army, the. Thomas W. Knox.
5721 Madagasca of To-day. W. E. Cousins
5691 Madonna of the Alps. Nathan Haskell
5692 Master, The. I. Zangwill
5766 Municipal Home Rule. Frank J Goodnow
5713 My Summer in a Morman Village. Florence A. Merriam.
5743 Modern Temple and Templars. Sketch of Life and Work of R. H. Conwell. Robert J. Burdette
5730-1 Our Own Times, History of. 2 vols. Justin McCarthy
5726 Our Western Archipelago. Henry M. Field
5725 Outre-Mer. Impressions of America. Paul Bourget
5717 Pepacton. John Burroughs
5701 Phantastes. George Macdonald
5690 Phillip Leicester. Jessie E. Wright
5748 Poet Among the Hills. O. W. Holmes in Berkshire. J. E. A. Smith
5710 Princeton Stories. Jesse Lynch Williams
5694 Prisoner of Zenda. Anthony Hope
5754 Rhymes of Our Planet. Will Carleton
5716 Riverby. John Burroughs
5722 Russian Rambles. Isabel F. Hapgood
5765 School Management. Emerson E. White
5767 Secret of Success. John T. Dale
5719 Signs and Seasons. John Burroughs
5677 Singular Life, A. Elizabeth Stuart Phelps
5705 Snow-Shoes and Sledges. Kirk Munroe
5685 Soulless Singer, A. Mary Catherine Lee
5756 Spenser, Tales from. Sophia M. Maclehose
5757 Stars, Story of. George F. Chambers
5693 Story of Bessie Costrell. Mrs. Humphrey Ward
5684 Story of Christine Rochefort. Helen Choate Prince
5675 Story of Fort Frayne. Captain Charles King
5700 Story of Jack Ballister's Fortunes. Howard Pyle
5747 Thaxter, Celia, Letters of. A. F. and R. L., Editors.
5755 Thaxter, Celia, Poems of.
5763 Theology, Social, Outlines of. William DeWitt Hyde
5759 Thinking, Feeling, Doing. E. W. Scripture
5735-6 Tilden, Samuel J., Life of. 2 vols. John Bigelow
5727 Travels in Three Continents. J. M. Buckley
5699 Two Little Pilgrims' Progress. Frances Hodgson Burnett
5729 Union, Conn., History of. Rev. Charles Hammond
5737-42 Vasari's Lives of Eminent Painters, Sculptors, Architects. 6 vols. Mrs. Jonathan Foster
5697 Village Watch-Tower. Kate Douglas Wiggan
5708 Water-Babies, the. Charles Kingsley
5689 What They Couldn't. Mrs. G. R. Alden
5714 When Valmond Came to Pontac. Gilbert Parker
5686 Winterborough. Eliza Orne White
5679 Wise Woman, the. Clara Louise Burnham
5676 With the Procession. Henry B. Fuller

Books of Reference.

Century Cyclopedia of Names.
Famous Composers and Their Works.
German and English Dictionary. W. D. Whitney
Stafford, Conn., Illustrated.

The Revival Meetings.

The union evangelistic meetings led by Rev. W. A. Dunnett, assisted by the gospel singers, the Rives trio, shows a constant increase in attendance and interest. The meetings have so far been held in the Methodist church. Sunday afternoon and evening mass meetings were held, and at the latter services almost every seat was occupied. Monday evening the sermon was upon the subject, "A Dollar a Day for a Man," Tuesday evening, "God's Detective." Wednesday evening, "Was He a Fool?" Thursday evening, "Where is Hell," and to-night the subject will be, "Counted in the Fourth Round." According to the original plan of holding a part of the meetings in the Methodist church and part in the Congregational, it has been decided to hold the evening meetings next week in the latter place. The afternoon meetings, beginning at 3 o'clock, will be held in the Methodist church. On Sabbath morning Evangelist Dunnett will preach in the Methodist church upon "A Mistaken Champion." At 3 o'clock, at Memorial Hall, he will give a straight talk to men only, boys under 15 will not be admitted; subject, "Strapped." In the evening, at the Congregational church, he will take for his subject, "How God Knows;" Monday evening, "Is it Right to Dance?" (from personal experience); Sunday evening, "Stone Throwing;" Wednesday evening, "The Theatre:" Thursday evening, "Is the Heart White, Red or Black?" Friday evening, "How to Command God." Mr. Dunnett's sermons are positive and direct, generally closing with an exhortation. In many of the discourses there are bursts of eloquence highly descriptive and very impressive, notably in the sermon Tuesday evening, where he pictured a storm at sea. The afternoon talks are especially directed to Christians, and are spoken of as being exceedingly helpful. There appears to be a great deal of religious feeling indicated by the members who have expressed a desire to lead Christian lives. The Canadian gospel singers have fairly sung themselves into the hearts of the people. They take part in every service. All societies connected with the Methodist church are omitting their meetings during the revival. The King's Daughters' meeting has been indefinitely postponed on account of it.

Jersey leggins are cold proof.

Our stock of leggins for ladies, misses and children is complete. The goods are better and prices lower than last season.

LADIES' FINE OVERGAITORS FOR 25c, 50c, 75c, $1.00.

Why not buy a pair? It is cheaper than having cold feet once.

HOW ABOUT ..... SKATES?

FULLER ..... HAS THEM, and skating shoes, too.

◆◆◆◆◆◆◆◆

Geo. L. Fuller,

the distributor of fine fitting shoes.

Monson, - Mass.

Death of Seneca F. Conant.

In the death of Seneca F. Conant last Saturday Monson lost one of its oldest residents. Mr. Conant was born in this town in 1816. He studied theology with the intention of entering the ministry, but was never ordained; for a number of years he ran a saw and grist mill in the southeast part of the town, on the brook bearing his name. Since the death of his wife, about 20 years ago, he had lived alone. For some time he has had dropsy, and having become too feeble to care for himself he was taken about a month ago to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Squier on Moulton Hill, where his last days were made as comfortable as possible. Mr. Conant was one of a family of six—Augustus of New Orleans, Andrew, who died at Palmer, Mrs. Caroline Perry, who lives near Boston, Mrs. Maria Green, deceased, and Miss Clarinda, who resides in the house opposite the one owned by Mr. Conant. The funeral of Mr. Conant was held Tuesday, Rev. F. S. Hatch officiating. The burial was in the Center cemetery.

Marcus Keep Post held a meeting Monday evening.

Marcus Keep Woman's Relief Corps will meet next Wednesday evening.

There will be public rhetoricals at the Academy Friday evening, Dec. 20.

Mrs. George H. Foskit spent Wednesday and Thursday at West Brookfield.

Frank Blackford of Tufts college preached in the Universalist church Sunday.

Miss E. Augusta Fay returned Saturday from an extended visit at Waltham.

Prof. Arthur N. Burke spent the Thanksgiving recess at his home in Norwich, Ct.

Harry L. Chapin returned Monday to the Massachusetts College of Pharmacy in Boston.

Mr. and Mrs. Caleb Lee of Somers, Ct., visited Judge and Mrs. G. H. Newton this week.

Rev. Charles Ricketts and family of Rockville, Ct., visited at William J. Ricketts' last week.

Miss Ella Stebbins spent Thanksgiving with her sister, Mrs. William K. Stebbins, in Worcester.

J. C. Rockwell's theater is booked at Memorial Hall for the week beginning December 16.

Miss Carol Nealley, class of '96, Smith College, spent last Friday and Saturday with Miss Helen Tucker.

J. F. Foley has entered the employ of Michael Leary at the White sewing machine office, Albany, N. Y.

At a meeting of the school board Friday evening Miss Mabelle Tucker was appointed teacher in district No. 3.

The Dorcas Society gave a supper and entertainment in the Congregational church parlors Wednesday evening.

The schools opened Monday for the winter term of twelve weeks. There will be a week's intermission at Christmas.

The Dorcas and Ladies' Benevolent society gave a sociable in the Congregational church parlors Wednesday evening.

Cornelius J. Leary has the contract for plumbing C. L. Sweet's two-tenement house, corner of East State and Gates streets.

Mr. and Mrs. N. A. Hammond of Hartford, Ct., spent Thanksgiving with Mrs. Hammond's parents, Mr. and Mrs. M. D. Cushman.

Harry A. Merchant returned Monday to his studies at the Albany Medical College, having spent the Thanksgiving vacation at his home.

Miss Mary Murphy and Richard S. Hughes were married Thanksgiving Day at the home of the bride in the eastern part of the state.

William Johnson and family of Shelburne Falls were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Johnson from Wednesday of last week till Tuesday of this.

At the Universalist church next Sunday morning the pastor, Rev. Harry Blackford, will preach on the following subject: "The Damnation of Unbelievers."

Henry Webb and family returned Monday from Norwich, Ct., where they were called several days ago on account of the death of Mrs. Webb's mother.

A sum of money has been contributed sufficient to pay the expense of extending the macadam south as far as the crosswalk in front of S. F. Cushman, Jr's., house.

The Ladies' Circle will hold a sale in the Universalist church Tuesday afternoon and evening, Dec. 17th. A clam chowder and scalloped oyster supper will be served from 6 to 8 o'clock.

The county commissioners met Wednesday, and among other matters ordered a hearing for January 8 in the Town Hall on the petition of Dr. G. E. Fuller and others for altering a highway.

Willie, the eight-years-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Garrett Donahoe of South Monson, died Wednesday afternoon after a long illness. He had scarlet fever last winter, after which dropsy developed.

The Thanksgiving ball has not ceased to be a topic of conversation. The immense crowds which represented several adjoining towns, especially Palmer and Stafford, as well as Monson, the excellent music and the general atmosphere of sociability, all went to make the affair a notable one.

The many friends of Mrs. Charles G. Thompson will be interested to know that her poem entitled "After" has been set to sacred music by Composer W. F. Sudds, and will soon be issued by the Ditsons of Boston. Mrs. Thompson's poems have been published from time to time in the JOURNAL and are highly appreciated.

Marcus Keep post elected these officers Monday evening: Commander, John C. Aldrich; senior vice commander, George A. Harvey; junior vice commander, Henry A. Nelson; adjutant, George H. Foskett; quartermaster, William J. Ricketts; chaplain, Wilbur M. Fay; surgeon, George E. Fuller; officer of the day, Lowell Wilcox; officer of the guard, Patrick Shield.

Mrs. William Carroll of North Monson died at her mother's home at Pelham, and the body was brought to Monson Tuesday for burial in the Center cemetery. The funeral was held at Pelham. Mrs. Carroll had consumption and had suffered greatly. She leaves besides her husband, a sister, Mrs. Nelson Abbott, and five brothers, Horace J., Monroe, William, Fred L. and Nelson, all residents of Monson, except the latter, whose home is at Pelham.

The Philo society will devote their meeting this evening to the study of the life and writings of Harriet Beecher Stowe. The programme: Music; Life of Mrs Stowe, Miss Smith; readings, Miss Gage, Miss Weber; quotations and incidents of her life, from all present; dialogue; reading, Miss Bowe; music. Programme for Lino tonight: Essay, L. A. Prouty; news of the past two weeks, Harry W. Bugbee; debate, "Resolved, That Football should be Abolished in Our Colleges and Town Schools," affirmative, George F. Thacker, negative, D. Gallivan; declamations, Messrs. Quinn and Davis.

The Bohemian glass blowers, who gave entertainments in Memorial Hall last week for the benefit of the Monson Cornet Band, drew out a large number of people nightly, and considerable interest was manifested in the various contests. The prizes were awarded at the closing entertainment Saturday evening. Miss Irene Dinneen, as the most popular miss, received the largest number of votes, and was given a glass globe valued at $50. The lucky door ticket was held by Miss Kate Hart; Harry F. Chapin was voted to be the homeliest man, and George Thacker was the winner in the word contest. In each case the prizes were articles made of glass. The company went from here to Thorndike.

Wilson M. Tucker attended the meeting of the state board of agriculture at Dalton this week.

WEST WARREN.

Miss Hattie B. Thomas of Springfield is visiting at Miss J. A. Johnson's.

Mrs. W. H Dockham has returned from a stay with her sister in New Hampshire.

John Shea died at his home Tuesday, after a long illness. The interment was in Springfield.

John and Walter Shaw with their families of Palmer spent Thanksgiving with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Shaw.

NORTH WILBRAHAM.

The county commissioners held a short meeting last Friday, and made a report on the petition of W. M. Green and others asking for a new highway to be laid out and located in this place. A hearing was held and November 6 the new highway was laid out. It starts near the present highway leading to Moran's crossing by the Boston and Albany road, and runs to the monument on the easterly line of the Stony hill road. There will be one culvert. The owners of the land are given till April 1 to remove wood, etc. The Ludlow manufacturing company are to receive $55 damages and Mrs. Michael Powers, or heirs of M. Powers, $600. The new road is to be completed by October 1, 1896, and it is to be 20 feet wide exclusive of gutter.

BRIMFIELD.

Dr. and Mrs. G. F. Chamberlain were in Boston last week, visiting Dr. and Mrs. Myron Chamberlain.

A very pleasant whist party was given by Mrs. G. W. Earle last Saturday afternoon in honor of her sisters, the Misses Wood.

The public school began the winter term Monday, after a week's vacation. The Hitchcock Free High School opened Tuesday.

The Marquis Converse memorial drinking fountain was formally presented to the town of Brimfield Wednesday by Alfred L. Converse of Warren, who is the only surviving son of Marquis Converse. At this time of the year no elaborate dedication exercises were practicable, but the brief exercises were very impressive. Deacon Newton S. Hubbard accepted the memorial in behalf of the town, in his capacity as chairman of the committee chosen by the town to carry out the town's share in the enterprise. Remarks were also made by Rev. Mr. Peirce, Rev. Mr. Kyle, Thomas J. Morgan and Principal Earle of the high school.

WILBRAHAM.

William C. Rice of this place and Miss Grace Logan of Springfield were united in marriage the 13th of last month. They will make their home in Wilbraham. Mr. Rice is a prosperous young farmer, and his many friends wish him success in his new life.

The annual open session of the Athena Society of Wesleyan Academy was held in Fisk Hall last Saturday evening. The following programme was rendered: Organ prelude, Miss Marion E. Penfield; prayer, Herbert E. Wright; president's address, Miss Elizabeth D. Hall; secretary's report, Miss Bessie B. Curtis; chorus; declamation, Miss Gertrude A. Chase; piano trio, Misses Campbell, Gates and Jessup; debate, "Resolved, That the present rapid growth of the cities of the United States endangers our civilization," Miss Edith Parker and Miss Maud Hubbard affirmative, and Miss S. Nellie Henderson and Miss Winifred Miller negative; violin solo, Miss Violet T. Truell; "Athena World," editors, Misses Gerould Miller and Annie L. Judkins; vocal solo, Miss Evita G. Lang, Fannie Treat, S. Nellie Henderson and Marion E. Penfield. The debate was decided in favor of the negative. Miss Lang's solo, "The bend of the river," and the violin solo of Miss Truell are deserving of special mention. There were also many former students of the Academy present.

WALES.

Miss Annie Baker is engaged at J. H. Loudan's as domestic.

Harry Medzker has commenced teaching school in the south district.

Rev. H. P. Smith has moved his family to Worcester, where he has a pastorate.

Allie E. Shaw, wife and son spent Thanksgiving with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Eden D. Shaw.

Rev. George W. Davis entertained his Sunday school class last Monday evening at the parsonage.

Henry E. Steele, who has been confined to his home several days, is able to be on the street again.

Miss Edith Page of Providence, niece of Congressman Page of Rhode Island, is visiting her aunt, Mrs. Isaiah Hiscock.

Albert Williams has been nursing a sore thumb most of the week, which he cut with a butcher knife and caught cold in.

W. A. Lyon is to open a dry goods, fancy and millinery store in Shaw's block soon. He is now away buying goods. He will also put in boots and shoes and a fine line of men's clothing.

Three tramps were around Monday and begged for food at several houses. They called at the home of Mrs. Charles Davis, who was away at the time. A neighbor saw them as they were going away from the house and went over and found they had entered the house through a window. As Mrs. Davis has not returned yet, it is not known whether or not anything is missing. Constable Eager was notified, but did not succeed in capturing them. They went in the direction of Southbridge and East Brimfield.

H. H Hall's horse indulged in a lively run Tuesday night. He left him attached to a heavy truck wagon in front of his house while he went in to bring out some of his household furniture, which he was moving to the house he had rented of H. P. Smith. The horse ran down Main street, tearing down an iron post in front of J. H. Loudan's. Running toward the barn near the meat market in attempting to turn between the buildings he ran into one of the large windows of Chamberlain & Co's. store, and knocked out the sash and glass. He then started for the barn, colliding with Dr. Ross's carriage and upsetting it. The horse was somewhat cut about the head and the wagon was broken.

GENERAL NEWS MATTERS.

A big fire in a New York sweat shop did $30,000 damage Wednesday.

Chicago has an indoor ice skating rink, with a surface of 30,000 square feet.

The city solicitor of Altoona, Pa., has absconded, and his accounts are about $15,000 short.

A New Haven man has invented an apparatus for firing a rifle or shotgun by electricity.

Henry J. Files, a Boston letter carrier, is under arrest for stealing money and letters from the mails.

H. H. Holmes, the multi-murderer, has been refused a new trial at Philadelphia, and sentenced to death.

Senator David B. Hill's lecture tour in the Northwest came to an abrupt end this week, for the lack of patronage.

The next annual encampment of the Grand Army of the Republic will be held in St. Paul September 1 to 4 next year.

Mrs. Delia Stewart Parnell, mother of Charles Stewart Parnell, is ill at a New York hospital, and her recovery is doubtful.

A seven-years-old Northfield girl was burned to death Tuesday afternoon while attempting to light a fire with kerosene.

Eleven men were killed and nine seriously injured by the caving in of a wall in an iron mine at Brewsters, N. Y., Friday morning.

The cotton mill of the Powhattan Construction and Improvement Company at Powhattan, Md., was burned Monday; loss $50,000.

A fire which resulted in the death of two firemen and the injury of three others did damage amounting to nearly $400,000 at Indianapolis Tuesday morning.

The wild man who has been frightening the people in the vicinity of Bridgeport, Ct., for the past two months, was captured Wednesday. He is thought to be insane.

Chicago has a Democratic representative holding a certificate of election to Congress who refuses to take his seat, believing his Republican opponent is entitled to it.

Lorenzo Burr, secretary of a number of German building associations at Philadelphia, has been missing for several days, and the companies are out about $25,000.

Ex-Governor William E. Russell will be the orator at the next convocation of the Chicago University, January 1. He will speak on "Individualism in government—a plea for liberty."

Senior Bishop Alexander W. Wayman of the African Methodist church, one of the best known colored churchmen in the United States, dropped dead at his residence in Baltimore Saturday.

Rev. Frank Hyatt Smith, until recently pastor of the North Avenue Congregational church at Cambridge, who has been adjudged insane, has gone to the Federal Insane Asylum at Washington.

Charles Abbott, 50, and his wife, Julia, 30, of Holyoke, were found dead together Monday night, having committed suicide some time during the day. No cause for committing the crime is known.

The body of Andrew Dooley, 45, was found in the Fitchburg Railroad yard at Greenfield Wednesday morning. He had been struck by a train while under the influence of liquor.

Sylvester S. Brown, a traveling salesman for a New York firm, attempted suicide by shooting Tuesday night because an actress refused to marry him at St. Louis, Mo.

Sixty-two tramps raided the city of Cumberland, Wis., threatening destruction to the town unless food and shelter were provided them. Three of them were placed under arrest, but they soon broke jail, and were followed by the officers, several shots being exchanged before they were recaptured. Much excitement prevailed on account of the threats made.

One of a gang of robbers that blew open the safes at the Athol and South Athol depots Friday night was captured in the woods near Athol Saturday. On being discovered the robbers took to the woods, followed by the officers, who fired several shots, wounding one of them. He gave his name as Richard Burns, and has been placed under bonds for appearance at the January term of court at Worcester.

A peculiar religious sect, known as Amish, exists in Kokomo, Ind. There is quite a large settlement of these people who believe in the old Testament only, and believe that all state or national laws are contrary to the Bible. They marry without licenses, marrying cousins and other close relatives, bury the dead at midnight, maltreat children, and commit other offences which the Amish devotees claim are not crimes according to their religion. The grand jury of the county has now taken the matter in hand.

When a person begins to grow thin there is something wrong. The waste is greater than the supply and is only a question of time when the end must come.

In nine cases out of ten the trouble is with the digestive organs. If you can restore them to a healthy condition you will stop the waste, put on new flesh and cause them to feel better in every way. The food they eat will be digested and appropriated to the needs of the system, and a normal appetite will appear.

Consumption frequently follows a wasting of bodily tissues because nearly all consumptives have indigestion. The Shaker Digestive Cordial will restore the stomach to a healthy condition in a vast majority of cases. Get one of their books from your druggest and learn about this new and valuable remedy,

When the children need Castor oil, give them LAXOL,—it is palatable.

CARD OF THANKS.—To L. L. Merrick Post, G. A. R., and friends who by their kindly acts showed their sympathy with us in our recent sorrow, we extend our sincere thanks.

HENRY MCGILF,
MRS. AGNES M. SMITH,
MRS. MARY P. NICHOLS,
MISS ELLA E. MCGILF.

Beecham's pills for constipation 10c and 25c. Get the book at your druggist's and go by it.

Annual sales more than 6,000,000 boxes.

Term of free lessons in Bookkeeping, Shorthand Typewriting, etc., at the Springfield Commercial College, Rude Building 373½ Main street. Register on or before December 9.

ROYAL BAKING POWDER.

ABSOLUTELY PURE.

A cream of tartar Baking Powder. Highest of all in leavening power.—Latest United States Government Food Report.

ROYAL BAKING POWDER CO., 106 Wall Street, New York.

Forbes & Wallace's,
Springfield.

A Sale of Portieres.

Three hundred pairs of portieres are put down to lower prices this morning. By putting them in at clearing-out prices, now, while everybody wants them, we shall get everybody coming this way, we think. A pair of portieres would make a very acceptable present for your wife, Mr. Man—a pair that she'll think pretty, of course.

$2 portieres at $1.50 a pair.
$2.25 portieres at $1.87 a pair.
$3 portieres at $2.38 a pair.
$3.50 portieres at $2.69 a pair.
$4 portieres at $3.19 a pair.
$4.50 portieres at $3.87 a pair.
$7.50 portieres at $6.38 a pair.
$10 portieres at $7.59 a pair.

But we ought to warn you that you shall have to be quick. A thousand women will be here willy-nilly after 'em.

Dress Goods.

Five mixtures of a fancy silk and wool dress stuffs that came to sell at 75 cents a yard, are in at 50 cents a yard this morning. It's a bargain at 50 cents a yard, and would be only commonplace among our 75 cent goods—most of them being dollar a yard stuffs—50 cents!

All wool cashmeres in black, reds, browns, cardinals, greens, etc. 45 inches wide at 29 cents a yard—almost incredible.

Here's another—Some Yankee genius has copied the dollar-and-a-half weave of a German master workman to such purpose that it is here to sell at 50 cents a yard—all wool, too,—actually! Seven mixtures.

More of the 37½ cent fancy weaves at 25 cents a yard—They're having just such a run as our famous 37½ cent sorts—could hardly get enough at one time.

Left aisle.

FORBES & WALLACE.

Main, Vernon and Pynchon streets, Springfield, Mass.

IF YOU WANT GOOD MILK GO TO

WELLS,

Maple Lawn Milk Farm.

Don't buy a piano

Like you would a hat, probably stop at the first place you come to and take whatever the dealer has to offer. A piano is something you buy but once or twice in a life time and you should be thoroughly satisfied the one you get is just what you want and is all that its claimed to be.

When you buy go to all the piano stores in the city, and then call and see us. We will convince you that our pianos are better and prices lower than at any other store.

◆◆◆◆◆◆◆◆

TAYLOR'S

Music House,

Opera House Block, Springfield.

Masonic two-step, 50c.

WELL! WELL! WELL! WHAT'S THIS?

A voting contest? Yes, that's just it.

A handsome 7-day mantel clock to be given the fireman (Palmer Fire Co.) receiving the most votes. . . . . .

The votes cost you nothing. For each dime expended at the store of W. E. Stone during the month of December you are entitled to have your vote recorded in favor of any fireman you may wish to have the clock.

Call and see the clock, make your purchases and have your votes recorded. Ten-cent purchase carries one vote, $1.00 purchase ten votes, $5.00 purchase fifty votes. You can buy anything here from a pin to a pianoforte.

LIST OF FIREMEN—PALMER FIRE DEP'T.

Boyle, Thomas
Burdick, George
Comer, Patrick
Conway, John
Conroy, T. J.
Dawson, M. J.
Dwyer, Thomas H. (Brakeman.)
Gordon, A.
Lynch, Patrick
Edmunds, Thomas
Nolan, W.
Lynch, J. H.
Lyman, John
Longwill, J. B.
McManamy, Charles
Maxwell, Adelbert
O'Connors, Dennis
Paro, F. A.
Roach, Frank
Winters, Herbert
Winters, Moses

SPECIAL BARGAINS THIS WEEK:

Pair bed blankets, regular price 55c, now 49c
All wool serges, yard wide, 29c yd., worth 37c
Large tin wash basins, 5c each.
1 lb. new soft California raisins, 5c, 6 lbs, 25c
7 boxes sardines, 24c.
20 lbs. best granulated sugar, $1.
1 gal. good cooking molasses, 29c, 4 gals, $1.
1 lb. good tea, black and green mixed, 29c, 4 lbs for $1.
1 lb. extra good coffee, 25c.
4 lbs. nice crisp mixed crackers, 25c.
Northrop's cider vinegar, 16c.

TOBACCO, CIGARS AND CIGARETTES.

☞ Will announce in the PALMER JOURNAL each week the progress of the voting contest.

Telephone connection. W. E. STONE, Lawrence block, Palmer, Mass.

DRY GOODS, GROCERIES, SHOES, CARPETS, CROCKERY.

Very satisfying

to know that any article purchased here can be returned and the money paid back. This insures satisfaction to all. We have everything to be found in a well stocked jewelry store, and our

PRICES ARE RIGHT.

We make special prices on watches during the month of December. Come and see for yourself. . . . . .

George A. Moore,

watchmaker and jeweler,

Holden's New Block, - Palmer, Mass.

We refund the money if you wish.

Meekins, Packard & Co.

◆◆◆◆◆◆◆◆

Nearly every department in our vast establishment has something to offer the Christmas buyers. Look where you will, you'll not find more generous preparations for this the happiest season of the year.

A large store-room has been reserved for the careful storage of Holiday Goods at OUR RISK until delivered.

Special arrangements have been made to deliver all goods by team within a reasonable distance.

Fancy Chairs.

There's no end to the line of Fancy Rockers now displayed on our floors. Superior make, and prices surprisingly low. In solid oak and mahogany finish with saddle and cobbler leather seats—superior to any shown elsewhere.

Prices $2.50, $3, $3.75, $4.50, $5.

Two grades at $7 and $9

made of selected stock, spring seats upholstered in fine silk damasks.

Some fine specimens with inlaid backs at $9.

Third floor.

LADIES' DESKS.

At $4.50, $6 and $7.50.

Not cheaply gotten up affairs either, but all thoroughly well made, nicely appointed and roomy-made of solid oak.

An excellent line at $11 and $13.50.

in solid oak and mahogany finish.

Don't fail to see our extensive line in solid mahogany, curly birch, and quartered oak exclusive styles.

Second floor.

Bookcases.

Some special values in solid oak bookcases, that will be appreciated. Open Cases with six adjustable shelves, rod and rings for drapery at $6.50, larger ones at $7.50 and $10.50.

Folding cases at $1.35 and $2.25.

An exceptional line in oak, cherry, mahogany with glass doors. All sizes.

Second floor.

◆◆◆◆◆◆◆◆

Meekins, Packard & Co.,

SPRINGFIELD, MASS.

SELECTMEN'S NOTICE.

The selectmen will consider it their duty to enfore the by-law which prohibits the depositing of ashes or rubbish on the streets of the town.

J. F. TWISS,
C. T. BRAINERD,
GEO. M. ATKINS.

Palmer Savings Bank,

Palmer, Mass.

Hours from 9 a. m. to 3 p. m.

President,
H. G. LOOMIS.

Vice Presidents,
GEO. MOOERS, T. D. POTTER, C. H. HOBBS.

Secretary,
WM. W. LEACH.

Treasurer,
H. W. MCGREGORY.

Trustees,
James B. Shaw, E. G. Hastings, C. H. Hobbs, George Mooers, R. C. Newell, Geo. E. Buck, H. G. Loomis, F. F. Marcy, A. L. Hills, T. D. Potter, H. Waid, Wm. Holbrook, H. P. Holden, Wm. W. Leach, C. F. Grosvenor, Jas. S. Loomis, C. L. Gardner, H. W. McGregory

Board of Investment,
Geo. Mooers, H. G. Loomis, E. G. Hastings, C. H. Hobbs, James B. Shaw.

Auditors,
Wm. W. Leach, A. L. Hills.

D. H. BRIGHAM & CO.,

SPRINGFIELD.

◆◆◆◆◆◆◆◆

Foreign advices report great demoralization in Turkey.

Home advices report the same here in New England.

Our personal advice is that

Ladies' and children's outfittings should be purchased of the Largest specialty house in the state.

Large buying brings large concessions

by the makers and makes low prices possible.

We are showing the best ten dollar jacket

in the market.

Heavy rough boucle cloth, lined throughout, sleeves and all, velvet collar.

Made this week to sell for $15.

Ready cash is what does the business.

YOU GET the BENEFITS.

There's hundreds of just such bargains all through the house in every department. We have not the space to mention them. Take it for granted that we have just what you want in

Fur garments,
Cloth garments,
Dress or house garments,
Millinery or mackintoshes

and that our prices are a little below those of small dealers—with a variety to select from not to be found elsewhere in this state.

We've no fault to find with the weather. A SPECIALTY HOUSE like ours is always kept busy. The people have found out where to find what they want and save time and money and come directly to us.

◆◆◆◆◆◆◆◆

D. H. BRIGHAM & CO.,

SPRINGFIELD.

FINE STATIONERY.

Many ladies are troubled to find just the size, shade or weight of correspondence paper which they would like. With some thing like

200 VARIETIES

To select from we ought to be able to please you. Any style of paper in any size or shape, and you may have 100 sheets or 1000, as you prefer. We'd be pleased to show you samples at the JOURNAL Office. Your monogram or initials embossed in color if desired.

HAYNES & CO.

◆◆◆◆◆◆◆◆

A word with you, sir: You get your money's worth here.

We just want to say to you that this fall up to Nov. 27, we had sold more overcoats than we have ever before sold in an entire season.

Why? WE'VE GOT THE GOODS!

Unequalled goods and we sell them at just two-thirds the ordinary retailers' price. Best goods, correct styles, perfect fits guaranteed and magnificent blue and black kerseys at $10, 12 and 15.

Warm and durable ulsters at $8, 10, 12, 15.

GRAND GOOD SUITS at $8, 10, 12, 15 and 16.

TROUSERS for work or dress, 95c, $1.50, 2.20, 2.50, 3, and 4.

UNDERWEAR.

Fleece-lined, 48c. Gray woolen, 50c. Extra fine all wool, 871-2c. Camel's hair. 98c.

BOYS' SUITS, $3.50. OVERCOATS, $2.50.

◆◆◆◆◆◆◆◆

HAYNES & CO.,

SPRINGFIELD, MASS.

New Fall Dress Goods.

Plaids have the call, and we show an elegant assortment in 75c, 50c, 25c, and 10c lines.

Teazle Downs are great goods for wrappers and children's wear, and the styles equal to all-wool goods.

In Black Goods the lines are complete in Henriettas, Serges, Cords, and Figured Mohairs.

New Buttons, Braids, and Trimmings. Gloves and Hosiery.

Domestic Department, largest and best assortment shown in the last ten years.

Blankets and Comfortables

at lowest prices.

J. B. Shaw; ..... Feeney's Block, Main Street, Palmer.

To be delivered now, subject to advance at any time. We furnish good men to house and bin same. All coal is screened and delivered in bags.

The Lehigh is as good as any we ever sold. The Lackawanna is the best prepared coal that comes to market for domestic use.

Prices will be higher.

Send your order by postal card or leave it at our office.

SEE OUR PRICES FOR COAL

Prices for Lackawanna:

Stove size, - $5.85 per ton.
Chestnut, - 5.85 " "
Furnace, - 5.75 " "

Prices for Lehigh:

Stove size, - $6.00 per ton.
Chestnut, - 6.00 " "
Furnace, - 5.90 " "

Less than (1) one ton 25 cent added for the load.

Delivered in Bags, which will save expense of housing in many cases.

October 1, 1895.

◆◆◆◆◆◆◆◆

R. M. & Theo. Reynolds.

Monson, Mass.

Better Shoes for Same Amount of Money than Ever Before. . . . . .

I have some very great bargains in Boots and Shoes for all. . . . . A large stock of all grades.

Ladies' Shoes from - $1.00 to 5.00
Men's " " - 1.25 to 6.00
Boys' " " - 1.00 to 3.00

Bargain in Men's Fine Cork Sole, Cong., sizes 5 to 7 1-5, Half Price. Large line Warm Shoes. Also full stock of Rubber Goods.

◆◆◆◆◆◆◆◆

Hall's Shoe House, 294 Main St., next to P. O. ...SPRINGFIELD...

F. F. MARCY, Wholesale and Retail Dealer in PALMER, MASS.

ALL KINDS OF LUMBER AND SHINGLES

Windows, doors, blinds, mouldings. Carpenters' and joiners' work done to order.

Also FIRE BRICK and CLAY for sale.

ard and shop at junction of B. & A. and N. L. N. Y. Railroads—west of Depot.

L. H. HENDEE, M. D.,

OFFICE AND RESIDENCE, PLEASANT ST.

Office hours 7 to 10 a. m., and 1 to 3 and 7 to 9p. m.

WEDDING INVITATIONS. Engraved or printed. The latest styles and prices right. Samples on application at the JOURNAL Office. WEDDING CARDS.

JAMES PYLE'S

PEARLINE

WASHING COMPOUND

THE GREAT INVENTION

For Saving Toil & Expense Without Injury To The Texture Color Or Hands.

NEW YORK.

Is It Like This

–your package of washing compound that you call "Pearline?" Look at the front of the package, and see. It will be for your good and your protection, quite as much as ours. The popularity of Pearline has led to the calling of anything in the shape of powder, which is used for washing or cleaning, by that name. 383

Your Health

Ought To be Good And It is Always Sure To be If you Will Take

Ought to be good, and it is always sure to be if you will take BLOOD WINE when you feel sick and tired. Thousands of people all over the country are worrying themselves to death trying to find a medicine or a physician that can cure their stomach trouble. They try here, there and everywhere and at last give up in despair. Now these are the people we want to try BLOOD WINE, for they will feel the good effects so soon that they will keep on until they are cured.

Catarrh of the Stomach.

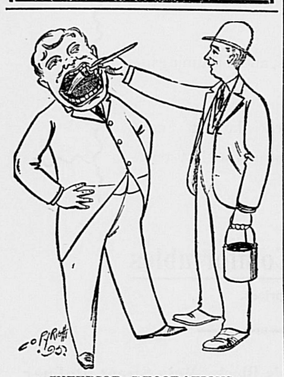
How many people are troubled with this disease, causing dyspepsia and indigestion. Now the moment your digestive organs are out of order you feel mean all over—have headache, belching of wind, constipation, etc. You take pills or some other cathartic, which will relieve for a time, but the same trouble comes back again. Now there is only one way to cure this trouble, and but one medicine that will cure it, and that is

Blood

(Trade Mark Registered.)

Wine,

The Great French Hospital Remedy.



INTERIOR DECORATIONS

will soon be done with Cod Liver Oil. May be you don't know it, but that article is as good to prevent a cold as it is to cure it. If you are troubled with a cough, a prevailing trouble at this season, decorate your interior with some of our Cod Liver Oil Emulsions, we have them all. It will strike through and beautify your exterior, and make you thoroughly enjoy your own society, and others will enjoy it, too. Call for above at

ALLEN'S DRUG STORE,

Holden's Block, Palmer.

GRATEFUL—COMFORTING.

EPPS'S COCOA.

BREAKFAST—SUPPER.

"By a thorough knowledge of the natural laws which govern the operations of digestion and nutrition, and by a careful application of the fine properties of well selected cocoa, Mr. Epps has provided for our breakfast and supper a delicately flavored beverage which may save us many doctors' bills. It is by the judicious use of such articles of diet that a constitution may be gradually built up until strong enough to resist every tendency to disease. Hundreds of subtle maladies are floating around us ready to attack wherever there is a weak point. We may escape many a fatal shaft by keeping ourselves well fortified with pure blood and a properly nourished frame."—Civil Service Reform. Made simply from boiling water or milk. Sold only in half pound tins, by grocers, labelled thus:

JAMES EPPS & CO., Ltd., Homœopathic Chemists, London, England.

Since 1861 I have been a sufferer from catarrh. I tried Ely's Cream Balm, and to all appearances am cured. Terrible headaches from which I had long suffered are gone.—W. J. Hitchcock, Late Major U. S. Vol. and A. A. Gen'l. Buffalo, N. Y.

CATARRH

Ely's Cream Balm opens and cleanses the nasal passages, allays pain and inflammation, heals the sores, protects the membrane from colds, restores the senses of taste and smell. The balm is applied directly into the nostrils, is quickly absorbed and gives relief at once. Ely's Pineola Balsam is a sure cure for coughs, colds, &c. Price of Cream Balm, 50 cents, at druggists or by mail.

Windsor Doll Heads.

INDESTRUCTABLE. BEAUTIFUL.

These heads are intended for fitting to bodies made at home, but will fit almost any kind of a body 14 to 16 inches long. They are handsomer than the expensive French heads and will stand roughest handling. The wigs used are the finest imported, have natural eyes and make a most beautiful doll. Mailed anywhere on receipt of $1.25. WINDSOR DOLL CO., P. O. Box 248, Brooklyn, N. Y.

HINDERCORNS.

The only sure Cure for Corns. Stops all pain. Ensures comfort to the feet. Makes walking easy. 15cts. at Druggists.

THAT JOB OF PRINTING. There's no better place at which to get it done than the JOURNAL Office. Experienced workmen, skilled in every branch of the art.

Two Letters.

He wrote.

Last night I dared not say to you
The words my tongue oft strove to tell,
And yet I'm positive you know
The sureness of your witching spell.

Whene'er I gaze into your eyes—
October's most delicious brown!—
They look at me in mild surprise,
As one who sees a clumsy clown.

And when I left you at the gate
And gave your hand one chaste salute,
I tried to ask of you my fate
In love. Alas! my lips were mute.

And so my emissaries must
Be pen and ink and halting measure;
But you will answer this, I trust—
One word from you will be a treasure.

She wrote:

This morning, Jack, I got your letter;
Foolish boy to waste your scrips!
But as for answer—well, you'd better
Come and take it from my lips!

—Life

AMONG THE PARAGRAPHERS.

Little drops of water,
With an icy crust,
Send the temperate water-pipe
On a mighty bust.

—Chicago Inter Ocean.

Time is money—especially a high old time.—Philadelphia Record.

Doctor—"I must forbid all brain work." Poet—"But may I not write some verses?" Doctor—"Oh, certainly."—Fliegende Blatter.

"What is the matter with Scott? I met him to-day and he acted queer. Is he demented?" "No; he's demonetized."—Detroit Free Press.

Bishop—"Do you think it is right to partake of this hash on Friday?" Low church clergyman—"Entirely orthodox; it is composed of the 39 articles."—Puck.

"Is this the way to Wareham?" asked a Massachusetts girl on her bicycle of a wayside farmer, adopting the local pronunciation of the town's name. "Dumbed if I know," was his reply; I never wore anything like them things."

"Miss—er, I beg pardon, Mrs. Wrynkle ——" "You were right first, Mr. Oldbo. I am not yet plucked from the parent stem." "Take courage, madam. You know that Naomi, the daughter of Enoch, was 580 years old when she married."—Life.

"What do you think of that previous existence theory?" "I know it to be supported by facts. For instance, I know a woman only 27 years old, who often thoughtlessly tells about things that happened 35 years ago."—Indianapolis Journal.

"I shall be preserved," insisted the missionary, devoutly confident even in the hour of his peril. The cannibal shook his head. "I hate to disappoint him," mused the savage, "and if the hot, muggy season of the year wasn't coming on, I wouldn't."—Detroit Tribune.

Good News at Home—Spanish citizen—"Ah, back, I see." Spanish Military officer—"Yes, just ran back to look up a few thousand reinforcements." "So? How are things in Cuba?" "Oh, we've got the rascals. They can't escape from the Island!"—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

"I don't like you, Aunt Jennie," said Wilbur, after his aunt had interfered with some cherished idea he had in mind, "an' if you don't let me alone I'll save up my pottet money an' buy a tapir." "A what?" asked his aunt. "A tapir," said Wilbur; "an' tapirs they eats ants."—Harper's Round Table.

One good turn, etc. Flossie (who has overheard conversation between her father's groom and the family doctor)—"Ain't you goin' to buy our gee-gee?" Doctor—"No, my dear, I want a larger horse." Flossie (reproachfully)—"We always take any size baby you choose to bring."—Sydney Bulletin.

"And so you are engaged to Cholly Chubbins," said one girl. "Yes," was the reply. "How did he ever persuade you to marry him?" "Oh, he hasn't persuaded me to marry him. You know that lovely solitaire ring he had?" "Yes." "Well, I wanted it to wear to a progressive euchre party."—Washington Star.

"Willie," said the mother, "your clothes are wet. You've been in the water." "Yessum," said little Willie bravely. "I went in and saved little Charlie Stebbins." "My noble boy!" said his fond mother. "Did you jump in after him?" "No'm," said little Willie proudly, "I jumped in first so's to be there when he fell in."

"I wish you would put your name down for $10 to the subscription," said the lady to the poet. "Certainly," he said. "I'll put it down for nothing." Then he wrote his name. "Keep your $10, Mrs. Patkins," he added, as he blotted the signature. "I would not charge the charity for so slight a service."—Harper's Bazar.

At the Theater—Youngster—"What beautiful heads of hair these ladies in front have!" Oldster—"If the lady whose switch has dropped off——" All six of the ladies bring ther hands to the back of their heads spasmodically, and Oldster grins and chuckles, as though he had done a bright thing."—Boston Transcript.

"What is that English earl worth?" The question was asked by the beautiful daughter of a wealthy pork packer. "One million dollars. But we have a German count marked down to nine hundred and ninety-nine thousand, nine hundred and ninety-nine dollars and ninety-nin e cents." "You may wrap him up."—New York World.

A tramp who asked for breakfast at a farmhouse, and was refused a single crust, exclaimed, with an injured air: "Alas! how deceptive is human nature! For two nights I have slept in your barn, eaten of your apples and drunk your cider, and now you treat me as an utter stranger who has no hold upon your friendship."—Tid-Bits.

A Martyr to Heredity.—"You have twice told me," said the benevolent Atlanta man to the wooden-legged mendicant, "that your leg was lost in the war." "Yes, sir." "Now I am sure you were too young to enlist at that time." "Well, sir, I can't deceive you; you are right. It was my father who lost his leg in the war and the blamed thing runs in the blood. I simply inherit it. I am a wounded veteran by birth!"—Atlanta Constitution.

The Smiths Strong in Prayer.—They tell a story in Dalton of a recent revival meeting in one of the rural districts of Whitfield county. In the middle of the services the preacher said: "Will Brother Smith lead in prayer?" Seven men arose and began praying together. This embarassed the preacher and he said, hurriedly: "I mean Brother John Smith." At this announcement one sat down and five more got up and began praying. The preacher saw his mistake, said nothing, and let the 11 pray it out among themselves.—Atlanta Constitution.

Deafness Cannot be Cured

by local applications as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, deafness is the result, and unless the inflamation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free.

F. J. CHENEY & CO., Toledo, O.

☞Sold by Druggists, 75c.

Catarrh

Affects your head, but it is not therefore a local disease. If it did not exist in your blood, it could not manifest itself in your nose. Whatever impurities the blood does not carry away, cause what we call disease. Therefore, for inhalants, snuffs and other local applications can give only temporary relief. The true way to cure is to purify your blood by taking a constitutional remedy like Hood's Sarsaparilla, which eliminates all impurities and thus permanently cures catarrh. Remember

Catarrh

Hood's

Sarsaparilla

Is The One True Blood Purifier. $1; 6 for $5.

Prepared only by C. I. Hood & Co., Lowell, Mass.

Hood's Pills cure habitual constipation. Price 25 cents.

FINEST ROAD-BED ON THE CONTINENT.

BOSTON & ALBANY RAILROAD.

Only Double-Track Route to the West.

ON AND AFTER DEC. 2, 1895.

Through Trains will Leave Boston as follows:

No. 7.—Day Express.

8:30 a. m.—Daily, except Sunday. Has Wagner buffet drawing-room car Boston to Albany, there connecting with through cars to all points West. Stops at Palmer 10.53 a. m.

No. 15.—Chicago Special.

10:30 a. m.—Daily. The finest train running in New England. A solid vestibuled Wagner train, comprising buffet, library and smoking car, sleeping cars and dining car Boston to Chicago, via the Lake Shore & Michigan Southern R. R., and also via Michigan Central R. R.

No. 19.—North Shore Limited.

2:00 p. m.—Daily. Has through vestibuled buffet sleeping cars Boston to Detroit and Chicago, via Michigan Central R. R. Dining car attached at Albany.

No. 23.—Cincinnati Express.

3:00 p. m.—Daily. Has through vestibuled buffet sleeping car Boston to Chicago via Lake Shore and Michigan Southern R. R., and to St. Louis and Cincinnati via Big Four Route. Stops at Palmer 5:20 p. m.

No. 9.—Pacific Express.

7:15 p. m.—Daily. Has through sleeping cars Boston to Chicago, via Michigan Central. Sleeping car Boston to Buffalo, parlor car Buffalo to Cleveland, sleeping car Cleveland to Chicago via Lake Shore & Michigan Southern.

No. 63.—Albany Express.

11:00 p. m.—Daily, except Saturday. Has sleeping car Boston to Albany. Stops at Palmer 1.46 a. m.

TRAINS LEAVE PALMER FOR BOSTON.

6 22	a. m.	Accommodation.
7.32	"	"
8.25	"	Daily Express.
10.00	"	Express, except Sunday.
11.42	"	Accommodation.
1.40	p. m.	Express.
3.12	"	"
4 42	"	Accommodation.
6 49	"	Daily Express.
7.55	"	Sundays only. Express.
9.03	"	Express.

Time tables showing local and through service between all Stations, may be obtained at all ticket offices of this Company.

City Office, 366 Washington Street.
Station, Kneeland Street, Boston, Mass.

52-32 A. S. HANSON, Gen. Passenger Agent.

BOSTON & MAINE R. R.

SOUTHERN DIVISION

(CENTRAL MASSACHUSETTS)

CORRECTED TO OCTOBER 6. 1895.

TRAINS LEAVE WARE:

GOING EAST

FOR Boston—6.55, 9.00 a. m.; 3.14, p. m. Sundays 6.55 a. m.

RETURNING—leave Boston 8.45 a. m.; 1.30, 4.00 p. m. Sundays, 1.30 p. m.

FOR Worcester—6.55, 9.00 a. m.; 3.14 p. m. Sundays, 6.55 a. m.

RETURNING—leave Worcester 9.15 a. m.; 2.25, 4.58 p. m.

FOR Oakdale, Hudson and Waltham—6.55, 9.00 a. m.; 3.14 p. m. Sundays, 6.55 a. m.

FOR Gilbertville, Barre and Coldbrook - 6.55, 9.00 a. m.; 3.14 p. m. Sundays, 6.55 a. m.

GOING WEST

FOR Bondsville, Belchertown, Pansy Park, Amherst, Hadley and Northampton, 7.15, 11.24 a. m., 4.28, 6.47 p. m. Sundays, 4.35 p. m.

RETURNING—leave Northampton 5.55, 8.00 a. m., 2.15, 6.10 p. m. Sundays, 5.55 a. m.

D. J. FLANDERS, Gen'l. Pass'r. Agt.
W. F. BERRY Gen'l Mgr.

CENTRAL VERMONT RAILROAD.

NEW LONDON DIVISION.

TAKING EFFECT SEPTEMBER 30, 1895.

TRAINS GOING SOUTH.

Leave Brattleboro, 5.40 and 10.25 a. m. and 4.25 p. m. for New London, connecting at Millers Falls with Fitchburg R. R., at Belchertown with Central Massachusetts R. R., and at Palmer with B. & A. R. R. for Worcester, Boston, Springfield, at New London with the N. Y. N. H. & H. R. R.

Leave Amherst, 7.05 a. m., 12.13 and 5.57 p. m.

Leave Palmer, 7.05 and 8.40 a. m., 1.50 and 7.15 p. m.

Leave Willimantic for New London, 8.35, 10.10 a. m. 3.25, 6.40 and 8.45 p. m.

GOING NORTH.

Leave New London, 5.20 and 7.40 a m, 2.30 and 5.25 p. m.

The 5.20 and 7.40 a. m. and 5.25 p. m. run through to Brattleboro and make connections for the north.

Leave New London for Willimantic and intermediate stations, 10.00 a. m.

Leave Palmer for Brattleboro, 8.20, 11.00 a. m, and 8.00 p. m, connecting with express for Montreal. Also with Grand Trunk R. R. for the West.

Leave Palmer for Amherst, 8.20 and 11.00 a. m, and 8.00 p. m.

SUBJECT TO CHANGE WITHOUT NOTICE.

D. MACKENZIE, Supt. J. A. SOUTHARD, D. P. A. New London, Ct.
S. W. CUMMINGS. G. P. A., St. Albans.

Relief for Rheumatism.

"This information," said a well known physician to a correspondent of the Telegram, "may save many lives; at any rate it will prove an invaluable boon to people suffering from rheumatism in any form."

"Rheumatism is caused by acidity of the blood. It should never be neglected. This remedy, as I know by long practice, is very efficacious and as simple as it is powerful.

"Here it is," he added, "when a rheumatic twinge is experienced, the patient should buy a bottle of Dr. David Kennedy's Favorite Remedy and take one teaspoonful in milk or water to suit the action of the bowels, three times a day, and continue daily until the last vistage of the malady has disappeared. That's all, but if taken as I have prescribed, it will save many doctor's bills, to say nothing of pains, aches and swellings. I've never known it to fail."—Albany, N. Y., Telegram.

LARRABEE'S RHEUMATIC LINIMENT

A standard and sovereign household remedy for over half a century. It is a wonderful curative agent in all painful diseases, such as

Rheumatism, Lumbago, Neuralgia, Backache, Catarrh, Toothache,

and other painful ailments. To be had of all druggists, or by mail on receipt of 25 cents. Trade supplied by Geo. C. Goodwin & Co., or any wholesale druggist.

WINKLEMANN & BROWN DRUG CO.
BALTIMORE, MD., U. S. A.

Wanted.

Agents, Local or Traveling on Salary or Commission, to sell our

Warranted Stock.

Sold with a guarantee, at reasonable prices. Steady work and good pay assured. New methods and new specialties. Outfit free, experience unnecessary. Now is the time to commence.

Address, H. B. Williams, Sec'y.

Chautauqua Nursery Co.,

Portland, N. Y.

GREAT HOLIDAY SALE OF . . . . FURNITURE.

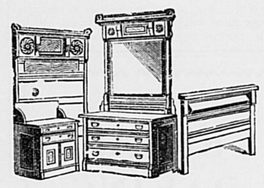
Guy & Fuller Furniture Co.,

409 Main Street, Springfield, Mass.

PARLOR SUITS.



CHAMBER SUITS.

FANCY RATTAN PLUSH CHAIRS AND ROCKERS,

Blacking cases, foot rests, slipper cases, easels, mirrors, ...

COUCHES, LOUNGES, SOFA BEDS, BED LOUNGES, OF NEW DESIGNS.
100 NEW PATTERNS PARLOR SUITS and EASY CHAIRS.

Elegant lamps, portiers, lace draperies, curtains, clocks, pictures.

GREAT ASSORTMENT SIDEBOARDS, DINING TABLES and CHAIRS.

China closets, cupboards, kitchen goods, crockery, wooden ware. . . . . .

200 NEW PATTERNS CHAMBER SETS, IRON BEDS, CRIBS, WARDROBES. . . . . .

Chiffoniers, folding beds, mantel beds, mattresses, pillows, blankets, springs.

200 NEW LADIES' and GENT'S DESKS, BOOKCASES, DRESSING TABLES. . . . . .

OUR STOVE DEPARTMENT IS THE LARGEST BETWEEN WORCESTER AND NEW YORK.

We are sole agents for the CELEBRATED NATIONAL ACORN RANGES AND STOVES. Also the NEW STEEL RANGE.

Our sales this year in stoves are double of any past years, and every family using an ACORN will tell you to use no other.

We have several stores and buy very large, and MAKE PRICES and TERMS to suit all.

Guy & Fuller Furniture Co.,

409 Main Street, Springfield.

Lost Yesterday.

Somewhere between sunrise and sunset, TWO GOLDEN HOURS, each set with sixty diamond minutes, with which you might have secured a glimpse of our immense

Kitchen Department.

This department has been the Mecca of buyers of Crockery and kitchen goods for the last two years. We have paid particular attention to the buying of goods of good quality, and yet by buying in large quantities we have been enabled to sell them at prices of inferior goods. For example, OUR LEADERS JUST NOW

112 PIECE DECORATED DINNER SET FOR $8.24.
A 6-POUND KITCHEN SCALE, warranted accurate, for $2.10.
A HANDSOME PARLOR LAMP FOR $1.98.
10-PIECE DECORATED TOILET SET FOR $1.98.

We are in it also on Furniture, Carpets, Stoves, Ranges, etc., at prices that defy competition.

E. Luther & Co.,

EASY TERMS. SPRINGFIELD. OPP. COURT SQ.

W. D. KINSMAN, SPRINGFIELD.

HOLIDAY BUYING

is very satisfying just now because all our lines of novelties are full, and because we can give extra attention in showing them. We have already began the sale of

REAL TORTOISE SHELL HAIR ORNAMENTS.

If your saw our assortment during the holidays last season you will appreciate what this means—hundreds of varieties, beautiful in colorings and unique in design. Hold one to the light—there's a color, like amber, clouded with the richest shades of deep red and brown. Prices from 10c to $9.75. Come early before the assortment is broken.

STERLING SILVER NOVELTIES.

There's an excellent opportunity here for you to do some fore-sighted Christmas buying. A large number of sterling silver trifles that survived last season have been placed in three lots at

25c, 50c, $1.00

All of them were halved in price, some suffered still more. The assortment comprises stick pins, baggage checks, pencil holders, brooch pins, tie clasps, combined paper cutter and book marks, coat hangers, hair pins, vinaigrettes, shell combs with sterling silver tops and stamp boxes.

LEATHER GOODS.

Every desirable novelty is represented, something for every size of purse.

Coin purses of alligator, lizard, seal, kangaroo, well made and lined, 10c.

Coin purses of alligator, lizard or seal, pretty and serviceable, 25c.

Coin purses made of the new and stylish French and levant leather, 50c.

Opera purses of lizard, alligator, levant royal, chamois, dentile Brazilian lizard or kangaroo, thoroughly well made, 50c.

Combination cases of white alligator, one of the choicest novelties of the season. Pure white alligator skin shading into spots of mouse color. Also combination cases of green alligator.

Chatelaine bags, latest shapes, inside compartment for coin. In seal for 50c and 75c. In seal, alligator and lizard, from $1 to 5.

HANDKERCHIEFS.

Handkerchief buying will not be the agreeable occupation three weeks later that it is now. The counters will be thronged as Christmas draws near. Pure linen handkerchiefs, embroidered unlaundered handkerceiefs, 15c each, 8 for $1.

Plain hemstitched, fancy hemstitched, laced edged, 25c. Also ladies' and gent's initial handkerchiefs, neatly embroidered.

Pure linen handkerchiefs, handsomely embroidered in tasteful designs, 50c, 75c, $1, 1.25, 1.38, 1 50, 1.75, 1 87 and upward.

W. D. KINSMAN,

SPRINGFIELD. COR. MAIN AND BRIDGE STS.

Life.

Contemplate the rutted road;
Life is both a lure and goad.
Each to hold the measure just,
Trample appetite to dust.
Mark the fool and wanton spin:
Keep to harness as a skin.
Ere you follow Nature's lead.
Of her powers in you have heed;
Else, a shiverer, you will find,
You have challenged human kind.
Mates are chosen marketwise—
Coolest bargainer best buys.
Leap not, nor let leap the heart;
Trot your track and drag your cart,
So your end may be in wool,
Honored, and with manger full.

—George Meredith.

FOILED.

I was cosily seated in the corner of a first-class railway carriage, puffing lazily at a cigar, and looking out across the broad fields of corn swaying to and fro in the early morning breeze, and congratulating myself on my success in an undertaking I had just finished.

I was the trusted and confidental salesman for Messrs. Colby & Smith, diamond merchants, Bond street, London, and in that capacity I had been up to Liverpool to meet the steamers from Holland, which had brought over some valuable specimans of the precious stones for our firm, some of which we needed at once, and I now had them secreted away in my gladstone bag, which rested on the baggage rack above my head. Having been on similar errands before, I thought very little of the fact that I had many thousand of pounds' worth of diamonds with me, and, yet, whether from the previous night's excitement, or from fatigue, I knew not, I could not help glancing this time at the precious burden rather anxiously and at the same time feeling somewhat anxious as to their safety. I had the carriage to myself thus far, and wondered if I should so be favored to the end of my journey. It was an express train and only made two stops between Liverpool and the great metropolis. We had already reached the first, and were pulling up at the station. Before I could look out, an elderly looking individual in a clerical suit entered the compartment with a bag very much similar to mine, and rapidly pushed it under the seat which he had already occupied in the opposite corner. I looked at him for a few moments closely, and at last made up my mind that he was some country clergyman. After a few moments' silence, he put down his newspaper, which he had started to read the moment he seated himself, and smiling, said, "Good morning, sir; lovely day. Won't you join me in a cigar? I see yours is already consumed." And wishing to be pleasant, I returned the salute and took the proffered weed, and lit up with him. After a few minutes' conversation about the crops and weather, he requested me to close my window, which was open a few inches, as the morning was damp, and he had been suffering with a severe cold. I complied with his request, and after this he took up his paper again and resumed his reading. After a few puffs at my cigar, which was a strong one, I felt drowsy, but remembering my busy night in Liverpool, and that I had had no sleep, I thought nothing of it. And then, the fumes of the strong cigar and the close carriage must have overpowered me, for the next moment, as it seemed to me, I heard a gruff voice of the guard, who was pulling me by the arm and shouting, "London, sir, London!" I rubbed my eyes drowsily, pulled myself together, and found myself sitting in my shirt sleeves.

I looked for my precious bag. Yes, there it was on the rack where I had left it, but where was my companion? Of course he was gone, and I looked out on the platforms and saw the stream of people who had already left the train, which was by this time deserted, except for a few porters and some baggage. I must have been sleeping heavily, and how careless of me! And how was it I was in my shirt sleeves? I looked around for my coat, and to my utter astonishment, iustead of mine, there lay the coat of my clerical companion, and his hat. I grasped for my watch to see the time, but it was gone, chain and all. I looked for my keys. Thank heavens they were safe in my trousers pocket, together with a few silver coins. I took my portmanteau and proceeded to unlock it, but the key didn't fit. Was I crazy or what. I rubbed my eyes, pounded my head. No, I was awake and sane. I tried once again, but with the same result. Surely it was my bag. Yes. There was my tag on it bearing my name, John Westerfield, Bond street, London. I became desperate, and decided to see the police at once. I put on the clothes left me, which fitted me fairly well, and directed my footsteps towards Scotland yard.

There I told my story. The bag was forced open, and in the place of my toilet articles and the precious stones was a bundle of old newspapers. The truth dawned upon me. I had been robbed of my clothes and the diamonds, and had little or no information to give the police. Upon examining the bag, I found that mine, with my initals upon it, had been taken and this one left. We telegraphed to my employers, but both Mr. Colby and Mr. Smith were out.

In despair I walked dejectedly out of the office of the chief of police, and had gone but a few steps when I saw one of my employers coming along all out of breath toward me. I walked quickly forward to meet him, a glad hope springing in my mind that perhaps after all the thief had been caught. "What a lucky thing, Westerfield, to be sure, that we caught the fellow!" "Caught him!" I gasped. "Yes; come in the office and I will explain." We both turned towards the police station, and there he and Mr. Smith, who had just come in explained the matter to me.

Both of them had expected me by that train and chanced to be in the vicinity of the station at the time and were awaiting my arrival on the platform.

Just after ths train pulled up they caught a back view of my very counterpart, they said. Traveling cap, blue overcoat, and my portmanteau with my initals on its side.

They caught him up in a few seconds, and instead of my face, as they expected, they saw that of a noted London jewelry thief whom they recognized. Thoroughly convinced that something was wrong with me, they took in the situation at once and held him till the police came. He was taken to a room in the station. The bag was searched and found to be mine with the valuable diamonds and the firm's books and my own personal articles. All this was going on while I was at the police headquarters. The prisoner confessed the plot. It seems that a gang of which he was a member had got hold of the news that I was to go to Liverpool and get the diamonds. One of them watched me around Liverpool, saw me on the train, and then telegraphed to another (the prisoner), who was in waiting at the next stop, that I had started and was on the train. The rest is known. My traveling companion, who was the prisoner disguised as a clergyman, got into my carriage, drugged me with the cigar, and then changed the portmanteau and my clothes, thinking that if he was suspected where he boarded the train, he would not be in London with my clothes on, but in this he was foiled.

"Dear me," said young Mrs. Hunnimune, "I must see our grocer right away." "What for?" asked her husband. "I have some instructions to give him. I want to tell him to make our coffee a little stronger and our butter a little weaker."—Washington Star.

Dangerous Drugs.

Avoid the use of white or pink headache powders, they contain dangerous drugs. Taylor's Anti-Headache Powders are brown; they look like ground coffee and they have a delightful aromatic taste. Try them once and you will never be without them. Get them of LeGro & Lynde.

35 cents

Colds are serious things. They lead to worse things. A cold is the seed of consumption. Croup is a cold's half-brother—it is generally caused by cold, and many a little life has been snuffed out by it because the proper remedy was not at hand.

Dr. Hooker's Cough and Croup Syrup

gives relief at once. It has saved thousands of lives. Every mother should see that it is always in the house. Don't wait till you need it—that may be too late. Contains no opium—absolutely safe—endorsed by physicians for 50 years. Made only by Charles B. Kingsley, Northampton, Mass.

at Drug Stores

WANTED SALESMEN. We want one or two good men in each county to take orders for a choice line of Nursery Stock or Seed Potatoes' Stock and seed guaranteed. We can give you steady employment with good pay. It will cost you nothing to give it a trial. State when writing which you prefer to sell. Address

The Hawks Nursery Co.,
Rochester, N. Y.

C. H. HOBBY, PIANO TUNER.

Orders for tuning may be left at O. P. Allen's drug store, Palmer; or may be sent to me by mail to Mansfield, Ct.

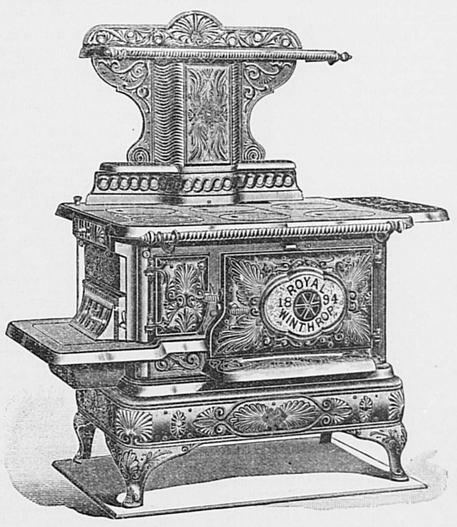
A HIGH FLYER

BATTLE AX PLUG

THE LARGEST PIECE OF GOOD TOBACCO EVER SOLD FOR

10 CENTS

THE ROYAL WINTHROP RANGE. IT HAS NO SUPERIOR.



I AGREE. That is all we expect you to say. Live up to that and there is no limit to your credit with us; we will arrange the payments to suit you.

We sell all kinds of FURNITURE, and can furnish your house from cellar to garret.

SHAW BROTHERS, - THREE RIVERS, MASS.

ALWAYS SHARP SHOD WITH THE NEVERSLIP

ONE TRIAL WILL CONVINCE YOU.

Your horse being always sharp shod, is ready for work. His feet are always in good condition, and he is not constantly at the blacksmith's being sharpened, which ruins his feet, causing great expense and loss of time to you. Remember, once shod with "Neverslips" you can easily put in new Calks when needed without removing the shoes.

BE SURE your horse-shoer has "Neverslips" on hand; have him SHOE WITH NO OTHER. Send your address for descriptive circular with full information, MAILED FREE.

AGENTS: G. H. McCandless & Co., Easthampton, Mass.

MANUFACTURERS: Neverslip Horseshoe Co., Boston, Mass.

REMOVABLE-STEEL-CENTERED AND SELF-SHARPENING

The Ideal Panacea.

James L. Francis, Alderman, Chicago, says: "I regard Dr. King's New Discovery as an ideal panacea for coughs, colds and lung complaints, having used it in my family for the last five years, to the exclusion of physician's prescriptions or other preparations."

Rev. John Burgus, Keokuk, Iowa, writes: "I have been a minister of the Methodist Episcopal church for 50 years or more, and have never found anything so beneficial, or that gave me such speedy relief as Dr. King's New Discovery." Try this ideal cough remedy now. Trial bottles free of LeGro & Lynde, Palmer; G. L. Keeney, Monson; F. A. Spencer, Ware.

It May Do as Much for You.

Mr. Fred Miller, of Irving, Ill., writes that he had a severe kidney trouble for many years, with severe pains in his back, and also that his bladder was affected. He tried many so-called kidney cures but without any good result. About a year ago he began the use of Electric Bitters and found relief at once. Electric Bitters is especially adapted to the cure of all kidney and liver troubles and often gives almost instant relief. One trial will prove our statement. Price only 50c for large bottle. At LeGro & Lynde, Palmer; G. L. Keeney, Monson; F. A. Spencer, Ware.

Bucklen's Arnica Salve.

THE BEST SALVE in the world for cuts, bruises, sores, ulcers, salt rheum, fever sores, tetter, chapped hands, chilblains, corns, and all skin eruptions, and positively cures piles, or no pay required. It is guaranteed to give perfect satisfaction or money refunded. Price 25 cents per box. For sale by LeGro & Lynde, Palmer; G. L. Keeney, Monson; F. A. Spencer, Ware.

R·I·P·A·N·S

ONE GIVES RELIEF.

52-43

"THE BEST IS, AYE, THE CHEAPEST."

AVOID IMITATIONS OF AND SUBSTITUTES FOR

SAPOLIO

4-33

The Palmer Journal.

VOLUME XLVI. PALMER, MASS., FRIDAY EVENING, DECEMBER 13, 1895.—SIX PAGES. NUMBER 37.

PUBLISHED EVERY FRIDAY EVENING
—BY—
C. B. FISKE & CO.

TERMS OF SUBSCRIPTION.—Two dollars a year. A discount of 25 cents to those who pay in advance. Six months, $1.00; three months, 50 cents; single copies, 5 cents.

ADVERTISING RATES.—One inch (or twelve lines of this type solid) 75 cents for the first insertion, 25 cents for the second, 15 cents for each subsequent insertion. Short advertisements, "Wanted," "To Let," etc., one cent a word for the first insertion, one-half cent a word each subsequent insertion, cash; no charge less than 25 cents. Notices in local column, 10 cents per line. Liberal rates to yearly advertisers.

JOB PRINTING of all kinds executed in the best styles, promptly and at reasonable rates.

C. B. FISKE. L. E. CHANDLER.

[Entered at Post Office as second class matter.]

LOCAL BUSINESS DIRECTORY.

PALMER.

ALLEN, O. P., Wholesale and Retail Druggist and Bookseller.

BARTON, F. D., Dealer in Watches, Clocks and Jewelry, Main street.

BILLS, G. A., Fresh and Salt Beef, Pork, Ham, Lard, Tripe, etc.

BROOKS, EDWIN E., Graduate Optician. With E. S. Brooks, Jeweler, Main street.

BROOKS, E. S., Dealer in Watches, Clocks, Jewelry, Solid Silver and Plated Ware, Main street.

BROWN, C. A. & CO., Hardware, Furnaces, Stoves, Ranges, Paints, Oils and Glass.

BROWN, S. H., Trucking, Light Jobbing, Piano Moving. Order box cor. Main and Walnut streets. Orders can also be left at J. F. Foley's store.

CARPENTER, Mrs. L. E., Millinery and Fancy Goods. Also dealer in Human Hair Goods.

CHANDLER BROS., Bicycles.

CLARK & HASTINGS, Wholesale Dealers in Armour & Co's. Dressed Beef, Provisions, Main St.

EAGER, F. M., Boot and Shoe Manufacturer to Order, and dealer in Leather and Findings.

FISKE, C. B. & CO., Publishers PALMER JOURNAL and WARE STANDARD. Fine Book and Job Printers and Bookbinders.

FITCH, A. E., Law and Insurance, Savings Bank Block.

FRANCIS, R. B., Iron Foundry and Machine Shop.

GAMWELL, C. K., Ready made Clothing, Hats, Caps, Gent's Furnishings, etc.

GARDNER, CHAS. L., Attorney and Counsellor at Law. Church street.

GOODES, E., Palmer Boot and Shoe Store, corner Main and Thorndike streets.

HAMILTON, J. A., Dealer in all kinds of Coal, Wood, Grain, Flour, Baled Hay and Straw. Fertilizers and Stock Food. Main street.

HOLBROOK, C. D., Flour, Grain, Feed and Mason's Supplies, Main street.

HOLBROOK, J. F., Dealer in all kinds of Coal. Agent for National and White Star line of steamers. Drafts on Foreign Banks at lowest rates.

LEACH, W. W., Attorney at Law.

LEGRO & LYNDE, Druggists and Newsdealers, Paper Hangings, Shades, Lamps and Fixtures.

MARCY, F. F., Dealer in Lumber, Shingles, etc., wholesale and retail. West of B.&A.R.R. depot.

MARCY, OSCAR C., Livery and Feed Stable, rear of Converse House.

PALMER WATER CO., Office, Lawrence Block. Office hours to October 1, from 8.30 to 10 a. m., from 2 to 3 p. m.

SHAW, J. B., Dealer in Dry Goods, Groceries, etc. Opposite the depot.

TAFT, S. S., Attorney at Law. Office in Allen's Block, Church street.

WHITE, C. W., Marble and Granite Works. No. 1 Thorndike street.

WOOLRICH & CO., Manufacturers of Ridge's Food, Thorndike street.

THORNDIKE.

ADAMS, A. P., Druggist, Toilet Articles, Confectionery and Cigars.

BONDSVILLE.

HOLDEN, C. L., Dry Goods, Groceries, Clothing Boots, Shoes, Hats, Caps, etc.

MORIARTY, M., Dry Goods, Groceries, Boots Shoes, Coal. Agt White Star and Anchor SS Co's

WARE.

ADAMS, MRS., Chiropodist and Manicurist. 13 Park Avenue. All troubles of feet successfully treated.

ALBERTINE, J. A., Choice Fruits, Tobaccos, Cigars and Confectionery. Low Prices.

DAVIS INSURANCE AGENCY represents the best companies and gives lowest rates.

EDDY, C. W. Job and Fine Art Printer.

EDDY, MISS MATIE K. Teacher of Oil Painting and Crayon. Sketching or Art Work completed to order.

ELDREDGE, A. HENRY. Sign Painter. Carriages painted in the best manner. West Street.

HARLOW, A. B. Photographer. Instantaneous process only. Opposite the Bank.

HOSMER, F. N. Clothier. Hats, Caps, Gents' Furnishing Good, etc. Sanford's Block.

MARSH, F. E. Gold, Silver and Nickel Plater. Replating tableware a specialty. 7 Bank street.

PRIEST, J. E. Ware Steam Laundry. Carpet cleaning. Office at H. M. Clark's.

RICHARDSON, A. F. Dealer in Boots, Shoes and Rubbers of all kinds. Sagendorph's Block.

ROBINSON, JOHN F. Furniture, Sewing Machines, Pictures, Hardware, Paints and Farming Tools.

SIBLEY, J. B. Hardware, Tools, Agricultural Implements, Paints, Oils and Artists' materials.

SMITH, G. H. W. Jeweler. Watches, Clocks and Spectacles. Repairing in the best manner.

TURNER, H. H. Bookseller and Stationer, and dealer in Paper Hangings, Musical Instruments and Sheet Music.

MONSON.

GROUT, GEO. E. Dealer in Watches Clocks, Jewelry, etc. Towne's Block.

NEWTON, GEO. H., Law Office, Notary Public, Insurance, etc., near Gage's store.

SQUIER & CO., Dealers in Grain, Feed, Hay, Straw, Lumber, Shingles and Building Material.

WARREN.

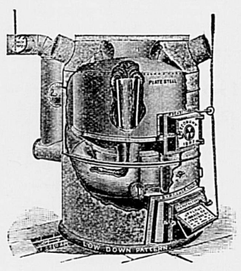
KELLEY, W. H., Attorney and Counsellor at Law. Quaboag Block, Warren, Mass.

SOCIETY DIRECTORY.

MONSON.

MT. ELLA LODGE, No. 184, A. O. U. W. Meets first and third Tuesdays of each month in A. O. U. W Hall, Monson
FISK G. ROGERS, M. W., F. J. ENTWISTLE, Rec.

Economy Heaters.



Crawford Ranges.

COME IN AND SEE THE

MODEL B RANGE,

sold for $20.

Plumbing, Tinning and Heating.

W. H. Hitchcock,

Nassowanno House Block, Palmer.

E. S. Bryant, D. M. D.,
Dentist,
Lynde's Block, Palmer.
Office hours: 8.30 to 12.30. 1.30 to 5 p. m.

TODD'S
STORE,
MONSON.

SATURDAYS' SELECTED SPECIALS. AND NEXT WEEK.

FROM EVERY DEPARTMENT AT SPECIAL PRICES.

Bright women

have long since learned that it don't pay to pass this store by when on a shopping tour. To buy to-morrow without knowing the real worth of our special offerings is to buy ignorantly. Before coming to the store read our SPECIALS.

Timid men

who are afraid to cross the threshold of a dry goods store, lose money every day. Hundreds of men buy hose with profit—why not hundreds more? If you have never been here, try us to-morrow. Test these SPECIALS.

10-4 extra heavy blankets,
58c, worth 69c.

11-4 heavy blankets, fleeced, $1.33
Ladies' embroidered aprons, worth 35c to 40c each, (job lot) at 29c
Ladies' wool gloves, 6½ to 8, worth 25c pair, at 19c
India silks, fancy work, 18 in. wide, per yard, 29c
Ribbons in every width, all colors, at 2, 5, 6, 10, 12 1-2, 15, 19, 25, 29 cents, and upwards.
Silk head rests, 33c
Fleece lined wrappers, in black and colors, sizes 32 to 44, $1.25, 1.50, 1.59, 1.73, 1.89.

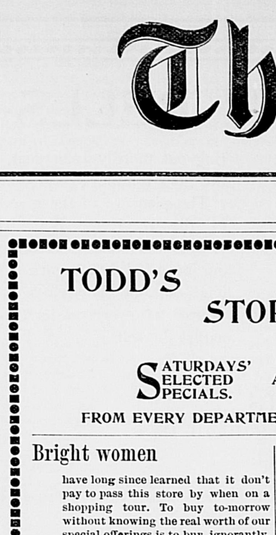
Gent's cotton socks,
regular 10c pair, 3 pairs, 25c

Gent's wool hose in heavy merino, browns and greys, per pair, 19c
Gent's strong suspenders, elastic, regular price 25c pair, now at 19c
Gent's heavy cotton shirts, double back and front, linen bosom, 48c
Gent's working shirts, yoke back, good colors, 48c
Bargain in boys' and gent's caps, all wool, regular price 25c, now 15c
Gent's Scotch wool gray underwear, shirts and pants, 50c
Gent's overalls in blue and stripes, 45c
Bay rum, per bottle, 10c
Shaving brushes, "

BOSTON STORE,
T. H. Todd.

For the Coming Winter Season.

The Saskatchewan Coat,



Wind Proof,

is a handsome custom-made garment of a black or brown color, with a high rolling collar, lined with black Italian quilting, and rubber lining in the body part and sleeves to make it wind and water proof. It has olives and loops instead of buttons. This coat will keep a person dry and warm during the severest snow or rain-storm, and will be dry the next day.

Caps and carriage robes of the same material.

Complete line of
GENT'S FURNISHING GOODS
in all departments.

Fall and Winter Clothing

was never so low in price, nor such values for the money.

Fall Suits, $5 to $20,

Just think of it!

An elegant line of

Overcoats, $6 to $22.

You never saw the like before.

Child's Suits, $2 to $6.

Child's Reefer, $3.50 to $5.

Children's Overcoats in all grades.

Underwear

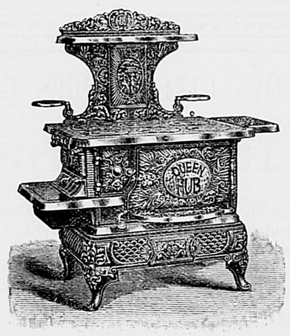
in a great variety of grades and prices.

Fall Style, 1895.

Lamson & Hubbard.

C. K. GAMWELL,
Palmer, Mass.

Perhaps you don't know all about it.



Step in and we will tell you about the QUEEN HUB.

While here we can show you some Fine Parlor Goods at prices that will surprise you.

C. A. Brown & Co. - Palmer, Mass.

Horse Blankets.

A full line, for both stable .....and street use.....

375 BLANKETS IN STOCK.

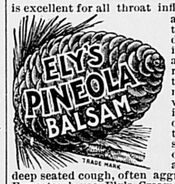
PRICES RIGHT.

G. W. Foskit,

Foskit's Mills.

PINEOLA COUGH BALSAM

is excellent for all throat inflammations and for asthma. Consumptives will invariably derive benefit from its use, as it quickly abates the cough, renders expectoration easy, assisting nature in restoring wasted tissues. There is a large percentage of those who suppose their cases to be consumption who are only suffering from a chronic cold or deep seated cough, often aggravated by catarrh. For catarrh use Ely's Cream Balm. Both remedies are pleasant to use. Cream Balm, 50c per bottle; Pineola Balsam, 25c. at druggists. In quantities of $2.50 will deliver on receipt of amount.



ELY BROTHERS, 56 Warren street, New York.

F. M. EAGER.

Boots and Shoes Manufactured to Measure.

REPAIRING NEATLY DONE AT SHORT NOTICE.

Dealer in Sewing Machines and Supplies.

Machines to rent or sold on monthly payments.

F. M. EAGER, PALMER.

Monson House,

Monson, Mass.

Most centrally located. Electric lights, steam heat, all modern conveniences, all newly furnished and up to date. Patronage of the traveling public solicited. Cousine excellent. Under new management.

JAMES MITCHELL, Proprietor.

SMITH & MURRAY.

Christmas Trading.

This store is full of it.

The pleasures of anticipation and getting ready are best of all.

Crowds and everyday goods are one with us—merchandise to be priced on worth—not on any mystery that may surround them.

And so the Christmas shopping goes on, no care but make the selection.

There is a deep-seated confidence that prices are right, here.

Bargains in women's coats, $10 for choice, over 200.

As stylish coats as any we have sold this season.

Flawless in material and cutting—well made.

The only way these are here at such a price is the fact, some big dealers, clogged by early and injudicious buying, have been driven to that bane of makers—cancellation of orders.

And to save himself from entire loss one of the foremost makers of women's coats has asked us to unload his misfortune at half price.

So to-day we sell $18 and $20 coats for $10 each.

Second floor, take elevator.

Umbrellas.

They make very nice and acceptable Christmas presents. Our holiday line for men and women is very choice—in fine silk—with pearl, ivory, sterling silver, Dresden and silver mounted handles. Prices are extremely reasonable.

Women's 26 in. 75c each.
" " 98c each.

Victoria and Gloria cloth assorted.

Union Twill Taffeta silk, tight roll and steel rod, $1.25, $1.59, $1.95, $2.48, $2.90, $3.90 and $4.50.

Men's Umbrellas, 28 and 30 inch, 75c to $5.50 each.

Children's 24 in., 59c and 69c each.

Rear of north store.

SMITH & MURRAY.

Hellyar's
Bargain
Store.

Carpets! Carpets!

Are you interested in carpets? If so, we should be pleased to show you. We have arranged with one of the largest mills in the United States whereby we are their sold agents in this locality.

Wilton Carpets,
Moquette Carpets,
Axminster Carpets.
Velvet Carpets,
Body Brussels Carpets,
Tapestry Carpets,
Three Ply Carpets,
Ingrain Carpets of all grades,
Cocoa Mattings,
Napier Mattings,
China Mattings,
Linoleums,
Oil Cloths,
Rugs,
Mats,
Lace Curtains.

We carry a full line of the newest patterns in all kinds of Carpets.

You have as fine a variety to select from as is carried by the stores in the largest cities. You can have the carpets cut and sewed at the mills, and delivered to you ready to be laid on the floor.

We represent the manufacturers, thus saving you the middleman or jobber's profit, and as we have no stock to carry and no risk to take on bad patterns, misfits or remnants we can afford to sell at a very small profit—lower even than the stores of the great cities.

Call and find out how quickly and how cheaply we can carpet a room or a house.

S. H. Hellyar & Co.,

Caryl's Block, on the Corner,

Palmer, Mass.

Don't forget the fact that there is a great difference in pianos, and that the merit of some is only skin deep. A glossy finish may hide a green case, a poor scale and a worse tone. But you avoid all risks by buying of us. We sell only

Reliable Pianos, and back the statement with the fullest guaranty the firm can give added to that of the maker's.

TAYLOR'S
Music House,

Opera House Block, Springfield.

In a Curious Twist.

In a curious twist of the grass-grown road,
Just over beyond the spruces,
Lies a moss embroidered watering-trough,
Brimful of limpid juices
Distilled from the heart of the hill above
By the gnomes that toil thereunder;
I can hear the rush of their elfin feet,
And their echo-gnome-ic thunder.

This watering-trough is the quaintest thing!
'Twas carved with an axe or hatchet
In the crudest way, with the rudest blows—
I doubt if the world can match it.
The tooth of time, or the axe, has made
A notch in the farther corner,
Where many a barefoot girl has drank,
And many a Jackey Horner.

The dear old log is a twisted thing—
But it holds the sweetest water
That ever was drank by beast or bird,
Or quaffed by son or daughter;
And yesterday, after forty years,
I searched until I found it—
A doubtful chance, for the grasses' arms
Were lovingly clasped around it.

A face looked up from the mimic sea—
Alas! 'twas not the old one!
But the yellow frog at the farther end
Was the very same old bold one—
A pop-eyed fiend—who never winked
When I bent to quaff the nectar:
If it wasn't that same old "crazy quilt,"
It must have been his spectre.

And Nell, O Nell, do you mind the day
You knelt down close beside me—
I never shall forget it, sweet,
Whatever may betide me—
And we bent above this tell-tale cup,
Reflecting untold blisses,
Where we saw two faces looking up,
And kisses chasing kisses?

A brown-faced, blue-eyed, barefoot girl—
The angels—how they love her!
A barefoot boy with bleeding feet,
Her constant, gray-haired lover—
Will search the paths of heaven some day
For such a nook as this is,
And find, perchance, this very pool,
With all its treasured kisses.

—Edward A. Jenks, in Granite Monthly.

BRAVE KATE.

The year 1781 was a dark and gloomy one for the Americans, who were then struggling for independence.

In South Carolina affairs were in a critical situation.

Gen. Green made an unsuccessful attack on the British post of Ninety-six, and withdrew his men beyond the Tiger and Broad River. Lord Rawdon followed him, but could not draw the patriot gentleman into an engagement.

At that period there stood in South Carolina a plain and unassuming house. It was a one-story building, neatly whitewashed and surrounded by a fence.

The garden contained many choice flowers; and the beautiful honeysuckle shaded the doors and windows.

It was the home of Mrs. Heath, who lived with her two daughters, while her son George was in Washington's army, fighting for freedom.

Kate, the eldest of the daughters, was a beautiful girl of 16 summers; her auburn hair stood in graceful curls down her shoulders, and her face beamed with kindness, while her eyes shone like the stars that lit up the azure vaults of heaven.

One evening, as Kate was standing at the cottage door, she beheld two mounted officers approaching.

They were richly dressed, and one of them she recognized as Lord Rawdon, the commander of the British in that part of the country. They rode up to her, and Rawdon bent over his saddle, and said in a kind voice:

"Well, miss, can you let me have the use of a room for a few moments?"

"Yes, sir; the house is open to you."

"Come, colonel, let us hasten to business," said Rawdon, dismounting, while the colonel did the same, the latter leading the horses to the stable.

Lord Rawdon advanced to where Kate was standing.

"Whose house is this, miss?"

"Mrs. Heath's, my lord.

"Ha! Her son is in the rebel army, under Washington, is he not?"

Kate trembled at the insult, and she looked at the Briton with a searching glance.

"My brother is no rebel, Lord Rawdon; he is fighting for his country."

"I'm sorry for that. He is a brave boy, and would, no doubt, make a good British soldier," returned Rawdon.

"Lord Rawdon, you insult me. I would sooner see George die a felon's death than see him in the king's army," was the prompt reply of the incensed young lady.

"I see you are a rebel, too, Miss Heath. But here comes the colonel," said Rawdon, as he saw that worthy coming from the stable.

They entered the house, and went into a small room to hold a consultation.

Kate thought they might have something to say, so she resolved to play the part of eavesdropper. She told her mother of her intention, who approved of it, and Kate placed herself in a position to overhear the Briton's plan.

It was a dangerous undertaking, and she knew that if she was caught in the act of listening she would be treated as a spy, and perhaps executed, for Lord Rawson knew no mercy.

She cautiously approached the door and looked through the crevice.

Rawdon and the colonel were seated before a small table, on which lay maps. They were examining them closely, while Rawson was explaining to the colonel.

"Here is Green's camp," said he, "and here is ours. We must make a bold stroke, and if it be successful, Green will be destroyed."

"I can't see why it should not succeed; do you, my lord?"

"No; if our troops fight as well as they have heretofore, we shall succeed," said Rawdon, his face assuming a triumphant expression.

"I shall feel happy when the rebels are driven away from Carolina, and their rule will be over," said Colonel Roberts.

"We must crush Green, Colonel. I do not want to go back to England and have it be said that I was outgeneraled by a rebel. No never!" exclaimed Rawdon, rising to his feet.

"Then we make that attack at daybreak, do we not?" asked the colonel.

"We do. Have your men ready, and make your men fight like demons."

"Let us go now. But hold! what is the countersign for the picket to-night, my lord?"

"England," answered Lord Rawdon, lowering his voice.

Kate listened to the Briton's plan with a wildly throbbing heart, and she resolved to save that patriot army.

When she heard the countersign she left the door and busied in her household duties, and soon the two officers emerged from the room.

"We must go, Miss Heath; but first let me thank you for your kindness," said Rawdon.

"Your thanks are received," replied Kate.

Their horses were saddled, and the officers were soon on their way.

Kate watched them until they were out of sight, and then prepared for her perilous journey. She threw on a shawl, and then went to the stable. Her fleet-footed horse neighed as she entered, and she patted him on the head, and said:

"Well, noble Selim, you must carry me safely to-night, for if you do not, General Green will be destroyed."

The animal seemed to understand her, for he gave a loud whimper.

Our heroine saddled Selim, led him from the stable, and was soon riding toward General Green's camp, which was eight miles distant. She rode swiftly, for she wanted to reach her destination in time to let the patriot general form his men to meet the assault.

The British pickets were four miles distant and she would be compelled to pass through their lines; but as she was in possession of the countersign, she did not fear the result. Soon Kate saw the picket's bayonet gleam in the moonlight, and then heard him cry out:

"Who goes there?"

A friend, with the countersign."

"Advance, friend, and give the countersign."

She approached the picket, and whispered: "England."

"All right; pass on. But stop?" cried the picket, as he caught a glimpse of her face.

Kate stopped her horse, and laid her hand on a pistol. The picket approached and said:

"Is that you, Miss Heath?"

"It is, Guy," returned Kate, for she recognized the officer to be Guy Jackson, who had often visited the gardener at the house.

"Where are you going to-night, Miss Kate?" he asked.

"To see Mrs. Blake; she's very ill."

"Just like you, Miss Kate—always visiting the sick; you are a ministering angel," said the British soldier.

"Thank you for the compliment, Guy. But I must be going. Good-night."

And Kate was again on her journey, while the picket returned to his post. She had to pass four miles yet, ere she would be safe, so she urged on her steed.

Before she had gone a hundred yards from Guy Jackson, a dozen mounted Britons rode furiously up to the picket, and their leader cried out:

"Did any person pass this post a short time since?"

"Yes, sir," was the picket's reply.

"Do you know who it was?"

"I do; it was Miss Heath.

"Had she a countersign?"

"She had."

"I fear she is safe. Forward, men! If she escapes, General Green is saved. A golden guinea and a commission to the man who catches her!" cried the leader of the band; and they dashed after the brave girl, leaving the picket in a state of bewilderment.

Kate soon heard the sound of her pursuers, and she pushed on faster. It was a race for life or death.

The British horses were fresh, while hers was beginning to show signs of fatigue.

"Forward, Selim. You must take me to General Green's camp."

But her enemies gained upon her, and one of them seemed bent upon catching her, for he was some yards in advance of his comrades. Kate heard the ominous tramp of the horse, and drew her pistol.

Nearer he came, until he was by her side, and then cried out:

"Halt, you vile rebel!"

Those were his last words, for Kate fired, and the ball crushed through his brain. The others did not stop to look at their dead comrade, but passed on.

They neared her again, and another trooper received his death wound. The remainder halted, and a moment afterward Kate heard the Americans cry out:

"Who goes there?"

"Kate Heath!" cried the heroine, as she dashed through the lines.

The soldier had raised his gun, but when he heard her name, it was lowered, and he answered:

"All right!"

The American camp was reached; Kate threw herself from the saddle, and placed her faithful horse in charge of a soldier.

Where is General Green's tent?" she asked.

"To the right there, where you see that light," replied the man, pointing to the place.

She entered the general's tent, and found him engaged in writing. He raised his eyes, then rose to his feet and said:

"You come here at a late hour, Miss Heath."

"I do, gereral. You are in danger."

"How is that?" exclaimed Green.

The brave girl told her story and the general grasped her hand, while the tears trickled down his war-worn cheeks.

"Thank Heaven! You have saved my army, Miss Heath. I can never repay you."

"I want no payment. The thought that I have done my duty, and the thanks of General Green, are worth more than gold or diamonds," was the heroic reply.

"Take my thanks, my brave girl, and may the Great Jehovah watch over and guide you through the changing scenes of life," responded Green.

"And may he save the country, too," added Kate.

"You need rest. Here, sleep in my tent to-night, while I seek a resting-place among my men," said kind-hearted Green.

"I do not wish to rob you of your couch, general," said Kate.

"You will not. I shall be engaged in forming my troops to meet the attack." And General Green left the tent.

Kate enjoyed a good rest that night, and in the morning General Green came to her, and joyfully exclaimed:

"Good news! Lord Rawdon is in full retreat. We took a prisoner this morning, who says you frustrated their plans and saved the army. Heaven bless you for that good act! But I must leave you now, for I am going to follow Rawdon and teach him that we can fight. When are you going home?"

"In a few minutes, general."

"Good-by, and may you have a safe journey," responded Green, shaking her by the hand.

Her horse was led forth, and she was soon on her way to her home, which was reached in safety.

Kate Heath lived to see the war close, and peace and plenty spread their wings over the land, and not long afterward she was wedded to Walter Gorden, who had been a colonel in the American army.—Door County Advocate.

HOW TO ROAST THE SUCCULENT OYSTER.—Select large oysters and have them scrubbed thoroughly, then place them in the oven in a large tin with the round side of the shells down, so that when they open the liquor will not be lost. As soon as they do open, remove the upper shell, sprinkle them with salt, pepper and chopped parsley, add a little butter and serve hot as possible on a bed of watercress. Oysters served in this way make an excellent first course at dinner if accompanied by thin slices of brown bread and butter.—November Ladies' Home Journal.

There is one thing to the credit of the devil—he never at any time did business in his wife's name.—Atchinson Globe.

THE DANGERS OF WHALING.

"I am 62, and although my name, 'Shantz,' is Dutch, both my father and me are born Nantucketers. My grandfather was Dutch, but he sailed from New Bedford on a whaler in 1811, and was gone four years." The old sailor lives on Long Island, and for 20 years sailed out of San Francisco as first mate on a whaler, crossing the continent by rail about once every two years to visit my home. "I made my last vi'ge two years ago. I want to lay my old bones in Christian ground, which neither my grandfather nor father was permitted to do. Both were lost at sea. Cruising for the right whale, which gives the whalebone of commerce, is very different work from goin' for the sperm whale. He is a born fighter, and there was no calling on land or sea so dangerous as this was. Look in the old churches and graveyards at New Bedford, and you will see monuments to hundreds of stalwart men who are buried in the ocean 3000 miles away. But it was mighty profitable. Here is an old harpoon, all bent and elbowed. James Macey, first officer of the New Bedford ship, Try Potts, on the 3d of June, 1836, did between sunrise and set, with that old iron, kill five sperm whales on the Brazil banks, and these gave 726 barrels of oil, worth $7962, oil being then $1.35 per gallon, and after being out nine months the Try Potts sailed for home with over $300,000 worth of oil in her. This was the famous 'Plum Pudding' voyage that made the Hetty Green fortune, her Grandfather Chase making his money out of oil. Again, the Trident, in 1849, was gone two years and 11 months, and came home empty. They had to catch porpoises to get oil for their lamps. The captain (Anstell) cut his throat before landing.

"My first voyage was out of Nantucket on the Gladiator, Capt. Chase. We were out seven weeks before we raised a whale off the Brazil banks. Two of the boats were manned. I was with the first mate, Mr. Folger. Just then a second whale was seen, and the boats separated. We went for the first fish. He was a big sperm, and was breaching, rising half his length out of the water, and then falling with a smack heard half a mile away.

"Mr. Folger was an excitable man in a boat, and he yelled 'Raise the white ash breeze, boys, the gals in Nantucket are watching us.' We put all our strength into the oars, and when within 10 feet of him, Folger darted the iron in up to the socket. The whale gave a squirm, and sank, and in three minutes rose under the boat and with one smack of his tail cut her in two, knocking the crew of seven men 10 feet up in the air. The mate and two men in the bow were fouled in the line which floated out of the tub, and were taken under, and the rest caught up the oars and wreck of the stern and floated. The whale cruised around, smashing everything that came within reach of his tail and then swam away. For three weary hours we held on, and were finally taken up by the other boat, and then it was found that one of us had been cut by the spare harpoon in the somersault, and this poor fellow bled to death before we reached the ship, so that out of seven only three men survived, and I knew what sperm whaling meant.

"As the remains of the bow were fast to the whale it would swim slowly, and early next morning the lookout on the mast-head sang out: 'Thar she breaches—the same whale,' and now the boats were manned and the ship left in charge of five men—the captain headed one boat and the mate the other. The captain was a desperate man, and he swore he'd have that whale or sleep in hell that night.

"We pulled about a mile and the whale swam slowly toward us and suddenly made a rush, but he was hampered by the towing wreck, and the mate drove his harpoon in, and the captain yelled: 'Beach me on his back, men,' and threw his iron with a fiery curse. In a second our boat was upset, but not stove in, and just in time the mate used his lance. The whale sounded or sank, and in five minutes came up blowing and spouting blood, and soon gave a roll and died. We got into our boat and at last got the water out and pulled for the ship. When the fish was made fast the lines were raised and Mr. Folger's body came up. The whale line had fouled around his neck and strangled him. The other two were gone. This is very common in whaling, getting caught in the line.

"The Gladiator went around the Horn, cruised on the line in the Pacific, then went around Java into the Indian ocean and came home by the Cape of Good Hope. We were so full of oil that our barrel gave out and all the boats were filled and fitted with covers. Our voyage lasted two years and nine months.

"Scientific men have a good bit to learn. The sea sailors call the devil fish the squid, and on these the sperm whale feeds. I have seen pieces of the arms of the squid taken out of the whale's belly that must have been 30 feet long when alive. Such a monster would hold a small vessel.

"In 1856 I saw the great 'white squid' said to be very unlucky for a whale to meet. It was off the coast of New Holland. It must have been 50 feet across and had a thousand arms, wiggling like a mass of serpents. Our attention was first directed to it by the swarming sharks which were thick about it.

"Coal oil has saved the sperm from extinction and they are now plenty in the northern seas, but the right whale is more profitable to hunt, and for the last 20 years I have been officer of a steamer that cruises in Baffin's Bay. We paddle close to the fish, and use a bomb lance shot from a heavy gun and this makes a hole as big as a bushel measure, but there is very little danger.

"Some of the old right whalers made money 50 years ago. In 1847 Capt. James Walker bought an old condemned vessel called the Envoy and sailed from New Bedford. She cost $8000. He was away 13 months and brought in bone and oil to the amount of $132,450 and sold his old tub for $6000 at San Francisco. As late as 1864 the ship Pioneer sailed for Davis straits and in 15 months took 1391 barrels of oil and 22,650 pounds of bone— in value $150,660. You can't well hunt sperm with a bomb gun, as the fish sink when shot. Indeed, when harpooned they often sink alongside and there is no reason for this, as their blubber should make them buoyant.

"Sperm whales are wonderful travelers. There is the shank of a harpoon which was driven into a fish in the Pacific in 1852 and the same whale was dilled off the coast of Greenland by Capt. Folsom's nephew in 1854, who found his uncle's harpoon on cutting up the fish. There is his mark on the iron—three crescents and J. G. F.—so that the whale must have sailed around the world almost in two years.

"Steel at $50 a ton is taking the place of whalebone at $475 and soon right whaling will give out, but it has lasted my time and I can't complain."—Philadelphia Times.

If the children were included, it is stated that the average amount spent every year by the inhabitants of the United Kingdom in clothing does not exceed $15. In France $7.50 is the average, in Germany $5. The inhabitants of India spend only about 15 cents per annum on clothes on the average.

Development.

Yes, people change; we did, you know;
Last August, just a year ago,
You wore red poppies in your hair
That night at Brown's; I called you fair,
And you were pleased I thought you so.

The music, throbbing soft and low,
Seemed filled with joy—or was it woe?
I could not tell, for you were there—
Yes, people change.

To-night your gown's like drifted snow;
The wedding-march peals softly, slow;
For Tom a bridal wreath you wear,
And I—some way I do not care,
I should have cared a year ago—
Yes, people change.

—Helen Nicolay, in the Century.

BESSY'S REWARD.

"Well, I must say, Bessy Wilton, I'd earn my money easier than you do," said Ann Holly, piling up the plates on the lunch counter of the country hotel, at the door of which the cars from New York made a noontide pause every day. "If we are not worked and driven hard enough any how, and get little enough, and treated like slaves here; and such airs as people take. Who cares whether they have time to eat what they order or not? They pay for it on the spot; and to see you fly and wait on that common-looking old man and woman. Oh, my! And took her bonnet and dusted it for her, and trotted about to get them ice water. I just do what I have to, and that is enough."

"And you set up for genteel, too, and don't take half the airs that Maggie Smith does, and she has always lived out."

"I don't 'set up' for anything," said Bessy, flushing.

"Father was a gentleman and a rich man, too, and I've had some education. I am poor now, but I hope I can be a lady in my feelings, even if I do wait on a lunch room; and I like to put a little heart in anything I do. I like to see people comfortable, and warn them just how much time they'll have to eat and that they ought to choose what will not take them long to prepare; and I feel as if I had cheated them if they say "There, I must go, and I have not tasted my lunch yet;" and I like these old people. They were educated folks, Ann, and so kind. She asked me my name, and wanted to know whether we made a good living. I felt quite as if I'd had company, not like a slave, as you do sometimes when people are insolent and airish. And when I counted up their bill, he said, 'You are quick at accounts, eh?' And I said I had had a pretty good mathematical education. I felt I should like him to know it, somehow, and that I wanted the school. But there were so many applicants. And he said the children had lost a good, kind teacher, and smiled so pleasantly. I'm sure it was better than huffing that lady as you did, and pretending you did not know she wanted her glass filled, and forgetting to get the butter for her rolls."

"Well, I mean to take life easy," said Ann, tartly. "Put yourself out at all and you may. I saw you cutting up that one-armed soldier's meat the other day—I had to laugh."

"Why the poor soul couldn't do it himself," said Bessy.

"You'll kill me," said Ann. "I suppose he thought you were in love with him. He asked me your name—I told it. I wouldn't flatter men so."

Bessy colored crinsom, and looked indignant, but just then she was called upon to attend to a customer, and then the girls parted.

"I shall not allow Ann's words to influence me," said Bessy, "or get to feeling as though my duties were something I should blush for, if I can help it. I do not mean to stay here always, but while I stay I will behave decently to people. At least I shall not be spoken of as "that rude girl," as Ann often is. It is not proof of good breeding to use our customers as if they had insulted us by ordering lunch. As for the soldier, I'd have done it all the same for anyone who needed help. Though he was very nice and handsome, certainly.

So Bessy kept on as she had begun, and was happier for it."

"A letter for you, Bessy Wilton," said the man who had been sent to the office for letters for the house, one day. "Looks important."

Bessy took the large envelope.

"Dear me," cried she, "from Washington. Why, I know no one there." Then she broke the seal, glanced at a strange signature, and read as follows:

Dear Miss Wilton:—You were very polite to an old lady and gentleman the other day, and now they have an opportunity to show how they appreciated your conduct. Your manner, and what you told us, made us feel sure that you could fill a better and more suitable situation, and enclosed you will find an appointment to a clerkship in Washington, which we hope will give you pleasure. My husband sends his regards, and I remain,

Yours faithfully, ——

P. S.—As you may have been polite to many old ladies and gentlemen, and doubtless have, I will mention your dusting my bonnet, and finding me a newspaper for the inconvenient parcel that had come undone. If you will be here on the third at five o'clock, you will be met at the depot.

The name was one well known through the newspapers, to those who watched the progress of events, and Bessy knew the plain old gentleman to whom she had been polite was a distinguished statesman.

Of course she accepted the appointment and went at once to Washington. Someone was waiting for her at the depot. It was a man who bore in his dress some tokens that he belonged to the army, and whose left sleeve was pinned empty to the breast. His face looked familiar to Bessy. She glanced at it again, and knew the soldier whose lunch she had so carefully prepared at the depot a week or so before.

Now he devoted himself to her service, and saw her into a cab in waiting.

"I remember your name," he said, "and hearing of your appointment and its peculiar circumstances, felt sure that I should see you and no other. Perhaps, however, you do not remember me?"

But Bessy did.

"My goodness!" cried Ann Holly, six months afterward, as she packed her bundle one day. "What luck some people do have. Here am I, dismissed for being careless and forgetting to wait on a lot of tormented folks, and there's that Bessy Wilton, with a big salary in Washington, and engaged to be married to some Captain——, or other. I wonder who she is? Who would have thought it, when she made herself so common waiting on shabby old people, and cutting up the meat for one-armed soldiers and all that, and I turned up my nose at everybody as if I was a queen! But there, it is luck, and I have got to go back to Cousin Sally's and feed the pigs and mind the babies, and it is too bad."

A clergyman of the Baptist persuasion, holding forth in a Texas town, recently commenced his discourse thusly: "My dear friends, I want to talk to you about the infinite power of the Almighty. He created a mighty ocean—and he created a pebble. He created the solar system—and he created the world—and he created a grain of sand. My friends, he created me! and he created—a daisy."—Texas Siftings.

The Journal.

FRIDAY EVENING, DECEMBER 13, 1895.

LOCAL NOTICES.

Something new, Celery Cigars; good for the nerves; try them. Sold by LeGro & Lynde.

FINE STATIONERY.—Blue is the fashionable shade for ladies' correspondence paper now, and "Ciel Bleu" is the very latest and most correct. "Prince of Wales" is another popular style, and comes in four shades, Silver Blue, Cream, French Grey and Beryl. Samples of all these papers and the fashionable sizes now prevailing can be seen at the JOURNAL Office.

Jeweler Barton's stock of holiday goods is complete. All the latest novelties of the season. Come in and see the new goods. My line of watches is large and prices way down. You will find a large assortment of rings, chains, charms, pins and silver novelties, gold pens and pencils in great variety and at rock bottom prices, Every customer can guess on the watch. A fine assortment of Dresden and other styles of clocks.

F. D. Barton, Jeweler.

PALMER NEWS.

SHARP CRITICISM.

Judge Robinson of the District Court Under Fire.

Under the heading of "Strange Proceeding," the Springfield Union of last Sunday morning severely scored Judge Robinson of the Eastern Hampden district court at Palmer, for his action in a recent case. The gist of the article will be seen by the following extracts from it:

This case, although in the beginning one of simple drunkenness, resolved itself before its end into a very peculiar one. It involves the sentencing of a man for two months in the house of correction for a first case of drunkenness, the payment of $10 as a condition upon which he might be released, and the negligence of the Judge to place any of that amount in the hands of the town treasurer. The result is that until to-day, at least, Judge Robinson has occupied the position of the man who, while justice of a district court, had accepted several dollars from a friend of a prisoner intending, according to his own statement, which seems worthy of credence, to reimburse the town for the expense of the trial and committal of the prisoner, and who has not handed the money over to the town treasurer, although more than three months have elapsed since the money was placed in his hands.

The case was this: Elzeard Berthiaume of Stafford Springs was arrested in this town August 20, last, on a charge of drunkenness. Judge Robinson sentenced him for two months in the county jail and he was committed. Berthiaume had several friends in Stafford Springs, including J. Douglas Armstrong, the proprietor of a meat market, who upon learning of this judicial action, was greatly incensed at the severity of the sentence, it being customary to discharge without punishment a man who had not previously been in court for the same offense. That this was a first offense is the declaration of Mr. Armstrong, who says that he has known the man for several years and he had never before known him to be intoxicated.

Mr. Armstrong did not learn of Berthiaume's arrest until the day following his committal. Mr. Armstrong then came to Palmer and interviewed Deputy Sheriff O. W. Studley, by whom the arrest had been made. In a conference with Judge Robinson, in response to his query as to why the sentence had been so severe, Judge Robinson replied that he believed the man to have been a tramp. When Armstrong asked how his former employe might be released, Judge Robinson told him that he would recommend it to the county commissioners, and that they were possessed of power to release him. It would, however, be necessary that the judge sentencing him recommend his release, and Judge Robinson agreed to do this upon condition that Armstrong pay $10 for the expenses of the court. Armstrong cheerfully handed over the $10, and the judge signed the promised recommendation, and prepared a paper to be signed by Mr. Armstrong, petitioning the county commissioners for the release.

There, are according to the statements of both Judge Robinson and Deputy Sheriff Studley, numerous misstatements in the Union's article. Judge Robinson says, regarding it, that when Berthiaume was in court he offered to impose a fine of $10 if it could be paid and some friend would take Berthiaume in charge, as he was evidently in a bad way from the effects of a prolonged spree, and in need of medical attendance in order to get straightened out again, but after telephoning to a friend in Stafford for help Berthiaume announced that he could not pay, and was given two months in the house of correction. A day or two later Sheriff Studley brought to his house in the morning a man who said his name was Armstrong and that he wanted to pay Berthiaume's fine. Judge Robinson explained that the man had been committed and the matter was beyond his jurisdiction. Armstrong then told of the critical condition of Berthiaume's wife, who had not yet heard of her husband's arrest, and feared that if she did it would kill her. He asked what could be done to get Berthiaume out, and was informed that the only course was a pardon by the county commissioners. Armstrong said "I'll give $10 to have him pardoned." Judge Robinson informed him that personally he would agree if the town was reimbursed the costs in the case, $5.14. Armstrong renewed his offer of $10, and asked if Judge Robinson would assist in getting a pardon, being told yes. Pay was again offered, but declined. Armstrong then left the house, but later in the day appeared at the court room, where Judge Robinson drew up a petition to the county commissioners for a pardon, which he signed; Judge Robinson also wrote a recommendation for a pardon, and Armstrong took both papers away with him, since which time he has not been seen by Judge Robinson.

Deputy Sheriff Studley says that Armstrong came to his house that morning and announced that ten friends of Berthiaume's had chipped in a dollar each to see what could be done toward getting him out of jail, announcing that if $10 wasn't enough more would be forthcoming; if it was more than enough the balance could be returned to him. He was taken to Judge Robinson's house, where he told his story and offered Judge Robinson the $10. Judge Robinson suggested that the money be given to the officer, but Mr. Studley did not take it. Mr. Studley and the man went to see County Commissioner Brainerd, and after a talk with him Armstrong looked at his watch, and stating that he must hurry to catch his train gave Studley $10, saying "If that isn't enough to get him out let me know, if there is more than enough you can send me the balance," and rushed for the station. Sometime later Mr. Studley was settling a money matter with Judge Robinson and in making a payment was reminded by Judge Robinson, "And there's that Stafford money also." Mr. Studley included it in the check which he gave to balance his account. Later he got a letter from Armstrong demanding the return of the money "so wrongfully taken" from him. The letter was handed to Judge Robinson, and a letter written to Armstrong stating that the money had been paid to Judge Robinson, and that his letter had also been given him.

Regarding the $10, which Judge Robinson still has in his possession, he says that it is and ever has been his intention to turn over to the town $5.14, making good the amount of costs in the Berthiaume case, but as the town has no claim whatever in the matter, he proposes to make such disposition of the money as in his judgment shall seem best. As to the balance, he does not see why he is not as much entitled to it for his services as any lawyer would be for the same service, and a lawyer would certainly expect to be paid. In no way did he make his recommendation for pardon conditional on a payment; he should have recommended it had no money been offered, being convinced from the statement concerning the prisoner's family that it would be for the best interests of all if Berthiaume were released. As to the severity of the sentence, it might have been made a year at Bridgewater, the law by which first offenses were released having been long ago repealed.

The Business Club's Monthly Meeting.

The meeting of the Palmer Business and Social Club which was held Tuesday evening was one of the most important in the history of the club. The committee appointed to consider the advisability of giving a public entertainment in celebration of the club's anniversary reported in favor of it, and it was decided to hold a reception on the evening of January 14th. The entertainment is to consist of a historical sketch of the club, addresses, music, and a collation. If there is room in the assembly room guests will be expected to dance or enjoy themselves in any other possible way. Club members and their invited guests will be welcome. This committee of arrangements was chosen: C. B. Fiske, H. C. Strong, C. W. Johnson, G. S. Holden, E. S. Bryant, Rufus Flynt and J. F. Foley. A letter was read from the Southbridge board of trade. That body writes that the town is burdened with peddlers, who not only spend no money in the town, but decrease the natural patronage of the local merchants by selling their wares. It wishes to present to the next Legislature a bill asking that a new system of licensing peddlers be devised, whereby the towns who suffer from them may collect the license fees, and asks the coöperation of the club in the matter. It was left to this committe: H. C. Strong, C. F. Grosvenor and G. M. Atkins. The matter of Monson being cut out of the Palmer exchange by the New England Telephone Company was discussed. The general opinion of subscribers seemed to be that they had made contracts with the company with the express understanding that they were to have a free Monson service, as has always been the case, and they object to having their privileges curtailed. A committee was appointed to express to the company the feeling in Palmer, as follows: Rufus Flynt, C. F. Grosvenor and H. P. Holden. A letter asking the help of the club in presenting a bill to Congress to ask for cheaper postage was read, and this committee appointed to take charge of the matter: C. B. Fiske, C. E. Fish and E. G. Hastings. A vote of thanks was extended to the United States School Furnishing Company of Boston for the handsome desk which it has presented to the club. A letter was received from Manager Hills of the opera house offering the use of the entire Odd Fellows' building to the club for its anniversary celebration.

Who Owns The Building?

A funny incident occurred at the state primary school Saturday. Edward Davis, who bought one of the shops at the recent auction, went to the school in the morning and found that Mark Moble of Monson, who bought the other shop, was preparing to move one of the small out-buildings. Noble claimed that it belonged to him, and continued his work. The men argued the matter, but as neither convinced the other, Mr. Davis started for Palmer to see a lawyer. Mayor-elect Winter of Springfield, who sold the property, was called up by telephone, and said that by the terms of sale if the building was painted white it belonged to Mr. Davis, if painted red, to Mr. Noble. The building was painted white, and Mr. Davis felt better. He secured the services of Deputy Sheriff Northrop, a sledge hammer, and the two men and the hammer proceeded to the front. When they arrived at the school it was found that Mr. Noble had gotten the building on skids and was hauling it off. Mr. Davis jumped from the sleigh, hammer in hand, and approached the building. Mr. Noble asked him what he was going to do and Davis replied that he intended knocking the skids from under the building. Noble advised him not to, and asked the officer what he was there for. Mr Northrop replied that he was there to protect Mr. Davis from injury, but replied in answer to a question that he had no papers. He advised Mr. Noble to allow the building to remain where it was until ownership could be decided, and this advice was acted upon. The building still remains in the road.

The mercury got down to zero on Tuesday morning.

Miss Belle Colgrove of Springfield visited friends in Palmer over Sunday.

The Quaboag Literary Circle meets this evening in the library building.

The Order of the Eastern Star will hold a meeting this evening, and work the Vocal Star.

A small party of a dozen couples met at the Weeks House last evening for a social dance.

Mrs. M. Emma Murdock of Thorndike was the guest of Mrs. H. F. Moulton over Sunday.

Mrs. L. E. Carpenter announces a special sale of night robes, to commence to-morrow morning.

The Ladies' Tuesday Social Club will meet next Tuesday afternoon with Miss Brigham on Park street.

Mrs. R. A. McQuaid and daughter, Mrs. Allen, of Chatham, N. Y., are visiting friends in town.

The grand officers of the Royal Arcanum will pay an official visit to the Palmer council next Tuesday evening.

The time of holding the Y. P. S. C. E. meeting at the Congregational church has been changed from 6 to 6.30.

S. H. Hellyar & Co. announce a closing-out sale of everything in their store, at prices lower than ever before.

The Universalist ministers of Western Massachusetts will meet next Monday in the parlors of St. Paul's church.

Edward Carey has moved from the Palmer Water Co's. farm above the carpet mill to one of Mrs. Thompson's houses on Pine street.

Palmer lodge of Odd Fellows received an official visit from District Attorney Fred R Sistare Wednesday evening. A collation was served.

Rev. H. F. Moulton will preach next Sunday evening on "Faith and Moral Courage." This will be the first of a series of special evening services.

Rev. H. F. Moulton of St. Paul's Universalist church and Rev. F. E. Jenkins of the Congregational church will exchange pulpits next Sunday morning.

Next Sunday is the third Sunday in Advent, and masses at St. Thomas's Catholic church will be at 8.30 and 10.30 a. m., with Sunday school at 3 p. m. and vespers at 7.

The insurance on the Kelliher property, which was recently burned in Thorndike, has been paid through the W. W. Leach agency. The amount paid was about $1850.

L. E. Moore has resigned his position on the school committee, and the selectmen and the committee will hold a joint meeting next Friday afternoon at 1.30 to elect his successor.

D. L. Bodfish has one of the most attractive displays of holiday goods ever seen in town; celluloid seems to take a prominent place in the manufacture of holiday articles this year.

Mrs. E. N. Fay and family went to Holyoke Saturday to attend the funeral of Mrs. Austin Dutton, which took place on Sunday. Mrs. Dutton was a niece of Mrs. Fay's, and formerly lived in Palmer.

The social given by the ladies of the Congregational church Wednesday evening was largely attended. In connection the Lend-a-Hand club had a sale of useful and fancy articles which was well patronized.

The first union temperance meeting of the season was held last Sunday evening in St. Paul's church, with a good attendance. Addresses were made by Rev. C. R. Minard, Rev. H. F. Moulton and Rev. F. E. Jenkins.

E. D. Tufts, who has conducted the Rambler bicycle agency in Holden's block since last spring, has sold the business to E. A. Buck & Co., and commencing with next Monday will have charge of the bicycle repair department of that firm.

H. A. Northrop has his 500 ton ice house at his new pond nearly completed. He will fill both houses this winter, the new one with ice for domestic purposes, and the one on Park street with ice for markets and other large users.

Owing to various unavoidable delays the Ferrill crossing cannot now be completed until spring, and work has been discontinued until warm weather. The approaches to the crossing under the track will be fenced up, to prevent teams from attemping to make use of it.

The telephone exchange in Warren has been opened this week, with 27 subscribers. Heretofore Palmer users of the telephone have not been charged for communication with the Warren pay station, but now there is a tariff of 15 cents between the two exchanges.

At the opera house this evening will be seen "The Burglar," dramatized from Mrs. Frances Hodgson Burnett's charming story of "Editha's Burglar." All who have read the story will want to see the play, which is probably the best of the season thus far. The seats went on sale Monday morning, and are selling well.

The agricultural society has made application to the state board of agriculture for the following speakers and subjects for its institutes: Dr J. B. Lindsley of Amherst, "How to feed the dairy cow for milk and cream production;" O. S. Senter of Northampton, "Our Forests;" Geo. M. Whittaker of Boston, "Beautiful Homes."

L. L. Merrick post, No. 107, G. A. R., held its annual meeting Wednesday evening and elected these officers: C. E. E. Ryther; S. V. C., F. M. Connor; Q. M., E. G. Hastings; S., Dr. William Holbrook; C., H. E. W. Clark; O. D., S. S. Nichols; O. G., W. S. Thornhill; delegate to department encampment, William Holbrook; alternate, Henry Hobson.

Miss Effie Shaw's exhibition of painted china attracted a large number of people, particularly ladies, to her home on West Main street Monday afternoon and evening. There were many pieces on exhibit, including some exquisite designs, and all were unusually attractive. Miss Shaw also gave an exhibition Wednesday afternoon at her new studio in Springfield, which was attended by large numbers.

The Central Massachusetts Electric Company held its annual meeting Monday, and elected these officers: President, C. E. Fish; vice president, Rufus Flynt; clerk, W. W. Leach; treasurer, C. B. Fiske; directors, Rufus Flynt, C. E. Fish and C. B. Fiske of Palmer, Dr. G. E. Fuller and G. C. Flynt of Monson, W. H. Fairbank and Edward Fairbanks of Warren, N. D. Grannis and G. C. Blakesley of Waterbury, Ct.

The Men's Sunday Evening Club of the Congregational church will hold a praise service next Sunday evening as a memorial of Rev. Dr. S. F. Smith, author of "America." The hymns to be sung will be of his composition. Brief sketches of his life and of the hymns sung will be given by members of the club. The music will include a large chorus, and cornet playing by Miss Hayden of Springfield.

Golden weddings have been numerous in the towns hereabouts this fall, and Palmer will fall into line in that direction next Monday, which will be the 50th anniversary of the marriage of Mr. and Mrs. E. Brown. It has been their intention to appropriately celebrate the event with a gathering of friends, but Mrs. Brown's health has of late been such as to make this impracticable, though they will be at home to callers during the evening.

Hampden chapter, Royal Arch Masons, held its annual meeting Tuesday evening. These officers were elected: M. E. H. P., J. B. Shaw; E. K., George Robinson; E. S., E. G. Hastings; treasurer, F. A. Royce; secretary, C. F. Grosvenor; C. of H., A. Pinney; P. S., F. D. Barton; R. A. C., W. A. Barnes: M. 3d V., D. H. Brown; M. 2d V. W. A. Weld; M. 1st V., G. A. Bills; chaplain, H. E. W. Clark; tyler, C. S. Ruggles; trustee for 3 years, C. E. Fish.

The annual meeting of the Mission Circle of the Baptist church was held Monday afternoon at the residence of Mrs. Cambridge Moulton. These officers were elected: President, Mrs. A. E. Fitch; 1st vice president, Mrs. L. G. Parkhurst; 2d vice president, Mrs. G. M. Atkins; secretary, Mrs. H. B. Walker; treasurer, Mrs. Cambridge Moulton; soliciting committee, Mrs. W. J. Smith and Mrs. A. B. Marsh. After the meeting there was a supper, music and a literary entertainment.

The success of the Palmer Business and Social Club has encouraged a number of active young men to take steps to form another organization, and if the plans contemplated are carried through elegant quarters will be fitted up on the second floor of the Odd Fellows' Building, which will include pool and billiard parlors, card and reading rooms, a buffet lunch, portable bowling alley on the stage, and a gymnasium will be rigged. Some 40 or 50 people are already interested in the scheme, and admission may be placed at $5, and annual dues at $6.

The 1 17 p. m. express train for Springfield was delayed an hour and a half at Indian Orchard last Saturday, a circumstance not conducive to piety on the part of Palmer people who were on the train and wished to get to the city. It was hard pulling that day, necessitating the use of much more than the usual quantity of steam, and when the train got to the Orchard the engineer found that he had not enough water to take him further. There is no tank at that station, and filling the tender of the locomotive through an inch hose is a slow process, as he found out.

Cross Camp, 136, S. of V., will give a ball in the opera house on the evening of the 31st, with dancing from 8 to 2, giving an opportunity to dance the old year out and the new year in. The Palmer Orchestra, W. L. Southland leader, will furnish music, and E. M. Hinckley will prompt. The committee of arrangements is A. B. C. Deming, Jr., B. M. Griswold and W. A. Lawson; floor director, A. B. C. Deming, Jr.; assistant, W. A. Lawson; aids, B. M. Griswold, L. H. Hendee, C. W. Robinson, J. W. French, M. Scott French. Refreshments will be served in the hall.

William Cronan of Thompsonville was arrested Tuesday morning by Deputy Sheriff Studley on suspicion. For several days Mr. Studley had been on the lookout for a man wanted in Thompsonville for burglary. He saw Cronan acting in a suspicious manner, and as he answered the description of the man wanted in Thompsonville, he arrested him and notified the authorities of the town. An officer arrived on the 3.12 train that afternoon, identified Cronan as the man wanted, and took him back with him. It is said that Cronan is wanted in other towns in Connecticut for the same offense.

In the clock voting contest now going on at W. E. Stone's store for the most popular fireman, the result at 1.30 this afternoon was:

Patrick Lynch,	252
J. B. Longwill,	229
M. J. Dawson,	215
T. H. Dwyer (Ware River R. R.)	185
T. J. Conroy,	157
John Lyman,	61
Adelbert Maxwell,	55
George Burdick,	53
Dennis Connors,	49
Chas. McManamy,	48
Frank Roach,	32
J. H. Lynch,	31
Thos. Boyle,	22
Patrick Comer,	20
A. Gordon,	17
Moses Winters,	12
Herbert Winters,	10
F. A. Paro,	6
W. Nolan,	5
Thos. Edwards,	4
John Conway,	3

After months of suffering, borne with great Christian patience, Mrs. Adaline Dodge, one of the kindest and best of mothers, entered into rest December 1st. She was born in Croydon, N. H., April 2d, 1820. Married to William Dodge in 1840, they settled for a time in Palmer, moved from there to Canton, N. Y., where they resided until the fall of 1870, when they moved to Sister Island, St. Lawrence river. In all these places she proved herself a true Christian women by her great love for her home and children, and her loyalty to her church. The greater part of the time since her husband's death in August, 1890, she has lived with her daughter, Mrs. H. F. Buell, and at their home she died, surrounded by her children, Favious O. Dodge, Mrs. H. F. Buell and William O. Dodge.

The annual turkey supper and festival of the women of St. Paul's Universalist church was held Tuesday evening, and was the greatest success ever made by the society in this line. The supper was patronized to an extent which threatened to leave nothing but the dishes, but there was enough for all. The entertainment was something of a novelty for Palmer, and was very well received. The crowd was so great that seats could not be provided in the chapel, parlors and halls, and many of the audience were forced to stand. Miss Brigham, as "Dame Plunkett," who had charge of the singing school, was a success, and her pupils in their respective places were just as good. The chorus music was not especially enlivening, but some of the individual selections were excellent.

The class of '96 of the Palmer high school has arranged a mock trial for next Tuesday evening in the opera house, when B. M. Griswold will be accused of stealing from William Merriam a valuable rooster. The court officials will be: Judge, T. W. Kenefick; officer, O. W. Studley; clerk of court, A. E. Fitch; attorney for prosecution, C. B. Perry of Worcester; attorney for defense, Col. A. V. Newton of Worcester; crier, H. A. Northrop; witnesses, O. P. Allen, Dr. L. H. Hendee, G. W. Ely, C. W. Johnson, W. A. Weld; jury, C. E. Fish, J. B. Shaw, E. B. Hastings, C. F. Armstrong, W. W. Converse, D. H. Brown, F. J. Wassum, G. H. Bray, M. J. Dillon, J. A. Palmer, H. S. Hobson and W. R. Milligan. The proceeds are to go toward defraying the expenses of graduation, and the tickets, which are 25, 35 and 50 cents, are on sale at LeGro & Lynde's drug store.

The members of Thomas lodge, F. and A. M., and their invited guests filled Masonic Hall almost to overflowing Monday evening, to witness the installation of officers of the lodge. Worshipful Bro. W. H. Small officiated as installing officer, and Worshipful Bro. C F. Grosvenor as marshal, and the exercises passed off very smoothly and pleasantly. The Alpha Mandolin Club of Springfield furnished the musical part of the programme and added much to the enjoyment of the occasion, Mr. John J. Eberhardt's rendering the finale of "The Lost Chord" on the autoharp being especially noticeable. After the installation coffee, cocoa and light refreshments were served in the banquet hall, and a general good time socially was enjoyed till well toward the small hours. The list of officers installed is as follows: W. M., G. H. Wilkins; S. W., W. H. Brainerd; J. W., C. T. Brainerd; treasurer, W. E. Stone; secretary, H. W. McGregory; chaplain, Rev. H. F. Moulton; M., C. E. Fish; S. D., D. L. Bodfish; J. D., J. A. Hawkes; S. S., C. W. Johnson; J. S, G. H. Magrath; organist, C. B. Fiske; tyler, James Knox.

The state highway commission held a public meeting at Springfield Monday for the discussion of matters pertaining to highway building. Residents of Brimfield and Wales were present and protested emphatically against the construction of any state highway on any portion of the present road from West Brimfield to Palmer. According to their ideas a new road should be built from West Brimfield to Palmer south of the tracks of the Boston and Albany railroad, the present highway having bad grades and dangerous crossings. After half an hour had been spent in listening to their arguments they were informed by the commission that the matter was one over which the commission had not the slightest jurisdiction; that it could only consider the question of a new highway upon petition of the selectmen of the towns through which the road would pass, after the selectmen had been instructed to so petition by the voters of the towns. As the road would pass through Palmer and Monson principally, and those towns have already placed themselves on record as against such a road, the project is not likely to take tangible form at present. H. C. Strong appeared for the petitioners.

District Court.

John Tobin of Oxford came before the court Saturday for drunkenness and was fined $5. At his own request he was held until Monday to enable him to get the money, but as he could not secure it he was committed to the house of correction. These civil entries were made: Fred Thompson against Ellen Cashman; W. E. Stone against Ellen Cashman; T. D. Potter, et al, against Joseph Woisard; C. L. Gardner against Edward Carey; A. E. Fitch against Augusta Merrill.

George Rice, alias Jack Corey, was up Tuesday charged with obtaining money under false pretenses. Rice had been employed as a blacksmith by J. B. Longwill. It was alleged that on Monday afternoon he went to Mr. Longwill's house and told Mrs. Longwill that her husband had sent him to get $9 in small bills. He said there was a man at the shop who had a $10 bill to change and Mr. Longwill wanted the money for this purpose. Mrs. Longwill says she gave the man the money and he made off with it. Deputy Sheriff Northrop gave chase and arrested the man that evening. In court he pleaded not guilty, waived examination, and in default of $300 bail was sent to the house of correction to await the next term of the superior court.

Henry M. Dockery came before the court yesterday for drunkenness. He was put on probation until the 28th. A. L. Brunell of Ware came in, charged with larceny from Catherine Clifford of Thorndike. It was alleged that Brunell represented a New York insurance company, and that he had collected premiums of Mrs. Clifford in advance, allowing a liberal discount. He gave receipts which were repudiated by the company, hence his arrest. He entered a plea of nolo, but was found guilty, and paid a fine of $8, Mrs. Clifford's loss having been adjusted.

PALMER CENTER.

Mr. and Mrs. Michael St. John are rejoicing over the birth of a daughter Sunday morning.

The many friends of Mrs. Pearl Bacon will be glad to know she is again able to be about the house after a severe illness.

D. J. Mahoney is able to be out again after a two-weeks' illness.

Horace Stimson is again able to be about the house after a week's illness.

THORNDIKE.

A grand ball will be given at Union Hall on New Year's Eve, Dec. 31th.

The Christian Endeavor society will have an Observation Party at the church this evening.

The merchants and dealers in town are showing an unusually fine line of Christmas and holiday good at prices to suit all.

The cold weather during the week has been enjoyed by the small boy, and coasting and skating have been freely indulged in.

Eugene Descoteau, who has been in the employ of H. T. Bishop, is to accept a similar position with Shaw Bros. of Three Rivers.

Horace Messier, who has been confined to his home by illness, is nearly recovered. Bennie Vigneaux is taking his place at Lawlor's during his illness.

John E. Dunn, 37, died at his home here on Thursday morning about 6 o'clock after a long illness of consumption. A wife and four children survive him. The funeral will be held on Sunday.

The King's Daughters will have a Christmas sale of fancy articles in the vestry of the Congregational church next Wednesday evening. Mrs. Almira Pease of Hockanum will show "The Family Album." Admission 10 cents; cake and coffee will be served at 10 cents.

THREE RIVERS.

Teddy King is spending a few days this week in Manville, R. I.

Miss Jeanneth Hawley spent the Sabbath at her home in Amherst.

Mr. and Mrs. Philip Talbert of Ware visited friends in this village Sunday.

William Thrasher of Enfield, formerly of this place, visited friends in town Saturday.

Fred Camerlin was unable to attend to his duties in the mill for a few days this week on account of sickness.

At a meeting held Monday evening the Three Rivers Bicycle Club voted to disband, owing to the dropping off of members.

Frank Germaine of Worcester is visiting his daughter, Mrs. F. L. White, this week, Mrs. Germaine preceeded him one week.

Louis Calkins, who is working for the Electron Electric Co. in Springfield, speno Sunday with friends and relatives in this place.

The friends and relatives of Mrs. Mary E. Hamilton, who for over a year has been seriously ill, are glad that she is so rapidly recovering.

After this week the post office in this place will close at eight p. m. The change is due to the change of time on the New London Northern railroad.

Many hearts have been gladdened by the ice on the river this week. It can safely be said that no amusement commands the attention of the young people as does skating.

Owing to the disbanding of the bicycle club, the whist party was held at the home of F. A. Ruggles, where all present spent an enjoyable evening. The club will meet next Monday evening at the residence of Horace Paine.

By special request Mr. Thomas will repeat the patriotic address which he delivered here last month, next Sunday evening in the Baptist church at seven o'clock. L. L. Merrick post of the G. A. R., the Sons of Veterans and the Womans' Relief Corps of Palmer are expected to attend. Mr. Thomas is certainly a remarkable speaker for so young a man, and seems to be especially eloquent on this subject. The church will indeed be fortunate should he accept the call which it has given him.

BONDSVILLE.

Drs. Desmarais and Giguere will open an office in Carmody block, Bondsville, and will be there every day from 12.30 to 3.30 p. m.

A son was born to Mr. and Mrs. C. N. Shaw Tuesday.

Frank Castle of Burlington, Vt., is the guest of G. W. Lee.

Drs. Desmarais and Giguere will open an office in Carmody block.

A number from here attended the installation of Masons at Palmer Friday evening.

Patrick Moriarty purchased a driving horse at Dr. Ellery's auction Tuesday in Palmer.

Skating on Lily Pond is excellent, and the young people have been making the most of it this week.

Georgie, the five-years-old son of G. A. Moulton, has been quite sick but is recovering.

Miss Annie Bishop has returned to her home in Boston after a visit of two weeks with friends here.

An adjourned meeting of the W. C. T. U. was held at the home of Mrs. F. J. Hale yesterday afternoon.

About 35 from this place drove to Palmer to the turkey supper at the Universalist church Tuesday night.

Two strangers hired a horse of Landlord Grise of the Union House Sunday, and failed to return it. An officer was notified and they were tracked to Thompsonville, but from there no clue of them could be found.

John Dunne, a former resident of this place and employed in the finishing room of the Boston Duck Company, died at his home in Thorndike Wednesday of consumption. He moved to Thorndike about a month ago. He leaves a wife and four children.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Waterhouse have the sympathy of many friends in the death of their seventeen-months-old daughter Viola, she being the last of the triplets born in July, 1894. One died in infancy and one about four months ago. The funeral was held Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock.

John Creasy, a Pole, met with a painful accident in the Boston Duck Co's. dye house Tuesday. While at work putting the belt on a pulley he caught his thump between the belt and pulley, tearing the thumb off at the first joint and pulling out the cords from the elbow. He was taken to Dr. Smith's office, and the remainder of the thumb had to be amputated.

DIED.

At Ludlow, 10th, Catherine, wife of Isaac Brewer.
At Brimfield, 8th, John F. Lombard, 72.
At Ware, 7th, George L. Breckenridge, 61.

DRS. ALLEN AND HAYES, specialists in chronic diseases, will be at the Nassowanno House, Palmer, on Wednesday of each week from 10 a. m. to 8 p. m. Consultation free. Latest methods employed. tf-30

TO-DAY

We call special attention to our line of

WATCHES AND CHAINS,

We have both in great variety of design and price.

SPECIAL PRICES ON WATCHES THIS MONTH.

Look over our line of

GOLD SCARF PINS,

They are beautiful and low in price, high priced ones too if you want.

We have a selection of POCKET BOOKS AND CARD CASES which make a very desirable gift.

Closing out the entire stock of

STATIONERY,

To make room, at cost and some of it less than cost.

George A. Moore, Watchmaker and jeweler, Holden's Block, Palmer.

THE "BELLS OF XMAS

ring out merrily each year, and all should echo back the glad refrain.

The pleasure of the giver is governed by the joy of the receiver. Both will be made glad by a visit to our store. It is a pleasure to even look at our beautiful Xmas gifts. It seems as if the artists have outdone themselves in the making of CELLULOID GOODS of every variety, with docorations that rival nature herself.

MANICURE SETS
with elegant fittings. . . . . .

TOILET TRAYS,
and an endless variety of Bric-a-brac that pleases the eye and satisfies the taste. . . . . .

OUR LIST OF BOOKS
comprises rare gems of thought by our best authors.

DAINTY AFTER-DINNER COFFEES,
ROSE JARS AND VASES
add to the already fine display of . . . . . .

FRAMES, ART GOODS AND ALUMINUM NOVELTIES, that adorn our counters. . . . . .

In catering to the ornamental we have not forgotten the useful, as our assortment of . . . . . .

TOWELS, HANDKERCHIEFS,
SILK MUFFLERS, NECKWEAR,
and other necessaries bear witness. . . . . .

AN EIDERDOWN QUILT, MACKINTOSH, SUIT OF UNDERWEAR
will prove a valuable addition to your list of presents.

In fact, whatever your need, be the article useful or ornamental, . . . or both, we can supply it. We have one of the . . .

CHOICEST • SELECTION • OF • GOODS

TO BE FOUND IN THIS SECTION AND,

Our prices are always right.

Come to look and you will stay to buy We invite all to visit our store and we will be pleased to show you our goods. Be sure to bring your little one and let her select one of our . . . . . .

BEAUTIFUL DOLLS.

D. L. BODFISH,

CROSS BLOCK,

Palmer, = = Mass.

: : FOR BOYS, GIRLS, LADIES, GENTLEMEN--OLD AND YOUNG ! : :

Christmas Presents

For both sexes in great variety; too numerous to mention in this small space, so we invite you to come and look, and we think you'll see many things to suit you. You can afford to buy them, too,— prices are low. . . . . .

NECK-TIE BOXES.
GLOVE BOXES.
HANDKERCHIEF BOXES.
FAN BOXES.
COMB AND BRUSH CASES.
JEWEL CASES.
TRAVELING CASES.
PHOTOGRAPH BOXES.
SMOKING SETS.
SHAVING CASES.
PERFUME BOXES.
CARD CASES.
COLLAR AND CUFF BOXES, &c.

We want you to see our Ladies' Pocket Books, and our Gentlemen's Pocket and Bill Books.

We have the largest and best line of

Briar Pipes

Ever shown in town. Many of these Pipes are Gold and Silver trimmed, and are very handsome. All are genuine French Briar and amber mouth pieces.

Perfume

In handsome bottles and boxes, single and in pairs, containing the Best Perfumes.

They make a choice present, acceptable to any one. We have them, and prices are bottom.

Albums

Are very handsome this season, both for pictures and autographs. We have our usual good assortment, and it will pay you to examine them.

Gold Pens, Fountain Pens,

Are useful and prized by all. Our stock is complete. Gold Pens with Pearl Handles, from 75 cents upward.

1895 Calendars

Are very pretty, and come in a variety of styles. They are inexpensive, and make a nice present.

Dressed Dolls.

ALL SIZES! ALL KINDS! ALL PRICES!

WE ARE HEADQUARTERS FOR

Toys, Games, Blocks, Tool Chests, Tea Sets, Tables, Boats, Banks, Writing Desks, Magic Lanterns, &c., &c.

LeGro & Lynde's Drug Store, NEXT TO POST OFFICE, Palmer, Mass.

The Journal.

FRIDAY EVENING, DECEMBER 13, 1895.

MONSON.

LOCAL NOTICES.

J. L. Williams & Co. are making great reductions in prices on millinery and fancy goods, and on all other lines, and will give to any person one dollar's worth of goods for 85 cents from now until the first day of April. We wish to dispose of a large share of our stock before moving into our new store. We carry Germantines, saxony, hosiery, corsets, handkerchiefs, gloves, ladies' fascinators, fancy silk crepes, embroidering silk, plush balls, etc., etc. Look at our untrimmed hats for 25 cents—a bargain.

Some Changes About Town.

Not in recent years have the general improvements been as widespread as in the year 1895. Although but one public building and two modest business blocks have been erected, residences have sprung up in all quarters of the town, and extensive additions and alterations to old buildings are everywhere noticed. Not in the "recollection of the oldest inhabitant" has such a mania for outside painting and shingling been prevalent as this year; the carpenters and painters have had more than they could do, and out-of-town help has been called in. The Monson water works, begun last year, were completed, and the tests made May 1st; the cover for the collecting well is being put on now. Although not as much has been done in the way of general road repairing as in previous years, a short strip of macadam has been put in on Main street, and a mile of state highway has been constructed. Concrete walk from the corner of Spring and High streets to the office of the R. M. Reynolds straw shop is now, with the exception of a few rods, continuous, a part of it being put in this year. Several streets have been laid out and accepted by the town, which have opened up desirable building lots. The center cemetery has been very greatly improved during the year, and another year will see an even greater march in that direction. The Thompson extension has been graded, and a bank wall on the south and east sides is in process of construction. A handsome drinking fountain was added to Flynt Park early last summer; it resembles an old-fashioned fireplace, and is intended for the use of man and beast. A winding road for an easy approach to the park was also added. The park was as popular a resort last season as ever, scarcely a day passing without its quota of visitors. A number of curiosities were presented to the museum. A franchise has been granted recently to the New England Telephone and Telegraph company to use certain streets in the town, and the Monson and Palmer Electric Railway Company has petitioned for a right of way. Considerable real estate has changed ownership, but the two hotels are of the greatest interest. In November Ralph Clifford, Lyman B. and George C. Flynt purchased of L. C. Cushman the Cushman House property and took possession at once, with Mr. Clifford as manager. This house, whose picture is here presented, and whose history was so recently told in the columns of the JOURNAL, is so altered as to be unrecognizable as the square-roofed, two-story house of a former century, and the interior changes are fully as great. The rooms in the second story front take the place of a hall where all social gatherings of the town were held for 50 or more years; in one corner of the present office the post office was in its early life located; the room in the rear of the present office the proprietors will have newly painted, papered and furnished before summer; a bath-room is to be fitted up soon, however. The proprietors, desiring to secure a good name for their house, offered a month's board to the person sending them the one they would select. The voting closed on Tuesday night. One of the first letters opened read as follows: "'The Lookout,' Yours Respectfully, Grover Cleveland." The other names submitted were: Liberty Hotel, The Linden, Hotel Linden, Hiawatha House, Flynt Tavern, Hotel Engleside, Hotel Flynt, The El Dorado, Hotel Clifford, The Majestic, The Gneiss Hotel, The Rival, Hotel Friend, Hotel de Clifford, Winthrop Hotel, Fountain House, Clifton House, Bartholdi, The Bristol, The Endicott, The Pheonix, The Hungarian, Marie Antoinette, The Marlborough, The St. George, The St. Albans, San Remo, The Savoy, Vnedome, Waldorf, Metropole, Flynt Crest, Crestline, Viewhurst, The Granite, Mount Ella Hotel, Lyndell, Unice Amos Tavern, National, Alhambra, Prospect House, Palace House, Highland House, Merchants' Hotel, Park Central, Park Hotel, Mountain Park House, Mount Ella House, Central Square Hotel, Flyntcliff, Excelsior, Depot Hotel, Pleasant View, The Bon Air, Century House, The Commerce, The Elmwood, The Quaboag, Imperial House, Hotel Potter, Crescent House, Homestead, Laurel House, Flynt's Square Hotel, Ralphford House, Ralford House, Winnecortte House, Aquedokton House, Conassett House, Eagle Hotel, Clarendon House, Massasoit House, Commercial House, Flynt House, Hotel Granite, Flynt Cliff, Granite Hotel, Central House, Highland House, Flynford, Hygeia, Rock House, Wayside, The Norriand, The Sterling, Park Hotel, Clifford House, Granite House, Masconomo, Clifford Hall, The Windsor, Hotel Brunswick, Hillside, Crest View, Travellers' Rest, Century Inn, Flynthurst House, Flyntside House, Flynt View House, Flynt Park House, The W. N. Flynt, Hurst House, The Century, Monson Center House, Franco-American, Lynford Colonial, Coronado, Bunyan House, Maplewood, The Clifflynt House, Granite Hill House, La Fayette, The Park, Monument House, Mansion House. A decision was to have been made yesterday, but on account of the death of Mr. Clifford's father the matter has not been decided yet.

The Revival Meetings.

Evangelist Dunnett took for his subject at the union service held in the Methodist church last Friday evening "Counted out in the fourth round." The sermon dealt with the story of Sampson, Mr. Dunnett carrying his large audience with him throughout the meeting, and the interest and solemnity surpassed that of any previous sermon. On Sunday morning he preached for Mr. Marble in the Methodist church upon "The mistaken champion." This was a word-picture of David and Goliath, with many home-striking points. He also spoke in the Sunday school. The afternoon meeting, for men only, was held in Memorial Hall; subject, "Strapped." It is spoken of by one of the pastors as being one of the finest addresses of the kind to which he had ever listened. The evening meetings this week have been held in the Congregational church. On Sunday evening, to the large audience which had gathered to hear him, Mr. Dunnett told of "How God Knows," using the graphophone and telephone, the conception of man's mind, as illustrations of what the Almighty, the maker of man, may do. About 50 persons arose for prayers at the various services during the day and evening. Mr. Dunnett spoke from the standpoint of personal experience upon the question of unfailing interest, "Is it right to dance?" Although he did not condemn the act of dancing, he counseled, taking all things into consideration, "better not." On Tuesday evening his sermon was called "Stone Throwing," and was a scathing rebuke to the teller of tales, discriminating, however, between the critic and the gossip. On Wednesday evening "The Theatre" was his theme, and he took much the same stand as upon the dance. He believes the stage, as it is, has a bad influence, but thinks that a clean play by Christian actors would be productive of good. His sermon last evening, "Is the heart red, white or black?" expressed his views in regard to "faith" and "feeling." He said that conversion did not alter the color of the heart, although sin is spoken of as black and religion white, but that the change is in the head. He will take for his subject to-night, "How to command God." Mr. Dunnett has the rare quality of "wearing well." The more one hears him the better one likes him. He is absolutely fearless in his denunciation of evil in all its forms, and it would seem as if every pet failing to which flesh is heir had already been held up to view and made a hideous object to look upon. But he is a man of abundant resources, and probably there are more to follow. The meetings have been remarkably well attended, and the interest intense. A large number of conversions are reported, of all ages. The gospel singers are more than liked, and their sweet and pathetic songs will not soon be forgotten. On Tuesday, Wednesday, and Thursday three morning neighborhood meetings were held at the same hour, and every meeting was visited by Evangelist Dunnett and singers: afternoon meetings were also held at the Methodist church. To-day no meetings have been held, but Mr. Dunnett and the singers spent the day in calling upon the sick and aged.

The evangelistic services will be continued at the Congregational and Methodist churches until the middle of next week, closing with the farewell meeting Wednesday evening. Rev. Mr. Dunnett will preach Sunday morning in the Congregational church, and in the afternoon there will be a union sacramental service, to which all are invited. The evening service at the Congregational church will begin at 7 o'clock, and Mr. Dunnett will preach, subject, "Something we do that Christ would not do." There will be meetings Monday and Tuesday afternoons at 3 o'clock in the Methodist church. The meetings in the evening will be held in the Congregational church at 7 30 o'clock. Subjects: Monday evening, "A text turned round;" Tuesday, "The strongest man in the world;" Wednesday, "Farewell."

Schools close next Friday.

Albert H. Orcutt spent Sunday with friends in Hartford, Ct.

Heimann & Litchen's straw shop is wired for electricity, 250 lights being used.

Mrs. Charles Hathaway is improving after a two-weeks' illness with erysipelas.

Mrs. George W. Burdick has returned from a visit with her daughter at Amherst.

Rev. Herbert F. Moulton of Palmer spent Wednesday with Rev. Harry Blackford.

There will be a Christmas concert at the Universalist church one week from Sunday evening.

Rev. Mr. Blackford will preach next Sunday in the Universalist church on "The Unpardonable Sin."

The Young People's Christian Union had a cobweb party in the Universalist church Wednesday evening.

Rev. W. H. Marble will take for his subject at the Methodist church Sunday morning, "God's Method of Salvation."

The subject of the Young People's meeting Sunday evening at the Universalist church is: "Love Your Enemies."

S. F. Cushman, his son S. F., Jr., and daughter Miss Hattie F., Miss Esther R. Holmes and Miss Maybelle L. Anderson left last week for Atlanta, Georgia.

Rev. F. S. Hatch attended the meeting of the Connecticut Valley Alumni of the Hartford Theological Seminary in Springfield, Monday, and was chosen vice president.

The little son of Mr. and Mrs. Runhold R. Krouse of South Monson, who died Thursday afternoon of last week of diphtheretic croup, after an illness of 18 hours, was buried on Friday morning.

George L. Fuller has in his store window a fine crayon portrait of his three oldest children. The picture is the work of the Boston Portrait Company, for whom Mr. Fuller takes orders.

The Ladies' Circle of the Universalist church will hold its annual Christmas sale of useful and fancy articles, with a clam chowder and scalloped oyster supper from 6 to 8, next Tuesday afternoon and evening.

The Monson Orchestral Club, Charles F. Orcutt, leader, is rehearsing nightly this week in preparation for the engagement of J. C. Rockwell's Theatre Company at Memorial Hall next week, beginning Monday evening.

The electric company has been much troubled of late by too much water, the water backing up on the water wheels because of flashboards put on the dam below. The company expects to have the trouble remedied soon.

There is on exhibition in Miss Kate Coyle's millinery store a novelty in the way of a rug. It was made in Columbus, Ohio, by a former resident of Monson, woven out of shreds of worn-out ingrain and Brussels carpets, and is quite pretty.

T. J. Prince, agent of the board of education, and W. H. Small, superintendent of the Palmer schools, will speak to the teachers next Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock in the Green street school. All who are interested in education are invited to be present.

A meeting of the Dorcas and Ladies' Benevolent Societies was held with Mrs. William N. Flynt Wednesday afternoon. It was decided to hold their Christmas sale of useful and fancy articles on next Thursday evening. The supper from 6 to 8 will include turkey and scalloped oysters. Among the attractions will be a Mother Goose party.

At the annual meeting of the Monson Grange the following officers were elected for the ensuing year: M., Omar Pease; O., O. E. Bradway; L., Myron Blanchard; S., Bert Leach; A. S., C. C. Keep; C., A. H. White; treasurer, S. M. Severy; secretary, E. M. White; G. K., A. M. Beebe; P., Mrs. W. M. Tucker; F., Mrs. Lester Howe; C., Mrs. A. H. White; L. A. S., L. H. Walker; executive committee for three years, F. D. Rogers.

At the annual meeting of the Marcus Keep Woman's Relief Corps Wednesday evening the following officers were elected: President, Mrs. Maria L. Rood; senior vice president, Mrs. Mary J. Harvey; junior vice president, Mrs. Clara V. Babbitt; secretary, Mrs. Lillian L. Chapin; treasurer, Mrs. Lucy J. Aldrich; chaplain, Mrs. Harriet E. Fenton; conductor, Mrs. Ella Howlett; assistant conductor, Mrs. Ada Graves; guard, Mrs. Mary Smith; assistant guard, Mrs. Etta Smith. Mrs. Rood and Mrs. Chapin, with Mrs. Ida Bills as alternate, were chosen delegates to the state convention to be held in Lowell in February. A committee was appointed to confer with the post in regard to a joint installation.

William E. Foley announces that he has purchased the Monson House. James Mitchell, the present proprietor, says that he has a year's lease, with the privilege of a two-years' extension. The Monson House was built about 20 years ago by Leonard G. Cushman, who was landlord for nine years, when he sold out to Miller & Robbins; their ownership was not of long duration. John L. Bacon of Brimfield bought the house and run it for a short time, and then sold it to James T. Stevens of Barre. Mr. Stevens and sons kept it for a while, then leased it. Mr. Foley, it will be remembered, was the proprietor prior to Mr. Mitchell, and was forced to vacate on account of disagreements with Mr. Stevens. The Monson House is centrally located, has recently been repainted and repapered and is newly and prettily furnished throughout. It has about 35 sleeping rooms.

Blanchard Clifford, 76, whose death occurred at Easthampton Wednesday, was well known in Monson, having been superintendent of the W. N. Flynt granite quarry from 1871 to 1885, since which time he has resided in Easthampton with his son. The funeral was held this afternoon, and the burial will be to-morrow afternoon. Mr. Clifford was the son of Dudley and Martha Clifford, and was born in Epping, N. H., Sept. 2, 1819. At the age of 25 years he went to Cape Ann, and there engaged in stone quarrying. He was married in 1849 to Miss Elizabeth Story of Pigeon Cove, where he remained until coming to Monson. He sold his interest in the Cape Ann quarries to Gen. Benjamin F. Butler and Colonel French. He was an expert in his line of work, and was often invited to inspect new quarries in the South and West. Of his nine children only three survive him, Frederick D. of Easthampton, Ralph of Monson, and Herbert of Waukegan, Ill.

Academy Notes.

Miss Alice E. Carpenter, who took a post graduate course last year, expects to enter Mt. Holyoke College in January.

Many of the students have become interested in the revival meetings being held in town. As a result the Tuesday afternoon meetings this week were well attended. The topic in the young men's meeting was "The New Birth."

Following the plan of last year, there will be no public examination at the close of this term at the Academy, but a Public Day will be observed early in the winter term. As usual, rhetoricals will be given in the chapel at 7.45 p. m. next Friday, to which the public are invited.

At a recent meeting of the athletic association L. A. Prouty, president of the local association, was elected president of the general association, to fill the vacancy caused by the graduation of Robert O. Watkins. Horace W. Cristy was elected a member of the general executive committee.

Principal A. M. Burke has donated to the Academy two large bromide photographs of scenes in the Yellowstone Park, visited by him the past summer. One is "Old Faithful" geyser in eruption, and the other the great falls and canyon of the Yellowstone river. These have been hung in the science room, where they will serve for ornament and also for illustration in the teaching of geology. Mr. Burke expects to give one or two illustrated public talks on Alaska and the Yellowstone Park for the benefit of the senior class.

WEST WARREN.

Mrs. J. W. Brown is seriously ill.

Miss Jennie M. Barton of Millbury spent Monday and Tuesday with friends in town.

The ladies of the Catholic church are getting ready for a bazar, to come off in the near future.

Dennis Gallivan will move his livery stable into Mr. Stone's new barn on Chapel street when completed.

The wedding bells are being tuned to ring for Mr. Robert Cary and Miss Florence Gilbert, about Christmas.

Six members of the Epworth League from Warren visited the West Warren Epworth League last Sunday evening and took charge of the prayer meeting.

WARREN.

J. G. Hastings has been chosen librarian of the public library for the rest of the year.

The telephone exchange is in running order in Hastings's pharmacy. Miss Mabel Nye is the operator.

The auxiliary of the Woman's Board of Missions met with Mrs. Charles Bliss Wednesday afternoon.

The town has been quite in the shadow for the last week or so, owing to the electric lights not all doing their duty.

The "Junior League" of the Methodist church gave a very appetizing supper in the church parlors Tuesday evening.

The schools will have a week's vacation at Christmas time. Mrs. Herbert Taylor will substitute in the high school for Miss Burbank.

A very pleasant evening social was held Wednesday evening at the home of Dr. Danforth Keyes on Maple street under the auspices of the Ladies' Home Missionary Society of the Congregational church.

There will be a special town meeting to-morrow afternoon at two o'clock, to see if the town will vote to purchase land adjoining the cemetery from the Hastings and Blair estates for the purpose of extending the limits of the present cemetery.

Christmas Goods.

Call and examine my line of

LAMPS, TEA SETS, LEMONADE and WINE SETS, CROCKERY, GLASS WARE, ETC.

Take home a pound of TEA or COFFEE and you will have a Merry Christmas.

MONSON TEA STORE,

E. J. Hughes, Prop.

H. N. Butler,

MONSON, MASS.

BAKER and . . . dealer in crackers, fancy biscuit, cake and pastry, peanuts and confectionery.

WEDDING CAKE

A SPECIALTY. . . . . .

CHRISTMAS!
CHRISTMAS!!
CHRISTMAS!!!

and with Xmas

CHRISTMAS CAKE.

Send your orders early for Xmas cake.

Holiday Novelties.

Useful, sensible and acceptable.

XMAS PRESENTS.

BEDROOM SUITS,	COMBINATION CASES,
IRON BEDS,	BLACKING "
SIDEBOARDS,	BOOK "
EXTENSION TABLES,	LADIES' DESKS,
STUDENT'S CHAIRS,	OFFICE "
DINING "	HALL TREES,
HIGH "	HAT RACKS,
OFFICE "	PAPER "
MORRIS "	FANCY SCREENS,
PLUSH ROCKERS,	FOOT RESTS,
REED "	HASSOCKS,
LIBRARY TABLES,	CARPET SWEEPERS,
PARLOR "	UMBRELLA STANDS,
SEWING "	FANCY SOFA PILLOWS,
ONYX "	FRAMED PICTURES,
PARLOR CABINETS,	BANQUET LAMPS,
MUSIC "	EASELS,
WORK BASKETS,	ETC., ETC., ETC., ETC.

R. F. BRADWAY.

Bridge street,
MONSON.

LADIES!

Miss Kate Coyle

CALLS ATTENTION TO HER

Great mark down sale.

She will trim free gratis

ALL HATS and BONNETS purchased, together with the trimmings, during the sale. She also invites inspection of her stock of

TRIMMED HATS,
FANCY RIBBONS, HOSIERY,
HANDKERCHIEFS,
KNITTING and EMBROIDERY
SILKS in great variety.
GLOVES and UNDERWEAR.

Miss Kate Coyle,

Keeney's Block,

Monson, - - Mass.

HEADQUARTERS for FRUIT for CHRISTMAS.

all kinds of

JAS. PENDERGAST,

MONSON, MASS.

A Vermont Curiosity.

The Rutland division of the Central Vermont railroad crosses the mountains at Mount Holly, Summit Station being 1,440 feet above sea level. Near that station, when the railroad was building, the tusks of a large American elephant were dug up. These are considered the greatest curiosities ever found in Vermont and are today, or were very recently, preserved in the state capital building. In the same collection of wonders may be seen the skeleton of an immense prehistoric whale which was found in the town of Charlotte in 1879 while some excavations were being made. The skeleton is that of a whale at least 150 feet in length. The place where it was found is exactly 150 feet above the present level of the sea.—Exchange.

Found Fault With Hamlet.

There is an old, a very old, tale told of a venerable lady, who, after seeing the play of "Hamlet" for the first time, said, "It is a very good play, as plays go, but it is made up of quotations." This good dame, although she was probably unaware of it, was acknowledging, in a roundabout way perhaps, the indebtedness of our language to our national bard; phrases, sentences and sometimes whole lines from his writings have been crystallized, as it were, into colloquial English, and there are probably more quotations drawn from the works of Shakespeare than from those of any other author, ancient or modern.—Chambers' Journal.

Component Parts of an Egg.

The ordinary hen's egg weighs about 1,000 grains, the white constituting about 600 grains, the yolk 300 and the shell 100. Divide the contents of an egg chemically, and it will be found that the white consists chiefly of water (83 parts to the 100). The other 17 parts are divided between dry albumen and salts, of the former 15½ parts and of the latter 1½ parts. The yolk is composed of a very strong solution of albumen, in which multitudes of minute globules of oil are held in suspension.—St. Louis Republic.

Taking It In Courses.

"No cold turkey, ma'am, if you please," said Mosely Wraggs, waving his hand majestically. "We hed our roast turkey a hour ago, at the first place we struck, follered by scolloped orsters at the next house. We ett punkin pie jest now acrost the road. All we're wantin now, ma'am, is some caffay noyer, an we'll git a toothpick or two at the next place."

And he beckoned to Tuffold Knutt, who was leaning pensively against the rainwater pipe.—Chicago Tribune.

The Camel's Little Joke.

"There's one thing certain"—

A gentle breeze stirred the palm trees and the oasis looked fresh and fair in the noonday's sun.

—"if ever I have to pose as a living picture, they won't need opera glasses to get on to my curves."

For the twentieth time the camel surveyed himself in the pool and laughed quietly.—New York World.

Much the Same.

"Men and women are not so far different," says the Cumminsville sage. "While it is true that women, by virtue of centuries of education, will stay away from a fight, where a man would rush in to see, yet she can't be held back from a wedding, which amounts perhaps to much the same."—Cincinnati Enquirer.

Humiliated.

Briggs—I don't care what you people say. I was cured by patent medicines after three of the best physicians had said I could not live through the summer.

Dr. Bowless (earnestly)—You ought to be ashamed of being alive!—Indianapolis Journal.

Cotton.

In his interesting studies of the structural peculiarities of cotton Dr. Walter Gardner has found that, when magnified to the extent of about 150 diameters, a typical cotton fiber has the appearance of a spirally twisted band or ribbon with irregular surface markings, the thickness being greater, as a rule, at the edges than in the center, and having, therefore, a grooved or channeled aspect. The spiral character is much more highly developed in some varieties than in others, being less prominent, for example, in the better qualities of sea island. A transverse section of the fiber exhibits a central cavity running longitudinally with respect to the fiber, this appearing sometimes as a white and sometimes as a black streak between the thick edges of fiber when viewed in plan. The breadth of the fiber, which varies from 0.0004 to 0.001 inch, is in the average somewhat less than that of wool, the latter ranging from 0.0005 to 0.002 inch, though a comparison of the thickness is of absolutely no value in distinguishing between the fibers—a point in which silk also is similar, having a diameter of about 0.0007 inch. What are known as "dead" cotton and "mercerized" cotton have an entirely different appearance from ordinary cotton, but the former is only met with as individual fibers, and the latter is of no wide importance practically.

An Editor and His Snap.

An editor who died of starvation after making Dr. Tanner ashamed of himself, was being escorted to heaven by an angel who had been sent for that purpose.

"May I look at the other place before we ascend to eternal happiness?"

"Easily," said the angel.

So they went below and skirmished around before taking in the sights. The angel lost track of the editor, and went around hades to hunt for him. He found him sitting by a furnace fanning himself and gazing with rapture upon a lot of people in the fire. There was a sign on the door which said, "Delinquent Subscribers."

"Come," said the angel, "we must be going."

"You go on," said the editor, "I'm not coming. This is heaven enough for me."

Now is the time to subscribe to the East Aurora Citizen—cash in advance. And now is the time to settle your subscriptions.—East Aurora Citizen.

The Welsh Servant Girl.

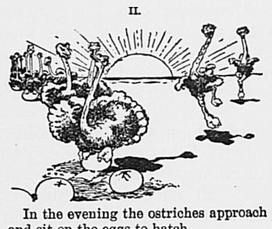
She came into the drawing room (there were visitors present) and said: "If you please, William Hughes has come. He says he has no head and has sold his tongue." This extraordinary information startled me for a moment until I remembered that I had ordered a calf's head and an ox tongue of Hughes, the local butcher. Another Welsh maiden in South Wales sent in a singular message one evening by my English maid. She brought "Mrs. Griffith's love, and she hoped my strange people were well after their journey." Mrs. Griffith, a near neighbor, had called in the morning and been told by me that I expected relatives, whom she had met, from Wandsworth that afternoon, so she had sent polite inquiries, and as visitors are, in the Welsh language, designated strangers the Welsh servant had, for the benefit of the English one, translated it into "strange people."—London Spectator.

Very Simple.

I.

Talk about hunting ostriches; we do it very simply nowadays. I take a number of ostrich eggs and fill them with an explosive chemical.

II.



In the evening the ostriches approach and sit on the eggs to hatch.

III.

IV.

—Truth.

He Took a Drop.

A young man who seemed to be boiling over to do something smart was a passenger on a Michigan avenue car the other day. After racking his massive brain for awhile he took out a silver dollar and laid it on the seat and took a seat opposite. The car soon stopped at a crossing to let on an old woman with a market basket. She saw the empty seat and the dollar, and it didn't take her over 30 seconds to drop herself into the place and the dollar into her pocket.

"Excuse me, ma'am," said the joker, "but I've lost a dollar. I think I left it on that seat."

"I don't!" she bluntly replied.

"But I'm sure of it. Did you pick up a dollar?"

"None o' your bizness, sir!"

"But all of us saw you pick it up, ma'am, and I can prove it was mine."

"Look a-here, young chap!" she said as she put down her basket, "if it's a row you want, you'll find me ready; I allow no one to walk on me!"

"But, ma'am, I left"—

"Come on, then!" she said as she stood up and doubled up her fists. "I am a peaceful woman, and I want to get along the easiest way, but if I must fight, I will!"

Everybody began to clap and laugh, and the smart Alec took a drop off the platform without asking what it was all about.

CLOTHING.

W. N. Flynt & Sons,

Monson, Mass.

Only ten days left to do the Christmas buying.

Make your plans to look at our display of toys, games, handkerchiefs, gloves, neckwear, lamps, etc.

Our assortment is such that you can find something that will please somebody else.

W N. Flynt & Sons.

HATS, CAPS.

To be delivered now, subject to advance at any time. We furnish good men to house and bin same. All coal is screened and delivered in bags.

The Lehigh is as good as any we ever sold. The Lackawanna is the best prepared coal that comes to market for domestic use.

Prices will be higher.

Send your order by postal card or leave it at our office.

SEE OUR PRICES FOR COAL

Prices for Lackawanna:
Stove size, - $5.85 per ton.
Chestnut, - 5.85 " "
Furnace, - 5.75 " "

Prices for Lehigh:
Stove size, - $6.00 per ton.
Chestnut, - 6.00 " "
Furnace, - 5.90 " "

Less than (1) one ton 25 cent added for the load.

Delivered in Bags, which will save expense of housing in many cases.

October 1, 1895.

R. M. & Theo. Reynolds.

Monson, Mass.

NO PLACE LIKE

D. H. BRIGHAM'S

FOR NEW

Holiday goods---practical ones.

A very important feature of the Ready-made dress department IS THE separate dress skirt

The ready-made dress skirt business is a store in itself. The demand for these goods is so strong that of necessity we are obliged to carry a stock composed of pretty much all the NEW FABRICS on the market; in fact, nearly every READY-MADE COSTUME is duplicated in the SEPARATE SKIRT. As every lady knows, the HANG OF THE SKIRT is one of the most important points.

WE HAVE THE RIGHT HANGING ONES.

For the house or street we have more than FIVE HUNDRED STYLES of RICH, PLAIN and FANCY PLAID SILK, SILK and WOOL, CREPON and CASHMERE, with a thousand more of best styles union plaids and flannelette waists for EVERY DAY USE just now

For the Holiday Trade.

You'll find these goods very desirable—a gift that is PRACTICAL as well as handsome.

Our present prices

MAKE IT POSSIBLE FOR EVERY ONE TO BUY.

50c, 65c, 75c, $1,

and give you the most varied assortment to select from black, navy, brown, tan,

and novelty combinations of all sorts in CASHMERE, SERGE, MOHAIR (plain or brocaded).

CREPONS—BOUCLE and FANCIES.

No costume is complete without a waist. Thus comes the necessity of

THE SEPARATE WAIST.

SEPARATE WAISTS FOR ALL OCCASIONS.

Very RICH, FANCY EFFECTS in fine materials for reception or theatre.

Not merely a half-dozen to select from, but

Hundreds of newest effects in delicate coloring and fancy styles

We almost forgot to mention that beautiful line of ladies' underskirts,

CORDED and PLAIN MOREEN SKIRTS, FLANNEL SKIRTS, MOHAIR SKIRTS, with SILK RUFFLES or MOHAIR RUFFLES, and "last, but not least,"

CHOICE SILK PETTICOATS.

No lady's wardrobe is complete to-day without one of the very popular SILK SKIRTS—all the most desirable colors and combinations and black ones.

WHAT GIFT CAN BE MORE DESIRABLE? The PRICES are NOT HIGH, only the quality and style.

D. H. BRIGHAM & CO.,

SPRINGFIELD.

ARE YOU READY FOR CHRISTMAS?

HAVE YOU THOUGHT WHAT YOU WILL BUY? . . . . . How about shoes?

FULLER is all ready with the largest assortment of SHOES and SLIPPERS, LEGGINS, OVERGAITERS, and everything to make your feet warm and comfortable. ∴ ∴ ∴ ∴ ∴ ∴ ∴

100 cents worth of shoes for a $

is the way we have built up our business.

NEVER have we worked harder to have the best was our stock as near complete have we sold as many shoes and slippers AS NOW

SHOES make useful, serviceable, comfortable Xmas ◆ Presents.

Yours for more business,

George L. Fuller,

distributor of fine fitting shoes,

Monson, = = Mass.

SKATES make boys and girls happy at Christmas.

Good Milk.

A composite sample of milk from my dairy was tested at the meeting of the State Board of Agriculture last week, and it showed 5.5 per cent butter fat, or 16.3 per cent total solids, thus showing 2.5 per cent butter fat and 3.8 per cent solids above the state standard.

O. D. WELLS,

Maple Lawn Milk Farm.

Cab Fares In Europe.

I found cab hire cheapest, by municipal regulation, in Naples, where 70 centimes, or 14 cents, transports you between two city points. Fourteen cents acquits, but 14 cents does not satisfy. It is not easy in Italy to give pecuniary satisfaction to both parties to a bargain. The Neapolitan cab, like the Parisian, like others that I remember on the continent, is four wheeled, and in the case of Naples high and uncomfortable. In Rome the tariff for a single run is 80 centimes, or 16 cents, none too high, it seems to me. Berlin differentiates its cash, assorting them in classes, first and second, and distinguishing them by the color of their drivers' coats and collars and also in the cabs' outfits. So the minimum charge in Berlin for a first class cab is 1 mark, or 24 cents, and for a second class 60 pfennigs, or about 15 cents.

In Germany only did I find a perambulating court of appeals as an organic part of the public cab service. To step into some of the German cabs and behold a cyclometrical register ready to record your distance as unerringly and conclusively as the flight of time by a $200 watch is to know a sweet content that the avaricious native rarely lets the American tourist in the old world long enjoy. What the register says goes. No hold ups, no disputation, no incomprehensible jargon, no American eagle, no black eyes. Great civilizer that.—Chicago Inter Ocean.

Has Blacklisted Insanity.

The following story is told of John Brennan of Stevens Point as a criminal lawyer. The story goes that a farmer who had killed his wife in the northern part of the state sent for Mr. Brennan to defend him, offering to deed him his farm if he would take the case. Brennan wanted his pay in advance, and so the farmer made over the property to him. The murder was a most brutal and cold blooded one, and Brennan knew that there was but one plea that might save his client from a life sentence, and that was insanity. The trial was one of the fiercest ever fought in a Wisconsin court. The attorney for the defense occupied a whole day in his closing address to the jury, and the effort was a masterly one. The jury found the man insane, and he was sent to Oshkosh. Once there he improved rapidly and in a few weeks was discharged. His first act was to sue Brennan for the recovery of his proprety, on the ground that he was insane at the time he deeded it. In the fact of his own argument that the man was insane Brennan could do nothing, and the farmer won his case. Brennan has blacklisted insanity as a defense for murderers. — Milwaukee Journal.

One Way of Arousing Lodgers.

Umpire Bill Hays of the Windsor has invented a new system of calling sleepy guests. Its very simplicity is its supreme attraction.

The other night a newspaper man went to the Windsor, and being desirous of being called at an early hour left instructions with Umpire Hays to do the work. Satisfied that everything would be lovely, the scribe retired and slept. Early the next morning the newspaper man was disturbed by a lively tattoo upon the door.

"Well?" he demanded sharply.

"I've got an important message for you," said the bellboy outside.

Yawning until he sprained his face, the scribe jumped out of bed, toddled across the floor and opened the door. The bellboy handed him an envelope and then went away. The newspaper man opened the envelope and found therein a slip of paper bearing the following:

"Why don't you get up?"—St. Paul Dispatch.

A Remedy For a Cold.

At the beginning of a cold it is very good to put the feet in a capsicum footbath, wetting the head and face well with cold water. At the end of ten minutes rub the knees down with cold water and dry thoroughly. A housekeeper can easily prepare this tincture of capsicum herself. To one quart of vinegar add one quarter of a pound of red pepper, boil slowly for 15 minutes and bottle for use. Add two teaspoonfuls to one bath.

When there is danger of a cold settling on the lungs, make a lotion of one part peppermint oil and two parts of kerosene oil. Paint the parts where the pain is located with this lotion. Lay a fold of flannel over and apply a hot water bag for 10 or 15 minutes. This remedy is especially good for pain in the back of the head and neck, soreness and tightness of the chest between the shoulders.—St. Louis Post-Dispatch.

In the fourteenth century the slaughter of women and children after a town or castle had been taken by storm was one of the most common occurrences of war.

The Journal.

FRIDAY EVENING, DECEMBER 13, 1895.

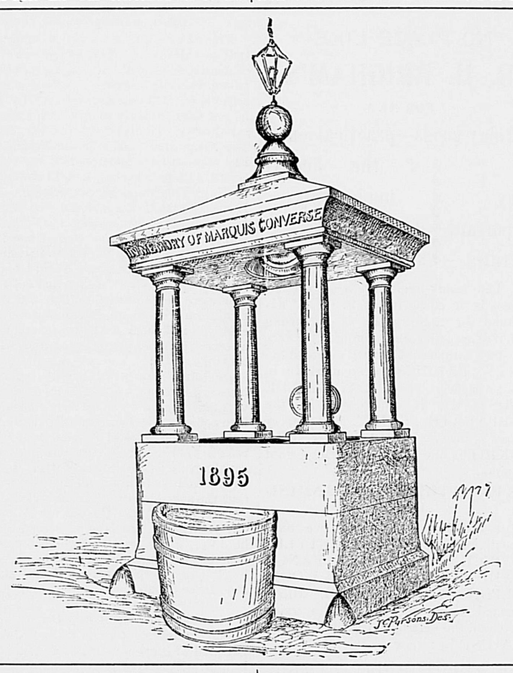
BRIMFIELD'S FINE FOUNTAIN.

GIVEN THE TOWN LAST WEEK

In Memory of Marquis Converse, a Life-Time Resident.

The most significant event in the history of Brimfield for a good many years is the erection of the Marquis Converse memorial drinking fountain on the public square, and its presentation on Wednesday of last week. The need of a water supply in the center of the town had long been felt, and there is especial fitness in a monument of this nature to perpetuate the memory of a citizen of former days who was noted for his generosity and public spirit. Like many other old New England towns Brimfield, by reason of the accident of location and changes in industrial conditions, has suffered a gradual decrease of population and a decline of material prosperity since the days when it was the leading town in its section. But the town possesses an honorable record of patriotism and public spirit, and it is rich in associations and the affectionate loyalty of its sons and daughters. The Converse family may be regarded as a representative one, both in its connection with the history of the town for the past century and in its loyalty to the old home. Marquis Converse, the first of that name in Brimfield, was descended from Edward and Allen Converse, who came from England with the Winthrop fleet in 1630. Allen Converse took a grant of land in Salem the year following, and Edward ran the first ferry between Boston and Charlestown. The name of Edward Converse often appears in the records of the colony of Massachusetts Bay. He is mentioned as deacon of the church, often as juror and as appraiser of land and road commissioner. Later in life he was representative to the General Court from Woburn. Marquis Converse was a native of Thompson, Ct., going to Brimfield in 1803 or 1806. He was married in 1808 to Sophia Lyon of Brimfield, who is described as a woman of lovely disposition and much strength of character.

Mr. Converse was a man of unusual enterprise and public spirit. He established several industries in town, and there are a number of buildings still standing which he put up. He was a large landholder, owning at one time most of what is known as "the square," besides large outlying tracts. These interests enabled him to give employment to many a poor man to whom he was a warm friend. Marquis Converse was the second postmaster in Brimfield, following Stephen Pynchon in that office and holding it from 1823 to 1842, the date of his death. These were the days before the general erection of post office buildings, and the older inhabitants recall going for the mails to the house now owned by Amos Munroe, which was built by Mr. Converse and occupied by him at the time of his death. Mr. Converse was the second proprietor of the Brimfield hotel, which stood on the site of the one destroyed by fire a few years ago. He was selectman for several years and was representative to the General Court in 1834, when Brimfield was entitled to two representatives, his colleague being Julius Burt. He was one of the promoters of the plan of setting apart a home for the town's poor, to supersede the then prevailing custom of contracting for their support with the lowest bidders. Mr. Converse was a member of the church and is described as a deeply religious man. He is also remembred by the oldest inhabitants for his hospitality and genial disposition. Says one of the leading citizens of Brimfield who is past three-score years and ten: "No one of the men whom I looked up to as a boy would I rather see honored by a memorial than Marquis Converse. He always had a pleasant word for us boys, and the boys all liked him." It was certainly a blessed life about which such vivid and gracious memories are called up by a visible memorial erected after more than 50 years have passed away.



Of the eight children of Marquis Converse and Sophia Lyon, all except one, who died in infancy, reached middle life, and there are children and grand-children of six of these living. Fifty-three names, representing the descendants of Marquis Converse, in three generations, are placed on the paper beneath the capstone of the monument which honors his memory. Of his children only two survive, Mrs. William N. Flynt of Monson and Alfred L. Converse of Warren. The eldest son bore his father's name. His two sons, Horatio Lyons and John Foster Converse, have made Brimfield their home. Each has held the office of postmaster, and the former carries on business in the store formerly owned by James T. Brown. Each had four children, and the little son of John Converse, the youngest of the descendant of Marquis Converse in Brimfield, is honored with his great-grandfather's name. The eldest daughter of Marquis Converse, who became the wife of John W. Foster, died soon after placing her name upon the roll of the givers of her father's memorial. Her two daughters, Mrs. Sophie Foster Symes and Mrs. Alice Foster Cheesman, live in Denver, Col. A son of Charles E. Converse, also named Charles, lives in New York. The children of Mrs. Flynt are Rufus Flynt of Palmer, Lyman and George Flynt of Monson, Mrs. William Dewey, Mrs. Henry King and Mrs. William Lincoln, all of Springfield. Alfred Converse has one son, Charles L. of Warren. George A. Converse was a prominent citizen of Somers, Ct. Two of his sons, Fred B. and George M., live in Springfield, a son, Cyrus, is a student in Monson academy, and a daughter, Anna B. Converse, is in Mount Holyoke college. Mrs. Cyrus Holmes of Monson was the youngest of the family of Marquis Converse. The people of Monson, where two of his daughters have lived for so many years, will bear abundant witness of the perpetuation in them of the spirit of doing good expressed in private benevolence and in public benefits.

Alfred Converse, who, in behalf of the givers, presented the memorial of his father to the town of Brimfield, has lived in Warren for the last 15 years; but his life previous to that time was spent in his native town. There he took up the work that his father laid down, and he is counted in the ranks of those citizens who, 25 years ago and more, were the leading spirits of the town in faithful service of its interests. For over 30 years "Col." Converse served the town gratuitously as its treasurer. His efforts promoted the establishment of the Hitchcock free high school, and he held the office of treasurer of that institution as long as he remained in Brimfield. The people of that town have never relinquished their claim upon Alfred Converse as one of their number, and his absence has not diminished their affectionate esteem for him.

It was impracticable at this season of the year to have any elaborate exercises at the presentation of the fountain, which took place Wednesday. But the occasion was none the less impressive on account of its simplicity. The scene was one long to be remembered, as Mr. Converse, surrounded by his old townspeople and the pupils of the Hitchcock and town schools, intrusted to their keeping the memorial of his father. Mrs. Flynt was also present. Mr. Converse said: "We present this fountain not only as a monument to the memory of our father, but also as a token of our loyalty to and esteem for our native town, desiring that its beauty may be an added attraction to the town, and that it may prove a lasting source of blessing to both man and beast. We only ask in return that the town will show its appreciation of this gift by bestowing upon it such care that its beauty and usefulness shall remain unimpaired when it is handed down to the succeeding generations as a tribute of the loyal sons and daughters of the Converse family to the memory of their father and their native town."

Newton S. Hubbard, chairman of the town's committee, accepted the fountain in behalf of Brimfield. Deacon Hubbard gave some reminiscences of Marquis Converse and of the town. He made appropriate reference to the indebtedness of the inhabitants of Brimfield for its beautiful park to John W. Foster, whose name is associated with the Converse family through his marriage to the daughter of Marquis Converse. Thomas J. Morgan gave pleasant memories of the one whom the monument honors. Remarks were made by Rev. Mr. Peirce and Rev. Mr. Kyle, and Principal Earle assured the givers that the pupils of the Hitchcock school would enjoy the crystal blessing of the fountain.

Beside Horatio and John Converse, with their families, there were present at the exercises Lyman and George Flynt of Monson, Charles L. Converse of Warren and Cyrus Converse of Somers.

The active share of Brimfield in the new fountain has consisted in furnishing the water supply and putting in the foundation. Beside the appropriation made by the town for this purpose much gratuitous labor has been performed by individuals. A number of citizens' "bees" have been held to dig the trench for the pipe, and upon one of these occasions the women of the town furnished a collation at the Town Hall. Even the school boys gave their share. Much credit is due to the committee to whom the town intrusted the work for its successful conduct and completion. The source of the water supply is about a mile south of the village on Haynes's hill. There is a fall of about 50 feet. The plan of the village, with its central square and radiating streets, affords unusual opportunity for any structure of an ornamental nature. The fountain has an admirable location, being in line with the main entrance of the park and the soldiers' monument, and having the park for an effective background. The monument is of Monson granite and is the work of the Flynt Granite Company. This memorial was an object of deep personal interest to the late William Flynt, who had looked forward eagerly to the day when it should be presented to the people of Brimfield. He conceived the idea of representing in stone an old-fashioned covered well and its "oaken bucket," and the company's designer, Mr. Parsons, has carried out this idea as nearly as practicable.

Two kinds of granite, light and dark, appear in pleasing contrast in the fountain The roof or large cap overhead is supported by four turned polished pillars of the dark granite and is surmounted by a polished ball of the same material. The "old oaken bucket" is represented in dark unpolished granite. This is supported on the "curb" between the two columns of the side toward the park and furnishes the water supply for the entire fountain. From the flow of water out of the bucket into the bowl beneath, thirsty wayfarers may refresh themselves. The large drinking bowl for horses may be approached by teams on the other three sides of the fountain. It will hold at the point of overflow about 65 gallons. On the side of the bucket is a tub-shaped bowl placed conveniently for the use of oxen. To provide against the exposure of an unnecessary amount of water in the coldest weather, the water may be shut off from all but the lowest, or oxbowl, which is then supplied through a special inlet for that purpose, instead of by the overflow from the large bowl above.

The inscription, "In memory of Marquis Converse," in relief, and the date "1895," appear on the east face of the monument just beneath the large cap. The capstone was set November 25, and in a cavity designed for that purpose was placed the paper bearing the signatures of the givers of the memorial with that date affixed. Beside this paper, a town report, Hitchcock school catalogue and a small collection of coins were placed in the receptacle.

Visible expressions of interest and loyalty presented to the ancestral town have a value that cannot be estimated. While they enrich the lives of those who have stayed among the old scenes and preserved the old homes, these tokens bless in turn the lives of the givers. They serve to foster in their children and their children's children the sentiment of ancestral regard, and a spirit of loyalty toward the old home whose influences are their best legacy. The people of Brimfield rejoice in the possession of the Marquis Converse memorial drinking fountain.

For the above description and cut of the fountain, the JOURNAL is indebted to the Springfield Republican.

Death of John F. Lombard.

John F. Lombard, 72, a respected citizen, died at his home Sunday after a brief illness. Mr. Lombard had always lived in Brimfield, and his life had been one of great usefulness. For the past 20 years he had been engaged in teaming between Palmer and Brimfield, and the people of the latter town had largely depended on him for service of this kind. He was a man strictly honorable in his dealings, and one who was careful of his patrons' interests. The funeral was held at his late residence Tuesday afternoon and was largely attended. Rev. Mr. Pierce officiated. In his remarks, Mr. Pierce emphasized the integrity of Mr. Lombard's character as shown in his scrupulous regard for dealing just measure, and in his entire freedom from anything like pretense or cant. He was an accommodating neighbor, ready with assistance without looking for a return, and he shrank even from receiving expressions of gratitude from those to whom he had rendered service. Mr. Lombard's health had been failing for some time, put he was unwilling to give up his business until obliged to do so by illness about two weeks ago. Mr. Lombard belonged to a well-known family, his ancestors having been among the proprietors of the town of Brimfield. There are two brothers living, Charles O. of Southbridge and W. H. of Warren, and three sisters, Mrs. Emory Bates and Mrs. Daniel Wright of Fiskdale, and Miss Eunice Lombard of Brimfield. Besides a widow, he leaves two sons, Edward R. of Southbridge and Henry A. of Brimfield.

Amos Monroe, formerly the popular landlord of the Brimfield hotel, is very feeble.

Mrs. Charles Stewart and daughter have been visiting her mother, Mrs. C. O. Brown.

Mrs. M. L. Streeter of Arlington Heights is in town for a few days, for the purpose of selling her house.

Mrs. Walter Prickette of Springfield was the guest of her parents, Postmaster and Mrs. Peirson, this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Everett Sherman arrived home from New York city Saturday evening, after a stay of one week.

John Webber's horse dropped dead Sunday, while on his way to Holland.

Why don't the young people form a dancing class and have Mr. Holland of Springfield as dancing master? He has large classes in Warren, Palmer and Monson. Brimfield should not be so far behind.

Warm, dry feet are a necessity at this time of the year if sickness is to be avoided.

marvel rubbers

are the best made, soft and easy fitting, and will not tear out, a point which ladies will appreciate.

felt boots,

for men who are out in the cold, stormy weather. They keep the feet warm and dry.

rubber boots are a necessity at times for all—men, women and children. We have all sizes.

FINE SHOES AND HOLIDAY SLIPPERS.

Everything in the footwear line.

A. B. COWAN,

Holden's Block, Palmer.

The flowers seem to grow again in our store this happy holiday season. The air is laden with the sweetness of our delightful perfumes, gathered from every clime. The sense of sight has not been forgotten, and our fancy articles for the toilet will please you. Neither has the fact been overlooked that the mind finds attraction in books, for we have a choice selection of the very latest issued for young and old.

Call and see them at the Corner Drug Store,

O. P. Allen, Palmer.

The Modern Child.

"Oh, Miss Daisy, I wish you'd come with me! Tommy Parker wants me to go with him to the Round pond to sail his boat, and it wouldn't look well to go with him unless I had a chaperon."—Ally Sloper.

"Not Getting on Very Well."

Forbes & Wallace's,

Springfield.

The toy room is open.

All toydom is here. Things have been sought for all sorts of children and all kinds of people who buy. Think of the task—the children to please, as well as the elders who buy. A cent gives joy to a sweet little chick; a dollar couldn't do more.

There are toys for gentlemen and toys for sturdy strength; there are toys for indoors; toys for out; toys for pleasure; toys to stir the deeper aspirates; toys to laugh over; toys to shout over; toys to lead to knowledge, experience, wisdom. Pleasure is the aim; but more than pleasure is possible.

And then there are dolls: Hundreds of them, thousands rather. What a babel they would make if they should all break out talking---Americans, German, English, Irish, Japanese, Chinese---all nationalities almost. The little women's motherly hearts will expand at the sight of them; their little arms will ache to hold them.

Games, of course. There were never so many before. The interest is not confined to the little folk. Many an older brother or sister, or mayhap, father and mother's piece of mind will be disturbed by some of these puzzles.

Books for the Holidays.

The tables and shelves are groaning under the weight of them.

The most complimentary gift at Christmas is a book, unless the book is stupid. A well chosen book tells what the giver has read in the receiver. It is a faithful envoy---it carries your very words.

You will be careful then in choosing it. You will pick out your book gift where you have the most facilities for considering upon the thoughts that are to come out of them; where you will be sure of conveying the words that are upon your tongue.

FORBES & WALLACE,

Main, Vernon and Pynchon streets, Springfield, Mass.

Scribner's for Christmas

Frank R. Stockton has a Christmas love story, which bears a characteristic title,—"The Staying Power of Sir Rohan." Its illustrations are quaint and exactly suitable.

A thrilling Detective story by C. E. Carryll, entitled "The River Syndicate," perhaps equalling Sherlock Holmes' best work. Illustrated.

Joel Chandler Harris' characteristic tale of a faithful slave—"The Colonel's Nigger-Dog."

Other Christmas stories are "A White Blot," by Henry Van Dyke, a poetic and imaginative tale of a picture (illustrated); "Heroism of Landers," by A. S. Pier (illustrated); and "Hooper's Old Man," by R. C. V. Meyers.

Sentimental Tommy

By J. M. Barrie.

Those who have read (and who has not?) "The Little Minister" and "A Widow in Thrums" can anticipate what Mr. Barrie's "Sentimental Tommy" will be.

It is to be the chief serial in SCRIBNER'S for 1896, beginning in the January number.

Two Years for $4.50.

SCRIBNER'S MAGAZINE costs $3 00 a year, but new subscribers can have all the numbers for 1895 and a year's subscription for 1896 for $4.50

SCRIBNER'S MAGAZINE is going to be better next year than ever. It is going to have new features. Its publishers are not satisfied with past successes. It purposes to more thoroughly deserve the confidence of the reading public.

The History Serial—"Last Quarter Century in the United States," will be continued. Just now it is approaching a period of absorbing interest to the present generation—the first administration of President Cleveland.

SCRIBNER'S MAGAZINE ought to get careful consideration as a Christmas gift. The $4 50 offer ought to get double consideration.

CHARLES SCRIBNER'S SONS, 153 Fifth Avenue, New York.

WOMAN'S WORLD.

THE ONLY AMERICAN WOMAN DELEGATE AT BORDEAUX.

The Duties of a Duchess—Enter Not Bohemia—The Loss of Mrs. Dietrick—For Women of Leisure—How a Woman Became a Lecturer.

Miss Grace Carew Sheldon, a well known newspaper woman of Buffalo, has just returned from Europe, where she had the distinction of being the only woman delegate from this side the sea to the international press convention, held at Bordeaux in September. Miss Sheldon represented the Scribblers' club of Buffalo, which is the women's press club of that city, and went on a special invitation to read a paper on "American Newspaper Women."

The convention brought together the foremost editors from Austria, Belgium, Holland, Norway, Sweden, Spain, France and England. There were only two or three women delegates besides the American representative, one a Pole, Mme. Ratozzi.

Miss Sheldon gives an amusing account of her experience in this polyglot assembly. Finding herself duly scheduled to present her paper at a certain session, she was ready at the time, and awaited her turn. But the proceedings were being conducted with little system, and the delegates were in a noisy discussion over some copyright tangle, and the morning waned while they talked and gesticulated. At last somebody announced that Miss Sheldon had "un travail" to present. Now "travail" means a work of length, a volume fairly, and the excited speakers did not wish to withdraw in favor of such a quietus. So the discussion veered as to whether the "travail" should or should not be presented, and became very animated again. When a quarter of an hour had elapsed, with no decision arrived at, Miss Sheldon succeeded in gaining recognition from the chair, and made a short speech herself.

GRACE CAREW SHELDON.

"Gentlemen," she said, "my paper is seven minutes long. You have consumed 15 minutes talking about it. It would have been more economical of time to take it at first."

Whereupon everybody laughed, and very soon the presiding officer announced that "la parole est a Mlle. Sheldon," and the seven minute paper was courteously heard and enthusiastically received.

The incident led to a motion being made by an English journalist that parliamentary law be enforced as to the time limit of the speeches.

"I found," said Miss Sheldon, speaking of her trip, "one of the Paris newspapers, La Gazette de France, being typeset by women. I was taken over the plant by the general secretary of the press congress, Victor Tannay, who told me afterward that the women printers were much interested and surprised to find that I was a 'newspaper woman.' They had heard of such women, but there are no newspaper women, as we understand the words, in Paris. Women in France can do anything except in the newspaper world. Madame is everywhere there, at the desk, behind the counter, holds the pocketbook, but, while there are many French women writers, there are no newspaper women, as we know them. At the big banquet of the convention only one journalist brought his wife, though there were ladies present.

"I stopped in England for a short stay and had a charming time. I saw John Strange Winter—such a big, motherly woman, sonsy is the word for her—and Nora Vinne, who has just achieved a great triumph in her newest book, 'Man and His Womankind,' one of the most exquisitely got up volumes I ever saw. I was delightfully entertained at the Authors' club, of which Princess Christian is president and Lady Jeune a prominent member, and met Mrs. Jack Johnson, 'Levana' of The Gentlewoman, and Miss Stella Strutt-Cavell of Hearth and Home—a very popular young woman.

"I also met Annie Bradshaw, the novelist, who lives in a charming old house in Cheyne Gardens, within a stone's throw of Carlyle's famous Cheyne walk. Miss Grace Benedicta Stewart is another inhabitant of this literary end of London. She is a genuine newspaper woman, rather after the American fashion, and she has had the honor recently to be elected to the Association of British Journalists, a body which has been very loath to allow women to be recognized."—New York Times.

Universal.

She—I really don't think I shall take part again in theatricals. I always feel as though I were making a fool of myself.

He—Oh, everybody thinks that!—Pick Me Up.

Scored Another Point.

Attorney—Now tell the court the exact time of night when you fell through the manhole.

Complainant—It was just 9:32 o'clock.

Attorney—You are marvelously exact.

Complainant—Yes; I fell so hard that the jar stopped my watch!—Chicago Record.

A Risky Experiment.

"You can't tell whether a man is a bachelor or the father of a family simply by his looks."

"Certainly not; but there is one infallible method of finding out."

"What may that be?"

"Give him a young baby to hold."—New York Recorder.

HAYNES & CO.

KEEP YOUR EYE

On the doings at our store these days when dollars are talking louder than ever. It is impossible for any other house in Western New England to duplicate the values we offer in Men's and Youths' Clothing and Furnishings. They haven't the facilities Come to the great clothing center and pick from the selected stock of three mammoth floors.

New Dressy Overcoats,

$6.50, 7.50, 8, 10.

Warm and Durable Ulsters,

$5, 6.50, 7, 8, 10.

Stylish, perfect-fitting Suits $8, $10, $12, $15.
All shapes in Caps 25c up. Derbys $1.50 up.

Special Bargains for Boys.

$3.00 suits to close at $1 98
$4.00 suits to close at $2.87
$6.00 suits to close at $3.98
Boys' Ulsters, sizes 6 to 16 years, $2.50
Ridpath's history of the United States given with every cash sale of $11 or over.

HAYNES & CO.,

SPRINGFIELD, MASS.

Meekins, Packard & Co.

HOLIDAY GOODS.

The Holiday Season is at hand and the time is short in which to prepare for the happiest season of the year.

We have made generous preparations for this buying, and hardly a department in our store but what has much to offer the Christmas shopper.

Make a tour of our vast Furniture department. You'll see more worthy goods here, novelty of designs and superior finish than anywhere else in New England. And our prices are within the reach of all.

Then there are

RUGS AND DRAPERIES

and hosts of smaller articles that prove most acceptable as gifts.

OUR HANDKERCHIEF SALE

is now on. Never such a display as this season. A special line of china, bric-a-brac, lamps, dolls, toys, games and fancy goods displayed.

In fact the Christmas spirit pervades every nook and cranny of our establishment.

Make the most of the short time remaining.

We will reserve all goods at OUR RISK until wanted, and special arrangements have been made to deliver all goods by team within a reasonable distance.

Meekins, Packard & Co.,

SPRINGFIELD, MASS.

POSTAL

Telegraph and Cable Co.

Office in Strong's Block,

PALMER, : : : : MASS.

Direct wires to New York and Boston. Office in all the principal cities in the

UNITED STATES.

PROMPT SERVICE,

REASONABLE RATES,

ALL BUSINESS

STRICTLY CONFIDENTIAL.

WALL PAPERS, MOULDINGS, ETC., AT MASON'S, PALMER.

The Springfield Republican.

THE REPRESENTATIVE NEWSPAPER

OF THE NEW ENGLAND STATES.

An Inpependent, Able and Enterprising Journal, Devoted to the Interests of the People.

The Springfield Republican is a New England institution recognized and respected throughout the world. It is published every morning in one of the chief centers of business and culture in interior New England.

The Republican has always had a high conception of the functions and obligations of the modern newspaper, and it seeks strenuously to live up to its ideals. In its daily and weekly chronicle of the news it exercises broad intelligence, wise discrimination and unflagging enterprise. It presents the news with fairness and independence, recognizing no obligation except the high duty to its readers. Its editorial comments and discussions are the work of trained and thoughtful writers, whose single purpose is to find and present the truth in the interest of all the people.

The Republican's superior mechanical equipment and news connections and facilities enable it to present all of the news—local, political, commercial, sporting, foreign, general—with the fullness and promptness that characterize the metropolitan press. The paper is constructed primarily for the benefit of its readers, and while every reasonable effort is made to render the announcements of its advertisers attractive and valuable, the interest and satisfaction of the readers are never lost sight of in the arrangement of its pages and columns.

The literary features and miscellaneous reading afforded by the Republican give it peculiar value as a newspaper for the family. Special attention is devoted both to the higher interests and to the practical affairs which concern women. Liberal space is given to book reviews and notices, also to art, dramatic and musical news and criticism. Many original stories, written exclusively for the Republican, are published. Interesting letters of travel, special correspondence from Boston and Washington, original and selected poetry and choice extracts from the best sources of current literature help to enrich the columns of the paper.

THE SUNDAY REPUBLICAN.

The Sunday Republican has been notably improved and strengthened during the past year, and now provides its readers more abundantly than ever before with varied and excellent entertainment and instruction for the day of rest, besides giving them the news in most attractive, readable and convenient form. The Sunday Republican appeals especially to the taste and interests of the New England audience. Its literature is wholesome and elevating, as well as thoroughly interesting.

THE WEEKLY REPUBLICAN.

The Weekly Republican maintains its reputation as the best weekly review of American life anywhere published. It presents in compact and convenient arrangement all the important news of the week, with special regard for New England news. It contains the chief editorials and literary features from the seven daily issues, carefully and attractively arranged. It has a special department of agricultural matters and always a bright and readable story. It is an ideal newspaper for the family of the New England farmer, while it also interests and attracts thoughtful and intelligent people everywhere who wish to keep in touch with New England news and sentiment.

SUBSCRIPTION RATES.

THE DAILY REPUBLICAN: $8 a year; $2 a quarter; 70 cents a month; 18 cents a week, 3 cents a copy.

THE SUNDAY REPUBLICAN: $2 a year; $1 for six months; 5 cents a copy.

THE WEEKLY REPUBLICAN: $1 a year; 50 cents for six months; 3 cents a copy.

FREE FOR ONE MONTH.

The Weekly Republican will be sent free for one month to those who wish to try it. New subscribers to The Weekly for 1896 will receive the paper free for the balance of 1895.

All subscriptions payable in advance.

Specimen copies free.

Address THE REPUBLICAN,
SPRINGFIELD, MASS.

Palmer Savings Bank,

Palmer, Mass.

Hours from 9 a. m. to 3 p. m.

President,
H. G. LOOMIS.

Vice Presidents,
GEO. MOORES, T. D. POTTER, C. H. HOBBS.

Secretary,
WM. W. LEACH.

Treasurer,
H. W. McGREGORY.

Trustees,
James B. Shaw, E. G. Hastings, C. H. Hobbs, George Moores, R. C. Newell, Geo. E. Buck, H. G. Loomis, F. P. Marcy, A. L. Hills, T. D. Potter, H. Wald, Wm. Holbrook, H. P. Holden, Wm. W. Leach, C. F. Grosvenor, Jas. S. Loomis, C. L. Gardner, H.W. McGregory

Board of Investment,
Geo. Moores, H. G. Loomis, E. G. Hastings, C. H. Hobbs, James B. Shaw.

Auditors,
Wm. W. Leach, A. L. Hills.

FINE STATIONERY.

Many ladies are troubled to find just the size, shade or weight of correspondence paper which they would like. With some thing like

200 VARIETIES

To select from we ought to be able to please you. Any style of paper in any size or shape, and you may have 100 sheets or 1000, as you prefer. We'd be pleased to show you samples at the JOURNAL Office. Your monogram or initials embossed in color if desired.

WOMEN LEARNING THE LAW.

The Practical Work of the Women's Legal Education Society.

The Women's Legal Education society, one of the best known of women's societies, had its origin in the philanthropic purpose of some earnest women of this city to establish a legal dispensary where men and women without means could procure legal counsel and assistance gratuitously. Emily Kempin, LL. D. of Zurich university, Switzerland, was appointed superintendent of the dispensary, but inasmuch as she was not a member of the New York bar she could not practice in the courts. Dr. Kempin then undertook to establish a school or lectureship of law for women and succeeded so well that the Women's Legal Education society was incorporated on June 14, 1890. The object of the society, as stated in its bylaws, is "to facilitate the study of law by women, both as professional students and also as amateurs, interested in law as a subject of general intellectual culture, and also for the sake of practical guidance in personal and business affairs." Ten ladies, who were to be the first directors, each agreed to pay $100 a year for four years to provide the salary of the lecturer.

In the fall of 1891 the lectures were begun under the sanction of the University of the City of New York and have been continued ever since. The lecturers have been: Emily Kempin, LL. D., 1890 to 1891; Christopher G. Tiedeman, LL. D., 1891 to 1892; Isaac Franklin Russell, LL. D., 1892 to 1895. The lectures are delivered on Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays, at 11 o'clock a. m., during the winter months, and are repeated in the evenings of those days at 8 o'clock. This year the following ladies were appointed assistant lecturers in charge of the evening work, each having been graduated from a college and law school and admitted to the bar: Miss Melle Stanleyetta Titus, LL. B.; Miss Katherine Elizabeth Hogan, LL. B., and Miss Ethel Rhoda Evans, A. B., LL. B.

Four courses of 12 lectures each are delivered during the year, covering in outline all the leading divisions of legal doctrine, and are followed by reviews and an examination. To those who are successful at the examination the university grants a certificate signed by the chancellor. The attendance at the lectures has steadily increased. About one-half of the regularly enrolled students apply for the chancellor's certificate on examination. In 1891, 14 certificates were issued; in 1892, 15; in 1893, 23; in 1894, 29, and in 1895, 48, making a total of 129. Up to the closing exercises in April last no less than 300 women had attended the women's law class with more or less regularity. The sixth year opened on Oct. 28, with 75 present at the morning lecture and 50 in the evening.

The first president of the society was Mrs. Leonard Weber, to whose zeal and energy the establishment and maintenance of the lectureship for four years may be ascribed. Mrs. Weber held the presidency until her death, in May last, at Heidelberg.

The Rev. Dr. Henry M. MacCracken, chancellor of the university, has carried out a plan of reorganization of the board of directors by which four of the original subscribers have been retained as directors and the board has been strengthened materially by enlisting the interest and service of women well known in educational and philanthropic work in this city. Mrs. Munn, the wife of a distinguished physician, and herself a faithful and proficient student, who received the chancellor's certificate in April last, has accepted the office of president of the society.

The funds of the society have heretofore been derived from three sources—the annual subscriptions in sums of $100 by each of the members of the old board of directors maintained for four years and expiring in 1894; the annual dues of $5 each, paid by members of the society, some of whom availed themselves of the incidental privilege of attending one course of 12 lectures, and finally the fees paid by students, $20 for the entire year, or $6 for one course of 12 lectures. Free tuition under the name of scholarships has been extended to all who could not afford to pay the regular fees. None of these scholarships is endowed. The fees paid by students, some of whom attended but a single course, amounted to about $600 last year.

The Alumnæ association was formed early in 1894. Two annual banquets have been given, both of which were attended by many distinguished men and women, and a number of parlor meetings have been held in the interest of the university's work in law for women.—New York Sun.

Cooking and Matrimony.

We are ready to believe that if any unwedded woman desirous of wedlock were to secure a training that would make her as good a cook as Mrs. Rorer is her chances of gaining her desire would be excellent, more especially if she could talk as pleasingly upon cookery as Mrs. Rorer talks daily while cooking and while passing things around. Where is there a lonesome, hungry, melancholy and weasel eyed old bald headed bachelor who would not surrender his heart and fortune to a spinster who knew how to make his banqueting table the source of daily bliss? Mrs. Rorer is the most entertaining of all the public benefactors now in sight. She ought to have a thousand women in her classes, watching her handiwork and listening to her words.—New York Sun.

Model New Women.

The woman's congress made an excellent impression in New Orleans. "If these are new women," remarked a distinguished lawyer, after reading reports of the sessions, "if these are new women, and these are their teachings, I say let us have more of them. Such a convention will do our women good, and our town too." The Times-Democrat says, "The speaker of the above words is one of the most conservative men in New Orleans."

Out.

"Unless he discovers me," she whispered as she shrank behind the curtains of her window, "he will find me out."

With beating heart she listened while the hired girl went to the door and made the talk.—Detroit Tribune.

Music is the mediator between the spiritual and the sensual life. Although the spirit be not master of that which it creates through music, yet it is blessed in this creation, which, like every creation of art, is mightier than the artist.—Beethoven.

A sister of charity is the first woman to receive a decoration in Holland. She was made a knight of the Order of Nassau-Orange by the two queens of Holland during their recent visit to Overyssel.

The word tinsel once meant brilliant, shining. Milton uses it in this sense when he speaks of "the tinsel slippered feet of Thetis."

Friends of Mrs. Agassiz have founded a $6,000 scholarship at Radcliffe college, to be called the Elizabeth Carey Agassiz scholarship.

The Journal.

FRIDAY EVENING, DECEMBER 13, 1895.

NEIGHBORHOOD NOTES.

[For Monson news see Page 5]

WALES.

The schools will all close for a vacation of a week at Christmas.

Chamberlain & Co. are getting in quite a stock of Christmas goods.

Artie Parker, who has been very sick for several weeks, is recovering.

Mr. Estelle Boyden and son Arthur have returned to their home in Worcester.

Miss Alice Pepper is home from Brookfield, spending a few days with her parents.

Elijah Shaw has been confined to his home for several days with a cold and stomach trouble.

W. N. Lyon & Co. are fast getting ready to open their new stock of dry goods in Shaw's block.

Mrs. Erasmus D. Shaw and family attended the funeral of her brother-in-law, John Lombard, at Brimfield, Tuesday.

The water at the town fountain is very low, and it looks as if the fountain would be dry the remainder of the winter.

Mrs. Charles C. Smith has moved her household goods into the home of her sister, Mrs. Albert Rice, where she will store them for a while.

W. F. Needham, W. S. Lyon and H. A. McFarland attended the hearing at Springfield Monday held by the state highway commission.

Mrs. A. Baldwin and three children are spending a few days with her mother, Mrs. William E. Needham. They will soon leave for New Hampshire, where Mr. Baldwin has a position as designer in a large woolen mill.

WILBRAHAM.

Miss Helen M. Beebe is visiting friends in Springfield.

S. Francis Howard has accepted a position as teacher at West Point, Mass.

C. C. Beebe and Chauncey Peck attended the Masonic convention at Boston this week.

The Epworth League held a fair and gave a literary and musical entertainment last Wednesday evening in the Methodist church.

The Young People's Agriculture Club will meet with Walter Bliss to-morrow evening.

C. D. Howard, who has been spending the Thanksgiving vacation at his home here, returned to his duties at West Point last Monday.

W. B. Robbins of New Jersey is teaching school in No. 4 in place of Miss Dora Merrick, who has been ill the past month with an acute attack of sciatica.

The many friends of Mary Elizabeth Howard gave her a surprise party at her home last Friday evening, consisting of a musical and literary entertainment. Refreshments were served, and the party broke up at a late hour, all expressing themselves as having a most enjoyable evening.

The annual meeting of the Grange was held Wednesday evening, and the following officers chosen: Master, F. A. Gurney; overseer, E. M. Jones; lecturer, Mrs. L. J. Potter; steward, Mr. S. Blodgett; assistant steward, Harry Clark; chaplain, H. H. Burbank; treasurer, F. E. Clark; secretary, Mrs. W. L. Phelps; gate-keeper, D. L. Bosworth; Ceres, Mrs. D. L. Bosworth: Pomona, Mrs. F. W. Green; Flora, Mrs. C. C. Beebe; lady assistant steward, Mrs. Butler; librarian, M. L. Phelps; chorister, M. S. Blodgett; executive committee, for three years, A. J. Blanchard; two years, F. E. Clark; one year, C. C. Bolles.

BELCHERTOWN.

G. M. Baggs sold 85 cows at auction Monday. These cows were mostly brought from York state.

The Belchertown creamery company has advertised for bids for gathering cream and delivering butter.

The senior class of the high school is contemplating an entertainment to defray the expenses of graduation.

Quite a large delegation attended the Christian Endeavor convention at Amherst. Mr. Hoag represented the society here.

Mr. Ishane, an old resident of North Belchertown, died recently at his home. For several years he has not been able to support himself, owing to disability.

The high school began Monday, Principal Rowell returning from his vacation spent in Vermont, and Miss Whelan, his assistant, returning from her home in Easthampton.

The Methodist society gave a chicken-pie supper and entertainment Wednesday evening, which was enjoyed by all. The entertainment consisted of vocal and instrumental music, also recitations and dialogues.

Miss Alice R. Walker, a former teacher and resident of this place, who has taught in the Rutland and Coldbrook schools for the past two years, has taken a position in the public schools in Mendon, with an increase in salary.

Enterprise hook and ladder company has received a generous donation from W. F. Nichols of Holyoke in appreciation of their services in saving his property at the recent fire on the Grover place, the adjoining property belonging to Mr. Nichols.

The body of Mrs. Susan Gates Willis of Redding was brought here last Saturday for burial. She was the daughter of the late Horace Gates, formerly of this place, and a half-sister of Lyman Gates. One son survives her. The funeral was held Sunday. Rev. V. C. Harrington conducted the services.

A social was given to the Boys' Brigade by some of the ladies of the town last Friday evening. There were about 50 of the boys present, and about as many young ladies were invited. Cake and fruit were served. Rev. Mr. Harrington, president of the brigade, was unable to attend on account of illness.

The following officers were elected by the Congregational Sunday school last Sunday: Superintendent, W. R. Blackmer; assistant superintendent, Dea. C. B. Southwick; secretary and treasurer, Miss Julia Smith; directors, C. B. Southwick, F. L. Stebbins, Mrs. Alice Kendall, Mrs. T. W. Chapman, Mrs. E. A. Randall; chorister, Miss Maude Fairchild; monitor, Miss Susie Bridgman; librarian, H. A. Hopkins.

At a recent meeting of E. J. Griggs post the following officers were elected: C., Frank L. Plantiff; S. V. C., Dexter R. Barnes; J. V. C., L. W. Gleason; Q. M., Frank W. Fellows; S., E. F. Smith; C., W. F. White; O. D., F. G. Shaw; O. G., R. K. Shumway; A., John Anderson; Q. S., J. R. Gould. F. W. Fellows was appointed delegate to the national encampment and M. S. Barton alternate. It was voted to invite Senior Vice Department Commander Derby of Springfield to be present at the installation of officers to take place January 1, and also to invite the Grand Army posts of Amherst, Enfield and Ware to be present at these exercises. Past Commander J. R. Gould will install the officers.

Death of a Former Resident.

News has been received of the death of N. D. Goodell, which occurred at his home in Sacramento, Cal., November 30. Mr. Goodell was born in Belchertown in 1814, and one brother is still living here, Asahel Goodell, of Pansy Park. In early life Mr. Goodell learned the trade of a carpenter, and later became a contractor in this town and in Springfield. Many of the most prominent dwellings in town built at that time were done under his supervision. In 1838 he was married to Miss Sarah Pease of Granby. In 1849 Mr. Goodell went to California, where three years later he was joined by his wife and family. In his journey to California he was accompanied by 12 other young men, none of whom are now living. His first year out there was spent in mining. He then settled in Sacramento and began to work at his trade. At that time good workmen received as much as $16 a day. A few years later he opened an architect's office, and up to the time of his last illness followed that profession. Many of the costliest buildings in that city, both private and public, were designed by him. He is spoken of by the press of that vicinity as a man with an "enviable reputation for honesty, uprightness, good citizenship and unostentation," who was respected and loved by all. He was a member of the Pioneer Society of Sacramento, and was buried under its auspices. Besides his widow, who is a sister of Mrs. Fanny Walker, and Mrs. N. T. Goodell of Belchertown, he leaves one daughter, Mrs. H. C. Botsford of San Francisco.

WARE.

Oyster supper at the chapel this evening for the benefit of the Blue Ribbon League.

The ladies of the Unitarian society served a supper in the vestry of the church on Tuesday evening.

The case of James Brown vs. the Metropolitan Insurance Company has been settled, the company paying $250, the whole amount of the insurance.

John Eddy, formerly of Ware, died at his home at Caribou, Me., on Monday afternoon. He was brother of Charles and George W. Eddy of Ware, and was born on Ragged Hill in the west part of West Brookfield about 70 years ago. He was an active member of the Methodist church, and aided materially in building up the church at Caribou. He leaves a wife, son and daughter.

George L. Breckenridge, aged 61, died at his residence on West Main street Saturday. He was well known here, having been born in town, a descendant of one of the first settlers. For quite a number of years he was proprietor of the photograph rooms in Blood's block, but for about twenty years has lived on a farm between Hardwick and Barre, though visiting Ware frequently. Mr. Breckenridge leaves a wife. The funeral was held on Tuesday afternoon, the services being conducted by Rev. A. B. Bassett.

[For news of other towns see pages 5 and 6]

Beecham's pills for constipation 10c and 25c. Get the book at your druggist's and go by it.

Annual sales more than 6,000,000 boxes.

The big specialty house of D. Brigham & Co. of Springfield are drawing much of BEST TRADE from country towns, and it is not to be wondered at when you look through the immense array of fine dresses and top garments displayed on their racks and counters, and recognize the fact that LARGE BUYING makes LOW PRICES possible. Give them a call during their great sale and you'll agree with us.

ROYAL BAKING POWDER.

ABSOLUTELY PURE.

A cream of tartar Baking Powder. Highest of all in leavening power.—Latest United States Government Food Report.

ROYAL BAKING POWDER CO., 106 Wall Street, New York.

A. H. HITCHCOCK,
OPTICIAN,
331 Main Street, Springfield, Mass.
Spectacles and Eye Glasses of all kinds.
Artificial eyes furnished.
Oculists' prescriptions promptly and accurately filled.
Mail orders solicited. 13-25

FOR SALE.—Soapstone stove. 5—34 L. A. CONANT, Palmer.

TENEMENT on Park street to rent. Enquire of GARDNER & GARDNER. Palmer, Dec. 10th, 1895. tf-37

WANTED.—Competent girl for general housework. MRS. E. G. HASTINGS, tf-35 Palmer.

FOR SALE.—Residence, corner Squier and Pine streets. Inquire of W. H. Small at the house. 13*36 A. E. PARK.

FOR SALE.—House on Squier avenue and building lots Pond street, belonging to J. A. Squier estate. Enquire W. W. LEACH, Palmer, Mass., April 23, 1894. tf-4

NOTICE is hereby given that the Board of Selectmen and School Committee will meet in the school committee room, high school building, Friday, Dec. 20th, at 1.30 p. m., to elect a member of the school committee to fill the vacancy existing. Palmer, Dec. 12th, 1895.

L. H. HENDEE, M. D., OFFICE AND RESIDENCE, PLEASANT ST. Office hours 7 to 10 a. m., and 1 to 3 and 7 to 9 p. m.

ODD FELLOWS OPERA HOUSE,
Friday evening, Dec. 13.
A DRAMATIC TREAT.
The celebrated comedy drama,
"THE BURGLAR."
Presented by A. Q. Scammon's company. Superb company. A play of surprises, of absorbing interest and pretty surroundings. No play ever written has so complete a sway upon the feelings that actuate the human beings.
"The Burglar," by Augustus Thomas, author of "Alabama," taken from Mrs. Burnett's charming sketch, "Editha's Burglar."
ONE NIGHT ONLY.
Reserved seats at Allen's at 8 o'clock to-morrow morning.

WINNING ITS WAY.

Last season was the BEST, and we propose to make this still better.

CHERRY BALSAM

for lung troubles is a

GREAT SUCCESS.

We have many testimonials to prove this. And we sold more last year than all other cough medicines combined.

TRY IT

It heals and soothes the lungs and bronchial tubes. Stops the cough, allays irritation and hacking. The best cough syrup you can give the children.

PRICE 25 AND 50 CENTS.

MADE ONLY BY

LeGro & Lynde,
Next Door to Post Office,
Palmer, - Mass.

DR. O. P. Roller,
Dentist.
Teeth extracted without pain by a new system. The latest methods in dentistry employed.
Office hours from 8 to 12 a. m., 1 to 5.30 p. m.
OPEN EVENINGS.
Lawrence Block, Palmer, Mass.

Hellyar's Bargain Store.

CLOSING OUT SALE!

NOW IS YOUR CHANCE. LOWEST PRICES ON NEW GOODS

ever offerred in town. Having decided to change my business, I propose to close out my whole stock, some $10,000 worth of

NEW STAPLE DRY GOODS, furnishing goods, carpets, hats, caps, curtains, oil cloths, cloaks, blankets, comfortables.

A choice line of Christmas goods,

and many other things far below the cost of the raw material.

We will close out all these goods at cost.

The goods must be sold by the 1st of January sure, and prices will not stand in the way. Be quick and get the best bargains.

Will also sell all the fixtures of the store at same discount.

THE SALE BEGINS AT ONCE.

S. H. HELLYAR & CO.,
CARYL'S BLOCK, ON THE CORNER, PALMER.

Very satisfying

to know that any article purchased here can be returned and the money paid back. This insures satisfaction to all. We have everything to be found in a well stocked jewelry store, and our

PRICES ARE RIGHT.

We make special prices on watches during the month of December. Come and see for yourself. . . . . .

George A. Moore,
watchmaker and jeweler,
Holden's New Block, - Palmer, Mass.

We refund the money if you wish.

Special Sale of Night Robes.

To-morrow we commence a special sale of Ladies' Night Robes. All ladies have tried making their own, and therefore know the cost of material. They also know that something like a fit is necessary if there is to be any comfort, and they all sleep better if they feel that they are prettily gowned for the night. We propose to offer our entire line, and let you make your own selections, for about the cost of the material. Style and cut of garments we guarantee; you can judge for yourselves whether or not they are well made.

Mrs. L. E. CARPENTER,
Holden's Block,
Palmer.

Christmas is Coming

And we are prepared to fill orders for all kinds of good things

FOR YOUR XMAS DINNER

Fancy Cakes, Ice Cream OF ALL KINDS,

Lady Fingers, Macaroons, Shells for Oyster and Chicken Patties.

— TRY OUR —

Excelsior Steamed Brown Bread and Beans. . . . .

Saturday night and Sunday.

Also a full line of CONFECTIONERY for the holidays.

Send your orders early to

P. E. BARD,
Church Street, :-: Palmer, Mass.

For Monday, Dec. 16th, For Cash Only. : :

No. 1 Clipped Oats,	30c. per bu.
No. 1 Meal,	75c. per 100 lbs.
No. 1 Hay,	90c. "
No. 1 Rye Straw,	75c. "
224 lbs. F. F. Dark Salt,	$1.10
140 lbs. C. F. Salt,	.60
56 lbs. C. F. Salt,	.25
Pillsbury's Best XXXX Flour,	4.00
Washburn & Crosby's Haxall,	4.00
Best St. Louis Flour Grandee,	3.75
Hamilton's Best,	3.75

C. D. HOLBROOK,
Palmer, Mass.
tf-37

We defy honest competition.

Bargains in

First Quality Groceries

— AT —

Prices never before offered

IN PALMER.

33 bars Lenox soap $1
Regular 5 cent size.

7 pounds of California loose muscatel raisins for 25c, usually sold at 10c straight.

6 lbs. Milk Crackers 25c

A big bargain at some stores at "4 pounds for 25 cents.

4 lbs. Sugar Cookies 25c

The 10 cent kind.

4 lbs. Animal Crackers for 25 cents.

The 2 for 25 cents kind.

3 lbs. California Prunes for 25 cents.

Good size. Fresh this week.

Best Haxall Flour $4.

Rolled Oats in packages, 9 cents.
American Sardines, 1895 pack, guaranteed, 3c per can, usually sold 3 cans for 35c.
Cleaned Currents in 1 pound cartons, 8c.

: Our Specialties :

New Salem Creamery Butter,
Winthrop Creamery Butter,
Daniel Graves's Dairy Butter,
Winthrop Creamery Butter in 5 lb. boxes,
Sargents Flavoring Extracts,
IMPORTED Edam Cheese,
Cloverdale brand of Sage and plain Cheese.

H. & L. cigar, the best 5c cigar in town.

White Rose Oil, no smoky chimneys, no odor, splendid light.

Standard Java Coffee. The kind that our competitors try to match.

J. F. Foley,
Palmer, Mass.
Converse House Block.

Insurance
of every kind placed at short notice, and all favors duly appreciated.
Yours truly,
S. H. HELLYAR.

F. F. MARCY, Wholesale and Retail Dealer in PALMER, MASS.
ALL KINDS OF LUMBER AND SHINGLES
Windows, doors, blinds, mouldings. Carpenters' and joiners' work done to order.
Also FIRE BRICK and CLAY for sale.
ard and shop at junction of B. & A. and N. L. N. Y. Railroads—west of Depot.

CASH STORE. GROCERIES AND . . . . . CROCKERY.

We give them away for CASH. Also a fine line of HOLIDAY GOODS.

Dinner set, 112 pieces,	$9 to 16.50	Pitchers,	10c to $1.60	Hanging lamps,	2.50 to 4.50	Children's T sets, cracker jars, and loads of other things too numerous to mention.
Toilet set,	2.75 to 9	Banquet lamps,	$2.50 to 12	Stand lamps,	25c to $7
Cups,	10c to $2	Hall lamps,	$2.25 to 4.50	Cuspidors, vases, rose bowls, tile teapots,
Bread and milk sets, Salad dishes,		Oatmeal sets, Smoking sets,		Chocolate pots, Bon bon dishes,		Cake plates, Fruit plates.

LOOK AT OUR LINE OF GROCERIES:

20 lbs. sugar,	$1	Butter color,	20c and 40c bottle	Tapioca, rice and barley,	6c	Cranberries,	3 qts. 25c
Best tub butter,	25c	Lewis clams,	9c	30 bars Lenox soap,	$1	Corn starch,	7c
10 lb. tub pure lard,	80c	Coffee, NONE BETTER,	25, 30, 35, 38c	Crackers, 6 lbs., 5 lbs., 3½ lbs.,	25c	Baker's chocolate,	37c
¼ lb cassia or pepper,	5c	Tea, " "	25, 29, 45, 55, 75c	Pearline, soapine and 1776,	all 9c	Baker's cocoa,	22c
1 lb. clean currants,	9c	Tea, Chase & Sanborn Royal Gem, 60c pound.		Ivorine, 10c,	gold dust, 22c	1 gal. 60c molasses,	37c, best
Haxall flour,	$3.75, 4, 4.25			5 lb. pail cottolene,	43c	1 gal. 50c syrup,	35c, No. 1
St. Louis,	$3.75	Coffee, Chase & Sanborn Seal Brand, 75c, two-pound can, 75c.		Raisins, 5c, 8c, 10c, 15c, 6 lbs., 5 lbs. and 4 lbs, for 25c		Island brand lobsters,	20c
White loaf,	4.00					Clam chowder,	20c

OTHER PRICES TO BEAT THE BAND. COME AND SEE US AND STAY ALL DAY.

ROBINSON & TAYLOR, HOLDEN'S BLOCK, PALMER.

Barbed Wire

HAS HAD A FALL.

Our CASH price is

2 1-4 cents per pound

for the best quality barbed . . or plain twist wire. . .

Also all kinds of

HARDWARE, SKATES, and SLEDS.
POCKET KNIVES, SCISSORS, SHEARS.
PAINTS, OILS and VARNISHES.
WINDOW GLASS.

E. A. Buck & Co.,
Cross block, Main street,
PALMER, - MASS.

DENTISTRY!

If you are in need strictly first-class dental work and want it done without pain at moderate prices

call on

DR. WM. L. ROBERTS, DENTIST.

Springfield Office: Court Sq. Theatre Building. Holyoke Office: 291 High St.

C. H. HOBBY, PIANO TUNER.
Orders for tuning may be left at O. P. Allen's drug store, Palmer; or may be sent to me by mail to Mansfield, Ct.

Election at Stone's.

The Voting Goes Merrily On. Look in Local Notices for Result Up to Date.

The beautiful Mantel Clock we propose to give to the Fire Laddie receiving the most votes is valued at Twelve Dollars, manufactured by the Seth Thomas Clock Co., Cathedral Gong, 7-day — a time-piece well worth striving for. The second prize, offered by Mr. Geo. A. Bills to the fireman receiving the second largest number of votes, is a handsome Mantel Clock, valued at $4.00. You can see them in our window.

Remember, the votes cost nothing; you expend a few dimes at our store for needed articles, and ask the clerk to record the votes for your Fireman friend. Each dime expended is entitled to one vote during the month of December. Of course we are

Ready for the Holidays

With a new, bright lot of goods at lower prices than we have ever been able to offer before.

Ladies' and Children's Rubber Boots.
Handkerchiefs, very large stock, Cotton, Linen and Silk.
Towels, very large stock, 5 cents to $1.00.
Napkins and Damasks.
Bed Blankets, 49 cents a pair to $8.00.
Bed Comfortables 50 cents each to $3.00.
Ladies' Wrappers, Calico and Flannelette, 75 cents to $2.
Ladies' Knit Skirts, 59 cents.
Ladies' Kid Gloves, $1.
Table and Stand Covers, 50 cents to $1.00.
Fascinators, 50 cents to $1.00.
Beaver and Double Shawls.
White, Black and Gingham Aprons, 13 to 37 cents.
Pocket Books, 5c., 10c., 25c., 62c.
Men's Neck Ties, Boy's Windsor Ties.
Japanese Crepes and Silkolenes for Sofa Pillows.
Mufflers, Mittens and Gloves.
Rugs and Hassocks.
Scrap Baskets, Work Baskets.
Perfumes, Soaps, Combs and Brushes.
Pin Cushions, Thermometers, Tea Sets, Ink Stands, Dolls.
Manicure Sets, Smoking Sets.
Books, Games, Metalaphones, Banks.
Toothpick Holders, Mugs, Vases.

Iron Toys, Tin Toys, Wood Toys, China Toys, Whips, Paper Dolls, SLEDS, JACK KNIVES, PLATED SPOONS AND FORKS, CLOCKS, PICTURE FRAMES, CUPS AND SAUCERS, and one thousand other articles.

Anything bought of us and not found satisfactory may be returned — the money cheerfully refunded. We intend to be fair and square.

MERRY CHRISTMAS TO ALL.

W. E. STONE, GENERAL STORE. Lawrence Block, Palmer. Hollister Block, Wilbraham.

J. B. SHAW, FEENEY'S BLOCK, PALMER.

This is the place to buy your Holiday Goods.

We Propose TO MAKE THE Holiday Campaign of 1895 SHORT, SHARP AND DECISIVE.

We shall open . . . . .

ON SATURDAY, DECEMBER 14,

The largest variety of HOLIDAY GOODS EVER SHOWN BY US.

The list includes presents suitable for persons of any age, and at prices suited to any pocket book.

In games we lead all others in the old standards and whatever is new this season.

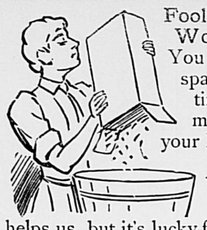
In toys we show the best the market offers in iron, wood, tin or rubber.

SILK AND WOOLEN MUFFLERS, SILK, LINEN AND MUSLIN HANDKERCHIEFS.
MIRRORS, PICTURES, DOLLS, PAPETERIES,
WORK BOXES, WRITING DESKS, BLACK BOARDS, TOOL CHESTS,
CHILDREN'S DISHES, TOILET SETS, XMAS CARDS, BOOKLETS,

and the thousand and one dainty articles that please the fancy and minister to the happiness of the season, can be found on our counters.

We solicit your careful examination and a share of your patronage.

J. B. SHAW,
FEENEY'S BLOCK,
PALMER, MASS.



Foolish Woman! You can't spare the time to measure your Pearline? Well, that helps us, but it's lucky for you that an overdose of Pearline does no harm. It's only extravagance. Beware of a dose of the imitations. You can get just as good work with enough Pearline as with too much. Use it as it ought to be used, and don't waste it, and you can't think that it's expensive. To get the best results from Pearline, use it just as directed. You'll save more of everything than with anything else. If your grocer sends you an imitation, return it, please. 388

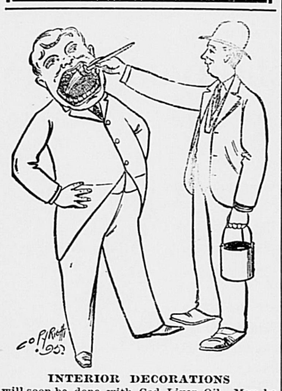
Blood Wine,

(Trade Mark Registered.)

The Great French Hospital Remedy.

Cures Nervous Diseases and Stomach Troubles As if By magic And Is a Great Blood Purifier.

Blood Wine will positively cure all forms of nervous troubles, however caused; we back this statement up with a guarantee to refund the money in any case where the patient is not entirely cured after using a limited amount of the medicine. Why pay one dollar for medicine that will only give you temporary relief, when you can buy Blood Wine for 50 cents and be permanently cured. Blood Wine contains no wine or opiates, and is perfectly safe to give to children. It is not a beverage and cannot be used as such. Over 700,000 bottles of this wonderful medicine have been sold in the six New England states the last year. What a record. Blood Wine stands to-day at the head, and is a



INTERIOR DECORATIONS

will soon be done with Cod Liver Oil. May be you don't know it, but that article is as good to prevent a cold as it is to cure it. If you are troubled with a cough, a prevailing trouble at this season, decorate your interior with some of our Cod Liver Oil Emulsions, we have them all. It will strike through and beautify your exterior, and make you thoroughly enjoy your own society, and others will enjoy it, too. Call for above at

ALLEN'S DRUG STORE,
Holden's Block, Palmer.

GRATEFUL—COMFORTING.

EPPS'S COCOA.

BREAKFAST—SUPPER.

"By a thorough knowledge of the natural laws which govern the operations of digestion and nutrition, and by a careful application of the fine properties of well selected cocoa, Mr. Epps has provided for our breakfast and supper a delicately flavored beverage which may save us many doctors' bills. It is by the judicious use of such articles of diet that a constitution may be gradually built up until strong enough to resist every tendency to disease. Hundreds of subtle maladies are floating around us ready to attack wherever there is a weak point. We may escape many a fatal shaft by keeping ourselves well fortified with pure blood and a properly nourished frame."—Civil Service Reform. Made simply from boiling water or milk. Sold only in half pound tins, by grocers, labelled thus:
JAMES EPPS & CO., Ltd., Homœpathic Chemists, London, England.

Since 1861 I have been a sufferer from catarrh. I tried Ely's Cream Balm, and to all appearances am cured. Terrible headaches from which I had long suffered are gone.—W. J. Hitchcock, Late Major U. S. Vol. and A. A. Gen. Buffalo, N. Y.

CATARRH

Ely's Cream Balm opens and cleanses the nasal passages, allays pain and inflammation, heals the sores, protects the membrane from colds, restores the senses of taste and smell. The balm is applied directly into the nostrils, is quickly absorbed and gives relief at once. Ely's Pineola Balsam is a sure cure for coughs, colds, &c. Price of Cream Balm, 50 cents, at druggists or by mail.

Windsor Doll Heads.

INDESTRUCTABLE. BEAUTIFUL.

These heads are intended for fitting to bodies made at home, but will fit almost any kind of a body 14 to 16 inches long. They are handsomer than the expensive French heads and will stand roughest handling. The wigs used are the finest imported, have natural eyes and make a most beautiful doll. Mailed anywhere on receipt of $1.25. WINDSOR DOLL CO., P. O. Box 248, Brooklyn, N. Y.

PARKER'S HAIR BALSAM

Cleanses and beautifies the hair. Promotes a luxuriant growth. Never Fails to Restore Gray Hair to its Youthful Color. Cures scalp diseases & hair falling. 50c. and $1.00 Druggists

HINDERCORNS.

The only sure Cure for Corns. Stops all pain. Ensures comfort to the feet. Makes walking easy. 15cts. at Druggists.

THAT JOB OF PRINTING. There's no better place at which to get it done than the JOURNAL Office. Experienced workmen, skilled in every branch of the art.

A Rainy Day.

Women like a rainy day—suits 'em to a "t";
Men-folks set aroun' an' growl, mis'bul as kin be;
It's woman's time for rummagin' in chists an' trunks an' things;
For readin' old love-letters an' foolin' with old rings.

I sometimes watch Marla when the groun's been wet a spell,
An' the rain is fallin' lonesome an' nobody's feelin' well;
How she bustles roun' as busy as a bumble-bee, an' takes
The pictur's down and dusts 'em till a feller has the shakes.

An' the old chist inside out'ards—quilts an' patches on the floor;
An' the letters what I wrote her, spellin' through 'em all once more;
An' she smiles while she's a-readin', an' sometimes you'll see a tear
A-fallin' on the paper that she's kept for twenty year.

An' then I've got to comfort her, an' so I make a show
An' tell her it's the rainy day what hurts her feelin's so;
An' just one word—it starts her on the biggest kind o' cry,
Till I almos' wish they'd never been no happy days gone by.

That's how the weather does 'em—these women! Never saw
A fine, sunshiny day but they was layin' down the law;
But rainy days is women's time fer lookin' over things,
Fer readin' old love-letters an' foolin' with old rings.

—Frank L. Stanton, in Judge.

AMONG THE PARAGRAPHERS.

The maid who lives her youthful life
As a heartless, coy coquette,
Is later glad to be the wife
Of anything she can get.
—Indianapolis Journal.

A trying occupation—the judge's.—Philadelphia Record.

Dentist—"What are the last teeth that come?" Brilliant Student—"False teeth, I guess."—Life.

Papa—"Are you sorry you hit Wilbur?" Bobby—"Yes, papa, and he is sorry too."—Harper's Round Table.

Henry," said Mrs. Peck, "I am going to get a bicycle. "Dear me," said Mr. Peck, mildly, "isn't one man enough for you to run over?"—Indianapolis Journal.

"What time does the last train leave?" asked the traveler. And the gatekeeper at the Boston depot gave him a haughty look and replied: "When the road quits business."—Washington Star.

Triggs—"What is your plan of life, now you are divorced?" Briggs—"Installment plan." Triggs—"Installment plan? How's that." Briggs—"I have to pay so much a week."—New York World.

"Say Hen, do you believe matches are made in heaven?" "It may be," said Mr. Peck, sadly, "but if so, I haven't the pull there that a consistant orthodox life would lead a man to expect."—Puck.

"Mathematics is quite essential in the study of architecture, isn't it?" asked Miss Wilkins. "Yes," said Harley. "Though some parts of agricultural work consist of simple addition."—Harper's Bazar.

"What's your occupation, bub?" asked a visitor at the Capitol of a bright boy whom he met in the corridor. The boy happened to be a page in the White House. "I'm running for Congress, sir," he replied.

Caller—"Is your mistress in?" Maid—"Did you see her at the window as you came up the walk?" Caller—"No." Maid—"Well, she said if you hadn't seen her, to say that she was out."—London Tid-Bits.

Commuter—"What do you mean by saying that house is only five minutes from the station? It's fifteen minutes if it's a second." Real Estate Dealer—"When I said five minutes I supposed you had a bicycle."—Boston Transcript.

"Mamma," said the little girl, "Mrs. Riley's little boy is smoking soap bubbles". It was during a heavy storm, and as the thunder died away the little girl said earnestly: "I wish God wouldn't grumble so."—New York Commercial Advertiser.

Jimmy (looking out of the car window)—"Father there's an engine with 'Belt line' on it. Why do they call it a belt line? His father—"Because it encircles the outskirts, I suppose. Haven't you anything to do but ask questions?"—Chicago Tribune.

Old Bullion (playfully)—"Suppose I should lose my money, and die poor, what would my little duckie darling do then?" Young Bride (thoughtfully)—"Perhaps a medical college would give me something for your corpse."—New York Weekly.

The last red rays of the setting sun lingered lovingly upon the beauties of paradise complete. "Adam," faltered Eve, "am I the first girl you ever really loved?" He looked into her eyes and sighed. "How can you doubt me?" he murmured, somewhat reproachfully.—Detroit Tribune.

Why They Swore.—A tired-looking little woman, with her thin cape spread out to protect her burden from the rain, splashed through the mud on Mission Street to a car last night. The platform was crowded with men who could not find a seat, but they made way for her and helped her into the packed car. She stood unsteady in the aisle, trying to preserve her balance as the car bumped along. "Keep still, dear!" she sighed, in a weak, tired voice when a slight disturbance under the cape was observable. "Why don't some of you fellows give that woman with a baby a seat?" growled a fat man who was hanging to a strap. Two or three men sprang up and each insisted that she take his seat. She sank into one of the vacant places, thanked the man who had made way for her, and a frowsy-headed terrier sprang from under her cape and sat in her lap while he barked at the fat man.—San Francisco Post.

FEBRUARY THE SHORT.—"I suppose you know how the month of February happened to have but 28 days," said the snake editor to the horse editor. "Yes, I do," was the reply. "When Julius Caesar revised the calendar he named a month after himself, July. The following month was left with its old name, Sextilis, or the sixth month, for that was its number in the Roman calendar. When Agustus became emperor he thought he had as good a right to have a month named after him as Julius had, so he renamed Sextilis and called it August. At that time Sextilis had but 30 days. When July had 31 Augustus thought his month should have as many days as Julius's, and one was taken from poor little February to accomplish the object." "I always supposed that something of the sort happened, but my idea was that Augustus had been working so hard one February that he took a day off, and it never was replaced."—Pittsburg Chronicle Telegraph.

Deafness Cannot be Cured

by local applications as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, deafness is the result, and unless the inflamation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free.

F. J. CHENEY & CO., Toledo, O.
Sold by Druggists, 75c.

Merit wins, and Merit has not only placed Hood's Sarsaparilla at the head of all medicines but has practically given it, as a blood purifier, possession of the whole field.

Hood's Sarsaparilla

Wins because it Cures. It Cures because it purifies, vitalizes and enriches the blood. Disease cannot resist its potent powers. Health comes at its persuasive bidding. If you need a good medicine, get Hood's and only Hood's.

Prepared by C. I. Hood & Co., Lowell, Mass. $1.

Hood's Pills cure all liver ills. Best after-dinner pill. 25c.

FINEST ROAD-BED ON THE CONTINENT.

BOSTON & ALBANY RAILROAD.

Only Double-Track Route to the West.

ON AND AFTER DEC. 2, 1895.

Through Trains will Leave Boston as follows:

No. 7.—Day Express.

8:30 a. m.—Daily, except Sunday. Has Wagner buffet drawing-room car Boston to Albany, there connecting with through cars to all points West. Stops at Palmer 10.53 a. m.

No. 15.—Chicago Special.

10:30 a. m.—Daily. The finest train running in New England. A solid vestibuled Wagner train, comprising buffet, library and smoking car, sleeping cars and dining car Boston to Chicago, via the Lake Shore & Michigan Southern R. R., and also via Michigan Central R. R.

No. 19.—North Shore Limited.

2:00 p. m.—Daily. Has through vestibuled buffet sleeping cars Boston to Detroit and Chicago, via Michigan Central R. R. Dining car attached at Albany.

No. 23.—Cincinnati Express.

3:00 p. m.—Daily. Has through vestibuled buffet sleeping car Boston to Chicago via Lake Shore and Michigan Southern R. R., and to St. Louis and Cincinnati via Big Four Route. Stops at Palmer 5.20 p. m.

No. 9.—Pacific Express.

7:15 p. m.—Daily. Has through sleeping cars Boston to Chicago, via Michigan Central. Sleeping car Boston to Buffalo, parlor car Buffalo to Cleveland, sleeping car Cleveland to Chicago via Lake Shore & Michigan Southern.

No. 63.—Albany Express.

11:00 p. m.—Daily, except Saturday. Has sleeping car Boston to Albany. Stops at Palmer 1.46 a. m.

TRAINS LEAVE PALMER FOR BOSTON.

6.22 a. m.	Accommodation.
7.32	"	"
8.25	"	Daily Express.
10.00	"	Express, except Sunday.
11.42	"	Accommodation.
1.40 p. m.	Express.
3.12	"	"
4.42	"	Accommodation.
6.40	"	Daily Express.
7.55	"	Sundays only. Express.
9.03	"	Express.

Time tables showing local and through service between all Stations, may be obtained at all ticket offices of this Company.
City Office, 366 Washington Street.
Station, Kneeland Street, Boston, Mass.
52-32 A. S. HANSON, Gen. Passenger Agent.

BOSTON & MAINE R. R.

SOUTHERN DIVISION
(CENTRAL MASSACHUSETTS)
CORRECTED TO OCTOBER 6. 1895.

TRAINS LEAVE WARE:

GOING EAST

FOR Boston—6.55, 9.00 a. m.; 3.14, p. m. Sundays 6.55 a. m.
RETURNING—leave Boston 8.45 a. m.; 1.30, 4.00 p. m. Sundays, 1.30 p. m.
FOR Worcester—6.55, 9.00 a. m.; 3.14 p. m. Sundays, 6.55 a. m.
RETURNING—leave Worcester 9.15 a. m.; 2.25, 4.58 p. m.
FOR Oakdale, Hudson and Waltham—6.55, 9.00 a. m.; 3.14 p. m. Sundays, 6.55 a. m.
FOR Gilbertville, Barre and Coldbrook - 6.55, 9.00 a. m.; 3.14 p. m. Sundays, 6.55 a. m.

GOING WEST

FOR Bondsville, Belchertown, Pansy Park, Amherst, Hadley and Northampton, 7.15, 11.24 a. m., 4.28, 6.47 p. m. Sundays, 4.35 p. m.
RETURNING—leave Northampton 5.55, 8.09 a. m., 2.15, 6.10 p. m. Sundays, 5.55 a. m.

D. J. FLANDERS, Gen'l. Pass'r. Agt.
W. F. BERRY Gen'l Mgr.

CENTRAL VERMONT RAILROAD.

NEW LONDON DIVISION.
TAKING EFFECT DECEMBER 8, 1895.

TRAINS GOING SOUTH.

Leave Brattleboro, 5.40 and 10.50 a. m. and 4.25 p. m. for New London, connecting at Millers Falls with Fitchburg R. R., at Belchertown with Central Massachusetts R. R., and at Palmer with B. & A. R. R. for Worcester, Boston, Springfield, at New London with the N. Y. N. H. & H. R. R.
Leave Amherst, 7.05 a. m., 12.13 and 5.57 p. m.
Leave Palmer, 8.40 a. m., 1.50 and 7.15 p. m.
Leave Willimantic for New London, 8.25, 10.10 a. m. 2.25, 6.40 and 8.45 p. m.

GOING NORTH.

Leave New London, 5.20 and 7.40 a m, 2.30 and 5.25 p. m.
The 5.20 and 7.40 a. m. and 2.30 p. m. run through to Brattleboro and make connections for the north.
Leave New London for Willimantic and intermediate stations, 10.00 a. m. and 5.27 p. m.
Leave Palmer for Brattleboro, 8.20, 11.00 a. m, and 7.10 p. m, connecting with express for Montreal. Also with Grand Trunk R. R. for the West.
Leave Palmer for Amherst, 8.20 and 11.00 a. m, and 7.10 p. m.

SUBJECT TO CHANGE WITHOUT NOTICE.
D. MACKENZIE, Supt. J. A. SOUTHARD, D. P. A.
New London, Ct.
S W. CUMMINGS. G. P. A., St. Albans.

Relief for Rheumatism.

"This information," said a well known physician to a correspondent of the Telegram, "may save many lives; at any rate it will prove an invaluable boon to people suffering from rheumatism in any form."

"Rheumatism is caused by acidity of the blood. It should never be neglected. This remedy, as I know by long practice, is very efficacious and as simple as it is powerful.

"Here it is," he added, "when a rheumatic twinge is experienced, the patient should buy a bottle of Dr. David Kennedy's Favorite Remedy and take one teaspoonful in milk or water to suit the action of the bowels, three times a day, and continue daily until the last vistage of the malady has disappeared. That's all, but if taken as I have prescribed, it will save many doctor's bills, to say nothing of pains, aches and swellings. I've never known it to fail."—Albany, N. Y., Telegram.

LARRABEE'S RHEUMATIC LINIMENT

A standard and sovereign household remedy for over half a century. It is a wonderful curative agent in all painful diseases, such as

Rheumatism, Lumbago, Neuralgia, Backache, Catarrh, Toothache,

and other painful ailments. To be had of all druggists, or by mail on receipt of 25 cents. Trade supplied by Geo. C. Goodwin & Co., or any wholesale druggist.

WINKLEMANN & BROWN DRUG CO.
BALTIMORE, MD., U. S. A.

Wanted.

Agents, Local or Traveling on Salary or Commission, to sell our Warranted Stock.

Sold with a guarantee, at reasonable prices. Steady work and good pay assured. New methods and new specialties. Outfit free, experience unnecessary. Now is the time to commence.

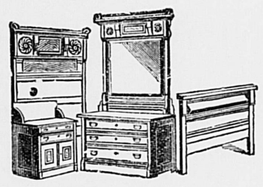
Address, H. B. Williams, Sec'y.
Chautauqua Nursery Co.,
Portland, N. Y.

GREAT HOLIDAY SALE OF . . . FURNITURE.

Guy & Fuller Furniture Co.,

409 Main Street, Springfield, Mass.

PARLOR SUITS.



CHAMBER SUITS.

FANCY RATTAN PLUSH CHAIRS AND ROCKERS,

Blacking cases, foot rests, slipper cases, easels, mirrors, ...

COUCHES, LOUNGES, SOFA BEDS, BED LOUNGES, OF NEW DESIGNS.
100 NEW PATTERNS PARLOR SUITS and EASY CHAIRS.

Elegant lamps, portiers, lace draperies, curtains, clocks, pictures.

GREAT ASSORTMENT SIDEBOARDS, DINING TABLES and CHAIRS.

China closets, cupboards, kitchen goods, crockery, wooden ware. . . . . .

200 NEW PATTERNS CHAMBER SETS, IRON BEDS, CRIBS, WARDROBES. . . . . .

Chiffoniers, folding beds, mantel beds, mattresses, pillows, blankets, springs.

200 NEW LADIES' and GENT'S DESKS, BOOKCASES, DRESSING TABLES. . . . . .

OUR STOVE DEPARTMENT IS THE LARGEST BETWEEN WORCESTER AND NEW YORK.

We are sole agents for the CELEBRATED NATIONAL ACORN RANGES AND STOVES. Also the NEW STEEL RANGE.

Our sales this year in stoves are double of any past years, and every family using an ACORN will tell you to use no other.

We have several stores and buy very large, and MAKE PRICES and TERMS to suit all.

Guy & Fuller Furniture Co.,

409 Main Street, Springfield.

Lost Yesterday.

Somewhere between sunrise and sunset, TWO GOLDEN HOURS, each set with sixty diamond minutes, with which you might have secured a glimpse of our immense

Kitchen Department.

This department has been the Mecca of buyers of Crockery and kitchen goods for the last two years. We have paid particular attention to the buying of goods of good quality, and yet by buying in large quantities we have been enabled to sell them at prices of inferior goods. For example, OUR LEADERS JUST NOW

112 PIECE DECORATED DINNER SET FOR $8.24.
A 6-POUND KITCHEN SCALE, warranted accurate, for $2.10.
A HANDSOME PARLOR LAMP FOR $1.98.
10-PIECE DECORATED TOILET SET FOR $1.98.

We are in it also on Furniture, Carpets, Stoves, Ranges, etc., at prices that defy competition.

E. Luther & Co.,

EASY TERMS. SPRINGFIELD. OPP. COURT SQ.

W. D. KINSMAN, SPRINGFIELD.

CHRISTMAS BUYING

is satisfactory just now to customers because all our lines of novelties are full, and because we can give extra attention in showing them. We have already began the sale of

REAL TORTOISE SHELL HAIR ORNAMENTS.

If your saw our assortment during the holidays last season you will appreciate what this means—hundreds of varieties, beautiful in colorings and unique in design. Hold one to the light—there's a color, like amber, clouded with the richest shades of deep red and brown. Prices from 10c to $9.75. Come early before the assortment is broken.

STERLING SILVER NOVELTIES.

There's an excellent opportunity here for you to do some fore-sighted Christmas buying. A large number of sterling silver trifles that survived last season have been placed in three lots at

25c, 50c, $1.00

All of them were halved in price, some suffered still more. The assortment comprises stick pins, baggage checks, pencil holders, brooch pins, tie clasps, combined paper cutter and book marks, coat hangers, hair pins, vinaigrettes, shell combs with sterling silver tops and stamp boxes.

LEATHER GOODS.

Every desirable novelty is represented, something for every size of purse.

Coin purses of alligator, lizard, seal, kangaroo, well made and lined, 10c.

Coin purses of alligator, lizard or seal, pretty and serviceable, 25c.

Coin purses made of the new and stylish French and levant leather, 50c.

Opera purses of lizard, alligator, levant royal, chamois, dentile Brazilian lizard or kangaroo, thoroughly well made, 50c.

Combination cases of white alligator, one of the choicest novelties of the season. Pure white alligator skin shading into spots of mouse color. Also combination cases of green alligator.

Chatelaine bags, latest shapes, inside compartment for coin. In seal for 50c and 75c. In seal, alligator and lizard, from $1 to 5.

HANDKERCHIEFS.

Handkerchief buying will not be the agreeable occupation three weeks later that it is now. The counters will be thronged as Christmas draws near. Pure linen handkerchiefs, embroidered unlaundered handkerceiefs, 15c each, 8 for $1.

Plain hemstitched, fancy hemstitched, laced edged, 25c. Also ladies' and gent's initial handkerchiefs, neatly embroidered.

Pure linen handkerchiefs, handsomely embroidered in tasteful designs, 50c, 75c, $1, 1.25, 1.38, 1.50, 1.75, 1.87 and upward.

W. D. KINSMAN,

SPRINGFIELD. COR. MAIN AND BRIDGE STS.

December Weather.

In the sharp December weather
Three of us went for a walk together;
Three of us talked of indifferent things,
And 'twas all very stupid. Talk of the Time's wings!
Time crawled! For you scarcely looked at me,
My languishing glances you seemed not to see,
In the clear December weather.

In the sharp December weather
We two were left for a moment together;
And some way, I cannot say how, my dear,
But the words I long had meant you to hear
(Though I hadn't much courage to speak I confess),
Slipped out; and you smiled and softly said, "Yes,"
In the clear December weather.
—Helen M. Winslow.

ON BUNKER HILL.

About 50 feet up the winding stairs of the monument sat the fat woman puffing like a trotter on the home stretch.

Pretty soon she heard a wheezing individual approaching from below, and presently a tall, round-shouldered man loomed out of the semi-darkness.

"Howdy do, marm. Takin' a rest, eh?" said the asthmatic stranger, also stopping for breath as he reached the fat woman.

"Yes, I be; I ain't used to stairs. Hills an' mountains is what we have up our way. I kin skip up 'em like a caperin' young heifer, but when it comes to stairs—especially windin' stairs—I get dizzy an' winded right away, but I told the folks afore I come away that I'd climb Bunker Hill monument, an' I'll do it."

"You ain't from New Hampshire, be you, marm?"

"That's jest where I'm from, mister—the upper part on't."

"So be I."

"I thought so by the way you was a-heavin' just now. We New Hampshire folks ain't used to stairs. Hills an' mountains is our great hold. Be you from near the mountains?"

"No, ma'am: I'm from Bow Crossing."

"I never heard o' that place."

"It's just this side o' Concord, marm. I've been seelick man thar."

"Dew tell!"

As the man from Bow Crossing was resuming his winding way upward the fat woman called out to him.

"Say, mister!"

"Wal, marm?"

"Of course you don't know my daughter Sally?"

"I reckon I don't, marm."

"Well, I dunno whether she's up there or not. I was to meet her an' the baby at the bottom at 10 o'clock an' we was goin' up together. I wa'n't on time, an' she prob'ly got mad an' went up without me. She's awful cranky, Sally is. If you see a nice lookin' young woman with a baby you'll know it's her. Tell her I'm comin', will you."

"All right, marm."

The fat woman, having taken a long breath, then ascended another longstretch, when she found it necessary to take another rest.

While she was regaining her wind a young man, accompanied by two young ladies came along.

"If you see a young woman with a baby up the top, tell her I'm comin', will you please?" said the fat woman, addressing the party.

"Oh, certainly," they laughed, as they skipped around the curve.

"That old man'll probly forget to tell her," she mused as she started on her third lap, but after another stretch was obliged to halt again for wind.

Two or three youngsters came scampering up the stairway.

"Say, sonny, how much further is it to the top?" queried the fat woman, between her puffs.

"Only a little ways, ma'm."

"If you see a woman with a baby up there tell her I'll be with her in a few minutes."

"Yes'm."

"Them giggling critters 'ud never think to tell her, I know," she said to herself, as she was felt alone again.

Starting on her fourth and last lap, the fat woman from New Hampshire presently saw daylight above her.

"Here she comes!" she heard one of the youngsters call out.

As she emerged into the room at the top (not much room at this top) she was confronted by an auburn-haired woman with a baby.

"I'd like to know what you mean by telling all the people to tell me you was coming," snapped the auburn-haired woman.

"You!"

"Yes' me."

"You ain't Sally."

"I should hope not."

"La sakes! I never thought any woman but Sally would be fool enough to climb up here with a baby. Sally was always—"

"That's right, ma; talk on and show your ignorance," exclaimed a young woman who just then arrived at the summit.

It was Sally, without the baby.

The fat woman quickly subdued, and immediately became absorbed in views of the surrounding country through the barred windows.

HELD A LOSING HAND.—A charming young woman who lives on the west side, and her young man found the Summit street cars packed to the doors last Friday evening when they started home from the Auditorium. Nothing daunted, Miss West Side sought a place upon the top of the platform. She had barely room for one foot, and as the car lurched and heeled, she clung to Charley's big, strong hand. Occasionally, under cover of the darkness, she squeezed it tenderly because—well, because she and Charley are engaged. And so she held onto the hand for many blocks.

"Charley," she said, aren't you about worn out holding me on the car with your one, poor, tired hand?"

"What!" cried Charley in horrified tones.

Mademoiselle looked up and then dropped the hand frantically. She had been holding to and squeezing the hand of an entire stranger, a young fellow with black moustache and a pleasing eye.

"I beg a thousand pardons!" gasped mademoiselle.

"Don't mention it!" replied the stranger. "You were entirely welcome."—Kansas City Star.

The Ideal Panacea.

James L. Francis, Alderman, Chicago, says: "I regard Dr. King's New Discovery as an ideal panacea for coughs, colds and lung complaints, having used it in my family for the last five years, to the exclusion of physician's prescriptions or other preparations."

Rev. John Burgus, Keokuk, Iowa, writes: "I have been a minister of the Methodist Episcopal church for 50 years or more, and have never found anything so beneficial, or that gave me such speedy relief as Dr. King's New Discovery." Try this ideal cough remedy now. Trial bottles free of LeGro & Lynde, Palmer; G. L. Keeney, Monson; F. A. Spencer, Ware.

It May Do as Much for You.

Mr. Fred Miller, of Irving, Ill., writes that he had a severe kidney trouble for many years, with severe pains in his back, and also that his bladder was affected. He tried many so-called kidney cures but without any good result. About a year ago he began the use of Electric Bitters and found relief at once. Electric Bitters is especially adapted to the cure of all kidney and liver troubles and often gives almost instant relief. One trial will prove our statement. Price only 50c for large bottle. At LeGro & Lynde, Palmer; G. L. Keeney, Monson; F. A. Spencer, Ware.

Bucklen's Arnica Salve.

THE BEST SALVE in the world for cuts bruises, sores, ulcers, salt rheum, fever sores, tetter, chapped hands, chilblains, corns, and all skin eruptions, and positively cures piles, or no pay required. It is guaranteed to give perfect satisfaction or money refunded. Price 25 cents per box. For sale by LeGro & Lynde, Palmer; G. L. Keeney, Monson; F. A. Spencer, Ware.

JUDICIAL DIGNITY OUTRAGED.

"James W. Brown, now of the general solicitor's office of the Chicago & Alton road, used to practice at Jacksonville," said Lawyer Charles H. Dummer. "One day he was defending in a case before an old justice. A lawyer named George Smith was on the other side. The old squire was so drunk that his head bobbed down on the table and against the back of his chair and his eyes rolled around on the top of his head. Smith put the plaintiff on the stand.

"What is your name?"

"I object," said Jimmy Brown; "doesn't make any difference what's his name."

"Objection sustained," solemnly muttered the court.

"Where do you live?"

"I object," shouted Jimmy; it's immaterial."

"Sustained," said the justice, looking like Solomon.

"What is your age?" asked Smith.

"Object," complained Jimmy with an injured air.

"The wise man allowed the objection.

"At this Smith, springing to his feet, called the squire a drunken old fool, and added other compliments. Then it was the squire's turn to get mad. "Where's Fry?" he bellowed. Frye, the constable, emerged from the crowd with a broad grin on his face. This grin enraged the squire beyond endurance, and addressing himself to the constable, he roared: "Stand up here. I fine you $5 for lettin' George Smith insult me on the bench. Court's adjourned." Then walking out with great unsteadiness and equal dignity he banged the door behind him."—Chicago Inter-Ocean.

Dangerous Drugs.

Avoid the use of white or pink headache powders, they contain dangerous drugs. Taylor's Anti-Headache Powders are brown; they look like ground coffee and they have a delightful aromatic taste. Try them once and you will never be without them. Get them of LeGro & Lynde.

35 cents

Colds are serious things. They lead to worse things. A cold is the seed of consumption. Croup is a cold's half-brother—it is generally caused by cold, and many a little life has been snuffed out by it because the proper remedy was not at hand.

Dr. Hooker's Cough and Croup Syrup

gives relief at once. It has saved thousands of lives. Every mother should see that it is always in the house. Don't wait till you need it—that may be too late. Contains no opium—absolutely safe—endorsed by physicians for 50 years. Made only by Charles B. Kingsley, Northampton, Mass.

at Drug Stores

WANTED SALESMEN. We want one or two good men in each county to take orders for a choice line of Nursery Stock or Seed Potatoes. Stock and seed guaranteed. We can give you steady employment with good pay. It will cost you nothing to give it a trial. State when writing which you prefer to sell. Address

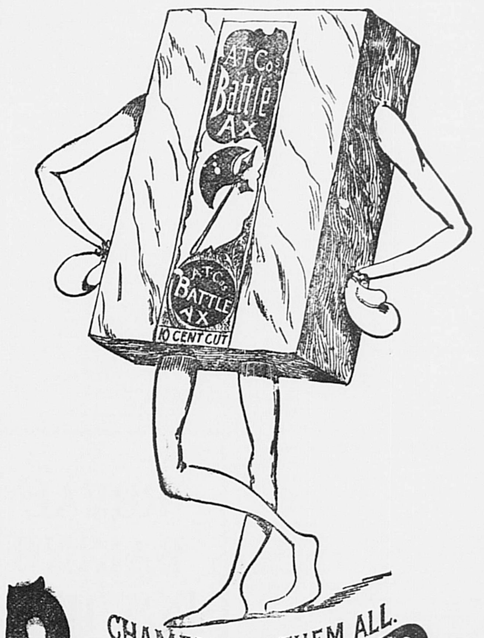
The Hawks Nursery Co.,
Rochester, N. Y.

Piano and Banjo Lessons

given by

Misses Annie and Carrie Fish,
22-tf Palmer.



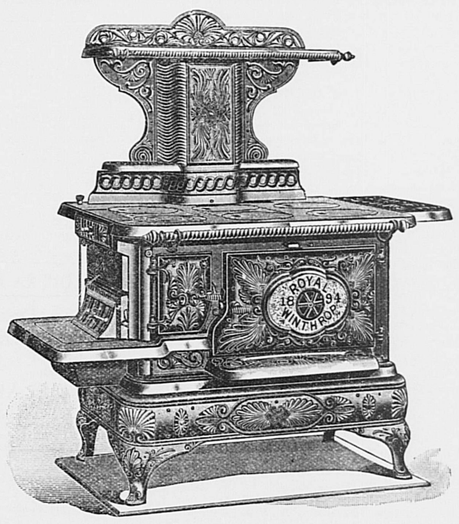
CHAMPION OF THEM ALL.

BATTLE AX PLUG

THE LARGEST PIECE OF GOOD TOBACCO EVER SOLD FOR

10 CENTS.

THE ROYAL WINTHROP RANGE. IT HAS NO SUPERIOR.



I AGREE. That is all we expect you to say. Live up to that and there is no limit to your credit with us; we will arrange the payments to suit you. We sell all kinds of FURNITURE, and can furnish your house from cellar to garret.

SHAW BROTHERS, - THREE RIVERS, MASS.

R·I·P·A·N·S

ONE GIVES RELIEF.

52-43

"HE THAT WORKS EASILY WORKS SUCCESSFULLY." 'TIS VERY EASY TO CLEAN HOUSE WITH

SAPOLIO

4-37

The Palmer Journal.

VOLUME XLVI. PALMER, MASS., FRIDAY EVENING, DECEMBER 27, 1895. NUMBER 39.

PUBLISHED EVERY FRIDAY EVENING
—BY—
C. B. FISKE & CO.

TERMS OF SUBSCRIPTION.—Two dollars a year. A discount of 25 cents to those who pay in advance. Six months, $1.00; three months, 50 cents; single copies, 5 cents.

ADVERTISING RATES.—One inch (or twelve lines of this type solid) 75 cents for the first insertion, 25 cents for the second, 15 cents for each subsequent insertion. Short advertisements, "Wanted," "To Let," etc., one cent a word for the first insertion, one-half cent a word each subsequent insertion, cash; no charge less than 25 cents. Notices in local column, 15 cents per line. Liberal rates to yearly advertisers.

JOB PRINTING of all kinds executed in the best styles, promptly and at reasonable rates.

C. B. FISKE. L. E. CHANDLER.

[Entered at Post Office as second class matter.]

LOCAL BUSINESS DIRECTORY.

PALMER.

ALLEN, O. P., Wholesale and Retail Druggist and Bookseller.

BARTON, F. D., Dealer in Watches, Clocks and Jewelry, Main street.

BILLS, G. A., Fresh and Salt Beef, Pork, Ham, Lard, Tripe, etc.

BROOKS, EDWIN E., Graduate Optician. With E. S. Brooks, Jeweler, Main street.

BROOKS, E. S., Dealer in Watches, Clocks, Jewelry, Solid Silver and Plated Ware, Main street.

BROWN, C. A. & CO., Hardware, Furnaces, Stoves, Ranges, Paints, Oils and Glass.

BROWN, S. H., Trucking, Light Jobbing, Piano Moving. Order box cor. Main and Walnut streets. Orders can also be left at J. F. Foley's store.

CARPENTER, Mrs. L. E., Millinery and Fancy Goods. Also dealer in Human Hair Goods.

CHANDLER BROS., Bicycles.

CLARK & HASTINGS, Wholesale Dealers in Armour & Co's. Dressed Beef, Provisions, Main St.

EAGER, F. M., Boot and Shoe Manufacturer to Order, and dealer in Leather and Findings.

FISKE, C. B. & CO., Publishers PALMER JOURNAL and WARE STANDARD. Fine Book and Job Printers and Bookbinders.

FITCH, A. E., Law and Insurance, Savings Bank Block.

FRANCIS, R. B., Iron Foundry and Machine Shop.

GAMWELL, C. K., Ready made Clothing, Hats, Caps, Gent's Furnishings, etc.

GARDNER, CHAS. L., Attorney and Counsellor at Law. Church street.

GOODES, E., Palmer Boot and Shoe Store, corner Main and Thorndike streets.

HAMILTON, J. A., Dealer in all kinds of Coal, Wood, Grain, Flour, Baled Hay and Straw. Fertilizers and Stock Food. Main street.

HOLBROOK, C. D., Flour, Grain, Feed and Mason's Supplies, Main street.

HOLBROOK, J. F., Dealer in all kinds of Coal. Agent for National and White Star line of steamers. Drafts on Foreign Banks at lowest rates.

LEACH, W. W., Attorney at Law.

LEGRO & LYNDE, Druggists and Newsdealers, Paper Hangings, Shades, Lamps and Fixtures.

MARCY, F. F., Dealer in Lumber, Shingles, etc., wholesale and retail. West of B.&A.R.R. depot.

MARCY, OSCAR C., Livery and Feed Stable, rear of Converse House.

PALMER WATER CO., Office, Lawrence Block. Office hours to October 1, from 8.30 to 10 a. m., from 2 to 3 p. m.

SHAW, J. B., Dealer in Dry Goods, Groceries, etc. Opposite the depot.

TAFT, S. S., Attorney at Law. Office in Allen's Block, Church street.

WHITE, C. W., Marble and Granite Works. No. 1 Thorndike street.

WOOLRICH & CO., Manufacturers of Ridge's Food, Thorndike street.

THORNDIKE.

ADAMS, A. P., Druggist, Toilet Articles, Confectionery and Cigars.

BONDSVILLE.

HOLDEN, C. L., Dry Goods, Groceries, Clothing Boots, Shoes, Hats, Caps, etc.

MORIARTY, M., Dry Goods, Groceries, Boots Shoes, Coal. Agt White Star and Anchor SS Co's

WARE.

ADAMS, MRS., Chiropodist and Manicurist. 13 Park Avenue. All troubles of feet successfully treated.

ALBERTINE, J. A. Choice Fruits, Tobaccos, Cigars and Confectionery. Low Prices.

DAVIS INSURANCE AGENCY represents the best companies and gives lowest rates.

EDDY, C. W. Job and Fine Art Printer.

EDDY, MISS MATIE K. Teacher of Oil Painting and Crayon. Sketching or Art Work completed to order.

ELDREDGE, A. HENRY. Sign Painter. Carriages painted in the best manner. West Street.

HARLOW, A. B. Photographer. Instantaneous process only. Opposite the Bank.

HOSMER, F. N. Clothier. Hats, Caps, Gents' Furnishing Good, etc. Sanford's Block.

MARSH, F. E. Gold, Silver and Nickel Plater. Replating tableware a specialty. 7 Bank street.

PRIEST, J. E. Ware Steam Laundry. Carpet cleaning. Office at H. M. Clark's.

RICHARDSON, A. F. Dealer in Boots, Shoes and Rubbers of all kinds. Sagendorph's Block.

ROBINSON, JOHN F. Furniture, Sewing Machines, Pictures, Hardware, Paints and Farming Tools.

SIBLEY, J. B. Hardware, Tools, Agricultural Implements, Paints, Oils and Artists' materials.

SMITH, G. H. W. Jeweler. Watches, Clocks and Spectacles. Repairing in the best manner.

TURNER, H. H. Bookseller and Stationer, and dealer in Paper Hangings, Musical Instruments and Sheet Music.

MONSON.

GROUT, GEO. E. Dealer in Watches Clocks, Jewelry, etc. Towne's Block.

NEWTON, GEO. H., Law Office, Notary Public, Insurance, etc., near Gage's store.

SQUIER & CO., Dealers in Grain, Feed, Hay, Straw, Lumber, Shingles and Building Material.

WARREN.

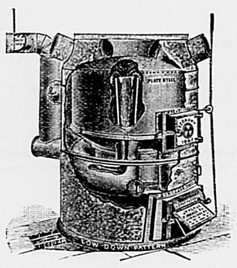
KELLEY, W. H., Attorney and Counsellor at Law. Quaboag Block, Warren, Mass.

SOCIETY DIRECTORY.

MONSON.

MT. ELLA LODGE, No. 184, A. O. U. W. Meets first and third Tuesdays of each month in A. O. U. W Hall, Monson
FISK G. ROGERS, M. W., F. J. ENTWISTLE, Rec.

Economy Heaters.



Crawford Ranges.

COME IN AND SEE THE

MODEL B RANGE,

sold for $20.

Plumbing, Tinning and Heating.

W. H. Hitchcock,

Nassowanno House Block, Palmer.

Insurance

of every kind placed at short notice, and all favors duly appreciated.

Yours truly,
S. H. HELLYAR.

HOLIDAY GIFTS

FOR NEW YEAR'S

AT HALF PRICE.

SPECIAL PRICES

made for Sunday Schools.

T. H. TODD,

Monson, - - Mass.

For the Coming Winter Season.

The Saskatchewan Coat,

Wind Proof,

is a handsome custom-made garment of a black or brown color, with a high rolling collar, lined with black Italian quilting, and rubber lining in the body part and sleeves to make it wind and water proof. It has olives and loops instead of buttons. This coat will keep a person dry and warm during the severest snow or rain-storm, and will be dry the next day.

Caps and carriage robes of the same material.

Complete line of
GENT'S FURNISHING GOODS
in all departments.

Fall and Winter Clothing

was never so low in price, nor such values for the money.

Fall Suits, $5 to $20,

Just think of it!

An elegant line of

Overcoats, $6 to $22.

You never saw the like before.

Child's Suits, $2 to $6.

Child's Reefer, $3.50 to $5.

Children's Overcoats in all grades.

Underwear

in a great variety of grades and prices.

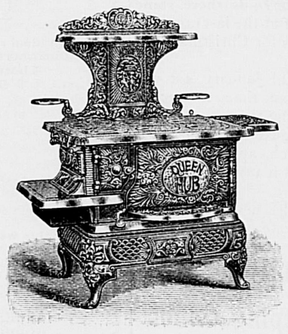
Fall Style, 1895.

Lamson & Hubbard.

C. K. GAMWELL,

Palmer, Mass.

Perhaps you don't know all about it.



Step in and we will tell you about the QUEEN HUB.

While here we can show you some Fine Parlor Goods at prices that will surprise you.

C. A. Brown & Co. - Palmer, Mass.

Horse Blankets.

A full line, for both stable .....and street use.....

375 BLANKETS IN STOCK.

PRICES RIGHT.

G. W. Foskit,

Foskit's Mills.

F. M. EAGER.

Boots and Shoes Manufactured to Measure.

REPAIRING NEATLY DONE AT SHORT NOTICE.

Dealer in Sewing Machines and Supplies.
Machines to rent or sold on monthly payments.

F. M. EAGER, PALMER.

Monson House,

Monson, Mass.

Most centrally located. Electric lights, steam heat, all modern conveniences, all newly furnished and up to date. Patronage of the traveling public solicited. Cousine excellent. Under new management.

JAMES MITCHELL, Proprietor.

Wanted.

Agents, Local or Traveling on Salary or Commission, to sell our Warranted Stock.

Sold with a guarantee, at reasonable prices. Steady work and good pay assured. New methods and new specialties. Outfit free, experience unnecessary. Now is the time to commence.

Address, H. B. Williams, Sec'y.

Chautauqua Nursery Co.,

Portland, N. Y.

SMITH & MURRAY.

HANDKERCHIEFS.

Our handkerchiefs are in many instances selling at reduced prices.

That means where styles are in small quantities we have lessened the prices.

See our handkerchiefs at 12 1-2 and 25c.

You will find among them many kinds whose value is fully one-half greater than you have been paying the same price for every day.

Why not have the best?

FANCY COLLARETTES.

Made from lace, chiffon and ribbon.

They are very desirable from the fashionable standpoint.

We have several styles that are our own, so that the effect will not be common.

Prices 69c to $5 each.

LIBERTY SQUARES.

Newest color effects, 36 inches square,

$1.19.

Main store, center.

APRONS.

Nowhere in this city will you find a larger assortment of ladies', children's, nurses' and maids' aprons than here—and nowhere will you find prices more satisfactory. Let these give you an idea:

Plain white aprons, colored border, at 12 1-2c each.

Insertion aprons, 15c.

AT 25c EACH,

swiss, insertion, satin stripe, barred muslin, hamburg with tucks, plain with tucks, black sateen, black silesia aprons.

Most of these are worth 35c.

Satin stripe and lace center, 38c each.

Center store.

SMITH & MURRAY.

WINNING ITS WAY.

Last season was the BEST, and we propose to make this still better.

CHERRY BALSAM

for lung troubles is a

GREAT SUCCESS.

We have many testimonials to prove this. And we sold more last year than all other cough medicines combined.

TRY IT

It heals and soothes the lungs and bronchial tubes. Stops the cough, allays irritation and hacking. The best cough syrup you can give the children.

PRICE 25 AND 50 CENTS.

MADE ONLY BY

LeGro & Lynde,

Next Door to Post Office,
Palmer, - Mass.

Barbed Wire

HAS HAD A FALL.

Our CASH price is

2 1-4 cents per pound

for the best quality barbed . . or plain twist wire. . .

Also all kinds of

HARDWARE, SKATES, and SLEDS.
POCKET KNIVES, SCISSORS, SHEARS.
PAINTS, OILS and VARNISHES.
WINDOW GLASS.

E. A. Buck & Co.,

Cross block, Main street,
PALMER, - MASS.

Palmer Savings Bank,

Palmer, Mass.
Hours from 9 a. m. to 3 p. m.

President,
H. G. LOOMIS.
Vice Presidents,
GEO. MOOERS, T. D. POTTER, C. H. HOBBS.
Secretary,
WM. W. LEACH.
Treasurer,
H. W. MCGREGORY.
Trustees,

James B. Shaw,	E. G. Hastings,	C. H. Hobbs,
George Mooers,	R. C. Newell,	Geo. E. Buck,
H. G. Loomis,	F. F. Marcy,	A. L. Hills,
T. D. Potter,	H. Waid,	Wm. Holbrook,
H. P. Holden,	Wm. W. Leach,	C. F. Grosvenor,
Jas. S. Loomis,	C. L. Gardner,	H. W. McGregory

Board of Investment,
Geo. Mooers, H. G. Loomis, E. G. Hastings, C. H. Hobbs, James B. Shaw.
Auditors,
Wm. W. Leach, A. L. Hills.

Grandfather's Dream.

A NEW YEAR'S IDYL.

'Tis New Year Eve, and Grandfather Grey
Sits by the hearth in the homestead hall,
Watching the evening shadows creep,
The firelight flicker and fall.
A smile stirs the lips of the kind old man
As the sounds of mirth smite his ear,
His children and grandchildren, in lower hall,
Greeting the glad New Year.

He, grown weary of noisy glee,
Had stolen away for a moment's rest,
When Blindman's Bluff reached its acme of fun,
And the Snap-dragon was in quest.
And now with a sigh for the days "lang syne"
The old man lifts his face
To gaze in a mirror that hangs aloft
Over the chimney place.

Only the room, in shadowy gloom
His reflection another shadow there,
His hands folded in weariness,
The fire-glow on his silvery hair;
But suddenly, like a veil drawn back,
The mirror grows brighter, and at his feet
He sees reflected a little child
Lisping its plaint in accents sweet.

A child so like him, the old man turns,
Listens, as years of joy and pain
Were but as a day, and at father's knee
He was but three years old again!
Once more the mirror is brighter still—
A lad of ten leans against his knee,—
This must be Hector, his twin, long dead,
For who so like him? so bonnie as he?

Still more radiant the mirror grew,
And all aglow with girlish grace
Appears the maiden he woo'd and won,
Fairest of form, fairest of face;
And he sees a youth bend over his char,
His hands both of the maiden's seek,
As he draws her close in a fond caress,
Leaving a kiss upon her cheek.

Brighter the mirror! Who is it that smiles
On the lover's caress? That face to him
Sweeter than heavenly vision vouchsafed,
Or the face of a holy seraphim?
Is it his wife? wich the cares and the joy,
Numbering treasures of burdens well borne?
The wife of his youth? the wife of his age?
The face he had kissed on his marriage morn?

Then suddenly 'round him a murmur arose;
About him come touches, tenderly light,
"Wake, grandpa," cried voices in soft, subdued tones;
"Wake! we have all come to bid you good night!"
He roused from his place with a start of surprise;
He had slept; yet, there, in the firelight gleam
He beheld in the mirror over his head
A group strangely like the one of his dream.

At his feet the babe of his youngest child
Lisped her good night in childish glee;
And Hector, the namesake of he who was dead,
His son's eldest boy, leaned against his knee.
Above him the son and the wife stood and smiled,
Seeing his waking glance tenderly fall
On grandmother's face, so sweetly serene,
Shunning the sight most blessed of all.

"Good night to my dear ones," the old man cried,
"I have slept, yet my dream has only been given
That I saw in truth's mirror more clearly to-night
One more of His gifts sent from Heaven!
In thee God has granted, I see once again,
Reflected youth, manhood and age,
Living again in thy love and thy strength,
The turning of life's final page.
Glad to fall slumbering, some wintry eve,
And wake in the dawn, upward borne
By angels that wait to greet me Beyond,
In a glad, ho'y New Year's Morn!"

—Oliver Lovell Wilson, in Good Housekeeping.

MRS. HEATH'S NEW YEAR'S TURKEY.

"Now, Mary Jane Titus!" exclaimed Mrs. Jarvis Whitman, entering her spic and span kitchen three days before New Year's, "does my nose serve me right?" Can it be possible that you have put sage in the dressing of that turkey, and Jarvis' brother John and wife, from Boston, coming to eat it?"

"Why, yethem," lisped the cheerful, efficient, middle-aged maid of all work, nearly dropping the wide, white tray on which rested in state the corpulant yellow gobbler. "What should I theson the drething of a turkey with, I should like to know?"

"Sage, in this day and generation!" ejaculated the discomforted housekeeper, dropping into a chair and fanning herself with her stiff, white muslin apron, for the kitchen was warm and Mrs. Whitman was very stout.

"Now, Mary Jane," she went on solemnly, "look here! I want you to go to the barn and tell Sam to knock over another turkey, the largest of the flock—although that one was the largest of them all—and you'll have to pick and dress it all yourself, Mary Jane. Before you go put a pinch of sugar on the stove to smoke out the smell of the sage. I should be mortified enough to have any one come in and find that old-fashioned sagey smell hanging about the house on New Year's day. And, dear me! I must get that fowl out of the way as soon as possible, or all your fumigating will do no good. What can I do with it? Oh, I will send it to the city to Mr. Whitman's cousin, Mrs. Heath. She was here one day in strawberry time, with her whole brood, you know—pretty children, too. I remember how she went on about her grandmother's herb bed here in the garden. I wasn't over cordial to her, and didn't ask her to stay over night or come again. She is a good woman, only poor and plain, and my conscience has pricked me ever since. This with make amends, somewhat, I hope. I don't want to snub anybody, but I can't have Jarvis' poor relations liable to come in anytime, as sister-in-law Elizabeth is; but she is so different. She knows the very latest style in everything, from decorating the house to seasoning the food. When you get the next fowl ready, Mary Jane, you call me and I will instruct you how to stuff it with oysters and season it with something more modern than sage or thyme or summer savory."

"Modern! My goodness!" repeated Mary Jane Titus to herself as she sped along the narrow, slippery snow path, with a thin, faded Highland shaw! over her hood. "I wonder what fashion won't turn up in next. Sam said last night they were going to have a new cupola on the big barn because this one was out of fashion, and now sage has gone out! If my memory serves me right, oysters were made before sage, or somewhere along about the same time. Well, I am thinking that such things don't trouble me, and I am glad I stuffed the old gobbler with sage, as glad as I can be, for Mrs. Heath, dear, good soul, will get him by the means, and when the box is packed I will slip in a little note of my own, and tell her just how it came about."

Mrs. Heath, who with her husband and children lived in a narrow, tucked up flat in the city, felt that she couldn't afford a turkey for New Year's, and decided cheerfully to tide over the day as well as she could with a plain roast of meat and a pudding. The parents were trying to lay by something for their children's schooling, but any small lack in the dinner should not spoil the festal for them.

"New Year's in Massachusetts wasn't made much of when I was small, but Thanksgiving was the day of days," and the good mother gave the children, who were interested, a detailed description of the observance of that festival at the old home.

"Oh, what flocks of fowls we saw there last summer!" said the oldest little girl. "How fine it would be, mamma, should they remember to send one of them to you, and it would never be missed among so many."

"They have a great many things to think of," replied Mrs. Heath, "and so did my grandmother, for that matter, but she always thought of those who had less than she had herself, and then invited her guests accordingly. I remember, as if it were only yesterday, how she used to stuff the turkey two or three days before hand, and set it away in a cool place so that it should be thoroughly seasoned through."

Just then Mother Heath was broken off from her pleasant retrospection by an expressman, who sent a large covered basket into the neat room, saying with as pleasant a smile as if the gift had been from himself: "All charges paid!"

"With Cousin Jarvis Whitman's compliments," it said on the label, and when with eager, trembling fingers the lid was removed there was the plumpest, yellowest turkey Mrs. Heath had set her patient brown eyes upon for many a day.

Tied to one of the skewered legs was a fancy card on which was written:

"Owing to the old-fashioned ignorance of yours truly, in putting sage in the dressing!"

On the opposite side, under a wreath of blue forget-me-nots, was printed in gilt letters: "Mary Jane Titus."

Mrs. Heath laughed a little, and then she cried a little as she took out the turkey, finding beneath it a bag of cranberries, a ball of golden butter, and all the chinks filled in with big rosy apples and plump hickory nuts.

"I don't care," she said, "if it did come about through a mistake of Mary Jane's I am just as thankful as I can be to the Lord, and to my cousins, and to Mary Jane Titus. It was the most wonderful thing, it's being brought just as it was, when we were talking about the old farm. I will make the most of it that I can every way."

She did indeed make the most of it She showed it to the neighbors, and told them it came from the very farm where she grew up, and the dressing was seasoned with sage from her grandmother's bed of herbs. But Mary Jane's card she kept carefully out of sight.

On New Year's morning she put her turkey in good season into the oven, and set her doors and windows open so that any passer in the narrow cross street might know that one family dwelling there was getting up a New Year's dinner.

The Heaths had a lodger, a somewhat peculiar middle-aged man, who for a long time had rented their furnished front room from week to week, and who minded his own business.

The night before, however, after the children were in bed, he passed in a large bundle labeled: "For the best behaved little people I ever knew," thereby quite winning the gentle mother's heart.

On this eventful morning Mrs. Heath said to her husband: "Leonard, I want you to keep watch now, and if that lodger sniffs as he passes through the hall, in a way as if he smelt something agreeable, as if he was brought up where he had a grandmother and a turkey on days that brought the family together, I will invite him to dinner, for every family ought to entertain someone on New Year's."

"All right," said Mr. Heath, who was one of those agreeable men who always said "all right" to anything his sensible wife suggested, and he forthwith stretched himself out on a lounge near the open doorway of the narrow little hall to watch for the appearance of the lodger.

He came presently. They heard his footfall on the stairs, and Mrs. Heath ran to the lounge and seating herself beside her husband began to look for a fray on the cuff of his Sunday coat.

She glanced up at the lonely man, quite accidently of course, just in time to see his nose wrinkle, and a pleasant, surprised expression steal over his usually grave face.

A vigorous sniff, sniff, sniff followed, and looking up and seeing the amiable couple, he called out, heartily:

"Good day, good day. A happy New Year to you. The turkey in your oven is giving notice that you are New England people. I always thought the smell, especially of sage-seasoned dressing, was a very good part of a turkey dinner."

Thanks for the children's gifts and the invitation to dinner followed promptly, and was as promptly accepted; but Mrs. Heath, being a conscientious woman, could not appropriate the extravagant praises of her dressing.

They were on such good terms with the lodger by this time that she did not hesitate to relate the history of the turkey, and in the laugh that followed Mary Jane's card was produced and displayed.

"So you see, sir," went on Mrs. Heath, while her guest studied the name beneath the blue forget-me-nots, "that although I cooked the fine fowl and browned it to a turn (and if I do say it the browning is half in cooking a turkey), the dressing is none of mine."

"Mary Jane Titus," repeated the stranger. Mrs. Heath fancied his voice trembled, and glancing at him, was sure his face was flushed.

"Gooness!" she thought, "I hope Mary Jane's sage dressing isn't giving him apoplexy," and as he went on: "How old is she? How does she look?" she decided that the dinner had warmed him up and drawn out his sociability wonderfully, and she replied:

"A nice, plump, rosy, curly-headed little body of five-and-thirty, with a friendly, sociable way, and the dearest little lisp when she talks, that somehow makes anyone take to her right away."

"And where do you say she lives?"

"Down at Greenville Centre. Not very far out, you know."

"Yes, yes, I know," said the lodger, finishing his desert, "but I have business, very important business to attend at once, and you will have to excuse me," and before any of the family had collected their wits enough to express regrets he was up and away.

Late in the evening Mr. and Mrs. Heath were finishing up the day with walnuts and apples and a slice of mince pie, the children being invited, they heard the lodger let himself in with his latch key, but instead of going to his own room as usual, he came directly down the hall to their sitting room and ushered in Mary Jane, whom he introduced as his wife.

"We were engaged two years ago," he said, but a trifle parted us and somehow the very sniff of that dressing brought her to mind, and seemed exactly like a messag begging me to come back to her."

"And," lisped Mary Jane, "I was thinking how hith mother taught me to make drething when I stuffed that turkey, or I shouldn't have done it without consulting Mrs. Whitman. She and her sister-in-law Elizabeth hath said it was awful unfashionable to be married in such a hurry, but I told her we had been engaged fifteen yeath, and I didn't call that a hurry at all."

"It seems a good while to me," said the lodger, "when I think of the fourteen sage-seasoned turkeys I've missed."

It is a slow baby that does not know which of its relatives is most easily imposed upon.—Puck.

ORIGINAL.

Christmas.

EVE.

Oh golden glowing sunset
Above the purpling height,
Thou silver cloud so bright and soft
Thou faintly fading light,
Ye stars deep in the darkening sky,
And moon, so pale and young,
Sing me the words of joy and hope
That once the angels sung.

MIDNIGHT.

Oh, fields, lie still and listen;
Quiet, ye bleating sheep!
Ye shepherds watching through the dark,
Close not your eyes in sleep!
A distant sound of music
Awakes the early morn,
And voices as of angel choirs
Steal onward with the dawn.

MORNING.

Oh, world, awake to gladness!
The night of sin is past;
Arise, thou Sun of Rightousness,
And shine on us at last!
The glorious star of Bethlehem
Sheds forth its gladsome ray,
To guide the steps of erring man
On to the perfect day.

—Rev. Arthur Chase.

THE IDEAL IN AMERICAN CITIZENSHIP.

An abstract of an address delivered in the Baptist church, Three Rivers, Sunday evening, Nov. 18th, by E. A. Thomas, and repeated by special request Dec. 15th.

What is the ideal in American citizenship? We do not know; nobody knows. We do not know because it has never been attained; we can only see what the ideal has accomplished.

By the ideal in American citizenship I mean that indefinable something which has moved men to heroic achievements and to noble deeds; that power which prompted them to stand for right and justice, and which marshalled truth against error, and led men forth to strike for liberty and God. What has our ideal done? History will tell us.

In the religious history of our country it was that conviction of duty which called our forefathers across the ocean wave to a home where there was "freedom to worship God." In the history of our government it was that conviction of duty which convened the Federal convention at Philadelphia until that convention finished its work and gave to the Nation an instrument of which the centuries have not been ashamed—the constitution of the United States. And in the realms of patriotism it was noble sentiment in Betsy Ross which prompted her to draw down the blue from the heavens, the blood from the veins of our heroes, blend with them the purity of her own life and weave for the Nation our "Star Spangled Banner!" That is what I mean by the ideal in American citizenship. Our citizenship is not what it is just because men started out to make it such. Our citizenship is an embodiment of ideals. Our country is great because great men have lived, labored and died here; and by their lives, labors and death they achieved, not all they wanted to achieve, but what their lofty purposes and high ideals made it possible for them to achieve. We have their legacies to enjoy, but their ideals still beckon us on to nobler work and a larger national life. Out of our glorious history comes a hand which writes upon the walls of our national superstructure this lesson: The prosperity of our national life in the future does not depend upon any single political issue of the day, not upon the election of any one man to any office in the land, state or national, but it rests with the people; the question is whether or not the people in the future—as in the past—will keep ever before them the glorious ideal in American citizenship; whether or not the people will demand that public office be a sacred trust; that the principles founded at Plymouth Rock shall be maintained; that every citizen shall recognize the constitution as the corner-stone of our Republic, and that "Liberty and Union" shall be the vital principle of our national life.

But let us be more specific. Loyalty to the ideal in American citizenship demands of us many things; time will permit only a few of them to be mentioned:

First: The enforcement of law! Our liberty is embodied in our law. The non-enforcement of law means a menace to liberty. It is not enough to have good laws—we must have good men behind them. The law is necessary, but the law with a man behind it is indispensible. We have examples of men who have done their duty by the law. Such a one was Andrew Jackson, who struck terror to the Nullifies in South Carolina; such a one is Theodore Roosevelt in New York City; such a one is the present governor of Massachusetts.

Secondly: Loyalty to the men who represent us in our legislative assemblies. There is a spirit of criticism which assumes that when a man becomes a candidate for political honors he thereby forfeits his moral rectitude. This is neither logical nor true. It does not follow that because a man is a political leader he is not a good man or a true man. The fact is that many of our leaders are among our best men—they are Christian men. Gen. O. O. Howard knew how to pray as well as how to fight; Hon. Elijah A. Morse nobly represents our commonwealth at Washington, as he equally well represents the Christian character wherever his voice is heard. It is by loyalty to such men as these that we shall perpetuate the ideals of the past. In citizenship, as in every phase of life, unjust criticism prevails. It is not very becoming in us, after we have chosen a man to represent us, to begin to doubt him and criticise him. Let us support him until we have better evidence than a newspaper report to impeach him upon. And let us remember that the representatives of the people are as awake to the dangers of the nation, and as alive to its interests as the people whom they represent.

Third: The protection of our free public schools. Our public schools are the bulwarks of our Nation's safety. They were established amid perils and privations, but they have lived because the human mind lives and finds its nourishment in the public school. In the public school the first great principles of national life are set forth outside the home; the first fires of patriotism are kindled in the public school; and in the public schools the men who are to build the homes, make the laws and wield the destinies of the Nation, are receiving the first grand impetus toward their work. If we want our schools to build up the American character we must keep them free from all Fourth: Loyalty to the American flag. sectarian monopoly and ecclesiastical authority.

Wherever that flag has gone—on land or on sea—it has been the herald of a better day. Beneath its folds men have fought for country and home, for the flag they have lived and died; and living and dying have exclaimed with the wounded soldier boy: "Oh the flag! the Stars and Stripes!" Whoever comes within the domain of our flag breathes the air of freedom. Its history is blended with a glorious record of business patriotism. Made by a woman, it floats its protection over the rights of women. What nights of darkness its stars have illumined; what hours of pain and darkness it has lightened; how many thousands of foot-sore men it has led out from the despondency of defeat to the glory of victory; over how many heroes in death it has folded its benediction. Our ideal in the past has maintained loyalty to the flag—loyalty which protects it from insult on the ocean and on the land, a loyalty that raises it and keeps it floating where no hand shall dare pull it down—"O'er the land of the free and the home of the brave!"

Once more: Loyalty to the ideal in American citizenship means the preservation of America for Americans. The question of who should rule America in the past has been fought out upon the battle field; in the future it is to be fought out at the ballot box. We have a mighty work to do in reconstructing the deeds of the past. It is no new saying that the war did not settle the position of the United States among the nations of the world. What we were was proved upon the battle field at Antietam, at Malvern Hill, Gettysburg; but what we shall be is being wrought out in our national life day by day. Let us not deceive ourselves; we have a mighty work to do before us, and that is to take all the representatives of all the different nationalities that come to our shores—stamp out their ignorance, crush out their anarchy, annihilate their superstition—and through the intricacy of our political machinery and in the light of our liberty to grind this crude material and from its dust rebuild men, imbue them with the American idea and thrill them with American patriotism. This is our work, and it is no easy task.

Such is some of the work which loyalty to the ideal in American citizenship demands. Glorious, indeed, will be the victory if we win, ignominious the defeat if we fail. But we shall not fail! We must not fail! The virtue and the sins, the glory and the shame, the victories and the defeats of the centuries are ours to study. The priceless treasure of American liberty is ours; the lives of American heroes order us forward; the better land, the brighter day, the larger life are still ahead. We are waiting and watching to see the same divine hand that placed the crown of nobility upon the brow of Washington, that fired the heart of Webster with the eloquence of Massachusetts and that girded the will of Grant with the steel armor of battle,—we are watching for that hand to "sweep the chords of men's better nature," and roll the billows of patriotism from shore to shore until state shall blend with state, man unite with man, heart with heart, and our nation's light shall shine—not only as forty-five stars on a field of blue, but—as the single, brightest star in the diadem of national glory.

A HUNDRED-DOLLAR PIE.

Jim is just Jim—has been this side of nowhere for 40 years or more. His horse, like himself, a character, and the green wagon, too, have been in evidence a shorter period, but they also are growing old. The business of all three is that of buying old libraries and redisposing of them at a profit to dealers, who, in turn, make a fortune by selling them to Senators, Supreme Court Justices and newspaper men.

Jim was a boy during the war times—a lively one, and he made money then as now, but in a different occupation, says the Washington Star. He sold pies in the camps. Every morning he set out with two big baskets of pies, stacked up carefully, and made the round of the different tented villages which then spread over spaces now covered with brick and brown stone and inhabited by the rich, the famous and the select.

Good pies, such as Jim's mother made, brought a quarter each, and there were margins on them, both of crisp, rich crust and crisp, rich profits. At nightfall Jim came home with empty baskets and pockets full of shinplasters.

"The best day's trade," said Jim to a reporter of old times, "the best day's trade I ever had was when I was in the pie business. Several regiments had gone to the front and my customers were among them. Business had been slow. I had trouble in getting rid of all my pies. Apple and pumkpin went quick; cranberry was slow, and one night I found myself with a cranberry pie that I knew was three days old. I had turned toward home, thinking I would have that pie myself for supper, to save the loss. I had been out to a New York regiment near Rock Creek and was coming past Washington Circle, when I met a grizzled old soldier shaking his blue legs along the road, trying to struggle back to camp.

"What yer got, boy?" he asked as I passed him.

"Pies, boss," I replied as pert as if that one old cranberry tart hadn't whiskers on it.

"He took it up and smelled of it, and before he said he would take it, or had made any move to pay for it, took a big bite out of it. I can see that bite now, with the jags in it where the old man's teeth were gone.

"As I began to make a fuss over his taking the pie, he pulled up his blue trousers leg, shoved his finger down in his stocking and pulled out a greasy old bill."

"There ye are, bub, take that fer yer old pie."

"It was a $100 bill—not a greenback, but a 'wildcat' bill by the Pittsburgh Traders' Bank.

"I told him I couldn't change it,' and made out he was codding me.

"'Never mind the change,' he snapped out, 'the bill's as good as yer old pie. Ye can jest take the bill an' git or I'll make ye eat the pie and the bill, too. Scat!'

"I thought he was going to lick me an' I set off on a run. I found afterward that the old chap had been playing poker down town all the afternoon and had won the bill, supposing as I did until next day that it was worthless. I put it in a bank for collection and I got just $97.60 for it, the exchange being $2 40. I never sold a pie before or since for such a good price."

NEW YORK IS A BIG PLACE.—Two men who had been schoolmates in Kentucky met in Broadway on a recent morning. "Hello!" said one, "I haven't seen you in ten years. Going to be here long? I'd like to talk over old times with you." "Going to be here long?" repeated the other. "I've lived here for eight years. My office is in Broadway here. Are you just here on a visit?" "Great Scott, no. This has been my home for six years. I've been here all that time. Funny we never met before, isn't it?" And they agreed that New York was a big place.—New York Tribune.

A GENTLE HINT.—The emancipated young woman was calling upon her gentleman love, and she heeded but little the rapid flight of the hour. The young man's vigilant mamma noted the time in her room up stairs, and presently she called down: "George, dear!" "Yes, mamma." "Has that young woman gone yet?" "No, mamma," replied George, dutifully. "Tell her I do not allow lady callers to remain after 11 o'clock. You must not lose your beauty sleep."—Judge.

THAT'S JUST AS BAD.—It wasn't really her fault that the buscuits burned a little on the bottom, and he ought not to have raised so big a row about it. "I suppose such a thing never happened in all your mother's cooking," she said, sarcastically. "Never," he asserted. "Occasionally she used to get them so light that they would float up to the top of the oven and get scorched that way, but they never burned on the bottom."—Cincinnati Enquirer.

The Journal.

FRIDAY EVENING, DECEMBER 27, 1895.

LOCAL NOTICES.

Something new, Celery Cigars; good for the nerves; try them. Sold by LeGro & Lynde.

Notice.—All bills due me and remaining unpaid January 1st will be placed in an attorney's hands for collection. H. G. Loomis.

FINE STATIONERY.—Blue is the fashionable shade for ladies' correspondence paper now, and "Ciel Bleu" is the very latest and most correct. "Prince of Wales" is another popular style, and comes in four shades, Silver Blue, Cream, French Grey and Beryl. Samples of all these papers and the fashionable sizes now prevailing can be seen at the JOURNAL Office.

PALMER NEWS.

CHRISTMAS AT THE CHURCHES.

The Sermons Preached Sunday, Sunday School Concerts, Christmas Trees and Entertainments.

The fine weather of last Sunday drew large audiences to all the churches, where Christmas sermons and special music was in order. In the evening there were concerts by the Sunday school at the Congregational, Baptist and Universalist churches, which were also well attended. The Christmas celebrations came later in the week.

At the Baptist church Sunday morning the platform was decorated with an arch of evergreen and Christmas trees, and Rev. C. R. Minard took for his subject "The Significance of the Incarnation," his text being John 3:16, "God so loved the world that He gave His only begotton son."

Christmas marks a definite stage in life's pathway. It holds before us the memories of the past, the gladness of the present, and the anticipation for the future. The teachings of childhood return with reinvigorating life, and the record of the birth of the Babe of Bethlehem is brought with new and hallowed interest to our attention. That birth, unheralded by or to the world at lagre, is the event upon which the destiny of men and nations depends. Moral crookedness and consequent unworthy ideals to-day exist, and if these are ever eradicated and their places filled by truth and regnant love, it will be accomplished only by a grand turning back again to Him who came into the world as the poorest of men and yet who in nobility of character towered infinitely above the best of them. To make such a turning both possible and effective God devised the scheme of redemption through the incarnation and death of His Son. The final expression of God's interest in men was there given. God's revelations have always been to all mankind. Some, however, refused them and became unable to appreciate the increasing light when it came. Chaldeans and Egyptians alike were weighed and found wanting. God then called Abraham and formed of his descendants a new nation for the performance of His work. This call was a manifestation of intense interest in men. But there were others of equal merit. The marvelous development of this nation amidst Egyptian bondage, their preservation in the Wilderness, the founding of the prophetical schools, the choice of David as king, the Babylonian Captivity, all these were unmistakable tokens of God's benignant plans for man's good. But the Incarnation was the extreme measure of His love. Divinity then made the unspeakable condescention of circumscribing Himself within humanity even to the suffering of death. Something of the same spirit is revealed in the self-sacrifice of Father Damien, who gave himself to the evangelization of the leper colony in Hawaii. Peter Claver sold himself into the horrors of Spanish slavery that he might with the utmost freedom tell the story of a forgiving Christ to the black bondsmen whom he had learned to love. These portray a kindred spirit to that of the Incarnation, but pitifully fail to express it adequately. Indeed, who hath such words of eternal life but God only? When men shall produce again those exquisite harmonies which ravished the hearts of the angelic choirs and forced them for very gladness to burst forth into songs upon Bethlehen's plains, and when they shall be able to sound the depths of the heart of Christ as that awful cry, "Forsaken," rang through the gruesome blackness of Calvary's Mount, then shall they be able to express the full measure of God's love for man in other and adequate terms than those which we bring to you to-day. "For God so loved the world that He gave His only begotten Son."

Tuesday evening there was a Christmas tree for the children of the Sunday school, at which the little ones enjoyed themselves as only children can at such times.

The decorations at the Congregational church Sunday were largely of running pine, loops of which were hung on the choir loft rail, with large stars suspended between the windows on the sides of the audience room, while across the front of the pulpit platform was a large arch, bearing the words "Peace and Good Will." The subject of Rev. Mr. Jenkins's sermon was: "Christmas Joy the Year Around," and his text Luke 2:10, 11. He said:

The date of Christ's birth is not definitely known. When first mentioned in literature it was celebrated by the Eastern church on Jan. 6, and in the Western on Dec. 25. Through the influence of a sermon preached by Chrysostom in 386, Dec. 25 came to be universally adopted, and Christmas gradually developed into a great church festival. During the middle ages its celebration was very theatrical. As late as 1830 a remnant of this could be seen in the rocking of a doll in a cradle adorned with lights on a spire of the Cathedral of Tuebinger at midnight, while a band played the hymn of the Nativity. It has become a children's festival in all branches of the church. Our Puritan forefathers, because of the coarseness and unchristian elements in its celebration in their day, rejected it as a thing of evil; and they were right. But their descendants have restored it in a more Christian form, and its celebration is universal in our land.

The Christmas festival displaced the custom among our heathen ancestors of celebrating the turning of the sun in its winter's journey, and some of its elements in past and present had a non-christian origin. The lighting of tapers came from a Jewish feast; the giving of presents was of Roman origin; the yule-tree and yule-log were remnants of Teutonic nature-worship. Christianity gives a place to all that is good and innocent, whatever its source.

The celebration of Christmas to-day is of a most varied character. To some it is a time of unusual license; to others of mere mirth of all grades. The worldly man drinks the deepest draughts from the cup he likes best. But to the Christian it speaks of the good tidings of great joy which came to the earth in the person of the Babe of Bethlehem. I claim the word "joy" for Christian uses only, and that when it is used in other connections it is without its full meaning. The joy of the Christian in his Saviour and Lord is different in kind from anything else in this world. In Jesus Christ God has entered humanity. The incarnation as a speculative myth may seem dry, but as a fact it is the most thrilling known to man. God is forever in humanity in the person of Jesus Christ, and Jesus Christ is in every believer, in the person of the Holy Spirit. The coming of such a one to be the world's saviour from sin, from life's defeat, and from hopeless death into everlasting, ineffable life, brings great joy indeed, known only to him who has the conscious experience of this work in his own life.

This joy is not a thing of seasons only, but for the whole year around and for all of life. It is intended to be a universal joy, never ceasing, but always in full tide in the life of every person. The angel heralded the joy which shall be "to all people." It is limited to-day only by the shutting of hearts against it. In the wish and purpose of God it is for the whole human race.

Let us all seek to lay hold of Christmas joy anew, that it may be in all the coming years our unfailing possession. Let us carry the spirit of Christmas, the joy of making others happy, into all our festive lives, into our homes, in the church, in the community and the world. A wife of an English nobleman sent a newly-engaged servant to the station for her husband. "Look for a tall man helping somebody," said she. He was was found helping from the train a poor old lady with her bundles. That was indeed nobility which could command such a tribute to its never-failing activity in doing good. The spirit of self-denying helpfulness is the very spirit of Christmas—may it be ours the year around.

Tuesday evening the children of the Sunday school were given a supper in the church vestry, and afterward gave a Christmas cantata, under the direction of Mrs. J. B. Shaw.

At St. Paul's Universalist church Rev. Mr. Moulton took for his subject "The Wrong and the Right Use of the Christmas Season," his text being John 3:16, "God so loved the world that He gave His only begotten Son," and Acts 20:35, "It is more blessed to give than to receive."

The Christmas season is one of joy. One reason why we find this season so pleasant to anticipate and satisfying in participation is because we forget ourselves in thinking about and preparing gifts for other people; joy is a constant companion of giving. If we are to experience the highest joy we must give, not necessarily material gifts, but spiritual gifts. True, there is joy in giving money, food and clothing, and there is joy in giving pleasant memories, the assurance of confidence and trust, love to enemies, and help of an opportunity to the deserving poor.

It is a wrong use of these days to have our thought and action completely absorbed in the giving and receiving of material gifts. This use degenerates the Christmas season to one of overwork, display and extravagance. These things do not honor the Saviour or make honorable this sacred anniversary of His birth. The old and right idea of a Christmas gift was simply a token of friendship. If you are overworking in the preparation of Christmas gifts, if your thought in giving and receiving is merely for display, if you are putting almost your last dollar into presents, you are perverting the true custom of giving. One can make his Christmas gifts contain what Beecher called "God's medicine," or what Hunt called "Melancholy in disguise."

The right use of these days is not merely in the right giving of material and temporal gifts, but in the giving of spiritual and eternal gifts. It is more important to give children the memories of a pleasant home than it is to give them an extravagant display of toys. What home is remembered the longest, the one where the presents were useful or useless? the one where peace and happiness or where passion and untidiness reigned? A father or mother can give to a child no gift so blessed as the growing memory of a good home. It is more important to give to our friends an assurance of an increasing confidence and trust in them, than it is to give them costly presents. The best Christmas gift that any of you can give to me or to any friend is an assurance of a growing confidence and trust in our manliness or womanliness. All material gifts are as nothing compared with the worth of this assurance; it blesses both the giver and receiver.

Now comes two other classes—our enemies and the poor. It is almost impossible to find a person without an enemy; even Christ had enemies. What gift have we for our enemies? Is it hate? Jesus said: "Love your enemies." Confessedly, it is not an easy thing to love one's enemies; often they are cruel, mean and unkind, especially when they sneer with sarcasm at all our advances of love. However, the love gift is ideal. Our Christmas gift to an enemy should be not hate, but love. If he or she cast it under their feet they shall gain nothing; we shall gain much. "Be not overcome of evil, but overcome evil with good." The poor we always have with us,—what Christmas gift shall we give to them? The gift of an opportunity to work is one of the best gifts that come into the homes and lives of the unemployed poor.

As the closing words of this sermon Mr. Moulton said: "Charles Dickens, in one of his letters to his friend Foster, sent him a holiday greeting, one which is a model of sincerity and which the mind of man can be defied to improve upon. As the pastor of this church, permit me to give it as my holiday greeting to all my parishioners, friends and acquaintances in this community,—'Many merry Christmases, many happy New Years, unbroken friendships, great accumulation of cheerful recollections, affection on earth and heaven at last for all of us.'"

The decorations were of white bunting, laurel and evergreen. A Christmas tree for the children was stripped of a bountiful supply of presents in the parlors Tuesday evening.

At St. Thomas's Catholic church the regular Christmas services were held on Wednesday. The singing at the 8 30 mass was by the children's choir. High mass was held at 10.30, at which the musical programme was exceptionally well rendered. Vesper services were held at 7.30 p. m. The altar was beautifully decorated with cut flowers and lights for the occasion. After the 8.30 mass the customary Christmas gifts were distributed to the children of the parish. The North Wilbraham church belongs to this parish, and the service was held there at 10 a. m., the children there also being remembered.

"Crazy Jack" Killed by the Cars.

John Cahill, 59, better known throughout the town as "Crazy Jack," was struck by the 11 a. m. train north on the New London Northern road yesterday and instantly killed, his skull being crushed, and both arms and one leg broken. The accident occured a short distance east of the Ferrill crossing, and when seen by the engineer "Jack" was walking on the track toward the train, his head bent forward and in motion, and he was evidently singing or talking to himself, as was his custom. "Jack" has been a familiar figure about town for years, and was mentally unbalanced. The cause of his trouble is not definitely known, though there is a story that while on his way to this country as a young lad his mother died and was buried at sea, the grief over the event turning his brain. He has lived with his father and brother at Thorndike, and has done various kinds of work, principally sawing wood. He was harmless, though his loud manner of speech, which was always a shout, and his peculiar laugh made him feared by strangers who happened to come in contact with him. Some years ago "Jack" was much more boisterous than of late, and J. A. Palmer, while deputy sheriff, had occasion to arrest him once to get him off the street, and put the handcuffs on him. "Jack" never forgot this, and when he wished to threaten anyone with dire calamity he would tell them that "Jason P-a-l-mer'll get you; he'll put the c-h-a-i-ns on you."

Dr. Ellery left on Monday for his new home in California.

The Once a Week Club met Saturday evening at the Converse House.

Holden & Fuller's woolen shut down Tuesday night for the rest of the week.

John F. Crowley has been spending his Christmas vacation in Wilbraham.

Miss Nellie Cutter of Stoneham has been spending the week at J. A. Breckenridge's.

Mr. and Mrs. F. E. Cady have gone to Monson to live, and are at the Monson House.

Miss Abbie Holbrook has returned from a six-months' visit with friends in New Haven.

The pews in the Congregational church will be sold next Monday evening at 7 o'clock.

The annual meeting, roll call and supper of the Baptist church will be held next Monday evening.

There will be no session of Mr. Holland's dancing class next week, the next meeting being January 9th.

A new bill board for the opera house has been erected on the west side of Commercial street near the railroad tracks.

Misses Cathie and Eliza Leary, teachers in the high school at Naugatuck, Ct., are guests of their sister, Mrs P. E. Bard.

The Sunday school of St. Paul's Universalist church was presented with a handsome clock last Sunday by Joseph Page.

Next Sunday will be the Sunday within the octave of the nativity at St. Thomas's church, with services at the usual hours.

The subject of Rev. C. R. Minard's sermon at the Baptist church next Sunday morning will be "Simeon's Message Concerning the Christ."

The annual meeting of the Congregational church will be held next Thursday evening, when reports from all branches of church work are expected.

The heads of families among the employes at the carpet mill each received a turkey for Christmas, the gift of M. J. Whittall, senior partner of the firm.

C. S. W. Pooley and wife have gone to New York for a ten-days' stay. Mr. Pooley is manager of the Palmer branch of G. W. Doane's real estate agency.

Miss Lucy Shaw entertained a party of friends at her home Wednesday evening. There was a Christmas tree, instrumental and vocal music, and refreshments.

At a meeting of the Baptist Young People's Union held Monday evening Rev. C. R. Minard resigned as president, and Arthur Wells was elected to fill the vacancy.

The Order of the Eastern Star will hold its annual meeting this evening, to be followed by a social and a story-telling contest, under the direction of Miss Linden Frost.

The Sons of Veterans will give a New Year's ball in the opera house on Tuesday evening of next week, giving an opportunity to dance the old year out and the new year in.

Manager Hills of the opera house is in correspondence with Cleveland's minstrels, and hopes to secure a date from them before the season is over. There are 77 people in the company.

A report of the patriotic address given at Three Rivers by E. A. Thomas, the pastor-elect of the Baptist church at that place, will be found on the first page, and is well worth reading.

The JOURNAL is informed by a member of the A. P. A. that it's statement last week that council 71 had been organized in this place was incorrect; the number should have been 164, otherwise the item was all right.

The selectmen inspected the bridges of the town Tuesday, and find that a new one will be needed at Burleigh's crossing, and also across the canal at the No. 1 mill in Thorndike, and will recommend that iron ones be built at these places.

The big candle in G. A. Moore's jewelry store burned out this morning, having lasted 67 hours and 5 minutes. Helen Jenkins made the closest guess, 67 hours, 20 minutes, 1 second, and will be given a choice of either the camera or the opera glasses.

E. D. Tufts was the lucky one to receive the gold watch which F. D. Barton gave to the one guessing nearest the time at which another watch, wound and placed in a sealed case, would stop. The watch stopped at 6.16.38, and Mr. Tufts guessed 6.26.

By a strange oversight, in last week's item regarding the musicale given by Mrs Jesse Rogers, the name of Miss Eloise Stone was omitted from the list of artists participating. Miss Stone's piano solo was heartily encored, she responding with another piece.

At the meeting of the Quaboag Literary Circle this evening the following programme has been arranged in the English Literature course: Essay, "Shakspeare," H. C. Strong; reading of the Round Table by Mrs. M. B. Lawson; recitation, Miss Ada Murdock of Thorndike.

One of the largest panes of plate glass in Allen's drug store windows was found broken this morning, the break being in the shape of a V, the fractures running from the two upper corners to a point in the center at the lower edge of the glass. It was probably caused by the settling of the building.

Good Cheer Rebekah Degree lodge elected these officers Tuesday evening: N. G., Miss Jennie Eastman; V. G., Mrs. Emma Maxwell; R. S., Mrs. Nellie Henry; treasurer, Mrs. Clara Converse; P. S., Miss M. E. Robinson; trustees, Mrs. W. B. Ham, Mrs. G. B. Kenerson and Mrs G. W. Camp.

The annual fair of the Eastern Hampden Agricultural society will come on the 22d and 23d of September, next year, a little later than for the past few years, and the directors thereby hope to avoid the storm which has had a habit of appearing on the the second day of the fair for some years past.

At the Universalist church next Sunday morning Rev. Mr. Moulton will preach on "An Appeal to the Past, or Looking unto the Rock from whence We are Hewn." In the evening his subject will be: "What Use have We Made and What Use are We to Make of God's Trust Fund which is in Our Hands?"

The pastor of the Congregational church will give his annual message Sunday morning, reviewing the year and dealing with the problems of church and parish. In the evening there will be a sermon on "The Deepest Thing on Earth," followed by a general consecration service. All organizations in the church are invited to participate in this latter service.

The Palmer Carpet Company takes exceptions to the statement of the creelers regarding the reason for their leaving work last week. The company states that the creelers were not and are not asked to do anything different from the custom which has been in vogue for years. The trouble seems to have originated with one boy who was determined to leave the mill, and he worked among the rest until he got them discontented.

The following have neither been absent nor tardy during the fall term of 1895, 16 weeks: Fannie L. Barnes, Josephine Brown, Kate L. Brown, Ethel E. Caryl, Nellie Finnerty, May Fiske, Ruth Gager, Blanche T. Lyman, Ola Mae Northrop, Mamie A. Roche, Harold W. Brainerd, Walter H. Brown, Ernest E. Hobson, Clifton H. Hobson, Frank S. Keith, Arthur O. Pauline, Elmer H. Powell, John F. Roche, Albert D. Shaw, Walter E. Tuthill.

Martin Hollis, the Three Rivers Polander who was charged with an assault on a fellow-countryman some time ago, was found guilty of an assault with a dangerous weapon by the superior court in Springfield this week. Hollis, it will be remembered, fired a revolver through the door of his house when the other fellow, who had been at the house drinking earlier in the evening, attempted to force his way in; Hollis warned him to desist, and as he continued to hammer at the door Hollis fired through it, the bullet striking the man in the groin, but not inflicting a serious wound, and he has fully recovered. Hollis was given six months.

Lorence Lebidore, a Bondsville Polander, who when found by the officer Christmas was fighting drunk, had his coat off and was on his way to "clean out" the entire company at a house where a keg of beer was on tap, pleaded guilty to being "a little drunk, not very much," and paid $10. Joseph Boron, of the same nationality, pleaded not guilty to a charge of too much Christmas exhilaration, and the case was continued until this morning, when he was fined $10 and discharged, a friend having promised to pay his fine. George P. Johnson of Fall River was this morning sent to the house of correction for two months because of drunkenness.

Home from school for the holidays: W. E. Breckenridge from Mount Clair, N. J., Miss Alice Brown from Fitchburg, Miss Mina Ball from Vermont, Miss Gertrude Ball from Brookfield, Miss Lizzie Wassum from Northfield, J. E. Breckenridge from Yale, Calvin Hastings and Charles Atkins from Worcester, Henry Holbrook and David Dillon from Tufts, E. C. Gardner and Harold Shaw from Amherst, Clarence Wing from Peekskill, N. Y., Miss Bertha Hastings from Smith College, Miss Bessie Royce from Tilton, N. H., Harry Sisk and Louis Cross from Boston, Arthur Holbrook from Fairfield, N. Y, Miss Addie Rogers from Albany, N. Y., Silas Keith from Philadelphia.

The attraction at the opera house to-morrow evening will be "Sidetracked," under the direction of A. Q. Scammon. "Sidetracked" has not a very elaborate or complicated plot. The story deals with a murder committed by a superintendent of a railroad, who endeavors to fasten the crime on another man, who is his successful rival for the hand of a woman they both love. The tramp upsets all schemes, and finally brings everything out all right. There is considerable variety introduced, and some of the specialties, songs and dances are unusually good. Several Palmer people have seen it, and pronounce it well worth attending. Seats are on sale at Allen's, and are selling well.

Some of the charitably inclined people of one of Palmer's churches, in looking about for someone to make happy on Christmas, hit upon a family consisting of a mother and two boys, the eldest about nine, and their aged grandmother. The mother was told on Monday that the family would be given the materials for a Christmas dinner,—turkey and all the fixin's,—and that they would be sent Christmas morning. The materials were sent, when the donors found that the mother had been married the day before and gone on a wedding trip of two weeks, leaving the grandmother sick at home and the boys to take care of themselves and her. The oldest lad did not propose to lose his Christmas dinner, though, and announced that he would cook the turkey himself.

The clock-voting contest at Stone's store for the most popular fireman will close next Wednesday evening at 9 o'clock. To-day M. J. Dawson is ahead, with P. Lynch second and T. J. Conroy third. The figures to-day are:

M. J. Dawson,	641
Patrick Lynch,	586
T. J. Conroy,	505
T. H. Dwyer (Ware River R. R.)	422
J. B. Longwill,	291
John Lyman,	190
Adelbert Maxwell,	147
Dennis Connors,	143
George Burdick,	136
Thos. Boyle,	99
Frank Roach,	98
Chas. McManamy,	90
J. H. Lynch,	31
Patrick Comer,	24
Thos. Edwards,	23
John Conway,	22
A. Gordon,	17
Moses Winters,	12
Herbert Winters,	12
W. Nolan,	11
F. A. Paro,	9

Charles F. Mooers of Thorndike was before the district court last Saturday to answer to a complaint of assault. Mooers is the driver of the 'bus which brings the high school pupils to this village, and the complainant was the father of Mary Longtine, who claimed that his daughter had been struck with a whip by Mooers on the 14th of November. The Longtine girl had been troubling the drivers of the 'bus for a long time, hanging on the vehicle and refusing to keep away when ordered to. On this day one of the occupants of the 'bus threw out some milk remaining in a dinner pail, and it struck the girl, who picked up a stone and threw it at the 'bus; it was caught and thrown back, and then the girl approached the 'bus and struck at the occupants with a switch. Mooers claims that he swung his whip around toward the girl, but did not strike at her, and there was not force enough to the swing of the whip to have hurt an infant. The girl claimed that the whip struck her across the neck, inflicting a painful bruise. Mooers was fined the costs in the case, $6 30, but appealed.

PALMER CENTER.

Daniel Crimmins, Jr. of Spencer, spent Christmas here with his parents.

Miss Edith Dimock spent Christmas at Monson, the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Cooley.

There was a family gathering at the home of Horace Stimson Christmas, consisting of Rufus from Cambridge, Cyrus and wife from Bridgeport, Joseph from New York city, Henry and wife from Northampton, also Miss Annie Howe of Cambridge.

Charles Merritt and daughter Lizzie had a narrow escape from a serious acident Christmas day. An attempt to turn too short with a carriage resulted in their being thrown out, but they escaped with a few bruises. The carriage was totally demolished. The horse ran to a tree where he has been in the habit of standing hitched, and stopped.

BONDSVILLE.

Mr. and Mrs. W. Watson of New Haven are visiting Mrs. E. C. Russell.

Amos W. Slate of Springfield spent Christmas with friends in this place.

Miss Alice L. Thompson went to Woodville for her Christmas vacation.

Miss Hattie B. Smith, a teacher in the Northampton public schools, has been spending a few days with Miss Ora W. Parent.

Mr. and Mrs. King, the parents of Mrs. Hale, have come from their home in Randolph to spend the winter with their daughter.

Miss Edith I. Hobson of Palmer has been spending a few days with friends in town. She, with her brother Clifton, returned home Tuesday.

A Christmas concert was given in the M. E. church Tuesday night, in which the primary department of the Sunday school took most prominent part. A Christmas tree ended the entertainment. Rev. and Mrs. F. J. Hale were kindly remembered by a purse of money.

Home for the holidays—Herbert Sedgwick from New Haven, Otis Sedgwick from Tufts College, Wallace Knowlton from Worcester Tech, Olin F. Parent from Wesleyan University, Miss Ora W. Parent from Smith; Daniel B. Sullivan from Amherst, Richard Russell from Three Rivers.

A great many complaints are being made concerning the smoking nuisance at the post-office, especially about the time the evening mail is distributed. The odor arising from the score or more of old pipes and cigarettes at this time is decidedly sickening, and the public hope that steps will be taken for the abatement of the nuisance.

THREE RIVERS.

Charles Snyder spent Sunday in South Framingham.

Miss Grigware of Ware is spending a few weeks with Mrs. W. B. Provo.

Miss Polly Kershaw of West Boylston is visiting Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Needham.

Mrs. Emma Damon of New London, Ct., is the guest of Mrs. W. O. Twogood this week.

The Whist Club meets next Monday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Ruggles.

Miss Lucy Graves has resigned her position as organist in the Baptist church of this village, and Mrs. Hecox has been elected as her successor.

W. E. Squier, who is working in Meriden, Ct., returned to his work last evening after spending Christmas among friends and relatives in this viliage.

Lillie Ives, Alphonse Henrichon and Theodore Gravel of the French-American college at Springfield are spending a week's vacation at their homes in this place.

E. A. Thomas read his acceptance of the call given him by the Baptist church of this place last Sunday morning. Although Mr. Thomas will be unable to be with his people during the week, the parishioners are much pleased that he has accepted their call.

Mrs. J. C. Boulay gave a reception to her music pupils Monday evening at her home on East Main street. About 25 were present. The music during the evening was chiefly furnished by the pupils, and reflected great credit upon Mrs. Boulay as their instructor. After a pleasant evening the company separated, not, however until they had presented Mrs. Boulay with a handsome lemonade set as a token of regard and esteem for their teacher. Mrs. Boulay gave each a handsome Christmas card as a souvenir of the occasion.

THORNDIKE.

Mr. F. May returned from New Bedford on Thursday, after spending Christmas with his family here.

The advance sale of tickets for the Young Men's Union concert and ball on Tuesday evening next gives promise of a large party being present.

The "After Nine Club" celebrated Christmas at their rooms in a very enjoyable manner with music and song. The rooms were decorated with evergreen, refreshments were served, and a good time in general prevailed.

The Young Men's Union will give their concert and ball next Tuesday evening in Union Hall. The following is the concert programme:

March. "Duectorate." Sousa
Overture. "Last of the Hogans." Braham
Clarinet solo. Selected.
Mr. C. L. Hoyt.
Selection. "Said Pasha." Stahl
Finale. "Around the Metropolis." Braham

Christmas passed in a quiet and enjoyable manner. Large congregations were present at the Catholic church at all services. A Christmas tree exercise was held at the Congregational church which was largely attended, and "Santa Claus" amply provided for all present. There was no drunkenness seen about the street, this being a noticeable fact. The merchants report a splendid trade.

Those who spent Christmas in town: John Moran from Ware, Isaac Gerald from New Bedford, S. W. Moran of Lynn, Dennis Crowley of Worcester, Daniel Hartnett from Connecticut, P. J. Coffee from Palmer, Granger F. Clark from Providence, Wilbur McElwain of Indiana, Dr. M. W. Roche of Pawtucket, R. I., D. J. Shields, Jr., from New York, D. J. Shields, Sr., from Pittsfield, Mr. and Mrs. Michael Sullivan from Ware, Mr. and Mrs. George Deausault from Ware, Miss Lizzie Hartnett and Miss Katie Toomey from Springfield, Miss Maggie Coffee and Miss Nellie Murphy from New York, Michael Cavanaugh from Palmer, the Misses Flynn from Northampton, Miss Genevra Clark from Smith College, Mrs. M. Mathews from Warren.

BORN.

At Palmer, 22d, a son to Lewis and Ida Friday.

MARRIED.

At Monson, 25th, by Rev. W. H. Marble, Charles Rennison of Ware and Elvira M. Brooks of Monson.

At Wilbraham, 17th, by Rev. M. S. Howard, Charles T. Fonda of Wheatland, Mo., and Mary D. Cadle of Wilbraham.

At West Warren, 25th, by Rev. W. H. Dockham, John J. Lester and Minnie E. Grant.

At Northampton, 26th, George Eddy of Ware and Martha Jane Fay of Northampton.

At Ware, 24th, by Rev. A. M. Osgood, George A. Tucker of West Brookfield, and Mrs. Catherine Fitzgerald, eldest daughter of Robert Russell of Gilbertville.

DIED.

At Palmer, 23d, John McBride, 84.
At Warren, 22d, Mary, 45, wife of Henry G. Towne.
At Ware, 25th, William Hodge, 40.
At Ware, 23d, Tuffield Courrier, 40.
At Ware, 26th, Mrs. Daniel Healey, 32.

Advertisements in this column one cent a word for first insertion, half a cent a word each additional insertion; no charge less than 25 cents.

FOR SALE.—Meadow hay. MRS. E. N. FAY, Palmer. 2-39

CREELERS WANTED.—Apply to 2*39 MR. J. PAGE, Palmer Carpet Mill.

FOR SALE.—Residence, corner Squier and Pine streets. Inquire of W. H. Small at the house. 13*36 A. E. PARR.

FOR SALE.—Plymouth Rock and Buff Cochin cockerels; also a few pullets. tf-38 RALPH LEGRO, Palmer.

FOR SALE.—House on Squier avenue and building lots Pond street, belonging to J. A. Squier estate. Enquire W. W. LEACH, Palmer, Mass., April 23, 1894. tf-4

PALMER SAVINGS BANK,
Palmer, Mass.

Money deposited on or before Wednesday, January 1, 1896, will commence interest from that date.

2 38 H. W. McGREGORY, Treas.

DRS. ALLEN AND HAYES, specialists in chronic diseases, will be at the Nassowanno House, Palmer, on Wednesday of each week from 10 a. m. to 8 p. m. Consultation free. Latest methods employed. tf-30

A. H. HITCHCOCK,
OPTICIAN,
231 Main Street, Springfield, Mass.
Spectacles and Eye Glasses of all kinds.
Artificial eyes furnished.
Oculists' prescriptions promptly and accurately filled.
Mail orders solicited. 13-39

ODD FELLOWS OPERA HOUSE,
Saturday Eve., Dec. 28.
A. Q. Scammon company in the big realistic comedy production,
"SIDE TRACKED."
Illustrating the funny side of life on the rail.
Reserved seats at Allen's drug store, Monday morning.

We defy honest competition.
First quality groceries
— AT —
Prices never before offered
IN PALMER.

Our last week's bulletin of prices the talk of the town. We follow this week with more surprises.

5 lbs. Carolina head rice for 25c.

1 GAL. GOLDEN DRIP SYRUP and JUG FOR 26c.
The syrup alone used to sell for 50c per gallon.

OUR GOLD DUST WASHING POWDER, 20c.
The 25c package.

ROYAL BAKING POWDER, 1 lb. cans, 40c.

AMERICAN SARDINES, 3c can,
500 cans received this week.

BEST HAXALL FLOUR, $4.00
33 BARS OF LENOX SOAP FOR 1.00
3 lbs. CALIFORNIA PRUNES for 25c
7 lbs. California loose muscatel raisins for 25c.

For Christmas:

English plum pudding in 1 lb. boxes, all ready for the table.
California naval oranges.
Jamaica oranges.
Malaga grapes.
Cranberries.
English walnuts.
American Walnuts.
Almonds.
Pecans.
Filberts.
Edam cheese.
Plain cheese, Sage " } Cloverdale brand.
Kibbe's broken candy.
" cream mixture.
Lowney's chocolate drops.
" nougatines.
" bon bons.
" montevideos.
" belmonts.
" Saint Nicholas.
Our choice mixture at 25c per pound, the nicest of confections.
American mixture at 3 lbs for 25c.
Standard Java coffee.
Chase & Sanborn teas.
Agency for Domestic Bakery of Ware, Mass.

J. F. Foley,
Corner Main and Walnut Sts., Palmer, Mass.

D. H. BRIGHAM & CO.,
SPRINGFIELD.

AFTER CHRISTMAS,
WHAT?

We don't believe that this season's GARMENTS and DRESSES will be in just as good style as new ones NEXT YEAR.

It's better that each season's buying should be sold when it is made to sell. Consequently the BIG CUT IN PRICES.

A chance will be given for two weeks to get values in TOP GARMENTS AND DRESSES AT PRICES NEVER DREAMED OF.

$25.00 DRESSES FOR $15.00
20.00 " " 10.00
15.00 " " 7.50
10.00 " " 5.00 each.
hundreds of them.

Cheaper grades by thousands, all sizes, colors and styles, pretty near your own price.

$3.75, 2.50, 2.00, 1.75. ALL MUST GO AT SOME PRICE.

The one you want is here NOW. Don't wait until some one else has purchased it. Now is the opportunity to buy for a year AHEAD if you don't need them at present.

CHILDREN'S SCHOOL DRESSES.

We've never shown as many CHOICE EFFECTS that can be had VERY LOW. To quote prices will not give any idea of the value that can be had at any particular price.

YOU MUST SEE THEM.

To those that work for wages we will suggest that you will SAVE MORE MONEY by coming here ONE DAY than you'll earn at home in TWO DAYS.

LONG CLOAKS---REEFERS.
JACKETS or CAPES.
EVERYTHING GOES AT-A-PRICE.

Regular stock, odd garments,
The last for ONE-HALF and ONE-QUARTER ORIGINAL VALUES.
Waterproof garments included.
CHILDREN'S FOR 75 CENTS.
LADIES' FROM $1.50 to 5.00.

D. H. BRIGHAM & CO.,
SPRINGFIELD.

Meekins, Packard & Co.

Meekins, Packard & Co.,
SPRINGFIELD, MASS.

WEDDING INVITATIONS. Engraved or printed. The latest styles and prices right. Samples on application at the JOURNAL Office. WEDDING CARDS.

DR. O. P. Roller,
Dentist.
Teeth extracted without pain by a new system. The latest methods in dentistry employed.
Office hours from 8 to 12 a. m., 1 to 5.30 p. m.
OPEN EVENINGS
Lawrence Block, Palmer, Mass.

SUMMER

is not yet here. We have a long, cold winter ahead.

You will need winter underwear and gloves for some time yet.

We have a fine lot of both, and can give you a fine assortment.

Do you need an

Ulster or Overcoat?

If so, see or line.

No fictitious prices placed on goods, but every article sold at its true value.

We always have BARGAINS on our counters.

D. L. BODFISH,
Cross Block,
PALMER.

CONDITION
— OF THE —
PALMER SAVINGS BANK,
At the close of business Dec. 13th, 1895.

RESOURCES.		LIABILITIES.
Loans with Real Estate Security,	$784,097 71	Deposits,	$1,041,178 77
Loans with Personal Security,	165,027 00	Guarantee Fund,	40,000 00
Loans with Bank Stock Security,	1,284 00	Undivided Profits,	29,431 23
Loans with Railroad Stock Security,	300 00
Loans with Bank Book Security,	785 00
Loans of City and Towns,	30,500 00
Public Funds,	124,000 00
Bank Stocks,	39,500 00
Railroad Bonds,	101,000 00
Real Estate,	15,000.00
Taxes Paid State,	1,241 28
Deposited in National Banks,	39,642.56
Cash on Hand,	10,232.45
	$1,110,610.00		$1,110,610 00

Market value of Assets, - - - $1,140,173.00

Dividends for 1895, - 4 1-4 per cent, Free of Tax.

Deposits Dec. 16th, 1893, - - - $ 919,727.94
Deposits Dec. 17th, 1894, - - - 974,426.02
Deposits Dec. 13th, 1895, - - - 1,041,178.77

H. G. LOOMIS, Pres. H. W. McGREGORY, Treas.

Only four days left in which to help your favorite fireman to secure a handsome mantel clock.
VOTING CONTEST CLOSES WEDNESDAY EVE., JAN. 1,
when the clock strikes 9. All members of the Palmer Fire Department are cordially invited to be present at our store on that hour, when the clock will be presented to the fireman having the largest number of votes.

You are entitled to one vote for each dime expended here. No charge for voting. Be sure and have the clerk record your votes. See local column for result to date.

New goods this week:

Boston Ideal raisins in packages—seedless.
Currants in packages, 10c, three for 25c.
Chase & Sanborn's seal brand coffee—2 lb. cans.
Revere brand coffee, 38c.
West India oranges, sweet. Lemons.
Carr's XX crackers.
Boneless cod, 3 lb. boxes.
Olives, quart bottles.
Peacock matches.
Figs, 12c. Persian dates, 1 lb., 10c.
Spurrs' extract beef. Baker's cocoa. Bensdorp's cocoa.

I offer this week one WALNUT PARLOR ORGAN at $37, payable one dollar per week or $35 cash down. Speak quick if you want it.

SHOES, RUBBERS. W. E. STONE, MATTINGS, OIL CLOTHS.
Lawrence Block, Palmer. TELEPHONE.

REPORT OF THE CONDITION OF THE PALMER NATIONAL BANK, at Palmer, in the State of Mass., at the close of business, December 13, 1895.

RESOURCES.
Loans and discounts		$216,572 83
Overdrafts, secured and unsecured		1,123.19
U. S. Bonds to secure circulation		25,000.00
Premiums on U. S. bonds		2,800.00
Stocks, securities, etc		17,155.60
Banking house, furniture and fixtures		4,300.00
Due from National Banks (not reserve agents)		1.52
Due from approved reserve agents		17,692.78
Checks and other cash items		146.37
Notes of other National banks		485.00
Fractional paper currency, nickels and cents		103 61
LAWFUL MONEY RESERVE IN BANK, VIZ:
Specie	$9,079.40
Legal-tender notes	960.00	10,039.40
Redemption fund with U. S. Treasurer (5 per cent of circulation)		1,125.00
TOTAL		$286,545 50
LIABILITIES.
Capital stock paid in		$100,000.00

The Journal.

FRIDAY EVENING, DECEMBER 27, 1895.

NEIGHBORHOOD NOTES.

MONSON.

LOCAL NOTICES.

For Sale. — A two-tenement house on Bridge street and a two-tenement north of the post-office.
John S. Bogan.

Monson's Fire Record for 1895.

Fire confined to one room in Edward D. Cushman's house early in the year. Fire which destroyed Green's block and house owned by Mr. Davis; also Day's block and Hamilton White's house, in April. Fire in the parochial residence which damaged the tower rooms in the early summer. Fire which destroyed the house of F. L. Wright in the autumn, and the little blaze in Newsdealer Murphy's store recently.

Miss Gertrude B. Gage is visiting at Warren.

George C. Flynt returned yesterday from a visit to Brooklyn.

Mrs. William N. Flynt is visiting her daughter in Springfield.

Henry A. King and family spent Christmas with Mrs W. N. Flynt.

There will be a meeting of the school committee one week from to-night.

Miss Bliss of Norwich spent Christmas with her brother, Frank L. Bliss.

Mrs. F P. Bradway and son of Willimantic are guests of Mrs. Jeremiah Bradway.

There will be a meeting of Marcus Keep Lodge of Masons next Tuesday evening.

A. D. Fosket has sold his farm on the Palmer road, and will go to Malden to live.

Misses Helen and Mabel Tucker are spending their vacation in New Haven and New York.

Joseph Kennedy and family of Ware spent Christmas with Mrs. Kennedy on Green street.

Prof. Edward Morris of Amherst is visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Edward F Morris.

Harry T. Chapin, of the Massachusetts College of Pharmacy in Boston, is home for the holidays.

Rev. W. H. Marble will take for his subject Sunday at the Methodist church, "Winning Souls."

The Misses Williams are to move from Mrs. Luther B. Peck's house to Edward P. Newton's house.

Carl Blair of Warren, class of '95, Monson Academy, spent Sunday with Carlos M. Gage and family.

Herbert W. Shaw assisted at the post office the first part of the week, owing to the Christmas rush.

John L. Bacon, Jr., of the Philadelphia Medical College, is visiting his sister, Mrs. Herbert C. Norcross.

Mr. Moody will be in town next week and will speak in the Congregational church in the afternoon and evening.

Mark Noble is excavating for a cellar on his Main street lot, and will erect a building in which he proposes to have two stores and two tenements.

Miss Hattie Orcutt assisted at T. H. Todd's store during the holiday trade, and Miss Hannah Leahy and Miss Addie J. Davis assisted several evenings.

Mr. and Mrs. W. K. Stebbins are spending the holidays at the old homestead, Mr. Stebbins having lately returned from an extended trip in the West.

The pastor of the Methodist church wishes to meet at 6 o'clock next Sunday evening, all who during the revival meetings expressed a desire to lead Christian lives.

At the Congregational church next Sunday morning the choir will sing "I Waited for the Lord," by Mendelssohn, and "Christian, the Morn Breaks Sweetly O'er Thee," by Schelley.

After the custom of the Methodist church, there will be a Watch Night service next Tuesday night, beginning at 8.30, consisting of sermon, song, prayer, testimony, and consecration service.

Frank Blackford of Tufts College, who is supplying the pulpit of the Amherst Universalist church, is the guest of his brother, Rev. Henry Blackford, and the two will exchange pulpits next Sunday.

The first of a proposed series of dances was held in Osborne's hall last night, about 25 couples attending. These dances are arranged for by four young men, and are invitation parties. Music is furnished by the Monson Orchestral Club.

A young lady at the R. M. Reynolds straw works has no excuse for not being posted as to the time of day. Having expressed a wish for a watch as a Christmas present, her many friends took the hint and she received eight watches.

Rev. W. H. Marble will read a paper at the Epworth League convention to be held at Ware next Wednesday, subject: "The Mission of Young People's Societies in the Churches." A number of the young people are planning to attend the convention.

Day Spring lodge of Masons held its annual meeting Tuesday and chose the following officers: Worshipful master, Ralph F. Bradway; senior warden, Frank A. Bills; junior warden, Monroe Wright; treasurer, Charles L. Clough; secretary, Nelson A. Bugbee.

Judge and Mrs. George H. Newton spent Christmas at Palmer; Mrs. Julia Ketcham spent the day at Milford; Frank Moulton at Milford; Mr. and Mrs. Carlos M. Gage at Warren; Miss Dora Green is at her home at Wales; Miss Clara A. Wood is spending the week in Springfield.

Dr. Lewis B. Janes, professor of civil government and sociology in the Brooklyn School of Art and Sciences, addressed an audience of Monson's representative people in the Congregational church last evening upon "Life as a Fine Art." The lecture was one of rare excellence, and was well received.

Mrs. G. W. Burdick received a severe injury on Christmas day by being kicked by a colt which she was petting. The animal expected to find an apple or a lump of sugar in her hand, and failing to get it turned and kicked her in the stomach. She is suffering considerable pain, but it is not thought she is seriously hurt.

SOMETHING NEW.

Ladies' VISCOL KID SHOES, for school or skating.

The Viscol kid stock from which this shoe is made is waterproof, it does not grow hard, is not affected by the perspiration of the foot, wears longer than ordinary leather,

AND ONLY COSTS $2.00.

Everyone should see these shoes.

Geo. L. Fuller,
the distributor of fine fitting shoes.
Monson, - Mass.

At home for the holidays: Herbert W. Shaw from Philadelphia Dental College, George Stone from Albany Medical College, Archie Merchant from Worcester school of Technology, Charles L. Ricketts from New York, Arthur D. King from Worcester, George L. Knowlton from Worcester, Henry F. Miller from Willimantic, Harry A. Merchant from Albany Medical College.

A quiet wedding was that of Vira Mae Brooks to Charles H. Rennison of Ware, at the house of the bride's parents, Christmas. The ceremony took place at 11 o'clock in the morning, and was performed by Rev. William H. Marble. The bride wore a dress of blue and gold mixed goods. Only immediate relatives were present. The couple left in the evening for a trip which will include New York and Boston.

The citizens will be glad to know that there is a movement on foot to make the Monson telegraph office a test station. The station has been located at Fiskdale, but a change has been deemed advisable and Agent C. G. Thompson is making a strong effort to obtain the plum for Monson. As wires pass through the town to a number of important points, such an arrangement would be of great advantage, particularly as the telegraphic service has of late been so poor.

Christmas Sunday at the churches was observed with appropriate music, sermons and decorations. At the Congregational and Methodist churches there were concerts in the evening. The music at the Congregational church was exceptionally fine. Christmas eve was a busy time at the stores, the last-minute buyers being much in evidence. The merchants report good Christmas sales. Several home Christmas trees are reported, among them, at Arthur D. Ellis's, Frank E. Handy's, Joseph B. Davis's and Henry E. Bugbee's. There was also a tree at the Congregational church for the Sunday school. Christmas day was quiet, although the streets were full of people from early morning until bed time. A band which, it is said, is drilling in anticipation of a march upon Venezuela, furnished amusement for resident near the corner of Lincoln and Main streets for an hour or so. Christmas trees at the Universalist and Methodist churches were the day's only public attractions. Santa Claus visited both churches, much to the delight of the children.

HOLLAND.

H. E. Wallis has sold his farm to parties from Reading, and will move to Waltham, where he will engage in the crockery business.

WEST WARREN.

James Grant, Jr., of Fall River, is visiting his home here.

Mrs. Lizzie Kinney, of Gloversville, N. Y., is visiting Mrs. John Rycroft.

Mrs. Dexter Rood is spending the holidays with her son, C. D. Rood, in Springfield.

Misses Emma and Ada Crouch of Holyoke are visiting their brother, Charles Crouch.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Carey returned home from their wedding trip on Thursday evening.

Mrs. Rynot Tannebring and daughter of Worcester spent Christmas with Mrs. Tannebring.

Misses Alice and Clara Gilbert are home from the French-American College in Springfield for the holidays.

Masters Willie and Leon Ham of Springfield are spending Christmas with their grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. John J. Shaw.

Miss Minnie E. Grant and John J. Lester were married Wednesday evening at the bride's home. Rev. W. H. Dockham performed the ceremony. Mr. and Mrs. Lester will reside in Springfield, at 144 Patton street.

A Christmas tree with exercises at which Santa Claus with his Arctic band was present was held in the M. E. church Tuesday evening. The trees were heavy laden with many valuable presents for the young and old, among them being a silver tea service for Rev. W. H. Dockham and family, also a purse of money.

WARREN.

The Foresters have secured the Temple quartette of Holyoke to give a concert some time next month.

Staff Officer F. P. Clark of Ware will install the officers of Clara Barton post, G. A. R., next Wednesday evening.

George A. Shumway, executor of the estate of the late Emory Shumway, has exchanged the old homestead known as the Truesdell property with A. C. Blaisdell for property in New York state. Mr. Blaisdell moved his family here last week.

Mrs. Mary Towne, 45, wife of Henry G. Towne, died quite suddenly last Sunday night from typhoid pneumonia. She had been ill only a few days, having attended church the previous Sunday. She leaves a husband and one son, George. The funeral was held Wednesday at 11 o'clock.

The following officers have been elected by the Epworth League for the coming six months: President, C. T. Waters; first vice president, Andrew P. Van Slyke; second vice president, Miss Ella H. Bestick; third vice president, H. E. Holliday; fourth vice president, John M. Van Slyke; secretary, Miss Mary F. Limond; treasurer, Miss Mary E. Van Slyke.

A pretty home wedding took place Wednesday night at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. F. L. Lincoln on Curtis avenue. Their only daughter, Lillian, was united in marriage to Clarence Upham of this place, Rev. H. G. Hale officiating. Guests were present from Worcester, Waltham, Brookfield, Hartford and Springfield. They were the recipients of many and valuable presents. After a short trip to Boston and vicinity Mr. and Mrs. Upham will make their home in Warren.

WALES.

Frank Bailey has purchased a clarinet, and will play in the band.

Leon Thompson of Boston is making his annual Christmas visit in town.

Fred Patnode and family of Warren spent Christmas with Joseph Hill and family.

Miss Annie House has recovered from a two-weeks' sickness, and is able to be out again.

Michael Rourke visited Providence this week, purchasing a new spinning machine for the Excelsior Woolen Co.

W. A. Lyon & Co's. new cash store opened well, doing a good business in the Christmas line. A good stock of more substantial goods will now be put in, and the motto will be "Quick sales and small profits."

The annual Christmas concert at the Baptist church was held Sunday evening, and the Christmas tree on Wednesday evening, both of which were well attended. Santa Claus appeared laden with gifts for the children.

The Christmas concert at the Methodist church was held last Sunday at 3 o'clock p. m., and their Christmas tree and chicken-pie supper was held on Tuesday evening with a large attendance. Santa Claus was among the company.

J. H. Loudon, superintendent of the Excelsior Woolen Co's. mill, fell on the ice while engaged in repairing the mill and severely sprained his ankle. Dr. Ross was called to attend him, and he is now able to get out on crutches, but will remain lame for some time yet.

The Bohemian glassblowers are spending the week at Royce's Hall, giving exhibitions each evening. They will give prizes to the handsomest lady, handsomest baby and homliest man, to be determined by vote of the audience. Saturday afternoon at 3 they give a matinee, when the voting will close.

BELCHERTOWN.

E. C. Witt has recovered from his illness, and Mr. Dunbar is slowly improving.

Miss Louisa Howard has been taken to the asylum at Northampton to be treated for insanity.

Miss Jennie B. Hoag will give a whist party this evening in honor of Dr. McNish of Boston.

There will be a roll call and dinner at the Congregational chapel next Wednesday, followed by the annual business meeting.

H. C. West has bought the land and farm buildings belonging to the T. S. Haskell place. A cider mill on the place was reserved.

Beginning next Monday evening a series of revival meetings will be held in the Methodist church under the direction of Rev. S. A. Bragg.

George Fisher has lost a valuable pair of team horses by their being poisoned with Paris green. State Detective Munyon is looking up the case.

The Methodist and Congregational churches held their annual Christmas trees Tuesday evening. The programmes were good, and well attended.

The Christian Endeavor Society elected the following officers at the business meeting held last Friday evening: President, J. M. Rowell; vice president, Miss Grace Towne; treasurer, George Jackson; secretary, Alice Smith. The chairmen of the different committees are: Prayer meeting, Miss Etta Fuller; lookout, F. L. Stebbins; temperance, Miss Lizzie Bartlett; music; J. A. Lynn; Sunday school, W. R. Blackmer; social, Miss Bertha Sanford; missionary, Miss Grace Towne; welcoming and visiting, Mrs. H. D. Hoag; flower, Miss Jennie B. Hoag. Mrs. Hattie D. Longley was elected superintendent of the junior department.

Jewel B. Knight, principal of the Southwick high school, and A. J. Morse, Professor of mathamatics and physics in the Bridgton Academy in New Jersey, are spending the holidays at home.

The members of Federal street school gave a surprise party Monday evening to one of its members, Miss Leano Shippie, who is soon to make her home in Michigan. They left with her many tokens of friendship.

BRIMFIELD.

Thomas J. Morgan is visiting his sister in Binghampton, N. Y.

Mrs. Simon B. Ward, who has been dangerously ill, is some better.

John H. Noyes, who travels for the firm of Warner & Co., is visiting for a few weeks at his old home.

Miss Ada Brown, who is taking a course in kindergarten training in Boston, is spending her vacation at her home here.

Ruby, the 7-years-old daughter of Mrs. Ella Brown, died last Saturday evening of diphtheria. She had been ill only a short time. The little girl was a very lovable child and held a warm place in the hearts of many people in town. The funeral was held Monday morning.

The fall term of the Hitchcock Free High School closed last Friday with the usual senior reception in the Town Hall. During the first part of the evening an entertainment was given consisting of music and recitations. Miss Edith Snell of Fiskdale gave a recitation, and Charles Maynard of the same place contributed several vocal selections. Mrs. Kyle sang a solo, and Assistant Principal Sparhawk furnished music on his flute Principal and Mrs. G. W. Earle are visiting in Boston, Mr. Sparhawk is spending the vacation at his home in Randolph, Vt., and Miss Crane, the matron at Goodale Hall, is visiting friends in Springfield and Holyoke. The winter term of the school opens next Wednesday.

House and Contents Totally Destroyed.

The farmhouse of John Cunningham, situated near Dunhamtown, was destroyed by fire last Saturday night. The house was unoccupied to the time, Mr. Cunningham having gone to Palmer, and the blaze was first seen by John Haley, a neighbor, who was returning from Warren. The fire started in the upper part of the house, and is supposed to have caught from the chimney. The house, contents, wagon house and chicken house were a total loss. The insurance was $600 on the building, $100 on the contents, in the Scottish Union, placed in the A. E. Fitch agency of Palmer. Mr. Cunningham is the man who lost an eye last summer, it being gouged out by a cow which he was leading.

WARE.

Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Hennessy were made the happy parents of twins last week Thursday, a boy and girl. The boy has since died.

Staff Officer W. P. Clark of Ware will install the newly-elected officers of Clara Barton Post, G. A. R., of Warren, Jan. 1st.

Once again action is being taken toward the organization of a Young Men's Christian Association in Ware, and it is expected that at no distant day there will be a union meeting held, with speakers from abroad, who will give some of the advantages to be derived from such an organization among us.

A lamp overturned in the room occupied by Herbert Willis in the Hale block caused an alarm of fire to be rung in Wednesday evening. Willis was arrested for drunkenness. A second alarm was caused by setting a table cover on fire from a Christmas candle in Patrick Keagan's house on South street. But little damage was done in either case.

When a person begins to grow thin there is something wrong. The waste is greater than the supply, and it is only a question of time when the end must come.

In nine cases out of ten the trouble is with the digestive organs. If you can restore them to a healthy condition you will restore the waste, put on new flesh and cause them to feel better in every way. The food they eat will be digested and appropriated to the needs of the system, and a normal appetite will appear.

Consumption frequently follows a wasting of bodily tissue because nearly all consumptives have indigestion. The Shaker Digestive Cordial will restore the stomach to a healthy condition in a majority of cases. Get one of their books from your druggist and learn about this new and valuable remedy.

When the children need Castor Oil give them LAXOL,—it is palatable.

Beecham's pills for constipation 10c and 25c. Get the book at your druggist's and go by it.

Annual sales more than 6,000,000 boxes.

Try a can of Hopkins' Steamed Hominy (hulled corn). It is delicious. Full qt., 10c.

ROYAL BAKING POWDER.

ABSOLUTELY PURE.

A cream of tartar Baking Powder. Highest of all in leavening power.—Latest United States Government Food Report.

ROYAL BAKING POWDER CO.,
106 Wall Street, New York.

Forbes & Wallace's,
Springfield.

Everything that belongs to Christmas—dolls, toys, etc., and whatever we can spare, or partly give away without more harm than loss of money, will be sold for the next few days at what it'll fetch.

Look out for bargains in every department. We shall set to music a trade step that will bring us into the new year with a double quick march.

Forbes & Wallace,
Main, Vernon and Pynchon streets,
Springfield, Mass.

COMMONWEALTH OF MASSACHUSETTS.—HAMPDEN, ss. PROBATE COURT.

To the heirs at law, next of kin, and all other persons interested in the estate of Henry McGilp, late of Palmer, in said County, deceased:

Whereas, a certain instrument purporting to be the last will and testament of said deceased has been presented to said Court, for probate, by James C. Grant of Warren, in our County of Worcester, who prays that letters testamentary may be issued to him, the executor therein named, without giving a surety on his official bond:

You are hereby cited to appear at a probate court to be held at Holyoke, in said county of Hampden, on the fifteenth day of January, A. D., 1896, at nine o'clock in the forenoon, to show cause, if any you have, why the same should not be granted.

And said petitioner is hereby directed to give public notice thereof, by publishing this citation once in each week, for three successive weeks, in the Palmer JOURNAL, a newspaper published in said Palmer, the last publication to be one day at least before said Court, and by mailing, postpaid, or delivering a copy of this citation to all known persons interested in the estate, seven days at least before said Court.

Witness, WILLIAM S. SHURTLEFF, Esquire, Judge of said Court, this twenty-third day of December, in the year of our Lord one thousand eight hundred and ninety-five.

3-39 SAMUEL B. SPOONER, Register.

C. H. HOBBY, PIANO TUNER.

Orders for tuning may be left at O. P. Allen's drug store, Palmer; or may be sent to me by mail to Mansfield, Ct.

L. H. HENDEE, M. D.,
OFFICE AND RESIDENCE, PLEASANT ST.
Office hours 7 to 10 a. m., and 1 to 3 and 7 to 9 p. m.

Hellyar's Bargain Store.

CLOSING OUT SALE!

NOW IS YOUR CHANCE. LOWEST PRICES ON NEW GOODS

ever offered in town. Having decided to change my business, I propose to close out my whole stock, some $10,000 worth of

NEW STAPLE DRY GOODS, furnishing goods, carpets, hats, caps, curtains, oil cloths, cloaks, blankets, comfortables.

A choice line of Christmas goods,

and many other things far below the cost of the raw material.

We will close out all these goods at cost.

The goods must be sold by the 1st of January sure, and prices will not stand in the way. Be quick and get the best bargains.

Will also sell all the fixtures of the store at same discount.

THE SALE BEGINS AT ONCE.

S. H. HELLYAR & CO.,
CARYL'S BLOCK, ON THE CORNER, PALMER.

J. B. SHAW, FEENEY'S BLOCK, PALMER.

This is the place to buy your Holiday Goods.

We Propose TO MAKE THE Holiday Campaign of 1895 SHORT, SHARP AND DECISIVE.

We shall open . . . . .
ON SATURDAY, DECEMBER 14,
The largest variety of HOLIDAY GOODS EVER SHOWN BY US.

The list includes presents suitable for persons of any age, and at prices suited to any pocket book.

In games — we lead all others in the old standards and whatever is new this season.

In toys — we show the best the market offers in iron, wood, tin or rubber.

SILK AND WOOLEN MUFFLERS, SILK, LINEN AND MUSLIN HANDKERCHIEFS.
MIRRORS, PICTURES, DOLLS, PAPERTERIES,
WORK BOXES, WRITING DESKS, BLACK BOARDS, TOOL CHESTS,
CHILDREN'S DISHES, TOILET SETS, XMAS CARDS, BOOKLETS,

and the thousand and one dainty articles that please the fancy and minister to the happiness of the season, can be found on our counters.

We solicit your careful examination and a share of your patronage.

J. B. SHAW,
FEENEY'S BLOCK,
PALMER, MASS.

The lighest store in town.

There's a breezy trade wind sweeping through our store these days, overturning the great piles of fine overcoats and suits in its onward rush. Its what we expected when we bought our winter stock. Its the kind of clothing that catches the eye of fashionable men who generally leave their measure order at some small tailoring establishment. Not the every-day kind of garments you'll see in most stores around town. Its built on a higher plane; more pains taken with every stitch, button hole, and general detail, making the finish simply perfection. For fine clothing these goods are simply unapproachable. They are copied and imitated, but the exact rightness of fit and proportion, and the quality of the workmanship, are found in none others of equal cost. After quality, we consider price. Nearly every article we have made for us, at greater cost, we sell below the ruling prices for the regular trade artists. thus giving double advantage to our patrons.

We also show a large and splendid assortment of hats, and are agents for the celebrated Lamson & Hubbard fine hats.

George N. Norris,
325 Main street, SPRINGFIELD.

Frederic R. Sistare

extends a cordial invitation to his friends in Palmer and vicinity to visit this store when in the city, where he will be pleased to show you through the stock. We pay car fare on all sales of $10 and over.

Now is the time.

The holidays over. We have quite a number of articles left that we will offer . . .

AWAY DOWN,

at almost your own price. We wauld rather have the money than the goods. . . .

George A. Moore, Holden's Block, PALMER.
JEWELER.

FINE STATIONERY.

Many ladies are troubled to find just the size, shade or weight of correspondence paper which they would like. With some thing like

200 VARIETIES

To select from we ought to be able to please you. Any style of paper in any size or shape, and you may have 100 sheets or 1000, as you prefer. We'd be pleased to show you samples at the JOURNAL Office. Your monogram or initials embossed in color if desired.

E. S. Bryant, D. M. D.,
Dentist,
Lynde's Block, Palmer.
Office hours: 8 30 to 12.30. 1.30 to 5 p. m.

WALL PAPERS, MOULDINGS, ETC., AT MASON'S, PALMER.

FINE STATIONERY

of all kinds. We have it. In great variety of styles and prices. We are sure we can please you. Let us show you what we have in this line.

LeGro & Lynde,
Druggists,
PALMER.

A NICE NEW LINE OF SAMPLES OF FOLDERS.

FOR DANCE PROGRAMS, INVITATIONS, MENUS, CET.

Just received at the JOURNAL Office.

Good Milk.

A composite sample of milk from my dairy was tested at the meeting of the State Board of Agriculture last week, and it showed 5.5 per cent butter fat, or 16.3 per cent total solids, thus showing 2.5 per cent butter fat and 3.8 per cent solids above the state standard.

O. D. WELLS,
Maple Lawn Milk Farm.

F. F. MARCY, PALMER, MASS.
Wholesale and Retail Dealer in
ALL KINDS OF LUMBER AND SHINGLES
Windows, doors, blinds, mouldings. Carpenters' and joiners' work done to order.
Also FIRE BRICK and CLAY for sale.
Yard and shop at junction of B. & A. and N. L. N. Y. Railroads—west of Depot.

When you're Rubbing over your washboard, in that painful, old-fashioned way, these are some of your positions. Just try these motions, up and down, without the tub. That will prove how hard they are. Then try Pearline's way of washing.

That will prove how needless and absurd they are. Without the washboard and the rubbing on it, and without bending over the wash-tub or bobbing up and down over it—you save the wear to your clothes and the work for your back. That's Pearline's way. Directions on every package.

330 JAMES PYLE, New York.

Blood

(Trade Mark Registered.)

Wine,

The Great French Hospital Remedy.

Cures

Nervous

Diseases

and

Stomach

Troubles

As if

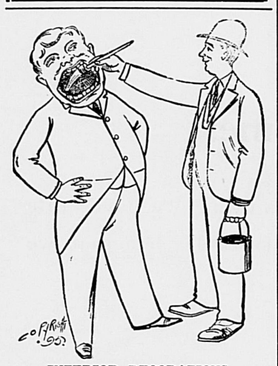
By magic

And

Is a

Great Blood Purifier.

Blood Wine will positively cure all forms of nervous troubles, however caused; we back this statement up with a guarantee to refund the money in any case where the patient is not entirely cured after using a limited amount of the medicine. Why pay one dollar for medicine that will only give you temporary relief, when you can buy Blood Wine for 50 cents and be permanently cured. Blood Wine contains no wine or opiates, and is perfectly safe to give to children. It is not a beverage and cannot be used as such. Over 700,000 bottles of this wonderful medicine have been sold in the six New England states the last year. What a record. Blood Wine stands to-day at the head, and is a



INTERIOR DECORATIONS

will soon be done with Cod Liver Oil. May be you don't know it, but that article is as good to prevent a cold as it is to cure it. If you are troubled with a cough, a prevailing trouble at this season, decorate your interior with some of our Cod Liver Oil Emulsions, we have them all. It will strike through and beautify your exterior, and make you thoroughly enjoy your own society, and others will enjoy it, too. Call for above at

ALLEN'S DRUG STORE,
Holden's Block, Palmer.

GRATEFUL—COMFORTING.

EPPS'S COCOA.

BREAKFAST—SUPPER.

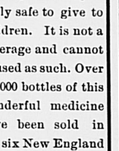
"By a thorough knowledge of the natural laws which govern the operations of digestion and nutrition, and by a careful application of the fine properties of well selected cocoa, Mr. Epps has provided for our breakfast and supper a delicately flavored beverage which may save us many doctors' bills. It is by the judicious use of such articles of diet that a constitution may be gradually built up until strong enough to resist every tendency to disease. Hundreds of subtle maladies are floating around us ready to attack wherever there is a weak point. We may escape many a fatal shaft by keeping ourselves well fortified with pure blood and a properly nourished frame."—Civil Service Reform. Made simply from boiling water or milk. Sold only in half pound tins, by grocers, labelled thus:
JAMES EPPS & CO., Ltd., Homœpathic Chemists, London, England.

CATARRH

is a

LOCAL DISEASE

and is the result of colds and sudden climatic changes.



It can be cured by a pleasant remedy which is applied directly into the nostrils. Being quickly absorbed it gives relief at once.

Ely's Cream Balm

is acknowledged to be the most thorough cure for nasal catarrh, cold in head and hay fever of all remedies. It opens and cleanses the nasal passages, allays pain and inflammation, heals the sores, protects the membrane from colds, restores the senses of taste and smell. Price 50c, at druggists or by mail. ELY BROTHERS, 56 Warren St., New York.

HINDERCORNS.

The only sure Cure for Corns. Stops all pain. Ensures comfort to the feet. Makes walking easy. 15cts. at Druggists.

A Child's Idea.

He stood beside my knee the while I turned
The picture pages of the holy book.
Stood in the wisdom of his three brief years—
True wisdom—that which ever seeks to know.
And now his eyes are wide with wondering:
A ladder set from earth to heaven? Wherefore?
The small brow knit, then came conclusion swift,
"I see; so angels carry up the gold
For God to make the harps of." Smiling, I
Dismissed the childish fancy with a kiss.

But pondering, as I ponder ever now
On all his words, there grows the meaning as
In darkness grows the star, The harps, indeed,
In heaven are fashioned, but the withdrawal
Is delved from earth's dark breast with toil and pain.
Cleansed—tempered—it may be with bitterest tears—
Laid at the ladder's foot, our part is done.
So shall the harps be ready, be attuned
For symphonies divine—oh, wise, sweet soul!
—Emily Julia Royal, in Washington Post.

AMONG THE PARAGRAPHERS.

"What makes you think Bob will be a policeman?" "He walks in his sleep."—Life.

"I would send you a kiss, papa," wrote little Lucy, who was away on a visit, "but I have been eating onions."—Tid-Bits.

Irene—"Laura Kajones's face looks dreadfully pinched." "I don't know about that; but I know her feet do."—Chicago Tribune.

Gilmet—"Did you have a good time on the Fourth, Johnny?" Johnny—"Did I? Well, say! Ma ain't got over the hysterics yet."—Puck.

He (stealing one)—"I seal my love with a kiss." She (suiting the action to the word)—"And I seal mine with whacks."—Boston Transcript.

Shopper—"Isn't £5 rather dear for this?" Salesman—"The price is £2. That other ticket is meant to be kept on when you make a present of the article."—Tid-Bits.

"I see Mrs. Allfire has had her late husband's likeness set in a miniature, and wears him under her chin." "H'm! She wore him under her thumb when he was alive."—Detroit Free Press.

"Politics," said the self-made man, "always reminds me of something I noticed when I set out in life as a sailor." "What was that?" "There's no good knowin' the ropes unless you've got a pull."—Washington Star.

Weary Watkins—"Wot's de matter, pardner? Did she throw water in your face?" Hungry Huggins—"Only on me face—only on me face. I had the presence of mind to shut me mouth when I see it comin'."—Indianapolis Journal.

"You certainly have selected the loveliest spot in the cemetery for your husband's grave," said the clergyman, consolingly. "I'm sure he would be gratified." The widow shook her head. "John wasn't that kind," she said, doubtfully. "He was one that never was contented with his lot."—Harper's Bazar.

"Smith is walking around to-day as if he were stepping on eggs." "He needs to." "What ails him?" "Why, last night after he had gone to bed he remembered that he should have taken some quinine capsules. He got up in the dark and took 'em. This morning he discovered that he had swallowed three 22-calibre revolver cartridges."—Chicago Record.

WATCH-EATING FISH.—The Lincoln News tells it so naively that we haven't the heart to say a word:—"A singular incident took place the other day on Damariscotta lake. A party from the Kennebec were fishing from a boat, when one of them caught the end of his fish pole in his watch guard and flung his gold watch overboard into 40 feet of wirter. About an hour after, and a quarter of a mile distant, they caught a six pounder, and noticing his fullness and peculiar appearance, he was opened, and there was the gold watch still going." The News' raconteur should patch up a fishing trip with that gifted prevaricator who writes for the Dexter Gazette. The Gazette man's hero lost his watch and didn't recover it for many months. It was still running, however. The timepiece had stuck in the fish's throat and every time he swallowed any thing the object slid over the stem winding nub and gave it a twist. If those two men should go off together we would get something worth reading.—Lewiston Journal.

WHAT HE WANTED.—A lady who was shopping noticed a very small boy who was employed as "cash" in the store, and being interested in him began to ask him questions: "Would you like to live with me and have everything my little boy has?" she inquired. "What does your little boy have?" asked the child, fixing his large, serious eyes upon her. "Oh, he has books and tops and a pony," and she enumerated a lot of things. "Has he a papa?" asked the child. "Oh, yes, he has a dear, kind papa who gives him all these things. "Then I would like to be your little boy," said the child gravely, "for my papa is dead, and I would rather have him than any of the other things." The lady, who had been merely talking with the child for amusement, had hard work to keep back her tears at this navie confession.—Columbus News.

ARRIVING AT A CONCLUSION.—Willie Slimson—"Mamma, does Santa Claus get in his sleigh on Christmas eve and drive around to all the houses of the little boys and girls?" Mrs. Slimpson—"Yes dear." Willie—"And does he stop at each chimney as he goes along, and leave just the right things?" Mrs. Slimson—"Yes, dear." Willie—"He must be pretty quick to visit all the little boys and girls in one night." Mrs. Slimson—"He is, dear." Willie (thoughtfully)—"I don't believe he does it that way." Mrs. Slimson—"How do you think he does it?" Willie—"I think he plans ahead and does some of the work beforehand." Mrs. Slimson—"What makes you think so?" Willie—"Well, I notice he's got all my presents put away in one of the closets, already."—Tom Masson, in Truth.

They had not been married very long, and they had a good cook, but one evening when he came home to dinner he found that not a single thing was cooked properly. He had done a stroke or two of good business during the day, but being naturally an easy-tempered fellow, he said nothing.

When dessert was reached, his wife said to him, "I didn't tell you before, dear, but as a treat I cooked the whole dinner to-day for you myself."

"Oh, that's it, is it? I owe the cook an apology."

"An apology?" she asked. "For what?"

"For the mental injustice I have been doing her all the evening."—Boston Budget.

Deafness Cannot be Cured

by local applications as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, deafness is the result, and unless the inflamation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free.

F. J. CHENEY & CO., Toledo, O.
☞Sold by Druggists, 75c.

Nerves and Blood

Are inseparably connected. The former depend simply, solely, solidly upon the latter. If it is pure they are properly fed and there is no "nervousness." If it is impure they are fed on refuse, therefore cannot be strong and healthy, and the horrors of nervous prostration result. The only sensible way to cure is: Feed the nerves on pure blood. Make pure rich, red blood and keep it pure, by taking

Hood's Sarsaparilla

The One True Blood Purifier. $1; 6 for $5.
Prepared only by C. I. Hood & Co., Lowell, Mass.

Hood's Pills act harmoniously with Hood's Sarsaparilla. 25c.

FINEST ROAD-BED ON THE CONTINENT.

BOSTON & ALBANY RAILROAD.

Only Double-Track Route to the West.

ON AND AFTER DEC. 2, 1895.

Through Trains will Leave Boston as follows:

No. 7.—Day Express.

8:30 a. m.—Daily, except Sunday. Has Wagner buffet drawing-room car Boston to Albany, there connecting with through cars to all points West. Stops at Palmer 10.53 a. m.

No. 15.—Chicago Special.

10:30 a. m.—Daily. The finest train running in New England. A solid vestibuled Wagner train, comprising buffet, library and smoking car, sleeping cars and dining car Boston to Chicago, via the Lake Shore & Michigan Southern R. R., and also via Michigan Central R. R.

No. 19.—North Shore Limited.

2:00 p. m.—Daily. Has through vestibuled buffet sleeping cars Boston to Detroit and Chicago, via Michigan Central R. R. Dining car attached at Albany.

No. 23.—Cincinnati Express.

3:00 p. m.—Daily. Has through vestibuled buffet sleeping car Boston to Chicago via Lake Shore and Michigan Southern R. R., and to St. Louis and Cincinnati via Big Four Route. Stops at Palmer 5.20 p. m.

No. 9.—Pacific Express.

7:15 p. m.—Daily. Has through sleeping cars Boston to Chicago, via Michigan Central. Sleeping car Boston to Buffalo, parlor car Buffalo to Cleveland, sleeping car Cleveland to Chicago via Lake Shore & Michigan Southern.

No. 63.—Albany Express.

11:00 p. m.—Daily, except Saturday. Has sleeping car Boston to Albany. Stops at Palmer 1.46 a. m.

TRAINS LEAVE PALMER FOR BOSTON.

6 22	a. m.	Accommodation.
7.32	"	"
8.25	"	Daily Express.
10.00	"	Express, except Sunday.
11.42	"	Accommodation.
1.40	p. m.	Express.
3.12	"	"
4 42	"	Accommodation.
6 49	"	Daily Express.
7.55	"	Sundays only. Express.
9.03	"	Express.

Time tables showing local and through service between all Stations, may be obtained at all ticket offices of this Company.
City Office, 366 Washington Street.
Station, Kneeland Street, Boston, Mass.
52-32 A. S. HANSON, Gen. Passenger Agent.

BOSTON & MAINE R. R.

SOUTHERN DIVISION
(CENTRAL MASSACHUSETTS)
CORRECTED TO OCTOBER 6. 1895.

TRAINS LEAVE WARE:

GOING EAST

FOR Boston—6.55, 9.00 a. m.; 3.14, p. m. Sundays 6.55 a. m.
RETURNING—leave Boston 8.45 a. m.; 1.30, 4.00 p. m. Sundays, 1.30, p. m.
FOR Worcester—6.55, 9.00 a. m.; 3.14 p. m. Sundays, 6.55 a. m.
RETURNING—leave Worcester 9.15 a. m.; 2.25, 4.58 p. m.
FOR Oakdale, Hudson and Waltham—6.55, 9.00 a. m.; 3.14 p. m. Sundays, 6.55 a. m.
FOR Gilbertville, Barre and Coldbrook - 6.55, 9.00 a. m.; 3.14 p. m. Sundays, 6.55 a. m.

GOING WEST

FOR Bondsville, Belchertown, Pansy Park, Amherst, Hadley and Northampton, 7.15, 11.24 a. m., 4.28, 6.47 p. m. Sundays, 4.35 p. m.
RETURNING—leave Northampton 5.55, 8.0 a. m., 2.15, 6.10 p. m. Sundays, 5.55 a. m.

D. J. FLANDERS, Gen'l. Pass'r. Agt.
W. F. BERRY Gen'l Mgr.

CENTRAL VERMONT RAILROAD.

NEW LONDON DIVISION.
TAKING EFFECT DECEMBER 22, 1895.

TRAINS GOING SOUTH.

Leave Brattleboro, 5.40 and 10.30 a. m. and 4.25 p. m. for New London, connecting at Millers Falls with Fitchburg R. R., at Belchertown with Central Massachusetts R. R., and at Palmer with B. & A. R. R. for Worcester, Boston, Springfield, at New London with the N. Y., N. H. & H. R. R. R.
Leave Amherst, 7.05 a. m., 12.13 and 5.57 p. m.
Leave Palmer, 8.25 a. m., 1.50 and 7.00 p. m.
Leave Willimantic for New London, 8.25, 9.45 a. m. 3.25, 6.40 and 8.20 p. m.

GOING NORTH.

Leave New London, 5.20 and 7.40 a m, and 2.30 p. m.
The 5.20 and 7.40 a. m. and 2.30 p. m. run through to Brattleboro and make connections for the north.
Leave New London for Willimantic and intermediate stations, 10.00 a. m. and 5.25 p. m.
Leave Palmer for Brattleboro, 8.39, 11.00 a. m, and 7.10 p. m, connecting with express for Montreal. Also with Grand Trunk R. R. for the West.
Leave Palmer for Amherst, 8.20 and 11.00 a. m, and 7.10 p. m.

SUBJECT TO CHANGE WITHOUT NOTICE.

D. MACKENZIE, Supt. J. A. SOUTHARD, D. P. A. New London, Ct.
S. W. CUMMINGS, G. P. A., St. Albans.

Lost Her Hand But Saved Her Life.

Mrs. Edward Myers, of Athens, N. Y., had been treated for months in the usual way for erysipelas, without benefit. Her hand had become a mass of putrified flesh, the blood so poisoned that her life was despaired of. At this time Mrs. Myers sought the advice of Dr. David Kennedy, discoverer of Favorite Remedy. Dr. Kennedy found it impossible to save the hand, so he amputated the same, then gave her Favorite Remedy which drove the poisonous disease out of her system, thus saving her life.

Had Favorite Remedy been used earlier in the development of erysipelas, Mrs. Myers would have saved her hand. The worst cases of eczema, salt rheum and scrofula, yield to Favorite Remedy.

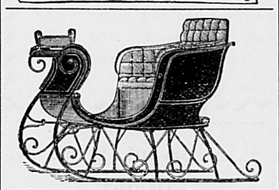
LARRABEES RHEUMATIC LINIMENT

A standard and sovereign household remedy for over half a century. It is a wonderful curative agent in all painful diseases, such as

Rheumatism, Lumbago, Neuralgia, Backache, Catarrh, Toothache,

and other painful ailments. To be had of all druggists, or by mail on receipt of 25 cents. Trade supplied by Geo. C. Goodwin & Co., or any wholesale druggist.

WINKLEMANN & BROWN DRUG CO.
BALTIMORE, MD., U. S. A.



I have in stock a large and complete . . . . . line of . . . . . .

double and single sleighs.

(150 or more on the floor).

TOP SLEIGHS, OLD COMFORT SLEIGHS, SPEEDING SLEIGHS of new designs. LIGHT and HEAVY DELIVERY SLEIGHS. Double sleighs, $40, 50, 75 to 350. Single sleighs, $25, 30, 35, 50 to 150. Before purchasing come and see the great variety.

W. H. Smith, 2 Park street, Springfield.

Lost Yesterday.

Somewhere between sunrise and sunset, TWO GOLDEN HOURS, each set with sixty diamond minutes, with which you might have secured a glimpse of our immense

Kitchen Department.

This department has been the Mecca of buyers of Crockery and kitchen goods for the last two years. We have paid particular attention to the buying of goods of good quality, and yet by buying in large quantities we have been enabled to sell them at prices of inferior goods. For example, OUR LEADERS JUST NOW

112 PIECE DECORATED DINNER SET FOR $8.24.
A 6-POUND KITCHEN SCALE, warranted accurate, for $2.10.
A HANDSOME PARLOR LAMP FOR $1.98.
10-PIECE DECORATED TOILET SET FOR $1.98.

We are in it also on Furniture, Carpets, Stoves, Ranges, etc., at prices that defy competition.

WE ALSO HAVE AN IMMENSE STOCK OF HOLIDAY GOODS suitable for the children.

E. Luther & Co.,

EASY TERMS. SPRINGFIELD. OPP. COURT SQ.

W. D. KINSMAN, SPRINGFIELD.

CHRISTMAS BUYING

is satisfactory just now to customers because all our lines of novelties are full, and because we can give extra attention in showing them. We have already began the sale of

REAL TORTOISE SHELL HAIR ORNAMENTS.

If your saw our assortment during the holidays last season you will appreciate what this means—hundreds of varieties, beautiful in colorings and unique in design. Hold one to the light—there's a color, like amber, clouded with the richest shades of deep red and brown. Prices from 10c to $9 75. Come early before the assortment is broken.

STERLING SILVER NOVELTIES.

There's an excellent opportunity here for you to do some fore-sighted Christmas buying. A large number of sterling silver trifles that survived last season have been placed in three lots at

25c, 50c, $1.00

All of them were halved in price, some suffered still more. The assortment comprises stick pins, baggage checks, pencil holders, brooch pins, tie clasps, combined paper cutter and book marks, coat hangers, hair pins, vinaigrettes, shell combs with terling silver tops and stamp boxes.

LEATHER GOODS.

Every desirable novelty is represented, something for every size of purse.

Coin purses of alligator, lizard, seal, kangaroo, well made and lined, 10c.

Coin purses of alligator, lizard or seal, pretty and serviceable, 25c.

Coin purses made of the new and stylish French and levant leather, 50c.

Opera purses of lizard, alligator, levant royal, chamois, dentile Brazilian lizard or kangaroo, thoroughly well made, 50c.

Combination cases of white alligator, one of the choicest novelties of the season. Pure white alligator skin shading into spots of mouse color. Also combination cases of green alligator.

Chatelaine bags, latest shapes, inside compartment for coin. In seal for 50c and 75c. In seal, alligator and lizard, from $1 to 5.

HANDKERCHIEFS.

Handkerchief buying will not be the agreeable occupation three weeks later that it is now. The counters will be thronged as Christmas draws near. Pure linen handkerchiefs, embroidered unlaundered handkerceiefs, 15c each, 8 for $1.

Plain hemstitched, fancy hemstitched, laced edged, 25c. Also ladies' and gent's initial handkerchiefs, neatly embroidered.

Pure linen handkerchiefs, handsomely embroidered in tasteful designs, 50c, 75c, $1, 1.25, 1 38, 1 50, 1 75, 1 87 and upward.

W. D. KINSMAN,

SPRINGFIELD. COR. MAIN AND BRIDGE STS.

To be delivered now, subject to advance at any time. We furnish good men to house and bin same. All coal is screened and delivered in bags.

The Lehigh is as good as any we ever sold. The Lackawanna is the best prepared coal that comes to market for domestic use.

Prices will be higher.

Send your order by postal card or leave it at our office.

SEE OUR PRICES FOR COAL

Prices for Lackawanna:

Stove size,	-	$5.85 per ton.
Chestnut,	-	5.85 " "
Furnace,	-	5.75 " "

Prices for Lehigh:

Stove size,	-	$6.00 per ton.
Chestnut,	-	6.00 " "
Furnace,	-	5.90 " "

Less than (1) one ton 25 cent added for the load.

Delivered in Bags, which will save expense of housing in many cases.

October 1, 1895.

R. M. & Theo. Reynolds.

Monson, Mass.

NEW YORK TRIBUNE.

The Leader of the Republican Party.

1896.

You Willing to Listen to a Suggestion?

THE NEW YORK TRIBUNE'S broad columns and large print make it the easiest paper in the country to read, either on the cars or at home.

Henry Romeike, proprietor of the largest Newspaper Clipping Agency in the world, testifies in a published card, that his clippings for over 4,000 clients show that THE TRIBUNE contains, "day by day and week by week, far more original matter than any daily newspaper in New York City." He proves the fact by figures. THE WEEKLY ranks the same.

Business men find the market reports of THE TRIBUNE absolutely without an equal. THE TRIBUNE is the only paper in New York City whose reporters actually visit all the different markets in person.

THE TRIBUNE now prints the best and freshest humorous pictures of the day from the comic press of two continents, and supplies plenty of other entertainment.

By its special telegrams and correspondence, its able editorials and high literary character, THE TRIBUNE maintains a splendid position in the regard of Republicans and lovers of music, art, and good books.

THE TRIBUNE'S society news is known everywhere for excellence. Its fashions have always been of special value, and changes of style are, as a rule, foretold in THE TRIBUNE sooner than in other newspapers.

THE NEW YORK TRIBUNE is recognized, officially, as the leading newspaper of the Republican party.

As for farming and labor, THE TRIBUNE has for 50 years demanded, and yet demands, that every possible dollar's worth of food and commodities, consumed by the American people, shall be produced by the American people. For this cause, THE TRIBUNE labors in its various editions 365 days in every year.

A man is judged by the newspaper he takes. He who reads THE TRIBUNE is wide awake, progressive, respectable and capable, worthy of the confidence of business and social friends. If you are a young man, you will live in a rut all your life (except by catering to that which is base) if you feed your mind upon newspapers full of scandal, vulgarity and inanity. Think for a moment of the people who read newspapers of that class. On the other hand, THE TRIBUNE has probably the largest clientele of the very people who can help to improve a young man's position, of any new-paper in the United States. Associate yourself with them.

Mr. Horr continues to write for THE TRIBUNE.

Sample copies free. DAILY, $10 a year. SUNDAY, separately, $2. SEMI-WEEKLY, $2. WEEKLY, $1. TRIBUNE ALMANAC for 1896, 25 cents.

THE TRIBUNE, New York.

DENTISTRY!

If you are in need strictly first-class dental work and want it done without pain at moderate prices

call on

DR. WM. L. ROBERTS, DENTIST.

Springfield Office: Court Sq. Theatre Building. Holyoke Office: 291 High St.

For cash only.

No. 1 Clipped Oats,	30c. per bu.
No. 1 Meal,	75c. per 100 lbs.
No. 1 Hay,	90c. "
No. 1 Rye Straw,	75c. "
224 lbs. F. F. Dark Salt,	$1.10
140 lbs. C. F. Salt,	.60
56 lbs. C. F. Salt,	.25
Pillsbury's Best XXXX Flour,	4.00
Washburn & Crosby's Haxall,	4.00
Best St. Louis Flour Grandee,	3.75
Hamilton's Best,	3.75

C. D. HOLBROOK,

Palmer, Mass. tf-37

POSTAL

Telegraph and Cable Co.

Office in Strong's Block,

PALMER, : : : : MASS.

Direct wires to New York and Boston. Office in all the principal cities in the

UNITED STATES.

PROMPT SERVICE,

REASONABLE RATES,

ALL BUSINESS

STRICTLY CONFIDENTIAL.

Engraved Address Cards. Plate engraved and 100 cards printed, only $1.50. Styles change often—your old cards may be out of style, probably are—better have some new ones, with correct size of card and style of lettering. At the JOURNAL Office.

An Angelic Husband.

There are husbands who are pretty,
There are husbands who are witty,
There are husbands who in public are as smiling as the morn;
There are husbands who are healthy,
There are husbands who are wealthy,
But the real angelic husband—well, he's never yet been born.

Some for strength of love are noted,
Who are really so devoted
That whene'er their wives are absent they are lonesome and forlorn;
And now and then you'll find one
Who's a fairly good and kind one,
Yet the real angelic husband—oh, he's never yet been born.

So the woman who is mated
To a man who is rated
As "pretty fair," should cherish him forever and a day;
For the real angelic creature,
Perfect, quiet in every feature—
He has never been discovered, and he won't be, so they say.
—T. B. Aldrich, in The Forum.

THREE VERSIONS OF "THE BELLS."

It was with sympathy and affection that Mr. Sartain referred to the genius of Edgar Allen Poe, and the old magazine publisher, George Rex Graham, who died in July last in the Memorial hospital, Orange, N. J., penniless and without friends; for it was in Graham's magazine, at one time the leading journal in the country, that many of his best minaiture engravings were published. In speaking of this periodical, Mr. Sartain said:—

"Two-score years ago—and it seems a very, very long time to me—no man was better known in literary circles than Mr. Graham, the first American publisher to pay respectable prices for literary wares. He was a generous employer, and in many instances the discoverer of some of the best known writers.

"Bayard Taylor's earliest poems were published in this magazine, he being tendered upon one occasion a check for $25 for two poetic effusions. For 'The Village Blacksmith' Longfellow received $50, while for 'The Spanish Student,' published at a later period, he was remunerated with the snug sum of $150. Poe, as the editor, wrote regularly from five to seven pages every month, for which he received $800 per annum—in those days considered a very liberal salary.

"In 1843 I became proprietor and editor of Campbell's Foreign Semi-Monthly magazine, in which appeared the 'Song of the Shirt,' the 'Bridge of Sighs,' 'The Drop of Gin,' and other pieces of a kindred nature, which afterward became so widely popular. Agassiz's article entitled 'A period in the history of our planet,' appeared as early as 1843, when the name of that scientist was hardly known, if at all, on this side of the Atlantic.

"In the fall of 1848 I purchased a one-half interest in the Union magazine, known throughout the country as Sartain's magazine, of which, toward the latter part of its career, I acted as managing editor. Poems and short stories by Poe occasionally adorned its columns, for a strong friendship had sprung up between that poet and myself through our association on Graham's magazine. The famous poem of 'The Bells' was first published in Sartain's magazine, and, strange to say, in three versions, all of which I bought. The first copy was simply a conglomeration of jingling words constructed in 18 meaningless lines."

The engraver paused for a moment, went to a small book-case in a corner of the room, from which he took a neat leather-bound volume of Sartain's magazine, dated November, 1849. Opening the book to a pencil-marked page and pointing to a poem in the right-hand corner, he said: "This is the first verison as it appeared:—

The bells, hear the bells,
The merry wedding bells,
The little silver bells,
How fairy-like a monody there swells
From the silver-tinkling cells of the bells.
The bells, ah, the bells!
The heavy iron bells,
Hear the tolling of the bells;
Hear the knells;
How terrible a monody there floats
From their throats!
From their deep-toned throats;
How I shudder at the notes
From the melancholy throats
Of the bells, of the bells!

"I did not publish the above lines at first, for I do not believe, even to this day, that they possess any extraordinary merit. As might be expected, the author became incensed, and, after an unsatisfactory explanation on my part as to why the poem was not published, wrote a second verison, more elaborate and extensive than the original, which I likewise declined to publish. Explanations and outbursts of indignation were again in order, though they were all forgotten upon my acceptance and promulgation of a third verison, none other than 'The Bells' we know to-day."—Philadelphia Record.

"MARS BOB" WAS POLITELY HANGED.

"The most polite man I ever knew," said J. D. Evans of Mississippi to a Washington Star writer, "was a colored man down in my county. He belonged before the war to Col. White, one of the most cultured and polished gentlemen in the South. During reconstruction days Tom was elected sheriff, and the first year he held the office a white man was sentenced to be hanged. I knew the doomed prisoner, and at his request was with him several hours a day for the last week of his life.

"The sheriff came in the first time I was there, and, addressing the prisoner, said: 'Scuse me, Marster Bob. I jess come fur jess a little advice. Yo' see, we ain' neither ob us is nsed ter ceremonions occasions ob dis kin', an' I jess wants ter know how yo' would like to hab de gallows, facin' de sun or de oder way.'

"The prisoner told him to have his face away from the sun.

"'Tank yo', Mars Bob, I done hab it dat way. We don' wan' to make no expositions ob ourselfs by not doin' what is propah on sich events.'

"Upon the next occasion the sheriff came in:—

"'Mars Bob, 'scuse me one moment, gemman, I jess wants ter hab yo' show me once mo' how yo' done tie dat knot. Mos' curiosest knot I eber seed.'

"Upon the morning of the fatal day, as I went in, the sheriff had the doomed man's foot thrown over a chair and was blacking his boot, the other one having already been polished. 'Mawnin', sah,' he said to me. 'Mars Bob jess gittin' ready. I done borrered a suit an' necktie from the cunnel an' jess slickin' 'im up. Den I gits inter my own dress dat I had made a puppus, an' Marse Bob an' me, we gwine ter be de bes' dressed of anybody.'

"Attayed in full ev ning dress, the convicted man and the sheriff mounted the scaffold when the time came. 'All right now, Mars' Bob,' said the sheriff, as he adjusted the cap. 'Scuse me, sah, jess a minute,' and he touched the fatal spring."

ALL WAS NOT WELL.

On board naval vessels marines are stationed as sentries on various parts of the upper deck. During the night they are expected every half-hour, when the ship's bell is struck, to call out the name of their station, and then add the words, "All's well."

Some years ago the flagship Brooklyn was at anchor one stormy winter's night in Hampton Roads, Va. On the top-gallant forecastle of the frigate was stationed a German marine, whose familiarity with the English language was none too generous. For a long time he paced to and fro on the snow-covered platform, while the gale flung the big white flakes against his face, and the bitter cold numbed the hands that held the musket.

At last the sentry stood his rifle against the stay in order to beat his fingers and arms into warmth, and while engaged in that exercise the ship gave a lurch, the rifle slipped and pitched overboard. Frightened, and not knowing exactly how to report his loss, the poor fellow waited until the ship's bell sounded and it came his turn to report concerning his station. As the officer of the deck listened to catch the hail, a troubled voice floated out of the darkness forward:—

"Port cathead, and all is not very goot!"
—Harper's Round Table.

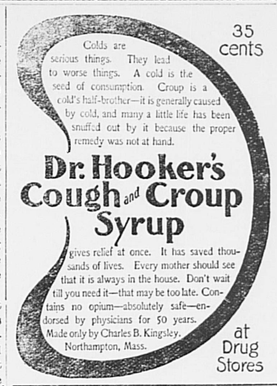
Dangerous Drugs.

Avoid the use of white or pink headache powders, they contain dangerous drugs. Taylor's Anti-Headache Powders are brown; they look like ground coffee and they have a delightful aromatic taste. Try them once and you will never be without them. Get them of LeGro & Lynde.



35 cents

Dr. Hooker's Cough and Croup Syrup

gives relief at once. It has saved thousands of lives. Every mother should see that it is always in the house. Don't wait till you need it—that may be too late. Contains no opium—absolutely safe—endorsed by physicians for 50 years. Made only by Charles B. Kingsley, Northampton, Mass.

at Drug Stores

WANTED SALESMEN. We want one or two good men in each county to take orders for a choice line of Nursery Stock or Seed Potatoes Stock and seed guaranteed. We can give you steady employment with good pay. It will cost you nothing to give it a trial. State when writing which you prefer to sell. Address

The Hawks Nursery Co.,
Rochester, N. Y.

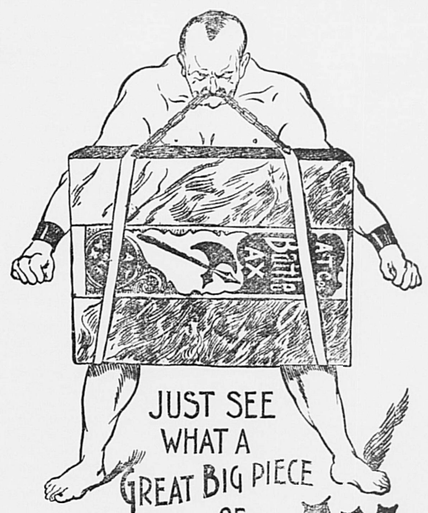
Piano and Banjo Lessons

given by

Misses Annie and Carrie Fish,

Palmer.

22-tf



JUST SEE WHAT A GREAT BIG PIECE OF

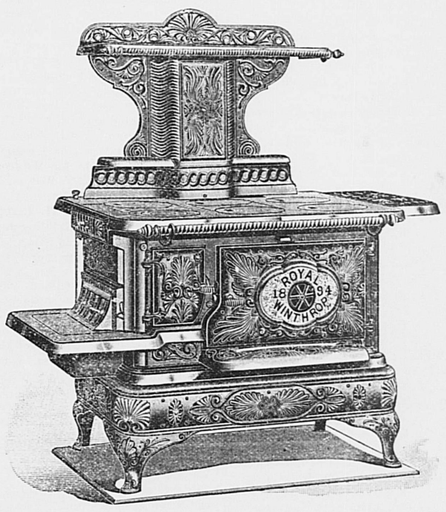
BATTLE AX PLUG

YOU CAN GET FOR

10 CENTS

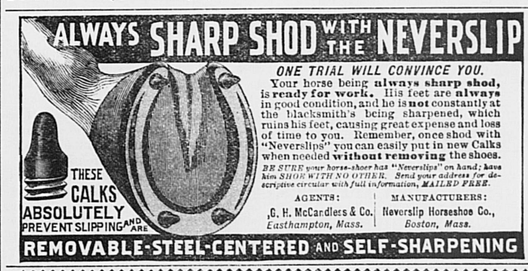
LARGEST PIECE OF GOOD TOBACCO EVER SOLD FOR THE MONEY

THE ROYAL WINTHROP RANGE. IT HAS NO SUPERIOR.



I AGREE. That is all we expect you to say. Live up to that and there is no limit to your credit with us; we will arrange the payments to suit you.
We sell all kinds of FURNITURE, and can furnish your house from cellar to garret.

SHAW BROTHERS, - THREE RIVERS, MASS.



R·I·P·A·N·S

ONE GIVES RELIEF.

52-43

It May Do as Much for You.

Mr. Fred Miller, of Irving, Ill., writes that he had a severe kidney trouble for many years, with severe pains in his back, and also that his bladder was affected. He tried many so-called kidney cures but without any good result. About a year ago he began the use of Electric Bitters and found relief at once. Electric Bitters is especially adapted to the cure of all kidney and liver troubles and often gives almost instant relief. One trial will prove our statement. Price only 50c for large bottle. At LeGro & Lynde, Palmer; G. L. Keeney, Monson; F. A. Spencer, Ware.

Bucklen's Arnica Salve.

THE BEST SALVE in the world for cuts bruises, sores, ulcers, salt rheum, fever sores, tetter, chapped hands, chilblains, corns, and all skin eruptions, and positively cures piles, or no pay required. It is guaranteed to give perfect satisfaction or money refunded. Price 25 cents per box. For sale by LeGro & Lynde, Palmer; G. L. Keeney, Monson; F. A. Spencer, Ware.

The Ideal Panacea.

James L. Francis, Alderman, Chicago, says: "I regard Dr. King's New Discovery as an ideal panacea for coughs, colds and lung complaints, having used it in my family for the last five years, to the exclusion of physician's prescriptions or other preparations."

Rev. John Burgus, Keokuk, Iowa, writes: "I have been a minister of the Methodist Episcopal church for 50 years or more, and have never found anything so beneficial, or that gave me such speedy relief as Dr. King's New Discovery." Try this ideal cough remedy now. Trial bottles free of LeGro & Lynde, Palmer; G. L. Keeney, Monson; F. A. Spencer, Ware.

"HE THAT WORKS EASILY WORKS SUCCESSFULLY." 'TIS VERY EASY TO CLEAN HOUSE WITH

SAPOLIO

4-37